Copper Wire Is Stolen Off Voltage Lines

J. W. Abernethy, manager of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association, states that approximately 200 pounds of copper wire, costing approximately $100.00 was cut and stolen off a voltage line north of Altitude. It will cost approximately $500.00 to replace the wire and for labor to reinstall it.

Those involved in the theft may be the same ones who took about 10,000 feet of wire from voltage lines in and near Iuka. An investigation is underway and three men are being questioned.

Mr. Abernethy stated that the power association trucks are clearly marked and that anyone noticing a suspicious vehicle or person around the power poles and lines, to report such to him or Sheriff Gerald Green.

He also warned that inexperienced persons cutting wire from the lines run a high risk of being electrocuted. Such cutting could result in damage such as fire, burned-out appliances and could cause persons in residences to be electrocuted.

Every effort is being made to implement a program in Licensed Practical Nursing at the Northeast Miss. Junior College. The purpose of the program is to assist the hospitals of the five-county district in remedying the acute shortage of nursing personnel.

The Licensed Practical Nursing Program will serve to complement what has already been done in the field of nursing education at Northeast.

Brown Watershed Planning Progress

The accompanying pictures made in Brown Creeks Watershed February 10, 1966, show the need for a cooperative community plan to control and manage the flood waters in the East half of Prentiss County. The upper picture shows the damage to roads, streams and fields on the North boundary of the district at the line between the 4th and 5th Supervisor's district of Prentiss County.

The center picture made a few minutes later shows the flood damage to roads, fences and farmland near the Paul Batts farm near the middle of the district.

The lower picture which was made near the same time as the other pictures on February 10, 1966 shows the flood waters entering the new channel cut by the Corps of Engineers and the Tombigbee River Valley Master Water Management District. This new channel provides an outlet for the Brown Creeks.

The local Brown Creeks Master Water Management District Commissioners are grateful to all who have helped in getting this Watershed approved for planning.

During the process of planning all landowners in the District are asked to cooperate in furnishing information on flood damages, erosion and water management. As soon as this information is collected and put into print it will be made available to everyone interested in the development of the Eastern part of Prentiss County.

The Water Management District commissioners are requesting assistance from the Northeast Soil Conservation District Commissioners, Mr. L. A. Wilkins of the Soil Conservation Service in the area office at Tupelo and Mr. Thompson Pounds and the Commissioners of the Tombigbee River Valley Master Water Management in Tupelo.

The objectives of the Watershed Plan are:

- 1- Control Flooding.
- 2- Conserve soil and water on individual farms.
- 3- Promote conservation and use of water resources.
- 4- Aid industrial development.
- 5- Establish a more prosperous and enduring agriculture.

To reach these objectives a partnership must be formed. The landowners on the ridge can help by planting trees, grass and legumes to prevent erosion and runoff. The landowners in the bottoms will help to pay for rights away, easements, legal fees and advertisements. The Federal Government will help by paying for construction necessary to control flooding.

Nine Indictments Returned By Grand Jury This Week

The Prentiss County Grand Jury reported from its August session Tuesday afternoon and returned nine true bills, including an indictment for murder against Second District Constable Bonnie Knight in the July 10 death of James Michael of the Blackland community.

Upon arraignment, Knight entered a plea of not guilty and bond was set at $3,000 by Circuit Judge

N. S. Sweat, Jr. Trial was delayed until the October term of the court. He was allowed to keep his office of constable.

Constable Knight said that he hit Michael with his blackjack when he resisted arrest after Knight had seen him throw a bottle from the window of his car. An autopsy revealed that Michael died as a result of a blow on the head.

An indictment of burglary in connection with a break-in at the Amoco Service Station was returned against R. H. Jackson. He pled not guilty on arraignment and bond was set at $3,000.

Morris Dobbs was indicted on a charge of arson in connection with the February 1965 fire at the Campus Drive-In. He was arraigned, pled not guilty, and bond was set at $3,000.

Indictments on counts of burglary and larceny were returned against Hannon Ray Miller in connection with the break-in of Goddard's Jewelry here in May. He entered a plea of not guilty upon arraignment and bond was set at $10,000.

Ollie Mae Candler was indicted on a charge of forgery. She pled not guilty and bond was set at $5,000. The other indictments were kept on secret docket pending apprehension and arraignment of the accused.

The Grand Jury was in session for two days and examined 54 witnesses. They also examined by committee public buildings and facilities, factories, and county books and reported them to be in satisfactory condition.

Circuit Clerk Roy Lowery said that no trials are being conducted during this term of court, but the court is being opened each morning for any business which may come before it.

The clerk said that jurors have been dismissed and those subpoenaed for the second week beginning Monday need not appear, although some judgement cases may be settled.

Whitten Desires Favorable Report On Waterway In Time For Action

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten, D. of Miss., today said that the Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works expects to meet during the week of August 9th. Normally the bill should have been passed by June 30th, the end of the fiscal year.

"We have hoped to get a favorable report on the Tennessee-Tombigbee project by the Corps of Engineers. The report has been in the Office of the Chief of the Corps for some time," Mr. Whitten, whose new Mississippi District will include much of the area of the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, said further, "We still have two weeks, and of course, if the report does not reach us, it may reach the Senate in time for the Senators to act."

"The President and the Bureau of the Budget have not yet responded to our request to relax the criteria established in November 1964, which prevents the using of existing freight rates as a basis of evaluating transportation savings that might accrue from a proposed waterway. This new criteria would reduce the estimated benefits and changes the policy followed for 140 years. Since projects have to show a favorable benefit to cost ratio, until changed this will be a problem in all new navigation projects. Along with Congressional leaders from all sections of the country, we have been pressing for reversal of this new rule for a number of months. If the original rule was sound for 140 years, it should be sound now."

HOMES FOR OYSTERS

In order to maintain the natural oyster beds in Mississippi waters, the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission carries on an annual shell planting and seed oyster moving program. Mississippi is one of the country's leading oyster producing states. The demand for oysters for both the raw oyster market and the canned oyster market is great; therefore, the natural oyster beds are worked heavily each year and must not be depleted. During some years, Mississippi produces over $1,000,000 worth of oysters. The state can also boast one of the largest continuous oyster reefs in the world, with a size of approximately 7,000 acres. Each year after the oyster catching season is over, the oystering areas in the three coastal counties are examined, and the condition of each bed is determined. Plans are made to replenish shells where they are needed, and seed oysters (small oysters which grow crowded) are moved to areas where harvesting activity has been great.

