WATER LOAN CLOSED — The loan for construction of the Wheeler-Frankstown Water System was closed Friday and the check for $210,000 turned over to the association. Seated from left are C. E. Young, county supervisor for Farmers Home Administration; Willie T. Moore, association president; W. L. Friday, manager of the Booneville office of Bank of Mississippi; and C. W. Yarber, vice president, Bank of Mississippi. Standing: Tom Mabry, project engineer; Donald Franks, attorney; James R. Brady, assistant FHA supervisor; A. E. Systems Are Planned To Make Water Service Available Throughout County

A loan in the amount of $210,000 was closed last week for the Wheeler-Frankstown Water Association, following its prior approval by the Farmers Home Administration, according to T. B. Fetherree, the agency's state director. Construction on the system has already begun.

A similar system has been completed and was recently dedicated at Marietta and other systems are being constructed for the Thrasher, Big V, and Jumpertown communities. With proposed extensions already in the planning, these five systems, together with the Booneville Municipal System and the Baldwin Municipal System, will make water service available to practically all residents of Prentiss County.

These water systems will enable residents of the communities to solve a serious water problem which has handicapped farmers and other rural residents, and may have prevented the location of rural industries which would assist with the economic development of the county.

Mr. Fetherree stated that systems such as these not only would enable the residents to improve their living conditions, but will encourage home building, industrial development and, no doubt, serve to increase land values.

In addition to the distribution system, the Wheeler-Frankstown Association will provide a storage tank with the water being supplied from a deep well to approximately 180 families, two gins and several businesses in the area. The project will also be a big boost to the economy of the area as it will require additional labor for installation of the system, as well as additional labor for installation of the system, as well as additional people who will be employed in engineering, well drilling, ditch digging, etc.

Rural water system loans are available to organizations operating on a nonprofit basis, such as nonprofit corporations and water supply districts. Small rural towns and other rural political subdivisions are also eligible.

Officers of the Wheeler-Frankstown Water Association are Willie T. Moore, President; James Franks, Vice-President; and W. Arvil Smith, Secretary-Treasurer, all of Wheeler.

1967 UPLAND COTTON PROGRAM SHAPING UP

The domestic allotment for each farm in 1967 will be 65 percent of the farm's effective allotment for upland cotton. This represents the farm's share of the national domestic allotment — the acreage needed to produce the estimated probable domestic consumption of 9.5 million bales of upland cotton during the marketing year beginning August 1, 1967.

As under the 1966 program, farmers signed up to participate in the program may qualify for price support loans as well as for price support payments on the acreage planted within the farm's domestic allotment. If at least 90 percent of the allotment is planted, it will be considered as fully planted. Special provisions will apply to small farms. ("Small farms" are defined as those with an allotment of not more than 10 acres or on which the projected production is not more than 3,600 pounds, and from which no acreage is released.

The projected national yield of 545 pounds per acre represents the yield per acre figure obtained from the Department of Agriculture's estimate of the 1967 yield per acre, taking into account trends in yields and changes in production practices and assuming normal weather conditions.

For States, the projected yields are based on 1961-65 harvested yields, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions as well as for trends, and changes in production practices. The State projected yields average out to the national yield. Mississippi's 1967 projected yield for the upland cotton crop is 696 pounds per acre.

The export market acreage reserve for 1967 is set at 250,000 acres — the same as for 1966. Growers wishing to produce upland cotton for export only in 1967 should get in touch with their ASCS county office for further program details. Price support will not be available for any of the cotton produced on a farm with export market acreage or on any other farm in which the operator of that farm has a substantial or controlling interest.

Form for applying for export market acreage are available at the ASCS county office. For the 1966 cotton crop year, about 32,000 acres of export reserve acreage were approved.

Cotton Growers To Vote On Marketing Quotas

Eligible cotton producers will vote by mail on whether they favor marketing quotas on the 1967 crop of cotton, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today. As in past years, the program must be approved by cotton growers before it can be placed in operation. A national cotton referendum will be held during the period Dec. 5 through 9, 1966.

In this referendum at least two-thirds of the cotton farmers voting must approve cotton marketing quotas for 1967 before the essential provisions of the program can go into effect. If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove quotas the only cotton program will be price support at 50 percent of parity for growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments.

