TWO STILL CAPTURED—Sheriff Gerald Green, right, and Deputy J. B. Whitehead are shown with two whiskey stills which they captured Sunday night. The larger still on the left, 240-gallon capacity, was taken about 9 p.m. Sunday six miles southeast of Booneville. Loyd Ralph was arrested at the still and is free on bond. The officers destroyed 240 gallons of mash, which would have made approximately 60 gallons of whiskey. He had planned to run it off Friday. Sheriff Green said that this still had been set up in another place where it had made three runs, but was moved eight days before its capture when the operator became suspicious that officers had it under surveillance. The crude small still at right had evidently been in operation for several months. Sheriff Green said that it was located between Old Jacinto Cemetery and the Oscar Duncan place, but they weren't sure on whose property. The sheriff said that this still had also been under observation for several days, and about midnight Sunday when it became apparent that no one was going to show up there, they decided to destroy the 100 gallons of mash and bring the still on in. Sheriff Green said the still has been given to Bill Miles, reporter for the Press-Scimitar, editor of the Lawman's Magazine and reporter for the Tenn-Miss. Sheriff and Peace Officers Association, and to Van Bristow who draws the cartoon strip, "Snuffy Smith." The still will be used in the "Snuffy Smith Museum" at Tupelo for their Centennial Celebration this year. Credit will be given to local officers who confiscated the still.

Services Today For Mrs. Louise Woodruff

Services will be held today, Thursday, at 4 o'clock at McMillan Funeral Home for Mrs. Louise Boone Woodruff. Mrs. Woodruff died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon, February 11th, at the Northeast Mississippi Hospital.

Brother W. L. Wallace, Jr., will officiate at the services and burial will be in the Booneville Cemetery under the direction of McMillan Funeral Home. She was 62 years old.

Mrs. Woodruff was administrator of Aletha Lodge Nursing Home. For more than 30 years she was associated with Anderson Clinic.

She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Order of the Eastern Star, and Booneville Business and Professional Women's Club. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Woodruff was the granddaughter of Reuben Holman Boone for which the City of Booneville was named. Her grandfather, Bartley Barry Boone, was one of the three founders of the city. He served in the State Legislature and was a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1890. The land where the Booneville High School now stands was given to the city by Mr. Boone. Judge Bartley Barry Boone and Louisa M. Petty Boone had one son, James Neal who married Dora A. Martin and whose children were Mrs. Robert (Louise) Woodruff, Mrs. Roy Greene, Mrs. Fred B. Deane and Barry Boone (also deceased).

Mrs. Woodruff leaves three sons, Marion Boone McCoy of Booneville, R. L. (Bobby) Woodruff, Jr., of Booneville, and James Neal Woodruff of Columbus, Miss., and one daughter, Mrs. John M. Dotten of Lynchburg, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Roy Greene of Booneville and Mrs. Fred B. Dean of Chatham, New Jersey, and nine grandchildren.

Grand Jury Returns 7 True Bills Tuesday

Seven true bills were returned to the court as the Prentiss County Grand Jury in session during the opening of the February term of the Circuit Court here made its report to Judge N. S. Sweat, Jr. The Grand Jury examined 13 witnesses in reaching its decision on the indictments, only one of which was made public at this time. An indictment on a charge of gambling was returned against Price (Doc) Winfield.

Other indictments were three on charges of false pretense, one charge of seduction, and two grand larceny charges. These cases will be added to the 27 cases already on the state docket, scheduled for consideration during the second week of the court term beginning Monday.

Circuit Clerk Roy Lowrey said that several civil cases have been settled during the first three days of court.

The jury made its regular examinations of the county home, jails, factories, theaters, tax collector's books and county auditor's books.

The county home was reported in excellent condition, very clean, its inmates properly provided for, and well taken care of.

Theaters and all factories were found to be in good condition and properly equipped with sufficient exit doors, and the tax collector's books and county auditor's books were reported neat, well kept and in balance.

The jury reported that the county jail needs repair work on the ceiling and the electrical system needs to be checked and repaired. They also recommended that the City of Baldwin purchase two new mattresses for its city jail.

The report was submitted by Carmon Walden, Grand Jury foreman.

Hospital Furniture By American Seating Co. Installed At NEMJC

A unit of the latest hospital furniture has just been installed at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Department of Nursing. Two American Seating Company representatives were present to demonstrate the many new features of this modern equipment. This is the first such unit to be installed in the state.

The recently installed unit includes a bed, bedside Susan, over-bed butler, three drawer dresser, and two chairs, and will be used by the Northeast Department of Nursing for instructional purposes.

The furniture, constructed of vinyl clad steel with bacteria inhibitor included, is impervious to fluids, and will resist scratches.

The bed, supported by a twenty-gauge steel frame, has a fixed gatch thirteen inches wide for greater patient comfort, and is equipped with three motors for operating each section. The headboard is removable so that traction equipment may be attached.

An outstanding feature of the bed is a telescopic I.V. rod attached to the gatch frame by clamps and stored under the head of the bed when not in use. Half side rails are included which can be removed or changed easily. The painting or undercharge of the bed is done by electrolytic process.

