BOONEVILLE, MISSISSIPPI, THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1966

NO. 49

Highway Beautification Act Of 1965 Discussed At Forum Here Thursday

A forum on the Highway Beautification Act of 1965 was held at the Prentiss County Electric Power Association building Thursday night, February 24, with officials of the State Northern Highway District discussing various phases of the program.

The forum was sponsored by local clubs and Mrs. W. V. Kemp of the Town and Country Garden Club and chairman for arranging the forum opened the meeting and introduced the highway officials before turning the meeting over to Roy C. Adams, Northern District Highway Commissioner.

Mr. Adams told the group, "We are happy to have the chance to come here and tell some of the things we have already been doing along this line, and now we should make some real progress."

Later in the meeting Mr. Adams said, "Enough money is spent on litter each year in the United States to build two miles of four-lane highway in each state every year. And it is something all of us can do something about."

Tom Davis, attorney for the highway district, said, "Many hearings will be held before the final operating details of the Act will be settled."

He told the group that Title I of the act is concerned with outdoor advertising controls; Title II with control of junkyards; Title III with roadside development and acquisition of land for preservation of natural beauty; and Title IV has to do with financing. He also explained that failure of a state to comply with either Title I or Title II would result in a 10 per cent reduction of all federal highway money to the state, or 20 per cent for failure to comply with both.

Some of the facilities and programs already underway in the district were discussed by A. E. Long, district horticulturist, who also told how plantings are used for beauty as well as to cut down maintenance.

Conservation and erosion control were described as a functional part of the program by P. E. Bates, Tupelo division agronomist. Mr. Bates said when highway development was started in the state in the 30's note much concern was given to drainage and erosion and it was not until the 50's that really constructive measures began to be applied. He said that in the future new design, research, and cooperation with engineers will prevent many such problems.

Speaking on safety, Fred H. Marett, Tupelo division engineer, said, "Beautification and safety are related and nearly all construction and maintenance work is safety work to us."

He said a minimum of 25 per cent of federal funds must be set up for safety projects and this can be used to help correct accident spots. He told of some of the corrective safety work already being done, and said the department is encouraging safety schools to teach defensive driving.

W. E. Holmes, district administrative engineer, told the group, "We are proud that through the oversight of Mr. Adams we have about a 10-year head start on this

$142,000 Loan Is Approved To Build Big V Water System

A loan to the Big V Water System for the development of a community water system to serve 150 families in the area east of Booneville has been approved. The Banner-Independent was advised this week in telegrams from Senator James O. Eastland, Senator John Stennis and Representative Thomas G. Abernethy. The loan in the amount of $142,000 will be insured by the Farmers Home Administration.

The Big V water system was organized last fall and work was begun then toward the acquisition of a waterworks. Officers of the system are Roy Lowery, president;

O. C. Hare, vice president; Irene Hare, secretary; William Walden, Ralph Hare, Lyle Pippin and Mrs. Thelma George, committee members.

Booneville's city water system does not extend to that area and the line serving the area this side of the Big V is only a 3/4-inch main. However, there are some private lines in the area.

Plans of the committee are to build an upright tank in the Big V neighborhood, between the Big V intersection and Liberty Church. There will be approximately eight miles of pipe laid with large mains in accordance with government specifications.

Included in the area to be served by the new system will be from Big V to the Old Bentonite Mines on Highway 4; Highway 30 to beyond Martin Hill Church, down the road from Liberty Church to the Arthur Walden community, to the Sportsmen's Club, down the Price Bracken Road and many of the smaller roads to reach the 150 families.

Mr. Lowery said that construction would begin when approval has been obtained from the necessary state offices and after the corporation charter is received, and "will likely be 60 to 90 days."

HEART FUND WORKERS are shown working to reach the goal of the 1966 campaign. They are left to right, Mrs. Clovis Rogers, Memorial Chairman, Mrs. Mary Bynum Hambrick, Heart Sunday Chairman, Mrs. Harold Spain, Campaign Chairman and Mrs. E. E. Camp, Heart Sunday Worker. Mrs. Hambrick said it is obvious before our county is complete contributions are below last year's county. She continued "I sincerely hope that residents who were not at home Sunday will mail in the pre-addressed envelopes left at their home." The success of the Heart Association fight against heart disease, inborn heart defects, high blood pressure and the many other heart and circulatory diseases depend upon these gifts. The Heart Fund, a Business and Professional Club project is indebted to all the workers.

1966 COTTON PROGRAM

Made up your mind yet about what route you are going to take in the 1966 cotton program? This is a problem that requires a lot of serious thought. A miscalculation can cost you money!

We have information on "Valuation of Alternatives in the Cotton Program." This gives specific comparisons of income returns from different planting patterns and percentage acreage reductions.

Here is an example: A farmer has a 154-acre cotton allotment. He has 200 acres of excellent, good and fair cotton land, plus 200 more acres that he can use for cotton or other crops. The cotton land is 50 per cent excellent, 25 per cent good, and 25 per cent fair.

At a 12 1/2 per cent reduction rate the best planting patterns would return $1,890 less net income than the 25 per cent reduction rate at the best planting patterns.

If he decided to reduce 12 1/2 per cent and plant solid, his net return would be around $1,800 less than if he were to reduce 35 per cent and plant solid plus 4 x 4 skip row.

We will be glad to discuss your individual operation with you.

TIMBER MANAGEMENT

Good timber management means more farm income and more quality timber. Here is some management advice to help you realize more profit from your woodlands:

Make sure the timber area is properly stocked with good trees. Thin periodically when the stand of trees become overstocked. Cull out low value trees that are overcrowding better trees. Protect your trees from fire, disease and insects.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL

It costs money to use chemical weed control, but it will cost you more money to leave it off!

Labor is too scarce and weed

Marietta Graduate Writes Letter

Dear Graduating Class of 1955,

Marietta High School,

Time sure flies by and here we are in 1966. I have thought of you often since our reunion and intended to write. (I really enjoyed seeing the ones who came and regret that I didn't get the letters out earlier so that perhaps more could have come.)