The referendum will be held for both upland and extra long staple cottons. Extra long staple cotton is grown in Arizona, California, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico, Texas and Puerto Rico.

Cotton allotment and marketing quota proclamations were announced for upland cotton Aug. 3, 1966 (Press Release USDA 2461-66) and for extra long staple cotton Oct. 7, 1966 (Press Release USDA 3192-66).

This will be the first time that farmers will vote by mail ballot on cotton marketing quotas.

Badlands Routed From Evil Ways

Editor's Note: The following article appeared in The Commercial Appeal and local Soil Conservation Service officials requested that we print it to demonstrate the results of conservation practices).

GREENWOOD, Miss., Oct. 21—Thirty years ago much of this county looked like the Badlands south of Dakota and land sold for little as $5 an acre," said Le and Carroll County banker C. Neill.

Mr. Neill was pointing out the massive improvements that have been made in Carroll County through the watershed development program. It was in 1934 that first effort was made to cure ravages of erosion by the Civil Conservation Corps.

When the CCC was discontinued at the beginning of World War II, first soil conservation work was in. The planting of Kudzu vines grasses was initiated.

And many of these pine trees seen in Carroll County today "it just happen to grow there."

Mr. Neill has served 22 years as manager of the soil conservation committee of the Greenwood Chamber of Commerce.

Years ago when former United States Representative Frank Thibault brought his subcommittee on watershed development to Mississippi, Mr. Neill told the group one of the many lakes created by the dams in Carroll County that "someday these be desirable recreational spots with vacation cottages."

Neill's prediction is rapidly taking form. At least one Delta River, Charles S. Whittington, is ing for a quiet place, has built expensive home overlooking one the lakes. He and Hugh Critz, automobile dealer and former

York Giants second baseman, developing the Spring Lake

her lake areas are being developed. Many of the buyers are adjoining Leflore County.

We could hardly find our way out when we first became vested in this spot," said Mr.

Whittington. "But today it's a different story. The Fish and Game mission has stocked the lakes with bass, brim and catfish. The lakes are abounded with deer.

Deeply eroded gulleys that were once a part of Carroll County years ago, are still in evidence most have been covered with vegetation planted through the Soil Conservation Service.

The Carroll County watershed development program shows what can be done when they get to work on a definite plan," said A. R. Burford, asstant state soil conservationist.

The commissioners in the various drainage districts have worked together and had a good many problems but we can now see the work is 75 per cent complete.

in sight."

When the soil conservation service completes the work, the US Engineers will build protection between the hills and the rivers.

The area that will be included in lakes formed behind the flood control dams in Carroll County will total 2,475 acres and the area in sandbars that may be restored to productivity is figured at 4,007 acres.

Some 56 flood water detention dams have been constructed. These are larger dams with mechanical outlets, constructed to control the water discharged. There have been 1,733 debris basins or small earth dams constructed, 65 small pipe dams and 508 overfall structures.

Some 1,648 farm ponds have been constructed and 45 million trees have been planted. For pasture improvement 25,349 acres of new pasture has been planted and 16,743 acres renovated in old pastures.

The Yazoo Watershed in Carroll County includes six creeks — the Potaccoawa, TEOC, Big Sand, Pelucia, Abtlapoota, Abiaca, or 57 miles of creeks. The major creeks were chopping up land near the creeks at the rate of one acre per mile per year. This has been almost completely halted.

Gerald Windham Writes From Africa

Gerald Windham, Sociology professor at Mississippi State, is on a leave of absence to West Africa where he plans to establish a Sociology Department and do research for two years before returning to Mississippi State.

Mr. Windham is a graduate of Jumpertown High School, attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College, received his B.S. and Master Degrees from Mississippi State and his Doctor's Degree from Pennsylvania State. He has taught Sociology at State for the past seven years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Windham of Route 3, Booneville.

Mr. and Mrs. Windham and their two children, Mary Jane, 5, and Jerry, 7, left by plane for West Africa on September 9th.

The following are excerpts from letters written home:

"We are having a time in Scotland. All the Scots think we talk funny. We think the weather here is very cold but no one else seems to mind. We passed a huge old castle on our way here from the airport. Maybe we can go through it."