Farmers Urged To Use Extreme Caution With Farm Chemicals

State College, Miss. — Farmers are urged to pay close attention to small details while cleaning up after using pesticides.

Roy Meeks, assistant extension entomologist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, suggests small amounts of some pesticides left in work clothes could be dangerous.

He advised, "Always change clothes immediately after mixing or applying pesticides and bathe thoroughly."

He made other suggestions: "To avoid accidents, said Meeks, always clean equipment which is used to mix or apply pesticides. Some farmers have ruined cotton by failing to cleanse spray equipment after using it to apply a chemical weed killer."

A small amount of the weed killers can cause a lot of damage if one is not careful.

He recommends that equipment which has been used to apply 2,4-D; 2,4,5-T; and similar pesticides should be given a special cleansing with ammonia or activated charcoal and detergent. Specific directions can be obtained from the local county agent.

"Left-over pesticides should be poured out in an isolated area where it will not contaminate crops or water, and where it will not injure domestic animals or wildlife," said Meeks.

He also suggests that empty pesticide containers should be considered dangerous. Bags and cardboard containers should be burned and the ashes buried in an isolated place.

Timber Money

The announced program here to help our land owners better calculate ways and means to secure maximum income on perpetual basis for sale of their trees will no doubt be worth serious consideration. A group of agencies, including the well-known Southern States Forestry Commission of Birmingham, Ala., are proffering a series of expensive color motion pictures for showing in schools here and elsewhere to help bring out the need for not only keeping fire out of the woodlands, but also to carefully select the small trees to be sold for paper wood as well as saw logs.

The plans are set up to explain how much overcutting is being done as against the annual growth, and to offset some wild claims that "timber is growing faster than it is being harvested." As evidence of the need for the renewal of timber education here and elsewhere the Commission points out that all big land owners are selling only the overcrowded and crooked or diseased trees for pulpwood, but most small land owners simply turn contractors loose in their woodlands who often make a cleaning of all saplings, and which not only means no more income for the owner in this generation but also no help to make our merchants and banks and community prosper.

School Days Are Back

All good things come to an end — at least temporarily. And so it is, as the long school summer holiday draws to a close. Very shortly, millions of youngsters will be shouldering their school books once again. Other millions will see the inside of a schoolroom for the first time when school opens this fall.

While it is true that an educated man does not get all his education in the classroom, the fact remains that formal education is the foundation and best hope of civilization. Education is the seed bed of tolerance and understanding. It is the source of progress in every field of human endeavor.

Tomorrow's astronauts, engineers, scientists, technicians, men of medicine and the arts and business will be trudging back to the halls of learning, as the crisp days of autumn approach. Their return is an omen of a steady advance toward a better life.

PAINT BRUSH MAGIC

You have heard it said that you can't change a leopard's spots, but it cannot be denied that paint can change the personality of a building. The filling station across the street from the library has been made white and bright and mighty pretty. We note a number of pretty, fresh houses in the town. White is such a pretty color for a dwelling or business. How very nice it would be if the welfare facility could just have a white-bright coat on it. It would be so much more attractive and would bring some good cheer to the depressed and discouraged applicants who go there. The number of attractive, well-kept houses and buildings we see is activating hospitality and community pride in Booneville.

GRATEFUL FOR THE HERITAGE

The passing of Miss Anna Walker took from our midst a wonderful citizen. Always a faithful builder for Booneville, she was the corner stone of the telephone service for forty years or more. The Walkers of Booneville were pioneers and builders. They were kind and true friends. Miss Anna, the last to go, was one of the finest of them all. We count ourselves fortunate to have known her. To any and all of the relatives left behind we offer sincere sympathy and offer congratulations to the Walker Family and the Smiths for the heritage they have left behind.

HOSPITAL MANNERS

The hospital visitor can constitute quite a problem in many instances. Unfortunately many people don't think much about going to see their neighbor and friend until he gets sick and is in the hospital. The sick person is glad to be remembered but it is not always best for him to have visitors. The person who comes to see him often feels he is duty-bound to go. Some noble aim may make it hard on the patient and surely makes it difficult for the nurses and sometimes hard for the doctor, too. Too many visitors take up a lot of good fresh air that the patient may need and the noise the healthy friend may make is not good for anyone concerned.

The time of the visit makes a difference also. One surely does not want to go just on a visit when the patient is being served breakfast or being tied up for the day, nor is lunch time or supper really appropriate. Iron clad rules for visiting should not be necessary. How much better it would be if the visitor would only stop and think, use sensible courtesy and due consideration for others, think of rendering service rather than unnecessary hindrance or gathering ground for gossip.

Hope is the true inheritance of all that revolves on great enterprise.

GOOD ADVICE

"As you have therefore opportunity, do good unto all people, especially unto those of the household of faith." It is good advice to do good unto all folks as best you can and to take part in every good cause, even if it is just to speak a word in its behalf. To keep your house in repair, your yard neat and attractive with pretty flowers, to show faithfulness to the church of your choice and faithfulness to pay what you owe — This is good citizenship!

"Good humor is the health of the soul; sadness is its poison!"

NOT TAKEN FOR GRANTED

Booneville should be very proud of its library, its location, and its fine librarian.

STILL A WINNER

Our Miss Hospitality contestant did not win, but we will guarantee you that no one in the contest knew any more about her town, county and state than Becky Gullett, and no one would have done more to boost them than she.

WHY NOT EVERYWHERE?

The crepe myrtle on Cunningham Boulevard up at the Junior College is looking mighty pretty now. Why not have crepe myrtle along the streets and in every yard in Booneville? The beautiful magnolia, our state flower, would be wonderful, too!

CRITICAL NEED FOR MANUAL TRAINING

In the early days of the Junior College several courses were offered in the trades. A number of young men took the course in brick laying. Many of them did not take the course too seriously but ten to fifteen really learned to be good brick layers. They are now doing well for themselves, for Booneville and the surrounding territory. We need more men and women trained to do the things needed to keep the wheels of industry turning and to help the progress of life in all ways. This is good economy. Young men and women are trained to teach and to administer but so few are trained to lay brick, to do carpenter work, plumbing and electrical work and the needed factory skills.

Hale Aust is in charge of the manual training program at the college. He may discover talents in the hands that are more productive than just in the head, talents more valuable than factories or oil wells, talents that can be used to develop one or both, and many other assets to human progress. Mr. Aust is really on the job and we appreciate his energy in this vital program.

