Railroad To Help In Beautification

In an effort to "Paint Up—Clean Up—Fix Up" the city, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen requested the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company to paint the local depot.

The following letter has been received from the railroad company: "The depot at Booneville is quite large, as you know, and much larger than we are actually using. To paint the building on the inside and out to some extent would be just a loss of money. We are, however, going to strain a point since you are doing such a good job at Booneville and we are going to proceed to have the outside of the depot and the agent's office inside painted, but we will not paint the inside of the waiting rooms or other parts of the depot, since they are not in use, and having no passenger trains it would serve no good purpose. "I hope this will be pleasing to you, as it is to us to be able to do it at your request."

Construction Work Near Completion On New Low-Cost Housing Projects

Building construction is almost completed, except for landscaping, and occupancy is expected soon in the new low-cost housing units built here by the Housing Authority of the City of Booneville, according to L. H. (Tate) Oakley, director of the authority.

Construction began in early 1963 on the 60 additional housing units here, 48 of which are for white tenants and 12 for colored. Sixty units had already been in use here, so the new projects bring the total to 120 units.

Architect-Engineer for the projects was Harold H. Franks, P.E., of Booneville.

In addition to the 60 dwelling units, the new projects comprise a new administration building, an addition to the present maintenance building, and complete development of the sites, including new streets, utilities, and landscaping.

The new units for white are located on three acres adjacent to the present housing project near Brown Shoe Company and on 10 acres adjacent to Master Son Company on North Third Street. The 12 units for colored are located adjacent to the other colored housing units on North Smith Street. Mr. Oakley said the colored units have been occupied since about the first of April.

The new units for white are expected to be ready for occupancy by May 15, weather permitting. Mr. Oakley said. An open house is planned prior to occupancy so the public may inspect the facilities. The date for this open house will be announced later.

The new dwelling units are of duplex type masonry wall construction and range in size from one to four bedrooms.

Drum Major, Clarinetist, Wins Honor

CHARLES E. YOUNG, JR.

Charles E. Young, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Young, Sr., Booneville, has been awarded a scholarship.

On April 10, Charles appeared on the program as Clarinet Soloist with Mr. W. T. Rutledge, piano accompanist, at the Convention of the Mississippi Federation of Music Clubs in the Rose Room of the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson, Miss.

As a result of this audition, Charles has received a full scholarship to attend Transylvania Music Camp at Brevard Music Center, Brevard, North Carolina, for six weeks beginning June 25, 1964.

Each year scholarships in piano, string, voice and instrument are offered to talented young musicians. Charles was the State winner of this scholarship in his category (Bb Clarinet). This scholarship will entitle him to spend the summer in studying and developing his talent by performing with other young musicians in sectional rehearsals and in recitals and concerts. Also, he will have the opportunity of hearing world-famous guest artists who will appear as soloists.

For four years, Charles has been a member of the Booneville High School Band, whose present director is Mr. C. A. Murphy, Jr. He has been studying and playing the clarinet for nine years.

Charles is a Junior in high school. During his three years, he has never missed the honor roll, is a member of the Beta Club, and has been Drum Major for two years, receiving "Superior" rating for his Drum Major performance at the Miss. State Band Contest in 1963.

He is an active member of the First Methodist Church, and is Faith Chairman of the MYF.

Besides excelling in his clarinet accomplishments, Charles sang bass in the Booneville High School chorus. Also, he studies piano and music theory under the direction of Mr. W. T. Rutledge, Chairman of the Music Department, Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Charles has been the recipient of many State and Regional Awards which has entitled him to fifteen medals for his outstanding ability in the musical field: chosen as a member of the Mississippi Lions All-State Band in 1963; has just received notice of his selection for 1964; attended State Band Clinic, 1963, sat fourth chair, first Bb clarinet; winner of four superiors in solos played at Solo and Ensemble Contest; and winner of eight superiors in ensembles played at Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Take Pride In Your City

Pride in one's city makes a lasting impression on everyone, those living in the city as well as visitors.

Yet it takes the cooperation of everyone . . . down to the person who merely picks up a stray piece of paper . . . to keep a city looking clean and inviting.

A city-wide campaign is now underway to "Paint Up—Clean Up—Fix Up," and it behooves each individual to take notice of the property he owns to see that it is attractive. All persons, young and old alike, should also be aware of public property and strive to help keep it neat and clean.

Vacant lots should be cleared; garbage should be kept in closed containers; papers, cans and debris should be collected from the yards of the homes.

If possible, home owners and owners of the business houses should repair, paint or clean them.

Be a committee of "One" to help in the campaign to make Booneville a City of Beauty. Be proud of your hometown . . . and visitors will compliment you. You'll even enjoy living here more!

This Is Tyranny

Supporters of the "civil rights" bill—as passed by the House and now before the Senate—are now saying that its punitive provisions would not be so bad in actual practice as critics have warned.

It may be unconstitutional, but it would only deprive SOME of the people of their rights. It may be economically destructive, but it would only destroy SOME businesses; deprive SOME employers of the rights to hire and fire, promote and demote, take away the seniority rights and well-earned job security of SOME workers.

Those who are drooling over the emotional frosting of integration that obscures the poisonous sub-strata of this eleven-layer cake are quite correct when they point out that:

*Not every person whom a Federal inspector and a Federal judge might consider in violation of the "public accommodations" section would be denied the right of trial by jury and thrown into jail.

*Not every business would be demoralized — forced by a Federal overseer to fire worthy workers and replace them on a prescribed pattern of color, creed and/or national origin.

*Not every parent would have the control of his school-age children taken out of his hands.

Furthermore it has been said THIS Administration (the PRESENT one, not the next or the next after that) is not going to be too tough.

But somehow, regardless of the benevolent and forgiving spirit of the Attorney General—on whom enforcement rests—or the physical inability of the swarms of snoopers provided for in the act to bring all offenders to book, we remain opposed.

We do not want dictatorship for America. We do not believe in placing arbitrary power—to do or not to do—in the hands of the Executive. Nor can we conceive of the Senate of the United States—which is our last defender against this villainy—handing over such power.

Let all who prefer Constitutional government in America say so—in writing—to both Senators! Of course, Mississippi Congressmen are doing all they can, but we can send them words of encouragement.

Right Way And Wrong Way

An Administration-sponsored bill to require double payment for overtime in selected industries is now in Congress. A great deal of opposition to it has developed and its future, to say the least, is clouded. The other day spokesmen for the various elements of the oil industry presented compelling testimony to a House Labor Subcommittee showing that the legislation, should it become law, should not be applied to that industry.

For one thing, it was pointed out, it would only increase costs without creating additional jobs. It would thus be of an inflationary nature.