"We are about to leave London. We saw the changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace yesterday. The kids thought all those soldiers in red uniforms were great. We visited Parliament, The House of Lords, Piccadilly Circus and a lot of other things."

"We have finally gotten in at Njala. Sierra Leone is quite fascinating. Everything is so different and quite beyond comprehension until you see it. Njala is nice. We were provided with a spacious three bedroom house of solid mahogany."

"So far we only have two servants, a house boy and a gardener. The going wage is 16 Teans per month, or roughly $24.00. They work from around 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. seven days per week. On this they support a family which may consist of several wives and many children."

"The college here is an international community consisting of Americans, British, Sierra Leoneans and Africans from many countries, together with an Indian family or two. The children will start to school Monday in the International School."

"Wonders never cease in Sierra Leone. Night before last we went to a neighbor's for supper. We re-

I reported the break in immediately and got immediate results, such as a personal night watchman and a complete investigation by the high commissioner.

"We are out of groceries as we haven't learned how to shop yet. We can't buy much of anything on campus. You can get flour in 50 and 100 lb. bags at Mano eight miles away. However, since we can't store in anything this is like not being able to shop. Incidentally, we have to bake all bread, etc."

"I hate to drive into Freetown to shop as the distance is 120 miles. Roads are crooked and rough though blacktopped. The drivers here are very dangerous. They have a practice of leaving wrecks on the side of the highway where they occur to remind other drivers to be careful."

"I have four nice banana trees in the back yard. There are also about 20 pineapple, several paw-paw trees and some native cotton. Right now, I'm trying to get some American-type vegetables coming up, such as sweet corn, snap beans, potatoes, etc. Except for okra there are few other American types for sale in the market."

Laws That Backfire

Commenting on recent amendments to the wage and hour laws, Milton Friedman, writing in Newsweek, observed that, "Congress has just acted to increase unemployment. It did so by raising the legal minimum-wage rate from $1.25 to $1.60 an hour, effective in 1968, and extending its coverage."

Other eminent authorities hold a like view. Professor James Tobin, who was a member of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, recently wrote, "People who lack the capacity to earn a decent living need to be helped, but they will not be helped by minimum-wage laws, trade-union wage pressures or other devices which seek to compel employers to pay them more than their work is worth. The more likely outcome of such regulations is that the intended beneficiaries are not employed at all."

The minimum-wage issue is water over the dam for the present, except that it serves to illustrate a tragedy of human existence—namely the fact that legislation allegedly aimed at helping the poor and underprivileged generally ends up hurting the very people it is supposed to help.

SHORTAGE OF NURSES IS 'PROBLEM OF REAL CONCERN FOR MISSISSIPPI'

Mississippi's long-existing shortage of skilled nurses is becoming acute due to the additional service demands by Medicare and other health care measures. While this problem is nationwide, it is especially serious in our state.

Mississippi needs 85 more nurses per 10,000 population to achieve the desirable ratio of 258 per 100,000 population. As of August 31 this year there were 5,305 nurses registered in our state, but about 1,300 of these are practicing outside the state or are no longer active.

Nursing association officials offer some pertinent facts and figures concerning this problem. Large and small hospitals have general nursing staffs. Schools of from one to 34 vacancies on their nursing staff are in need of qualified faculty members.

Nursing homes are begging for registered nurses, more public health nurses are needed throughout Mississippi and all agencies employing them are in need.

This shortage will become even worse, ANA spokesmen warn, unless there is greater emphasis on the recruitment and retention of nurses already licensed to practice.

Quoting Miss Jo Elliott, ANA president, there is a direct relationship between the economic position of nursing and quality patient care. General duty nurses in non-federal metropolitan hospitals averaged $4,700 in 1964 while teachers averaged $6,195 and hospital dieticians $5,600.

General duty nurses in Mississippi averaged $4,200 with salaries ranging from $265 to $420 per month, according to the ANA summary which emphasizes that pay scales must be made more attractive if quality nursing service is to be assured for all persons needing it.

Public and private leadership faces a real challenge in this important phase of health care.

The above article from the daily Clarion-Ledger of Jackson is informative and timely. This paper is outstanding in Mississippi and has a great influence for good; we are especially glad to see this editorial on its pages. The shortage of nurses in our state and nation presents a serious problem. We simply must do something about it. Our nursing school in Booneville training young women for the R.N. degree is doing something about it. But this needs to be multiplied a dozen times about the country. We feel quite sure it will be.