We have moved since last summer. My husband is now a Drill Instructor at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina (would you care to join?) and I am working at The Beaufort Gazette, the local newspaper. I only work three days a week so I can get away from house work. ha! Glenn's job is about a seven-day week here. Saturdays and Sundays are full of activity as well as any other day. He is a career Marine and has been in eleven years. He is originally from Liberty, Texas, near Houston.

We have two children; Cindy, a little girl, age 7, in second grade, and Terry, a little boy, age 4, who has yet to be still five minutes unless he is sleeping.

I'd love to hear from you. I hope to see you at our next reunion.

BROILER AND EGG

INDUSTRY EXPANDING

Both the broiler and egg industry are expanding in the state. The number of hens and pullets of laying age in the state in mid-1965 producing fresh market eggs total-control machinery too high for farmers to try to use these methods when chemicals will do the job more economically.

Chemical weed control must be done accurately and on time. If best results are expected, there cannot be a delay or variation from the recommended times. Too much or too little chemical is also the wrong way to do the job.

Be sure to read and follow label recommendations on use of any farm chemical.

Creating Poverty

A leaflet published by a union states: "This session of Congress must also increase the amount and broaden the coverage of the FEDERAL MINIMUM WAGE—the most effective means of combatting poverty."

This union is entitled to its views and to press for legislation which it wants. But a great many people who have studied the matter hold grave doubts that increase after increase in the minimum wage, coupled with broadened coverage, is the way to help the poor. In fact, they think it is more likely to have the opposite result.

To begin with, arbitrarily increased wage rates, which are not geared in any way to a worker's value and productivity, cannot help but force commodity prices up and give another boost to inflation. The burden of that must fall on those least able to bear the added burden—pensioners, recipients of welfare, and the great numbers of people who live on modest fixed incomes from one source or another. It is certainly evident that every time prices rise more poverty is automatically created.

Secondly, these arbitrary wage rates which are not reflected in productivity can severely limit opportunity for employment. The employer is forced to cut marginal employment to the greatest extent he can. This is especially apparent in such service businesses as retailing. And thus the unskilled have less chance to get jobs and gain the experience that will qualify them for higher pay.

Many a plan, well intended for improving the lot of lower-income groups, has boomeranged. That is inevitable when wage rates are pegged by law at unreasonable levels.

"Come, Gent'e Spring!"

March 20th will be a welcome date. For on that day, Spring will officially come again. The precise moment will be 8:53 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

In many parts of the country, this year's Spring will be greeted with even greater relief and enthusiasm than is usually the case. The winter which now nears its end has been a vicious one generally. There have been record or near-record snowstorms, freezes, gales and floods. But now these searages are approaching their end.

Spring, every Spring, is the season of new life. All of nature burgeons. The trees put out their bright leaves, the flowers bud and bloom. Everywhere there is the sound of birds, safe and warm in their nests. The beings which live in the woods and the waters flourish and produce their young. And Spring brings a lift to the heart of man, whatever his problems and troubles may be. It is an inspirer of hope; a renewer of faith and purpose. It is, or should be, for all of us a time of beginnings. And one may pray that before this splendid season ends some new and meaningful rays of light will find their way into our troubled world.

Many years ago, the poet James Thompson wrote: "Come, gentle Spring! ethereal Mildness! come." It is a feeling that is universally shared.

Supervisors Director Seeks Federal Funds For Fire Ant Eradication

MOSS POINT, Miss. — Director of the Mississippi Board of Supervisors, Eddie Khayat, Moss Point, will contact the Mississippi Congressional delegation to pull out all stops in an effort to restore matching federal funds for the imported fire ant eradication program.

In making the plea, Khayat pointed out that county allocations during the past years amounted to more than $250,000, appropriated on a matching basis. "Few programs, if any, draw local money and support to this extent," Khayat said.

"Certainly this indication of local interest should provide our Senators and Congressmen with sufficient ammunition to get the federal matching appropriation reinstated," he added.

Khayat said that fire ant infestation in Mississippi has spread to the point that 63 counties are now infested, with the remainder in danger of infestation unless funds for eradication and control are restored.

"It's time that local leaders recognize the degree of damage caused by the imported fire ant in our state," Khayat continued. "The time has come to turn this pest around and drive it back into the Gulf of Mexico."

The Board of Supervisors leader said that insecticides for controlling the pest are available, along with adequate technology and trained personnel to do the job.

In conclusion, he said that he believes that Congress will provide sufficient funds when it knows the

Local Business

A newspaper advertisement is not just something for the advertiser to publish and then forget.

By informing salesmen and store personnel about current advertisements or advertising campaigns, a business can increase sales greatly.

A tie-in of advertising with salesmen in the retail outlet serves six basic purposes:

1. Both salesmen and advertising say the same thing, and the consumer buys with more confidence.
2. Part of the salesmen's work is already done before consumers ever reach the store.
3. The proof that a product is as useful as it is advertised to be can be shown by demonstration in the store.
4. Sales can be increased mainly through a gained impetus to the

MRS. ED JOHNSON

What can we do to fight communism?

Our first step is one of education—ours and our children. Second, we should investigate carefully before joining groups with seemingly worthy objects but which may be communist front. Third, know and watch the communists pattern. Remember, their goal is world domination. They create a crisis; they threaten, or seem to threaten, peace. Next they make unrealistic demands in order to shift the emphasis from a shooting war to a talking session; then they try to get world opinion behind them and call for negotiation—for the West to come in, sit down and talk things over; after this they agree on small demands; thereby showing the world their "reasonableness" and peaceful attitude, and finally they take whatever gains they've made through this crisis, relax their threats and wait for an opportune time to begin the pattern all over again.

Fourth, we should screen all organization. Don't waste time on extremist groups, but join those with serious intent such as Radio Free Europe. Fifth, we can pay special attention to the foreign students and visitors making sure they see America as it truly is. Sixth, we can read about our enemy, share our books and knowledge with our friends and, seventh, we can learn more about and support our American system.