The patient control, unconditionally guaranteed, is made of high impact plastic of the same type as football helmets. In demonstrating its durability, Mr. Golladay threw the control to the floor, much to the astonishment of the group. A bedside caddy attached to the gatch holds the patient control. The bed control can be locked to the foot of the bed and the bed locked in a treatment position.

The overbed butler, a new innovation in the industry, is mounted on a track and slides easily to a desired position. A plate glass mirror, mounted to swing up from beneath the overbed butler, may be fixed in three locked positions, one position serving as a book rest.

Anodized aluminum is used as banding on the seven-foot bed which can be extended six inches by dropping the foot of the bed and adding a six-inch foam rubber bolster.

The legs of the bed are three-stage in order to raise and lower the bed. The assos-o-matic bed may be raised to 37" and lowered to 15" from the floor. Dual casters on the legs make transportation easier.

The hospital unit includes a round bedside caddy, with a tray

Annual Heart Campaign Gets Underway Here

Booneville Business and Professional Women's Club has sponsored the Heart Fund Drive in Prentiss County for many years.

Heart Days for business will be conducted here beginning today, Thursday, and go through Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Harold Spain, County Heart Fund Chairman, listed local businessmen and women who will call on downtown business offices and stores to receive Heart Fund contributions during this period.

Business workers are Teddy Feldman, William Arnold, Miss Lillian Gaines, Henry Pounds, Mrs. Dalton Wallis, Mrs. Roy Martin, David Mitchell, Mrs. J. E. Deaton, Mrs. Luther Moore, Miss Sadie Gault, Mrs. Peggy Ryan, Mrs. Charles Maddox and Mrs. P. H. Hall.

"We are all well aware of the pain and suffering caused by the heart diseases," Mrs. Harold Spain, County Chairman, declared. "But the full impact of these diseases is felt only when we recognize the serious effects they have upon our economic welfare."

The heart and blood vessel diseases are responsible for the loss of more than 69 million man-days of production each year, Mrs. Spain pointed out, and are a constant threat to men and women in the productive years of life—people between the ages of 25 and 65 to whom local business looks for its main source of manpower, she continued. Eighty-eight deaths were caused last year in Prentiss County from heart disease.

The Heart Fund will continue through February and will reach its high point during the weekend of Heart Sunday, February 23, when volunteers will visit their neighbors to distribute heart-guarding information and to receive Heart Sunday contributions.

Mrs. Mary Bynum Hambrick is Heart Sunday Chairman for Prentiss County and Mrs. W. H. Anderson, Heart Council. Mrs. W. V. Horn is publicity chairman and Miss Ann Rutherford is treasurer.

Mrs. Clovis Rogers is Memorial Chairman and anyone wishing to make a memorial gift, please mail it to Mrs. Rogers.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

AREA FARM FIELD DAY

An area farm field day will be held at the Tupelo Fairgrounds on Thursday, February 27. All phases of farming will be discussed. The program will begin at 1 p.m. Free barbecue will be served at 6 p.m. The program will be concluded at 8:30 p.m. Door prizes will be given at each session. A sweepstakes prize will be awarded at the end of the program.

Mr. Smith

If you are interested in attending this program contact the county agent's office.

PASTURE WEED CONTROL

Some pasture weeds need to be sprayed now. The main ones are dock and thistle. These weeds are easy to kill in the early fast growing stage, but when seed stalks are put up, it will be harder to kill them. In the early stage of growth, three-fourths of a pound of 2,4-D to the acre will kill all the dock and thistle that are up.

CATTLE FEEDING

You cannot afford to stop feeding your beef cattle even though it may be expensive to feed them until spring.

In many instances this would mean the loss of cattle, a poor calf to sell in the fall and a low calf crop percentage next year. This is because many times a cow gets so thin and run-down that she will not readily breed back.

If you are short on hay, check with this office and we can possibly help you locate some.

In your winter feeding, do not overlook protein. You cannot afford to try to winter cattle without an adequate supply of protein.

Cows that calve in fall and early winter will need two pounds daily of a protein meal. Those that calve in the spring can possibly make it through the winter on one pound of protein meal per head daily.

COTTON NOTES

Planning your 1964 cotton program? Research has shown that planting a good variety instead of a mediocre variety can increase your profits as much as five cents a pound of lint produced.

The best way to select a variety is to study research results from the Holly Springs Branch Experiment Station and select the one that has growing conditions most similar to those on your farm.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Need information about the social security program? If so, the place to get it is the local social security office! Contact that office at once about any questions about your social security. Representatives of the district office in Tupelo are in the courthouse every Monday morning.

Dr. Mary Summers Gives Analysis Of Civil War At U.D.C. Meeting Wednesday

The Carmon Walden home on State Street, both charming and liveable, was the setting for the meeting Wednesday afternoon of the D. T. Beall Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy with Mrs. Walden and Mrs. Carl West hostesses.