KEEPING LEARNING LIQUID

Governor Wallace of Alabama remarked recently that, "We have built fifteen junior colleges and fourteen trade schools during the current Wallace administration. We are proud of this record." Mississippi is proud of its junior college system. It was among the first to see the value of this institution. The junior college, whose function it is to keep learning liquid from the high school to the senior college and even after that, becomes more and more the corner stone of public education. This is the school of the people, by the people and for the people. It acts as a cold frame from high school to senior college and statistics show more students finish senior college after taking the first two years in junior college. It enables so many fine boys and girls to secure a college degree with this opportunity. It brings education nearer the home and at so much less cost. It brings education right out to Nature's garden and into the backyard. It helps us to discover the natural resources and the riches in our back yards. Most important, its greatest contribution is the discovery of human talent in our young men and women and sometimes in our adults. We are proud of our junior college and its continuing service!

FAITHFUL

Mr. John Childers of Rienzi has been confined to his room, bed, and house for many years on account of illness. In the latter part of the summer, through the encouragement of his brother, he went over to his old church at Macedonia, east of Rienzi, for a few services. He lived in that territory for about fifty years and even now is remembered by many. He was received in a most cordial way. Mr. Childers loves his church, his Bible, and lives the principles of the Bible as a citizen. His faith is deep and strong. He reads the Bible and believes its message. It is good to know him; he activates inspiration through his faith.

CHALLENGE TO THE BOLL WEEVIL PEST

The Booneville Grain Company is now getting under way. In less than two weeks it has processed more than ten thousand bushels of soybeans. They are coming from Alcorn, Union and Lee as well as Prentiss County. One man came in with 289 bushels, drove onto the scales and in eighteen minutes had his beans checked and weighed which will sell above average price. The company feels that the high cost will create inference of quality.

The theory is probably accurate. Most adults can remember when the public considered nylon a cheap substitute for silk, or when detergents were regarded as imitation soap.

It would be difficult to sell the finest perfume in the world in a fifty cent container if it were competing with the second best in a five dollar container.

The problem of giving the public something better for much less calls for re-education through advertising in a trusted medium. It calls for convincing and thorough explanation and illustration. It calls for advertising which may be studied and reviewed.

A sophisticated public demand to know why a sensational offer can be made.

Unlimited space for complete information, proven public faith, and the quality of newsmanship, make the local newspaper first choice of the advertiser who needs to convince the consumer that something is better and cheaper.

A chemical company has announced the development of a new synthetic product which may revolutionize one of the major consumer product industries.

Greatest fear of the company concerning the new material is one which always haunts the builder of a sensationally better mousetrap. The public is always skeptical of superlative claims. This is especially true when the new product is offered at lower prices than the product which it threatens to replace.

The chemical company is attempting to solve the problem of public skepticism by introducing its new material in finished products and had been paid for them, too. This is quick action. This facility surely must be one of the best and we are fortunate to have it here. It will grow in importance more and more. The soybean is rapidly becoming one of our main money crops. Now that we can process the beans and be paid for them on the spot the farmer will plant more and more. Soybean culture will be distributed over the county and this will be valuable. Not only will it increase income but the soybean culture will be a solar plexus blow to the boll weevil pest. We hate to see cotton fade as a money crop in this county and in this entire section, but if nothing else will do, perhaps the weevil may get whipped!

Teaching And Art Combine To Give A Non-Monotonous Profession

Mr. Marty McLendon, Chairman of the Department of Art at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College, feels that teaching is a challenge and that the field of art is also challenging. "Put them together," states Mr. McLendon, "and you have a non-monotonous profession."

Now on exhibit in the Eula Dees Memorial Library at Northeast are pieces that Mr. McLendon did as undergraduate work at The University of Mississippi. Included in the exhibit are watercolors and oils, both real and abstract; charcoal drawings, pen and ink sketches, commercial illustrations, a brochure, a scratchboard rendering of a watch, and illustrations for children's books done with colored transparent paper. Also shown are two pieces of sculpture; one wax figure and an abstract sculpture of a fish constructed of welded steel.

Mr. McLendon attended Hinds Junior College before transferring to The University of Southern Mississippi. He did graduate work at The University of Mississippi this summer.