By knowing in our minds and hearts the strengths of our system and the weakness of communism, we are doing a greater service to our country than we may ever know. The unrelenting battle with our evasive enemy is one that must be fought by individuals. We live in the greatest nation the world has ever seen. We have abundance beyond the wildest dreams men dreamt centuries ago. Let's strive to keep it that way.

Ormsby Rutledge, in his New Albany newspaper, quoted Tommy Bargas of Jackson, Miss., who wrote the following poem concerning the liquor raid of the Jackson Country Club several weeks ago. It is entitled, "Sir Shelton," the name of the sheriff who made the raid.

Sir Shelton swooped down like a wolf on the fold
His victims all garlanded in glitter and gold

Of a long night of gaiety, laughter and drink
500 strong they were, poised on the brink

But hatchet in hand, like Carrie Nations of old
Sir Shelton appeared, both determined and bold

"Now hear me, ye people" he spoke to the throng
"I've smelled of your brew and I find it too strong

You can stay at this party, you can dance, laugh & cheer
But you'll do it with ice cold Coca-Cola and beer

So Sir Shelton, he took all the whiskey away
Down to the courthouse where, I guess, it will stay

But the axe he was grinding may soon turn to rust
'Cause he sure poked a hole in the pie's UPPER CRUST.

Marilyn Kelton's daughter, Cindy, age 4, is used to seeing seamless hose on most women now-a-days, so when her grandmother appeared wearing ones with a seam down the back, Cindy said, "Mi-ma, what you mean wearing hose with zippers in the back."

And Marilyn also told about Mark Richard telling his mother he had milked a calf while "helping" his uncle Harold. His mother insisted that he meant a cow, but the youngster remained steadfast and finally said he'd draw a picture. He then drew a picture of a milk bottle, and said they put powdered stuff and water in it and shook it up and that he gave it to the calf and that he really did "milk a calf."

Our family joined our folks, Mr. and Mrs. Long who had been in Maggie Valley, N. C. for a week, at the home of my brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard White, Jr. and their two children, Riley and Margaret Ann, in Montgomery, Ala. for the week end. We had a most delightful time; my sister-in-law really cooked delicious food, and the children entertained us.

Howard Jr. is Purchasing Agent for the state and has been for several years; however Saturday we saw his offices for the first time. He has 19 (I think) employees and every desk was piled sky-high. Howard said when he went into office they spent about 18 million a year—now, with almost everything going through the office, they spend approximately 200 million, and that he hardly ever has any time off.

We enjoyed touring the capitol and talking briefly with Governor Wallace who said, "I'm for Mississippi."

But the good part of the visit was—especially for the boys—that they gave us their boat—a small cabin cruiser which we pulled back Sunday afternoon. We couldn't get it in our yard, so it's parked at the Aletha Lodge. The boys plan to paint and fix it up.

And local people might also be interested in knowing that Howard, and his wife, Ella Mae, are part owners of the Aletha Lodge.

The employee's pay envelope, through error, contained a blank check. Gloomily he handed it to his wife and said: "Just as we thought—my deductions have finally caught up with my salary."

Two young women met on the street and stopped to chat. One remarked, "I hear you've accepted Frank's proposal. Did you know he once begged me to marry him?"

"No," the other acidly responded, "but he confessed that he had done a lot of silly things before he met me."

Discovering at the last minute that he had forgotten to invite an elderly church member to the picnic, the minister hastily telephoned her. "It's too late," she curtly answered. "I've already prayed for rain."

Till next week,
Helen

salesman by using the advertising copy as an outline by which to show the product.

5. Salesmen can learn to know and "believe" in what they are selling.

Some businesses on the national scale show their sales force copies of newspaper advertisements before they are run.

Most all large companies send copies of their advertisements to their personnel and sales force in one way or another. But the program is effective even for the smallest retailer.

Consumers save when merchandisers know about the advertising campaign going on in the community. Time and money are saved because the consumer doesn't have to "read between the lines" to find out exactly what he is buying.

Local grocers practice just this precept when they clip out their newspaper advertisements and paste them on front windows, or when they have separate copies printed for their customers to use as a shopping list.

TAKING COTTON MARKETS—By spending millions in research and promotion, higher-priced synthetic fibers are taking cotton markets rapidly. This builds up cotton stocks and results in acreage cuts. Discussing the problem and grower plans to fight back are (left to right) W. T. Robertson, Holly Ridge; R. W. Coleman, Okolona; and W. H. Holley, Marietta. Commenting on legislation which would enable growers to vote on establishing a uniform assessment for research and promotion, Mr. Holley said, "The program would be self-help. It would be controlled by farmers. Initiation and execution of all projects would rest solely in the hands of a beltwide producer group."

Odes Hatfield Rites Sunday

Services for Odes C. Hatfield, landowner and farmer of Booneville, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday in Waters Funeral Home with the Rev. T. L. Parker officiating. Burial was in Lebanon Cemetery. He was 64.

He was born June 16, 1901 in Prentiss County, the son of Mrs. Essie Hodges Hatfield and the late Mr. Jack W. Hatfield.

Mr. Hatfield was one of the most progressive farmers that Prentiss County has had in a long time. When his health failed him, he was the owner of the large James A. Cunningham farm, near Marietta, and well on the way to financial security.

He was a good Christian man and could be found on the helping side of every good cause. He was a thinking man, a good student, many people sought his aid and counsel on many difficult problems. He never failed a friend. His advice and example could well be followed on progressive farming.

He will be greatly missed by those who knew and loved him. Mr. Hatfield died Wednesday, February 23 in a naval hospital at Charleston, S. C. He was a Methodist.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Geneva Hatfield; a son, Major William H. Hatfield of Charleston, S. To The Mississippi Legislature: Will You Help Me?