OLD MADE BEAUTIFUL

The old Doctor Sutherland home next to the Otha Maxwell home has really become a showplace. The Copelands have made it look so neat and attractive. It is a bit expensive to overhaul an old home, but some of them look mighty pretty after it is done. The Odell Souths have made a beautiful place out of the old McCullar home at the

Letter Concerning Motorcycle And Scooter Accidents

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Mayor M. W. Smith on July 28th from Freeman L. Evans, Executive Director of the Miss. Safety Council.)

Dear Mayor Smith:

I am not sure you have been reading of the alarming increase in motorcycle and scooter accidents. Yesterday another two young boys were killed on one of these motor bikes.

Our statistics show that many of the youngsters injured do not have a driver's license. This is a direct violation of Section 8093 of the Mississippi Code. Also, it should be remembered that parents or other persons who permit minors to drive are guilty of a misdemeanor, under Section 8112 of the Mississippi Code, and may be fined up to $250 and sentenced to no more than six months in jail, or both.

My urgent request to you is that you do two things:

1. Make sure the law relating to the operation of any motor vehicle by minors is enforced.
2. Pass an ordinance and REQUIRE all drivers and passengers on any two-wheel vehicle to wear an approved safety helmet.

If these two things are done the number of motor scooter and motorcycle accidents will decrease and the number of deaths and serious accidents will be greatly reduced. I would appreciate your letting me know if you agree with these two suggestions.

Very truly yours,
Freeman L. Evans,
Executive Director

BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

The blood transfusion is often a life saver. We would be at a loss to practice medicine and surgery in our hospital without blood to give patients who have lost some of their own and also as a therapeutic measure.

Our people have supported the Blood Bank quite well. Our hospital is larger now and we still have injuries on the highways, on the farm, and in the home that require blood on short notice. We must keep up our blood bank and need—more than we have been getting. The person who gives blood is doing a noble deed, for by doing so he may save the life of a friend or neighbor, or even his own life. We owe a debt of gratitude to the Red Cross for its help. This organization strives to furnish blood that is safe and we think it is best to work through them in processing our supply. Northeast Mississippi Hospital employs one of the safest methods known for giving the blood to the patient. Don't forget to give some of your life's blood to save life.

EVERYDAY TALENT APPLIED TO BIGGER THINGS

Arthur Blassingame lives out on the Rube Moore place, which he now owns in the Blackland community. He is a brother of the late Dr. Charlie Blassingame, so well-known in Memphis and other cities across the South for his work in ear, nose, throat and chest. The Blassingames were born and reared in Tippah County between Dry Creek and Hatchie. One of their sports, sometimes on a Sunday, was to secure fox squirrels for the table by rocks alone. They felt they were giving the squirrels a more sporting chance when they used rocks instead of the gun. Arthur became captain of the clan. He could knock out more squirrels from the highest pines and use the fewest rocks. Dr. Charlie was a literary type. He had a college degree in liberal arts and was highly educated in his specialty.

When Arthur was called into World War I they gave him a tryout on the machine gun and it seemed at once that this was his specialty. At first the commanding officer put him in charge of a small group, then later over a larger one. After he had been advanced several times, his general, who had been attracted by his progress, paid him a visit. As the story goes, during a conversation the general asked him a few questions about the machine gun, and asked if he had any suggestions for improvement. "Yes," said Arthur, "it needs to be much smaller so that we could carry it and keep the enemy from killing so many of us before we can get the big gun set up." The general requested that Arthur make a little drawing. It was not too long before the sub-machine gun came into prominence and proved to be a powerful weapon in the great struggle. We think Arthur's insight and practical thinking furnished the start of this great improvement.

MRS. FD JOHNSON

I've heard many expressions concerning the much-needed rain we got this week, but perhaps the best was an overheard one in a bank Wednesday when one farmer said to another, "It woke everything up, didn't it?"

Some people smile at the seeming lack of grace of country folk, yet when a farmer mounts a combine or drives a tractor he is all grace, fitting himself perfectly for the task.

The speed and ingenuity of a plumber or electrician fascinates me, as does the skill of a carpenter who can hang a door or a lady who can sew a fine seam.

We live in a day of specialization and few of us can do many of those things for ourselves. We rely on others far more than we realize, and we should appreciate our fellow man more.

One of the biggest honors that I know of has been received by Buddy Smith as Mississippi's first regional Star Farmer. He is the most outstanding Future Farmer in 12 Southern States and Puerto Rico. I want to add my note of congratulations to him, his wife, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Smith, and his advisor, Mr. Merrill Cartwright.

It's a terrific recognition! There is a paragraph Bruce Barton wrote many years ago that expresses a great truth: "As one grows older in fishing, even as one grows older in living, there comes the same consoling truth — that one need not catch big fish in order to be happy; that the spirit of fishing is more important than the catch; that he who fishes well must fish with a calm and tranquil soul, drawing his reward from the joy of his fishing rather than from the weight of his fish."

The following was written by a staff member of the Chicago Tribune and entitled, "What Is An Ad?"

TO THE BUSINESSMAN

To the businessman, a newspaper ad is the adrenalin that makes a tired sales curve spring to life and shakes a sleepy economy awake. A newspaper ad is a friendly "hello" from the big bank downtown that says stop by any time, or a sharp reminder from the manufacturer he has a great product you need right now.

A newspaper ad is a shout of hope: "Grand Opening on Friday" or the end of a dream: "Going Out Of Business-Sale."

A newspaper ad is a strident cry of a discount store hawking its wares or it is the soft whisper of a blue chip's institutional.

TO THE NEWSPAPER READER

A newspaper ad is the sale that brings the housewife's budget in just under the wire.

A newspaper ad is that certain something special worth splurging on.

A newspaper ad is a mother finding that beauty treatment she always wanted or it's dad selling those power tools he never used.

But a newspaper ad is more than that. It's faith, believability, knowledge from experience that the product is here in town today and wanting to do business. It is a call to action backed by a friend you can trust.

Benjamin Franklin, with his sagacity and wit, was a man who thoroughly enjoyed trimming hecklers down to size. During the early days of the American Republic, he spoke many times on that great document, the Constitution of the United States.

After one such stirring speech an uncouth fellow rose and boldly walked a few paces toward the platform, "Aw, them words don't mean nothin' a-tall!" he shouted at Franklin. "Where's all that happiness you say it guarantees us?"

Franklin, smiled benevolently at the questioner, and quickly, reduced.

I would appreciate your letting me know if you agree with these two suggestions.

