Elizabeth Box Is Merit Scholarship Semifinalist Winner

MISS ELIZABETH BOX

Principal H. N. Tutor of Booneville High School announced today that one of the school's students has been named Semifinalist in the 1964-65 Merit Scholarship competition.

He said she became Semifinalist through her outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. This test of educational development was given in more than 17,000 high schools last March. Six thousand took the test in Mississippi and she is one of 154 Semifinalists in the state.

The student cited for her high achievement is Elizabeth Box, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Box.

She is among 14,000 seniors throughout the country who attained Semifinalist status. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories. Each Semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice. Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become Finalists. All Merit Scholars are selected from the Finalist group.

"Semifinalists are representative of our country's most intellectually able young people," said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"They possess the talents and qualities necessary for leadership in the future. They are resourceful, hard-working, and ambitious."

"In honoring them for their attainments we should recognize also that others have contributed significantly to their success by encouraging the characteristics that produce high achievement. The Semifinalists thus bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

All Finalists receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of their outstanding performance in the program. As Finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by NMSC and about 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, professional associations, trusts, and individuals.

In this last phase of the competition, the high school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests.

Awards may reach a maximum of $6,000 for the four years of college. For students who already possess financial resources which will enable them to attend the col-

Blue Mountain College Student Receives Pilot Club Scholarship

Miss Linda Shu May Wong, a sophomore at Blue Mountain College, is the recipient of a $1,000 Pilot Club Ruby Newhall Scholarship.

Miss Wong whose father was Congressman of the Nationalistic Chinese Government was born in Burma. Because of Communist infiltration, she and her family moved to Taiwan. Studying in Formosa, Miss Wong met the Reverend and Mrs. Bob Hunt and she became interested in coming to the United States to study commerce.

The idea of obtaining the scholarship for an international student was originated in the November 1963 meeting of the Booneville Pilot Club at which time Miss Wong and other students were present to add international flavor. Less than a year later, the dream was realized and Pilot President Leola Cleveland, Chairman, Education and International Relations Committee Evelyn Tigrett, promoter of the endeavor, and Pilots Jettie Nunley, Gladys Moore, Vessie Ferrell, and Ann Prichard were on hand Tuesday, September 22 at Blue Mountain College for the presentation of the scholarship.

Dr. Wilfred C. Tyler, president of Blue Mountain College, introduced Mrs. Evelyn Tigrett to the assemblage of students. Mrs. Tigrett told of the Ruby Newhall Scholarship Fund created in memory of Ruby Newhall for the purpose of furthering education on an international level. Mrs. Tigrett stated that $70,000 have passed through the fund to deserving students since the scholarship fund originated in October 1949.

In turn, Mrs. Tigrett introduced Mrs. Leola Cleveland, who presented the scholarship. As she graciously accepted the scholarship, Miss Wong expressed her appreciation to those who were influential in obtaining the scholarship for her and to all who have made her stay in the United States so pleasant.

Miss Wong stated that the thing that had impressed her most in this country was the hospitality shown her. After graduation she will go home to Taiwan, go into the field of business, and work toward improving international relationship. Miss Wong emphasized the fact that she would spread the good will which she has found to prevail in Mississippi.

Rainer Twins To Appear In Concert At Northeast JC

The Rainer Twins, piano duetists, will appear in Concert at the Northeast Mississippi Jr. College on September 29 at 11:00 a.m. The student body will hear a musical repertoire consisting entirely of compositions written for the single keyboard with two players.

They have also studied four summers with Vronsky and Babin, world renowned duo-pianists. Two of these summers were in residence at the Aspen Music School in Colorado and two were by special invitation at the home of the Babins in Santa Fe.

Since beginning their professional careers they have toured the nation, winning acclaim from audiences and critics for their musical integrity and technique and for their charm.

Of their recent concert at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Dr. William S. Newman, internationally recognized pianist, lecturer, author, and teacher, and Professor of Music at the University, writes: "Outstanding in its artistry and technical satisfaction, outstanding as a good show, and outstanding for its knowing make-up and handling."

Following their concert at the 1964 summer convention of the International Platform Association, Howard Higgins, Executive Secretary, writes: "Their artistry and friendly, charming manner joined in making their program an especially enjoyable one. The audience was delighted."

Learning To Do By Doing

Under the theme, "4-H for More in 1964," the more than 107,000 Mississippi 4-H Club members, including approximately 1100 in Prentiss County, will tell the public what 4-H Club work is doing for them during National 4-H Club Week, September 26 to October 3.

There are 4-H projects and activities to fit the needs of youth from any background or circumstance, and such club programs as leadership, citizenship, home improvement, yard beautification, electricity, automotive, personality improvement and many others are just as suitable for town youth as for those boys and girls living on the farm.

Based on "learning to do by doing," the projects offer practical instruction in the sciences and arts related to agriculture, home economics, personal development and career exploration.

The value of 4-H Club work is recognized by the public schools, which cooperate in the program to a great extent, and much of the credit for the outstanding success of the club year is due the volunteer adult leaders, junior leaders, businessmen and others who provide active support.

Let us all give well deserved recognition to Prentiss County's 4-H members and their leaders.

100 Years Ago—

Hood Moves North, Heads For Tennessee

By LON K. SAVAGE

Napoleon had marched into Russia early in the Nineteenth Century and had captured Moscow, the nation's capital. But once in Moscow, his army was ravaged by cold and hunger until it was nearly destroyed before it could get back to western Europe.

Confederate Gen. John B. Hood figured there was a lesson for the Confederacy in Napoleon's invasion of Russia. Federal Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman had invaded Georgia and had captured Atlanta, the state's most important city. Hood's idea: to make it as disastrous for Sherman to get out of Georgia as it was for Napoleon to get out of Russia. Therefore, 100 years ago this week, Hood began a new Civil War campaign. He set out with his army of 40,000 for Tennessee, hoping to get behind Sherman's army and cut off from the North.

Hood's Plan

Hood's plan had emerged from necessity. When Sherman captured Atlanta early in September, Hood had retreated down the Macon Road where, he hoped, he could prevent Sherman from moving farther into the state.

But as he waited, he realized that Sherman was in some trouble, himself. Sherman was deep in Confederate territory with a huge army, at the end of a long, thin supply line.

Hood knew he could not defeat Sherman in open battle because of Sherman's superiority in numbers. But, he reasoned, if he could circle behind Sherman's army, he cut the Federal supply line and leave the Federal army alone, without supplies, in a hostile state. It would be a matter of time, he hoped, before Sherman would have to get out of Georgia or watch his army fall apart around him.

First Move

On the morning of September 18, Hood's army began moving to the northwest. By the 20th, his headquarters were at Palmetto, just southwest of Atlanta. He then began preparing to cross the Chattahoochee River and head for Alabama and Tennessee.

Sherman in Atlanta, quickly learned of Hood's movements and began piecing together what they meant. On the 24th, he got word that Bedford Forrest had moved to Athens, Alabama, and captured a fortress with 1,900 Federal troops. Sherman put two and two together and came up with his answer: Hood and Forrest intended to operate together behind Sherman's army, somewhere in Alabama or Tennessee.

On September 28, Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, showed up at Palmetto and made a speech to Hood's army, announcing the plans of the coming campaign. In the crowd that heard him was a Federal spy, who quickly reported Davis' speech to Sherman. Now Sherman was no longer in doubt. The Confederate plan was known by both sides.

It took several weeks for Sherman to find his solution to this new problem. The solution would come in one of the Civil War's most famous campaigns — Sherman's march from Atlanta to the sea. Next Week: St. Louis Threatened.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT

Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Service firms more than any other type of business must adjust advertising to meet changing conditions.

The reason is simple. The leisure-time needs of the public are changing faster than other needs.