Mr. McLendon says that he especially enjoys teaching on the junior college level because he feels that the junior college is an important part of education.

"You can't clear your own fields while you're counting the rocks on your neighbor's farm."

nity needs may be fulfilled. THERE GOES THE BELL!

The diller, the dollar, the ten o'clock scholar. Remember how the rhyme ended? Tardiness leads from bad to worse. The boy ended by sleeping until noon.

Often parents ask, "WHEN IS IT TIME TO BEGIN THE RELIGIOUS TRAINING OF OUR CHILD?" Here's a straight-forward answer: "THE MOMENT YOU BEGIN TO LOVE HIM!"

You see, God is love. And, in a home where God is loved, a child quickly begins to associate the love of his parents for him with this Other Love which is felt by those he loves. Then come Bible stories and pictures and a simple prayer to help him experience and express his growing faith. Soon he'll be starting Sunday School—but his religious training has already begun.

Our churches are helping tomorrow's parents equip themselves spiritually today. The couple planning marriage needs a mature religious faith. For when God has given us a little son or daughter... THERE GOES THE BELL!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MANAGE WINTER PASTURES

At this time of year, management means a lot to all kinds of pastures, but especially to planted winter grazing.

One of the top items is to hold off grazing while the young plants are trying to become established.

Regardless of whether you are grazing dairy cows or beef cattle, turn them in for an hour or two each day — just long enough to get a fill. Then put them back on permanent pasture.

Winter grazing that was put in for steers or light calves should be left to grow until it is eight to ten inches tall. Normally this is in late November or early December.

It is too early to begin grazing fescue. Fescue should be grazed from around December 1 until you have to take off in the winter after growth stops. It can be grazed again in the spring.

Established clover grass should not be grazed until the plants are four to six inches tall. Clover established this fall should not be grazed unless it gets some extra growth. Let it get well established.

Right now is a good time to get heavy sod growth off permanent pastures where you want clovers to come back. If the sod is left much longer, the clover will germinate and will be choked out.

Another way to get clover back is to renovate the area with a heavy disk or renovator. You do not injure the sod by renovating. You open the sod up so clovers can grow and the grass too will be better next year.

TREE PLANTING

Time is almost here for planting pecan trees, fruit trees and grape vines. Right now is a good time to select a planting site. Place your order with a reliable nursery early so that you can be sure of getting the variety and size of trees that you want. Planting in early winter from late November through December is generally better than later planting as the soil has more time to thoroughly settle around the roots.

DAIRY OUTLOOK

Recent increases in the Class I price of milk both to dairymen and processors indicate a strengthening all along the line in the dairy industry.

The price increases were neces-

Will You Become A 4-H Leader,

By SANDRA HUSSEY
Asst. Extension Home Economist,
Prentiss County

Are you as adults completely aware of your responsibilities in molding the youth of today and leaders of tomorrow? Now is the time to seriously consider what you as one individual can do to guide today's youth toward a more rewarding future. The 4-H club leads to a rewarding future by including fourfold development and you as a 4-H adult leader provides this development for the young people.

The 4-H emblem has a letter "H" on each leaf of the four leaf clover. Each "H" means the fourfold development which is the Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

In the 4-H pledge, the head is pledged to clearer thinking. The creed states, "I believe in the training of my head for the power it will give me to think, plan and sary to help offset price increases of items that are necessary in producing milk — labor, machinery, feed, buildings, interests, etc.

Dairymen who have adequate stored feed or enough winter grazing to properly feed their cows should be in better shape next spring than in several years.

reason. "The heart is pledged to greater loyalty by the 4-H'er and he states in the creed, "I believe in the training of my heart for the nobleness it will give me to be kind, sympathetic, and true."

Third is the development of the hands as they are pledged to larger service. As stated in the creed, "I believe in the training of my hands for the Ability it will give me to be helpful, skillful and useful."

Health is pledged to better living for club, community and country. The 4-H creed is closed with these words, "I believe in the training of my health for the strength it will give me to enjoy life, resist disease and work efficiently. I believe in my country, my state, my community and in my responsibility for their development. In all these things I believe, and I am willing to dedicate my efforts to their fulfillment."