The muted tones of the soft colors in the home decor were heightened with a winter composition on the coffee table and a fireside arrangement in gold.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the American and Confederate flags, led by the president, Mrs. Clarence Chase. During her attention to routine matters, Mrs. Chase appointed a membership committee which includes Mrs. L. H. Stutts, Mrs. L. E. Perry, Mrs. Carl West, and Mrs. Carmon Walden.

Dr. Mary Floyd Summers, head of the Social Science Department at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, spoke in an interesting and learned way on "Diplomacy of the Confederate States During the Civil War." Being a profound scholar and possessing a deep knowledge and understanding of Southern history, her analysis of the policies and diplomatic courses that the Southern States followed was clear cut and plainly outlined.

The Confederacy hoped that their monopoly of the world's cotton supply would force England and France to come to her aid in the War Between the States. Dr. Summers said she erred in her judgement not only by destroying some cotton and discouraging the raising of a new crop, but in overestimating the need for cotton to the economy of Europe.

The English people at the beginning of the war were sympathetic toward the South, but their own welfare was closer to their hearts; too, they feared the North's reaction against Canada if they did not remain neutral. Worse than their need for cotton was England's need for wheat and corn to feed her non-producing subjects. This need caused the South King Cotton diplomacy to fail.

France was materially interested in gaining a foothold in Mexico and they feared the effects of the Southern Army if they were angered, so they allowed, or at least did not deter, the Confederates from running needed supplies through Mexico.

France negotiated with the Confederacy but according to Dr. Summers, it was very apparent that she was not coming to financially aid the South in the war.

In conclusion, Dr. Summers said the South probably lost the war partly because of the failure of her diplomatic policies and her inability to gain financial aid from England and France.

Though the South was greatly outnumbered in soldiers and her supplies were certainly meager, her diplomatic policies rather than her military maneuvers, caused her to lose the War Between the States.

The D. T. Beall Chapter feels very fortunate in having Dr. Summers as a member of its organization.

The new president, Mrs. Clarence Chase, has greatly extended the versatility of her unique talents not only through her personal accomplishments but in her many contributions of community service. She has created a recent surge of interest in the spirit and purpose of the organization as well as in its chapter activities.

A dessert plate with coffee was served before the program.

Just Scribbling

by
MRS. ED JOHNSON

The following article appeared in The Commercial Appeal, February 10th and concerns Bob Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day. Mrs. Day is recalled as Miss Georgia Mae Miller, daughter of the late Mr. Miller and Mrs. Terry E. Miller, this city, who is the adoring grandmother of Mr. Day.

"Airminded husbands fearful of wifely wrath might take points from Bob Day's technique. A combination of the sneaky and the bold approach, it has produced not one but two pilots.

One day last April, Mr. Day, resident inspector with Allen and Howell Engineers, came home and announced to Mrs. Day, "I certainly would like to own an airplane."

Having heard this several times a year during the 17 they had been married, Mrs. Day replied, "Why don't you take a few lessons first and see how you enjoy flying?"

"I already have," Mr. Day confessed, "and not only that, I've soloed, and not only that, last week I bought a plane!"

"Well," Mrs. Day sighed, "I guess I better go look at it."

"Deeply afraid of small planes" as she had said, she inspected the Piper Colt at DeSoto Air Park with grave misgivings, as pilots joined Mr. Day in urging her to take a few lessons in it herself.

"I wanted her to know what she was talking about when she started back-seat driving in the air," Mr. Day said.

Two days later she took her first lesson, promptly fell in love with the plane and the air and lost her fear.

When Mr. Day bought a Beechcraft Musketeer he gave her the Colt. They are selling it since she likes the Musketeer so much.

Delighted with her conversion, Mr. Day, the son of a World War I pilot, has wanted to fly since his boyhood in Booneville, Miss., and throughout his 15 years as owner of a construction company in Mrs. Day's hometown, Pensacola, Fla.

Getting into the full swing of aviation activities last week, they joined the Memphis squadron of the Civil Air Patrol.

Perhaps you can help Mrs. J. W. Burns, of 522 E. Water St., Biloxi, Miss., who writes:

"I would like to get some information concerning the Scroggins family in Prentiss or nearby counties. I believe some changed the spelling of their names to Scoggens.

A family history of this family is being written by a lady from Leadville, Colorado and will be published by the University Press this winter if she can get information on the relatives living in North and Central Mississippi by press time.

I have put her in touch with one family at Jacinto, Alcorn Co., but they have lost touch with others of the clan and as a reader of your column I thought perhaps you would know of some way of reaching others of this early family and I can relay information to her."

Well, I hope one way is to print her letter and ask you to write her if you have any information.

Do any women ever pass a mirror or a store window without looking at themselves? I'm guilty most of the time and notice that many others do likewise. Don't ask me why?

For the first time in the four months since we opened, all of us were deeply saddened at the Aletha Lodge Nursing Home. First, you recall me writing about a couple, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Marchbanks, who joined us several weeks ago. Tuesday night, a week ago, he fell and was entered in the local hospital Wednesday. He died Thursday night of heart failure and funeral services were held Saturday at Mantachie. Mrs. Marchbanks was unable to go and Pates Television and Appliance loaned us a tape recorder so Ed could make a recording which he played for Mrs. Marchbanks Sunday. Many, many kind words about Mr. Marchbanks have been said to us and we know he made a tremendous impression for the good things of life on all those who knew him.