Two long-established restaurants recently sought the help of a marketing specialist to determine why their trade was falling. Since the city was a small one, the owners, knew their old customers were not suffering financially or that they had not taken a sudden fancy to cooking and dishwashing. They asked if the restaurant business in the town was doomed.

Some revealing facts were uncovered by the expert. Within two years, eight new competing restaurants had been started in the town. Each new business was advertising specific features related to price of meals, location, decor, menu, or service. Several of the new places were doing a better business than the older restaurants had ever done.

In truth, the tastes of the public had changed in a very short time. Increased travel had resulted in a demand for a greater variety of foods, more elegance, and more attractive dining spaces.

The eating-out public, actually much larger than ever, deserted the older places when advertising indicated that new cafes in town could provide the satisfactions which had become commonplace on vacations and business trips.

In the face of such evidence, the firms took effective action. The action consisted of making changes to meet the new competition. But no less important, it consisted of aggressive local newspaper advertising which informed the public how they had updated services to meet demand.

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING
Executive Vice President
Southern States Industrial Council

IN BED WITH COPE

Announcement that the union bosses have lined up solidly behind the Johnson Administration is the least surprising news of the month. The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) is the strongest right political arm of the liberal political regime in Washington. It has a willing servant in the White House, and, naturally, will do whatever it can to see that the same crowd now in power will continue to call the shots after January.

But what is surprising is to find some prominent business men lending their names and prestige to the same cause that COPE is supporting. These prominent individuals troops from the "Happy Land of Canaan."

During the early years of the Civil War, somebody wrote the vigorous old song into the scrapbook kept by Mattie Jones Maxwell, of Holly Springs, but the handwriting is not that of Mattie Maxwell. The name J. C. Jennings written at the end of the song could be either the author or the person who copied the song into the girl's scrapbook.

Because I think that this old song has never been published and because it stoutly expresses the spirit of Mississippi people during the years 1862 and 1863, I am preparing a copy of the old song for publication in a scholarly journal called "Civil War History"; and I would very much like to publish the name of the author if his name can be discovered.

Can anybody tell me whether the J. C. Jennings of Ham's Battalion, the Jennings from Blackland and Booneville, ever wrote any poems or songs, especially a version of a song called "The Happy Land of Canaan"? If so, where could I get copies of his poems or songs. The J. C. Jennings of Ham's Battalion was in the neighborhood of Holly Springs at about the right time to put the song in Mattie Maxwell's book; but we need further light on who wrote the song.

I shall greatly appreciate any information that North Mississippi people can give me about J. C. Jennings and "The Happy Land of Canaan." I am a brother of the late Sam Lumpkin, of Tupelo, whom we miss and whom we will not soon forget.

Sincerely,
Ben Gray Lumpkin,

in the business world must find it very strange to be in bed with COPE, for COPE ordinarily is busy with its anti-business projects.

It should be recognized, however, that there are some elements in the business world who for a long time have refused to stand up for the free enterprise system and for those stalwart men in political life who will defend the capitalist philosophy.

It's a fact that courage is not uniformly divided in this world, and that some men have more and some have less.

Indeed over the past 30 years, exponents of our various domestic brands of socialism have been able to find pet capitalists. Franklin Roosevelt knew where to look for them, and so do his successors.

It must be recognized too that a ruthless regime in Washington knows how to threaten business. The country should not forget the Kennedy Administration's totalitarian crackdown on the steel industry, with agents being sent into company offices to get records and corporate officials crudely menaced with prosecution. Nor should the American people forget how the Justice Department under Robert F. Kennedy sent teams into the South, armed with income tax records, to secure compliance to its political will.

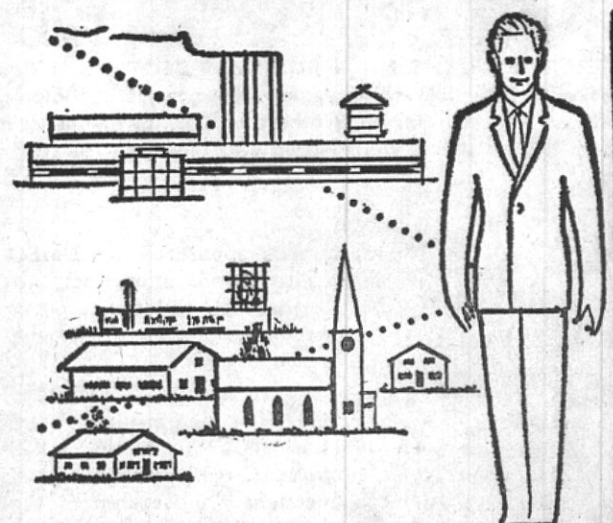

Undoubtedly, some men in business have not forgotten the way defense contracts have been handled in recent years, with huge contracts assigned on the basis of non-technical factors that can only be described as political. Companies that do a lot of business with the government unquestionably are in a position to be menaced. Then there are some organizations that stand to profit from the foreign aid and give-away programs of the Johnson Administration. A company that is building a dam in Ghana, for example, may not be very enthusiastic about ending a project that benefits an African dictator. Yet another category of businessmen who may be willing to lend himself to the same cause as COPE is one who moves in and out of government service. There are not a few individuals in the country whose hearts will belong to Big Government though they work for private shareholders.

But it never pays to attempt palship with the forces of socialism. Inevitably, the businessman who attempts to run with the gang that is out to bust business ends up the proverbial smile on the face of the tiger. Tragically, there are businessmen in all parts of the world who have failed to understand this truth. It should be remembered that Fidel Castro had his businessmen supporters when he seized power in Cuba. And after Castro was ensconced in Havana, there were American businessmen who thought they could do business with Fidel. They were mistaken to the tune of millions of dollars.

So it is in the United States. A businessman can't lend his name and prestige to an anti-business political movement without suffering the financial consequences. These may be delayed for a time. Indeed a few businessmen may temporarily profit from being in the favor of Big Government. But when free enterprise is hurt, then every business stands to be hurt in the long run.

Corporate leaders have a grave responsibility for supporting spokesmen for free enterprise. If these leaders won't support capitalism, then how can one expect the college professor or reporter to carry the ball? With corporate authority comes responsibility for capitalist leadership. It should be exercised in behalf of those who stand up for business freedom.

Congratulations to 4-H Club members and their leaders. Keep up the good work.

'65 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM DIVERSION SAME AS IN '64

Minimum and maximum acreage diversion under the 1965 feed grain program will be the same as in 1964. The minimum diversion for participation will be 20% of the feed grain base. The maximum diversion will be 50% of the base or 25 acres, whichever is larger. The diverted acreage announcement has been made early in order to help farmers, particularly winter wheat producers, in making plans for the 1965 production season. While the 1965 voluntary wheat program is generally similar to the 1964 program, it does provide additional advantages including a substitution feature for growers who take part in both the wheat and the feed grain programs. Releasing the feed grain diversion percentages at this time will help wheat farmers plan their use of the substitution provision.

Other specific provisions of the feed grain program, which in past years have been modified from year to year depending on circumstances, will await more definite indications as to the outcome from this year's corn crop.

Signup for the 1965 wheat program in winter wheat areas now is underway and will continue on through October 2. Winter wheat growers who sign up now will be able to modify their program intentions next spring at the time of signup for feed grains.

THE SECONDARY ELEMENTS

How many of us know our plants require 13 elements other than nitrogen, phosphate and potash? Three of these — carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen — come from the air and water, four other prominent ones are referred to as secondary elements, and the remaining half dozen are termed trace elements, as they are needed in small amounts.

Though referred to as secondary, calcium, magnesium, sulphur and sodium play a major part in maximum plant growth and yield.

The need for calcium, supplied by applications of agricultural limestone, is pointed up by the huge percentage of our soil which is highly acid. Agronomists repeatedly state we should be using 80 million tons of aglime yearly; yet for 1962, the last year for which figures are available, the total was just 23 million tons.