For another, increases in the cost of refinery operations could result in the closing of some smaller refineries.

For still another, in the words of one witness, the bill "would surely accelerate the economic obsolescence of certain facilities and thereby cause a further reduction in production worker employment."

Going on, work patterns in the drilling industry make application of the double overtime provision impractical and unwise. And this is also true of pipeline crews who must work as many hours as possible when weather and other conditions are satisfactory. And a spokesman for oil jobbers said the plan would impose additional costs on them that could be "disastrous."

So the testimony went. The plan simply represents an artificial and costly effort to solve a problem in the wrong way. The right way is to stimulate and encourage industrial expansion in every field. Then there will be more jobs as a matter of course.

100 Years Ago— Grant Gives Orders For 'Grand Advance'

By LON K. SAVAGE

The hour of reckoning in the Civil War arrived 100 years ago this week.

Ulysses S. Grant, after six weeks of preparation, gave the orders for the "grand advance" of Union armies against the South, and when those orders went out, they meant the beginning of the end of the Confederate States of America.

They meant that Grant's immediate army — the Army of the Potomac under George Gordon Meade — would move out of its winter quarters, cross the Rapidan River and smash into the smaller army of Gen. Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia.

They meant that three armies under Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman would move from Chattanooga toward Dalton, Ga., and smash into the army of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston.

They meant that the army of Gen. Franz Sigel would begin moving up the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia toward Lynchburg; they meant that the army of Gen. Benjamin Butler would move from Fortress Monroe toward Richmond south of the James River; they meant that Gen. Nathaniel Banks would abandon his pursuits in the west and move, with the navy, against Mobile; and they meant a small army was to move from the Kanawha River in West Virginia toward Southwest Virginia.

All Under Grant

All of this, involving nearly a half million men, was to occur under the single command of Grant. And on April 27, Grant fixed the date for it to begin: May 4, 1864.

As final preparations were made, President Lincoln wished his new commander "Godspeed." "Not expecting to see you again before the spring campaign opens," Lincoln wrote Grant on May 1, "I wish to express in this way my entire satisfaction with what you have done up to this time . . . If there is anything wanting which is within my power to give, do not fail to let me know it. And now with a brave army, and a just cause, may God sustain you."

Lee Is Ready

On the other side of the Rapidan River from Grant's headquarters, Gen. Robert E. Lee was ready and waiting for the "grand advance." Throughout the winter he had worked to equip his 60,000 men and to keep them in fighting spirit. Although the army still was far from being well equipped, its morale was high.

He had mapped his campaign. He had considered various moves—including a counter-offensive — but had concluded on a simple but effective defense: to fight Grant right where he was—along the Rapidan and Rappahannock Rivers. "I . . . see no better plan for the defense of Richmond," he wrote President Davis. "I have no uneasiness as to the result of the campaign."

He positioned his forces; he ordered all surplus baggage sent to the rear; and he ordered troops from the rear to move forward.

On May 2, he and a group of his officers climbed Clark's Mountain and looked through fieldglasses across the river to the bustling activity in the Federal army. Lee pointed down to the river at two points—Germania and Ely's Fords. He said he believed the Federals would cross there.

Thirty-six hours later, the huge advance would start — at the two fords indicated by Lee.

Next Week: The Wilderness.

Public Relations Notebook

By Neil Woodruff, Asst. Professor of Journalism, MSCW

Practically all activity which people engage in today requires some type of public relations program—either written or unwritten. Many businesses and organizations carry on good and often extensive public relations programs without formally describing its activities as public relations. One such continuous public relations program is carried on by churches.

Perhaps our greatest freedom today is that each person may worship in the church of his choice. And continued growth in membership is one of the objectives of each individual church. Each desires to expand its membership and satisfy the personal religious needs of its total membership.

Churches also furnish members and non-members with numerous publications and literature containing information on church activities.

cerning particular churches. Some publish a church newspaper, compile bulletins, and prepare other information for distribution to a congregation. It is stimulating to realize that such widespread activity is present. It shows positively that church groups are using all means available in communicating with its members as well as non-members.

The successful function of any church body is dependent upon the relationship existing among all members of a congregation. And, of course, a pastor is the public relations director of any particular congregation. A pastor has a multiple public relations duty to perform. Not only does he deal with the various groups and individuals within his church but he must continually be conscious of maintaining the best image for his church within a particular community.

A church is made up of people. The church building does not make a church. It is the interaction of the over-all congregation that either successfully or unsuccessfully promotes the church program and its objectives.

Perhaps no other activity today is as completely dependent upon the relationships of individuals as that found in a church body. And it is most disheartening to read and hear where either pastors or members of congregations bicker or make accusations against each other. Particularly since the Bible clearly states: "A house divided against itself shall not stand."

Apparently, an overwhelming majority of churches are performing their function in the proper perspective. But the truly successful church program must be that which does not let its program and relationships stray from the clear-cut guidelines provided in the Scriptures. All persons should strive to see the light and make certain that this light shines to brighten lives and create proper relationships among people.

AWAKENING IN WISCONSIN

The drive to regiment the American people through the means of the so-called Civil Rights Act of 1964 received a tremendous jolt when Gov. George Wallace of Alabama won more than a quarter of a million votes in Wisconsin's preferential presidential primary.

Political writers in the North are openly acknowledging that grassroots disapproval of the Civil Rights bill is much greater than anticipated. The votes that went to Gov. Wallace represent a great awakening on the part of citizens outside the South. For years, the Southern States have been presented in national news media as a benighted region. Politicians automatically assumed that a Southerner couldn't win support north of the Mason-Dixon line. But Wisconsin proves that times have changed.

Despite the outpouring of abuse directed at Gov. Wallace and at Southern opposition to federal force bills, more than 30 per cent of the Democratic voters of Wisconsin, including those in heavily urbanized areas, went to the polls to throw their support to a Southerner who stands for opposition to totalitarian democracy.

From now on out, no politician or "liberal" agitator will be able to dismiss Southern leadership.

It is tremendously heartening to know that so many people in Wisconsin, a state with a long tradition of "progressive" politics, have not been fooled by the pressure groups' campaign in behalf of the Civil Wrongs bill. They have seen the significance of its contents, and realize that the legislation represents a blow at American liberty.

Wisconsin is not the only area in the North where people are waking up to the danger from coerced association as decreed by federal bureaucrats and agitation front leaders.

The thousands of New Yorkers who marched earlier this spring in behalf of neighborhood schools are part of the nationwide movement of emancipation from "liberal" political dogma. In Chicago, aroused citizen groups are employing legal talent to defend their rights from a combination of ultra-liberal sociologists and pressure group leaders who want to turn the city's school system into a sociological experiment.

