224 Business Firms In Prentiss County

Statistics just released by D. K. Kelley, District Manager of the Memphis office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reveal that there are 224 business firms in Prentiss County, of which 205 are in Booneville. These figures were obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for November, 1963. This compares with 239 in the County in November, 1962.

Mr. Kelley stated that during January business concerns in all parts of the United States are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year requests are being sent to approximately three million business concerns — to the corner grocery store worth a few thousand dollars, as well as to businesses worth millions.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists those manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers.

Therefore the figures for total business in the United States would be higher than the three million quoted above.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise (or his accountant) fills in and mails his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes part of the credit report on his business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business. Mailing the statement, rather than waiting for the Dun & Bradstreet reporter's call means a concern's important suppliers will quickly have the latest facts on which to make credit and sales decisions. When the Dun & Bradstreet reporter receives a business man's financial statement in advance of his periodic call, he can make a more detailed analysis of the financial condition of the business and discuss its operation more intelligently.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun & Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by business men who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates and coverage for fire and other types of insurance.

Still Remember . . .

Barbara and Norma Enis, alternates for Miss Hospitality, received a Christmas card and letter from Mr. and Mrs. Lester Keller and Rita of Otisville, Michigan.

In part, the letter said, "Of the many things we enjoyed on our trip last summer, one is of stopping in Booneville. We enjoyed our refreshing glass of 'Coke' and short visit with you. The magnolia that you gave my daughter, Rita, met with ill fate. They would not let us enter California with it. I saved a large leaf from it though which we still have."

This letter is typical of many received locally as a result of the Hospitality Booth each June.

Big Year For Industry In North Mississippi; 20 New Plants Locate—20 Expand Operations; 4,080 New Jobs — $10,200,000 In New Payrolls

North Mississippi enjoyed another banner year in 1963 with the location of 20 new industries and 20 expansions. New industrial payrolls will amount to $10,200,000, with 4080 new jobs when all plants are in full production. A wide range of products will be manufactured in the new plants, including such varied items as toys, paper mill machinery, electric clocks and timers, shirts and slacks, chrome parts for automobiles, truck bodies, metal desks and chairs, upholstered furniture, chemicals, trailers, lawn and garden equipment, finished poultry and aluminum foil.

Among expanded industries was the Marathon Cheese Co., of Booneville.

The 29 counties of North Mississippi have secured 164 new plants which are currently in operation or under construction, and 161 have been announced or completed major expansions since 1951 when the North Mississippi Industrial Development Association began operations.

Employment in these plants when all are in full production will be approximately 43,000. Since 1950 this area has obtained a significant percentage of Mississippi's net gain in industrial jobs and added over $107,000,000 in increased payrolls.

William B. Barrett, Executive Director of the Association, paid tribute to the aggressive, dedicated and hard working community leaders throughout the area and credited them with the major portion of success for the splendid results during the years of the Association's life. "Our communities are completely industry conscious," he stated, "and we anticipate continued advancement during 1964."

City Fathers Study Annual Audit Hear Report On Building Permits Consider Parking Meter Purchase

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen held their regular meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

The first order of business was the financial statement of receipts and disbursements for December, 1963, followed by the reading, discussion and allowance of accounts.

Mr. J. E. Scott presented the financial report on the Water and Gas Department.

The annual audit report of the General City Funds was submitted by CPA Charles Brown along with comments and recommendations. Mr. Brown stated: "I am of the opinion the Exhibits and Schedules prepared on a cash basis of the City of Booneville, Miss., for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1963, substantially conform to the uniform formula promulgated by the State Department of Audit by authority of Section 17, Chapter 497, Laws of 1960.

Nolan Wheeler, building inspector reported that in 1963 commercial permits were issued for buildings valued at $321,475; 25 identical permits totaling $163, and 83 electric permits and 6 moving permits totaling $17,500, totaling in excess of a half million dollars. Mr. Wheeler stated the permits were issued on a minor basis and building would be closed to three-fourths of a million. It also pointed out that the permit for one of the bigger building projects—the housing project—was issued last year.

