The accident occurred at about 7:50 a.m. near the Peak Geo Garage on Highway 4 three and a half miles west of Booneville.

third vehicle was driven by Brenda Joyce Sims of Booneville, Rt. 3. Officers said that Dr. Strange was going west when they hit almost head-on in the westbound traffic lane. The Arnold car spun around and the car driven by Miss Sims, also traveling east, hit it from the rear.

Dr. Strange suffered a fractured lumbar vertebra, three broken ribs, a fracture of the shoulder blade, lacerations and bruises. Mr. Arnold suffered a laceration of the forehead and Janet Arnold a broken arm and severe lacerations. Brenda Joyce Sims suffered multiple bruises.

Dr. Strange and Mr. Arnold's cars were demolished and the Sims car was also heavily damaged.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolmen C. F. Goforth and C. D. Curtis.

Prentiss Delegation Is Unanimous On PEP Proposals

Results of "balloting" on three major proposals designed to improve the state's economy as presented at the recent PEP (Programming Economic Progress) meeting in this area are being announced today by the Mississippi Economic Council.

The organization said there were a total of 7 "votes" cast by Prentiss County citizens attending the PEP meeting, and that of this number, 7 favored the three proposals, while none were opposed. Also, those attending agreed to present the proposals to four clubs and organizations within the county in an effort to have the groups take a position on them.

The proposals, briefly, call for revamping the state's property tax assessment practices and procedures, in order to make property tax assessments more equitable at the municipal, county and state levels; acceleration of the vocational education program to fill needs in the trade, technical and industrial fields; and improvements in county road administration so as to secure maximum returns from each dollar spent in building and maintaining roads.

Following presentation of facts on the three topics, those in attendance were given sheets on which to score their beliefs about the proposals. Free literature on the three topics is available to any person desiring it by writing P. O. Box 1849, Jackson. Also, civic clubs desiring to have a speaker explain one or more of the topics are invited to contact the MEC speaker's bureau at the same address.

From the 31 counties attending the first 11 meetings, there were 2,034 votes cast, with 1949 favoring the proposals, and 85 opposing. The vocational education program received the biggest endorsement, 705 favoring as to only 7 opposing. The fair property tax proposal was second, with 647 favoring and 27 opposing; the county road administration was third with 598 favoring, and 53 opposing.

MASTERSON EMPLOYEES ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY—Employees of MasterSon enjoyed a picnic lunch at noon Wednesday, Dec. 23, after which gifts were exchanged. City's New Water Well Is Declared About Ready For Final Acceptance

"Next to the air we breathe, water is the most important substance in our lives," Mayor M. W. Smith said Wednesday at noon when officials inspected the new city water well prior to final acceptance. The inspection was made following a 24-hour test of pressure, velocity and volume. The well was flowing at 543 gallons per minute.

Present for the inspection were Mayor Smith, Aldermen Charles Crabb, Charles Steen, E. T. (Rob) Sartin, Lealon George and John Mahaffy, City Clerk O. J. Robertson; Jim Scott, water system superintendent prior to his recent retirement; T. B. Harris, acting superintendent; Leland B. Cook of Cook, Coggin, Kelly and Cook, consulting engineers, Tupelo; and Bob Herndon and J. H. Homan, Sr., of Herndon and Homan Well & Supply Co., Inc., of Shannon who had the contract of approximately $29,000.

The actual acceptance of the well cannot be made until the regular meeting of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen Tuesday night, and although there are some minor details to be completed, this is only a formality. The new well will be put into the water system as soon as samples are approved by the State Board of Health.

Mr. Cook said that this well gives the city enough potential water supply to take care of anticipated needs for at least 30 years, and Mr. Homan commented that Booneville has the lowest water rate for a town of its size that he knows of anywhere.

The new well will serve the heavy industrial section north of town and will supplement the residential area there.

The new well brings to three the number of wells now serving Booneville. Well No. 1 or the City Hall well is in the central business district adjacent to the City Hall. Well No. 2 is located at First Street and Walker Avenue, approximately two blocks from the central business district. It pumps directly into the distribution system at the rate of 500 GPM. The elevated storage tank is located in the central business district one block southwest of the City Hall. It stores approximately 18.5 per cent of the current maximum daily consumption.

The City is supplied water from the Eutaw formation, known for its vast quantities of good water. The well depths are between 400 and 500 feet and have shown no appreciable drop in water level over the years. This type of water is suited for industrial use as it has good properties and a constant temperature. The water-bearing strata underlying Booneville should be capable of supplying the City with adequate quantities of water for the foreseeable future.

Mayor Smith pointed out that every living thing must have water and the progress of an area could depend on available water supply. "Throughout the course of history, civilizations have sprung up and followed the water courses. The water supply is the nation's greatest natural resource. Nearly all industries are thirsty organizations; they require a great deal of water."

"We want to have good, pure water available for our people," Mayor Smith continued, "and we want to have a good supply for industry which we expect to continue to move South."

The City has received a favorable report from the State Board of Health and inspections which showed the three wells will serve a population of 5,000; has 1,830 connections, 1,720 meters with an average daily consumption of 550,000 gallons with a maximum of 750,000.

The State Board also complimented the sewage treatment plant and said, "All responsible personnel must be commended for their excellent maintenance and operation of the plant." In January of 1957 the City put a mechanical treatment plant into operation. The plant is located north of the northeast corporate limits east of the GM and O Railroad. The initial plant consisted of a primary clarifier, high-rate filter, final clarifier, unheated digester, sludge drying beds and a sludge pump. In 1958 a grit chamber and comminutor were added. The plant was constructed for a design population of 4,900 and an ultimate population of 6,000.