Dear Sister,

I suppose I had better explain why I am writing you. My name is George P. A. I am a boy. I am fifteen years old, and I am studying in Standard X. I am a student of Mar Athanasius High School, Hedumbassery.

I don't know English very well. My handwriting is very poor. Our mother language is Malayalam. I want to study more and more English, but I have no money for higher study. I also want to study about your country. So I want to read more and more English books. So you please send me some colored and good magazines.

God will help you.

The people of the United States spend more than a billion dollars each year for their newspapers.

The investment of the public pays approximately one-fourth of the cost of producing the nation's newspapers. In a sense the expenditure is a billion dollar public contribution to local advertisers.

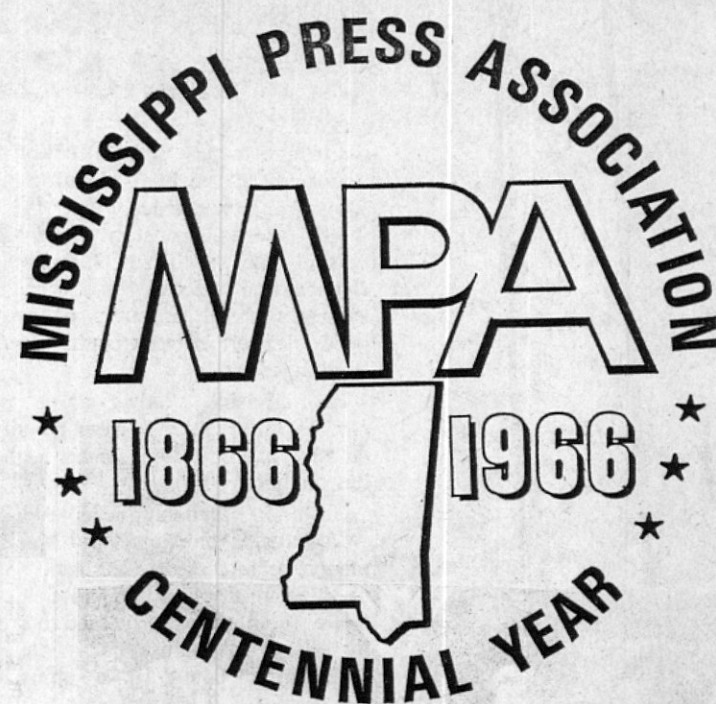

In fact, subscription payments mean far more to the advertiser than the dollar expenditure of the consumer. In addition to paying for the paper the local advertiser's payments are printed on, the investment provides intangible benefits which money cannot buy.

The act of subscribing to the local paper is an act of faith. It is a deliberate purchase of a desirable product which is welcomed into the home. For many consumers, especially the housewife who does the bulk of the local buying, the subscription is a conscious investment in shopping information.

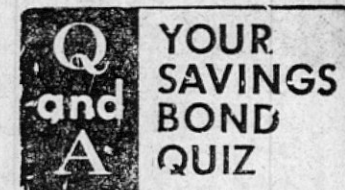

Thus, the newspaper advertiser is in the enviable position of having part of his advertising subsidized by his customers. He can accept this subsidy with the knowledge that the public places enough value on late shopping information to pay for it.

The retailer knows that the newspaper subscriber has enough faith in the medium to accept at face value the recorded claims of the local advertiser.

From a purely practical standpoint, the newspaper advertiser knows that the potential customer who studies newspaper advertising is a serious prospect with money to spend for the product he reads about. He is ready to buy; he is willing to pay for reliable shopping information.

Question: How can I determine the value of my Savings Bonds, many of which were purchased at least 20 years ago?

Answer: Bond tellers at banks and many savings and loan organizations will be glad to assist you. However, by sending 15 cents (in cash) to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, you can obtain a Table of Redemption Values, which will give the current value of any Series E Bond you own. These tables are issued every six months, and the current edition covers the period from July through December, 1966.

Question: How many Savings Bonds are sold each year and what are the most popular denominations?

Answer: In the calendar year 1965, 100,657,000 individual Bonds were sold. Recent figures show that almost 70 percent of all Savings Bonds sold are in the $25-$200 range, those most commonly bought by Payroll Savers.

'Skin Of Our Teeth' Now Showing At Front St. Theatre

Thornton Wilder's fantastic play, THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH, which opened July 21, is now showing at the Front St. Youth Theatre in Memphis, Tennessee. The play will run for two weeks before going into repertory with a trio of short plays.

Included in the Youth Theatre program is Christopher Fry's "The Boy With A Cart", a pageant play that celebrates the founding of a church, built by a young boy as he twined with miniature tulle umbrellas decorated the tea table along with silver candelabra holding pink candles at either end. The guests also enjoyed mints and salted nuts.

The honoree chose for the occasion a two piece floral suit from her trousseau with which she wore a gift corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Nabors registered the guests. Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Howell served the cakes, punch, mints and salted nuts. Mrs. Martin presided over the large array of gifts which were on display.

Mrs. E. O. Roden, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Curtis Emmett Carr, mother of the prospective bridegroom and Miss Era Ann Carr, sister of the prospective bridegroom were special guests, and were in the receiving line which also included Mrs. Moore and the honoree, Miss Roden.

Miss Gaye Roden Is Shower Honoree

Miss Gaye Roden, bride-elect of Emmett Carr, was honored with a linen shower Tuesday in the home of Miss Peggy Gault. Giving the shower with Peggy were her mother, Mrs. J. B. Gault, and Mrs. Frances Bryson and Mrs. Ellen Pate.

For refreshments, Mrs. Bryson served pineapple punch and wedding cakes. The table was decorated with a yellow cloth overlaid with white lace. The centerpiece was a summer arrangement of yellow flowers accented by candles.

Miss Roden wore an orange and yellow dress of silk chanting with a yellow carnation corsage. Mrs. Roden was dressed in royal blue and Mrs. Carr was dressed in a green and beige striped. Mrs. Roden and Mrs. Carr wore white carnations.

fulfilled a courageous vow to God. The play illustrates the simple faith of medieval peasants that abides in their joyful love of life. Cuthman, the boy with a cart, lived in that world of peaceful security, but the death of his father temporarily destroyed it, sending him and his mother on a pilgrimage across England in search of a site for Cuthman's cathedral.

"Hall Of Healing", the second play on the bill, is, in the opinion of at least one critic, the best of Sean O'Casey's short plays. Assembled in a drab waiting room, the patients create an atmosphere of human suffering colored by humor and compassion as they hopefully await the doctor's attention. Instead of comfort, they are confronted by a doctor whose fussy manipulations and arbitrary rules rival his concern for curing the sick. The play is based on facts and is a bitter condemnations of bureaucracy and the timidity of its victims.