Bids were received on approximately 150 new parking meters to replace present meters which are over 8 years old—the approximate life of a meter. Bids were to under advertisement for consideration at a recessed meeting to be held January 16th.

Other routine business was discussed.

TAX PAYMENT—Kenneth Pounds and M. W. Smith, officials of the Peoples Bank and Trust Company of Booneville, present to Elder, outgoing sheriff and tax collector, tax check in excess of $100,000 for county taxes and to City Clerk and Tax Collector C. Robertson over $1,800.00 for city taxes. This represents one of the largest tax payments in the county.

ICY SPECTACLE—An overflowing water tank and sub-freezing temperatures produced a Winter Wonderland scene on these trees at the court house in Booneville recently. However, the beauty of the scene was offset by the damage it caused. Several limbs were broken from the weight of ice and one falling limb smashed an electric meter causing a short circuit which burned out the wiring and cord-cutting leading to the large photostat machine in the board of supervisors room. Fortunately the fireproof walls and floor prevented a fire in the building and damage to the machine itself was very slight.

An Ever Deepening Urgency

The Christmas season is past and the new year opens before us. And this is a good time to reflect on the ultimate fact that the world must find its salvation in the development, not of weapons, but in man's ability to grow in understanding and to value his fellow man.

In this rapidly shifting modern world, the best guide we have can still be found in the Christian concept as expressed by Jesus Christ when He was asked by a questioner to name the great commandment of the law He taught. As Matthew 22:37-39 tells us:

"Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

"This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it,

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

As we begin this new year, it is well to reflect that these words challenge each of us to seek within ourselves the understanding to broaden our concept of self-interest until it embraces all mankind.

Barriers are before us as they have always been throughout the world's history, but we face an ever deepening urgency to surmount them. The selfish, acquisitive and combative elements woven into human nature are the greatest barriers we face. To achieve, man must be competitive; but to survive in this new and smaller world he must temper this competitive spirit with reason and the long view of belonging to one family with the common need to live together on one planet.

The miracles of science and technical advances have made all the nations of the earth neighbors. This in itself has brought us to a point never before seen in history when great powers must compete with restraint because they know the destruction of the world hangs in the balance.

At the root of man's thinking, by whatever name it may be called, there must reside the Christian concept of the value of a single human life. As a foundation for this, people of the backward areas of the world must be helped in their search for a better way of life and a share in the material rewards which can be achieved in this twentieth century. For if one is to value life, one must first find it worth living.

relationships. The telephone has come to be taken for granted and in so many instances it is misused by secretaries, executives and just plain folks in everyday calling.

The telephone actually has not been around so very long... and it has only been in the past twenty years or so that it has become a part of practically every household in the United States and certain other parts of the world. In many cases it is still a novelty and its use is often treated as such.

The telephone is one of our greatest inventions. It has brought peoples of the world much closer together. It has aided the promotion and expansion of business in hundreds of ways. And it has become indispensable to the housewife and the family unit for convenience in conducting various aspects of everyday life.

So, if we stop and think for just a moment, it is easy to see the real value of the telephone service which is constantly at our fingertips. Yet quite often in every-day

100 Years Ago— Grant, Man Of Hour, Boomed For President

By LON K. SAVAGE

Ulysses S. Grant, the man of the hour in the United States of America, was riding through the mountains of northeast Tennessee and southeast Kentucky 100 years ago this week, and everywhere that he went, crowds of mountaineers gathered to see him. As his party rode into the villages, the townsfolk would point and cheer at a distinguished, gray-haired man surrounded by a host of less prepossessing federal officers. As the people oohed and ached, Grant—a short, bearded, rather scrubby man in his early 40's—rode on unobtrusively, not bothering to inform the people that they were cheering the general's surgeon rather than the general, himself.

