24th Area Feeder Pig Sale Sets Dollar Value Record

The twenty-fourth area feeder pig sale held here Thursday set a new record on dollar value. Twelve hundred and seventy-two head of pigs sold for $28,712.25. The average weight was 54.3 pounds per pig. Average price $41.59 per cwt, or $23.04 per head.

The quality of the pigs sold in this sale was the best yet. Practically all producers are showing improvement in the quality of the pigs being consigned. This will help to attract more buyers. Pigs going through this sale are graded Number 1, 2, and 3. Four hundred fifty-five head graded Number 1; 415 head graded Number 2, and 402 head graded Number 3.

Buyers were present from Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Any person interested in consigning pigs to this sale must become a member of the Booneville Area Feeder Pig Association.

Prentiss County Saddle Club Has Grand Opening

The crowd was spread out all over the hillside, admiring and riding horses, which were brought from all over North Miss. and from out-of-state.

Beautiful Tennessee Walking horses and Saddle horses went through gaits, plainly showing the training and care they had received. Quarter Horses, the likes of which we have never seen, were peacefully walking around the grounds, waiting for their turn in the arena to give their performance. Ponies by the score crowding for their part of the attention.

There was music by a live band, keeping time with the hoof beats. The United States Flag and the Red and White Club Banner waved high above the crowd.

This was the scene at the Prentiss County Saddle Club Arena, last Sunday afternoon. The Grand Opening was appreciation day for all the people who have helped us keep the club going, those who have supported us from the very beginning. We hope you enjoyed this day, especially dedicated to you.

Rev. Clifford Smart of Jumbertown opened the program with prayer. The district supervisor, Sam Jumper, cut the ribbon, officially opening the club arena.

Refreshments were furnished by the club. Music was by Wayne Michael of Booneville, Buddy and Kaye Bane and The Buddies of Corinth and Edward and Leola Mills of Booneville.

The Sheldan Pony was given away around the middle of the evening. Janice Strange of Booneville was the winner, then it was discovered that some of the stubs had not been turned in and a second drawing was held. This time Jewell Eaton of Rienzi was the winner. Since the mistake was made by the club, and we want to be fair, and have your respect, we feel the only thing to do is give them both a pony. This has been done. Please forgive us for a very human error of forgetfulness.

Trophy buckles and ribbons were presented to first, second, and third place winners of five classes.

The judges were Henry Green and Cooper Grisham, both of Gun-town. One of the judges commented that he had never seen as many good horses in one place at one time. Some of the classes had as many as 75 and 80 horses entered.

The judges explained that they judged 40% for the horse and 60% for the rider. We know it was hard to select from so many, and want to thank the judges for a job well done.

The trophy winners were as follows: Sheldan Ponies—1st. Charles Moore; 2nd. Donna Jones; 3rd. Jimmy Bishop. Saddle Horses—1st. Coe Moore; 2nd. Doris Moore; 3rd., Dennis Worley. Western Pleasure—Quarter Horses—1st., Ray Smith; 2nd., Royce McDaniels; 3rd., Eddie Stepp. The winners of the Quarter Horse class were all visitors from out-of-town.

Barrel Racing—1st., Jane Hyde from Alabama; 2nd., Bobby Mitchell; 3rd., Kenneth Ross.

Junior Quarter Horse, Riders 15 years old and under—1st., Rickey Downs; 2nd., Danny Crofts; 3rd., Jimmy Hill.

Calf Roping—1st. Jimmy Wilhite; 2nd. Verell Wilhite; 3rd. Har-

More farmers are becoming interested in the program and if sufficient pigs are produced these sales can be increased to six sales per year instead of four.

W. T. Smith, right, County Agent, is shown with Kenneth Pounds, left, and M. W. Smith as he deposits $28,712.25 from the Feeder Pig Sale held Thursday. This was a new record of dollar value. It was estimated that sales could easily reach a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Strange how a landscape sets the imagination to work. Right now, looking at this scene, I can imagine all sorts of things.

Winged steeds riding to heavy music . . . pioneers in the wilderness . . . castles on the cliffs . . . boating at high speeds.

Look at the magic that enables the lake to mirror the rocky mountain peak and the heavens! The vastness and stillness of the scene sets my mind to wondering about time and space and things I will never understand.

But in standing here and wondering so, I feel like I've been near God.

