Prentiss County To Participate In Area Anti-Poverty Program

Prentiss County will participate in the anti-poverty program being studied for this area, according to Mayor M. W. Smith. City aldermen passed a resolution Monday morning endorsing the program which is a work training program for the youth of this area, with emphasis on the dropouts from school.

Tuesday at noon, State Senator J. P. (Jim) Dean, administrative assistant of the Urban Renewal Agency and Jim Bitting, director of Community Improvement of Corinth, spoke at the Rotary Club meeting held at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Senator Dean explained the make up of the Urban Renewal Program in Corinth and said emphasis was being put on the poverty part of the program.

Mr. Bitting said this program is excellent for this area's quoted income figures for 1960. He compared the earning capacity and employability of persons according to education.

"The first phase of the program is the work training program, primarily to aid dropouts or to prevent dropouts," Mr. Bitting explained. "This program is not concerned about a person who is on welfare and will not work and won't even try to raise a garden to help feed his family, but rather for his children who may have had to drop out of school to help support the family," he continued. Explanation also showed how the program could apply to help farmers and small businesses.

Corinth and Alcorn County served as the pilot program, and as interest was manifested, Prentiss joined. Also to be included are Tippah, Union and Tishomingo.

Although the project is aimed primarily at keeping students in school, and getting those who have dropped out back into school, it will provide valuable on-the-job training for those who cannot return to the classroom. The program may be expanded to provide part-time jobs for those participants planning to attend college. It is planned to make every effort to get students in this category to attend Northeast Mississippi Junior College under the work-study program.

MasterSon, Inc. Announces Plans For Addition To Plant

MasterSon, Incorporated of Booneville plans a plant expansion for which construction will be started in the immediate future, it was announced Wednesday afternoon by Joe Kingsley, plant manager.

The new construction will be on the north side of the present plant, to which it will be joined. The 50 by 300 foot addition will provide an additional 15,000 square feet of space, bringing the plant's total to 60,000 square feet.

The addition will be of fabricated metal and masonry construction similar to the existing plant. Contracts have been let and construction is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by March 1, 1965.

Mr. Kingsley said that useage of the additional space will allow the firm to keep present employees working more regularly and add some new employees so as to increase the annual payroll by approximately $150,000.00. The payroll for the past 12-month period was approximately $650,000.00.

The expansion will also necessitate construction of a new parking area. This will be provided east of the plant between the building and North Third Street.

The firm currently employs about 260 persons in the manufacture of boys jackets and all-weather coats of all types.

MasterSon, Incorporated is a subsidiary of a publicly owned corporation with home offices in Chicago, Ill. The corporation purchased the assets of August Sports-wear on February 1 of this year.

R. J. (Piggy) Bonds was master of ceremonies and following the steak dinner, introduced the speaker for the evening, Dudley Miller, head football coach of Itawamba Junior College in Fulton. Coach Miller compared the ideal conduct of a football player on and off the practice and game field with an ideal code of life, and entertained the group with interesting stories about football.

SHERIFF TO HOLD BEER

SHERIFF GERALD GREEN, right, and Deputy Nonan Chaffin are shown with a truck load of 500 cases of beer which they confiscated over the weekend. Billy Neaves of Guntown was driving the truck owned by Charles Eaton. A state tax man told Mr. Green he could not hold the beer because it was in transit from one wet county (Yazoo) to another (Marshall). However, Sheriff Green said Lee County was listed as the load's destination in two places on the tax document and a representative of the state attorney general's office said he could hold the beer. Therefore, the sheriff is holding the beer and the truck until a court hearing is held. Charles Eaton, charged with use of an illegal tag, and Billy Neaves, charged with possession and transporting, were released on bond. —Photo by Norma Fields

Brace Yourself!

Reports from practically all points around the nation where great store is set by the traditional portents embolden us to predict that we are on the threshold of a ring-tailed peeler of a winter!

Woolly bear adherents tell us these harbingers are now appearing in force—not only in the heaviest overcoats seen in many a year but in a very good imitation of leopard in one of our northern states!

Squirrels are said to be on the verge of nervous breakdown from overwork, and oystermen from New England to the Virginia Capes, who reported on the fatness of the season's first bi-vals, are bracing themselves for bitter cold work in the months ahead with an "R" in them.

So what lies ahead for the rest of us—sniffles and sneezes and runny noses above the usual number—if you don't watch out! More than 20 million Americans will have colds—and more than 125,000 workers will be staying home to nurse them—any winter day you want to name. Since, according to the U. S. Public Health Service, we average one to three colds in a normal year, we can look forward to more than half a billion attacks this season—at a cost of more than $5 billion in lost production, lost wages and medical expense.