Such was the position in which Grant found himself in early 1864. His name was on every lip; he was the hero of the United States army; the man who had split the Confederacy in two and had driven the Confederates from Chattanooga into Georgia. Yet few persons knew anything else about him; few knew what he looked like, and he, himself, made no attempt to correct the situation.

Herald Favors Him

Even as Grant rode through the mountains (he was inspecting a supply line through Cumberland Gap), his name was being mentioned in New York City as the man to succeed Abraham Lincoln as President of the United States.

The "boomlet" for Grant was being led by James Gordon Bennett, editor of the spicy, scandal-filled "New York Herald," the largest circulating paper in the nation.

"The Herald" had little use for President Lincoln; he could not bring rebellion to a close quickly, according to Bennett, and when the war was over, Lincoln was not the man to rebuild the Union. The candidate, Bennett asserted, must be a man who stood clear of partisan politics and whose popularity was of such magnitude that it would unite all behind him. Such a man was Grant.

Grant's View

But Grant, himself, had no such views. At first, he only joked at the talk: "I aspire only to one political office. When the war is over I mean to run for Mayor of Galena (his home town in Illinois), and if elected, I intend to have the sidewalk fixed up between my house and the depot."

Later, he became more serious about the matter. In a letter to his father in February he stated categorically: "I am not a candidate for any office. All I want is to be left alone to fight this war out."

Next Week: Politicking Picks Up.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT

Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

The function of the retail store has undergone drastic changes since World War II.

The nature of the change has been described by advertising executive Arthur Fatt:

"Once retailers controlled their markets. Stores were buyer centered... Today's store function, whether it's a department store, chain store, or independent specialty store is primarily to satisfy demand."

Mr. Fatt indicated that advertising techniques had been greatly affected by changing marketing methods.

Increasingly, consumers are sold on the idea of buying certain brands or certain types of products through national advertising. Consequently, today "the main retail function is to convey pre-sold merchandise from the assembly line to the hands of the consumers," he said.

"The purpose of all advertising is to make sales, both for the manufacturer and the retailer."

The pre-selling done by manufacturers, is only a first step. Final sales are made in a particular store as the result of local advertising, especially newspaper advertising. "Store preference" is a passing phase of retailing. The present day consumer may desire a particular brand or a certain kind of product, but does not go to a special store looking for it.

The sale is likely to be made at the store, which through local advertising, has informed the consumer that a desired product is available.

use of the telephone, little consideration is given to the person at the other end of the line — either end.

Personality plays a big part in good use of the telephone. And in strange ways. A person may have what is considered a weak personality in face to face relations, but actually has a very strong voice personality when using the telephone and the opposite can happen when a person has a good face to face personality but cannot speak well on the telephone. Each person, from secretary to executive to housewife must develop their own individual telephone personality.

An example of poor telephone usage: The person who calls and leaves the message when his party is not in... "Tell John to call me." In about 90 percent of such calls, the caller will not be identifiable. When calling anyone and they are not available, the caller should always leave his name — whether it seems important or not. This is one of the most flagrant good manner violations in using the telephone.

Any person answering a telephone should identify himself fully whether it is a business firm or at one's home, although home calls are answered with an almost traditional "hello." And above all, a person should be courteous and replace the phone gently when a call is completed.

HOME GARDENING

The time is here to get ready for a big gardening year in 1964. The number one job is to prepare some rows for planting.

Some vegetables to plant this month include leaf and head lettuce, onions, Irish potatoes, spinach, carrots, turnips, cabbage, mustard, English peas, radishes and tendergreens.

Get your hotbed and seed boxes ready for planting. Then plan on your seed needs. One ounce of seed will produce around this number of plants: Lettuce 3000, tomato 1500-2000, eggplant 1000-1500, pepper 1500.