Further compliments were received by the mayor from Jack E. Pepper, Water Engineer of the Board of Water Commissioners congratulating him on his work concerning the River Basin Meeting, still another step in the conservation of water.

543 GALLONS PER MINUTE—City officials inspected the new water well Wednesday at noon prior to acceptance of the job from the contractors. At the end of the 24-hour test period Wednesday it is still pumping at the rate of 543 gallons per minute. Left to right are Leland B. Cook of Cook, Coggin, Kelly and Cook, consulting engineers, Tupelo; Jim Scott, superintendent of the water system until his recent retirement; Bob Herndon and J. H. Homan, Sr., Herndon and Homan Well & Supply Co., Inc., Shannon; Mayor M. W. Smith; T. B. Harris, acting superintendent; Aldermen Charles Steen, John Mahaffy and E. T. (Rob) Sartin; O. J. Robertson city clerk; and Aldermen Lealon George and Charles Crabb.

No All-Out War Foreseen During Coming Year; Righteousness Important As Statistics In Business

By ROGER W. BABSON

Promising the people of the United States "peace and prosperity," President Johnson was carried to victory last November on an overwhelming landslide. By nature he is more likely to compromise than to contest. Also, he is deeply sincere in his desire to accelerate the economic growth of this country and to wipe out poverty.

But we must not forget that both Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt promised to keep America out of "foreign" wars. And already the British financial crisis has forced the Federal Reserve to raise its discount rate to 4%—despite President Johnson's dislike of higher money rates. Therefore, as we look forward to 1965 from our more than 60 years of experience in forecasting and analysis, we emphasize once again that the great rolling tides of economic fundamentals and social currents are likely to have a greater impact on what is to unfold than will the campaign promises of successful candidates.

1. There will be no war with Russia during 1965. The Russian people want some of the "peace and prosperity" that President Johnson promised their citizens.

2. Watch Russia's satellites in 1965. They will try to make a deal with the new Moscow Administration which will involve more trade and prosperity and less politics. Following Khrushchev's fall, the satellites will be more consumer goods for their people rather than for more personal freedom.

3. Russia will not bring the Berlin issue to a crisis in 1965. The tendency will be to soft-pedal talk about Berlin until Red China's course of action becomes clearer.

4. Red China made the biggest news in 1964 by exploding a nuclear bomb. In 1965, Communist China's greatest effort will be to gain admission to the United Nations. World leaders cannot ignore this awakening giant with its 700,000,000 people. We believe there is a 50-50 chance that the Red Dragon will get into the UN in 1965.

5. However, Communist China will not risk all-out war in the year ahead. She has neither a sufficient stockpile of nuclear bombs nor adequate means of delivering them in quantity. Red China's biggest use of her new-found nuclear power will be to "blackmail" the West.

6. Regardless of what happens in the next few months, we look for President Johnson to compromise on the situation in South Vietnam sometime during 1965 and move toward "neutralization."

7. Conditions in Cuba are not likely to change radically in 1965. The Russians will do nothing to handicap Castro; neither will they do much to help him. Thus Castro will be unable to deliver the economic help he has been promising other Latin American nations. And with world sugar prices down, the Cuban chieftain will try to make a deal with the United States before the end of 1965.

8. Cutbacks in defense spending will not result in radical unemployment in the U. S. in 1965. Companies and regions seriously affected by the loss of "conventional" defense work will shift to meet the rapid changes due in our system of defense during the next few years.

9. Our Defense Department, under Secretary McNamara's leadership, will increase efforts in 1965 to produce new super-weapons. It is realized there would be no Maginot or other "line" to protect any country in future wars. Control of space will be the new aim in defense.

10. Intensified emphasis on new space-age defenses will provide more jobs in 1965 than the closing down of obsolete installations will eliminate.

11. The stock market will continue to be a paradox in 1965. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average may push to 1000 before any real turnaround takes place. Many stocks, however—including numbers of issues oriented to conventional warfare and defense—will still do little or nothing. Look for greater selectivity in stocks next year.

12. 1965 may be an adventurous time for investors to put very small sums of money into "space" stocks. These are outright speculations, but so were the ventures of Columbus, Magellan, and other explorers of the past. If there were no risk-takers there would be no progress. Such "investments," however, should be well diversified and limited to amounts you would be cashed to lose.

13. Paid dividend payments should increase in 1965—although at a much slower rate than has been the case this year.

14. No assessment of finances in the United States can be made without carefully weighing Britain's plight. We are convinced that unless the Labor Government adopts strictly austerity measures, the pound will fall before the end of 1965.

15. Until the fate of the pound is resolved, short-term interest rates must be kept high to prevent foreigners from withdrawing their deposits held here. Also, domestic demand for credit promises to remain strong. Hence, interest rates will edge upward during 1965.

16. There may be some erosion in bond prices as interest rates move upward, but there should be no massive decline unless a real credit crisis develops. Investors making new purchases would do well, however, to stick now to bonds maturing within five years. Sometime during 1965 longer bonds may become good buys.

17. Inflation fears may rise in 1965; but we do not look for runaway prices next year as productive capacity is too large.

18. More wage hikes are certain in 1965. Liberal concessions won in the auto and other industries in 1964 provide tempting targets for the steel unions and secondary labor groups to shoot at in 1965.

19. To the extent—and this could be considerable—that higher costs cannot be compensated for by price hikes and greater efficiency, profit margins will suffer in 1965. 20. Indeed, the corporate projected 2% cut in the corporate income tax rate next year, we look for only a very slight over-all rise in corporate profits—nothing to compare with this year's huge 20% expansion.

21. Labor disputes will be numerous in 1965. Many labor pacts can, and will, be reopened for wage adjustments during the coming year.

22. Employment will continue favorable in 1965, but additions to rolls will be most noticeable in such fields as teaching, personal services, and government work.

