Chief Wallace Urges Caution Against Fires

Fire Chief W. K. Wallace reminds people that October is Fire Prevention Month. He said, "Make every month fire prevention month by keeping fire hazards cleaned up."

Chief Wallace said they had 23 less fires in 1964 than in 1963 and urged everyone to lower the number in 1965, by not giving fires a place to start.

In a special note to parents, Chief Wallace said, "Due to Fire Prevention Month, the schools have been having fire drills. If you see a fire truck in front of the schools, please don't be alarmed."

Rites Today For Mrs. Lois Holley

Mrs. Lois Riddle Holley, who was for many years a familiar and a beloved figure in the life of this section died at the Northeast Mississippi Hospital on Tuesday evening, after an illness of several months. She was the last survivor of a family of eight sisters. She was 86 years old.

Mrs. Holley was the daughter of the late Alfred Riddle and Mrs. Nancy Maria Carter Riddle, pioneer citizens of the New Hope Community.

Valiant soldiers of the Confederacy, Mrs. Holley's grandfather, James M. Riddle, a farmer on Riddle Creek, died in a Union prison camp in 1863. Thomas Elliott Riddle, his son, died from wounds received at Ft. Donelson, Tenn.

In her young womanhood, she and her sisters owned and operated a hat shop in Red Bay, Ala. An artist with many talents and abilities, her creations invariably bore the hallmark of good taste.

She was the widow of the late George H. Holley, who served as Postmaster for many years. They established and operated the Holley Hotel. They were genial hosts and the at-home atmosphere with its accent of the Old South, was appealing to the guests, and their courteous service, and Mrs. Holley's charm as a hostess popularized this well known hotel. Mrs. Holley operated the hotel for several years after his death in 1931, after which she made her home with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Wheeler in Tishomingo.

The past few years she lived in Birmingham, with her niece, Mrs. Annie Ree Saunders, after which she was a guest at Aletha Lodge.

Mrs. Holley was a former member of the Booneville Baptist Church, and during her residence here she was active in its programs. At the time of her passing she held membership in the Birmingham Baptist Church.

She was a participant in the important events of her hometown, because of her zeal and abiding concern. Purposeful and persistent she had a background of rare good judgement and business ability, and she made a success of her life. Quick-witted, with a sharp awareness she always evidenced tactfulness and a ready grasp of a situation which is a priceless asset. A woman of charm there are countless friends who remember the vibrant, warm association throughout the years. Many have recognized her graciousness, her love of God, family, and Christian faith.

She leaves a foster grandson, Billy Smith of Memphis; a number of nieces, Mrs. A. R. Sanders of Birmingham, Mrs. Esta Lee Robinson of Russellville, Ala., Mrs. Obara Powell of Starkville, Mrs. James Coleman of Vicksburg; several nephews, Rev. James Perry of Iuka, Dr. Ellis Perry of Corinth; Norvel Perry of Booneville, Robert Perry of Jackson, Miss., Roy A. Smith of Birmingham; a foster sister, Mrs. Ellie Crawford Bradford of Birmingham.

Services will be held at 2:00 p.m. Thursday afternoon in chapel of McMillan Funeral Home with the Rev. Mr. Eugene Tension, her former pastor at Tishomingo, conducting the final rites, after which she will be buried in the Old Booneville Cemetery, beside her beloved companion.

The B. & P. W. Club, presented her with a gift.

Dorsey Orchestra To Conduct Concert At N.E.M.J.C.

LEE CASTLE

Lee Castle, conductor and star of the fabulous Jimmy Dorsey orchestra, will conduct a concert at the Northeast Miss. Junior College gymnasium on Thursday night, October 22 at 7:30. The local Civitan and Lions Clubs are sponsoring the concert.

It has long been an established fact that if and when someone had to get up and lead a Dorsey Band (that was not named Dorsey) that someone would be a musician by the name of Lee Castle. For Lee, one of the best trumpet players in the country, has been more than just a member of the Dorsey Band for many years, he has been considered the "third son" of the Dorsey Family.

Advance tickets are on sale by any member of the Civitan or Lions Clubs.

Approximately 1,000 Pigs Consigned For Sale Today

The 18th quarterly area feeder pig sale will be held Thursday, October 15 at the agriculture building, one mile north of Booneville on Highway 45. The sale will begin at 1 p.m. with approximately 1,000 head of high quality pigs consigned.

Since the program was started in July, 1960, a total of 16,132 pigs have been sold at an average price of $14.66 per head — the average weight was 52.4 pounds. This is approximately $7.00 per pig more than they would have brought had they been sold at the average price quoted by major stockyards during this period. Many more of our farmers need to take advantage of the market available for feeder pigs and supplement their income by adding this enterprise. The demand for top quality pigs is good and the market is expected to remain high for producing top quality pigs.