There is a place where I can find Him always—in Church. Will you come with me?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Miss Bertha Smith To Be In "Prayer Retreat" At Hickory Flat Baptist Church

Miss Bertha Smith, retired Southern Baptist Missionary, will conduct a weeks "Prayer Retreat" at the Hickory Flat Baptist Church, Hickory Flat, Mississippi May 1-7. Services will be at 7:30 o'clock each night and a prayer meeting will be held each afternoon for those who can attend to pray for the evening service. The church nursery will be open for all night services. All of the churches in the entire area are invited to attend.

Miss Smith was reared in Cowpens South Carolina, where she now resides with her sister, Miss Jennie Smith in the same house which her father, John M. Smith, merchant and planter, built for his growing family in 1895.

Miss Smith graduated from Winthrop College, S. C. in 1913. After teaching in public school one year she entered Woman's Missionary Training School, now incorporated in Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, where she graduated in 1916.

July 3, 1917, Miss Smith was appointed to China by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. She spent the first year in Peking in the college of Chinese studies, studying the Chinese language.

For 31 years she served in Shantung Province as principal of Mission Schools doing evangelistic work from village to village, and church to church teaching the Bible. It was her privilege to share in the great Shantung revival from 1927 to 1937.

When the Japanese invaded China in 1937 it became Miss Smith's lot to stand alone in Training, Western Shantung, and protect hundreds of Chinese women and girls from the horrors of war. For four years she continued working with the Chinese under a Japanese government.

On Dec. 8, 1941, the day of the Pearl Harbor incident, she was interned in her own home by the Japanese. After six months she repatriated with the first American citizens who were exchanged for Japanese citizens.

After world war II, Miss Smith returned to her work only to be forced out of North China by the Communists in 1948.

Miss Bertha, at that time, went to the Island of Formosa and became our first Baptist Missionary there, where she served alone for nearly two years. She had ten fruitful years in Formosa, the last five teaching Old Testament in our Baptist Seminary in Taipei.

She retired on her 70th birthday, the last possible date to do so. Following that she spent eight months visiting other mission fields, thirty four countries being included.

Since returning to the United States, Miss Bertha has been busy going from state to state leading Prayer Retreats and Christian Life Conferences, hoping to help bring a reviving to Southern Baptist Churches.

In 1963 Miss Smith responded to the call of the first couple of new missionaries sent to British Guiana, South America, to go for six months to help start the new work.

During 1964 she was invited to go to Southeast Africa, for three months, where she led prayer retreats for missionaries and African co-workers, and other meetings in schools and churches.

Miss Smith has become known as our "International Missionary."

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
JACKSON
April 15, 1966

Mr. W. E. Johnson, Editor
THE BANNER-INDEPENDENT
Booneville, Mississippi

Dear Mr. Johnson:

On behalf of the ladies who were fortunate enough to have made the legislative tour through your area, I want to thank each and everyone who contributed in making our trip pleasant and enjoyable.

We were highly impressed by your development and hospitality, and learned much about a section of our State that we did not know. We were proud of the opportunity to visit your area.

Since we have no way of knowing the names of the many individuals who participated in making us feel so welcome, will you please publish this letter in your paper so the people in the rural area, as well as those in the municipalities, will know how much we enjoyed the trip and that we appreciated the effort they made in preparation for our visit, and to say "thank you" for a wonderful time.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Fred Jones

This is a delicious recipe for Cheese Grits, given to me by Mrs. John Mahaffy who got it from Mrs. John Henry Price.

1 Cup of grits cooked as directed
1 Roll Kraft garlic cheese
½ Stick butter or oleo
¼ Cup of Milk
2 Eggs, beaten
Salt to taste
Cook grits until thick, add cheese, butter, milk, eggs.
Pour into greased baking dish. Bake 45 minutes at 300 degrees.
Remove from oven and cover with sharp grated cheddar cheese and paprika. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes more. Serve piping hot. Will serve 8 to 10.

"How do you know you are Napoleon?" the hospital attendant asked. "God told me," the patient replied. Said a voice in the next bed, "I did not."

Kim Whitley, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Whitley was intently studying one of the maps they have for the service station, when someone asked her where she was going. She looked up and calmly said, "Crazy".

But that's not as good as what she told some grocery customers one day. Seems Mr. Whitley was dressing a small pig for his grandmother (I think it was) and a customer asked Kim what he was doing. Her answer: "Dressing a dog."

Some people are like blotters — they soak it all in, but get it all backwards.

A class of 10-year-olds was asked by their teacher to write an essay on some category of cleanliness and health. One little fellow's treatise labeled "Care of the Teeth" said:

See your dentist often. Brush your teeth every morning and night. Watch out for shovers at the drinking fountain.