In Cleveland, Ohio, the public is beginning to learn of the anarchists in their midst, the vigilantes who in the name of "civil rights" are determined to take the law into their own hands and plunge the community into chaos. The people of Cleveland are learning about the Black Muslims, the formation of rifle groups with Mau Mau names.

Thrasher Juniors Honor Seniors With Banquet

On Thursday evening, April 23, at 7:00 p.m., the Junior Class of Thrasher High School honored the Seniors, teachers, trustees, cafeteria workers, custodian, and special guests of the school with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet at Ed Shaw's Restaurant in Shiloh, Tenn.

Approximately 125 attended the semi-formal affair. The theme for the banquet was "Heap Big Pow-Wow" and all decorations were centered around the theme. Indian warriors were placed throughout the room, and miniature tomahawks were given as favors. Large ears of colored corn were placed about the walls and various colored candles rested in holders made of dry corn adorned each table. Napkins, place cards, and programs were imprinted with Indians.

The menu consisted of fish, hushpuppies, fried chicken, salad, french fries, and ice cream.

The welcome was given by Lynn McCutcheon and the response by Peggy Pippin. Danny Lowrey read the class prophecy and Doyle Lambert read the will. Mr. L. C. McCutcheon gave the invocation.

Several games directed by Mrs. W. M. Murphy were played after the dinner.

and of the role of Castro supporters in the local agitation.

In the space of a year, the country has had revolutionary groups grow up in its midst. Agitators openly discuss turning a city like Cleveland into another Cyprus. Dangerous men talk of Molotov cocktails and hand grenades being thrown. Finally, the press, public authorities, the police and courts are beginning to comprehend what has been going on. In Cleveland, a judge warned that in the future he will throw the book at demonstrators who create violence. A large daily spoke plainly of "anarchists" in the city's streets.

Responsible citizens in communities north and south, east and west, cannot allow this country to be taken over by a handful of lawbreakers and leftwing extremists who, to prove a point, would give American cities a bloodbath. No doubt this summer these extremists hope to plunge the nation into internal chaos. They are planning for this objective. Thus communities across the country should be forewarned and ready for prompt and effective community action. Congress should let the agitators know that it will not be intimidated into passing legislation that would not only regiment responsible citizens but would give irresponsible, lawless elements the privilege to disrupt the nation. Preservation of the Republic requires an alert citizenry that will not tolerate social terrorists who hide behind the label of "civil rights."

HOME AGENT NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS

The month of May being designated as Salad Month is a coincidental climax to Home Demonstration programs for April. The Home Demonstration theme has been "Song of the Salad." Salads truly bring harmony to many a meal with just a little thought on the part of Mrs. Homemaker.

SALAD TIPS

They say that, to a Frenchman, a "salade" is "an involved situation"—but to an American homemaker, a "salad" is more often the answer to an involved situation. In other words, we have a salad for every occasion. Fancy ones for company, simple ones for everyday; hearty main dish salads or light appetizers and side dishes.

The appeal of a salad, whether an accompaniment or a main dish, is its vivid color, delicious flavor, interesting texture, and valuable vitamins and minerals. The attractiveness of a salad is largely determined by the size and shape of the pieces of food, color combinations, and arrangement on the serving plate. Garnishes aid materially in the attractiveness of the serving; just the right amount of a complementary dressing adds the finishing touch.

Salad greens form the basis of, or are used as a garnish for, practically all salads. A number of varieties of lettuce are available, in addition to chikory, endive or escarole, spinach and watercress. In selecting greens for salads it is important to look for fresh, crisp, tender leaves. As with other green vegetables, bright green color indicates high vitamin content. Proper home care of greens is essential to preserve freshness and eye-appeal.

Care Of Salad Greens

1. Wash salad greens thoroughly as soon as they're brought home from the store. Drain thoroughly and blot dry with paper towels. Wrap closely in plastic wrap to keep air out and natural moisture in. Store in hydrator section of refrigerator.

2. Tear greens into smaller pieces; cutting them will cause more rapid wilting.

3. If a salad is to be prepared in advance, tear greens and wrap loosely in plastic wrap or place in a plastic bag.

4. Wilted greens may be revived by placing in cold water for an hour or so. The addition of a tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice to the water may hasten the freshening process.

Cooked or canned vegetables, such as asparagus and green beans, are also popular salad ingredients. These should be thoroughly drained on paper towels. Leftover cooked or canned vegetables are often improved by allowing them to marinate beforehand in French or Italian-style salad dressing.

Preparation of Fruits for Salads

1. Canned or frozen fruits should be thoroughly drained on paper towels.

2. Cut fruits, such as bananas, avocados and apples, which darken on standing should be wrapped or covered with plastic film to keep air out.

3. Exceptionally juicy fruits, such as canned or frozen blueberries or strawberries, whose juice will color other fruits should be added to salads at the last minute. Use the juice from canned or frozen strawberries or blueberries to tint colorless fruits such as pear halves. Dab the juice on the pear halves with a paper towel.

4. To thaw frozen fruits more quickly, remove them from package and wrap in two thicknesses of plastic film, or place in a plastic bag, fastening top with rubber band or clothes pin. Dunk fruits in a bowl of warm water for 20 minutes to one-half hour.

Local Group To Attend Credit Session

Managers and office assistants of land bank associations in Mississippi will meet with officials and appraisers of the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans in Edgewater Park on April 30 for a two-day training conference, according to Max E. Benoist, Manager, of the Corinth Association.

The conference will deal with the business activities of the bank and associations and is an annual affair designed to improve long-term credit service to farmers. "Helping farmers to make the best use of their credit resources is one of the primary aims of the land bank system," said Mr. Benoist. "To do this we must stay abreast of agricultural changes and what these changes mean to farmers financially."

The 18 land bank associations in Mississippi serviced more than $58 million in farm mortgage loans to farmers last year. The Corinth association, serving Tippah, Benton, Tishomingo, Alcorn and Prentiss Counties, has 404 members with loans totaling $2,396,440.00.

COTTON QUOTAS STILL IN EFFECT IN 1964

Cotton marketing quotas will continue in effect in 1964, as approved by growers last December. The question arose as a result of the recently enacted cotton legislation, which supplements the cotton program already in effect. Marketing quotas were approved for the 1964 upland cotton crop by 94 per cent of the growers voting in a referendum throughout cotton-producing areas.

Under a quota program, marketing penalties apply to any "excess" cotton. This part of the program will operate the same as in former years.