Could you refuse today's young people the challenge of the 4-H pledge and 4-H creed? All that is needed of you is a little bit of time and a large amount of eagerness to serve. Our citizens of tomorrow need YOU! Are you willing to serve as their 4-H leaders?

If having time for a leader's work is your only problem, ponder the words of Sir John Lubbock before you say no.

I quote: "In truth, people can generally make time for what they choose to do; it is not really the time but the will that is lacking."

File Claims When Disability Begins

"People in this area are reluctant to admit they are disabled," Social Security District Manager, Hugh Tigrett, announced today. "They keep telling themselves that they'll be back to work soon and there is no point in filing a claim for social security disability benefits, or they just keep putting off coming in to see us. Months later they finally admit that it may be some time before they'll be back to work so they come in to file their claims for benefits." "By then," he said, "It takes longer to process their claims and it is more difficult for doctors, hospitals, and other medical sources to furnish evidence than if the claims had been filed soon after the disability began."

Mr. Tigrett went on to explain the three requirements that a person must meet to qualify for social security disability benefits. Briefly, these requirements are: a person must be expected to be unable to work for 12 months or more, have worked 5 years under social security out of the last 10 years, and file a claim with the Social Security Administration.

The present Social Security Disability law is designed to encourage beneficiaries to return to work, according to Mr. Tigrett. There is a "trial work period" during which benefits continue and many people who qualify for benefits do recover and return to work. The law is no longer designed just for those who will be permanently disabled.

"To receive your benefits on time and to make the whole process easier for you, file your claim with Social Security as soon as possible after you become disabled," Mr. Tigrett urged.

The Social Security Office that serves this area is located in the Federal Building in Tupelo, Miss. Informational literature about disability and all other social security benefits is free upon request.

Safely Lock Away Stored Pesticides

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Have you stored your pesticides for the winter? If you have, A. G. Bennett of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service suggests that you re-check to make sure children can not reach any pesticide materials.

"If you don't have the comfortable feeling of having safely locked away your pesticides, now is the time to do it," Mr. Bennett said.

"Why not anticipate the wanderings of children and put pesticides, or any other poisonous materials, behind lock and key?" he added.

Miss Susie Overstreet, Extension specialist in Health Education, added, "Then you will have the comfortable and secure feeling that you have protected your children from an avoidable accident."

Both experts agree that preventing any accident is better than living with the consequences.

Mr. Bennett made several suggestions on how to store pesticides and how to destroy bottles, boxes, sacks and cans which have contained pesticides.

He said that they should always be stored in the original containers. "A poison of any kind which is stored in a pop bottle is an open invitation to many children," he explained.

The appearance of the bottle and the lingering smell of its former contents often convince a youngster that what the bottle contains is also good to drink.

"Never use the pesticide container for any other purpose. The small amount of pesticide in the supposedly empty container may be harmful, even after rinsing."

Break used glass pesticide containers and bury the pieces in an isolated area away from water supplies. Puncture metal cans to make them useless, and then bury them.

Burn paper containers. Use extreme caution and stay well away from the smoke.

Hunters Urged To Guard Against Fire

Prentiss County squirrel and rabbit hunters are being reminded by the Mississippi Forestry Commission to use great care with fire in the woods these days as the danger of forest and brush fires mounts with each dry day that passes.

Bryant Myatt, District Forester at Tupelo, said that, although fire danger usually doesn't become too acute until after several good frosts, dry weather and an early leaf fall has already greatly increased the hazard.

He pointed out that fire in the woods not only destroys valuable timber, but also ruins wildlife habitat.

Local Area Forester Killebrew adds that hunters should quickly report woods fires by calling 728-4212 or notifying the sheriff's office or a game warden in the area.

The contract, designated as Project No. S-1948 (1) B, provides for 2.259 miles of grading, drainage, base, and surfacing, and was awarded to Bowyer & Johnson Construction Company of Jackson, Tennessee, the low bidder, in the amount of $91,029.97.

Bids on this project were also submitted by Worsham Brothers of Corinth, Mississippi, and William Russell Bonds of Iuka, Mississippi.

This project is located in Supervisor Sam F. Jumper's district, and engineering supervision will be handled by Mr. Leland B. Cook, County Engineer.