Then Tuesday afternoon, this week, Mrs. Louise Woodruff, administrator of the Lodge, complained of chest and arm pain, was taken to a doctor and on to the hospital where she died shortly afterwards.

Mrs. Woodruff had spent her life helping others. She was always concerned, understanding and lovingly kind. She was much admired and most capable and we at the Lodge knew the patients were in the best hands possible with Louise there. Not only us, but many hundreds of others feel a deep loss in her passing. She was a beautiful person and the smile on her face was an inspiration to those who were ill or well, young or old. Her family and friends can truly remember her as an endearing and wonderful person.

The Booneville High School and local folks are elated because of the election of Elizabeth Box as State Beta Secretary. And on my desk Tuesday was the following item concerning the trip:

"So you want to know what really happened at Beta Convention ... well

"Twas the night before the seventh
That long awaited day
And atop the King Edward Booneville Betas hit the hay

The Betas were nestled all snug in their beds
While visions of Boxcars danced in their heads
And Undine in her hair net and Ruth in her rollers
Had just settled down to rest their tired molars.

When at 5:30 sharp, A.M. that is
Up rose the Betas to campaign for Liz
The streetlights still burning with a luminous glow
Shone down on the thirty-three Betas below

When what to their baggy eyes should appear
But the Hotel Heidelberg, looming right near
More rapid than eagles, to their stations they flew Lugging posters, banners, and handbills too.

To the top of the stairway, to the end of the hall
Now dash away, dash away, dash away all!
And then in a twinkling there was heard at the door
Shouting and yelling, oh my, what a roar!

Betas were arriving from all over the state
To vote for the candidate who proved to be great.

And thus the day began—that hectic, nerve-wrecking, back-breaking, ear-splitting but rewarding day that sent the Booneville Betas huffing and puffing at full steam ahead, decked out in their engineer's caps, pin-stripes and suspenders. From sun up to sun down a conglomeration of ukes, pistols, drums, cheers and campaign songs echoed throughout. This the Longest Day, was climaxed by the candidate's speeches and a talent show.

Yet all the laryngitis, the insomnia and the fallen arches were not in vain, for 24 hours later the Booneville Betas were rejoicing over their hard earned victory at the banquet and the Beta Ball, especially at the Beta Ball. Even the front doors got in the swing of things as they swang to and fro in rhythm with the 5200 stomping feet above.

As the saxophones blared on into the night, Ebbe's Hope soared, Harriet got Savage, Liz got back to Norma(n), Carol was Chuck-ling, Ann heard Robbins singing, Caraly got her hotel Bill, Linda Perry dreamed she went dancing in her chiffon mist, Charlie turned Green, Steve suddenly became Frank, Judy ran down the streets of Jackson shouting, "It's Sullivan for me in '64," Marsha obeyed her Elders, Sandra lost a few golden Pounds and the boys were on the Ball to win early ... and that was Beta Convention.

Till next week,

Mr. Johnson said the campaign will be aimed "at every roadside structure or facility which encroaches on highway right of way."

He urged owners to voluntarily remove signs, fixtures or other encroachments without further delay, otherwise notice will be given and after reasonable time the removal will be accomplished with maintenance forces of the Highway Department.

4-Yr. Scholarships Are Available

During March, 1964, many high schools in this area will be administering National Merit Scholarship Corporation qualifying tests.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation is a non-profit organization that administers tests to second semester high school juniors and first semester high school seniors. Each year hundreds of scholarships are awarded to students who are classified as "finalists" in the testing program.

In the fall of 1965, it is anticipated that Tennessee River Pulp & Paper Co., will award three scholarships to male students who take the tests in March, 1964. Each scholarship is for four years and has a maximum value of $6,000. Students can only become eligible to compete for the Tennessee River scholarships by taking the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests.

The Tennessee River scholarships are for Vanderbilt University in the fields of engineering, business administration or liberal arts; Norwich University in Northfield, Vermont, in the fields of engineering, business administration or liberal arts; and North Carolina State College in the fields of forestry, chemical engineering or pulp and paper technology.

Local students are urged to ask their high school principals about participating in this testing program.

Farm Ownership Loans Help Develop And Enlarge Farms

Credit needs of Prentiss County farmers faced with developing and enlarging their farms so they will have a successful farm operation are being served by the USDA Farmers Home Administration's farm ownership loan program.

Charles E. Young, FHA County Supervisor, reported this fact while explaining this week that this is a nationwide problem faced by many farm families.

"There are thousands of American farmers who need financial assistance in combining small tracts of land, making soil and water improvements, establishing permanent pastures, improving or constructing dwellings and essential farm buildings or taking necessary measures to increase the efficiency and income producing capacity of their holdings," Mr. Young pointed out.

Those facing this problem — in general — are in a group of some 1,200,000 United States farms that now gross between $2500 and $10,000 annually and are in need of additional income to remain in business under today's farming operations.

