Prentiss County Grand Jury To Convene Here Monday

When the Prentiss County Grand Jury convenes here Monday, August 1, during the first week of the regular August term of Circuit Court, it will have a larger task facing it than usual for the county, according to Circuit Clerk Roy Lowery.

Mr. Lowery said that while the number of matters expected to be presented for Grand Jury consideration at this term is not nearly so large as some of the adjoining counties, it is still unusual for Prentiss County.

The Grand Jury will be selected from the first week jury list. The complete jury list appears elsewhere in this issue.

The circuit clerk said that the State Docket, which is normally considered during the first week of the court term, already contains 38 cases and any indictments received number Tuesday.

BOONEVILLE'S MISS HOSPITALITY, MISS BECKY GULLETT

Miss Becky Gullett Representing Booneville In Contest At Biloxi

Booneville's lovely Miss Hospitality, Miss Becky Gullett, left yesterday for Biloxi to represent Booneville in the annual Miss Hospitality Contest. The eighteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gullett, Jr., Becky was chosen by the local civic clubs in June to participate in activities during that month including welcoming visitors at the Hospitality Booth and attending meetings of the civic organizations.

Held at the Buena Vista Hotel in Biloxi, the state contest will consist of four exciting days, climaxing with the crowning of Miss Hospitality by Gov. Paul Johnson Saturday night, June 30.

Becky's busy schedule began yesterday with registration, publicity photographs, a luncheon, and an interview with judges Ralph Danford, director of travel promotion for the American Petroleum Institute, in New York; Mrs. Sara Harrison, supervisor of Georgia's "Welcome Stations;" and Jim Riggs, executive editor of Better Homes and Gardens. The highlight of the day was a Dude Ranch Party, Gulf Hills Dude Ranch, Ocean Springs.

Today and Friday will consist of modeling instructions, a luncheon given by the Buena Vista Hotel, dinner, courtesy of the White House Hotel, a dance tonight sponsored by the City of Gulfport and the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce, and a Yatching Party Friday night aboard the Pan American.

Saturday, Becky, along with the sixty-two other representatives from all sections of the state, will attend the "Miss Hospitality Breakfast" followed by more judging and rehearsal. Saturday night at 10:00 Gov. Johnson will crown Mississippi's eighteenth Miss Hospitality at the Coronation Ceremony which will be followed by a reception at the Buena Vista Hotel.

Among the hosts for the contest will be Miss Ann Kitchens of Batesville, the now reigning Miss Hospitality, Mayor Dan Guice of Biloxi and Commissioners Tony Creel and D. A. Fallo.

The new Miss Hospitality travels about 25,000 miles during her reign attending two or three of the country's largest travel shows, where she is an eye-catching attraction at the Mississippi Booth in her hoop-skirted ante-bellum costume symbolizing the hospitality of the South.

Accompanying Becky is Mr. and Mrs. Gullett and Bill.

Ralph G. (Buddy) Smith Is Selected As First Regional Star Farmer From State

Ralph G. (Buddy) Smith has the distinguished honor of being Mississippi's first Star Farmer of the Southern Region. Buddy, who lives 12 miles east of Booneville and who is a past recipient of State Star Farmer, received the news Tuesday afternoon that he is the most outstanding Future Farmer in the 12 Southern States and Puerto Rico.

Along with the three other regional Star Farmers of the nation, he will attend the National Convention in October and from the four regionals, the Star Farmer of America will be selected.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Smith, he is 21 years old, married to the former Miss Josie Lester and they are the parents of a 14-month old daughter, Lori Sue.

Merrill Cartwright, Booneville High School Vocational Agricultural instructor and F.F.A. advisor said Tuesday, "This is a signal honor for Buddy and for Prentiss County. We've been working toward this achievement since he was a freshman." Mr. Cartwright is a former national F.F.A. Vice-President and is a close personal friend of Buddy's.

There are four degrees in F.F.A. membership beginning with the Greenhand and followed by Chapter Farmer, both of which are awarded locally. The state organization selects the next degree — that of State Farmer. One boy per 100 members or about 100 boys since Mississippi has approximately 10,000 F.F.A. members are selected yearly. From these 100 a State Star Farmer is selected and Buddy received this high honor.

Membership in Mississippi has been increased just recently to approximately 14,000 with the combination of F.F.A. and N.F.A.

The next and highest degree obtainable is the American Farm Degree which is awarded by the national association and approximately 10 boys a year from Mississippi receive this award.

From American Farmers application, the national association visits them, screens them closely and selected one from each region as a regional winner. From the four selected over the nation, of which Buddy will represent the Southern Regional, the State Farmer of America will be chosen and along with that title goes a cash award and a tour of foreign countries as a Goodwill Ambassador.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith purchased a 1340 acre farm when Buddy was born, and as he grew up, he developed a deep love for farming. He is a well-rounded person, taking a keen interest in his church, his community, Northeast College where he has been a student, and his family.

In high school he was a talented saxophone player in the band, a basketball player and a Boy Scout.

However, while very young, he became adept enough to handle a tractor and supervise the work while his father was busy as principal of New Site School which had a summer session until this year. He and Mr. Smith became partners with Buddy buying half of the entire farming operation including cattle and equipment. In November, 1965, Mr. Smith deeded 42 acres of the most fertile land on the farm to Buddy in appreciation for his years of service.

The farm has shown the result of dedicated work; much has been done in improvement of the soil; more and better farm equipment has been added and over 700 acres of the land is covered with pine, supplemented with seedlings where needed.

