Attention: Parents

The Safety Committee of the Booneville Pilot Club requests that the parents of pre-teen and teenage children assist in advising and directing them in following safety practices, particularly in the use of motorized two-wheelers, Hondas and otherwise.

In the interest of safety, the committee urges that each parent see that his child not be allowed to break the law in driving one of these vehicles if he is under-age, not licensed, or if he is disregarding other rules established for his protection.

Safety is a lifetime business. To engage in and to allow the participation in a sport such as that of the reckless driving evident in and around Booneville by those incapable of handling the responsibility is dangerous and a menace to many. Parents, do please help to protect your own child.

Chairman Calls For Renewed Efforts To Reach Quota Of Community Fund

Renewed effort is needed now for the Prentiss County United Community Fund to reach its quota, general campaign chairman John Walden said Wednesday.

Last year's drive was a tremendous success and many persons expressed definite appreciation of having one drive rather than 10 or 12 overlapping ones each year.

"However," Mr. Walden said, "The campaign is lagging as we are going into the latter stages, and most important stages if we are going to meet the quota, which must be reached if the 'one drive' idea is to continue successfully."

Results have now come in showing a total of $17,000, and there are several team captains who have not yet reported. It is asked that each team captain turn in a report as soon as possible. The quota for this year is $25,000.

Anyone who has not paid their pledge, or who has not been contacted by one of the workers and wishes to make a donation, is urged to get in touch with Mr. Walden or Emmans Turner, Jr., fund president, or mail their check to the Prentiss County Community Fund, Booneville, Miss.

The organizations which will benefit from the drive are Cancer, Mental Health, Cerebral Palsy, Goodfellows, 4-H Clubs, R.C.D.C., Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Prentiss County Tuberculosis Chapter.

Mr. Walden said, "We are in the most difficult time of the campaign and it is a time when we cannot afford to let down. Everyone must redouble his efforts to help us reach the quota as quickly as possible."

MR. AND MRS. NEIL WALDEN

Miss Sandra Houston Becomes Bride Of Neil Walden In Candlelight Ceremony

In a candle light ceremony of unusual beauty, Miss Sandra Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Houston, was united in marriage with Joseph Neil Walden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neil Walden. The double ring ceremony was performed Saturday evening at 8 at the First Baptist Church with the Reverend Victor Birchard of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Corinth officiating before a large gathering of friends and relatives. Vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a pyramid candelabra tree made of Velour and Spic and Span gladioli in shades ranging from shell pink to deep rose with the lights from the candles casting a glow of ethereal beauty. Southern Smilax, Woodwardia fern and Emerald Palm formed a back ground for the floor baskets of gladioli and for the wrought iron standards, studded with chrysanthemums, asters and gypsophila, which held myriads of candles. At opposite sides of the Sanctuary large sunburst arrangements of pink and deep rose gladioli complemented the colors in the Candelabra tree.

Reserved seats were marked with cascade arrangements of pink asters, mums and glads, tied with pink satin ribbon.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Mary Gault Nabors, organist, and Mrs. Jack Dubard, soloist. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Dubard sang "One Hand-One Heart" by Bernstein and "Whither Thou Goest" by Singer. The bride and groom entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. The traditional Wedding March from Mendelssohn was played for the recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was never lovelier than in her wedding gown, an original of pure white organza over bridal taffeta. The exquisite Empire style gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. The entire front of the dress was enhanced with Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. The wide Chapel length train extended from a bow at the back. Her waist length veil of French illusion cascaded from a pill box of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and Lilies of the Valley arranged in cascade effect with white satin leaves which were studded with pearls.

Miss Margaret Jones of Waynesboro served as Maid of Honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Connie Murdock of Nashville, Tennessee, Miss Diane Martin of Booneville, Miss Marjorie Sullivan of Eau Claire, Wisconsin and Miss Shirley Ramsey of Laurel, Mississippi. The attendants were attired in floor length shell pink chiffon frocks with scoop necklines and short sleeves. The sheath dresses had full chiffon overskirts with satin insets at the waist. They wore for their headpiece Dior bows with very full back veils complementing their dresses in color.

The Maid of Honor carried a Cascade bouquet of pink asters centered with Tropicana roses and tied with pink velvet ribbon. The bridesmaids each carried a cascade bouquet of pink asters entwined with greenery and tied with pink velvet ribbon.

The groom's father attended as best man and the groomsmen were George Brinkley Houston, Little Rock, Arkansas, Jimmy Mitchell, Meridian, Mississippi, Bobby Spain, Atlanta, Georgia, Teddy Feldman, Booneville, Billy Parsons, Ripley, Tennessee, Charles Hon, Chattanooga, Tennessee, Bart Cousins, Dallas, Texas and John David Price, Memphis.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a floor length rose crepe with cowl neckline at the back with which she wore a rose petal hat and matching bag and shoes. She wore purple throat-echards.

The groom's mother chose for her son's wedding a floor length gown of peacock blue chiffon over taffeta with pill box hat of the same color, and matching shoes and bag.