Mrs. W. V. Kemp has returned from a State Garden Club Convention very enthusiastic over the wonderful hospitality shown her and Mrs. Joe Carter during the time they were there. In this issue of the paper is a letter from the wives of our state legislators which compliments Booneville for hospitality extended them during their recent visit here.

It's wise to remember that a warm welcome and genuine friendliness make a bigger impression on out of town visitors than perhaps anything else.

Angry Customer: "These eggs aren't fresh."

ful perusal of planting points are rechecked for the possibility of color clashes, arranging for a long succession of bloom. Constantly updating her flowers, new life is brought to the garden, for no plant is right unless it is adaptable.

Distinction is given to every corner, with special accent on color schemes, through the influence of good taste and the natural repetition of favorite shades and blending. Flowers that abound in lore, legend and fascinating history are included in the plan.

A pink carpet of thrift borders the front walk with soft and fluffy masses, impressive with a drifting cascade at the terrace steps. Deft touches include a weeping cherry tree on each side of the clumps of white perennial candytuft, forcing the walk into a pleasing curve at the doorway. Carefully chosen, the doorway shrubs do not outgrow the space allotted to them. The round beds are outlined with lythrum.

Ornamental trees, the flowering crabapple, the distinguished member of the great rose family, introductions from Japan and the flowering peach from China, clothed with lovely blooms are a highly decorative asset to the front lawn. Flowering red and gold maples, enhance the October landscape adding rich color and charm to the scene. Chinese elms grow well on this lawn.

Beds are not exiled to the distant lawn. They are an integral part of the home.

The overall plan placing strong emphasis on details, includes brick walks, curbs and stepping stones from the back steps to the two long iris beds on the east.

A passerby can tell little about what the backyard garden contains.

In the central area, massed azaleas in pink, red and white enliven the beds. Legendary white dogwood and pink, with their graceful overhang, help to establish a lovely tone, with the muted pinks.

Planting bulbs is like planting a treasure, they bring a rich reward in the springtime, Red Emperor and Darwin type tulips, some fantastic with fringe and the daffodils, that have a quality of elegance that rival a lily, are stars in these beds.

Narcissus are included, the ancient Chinese symbol of good fortune, that breathe the essence of spring with nostalgic fragrance.

There's probably nothing more appropriate to enclose a garden than a white picket fence. A favorite in England, this forms a background for the rows of pink hyacinths at the base.

Plant sculpturing has not been overlooked. The leaves of the iris contribute as much to the garden as the flowers.

A rose bed contains the newer introductions. In the search for a lovely climbing rose, the brilliant Thor has not been overlooked. The Christmas rose, not a shrub, but a part of the butter-cup family, is in the plan. It is a perennial evergreen that blooms from late December into March.

The exotic hardy amaryllis and centifolium hybrid lilies grow beautifully in the west beds, which are accented with bulbs. Among rare shrubs are Harry Lander's Walking Stick, often a conversation piece, pink snowball and the prized English flower, the delicate sweet-scented daphne.

Red azaleas and day lilies grow around the aged trees and the west boundary is lined with white iris. The traffic flow, with congenial plants imaginatively combined, add dramatic impact to the garden.

A garden either by day or night, appeals to something elemental in all of us, and brings deep and lasting joy with its color and fragrance to those who take delight in the poetic interpretations of growing things, especially during the season of their rebirth.

Mrs. Hill has planned and re-landscaped the yard with the exception of the large trees that were already on the grounds.

Flower Bed For Perennials and Annuals

The ideal perennial flower bed has soil prepared to a depth of three feet; annual beds should be prepared to at least two feet. Spread over the surface of the soil a layer of rotted manure about 4 inches deep. Or, use peat moss, compost, commercial peat or dehydrated manure, plus bone meal or superphosphate (5 lbs. per 100 sq. feet). Fork these into the soil to a depth of at least 12 inches, preferably 18-24 inches.

Most annuals prefer a neutral soil, neither too acid nor to alkaline.

When locating the flower bed or border, strive to achieve a "natural look" in the design. Make the front of the bed informal and curving, not a straight line.

It is well to outline the edge with the garden hose, creating sweeping curves. Often these are placed out in front of background shrubs. Masses of perennials, annuals and bulbs may be grouped in the bed for long-range color and interest. Be sure to place the taller-growing plants to the rear, the intermediate ones next, and the low-growing plants in the foreground. Mass several of like kind together for a more attractive showing.

