Sweet Way To Wipe Out Polio

Important Questions And Answers About Sabin Oral Sundays

Q. What is "S. O. S."?

A. It stands for Sabin Oral Sundays. Sabin polio vaccine is to be given by mouth (oral) in three doses on Sundays.

Q. When can we get the vaccine?

A. The first type will be given Sunday, March 8, 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Q. Who should get the vaccine?

A. EVERYONE 2 months of age and up—whether you have had the shots or not. The vaccine might not "take" if you have a high fever, or vomiting and diarrhea, but all others may take the vaccine, including diabetics, allergic individuals, and pregnant women.

Q. Why is the polio vaccine by mouth better than the shots?

A. The Sabin Oral Vaccine gives LIFETIME protection against all three types of polio virus. Healthy people can carry polio; Sabin prevents a person from being a CARRIER of the virus. No booster doses are needed, (infants may need another dose later).

Q. How will it be given?

A. Three drops on a sugar cube (or given in drops to infants). It is tasteless and odorless. You eat the sugar and you're permanently protected from polio. If you fill out your registration form before coming, only a few minutes will be required to get the vaccine.

Q. How much will it cost?

A. 25c contribution from those who can afford it to help pay the cost of the vaccine and supplies, but don't stay away if you can't pay, because the more people that take it, the better protection for everyone.

Q. Where can I get the vaccine?

A. Clinics will be set up at:
Northeast Mississippi Junior College
Wick Anderson Attendance Center
Baldwyn High School

Q. How can I get to the clinic?

A. All county school buses will run, with the drivers beginning their routes at 1:30. All persons, children and adults, who need transportation will be permitted to ride.

Clip the Registration Form, fill it out before going to the S.O.S. Clinic and take it to the Clinic with you. School children will also be given Registration Forms Friday to take home with them.

Booneville's Blue Devils posted a 46-41 victory over Tupelo at Tupelo Saturday night to successfully defend their North Mississippi A-AA title, and will be in action at the State Coliseum in Jackson this week end trying to repeat as state A-AA and overall champions.

Booneville's scoring in the Saturday night north final was fairly well distributed as D. T. Whitfield hit for 13, Mackie Smith 10, Larry Morgan 9, Fred Stennett and Billy Brasel 5 each, and Jim Burcham 4. Smith and Whitfield were named to the North State team.

All four semi-finalists from the north half play will move to Jackson this week to meet the four semi-finalists from South Mississippi.

In the opening game Friday afternoon, Booneville will meet West Lauderdale, the South's number four team, at 1 o'clock and at 2:15 Tupelo, number two North, will take on Hancock North Central, number three South.

Friday night at 7 Philadelphia, number three North, will engage Meridian, number two South, and at 8:15 Forest, number one South, meets Neshoba Central, number four North.

Saturday's 1 p.m. semi-final will match the Booneville-West Lauderdale winner against the Philadelphia-Meridian survivor; while at 2:15 the victor of the Forest-Neshoba Central winner. Saturday night's consolation is set for 7:45, with the championship game at 9.

Blue Devil Coach Ken Lindsey said if Booneville continued to play like they have for the past two weeks, they had a good chance to win the state title.

He said the West Lauderdale team, who Booneville plays first, was "hot and cold" but when they are on they are real good and will be tough competition, but he thought the toughest competition would be Hancock North Central or Tupelo, whichever wins the first round.

The team will leave Thursday afternoon and stay in the Walthall

New Tax Rate Starts Today

J. G. Martin, District Director, Internal Revenue Service, announced today that all wage and salary payments made on or after March 5 should reflect the new lower withholding rates established by the Revenue Act of 1964 signed by President Johnson Wednesday evening.

He said that the Internal Revenue Service will follow a rule of reason in enforcing the March 5 effective date. It will not find fault with employers who are delayed a day or two in putting the lower rate into effect by problems encountered in converting their payroll systems.

The withholding tables employers should use in applying the 14 per cent withholding rate were mailed to some 4½ million employers February 10. This advance mailing was designed to give employers lead-time in making the payroll changes required. Employers who have not received the Employer's Tax Guide, Circular E, which shows the new rates may obtain a copy at Internal Revenue District Offices.

Mr. Martin also stated that the new law would have an effect on 1964 estimated tax returns and withholding on certain payments made by employers for sick pay, moving expenses, and other items. A supplementary instruction sheet for estimated tax returns, Form 1040ES, explaining principal changes under the 1964 Revenue Act is being readied for release and quantities of this form will be made available through banks, Post Offices, and outlying offices of Internal Revenue Service.

A supplementary instruction sheet is also being prepared for mailing to employers with the first quarter's Form 941. This supplement to the instructions explains how withholding is to be handled on sick pay and moving expense allowances as enacted in the new law.

The Internal Revenue Service advises taxpayers with interest income to show the payer on Schedule B in order to facilitate processing of their returns. Schedule B is filed with the 1040 tax return and may not have been received in the mail as part of the forms package. Mr. Martin emphasized that where taxpayers make the added effort to secure a Schedule B and show their interest income on this additional form, it will expedite any refund what they might be due and may avoid difficulty in processing of a return even where additional tax is due.

at 7:00 p.m. The supper will be in the New Site High School cafeteria, and the price is $1.00 per plate.

Also, the seniors will have a Bake Sale on Court Square Saturday morning.

Imaginary Need

Groups seeking to establish a special federal agency to watch out for the interests of consumers must know very little about either the function of government or the competitive enterprise system, which serves consumers so well.

In the first place, government in the United States is organized to represent the interests of the people, all of whom are consumers. The Department of Agriculture, the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration and all the established administrative and regulatory agencies have the specific duty and the power to look after the public or consumer's interest.

The Justice Department stands ready to prosecute those accused of violating the law. Unless government itself has gone off the track and lost sight of its purpose there should be no need for another agency superimposed on all the rest to look after consumer affairs.