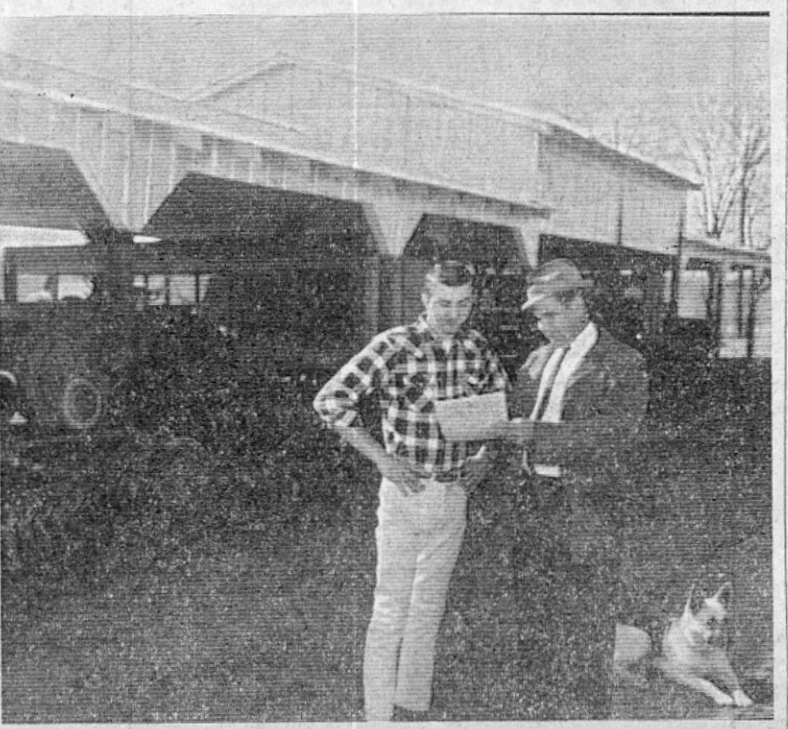

In the livestock field, particular attention was given to registered Hereford stock. In the State Fair, he won state Reserve Grand Champion male the first year he entered; both Male and Female Grand Champion in the Hereford Show the second year he entered and two first place winners and the Reserve Grand Champion the third year, in addition to many numerous district awards.

He also concentrates on the importance of higher yields per acre

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Smith are shown on either side of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Smith and Lori Ann, following announcement Tuesday of his selection as Southern Star Farmer. The picture was taken at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Cartwright who have worked untiringly to help this deserving person receive the recognition.

Ralph G. (Buddy) Smith is winner of the Southern Regional Star Farmer award, signifying that he is the most outstanding Future Farmer in the 12 Southern States and Puerto Rico.

Merrill Cartwright, right, F.F.A. advisor, is shown checking some of the extensive and accurate farming records which Buddy keeps for their farming enterprises.

Dalton Garner Attends Reunion

On July 22-24, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Garner attended the five-year reunion of the 1961 Danforth Fellowship group, of which Dalton was a member. The reunion, held in St. Louis, Mo., brought together 9 of the 1961 Danforth boys, along with their families—each representing their home state.

The group enjoyed a full schedule of events previously arranged by the Ralston Purina Co. Some of these included a visit to the Grant Farm; the Ralston Purina Research Farm; a banquet at the Cheshire Inn; the Mummy Opera, "Bye-Bye Birdie"; and a climactic visit with Mr. Earl Sincuse, director of the Danforth Camp. Mr. Sincuse, better known by the boys as "Sindy," retired in 1961 and later purchased a beautiful mansion on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi River at Louisiana, Mo. Here the group enjoyed lunch and a period of reminiscing. "Sindy," now a major stockholder in the Stark Orchards, took the group on a tour of his apple and peach orchards where he spends most of his time since retirement.

On their free time, several of the group chose to take a cruise down the Mississippi River on the "Admiral," the largest steamboat in the world. It is a very scenic cruise, overlooking the city of St. Louis and highlighted by a very beautiful view of the new Cardinal Stadium and the Memorial Arch just recently completed.

The late William H. Danforth, a former president of the Ralston Purina Co., was the founder of this Danforth Fellowship. The recipients of this Fellowship are outstanding in the fields of Agriculture and Home Economics, and must be enrolled in any of the land grant colleges in the United States.

Neighborhood Youth Corps

The Corinth Community Development, Inc., sponsor for an eleven-county Neighborhood Youth Corps project, has announced the issuance of the program's one hundred thousandth enrollee check. Ronnie Hale, an enrollee from Marshall County, received the milestone check on July 19, from Larry Russell, County Director.

The NYC, created by the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, is a part of the War on Poverty and is administered nationally by the U. S. Department of Labor.

The Corinth sponsored program was the first in Mississippi, and one of the first in the nation, to provide jobs for youth between the ages of 16-21. With a beginning in January of 1965, the program employed 5000 youth during the year in eleven counties. The program is now operating under the 3rd and 4th contracts with the U. S. Department of Labor and employs 900 students out of school for the summer and 350 school Drop-outs. The counties involved are Alcorn, Tippah, Prentiss, Tishomingo, Itawamba, Tate, DeSoto, Union, Marshall, Chickasaw, and Benton.

The program is financed with 90 per cent federal funds and 10 per cent local funds provided through in-kind contributions of the people in each county who directly supervise the working young people.