On the plentiful foods list are peanuts and peanut products. Try using peanuts and peanut butter in:

Peanut Butter Brownies
½ cup sifted flour
½ cup crunchy style peanut butter
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup finely packed brown sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup chopped peanuts
Mix and sift flour and salt. Cream peanut butter, butter, and vanilla. Add sugar gradually, creaming until well blended. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Blend in flour. Stir in peanuts. Spoon onto greased 8-inch square cake pan. Spread evenly.

Bake at 350 degrees until center is firm, (30 to 35 minutes). Cool 5 minutes; cut into squares.

Woman's Club Members Hear Delightful Talks On "At Home With Glass" Thursday

The Woman's Club was charmingly welcomed by the hostesses, Mrs. Curlee Ross, Mrs. W. R. Richerson, Mrs. H. W. Parker, and Mrs. W. C. Eaker on Thursday afternoon in the private dining room of the Town Motel.

Mrs. W. Cleveland Jr., who has served the club efficiently, presided at the meeting. Mrs. John Mahaffy, chairman, reported for the nominating committee. The announcement that Mrs. Cleveland had graciously consented to again serve as president, was received with enthusiastic applause.

The Booneville Library, a part of the Northeast Regional Library, was a recipient of the Dorothy Canfield Fisher Award at ceremonies held in Corinth, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Plans were announced by Mrs. Emmons Turner, Jr. who is a member of the Northeast Regional Library Board.

Mrs. Cleveland welcomed a lovely new member, Mrs. Robert Buchberger.

During the social period an inviting dessert was served. At this time, the program was opened with a beautiful and impressive feature, several musical renditions by four talented N.E.M.J.C. students, Misses Dianne Freeman, Brenda Jaudon and Jane Gregory, vocalists, and Miss Glenda Droughton, pianist. They were introduced by Mrs. Jack Dubard, chairman of music.

The program on "At Home With Glass", stimulating interest, was an inspiration to the members who conform to obvious good taste, both in elegant entertaining and in every day living.

Introducing the glass house "tour", Mrs. Marvin Smitherman gave the history of glass and glass making. Mrs. Smitherman said that, like many discoveries which have advanced the forward march of civilization, the discovery of glass was probably accidental.

Legend has it that Phoenician Merchants, camping on a sandy beach, used lumps of niter to support their cookpots. The action of the fire formed rivulets of potassium nitrate which we now know as moten glass.

The first authenticated piece of hand made glass was a small blue globe found in an Egyptian tomb, dated at 7000 B.C. "As a matter of fact", the speaker said, "Egypt was very much the leader in the art of glass making. Some 300 years ago they discovered that moten glass could be shaped by pouring it into clay or wood molds. The Egyptians also discovered the art of glass blowing."

Following the advance of civilization, glass making moved to Rome. The art became so fine an art that glass cups replaced golden ones for the Emperor's table. After the fall of the Roman Empire, the art moved to the Near East where the first stained glass was made, and from there it was brought to Venice by the crusades. Glass making became a monopoly and a closely guarded secret. Their formula finally spread to the rest of Europe. The French developed a reputation for fine crystal flatware - that is - mirrors.

The English added lead to their glass to achieve high brilliance and workability. Germany excelled in fine engraved glass.

Glass making came to America - in fact it is the oldest industry. Beginning in 1608, a glass industry was established near Jamestown. It was not until 1739 that the real history started. In 1820 America made an unusual contribution to the industry with the hand press. Today, the United States is pre-eminent in the field.

Mrs. Smitherman then told of the process of glass making with the exception of the specific formulas which are trade secrets. Hand blowing and handcrafting were explained, which calls for precise skill, taking 10 years to master the art.

The "tour" would not be complete without describing some of the techniques to "gild the lily" as to pattern etching cut glass, gold and platinum decoration and how to look for quality in glassware - qualities that are intrinsic to all fine crystal.

Mrs. Stewart Vail gave a store of information on how to use crystal in the home as a versatile decorative medium to mirror every mood, every color, all through the home.

Mrs. Vail said that often the most striking element in a table setting is the crystal, giving a bright and lively look and by providing height adds an interesting third dimensional that otherwise would be flat. "Arrangement of crystal makes a lovely still-life composition for the table", she said.

The beauty of glass candlesticks and candelabra should not be overlooked. Use them alone or bank them with flowers. Candlelight is especially flattering.