RECEPTION

The bride's parents entertained with a reception in the parlors of the Church following the ceremony. The walkway to the building was outlined with wrought iron hurricane lamps studded with pink carnations and garlanded with String Smilax.

Fern balls, Southern Smilax, magnolia leaves and Emerald palm were used in profusion in decorating the walls of the reception rooms and formed the background for the sunburst arrangement of gladioli in pink and rose shades.

A round table covered with an imported linen cloth inserted with Brussels lace, supported the Friendship Candle and the Bride's Register. The Friendship Candle was white decorated with pink apple blossoms intermingled with orange blossoms in delicate off white with cream centers and rested on a base surrounded with net and satin ribbon in pale pink. Mrs. Jimmy Mitchell and Mrs. George Brinkley Houston presided.

The bride's table was covered with an imported white cutwork and embroidered cloth laid over pink. Centering the table was a four tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses, lilies of the valley and pastel green leaves. A large cluster of roses graced the tip of the cake. Dainty pompon mums and asters with net and satin ribbon in delicate shades of pink surrounded the base. From the bottom tier of the cake extended pink satin ribbons containing hidden favors which were drawn by the bride attendants.

Garlands of String Smilax with gypsophila were secured at the corners of the table with asters in colors complementing the dainty coloring of the cake. Gleaming silver candelabra, silver compotes containing pink and white mints and salted nuts, added to the beauty of the table. Mrs. Clifford Kizer and Miss Susan Bailey presided.

The punch table was overlaid with a white cutwork imported cloth laid over pink with garlands of String Smilax caught at the corners with pink asters. The Silver punch bowl, from which pink punch was ladled, was surrounded with asters, pompon mums, and daisies in varying shades of pink, accented by bows of net and ribbon in the same color. Woodwardia fern and Leatherleaf accented the lovely arrangement.

Punch was served by Miss Virginia Tays and Mrs. George Samuel Oakley, assisted by Mrs. Troy Moore.

The buffet table was enhanced by the beauty of a topiary tree emphasizing several shades of pink and made of majestic daisies, asters, mums and carnations intermingled with gypsophila. The table was overlaid with a cloth of white with garlands of smilax caught at the corners with flowers complementing the colors used in the tree. Silver candelabra held glowing candles which cast a mellow glow on the silver trays which held morsels and tidbits. Presiding at the buffet were Mrs. Carroll Yarber and Mrs. Thomas Moore.

Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. L. W. Peeler, Mrs. Clyde Carter, Mrs. Bob Montgomery, Mrs. Harold Prichard, Mrs. Jack Wilmoth, Mrs. Britt Barron, Mrs. Dewey Martin, Mrs. Jerry Davis, Mrs. Oswald Pounds, Miss Mary Clyde Prichard, Miss Donna Cartwright, Miss Barbara Moore and Miss Linda Martin.

Three lovely little cousins of the bride, Renita Houston, Nancy Barron and Jacklyn Wilmoth of Memphis, dressed in identical frocks of tucked white voile, trimmed with white lace insertion and pink ribbon and the tiniest of tiny pearl buttons, mingled with the guests passing pink satin tulip rice bags, which ternal grandmother of the bride. For her wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece suit of emerald green silk linen, with white accessories and wore an orchid from her bouquet.

After a wedding trip to the Mississippi Coast the couple will be at home in Nashville, where the groom will resume his studies at Vanderbilt University School of Law.

REHEARSAL DINNER GIVEN BY GROOM'S PARENTS

Flaming torchlights and the soft glow of candles gave atmosphere to the romantic setting for the rehearsal dinner given Sandra Houston and Neil Walden and their wedding party on Friday evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walden.

The father of the groom proposed an appropriate toast to the bride and set a happy theme for the evening.

The bride looked radiant in a white cotton lace sheath accented at the hip-line with a band of burgundy satin and shoes in matching satin. The bride's mother, Mrs. Fred Houston, wore a dress of flowing royal blue chiffon and the hostess a tucked pink crepe with pink silk shoes.

Daisy garlands and hurricane lamps decorated each of the five individual tables on the pretty patio. An arrangement of white gladioli, stock and green fern centered the lovely buffet table where guests served themselves for a delicious fare of boneless chicken breasts, hot curried fruit, green beans and andouille, rice en consommé, crisp assorted relishes and tiny homemade rolls. Miniature chess and peacock tarts were served with hot coffee for dessert.

The evening was made even more colorful and pleasant by sweet-blooming gardenias, alabaster lilies and pink geraniums.

BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON

Mrs. Tom Stephens, Mrs. R. G. Houston and Mrs. Britt Barron were hostesses for the bridesmaids luncheon at 1 p.m. Friday. The bridal color of pink was carried out in the decorative theme of the buffet and throughout the reception rooms.

The luncheon table was especially lovely, overlaid with a delicate cutwork linen cloth and having as a centerpiece a crystal bowl of hydrangeas and lilies. Dainty wedding bells bore the names of the guests and claiming center of interest was an exquisite bride doll flanked by wedding bells and tulle.