County, city, and school officials have praised the program highly for the work accomplished, the financial assistance, and the character development provided the youth it employs. Many students have been able to stay in school and many others will return to school this fall as a result of NYC enrollment.

All enrollees are allowed, for the summer program, to work 30 hours per week.

The current contracts will end on September 2, 1966. A proposal has been submitted to the regional office in Atlanta, Ga., to follow with a fifth contract for these same eleven counties employing a total of 1200 in-school students and 350 Drop-outs. When the proposal is approved, the in-school students will work primarily for the schools they attend during the nine-month term and the Drop-outs would fill various job positions for the city, county, state, with a few working for school systems. The in-school enrollees will work 10 hours per week at $1.25 per hour and the Drop-outs will work 32 hours per week at the same rate. In addition to the 32 hours of work, the Drop-outs will be required to attend special classes for six additional hours each week. All enrollees must be from families that meet income criteria established by the U. S. Department of Labor and must be at least 16 but not over 21 years of age. No enrollee is allowed to work in a job position that would cause a regular worker to be displaced.

James R. Billingsley is Director for the eleven-county project. William Q. Wigginton is the Director for Prentiss County and Horace DeVaughn is Assistant County Director in charge of the Drop-outs. The local NYC office is located in the Old Welfare office building.

Prentiss County has received 18,012 enrollee checks since January of 1965. These checks represent approximately $300,000 added directly to the economy of the county as most of them were cashed and spent within the county.

Editorial Comments

By DR. W. H. ANDERSON

THINK BIG AND WIDE

Last week Mr. Charles Close, recently from Chicago and now here with the American Seating Company, made a talk at the Rotary Club. His speech was eloquent with facts. It was inspiring and gave room for optimistic thinking toward the future. You might as well think big and wide for the American Seating Company. Our new addition to the hospital has their all-electric beds. The people are proud of them and delighted that the trustees and the administrator saw fit to put them in.

DIVERSION TECHNIQUE

A good way to keep folks from evil is to keep them too busy doing good. Rather than finding fault with people, it is usually better to boost their good qualities. It is no trouble to find some good things about every person. This is a good time for all the people to unite on every good thing for Booneville, to make it bigger and better. There is hardly a limit on what we can do.

LITTLE CITY WITH BIG POSSIBILITIES

You may as well keep your eye on Rienzi. It is taking on new life and has great possibilities. It is said that at one time Rienzi had more wealth for its size than any town in Mississippi. This little community has given birth to many outstanding men and families. Curlee, Taylor, Street, Savage, Googe, Roebke, Lorick and Furtick are just a few family names who come to mind. The home of the Sally Marks Dresses, it now has a branch plant for Wurliizer Company. Mayor Charlie Dick and his family have a vision for Rienzi. Of course, the first big undertaking must be to obtain waterworks, sewerage, and natural gas.

ONE WAY TO TAKE YOUR LIFE

In a speech delivered by Dr. Alton Ochsner, famous New Orleans Surgeon, to the Florida Academy of General Practice, meeting in Orlando recently, he stated that "to smoke cigarettes is to commit suicide." Doctor Ochsner also said, "I've performed more lung operations than any other surgeon in the world, about 4,000, and I know the extent of damage that cigarette smoking can do." He stated that statistics prove that a person who doesn't smoke will live on the average, 8½ years longer than one who does, and warned that the tar in cigarettes causes lung cancer while the nicotine produces heart attacks.

FOR EACH HIS OWN

"Train up a child in the way it should go and when it is old it will not depart from it." We used to think of a stern father giving his son a formula for righteous conduct and then forcing him to carry it out. Dr. H. F. Sproule, our Bible teacher at Mississippi College, interpreted this scripture quite differently. He said, "Train up a child according to his natural talents and when he is old he will not depart from it." "What we love to do physics pain," said Shakespeare. So, if a person loves what he is doing and he is dedicated to it, his work will not be drudgery. Some people can do a number of things, and do them well. George Washington was a good example of this and whatever he did seemed to do it a little better than anyone else. Russell H. Conwell started out as a lawyer but drifted into the ministry, and became one of the most powerful preachers and writers this country has ever known. General Forrest was a trader, a farmer, and slave dealer with a limited education; but in the War Between the States he became the most outstanding cavalry leader known in this nation during the bitter conflict. In our own community Honorable J. A. Cunningham has a natural born talent as a lawyer and he is known across Mississippi and over the nation. The greatest challenge in the world is to train each human talent for what it is best suited. This is something for every landowner to think about.

"The strength of a nation lies in the character of its citizens."

DON'T DESERT THE PIGS

Just because the pig market went a little bad last week, is no reason you should quit raising pigs. The price will be better next week or the next.

"STOP MURDER ON THE HIGHWAY", earnestly pleads the American Trial Lawyers Association (ATLA), which has compiled a revealing brief — a "white paper" on motor-vehicle accidents. While 605,000 Americans have died in all battles in all wars from the revolution to Viet Nam, auto road deaths in the United States from 1889 to 1964 were more than 1,500,000! The number of persons injured in highway accidents in one year (1964) totaled 1,700,000 or the same number as the recorded total number of beds in all United States hospitals that year. (The number of persons sustaining disabling injuries rose to 1,800,000 in 1965, the National Safety Council reports, which exceeds the present number of hospital beds. In 1965, 49,000 persons were killed. During the first four months of 1966, 15,110 persons lost their lives. This figure represents an increase of 11 percent over the first four months of 1965.) Unless present trends are reversed, safety experts predict, by 1975 at least 100,000 persons will die annually on our highways with untold millions being maimed each year.