"Mr. Young emphasized that farm ownership loans for enlarging and developing farms are tailored to the individual farm and farmer's needs. The borrower also is given assistance in the analysis of his financial problems and shown how to determine the land resources needed for success.

Interest for these loans is 5 percent a year on the unpaid principal. Each loan is scheduled in equal installments of principal and interest for repayment over a period not to exceed 40 years. Borrowers have the privilege of making additional payments during high income years in order to build up a reserve that may be used in low income periods to keep the loan in good standing.

Farmers Home Administration ownership loan applications may be made at Mr. Young's office located in the North Mississippi Savings and Loan Building, Booneville.

History Of Our Country Is Effectively Presented At D.A.R. Meeting Thursday

February is significant as "History Month" in the Natchez Trace Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the observance of which was impressed at their meeting Thursday at the Town Motel. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. R. B. Cunningham and Mrs. Roy Gullett.

After the regent, Mrs. L. E. Perry, had made her scheduled announcements, she gave cordial recognition to Mrs. Harry Jones as a new member.

Mrs. Whit Abernethy led the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag. As chairman of Americanism, Mrs. Marvin Smitherman read the American's Creed of William Tyler Page. These were the opening features.

Mrs. Perry, regent, with the charm of her earnest fervor, made more meaningful the current National Defense News. This phase of study is of prime importance as it has a strong bearing with its continuing agenda throughout the entire organization. Briefly, she gave a most gratifying report on the community-wide observance of "History Month."

Mrs. Smitherman, very effective with her pointed comments as narrator, directed a glorious program on "America The Beautiful." She presented color slides of seventy-seven scenes of unrivaled pictorial beauty from the New England to our fiftieth state, Hawaii, in which each state added its special part to this panorama which impressed the magnificence of America. This showing stirred a superior patriotism and a further deepening of our love for native land, fulfilling its sole purpose.

Our flag still flies at Ft. McHenry, as once seen by Frances Scott Key. The natural grandeur of our oceans, rivers, lakes and the sunrise or sunset on its waters, our gardens, parks, forests and roadway were brought in view. The art of mankind's achievements in architecture were seen through its colossal buildings, monuments, memorials and the historic homes at Mt. Vernon, Rosalie and Tyrone Palace — its latter to be the most beautiful in Colonial America—have been fully restored.

The "purple mountain's majesty" was illustrated by Pike's Peak in Colorado. Atop this peak, Katherine Lee Bates found inspiration for her song which is immortalized by the beautiful view of "Spacious Skies" as well as the Smoky Mountain area, Mt. Ranier and Mt. Hood. The mountain view of the D.A.R. approved schools was also shown. The "Alabaster Cities" as an ever-memorable scene was the Chicago skyline as seen from the Trade building. The "amber waves of grain"—the golden grain in a Kansas wheat field, was typical. "O, glorious for pilgrim feet" was expressed through the Pilgrim Statue and the spires of houses of worship. Many other examples of the lines of this inspiring song were illustrated on which the subject is based.

A dessert plate with coffee was served prior to the program to the large attendance from the membership which included Mrs. S. S. Sargent, Mrs. John Lorick and Mrs. Joseph Curlee, out-of-town members.

The group left Friday and returned home Sunday after the closing of the convention.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Osborne Creek Church with Bro. Clarence Jones officiating. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with McMillan Funeral Directors in charge.

Pearl Caldwell Circle Met Mon. Afternoon

The Pearl Caldwell Circle of the First Baptist WMS met in the lovely home of Mrs. Nelson Baldwin on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Tony Blythe presided in the absence of the chairman. She also gave the devotional from Ephesians on "Kindness." Mrs. John Mahaffy gave the program on "I Must Be Informed." Mrs. Wheeler Holley, Mrs. Ethel Hanley and Mrs. Blythe had parts on the program.

Mrs. Dave Floyd was welcomed as a visitor. Plans were made to remember the sick and shut-ins with Valentine greetings.

Mrs. Baldwin, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Hanley, served Red Velvet cake, coffee and nuts, carrying out the Valentine motif.

East Booneville H. D. Club Has February Meeting

East Booneville Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Spencer on February 11 with thirteen members and the home agent present.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Estelle May, president. The devotion was given by Mrs. Spencer, taken from First Corinthians 1-13. Mrs. J. A. Thornton led the group in singing, "Love's Old Sweet Song." The roll was called and the minutes read by the secretary.

Mrs. Clarence Bennett gave a report on Gardening. Mrs. Charles Bishop was welcomed as a new member of the club. A demonstration on Home Lighting was given by Mrs. Ross.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Gardens In 1964

See your county and home demonstration agent at once to help you plan your garden. Remember, all vegetables need minor elements or a complete balanced fertilizer for most delicious, tender development. Use a premium fertilizer such as 12-12-12 Golden River with 6 minor elements or a similar kind of fertilizer from your garden. Your vegetables must be grown in soil properly supplied with essential plant food elements. See your local dealer today — it is getting late.