Magnesium, along with calcium, is one of the elements found in limestone. Magnesium deficiencies, showing up as an orange-yellow color between the veins of the lower leaves which turn whitish as the plants grow older, have been found in legumes, potatoes, corn and other crops.

It is also well to remember that liming will do more than supply the secondary elements calcium and magnesium. It improves the soil's physical condition, stimulates soil microbe activity, makes other soil minerals available to plants, reduces the amount and solubility of harmful soil chemicals, cuts down some plant diseases and creates a soil reaction for better le-

COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Committee elections will be held in December this year. This change was made by the State Committee so that committeemen would serve on a calendar year basis.

The State Committee also required that the County Committee redistrict the county into communities of a larger size with the number of farms ranging from 160 to 300 farms per community. The County Committee has recommended to the State Committee that the following eight communities be accepted.

Harvest Soybeans For Quality Beans

Before you begin harvest of soybeans, make a round and take samples of beans to your grain elevator, oil mill or ASCS Office for moisture test. Combine soybeans with moisture between 12 and 16 per cent. Adjust cylinder speed so as not to crack beans or cause splits.

Fertilize White Clover Areas

White clover areas in permanent pastures should be fertilized with 600 lbs. of 0-20-20 or any mixture to supply P & K per acre.

MRS. RALPH R. (BUDDY) SMITH

Announcement Made Of Marriage Of Mr. And Mrs. Buddy R. Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lester of Booneville are this week announcing the marriage of their daughter, Josie, to Mr. Ralph R. (Buddy) Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith of New Site.

The marriage was solemnized following graduation exercises in the spring when the bride, in her lovely dress of white trimmed in lace, and the groom slipped away to a Baptist Chapel where the pastor performed the ceremony.

The bride, a member of the 1964 graduating class of Booneville High School, was Miss BHS, a BHS Beauty, FFA Sweetheart, and winner of the Crisco Goodhomemaking Award. She had leading roles in her high school class plays and was outstanding in all of the school activities in which she participated. She enrolled last week in the freshman class of Northeast Mississippi Junior College and plans to major in home economics.

Mr. Smith, also an outstanding 1964 graduate of Booneville High School, was president of the Future Farmers of America, a class officer, voted Most Likely to Succeed, and was recipient of the district and state Star Farmer awards. He is also in his first year at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, planning to be an agriculture major.

The couple will be at home with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith.

Farm production expenses have climbed since 1950 for a gain of 51 per cent in 1962, reports the Economic Research Service. In 1950, it took 56 cents in production expenses for each dollar of gross income from farming. By 1962 it took 70 cents.

Jumptown RCDC Has Regular Program

The Jumptown RCDC met on Monday night, Sept. 21 in the school cafeteria with 21 present. Sixteen families were represented. The meeting was called to order by the president, Woodrow English.

Bro. Huey Wood gave an inspiring devotion from John 15:12. The Harvest Festival was discussed and plans are being made to have it when fall school opens.

Mr. Taylor Smith gave an interesting talk on soil conservation. He stressed the importance of conserving our natural resources by converting our idle land to money producing land by planting pine seedlings or other timber producing crops. He urged farmers to get soil samples and have them analyzed in order to get the kind of fertilizer best suited for each particular type of soil. He also stressed the importance of pasture conservation to build the income of farmers from dairy and beef cattle.

The members were glad to have several members of the Civitan Club out for the meeting. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

Local Dealers Showing New Line Of 1965 Cars...

The Rambler Ambassador is the longest and most luxurious of three distinctively different lines of American Motors cars for 1965. Over-all length has been increased 10 inches on models other than station wagons, and a convertible has been added to the Ambassador line for the first time. Ambassador styling is all-new with a bold horizontal grille separated by vertical dividing strips, dual vertical headlights and full-height vertical taillights. Shown is the Ambassador 990 four-door sedan. Other Ambassador models include two-door sedans, station wagons, hardtops and the new convertible. The Ambassador horsepower range is from the new 155 "six" to the 270 V-8.

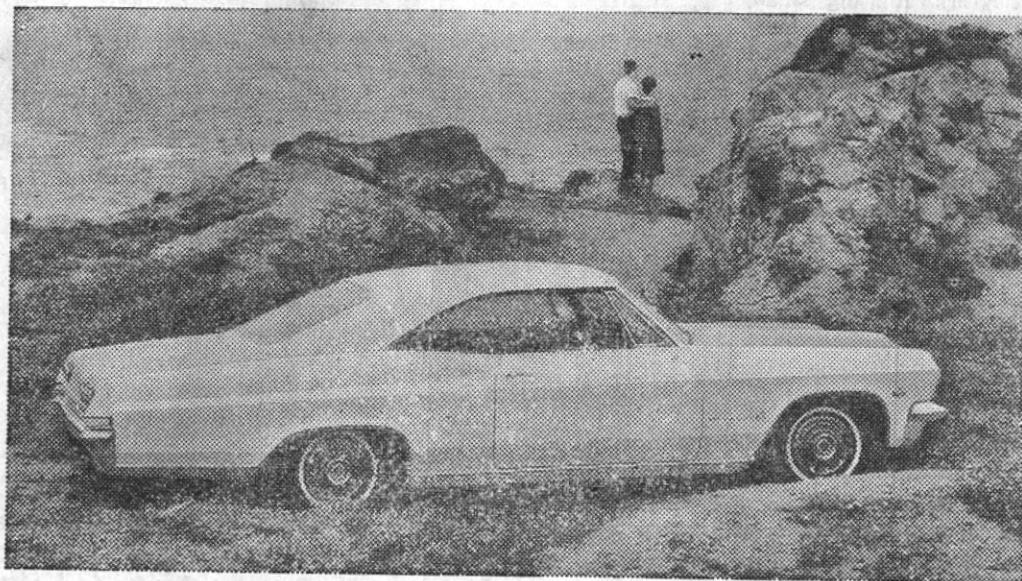

The 1965 Ford is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. The traditional, round Ford taillight is replaced by a modernistic hexagonal shape in keeping with the crisp, elegant look of the new Ford. Luxury styling is combined with a luxury car ride described as so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved into the engine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting. A luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series (above) features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher-priced cars. Five separate roof lines are offered with interior and exterior trim features to give greater distinctiveness to each of the 17 models than ever before.

The complete line of 1965 Fords — two- and four-door hardtops, sedans, convertibles and station wagons — will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms on Friday, September 25.

DODGE unveils newly-styled Custom 880. A new body style in the Custom 880 will be a distinctive sedan with six side windows. Four engines are available for the Custom 880 ranging from the standard 383-cubic-inch V-8 to a 426-cubic-inch V-8. The six newly-styled models of the Custom 880 line are the six-window, four-door sedan; two-door and four-door hardtops, a convertible and two four-door station wagons — one for six passengers, the other with a rearward-facing third seat for nine passengers. The Custom 880 and the Monaco (a special, luxury sports model) both built on a 121-inch wheelbase, will have their first public showings on Friday, September 25th. The Dart, Coronet and Polara lines also will be presented at the same time.

Leading the beauty parade of 1965 cars is the elegant Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe (above) with new flowing lines, new roominess and a distinctive profile. Stylish roof lines and curved side windows blend with the gracefully contoured rear quarter panels. The new Impala Convertible features an inward folding top with tempered glass rear window. The regular-size Chevrolet is available in 15 models in four series. The public announcement date for all Chevrolet-built passenger cars is September 24.

Blue Devil B-Team Loses To Ripley

The Blue Devil B-team dropped a 27-7 decision to the youngsters from South Tippah of Ripley at Ripley Tuesday night.

The Tigers scored on a 7-yard pass play with 2:11 left in the first quarter and passed for the point. They scored again with two minutes gone in the second period on a 40-yard pass play and the point try was stopped.