B. & P. W. Club Past Presidents Are Honored With Tea Sat. Afternoon

The beautiful home of Mrs. Clyde Jones was the setting for a lovely tea Saturday afternoon, October 22, from four o'clock until five o'clock, honoring all past presidents of the club. The tea climaxed a week of activity sponsored by the local Business and Professional Women's Club in observance of National Business and Professional Women's Club Week.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Clyde Jones, a past president of the club and assisting her was Mrs. Jerry Floyd, who now serves the club as president. Also assisting Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Floyd in welcoming the many guests were Mrs. Harold Spain, Mrs. Joe Walden, Mrs. Thomas Keenum and Miss Mabel Cunningham, past presidents of the club.

The serving table was overlaid with a beautiful white linen venetian cut work table cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of yellow mums, bronze pompons and yellow gypsophila.

Serving the delicious assortment of goodies and coffee were Miss Reba Stutts and Mrs. John Walden, both members of the club.

The local Business and Professional Women's Club was organized in 1951 under the leadership of Miss Mabel Cunningham, who served the club as first president. Through the years the club has been led by many capable and dedicated women.

Those who have served as president of the club who did not attend the tea are Mrs. Joe Young, Mrs. Charles Norman, deceased; Mrs. W. H. Anderson, Mrs. Bill Hinton, Mrs. Howard Carpenter, and Mrs. Roy Greene.

The local Business and Professional Women's Club sponsors the "Queen of the Forest" contest each year and uses the proceeds from this project for many worthwhile causes. The club also promotes the Easter Seal Drive and helps with the Heart Fund Drive each year.

Pilot Club Observes Founder's Day

The membership and Pilot Information Committee of the Booneville Pilot Club observed Founder's Day at their meeting on Thursday evening, October 20, at the Town Motel Restaurant.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Mary Gault Nabers. Miss Annise Pounds led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Mrs. Cliff Michael, President, welcomed two Girl Scouts, Miss Pounds and Miss Vickie Fugitt as guests.

Mrs. Oswald Pounds, chairman of the committee was presented to the club by Mrs. Michael. Mrs. Pounds presided over a school of instruction entitled "History of Pilot International."

Mrs. Clyde Carter, secretary, was in charge of roll call. As each year was called a designated Pilot answered by giving the name of the International President, her home club, and the location of the Pilot Club International Convention for that year. As the convention was named, the local Pilot having attended that particular meeting and relived her trip and experiences.

Other members taking parts on the program were Mrs. Hoyt Nelson, Mrs. David H. Prichard, Mrs. James Stanley Long, and Mrs. Clifford Long.

Mrs. Nelson spoke on "Early Days of Pilot International." The club was organized in 1921 at Macon, Georgia, with a membership of 40. Today that membership has grown to over 14,000 with 472 clubs located not only in the U. S., but also in Canada, France, England, Japan and Bermuda.

The members are executive business women and professional women in a variety of fields. The founders of Pilot International chose the name "Pilot" because the word means Leader and Guide.

"Pilot Headquarters" was the topic discussed by Mrs. David H. Prichard. This lovely building was dedicated in 1965 and is located in Macon, Georgia, home of the first Pilot club.

Mrs. James Stanley Long held the attention of each member as she related facts concerning Pilot's international projects. Among the most worthwhile is the Ruby Newhall Memorial Scholarship. Foreign students are allowed to study in the United States. They then return to their homes and promote goodwill and friendship. The Booneville Pilot Club sponsors such a student, Miss Linda Shu May Wong, Blue Mountain College.

In telling about a project in Vimoutiers, France, Mrs. Long said, "One of Pilot's most challenging international projects was the 'adoption' of the French village of Vimoutiers in 1949, which had been bombed through error by the U. S. Air Force in World War II. We became interested in the village through the proposal of Margaret Mitchell, author of GONE WITH THE WIND. Pilots helped in the rebuilding of the hospital, schools, orphanages, and the community center. The stained-glass windows in the village church, Notre Dame, have been replaced.

Funds were sent for the planting of friendship trees and in 1958 a square was renamed Place de Pilot International."

To summarize the principles set forth by the founders, Mrs. Clifford Long gave the deeply inspiring Code of Ethics.

Mrs. Michael reminded each Pilot to promote "Pancake Day" which will be held on Saturday, October 29 from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. The meal will be served by the Pilots in the American Legion Building.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

Gleaming, glistening chrome surfaces are beautiful when they are new, but how long do they look that way? Your answer depends on the cleaning methods you use.