We are now marketing better than $75,000.00 worth of pigs per year and this could be easily doubled if farmers would produce high quality pigs. There are, at present, seven organized sales in the state. All have been patterned after the Booneville sale which was the first of its type in the state.

The public is cordially invited to attend this sale.

BHS Junior Class To Sponsor Dance

The BHS Junior Class will sponsor a harvest dance in the high school gym Saturday, October 17. The Classics will be playing at the dance.

The admission will be $1.50 stag or drag. Advance tickets are on sale for $1.25.

Open House At Camp Bellewood For All Girl Scouts

All parents, leaders, counselors, committee women, and interested persons in Girl Scouts are invited to join all Girl Scouts at an open house at Camp Bellewood, Sunday afternoon, October 18 from 2 until 5 o'clock. Camp Bellewood is located 20 miles south of Tupelo, just off the Natchez Trace, near Lake Davis. At 3 p.m. a ceremony will be held where all new girls will be given Prairie Council patches for their uniforms.

This open house is given for the North Mississippi Scouts as a welcome into the Prairie Council. This is Booneville's first opportunity to view the camping facilities of the Prairie Council since leaving the Tennessee Valley Council and being accepted by the Prairie Council.

Mr. E. L. King of Tupelo is president of the Prairie Council, and he cordially invites all parents and Girl Scouts to view the wonderful opportunities for Girl Scout camping this summer.

Physical Fitness Tests To Be Administered To N. E. Students

During the fall semester a battery of physical fitness tests will be administered to the students in the physical education activity classes at Northeast.

According to Shirley Wilmon and Al Weed, instructors in Physical Education, the fitness tests will consist of seven items including pull-ups (modified for girls) sit-ups, shuttle run, running broad jump, 50 yard dash, 440 yard dash and 600 yard running walk.

The scores on each test item will be compared with norms presented in the test manual. The scores will be calculated into percentile ranks which range from 0 to 100 at intervals of 5.

The purpose of these tests is to show the students how they compare with the students throughout the country in strength and weakness. All students should be required to demonstrate an acceptable level of physical fitness as determined by the health appraisal and by valid tests of muscular strength and endurance, cardio-respiratory endurance, agility, and flexibility.

Good health and physical fitness are the logical and necessary starting points for the pursuit of excellence in all things.

Notice

The BHS Beta Club will have a Cake Sale on Saturday, October 17 at Court Square, beginning at 8 a.m.

Booneville Is 'High On Hog' Amid An Industrial Boom

Editor's Note-The following article appeared in the Birmingham News

BOONEVILLE, Miss., Oct. 3 — "Where Miss Charming Tradition extends a warm and gracious Southern welcome to Mr. Industrial Progress . . ."

This is Booneville, "City of Hospitality" and northeast Mississippi industrial boom town.

From standpoint of per capita income, Booneville is today one of the richest small towns in Mississippi. Its two banks have deposits totaling $10 million. The town's cup literally runneth over for some.

There's roughly $2 million in commercial and residential construction underway, with a half-dozen showcase commercial properties completed downtown within the last three years.

One former weed patch now sprouts a new medical clinic, drug center, dental clinic, and paved parking facilities. The new Prentiss County Electrical Power Association offices would do justice to a metropolitan city.

Where 12 years ago it had only one industry, with an annual payroll of little more than $120,000 today Booneville has nine major industries and a $5 million industrial payroll.

But even more important, Prentiss county's agricultural economy has kept pace with industrial progress — something which doesn't always happen. All too often, an area develops industrially at the expense of agriculture.

Booneville and Prentiss county leaders take pride in fact their agricultural and industrial income comes close to happy balance—$8.5 million agriculture; $5 million industrial.

While the perfect balance would be 50-50, Booneville and Prentiss County's 40-65 ratio is as close as most areas ever get to the magic perfect balance.

Chief spokesman for Booneville's booming economy is Mayor Marion Smith, whose own administration roughly parallels the town's surge of prosperity.

Smith, mayor of Booneville before entering service in World War II, has served consecutive terms since 1950. A banker, he keeps anything but banker's hours.

"You must have a vigorous economy to support churches, medical clinics, shopping centers and new commercial outlets. . . ours is a vigorous economy too," explained Smith this week, riding about Booneville pointing out new industries, schools and capital improvements.

"Of course, we have our differences. What small community doesn't? But on the things that really count we get together."

According to Smith, downtown business firms and professional men hold 100 per cent membership in the Prentiss County Industrial Development Association, the nearest thing this boomtown has to a chamber of commerce.