23. Little real progress will be apparent in the drive to reduce unemployment. We are only now just "touching off" the big new explosion in growth of the labor force.

24. Due to rising labor costs, look for businesses to turn even more to automation and labor-saving devices in 1965. Spurred on profit margins will spur cost-cutting and efforts to raise productivity.

25. Because of rising expenses and overwhelming competition, a further increase in failures will be seen in 1965.

26. As a result of automobile strikes in late 1964 and the fear of a possible steel shutdown in mid-1965, we look for a bulge in business volume during the first half of 1965.

27. In a nutshell, business should make new all-time highs in early 1965; after midyear, a tapering-off appears likely. However, 1965 will set another new record.

28. Following the strike interruptions of late 1964, personal income should move smartly ahead to new highs in the first half of 1965—although the rate of advance will slow after midyear.

29. This projected rise in income will be beneficial to retail trade. And though buying in the second quarter may be dampened by heavy income-tax payments due Uncle Sam on April 15th as a result of under-withholding during 1964, the last half of the year will find retail trade in certain lines—such as furs and jewelry—spurred by President Johnson's promised excise-tax cuts.

30. The important automobile industry should post another excellent sales year in 1965, but as the year advances we feel that gains will be harder to come by.

31. The powerful building and construction activities should prove a strong support to general business during 1965—even though we foresee no marked improvement. Some gain in dollar volume will be largely due to higher costs. Apartment building has been overdone in some sections and a breathing spell is logical. One- and two-family houses could post a small increase, but the big market for new housing is still some years distant.

32. Overextension of credit and overbuilding operators have put the real estate market in a bind in many large metropolitan areas. We strongly advise caution in making new commitments, especially in commercial real estate where a thin equity exists.

33. However, even if scarcer than in recent years, there will still be opportunities for selective purchases of real estate in 1965. Each area is a law unto itself. Know your locality and study the direction of growth trends. Farm land bought in the path of expanding suburbs may be a better long-term buy in 1965 than stocks.

34. Non-farm real estate foreclosures will continue in an uptrend during 1965. This should be particularly true in regions where overbuilding of speculative homes has taken place and where cutbacks in defense spending cause local distress.

35. Productive farm land that ends itself to mechanization will not decline in price in 1965. Rising use of farm equipment makes it necessary for operators to cultivate ever-larger spreads. This trend is maintaining the demand for fertile acreage in the farm belt.

36. As 1965 begins, prices for agricultural products are generally well above their lows for 1964. Unless severe widespread drought intervenes, we look for no more than seasonal weakness in agricultural prices during the year ahead. In a word, we do not see any near-term important uplifting forces on the farm scene.

37. The situation in industrial commodity prices is somewhat different. With business heading er in the first half and with labor costs scaling new peaks, industrial commodity prices, with some exceptions, will push upward at least during the coming six months.

38. Living costs will also rise to new all-time heights. And, since President Johnson is committed to getting Medicare passed at this session of Congress, look for hospital, nursing, and doctors' fees to spurt before the end of 1965.

39. Even with federal income taxes already slated to drop a notch next year and with prospects excellent that excise taxes will be cut, rejoicing should be restrained by the knowledge that local taxes will take another uptwist and social security levies will rise again—even faster than the 89th Congress enacts Medicare.

40. Climbing capital goods outlays will be one of the brightest spots for 1965. Gains over this year could run as high as 10%.

41. Further progress in United States exports will be harder to achieve in the coming year. Certainly, if the steel labor outlook appears bad by mid-spring, heavy imports of foreign steel may be resorted to by U. S. businessmen. This would result in a narrowing of our favorable trade balance and have a further adverse impact on the U. S. international balance of payments.

42. Although we are not forecasting runaway inflation for 1965, we do feel that attempts to keep money easy in this country, in the face of a world-wide trend toward tighter credit, will greatly increase the danger of a later inflationary blow-off. Conditions remind us of the late 1920's when the Federal Reserve here kept credit too cheap and plentiful to support the British pound. Hence the eventual collapse came from an even more (Continued on back page)

Pisgah RCDC Christmas Supper

For its December meeting the Pisgah RCDC served a community supper to 34 persons, including club members and non-members.

Rev. H. W. Lay, pastor of P. Methodist Church, gave the devotional. He described Christmas customs in his native England. The group sang "America," followed by a medley of Christmas carols.

The club approved a suggestion by the president, L. C. McCall, that $10.00 be contributed the following night to the Goodfellows Fund.

It was decided that a program be continued, which was held last year of visiting the community aged and shut ins. Door prizes donated by the club were won by Mrs. Hershel Perigo, Mrs. Charlie Perigo, Kathy Perigo, Jack Guin, Willie Hatfield, Marion Morrison and E. L. Hatfield.

A Good Resolution

We all enter the new year with a resolution of some sort, even if it's only a vow not to make any resolutions. If you are in doubt as to what resolutions to make, or would like to add a good one to your list, resolve to help save a life in 1965.

"A good resolution," you say, "but how can I fulfill it?" The answer is simple and the need is great. Give blood when the American Red Cross bloodmobile visits Booneville January 8, 1965 at the Prentiss County Electric Power Association building.

Today blood is on hand whenever it is needed for all Prentiss County residents, wherever they are hospitalized. We tend to take this for granted and do not often stop to think who donates it. We "let George do it."

This year let's turn over that new leaf, give George a hand and resolve to save a life by donating blood ourselves.

100 Years Ago—

Lee's Army Feasted On It's Last New Year

By LON K. SAVAGE

The Confederate soldiers of Gen. week.