And, since the medicos assure us we are no smarter (about colds) in the missile age than in horse-and-buggy-days, the only protection against a cold is not catching it! Theoretically, this is done by dressing for that cold weather we've been warned of, keeping our feet dry, avoiding chilling, over-heating and weariness. Also, you might carry a rabbit's foot.

And when that cold catches YOU, anyway, don't just suffer—DO something. See your doctor.

Even when colds can't be avoided, proper treatment can minimize discomfort and play an important part in preventing them from developing into more dangerous diseases such as laryngitis, bronchitis, sinusitis and pneumonia — which often follow.

Whatever you do, don't take any stock in that yarn about the mythical doctor who exposed his cold patients to pneumonia — because he knew how to cure that!

First Free Will Baptist Ladies Auxiliary Has Meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary of the First Free Will Baptist Church met on November 3 with nine members present.

The president opened the meeting. Several business items were discussed, among which the ladies decided to compile Thanksgiving baskets for the elderly and shut-ins. Also the Auxiliary decided to have the Pre-Thanksgiving Week of Prayer, November 16-20 in the various homes of the members. After all the business, the president turned the program over to Mrs. Captola Lawrence, and she gave the introduction to the program, "Be Thankful." Mrs. Marselle Lindley then read the scripture, found in Psalm 100.

The parts were then given subsequently to the program by Mrs. Irene McCoy, Mrs. Edna Williams and Mrs. Lowenstein Wright. Mrs. Marselle Lindley closed the meeting with prayer.

Georgia Ransacked By Sherman's Army

By LON K. SAVAGE

As the people of the United States waited in ignorance, Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman's army of 60,000 marched through Georgia 100 years ago this week, cutting a path of destruction and despair for the South.

Only the Georgians who witnessed the events knew really what was happening, for Sherman had cut all communication between his army and the North. In Washington, President Lincoln paced the floor nervously, hoping somehow to get some word of success from his second-most-important general. In both North and South, false rumors spread that Sherman was beaten; that his army was starving; that he had been captured.

But Sherman and his "bummers" were far from beaten; in fact, they were in no danger. Each day through late November, they marched in fine weather eastward from Atlanta toward the sea, tearing up the countryside, devastating buildings, homes, crops and livestock, eating sumptuously off Southern foodstuffs, sleeping peacefully on Southern soil or, at times, in Southern homes.

Destruction The war was one of total destruction. Sherman's men tore up railroads, burned the ties, heated the rails until they could be twisted into "Sherman's hairpins" around trees. Mills, factories, barns — any building that could produce any good — were burned. Homes were ransacked, and many of them were burned. Fruit trees were chopped down. Soldiers barged in to private homes, making off with everything they could carry — food, jewelry, even family heirlooms.

To a Southern lady who protested against the plundering, Sherman answered: "War is war, and you can make nothing else of it."

Slaves came to Sherman as if he were their Savior, and despite his protestations, they followed his armies to they knew not where.

By the 23rd, Sherman was in Milledgeville, Georgia's capital, and he occupied the Governor's mansion himself. Some of his officers occupied the state capital, and in a mock representative assembly full of flowery speeches they elected a speaker and voted to repeal Georgia's ordinance of secession. After destroying most of Milledgeville's important buildings, the army pushed on.

Resistance Resistance was slight. Confederate Gen. Joe Wheeler, with a cavalry force of 6,000, harassed the Federals but was too heavily outnumbered to even delay the march. Georgia militia — mostly young boys and old men — also opposed the march with little effect. Southern leaders issued proclamations calling upon the Georgians to repel the invaders, but they did little good for the Southern cause.

By December 3, Sherman had reached Millen, the second of his three objectives. The third — Savannah and the sea — was within a few days' march.

Next Week: Tennessee Invaded.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Money in the pocket of the American consumer is increasing at a rate never before matched.

The average family had 10 per cent more to spend in 1964 than in the previous year, while the prices of goods remained stable. Millions of people have new optional buying power. They are in the market for goods they did not previously demand.

Each month billions of dollars of "new" money become uncommitted. The new consumer wealth may be spent at will for vast variety of goods and services.

Hence, completely unrelated firms become more and more competitive. A woman may spend her extra income for travel, insurance, automobiles, better foods, health, beauty aids, finer clothing, housing, gifts, or on whatever else promises to bring the most satisfaction.

Advertising plays a decisive role in guiding the use of optional consumer income. A newly prosperous public has formed no buying habits. Buying follows new demands which are shaped by advertising.

National manufacturers have been quick to recognize the rise of a huge new market. Production and advertising schedules for 1965 have been geared to meet the challenge.

But final buying decisions are always made locally. New money is likely to be spent for goods and services which have been best publicized by local firms in home-town newspapers.