Booneville and Prentiss County have more than 40 churches, 19 schools and a dozen or more civic clubs. Northeast Mississippi Junior College is located here.

Its 82 bed hospital, now undergoing a $1 million expansion, was the first Hill-Burton Act hospital in the nation, according to Smith.

Picked by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board as the state's most hospitable city in 1953, the first year the award was made, Booneville boasts a year-round recreation program, a $50,000 municipal swimming pool and city park. There is a country club and nine-hole golf course.

However, Smith and Booneville leaders take greatest pride in their town's residences. It is here, in the homes built by Booneville's new-rich, that the town's booming economy is best reflected.

Actually Booneville's incorporate population is only about 4,000 and even this might be stretching the actual 1964 population figure. But the town, county seat of Prentiss County, is living "high on the hog."

Smith attributes this affluence to the area's industrial-labor climate. "We have people who are willing to give a fellow an honest day's work for an honest dollar." He might have said dollars!

During 1963, farm income increased $1.4 million. Industrial income jumped $750,000 annually and the town's $104,702 in one-cent sales tax collections during 1963 was $6,250 more than the previous year collections.

A breakdown of agricultural income shows $3.8 million from cotton, $1.2 million from dairying, $1.1 million in poultry and egg sales, $850,000 from soybeans, $550,000 from livestock and $250,000 from forestry products. Corn alone was valued at $700,000.

Counting its industrial payrolls, Prentiss County's 1963 income totaled $13,484,000, according to Smith. For a county once squeezed between two major trade centers—Corinth and Tupelo—its progress has been nothing short of remarkable.

Among Booneville industries are American Seating Co., the nation's largest manufacturer of public seating; three textile plants, Prentiss Manufacturing Co., Blue Bell Inc., and August Sportswear; Kraft Foods, processing 180,000 pounds of milk daily; Marathon Cheese Corp., wrapping and packaging 1.5 million pounds of cheese monthly for Kraft and other area cheese producers.

Quality Egg Co. processes more than 10,000 dozen fresh eggs daily. Brown Shoe Co.'s southern plant at Booneville turns out some 6,000 pairs of shoes daily.

Booneville's newest industry, M. S. Jordan Corp. out of Chicago, manufactures home billiard tables.

All these industries, plus others, play a major roll in Booneville's new vitality. But the real hero is community initiative and drive.

Only this week, a meeting of Prentiss County leaders was called by County Agent Taylor Smith to discuss fall farm action projects. Eighteen crowded into Smith's office.

They were a veritable who's who of Prentiss leadership: Joe Duckworth, president of the county industrial development association and electric power association; H. C. Shirley, Prentiss County farm bureau president; E. A. Knight, Northeast Junior college president; H. N. Tutor, Booneville High School superintendent; Mrs. W. M. Murphy, county superintendent of education; Joseph Hill, county welfare agent; C. S. Walden, farmer; Mrs. W. H. Anderson, planning commission chairman; city alderman Lealon George; Chancery Clerk Bluford Allen, and Harmon Caver, Prentiss County rural development committee chairman. Also present were J. E. Scott, supt. of city utilities; Ed Honeycutt with the Soil Conservation Service; C. E. Young, farmers Home Administration; W. T. Smith and Mrs. Claire Ross with the Cooperative Extension Service and Mayor Smith.

Health Care For Elderly

This October, the American Medical Association is conducting a national educational program to inform the public on the broad range of health care now available to the elderly who cannot pay for it. This will coincide with Community Health Week, scheduled for the October 18-24 period. And the need for it is clear—studies have shown that great numbers of people do not know that every state has programs to help those who need help in paying medical costs.

The Association stresses that its program is not intended to influence pending health legislation. Of necessity, the Medicare proposal for providing certain medical services to the 65 and over group through the social security system is mentioned—but only to show that is not needed. And the reason it is not needed is that the existing Kerr-Mills law and other state and local health care programs offer generous benefits. These programs are flexible and adaptable locally to changing conditions and needs. They have been improved in the past, and undoubtedly will be improved in the future as local situations warrant.

The nation's physicians and medical societies are leaders in the effort to inform the public of the assistance that is available everywhere to the needy elderly. Some advertising will also be employed. The AMA's program is purely educational. It is hoped it will answer many loose statements that have been made concerning the health care problems of the aged.

This is a program that serves a vital public interest.

The total effect of advertising cannot be fully measured.
It is easy to keep a record on sales of a particular item which has been featured in one newspaper advertisement. But side effects may be more significant.

The retailer knows that almost every customer drawn to a store by an advertisement is likely to purchase goods which have not been advertised.

Also, each advertisement helps to establish the name of a store in the minds of consumers who may not be interested in buying immediately.