What is overlooked in new bureau promotion is the fact that the consumer's greatest protection lies in the very structure of our competitive economic system. Every item that a family buys from a home to hairpins is offered by a variety of competing suppliers. Go in to buy a small appliance—for example, an electric mixer. There will be a dozen different makes and models of varying prices, colors, designs and capabilities. There is last year's model for the bargain hunter. Any company producing an inferior mixer or selling it at a price too high in comparison with similar machines would not stay in business long.

Profit margins at the retail level are held to the minimum by keen competition, ranging down to little more than one per cent in many cases.

If there is one thing consumers, who are also taxpayers, don't need, it is the cost of paying for another multithousand employee government bureau organized to take care of a problem that doesn't exist.

100 Years Ago—

Grant Is Promoted To Highest Command

By LON K. SAVAGE

President Lincoln had never met Ulysses S. Grant, and few in Congress had ever seen him. Despite that fact, 100 years ago this week, Lincoln named Grant to the highest office in the United States army and the Senate confirmed the nomination within 24 hours.

And at long last, the Union army had its general—the man who would lead the Federals into a final, relentless assault on that formidable Southern opponent who had proved the undoing of all Grant's predecessors—Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Congress, in late February, had had to pass a special act to revive the rank of Lieutenant General for Grant, but it did so quickly, and Lincoln immediately signed the act into law. On March 1, Lincoln sent Grant's name to the Senate for appointment to the job so created, and the Senate confirmed it the next day. Thereby, Grant became the third American to hold that rank, following George Washington and Winfield Scott. And he became the fourth man to lead the Federal armies in the Civil War—after Scott, George B. McClellan and Henry W. Halleck had all failed to destroy the Confederates in Virginia.

Grant Gets Order

Grant received orders in Nashville on March 3 to report to Washington, and he immediately realized what was about to happen. Before departing, he got off a quick letter March 4 to Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, praising Sherman and Gen. James B. McPherson for their help in his ascent. The help these two men had given him, Grant wrote Sherman, "entitles you to the reward I am receiving."

And as the humble little man boarded a train for Washington, the Civil War went into its final phase, a phase of simple and brute force applied constantly against a dwindling Confederate force. There was only one way such warfare could end.

Grant's War

The new phase had been expressed best by Grant, himself, earlier in the war when asked by his staff physician, Dr. John H. Brinton, about his philosophy of waging war. Waging war, Grant had replied, was really quite simple: you just "find out where your enemy is, get at him as soon as you can and strike him as hard as you can, and keep moving on."

That was the philosophy of war Grant was bringing to Washington as his train moved toward the Northeast. It was this type of war that had won the Mississippi and at Chattanooga. Amazingly enough, it was a type of war that had never been tried in the East.

Something of Grant's ability in war was expressed a few days later by Sherman in his reply to Grant's March 4 letter. Grant's great asset, Sherman wrote, "is the simple faith you have always manifested. . . . This faith gave you victory at Shiloh and Vicksburg. When you have completed your last preparations, you go into battle without hesitation, as at Chattanooga; no doubts, no reserves; and I tell you it was this that made us win with confidence. I knew, wherever I was, that you thought of me, and if I got in a tight place, you would come, if alive."

Next Week: Grant And Lincoln Meet.

Public Relations Notebook

By Neil Woodruff, Asst. Professor of Journalism, MSCW

Banks are one type of institution in our society today for which we all hold a high respect. But the banking business has had its good share of ups and downs throughout its history. During the past twenty years or so banking has grown and expanded and, perhaps, has never known such acceptance and respect. Nor has it offered as many public relations services to customers as today.

Since more than 90 per cent of all money transactions in the United States are conducted through banks, the major role of banking institutions in our lives is quite apparent. Banks make our private and business lives much more convenient and safe and secure.

Of the many services offered by banks, the checking account is probably most important. Sometimes we do not think of the fact that when a bank accepts a demand deposit, it is liable to that depositor for the amount of that deposit. The bank assumes the role of agent for the depositor. The depositor orders the bank to pay one person so much and another so much, and the bank obeys the command. This is a tremendous service and we have come to take it for granted.

Many of the services of banks have been brought on through competition. Others have been instituted with welfare of the customer being the primary consideration. Banking service is a very personal service. And the fine, high-calibre bank personnel has been a contributing factor of this business activity today.

Branch banks, particularly the ones with drive-in windows, is a fairly recent banking service offered for convenience to customers. Branches are enjoying a great deal of success and have relieved main bank offices of overcrowded conditions. In many, many instances, the volume of monies handled by drive-in branches is much greater than that of main bank offices.

A few years ago a survey of banking services revealed that banks offered customers 110 different services. Of course, no bank could offer quite that many services. Some common services of banks include bank loans, personalized checks, night deposit windows, time and temperature apparatus, mail deposits, savings accounts and many others, some of a small nature and some of a higher financial structure.

Sometimes banks offer depositors another quite personal service that you won't find written down as a standing policy of any bank in the United States. This deals with the

Mrs. Hambrick Shows Pictures; Makes Talk Of Her African Safari At Study Club

The Thursday Study Club met for their afternoon program at the Town Motel, February 27th with Mrs. Mabel Cunningham, hostess. Mrs. Joe Walden, president, cordially greeted the members. Introducing the speaker, Mrs. Mary Bynum Hambrick, the director, Mrs. Harrell Barnett gave a brief and charming foreword.

The program on "Africa" was superbly presented by Mrs. Hambrick, a club member who is a world traveler. Mrs. Hambrick offered something remarkably new and unique with color slides and pertinent comments on her recent African Safari—the new way which is hunting wild animals with a camera—just as thrilling and it can be even more dangerous than hunting with rifles.

At Entebbe, Uganda, on Lake Victoria, Mrs. Hambrick and her party started the safari to and through Queen Elizabeth National Park, where they took a launch trip on the Kazinga Channel connecting Lake Edward and Lake George, and saw over the swamps brilliant birds, parading among the reeds—almost every known waterfowl—and some fascinating observations of the elephants at close hand. The elephant is said to be the most intelligent of the wild beasts. They protect their young with an affection that is touchingly human. They help one another in distress and care for their aged.