Booneville's scoring drive started at midfield when they recovered a fumble. Jimmy Dale Downs hit through left guard for 17, then Jim Hutchins went off right tackle 33 yards to score. John Hutchins hit right guard for the point. Ripley scored again just before the half ended on a one-yard plunge, and got the extra point at right guard. Their final score came on a two-yard rollout at right end with 1:27 left in the third quarter and climaxed a 50-yard drive. A rollout at right end also added the point.

Free Enterprise Day On Oct. 5th

In recognition of the American system of free enterprise, Joe Duckworth of Duckworth Rexall Drug Store announces his participation in the growing observance of Free Enterprise Day, this year to be held on Monday, October 5th.

"In setting aside the first Monday in October of each year as Free Enterprise Day," Mr. Duckworth said, "we call attention to the economic system upon which our American life is based, counterbalancing the Communists' May Day. We Americans are very proud of our freedoms. During the year we celebrate certain days because they symbolize our heritage as a free people — days like the Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday and Memorial Day."

"Now," Mr. Duckworth continued, "another one of America's basic freedoms, one which has been taken too much for granted, is honored with a day of its own. This is the reason we are celebrating October 5 as Free Enterprise Day."

"Free Enterprise Day is our way of honoring the economic system which has given us all a standard of living second to none. With just mittee of Walter Nunley, Nip Lauderdale, Leon Lowrey, Nelson Worley and Troy Inman, to work out the details. The refreshment committee will be in charge of the supper. This will be on November 25th.

There will be a work night in Corinth at the Fairgrounds Thursday night at 7:00 p.m. to work on the booth. Everyone is invited to take part in this.

1100 Members To Observe National 4-H Club Week

Eleven hundred 4-H Club members in Prentiss County will observe National 4-H Club Week, September 26 to October 3. The Head-Heart-Hands-Health youth are among 2 1/2 million members of 94,700 clubs in urban, suburban, and rural areas throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico. With the goal of "4-H for More in 1964," current emphasis is on the program's flexibility — club projects and activities adaptable to fit the needs of youth from any background or circumstances.

A major local and national aim of this year's 4-H Week Observance will be to recognize the 50th anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service, of which the 4-H youth program is a significant part. In 1915, when the Smith-Lever Act authorized the Extension Service, the same federal legislation provided funds for 4-H Club work. For this reason, 4-H also celebrates a GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY.

4-H Clubs started as pig and corn clubs for boys, canning and sewing clubs for girls. Today, projects in 4-H work cover many phases of life — helping young people develop their personalities, improve their skills, and gain new knowledge.

Other local and national aims of this year's 4-H Week Observance are to: Stress career exploration and the importance of wise vocational choice; encourage capable, youth-minded men and women to become volunteer 4-H leaders; and provide opportunity for clubs to honor their local 4-H friends and express appreciation for their valued assistance.

Aiding Club members with 4-H Week events in all States will be 362,400 volunteer 4-H leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities across the country.

The wide variety of 4-H Club projects in town and country offers educational work and fun for almost everyone. If you are nine years old or older you can join the 4-H Club.

Contact the local county Extension office and learn what 4-Hers are doing and see a list of projects that may interest you.

Great And Noble Man Passes Away

Cullen Benjamin Stennett

Many homes have been saddened by the passing of Cullen Benjamin Stennett. On Sunday night, Sept. 6, 1964, the death angels came to the Northeast Miss. Hospital and claimed Cullen Stennett as their own. The hearts of the young and the hearts of the old were shivering with grief to learn of Cullen's death. He was born in Prentiss County on August 28, 1909.

Mr. Stennett was the great-grandson of the late Benjamin Merritt Stennett and Elizabeth A. Matthews Stennett and the late John R. Martin and Elizabeth Shackelford Martin, early pioneers of Old Tishomingo County. He was the grandson of the late George L. Stennett and Elizabeth Martin Stennett of Prentiss County.

Mr. Stennett was the son of the late Benjamin Merritt Stennett and Sarah Elizabeth Short Stennett of Booneville. Cullen's father was a well-known man of Booneville and held a job for several years as nightwatchman of the city and was elected Marshal of Booneville.

At the death of his father, Cullen was the oldest of five children left at home. The load was not too heavy, nor the task too strong, so he shouldered the responsible of keeping the family together, starting to work as a grocery boy at a very young age for the late Mr. Bruce Alexander, where he made many friends.

In later years he went to work as a clerk in a grocery store, owned by the late Mr. Luther Spain. He was employed for a short time with Blue Bell Company and later became manager for Kroger Store in Booneville and Iuka for several years. Next, he became owner of a grocery store in Iuka, before coming to Booneville to operate a grocery store.

Mr. Stennett became a salesman

Banking Personnel Attends Meeting

Two films, "Anatomy of an Error" and "Public Relations" were shown the 150 attending the meeting.

From the Peoples Bank & Trust Co. were M. W. Smith, Kenneth Pounds, Eugenia Smith, Agnes Carter, Dorene Elder, Betty Gardner, Ann Wigginton, Bobbie Johnson, Faye Dallison, Ann Rutherford and Barbara Yarbrough.

From the Prentiss County Home Bank were James W. Smith, Jr., Marjorie Franks, Nellie Gann, Elizabeth Davis and Ruby Massey.

for King and Norman Wholesale Company of Corinth for whom he worked 17 years. His big smile, hearty handshake, and the lusty exchange with friends as he moved in and out of the many stores will long be remembered. Cullen counted his friends by the score. His day's work was never too heavy, nor was he ever too tired to exchange a good word and a hello or a chat with friends.

Mr. Stennett was rated as the top salesman for King and Norman of Corinth. His health failed him more than a year ago, although he was brave throughout his sickness.

Cullen attended Booneville School where he made many friends.

Cullen's two children, Sarah, a daughter, graduated from Booneville High School and Northeast Miss. Junior College and received her B. S. Degree from the University of Southern Mississippi; Bill, a son, who is 16 years of age, is a junior at Booneville High School and is rated on the football and basketball teams.

Mr. Stennett was a member of First Baptist Church and a member of the Mason Lodge of Booneville. He lived his life each day as a Christian.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pauline M. Stennett, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Morgan and the late Mr. Jessie Morgan of Tishomingo. Mrs. Stennett is Director of Nurses at Northeast Miss. Hospital; a son, William Cullen (Bill) of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Thorpe; two grandsons, Richard III and Benjamin and a son-in-law, Richard Thorpe, Jr., all of Mobile, Ala.

He also leaves two brothers, Clifford and Woodrow Stennett of Booneville, and five sisters, Mrs. Ollie Arnold of Pisgah, Mrs. Besie Shook of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Lizzie Lytal, Mrs. Ernie Prather and Mrs. Quay Spain of Booneville; a number of nieces and nephews and a great number of friends.

Services Tuesday For Mrs. Waldrop

Mrs. H. G. Waldrop of Booneville died at 8:45 a.m. Monday in West Point at the home of her daughter, Miss Rachel Waldrop, whom she was visiting. She was 74. Mrs. Waldrop, widow of the late Dr. Henry G. Waldrop, who was a Prentiss County health officer for many years before his death in December 1963, had suffered a stroke Sunday.

She was the former Miss Isabella Montgomery Agnew, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Agnew of Bethany, where she was born and reared.