WORTHWHILE

Today's Health, published by the American Medical Association is one of the greatest magazines in this nation and it should go to every home and be read by every member of the family.

SORGHUM CENTER

Taylor Smith's sorghum mill is coming up out of the ground now. We just hope his sorghum will be as good as that was over at Harvey Ambroses' adjoining the Anderson farm. Then all the folks for some miles around brought the cane in and made it up at the hand of an experienced man, who knew how it should taste, how thick to make it and how thin not to turn it out. If Taylor's is like this we will never supply the demands!

STARS IN "MUSIC MAN" — James Cox, Booneville graduate student, and Karen Middleton, Columbia sophomore, sing the hit duet, "Till There Was You," in "The Music Man," being presented Tuesday through Saturday of this week by the University of Southern Mississippi Summer Musical Theatre in Marsh Auditorium. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Cox of Booneville, has participated in more than 30 major USM productions. He plays the title role of Harold Hill in "The Music Man." Karen Middleton alternates with Rose Ann Windham, Laurel senior music major, in the leading female role of Marian Paroo. The famous Broadway musical, last in a series of three in the SMT series, features a large cast of talented USM music students and summer music campers, colorful costumes and sets, special dances and an orchestra. Reservations and tickets, at $2 for evening performances and $1 for the Saturday matinee, are available by calling 266-7321, or writing Box 81, Southern Station, Hattiesburg. (USM Photo Service)

Letter Expresses Appreciation

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Mayor M. W. Smith and concerned the gift to Billy Lacey Shaw, who died at the Methodist Hospital at Houston, Texas, where he was to undergo extensive surgery.)

Dear Mayor:

To be remembered by the good people of Booneville and Prentiss County in such a substantial way as your check by the Goodfellows was a great source of comfort to us as well as filling one of our most pressing needs. We thank you folks from the bottom of our hearts.

You will rejoice with us to know your gift helped to offset the only thing Bill worried about—the expense to us. If he had other worries he never once expressed them.

Will you please let the good folks of your community know how truly grateful we are for their many acts of kindness.

Sincerely,

Vic and Bonnie Shaw

MRS. FD JOHNSON

Our local Welfare Office has been highly complimented by the daughter of a guest at Aletha Lodge. Her father has been at the Lodge over two years and other brothers and sisters weren't contributing to his cost as originally planned. I suggested many months ago about her talking to the Welfare Department. She kept putting it off — almost afraid to go — thinking they might think she was begging, etc.

However, she finally went, and came back to the Lodge and told me how wonderful and understanding and helpful they were, ending her remarks by saying, "They treated me like a lady."

It may not be a record, but it surely is a funny looking thing. C. R. Walden brought a cucumber by the office that is over 22 inches long Kenneth Pounds told me Wednesday of his interesting trip to old Mexico, telling how many sailfish they caught, and how beautiful the buildings were in Mexico City. He said what impressed him most though, was the poverty of the Mexican people and how thankful we should be for America. In turn, I told him to be sure to read the following item, written by Alan McIntosh in the Roch County Herald, Luverne, Minnesota and sent to me by B. E. Walton of San Jose, California.

A TIRED AMERICAN SPEAKS OUT

I am a tired American. I am tired of being called the Ugly American — I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American — weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — weary of being lectured by General de Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American — weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and kick him on the shins and yank his beard if he flows falters.

I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American — fed up with the mobs of scabby faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American — who is tired of supporting families who have not known any other source of income other than Government relief checks for three generations.

I am a tired American — who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched America in an obscenity race — who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture — in the arts, the movies, literature, and the stage.

I am a tired American — weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins, who prefer Chinese Communism to capitalism — who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to world peace.

I am a tired American — who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast, movies denouncing the United States; movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American — who is angered by the self-righteous breastbeater critics of America — at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States, but never apply the same standards to the French, British, Russians, or the Chinese.

I am a tired American — sickened by the slackjawed bigots who wrap themselves in bed sheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a tired American — who dislikes the clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their children to private schools.

I am a tired American — who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed. They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their shares of the American way of life.

I am a tired American — real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world — a generous hearted nation — a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "free world" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole.

I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen — a Nation under God, truly with mercy and justice for all.

Please reread the last three paragraphs. The only thing I'd add to the above is that I believe Mr. McIntosh could sincerely say, "I am an American." Don't you agree?

Till next week

Helen

WCS Has School of Christian Mission

Methodist women of the New Albany District shared in the information, inspiration and fellowship of the School of Christian Mission for the North Mississippi Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service, July 18-22, 1966, at Wood Junior College, Mathiston, Mississippi. "Christian Being and Doing" was the theme for the school. The mission study and the Bible course to be given church-wide in the local churches offered helpful suggestions and rich inspiration for all those in attendance. Mrs. J. B. Nichols of Montgomery, Alabama, and Miss Mathilde Killingsworth of the National Board of Missions for The Methodist Church taught the study, "Affluence and Poverty: Dilemma of Christians," and Rev. J. W. Youngblood of Eupora was the leader for the Bible study bearing the theme title and based on the Book of James and First Peter.

Other high notes for the school included the Hymn Study and worship periods based on the new Methodist Hymnal just off the press, the Quiet Times with the meaningful worship center and Holy Communion served by Dr. Felix A. Sutphin in the Cathedral of Pines, timely film previews, plenary classes, officer responsibility groups and coaching sessions.