Chrome maintains its new lustre best when it's simply washed often with soap and water, rinsed and then wiped dry.

As for grease burned on chrome appliances, it will come off without marring the surface if you work with it correctly.

Rub the spot very gently with whitening moistened with ammonia or denatured alcohol. The main thing to remember in caring for chrome is this: Avoid all coarse abrasives, scouring powders or steel wool. They may scratch and permanently damage that sparkling finish.

NOTICE OF SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE

By virtue of the authority vested in me as substitute trustee in the Trust Deed given to Schumacher Mortgage Company, Inc. by Travis D. King and wife, Mildred I. King, to secure an indebtedness therein described to Schumacher Mortgage Company, Inc., which deed of trust is dated October 30, 1964, and recorded in Land Trust Deed Book No. 73 at pages 378-381 in the Office of the Chancery Clerk of Prentiss County, Mississippi, which said trust deed was assigned to Amoskeag Savings Bank of Manchester, New Hampshire by Schumacher Mortgage Company, Inc., said assignment being filed in Land Trust Deed Book No. 74 at page 413 of the Land Records of Prentiss County, Mississippi, default having been made in the payment thereof, I will on Saturday, November 5, 1966, within legal hours at the West door of the Courthouse in Prentiss County, Mississippi, Booneville, Mississippi, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder for cash the following described property described and conveyed in said deed of trust, to-wit:

Part of the Northwest Quarter of Section 16, Township 5 South, Range 7 East, Prentiss County, Mississippi, described as follows: Beginning at the Southwest corner of a lot deeded to Mrs. Ollie Maddox as recorded in Deed Book 64 at page 502, Chancery Clerk's Office, Prentiss County, Mississippi, said point being in the center line of S. Davis Street being situated 429 feet West, 324 feet North and N-12½ degrees E. 136 feet from the Southeast corner of the Northwest Quarter of said Section 16 and run East along the South boundary of said Lot 160 feet to the Southeast corner of said lot, thence South 72 degrees East 40 feet plus to the Northeast corner of a lot deeded to Ernest C. Murdock as recorded in Deed Book 72 at page 358, Chancery Clerk's Office, Prentiss County, Mississippi, thence South 70 degrees West along the North boundary of said lot 160 feet to the Northwest corner of said Murdock Lot, thence North 36 degrees West along the center of South Davis Street 75 feet to the point of beginning.

Title to the above property is believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as is vested in me as substitute trustee.

WITNESS My signature this the 12th day of October, 1966.

I WORRY

Everybody has worries, young fellow, as you will soon learn! For instance, some folks worry about their televisions when they go on the blink. Others skip this worry by phoning us for expert repairs. What-everyone out and call the fire department before attempting to fight any fire.

You can fight home fire with water, which cools, or with dry chemical or carbon dioxide, both of which smother.

You can keep a garden hose ready always with adapters to fit kitchen and bathroom faucets. But do not use a stream of water on electrical fires or on flammable liquid fires. Water adds to the shock hazard from electrical fires and will splatter flammable liquid fires.

A dry chemical is a powder that reacts chemically under pressure to extinguish a fire. Carbon dioxide is a heavy gas that looks like a white cloud that excludes air and smothers a fire.

If you stock a dry chemical or carbon dioxide extinguisher, get one with a 1 to 5 pound capacity for easy family use. Avoid "beer can" sizes because of limited capacity, range and reliability. Any extinguisher should have the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) label.

Caramel Apples

A favorite with the Trick or Treat crowd, who will be knocking at your door in a few days, is caramel apples. You find them easy to do: Combine one pound package dairy caramels and 3 tablespoons of hot water in top of a double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring frequently until caramels melt into smooth sauce.

Wash 6 red apples, remove stems and insert a wooden skewer into each apple part way into stem end. Remove sauce from heat and tilt pan. Holding each apple by a skewer, quickly twirl it in sauce.

Remove from sauce and continue twirling to allow sauce to spread smoothly.

Then dip bottom, sides, or both, in chopped nuts, if you prefer. Place apples, skewer sides up, on lightly buttered cookie sheet and refrigerate until serving time.

It's estimated that 100 million people have teeth that need treatment.