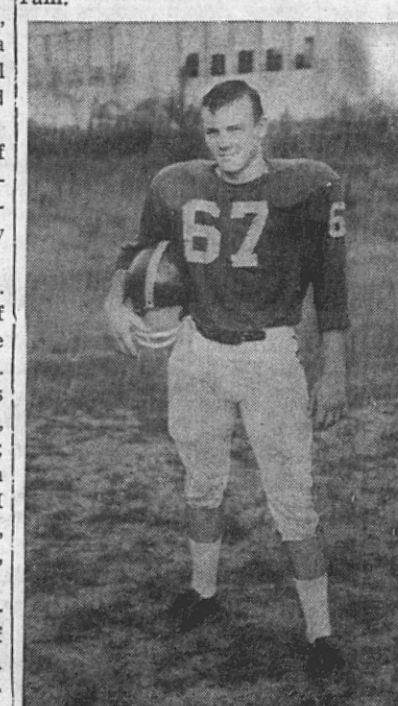

Services were held at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday in McMillan Funeral Home with the Rev. L. A. Wood officiating. Burial was in Bethany Cemetery. Waters Funeral Home of Baldwin was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Waldrop leaves two daughters, Miss Rachel Waldrop of West Point, and Miss Mary Waldrop of Booneville; a brother, Sam Agnew of Bethany; and two sisters, Mrs. Janie Robinson of Bethany and Mrs. Lou Branyan of Tupelo.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Booneville, Mississippi, as follows:

SECTION 1. (c) The words "at large" shall mean off the enclosed premises of the owner and not under the control of the owner or other person by leash, cord, chain or other physical means of restraint sufficient in strength to control the dog.

SECTION 5. Every person in the City who owns or has in his or her possession or who keeps or harbors any dog, of the age of six months or over, within the limits of the City, shall have and keep such dog inoculated against rabies, as provided by the laws of the State of Mississippi, and as provided by the rules and regulations prescribed and promulgated by the Mississippi State Board of Health, and it shall be unlawful for any person to own, or possess, keep or harbor any such dog within the limits of the City unless such dog has been so inoculated against rabies.

SECTION 11. If any dog is caused or permitted or is found to be at large within the corporate limits of the City in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, then such dog may be caught and impounded by any of the police officers of the City and may be held and disposed of as herein provided. If the owner of any such dog fails or refuses to so pay such fees within five days from the time such dog is initially caught and impounded, then such dog may be destroyed. The payment of the fees herein provided shall be in addition to any and all other penalties herein provided, and the payment of any such fees shall not relieve any person from the penalties herein prescribed for any violation of this ordinance.

conviction thereof, be fined for the first offense in a sum not to exceed $10.00, and for the second offense in a sum not to exceed $25.00, and for the third offense a sum not to exceed $50.00.

SECTION 14. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except humane societies, societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals, boarding kennels and veterinary hospitals and clinics, to own, keep or harbor, within the limits of the city, any dog over six months old that does not have displayed on it at all times a dog license tag, issued by the City for the current year.

(b) The City Clerk shall cause to be prepared and procure an adequate number of dog license tags for each license year. A dog license tag shall consist of a small plaque, having inscribed thereon the license year for which it is issued, the words "Booneville, Mississippi," and shall be numbered serially.

ing custody of a dog over six months old and keeping the same within the city limits of the City shall apply for and purchase as herein provided from the City Clerk a license for each dog so owned or kept for each license year which shall be from October 1 to September 30, both inclusive, of each year. When making such application, the person making same shall exhibit to the City Clerk or his deputy a certificate or other evidence that the dog for which a license is sought has been properly inoculated against rabies within six months preceding the application for such license, and shall also furnish to the person issuing the license a brief description of such dog, including the size, color, sex, breed and name of the dog, if any, together with the name and address of the owner or person having custody of such dog. Upon such application and the payment of the fee herein provided the City Clerk or his deputy shall issue a license and tag, as hereinabove described. The license fee for each dog shall be $1.00 per year.

(d) Paragraph (c) of this section shall not apply to nonresidents of the City, nor to persons moving into the City, until after 30 days' residence therein. Dogs that have the City, nor to persons moving into other cities of this state or in other states, within six months prior to the date of application for a dog license from the City, need not be re-inoculated before issuance of such license. The owner or person having custody of a dog wearing a current license tag of another city, within or without this state, need not procure a dog license and tag from the city until the following October.

Any person who shall violate the provisions of Section 14 shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not more than $10.00.

SECTION 15. That all ordinances, or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions hereof, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, the matter being one of urgency and necessity and the public welfare requiring it.

Kick-Off Meetings Set October 22 For Yocona Scout Finance Drive

Simultaneous kick-off meetings in all communities for the general solicitation phase of the Yocona Area Council Finance Campaign will be held on October 22, 1964. Special committees will solicit "leadership gifts" and "special gifts" prior to the general solicitation.

There are no community goals but each community is expected to raise "the sum total of what each individual and firm in the community desires to give when the story of Scouting and its need of support has been properly presented."

The Yocona Council of the Boy Scouts of America is the administrative and service center for carrying out the local volunteer program for the benefit of the institutions using the Scouting program in their Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer units.

The Yocona Council has 1,772 Cub Scouts (8, 9, and 10 years of age) in 79 Cub Scout packs. Cub Scouting is a year-round family and home-centered program of boy action, boy achievement, and boy health, built around personal fitness and boy helpfulness.

2,581 Boy Scouts (11 years of age and older) are in 124 Boy Scout troops. Boy Scouting is a game with a purpose with special emphasis on the out-of-doors and designed for character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness.

415 Explorers (14 years of age and older and in high school) are in 32 Explorer units. Exploring is a program of activities, experiences, and ideals which will help young men reach and strive for personal goals in citizenship, service, vocational exploration, social skills, personal fitness, and outdoor living.

Over 1575 adults serve voluntarily as Cubmasters and Den Mothers, Scoutmasters, Explorer Advisors, Scout unit committeemen, institutional representatives, commissioners, merit badge counselors, and as council and district members.

A staff of six professionally trained men are employed by the Scout council to provide guidance in carrying out the council program.

COUNCIL PROGRAM: 1) Help organize new Scout units and provide methods for institutions to select qualified leaders. A total of 18 new Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer units were organized in the council during the last year.

2) Train Scout leaders in unit operations, program skills, and use of Scouting literature.

3) Provide camping facilities and other outdoor program resources.

4) Give direction to special events and activities to supplement and stimulate unit program, such as Camporees, Scout Fairs, and Boy Scout week activities.

5) Assist Scout units in the advancement awards and merit badges.

6) Offer guidance in health and safety practices.

7) Provide personal counseling in matters related to unit operation and program. Serving as the "right arm" of the professional staff, there are 78 volunteer members of the council's commissioner staff who give direct service to Scout units and provide program helps through monthly roundtables in each district.

8) Maintain the council office for service to institutions and their Scout units and provide supplies, records, and program helps.

The council officers are: President, Hugh N. Clayton of New Albany; Vice Presidents, L. P. McCarty of Tupelo, R. A. McRee, Jr., of Iuka, and Judge Kermit Cofer of Water Valley; Treasurer, Gartrell Millam of Tupelo; Scout Commissioner, Roger Norman of New Albany; National council representatives, Roy Black of Nettleton, Wayne Leech of Pontotoc, John Stanley of Corinth, J. Russell Bailey of Coffeeville, and Chauncey Godwin of Tupelo. The Yocona Council Scout Executive is Jimmy Peterson of Tupelo.

Blue Devils And Aggies Each Seeking First Win In Game Here Friday Night

The Booneville Blue Devils and the Kossuth Aggies will meet at 8 o'clock Friday night on the North-east Mississippi Junior College field and each squad will be seeking its initial victory of the current campaign. It will be the homecoming game for the Booneville team.

The Kossuth eleven has two losses thus far, losing to Fulton 20-0 at Kossuth Thursday night. However, the Aggies were reported to show much improvement over their first game.

Booneville also played its best game of the season by far at Okolona Friday night and managed to score a couple of touchdowns, but the big, fast, strong senior squad of the Chieftains was a little more than the Blue Devils could cope with and they were on the short end of a 27-12 score for their third loss.