"Don't be afraid to experiment - use your imagination in different ways. No one needs to be limited to conventional flower containers", Mrs. Vail said.

The number of candles to use varied according to the number of guests. "Keep an eye for proportion, balance, harmony and a touch of inspiration", the speaker said.

Mrs. Douglas Way said that when "we talk of home decorating and crystal we must say it with flowers". More and more the trend in interior decorations is to use flowers to add beauty. "There is a natural affinity between flowers and crystal", she said.

In clear and colored glass containers, flowers take on new interest. She said that for miniature flower arrangements you will find inspiration in holders such as sherbet cups, goblets, cream and sugar sets and carafes. The container is a vital part of any arrangement. Two basic container shapes are vertical and horizontal. "Bring your crystal out of the closet and use it where its radiant loveliness will be a constant delight and add immeasurably in the home", said Mrs. Way.

At the end of the "tour" guests admired the special tables covered with snowy clothes to bring out the strong points of the program with examples to provide striking, visual embodiment of crystal and flower arrangements.

Mrs. W. R. Richerson and Mrs. Vail arranged several handsome, enriching, demonstrative compositions including a line mass design of specimen daffodils, brilliant Red Emperor tulips with a thrust of clipped pine. A miniature design in the center table was composed of dogwood florets and lilac to accentuate a boat-shaped bowl filled with delicate white and bronze iris and tulips. Nearby in a corner was a lovely exhibit of purple iris. A line arrangement of Red Emperor tulips highlighted a doorway table. Enchanting examples, they were quietly appealing interpretations for various use in the home.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

DAIRY NOTES

With the present high price of cull dairy cows, it would be a good idea to sell those low producers and problem cows. The demand for high quality replacement heifers is good. Don't be guilty of breeding your dairy cows to a beef bull. If you can raise more replacements than you need, do some advertising.

You will probably find that you can sell those extra replacement heifers to other dairymen who have culled heavily or who are expanding.

The dairyman with good cows can look forward to the future provided he is willing to make the needed adjustments in feeding, breeding and stepped-up over-all good management.

COASTAL BERMUDA

Lots of folks have failed to get a stand of Coastal Bermuda after sprigging. This is often caused by doing a poor job of planting and weed control during the first year. Here are some suggestions for getting a good, fast stand of Coastal:

Prepare a good seedbed and let it settle before planting.

Use fresh sprigs, at least 15,000 per acre and set them the same

Willie Edd Young Dies Suddenly Sun.

Willie Edd Young of Rt. 1, Paden died suddenly of a heart attack Sunday about 1:45 a.m. He was a farmer, World War II veteran and 44 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at New Lebanon Baptist Church. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with McMillan Funeral Directors in charge.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Earnestine Young; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. Young, of Chicago, Ill.; two sons, Neil and Charlie Young of the home; two daughters, Patricia and Shirley Young of the home; a brother, Hubert Young of Chicago, Ill.; four sisters, Mrs. Opal Belue of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Mary Rorie of Rienzi, Mrs. Maurine Dempsey of Newmatilla, Fla. and Mrs. Evelyn Holder of Chicago, Ill.

Cultipack or firm springs into the soil as soon as they are set.

Treat the soil with a herbicide to control weeds and grass long enough for the Coastal to become established. Two pounds of 2,4-D or three to four pounds of simazine applied broadcast should give enough control of early summer grass and weeds for the Coastal to get started.

At planting time fertilize with 90 to 120 pounds per acre of phosphate and potash. As soon as the Coastal starts to grow, topdress with 60 pounds per acre of nitrogen. Then apply 60 more pounds two or three times during the first growing season.