Retailers learn that newspaper readers often clip advertisements and refer to them weeks or months after the date of publication.

Hood Enters Alabama; Sherman Gives Pursuit

By LON K. SAVAGE

Confederate Gen. John B. Hood, the man who had been forced to give up Atlanta to the invading Federal army of William Tecumseh Sherman, turned his back on Sherman 100 years ago this week and marched from Georgia into Alabama, bent on an invasion of his own.

For more than two weeks, Hood's army of 35,000 had been moving back and forth through northwest Georgia, striking again and again at the railroad that fed Sherman's army in Atlanta. Finally, in early October, Sherman had pulled out of Atlanta and headed northwest himself, pursuing his tormentor, and sharp fights broke out in a dozen towns — Dallas, Rome, Alatoona, Coosville and Lafayette.

On October 13, Hood recaptured Dalton, Ga., just southwest of Chattanooga, directly across Sherman's supply line. From there, he turned southwest toward Alabama, hesitated two days while pondering his situation, and pushed on. His mind was made up.

Hood's Plan

Hood knew he could not beat Sherman's army of 60,000, but he could out-manuever it. By marching into Alabama and thence to Tennessee, he could turn from the defensive to the offensive. If Sherman followed, the effect would be to maneuver Sherman out of Georgia. If Sherman remained behind, Hood would go north to wreak havoc in Tennessee.

By October 17, Hood had passed through the mountains to the Alabama line, and by the next day he was in Alabama on the road to Gadsden.

Sherman, meanwhile, was troubled. His pursuit of Hood was half-hearted. His large army could not move as fast as Hood's, and if he gave chase, he would lose the ground he had won in the Atlanta campaign. To make matters worse, Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest was coming east into Alabama and Tennessee and was tearing up the Federally-held railroads leading to Atlanta. Hood's cavalry chief, Joe Wheeler, also was operating behind Sherman in northwest Georgia.

On October 9, Sherman telegraphed Ulysses S. Grant in Virginia: "It will be a physical impossibility to protect the roads, now that Hood, Forrest, Wheeler and the whole batch of devils are turned loose..."

'Make Georgia Howl'

Instead of pursuit, Sherman suggested, "I propose... that we strike out with our wagons for Milledgeville, Millen and Savannah... By attempting to hold the roads, we will lose a thousand men each ber finds that many mothers wait until December to order the toys advertised.

A California grocery chain recently experimented with advertising in media other than newspapers. The drop in all sales was so drastic, a store official reported that he "didn't have the guts to continue."

The store's position in the market could not be regained immediately. Only the accumulative effect of repeated newspaper advertising restored sales to former levels.

month, and will gain no result. I can make this march, and make Georgia howl!"

In the days that followed, he planned the details of this march to the sea. Gen. George Thomas, the "Rock of Chickamauga," could be left to defend Tennessee. Sherman had 8,000 head of cattle and three million rations of bread. Forage for his animals, he said, promised to be plentiful in the Georgia countryside.

Sherman's proposal, when it reached Grant and the officials in Washington, was greeted coolly. Next Week: Cedar Creek.

Next time you reach for a pack of brown sugar at your grocery store, don't be surprised if you see some new words on it: granulated brown sugar.

This new type sugar is easy to measure, pours freely and blends easily with dry ingredients. You use the standard method of measuring granulated sugar—pour the sugar into a measuring cup and level with the edge of a metal spatula. No more hard brown sugar and packing sugar firmly into

You do have to be careful in substituting granulated brown sugar for moist brown sugar in your favorite recipes. The dry sugar is bulkier than moist brown sugars. Substitution must be made by weight or by the substitution table on the box. The new product may be substituted in recipes with high moisture content with success. In a recipe using a small amount of moisture content, alter mixing technique, or both.

To eliminate experimenting and chances of failure from recipe adjustments, you may order tested recipes. You will find an address on the sugar package from which you may obtain recipes designed for the dry brown sugar.

The granulated brown sugar is sucrose with enough molasses to provide a pleasing flavor between those of light and dark brown sugars.

Butterscotch Nut Bars

2 cups granulated brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ lb. (½ cup) butter or margarine, melted
2 eggs
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 cup chopped pecans or walnuts
Confectioners 10-X sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Blend brown sugar, salt and melted butter thoroughly. Beat eggs into sugar mixture, one at a time, until light and smooth. Add extract.

Sift together flour and baking powder; blend into mixture well. Add nuts; mix briefly. Spread batter into greased 11 x 7 inch pan. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees 30 to 35 minutes or until done.