Seated with the bride-elect were her attendants and her honored guest, Mrs. George Brinkley Houston of Little Rock, sister-in-law. Other guests were seated at individual tables in the living room, where lovely garden flowers were used at vantage points.

The honoree, wearing an attractive two-piece suit of heavy white linen which featured a varicolored blouse with rolled collar, presented her attendants small engraved silver trays.

STAG BRUNCH

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Barnett entertained Mr. Walden, his attendants, Mr. Houston, and out-of-town guests at a delightful brunch on Saturday at 11:30. The lovely hilltop home of the Barnetts was lavishly decorated with appropriate garden flowers.

The guests served themselves from the well-appointed buffet before finding their places at individual tables on the sun parlor. Mr. Walden chose this time to present his attendants with engraved silver money clips.

PROGRESSIVE LUNCHEON

At noon Thursday Miss Houston was the inspiration of a lovely progressive luncheon given by Mrs. Carroll Yarber and Mrs. L. W. Peeler. After having enjoyed a refreshing melon cocktail and the main course in the attractive home of Mrs. Yarber, the party progressed to the home of Mrs. Peeler for colorful dessert and demitasse coffee.

The hostesses presented the bride-elect with the wedding garter which featured the traditional "something blue", wedding bells and wedding ring. Her gift corsage from the hostesses complemented her kelly green tulle dress.

PATIO PARTY FOR BRIDAL COUPLE

The muggy afternoon didn't faze the gay patio gathering last Thursday in one of the last prenuptials for Miss Sandra Houston and Neil Walden. Mrs. Harold Spain and Mrs. W. H. Anderson hosted the affair, for which they had plotted a few extravagant and exotic things

GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

General aviation airports are playing a key role in Mississippi's continuing economic development. There is a definite relationship between community, airport and industrial development. Mississippians' expenditures for general aviation airports since 1957 total $16.7 million.

The bride-elect, portrait pretty in a pastel tulle dress, shared kudos with bridesmaids Margaret Jones, Connie Murdock, Marjorie Sullivan and Shirley Ramsey, who began arriving from Waynesboro, Nashville, Eau Claire, Wis., and Laurel.

Held by congenial interests and others in the wedding party just reaching Booneville, the group's small talk and merriment stretched into the evening coolness, while snacking and sipping continued for an ever-so-cherished memory.

MRS. FD JOHNSON

Your editor and family attended the 100th anniversary of the Mississippi Press Association held at Biloxi Thursday through Saturday and it was one of the best we've been to in the 18 years we've been going.

On Thursday night a large group hosted the Centennial Buffet (in other words it was free) and music was provided by Warren Covington and the 16-piece Tommy Dorsey Band. We ate sparingly all day and really enjoyed that meal.

Friday morning our speakers were R. M. Hederman, Jr., publisher of the Clarion Ledger-Jackson Daily News; Keith Fuller of the Associated Press of New York and Tom C. Harris of the St. Petersburg, Florida paper.

Friday at noon Gov. Paul B. Johnson was our speaker. We sat at a table with the desk editor of the Tokyo Times, who is in this country studying at Harvard, and Hodding Carter III. and others. All agreed that Paul Johnson has made an excellent governor and his talk was well received by the group. This meeting was over about 2:30 and then pictures were taken.

Friday night was the 100th Anniversary Banquet with Clayton Rand as the speaker. For this meal I was seated by Ann Kitchens, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality, and she inquired about Carol Vail... complimenting her highly.

Saturday morning speakers were Francis L. McCarthy, Latin American Editor of United Press of New York; Lt. Col. John C. (Corn Cob) Hughes of Army Material Command, Washington and the president of the Press Association, John Lewis.

At noon Saturday the Press was guests of the Biloxi Chamber of Commerce. I was seated beside John A. Martinelli, director, who fascinated us with stories of the catching of shrimp and other fish - the loveliness of an oyster (which can change from male to female in the twinkling of an eye), etc.

We enjoyed visiting and being with the new president of the association, Bob Cook, and his wife, Elizabeth Cook, of Pontotoc, as well as the Lewis'.

It's good to renew friendships with folks who "talk your language". The convention was at the Buena Vista and we parked our car Thursday and didn't move it until Saturday afternoon. Even though we got tired elsewhere, our minds got a lot of exposure and we hope we'll be better newspaper people for you because of having gone.

Janie Shannon, secretary at Brown Plumbing and Electrical Supply Co. has this sign above her desk... said it was given to her... entitled "The Single Girls Evening Prayer." "Now I lay me down to sleep; I wish I had a man for keeps; Should there be a man beneath my bed; I hope he heard each word I said."

I don't know to whom I am indebted for these quotes. They were left on the desk; I liked them, so I'm going to let you ponder over them.

"By taking advantage, a man is even with his enemy; but by passing it over, he is superior." —Noah Webster.

Back in Grandpa's time there was something to make one sleep at night — it was called work.

Lee Rakestraw Gives Talk On Davis At Meeting Of D. T. Beall Chapter Of U.D.C.