HOME AGENT NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS

November is the real beginning of the holiday season. Families begin to plan for annual events: Thanksgiving, Christmas, then New Year. Food is a great part of this exciting, rushing season. The smart homemaker avoids a great deal of rushing by planning ahead. Pre-planning is a comfortable way to make holiday events enjoyable for everyone — Mrs. Homemaker, too.

One way to make advance preparations is to make use of the home freezer. Don't be lulled into a false sense of security by just using your freezer as a small supermarket — full of a convenient supply of food to be cooked. Make your freezer pay you extra dividends by storing a supply of pre-cooked dishes. Ready-to-cook dishes save time, too.

"Planned" leftovers — cooking enough for two or three meals at one time and freezing what is not used immediately — can do much to cut down on meal preparation time. Don't try to keep frozen cooked foods too long; use them up within a two-month period.

Cooked meats, poultry, vegetables, casserole combinations, stews, breads, many pies, cookies, cakes and sandwiches all can be frozen successfully.

The secret of success lies to a great extent in proper packaging. For good flavor, color and texture, foods should be packaged in materials or containers that are moisture and air proof and durable.

Let cooked meats cool thoroughly. Remove any stuffing and package it separately. Roasts should be wrapped securely, excluding all air, and sealed tightly. Gravies should be stored separately. Cooked meats and poultry may also be packaged in meal size portions.

Baked beans, spaghetti and meat balls, macaroni and cheese, soup mixtures, stews and many combinations of meats with sauces, freeze well. Pour into heavy duty aluminum lined casserole or pan. Cover with foil and freeze. After freezing, food may be removed from dish and the foil sealed tightly for storage. To serve: Unwrap food and use foil to line a baking dish or casserole.

Cooked vegetables, unless covered by a sauce, or their own broth, do not keep their flavor when frozen.

To freeze pies and cakes, place in freezer on aluminum tins or on a circle of cardboard or paper plate and place in freezer and freeze until firm. Remove and wrap securely, sealing tightly to exclude air.

Remember, when foods go into the freezer after packaging they should be placed in contact with either bottom on one of the sides of the freezer. After they are frozen, they may be placed where convenient.

FARM CITY WEEK,
NOVEMBER 20-26

November 20-26 is National Farm City Week. This is a special time set aside to point out and emphasize the importance of agriculture to our county, state, and nation.

Because our farmers are efficient, food is still the best buy of any goods sold. Farmers are so efficient today that one farmer produces enough food, feed and fiber to supply himself and 28 additional people. This releases workers for other jobs, thereby enabling Americans to have the highest standard of living of people anywhere in the world. Of the 62 million Americans employed, 25 million work somewhere in agriculture.

Mr. Smith

MASTITIS CONTROL
Dairymen find it easy to see some of the damages from mastitis, such as lowered milk production, swollen udders, abnormal milk that cannot be sold, plus a drug bill and cost of treatment.

But they may not be aware of the valuable udder tissue that is being destroyed by mastitis infection. Many cows eventually sold because of low production reached that state because of tissue damage and not because of low inherited ability to produce.

Most mastitis can be controlled through careful herd management. Some recommended steps for controlling mastitis are: Check your milking equipment and be sure that it is in proper working order. Watch your management and be sure to use proper milking procedure. Use a mastitis screening test on individual cows — strip cup daily and CMT monthly.

If mastitis occurs, use treatment under the supervision of a veterinarian.

FARM CENSUS

If you have not already received your agricultural census forms, you should within the next few days. Anyone who operates a farm, regardless of size, must fill out the census forms. All information on the census is confidential. The information is used for statistical purposes only. Enumerators will begin collecting forms on November 23, so try to have yours filled out before the visit of the enumerator.

FERTILIZE PASTURES

Pasture land is too valuable not to fertilize and get a profit from. Fertilizer needed now is for clovers and legumes. Recommendations are to spread phosphate and potash on legume areas as soon as possible so that the job is done while land is dry enough for equipment to get over it.

It is also important that all pastureland where the pH is below 6 be limed. It is suggested that one-fourth of the pastureland be limed each year.

Miss Verta Thomas, Mrs. M. L. Morris, Mrs. Woodrow Morgan, Mrs. Gladys Hart, Mrs. Dorothy Davidson, Mrs. Myron Coats, Mrs. Fred Henson and Mrs. Katie McCarley were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. W. W. Strange, a recent bride, at the Town Motel on Wednesday, November 11.

Miss Hospitality Gives Report

The year 1964 is waning but not our Southern Hospitality. The month of June proved to be very active with our fine hospitality booth sponsored by twelve clubs of Booneville. During this warm and friendly month, as your Miss Hospitality, I welcomed about 3,000 visitors from 40 states and seven foreign countries. All of these appreciated our hospitality; especially when, to their surprise and pleasure, they received free gifts from the various industries, businesses, and clubs. And Mayor Smith took time out of his schedule to personally welcome many who came our way. Carolyn Walden, alternate, and members of the various clubs joined us in this, along with our official photographer, Mrs. Jettie Nunley.