As the highway is approached, a group of elephants were pictured slowly emerging one at a time across the road like a frieze in a Hindu temple. Hippo herds were seen here. They continued to Murchison Falls, National Park, through the Ruwenzari Range, to see the Pygmies of the Iturbi Forest. The Pygmies were pictured with musical instruments and with Mrs. Hambrick. The woman in front of Mrs. Hambrick wasn't as high as her shoulder nor was the little old Pygmy man, said to be 101 years old. There was a beautiful view of the falls and nearby on the rocks were huge crocodiles, hippos and wart hogs, with their young, rising from the water all enameled in mud. The male tusks are like twin scimitars and looked to be a sharp and dangerous weapon.

Slides were then shown of Kenya's Royal Nairobi game reserve, where two lions were seen devouring their kill, with nature's disposal system in action. Pictures of lionesses were seen with their plump, butterball cubs, and some huge ones rising majestically from the grass and some in placid repose. Nyeri, where the world famous Tree Tops Hotel is reached, was a most significant picture. It is three stories high, built 50 feet in the air on a tropical fig tree. An armed ranger meets guests before 3 p.m. They climb the steps and the steps are pulled up after the last guest. It is built beside a large water hole and guests are given field glasses to observe the animals as they come to drink. Queen Elizabeth was at this hotel when notified that her father, the King of England, was dead.

Possibly the most perilous part of Mrs. Hambrick's adventures was her stay at the famous Ker and Downey Safari Camp. The party stayed in tents in the wilds where there was tenseness in the primitive life, far from civilization where the cries of wild beasts were heard three or four miles away and very often only 10 feet away.

Within the great circle of the horizon, there were probably as many as 100,000 beasts.

Across the border was a view of Ngarongoro Crater overlooking the Serengeti plains of Tanganyika, a volcanic caldera which is one of the marvels of the world. It is over 9 miles in diameter. From a safari lodge on the lip of the crater from which is seen 2,500 feet below is a gigantic emerald green amphitheater. With field glasses one glimpses a scene straight from Genesis; way down at the bottom roaming over the wall-to-wall carpet of grasses are herds of elephants, frolicsome zebra and wild beasts, all pursuing a way of life belonging to the Garden of Eden, where there is cast the loveliest light of eerie beauty upon the subjects of animal behavior in their natural surroundings. For eons it has been the domain of the animals and nowhere in all the world is there such a concentration of animal life. This place was reached by a Land Rover, Mrs. Hambrick said.

Mombasa, Kenya, a coastal resort, was shown and an old Portuguese fort. Huge elephant tusks crossed over the two-lane highway gate.

"Victoria Falls of the Zambezi River is exactly as Dr. Livingstone, the explorer and missionary first saw it in 1855," Mrs. Hambrick said. Its greatest width is 5,580 feet. Maximum height is 304 feet. It is twice as high as Niagara and one and a half times as wide. Maximum flow is 75 million gallons a minute.

On the island of Zanzibar, spice stalls were shown and an elegant door on an old, old house.

In Kimberley, South Africa, "The Big Hole" first diamond mine, was seen—and also the outdoor museum which houses the early equipment and the guard dogs training kennel. All were most interesting.

At Capetown, South Africa, Mrs. Hambrick went up Table Rock by cable car to Cape Point at Cape of Good Hope.

While visiting Umata, South Africa, all natives were seen with the exception of the store manager. Some were getting ready, painting up for a dance. Bead work aprons were worn and some children were pictured.

Mrs. Harrell Barnett wore a beaded necklace from Umata which was much admired. It was given to her by Mrs. Hambrick.

Along the route were more natives; a close-up was seen of several with coral-red hair, freighted with hoop earrings and ankle bracelets, looking the very figure of a happy warrior who wanted no part of civilization.

Mrs. Hambrick's engrossing story consisting of gripping adventurous views, expansive in her coverage of the great Veldt, created a moving drama in which the great wild beasts assumed reality with all of their natural grace and litheness. She proved her accurate marksmanship with the camera as well as her dexterity in photography.

Pictures make a better trophy than pelts. When you look at the pictures back home, it is good to

Enforcement Program Proving Effective

Statistical evidence of the continuing effectiveness of the 'selective enforcement' program instituted by Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong during August of 1963 was released through the Accident Records Division. According to Al Richburg, Assistant Director, the over-all traffic fatalities for the first two months of 1964 were 14 per cent below the same period for 1963.

Col. Birdsong elaborated on the figures by stating, "This overall 14 per cent decrease represents 14 lives saved over the same period last year. The fatalities on city streets were the same, on county roads there was a 45 per cent decrease and on the state and federal highways the Highway Patrol is charged with enforcing there was a 6 per cent decrease. We feel that our 'selective enforcement' is paying dividends.

"This 14 per cent reduction is significant this early in the year. If we can maintain the same rate throughout the year we will save over 90 lives. We feel that this reduction in fatalities is due to a number of factors, not the least of which is the good Motor Vehicle Inspection program we have.

Added to this is the cooperation between enforcement agencies, excellent coverage by news media and public cooperation by our drivers."

Railroads Report 28 "Near Misses" Of School Buses

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 24—(Special)—"Mississippi could experience a major school bus tragedy if greater care is not exercised by some bus drivers and the general public," State Supt. of Education, J. M. Tubb warned today.

"The Illinois-Central and other railroad companies have reported 28 'near misses' of school buses by trains at railroad crossings in the state in a period of a little over one year," Supt. Tubb said.

"The Greeley, Colorado, school bus tragedy in December, 1962, in which twenty children lost their lives and a number were seriously injured as a result of one man's error should cause school bus drivers to pause and think."

"In a number of instances, bus drivers are failing to stop at road intersections," Supt. Tubb continued. "As a result, the lives of the children are greatly endangered."

"Some school buses are operating without the use of school bus patrols as required by law," he stated. "In some instances, the traveling public is failing to stop while school buses are loading and unloading children, and many vehicles follow buses too closely, thereby endangering the lives of children."