Ellisville State School—the institution where our handicapped children live—needs help desperately. These children, who need so much more help and care and understanding than the normal child and who get so little, could have their lives changed and brightened unbelievably if the money were available to provide this help.

One year ago the allocation for Ellisville was not raised at all even though the patient count rises continually. Thus, instead of the residents getting better and better care, actually there is less money to spend on each person because the money must be spread thinner and thinner to provide for more and more patients.

May I present some statistics on Ellisville? There are TWO medical doctors there—mind you, this is to care for 1300 residents. There are TWO registered nurses, there is ONE dentist, ONE dental hygienist and ONE dental assistant. And of these professional people, the federal government, through grants pays the salary for one of the doctors, one of the nurses and the dental hygienist. There is no hospital, no infirmary, no isolated room, no isolated bed in which to care for a seriously ill patient or for a seriously ill patient to receive 24 hour care. Contagious disease can run rampant because a sick person must be cared for right in the regular dormitory—right in the regular huge sleeping wards.

ON THE LOCAL SCENE

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hamblin and Laurie of Cape Girardeau, Mo., spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Rob Hamblin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Caldwell, Cindy and Timmy of Washington, D. C., spent part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Vance Caldwell, Joyce and Ricky. The Caldwells will be in Washington until June 18, then they will be back home in Memphis.

Mrs. Myrtle Wroten has returned home from the local hospital.

VA Answers Vets Questions

Q.—Since I purchased my home on a GI loan, I have been transferred to a job in another city. What can I do?

A.—On all VA home loans, the veteran remains liable on the note until the loan is paid in full or he is released from liability by the VA. When you receive orders to transfer, you should immediately attempt to arrange a sale of your property and when a purchaser is found, obtain a release from liability from the VA.

Q.—A dear friend of mine, a veteran of World War Two, died without friends or relatives. Due to our long association, I arranged a funeral and paid the bills. Will the VA reimburse me for my expense?

A.—Yes, at least in part. The VA pays a statutory allowance up to $250 towards the burial of a veteran who was honorably discharged from a period of wartime service.

Q.—Does a "General Discharge under Honorable Conditions" have any bearing on the eligibility for veterans benefits as related to an "Honorable Discharge"?

A.—Either a "General Discharge under Honorable Conditions" or an "Honorable Discharge" are acceptable for Veterans Administration benefits.

Q.—If I apply for release from liability on my GI home loan how long is required to obtain such a release?

A.—Three to four weeks, depending upon how quickly credit information and employment verification can be obtained on your purchaser.

July Fourth is on Monday this year.

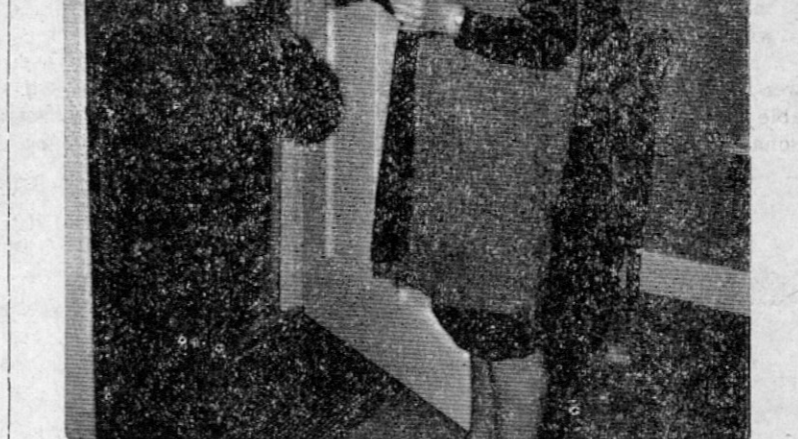

There have been marvelous changes at Ellisville in the past few years, but we need to help EVERY person there and not just a few.

Can Mississippi afford to spend more money on these people?

The present daily expenditure for each resident is $2.81. This amount covers housing, food, clothing, medicines—anything and everything that is required for that person. This $2.81 includes the salaries and wages of all employees at Ellisville, all purchased provisions (such as food, clothing, medication, etc.), fuel, light, water and all other maintenance expenditures. This also buys each person a Christmas present (everyone receives a gift at Christmas) and for things such as the Fourth of July picnic, etc. In other words, this $2.81 per day provides EVERYTHING for the maintenance of a human being at Ellisville State School.

Our Legislators who visited Ellisville almost a year ago compared the new rehabilitation program with the program for the average patient at Ellisville... you could almost say the comparison would be like comparing the Governor's mansion with a low class housing district here in Jackson. But we don't tear down the Governor's mansion because the low class district exists. Rather, we help to eliminate the poor district. We build, and repair, and make it better—build upward rather than tear down.

This is what we ask for Ellisville. That we build all of Ellisville up to a decent standard of living. That we give EACH resident the opportunity to progress to the limit of his ability.

Have you ever visited a mental institution? Probably not. Can you imagine YOUR children being fed, clothed and given a place to sleep—but then having practically nothing to look forward to day after day, week after week, with one day running into the next without hope of anything better? This is the plight of our children at Ellisville unless we support this program to bring education, training and rehabilitation to them. Please help me do something about it. Remember almost 1/4 of these residents could be economically independent and another 30% could work in sheltering workshops. Can we afford to spend more money on these people? We cannot afford not to. We cannot afford to waste these lives. Thank you.

Very sincerely,
(Mrs.) Lorraine Vallado

Sin is a disagreeable word that millions shun. It casts a shadow of separation. It raises chill thoughts of an impenetrable and eternal barrier between humanity and God...

Forgiveness on the other hand is a warm and inspiring word. It promises that life's slate can be wiped clean. It brings us close to God - and to one another.

An Execution on a Friday centuries ago... an Empty Tomb in the dawn of the first Easter Day... a Faith that has gripped human souls for all the generations since - these are forever entwined with the stark realization of man's sin and the blessed assurance of God's forgiveness.

That is why, when we think deeply of the meaning of these words - of their implication in our own lives - we find ourselves at the very heart of the Christian religion.