Robert E. Lee enjoyed their last. It was a feast put on by the feast together 100 years ago this people of Virginia as a gift of gratitude. The food—tons of it—was brought to a hotel in downtown Richmond where it was prepared by the city's best caterer. And then the feast was carried to the troops in the miles and miles of trenches running between Richmond and Petersburg on the Virginia front.

All told, more than 36,000 loaves of bread were baked for the occasion. In addition, there were piles of ham, beef, chickens, turkeys, venison and mutton for the soldiers.

The feast was held on New Year's Day, and that night Lee's men went to bed with the unaccustomed feeling of being well fed.

Union Christmas
Across the battlefields, Union troops too celebrated the Christmas-New Year's holidays as best they could. A great national campaign had been carried on in the North to provide Christmas dinners for the Federal troops, and ships, laden with turkeys, cakes and pies, hove in at City Point on the James River below Richmond during the holiday season to distribute the food.

Both sides sent out foraging parties to gather wood for holiday fires, and at times the groups encountered each other. The spirit of Christmas usually prevailed on these occasions, and the Federal troops chatted amicably before returning to their armies.

War Drags On
The war, itself, dragged on through the holidays with cold rain and snow falling intermittently on the troops. Soldiers huddled by their fires or in their huts and tents, and Confederate troops, who suffered most from the lack of proper clothing, wished that Santa Claus would bring them shoes.

Every day that winter, deserters left the armies. Especially in the Confederate army were desertions numerous, as day after day a few more Southern troops showed up at Union lines, some of them offering to join the Union army, others simply seeking a way out of the Confederate army.

ELDER TOWNSEND TO PREACH AT MOUNT PLEASANT SUNDAY

Elder R. J. Townsend will preach at Mount Pleasant Church Sunday, January 3 at 2 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBOT
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism,
University of Mississippi

Seventy per cent of the shoppers who perennially leave small cities to buy Christmas needs in distant metropolitan centers gain nothing in variety or savings.

This estimate, made from a study of markets in cities under 25,000, is considered conservative by some retailers. The merchant may justly wonder why local citizens—perhaps his own family—traveled 50 or 100 miles to buy Christmas gifts.

Who is responsible for the recurrent sapping of community wealth? Why is loyalty to the local community so flagrantly void?

The merchant who raises such questions should look first to himself. He may be responsible.

The retailer who fails to inform consumers that his bicycles or doll carriages are attractive in price and quality may be responsible for shopping in metropolitan media.

It is an essential service in retailing to inform the community that variety, brand names, and bargains are conveniently available. The consumer habitually depends upon newspaper advertising to complete a lengthy Christmas list. He can not shop at home if he does not know who has what in local stores.

The shopper, then, often fails his local retailer only because the retailer first failed to provide an essential service through advertising.

RESEARCH IN THE DRUG FIELD

One of the nation's major research projects in the drug field is taking place at the University of Mississippi. The University Research Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences is prospecting for "green gold" testing numerous plants to determine if they possess medicinal or curative properties. More than half the most important drugs today are extracted from plants, or plant material. Mississippi is estimated to have over 100 plants with medicinal value.

FARM INCOME AND MARKETING

From the standpoint of percentage gain, Mississippi farmers outdid all others in the nation last year in increasing their income by the sale of farm products. Mississippi's record farm income gain during the past year was due to larger marketings of farm products partly. Our state's big 1963 cotton and soybean crops, with larger marketings of eggs and broilers, contributed most to Mississippi's farm income gains. With farm marketings this year expected to top the large sales of 1963, biggest gain will be in cotton, cottonseed, soybeans, cattle, eggs and broilers.

During World War I, the Navy's principal job was to assist the British in carrying out antisubmarine activity in the North Atlantic.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By W. TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

May the coming year be a happy and prosperous one for you and yours! Your county agent and the entire county Extension staff wish only the best for you in the years ahead.

PLANNING

Were you satisfied with your farm program last year? Did your cows give as much milk as you would have liked them to give? Did you make as high a per acre yield from cotton? Corn?

Soybeans? How was your calf crop? What about your pastures, did they produce as much grazing as you thought they should?

If your answer is "Yes" to these questions, then by all means continue this year the same program you carried out last year. But if not, why not? What did you do wrong? What are some of the things you are going to change? You can help improve all of these items. Better feeding, breeding and culling should help on the dairy program. By all means keep records on your dairy herd.

How about more fertilizer for the row crops? What about lime? Weed control is a MUST for successful cotton, corn and soybean production. It also helps greatly on a sound pasture program. For more information on how you may step up your production and profits in 1965, we will be glad to assist you.

MEETINGS

January 8 the Mississippi Section of the American Society of Agronomy will hold its annual winter meeting at Mississippi State University — January 14, we will hold the Area Feeder Pig Sale.

SOIL SAMPLING

Now, while there is not too much pressure from harvesting and other farm jobs, is a good time to take soil samples from areas to be planted in the spring.

By taking samples now you should get results back in plenty of time to arrange for the recommended amounts of fertilizer and lime. We can supply you with instructions, soil boxes, and mailing cartons.

Malcolm Carter's son made us smile telling about the college boy, home for the holidays and wanting to show his "learning," who asked his grandfather if he'd like for him to tell him a narrative? When asked what the word meant, the boy said it was a "tale." Later the bright boy asked the elderly gent if he wanted him to extinguish the light. Again he asked what that meant and the boy replied that it was to "put it out."

The tables were turned the next morning when the boy let the cat in the house. Grandfather sternly told him to "catch that cat by the narrative and extinguish it...right now!"

To all of you who were so thoughtful of the guests at Aletha Lodge during the holidays we want to express our sincerest thanks. Each kind gesture was appreciated by them and they had a big Christmas complete with their gifts under a tree, singing, and the holiday foods.