From the New Albany District Miss Olive Hicks of Ripley served as a group leader, a panel member and resource person for the school. Mrs. H. D. Robinson of Dumas instructed for Missionary Personnel as a part of the Orientation feature. Mrs. W. C. Smallwood of New Albany headed an officer responsibility group and prepared table displays for Campus Ministry. Mrs. T. E. Shelton of Corinth was co-registrar for the school, and Mrs. A. C. Childers of New Albany led the meeting for the district program committee.

A display of scrapbooks, chart, posters and other Public Relations material for the New Albany District was among the interesting displays, and the book room was a high point of interest for needed materials. Mrs. L. A. Ross, Jr., of Clarksdale was dean of the mission

Attending from Booneville were Mrs. S. W. Downs, Mrs. W. R. Richerson and Mrs. Henry Mize.

It costs more than $50 million in taxes just to clean up American primary highways each year, reports a litter-prevention organization.

Second DAR Marker Honors Mrs. Winling

The second DAR Marker placed by Virginia Cavalier Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Mobile, Alabama was erected on the Walker-Phillips plot in the old Booneville Cemetery on Saturday morning, July 16 for Mrs. (Harold) Virginia Louise Winling, daughter of Mrs. Inez Walker Braswell for whom the first marker was placed on August 4, 1955.

Mrs. Inez Braswell Heenan, sister of Mrs. Winling and member of Virginia Cavalier Chapter directed the impressive dedication service, which was opened with a prayer by Rev. W. R. Richerson, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

After the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, the following words of dedication written by Mrs. Inez Walker Braswell were read by Mrs. Inez B. Heenan:

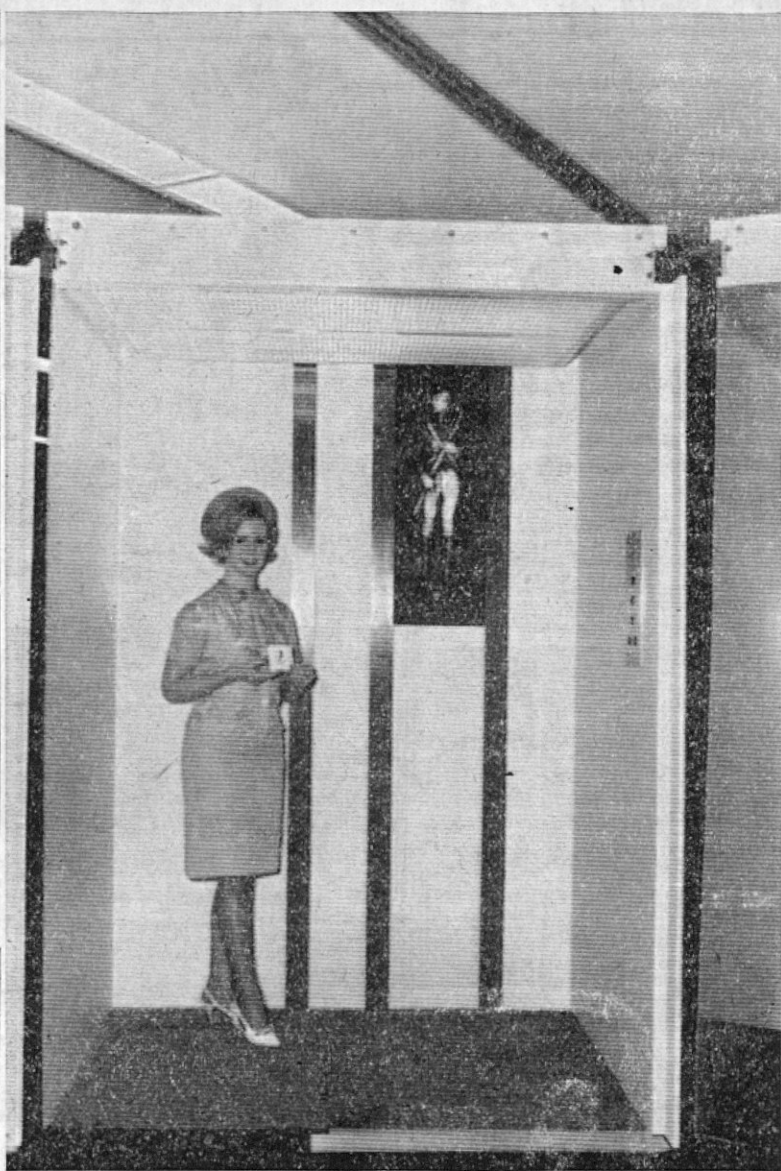

"We have met today to pay tribute to Virginia Louise Braswell Winling who departed this life December 29, 1964 by placing a DAR Marker on the sacred spot where she rests. This marker is a symbol of true patriotism and is visible expression of her affiliation with and devotion to the traditions of American principles. Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness which her forefathers fought and sacrificed to make secure. Virginia Louise loved beauty and with vision she always looked upward to ideals holding the key to happiness in Faith, through action — always seeing the beauty in nature's trees and flowers. Thus with reverence we now dedicate to her this symbol."

The Emblem Poem was given by Mrs. John F. Busey of Fort Rosalie Chapter, Jackson, Miss. The American Creed said in unison was led by Mrs. E. L. Robison of Natchez Trace Chapter.