The D. T. Beall Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy met Tuesday evening, June 7 in the lovely home of Mrs. Mae Chaffin with Mrs. Mabel Hill and Miss Irene Bane as joint hostesses. The home, which reflects the culture of the true South, was never lovelier. Day lilies as well as other rare Spring flowers were placed at strategic places throughout the house. Warm hospitality was extended the members by the hostesses and the social hour, at which time a delicious dessert plate was served, made the good fellowship and pleasant association very enjoyable.

The formal meeting followed with Mrs. Eunice Price leading the group in a pledge of allegiance to the United States flag and a salute to the Confederate flag. The president, Mrs. Clarence Chase, directed the reciting of the ritual and introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Lee Rakestraw, professor of history at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, an historian of note, a recognized authority on Mississippi as well as Southern History.

Professor Rakestraw spoke on the childhood of Jefferson Davis, and through his learned study, gave the members and intimate picture of that phase of the President of the Confederacy life which is not so well known. To make the study more intimate Mr. Rakestraw used the humanistic approach to the study letting Jefferson Davis tell of his early experiences. The speaker succeeded in bringing to his listeners a living picture of the boy who was later to become the great soldier of the South.

Mr. Rakestraw succeeded in giving his listeners events in which the true traits of character of Davis showed. His biographers according to the speaker gave facts and deeds but the study Mr. Rakestraw presented to the members, let them see the intimate side of his life and many characteristics that the great man possessed could be seen unfolding in his childhood. The members were impressed with the fact that the speaker presentation explained many things about Jefferson Davis which they had never understood. His early background, his family ties, and his educational advantages, according to Mr. Rakestraw adequately fitted him for the responsibilities which he was later to assume as the President of the Confederacy. The D. T. Beall Chapter members felt very fortunate in having such a learned study as Mr. Rakestraw gave.

The members held a brief memorial service in honor of a dear deceased member of the chapter.

U.D.C. MEETING — From left to right are Miss Irene Bane, co-hostess for the United Daughters of the Confederacy Meeting, Mr. Lee Rakestraw, Northeast Mississippi Junior College Instructor in History, who was guest speaker; Mrs. Clarence Chase, president; and Mrs. Mae Smith, co-hostess in whose home the meeting was held.

Mrs. Ora Elliott Green, who had been a loyal devoted daughter of the Confederacy. Her life was an inspiration and her memory will continue to live in the hearts of her Confederate sisters.

New officers of the chapter were installed. They are Mrs. Loyd

Downs, president-elect, who will be assisted by Mrs. Toy Smith, first vice-president; Mrs. Leland Billingsley, second vice-president; Mrs. O. C. Robinson, third vice-president; Mrs. Lewis Perry, recording secretary; Mrs. L. H. Stutts, registrar; Mrs. E. L. Robinson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl West, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Robinson, historian; and Mrs. Eugenia Smith, recorder of crosses.

The organization was chartered in 1909 and has enjoyed 57 years of active and progressive service in perpetuating the memory of the soldiers of the Confederacy and keeping alive the principles for which the gallant sons of the South fought to preserve for future generations to enjoy.

Governor Urges Support Of V.F.W.

Governor Paul B. Johnson this week issued the following statements urging all eligible veterans to enlist their membership with the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

I want to urge every Mississippi to be aware of and responsive to the goals of our great veteran's organizations. Our great state is benefited every day by the services they render in our behalf.

You recently responded to the call of the American Legion in Mississippi in a magnificent way, and the result was that they achieved a membership strength which places them at the head of the American Legion Convention parade in Washington, D. C. this year. During that great convention the spotlight of favorable publicity will be on Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Odus Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Brown of Booneville and Mrs. Ethel Green were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Odus Brown of New Site Sunday. Mrs. Maylene Brown and children also joined them in the afternoon.

I wish to call on you again, now, to respond to the call of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Mississippi as they too endeavor to win their national membership contest and lead the National VFW Convention parade in New York City this year.

During the past two months Mississippi veterans of Foreign Wars have moved from 39th place to first place in this contest. Now, the job is to maintain first place through June 30, when the contest will be decided. I can think of nothing that will bring more favorable publicity to our state than for both these great veteran's organizations in Mississippi to lead the nation in membership strength this year.

I earnestly hope that every veteran eligible for membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars will make it his personal goal to enlist his membership in this great organization this month. Every possible VFW member will be needed to win this contest. This is one place where everyone of us can help by joining VFW if we are eligible, and if not, by urging those of our friends who are to join their local VFW Post and in this way help all of Mississippi.

Bollworms Live On Many Plants Besides Cotton

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — Bollworms and budworms, serious cotton pest in Mississippi, live on a wide variety of plants other than cotton as the season progresses. J. Wendell Snow and J. R. Brazzel have recently reported results of collecting larvae from cultivated and wild host plants in a three-county area in northeast Mississippi. Their report, Bulletin 712, is available on request from the Agricultural Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi.