Many of you have recently asked, "Who's at the Lodge now?", so I'll give you a run-down:

Mrs. Ethel Smith, Booneville; Mrs. Lillie Hale, Belmont; Mrs. Belle Patterson, Belmont; Mr. Olen Ramsey, Corinth; Mrs. Cora Harrison, Ripley; Mrs. Lelia Ellis, Corinth; Mr. J. G. Moore, Florence, Ala.; Mr. J. E. Switzer, Corinth; Mr. C. W. Galbraith, Corinth; Mr. Bill Jobe, Rienzi; Mr. Edwin Wilson, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. Oscar Hughes, Booneville; Mr. Luke Senter, Fulton; Mr. Chester Hill, Thrasher; Miss Jessie McGuire, Corinth; Mrs. Daisy Mitchell, Booneville; Miss Clara Mitchell, Booneville; Mrs. Zora Bolton, Booneville; Miss Gertrude Pippin, Booneville; Mrs. Nannie Patrick, Booneville; Mrs. Delilah Meadows, Corinth; Mrs. Birdie Kimmons, Kossuth; Mrs. Otie Ray, Corinth; Mrs. Maud Jones, Saltillo; Mrs. J. D. Knight, Booneville; Mrs. Mary Kready, Corinth; Mrs. Ruth Neal, Faulkner, and Mrs. Lydia Marchbanks, Mantachie.

While I usually shy away from letters unsigned, the following item carried such a good New Year's thought about our youngsters that I decided to print it. I wish the writer could receive proper recognition:

"Old Tom sat under the tree in his favorite chair smoking his pipe. His face had the calm look of a man who lived his life well and was reaping the harvest. Near by sat Tom. He had been away for a good many years and had seen a lot of the world. As they sat there talking over old times and of the days of his childhood, young Tom came along. He was only a small boy—just past his second birthday. As the little one played and the others watched, Tom said, 'I hate to think of what is ahead for my little boy in this awful world. There is so much wickedness and so much more concern than when I was growing up that I can't tell what may be in store for him.'"

"Old Tom knocked the ashes from his pipe and after a long sigh, said, 'Son, you may be right, but that is what I thought when you were growing up. Now as I look back I realize I was very foolish. You know that the same God that made this world still rules over it and that I think He can handle His business pretty well. I have lived through two world wars, a depression and a time of inflation. I will say that there were times when I was worried, all right, but I have never known God to be slack in His promises and about the only thing you and I can do for this old world is to try to make it a little bit better place for the next fellow when he gets here.'"

One of my readers sent in this prayer for 1965, a New Year, a New Hope, a New Challenge, and a New Beginning.

"Steady the world on its onward going;
Steady men's souls as they face the sun,
There will be constant need of guidance
There will be work that must be done.
Thank you God, for a new beginning;
Thank you God, for the hope it brings;
Right the wrongs, and somehow help us
To keep that hope with its feel of wings."

I hope with these thoughts that the New Year is a good one for all of you. Frankly, I'll be glad when school starts again; when I get all the tinsel out of the cracks in the floor; when I get gifts exchanged for the right sizes, and when the very last piece of candy has been eaten.

Till next week,

Scouters Announce Expanded Camp Program Campaign

Northeast Mississippi Scout Leaders Hugh N. Clayton of New Albany and R. C. Liddon of Corinth today announced plans for an expanded Boy Scout camping program for Northeast Mississippi Scouts. Three Scout Camps in the area will be enlarged, modernized and equipped with craft, skill and program equipment and better facilities.

In announcing the $129,000.00 National Campaign to begin January 1, 1965, Mr. Hugh N. Clayton, Council President, stressed the fact that money raised in the twelve counties will be used to provide more and better facilities for Boy Scout campers from that area. Counties included in Yocona Area and served by Camps Yocona, Warriner, and the Explorer Base Camp are: Lee, Itawamba, Union, Prentiss, Alcorn, Lafayette, Benton, Tippah, Yalbusha, Marshall, Tishomingo, and Pontotoc.

"Most of the preparations are centered around Boy Scout Camp Yocona, located thirteen miles west of Pontotoc. Camp Yocona was established in 1940 when our area boasted 610 Boy Scouts. Today—with very few additions—the same camp facilities are serving over 5,100 Scouts in Yocona Area Council," said Jimmy Petersen, Yocona Area Scout Executive. "I think it is obvious why we need to expand our facilities at Camp Yocona."

Boy Scout Camp Warriner, for Negro Scouts, will be updated, principally by the addition of new Scout crafts equipment for a complete program and waterfront improvements.

Yocona Area's Explorer Base Camp at J. P. Coleman State Park at Lake Pickwick will also have additions to its equipment.

Heading the Campaignal Campaign drive for the 12-county area, Campaign Chairman R. C. Liddon, Chairman of the Board of the Security Bank of Corinth, Miss., today announced prominent business leaders of Northeast Mississippi as selections for the Campaign Steering Committee. Each of the following men serves the dual responsibility of members of the Campaign Steering Committee as well as Committee Chairman for individual projects for the campaign.

Mr. Todd Agnew, Vice President of Mid-South Packers of Tupelo is named Leadership Gifts Chairman. Mr. Felix Black, proprietor of Black's Department Store of Tupelo serves as Campaign Booster Group Chairman. Mr. Ed Bauman, manager, Tupelo Division Blue Bell Inc. in the North Mississippi area is appointed Prospect and Rating Chairman for the area. Mr. Jack Reed, Vice President of the R. W. Reed Company of Tupelo is named Memorial and Corporate Gifts Chairman. Mr. Roy Black, representative to the Mississippi State Legislature from Lee County and proprietor of Black's Building Supply of Nettleton will serve as Civic Club Chairman. Mr. George Maynard, Jr., of Anderson-Clayton Cotton Company heads the Audit Committee. Mr. Rowland Geddie, Manager of McGaughey's Stores in Tupelo and West Point serves as Campaign Publicity Chairman.