And it is why these soul-stirring weeks at the threshold of Christ's suffering have long been the time for such searching thought!

...and FORGIVENESS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Soybeans May Be Planted On Feed Grain Acreage

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a modification in the 1966 Feed Grain Program to permit participants to plant soybeans on feed grain acreage and also receive the price support payments they would have earned if feed grains were planted.

This carries out President Johnson's message to the Congress on Food for Freedom pointing to the desirability of increased production of soybeans.

Domestic and export demand for soybeans has been increasing substantially each year since 1960. Today's action highlights the flexibility of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. The Act authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to make this modification if needed to encourage a shift of acreage to soybeans from feed grains for which supplies are more than adequate to meet foreseeable needs. Under the feed grain program, participants who divert 20 per cent of their feed grain base acreage to conserving uses earn price support payments. These payments are based on the projected production on 50 per cent of their feed grain base acreage. The payment rates are 30 cents per bushel for corn, 20 cents per bushel for barley, 53 cents per hundredweight for grain sorghums.

Under the modification announced today, participants may plant all of their feed grain acreage permitted under the program to soybeans and earn their total feed grain price support payments.

Previously, producers diverting a minimum of 20 per cent of their acreage could have planted soybeans on the 30 per cent of their feed grain base and feed grains on the remaining 50 per cent to be eligible for their price support payments. Today's action makes no change in the diversion provisions of the program.

Under the 1966 program, no diversion payments are made on the 20 per cent acreage diversion required as a minimum for participation in the program, except for small farms. Payments for added diversions are at 50 per cent of the county support rate times the projected yield per acre and times the acreage diverted. Special diversion payment provisions apply to small farms.

No change is being made in the diversion provisions relating to substitute crops. Soybeans are not authorized by law as one of the crops that may be planted on diverted acres. Under this provision, certain crops may be planted on diverted acres with the diversion payments reduced in varying amounts depending on the crop. These were announced Jan. 19.

The individual producer is free to plant soybeans at any percentage of his permitted feed grain acreage that he may choose without loss of feed grain support payments. Here are four examples showing how the option may be exercised:

Feed Grain (Corn, Barley, or Grain Sorghum) Base—100 Acres.

Requirement.

- Plant 30 acres to soybeans.
- Plant 50 acres to feed grains.
- B. Divert 30 acres
- Plant 35 acres to feed grains.
- Plant 35 acres to soybeans.
- C. Divert 50 acres
- Plant 50 acres to soybeans
- D. Divert 20 acres
- Plant 80 acres to soybeans

In each of the foregoing examples, the acreage planted to soybeans will be considered as planted to feed grains. The producer will remain eligible for the full support payment computed at the 1966 support payment rate, times the projected yield for the farm times 50 per cent of the farm base.

April 1 Deadline To Sign Up In Diversion Programs

Every cotton farmer in Prentiss County must indicate by April 1, 1966 his intention to participate in the Upland Cotton Program. Even though small farmers will make no reduction in the planted acreage, they must file an application for the price support and small farm payment at the County ASCS Office on or before APRIL 1, 1966.

Farmers who want to participate in the feed grain program have through April 1 to file their intention. With the change in regulations permitting the substitution of soybeans for corn, there will be an added interest in the Feed Grain Program.

Visit the county office if you have any questions about the cotton or feed grain programs.

DAIRYING IS IMPORTANT

While dairying herds are not as numerous as beef herds in the state, dairying is an important source of income to approximately 9,000 milk producers in the state. Some 2,400 of these producers sell Grade A milk, and their production amounts to over 78 per cent of all commercial milk produced. This Grade A milk alone had a value of $38 million in 1964.

Washington is 40 miles from Baltimore.

The table set with handsome silver and polished crystal was centered with a design of pink mums and English ivy to open the garden season, with a theme of pink and green. The tapers encircling the centerpiece were entwined with graceful sprays of foliage, giving springtime freshness to the setting.

"Discover Mississippi '66" Program Is Launched By Gov. Johnson

JACKSON, Miss. (Special) — A major new campaign encouraging Mississippians to "discover" their own state was announced here Wednesday by Gov. Paul Johnson at a special meeting of news media and other public service groups.

The program, developed by the Travel Department of the state's Agricultural and Industrial Board, includes a broad public service advertising and publicity drive to inform the state's citizens about attractions worth seeing in all parts of Mississippi.

"Discover Mississippi '66," as the program is called, was presented by the Governor to a large luncheon audience at the Hotel Heidelberg in Jackson.

Details of the campaign were outlined by Charles "Chuck" Wynn of Ocean Springs, chairman of the A&I Board's Travel Committee, and restaurants, hotels and motels, chambers of commerce, Jaycees, auto clubs, advertising firms, public relations groups and others.

"All sections of the state will be affected by the program," O'Brien said. Each of ten advertising will feature a different section of Mississippi, and will urge its audience to "Discover Mississippi" for themselves.

"We're getting millions of people to come to Mississippi every year from all over the country," Wynn said, "but there are many thousands of Mississippians who may not even be aware of the beauty and attraction of their own state."

"We hear a lot about keeping money in Mississippi," O'Brien said. "Through the interest and enthusiasm of Governor Johnson, this is the first time the Travel Department has made a concerted drive in this direction."

Gov. Johnson said, "We're enthusiastic about this program, and hope many of our citizens will 'Discover Mississippi' for themselves in 1966."

Paris' population is 8 million.

AGRICULTURE WILL CONTINUE AS "BIG BUSINESS"

Ever since Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin, agriculture has been a big business in Mississippi, but the present changing nature of the state's economy and of agriculture itself is placing a decided emphasis on the "big" and on the "business." The average farm size is now 168 acres which means that there are fewer but bigger farms producing more products. The first fully mechanized cotton crop in the nation was produced a number of years ago near Clarksdale. Improvements in farming have been made in insecticides, making it possible to keep boll weevil and other harmful insects out of cotton and other crops during the critical growing and producing seasons. Herbicides, insecticides and fertilizers now permit a degree of control over production not dreamed of during the old days of "plant, hope and trust" farming.