The difference this year is that under the new cotton legislation the upland cotton grower will have three allotment programs to choose from. He can choose to keep his cotton plantings within the old "effective" farm allotment (after any release or reapportionment); he can plant within a smaller "domestic" farm allotment and use the acreage so reduced for other crops—but not in excess of his farm's feed grain base if the farm has an effective allotment of more than 15 acres; or he can plant within the effective farm allotment plus an acreage (5 per cent of the allotment) for export only, after filing an application by June 1, 1964, and furnishing bond that the export acreage productions will be exported without government subsidy.

Under both the effective and the domestic allotment plans, the farmer will be eligible for the usual price support cotton loan, at a basic level of 30 cents a pound. Marketing 1-inch cotton at average location. Under the domestic allotment plan, the farmer will be eligible for an additional price support payment of 3.5 cents per pound on the normal yield of the cotton acreage planted for harvest within the domestic allotment, provided he also meets the program's feed grain provisions where applicable. Under the export acreage plan, the farmer will be eligible for the 30-cent price support loan on all his cotton except that credited to the export acreage.

Growers should decide which allotment they want to use and plant accordingly. If the cotton acreage is determined in excess of the chosen allotment, the grower will have an opportunity to adjust the acreage to the allotment by a deadline to be established by the ASC County Committee.

Final cotton acreage released and reapportioned in Prentiss County is as follows:

Pioneer 4-H Club Alumni Reunion Is Planned For July 9

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—A reunion for pioneer 4-H Club alumni, who were members between 1907 and 1930, will be held July 9 at Mississippi State University during the annual State 4-H Club Congress.

All who would like to attend are asked to contact their local Extension Service agents, announced W. M. Bost, director of the Cooperative Extension Service.

"We especially hope to honor here several of the men and women who were members of boys' Corn Clubs and girls' Tomato Clubs during the 1907 to 1914 period," he said. "Those who were members a few years after that will be just as welcome, and will be recognized," he added.

This reunion will be a highlight of Mississippi's observance of the 50th Anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service in its present form as established by the Smith-Lever Act of 1914. A feature of this Act is the cooperative financing and conduct of the agents' work by county, state and federal a total of 200 acres of cotton in 1964 from 896 farms. The county received 65 acres of cotton released by other counties to the State Committee.

There were 683 farms requesting levels of government.

Mississippi led in starting Extension education in agriculture and home economics, of which 4-H Club work is an important part. A Boys' Corn Club organized in Holmes County in 1907 by W. H. "Corn Club" Smith, who was then county superintendent of education, was the first federally-sponsored rural youth organization. Other youth project work that marked important steps toward 4-H soon followed.

The July 9 program will begin with registration, refreshments and get-acquainted, and a campus tour from 9:00 a.m. to noon, Director Bost said. A luncheon will honor the 1907-1914 alumni. The general assembly at which all groups will be recognized will be from 1:30 to 3:00 p.m. More about this assembly will be announced later, he said.

Powder Puff Football Game Kickoff At 7 P.M., Saturday

EDDIE BARNETT

Eddie Barnett, Booneville High School senior, will be presented at halftime during the Powder Puff football game this Saturday night, May 2, as Powder Puff Football Homecoming Queen of 1964. Eddie is very popular with his fellow students, and was recently selected Mr. BHS. He was chosen Freshman Favorite during his first year of high school. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barnett of Booneville, Eddie has excelled in football, having been named to Tombigbee All-Conference during his sophomore, junior, and senior year; "Most Valuable Player" at BHS during his junior and senior year; "Best Defensive Player" this year; "Most Valuable Player" of Tombigbee Conference this year; and Honorable Mention for All-America. He has been a football letterman all four years, and a member of the FFA for four years.

Senior Maid will be Mike Loden; Junior Maid, Bobby Hodge; Sophomore Maid, Paul Richard Scruggs; Freshman Maid, Marshall Dickerson; and Robert Hunkapillar, Eighth Grade Maid.

At halftime, when Eddie, "Queen for a Day," is presented, male cheerleaders will present flowers to the royalty, and the football girls will act as escorts. Gene Risley will be Master of Ceremonies. Katherine Tays, co-captain of the Blue Team and president of the Junior Class, will crown Queen Eddie.

Referees are juniors Billy Joe Young, Bill Murphy, Jamie Owens, and Junior George.

Harold Newborn, head coach of the Gold Team states, "I feel that we are going to win because our team's speed and overall balance is good. (Now if only Ann Gullett will be quiet in the huddle, we will be pretty well off.)"

Gene Risley, line coach of the Blue Team, had this to say, "I feel that we can win this game if we can make more touchdowns than the other team. This will be a hard-fought game, but I feel that the team with the highest score will win."

Backfield coach of the Blue Team, Wilbert Walden, says, "While

by

MRS. ED JOHNSON

Thursday night, your editor and I were guests at the Civitan's Ladies' Night meeting held at the Campus Drive-In. The food was delicious, the fellowship most enjoyable and the speaker was interesting and informative.

And I was certainly impressed with the schedule. The meal began sharply at 6:30—not 7 or 7:30, but at the time most people eat. And the whole thing was over by 8:20—before the folks got tired and sleepy.

It's something to think about when planning meetings where a meal is to be eaten.

When the Formal Opening of Aletha Lodge was held in September, Nancy Barron, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brit Barron, accompanied her mother to the event. Several weeks later she asked Mrs. Sammie Causey, the night nurse, "Do you work at Open House?"

In the April issue of "Mississippi Municipalities" was a list of the March Sales Tax Collections for cities in the state. The tax collected is an indication of the business done in the cities.

The list is published alphabetically, but I am indebted to Teddy Feldman for re-arranging the list according to the amount of business the towns did.

Out of 160 cities reporting, Booneville was 31st in the state with $7,881.62.

First was Jackson with $213,124.61; second was Meridian with $68,902.89.

Tupelo was 10th with $35,985.08; Corinth was 17th with $20,411.42. Aberdeen had $7,418.42; Baldwin, $3,622.76; and Fulton, $3,812.52.

Stolen quotes:

Q. Why does an Indian wear feathers?

A. To keep his wigwam.

Q. What animal drops from the clouds?

A. The rain, dear.

Do you know Tarzan? Tarzan who? Tarzan stripes forever.

We urge everyone to bring their news to the paper office as early as possible each week. If I had heeded the advice this week, I could have written a longer column. I didn't, so...

Till next week,
Helen

coaching the girls, I noticed the extreme speed each girl displayed, the spectacular coordination, and most of all, the self-designed maneuvers in the backfield. Giving each back the benefits of these assets, I pray for rain on the game night."

Kickoff time is 7:00 p.m. in the Northeast Mississippi Junior College stadium. Students' admission is 50c and adults' admission is 75c.