Other members of the campaign steering committee include: Mr. Hugh N. Clayton, prominent New Albany attorney who is currently serving as Yocona Area Council President. Mr. Leroy P. McCarty, president of L. P. McCarty & Son wholesale grocer supervises the entire council budget as Finance Chairman. Mr. Ray Purnell, president of Purnell's Pride, Inc. serves as Camp Development Chairman. Mr. Jimmy Petersen of Tupelo Yocona Area Council Scout Executive.

During 1964, members of the U. S. Coast Guard were responsible for saving nearly 3,000 lives and rescue of ships and cargo valued at more than 2.1 billion dollars.

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY

Reports

Scientists in the Department of Plant Pathology and Weed Science at Mississippi State University have research sights set on a microscopic worm feared as one of the South's most prevalent and destructive pests.

The enemies are nematodes — one of the most serious production problems of a wide range of crops. Root-knot nematodes are a kind that are common and highly damaging in Mississippi and the South.

Mississippi State University researchers — through the Agricultural Experiment Station — have concentrated heavily on this type of nematode in their overall research program.

THE ROOT-KNOT NEMATODE under attack makes plants unthrifty, yellowed, stunted and unproductive by damaging the roots. Reduced yield, many times, is disguised by no obvious harm above ground.

Plant pathologists here have discovered and pioneered development of one method of controlling root nematodes, the breeding of resistance qualities found in certain species of a plant into desirable and productive species of that plant.

It's time-consuming, but the method is considered to be the perfect way for complete control over the deadly worm pest. The control comes with the seed.

The other two methods — fumigation and crop rotation — aren't so sure. Fumigation is a production cost each year and plant pathologists believe it may not be possible to work out proper crop rotations.

Dr. W. W. Hare, head of the Department of Plant Pathology and Weed Science at MSU, was the first pathologist to discover nematode resistance in pepper. It came in a hairy, small-leaved variety from South America with tiny, yellow, very hot fruit. He screened this resistant plant from some 190 worldwide varieties.

Much time and effort is now being spent at State to transfer this resistance — found in a single dominant gene — to a usable variety.

THIS MSU DISCOVERY was the first proven case of simple inheritance of resistance to any nematode in any crop and it spurred a chain reaction.

Dr. E. L. Moore, horticulturist, and Dr. Hare confirmed discovery of a single gene in tomato similar to the pepper gene. Dr. A. B. Wiles, associate professor of plant pathology, has proven superiority of double-gene resistance in cotton and has shown that this can be moved into upland cotton.

Dr. D. C. Bain, professor of plant pathology, has discovered a resistance to nematodes in clover.

The discovery that a single gene controlled resistance in peas and that it can also be used in a breeding program for control was made by Dr. Hare.

Development of resistance is continuing in each of these crops with the ultimate objective being a high resistance to root-knot nematodes in desirable varieties of all crops plagued by the pest. Researchers predict a fasty from the killer in some of these crops soon.

Veterans May Get Information About Insurance From VA

All veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict who believe they are eligible to purchase the new GI insurance beginning May 1, 1965, can get full information at Veterans Administration regional offices throughout the country.

VA has urged those who can to visit or telephone the regional office nearest their home while those who live at too great a distance may write for a printed information sheet, outlining the provisions of the new law. In the Southwestern area, letters may be addressed to VA Regional Office at Waco, Houston, Lubbock and San Antonio, Texas; Shreveport and New Orleans, Louisiana; and Jackson, Mississippi.

All eligible veterans will have ample time to acquaint themselves with the choices of insurance available since applications for the new insurance cannot be accepted before May 1, 1965. Veterans will then have until midnight, May 2, 1966, to purchase the insurance.

'Minor' Defects Have Major Effect, Declares March of Dimes Doctor

Big ears and misshapen noses have long been treated as amusing targets of low comedy. Often the people behind the defective features join in the laughter more heartily than anyone else.

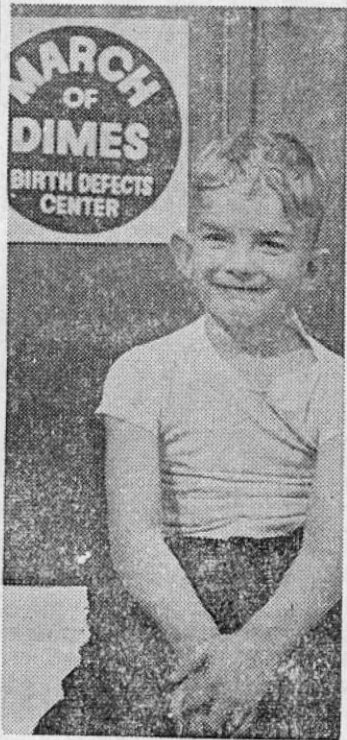

Now doctors wonder if it's such a laughing matter. "Doctors are beginning to suspect that many so-called minor defects may be a crippling to emotional and mental development as a gross deformity is to physical growth," says Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the division of congenital malformations of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

"In the 50 March of Dimes birth defects centers that have been opened across the nation in the last several years, we have seen an increasing number of these problems."

As an example, Dr. Apgar described a little Nebraska girl born with an ugly mass of hair extending from right shoulder to forearm. The rare defect—actually a huge birthmark—didn't prevent normal use of the arm. But it was so disfiguring that it aroused other children's taunts. By the age of four, the pretty child had withdrawn into a shell, worrying her parents and inciting fight youngsters who poked fun at her "hairy" sister.