Supt. Tubb requests the cooperation of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, other law enforcement officers of the state, and the general public in an effort to obtain compliance with laws and regulations governing the transportation of school children in buses.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By W. TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM?

What about the 1964 Feed Grain Program? Does it fit in with your type of farming? Would it pay you to take part?

Examine your own situation. Find out all you can about the program, then decide whether or not to take part!

First of all, the program is not designed to promote the development of the livestock and poultry industries in Mississippi! It is designed to reduce stocks of corn and other feed grains nationally.

If you are a livestock farmer, remember that except in VERY UNUSUAL situations, long time successful livestock programs must be based on home produced feeds. If you are a farmer who wishes to reduce his work load due to retirement, illness or work off the farm, then the feed grain program can well serve your purposes.

But when counting your income from placing land under the 1964 feed grain program, be sure to deduct the cost of insurance and de-preilation on those items of buildings and equipment that are idled as a result of reduced crop acreage.

If your estimate of yield is substantially above that assigned by the County ASCS Committee, you would probably benefit by growing cash grain on the entire base acreage.

On the other hand, if your assigned yield is somewhat higher than your estimate of yield, it will likely pay you to consider participation rather than growing cash grain.

Before making your final decision or not to participate in the 1964 feed grain program, consider these points:

Your feed needs for a livestock program, if any. Feed available for purchase and estimated cost. Availability of machinery and equipment for alternative uses. Availability of labor, cost and alternative uses. Concern for reducing labor requirements due to health, age or off-farm work. Your estimate of yields as compared to that assigned by County ASCS Committee. Effect on land such as weed infestation and reduced fertility level.

Judge N. S. Sweat, Jr. Selected To Attend Trial Judge College

Circuit Judge N. S. Sweat, Jr., has been selected from among more than 300 applicants to attend the first session of the National College of State Trial Judges which will be held at the University of Colorado in July.

Judge Sweat is one of 75 who received a fellowship grant to cover the expenses of his participation.

Judge Sweat will join 100 judges from all parts of the United States July 6-31 in a course designed to acquaint relatively new trial judges of methods for effective judicial administration being developed in other parts of the country. The faculty, composed of leading jurists and law professors, will present courses in court administration, modern trends in evidence, sentencing and probation, criminal procedure, pre-trial procedures and other currently developing fields of trial court administration. The course comprises four weeks of intensive work in these various fields.

The National College is part of the continuing program of the American Bar Association. Its purpose is to bring about an exchange of ideas and information among the trial judges of the U. S. Sponsor is the National Conference of State Trial Judges which is an activity of the ABA's Section of Judicial Administration. The sessions of the College will be held annually.

40 to 50 pounds per acre of nitrogen, whether you want grazing or grain.

On good stands of ryegrass, use 60 pounds per acre of nitrogen. On fescue without clover, use 60 to 75 pounds of nitrogen. If clover is growing with the fescue, either hold the nitrogen until later or apply 30 to 40 pounds per acre so that fescue will not choke out the clover.

Recommended fertilization of permanent pasture calls for an application of at least 300 pounds of 6-24-24 per acre, or its equal in other mixtures.

Wheeler Betas Have Regular Meeting

The Wheeler High School Beta Club held its regular meeting on February 21. The meeting was called to order by the president, Judy Hill.

The minutes and roll call were read by the secretary, Cheryl Malone. The club enjoyed hearing about the Beta Convention which was recently held in Jackson, Miss.

Members attending the convention were Frances Smith, Judy Hill, Wanda Strange, Kathryn Mathis, Mike McAlpin, Jimmy Short, Danny Joe McAlpin, and Jimmy Freeze.

A special program was planned for this meeting. Barbara Floyd, Rosemary Yates, Margaret Lindsey, Kathryn Mathis, Betty Williams and Frances Smith read their original poems.

After special announcements by our sponsor, Mrs. McAlpin, the meeting was adjourned by the singing of the Beta Song, led by Kathryn Mathis.

PASTURE MANAGEMENT

Management of pastures is especially important at this season. Fescue, ryegrass and small grain areas with little or no growth should be protected from bogging until growth is sufficient for grazing. Sod seeded small grains or ryegrass should also be protected from overgrazing until it gets a good growing start. Where livestock are left on these areas, the sod seeded crops never get started and give only a fractional of the grazing if handled properly.

MRS. ED JOHNSON

It's always interesting to learn of another person's hobby. Well, Joe Kingsley was telling me the other day how much his wife, Martha, loved to bowl. They bowl at Tupelo at least twice a week—Tuesdays and Fridays—and any other time they can. She averages around 140-150 and in the couples league, Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley are third. Mr. Kingsley averages 168, but he said his wife was really the bowler—got such a kick out of it. And just think of all that good exercise!

We received a nice letter and renewal from Mrs. Sidney B. Robinson of Memphis, recently, saying it was a pleasure to read the paper and that "Sidney looked forward to it as he was born in Booneville and had so many relatives and friends there . . . you have really made a wonderful paper with all the news." You know, a letter like that makes you want to work even harder.

We also received a card from the Fritz VanBrunts saying they had been having a wonderful time in Central Florida, the Keys, Naples, etc., but were just about ready for their return to Booneville and normal living. They expect to be home about March 10th.

Paul Killom, husband of the former Sandra Howell, wrote the following poem on the Tippah Hills. He said he wanted to employ the mounds of the land as symbolic of the many grades encountered "as we tread along. Life is one continuous ascent, as we struggle to attain the peaks that each have envisioned . . . Some stumble along, but those whose eyes remain set on the ever-increasing glow of their peak will inevitably arrive at that point." In his poem he used the word "Tipper" instead of "Tippah." Instead of the four lines in each verse, for this column we'll publish a continuous sentence.