Another bright spot in our summer activities, Carolyn and I were guests of the Rotary and Lions Clubs for luncheon, and of the Pilot and B. & P. W. Clubs for dinners.

I helped welcome those who joined in the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the Peoples Bank and Trust Company, and I participated in Open House of the American Seating Company. On several of these occasions, it was a pleasure to receive cherished gifts.

Being Booneville's Miss Hospitality is a goal every girl is happy to attain. This has been an honor that will live with me always. Meeting new people and making stronger friendship with Boonevillians have enriched me and built a stronger bond between me and what Booneville represents.

The State Miss Hospitality contest was held in Biloxi, Miss., the last of July. As the contest was drawing to a close with the reception for the guests, who had come to see the crowning by Governor Johnson, all of the contestants participated in this last activity of the event. When I glanced down the reception line, I saw Mr. Ned O'Brien, director of the contest, and oldest member of the A and I Board, approaching. As he shook my hand, he leaned over and whispered, "Gloria, I want to tell you that the judges said that of the fifty-nine contestants asked to give a two or three minute speech on the state of Mississippi, you made the best one. We don't give awards for this, but I thought you'd like to know." Wonderful! At that moment, I felt I had served you with my best.

VA Answers Vets Questions

Q.—My husband died as a result of injuries received in World War II. He obtained a GI loan during his lifetime, which is now paid off. Am I, as his widow, also eligible for a loan?

A.—Yes. Any widow of a World War II or Korean Conflict veteran may be eligible for a GI loan if the husband's death was service-connected. The fact that the veteran may have obtained a loan does not affect the widow's eligibility.

Q.—I am a member of the police force, and I find that there are some restrictions in commercial life insurance policies because of this. Is this true also of my GI life insurance?

A.—The restrictions you mention are those imposed because law enforcement is considered a hazardous occupation. There are no such restrictions on GI insurance. The veteran may engage in any occupation, no matter how hazardous, without effect on the terms of the policy.

Q.—I pay premiums on my GI insurance quarterly, and I am concerned because I have not received my premium due notice. I feel uneasy about waiting any longer to make this payment. Should I wait until I receive this notice?

A.—By all means pay your premiums when they become due, even if you do not receive the premium due notice. Remember you have a 31-day grace period from the due date. Be certain to include your policy number with your remittance.

'Little Gal of the Golden West' Is National March of Dimes Child

A blue-eyed lady of four years, known affectionately in her home town of Denver as the "Little Gal of the Golden West," is the 1965 National March of Dimes Child. Her name is Michaela ("Mickey") Lea Heinicke.

Mickey symbolizes the quarter-million American infants born every year with severe birth defects on whose behalf contributors to the March of Dimes have financed programs of research, medical care and education.

Mickey's mother, Maxine, tells of the tragedy that today befalls one in ten families in the United States.

"Like tens of thousands of other couples, Paul and I were heartbroken and numb when we learned the truth a few days after Mickey was born. I am a nurse, and I had had some experience with babies born with an open spine, which was the case with Mickey. I was under no rosy illusions that this third child of ours would ever walk."

"But," asks Maxine, "do you remember that song, 'Did You Ever See a Dream Walking?' The refrain comes back to me every time I see Mickey walking on her crutches and braces, or furiously riding her hobby horse in the parlor, or doing an Indian war dance to her phonograph records. I say to myself, 'that's my little dream walking.'"

"But my husband and I would never have experienced this real-life dream without March of Dimes help."

Mickey, whose spinal rupture was repaired when she was only three days old, is now midway through a tour that precedes the coast-to-coast March of Dimes campaign in January. Although severely handicapped, this four-year-old thrives on the long days, tedious air-hops between cities, appearances at conventions and the strain of meeting Senators, Congressmen, Generals, stars of stage and screen and other public figures.

Mickey is already a veteran trouper, unimpressed by the mighty in high places. Her mother says, apprehensively:

"In January, when we expect to have the privilege of visiting the White House, I know I will faint dead away when Mickey will undoubtedly bubble over to the President, 'Hiya, Podner,' or something awfully familiar and western to the First Lady."

Birth defects are the greatest medical problem threatening the nation's children. To help provide patient aid in this area, contributors to the March of Dimes now support 50 treatment and study centers at leading medical centers and university-affiliated hospitals.

Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, says that the need for many more such centers is acute.

"Birth defects," he adds, "are a much more serious problem than polio ever was."