"The Intruder" by Maurice Maeterlinck is a compelling drama that examines the mystic forces of death. The play visits a family in conversation and activity as they sense the presence of an intruder during an illness suffered by a mother after childbirth. The characters are drawn into a background of ease and repose but as the play unfolds the mood is transformed into one of anxiety and dread.

Hit First Night...

"We were surrounded—and they were so close that Jerry killed the first one with his .45." Private First Class Douglas J. McVey of Booneville, Mississippi described his first night with Company B, 2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry recently at Quan Loi during Operation El Paso II. He was sent with 12 other men on an ambush patrol.

McVey took some kidding from the other men because of his newness. Sp-4 James E. Grimsley of Lumberton, North Carolina, admitted, "There were a few comments made — we always ride the new guys a little." By the next morning, however PFC McVey was no longer a new guy. He was one of the three men on the patrol who had not been wounded during a fierce, two-hour long battle with a Viet Cong platoon.

PFC Charles E. Livingston of Greenville, Florida, was one of the other men not wounded during the action. "I've been here six months," he said later, "and it was the first time I've been hit that bad — I guess I was just as new as McVey."

The Viet Cong moved in on the ambush patrol just before midnight. The Americans were outnumbered at least four to one. They were surrounded. Counting on an easy victory, the VC assaulted. To the surprise of the Communists, the small band of 1st Infantry Division soldiers fought hard—and well. For half an hour, they fought off the attacks. When a relief platoon from Company B arrived and joined in battle, they found only McVey, Grimsley and Livingston un wounded.

Defeated, the VC fled in darkness, leaving behind a core of bodies. The remainder of PFC McVey's first night in combat with the 2/18th passed quietly.

PFC Douglas McVey is the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McVey of 209 Smith St., Booneville.

PFC McVey was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for bravery.

Cooperation And Sportsmanship Of Hunters Encourages Farmer To Help In Plantings

Hunter cooperation and good sportsmanship have encouraged G. L. Temple, of the Center Hill community in Lauderdale county, to keep planting browntop millet for four years.

In Mr. Temple's case, the application of this conservation practice which drew doves into his fields in such clouds that eager hunters bagged 300 the first day he permitted shooting, was somewhat accidental.

However, other interested farmers can use the same technique to attract doves during hunting season, and July is the month to plant browntop millet for the purpose. In case farmers are eligible and so inclined, they can also get ACP assisting funds, authorized this year for the first time; and Soil Conservation Service technical assistance, available through their local soil conservation district.

Mr. Temple planted his first browntop millet in 1963 — intended it for a hay crop.

"I cut this millet kind of early — in August," says Mr. Temple. "Then the millet sprouted out again, got about two feet high and full of seed dropping off on the ground just at the start of dove season."

Mr. Temple described how clouds of doves descended, their wings whistling in the wind. Not only did the doves devour the millet, but they munched on other growing crops and on feed in his creep feeders. Mr. Temple, who likes to hunt doves and also relishes their meat, at this stage was anxious for some hunter help to control his dove population.

"I invited some of my friends to come and dove hunt. They invited others. The first day they shot 300 doves. One party that stopped by to give me 36 doves inquired if I'd sell them permits the next year and agree to plant some more of this same feed."

According to Mr. Temple, this posed something of a problem.

'MISS HOSPITALITY' CROWNED—Gov. Paul Johnson crowns Carolyn Anderson of Gulfport Mississippi's Miss Hospitality for 1966-67 in Saturday night ceremonies at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi. Flanking them are, left, first alternate Debbie Wacker of Jackson, and right, second alternate Becky Allums of Ellisville.

Hunters had always roamed his land free of charge. He didn't plan to make money on the deal, but he did see the fairness of making expenses of fertilizer, seed, tractor time, and labor, when planting a crop at the hunter's insistence.

Consequently, the following year he planted 3 acres of browntop millet in 2 different plots and sold some permits, charging $5 for hunting privileges during the first dove season — $10 for privileges in both seasons.

"These permits allowed hunters to hunt, in season, any game I had, including quail," says Mr. Temple.

Through the years, Mr. Temple, who is active on the board of the Lauderdale County Soil Conservation District, has developed habitat for wildlife. He has good squirrel hunting in the bottomlands, allows fishing for a fee on one farm pond and recently built and stocked another pond. He has planted bicolor-lespedeza for quail.

"I want to make it plain that I believe conservation of wildlife will be a deciding factor in a farmer's decision to plant browntop millet and allow dove shoots," said Mr. Temple. "It will increase his birds. Then, in turn, he will probably need hunters to help him control the dove population."

Mr. Temple says his experience with hunters has been very pleasant. "They've taken care of my fences and gates," he reports. "Experienced hunters do this anyway. It's the one-time hunter who gets careless."

E. E. Freeman, work unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Meridian, advises that browntop millet has many advantages as a conservation crop. "It's a good summer cover for unprotected soil," he says. "Through its utilization by dove and quail, it can add recreational benefits and added income with very little, if any, trouble to the farmer."

"It's easy to grow," he adds. "It's a heavy seed producer. It's available through the seed stores, makes a good hay crop and a good temporary grazing crop early in the summer."

Farmers who want doves in September may benefit from planting browntop millet in July. Information can be obtained through your local Soil Conservation District, the work unit office of the Soil Conservation Service, the local office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, or County Agent.

T.C.E.P.A. Reports Theft Of Wire

W. J. Brinkley, General Manager and Ben F. McRae, Assistant Manager of the Tishomingo County Electric Power Association, Iuka, Mississippi, advised that this Association serves all of Tishomingo County and parts of Alcorn, Prentiss and Itawamba. Mr. Brinkley related that within the past two months his Association has suffered a loss involving the theft of Copper wire principally in Tishomingo County. He estimated that the loss to the Association will be approximately $4,000, which includes the loss of the wire, and the labor and cost to reinstall.

On or about July 19, 1966, in an area South of Iuka and near Tishomingo approximately 10,000 feet of wire was cut from operating transmission lines. The Power Association on July 22, 1966 employed the services of Sam H. Allen Jr. of the Sam Allen's Investigative Service, Tupelo, Mississippi to investigate the case. Mr. Allen is a retired Special Agent of the FBI and formerly lived in Iuka, Mississippi.