Services Held For Mrs. Lena Wales

Mrs. Lena V. Bolt Wales, widow of Rev. Carl S. Wales, died at El Reposo Sanitarium, Florence, Ala., Wednesday morning, February 5th, 1964. She was 87.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at Lowrey Memorial Baptist Church, Blue Mountain, Miss., with Dr. W. C. Tyler, President of Blue Mountain College, assisting the pastor, Rev. Norman Deaton. Misses Beverly Beard, Ivey Lambert, and Elaine Cannon, of the college, sang "Come, Ye Disciples" and "Near to the Heart of God," accompanied by the organist, Mrs. J. E. Buchanan. Burial was in the Blue Mountain Cemetery with Nance Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Wales was born in Wedowee, Ala. In early life her family moved to Prentiss County and resided in the Blythe Chapel Community for a time. She was educated in the county schools and later attended Loka Normal Institute and Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. She taught school at Oak Hill, Osborne, Pisgah, Burton, Booneville, and Baldwin. During the early 1900's she became Lee County's first home demonstration agent, pioneering in canning and poultry clubs for women and girls, and astonishing the country folk with her ways with a Ford car.

After marrying Mr. Wales, she worked untiringly in the Baptist churches of Ashdown, Arkansas, Dawson Springs, Kentucky, Ripley and Blue Mountain, Mississippi. At Blue Mountain their home became a home for many students attending college including several from Prentiss County.

After the death of her husband, Mrs. Wales lived with her stepdaughter, Mrs. John Chester Evans, of Sheffield, Ala. Besides Mrs. Evans, she leaves a host of nieces and nephews.

Those from Booneville attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parker, Mrs. Alice Ben Floyd, Mr. Martin Bolt, Mrs. Grace Wales Morgan, and her daughter.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

BENEFITS DETAILED

Growers who participate in the 1964 feed grain program will have definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate.

First the participating grower earns a diversion payment for reducing his 1964 acreage of corn, barley, or grain sorghum, thereby assuring himself of a substantial income from the diverted acres regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail, or crop disease. This is also true of the price support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1964 to one or more of the three feed grains — no matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price support payment is assured.

Second, price support loans and purchase agreements will be available on a participating farmer's entire 1964 production of the three feed grains.

And, if the participating farmer requests it, an advance payment of part of the diversion payment will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

Growers take part in the feed grain program by diverting at least 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program. If more than the minimum acreage is diverted, a higher rate of payment will apply.

The minimum rate of payment is based on one-fifth of the county's total price support rate; the maximum or higher rate is based on one-half of the support rate.

Farm operators may file applications to take part in the 1964 feed grain program at the ASCS County Office. The sign-up period extends from February 10 through March 27.

RELEASE COTTON ACREAGE

County farmers are urged to release cotton acreage that will not be planted in 1964. If you release your acreage and have a chance to rent it later, we will destroy the release form if notified on or before March 31, 1964.

GIVE YOUR HOME A LIFT— WITH GOOD LIGHTING

Good lighting gives your home a lift. It creates a bright, cheerful atmosphere. And it furnishes the comfortable seeing conditions so necessary for eyesight protection.

Today's variety in lighting fixtures and lamps makes it possible for you to give your home a lift with lighting — without too much difficulty. In the wide range of lighting sources, there are fixtures and lamps to fit just about any budget.

Since various seeing tasks require different amounts of lighting, the lighting equipment that you choose must fill these requirements if your home is to have the kind of lighting you need for all purposes.

The problem, then, is how much lighting.

For dining or walking around in the home, good general lighting will probably be all that you need. This lighting may be furnished by ceiling fixtures, cove and cornice lighting, or valance lighting.

The next step up is lighting for general games. For these, you'll need about twice as much light as you do for dining and moving about in the home. (For most games, you can use a junior floor or bridge lamp with a diffusing bowl and a 150-watt bulb.)

When it comes to real seeing tasks, the amount of lighting needed goes up sharply. Reading, sewing, and study are in this class.

For casual reading and leafing through magazines, your eyes will be comfortable if you use floor or table lamps with 150 watt bulbs. (Again there should be diffusing bowls or the bulbs should be the indirect lighting type). But for the fine print, it's best to be on the safe side with a floor lamp — or one of the new table lamps — with a 100-200-300 watt bulb.

You will need especially good lighting for sewing. For average sewing, you can use your floor lamp with the 100-200-300 bulb. But for the fine sewing or sewing on dark goods, you will clamp a shielded spot or flood bulb on that lamp below eye level.

For lighting the desk or table that you use for reading, writing, or drawing, you have a choice of three light sources — table lamp, wall lamps, or fluorescent lamp. The table lamp will take a 50-100-150 bulb in a diffusing bowl or a 150 indirect light bulb. You'll use two wall lamps with 100 watt bulbs in diffusing bowls. The fluorescent lamp takes two 20-watt tubes.

If you sew or read in your bedroom you'll want specific lighting for these tasks. And special lamps for make-up at your dresser or dressing table.

Regardless of the size of your bathroom, you can use an overhead fixture, plus good lighting on each side of the mirror.