To attain the same successful end that was achieved in eliminating polio, we need not 50 birth defects centers but fully 150 centers to help these afflicted infants and children. Funds are also needed desperately to support research inquiries into the many scientific problems involved.

"Sometimes look at the crippled Mickey's around our country, at children born without arms or legs, at other tots doomed unnecessarily to lives of mental retardation—all due to birth defects; and I wonder how many of our warmhearted citizens can fail to demand and to finance a means to end this shocking destruction whatever the cost."

R.C.D.C. And Cub Scout Supper

Thursday night, November 12, the Thrasher RCDC, sponsors of the Cub Scouts, met with them for a supper. Tables were loaded with food and were bright with candles and candle holders made by the Cubs.

This was Charter Night and also Advancement Night for the Scouts. Six boys got the "Wolf Badge," second step in Cubbing. Ronnie Chase received the "Round Up Award" for securing a new member.

Mr. Kenneth Smith and Mr. Mac Ellis Nabers were special guests. Mr. Smith spoke at random about the "Principles of Scouting" and relation of parent to child. He placed the responsibility of good scouting on the parent, because back of each good Scout is a parent interested in his child.

Recognition was given to Ralph Lauderdale and Steve Goldman, Boy Scouts, who have been acting as "Den Chiefs" to their brother Scouts.

There were 17 Cub Scouts and their families present. The boys presented a short skit entitled "Three Rivers."

Dairying Outlook For State Is Good

The dairy picture of Mississippi looks better for the remainder of 1964 and 1965 than it has during the last several years, according to Mr. George B. Crain, Extension Dairyman, Miss. State University.

FIRST — Prices for milk to dairymen seem to have stabilized. Nothing in the picture indicates a lowering of prices.

SECOND — There was an increased consumption of milk and milk products per person in Mississippi in 1963.

THIRD — Successful dairymen who also have other livestock enterprises on their farms state that per dollar invested dairying brings in more money than most other enterprises.

FOURTH — Dairy herd improvement associations (DHIA) records show without question the dairymen who get higher production per cow within their respective breeds and do a good job of management make more money than other dairymen.

Based on these four reasons, we can predict a brighter future for the dairyman who will follow the basic fundamentals for profitable dairying in Mississippi. These are: Good breeding, adequate feeding, keep herd records, and use these records in better managing the herd.

and Mrs. Weldon Lee Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Have You Read Your Mail?

This week, you as Prentiss Countians received your annual Christmas Seal Campaign letter. TUBERCULOSIS IS INCREASING! Did that news surprise you? Whether you were surprised by this fact or not, you should be CONCERNED about the increase in tuberculosis in Prentiss County and in Mississippi.

There were 13 cases discovered in Prentiss County in 1963. Here are the figures on new cases discovered in Mississippi in 1961 — 695 cases; in 1962 — 747 cases; in 1963 — 947 cases. First eight months in 1964 — 826 cases. Estimated total for 1964 — 1200 cases.

Your tuberculosis association is vitally concerned with this increase in new cases and plans to expand its efforts in tuberculosis control activities—with your help.

Your help is needed to expand the current program of education, case finding, patient services, rehabilitation and research.

You have received your 1964 Christmas Seal. They are only $1.00 per sheet. You may send your contribution to Mrs. Mabel W. Nelson, Seal Sale Chairman.

"Neither Snow, Nor Rain, Nor Heat" But Can Cause Late Delivery

The Christmas "rush" brings a very old quote to mind: "Neither snow nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." This was said by the Greek historian, Herodotus in the Fifth Century B.C. but it still is true of the postal service.

However, Postmaster J. K. Lindsey recently added a thought. "While it is true that bad weather doesn't stop the mails, it certainly can slow them down."

He mentioned that planes can't get off the ground, switches on railroad tracks can freeze up. Trucks must move more slowly and cautiously over highways. And, in many places, mailmen might wish for the warmth of an igloo. Even the impish Mr. ZIP can't assure next-day delivery under these conditions.

"Why," you may ask, "does the postmaster bring this up?" "Simply to let people know that there is a factor that we just can't control, the weather," Postmaster Lindsey said. "It is important that people mailing Christmas cards and gifts make every effort to shop early and mail early to assure on-time delivery. This is especially true during the Christmas rush when an ever increasing avalanche of mail moves through the postal system."

The Post Office Department has several new tools to use in this year's mail service. The most important is the new ZIP Code and transportation-distribution system that came into being with the Zoning Improvement Plan (ZIP). Postmaster Lindsey is urging everyone to use the five digit numbers because in most cases the code cuts down the number of times a piece of mail must be handled. This saves time, labor, and money.