The bollworm was recorded as attacking 17 species of cultivated plants. Of these, alfalfa, corn, cotton, crimson clover, lespedeza, okra, peanuts, soybeans, spider-flower, tobacco and tomato were found to be of primary importance. Cultivated plants of lesser significance were crotalaria, egg plant, sesame, string beans, sorghum and white clover.

This species was recorded feeding on 11 wild species of plants which, in an overall view, played a small role in the seasonal biology. Included species were beggar's lice, black medic, buffalo bur, bur clover, cockle bur, hop clover, horse nettle, Johnson grass, perennial pea, Persian clover and toadflax.

Tobacco budworms were found on eight cultivated plant species of which cotton, crimson clover, lespedeza, okra, spider-flower and tobacco were of primary importance. Of lesser importance were alfalfa and sesame. Eleven species of wild plants were attacked and apparently these played a much greater role than in the case of bollworms. Haplophragma and beggar's lice were of particular importance in late season. Other infested species were black medic, buffalo bur, cockle bur, deergrass, swampsoy, horse nettle, Persian clover, sweet clover and toadflax.

News About The Prentiss County Saddle Club

The Prentiss County Saddle Club grounds were filled to overflowing again Saturday night, as people from three states poured in for the Trophy Show. It reached the point that the gate had to be locked, because there was no more parking space. The show had to be delayed because contestants were still coming in to sign up at 8 o'clock.

If you were there, you know there was quite a bit of confusion during the first half of the show. During the confusion the score sheet for the first event was misplaced, therefore, we have to trust our memory as to the winner of the Pony Class. The 2nd Place winner was Ricky Downs of Booneville, riding Mistake. The 3rd Place Trophy went to Dale Jumper of Booneville, riding Pat. We are terribly sorry we don't know the other three names, but congratulations on winning your trophies.

The other events and trophy winners were as follows:

family of Nashville, Tenn., formerly of Texas, (Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Peggy and Kathy) were the tourist family who stopped by the hospitality booth the afternoon of June 9th and was invited by President, Mrs. Bill Preston, to have the evening meal with the club and meet the members. Mrs. Smith, mayor, spoke to the club and guests for a few minutes, welcoming the hospitality family to our city and presented them with the key to the city of Booneville.
Mrs. Joe Langston, in behalf of the B. & P. W. Club presented the Williams family with gifts from American Packing Co., Marathon Cheese, Blue Bell Inc., and Smith Drug Store along with tickets to the all night singing at the Junior College and other favors with the names of Booneville on them, also folders on Booneville and a folder on Northeast, Miss Hospitality. Mr. Williams said in a short talk to the group that he travels some 100,000 miles per year with Crown Stove Co., Atlanta, Ga. and has traveled 18 years and this is the first time anything like this has happened to him and his family. He said he had never seen such hospitality and Mrs. Williams, in her charming Canadian accent, invited everyone to come to see them in Nashville (Not all at one time). She also expressed appreciation and amazement at such hospitality. The little Williams girls expressed a desire to go swimming and Mr. Smith had the police car to come by the Motel and carry them to the City Pool for a swim.
Mrs. Tyler then was introduced by Mrs. Bill Preston for the purpose of installing the officers for B. & P. W. Club for the year 1966-67. Mrs. Tyler began by comparing the human race to either wheat or emeralds. The ones like wheat are dependable, stable people who can be dependable upon as the salt of the earth. The ones resembling emeralds have beauty, charm and poise, who enrich the lives they come in contact with each day. She challenged all to share in the love of the world, stating that there is lots of love in the world after all.
She discussed the B. & P. W. Club emblem and told the club as a group that, "If you love and work and if you love to work, then it is not labor and if you love your work, it is a form of relaxation. The rich work the same as poor because the rent must be paid, groceries must be bought, cars, furniture, etc., must be purchased, children must be educated. It is noble to work and more noble to work and love it." She challenged the group to add to the progress of the world by doing their share of the work and marching forward in this world of progress. Mrs. Tyler told of a woman, Mary Stewart, of a pioneer town, who made steps toward a goal and wrote the B. & P. W. Club Collect of which she used to install the officers. She quoted to Ann Rutherford, the president-elect, "Keep us, O God from pettiness; let us be large in thoughts, in work, in deed." She gave the quotation by Edmond Marker, "Hate drew a circle and shut me out. We drew a circle and took him in." She admonished Ann and the group to be large in thought and deed, making the world a better place in which to live. And to be a good president of B. & P. W., one must be kept from pettiness, be large in thought and work and deed.