The members of the Junior Class of BHS invite everyone to attend this unusual event of the school year.

Smith presented the speaker, Mr. Clarence Walker, Executive Staff Representative, Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga., who regaled the group with a racy succession of anecdotes and spicy humor, while emphasizing four indispensable keys to success: friends, education, devotion to one's work, and a personal faith.

The Dixie Land Five Band, comprised of Bill Cunningham, Pepper Sutherland, Mike Loden, Charles Young, and Dean Stacy rendered several numbers, and Misses Mary Grace Nabers and Diane Freeman entertained with vocal selections. Mrs. Nabers accompanied at the piano.

Club secretary, Wayne Hunter, presented the president and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Abernethy, gift tokens from the club.

The possibility that nuclear energy might be used to excavate part of the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway was discussed last week at a water resource meeting in Columbus, Miss. ## American Seating Company Expects Record Sales In 1964; Equipment Used At New York World's Fair GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Net earnings of American Seating Co. for the first quarter of 1964 were $48,822, or 7c per share, compared with a net loss of $169,677, or a loss of 26c a share, for the same period last year, James M. VerMeulen, president, announced at the company's annual shareholders' meeting on April 22. Net sales for the quarter totaled $8,332,659, compared with $6,844,912 last year.

Describing the first quarter results as "contrary to the usual experience in this very seasonal business," VerMeulen cited several factors which contributed to the improvement. Among these were shipments of American Seating equipment for a sizable number of installations at the New York World's Fair, "which by coincidence," said VerMeulen, "is opening to the public right about this time today."

Other contributions to first quarter profits were a high level of transportation seating activity and a substantial amount of theatre and auditorium business.

In speaking to the shareholders, the company president pointed out, on a large photo-mural, the type of specially designed products sold to World's Fair exhibitors. These products included such items as a cocoon-shaped chair for the Bell Telephone conveyor ride, reclining bus-type seats for the Greyhound Pavilion and red, white and blue decorated chairs for the Continental Circus.

Looking ahead to prospects for 1964, VerMeulen said that an encouraging factor for a good year is the increased backlog of orders at the end of the first quarter as compared to the same period in 1963.

VerMeulen indicated that a new high volume should be reached this year. "It is the belief of management that our forecasts of going over the $50-million mark in sales volume for the first time, with an improved profit, can reasonably be expected to be achieved," he said.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

During recent years a mass of information has been accumulated on the effect of newspaper advertising.

Among the more significant findings has been the revelation that a good newspaper advertisement will be headed regardless of the position of the ad in the newspaper, or the position of the ad on a particular page.

This comes as a surprise to retailers who ask for a special position in the newspaper. The attitude is understandable because it is well known that time has a great deal to do with effectiveness when electronic media is used because of the great variation in type of audience as programs change.

Not so with newspapers. Research has shown that position has little or nothing to do with readership of newspaper advertising. The content of the advertisement itself determines readership.

If an ad offers a real value to the reader, he will see it. He scans the entire publication for the specific purpose of finding material which serves his self-interest. If he is a potential consumer of a product, he is almost certain to see and study an ad related to the product.

Ironically, research has shown if a preferred position really exists in newspaper advertising the position is next to the retailer's competitor.

Since the newspaper reader is a shopper he may prefer to have competitive advertising clustered together. Realizing this, many large grocers or department stores insist on having their ads placed near to competitive advertising.

N. E. English Literature Classes Honor William Shakespeare

The English Literature Classes at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College, under the direction of Mrs. O. C. Robinson, are commemorating the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare with various programs and projects during the month of April.

The highlight of the month's activities came yesterday (Wednesday), when a commemorative ceremony was held and the students planted a tree and a monument was erected in honor of the Bard of Avon. A time capsule holding pictures and other current information will be enclosed in the monument. The capsule will be opened in the year 1984 when the classes of 1964 will hold a reunion.

Following the dedicatory service held at 12:00 noon in the grove north of the Eula Dees Memorial Library, an Elizabethan Tea party was held in the library. Mrs. Guy Dicus, Head of the Home Economics Department, and the Home Economics majors who are Literature students were hostesses for "Gentle Will's Tea Party." Tea, scones, English Matrimonials and other English delicacies were served to the students and guests.

Throughout the month the students have carried out projects and presented programs in honor of the English playwright. Displays including a copy of the engraved title page of the Shakespeare First Folio, a copy of the original playbill from the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane, and others have been shown in the Library and Administration Building, courtesy Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, D. ## Miscellaneous Shower Given For Mrs. Meeks In Home Of Mrs. Crawford Friday, April 17

The lovely home of Mrs. Luke Crawford on Fifth Street was the scene on Friday, April 17, from 4 until 6 of a miscellaneous bridal shower for Mrs. Thomas A. Meeks, nee, Miss Rebecca Brown.

The spacious home, beautifully coordinated, inspired a variety of gracious settings in tones of rose and pink, reflecting the artistry of the hostess, Mrs. Crawford. Mrs. James Pruitt, Mrs. Estelle Pittman, Miss Joyce Cartwright and Miss Betty Eason were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Pittman met the guests at the living room door. On the register table, kept by Miss Betty Eason, was an effective arrangement of floating pink azaleas in a crystal wine cooler.

The mantel centerpiece was very individualistic—a classically-shaped composition of delicately hued garden flowers.

To receive the guests, Mrs. Crawford wore a pink embroidered linen shift. Mrs. Jack Brown, mother of the bride, was attired in pink and white linen. They wore white carnation corsages.

The honoree wore a pastel pink batiste with a lace-banded skirt, styled with the new look, adorably feminine, which enhanced her youthful beauty. A pink-throated orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Mrs. Meeks, mother of the bridegroom, was costumed in black and white linen with which she wore

Mrs. Leonard Downs, Mrs. Dick Brown, and Mrs. Arthur Schultz mingled with the guests at the dining room entrance and in the hallway.

A picture of elegance, the dining room table was covered with an imported cutwork and fillet linen cloth. Highlighting the center was a traditional bouquet of white tulips, narcissus, and crabsapple blossoms, synonymous of the springtime, in a footed silver bowl. From finely crafted silver candelabra, pink candles gleamed, providing an interplay of color and lustre to the silver appointments. Frozen fruit rings added sparkle to the delicately tinted pink fruit punch served by Miss Barbara Green.

Trays of individual rosebud cake squares, pink and white mints, and toasted nuts were passed to the guests by Misses Nancy McFerrin and Josie Pearson.

A choice collection of silver, crystal, and china was displayed in the sun room. The dominant floral decor was a bowl of Christine Wright roses.