Okolona got off to a quick start after Hanna took the opening kickoff at his 15 and returned to a 38. Two pass tries went incomplete and Brasher, 205-pound fullback ran a left tackle slant for 11, then on a similar play went to the Blue Devil 35, from where Hanna went through right tackle to score. Tommy King added the point from placement.

The Chieftains added to their lead late in the first quarter on a drive that started on their own 46 after a 15-yard penalty against the Blue Devils. The score came on a 33-yard pass from King to Bryant. King's placement made it 14-0.

But then Booneville got into the act. On the ensuing kickoff D. T. Whitfield took the ball near the right side of the field at the 10, but instead of running when the Okolona defense had committed itself, he whirled and threw laterally across the field to Freddie Tollison who scampered down the left side to the Okolona 24 before being tripped up.

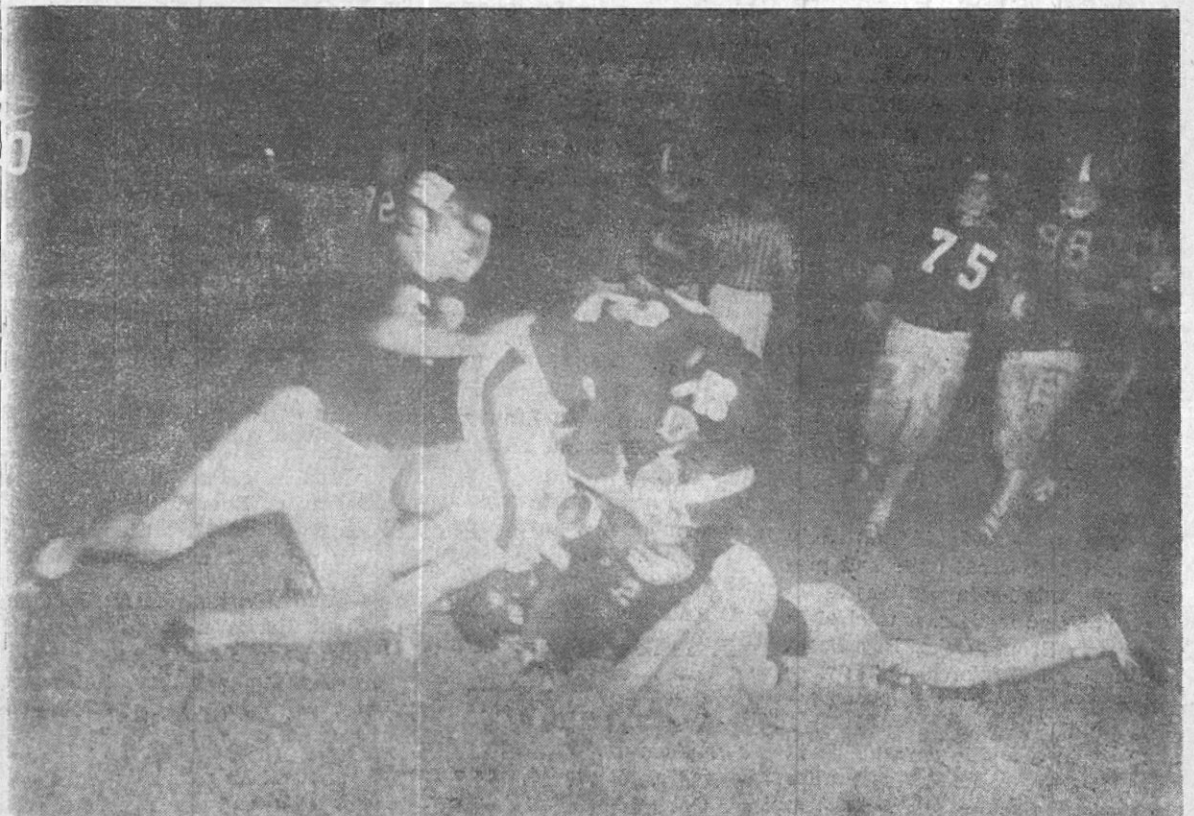

Donald (Bony) Jones got five at right end, Kenneth Shackelford picked up one in the middle, then passed to Terry Cartwright for a first down at the 13. Jones, Cartwright and Shackelford alternated for a first and goal at the one and after Jones was stopped inches short Shackelford went over on a sneak. Jones was stopped on the point try, and for the rest of the first half the ball changed hands with no more scoring.

Action wasn't long coming in the second half. When Okolona kicked off to Booneville to open the period, Whitfield took the kick at the Booneville 12 and raced 88 yards down the right sideline to score and left the Blue Devils with a two-point deficit at 14-12 as Jones slipped on a pitchout trying for the extra point.

Okolona struck right back with King going 61 yards on a keeper for six points. His try from placement was wide. King scored again a few plays later on a keeper from 20 yards out after Okolona had recovered a Blue Devil fumble at that point. This time his placement was good to make the final 27-12.

The last quarter was played on fairly even terms, although the Chieftains had moved to the Booneville two as the game ended.

CARTWRIGHT GETS GOOD GAIN— Blue Devil Halfback Terry Cartwright is covered by several Okolona players but not before he had picked up 27 yards on a sweep at right end in the game at Okolona Friday night.

The News From Franktown Mission

Some, like the apostle of old, gain cognizance through the association of our Lord and Savior; some gain cognizance through the association of those that have met the Lord. Others are "from Missouri"; they have to be sighted. So watch the old McElroy home being slowly repaired along with the tremendous amount of money that we have got to raise to pay for this land and develop the project.

We wish to thank again each and everyone that has contributed so liberally and unbelievably to this cause.

Woman's Club Has Fall Meeting With Mrs. B. G. Horton

The Booneville Woman's Club had the initial meeting of the year on September 10 in the home of Mrs. B. G. Horton. Since the club had not met during the summer months, members were invited to arrive early for the social hour at which a delicious frappe and ice box cheese wafers were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Royce Drewry, Mrs. J. W. Hollandsworth and Mrs. Lewis Perry.

Mrs. Homer Parker, president, presided. Mrs. Drewry led the club in the reading of the collect.

The subject of the program was "The General Federation Challenges to a Wider Horizon in State, District and Local." The panel discussion was led by Miss Irene Bane and it was in the form of a Federation Quiz. Other members of the panel were Mrs. Sam Galloway, Mrs. Webster Cleveland and Mrs. Marvin Smithman.

On arrival, each member was given a question on the General Federation which were answered by the panel. Some of the answers revealed that "the General Federation of Women's Clubs, an international organization, founded in 1890, has a membership in the United States and 53 countries — about a million members in the world." Furthermore, "the General Federation brings broader contacts and viewpoints, provides avenues for worthwhile service, affords opportunities for stimulation and growth training for leadership, helps to mold public opinion, promotes friendship and understanding, strives to eliminate prejudice and selfishness.

Members are proud to be participants in an international program to promote understanding and good will."

GFWC's total contribution to international, national and local improvement can never be completely assessed. The organization has been active in achieving the growth of libraries, the eight-hour work day, the passage of Federal Child Labor Law, the establishment of children's bureau, creation of women's industry, the passage of the Pure Food and Drug Act, and has sponsored 23 Latin American women graduate students for a year's study in the United States.

Interspersed among the questions and answers was a vivid description of the National Headquarters Building at Washington, D.C., given by Mrs. J. S. Bishop.

Following the Federation Quiz, Mrs. Galloway gave the highlights of the Federation on the State level. Mrs. Cleveland told about the District and Mrs. Smithman discussed the Local.

In conclusion, the club sang "Mississippi" led by Mrs. Jack Duhard.

National 4-H Club Week Will Inform Public Of Club Activities

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Telling the public what 4-H Club work is doing for them will be more than 107,000 Mississippi boys and girls during National 4-H Club Week, September 26 to October 3. Their theme, "4-H for More in 1964," stresses the flexibility of this educational and personal development program, said C. I. Smith, state 4-H Club leader of the Cooperative Extension Service, Mississippi State University.