HOG NOTES

Watch for dampness under bedding in pig creep areas. It could cause pigs to scour and provide a place for maggots to thrive. Malathion or sevin dust will kill the maggots.

To prevent the problem of dampness, change bedding often during rainy weather. Placing a piece of plywood under bedding in the creep area will help.

It pays to keep up the level of protein for bred sows. In experiments at Mississippi State University bred sows fed one pound protein meal daily plus grain farrowed two more pigs per litter and weaned 14 more pigs than those fed one-half pound supplement daily with grain. On the average, bred cows need at least a pound of supplement daily plus three or four pounds of grain.

Breed sows and gilts twice during the heat period 12 to 24 hours apart. If possible, use two different boars.

Worm sows with piperazine two weeks before farrowing. Check heat lamps for correct installation and be sure that sow cannot reach the cord or any connections.

DO NOT feed sow too much after she farrows. A rule of thumb is one pound of feed for each day after farrowing. One pound the first day, two pounds the second and so on until around the eighth day. It varies, but eight to 10 pounds a day is enough the second, third, fourth and fifth weeks.

Do not rush pigs on creep feed if sow is a good milker. Wait until pigs are around 10 to 14 days old.

Named Commander Of Beaumont Hospital

CAPT. JOHN T. HARLING

EL PASO, Texas — Capt. John Harling of Booneville, has been named commander of the 106th Medical Detachment at William Beaumont General Hospital in El Paso.

The 29-year-old Army officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley A. Harling of Booneville. Capt. Harling is a Medical Service Corps Army Officer. He arrives in El Paso after completing an assignment with the 67th Medical Depot in Zinsiederhof, Germany.

The Harlings are formerly from Haleyville, Ala., where Capt. Harling completed high school in 1952. He earned a bachelor of science degree at Florence State College, Ala., in 1957 with a business administration, physical education major. Commissioned a lieutenant in the college's ROTC program, he taught high school and coached football a year before going on active duty with the Army.

Capt. Harling taught mathematics and bookkeeping at Phil Campbell High School, Ala., during the 1957-58 academic year. He coached the Phil Campbell football backfield during the 1957 season. Capt. Harling himself holds four varsity letters won during his high school days as a halfback and fullback at Haleyville High.

The Booneville officer went on active duty with the Army in 1958 and completed the Medical Service Corps Officers' Orientation Course at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio. Then he began his first regular assignment with the 27th Engineering Battalion at Fort Campbell, Ky.

His specialty has been in personnel administration, and while assigned to the medical depot in Germany, he served both as adjutant and as personnel officer. He was promoted to his present rank in October 1962.

At William Beaumont, he has assumed command of the 106th Medical Detachment which supports the 106th General Hospital, a 1000-bed field unit stationed at the large El Paso hospital.

Capt. Harling is married to the former Miss Sonya Howell of Haleyville. They presently reside in El Paso at 5324 Downs Court with their five children, Martha Shelina, Linda Le Ann 6, William Blaine, Pamela Kay 3, and Sonya, 2 years.

Wm. Calvin Butler Dies Friday

Mr. William Calvin Butler of Paden, Miss., died Friday about 9:45 a.m. in the Tishomingo County Hospital following an illness of two years. He was a native of Tishomingo County, a member of the Baptist Church, and a retired farmer. He was 78.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Paden Baptist Church with Bro. Albert Hamilton officiating. Burial was in the Jackson Camp cemetery with McMillan Funeral Directors in charge.

Survivors include three sons, Albert Butler and Elmer Butler of Paden, and Otha Butler of Memphis; two daughters, Mrs. George Woodruff of Wheeler, Arkansas; three brothers, George Allen Butler of Paden, Thomas Butler of Corinth, and Marcus Butler of Georgia; three half-brothers, Junior Butler of Tupelo, Marvin Butler and Cleveland Butler of Illinois; ten sisters, Mrs. Emma Stephen, Mrs. Minnie Goff, Mrs. Lillie Donaldson, Mrs. Mae Casper, Mrs. Edna Donaldson of Paden, Mrs. Audrey Parker and Mrs. Alta Green of Tishomingo, Mrs. Dovie Frederick and Mrs. Una Stephens of Hackelburg, Ala., and Mrs. Bell McNatt of Houka, Miss., and a half-sister, Mrs. Edna Mae Butler.