North Mississippi Woman's Society To Meet At Wood JC

The 26th Annual Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild, North Miss. Conference, will convene at Wood Junior College, Ma-thiston, Miss., March 19-22. Guild sessions are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, and Woman's Society sessions for Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. H. E. Jones of Sallito, conference president, and Mrs. S. J. Hull of Pickens, Guild secretary, will preside at the meetings of their respective groups.

Carrying out the theme, "A New Age Calls," the program will offer special music, brief reports by officers and workers, a memorial service, election of officers, service of Communion, and various other features. Visitors will be honored by a tea in the President's Home, and a fellowship dinner on Monday evening will honor district officers and local presidents.

Sessions are to be held in the recently completed auditorium, the furnishings of which are being provided through a project of the conference woman's organization. The meeting will close at noon on Tuesday, March 22. Full attendance from throughout the conference is being urged, with each local group asked to designate one voting delegate and to send as many others as possible.

During the Service of Communion a love offering will be placed on the altar, to which each local Woman's Society and Guild is to make a contribution. This special offering

A Winter Evening

The day's work is done, The farmer sighs with content His wife gazes tenderly upon His farm so lately bent.

They both feel a peace within A gratitude to their Creator, Whose mercy in blessing them Preved Him a loving Savior.

The simple meal is daintily spread Parents and children humbly bow While thanks for daily bread Ascend to God in love, now.

The meal over, dishes are done, Now comes time for wholesome fun. In jokes, games, and stories told By merry lips and hearts truly bold.

The father from his Bible reads Verses of comfort and commands Stories of miracles and divine deeds To teach his sons, greatness in man.

This done, each one contentedly to bed retires Trusting all to a mightier power Whose loving arm encircles them Through every dark and gloomy hour.

SCA Sponsors Many Programs

"A public office is a public trust" is the policy of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Student Government Association. The nine members who compose the S.G.A. have taken their offices seriously. Proof of this is shown by the different programs that the S.G.A. has successfully carried out this year.

The S.G.A. is responsible for all school elections, the primary and most important one being the Who's Who Contest. At Northeast this year the Homecoming was carried out by the conscientious effort of the S.G.A. Of outstanding benefit to the students is the operation of a second hand bookstore. Realizing the importance of the Vietnam situation, the S.G.A. drew up a resolution supporting the United States' action in Vietnam and presented it to the student body for approval. The result was an overwhelming majority in favor of the resolution.

That school spirit is an essential to a ball team is another philosophy of the S.G.A. As a result of this philosophy, a fan bus was provided so that more of the student body might travel to a recent game at Delta State Junior College. Each

Thursday Study Club Takes Trip

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jack Gardner, members of the Thursday Study Club traveled by color slides to Mexico City, Acapulco, Taseo, the Yucatan and other points of interest.

As she showed her pictures, Mrs. Mary Bynum Hambrick, who recently took this delightful tour, South, gave historical background and interesting comment.

Following the program by Mrs. Hambrick, the hostess served a pretty refreshment plate of chicken salad finger sandwiches, tangy cheese balls, dainty pecan tassies, and hot spiced tea. Ten members were present.

Services For Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham Held Monday Morning

Mrs. Evelyn Alexander Cunningham died Saturday morning at the Northeast Miss. Hospital following an extended illness.

Mrs. Cunningham was the daughter of the late John Bruce Alexander and Mrs. Edna Walthall Alexander, who were prominent in the life of Booneville for many years. Mr. Alexander served as Mayor of Booneville from 1928 to 1932. Prior to 1925, he was an appointee to the office of United States Marshall from the Northern District of the state.

Mrs. Cunningham was recognized in her leadership in the local and state Order of the Eastern Star, having served with distinction as Grand Worthy Matron and Grand Treasurer of the Mississippi Grand Chapter.

She was a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Peyton Walthall. Mr. Walthall was one of Booneville's earliest industrialists.

Mrs. Cunningham was a graduate of the Booneville High School and Grenada College, where she was a speech major. She was a member of the Booneville High School faculty, as a teacher of speech, and she later taught in the latin department, for several years.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. Robert Blythe Cunningham in 1958, a much loved physician, who had the distinction of being a member of the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham were married December 31, 1921. To their union one son was born, John Robert Cunningham.

Mrs. Cunningham was a faithful member of the First Methodist Church and a member of the Morning Circle of the W.S.C.S. She was a member of a Commission on Missions.

She was a charter member of the Booneville Golf and Country Club, of the Northeast Mississippi Historical Society and a dedicated member of Natchez Trace Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She was interested in the organization progress and growth, and held the office of registrar. Her Revolutionary patriot was Joseph Randolph.

As National Patriotic Chairman, her spirit of patriotism was evidenced in the constructive discussions she led, delving deeply into the heart of the issues involved and her efforts were outstandingly effective. She was a patron of the fine arts, and the religious, civic, cultural and social groups in which she was active felt the influence of her intellectual charm, her grace as a hostess, and her interest and leadership will be greatly missed. To adhere to ethical standards was a pattern of her life. A lovely person with quiet dignity, courageously, she accepted her frail health with exceptional fortitude and through a strong spirit of independence, she always drew first on her own resources.

Any development drive to beautify our city found a strong ally in Mrs. Cunningham. She had a special reverence for the old landmarks and she often stressed the importance of their preservation. Services were held at 10 a.m. Monday in McMillan Funeral Home with the Rev. W. R. Richerson officiating. She was buried in the Booneville Cemetery.

She leaves a son, John Robert Cunningham of Greenwood; a sister, Mrs. Paul R. Cochran of Oklahoma City, Okla. and four grandchildren.

Pall bearers were Messrs. William Young, Norman Taylor Young, Stewart Vail, W. T. Barnett, Jr., J. W. Abernethy and Marion Smith.