Mayor Marion Smith said with heart felt appreciation "It is a great honor to our City to have the privilege of holding this dedication this morning in Booneville and placing this DAR Marker as a memorial to such a great lady, Mrs. Inez Winling. I should like to pay tribute to the members of this family as well as the local members of the DAR and others present who have carried on our great patriotic heritage given us by our ancestors. Those who have come this morning represent dedicated patriotic citizens of our great country and I would like to say at this time, "God bless them and God bless America."

Mrs. Carolyn Winling Wicker, of Virginia Cavalier Chapter repeated the 84 Psalm 12th verse and Corinthians 11:51.

The service closed with the ben-

Mrs. Paul Dobbins regent, Mrs. Arthur Schultz and Mrs. E. L. Robison attended the services from Natchez Trace Chapter.

Blackland RCDC Met Mon. Night

The Blackland RCDC met Monday night, July 11 at the Blackland Community Center.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dalton Garner. A short business discussion was held after which Mr. Garner introduced Mr. John Walden, president of the Civitan Club, who had charge of the program. Mr. Walden gave an interesting and informative talk on "Civitan — its aim, motto and creed." Some of many things the Civitan Club does is to support worthy causes such as helping the

The next meeting will be Monday night, August 8. It will be an old-fashioned ice cream supper. The Civitan Club and their families are cordially invited to attend.

Viet Nam Honors Dead

(The following article was brought by the office Friday and asked that it be published in this paper)

PHUOC VINH, Vietnam—Catholic members of the tiny village of Phuoc Vinh, some 45 miles northwest of Saigon have paid tribute to the several thousands of Allied soldiers who have given their lives in the Vietnam war since 1961.

An inspiring ceremony was held at the green and white chapel in the middle of the hamlet with some 100 members attending. A group of officers and enlisted men from the 1st Bn., 2nd Inf., 1st Inf. Div., were also there, led by Lt. Col. Richard L. Prillman, 1st Bn. commander.

Following the services, Capt. Ernest H. Rautter, S1, 1st Bn., escorted a group of distinguished citizens of the village on a three hour tour of the surrounding American military installations. Included were stopovers at the three batteries of the 5th Arty., where the group witnessed the firing of the huge guns and squad tactics conducted by members of B. Co., 1st Bn., 2nd Inf.

A letter to the Allied soldiers was received from the Vietnamese citizens.

It read in part, "Who ever have hope for peace, freedom, and a safe way of life. You are fighting side by side with our Vietnamese soldiers to counter the communists who are destroying and killing our people."

"Today, we write this letter to you with purpose. We will remember always that you are helping us in every phase, without the doubt or reward. You who love freedom and peace have left your homes to come here, with the weatherbeaten months, and do not fear the misery, with just one purpose, to annihilate the communists."

"We are grateful and pray to God to bless you and keep you in good health. We wish you luck always."

The U. S. Commerce Department has reported that the total debt in the American economy was up to $1.3 trillion last year. Of the total, $905.4 billion was private and $362.1 billion public.

Traffic Survey Underway Here

The Mississippi State Highway Department began an origin and destination traffic study in Booneville Tuesday, July 26, according to Northern District Highway Commissioner Roy C. Adams of Tupelo.

Commissioner Adams said that William E. Roper, municipal traffic engineer for the Mississippi State Highway Department, is in charge of the survey, which is under the direction of James H. Summers, traffic and planning engineer.

Motorists entering and leaving Booneville are being questioned by Highway Department personnel seeking information concerning the purpose of the trip, where it originated and will end and other related material that will aid in the planning of Booneville's future highway system and traffic flow.

The traffic survey will last about one week after which the information collected will be analyzed for use in coordinating future highway improvements in the Booneville area.

Commissioner Adams asked motorists to cooperate with the Highway Department in making the survey successful.

Now it's just an antique, a relic of a bygone era. Formerly it served a practical purpose, a special need. Today, Grandfather's horseless carriage is completely outmoded.

Some philosophies are also out of date. New ideas grip our minds and challenge the intellect. We would not want a "horse and buggy" philosophy in this modern world of growth and change.

Some things do not change, for they are eternal. For example, man's soul and his need of God. No modern invention can ever make God and the Church obsolete. Society is different today than it was in Grandfather's day, but man's spiritual needs are the same.

Discover the value of the timeless in the midst of time. Worship God in your church this week and find the eternal truth which spans the ages.

County's Vo-Ag Students Farm Over 1000 Acres

Prentiss county's 374 vocational agriculture students are industrious young farmers with supervised farming programs totaling over 1000 acres of land and hundreds of head of livestock.

E. E. Gross, state supervisor of vocational agriculture and state FFA advisor, gave this report after a review of the preliminary farming program plans of the vo-ag students that were submitted by the six vo-ag teachers who work in the six county high schools.

The plans submitted by the students and vocational agriculture teacher indicate the scope of each enterprise that is to be conducted by each Future Farmer during the 1966 crop year. The acreage of crops that should now be in production are corn, 285 acres; cotton, 602; soybeans, 374; truck crops, 1.75; and garden crops, 18 for a total of 1302 acres. Livestock and other farm animals total 154 swine, 406 beef, 88 dairy, and 18,400 poultry.

The schools and vo-ag teachers involved in the tremendous farming layout are Booneville - M. T. Cartwright; Jumpertown - James H. Cox, Jr.; Marietta - James Googe; New Site - M. H. Wachsmann; Thrasher High - Kenneth G. No; and Wheeler - C. H. Kizer. Vo-ag programs in Prentiss county schools are coordinated by E. W. Holmes, assistant state supervisor for North Mississippi.