Crop Insurance Loss Payments Are Being Distributed

Even though crops were generally good this year, Federal Crop Insurance is making crop loss payments to some Prentiss County farmers, according to Leslie Estes, district fieldman for Federal Crop Insurance.

Mr. Estes said the heaviest losses are on soybeans, and that total loss payments in the county will probably be between $35,000 and $40,000 on beans and cotton.

Soybeans will still be included in the coverage available in 1964, Mr. Estes said. Eighteen counties in the state have soybean insurance available and 24 have cotton insurance.

J. P. Davis of Baldwin issued a statement this week of his strong belief in Federal Crop Insurance. This was his first year as a Federal Crop Insurance policy holder.

His statement said: "I can say that I am a strong believer in crop insurance. Had it not been for my indemnity check of $3117.00, which was full coverage on my cotton crop, this fall it would have been hard for me to meet my obligations."

"I had excessive moisture in July which almost destroyed my entire cotton crop. I can say that Federal Crop Insurance is a good investment for any farmer in Prentiss County."

"Farmers who have their crop investments protected by Federal Crop Insurance in past years tell of one thing they all have in common — a sense of security. They know that should crop destruction, partial or complete, strike them they will not be wiped out. Federal Crop Insurance will pay back a large portion of their investment loss."

Mississippi farmers were first to apply anyhrous ammonia to crops.

Mississippi was the birthplace of big-time boxing.

Disabled Workers May Be Missing SS Benefits

Last Friday, personnel in the local Post Office and the rural mail carriers in Prentiss County delivered over 200 monthly Social Security checks to disabled workers and their dependents. This information was furnished today by Mr. Hugh Tigrett, Social Security District Manager.

Fortunately these disabled people knew enough about Social Security to apply for benefits when they became disabled. Unfortunately, however, surveys show that many people do not know that Social Security pays disability benefits as well as retirement and death benefits. Because of this, some disabled workers are missing out on benefits for which they are eligible.

Mr. Tigrett said that nearly every week the Social Security Office learns of a disabled worker who has lost benefits through failure to apply for them. He urged all Prentiss County residents to learn about disability protection under Social Security. A free copy of a new booklet which tells men and women what they need to know about disability social security benefits to anyone who writes for a copy. The number of the booklet is 29a.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of those offices.

Civil Service Positions Are Announced

New examinations for Stenographer and Typist positions are being announced on January 7, 1964, throughout the Nation by offices of the U. S. Civil Service Commission and by Boards of U. S. Civil Service Examiners which recruit to fill these vacancies.

Most vacancies will be filled at entrance levels which pay $3,880 a year for Stenographers and $3,620 a year for Typists.

Under this nationwide examining program, applicants must compete (or recompete) in order to be considered for Federal jobs after February 7, 1964. Applicants who file on or immediately after January 7, 1964, may enhance their opportunity for employment.

The new standards, which are higher than standards in previous examinations, are a part of the overall "Quest for Quality" program which the Federal service is emphasizing as an employer. Higher salaries are now being offered to Stenographers and Typists, and the new standards are aimed at obtaining quality and competence commensurate with the salaries.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Post Office located at Corinth, Miss.

Retailing Is Big Business In Mississippi

Retail Merchandising is big business by any standard, and in Mississippi this meant employment for 106,000 people in 16,000 establishments and wage earnings of over $207 million in 1962, according to Bill Featherstone, Jackson, president of the Mississippi Retail Merchants Association.

Retail sales in Mississippi during 1962 were estimated at $2.8 billion, an increase of 180 per cent over retail sales of just over $1 billion in 1948.