When practically cool, cut 1½ x 2½-inch bars (if cookie is to be handled, cut in smaller size) and roll in confectioners sugar. Remove to cooling rack. Store in airtight container with waxed paper between layers. Roll in confectioners sugar again if necessary before serving. Yield: 16 bars.

Medical Expenses Fully Deductible On Federal Taxes

Medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers 65 years and older will be fully deductible on this year's Federal income tax returns.

The full deductibility of these expenses under the 1964 Revenue Act was pointed out today by Mr. J. G. Martin, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue. He said this will save elderly taxpayers about $10 million a year in taxes.

Under previous laws, expenses for medicines and drugs were included in medical expense to the extent they exceeded one percent of adjusted gross income.

Elimination of the one per cent floor applies to the medicine and drug expenses of a taxpayer and his spouse if either is age 65 or over. It also applies to such expenses paid on behalf of dependent parents age 65 or over.

There are no other changes in the provisions regarding the deductibility of medical expenses, Mr. Martin said. These expenses are fully deductible, subject to certain maximum limitations, for taxpayers 65 and over but are subject to a three per cent floor for taxpayers under 65.

The one per cent floor on medicine and drug expenses for taxpayers under 65 continues in effect, Director Martin said.

Boosters Club Buys PA System

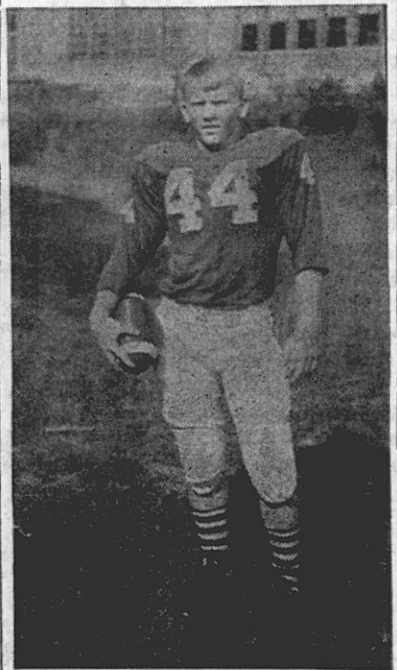

The Blue Devil Boosters Club has bought a high quality public address system comparable to those used by colleges. It will be in operation for the last home game against Fulton October 23, a club spokesman said.

At their meeting Monday night the president, Richard Kemp, appointed a committee to study the feasibility of building a new stadium for the Blue Devils. The stadium where they currently play belongs to the junior college and needs much work.

The club's selection committee picked center Richard (Slick) Walden as lineman of the week and fullback Freddie Tollison as back of the week for their performance in the Calhoun City game Friday night.

All WMU women are urged to attend one of these meetings.

District VII B & PW Meets

The Seventh District of the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Woman's Clubs met at Curlee Cottage in Corinth, for their annual conference on Sunday, October 4. The Booneville Club was represented by Patsy Keenum, Ann Rutherford, Betty Chase, Helen Jones, Hazel Spain, and Mary Bynum Rambrick.

After the call to order and the welcome, Betty Chase of Booneville Club, gave the response. Business, old and new, and the coffee break were followed by a workshop period. Mrs. Cleveland Whitten, second vice-president of Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, of Charleston, Miss., was in charge. The "Buzz" sessions were held in three divisions: Civic Participation, Personal Development, and World Affairs.

Dinner was in the dining room of Mildred's Cafe. Mrs. Hazel Spain, Co-director of District VII, was mistress of ceremonies. Miss Euphie Dozier of Oxford gave the invocation and there was special music.

Mrs. Cleveland Whitten, second vice-president of MFBPW, gave the address, "Big Power of Women." What women could do if they just would vote, was the first big point of emphasis.

Mrs. Whitten installed District

VII officers for the ensuing year as follows: Director, Euphie Dozier, Oxford; Co-Director, Helen Jones, Booneville; Secretary-Treasurer, Carline Dumas, Corinth; Recording Secretary, Nelda Depoyster, Corinth; Public Relations, Mary Freeman, Oxford; and Corresponding Secretary, Betty Chase, Booneville. As each officer was installed, the section of chain which she held was joined to the preceding section to finally make one long unbroken chain. Working together with the clubs how strong they can be!—how much can be accomplished!

Blackland RCDC Has Meeting Mon. Night

The Blackland RCDC met Monday night, October 12 at the Community Center with Dalton Garner, president, presiding. The opening song was directed by Melvin Putt with Mrs. Putt as pianist. The Rev. Huey Wood gave an inspiring devotional reading from the 12th Chapter of Romans, using "Love" as the subject.