On July 23, 1966 Mr. Allen and Elmer L. Wadkins of the Police Dept. of Sheffield, Alabama located approximately 471 pounds of Copper wire at Reid's Salvage, Sheffield, Alabama. Information was furnished that the Copper wire has been sold to this Company by an unknown individual from Iuka.

Subsequent investigation revealed that 3 local white males of Iuka, Miss. were involved in the theft of Copper wire from the Power Association. No arrests have been made to date pending further investigation of this matter.

Mr. Brinkley, Mr. McRae and Mr. Allen highly complimented area officers for their splendid cooperation in this case. The departments assisting are James H. Bishop, Sheriff; Robert Skinner, Deputy Sheriff, Iuka, Miss.; Highway Safety Patrol, Iuka, Belmont; Police Department, Sheffield, Ala.; Special Agent of the GM&O Railroad; and the Police Department in Tishomingo, Mississippi. Mr. Brinkley and Mr. McRae pointed out that inexperienced persons cutting wire from these high voltage lines are running a grave risk of electrocution and can be the cause of high voltage in residences causing extensive damages, such as fire, burned out appliances and electrocution.

Proposed SLC Convention Called A Ruse To Shift Publicity

By Sen. James O. Eastland

I have been advised that the Junior Senator from Massachusetts, Edward Kennedy, has accepted an invitation to speak at the forthcoming national convention in Jackson of Martin Luther King's so-called Southern Leadership Conference.

This convention in Jackson called by Martin Luther King, and apparently heartily endorsed by Northern liberals, amounts to nothing more than an attempt to move national publicity away from the riots, murders and looting occurring in Cleveland, Chicago, Brooklyn, Los Angeles, Omaha, and other cities.

Martin Luther King and his followers, although preaching non-violence, have been followed throughout their Northern escapades by violence and destruction heretofore unknown in this country. In fact, King's alleged program of non-violence has meant violence, arson, and murder. In Chicago King's movement has not only been a dismal failure, but it backfired in such terrible manifestations of disorder that it is apparent he had to shift his efforts to his old stopping grounds.

By calling this convention in Jackson, King and the liberals apparently feel they are at last back in a safe spot.

This convention is an effort to exploit a new mass of voters being registered in the South and it will have all the stage props of a theatrical production.

Using the reputations of national liberals, this convention will attempt to create a new image for King's riot-stained image. I do not believe the people of this country will be fooled.

It is a sad thing that Jackson, Mississippi, a quiet law-abiding city which has never had riots, should be subjected once more to the torment of national criticism while the smoke of arson and the sound of rioting in Northern cities are suppressed.

I condemn such tactics, especially those which are condoned and abetted by politicians seeking to draw criticism away from their own troubled cities.

Does Booneville need another new car dealer?

It sure does. What city wouldn't want another prosperous, well managed business? Maybe with you running it. Before you say, "Who, me?", check out these facts and figures about American Motors/Rambler dealers:

Each year since 1958, American Motors dealers have averaged well over 30% per year return on investment (including owner's salary). During the period 1959-66 they increased the number of American Motors cars on the road from 1,600,000 to over 3,000,000.

Today, American Motors dealers are bullish. They're looking forward to a profitable future. Well over one thousand of them have boosted their volume of sales over last year. One series alone, Ambassador, is one of the industry's top sales pace-setters, with a year-to-year sales increase of 91%!

What about volume potential? Well, based on 1965 passenger car registrations, American Motors' four lines of cars compete in 88% of the total market.

American Motors dealers are selling automobiles and making money! We're looking for a high caliber, successful businessman to become an American Motors dealer right in this area. The investment required is much less than it would be for many a "Big Three" dealership of comparable size with expensive truck and truck parts inventories.

If you think you can measure up to this challenging, rewarding potential, contact:

Ezra Smith Family Fracas Keep Law Officers In Four Counties Busy

Law officers from four counties and area highway patrolmen have been involved in the Ezra Smith family fracas the past week.

Prentiss and Lee County officers began an intensive search Thursday for Mrs. Ezra (Verda May) Smith who had last been seen on Monday. Mrs. Smith had been forced by her husband to accompany him to a place where he and several other men were cutting pulpwood. She had remained there in the cab of the truck until mid-afternoon when she slipped away into the woods.

Friday morning Mrs. Smith was spotted on a street in Tupelo. She said she had remained in the woods Monday afternoon until the crew went home and then walked out to the road where a man brought her to Tupelo. She spent the night in a hotel there and Wednesday, went by bus to New Albany and spent the night in a hotel there. She returned to the hotel in Tupelo Thursday. She said she had run away because she was afraid of her husband. Her three children were with her mother-in-law. She was released.

— however large or small the deed — during my illness. So many remembered us in so many different ways that a card to everyone is impossible, so please accept this as my most sincere thanks. May God richly bless each of you is my prayer.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge.
 It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support — your membership — because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)

 For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Steele and Mary Bess will leave Monday for Kentucky on a week's vacation.

DAIRYING FUTURE BRIGHT IN STATE

Dairying in Mississippi and the South has a bright future. A rapidly increasing population, a steady rise in disposable incomes, and an increase in the educational level and nutritional knowledge of consumers should give the dairy industry the largest potential market it has ever had. Dairying has made great strides in the past few years. It is a major source of income and represents one of Mississippi's best potentials for future growth.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parker Bonnie and Donald spent a few days in Jackson, Miss., last week. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Holley flew to Greenwood Sunday. Johnnie Kay Ratliff returned home last week after eight weeks of nurses training in Chattahoochee, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vail of Oxford were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Vail and Danny.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, Carolyn and Ben of Dallas, Texas returned home Monday after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Emmons Turner, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Denson spent the week end at Starkville with their daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Griffin, Mark and Tracy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. South have recently returned home from a visit with Mrs. South's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bolding at Johnson City, Tenn. The visit was highlighted by visits to local scenic and historical sites, which included Roam Mountain on the Tennessee-North Carolina line, on whose 6,227 feet of elevation is located the nationally famous Rhododendron Gardens; one of the few remaining covered bridges built in the 18th century, which is still in use at Elizabethtown, Tenn.; Jonesboro, Tenn., the oldest town in Tennessee and a former capital of the last state of Franklin; the birthplace of Andrew Johnson and David Crockett, Greenville and Livingstone, Tenn.; Patrick Henry, Boone and Watauga lakes which are in a radius of a few miles of each other; Rocky Mount, the first capital of the territory of the United States, west of the Alleghany Mts. and south of the Ohio River (1790-1792).