He suggests that even if you don't know the code for the addresses of the people to whom

Thrasher Grammar School 4-H'ers Meet

Thrasher Grammar School 4-H Club met November 12 in the school auditorium. The members enrolled in their program for the new year. Also, new officers were elected as follows:

Diane Furtick, Reporter

you'll be sending cards and gifts, you should use the code on your return address — 38829. And you should record the codes from the return addresses of those who are writing to you.

Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job and the 19 local workers who work so diligently during this period deserve all the cooperation they can get.

The postmaster said that shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes will really put ZIP into your Christmas mailings ... and give your mailman a hand, too.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY CROWE

Miss Ester Lee Bryson And Jimmy Crowe Are Wed In Ceremony At Baldwin Sat.

In a scene marked by simplicity and beauty Miss Ester Lee Bryson and Jimmy Dale Crowe exchanged wedding vows in a doubling ceremony at seven o'clock p.m. Nov. 14, at the First Methodist Church at Baldwin. Rev. Smith Whiteside conducted the impressive rites in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bryson of Baldwin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Vivian Crowe of Booneville.

Green and yellow, accented by ivory in soft candlelight shades were used for the setting of the wedding. Nuptial arches of wrought-iron candelabra entwined with huckleberry held tall ivory-toned cathedral candles. Marking the altar before which the vows were exchanged was a sunburst of yellow chrysanthemums gracefully held on a wrought-iron stand. The altar rail entwined with southern smilax and stands of southern smilax in the background completed the altar decorations. The side aisles were marked with window arrangements of triple ivory candles, southern smilax and yellow pom-pom mums.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. W. C. Sansom gave a program of traditional music on the organ and accompanied Ward Weaver, who sang two beautiful numbers and in conclusion of the ceremony sang "Oh Perfect Love."

Don Crowe of Booneville was his brother's best man. Jerry Enis of Baldwin and Jimmy Rurkin of Booneville, lighted the candles and with Tommy Gamble of Baldwin, served as groomsmen in the wedding.

Miss Beverly Bryson, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a fern green gown of peau taffeta with a portrait neckline and short sleeves. The street-length skirt was pleated at the front and the back to give a slender bell effect. A large flat bow of self-material was gracefully worn at the back of the waist. Her headdress was a circular float veil attached to a dainty ring crown. She wore matching green satin shoes and carried a nosegay of yellow pom-pom mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Judy Crowe, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Carolyn Walden, both of Booneville and Miss Peggy Stovall, of Baldwin. They wore gowns in the shade of fern green and fashioned identical as the maid of honor's. They wore matching head-dresses and shoes and carried bouquets of yellow pom-pom mums.

Miss Rickie Jean Ricks, cousin of the bride of Raymond, wearing a fern green dress identical to that of the bridesmaids and wearing a matching bow on the back of her head, presided at the Church Register.

Little Miss Martha Helen Enis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Enis, of Tupelo, was the dainty flower girl. She wore a white embroidered wool dress and carried a pretty white lace basket filled with yellow flowers.

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father was lovely in an original gown of chiffon lined with silk peau-de' sole in soft candlelight tones, that featured a portrait neckline and long tapering sleeves that came to dainty petal points at the hands. The front of the gown was re-embroidered with alencon lace and seed pearls. The regal court skirt was dramatized with a detachable train in soft pleats at the back and swept gracefully to chapel length. Her veil of imported silk illusion cascaded from a wedding ring crown of tiny jewels. Her bouquet was stephanitis centered with a white orchid and carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. Stanley Bryson, mother of the bride wore a gown of autumn brown and gold with brown accessories. Mrs. Vivian Crowe wore a gown of blue and wool and matching accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of white carnations.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Enis and Mrs. J. M. Bryson, grandparents of the bride of Baldwin, and Mrs. Jinnie Crowe, grandmother of the bridegroom of Booneville. The three grandmothers wore pretty corsages of white carnations.

For traveling the bride chose a fur trimmed blue wool suit with brown accessories. She wore the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet. Following a brief wedding trip the couple will be at home at 201-18 Shiloh Road at Corinth.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Wearner and sons and Miss Jean Ann Bing, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Arlins Ricks and children of Raymond; Mrs. Mary Nell Pegram and daughter of Jackson, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Garland Upton of Columbia, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Enis and family and Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Enis and family, all of Tupelo; Mr. and Mrs. Orlander Hardwick and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Abel, all of Corinth.

Mrs. Hambrick Shows Films Of South America At B. & P. W. Club Meeting

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday, November 12, at the Town Motel for the regular meeting, with the president, Mrs. Thomas Keenum, presiding. The club collect was given by Mrs. Ed Honeycutt.

The table decorations, observing the Thanksgiving theme, were designed by Mrs. Frances Morrow and Miss Lillian Gaines, and were a beautiful feature of the meeting.