THE TIPPER HILLS

These are the Tipper Hills, And the wandering lines of the rills, O'er the bosom of this land, Were fashioned by a Sculptor's hand. Molded breasts of nature, Succouring a lad's adventure, With the milk of their foliage, Sweetened by Mortal spoilage. These are the Tipper Hills, Where youth did work its skill, Where the heights were as naught, And the summits a lesson taught. From the pinnacle of the climb, Came instruction from the Divine, Related in unspeakable tongues, Other than the Mother's song And sing she did to my years, The lay of youthful ears; Of the maiden who sleeked through the forest, only to be pursued She sang of great venture, Of guests chanted only by Nature's Clear tones of her songster, Beckoning the wishful youngster. Yes, these are the Tipper Hills, Where immature minds once thrilled, To the challenge of their slopes, And brought dreams of future hopes.

One of our guests at the Aletha Lodge now has her private telephone. It's Mrs. D. T. (Lydia) Marchbanks, formerly of Mantachie. She has been blind for two years, but is still a lovely person—appreciative of all you do for her. Her daughter, Mrs. Roxie Roberts of Mobile, Ala., had the phone installed and calls her each week as does another daughter, Mrs. Ethel Underwood of Fulton. In addition, we dial the Dial-A-Devotion for her each day. Some of you may know her—Mr. Marchbanks was a lay Baptist preacher—and want to call. The number is 728-4408.

A new guest at the Lodge is Mrs. Maud Jones of Sallito. Her husband was the late J. W. Jones. She has two daughters, Mrs. C. R. Caveness and Mrs. Leon McCullar of Corinth, and two sons, H. E. Jones and John W. Jones of Sallito, all most devoted to her.

I was simply amazed Monday when I heard Don Windham, age 5, read. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Windham of 113 North Bryant Street. Mr. Windham is in the construction business, formerly of Vidalia, Ga., now with the construction of the housing projects. Mrs. Windham said she started reading to Don when he was 10 months old and he began noticing if she skipped a word. He learned his ABC's when 18 months old, and learned the Pledge of Allegiance at that time. Mrs. Windham used to take him to the Post Office so he could see a flag when he said the Pledge.

Don reads the Bible and his Sunday School lesson. He is interested in horoscopes, metals, and when he was three, said he "wanted to be a doctor." He types and is now learning arithmetic.

When I asked Mrs. Windham if he studied all the time she said, "No, he plays all day, but likes to do 'homework' at night." His IQ is 143. Average is 90 to 109.

The editor of the New Albany Gazette had the following item in his column concerning a story Coach Billy Ward, formerly of here, told him.

"Coach Billy Ward comes out with a fancy fishing tale, and of course he vouches for its veracity, about how his mother-in-law (Mrs. W. L. Gullett, Sr.) and another lady friend of Booneville went fishing week before last at Pickwick's Eastport pier and caught 78 slab crappie fishing 10 feet deep off the pier."

I called Mrs. Gullett and she verified the story, but hastened to point out she didn't bring them all home—the limit is 30. She fishes quite often and said among her companions were Mrs. Kyle Lindsey, Mrs. Chloe Lindsey and Mrs. Theron Pounds.

From Delman Harden's column:
What do they call it when you're stung by a bee and bitten by a mosquito—both at the same time? Sting Along with Itch.

Husband, answering the telephone: "I don't know. Call the weather bureau."
Pretty young wife: "Who was that?"
Husband: "Some sailor, I guess. Wanted to know if the coast was clear."

Mrs. Max Schoggins, originally from Ireland and now of Baldwin, and who is one of our capable nurses at the Aletha Lodge (I'm going to write an article on her soon) gave me the following poem:

"CAN'T AFFORD IT"
The bride, white of hair, stoops over her cane,
Her footsteps, uncertain, need guiding
While down the church aisle, with a wan, toothless smile,
The groom in a wheel chair comes riding.
And who is this elderly couple, thus wed?
You'll find when you've closely explored it,
That here is that rare, most conservative pair,
Who waited 'till they could afford it.

Till next week,
Helen

Senior Girl Scout Conference Held

Athens College in Alabama was invaded on Friday afternoon of last week with Senior Girl Scouts from all over the Tennessee Valley Council. This includes parts of Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama. They held full sway there until 9:30 Sunday morning, when they were dismissed with a beautiful "Scouts Own," a worship service led by Corinth girls, who had accompanied Booneville's Troop 161 and Mrs. Bill White. Mr. Luther Simmons drove their bus. Twenty girls went from both troops.

After arrival, it was discovered that each troop was expected to present a skit that night. Such a variety program should have been recorded. Each skit was hilarious and, although no judging was done, everyone around assured us that the skit done by Shirley Oakley, Judy White and Dianne Freeman was the funniest thing there, with Shirley completely concealed behind Judy at a table and using her hands to comb Judy's hair, brush her teeth, put on lipstick, etc., while Dianne was assuring a waiting young man that his date was almost ready. They use one of the two college boys who were left on the campus during spring holidays. He also acted as lifeguard at the swimming pool. Swimming was one of the highlights of the trip.

Booneville girls and part of the Corinth troop were in Brown Hall next to the cafeteria. Lasting friendships were sealed between the two towns before we let the girls off the bus at Corinth on Sunday afternoon.

There were workshops, pertaining to Scouting on Saturday, followed by a beautiful banquet that night with the girls in uniform. They also were in uniform for the "Scouts Own" worship service.

Each of us who went are looking forward to Senior Conference held somewhere in the Council next year.

Those attending from Booneville were Gloria Jean Rutherford, Caryal Moorehead, Shirley Oakley, Judy White, Dianne Freeman, Wanda Bullard, Marsha Elder, Ann Prather and Joan Tidwell.

Smith, speaking as mayor of Booneville, announced the Sabin Oral Sunday, to be held in the county March 8, and urged the Shriners to place emphasis on the event and to assist in getting everyone in the county to avail themselves of the vaccine. Need Early Hay?

In early March, apply 500 lbs. of a 12-12-12 mixed fertilizer per acre to Johnson grass meadow. After each cutting of hay apply 60 lbs. nitrogen per acre.

Fertilizer Placement

Place a "starter cotton fertilizer" 2 to 3 inches to the side and 2 to 4 inches deep for fast development of the young cotton plants. "Super Q" cotton starter fertilizer (there is no other similar fertilizer) should be placed as stated above. The cottonseed germinates and the tap root grows about 14 inches deep within two weeks if the subsoil is in perfect condition. This is why you should place the cotton starter, Super Q, to one side and below the planter drill of cottonseed. See your local farm implement dealer and ask him to help you rig up your fertilizer applicator for proper placement of your fertilizer.