After a business discussion, Mr. Garner introduced Mr. C. H. Kizer, Vo-Ag teacher at Wheeler, who gave an interesting talk on Vo-Ag and how it is changing to keep pace with changing times. He explained that now our boys are trained in electricity, plumbing, brick masonry, woodwork, and welding, as well as farming. He then showed interesting slides of FHA and Senior trips to the Gulf Coast. Everyone enjoyed looking for their own boys and girls and the ones they knew, as they viewed them having fun on the beach.

The group was favored with several special songs by Rev. and Mrs. Wood and Mr. Melvin Putt with Mrs. Putt accompanying them at the piano.

These songs highlighted the entire program. At the close of the program, coffee, punch and cookies were served in the dining room.

STATE'S PER CAPITA INCOME RECORDS BIG RISE IN 1963

Mississippi's per capita personal income for 1963 was $1390 — an increase of $105 over the average for 1962. This increase was larger than for any of the eight regions of the United States and more than for the country as a whole (up $81 to $2449). The average per capita income for the Southeastern region (12 states) was $1820 in 1963 — $82 more than for the previous year.

WAY-FIL JEWELRY

PALM IS THRIVING—Miss Linda Comer is pictured with a petticoat palm which apparently is thriving here and has already survived two hard North Mississippi winters. Two years ago last spring David Sims brought it to Linda from Florida when the senior class returned from a senior trip. At that time it was only a foot and a half high and now is about five and a half feet. Linda, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Comer, is a junior at Booneville High School.

Just Scribbling

by

MRS. ED JOHNSON

A rather interesting item appeared in the August 27th Franklin County Times, Russellville, Alabama, about the grave of Hudson Hester, born Sept. 5, 1833 and who died February 14, 1866.

Mr. Hester was the great uncle of Mr. W. G. Hester of this county, and the article was brought to us by Earlean Holder, his daughter.

The article reads:
"Clearing for the lake and dam site for Russellville's new water system has brought focus on two lonely graves that had a lonelier beginning than the silence that shrouds them now."

One grave is that of Mr. Hester's—the other grave has no marker but individual iron fences enclose each.

"The two men died in a 'pest house' of smallpox, a disease more dreaded and feared then than now. A person who had survived the disease was hired to look after the patients in the special place until they recovered or died as was the case of the two men. Ordinarily, according to the story, the house was then burned if the 'smallpox season was over'."

"The men were feared even after death and burial was refused in cemeteries. Then the graves were dug in the deep woods away from everyone."

"It could not be determined who erected the fences. They were no doubt put up before the stock law to keep cattle from tramping graves. The fences were still upright and in good condition when the graves were 're-discovered.' The fleur-de-lis pattern on the fences and post are distinctly moulded with lines still distinct and true."

"The two graves were found by George Merchant, former sub-contractor of the lake impounding and dam building. He cleared the area and bought paint for the two fences to pay respect to the lonely site. The graves will not be disturbed since they are well above the lake water level."

All of us interested in Boy Scout work as well as other friends were thrilled this week when on the cover of the new "Boy's Life" was an excellent picture of Vaun Smith in a group of Scouts attending the national Jamboree at Valley Forge. Others from the area were recognizable, including Bill Barnett.

From the "Imperial Magazine":
"In some situations what isn't said is more disturbing than what is said."

"After a man passes sixty, the things that were important to his youth no longer seem so; but things which he formerly took for granted now become important."

"There are fewer snooty people these days than ever before, mainly because fewer people have anything to be snooty about."

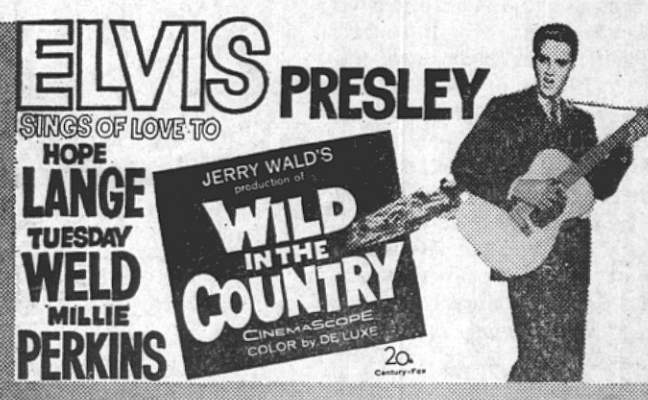

Elsewhere in this issue is an unusual article about the Poole family and their art as stone masons. Wallace Poole, one of the brothers, now president of the Prentiss County Home Bank, fondly recalled the time he was with part of them following service in the Armed Forces. Tuesday, he told me, "We went everywhere and laid stone just about every way it could be laid — even a dungeon type stone door with hinges for a fellow in Alabama." He said he trained two of his brothers still with the business, but that Mr. Wright of the Belmont Bank persuaded him to go into banking.