The club's guest was Miss Elizabeth Box, Student of the Month, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Box.

After a turkey menu, Mrs. Mary Bynum Hambrick, a world traveler whose travel dreams have become a reality, told the group an engrossing story in narrative form with color slides of her recent visit to South America. The extensive coverage of her subject from primary sources, indicated the scope of her research and skill in photography.

An alert observer, her penetrating appreciation of what she sees is impressive, from the many angles of vision; all were equally fascinating and instructive.

Mrs. Hambrick first showed the Amazon River, the longest in the world. In Northern South America it flows about 3,000 miles from the Andes to the Atlantic. Her party started a journey up the Amazon in a launch. Aided by an able description of the river traffic, brilliantly colored blooms and birds scenes were viewed along the route to the junction. Returning to Manaus, Mrs. Hambrick saw hundreds of people and businesses beside the river and houses built on floats and stilts, and a glimpse of the people in the areas of interest. A festival was in progress not far from the city, with the slides blending with a full array of colors of costumes and the crowds.

From Manaus, next in view was the city of Brazil, near the junction of the Amazon, then on to Brazilia the new and most modern capital in the world! The square of the Three Powers was perhaps the most imposing section. The buildings which house the Federal Senate and the Chamber of Deputies were shown. Attention was directed to the elegant row on row of apartment houses, the wide streets, gardens and playgrounds. Streets are so arranged that no child ever needs to cross a major street. There are traffic circles underground and overground passes.

The Lake District section of Argentina-Chili began at Bariloche, Argentina. This trip was taken by launch and by bus through magnificent scenery. The first day they landed at Puerto Blest there had been a vigorous snow. The scenery looked like traditional Christmas cards, Mrs. Hambrick said. The mountain scenery from the top down was green.

The next place Arica, Chili, was visited by auto carrier to La Pog, Bolivia. They had a day's journey through the high Andes. They passed through Indian villages and many herds of llama, called by the natives as the "Lady of the Mountains" because of the way it holds its head.

La Pog, Bolivia is the highest capital in the world. Visiting an Indian market they saw things of interest in the stalls. They saw here important buildings and some of historic interest. They drove by car to Capacabana, on the bank of Lake Titicaca, the highest in the world. Inca Indians lived in this section 400 years ago.

They saw Machu Picchu, an ancient Peruvian ruin. These ruins had been covered for 350 years. The ride to the ruins was over the Bingham Highway.

The program, one of the club's best, presented with intelligent application, was intellectually satisfying to an appreciative audience.

Hill's Chapel 4-H Girls Elect New Officers

Hill's Chapel 4-H Girls met on Monday, November 9. They selected projects for the year and chose new officers.

The officers are as follows: President, Beverly Smith; Vice-President, Carolyn Crowe; Secretary, Sandra Scott, and Reporter, Martha McAnally.

IMPORTANT RESEARCH FOR MISSISSIPPI—Dr. Thomas N. Pullen, assistant professor of Biology at the University of Mississippi, has completed the first successful cross of two species of the partridge pea plant, and the resulting variety may revolutionize Southern game bird feeding and soil conservation techniques. The partridge pea flourishes in sandy, unfertile soil and is often seen along Mississippi roads growing on red clay banks. The Dr. Miss professor has crossed an annual variety which produces an abundance of seeds with a perennial variety and hopes the resulting plant may be of extreme importance in erosion control and in providing food for game birds. A partridge pea plant is mounted on the board at left.

Economists Study Skip-Row Cotton Planting In Delta

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Economists studying skip-row cotton planting in the Mississippi Delta have found it to be a profitable practice on the better soils. Where there is enough suitable soil to permit it, they recommend the plant-two-skip-two system for the entire allotment.

Fred T. Cooke, Jr., and Arthur M. Heagler, USDA economists, working cooperatively with the Delta Branch Experiment Station, interviewed 96 farmers in 1962 and 183 in 1963. From their study in 11 Delta counties they reached the following conclusions:

"On better producing soils skip-row planting systems commonly used on Delta farms have an income potential greater than that of a similar amount of allotted cotton planted solid with soybeans on the remaining land, if considered in light of current cotton-soybean price relationships.

"The soil resource situation on any single farm materially affects the skip-row pattern used. If sufficient acreages of suitable soils are available all cotton should be planted 2 x 2. As suitable soils become more restricted, a combination of 2 x 2 and 2 x 1, or 2 x 1 alone should be used. On sandy soils, the 4 x 4 system is slightly more profitable than 2 x 1, but it requires more land to produce an acre of cotton. Since sandy soils are limited on most Delta farms 2 x 1 usually fits better into the farm organization.