Local Students On MSU Honor Roll

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Scholarship Day will be held on the Mississippi State University campus March 3 to honor 1,027 students who have been named to the Honor Roll for the Fall Semester of 1963-64.

Tribute will be paid to 338 young people who achieved the President's List with averages of 2.0 to 2.5.

The event will honor both the 86 graduates of the first semester who earned scholastic recognition and the 941 others still at State who made one of the coveted listings during the fall. Families and friends of the honor students are invited to the day's program.

Students from Booneville who were named to the Honor Roll are: William J. McCoy, President's List; Clifton Mize, Jr., Dean's List; James W. Nicholson, Jr., Dean's List; and Laura L. Sims, President's List.

New Discovery

Recent research with 26 adjuvants shows that Buffer X was the most effective and consistent in producing a mixture of 2, 4D esters in water solutions of liquid nitrogen and liquid mixed complete fertilizer which could be applied with a minimum of agitation. Save time — control bitter weeds and fertilize at one trip over.

Johnson Grass Rhizomes

Use 5 to 7 pounds of Dalapon in 15 to 20 gallons of water for broadcast spray on green growing Johnson grass 8 to 12 inches tall. Within four days disk the field thoroughly and plant cotton. See your local county agent.

The Constitution And 19 Senators Should Be Majority, Says Stennis

WASHINGTON — Senator John Stennis said here today that the Constitution is a great tower of strength to the South in the Civil Rights debate.

We have the Constitution and 19 Southern Senators on our side in this fight," Stennis said. "Together, that should make a majority."

Stennis fired the opening shot of the Civil Rights debate here last week as the Senate engaged in preliminary maneuvers to get the House-passed Civil Rights bill referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Senator J. O. Eastland.

However, the Senate voted 54 to 37 to place the bill on the calendar of pending business, thus bypassing the committee hearings which a bill would ordinarily receive.

"If this bill should become law," Stennis said, "it will perhaps create the greatest flood of strife, turmoil and conflict which this nation has seen in the past 100 years."

Stennis, one of three team captains of Southern Senators, protested the manner in which the Senate "trampled historic safeguards" when it voted not to refer the Civil Rights Bill to a committee for appropriate study and hearings. "This bill is monstrous, vicious and unconstitutional," Stennis declared. It is unquestionably the most radical and far-reaching proposal in the field of civil rights ever presented to the Senate.

"Yet, we will be asked to consider it on the floor of the Senate without the benefit of the committee action which has always been accepted as essential even in the case of much less important legislation."

Mrs. Morrow is associated with the Northeast Mississippi Hospital as anesthesiologist and Mr. Morrow is Tax Assessor for Prentiss County.

SELF-IMPROVEMENT EFFORTS PAY BIG DIVIDENDS

A high spot in year-end summaries of Mississippi's progress is the review of community development gains during 1963 through the state wide Merit Community Program of the economic Council. Some 90 localities have participated, and 34 of these have claimed a total of 67 special awards. Financed by 36 public spirited firms and agencies, the Merit Community Program is one of the nation's best and most effective vehicles for self-improvement and local development. The year just ended was unquestionably a bountiful one insofar as volunteer efforts to improve communities were concerned.

MR. AND MRS. CARLTON ABLES

Miss Alice Gorezakowski And Carlton Ables Pledge Vows On Saturday, February 29

Miss Alice Gorezakowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gorezakowski of Staten Island, New York, and Carlton Ables, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Ables of Dennis, Mississippi, were married on Saturday, February 29 at 9:00 a.m. at the Infant Jesus of Prague Church in Booneville, with Father Charles Reiner officiating. Mrs. Ann Ward, Booneville, was vocalist and organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Pete Le Sacco of Altus, Oklahoma, wore a white silk shantung suit and carried a cluster of roses.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Dorothy Le Sacco, sister of the bride, of Altus, Oklahoma. Best man was Jim Ward of Booneville. Mass was held immediately after the wedding ceremony. The couple will make their home in Booneville.

Use Pre-Identified Tax Return Form

Mississippi taxpayers today were urged to file the Federal income tax return form on which their name, address, and social security number are pre-printed by the Internal Revenue Service. The second, or "plain" copy in the mailed package should be retained for the taxpayer's records.

J. G. Martin, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue, said use of the pre-printed form will speed the issuance of refunds, as well as expedite other processing operations in the new electronic computer system.

He said a check of early-filed returns shows a substantial number of taxpayers, particularly those filing Form 1040, are failing to use the pre-printed copy.

The Card Form 1040A has been pre-addressed for a number of years, but pre-printing of taxpayer identification on Form 1040 is new this year. The printing is done through a die-cut on the first page of the mailed tax package similar to the familiar window envelope. It is this form that should be completed and filed with Internal Revenue.

If the pre-identified form should be spoiled, or is used inadvertently as a work copy, Mr. Martin suggests that taxpayers print the information on the second copy exactly as it appears on the first.

Public Invited To Musical Program At Blue Mountain

Blue Mountain College extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend a musical lyceum program on the evening of March 5, at 8 o'clock in Modena Lowrey Berry Auditorium.

The featured lyceum program will be presented by the famous Rainer Twins, piano-duettists, who will play exclusively works originally composed for one piano, four hands. The Rainer Twins are known as an unusual combination and a team hard to beat in the field of music.

Of their recent concert at the National Gallery of Art, John Haskins wrote:

"Alice and Clarica Rainer, two petite young Alabamians of almost identical comeliness, who have spent a few years in profitable study with the duo-piano team of Vronsky and Rabin, make an ideal partnership in the piano-four hands repertoire. Visually and audially delightful, they spread enough charm around in the Gallery's East Garden Court to warm that cold but leafy bower for days."