DON'T KNOW GAS PRICE

In a recent survey, only half of all drivers buying gasoline in Virginia knew within one cent how much they were paying per gallon. Only about 35 per cent came within one cent of knowing what the total state and federal tax was, and only 15 per cent were that close on the amount of the federal tax. Men drivers were twice as price and tax conscious as women.

Roy C. Adams at ceremonies in Kirkville Wednesday afternoon.

The deed was for right of way between the Prentiss-Tishomingo county line and Kirkville and was secured by the Mississippi State Highway Department for the Natchez Trace Parkway.

Taking part in the ceremonies were State officials from Prentiss and Itawamba counties, members of the Prentiss and Itawamba County Boards of Supervisors and municipal officials from Booneville, Baldwin and Fulton.

Commissioner Adams said that the deed, which has already been signed by Governor Paul Johnson, will be forwarded to the Federal Government. The National Park Service is in charge of construction and maintenance of the Natchez Trace Parkway.

He also noted that last fall a deed for a sixteen mile section of Natchez Trace right of way, between the Mississippi - Alabama state line and the Prentiss-Tishomingo county line, was conveyed to the Federal Government and that right of way acquisition is in progress on a fifteen mile section of the Natchez Trace between Kirkville and U. S. Highway No. 45 north of Tupelo.

those nearest her. These attributes have endeared her to scores of friends and relatives whose lives she has touched.

Those present to honor Miss Hill, besides the hosts, were Miss Debra Hill, Mrs. Floyd Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hill and Brit; Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Barron, Mrs. Harless Hill, Martha and Randy; Miss Annie Logan, Mrs. Howard Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hill, Mr. J. MRS. BRUCE ELWELL DAVIS

Miss Martha Ellen Richie Becomes Bride Of Bruce Elwell Davis In Greenville, S. C.

John Knox Presbyterian Church in Greenville, South Carolina was the scene of the evening candlelight ceremony on Friday, July 29 in which Miss Martha Ellen Richie, daughter of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. John Lee Richie, became the bride of Bruce Elwell Davis of Atlanta and Gulfport, Miss. Dr. John R. Richardson, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Atlanta, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over ivory taffeta. The short sleeves and scalloped portrait neckline were of alencon lace re-embroidered in seed pearls, with touches of French knot ribbon embroidery. Lace motifs emphasized the contoured waistline and were also used on the a-line skirt. The detachable squared train was edged with lace and framed with an organza border. Her tiered veil of matching illusion was attached to a coronet of alencon lace outlined with seed pearls in small heart-shaped designs. She carried a large colonial bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Susan Remington of Bradenton, Florida. Bridesmaids were Miss Marianne McCravy of Forest, Mississippi, Mrs. Langston Haygood of Jackson, Miss., and Miss Ann Austin Roberson of Greenwood, South Carolina.

The attendants wore floor length gowns of seascape blue crepe with sleeves and bodice of white cotton lace over blue. The soft gathered fullness at the back was accented by a flat bow with hem-length streamers. They carried old-fashioned nosegays of varying pastel colors, and wore smaller flowers of the same colors in their hair.

The flower girl, Miss Patricia Dicey of Greenville, was similarly attired and carried her flowers in a small white basket.

Randall Yelverton of Bay Springs, Miss., served Mr. Davis as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Hal McNeely of Mooresville, N. C., Mr. Laurie Jones of Monroeville, Ala., Mr. Ronnie Hieber of Atlanta, and Mr. John Richie, brother of the bride who served as candlelighter and junior usher.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained guests in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Included in the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dickerson of Booneville, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. Paul Richie and the late Mr. Richie of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carter of Ripley. Set up a sandwich buffet from which guests can create their own sandwiches. With all the preparation made ahead of the arrival of guests, the hostess can relax and join in the sandwich-making fun.

The preparation will include the selection of foods that go together in a number of combinations, putting fillings in shallow easily covered dishes, and providing plenty of butter or margarine at room temperature for easy spreading.

The only equipment needed will be wooden cutting boards, sharp, long blade knives for cutting, fork for picking up sliced fillings, spoons or scoops for getting just the right amount of fillings, spreading knives and possibly electric mixer, blender, fry pan, waffle iron, grill or toaster.

Breads and Fillings. Provide a variety of breads and buns. You may include white bread, whole wheat, rye, and raisin bread. Sandwich fillings may include hot and cold meat, smoked fish, cheeses, and a selection of ready prepared fillings.

To go with the meats and other fillings, give your guests a choice of chopped onions, parsley, egg tomatoes, pickles, horseradish, mustard, mayonnaise and catsup.

How Much Bread? Check the weight, not just the size of the bread you buy. Some bread has more air than others. Figuring a slice of bread 5/8 inch thick, on an average you will get 16 slices from a pound loaf; 19 slices from a 1-1/4 pound loaf, 24 slices from a 1-1/2 pound loaf and 32 slices from a 2 pound loaf.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

Yes, you can freeze tomatoes successfully. If you have a plentiful supply of tomatoes and ample space in your freezer, prepare your tomatoes to freeze either stewed or as a juice.

To freeze them as stewed tomatoes, remove stem ends, peel and quarter ripe tomatoes. Cover and cook until tender (10 to 20 minutes). Place pan containing tomatoes in cold water to cool.

For juice, wash, sort and trim vine-ripened tomatoes. Cut in quarters or eighths and simmer 5 to 10 minutes. Press through a sieve. Season with 1 teaspoon salt to each quarter of juice. Pour tomatoes or juice into wide-topped freezing containers, leaving 1-inch head space in quarts and one-half inch in pints. Seal, label and freeze.

MISS GLORIA ROSS

Northeast Junior College Coed Is Captain In The Tennessee Air National Guard

The month of June was filled with activity for Gloria Ross, Captain, Tennessee Air National Guard, who is assigned to the 155th Aeromedical Evacuation Group, and who is now enrolled in the second term of summer school at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Flying air evacuations in the Pacific Theatre including the Philippine Islands, Guam, Okinawa, Japan, Hawaii, and back to California to complete the tour, Captain Ross traveled approximately 70,000 miles.

During her month's tour of duty, Captain Ross was assigned to the 10th Aeromedical Evacuation Group which is Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, the permanent duty station. At the end of the tour of duty, she was released from the 10th and returned to the 155th AEG. In bringing home those who were wounded in Viet Nam, Captain Ross stated that on each flight, there would be anywhere from 35 to 65 patients. With Captain Ross, there would always be two other nurses and three or four medical technicians.