According to the child's parents, no one gave them any hope of improving their daughter's appearance until they took her to the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha. Plastic surgeons removed the hairy surface and replaced it with skin grafts. Physicians believe that by the time the girl reaches high school, she'll scarcely remember which arm showed the upsetting quirk of nature.

In the vanguard of medical researchers studying deformity and accompanying psychological problems is a group at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Dr. Milton Edgerton, professor of plastic surgery there, says studies show that children with deformities, even minor ones, often feel "apart from the human race" early in life. He advocates correction of the deformity at an early age, where possible.

"We all know children or adults who have somehow learned outwardly to adapt to defects. We tend to think that there is no problem and to disregard the tremendous human aching to be like everyone else, at least to the degree of not feeling deformed," Dr. Edgerton says.

Dr. Eugene Meyer, associate professor of psychiatry and medicine at Johns Hopkins, is convinced that in 99 cases out of 100, a sense of deformity, however minor, stunts and cripples not only a child's self-esteem but his relationships with others.

The Baltimore group is concerned with prevailing attitudes of disdain and amusement toward what is popularly known as "cosmetic surgery." Jokes and sly references to "nose jobs" and other cosmetic surgery indicate an underlying feeling that such procedures are prompted by vanity.

In psychiatric terms, Dr. Meyer traces prejudiced attitudes to the Puritan idea that "the Lord made you this way and you shouldn't tamper with it."

"We've seen changes which are hard to believe in terms of people being freed from a sense of deformity for much greater interest in the various tasks of life," Dr. Meyer asserts. "The surgery doesn't put good spirit or productivity into a person, but it does remove blocks to its expression."

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Coats Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary, Dec. 27

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Coats of the Blackland Community, near Booneville, was the scene of a most joyous and festive occasion Sunday afternoon, December 27. The celebration spirit was not only the result of the holiday season, but also the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Coats.

The home was decorated with Christmas and anniversary arrangements. Friends and relatives from far and near gathered in the dining room as the honored couple cut the cake. The tiered cake was bedecked with roses, wedding bells and a large gold "fifty." The centerpiece for the table was created by one of the couple's sons. The arrangement featured angelic cherubim, flanked by poinsettia blooms on a background of gold leaves and golden wedding bells.

The Coats' seven children were hosts for the occasion. Miss Kay Coats, granddaughter, presided at the guest book. Sixty-eight guests registered during the afternoon. A special guest was Mr. Jim Daniel of Rock Creek, Alabama, who attended the wedding fifty years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Coats were married in Barton, Alabama. THE ATTACK ON CONSERVATISM Stirred by the narrow win of John F. Kennedy to the presidency in 1960, the liberals — that is to say, the blood brothers of the socialists and the communist accommodationists — began feverishly to determine how they might best break down what they deemed the "conservative rebellion" that was going on in the country. They could envision an end to their ambitions if this were not done.

As an aside, let it be noted that by constant attack on the word "conservative" itself, they have since then convinced even some of sound conservative philosophy that the term should be dropped and some other word used in its stead, that it has now come about that the term "conservative" has a certain stigma attached to it and that it would be harmful to continue using it.

The trouble is not with the word "conservative"; the trouble is that those who believe in the conservative philosophy simply haven't got what they mean by "conservative" across to the people generally. As far as I am concerned, I like the word conservative. Conservatism is patriotism. To be a conservative is to be one who wants to conserve what is best of the past and build on it for the future; is to be one who believes that the principles enunciated and adopted by the men who founded our government are just as true now as they were then, and will be just as true a thousand years from now as they are today.

A liberal, on the other hand, believes that there is nothing in the past worth conserving, that the principles on which our government was founded are now outmoded and outworn, and must be replaced by other principles. These other principles, as identified by the so-called liberals, always turn out to be the principles of socialism. They seem to think these socialist principles are new, whereas they are actually much older than conservative principles. They have been tried time and time again throughout history and have always failed.

Abraham Lincoln did not use the words conservative and liberal, but he stated the problem quite well when he said:

"If destruction be our lot, we ourselves must be its author and its finisher. As a nation of FREE men, we must live through all time or die by suicide."

If we adopt the principles of liberalism we will no longer be free men, and we shall indeed be committing suicide. However, the attack on conservatism has gone on with intensified vigor the past four years, and is continuing.

The most dangerous attack, due to the financial and political power back of it, was instigated by the Reuther Memorandum. In the Fall of 1961, Walter and Victor Reuther called on Attorney General Robert Kennedy and laid out an oral plan on how to destroy the "conservative rebellion." Mr. Kennedy requested that the plan be submitted in writing, which was done on December 19.

Except for distribution to a chosen few, the memo was kept secret for almost two years. Some of the courses of action they recommended the Government take were (1) Muzzle the military by issuing orders against speeches or articles opposing Communism; (2) Stop listing pro-communist organizations exclusively as subversive and add the names of conservative organizations; (3) Stop the flow of funds to conservative organizations by finding some pretext for removing tax-exemption; (4) Use the power of the FCC to investigate radio and television stations carrying conservative programs; and (5) Curb the activities of J. Edgar Hoover who "exaggerates the domestic Communist menace at every turn and contributes to the public's frame of mind." At least four of these suggestions are in operation now, and the proof is overwhelming.

This attack on conservatism is being actively carried on by Group Research, Inc., an arm of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, and by the recently formed National Council for Civic Responsibility, sponsored by the tax-exempt Public Affairs Institute. Both these organizations are doing their best to destroy the conservative philosophy in this country.

All patriotic citizens should be aware of what is going on, and resist with all the vigor at their command the efforts made to destroy the principles that have made the United States a great nation, and that must be maintained if we are to remain a great nation.

In 1899, the USS New York and the USS Massachusetts were the first Navy ships to use Marconi's wireless telegraph.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
Fear not, only believe.
—(Mark 5:36).