The retail industry in Mississippi employs 14 per cent of the civilian labor force, and retail employment provides a livelihood for 318,000 persons who are directly dependent on the income of the retail wage earners.

Retailers, while they are largely taken for granted, are a substantial part of every state community, and represent a major factor in the state's economy. The opening of every new store, be it a mercantile shop or a large chain enterprise, is another industry in the area, employing new people, and providing salaries which are turned over many times right at home.

Retailers in Mississippi are responsible for the collection of sales taxes, without any compensation to help defray their cost of over $4 million per year for collecting the tax. 1962 figures reveal more than $72 million were added to the state's treasury through the merchants' collections.

From sales tax collections in 1948 of $25 million, a gain of 198 per cent was registered over the 14-year period to 1962. In addition, Mississippi retailers collected over $12 million in city retail sales tax.

The Mississippi Retail Merchants Association, an organization of 2,000 members, is a formidable group for advancement of the state's economy and development and has supported many legislative matters designed to better protect the public and buying consumer.

Generally, the Mississippi Retail Merchants Association expects to support an enforceable law regarding the state's Sunday Blue Law, to perpetuate Sunday as a family day of rest and relaxation as has been traditional.

MRMA also will support an adequate weights and measures law to protect consumers, retailers, packers and others involved. Such a measure would require administration through the Commissioner of Agriculture and would strengthen the entire industry.

Prominent in MRMA's 1964 legislative program is the establishment of a "charge-back" system for unemployment compensation, to bring about a more equitable rate for assessing employers who pay the entire cost of this program.

HOME AGENT NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS

Now that the holiday season is over and past, we turn once again to the everyday needs of our families.

Probably homemakers spend as much time and thought on everyday meals as on any one phase of family living. The regularity of meal preparations can bog down, so to speak, and become a monotonous chore.

The magic is not a secret! It's a good food, attractively arranged and served in an atmosphere of happiness. Wherever you are, the location should be cheerful and inviting. It may be homespun simplicity, beautiful elegance, or casual outdoor picnic style.

In addition to atmosphere, the food served in this setting is to be considered. In planning any meal, foods should be considered for their color, flavor, texture, form, temperature and variety.

*Do the foods look well together—or is everything the same color? *Do the foods have flavor appeal?—Are the flavors contrasting?

*Do the textures vary—is everything crispy, crunchy, hard, soft, smooth or chewy?

*Do shapes vary—are they all chunky, or the reverse?

*Are you serving cold foods cold, and hot foods hot?

*Are you serving a variety—or have you bogged down to repeating foods?

Mealtime can be magic—it's up to you! But do not forget that family mealtime is a part of daily living that builds good health as well as happy family relations.

I cannot help but add for the sake of the children: Mealtime is not the time for an uproar over why Sally didn't make an A on her report card, and why Johnny can't have the car tonight.

All this next month in Home Demonstration circles, the subject at hand is designed to relieve the monotony of meal planning and preparation. Mealtime, in the rush of modern living, is too often "eat and run." But with a bit of magic—it can be happy and relaxing for the entire family to enjoy.

Home Demonstration Club itinerary:

Just Scribbling

by
MRS. ED JOHNSON

Once again I'll make some New Year resolutions because some of the time I keep part of them.

Last year one of the ones I kept was not to watch the late show on television. While not a television fan, I had gotten in the habit of watching the 10 o'clock news and weather and then getting interested in the show. I don't any more.

I try not to be too hard on myself—in fact, I prefer to help Ed and the boys make some good resolutions, and sorta just make mine to myself.