Attend Funeral

Mrs. W. H. Wall of Drew, Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Young of Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Howser of Memphis, John M. Curlee of Marks, John Muse of Atlanta, Mrs. Neal Biggers, Mrs. Tommy Cooper, Rev. E. H. Cunningham, Floyd Cummings, of Corinth, Col. and Mrs. Van Stubbs and children of Baldwin attended services for Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham, Monday morning.

The English Department sponsors two school publications; The Beacon, the school newspaper, and The Torch, the school yearbook. Under the direction of Mr. James Rhodes, these publications are instrumental in recording the highlights of the college year. Sandra Perry, New Albany, editor of The Torch and Barbara Crouch, editor of The Beacon, are assisted by other journalistic minded students interested in presenting the life and activities of Northeast.

English majors who transfer to senior colleges find that they are equally as well prepared as their classmates who began in the same senior college. It is with a great sense of pride that the officials of Northeast report that many of these young people have graduated and are now teaching English or working in some related field.

Another organization sponsored by the English Department is the English Club. English Majors find this organization to be an avenue for a great deal of knowledge and enjoyment. Man May Do Something About The Weather Besides Talking

The day may be coming — and coming soon — when man will have greater control over the weather. He already has achieved some control, although he doesn't use it very often.

The National Academy of Sciences and the National Science Foundation recently urged a far greater expenditure of federal money for weather research. They said this might make it possible.

- To modify or steer hurricanes away from populated regions.
- To suppress hurricanes before they develop.
- To change the course and violence of cyclones.
- To break up or prevent tornadoes.
- To abolish persistent regional smogs.

Man already can control the weather to some extent. He can increase rainfall from certain kinds of clouds by at least 10 per cent. He can suppress crop-damaging hailstorms to a certain degree. And he can reduce the number and danger of lightning bolts in thunderstorms.

Cloud seeding is the most common method of weather control in use today, according to the World Book Encyclopedia.

"An airplane may drop dry ice, salt particles, water spray, or other substances into a cloud in order to 'seed' it," World Book explains, "or silver iodide seeds may be released from the ground and carried into the cloud by the wind."

"If the conditions are favorable, tiny droplets of water from the cloud collect around each 'seed' and fall to the earth as rain or snow."

"Cloud seeding methods have also been used to get rid of fog and to prevent fruit trees and other crops from being damaged by wind and hail. By seeding the clouds before they reach an area with valuable crops, experts can sometimes reduce the strength of a storm and save crops from harm," the encyclopedia continues.

Although the seeding process has been known for more than a decade, it is not often used. For instance, no seeding was attempted during New York's critical water shortage last summer.

Scientists hope to see greater use of the weather-control techniques we already have. They also hope that more money spent on research

Mrs. Ray M. Gibson, Jr., Is Honoree At Open House In Maxwell Home Sunday

Hospitality was most charming at the Colonial white pillared home of the O. L. Maxwells on College Street Sunday afternoon. Their cordiality was reflected in the genuine warmth of welcome at Open House from 2 to 4. While guests admired the classic beauty of one of the handsomest homes, both structurally and esthetically, in the area.

The event hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Mary Gault Nabers and Miss Sadie Gault was in honor of Mrs. Ray M. Gibson, Jr., the former Miss Mary Grace Nabers, whose marriage has been recently announced.

As you approach the front door of the long porch supported by glistening, massive white columns, a close up view of the architectural beauty and the details that give the house much of its character is gained. This is a house where a family can live as they please today, tomorrow, and twenty years from now. Because of that, it is a house that is destined to become more deeply rooted in their affections with every passing decade.

You will be inspired by a fresh sense of the lovely past and it is stately beyond the boundaries of place or time. With marks of individuality every room in the house boasts at least one new idea, designed to ease a care, add a comfort or best of all multiply the sources of delight.

With classic overtones, the home is furnished with antiques. The house embodies the old and the new, with complete harmony. The Maxwell's home captured the sturdy authentic character of Colonial America seasoned with a rich legacy of design motifs and art objects. Today the house reflects the realities of contemporary living. The full sweep of space across will lead to other and more effective ways of controlling weather. Mark Twain said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." Modern science already is doing something about it — and hopes to do more.

the front of the house is a marvelously flexible area for entertaining as well as a warm human environment for family living.

Miss Sadie Gault received the guests at the door, wearing an all white brocade silk designed with a bolero.

Guests registered at the gold mirrored console, adorned with a fresh, spring nosegay nestled with a single candle. In the foyer, the honoree met guests wearing an aqua silk with a delicate tracery of self embroidery on the bodice with which she wore white carnations. Mrs. Mary Gault Nabers, mother of the bride, wore a pale blue lace dress with soft pleated skirt of chiffon. Mrs. Maxwell, standing with Mr. Maxwell wearing a royal blue crepe sheath. Both mothers wore white carnations pinned at their shoulders.

A striking design of lupines, roses, grapes, and foxgloves, spilling from a large earthen urn, in cascade effect, was a dramatic arrangement with the graceful contour of the stairway as a background to accent the enchanting hospitality. Nearby two Victorian chairs in rose velvet were arranged for a conversation group. A marble top table was graced with the century old family album. The colonial atmosphere is further emphasized by the arrangement of a love seat and two chairs of early origin. Placed near the fireside, they are an irresistible invitation to genial conversation.

The beveled mirrored Victorian mantel which was adorned with a cut crystal bowl of miniature roses with two antique candlesticks as companion pieces, was a feature of interest.

Carpeting throughout in an embossed design in deep pile antique gold, subtly complements the blend of colors. A traditional stereo with tonal dimensions that whisper with the full beauty of music was ornamented with a modernistic design of springtime blossoms. Restful, with a few well chosen pieces of furniture, the first floor contains the classic virtue of tradition, with the major imperative of contemporary living.

rary living.

The dining room is quite separate from the living room, but each room is enhanced by its open view of the other.