"There are 4-H projects and activities to fit the needs of youth from any background or circumstance," he explained. "Urban boys and girls, as well as those who live on farms, find plenty to interest and challenge them in 4-H Club work."

Based on "learning to do by doing," the projects offer practical instruction in the sciences and arts related to agriculture and home economics. Personal development and career exploration are emphasized. All information is thoroughly up-to-date, provided by agents and specialists of the Cooperative Extension Service.

The public schools recognize the value of 4-H Club work and cooperate with it, Mr. Smith said. Contributing much to the success of the program are volunteer and adult leaders, junior leaders, businessmen and others who provide active support, he said.

"Business and professional leaders of our counties, state and nation annually demonstrate their belief in 4-H by providing scholarships and other valuable awards for outstanding members," the state leader said. "The alumni of 4-H include several of Mississippi's top leaders."

In 1963, Mississippi members won 11 national 4-H Club project achievement scholarships worth $6,100. Only one state, Indiana, won more. They secured much goodwill and favorable publicity for Mississippi at National 4-H Club Congress and other events.

Most counties in Mississippi have planned some National 4-H Club Week activities. These include special pages or sections of newspapers, radio and television programs, exhibits in public places and programs at schools or other assemblies.

The observance will also feature the 50th Anniversary this year of the Cooperative Extension Service, of which 4-H Club work is an important part. The federal Smith-Lever Act of 1914, establishing Extension in its present form, followed pioneer farm demonstration work in which Mississippi played a leading role. The first federally sponsored rural youth organization was a Boys' Corn Club in Holmes County, Miss., in 1907.

There would be fewer pedestrian patients if there were more patient pedestrians.

Lions Club Program On Tombigbee River Management District

Thompson Pound, executive secretary of the Tombigbee River Water Management District, spoke to the Booneville Lions Club Thursday on the development and potential of the district.

A Pontotoc business leader, Democratic National Committeeman, and former state representative, Mr. Pound wrote the enabling bill establishing the management district and steered it to passage with only token opposition.

Mr. Pound said that for a long time there has been a great deal of talk about the need for conservation of land and water in our area.

He listed four phases in the total development program:

1. Canaling of the Tombigbee River.
2. Flood control on the main tributaries.
3. Flood prevention through erosion in the watershed area.
4. Development of recreational facilities.

This fiscal year for the first time some money has been appropriated for work. In the flood prevention program this money can be spent on multi-purpose reservoirs. Project No. 1 includes work on Mantachie, Brown, Donovan and Twentymile Creeks.

Mr. Pound pointed out that the overall program is a long range project and it will take a long time to get many of the improvements underway, but it is of great importance. He said our supply of fresh water in the future will be one of our greatest assets, limited only by our failure to conserve it and take advantage of it.

"If we will band together in developing our human resources and our natural resources we are well on the way to again becoming one of the richest states in the nation," Mr. Pound said.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By W. TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

PINE SEEDLINGS

We are now taking applications for pine seedlings. Any landowner in the county is eligible to receive 1,000 seedlings by paying 35 cents transportation charges. Each additional thousand will cost $4.50 per thousand plus 35 cents transportation charges.

ASCS assistance in planting seedlings is available. You will need to request this assistance at the County ASCS office now.

The deadline for making applications is October 15, according to Area Forester, Bobby Killebrew. Make application at once.

LAMB NOTES

The outlook for lamb prices is good for the next several years, as sheep numbers in the nation are at an all-time low.

This would be a good time to increase the ewe flock or add a flock of ewes to your farm enterprise. Many farms could add ewes to their present farm operation.

Slaughter lamb prices held fairly steady throughout the year. But predictions are that slaughter prices will be somewhat lower in October. However, chances are that lambs weighing 85 to 110 and grading choice will move at favorable prices.

Old crop lambs that are to be carried until spring should be provided with top quality winter grazing. Also provide winter grazing for the ewe flock. For spring grazing of the ewe flock and the hold-over lambs, provide some clover.

For more information on buying western ewe lambs or grazing lambs this fall, come by this office.

Fall lamb sales have been scheduled for October 19 at the Mississippi Livestock Producers at Jackson, and October 20 at the Tri-State Stockyards in Greenville.

HOME GARDENING

It is still not too late to do some planting in that home garden. From now through early October you can plant leaf lettuce, onions, spinach, kale, tendergreens, carrots and, if you hurry, turnips.

It would also be a good idea now to get the garden ready and in planting condition so that you will be ready when those first sunny days of January and February arrive.

COTTON QUALITY

A big complaint from cotton marketing people is against non-uniform bales. This could be a result of mechanical pickers dumping trash off the top of the picker baskets in with the good condition. To prevent this, make sure that the basket is clean before it is dumped into the trailer.

Also make an effort to keep foreign materials like colored cloth out of the clean cotton. Give the cotton ample time to dry out before you start picking. Wet cotton will lower grades and cost you money.

CLOVERS

Three ways to get clover to grow in sods like fescue, bermuda, dallis grass or bahia are: Lime if needed. Apply phosphate and potash. Then clip the sod down so that when clovers come up they can survive. If you plan to seed clover, October is best time.

Believers In The Constitution Are Encouraged By Birmingham Ruling

By SEN. JOHN STENNIS
Those of us who believe in the preservation of constitutional government in this country are greatly encouraged by the decision of the three-judge Federal Court in Birmingham recently.

According to newspaper reports, that decision held the provisions of the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act unconstitutional as applied to a restaurant not engaged in interstate commerce.

During the long debates in the Senate against the civil rights bill, I pointed out that many sections of the bill were unconstitutional. I opposed the entire bill, as did a number of other Senators.

The attempt of the Federal government to dictate to a restaurant owner whom he may serve, regardless of his wishes, is an unreasonable and unjustified interference with private property and the right of a person to use his property and utilize the fruits of his labor in his own way. These individual rights are the very essence of the free enterprise system which has made our country the greatest nation in the world.

I strongly believe in this principle, and it makes no difference whether the restaurant is engaged in interstate commerce. But the Congress, in enacting the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act, attempted to base it on the provisions of the interstate commerce clause.

However, the Congress went far afield in its attempt to define interstate commerce and included every restaurant or similar business who serves any customers engaged in interstate travel.

In issuing its ruling, the three-judge Court in Birmingham said that if Congress had the "naked power to do what it has attempted in the Civil Rights Act, there is no facet of human behavior which it may not control."

Those of us who opposed the civil rights bill pointed out time and time again that the bill constitutes an unwarranted departure from the Constitution and legal precedents, and the three-judge Court wisely upheld this argument.

That court ruling from Birmingham is encouraging and I sincerely hope the decision will be upheld when it reaches the U. S. Supreme Court.

Any fair minded Court, with respect for the Constitutional and judicial precedents, could not hold otherwise.

Cutting Improves Hardwood Forest In Delta Study

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — A long-range research project in the Delta is showing how improvement cutting can increase growth of hardwood trees and cause forests to develop into acceptable commercial stands.

R. M. Krinard and R. L. Johnson, USDA foresters working in cooperation with the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville, recently summarized results of a 20-year study at the Delta Experimental Forest. When the study started, the stand was typical of much of the second growth timber in the Delta. It consisted of an uneven-aged mixture of hardwoods that had been repeatedly logged for the best trees, cut over for fuelwood, and burned frequently since the original logging about 1913.

The objective of the cuttings was to eliminate culls and reduce the number of trees of undesirable species, thus giving trees of good form and species room to grow. Two plots were cut, one more heavily than the other, and a third plot was left uncut as a check.

Now, the research men report the plots that were cut have more pole size trees and more saw timber than the check plot. Undesirable growing stock averages less than 800 board feet per acre on the cut plots and 3,600 board feet on the uncut plot. About 20 per cent of the saw-log volume on the check plots was factory grade 1 compared to less than 10 per cent on the check area.