In the guest bedroom, a variety of linens were placed near the windows, which afforded an outdoor view of the terraced garden with its pink haze of crabsapple blossoms.

The Early American den featured an attractive array of kitchenware. A pottery bowl of rose japonica in pyramid design, touched with sprays of English dogwood and deutzia created a striking arrangement.

The hospitality was one of the season's most charming events.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Joyce Impyre, Mrs. Roy Goforth, Mrs. Frances Meeks, Mrs. Louise Meeks, Corinith, and Mrs. Louise Hamm, Miss Daisy Hamm, and Mrs. Sam Sharp, of Guys, Tennessee.

Miss Ann McGee, bride-elect of Ernie L. Clayton, was honored with a kitchen and bathroom shower on Saturday, April 11, from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Vance Caldwell. Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. A. L. Galaway, Mrs. Jim Archer, Mrs. Wallace Poole, Mrs. Milton Floyd, and Mrs. Milton Ward.

The guests enjoyed games and conversation during the afternoon. After Miss McGee opened her lovely gifts, the guests were served punch, individual cakes, mints, and mixed nuts.

The serving table was overlaid with a pink cloth and a lovely linen cutwork cloth. The punch bowl was surrounded with ivy. A beautiful bride doll, highlighted by surrounding azaleas, graced the table.

Miss McGee wore a blue and white lace dress accented by a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. McGee, the bride-elect's mother, wore a light blue linen dress and also a corsage of white carnations.

Magnified leaf cross section. Insect sucks up Bidrin with plant juices. This is systemic action—keeps working 7 to 14 days.

AMBUSH:

New Bidrin lies in wait inside cotton—kills thrips, aphids, mites, fleahoppers—wherever they attack

BIDRIN® Insecticide kills cotton pests with contact action. Then, systemic action takes over, keeps working 7 to 14 days.

Bidrin kills major cotton insects including weevils and worms on contact. Bidrin then enters and spreads through cotton plants, makes them deadly to thrips, aphids, fleahoppers, lygus, mites.

Bidrin is weather resistant. Once inside cotton, rain can't wash it off. Sun can't break it down. And Bidrin is economical. Its long-lasting action means fewer sprays.

We have Bidrin, come on in today.

The State Game and Fish Commission will hold a public hearing in the main auditorium of the Woolfolk State Office Building in Jackson, Miss., at 10:00 a.m., Thursday, May 14, 1964, for the purpose of hearing recommendations on seasons and bag limits for the 1964-65 hunting seasons and thereafter hold meetings at its office in Jackson for the purpose of fixing said seasons and bag limits.

The Commission likes to hear from as many areas of the state as possible at this hearing, and is interested in the many suggestions and reports vital to Mississippi wildlife.

Action is not always favorable to the group present and participating, but all points of view are heard and considered along with reports from the Game and Fish Biologist and other Game and Fish personnel acquainted with Mississippi wildlife.

All persons are welcome to attend this hearing and voice their opinion.

Bicolor Plants Still Available

The Game and Fish Commission still has available a few Lespedeza bicolor plants for use by sportsmen of the state.

These plants are wonderful for producing seeds, shade and cover around the farm. They do best when set in wide rows and fertilized and cultivated for the first year. Thereafter the plants will undergo annual growth and produce a good food supply.

Help your quail hunting by setting out waste land or fence corners, or better still, break and plant an acre out in your woodland. It will pay big dividends at harvest time.