The scope of the farming programs could vary slightly from the total given above because of occasional unexpected interruptions that may have come in the individual student's plans. However, most of these Future Farmers are truly engaged in one or more of the farming enterprises as owner and operator or in a partnership with his parents or neighbor.

State FFA Advisor Gross points out that supervised farming programs are important phases of the instruction in the high school course of vocational agriculture. Individual instruction is given students during the summer as the teacher of agriculture visits him regularly and assists him in making decisions that are vital to his progress in farming.

The economic and education values of these programs to the boys are almost immeasurable according to Gross and State Vocational Education Director A. P. Fatherree. As students of vocational agriculture, the Future Farmers have the opportunity to use their farm as an actual laboratory for the agricultural science, skill and farming practices they have been taught in the vo-ag class at school.

In addition to being a vital part of the over all program of instruction, excellent progress in the business of farming is essential to advancement in the FFA Degrees of membership.

All Future Farmers begin their first year of vocational agriculture as Greenhand Degree members of the FFA. If they conduct a satisfactory supervised farming program, earning for themselves at least $50, and demonstrate progress as individuals in leadership and cooperative activities of the FFA chapter and community, they may advance to the Chapter Farmer Degree their second year.

State Farmer Degrees may be obtained by two percent of the membership after they earn for themselves at least $500, two-thirds of which must come from their supervised farming, and make satisfactory development as leaders and citizens of the community.

One out of every thousand members may be awarded the American Farmer Degree, the highest degree of membership, when the individual has conducted a supervised farming program that has earned at least $1000 and when his record of leadership and cooperative activities reach a level of excellence.

Fatherree and Gross commend the parents, Future Farmers, and teachers, and the school administrators for conducting a successful program of vocational agriculture.

The National Institute of Dry-cleaning points out that many white fabrics will change color because of the loss of fluorescent brighteners, dyes or tints. Some brighteners are affected by sunlight, laundry detergents, chlorine bleaches or steam in pressing. The white turns to yellow. This change is not limited to any specific fiber. The Institute adds that the loss of brightness of fluorescent dyed fabrics does not occur in drycleaning. A change may be noticed after drycleaning due to the removal of soil that masked the change which occurred in use. Consult your professional drycleaner if your white fabrics turn yellow. Proper Management Makes Farm Pay

With the right planning and management, there's still a bright future for many farms of small to medium size in Mississippi.

This has been well demonstrated by the Tommy Strange family near here.

Since 1963 they have more than tripled their total farm receipts while decreasing their income from work off the farm. They own more than twice as much land as they did three years ago. They have built a Grade A barn, more than doubled the value of their machinery and equipment, and tripled the value of their dairy herd.

It took more than ordinary planning to do this. Their receipts, expenses and other factors are regularly analyzed with the aid of an electronic computer. The results, studied with the aid of Cooperative Extension Service agricultural economists and the local county agent, help Mr. and Mrs. Strange to make sound decisions.

The Strange farm is in a special program known as "rapid adjustment," conducted by the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Cooperative Extension Service of Mississippi State University. TVA supplies special assistance in the form of high analysis fertilizers, while the Extension Service furnishes leadership and guidance.

"Our object is to take an individual farm as we find it and help the owner-operator move to the point of maximum profit in the shortest possible time," explained Robert L. Williams, assistant Extension economist from Mississippi State University. "Linear programming, done with the aid of the electronic computers at Mississippi State University, helps us come up with the best combination of enterprises for maximum profit," he added.

These studies provide professional people in agriculture with information useful in advising other farmers in similar situations.

For the Strange farm, the analysis by computer pointed to dairying with the use of all modern technology.

Mr. Strange needed help in 1963 when County Agent W. T. Smith of Booneville asked him if he wanted to enroll in the Unit Test-Demonstration program conducted by Tommy Strange (left), a young Prentiss County dairyman, shows W. T. Smith, county agent at Booneville, the rapid progress that he is making in improving his herd and pastures.

TVA and the Cooperative Extension Service.

This young farmer was raised in Prentiss County but went north to work in a factory and earn enough money to buy his farm. He figured that he could do pretty well with cotton and cows.

"Ever since I was a kid I wanted to milk cows," he explained.

His hopes soon turned to disappointment when he got back to this 100 acre farm about nine years ago. He saw that his 21 head of scrub cows could never amount to much. Weeds and small sweetgum trees were all over the land; and he didn't have the right equipment to do much about it.

"I nearly quit farming three times," he said.

Mr. Strange has confidence in County Agent Smith and specialists from Mississippi State University. He did what they suggested. His situation began to change, particularly when he shifted from a Test-Demonstration to a "rapid adjustment" farm in 1964.

He was selling milk for manufacturing. One of his major moves in 1964 was to build and equip a Grade A milking barn. He sold several cows that year and bought better ones to replace them.

The Weigh-A-Day-A-Month dairy program showed him that he was losing money by his low production per cow and by selling milk for manufacturing. He gained about $2.50 per 100 pounds of milk by going Grade A.

In February 1965 he enrolled his herd in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association program, an organized Production Testing Program. This gives him a continuous detailed record on each cow's production, income over feed cost and other information for managing his herd better.

"Without these records you think you know what your cows are doing but you don't know," Mr. Strange declared.

He uses his DHIA records to reduce expenses by feeding each cow as nearly as possible according to her production. These records tell him which cows should be culled.