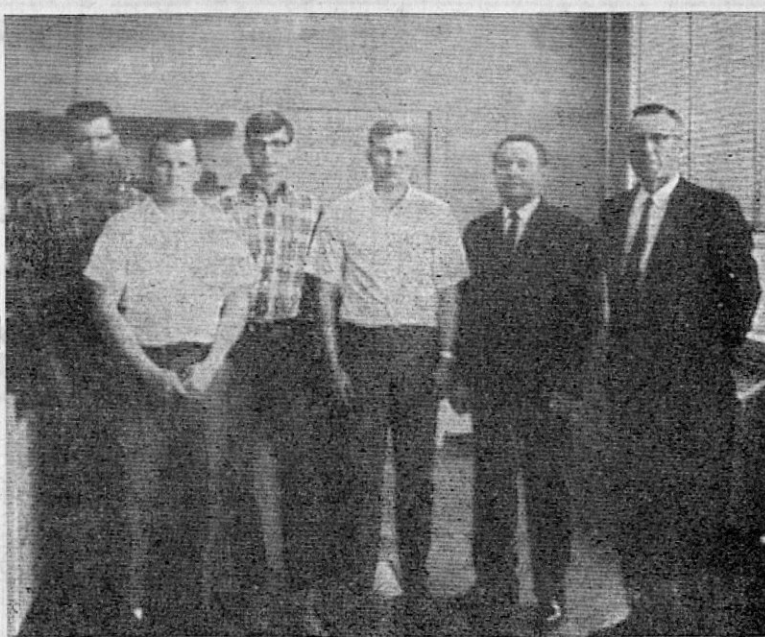

SOYBEAN WEED CONTROL

For control of johnsongrass in soybeans, you might try a pre-planting control program. Use Dowpon. Spray only when the johnsongrass is vigorously growing and when the weather is settled.

Use a high volume of water to wet the johnsongrass thoroughly. For ground equipment, 20 gallons per acre are recommended. Add one-half pint of surfactant to each 50 gallons of total spray.

Disk the area thoroughly three to seven days after treatment. Be sure to turn under all plant foliage. You may plant soybeans within two and a half weeks after the disking.

Parents and Teachers, will represent the national organization at the convention. She will arrive in time for the pre-convention meeting of the board of managers, and remain for an orientation period for the board following convention.

Mrs. Jenkins as the featured banquet speaker on Tuesday evening will interpret the theme, "Changeless Principles for Critical Times".

Other topics of note to be discussed are "What's Happening in Education?", "Children in Trouble", and "How Do You Talk to a Parade?" Attention will be given specifically to Parent and Family Life Education on Wednesday afternoon with the meeting topic being, "Along the PAFLE Trail in Mississippi".

Men members will want to attend the breakfast "For Men Only" on Wednesday a.m.

Election of state officers is to be held at this convention.

INGENUITY IN WEED KILLING

Mississippi agricultural researchers have again demonstrated that they have the resourcefulness, technological knowledge, and manual skill to solve pressing problems. For years, coffee weeds have been a troublesome and costly problem in producing soybeans. At the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville, a method has been devised of applying 2,4-D in the form of waxed bars to the weeds without applying any of the weed killer on the soybeans.

Upper air data on the weather was obtained for years by attaching instruments to airplanes. Now, however, radiosondes are attached to balloons sent aloft by the weather bureau.

Local Truck Body Company Is Serving Seven-State Area

(One of a series of articles on local industries)

Now serving a seven-state area, Walden Body Company opened for business in 1958 and moved to a new plant on Cunningham Blvd. in April, 1963.