There may be times in our human experience when mind and heart question the reason for things. It is then that we should realize that we are children of God and that nothing can separate us from Him; that God's power is our power. His strength our strength and if we turn to Him in prayer all misgivings will vanish.

Food prices have risen less than most other goods and services in the past few years.

Prentiss ASCS County News

By CHARLES E. CALVERT, Office Manager

Deadline For Filing Price Support Applications Getting Close
The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county office is reminding farmers that the deadlines are drawing close for filing applications for price support on a number of 1964 crops. An approved application entitles a producer to receive price support through loans or purchases of the commodity by Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

January 31 is the official final date, but since January 31 falls on a Sunday, the effective deadline will be February 1, 1965. Crops include grain sorghum, soybeans, and wheat. Corn applications may be made until May 31, 1965.

County support rates and maturity dates for the crops listed above are as follows:

Grain sorghum, $1.84 per hundred-weight, March 31, 1965; Soybeans, $2.24 per bushel, July 31, 1965; Wheat, $1.34 per bushel, February 28, 1965; and Corn, $1.21 per bushel, July 31, 1965.

Growers are reminded to keep close watch of the condition of commodities stored on the farm. Condition and quality of the crop will be the determining factor in the price producers get if they decide to deliver the crop under the support program at the end of the season.

Cotton Marketing Quotas Approved
Farmers have approved marketing quotas for the 1964 crop of upland cotton, O. E. Bostick, Chairman, Miss. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced.

The preliminary returns from the December 15 growers referendum throughout the cotton-producing states show favorable votes by 96.3 per cent of the total 300,533 cotton farmers voting. Approval by at least two-thirds of all the growers voting is necessary in order to make the quotas effective. In Mississippi, about 98.5 per cent of the votes cast were in favor of the quotas.

Approval of the quotas by cotton growers means that (1) price support to growers who do not exceed the farm's acreage allotment will be at the full level available, (2) additional price support in the form of payments will be available to growers who keep their acreage within the farm's "domestic allotment" and meet other provisions of the program, and (3) marketing quota penalties will apply to any excess upland cotton will be 50 per cent of the upland cotton parity price as of June 15, 1965.

Feed Grain Program Achieving Goals

Increased participation in the feed grain program this year as compared with 1963 meant that farmers planted about 7 million fewer acres to feed grains, according to Orville E. Bostick, chairman of the Miss. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee. Farmers signed up to divert a record of 34.3 million acres of feed grains to soil-conserving uses in 1964; 23 million acres of this was for diversion from corn.

As reported in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's November "Feed Situation," this increased program participation is showing up in the reduced 1964 production of feed grains (estimated in November at 136 million tons, 20 million below last year's record). Other factors contributing to the smaller crop have been dry weather in some areas, which reduced the national average yield about 7 per cent from last year's record high, and smaller harvested acreage — down 5 per cent below last year and 21 per cent below the 1959-60 average.

The smaller crop, however, was partly offset by a rise of 5 million tons in carryover stocks into 1964-65 — to 69 million tons. While feed grain consumption for 1964-65 is expected to decline slightly, it is expected to exceed the 1964 crop by about 11 million tons. This would reduce the carryover into 1965-66 to around 58 million tons.

Corn has accounted for much of the reduction in the feed grain supply for 1964-65. At 5,052 million bushels, the corn supply is 377 million below a year earlier. The 1964 crop of 3,541 million bushels is expected to be nearly 300 million below total use, reducing carryover next October to around 12 billion bushels. Supplies of each of the other feed grains also are down from a year earlier. Of the grains included in the feed grain program, supplies of oats and barley are down 4 per cent and the sorghum grain supply is down 8 per cent.

Feed grain prices in 1964-65 may average a little above the year before, continuing the general upward movement of the past three years. Higher 1964 loan rates for feed grains and reduced production will give strength to prices. Signup under the 1965 feed grain program will take place early next spring.

In May, 1964, the Coast Guard placed in operation the world's first atom-powered lighthouse in Chesapeake Bay, Md. It is anticipated that ultimately automatic facilities will supplant many of the manned light stations now in use.

dangerous level.

43. It is unlikely that the United States will raise the price of gold during 1965. However, we may well see the calling of a monetary conference to deal with the weakened British financial situation and to attempt greater liquidity for world currencies generally.

44. As far as gold stocks are concerned, they are already high and should only be held in 1965 as insurance against the long-range trend toward higher world prices for gold.

45. The silver coinage situation will become more acute as the year progresses. The 89th Congress will be forced to consider a new silver coinage act. If it is not passed in 1965, it will be shortly thereafter.

46. Returning to the all-important foreign scene—since we are very much wrapped up in the future of the Free World—we forecast further instability among the Russian leadership. Khrushchev's ouster marked only the beginning of the coming power grab in Moscow. The real leader has not yet emerged.

47. Ascendancy of the African and Asian nations to a position of control in the United Nations will force the United States in 1965 to take action alone when vital spheres of influence are violated. The UN will become even more of a debating society; and month by month the chances grow dimmer that we will ever again see United Nations troops used for rescue operations such as in Korea or the Congo.

48. Following the British crisis, General de Gaulle will work harder than ever in 1965 to unite Europe as a great third force between Communism and the United States. President Johnson is well aware that the winds of change are blowing strongly in Western Europe. 1965 could see the beginning of the end for transatlantic union as envisioned by U. S. Administrations during the past two decades.

49. World-wide credit problems and restrictions on trade cast dark shadows on investment prospects abroad. Many nations which have shown great growth during the past 20 years will be poor risks for new commitments during the year 1965.

50. In conclusion, we recall the statement of a former President of