Testimonials from The Evening Star, Washington, D. C.; The Mobile Press-Register, Mobile, Ala.; and the University of Minnesota Program Service, have just been received by Dr. Wilfred C. Tyler, President of Blue Mountain College from Concert Management Willard Matthews, New York, N. Y.

Revised Highway Maps Available

Mississippi's official State Highway Map has been revised as of January 21, and copies are now available, the Highway Commission announced today.

The revised map shows projects completed since publication of the 1963 map, including several links of interstate and numerous primary, secondary and urban completions.

There are 10,606 miles of roads on the designated state highway system. All of these are shown, along with some county-maintained connecting links. Every city, town or community with a post office is listed.

Other information on the map includes a list of historic spots, fishing lakes, historical and other facts of interest, and a brief summary of the organization and responsibilities of the State Highway Department.

Copies may be obtained from the State Highway Department or the Agricultural and Industrial Board.

NEMJC Industrial Arts Program Prepares Students For Earning

Realizing that there are nearly 30,000 different ways in which men earn their living through industrial arts and that the economy of the United States will improve as the industrial arts program grows in our country, the Northeast Mississippi Junior College offers an extensive industrial arts program.

Not only does industrial arts provide methods of earning a living but it also provides a way for the pupil to experiment with different tools, materials, and equipment; experience which will help one to see if the workmanship is good or poor in products; and an understanding of the industrial life that goes on in a person's community, state, and country.

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College is continually striving to provide the best possible industrial arts program for its students. At the present time courses are offered in woodwork, welding, forging, foundry, and vocational education. The students work with such materials as wood, metal, and finishing materials.

Cotton Legislation

Have you studied the new cotton bill? Please take time to tell your local farm organization leaders, U. S. Senators and Congressmen what is needed to help you keep cotton as a source of cash income in Mississippi. Do not delay action! Remember this — cotton production and manufacturing of cotton's related products employs more people and returns more income to the Mid-South trade area than any one other single commodity. Tell cotton's story to your neighbors.

RIGHT-TO-WORK UPHELD

In ruling that state courts may enforce their own right-to-work laws, the U. S. Supreme Court for the first time in a long while adhered closely to the grant of freedom contained in the Constitution. The court also held that a state may ban the so-called agency shop.

Under agency shop contracts, employees do not have to take out membership in a union but must pay the equivalent of union fees and dues.

This court decision constitutes badly needed sanction for the protection of working men who do not want to be forced to join a union. State right-to-work laws originally came into existence to prohibit closed shop contracts under which a man must join a union in order to get a job, and union shop contracts under which a man must join a union in order to keep his job. These right-to-work laws have been a prime target of the union bosses who see in them an opportunity for freedom-minded working people to escape the dictatorship of union officials.

Where right-to-work laws are not in force, the working man is without adequate protection. He must in effect pay tribute to a union in order to hold down a job. This is an outrageous situation, for a man's job should be dependent on nothing save his ability to satisfy his employer that he is capable and willing to do a day's work for a day's pay.

The court decision upholding the state's power in right-to-work laws also is a welcome buttressing of state sovereignty which has suffered heavy blows at the hands of the Supreme Court in recent years. For the 20 states that have right-to-work laws, their sovereignty is somewhat safer as a result of the ruling.

But the task is not done, by any means. Thirty states do NOT have right-to-work laws. This means that in more than half the states of the Union working men are deprived of a measure of protection that they need. In these states, many employees will continue to be required to join and contribute to unions when they do not desire to do so. It is in these 30 states that renewed drive must be made to give working men the protection afforded them in the other 20 states. The favorable Supreme Court ruling should be helpful in promoting the right-to-work drive and in helping the general public understand the issue of personal freedom that is involved.

Even in those states that have the right-to-work, working men still are under heavy pressures from powerful unions that often resort to ruthless pressures. Enforcement of the right-to-work is not always easy or carried out to the extent that it should be. Many lines of work are still dominated by tight union structures. The working man who wants to assert his rights faces big trouble from the union organizations. Thus, much remains to be done in the enforcement field. There needs to be, for example, a closer surveillance of employment conditions in industry, with an eye to seeing that the unions are not exercising subtle, underhanded pressures to bypass the right to work laws.

These laws must not be allowed to become dormant or dead letters. The letter of the right-to-work laws needs to be enforced in the 20 states that possess them. Moreover, the spirit of the right-to-work laws needs to be felt by state courts and agencies that are responsible for protecting the rights of working people who do not wish to be coerced by Big Unionism. As always, vigilance is the price of liberty. This is as true in the field of labor relations as in regular political activities. If the average citizen and the public agencies are not vitally concerned about protecting the right to work, this right will only be a paper right and not one enjoyed by citizens who are seeking a job.

The country also should be informed as to the good climate of labor-management relations that exists in those states that have wisely enacted right-to-work laws. Where such laws are on the books and are enforced, there is a good feeling in industry that spells prosperity and progress. If each one

HD Club Meets With Mrs. Homer Parker

The Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday afternoon, February 28, in the home of Mrs. Homer Parker. Mrs. Richmond Moore was co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. L. L. Downs, the president. The members of the club gave the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States.

Mrs. L. H. Stutts had charge of a very meaningful devotional. She used scripture from Psalms and followed with a prayer.

A skit on Parliamentary Procedure was given by the officers. Mrs. Claire Ross, Home Agent, gave a most helpful and informative demonstration on "Light for Living." A collection was taken for the Heart Fund.

During the social hour a delicious dessert plate was served by the hostesses.

HOME AGENT NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS

BAKING SODA HAS MANY USES

You'll find the baking soda on your kitchen shelf is a cleaning material you can use in a number of ways.

You can use it for cleaning your refrigerator and freezer, for sweetening and cleaning food and drink containers, for washing coffee pots, for keeping plastic dinnerware looking new, for washing baby bottles and nipples, for washing combs and brushes sparkling clean, for making tiled surfaces gleam, and for making fine china and crystal shine.

Cream of tartar is ideal for removing blemishes and stains from stainless steel sinks or equipment.