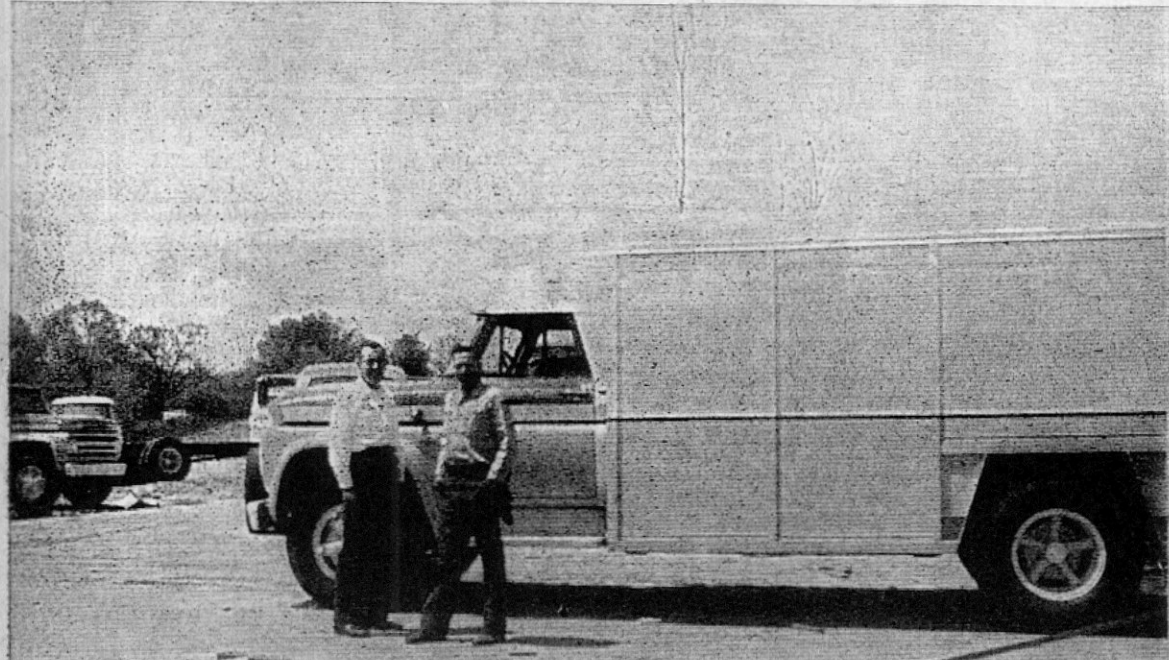

The quality products manufactured by Walden Body Company are an asset to the area as well as adding to the economy.

Owned by J. N. Walden, the business makes truck bodies for Coca-Cola, Pepsi-Cola, Dr. Pepper, 7-Up, Royal Crown, Double Cola and Canada Dry. These are their major franchises although they also do all types of custom work. The majority of business comes from Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and Alabama.

The company manufactures refrigerated dairy bodies for the local dairies, Relicous and Barber.

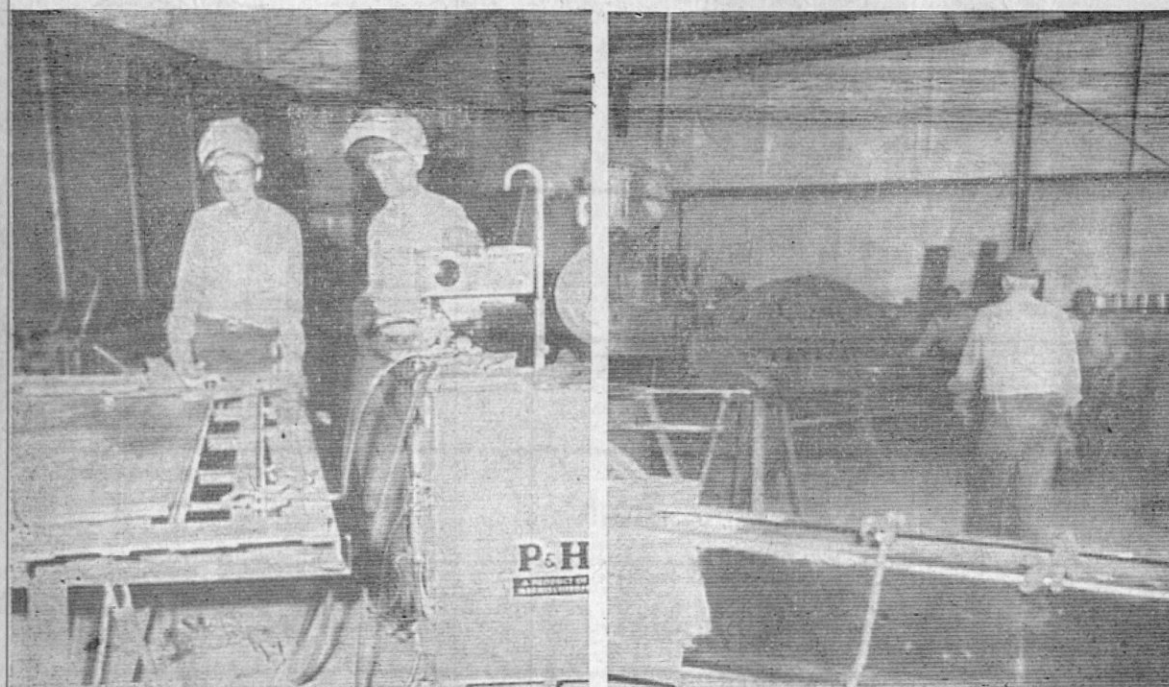

Truck bodies are built of structural and sheet steel. All parts are fabricated in the plant with the exception of automotive lights, a spring, and roller and ball bearings; a small wheel used for the roll up doors is made for the plant by King Manufacturing Co. in Corinth.

FLEET FOR PEPSI-COLA. This fleet of truck bodies were built for the Pepsi-Cola plant at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Mr. Walden does his own designing, selling, and until recently, his own supervision; he now has a foreman, Roy Lancaster. The plant can turn out 250 truck bodies a year.

The opening of sheet metal and welding courses at Northeast Mississippi Junior College has helped in training employees. Previously it was necessary to train some of the employees on the job.