To Mrs. Billy Hester, Mrs. Tyler installed her as first vice-president by quoting, "Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking." Give self to serving the club and build the club and the person.
Mrs. Joe Langston was installed as second vice-president after the quotation, "May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face, without self-pity and without prejudice."
Mrs. Malcolm Carter was installed as third vice-president and Mrs. Tyler quoted the prayer, "May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous."
Mrs. Mark Johnson, Jr. was installed as recording secretary. "Let us take time for all things make us grow calm, serene, gentle. The secretary keeps secrets, so Mrs. Tyler said. Keep good records because years from now they might be read. She told of reading a diary of a 16 year old girl kept 102 years ago and told how interesting it was. "A secretary must take time for her duties and certainly during a very busy business session must be calm, serene and gentle."
The treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Keenum was installed by Mrs. Tyler after the quotation, "Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight forward and unafraid. Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hal Hughes, was installed by Mrs. Tyler following the quote, "Grant that we may realize it is the little things of life that create differences, that in the big things of life we are but one."
Mrs. Tyler said the beauty of this prayer should be expressed to others and shared with them. Upon finishing the collect, "and may we strive to touch and to know the great, common human heart of us all; and, Oh Lord, let us forget not to be kind."
Mrs. Tyler asked Mrs. Bill Preston to administer the duties of the officers to each and duly install them. Mrs. Preston then pinned the President's Pin on Ann Rutherford and presented her with the gavel.
Mrs. Eugenia Smith, Mrs. Mark Johnson, Jr. and Mrs. Eugene Gifford were in charge of the beautiful decoration. Director of the June program was Miss Mabel Cunningham.

I'm missing from this picture. I belong right between the subjects. For the old gentleman on the right is my father . . . and the young gentleman on the left is my son. But someone had to snap the picture.

It was taken on a Sunday afternoon. Earlier the three of us had walked to church. And Grandpa—(you know how you come to call your own father "grandpa" after you have a son)—well, Grandpa put his hand on Jimmy's shoulder.

"You know, Jimmy," he said, "I've been walking to church down this street ever since it was a cowpath. And I used to think real proud-like, when I walked your father to church, that the Lord never gave me a bigger job to do than raise my son a Christian. But I feel just as proud walkin' by you—like all my important work isn't done yet!"

Understand why I wanted this picture? And why I call it "Unfinished Business?"

Miss Janice Poole And Bobby S. Swords Wed In Ceremony Here On June 4th

The Church of Christ of Booneville was the setting Saturday, June 4 at 7:00 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Janice Quay Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Poole, and Bobby Sharron Swords, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Swords of Aurora, Illinois.

Traditional nuptial music was presented by a choral group consisting of Mr. William Highbaugh of Booneville, Mr. Jerry Rainey of Corinth, Misses Mary Jo Bennett of Corinth, Sue Pounds, Joyce and Jeanita Thornton, all of Booneville.

Mr. J. A. Thornton of Booneville performed the double-ring ceremony before a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

Vows were pledged before the altar decorated with a center tree of Spic and Span gladioli, palms and lighted candles, flanked by trees of mountain laurel and various groupings of candelabra arrangements of white mums, palms and glads. Other candelabra arrangements were entwined with garlands of greenery. Fan shaped arrangements of gladioli and palms completed the altar background.

The altar was separated from the auditorium by three strands of white silk cords in white wrought iron standards.

The pew rails were decorated with woodwardia, emerald jade fern and lighted candles. The family section was marked by candelabra arrangements of glads and mums.

In the foyer of the church was a center planter of glads and an arrangement of stock daisies and mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of organza over peau de soie with chapel Watteau train. Bands of Venice lace were used on the waist and skirt. The train was appliqued with floral motifs.

Her veil was held in place with a lace pillbox embroidered in pearls and crystals, accented with stephanotis. She carried a cascading bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and lilies of the valley encircled in satin leaves and studded pearls and tied with love knots. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sylvia Maddox of Booneville was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Miriam Thompson of Kosciusko, Cathy Green and Amy Jo Stewart of Booneville, Mrs. Harold Wells of Valley Station, Ky., sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Little Miss Anne Newborn of Muscle Shoals, Ala., cousin of the bride, was flower girl. They wore identical floor length dresses of peau de soie in a pastel shade of pink, designed with a bow and flowing train in the back. Their headpieces were matching rose petals with veils of tulle. They carried cascade bouquets of Tropicana roses with green velvet ribbon.

Shannon Swords of Aurora, Illinois attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were David Bolen of Booneville, Roger Russell of Starkville, Charles Browning of New Albany, and Harold Wells of Valley Station, Ky., nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Poole wore a pastel aqua two piece dress of linen with embroidered motifs, matching accessories with white elbow length leather gloves.

The groom's mother was attired in a powder blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the lower level of the church. The foyer and reception room were decorated with baskets of gladioli and pink carnations, trees of mountain laurel and window arrangements of candles, mums and magnolia leaves. The guests were registered at a table near the entrance by Miss Linda Comer of Booneville. On this table was the traditional memory candle encircled with stephanotis. After the guests were greeted by the receiving line they were served from two tables. Both tables were draped in white polished cotton and overlaid with white net. Centering one was a four-tiered, all white cake, embossed with wedding bells and centered with a cluster of wedding bells. Outlining the base were garlands of spring smilax and pink carnations. Misses Phyllis Pounds and Ebbie Finch cut and served the cake.

On the other table a handsome silver punch bowl was centered with similar decorations. Misses Linda Tollison and Brenda Windham presided at this table.