A complete report of the results of the research is published in the September issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available on request from the Experiment Station at State College.

Second Growth Leaves On Defoliated Cotton

Second growth leaves on defoliated cotton is a problem to farmers at this time. Several days after first defoliation, research worker Dr. Thomas, got about 85 per cent removal of fairly good sized second growth cotton leaves with 1½ pounds of defoliant (Def or Folex) mixed in 20 to 30 gallons of water per acre applied with a high boy. There seem to be no new materials available at this time that will affect the growth buds on the cotton plants to prevent second growth leaves. See your local County Agent.

VA Answers Vets Questions

Q—I was retired by the Air Force for disabilities incurred in an aircraft accident in 1958. I was told then that no training was available under VA programs. Could that be true?

A—It could have been true then, as Vocational Rehabilitation benefits were formerly provided only for wartime disabilities. Training is now available if needed to overcome your peacetime disabilities. You should ask your VA Regional Office to determine your eligibility.

Q—in reviewing my government life insurance policy, I find no record of who is supposed to get the insurance should I die. How do I find out who is named as the beneficiary?

A—Your original designation of beneficiary is on file in the office where your insurance premiums are paid. You can bring your beneficiary designation up to date by executing a new designation form. The form can be picked up at any VA office.

Q—I have lost my original discharge and was told by a friend I must have the original for VA home loan guaranty purposes. Is this true?

A—VA would like to have the original. But if it has been lost, they will accept a certified copy.

Enjoy Life With Good Nutrition
During this month a new season began — on the 22nd, to be exact. Much of the outdoor living of summer will have ended and the "lady of the house" will be getting back to more orthodox ways of keeping house.

Perhaps this change of seasons, as well as the opening of schools, prompted this week — September 21-26 to be declared FOOD & NUTRITION WEEK.

You Are What You Eat

*Since your life began, all your growth has come from your food.
*Your vigor, pep and personality are influenced by your food choices.

*Food even affects your attitudes and emotional reactions.
*You become a better looking person if you practice good food habits.

*Lack of wholesome food can make you irritable, unhappy, weak and sick.
You as a homemaker, control to a large extent what is served at mealtime in your home. The whole family depends upon you to make these meals, as well as numerous snacks, nutritious and tasty. Planning, preparing and serving family food makes you a scientist as far as your family's health and well being are concerned.

Here Is A Daily Food Guide

How can you select nutrient-rich foods which will give you a balanced diet? Use the DAILY FOOD GUIDE, designed by nutrition experts to help you choose wisely. Get one or more servings from each food group in every meal you eat. Select snack foods which fit into the food groups, too.

MILK AND MILK PRODUCTS—Children—3 to 4 glasses; Teenagers—4 or more glasses; Adults—2 or more glasses; (These foods contain calcium, protein, riboflavin, vitamin A, and many other nutrients.)

MEAT, POULTRY, FISH, EGGS—2 or more servings every day. (These foods contain protein, iron, thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, and other nutrients.)

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS—4 or more servings; 1 green or yellow vegetable, 1 citrus fruit or tomatoes, 2 other vegetables and fruits. (These contain many minerals and vitamins — most of our Vitamin C, and over half of our Vitamin A.)

BREADS AND CEREALS—4 or more servings every day. (These foods contain B Vitamins, iron, carbohydrates, and protein.)

High School Day At Ole Miss October 3

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Saturday, October 3 will be a "Red-Letter" day at the University of Miss.

This day has been set aside as both High School Day and 1964 Homecoming. Gigantic celebrations are being planned for both events. Visitors to the High School Day Celebration will be guests of the University for the Ole Miss versus Houston game in Hemingway Stadium. Awaiting the thousands of high school visitors from over the Mid-South area will be many academic displays and scientific exhibits.

Also open to the visitors will be the Ole Miss sub-critical atomic nuclear reactor; the first phase building of the new 15-million dollar Mississippi Science Center; the Museum of Art and Classical Archaeology, with the South's largest collection of Greek and Roman antiquities; and the Museum of Anthropology, featuring American Indian artifacts.

Visitors will be treated to tours of the dormitories, classroom buildings, and other facilities of the University.

Adding to the day's excitement will be the Parade of High School Bands, Col. Rebel's All-Star Band, Massed High School Bands, and the Ole Miss Rebel Band.

Sororities and fraternities will put up gala decorations for the Homecoming side of the affair, and "open houses" will be held Saturday morning. The Associated Student Body has a slate of events planned for the week of Homecoming.

The Ole Miss Alumni Association has also planned several Homecoming events to be held both Friday and Saturday. One highlight will be the election Saturday morning of new alumni officers for the 1964-65 year.

Strange but true, more than $550 million was spent last year for cat and dog food — two and one-half times what was spent for baby food. The pampered pet is no longer an insignificant customer of the food industry.

4-H FRED SAYS...

4-H Friends, Members Join Forces, Expand Enrollment and Training

Members, leaders, friends of 4-H and the Cooperative Extension Service are joining forces to expand 4-H Club membership in every county and state in the nation. A concerted push is being made to offer 4-H training to more boys and girls between 9 and 19 years of age.

Current enrollment is around 2,224,500 members in 94,700 clubs.

The Cooperative Extension Service heads the program, and is assisted by 362,000 men and women who serve as unpaid volunteer leaders. Added to these are more than 130,000 older 4-H youths who have been trained in junior leadership.

During the last decade 4-H Clubs have been established in urban and rural non-farm homes which today account for 52 percent of the total membership.

Science Added
Consequently some 4-H programs have been revised to meet the needs of off-the-farm members. More scientific exploration now is carried on in nearly all projects. Training in economics including production and marketing have been introduced along with home and farm management.

Business firms which contribute financial support to the various programs have assisted greatly in bringing about this modernization, reports the National 4-H Service Committee.

New programs and sponsors have been added in an attempt to bring to 4-Hers areas of learning that will aid them in making vocational or higher educational career choices.

Some business firms and foundations provide funds only for college scholarships and for recognition of individual members. Among them are: California Chemical Company, Ortho Division; Homelite, A Division of Textron Inc.; Massey-Ferguson Inc.; Pyrofax Gas Corporation; Edwin T. Meredith Foundation; Sunbeam Corporation and The West Bend Company.

Incentive Awards

Educational trips, scholarships and awards for outstanding work in specific projects are given by other 4-H backers. They include: Allied Chemical Corporation, Arcadian Products Dept.; Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Farm Equipment Division; American Forest Products Industries, Inc.; Carnation Company; Chicago Board of Trade; Cities Service Oil Company; E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc.; Elgin National Watch Company; Eli Lilly and Company; Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc.; Hercules Powder Company.

Others are: Humble Oil & Refining Company; Ford Motor Company Fund; International Minerals and Chemical Corporation; Moorman Mfg. Co.; Oliver Corporation; The Pure Oil Company; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.; The Singer Company; The S&H Foundation; Standard Brands Incorporated and Standard Oil Company (Kentucky).

If there is no 4-H Club in the community, parents or prospective members should write or call their county extension office for information, advises the Cooperative Extension Service.

'65 POLARA: Beautiful way to leave the low-price field. Inches bigger and a lot better-looking than anything near the price. Why settle for less? Why, indeed? Ask for Polara at your Dodge dealer's.

'65 CORONET: A hot new Dodge at a new lower price. An all-new car that's as comfortable as a standard-size Ford or Chevy, yet priced with Fairlane, Chevelle. Refreshing new styling. Oceans of room. Coronet '65—drive it.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

'65 CUSTOM 880: If elegance were spelled in numbers, this would be it. From exclusive 6-window sedan to elegant convertible, this one will wear well with your appreciation of luxury and your sense of good taste.