In doing ground duty, Captain Ross would go into the hospitals to prepare the patients for the flight. Upon learning that they were coming home, there would actually be "squeals of glee", said Captain Ross, adding that it was a thrill to see grown men so delighted.

While serving in the Air National Guard for the past three years, Captain Ross has also traveled in Scotland, the Azores, Bermuda, Puerto Rico, Wake Island, and Korea. In 1965, while in Germany, Captain Ross attended the International Congress of Nurses at Frankfurt as a representative of the Air Force.

Following her return from Yakota, Japan in January 1966 with forty-two wounded being returned from Viet Nam, Captain Ross assumed a two-fold responsibility during the second semester at Northeast. She continued her studies as a part-time student doing preliminary work toward a degree and became a clinical instructor in the School of Nursing.

Completing a busy summer, Captain Ross will go to Naples on August 27 for an eight day tour of duty before returning to Northeast.

Captain Ross, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ross of Corinth, is a graduate of Corinth High School and of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Memphis.

VA Answers Vets Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — Children of a deceased veteran may have some pension rights — do they forfeit these rights when their mothers (the veteran's widow) remarries?

A — Eligible children of a deceased veteran retain their pension rights after their mother remarries until they become 18, or 23 if they are going to school.

Q — Under the terms of the GI loan benefit, can a veteran mortgage his present home to obtain money for other expenses?

A — Only for home improvement. GI loans are not available to pay doctor bills, buy furniture, etc.

Q — Is a member of the Reserves injured while on inactive duty training, eligible for disability compensation through the VA?

A — Yes. The law provides compensation for injuries incurred in line of duty by reservists during a drill or other period of authorized inactive duty training. Application should be filed with the nearest VA Regional Office, and should be accompanied by an official statement showing the date, circumstances, nature and line of duty status of the injury.

Speaking of inflation on the floor of the Senate recently, U. S. Senator Peter H. Dominick of Colorado said: "It strikes me that nothing very effective has been done, while at the same time some ideas have been urged which will not cure the problem at all, but will make it worse."

Medicare Premium May Be Monthly

"Some older people enrolled in the medicare medical insurance (doctor bills) program under Medicare may be having difficulty paying the full $9 quarterly premium," Hugh Tigrett, Social Security District Manager in Tupelo said today. Mr. Tigrett said that those persons having difficulty raising the entire $9 may pay $3 or $6 amounts covering one or two months premiums. But, he said, a first payment should be made as soon as possible.

Medicare beneficiaries who are receiving monthly social security or railroad retirement payments have the $3 monthly premium deducted from their benefit checks.

Other Medicare beneficiaries received premium notices in June requesting them to mail a quarterly payment of $9. According to Mr. Tigrett, payments may be made by check or money order mailed to the beneficiaries' Social Security Administration Payment Center, or to the Social Security District Office, P. O. Box 680, Tupelo, Miss.

Mr. Tigrett emphasized that the medical insurance program is separate and distinct from the hospital part of medicare. The premium payments are for medical insurance and only those persons who enrolled in the medical insurance program are eligible. Mr. Tigrett said that another billing for the last quarter of 1966 will be made in September.

THE CATTLE EGRET

It's a strange sight to see a cow move around a pasture followed by an entourage of long-legged, white birds that pause now and again to do a strange, waving dance.

The birds are Cattle Egrets, an exotic species that first appeared in Florida. The first collection record of a Cattle Egret in Mississippi comes from Jackson County and is dated May 29, 1960. They are now seen frequently in all the coastal counties, as well as in

Straw Better Than Plastic As Mulch For Strawberries

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.: Strawberries don't have to be mulched with straw, but research indicates it's still about the best thing around for the purpose.

Dr. J. P. Overcash set up a test to compare black polyethylene plastic film with two organic mulches, pine straw and hardwood sawdust. A check plot of the same variety of strawberries was clean cultivated without any mulch. The test, a part of the Agricultural Experiment Station horticultural research program at Mississippi State University, showed the following advantages some Mississippi River counties. The birds follow close to the animals' feet, eating the bugs kicked up by the moving hoofs. Sometimes they pick insects from the animals themselves.

for the organic mulches.

Plant survival after two years was about twice as good under the organic mulches as for clean cultivation or black plastic mulch.

Yields of berries were about twice as great from plants grown with pine straw or sawdust mulches as for black plastic mulch or clean cultivation.

Soil moisture was higher under mulched plots at both 0 to 6 and 6 to 12 inch soil depth than under clean cultivation. Soil temperatures between plants were much higher for clean cultivation and black plastic plots.

Plant vigor throughout the experiment was better for organic mulched plots as measured by numbers of leaves and weight and number of runners formed than for clean cultivation and black plastic plots.

A more complete report is published in the July issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Soybean Weed Control

Coffeebeans growing in soybeans can be controlled with 2,4-D formulated in wax bars. These bars, sold under the trade name "Weed-AG Bar," should be used for first application when coffeebeans are growing 12 to 18 inches taller than the soybeans.

Use six wax bars to treat four rows broadcast. The rate of 2,4-D and wax used will depend on the coffeebean infestation. Attach the bars to a boom mounted on rear of tractor or highboy. Adjust the height so that bars will run two or three inches above the soybeans.

Protein Supplement

Urea to replace some protein meal has a place on some farms and in some rations. If you consider using it, be sure to use it properly and in the right amounts. Here are some things to watch for and to remember when replacing some protein meals with urea slowly. It may take a week or

Do not exceed four miles per hour when applying wax bar treatment. Where weeds are dense, use lower speeds to get uniform application of wax.

1. Urea is toxic if used in excessive amounts. Be sure that it is thoroughly mixed with the ration.
2. Not more than 1/3 of the total protein content of the ration should come from urea. When using a 16 percent ration, this means 40 lbs. of urea to the ton of ration.

3. Urea is not palatable. Using molasses or some other highly palatable feed will help get the cows to eat rations containing urea.

4. Change to the urea ration and to remember when replacing some protein meals with urea slowly. It may take a week or more to make the complete change. When cottonseed meal is costing $5 a hundred pounds, the use of urea may mean a savings of $5 a ton or more on feed.

Hold Up Milk Production

During hot, long summer days cows just simply spend less time grazing. This means that cows get less intake of pasture crops and likely less total feed. This means lower milk production.

Here is something to try: Turn milking cows on the best pasture you have during the night. During the day provide hay or silage in shady areas. Keep a fresh supply of salt and water before the cows at all times. Increase the grain ration to take up the slack. Control flies and provide extra shade.