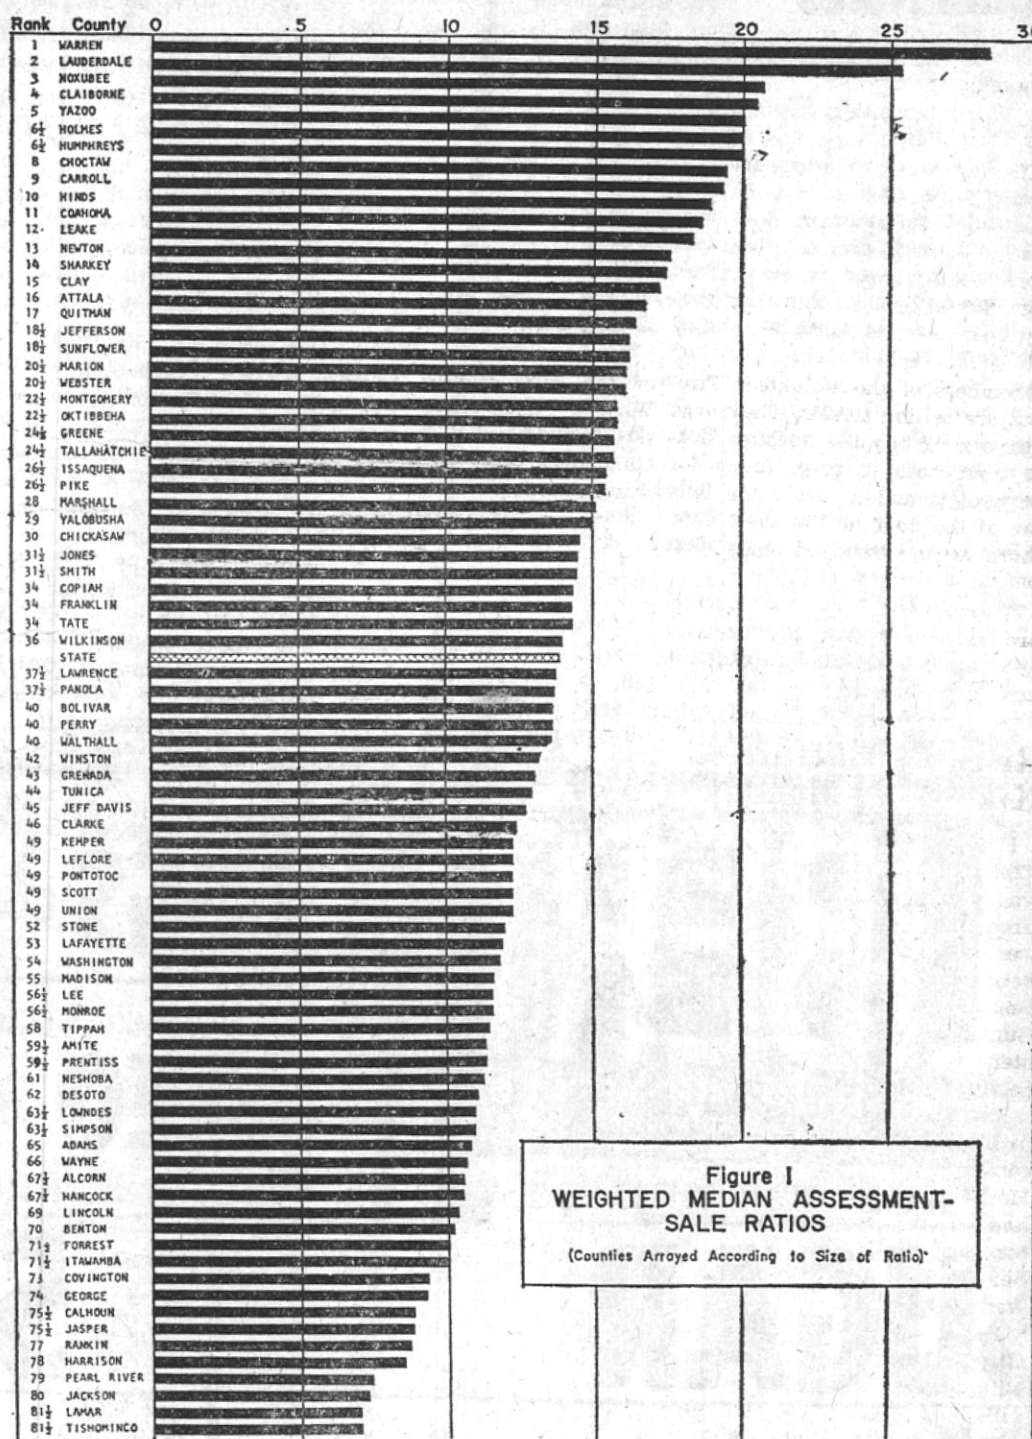

The first thousand bicolor plants are 50c. Each additional thousand will be $3.50.

Members Of Congress Warned To Be Careful What Goes In The Record

By Thomas G. Abernethy
Member of Congress

Speeches and votes sometimes rise in later years to haunt Members of Congress. With this in mind, old-time Members often warn new Members to be careful of what they say or leave in the permanent volumes of the Congressional Record. Time and again occasions arise when a Congressman wishes he had kept his big mouth shut.

Of all men who have expressed such a wish and who now no doubt is kicking himself for some speeches of the past, is President Lyndon Baines Johnson. His old friends (Democratic friends, mind you) over in the Senate are withdrawing from the archives some of LBJ's old speeches which leave him embarrassingly inconsistent on moral rights and civil rights. They are lifting statements from these speeches which in turn are lifting eyebrows hereabout in a manner as if to inquire, "Could our Lyndon have said that?"

When LBJ was a Member of the House and during most of his tenure in the Senate he opposed and spoke out against civil rights measures. Also, he referred to himself as a Southerner. Mind you, the civil rights bill of those early days in LBJ's career were mere cream puffs when compared with this thing he is now pushing.

A few days ago the President, in affirming his support of the bill, said: "We are going to pass the Civil Rights Bill because it is MORALLY RIGHT." Morally right? Yes that is what he said. Distinguished Senator McClellan of Arkansas, as if he had prior information that LBJ would make such a statement, read to the Senate a speech made by LBJ in 1949 strongly opposing a pending civil rights measure. McClellan then thundered:

"Moral rights and wrongs have not changed since then. Whatever was right then is right today; whatever was wrong then is wrong today. Rights and wrongs have not changed... I have not changed."

Well, surely you get McClellan's point. Carefully and deliberately he read on from the old speech, where in the then Senator Johnson said: "This (FEPC) is the least meritorious proposal in the whole civil rights program. Such a law would necessitate a system of federal police as we have never seen before. I can only hope the Senate will never be called upon to entertain seriously any such proposal again."

For 15 years the hope of Lyndon Baines Johnson prevailed. For 15 years the Senate was not called upon to again entertain such a proposal. The point is made in McClellan's speech, whether intended or not, that LBJ himself, is responsible for bashing the solemn hope which he made and recorded for posterity in the permanent record of the Senate of the United States.

Having made a stinging point, McClellan continued reading from the famous LBJ anti-civil rights speech of 1949 and quoted the former Senator further as saying:

"When we of the South rise here to speak against this resolution, or the civil rights proposals, we are not speaking against the negro..."

This is a most significant quotation. It portrays LBJ as then according full recognition to his Southern background, contrasted with his efforts ten years later to

Summer Grass Hybrids Yield Well In Tests

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Forage crops are definitely being improved. Fifteen of the newer sorghum-sudangrass hybrids were tested by the Experiment Station at seven locations in Mississippi last summer. They were compared with Greenleaf sudangrass and Gahli millet, two well known temporary summer pasture crops in this area.

When forage yields were averaged from all locations, all 15 of the hybrids ranked higher than the two crops grown to check them against. Grazer A had the highest state average yield of 6.5 tons of dry matter per acre. It was followed closely by RP Su 1, Haygrazer and Lindsey 77F. Lowest on the state average list were Greenleaf and Gahli with 4.65 and 4.27, respectively.

Dr. W. R. Meredith, Jr., Mississippi Station agronomist, conducted the tests with the assistance of staff members at six branch Experiment Stations in the state. Summarizing his findings, Dr. Meredith said:

"No detailed recommendations as to which varieties should be used will be made on the basis of this one year test, except to say that there are many new hybrids which produce yields as high or higher than the commonly used sudangrass and millet varieties."

"From these and previous experiments, the following general recommendations on management may be given. These hybrids can be seeded as early as late April and as late as June. When early land preparation is possible, the early seedings are preferred as they will result in greater yields. Greater forage yields can be obtained from 5 to 20 inch row spacings than the conventional spacing of 40 inches. Ten pounds of seed per acre are currently recommended for 40-inch rows and 25 pounds for broadcast seeding."

"Grazing should be started when the forage is 20 to 30 inches high. Harvests for hay should be made before seed heads emerge."

disassociate and tie to the West. Until now the Senate debate on civil rights has been quite respectful, very formal, and more or less tender. But when they start digging out and reading the record of their old colleague, LBJ who is now their President, and leaving him in an embarrassingly inconsistent position, it reveals the intent of his old buddies to draw the line and turn the burners up a bit. Reading back one's old speeches which leave him contradicting himself is terribly irritating. It is sort of like pouring on the turpentine and rubbing it in with sand paper.

Two or three weeks ago the fight from our viewpoint looked rather dismal. The situation has brightened considerably. Gov. Wallace's surprising showing in Wisconsin helped greatly. The fight has really just started. No one knows this better now than LBJ.

Agricultural Economics Leader Explains 1964 Cotton Law

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Many Mississippi cotton farmers are sharpening their pencils and trying to figure how many acres of cotton they can most profitably plant under provisions of the 1964 cotton program that became law on April 11.