MR. AND MRS. BOBBY SHARRON SWORDS

Rice bags on silver trays placed beneath an original "Rice Tree" were given to the guests by little Misses Rhonda McCoy of Sheffield, Ala. and Tammy Creason of Corinth, cousins of the bride. Both were dressed in dainty pink dresses and wore corsages of pink carnations.

All wore beautiful pastel dresses and corsages of pink carnations. out of the way for a short while. But it is not a cure. Spraying with 2,4-D will kill the bitterweeds. Check with this office on how much spray to use, when to use it and restrictions on grazing after use.

HOME GARDENING

Keep an eye on the garden for insect damage. Don't let the bugs harvest your vegetables. Several safe insecticides are available for use in the home garden. Check with this office for recommendations on the ones to use and how to use them.

Get some mulching material and use it to help conserve moisture and keep down grass and weeds. Harvest your vegetables regularly and thoroughly. Just one or two okra pods left to mature on a plant will cut production. The same is true of other vegetables.

As a vegetable matures and stops production, remove it from the garden. Then get the row ready for some fall gardening.

COTTON INSECTS

Boll weevils are present in large numbers in much of the older cotton. Until the cotton begins squaring, the weevils do little or no damage.

But keep a close watch and do not let infestations get above ten per cent in squaring cotton.

Protect your cotton from all damaging insects. We have detailed information on insecticides to use for the different insects and when and how to use them.

MANAGE TEMPORARY GRAZING

Heavy grazing, then an application of fertilizer and clipping will put new life into temporary grazing. Heavy grazing, then resting the area for regrowth is better than continuous light grazing.

It is also time to make another planting of temporary grazing. At time of seeding apply a fertilizer mixture containing 60 pounds each of nitrogen, phosphate and potash per acre.

For renitratizing grazed down temporary grazing crops use 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

MALARIA CONTROL — In ridding itself of malaria, Mississippi developed a central program which became a model for world-wide use. No patterns existed for the control of malaria five decades ago when over 158,000 cases were reported in one year in Mississippi with 1,426 known deaths. But in 1916 in Bolivar County the State Department of Health demonstrated that quinine was highly efficient and practical in the relief and control of the disease. ### '66 COTTON PREMIUMS, DISCOUNTS ANNOUNCED

Premiums and discounts for grade and staple length and micronaire readings of upland cotton which will be used by the Commodity Credit Corporation in making loans on eligible qualities of 1966-crop upland cotton have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As under the 1965 program, premiums and discounts are provided for all official grades of upland cotton.

The base loan rate for 1966-crop Middling 1-inch upland cotton at average location will be 21 cents per pound, gross weight, before adjustments for micronaire premiums and discounts. On the basis of premiums and discounts for grade and staple length and the average production of each quality for the period 1960 through 1964, the minimum loan rate for Middling 1-inch cotton is 79 points above the national average support price for all qualities. Therefore, the national average support price (average of the crop) will be 20.21 cents per pound. Schedules showing base loan rates for Middling 1-inch cotton at each approved warehouse will be issued later.

Under the 1966 upland cotton program cotton farmers (except those on "small farms") who signed up to take part agreed to reduce plantings at least 12.5 percent below the farm's effective allotment and to meet other program provisions. By such participation, the grower could become eligible for price support loans on all cotton produced; he also could qualify for a diversion payment of 10.5 cents per pound on the farm's projected yield of the acreage diverted, and a price support payment of 9.42 cents a pound on the projected yield of the acreage planted for harvest within the farm's domestic allotment (66 percent of the effective allotment). The price support and diversion payments serve to maintain farm income and to offset the lower cotton loan date. At the same time, the loan rate will continue "one-price" cotton at around world price levels, and thus make it possible for U. S. cotton to move through marketing channels without the need for either an equalization or an export payment.

The schedule of micronaire premiums and discounts for 1966-crop upland cotton is available at the ASCS county office. Micronaire readings determine the fineness and maturity of the fiber. These qualities affect the spinnability and value of the cotton.

FARM CONSERVATION MEANS CLEANER WATER, SAYS CHAIRMAN

Programs of soil and water conservation which farmers and government carry out cooperatively on the farms and ranches of the Nation benefit whole areas, not just individual farms. Willie Hatfield, Chairman of the Prentiss Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today.

Our problems of water supply — for today and for tomorrow — are of growing concern to everyone, the chairman declared, and with this concern has come an understanding of the importance to all citizens of protection and improving their water supplies at the source.

All the water people use comes from rain and snow that fall almost entirely on agricultural land — divided into drainageways by slopes, hills, and mountains. It follows then that adequate conservation measures and proper land use on the farms and ranches that make up large areas are basic, physically and economically, to watershed protection, flood prevention, and an ample supply of clean water. In a very real sense, people and industry in every city and town depend for their water supply on the success of efforts by farmers and ranchers in curbing soil erosion, conserving water for drought periods, and controlling runoff in times of heavy rainfall.

According to Chairman Hatfield, Prentiss County farmers have made substantial progress in recent years in protecting and improving agricultural land resources through the cost-sharing available under the Agricultural Conservation Program

Old Landmark Preservation Being Planned

The restoration of one of the most famous landmarks in the entire area is nearing reality with the organization of the Jacinto Foundation, Inc.