Well, we're sure he was a good stone mason, but he's a good banker, too!

Till next week,
Helen

Mrs. Cunningham Scores Eagle

Mrs. Floyd Cunningham scored the first eagle on the No. 7 hole of the Booneville Golf Course Tuesday of this week.

Ladies par is 6 on the long, hard hole. With three shots, she was just off the green and using a 6 iron she chipped into the cup for a 4 or an eagle.

Her score for the nine holes was 36—two under par. Playing with Mrs. Cunningham was Mrs. Billy Barnett.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By W. TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

RYEGRASS

Ryegrass can do you a lot of good, provided it is planted in the right place.

Here is a word of caution. DO NOT plant ryegrass on cultivated land where row crops are to be planted as early as April or May. Ryegrass is a little hard to kill out early in the spring, even by plowing or disking.

But Ryegrass is rugged. It can be used in many more places than small grains since it can be planted on top of the ground. It will withstand more cold weather than small grains. You can graze it longer into the spring than small grains.

Planted in combination with small grain, ryegrass will extend the grazing season at least 30 days longer than small grains alone.

TETANUS

Did you know that only one-fifth of the state's population over 15 years of age is immunized against tetanus or lockjaw as it is commonly known?

This is alarming! Lockjaw, or tetanus, is a deadly disease. Two out of every three that have tetanus die! And it is unnecessary.

It would be a real good idea to see your family doctor, or the health department right away and make sure that you are immunized against tetanus. It could save your life!

FERTILIZER PROGRAM

The time to make plans for next year's fertilizer program is this fall. Start by having the soil tested for lime and fertilizer needs. Then make your plans accordingly.

It is not hard to find out which crops got ample plant food during the past season and which did not.

Tennessee game in Memphis October 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Downs returned Sunday from a delightful weekend outing with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bell and children, Nancy and Lee of Memphis, at their cabin at Pickwick. After two days in the setting of the autumn woods with its rich coloring they stopped enroute home for a brief, but enjoyable visit with Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Dixon in Corinth.

Mr. and Mrs. Whit Abernethy and Phil attended the Miss. State-

COTTON NOTES

In 1964, Mississippi cotton farmers planted only 94.7 per cent of their allotted cotton acres. This is pretty good, considering that some counties did not plant 50 per cent of their allotted acres. Failing to plant cotton costs money — the state money, your money and your neighbor's money. Start now to help make sure that in 1965 EVERY available allotted acre is planted.

CATTLE LICE

It is time now to make sure that your cattle enter the winter free from lice. These blood-sucking pests reduce gains on fattening animals, lower milk production and place cattle in an unthrifty condition.

We will be glad to give you the best method to use in getting rid of lice and other livestock pests.

VA Answers Vets Questions

Q.—What evidence of payment of just debts or expenses of last illness and burial should the widow send VA?

A.—The widow's certified statement showing the nature, amount, date and person or firm to whom such payments were made will be accepted as evidence of payment unless records later received raise doubt as to the validity of her statement.

Q.—I am a peacetime veteran with service-connected injuries from an auto accident. I have loss of use of my left limb. Am I eligible for the VA allowance of $1,600 toward the purchase of an automobile?

A.—No. This benefit is provided for wartime veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict periods. Q.—My Government Life Insurance policy has a loan value. How much can I borrow? Would it be to my advantage to surrender the policy for a greater amount of money than the loan value?

A.—You may borrow 94 per cent of the cash reserve of your policy. This is indicated in the table in the policy. Once your Government Life Insurance policy has been cash surrendered, there is no more insurance of this type available to you.

Q.—What procedure should I follow to obtain an increase in compensation?

A.—If you can present evidence to your VA Regional Office that your service-connected disability is possibly worse than when previously rated, a rating examination will be arranged and your right to an increase will be based on the evidence.

Q.—How can I make sure I will be buried in a National Cemetery?

A.—Make your desire to have this done known to your next of kin or best friend. Have your military discharge in a place known to the person or persons you will depend on to carry out your plan in order that they can identify you as an eligible person when contact is made with the Superintendent of the Cemetery.

Q.—My father is permanently and totally disabled due to service-connected causes. How can I obtain educational or training benefits?

A.—Make application to the VA Regional Office and attach the service papers which identify your veteran parent and your own birth certificate. If according to the laws of your state, you are considered to be a minor, your parent should also sign your application.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH RELEASE

Dr. A. L. Gray said that he sees no reason to forego squirrel hunting in spite of the outbreak of rabies among bats, but does recommend caution in handling game. The State Health Officer made the statement following calls that had come to the Board of Health from sportsmen as the squirrel season opened. Even though the health officer believes the chances of squirrels becoming rabid are quite remote, he does suggest three cautions in picking up the killed game and in preparing it for cooking.