The kitchen calls for good general lighting, and individual lighting at your work centers.

To give your home a lift with lighting and to protect your eyes, you will follow this general rule for each room: the harder the seeing task, the better the lighting.

Deserved Recognition

Future Farmers of America will be honored during the week of February 15 to 22, and so it should be. Preparing young people for a lifetime career in modern agriculture is a matter of top importance. On their shoulders will rest much of the responsibility of bringing forth the miracles of production that the future will require from America's farmland.

Throughout the United States, farm boys between the ages of 14 and 21 belonging to FFA benefit from a coordinated program of high school instruction in vocational agriculture combined with guided activities which give practical business and farming experience. FFA organizations have become focal points working for improved agriculture, betterment of local communities, more satisfying farm home life, and more efficient farmer citizens. They deserve our heartiest congratulations for a job well done.

1964 Freedoms Roll

Once a year, at this time, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge calls on all Americans to join with it in Freedoms Roll-Call, a period during which we are asked not only to think about the freedom we enjoy but also to give visible demonstration of how we value it and would preserve it against the attacks of those who seek to deprive us of it.

No doubt there are those among us who will question the need for asking Americans to reflect on Freedom. To them we quote the Foundation's slogan for the 1964 Roll Call:

"YOU DON'T MISS FREEDOM

UNTIL YOU LOSE IT"

In the 187 years since our forefathers wrote the Constitution and its Preamble, there have been numerous attempts to alter it and abridge the rights and privileges we have come to take for granted.

Fortunately, none succeeded because our people were alert to the threats. In modern times, however, we face more sophisticated—and more dangerous—threats to our Freedoms. They are more dangerous because they do not come as direct assaults on our rights and privileges but as oblique and carefully obscured attacks on our minds. They are attacks subtly conceived and subtly disseminated among us by propagandists who seek to com-vince us that the enemies of Free Enterprise and the American Way of Life wish to improve our time-tested system of government by relieving us of responsibilities. They seek by softening phrases and catch words to reduce our ability to recognize encroachment on our rights as citizens.

Freedom—the American Way—means: Among the most prized rights from God—the right to free elections and personal secret ballot, the right to worship God in one's own way; the right to work in callings and localities of our choice, the right to freedom of arbitrary government regulation and control; the right to peaceful assembly; freedom of speech and press; and the right to contract about our affairs; right to own and operate properties without undue interference by government and the right to do and say as we please so long as we do not affect the liberties of others; the right to be responsible for ourselves, and our families.

We urge every American to pause at least once during the Freedoms Roll-Call period and consider the wisdom of its purpose.

Preserving American freedom is more than a phrase. It is a necessity and the duty of everyone who enjoys the system under which we live and prosper, in this, the greatest country on the face of the earth.

Hog Feeding For Extra Farm Income

Swine producers who remain in the business are ready for increases in market demands and, too, you are in a position to weather depressed lower market demands. Figure your return from feeding hogs to see if you have been missing out on extra farm income. W. L. Richmond in his Miss. Extension Bulletin No. 438 figures 350 pounds of feed for each 100 pounds gain. With corn selling for $1.40 per bushel and feeder pigs costing 16c per pound, net return would be about $5.04 per 200 pounds hog sold. Call on your local county agent for a copy of Bulletin No. 438.

100 Years Ago— Sherman's Men Burn, Sack Meridian, Miss.

By LON K. SAVAGE

Meridian, Miss., a railroad center 150 miles east of Vicksburg, had become an important supply depot for the Confederate army during the Civil War. Perhaps more important, it had become a center of activity for Southern guerrillas who raided Union installations in the Deep South. But 100 years ago this week, Meridian, Miss., became a wasteland—sacked, looted, wrecked and burned by Union soldiers under General William Tecumseh Sherman.

Sherman would make his reputation for destruction with Southerners later that year in his famous march across Georgia, but he gave a good preview of his warfare at Meridian.

Sherman had set out from Vicksburg with 20,000 men on February 3 to destroy the railroads there and, if things worked out well, to move on toward Selma or Mobile in Alabama.

Confederates Withdraw

His men easily beat down resistance as they moved across the state. They passed through Jackson on February 6 and arrived at Meridian on the 14th. Outnumbered Confederates under Bishop Leonidas Polk withdrew. Then the Federals went to work.

There were 10,000 of them at the job, and they spent five days on it. Their objective was to destroy all that could be of use to the Confederate war effort, and they interpreted the objective literally. They tore up railroad tracks from 25 to 50 miles in all directions, bending the tracks and burning the ties. Sixty-one bridges and culverts were burned. So were more than a mile of trestles.

Turning on the buildings, the soldiers burned the town arsenal, two hotels, several factories, shops and storehouses. Bales of cotton, textiles, foodstuffs and army equipment also went up in blaze.

Cavalry Stopped

Sherman had ordered a force of cavalry to come down from Memphis and join him in a march into Alabama. But Confederate General Nathan Bedford Forrest had intercepted the Union cavalry as it moved south and in a sharp fight at Okolona sent it retreating in panic back to Memphis. Although outnumbered, Forrest had outmaneuvered and out-fought the Federals to win one of his most glorious victories.