I didn't realize that so much was done for so many others during the holiday season. Gifts flowed into the Aletha Lodge and I'm sure were sent to other local nursing home. I won't even attempt to list the ones who brought cakes or sent cards, but of special note I thought was the gifts from The Wesley Foundation of Northeast Mississippi Junior College, under the artistic direction of Miss Vessie Ferrell. Goblets of candy were decorated with Santa Claus faces made of felt with the use of sequins and glitter for eyes. They also made candles in jars covered with glitter on a white base surrounded with miniature poinsettias and Christmas balls . . . just darling! Then The Gleaners Class of the First Baptist Church made beautiful Kleenex box holders . . . all lacey and dainty. There were lovely red roses in vases from the WMU Ladies of First Baptist—fruit baskets and cookies from the T. E. L. Class, First Baptist; Fruits, nuts, gum, etc., from the Matrons Sunday School Class of the First Methodist, gifts from The Peoples Bank, FHA Girls, the Leonard Downs' and I know I'm probably forgetting someone since I've been working at the newspaper office recently. Oh yes, Mother (Mrs. E. C. Long) was thrilled with a beautiful calendar given the Lodge by the Red Billingsleys. Everything was deeply appreciated.

Joining our family at the Lodge during the holidays was a lovely elderly lady, Mrs. Mark (Nannie) Patrick who will be 91 on January 17th. She is our oldest guest and we're enjoying getting to know her. I'm sure she'd like for her friends to visit her.

Also with us is Mrs. L. C. (Edna) Howser who is such a neat and trim little lady. She is so agreeable about everything and we are all pleased she's with us.

One of the Lodge's nurses was feeding tomato soup to a patient who didn't want it. The nurse told her it had ascorbic acid which was good for healing, so she said go ahead then and order a whole wagon load . . . then added, "but my stomach said 'good night' an hour ago!"

There is another Helen Johnson in Booneville. I don't know her, but I know she's been ill and in the hospital several times and many people think it is me. Folks will call me up and ask how I'm feeling—or meet me on the street and look surprised. I've only been in this hospital once—three years ago. Anyway, it would have paid off this week—Zula Gullett saw me in a store, put her head in the door and said, "I thought you were in the hospital—I'll go unwrap that box of candy I was going to send you."

Marguerite Gaddis, our part-time office girl, gave me a list of "things a columnist might never know if she didn't open her mail," and I'll give you a few of them:

Your hair doesn't have muscles, but it is pretty strong . . . it is said that a healthy head of hair can sustain the weight of a 2,000-pound horse.

Are you afraid of lightning? Then plant maple or birch trees in your yard; they are less likely to be hit by lightning than an elm or chestnut tree.

If a cloud could sit on you, it would squash you flat . . . a good robust thundercloud weighs about 150 tons.

If you are chronically suspicious of other people's motives, you may merely be showing your own shortcomings . . . George Bernard Shaw defined a pessimist as a man "who thinks everybody is as nasty as himself and hates them for it."

The world's fastest growing baby is the infant whale. At the end of a year it is as big as its mother.

One of the most popular homes on New Year's Day was that of the

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS STELL

Shown are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stell following their wedding at the First Methodist Church on December 27. The wedding write-up appeared in last week's edition of the paper.

Henry Mizes. Young and old alike were there for a feast at noon and to view the football games. There were three television sets up and one was in color!

Wayne Hunter, local jeweler, is receiving many compliments on his paintings—which are very artistic and realistic—so far, his head hasn't swelled.

Likewise, Dick Brown has received his share of praise for the poetry he's written. I've read some of them and they're good.

Until next week,
Helen

MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College took time out from thoughts of study to make six boys and girls of a Booneville family very happy with a Christmas party. The hearts of the students were made glad to see the joyful expressions on the faces of the happy children as they saw the many presents brought by the students and sponsors of the SEA. With the children around the Christmas tree are Sara Cook, Baldwin, right, standing, president of SEA; Larry McMillan, New Albany, kneeling, member SEA; Mrs. Eva Eskridge, kneeling, right, sponsor; and Larry McCordle, left, member SEA.