The non-profit organization made up of interested historians from Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties and other areas of the state hope to restore the old Jacinto Courthouse which still stands in its original form in Southeast Alcorn County.

The old courthouse was constructed in 1837 and narrowly missed destruction in 1964 when a contractor purchased the building from the Methodist Church and was preparing to tear it down to obtain the antique brick for use in residential construction.

A group of citizens from the three counties which once made up the one large county of Tishomingo got together and started trying to acquire the building before it was destroyed. The Methodist Church gave the land to the group and finally Dr. Joe Stevens from West Point purchased the building for $2,000.

The boards of Supervisors in Prentiss, Tishomingo and Alcorn Counties have unanimously approved resolutions to make funds available to the foundation and a bill is now in the Legislature which would make the funds available.

With funds from the three counties and from the fund-raising drive that the foundation now has underway, incorporators hope eventually to restore not only the old Court House but the whole town of Jacinto as well. Records show that the once thriving town had five stores, two saloons, a hotel, black smith shop, Masonic Hall, and a church which was used by all denominations.

The foundation has consulted with a well known architect, Merlyn McCullar, a former Corinthian, to assist in the restoration. Mr. McCullar has been recognized in several national magazines for his work in New Orleans, where he lives, and in the Mobile, Ala., area.

and other government conservation assistance. Thus, a more plentiful and stable supply of cleaner water has been assured for homes and industry in surrounding areas.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

Steaks, chops, hamburgers, chickens, spareribs . . . these are all favorites for backyard grilling. If you want to add another favorite to your family's list of foods to cook outdoors, just try kabobs.

You will find the word spelled other ways, such as, kebabs, kebabs, but however it is spelled it means pieces of meat roasted on a skewer and highly seasoned. To many it is a meal on a stick, consisting of bits of meat and other foods strung on skewers and broiled.

You can use long thin sticks of green wood with sharpened ends or you can buy metal skewers from a store.

To cut kabobs, cut meat into cubes 1 to 2 inches thick. Marinate meat for 3 hours or longer in a well-seasoned sauce. You can use a favorite barbecue sauce, with special additions as celery seed, tabasco sauce or chopped onion. A marinade is usually thinner and more highly seasoned than basting or barbecue sauces.

Alternate meat, vegetables, fruit on the skewer. For cooking well done, separate meat and vegetables so that heat can circulate around each section of food on the skewer. If the meat is beef and you like it rare, push meat and vegetables close together.

Use your imagination to create combinations for kabobs. If possible, let each person construct and build his own kabob. This way your family or guests can cook what they like. The results can be spectacular.

Be sure foods cooked together have the same cooking time. This may mean that you will have to partially cook some vegetables, such as potatoes and onions. Or you may place vegetables on separate skewers so that each can be removed from the fire at the right time.

Meats that you use in building kabobs include beef, round, tenderloin steaks, ham, bacon, luncheon meat, frankfurters, sausages, bologna, liver, lamb, shrimp, scallops.

Fruits for kabobs may be pineapple, orange sections, crabapples, prunes, apple slices, banana chunks. On the list of vegetables to use may be onions, either sweet potatoes or Irish potatoes, tomatoes, mushrooms, carrots, peppers, celery, pickles, olives.

For dessert to follow your kabobs, you may want to try —

Dipped Angel Cake. Cut a pound loaf angel food cake into 1-inch cubes. Prepare a package of fluffy white frosting, mix according to package directions and divide the mix into three 1-cup portions. Leave one portion plain. To another portion, add 2 tablespoons of crushed small, red cinnamon candies and mix until candies are dissolved. To the third, blend in 1½ teaspoons powdered instant coffee.

To serve, spear cake cubes with a long-handled fork or skewer. Toast on all sides over hot coals. Dip toasted cakecubes, one at a time, into one of the three frosting dips, then into a sauce dish filled with ½ cup chopped nuts. Eat, right away.

queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — If Dependency Indemnity Compensation death benefit payments for a minor child have been stopped by reason of that child's marriage, may payments be resumed if the child is divorced prior to reaching the age of 18?

A — No. Once married, a person is no longer considered a child under the legal definition for the purpose of VA benefits.

Q — My husband who is a WWII veteran has been receiving a non-service-connected pension of $78.75 a month. We own our own home. Our friends now tell us that the Veterans Administration Affairs Committee in Washington will take our home and my husband will lose his pension because we own our own home. Is this correct?

A — The government will not take your home because your husband is receiving a non-service-connected pension. You are being poorly advised by your friends.

Q — I am a veteran of World War I. I am 65 and I am retiring this month. Could you please tell me if I am entitled to non-service-connected benefits from the VA and how I go about filing for such benefits.

A — There is no benefit based on age alone. Veterans of World War I, World War II or the Korean Conflict, discharged under other than dishonorable conditions after 90 or more days service, or because of a service-connected disability, who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service and are unable to perform a gainful occupation may be entitled to a non-service-connected pension if their income without dependents is under $1800 or with