Without the cavalry, Sherman turned his men westward again and left the smoking ruins that marked Meridian. As his army headed back for Vicksburg, Negro slaves from throughout central Mississippi fell in behind the blue coated column and marched with them.

Soon, Sherman noticed, there were "about ten miles of Negroes" following his army — from 5,000 to 8,000 men, women and children marching they knew not where, except that they were marching away from slavery.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT

Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Keeping a customer "sold" is one of the essential functions of advertising.

A first sale is of little value to the retailer. Each store must have regular customers before it can become profitable.

For both retailer and manufacturer, advertising is the only method of stimulating massive repetition of purchasing.

Advertising is a constant reminder that a company or a product is still serving the consumer. Also it provides information on new developments, giving the consumer assurance that he is getting up-to-date goods and services. It maintains prestige for store and product.

The multi-million dollar advertising budgets of beverage companies would be wasted if appeals resulted only in single sales. Through relentless persistence their advertising resells many times.

The hometown retail store faces the same problem of reselling which commands the attention of the national manufacturer. A store really ceases to exist in the mind of the local consumer when it no longer proclaims its own merits.

Every retailer has competition—next door or in a nearby city. That competition is always quick and eager to fill a vacuum created by the absence of consistent advertising which constantly resells.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Thomas Edison lived a life doing the things that "can't be done." Continued Sciences have hit the moon, but we are approaching a new era somewhere around the corner, that eternal day, when the sun, moon, and stars will fail to shine, and utter darkness will prevail and we will hear our Lord say again, "Let there be light," and the illumination will be far greater than the imagination of man—then what will the Scientists say without sun, moon, nor stars? No night, only one perfect eternal day.

Public Relations Notebook

BY Neil Woodruff, Asst. Professor of Journalism, MSCW

Mr. Woodruff

This area of Public relations takes many forms. Usually it is thought of as publicity releases, advertisements, brochures, pamphlets or other means of promoting a business. Public relations is concerned with professional persons, particularly doctors and dentists, but it also includes attorneys and to some degree churches and hospitals.

It is a standing code of ethics for doctors and dentists not to run advertisements in newspapers soliciting business. If advertisements appear at all they take the form of announcements such as a change in office location, the addition of a new professional person or, perhaps, in the form of a signature to a community goodwill advertisement.

A doctor or dentist's public relations program is about as personal as possible. Good public relations or either depends on satisfied patients or visitors. If a person has confidence in a doctor or dentist, it is natural that this confidence will be conveyed to others. It is through this continuous cycle that professional persons build and promote a very personal public relations program.

The success or failure of a professional person's public relations depends on the degree of confidence in which his clients place in him. If this confidence is strong it will be reflected with an outflowing of goodwill from patients and will result generally in an increased flow of clients. If it is weak, it will likewise reflect in that direction.

Professional persons are keenly interested in the public opinion aspect of their business, for in a real respect, it is their business. They keep abreast of "trends" through personal conversations with persons. And most have adopted the practice of asking each client on their initial information form to list the person or persons by whom they were recommended.

Each of us are a part of this picture. It is the most personal public relations perhaps that we have. And it is likely that professional people and the public would not be satisfied if it were any other way.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

The fuel is regular. The performance is premium.

Premium performance doesn't cost a nickel extra in a '64 Dodge. Because under that handsome hood lurks the largest standard engine in the low-price field (318 cu. in. V8). It doesn't cost you extra at the gas pump, either! Regular grade fuel suits it just fine.

Dodge is as luxurious as it is lively. The Polara 2-door hardtop above, for instance, features a rich saddle-grain vinyl interior, a comfort-providing flip-down center armrest, foam seat padding, and thick wall-to-wall carpeting—all standard equipment. Yet it's priced right with comparable models of Ford and Chevrolet.

In all, there are twenty-two Dodge models to choose from. In three series. Each is a low-priced car. And each is backed by a long, strong 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.* You could easily pay more for such a fine automobile, but why should you? See your Dependable Dodge Dealer instead!

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1964 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and parts, rear wheel bearings. Required Maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service in a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Mrs. Eunice Price Receives Large Array Of Gifts At Miscellaneous Shower Saturday

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Mrs. Eunice Peeler Price on Saturday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Arthur Schultz with the Mrs. R. B. Cunningham, Mrs. Mabel Hill, Mrs. Leland Billingsley and Mrs. E. L. Robinson, associate hostesses, who greeted the more than a hundred guests who attended the event with more than usual interest because of the wide friendships Mrs. Price has inspired.

A large number of beautiful gifts, selected with care and thought, many handmade and individualized, were displayed in the den. In the dining room the table was covered with an imported cut-work cloth. A handsome silver flower candelabra with a drift of delicate pink carnations in its center enhanced the table setting. Pink tapers at each side cast an added gleam to the picture arrangement. Mrs. Tom Peeler served punch. Trays of dainty cakes and compotes of salted nuts were passed to the guests by the receiving group.