Walden Body Company makes pallet and deck bodies - route and transport trailers for the beverage industry; they also manufacture a carton and case washer for use by them.

Mr. Walden said the big news at his plant now is that they have the manufacturing rights and are now building a patented Dolly and Rug Dispenser for Marvin Johnson and M. O. Johnson of the Ripley Flooring Equipment Co. The item will make the handling and rolling of sheet linoleum much quicker and easier and is expected to be favorably received by the rug industry as well as retailers. The company has the model out to a large linoleum company and is awaiting approval for nationwide distribution.

Mr. Walden compliments his employees and states that the acceptability and reputation of his products are due to their work - the pride they take in turning out a quality product.

"Always be polite to people who disagree with you - after all they have a right to their ridiculous opinions." - George J. Melvin, Claysville (Penna.) Recorder.

STATE AND SOUTH RECAPTURE LOST MARKETS FOR FORESTRY PRODUCTS

Thanks to extra care and special effort by private landowners, Mississippi and the South are getting profitable dividends in the form of larger markets and higher prices for our wood products. By imaginative planning and product improvement, southern industries are able to produce, kiln dry and transport high quality wood products to the East and Midwest, selling at prices comparable to western unseasoned stock. The South is thus regaining lost markets through intensive forest management and quality production. There is good reason to believe that this improved market situation will continue for years to come. Additional outlets for Mississippi production are certain as

County Schools Participating In Vocational, Technical Education

Prentiss county schools are strong participants in a vast educational program known as vocational and technical education that begins in high school and continues to the grade, according to State Voc-Tech Director, A. P. Fatherree. It enrolls boys and girls at age 14 and offers training and retraining for them and the entire community as often as needed.

High school in Prentiss county offering vocational education include Booneville, Jumbertown, Marietta, New Site, Thrasher, Wheeler, Wick Anderson, and Baldwin High. The total picture of vocational and technical training includes courses and enrollments as follows: vocational agriculture - 336 and home economics - 403.

High school students numbering 789 are only part of the program. Many of the courses are offered to adults for retraining in certain skills and problems in the communities. Fatherree says that several national education studies of college students give proof that there is a highly significant difference in the national population grows by leaps and bounds while new and greater uses for wood products develop. New mills being built in Mississippi and others projected here will greatly benefit and expand our forestry economy.

success of college students who had vocational training in high schools.

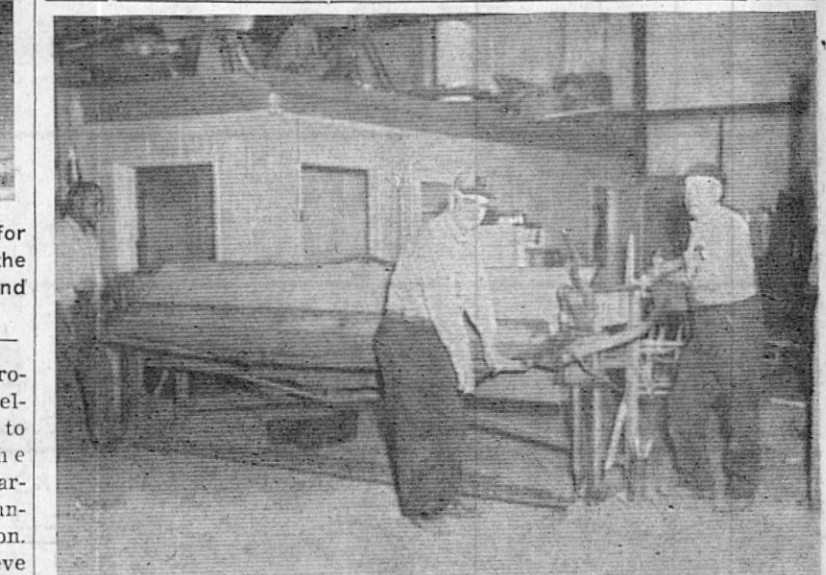

In addition to the college preparatory values all students learn and become skilled in many basic tasks that they will need to perform as adults in an occupation or to meet their basic every day needs. Any girl is better prepared for her adult life as a woman, and boys become skilled in many areas that men need in building and maintaining even the smallest home.

History reveals that no society is capable of progress beyond the level that the common people are able to think and provide for themselves, and that every person is happier when he can improve his way of life through his skills and training. Vocational and technical education is geared for the accomplishment of this task.