1. Be sure it is dead.
2. Pick it up by the tail, rather than by the body or head.
3. Use rubber gloves in dressing it and preparing it for cooking. If a squirrel might happen to be infected with rabies, would there be any danger in eating it after it has been cooked? To this question asked by many sportsmen, Dr. Gray answers without hesitation, "Certainly no danger." As of October 1 release, 55 rabid bats from 27 counties have been identified in the last two months by laboratory analysis. All have been the so-called "red or brown" bat except one, which was a "black" bat.

Permanent Pasture With Grasses, Clover

W. R. Thompson says that a good clover grass area will graze three cows per acre if fertilized right. Either cut-off or graze old sod close and apply fertilizer 80 to 120 pounds each of P2O5 and K2O per acre. Renovate the sod where needed. Treat one-third to one-half your permanent pasture to keep a 50-50 clover-grass mixture. See your County Agent, ASCS Officer, vendor and fertilizer dealer.

IT'S COTTON PAY-OFF TIME

Mississippi farmers have spent seven to nine months and millions of dollars producing another great cotton crop. Now it's pay-off time. Farmers are picking, ginning and marketing the crop, the final test of its worth to the growers and to the state. Marketing the cotton crop is the last step for the producer and one of the most important.

Prentiss ASCS County News

By CHARLES E. CALVERT, Office Manager

The Agricultural Conservation Program for 1965 will again encourage farmers to shift from production of surplus crops to conserving land uses and to establish practices for conservation of soil, water, woodland, and wildlife, where needed.

The county has been allocated $67,680 in program funds this year to help carry out conservation practices on farms.

The local cost-sharing program has been formulated within the national program authority to include practices which will best meet the conservation problems of the particular area. This is done actually by an ACP Development Group, composed of the ASC Committee, Soil Conservation Service Technician, and Area Forester advised by others with conservation interests.

As in previous years, farmer-elected ASC committees will administer the program and will relate it to work plans of the local soil and water conservation district. The Soil Conservation Service and forestry agencies are responsible for technical phases of certain practices. A list of approved ACP practices — for which the program will again cover approximately half the cost — is available at the ASCS county office.

In announcing the national ACP for 1965 — the 30th program year — Secretary of Agriculture Freeman said: "This program, which reaches into every State and agricultural county, is playing an increasingly important role in our efforts to improve rural areas — not only in their physical environment but also in their economic outlook. It is an important part of the on-going war against poverty. 'Rural lands are the source of nearly all of the Nation's food and fiber, but if neglected these lands are also the source of soil erosion and silted streams. The farm fields where ACP is helping to promote conservation measures contribute vitally to clean usable water for the day-to-day living of our towns and cities as well as for the industry which provides employment for their people. At the same time that the program's conservation projects conserve agricultural resources, they bring other secondary benefits through creating more wildlife habitat and recreation opportunities... 'I am particularly gratified by ACP's progress in helping low-income farmers, including many who have been doing little or no conservation work, to make better use of their limited physical resources. I hope that more and more farmers will use the program to bring about needed land-use adjustments such as shifting land out of row crops and small grains of which we have more than enough, to vegetative cover which has enduring benefits.'"

Minimum Sales Price Policy To Continue For '65 CCC Soybeans

The present minimum sales price policy for Commodity Credit Corporation-owned soybeans acquired under the price support program will be continued for another year, ending September 30, 1965, the Department of Agriculture has announced.

The announcement for the coming year is made to help maintain price stability before and during the heavy marketing season this fall, and to permit producers and the trade to conduct marketing operations with knowledge of CCC pricing objectives.

The minimum sales price will apply to any 1963 or 1964-crop soybeans acquired by CCC. As in the past, the actual sales price will be the higher of the market price or the minimum price.

The minimum price is the county support rate for 1964 No. 2 grade soybeans plus 19 cents per bushel. For Prentiss County, the county support rate is $2.24, thus making the minimum sales price $2.43. The 19-cent mark-up reflects an adjustment to compensate for the differences between the pricing basis on which the trade buys and the No. 2 loan rate, truck load-in charges of 5 cents per bushel, and reasonable carrying charges. The national average price support level is $2.25 per bushel, and with the 19-cent margin, the CCC average minimum sales price thus will be $2.44 per bushel.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE ELECTIONS

Nominations for 1965 community committeemen have been received from the nominating committees. Additional names may be added to the ballot until November 13, 1964 by petition. In order to petition a name on the ballot, the petition must be signed by at least six eligible voters and the nominee must be willing to serve as a committeeman.