BUY SHOES THAT FIT

Never buy shoes by size alone. Have both feet measured and always try on both shoes (both seated and standing every time you buy). Sizes vary from manufacturer to manufacturer.

Be sure not only length and width are measured, but also the length of the foot from the heel-to-ball joint. Toe lengths vary and this heel-to-ball joint measurement guides the sales person in the right size and type shoe for each individual.

The main support point in the foot is the natural bend of the toes right across the ball of the foot. For this reason the widest part of the shoe should fit the ball of the foot. The shoe should be flexible at this point.

KITCHEN VENTILATION

When you consider an exhaust hood for your kitchen, you will find both vented and non-vented hoods on the market.

The vented exhaust hood does the job better. Look for a hood the same size as your range, and preferably one that extends out over your range. Check to see that it is certified for the size of your room in square feet for the recommended rate of 15 air changes an hour.

Select a non-vented hood if you find the vented one too expensive or impossible to install.

Get a hood with a damper to conserve heat or air conditioning. Install your hood 27 to 30 inches over the range. Select a hood with an exhaust duct as short and as straight as possible. Be sure to GROUND the hood, so there will be no danger of electrical shock.

Use your exhaust to remove odors, smoke, heat and moisture. It helps prevent excess condensation. Use it to move air in tight, well insulated houses.

DID YOU KNOW A clothes dryer saves the average homemaker 20 eight-hour days and 40 miles of walking in a year, so says a home management specialist.

Home Demonstration Itinerary:

Geveille Club meets Thursday, March 5, at 1 p.m. with Mrs. Arlin Greenhill. Mrs. J. M. Prather will be co-hostess.

Friday, February 28, a leader training meeting was held to outline and to make plans for the March club meetings. This month the demonstration leaders will be responsible for an important part of the program on Your Clothing and You. Leaders attending from the Blackland, Burton, Booneville, East Booneville, Young Moderns, Pisgah, and Jumpertown Clubs considered the afternoon well spent.

Baldwyn Soldier Training In Hawaii

SCSOFIELD BARRACKS, Hawaii—Army Pvt. Alford R. Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Author C. Pace, Route 3, Baldwyn, Miss., and other members of the 25th Infantry Division's 35th Infantry, are participating in Exercise HIGH TOP II, a five-week training maneuver in Hawaii. The exercise is scheduled to end March 6.

The men of the division moved from the Island of Oahu to the rugged lava beds of the volcano Mauna Loa, on the Island of Hawaii, for the five-fire and combined arms training exercises.

The 19-year-old soldier, an assistant gunner in Company C of the 35th Infantry's 1st Battalion at Schofield Barracks, entered the Army in May 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Contentment is something that depends a little on position but a lot on disposition.

MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE
REGULAR SESSION, 1964
FEBRUARY 28, 1964

FINANCES

On February 27, the following news story appeared in the Commercial Appeal (excerpts): "A state budget of about 338 million dollars and revenue anticipation 20 million dollars short of financing it in the two fiscal years beginning July 1, 1964, reportedly is the latest financial situation facing the Legislature.

"That compares to a 329 million dollar budget recommended by former Gov. Ross Barnett and anticipated tax collections of 309 million dollars on the present tax base.

"The added budget apparently does not provide general salary increases for school teachers other than those who have upgraded their degree status which will require $14,694,044 in the new two year period. That amount is figured in the reported 338 million dollar budget under study.

"The present two-year budget for the period ending June 30 is 298 million dollars.

"Fiscal officials re-evaluated anticipated revenues to come up with an estimated $19 million dollars in contrast to their earlier prediction of 309 million. Some lapsed appropriations bolstered the new and higher figure, including one million dollars expected to remain unspent in the current allocation for the public school minimum foundation program."

Full Crew Law

Senate Bill 1610, to repeal the so-called "full-crew" railroad law in Mississippi passed the Senate by a sizeable margin this week (33 for, 15 against).

The House Committee on Railroads reported the bill favorably and it will be on the House calendar for next week.

Primary objection to this bill has come from organized labor, principally the railroad unions.

Workmen's Compensation

Senate Bill 1590 to provide for the employer or insurance carrier to pay pro rata share of costs where an injured worker collects from a third party in an accident passed the Senate this week and is now in the House Insurance Committee. Members of that committee are as follows: Wilburn Hooker, Chairman; Russell Davis, Vice Chairman; E. L. Boteler, Jr.; David Bennett; Elwood Branch; W. E. Callcott; Carl Craig; Griffith Lader, Jr.; L. L. McAllister, Jr.; W. B. Meek; Albert Miller; T. J. Millette; Sterling Seabrook; Frank Shanahan, Jr.; James True.

This is part of a National Drive under the leadership of a volunteer committee of 29 top industrialists. The 1964 Drive is being launched by a personalized appeal from the committee to heads of 13,000 companies with some 22 million employees in 50 states.

Mr. K. D. Bolen, superintendent of Brown Shoe Company plant in Booneville, announced there has been a good response to the enrollment of additional employees in the payroll savings bond program.

The over-all goal of the business-sponsored 1964 "Share In America" Drive is to obtain one million additional employees of business and industry as regular bond savers through payroll deductions. Achievement of this goal would increase U. S. Savings Bonds sales by about $300 million.

The drive comes on the heels of the Treasury Department's release of full Savings Bond purchase figures for last year. These showed that 1963 sales of E and H Bonds rose 11 per cent or $482,000,000 over the previous year to $4,760,000—the largest sale since 1956.

Hot Union Debate

Following considerable heated debate the House this week passed Senate Bill 1545 making it unlawful to print or circulate any matter for purpose of impairing, interfering with, or preventing another person from exercising lawful trade or calling.

Efforts were made to exclude organized labor from the provision of the act but were defeated. The bill was handled by Rep. Thompson McClellan of West Point who steered it to passage in original form.

Eminent Domain

A Senate version (identical to House Bill 66) of a bill to include the right of Eminent Domain for obtaining underground storage in underground reservoirs for the storage of gas was introduced this week by Senator Edwin Pittman of Hattiesburg. The bill number is S. B. 1678.