We Are Prepared For The New Year's Problems

Operating a pharmacy is more complicated than in the past. Instead of having to stock a few hundred herbs and chemicals as in the past, we now have more than 4,000 different prescription medicines in stock. The odds are that the ingredients in your last prescription were not known five or ten years ago.

We will continue to add new discoveries as soon as they are available, so we will be able to fill any prescription, even those prescribed by physicians in other cities.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Pisgah RCDC Has Christmas Program

The Pisgah RCDC held its Christmas program on Saturday night, December 21, in the club room. A lighted Christmas tree and other decorations gave the room a festive atmosphere.

The program began with group singing of Christmas carols and a devotional by Mrs. L. C. McCutchen on the meaning of Christmas as symbolized by Love and Hope. Lynn McCutchen and Edith Wimberley sang a special song, "How Great Thou Art," and Mrs. A. D. Ozburn gave a reading, "O, Weary, Weary Tossed The World."

A playlet, "The Gifts of the Angels," under the direction of Mrs. Walter Dilworth, was presented by Mrs. Malcolm Sweeney, Mrs. Ed Downs, Mrs. Bobby Perry, Mrs. Bob Ozburn, Mrs. Gene Ed Cummings, Mrs. Raymond McCutchen, Mrs. E. J. Wimberley, Lynn McCutchen and several children.

The group participated in a gift exchange, followed by a short business session. The president, E. J. Wimberley, asked each family to be responsible for taking a gift from the RCDC to the aged and shut-ins in the community. A list of twenty-five names as recipients of these gifts had been previously compiled.

PRAYER

Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
Forgive our foolish ways!
Recluse us in our rightful mind,
In purer lives Thy service find,
In deeper reverence, praise.
Drop Thy still dews of quietness,
Till all our strivings cease;
Take from our souls the strain and stress,
And let our ordered lives confess
The beauty of Thy peace.

Tony Franks Is Outstanding Music Major At Northeast Mississippi Junior College

Tony Franks, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Franks of Frankstown, has been recognized as an outstanding Music Major at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College. Mr. W. T. Rutledge, head of the Music Department at Northeast, states that Tony "has an inquiring mind, is never satisfied with what you give him, and goes beyond what is taught."

Upon graduation from Baldwin High School in 1960, Tony entered NEMJC with plans to major in Speech and minor in Music. But through the help and guidance of Mrs. Peggy M. Cord, a former instructor at Northeast, Tony found his major interest to be in music. Appearance in several plays and an exceptional grade in speech qualified Tony for admission to the east of the Northeast Chapter of Delta Psi Omega, a National Honorary Fraternity Organization.

After another year at Northeast, Tony transferred to Mississippi State University. At MSU he was a member of Black Friars and Alpha Psi Omega and was chosen to participate in the play, "Our Town," and the operetta "The Student Prince," also the opera "Childhood of Christ."

Tony returned to Northeast in September of 1963 to continue his musical education. Upon completion at Northeast, Tony plans to transfer to Memphis State University where he will receive his Bachelor of Music Education Degree.

At home, Tony is assistant pianist and organist in his church. He is also gaining valuable experience in his musical education by instructing several private pupils.

Government, strengthen their management and productive capabilities and generally achieve increased growth and prosperity. An essential part of the assistance SBA gives small businessmen is counseling by financial experts. If borrowing appears to be the answer to a small firm's problem, SBA may be able to help obtain a bank loan. If the local bank will lend some but not all of the needed money, SBA will consider lending the remainder by participating with the bank in the loan. If the local bank cannot lend any of the money, SBA will consider lending the entire amount as a direct Government loan.

Feild points out that during the past six years SBA has made loans totaling $400,000 to commercial and industrial establishments located in the State of Mississippi.

Loans up to $350,000 for as long as ten years can be had for construction or expansion, purchase of machinery, equipment, facilities, supplies and working capital. SBA helps small firms solve their financial problems, overcome the effects of disasters, sell to or buy from the