New terms such as "effective allotment" and "domestic allotment" are part of understanding this law. It has three main provisions, according to Dr. Rupert Johnston, leader in agricultural economics of the Cooperative Extension Service.

First, each farm will continue to have a regular or effective farm allotment, just as in the past. In addition, each farm will be assigned a domestic allotment.

The second main provision deals with price support and price support payments. The third allows for production of cotton exclusively for the export market.

Farmers whose cotton plantings are within their regular or effective allotments will receive a price support on their production equal to 30 cents per pound of lint, based on middling one-inch cotton.

The domestic allotment is two-thirds of the effective allotment for farms having effective allotments of more than 22.5 acres. For farms having effective or regular allotments between 15 and 22.5 acres, the domestic allotment is 15 acres. The domestic allotment is the same as the effective allotment for farms with 15 or less acres of effective allotment.

Farmers who plant within their domestic allotment will receive a price support payment. This payment for each acre is equal to the "normal" yield assigned to the farm times 3.5 cents.

Dr. Johnston gave an example of how the price support payment for planting no more than the domestic allotment will be figured:

A farmer with a 30-acre effective or regular allotment would receive a price support of 30 cents per pound, basis middling one-inch, if he planted the full 30 acres. If he reduced his planted acres to the domestic allotment level, two-thirds of 30 acres would be 20 acres that he would plant. He would then receive the 30 cents price support, plus 3.5 cents per pound on his "normal" yield for the 20 acres planted.

In this example, the farmer's "normal" yield is 400 pounds of lint per acre. So the payment would be 400 times 3.5 cents times 20 (acres), or $280. This payment would probably be made in the fall after it was determined that the farmer planted ed within his domestic allotment. Farmers with effective allotments of less than 15 acres may receive this payment because their effective and domestic allotments are the same.

The third main provision states that cotton may be produced for export on acreage not to exceed 5 per cent of the effective allotment for the farm. No support is available for the world market, which will sell on the world market at world prices. The farm price on this cotton is expected to be something less than 24 cents per pound.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Pesticide Residues in Milk

The Federal Food and Drug Administration prohibits pesticide residues in milk. The way to avoid contamination is to use only recommended pesticides in your dairy barns, on your cattle and in your milk house. Also, follow the directions.

It seems that many dairymen have the idea that it can't happen here. I want to remind you that it can and will if more precautions are not taken.

Spot testing is now taking place throughout the state. Should your milk contain pesticide residue your dairy herd could be quarantined, your milk condemned or in simple language, you would be out of business. If in doubt about the use or application of a pesticide, contact your dairy fieldman or this office.

Registered Dairy Cattle Sales

For high quality registered dairy animals your attention is called to the following sales: Friday, May 1, Mississippi Jersey Cattle Club Heifer Sale at Kosciusko, Miss. Fairgrounds; Saturday, May 2, Mississippi Holstein Heifer Sale, State College, Miss.; and Thursday, May 7, Baldwin All-Artificial Registered Jersey Heifer Sale.

Cotton Program

Some new choices are available to cotton farmers this year! You have an effective allotment, a domestic allotment and an export acreage allotment to consider.

The effective allotment, to be supported at 30 cents a pound for middling one-inch, is essentially the same as your regular allotment.

The domestic allotment is roughly 67 per cent of the effective allotment. By just planting this amount, you can get a 3/4c a pound direct payment from the government.

EXCEPT farms with 15 acres of cotton or less will be considered as domestic allotment and will qualify to receive the 3/4c a pound payment.

The export allotment is 5 per cent of the effective allotment and can be planted in addition to the other allotments. However, growers who plant for export must ascertain that the cotton will not enter domestic trade channels, and they will receive the world price (around 23 cents a pound) for this cotton. To help assure that the export allotment cotton does not enter domestic trade channels, growers must post bond to that effect.

Here are some factors to consider when planning your cotton production program.

The effective allotment will have a price of 30 cents a pound on total production.

Domestic allotment for farmers with more than 225 acres represents a one-third reduction below the effective allotment. An additional 3/4c a pound based on normal yield will be paid on this acreage.

Acreage taken out of cotton production to meet the domestic acreage requirements may be planted to certain other crops, including soybeans. FEED GRAIN CROPS ARE EXCLUDED.

Effective allotment plus export acreage equal to 5 per cent of the effective allotment may be planted. Cotton produced on export allotment acres will be sold at world prices.

Dairy Notes

Want to make your cows give more milk? Most authorities agree that better feeding would help!

If you feed your cow to give 4,000 pounds of milk a year, that's all she'll give. Better start now planning an adequate supply of stored feed for the year ahead.

Think about silage. A check of the high producing herds in the state shows that all these dairymen are feeding silage. It is almost a MUST if you plan to get year-round high production.

AMBUSH:

New Bidrin® Insecticide lies in wait inside cotton—knocks out thrips, fleahoppers, aphids, mites, lygus wherever they attack tender foliage

Above: magnified cross sections of cotton leaves. In left picture, Bidrin (dark strip, top) kills cotton insect with contact action, covers and protects leaf surface. 24 hours later, Bidrin has entered leaf tissue (picture right). Insect attacking from below where spray didn't reach—sucks up Bidrin with juices. This systemic action keeps protecting 7 to 14 days.

Magnified cross sections of cotton leaves (above) show how one application of new Bidrin keeps working 7 to 14 days, rain or shine.

BIDRIN is the new phosphate insecticide that kills cotton pests with both contact and systemic actions.

• It kills all major cotton insects on contact, at time of spraying—even weevils and worms.

• It enters and spreads through plant tissue, makes cotton deadly to thrips, aphids, fleahoppers, mites, lygus.

When insects attack, they die—even if they pierce bottom of leaves where spray doesn't reach. This is systemic action. It keeps working 7 to 14 days.

Proven by growers

New Bidrin's amazing two-way action paid off for thousands of cotton growers in '63. They grew more cotton. And, thanks to early insect control with Bidrin, a higher percent of their crop was early, high-quality, bottom cotton.

Weather resistant—economical
Soon after spraying, Bidrin enters your cotton plants. Once inside, rain can't wash it off. Sun can't break it down. Bidrin has practically eliminated weather as a cause for respraying.

Bidrin costs little compared to insecticides that can't begin to do the same kind of job. Bidrin's long-lasting effectiveness means fewer sprays. With Bidrin you avoid buying early insect control at seeding before you know whether or not insects will come. Bidrin gives you systemic control, yet it lets you wait and see. Result: maximum insect control at minimum cost.

Get Bidrin from your pesticide supplier. Many brands available.

Always read and follow label directions. For more information write: Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, 119 So. Claiborne Ave., New Orleans 12, La.