The refreshment table was presided over by Mrs. H. G. Ewell, Misses Sue Kimbrell, Harriett Moore and Gaye Roden, Mrs. Nelson Baldwin, Mrs. A. V. Dixon, Mrs. R. A. Kimbrell and Mrs. L. W. Peeler.

The lace draped table, had an off-center arrangement, a lovely cluster of green carnations, interlaced with a veiling of green net with five graduating avocado green tapers, rising from the center, giving a high note of softness and graciousness for special occasion elegance.

The exquisite chandelier, a bouquet of light, and hand cut crystal, showered with prisms on silver branches, gave a soft diffused gleam to the table scene.

A choice array of delicacies, finger sandwiches, tarts, petits fours ornamental and delicious gave a pastel decorative touch on silver trays.

The silver punch bowl was wreathed with nosegays of green carnations and clusters of green grapes. The bridal theme prevailed in the table accessories.

As you round the corner of the foyer, one is impressed with the magnificent space of the second living room extending across the back of the house, which is conducive to family relaxation. The bare open brick of the chimney with its rosy texture, the huge raised hearth and uncovered brick wall is a highlight of the home. Accessories with brass fixtures and a copper weather vane on the wide expanse of brick and the embers of a gleaming fire adds charm to this friendly room. Warm rich stained wood is repeated in the kitchen, which is placed strategically and superbly equipped at the east end. The music room is equipped with an organ and piano. A glass window wall gives a beautiful view of the patio and its ancient trees.

Further expressing the family's fondness for music, a tv set and a record player are enjoyed in the family room. A hallway from this room is adjoined by a utility room and half bath, with an outside entrance, to the breezeway. Sliding glass doors, in this area and in the Master bedroom make the spacious patio convenient for the family's outdoor life.

Three bedrooms on the lower floor in traditional designs, rejuvenated by contemporary color, create in these rooms an atmosphere which is both serene and spirit lifting.

The second floor is a spacious setting for the younger generation, with well defined separate areas with realistic planning, which meets the needs of teenagers. There are three bedrooms on this floor, a library and study, and a sewing room. The six bedrooms are served with four baths. The festive powder rooms and built in vanities hold many delightful surprises in which the house abounds.

There are many features of the Maxwell home, with new colors inspired by the beautiful old colors of hospitality, that give the heart and soul to a home.

Stephen Maxwell Nabers and Sam Galloway guided the guests on a tour of the home.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLAUDE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

GO AHEAD AND ACT on that springtime urge to plant a garden. Maybe you don't have room for a large one, but you'd be surprised at the production you can get from a few tomato plants in a flower bed.

The March-April "Garden, Fruit and Flower Guide" lists some new varieties of beans, peas and tomatoes you may want to try in your 1966 garden. It gives other timely gardening suggestions. Ask for a copy at my office.

For more information on gardening in a small area, ask for a copy of "Gardening Without a Plot." If you are going into gardening in an extensive way, you will want a copy of the gardening manual, "The Year-Round Home Garden."

MARCH PLENTIFUL FOODS

You can look for generous supplies during March of peanuts and peanut products, potatoes, fresh oranges, prunes and prune juice, rice and eggs.

HOMEMAKING HINTS

Instead of discarding worn white socks, launder them in hot suds and cut off the toes. Then store them with your emergency kit to use as a ready-made bandage for a scraped or cut knee or elbow. Just pull the heel over the joint for a snug protective cover.

When a recipe says to "cook in boiling salted water," use one teaspoon salt for each quart of water.

When you buy a pesticide, be sure to check everything printed that comes with it—read the label and any folders or circulars that may be tucked into the box or tied to the can or bottle. On this printed material you will find directions for use and cautions about hazards when used.

TO REMOVE LIME DEPOSITS, fill bottles or pitchers with suds and about 2 tablespoons of vinegar. Let them soak, swish the suds around, then rinse and dry. To deodorize a vase, add a little chlorine bleach to the rinse water.

WHEN BUYING CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES by the yard or factory-made, be sure to read the label. In addition to fiber content, some labels will tell how much the fabric is likely to shrink, the dye and finish used and how to care for the fabrics.

Miss Barbara Jo Green Honored At Bridal Shower Saturday

A host of well-wishing friends and relatives gathered Saturday afternoon, February 26, at the home of Mrs. Feak Geno to honor Miss Barbara Jo Green, bride-elect of Sammy Owen, of New Albany, with a bridal shower.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Feak Geno, Mrs. Thomas Keenum, Mrs. Douglas Jumper and Mrs. John W. Green. Mrs. Geno and Mrs. Keenum greeted the guests as they arrived. Mrs. Jumper and Mrs. Green served refreshments consisting of cake, punch, dainty sandwiches, nuts and mints to the guests. Misses Sheila and Diane Geno assisted with the serving.

The honoree received a wide assortment of gifts, which were displayed during the shower.

The honoree looked lovely in a full skirted dress of pink dotted Swiss. Special guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Joe F. Green, who wore a three piece suit of blue wool, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ernest Owen of New Albany, who was attired in a three piece brown and beige suit. All three wore white carnation corsages.

Calvary's W.M.S. Circle Meets

The Elizabeth Merritt Circle of Calvary Baptist Church met Monday night for their monthly meeting with Miss Jessie Pressley. Fourteen members were present.

Mrs. W. K. Wallace, program chairman, was in charge. The meeting began with the Call to Prayer, with Mrs. Charles Rowan leading the prayer. Mrs. Wallace then presented the program, "Teaching Missions in the Church." Those taking part in the discussions were Mrs. Charles Rowan, Miss Hortense Morgan, Mrs. Herschel Pressley, and Mrs. Shelby Barnes.

Mrs. Charles Crabb closed the meeting with prayer, asking God to bless those who prepare material used to teach missions in the churches and that each WMS member be deeply dedicated to the cause of Christ.

Miss Pressley, assisted by Mrs. Mose Johnson, served a delicious plate with cold drinks. The next circle meeting will be with Mrs. R. C. Crabb.