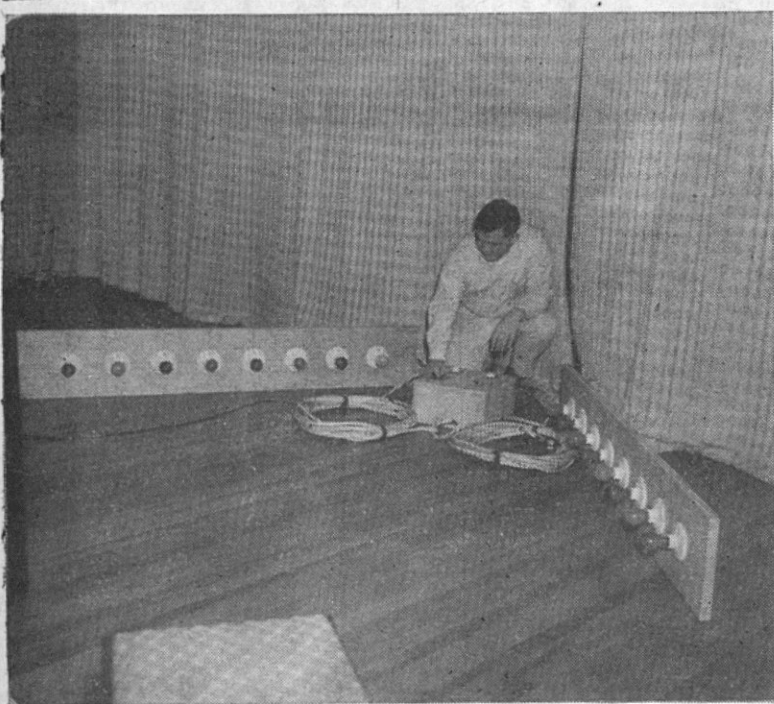

"Production costs associated with skip-row cotton are considerably higher than those of solid cotton. All skip-row planting systems, other than 4 x 4, materially reduce equipment efficiency in peak demand periods.

"When yield responses of 10 to 20 per cent below the average reported for skip-row planting occur, a greater farm income should be derived by planting solid cotton and soybean, with current price relationships."

Savings Bonds regularly under the Payroll Savings Plan. Can I have these bonds issued in my name and the name of my church endowment fund, either as co-owner or beneficiary?

Answer: The answer is no. The only authorized form of co-owner or beneficiary registration is in the names of natural persons. Savings Bonds may be issued in the names of fiduciaries, private or public organizations (except banks), but in single ownership form only.

JOE LAWYER, stage manager, is shown with the automatic dimmer and lighting boards designed for the play, "Squaring the Circle," to be presented in the Northeast Mississippi Junior College auditorium, December 3-4 at 8:00 p.m.

Speech Department At Northeast Is Improving Stage Facilities

The fast-growing Speech Department at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College has begun a long-range plan of improving the stage facilities in the college auditorium.

The first major step was taken with the development and installation of a new lighting system. The new system consists of an alternate sequence of straight switch and rheostat dimmer circuits. With this new step-up, a complete dimming or black-out effect can be attained, adding greatly to the effectiveness of the dramatic productions to be staged at the college.

Coin Convention Set For Memphis November 27-29

Mr. Jack Hollander, President of the Memphis Coin Club, announced today that plans have been completed for the 4th annual Coin Convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., November 27, 28, and 29. This year's show will be held at the Hotel Peabody in the Continental Ball Room.

Mr. Zan Cratch, General Chairman of the convention, states that this year's show will be one of the finest staged in the history of the club. Each year, interest in Numismatics continues to grow at a record pace. This is a hobby enjoyed by all ages and this convention will offer something of interest to both the beginner and veteran collector.

Some of the finest collections in this part of the country will be shown in the exhibition room and competition will be greater this year for the awards being given for the various displays.

Forty-five bourse tables are planned with dealers from all parts of the country attending. Coins on display will total in the millions of dollars.

Preparations have been made for an expected attendance of over 4,000.

Q and A YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

Question: Will I be able to take my Federal income tax refund in Savings Bonds next year? I have done this for the past two years and find it a handy way to save.

Answer: Yes; the tax return you must file before April 15, 1965, contains a line to check if you desire your refund in Series E Savings Bonds. On Form 1040, space is provided on Line 21 of page 1; on Form 1040A, the space to check is in Item 11. Your refund will consist of a bond of the largest denomination that can be purchased from the total amount of your refund, plus a check for the difference.

Question: I own a $1,000 (face value) Series E Bond purchased in June, 1942. Can you tell me what this bond is worth and is it continuing to draw interest?

Answer: In December, 1964, your bond was worth $1,500, or exactly twice what it cost you. Under existing regulations, it will continue to earn interest until June, 1972, when its value will be $1,981.60.

Question: I am a widow buying