"The way my records look now, I believe I'll go to 12,000 pounds of milk per cow or above this year. To do this, I'll have to sell any that produce less than 10,000 pounds per year," he pointed out.

Studying additional ways to use DHIA records for more profitable dairy farming are (from the left) Tommy Strange, a dairyman who farms near Booneville; W. T. Smith, county agent of Prentiss County, and Robert L. Williams, assistant agricultural economist of the Cooperative Extension Service at State College.

This herd averaged 4,800 pounds of milk per cow in 1963.

With dairying as its main source, this couple's total farm receipts climbed from $5,400 in 1963 to $16,632 in 1965. Their debt also increased considerable, but they are repaying their financial obligations as planned.

Mr. Strange uses artificial breeding to further improve his herd. He has about 25 good heifers developing as herd replacements.

Home grown feed is an important part of his management.

"I believe a dairyman has to grow all his feed except concentrates. He should have only as many cows as he can feed from what he grows," he stated.

Silage production on this farm has moved from 60 tons in 1963 to more than 500 tons. All will be corn silage this year. Through high fertilization he's raised his corn silage yield from 8 tons to 15 tons per acre.

He'll grown corn and hay on the additional 100 acres that he bought this year. This brings his total acreage to 213.

Mr. Strange has 64 acres of highly fertilized permanent pasture fenced into four areas so that he can rotate his grazing. He has 20 acres of a recommended sorghum-sudan cross for grazing when permanent pastures are dry, as usually occurs in July and August. He also has winter temporary grazing, especially for his dry cows and heifers.

The young dairyman had 20 cows in 1963 and 34 in 1965. He believes that he can soon be milking 40 to 50 cows. Helping him with the milking and raising calves is his 12-year-old son, Tommy, a 4-H member who owns a cow and two heifers.

Besides Tommy, their oldest, Mr. and Mrs. Strange have another son, Gary Thomas, and two daughters, Lequita and Sheila.

Their increased farm income will make it unnecessary for Mrs.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

What is 1.5 by .75

It is a self-help program designed to bring the value of Mississippi agricultural production to $1.5 billion by 1975.

Developed by the Cooperative Extension Service, the 1.5 by .75 program has been endorsed by practically all groups and officials in Mississippi, from the Governor to county supervisors.

The far-reaching program involves putting to work our best know-how and adopting new practices designed to increase production.

Production goals have been set for all crops and types of livestock. These goals can be reached.

Dairy Notes

Here are some tips to follow in increasing dairy profits:

Make a dairy farm plan. Follow it as closely as possible. Figure your feed and feed storage needs and decide on a combination of crops that suit your soil and will make milk.

Enroll your herd in the DHIA testing program. Breeding, feeding, production and income information on each cow is a must for intelligent culling and better management.

Records of last year's operation are important. Make your dairy a business. Study last year's operation. Find and correct weak spots. Be alert to sound new practices. Weigh the advantages and disadvantages.

Farm Safety

You've heard a lot about farm safety this week. But just because National Farm Safety Week is drawing to a close, don't put safety aside until next year.

Make safety an every-day project — safety on the farm, with machinery, in automobiles, in your home and in your recreation.

Soil Testing

Take the guess work out of your fertilizer program. Soil testing will tell you just how much of what kinds of fertilizer you need for the different crops.

A soils test will also let you know whether or not your land needs lime.

For fall planted crops, right now is the time to take soil samples and send them to the state soils testing laboratory for analysis. This should give plenty of time to get results back before planting time. Come by this office for soil sample boxes, field sheets, mailing cartons and instructions for taking good samples.

Christ in you, the hope of glory. — (Col. 1:27)

Jesus gave us a gift — the knowledge of the Christ within us. If we just have a word knowledge of this power within, we are not full appreciative of it nor are using it fully. Jesus' gift was given freely to all. As we accept it, appreciate it, use it, we find that where we were weak we are now strong, where we once doubted we now have faith.

Prentiss ASCS County News

By CHARLES E. CALVERT, Office Manager

USE OF COTTON MARKETING QUOTA CARDS DISCONTINUED

A simpler method of operating the cotton marketing quota program will go into effect this year when farmers start taking their crop to market. The new method discontinues the use of marketing cards as a means of identifying cotton for marketing quota purposes. It applies to 1966 and succeeding crops of both upland and extra long staple cotton.

Through the years, few cotton farms were "overplanted" and such penalties as were applicable were collected without difficulty. Doing away with the cotton marketing cards — the white ones for penalty-free cotton and the red ones for overplanted cotton — will save thousands of dollars in administrative costs. Starting this year, then, ASCS county offices will maintain a list of overplanted farms within the county as well as farms from which the cotton is otherwise ineligible for a loan because program provisions were not met fully. Notices will be sent to operators and producers on such farms regarding the penalty due and the lien on the crop. Notices listing the names of producers and the farm numbers of overplanted farms will be furnished to surrounding county offices, and others such as cotton buyers, ginners, loan clerks, and cooperatives. Any marketing quota penalties due will be collected at the time cotton is first offered for sale in much the same way that the penalties now are collected. A producer requesting the disbursement of a cotton price-support loan at a county office other than the one maintaining the program records for the farm producing the cotton will be asked to present a statement from the county office which has his farm record showing (1) that the producer and his cotton are eligible for a price-support loan, (2) that the producer's name does not appear on the county office record as owing money to the Government, and (3) that the producer does not owe an installment on a farm storage facility or dryer.

ACP PROGRESS REPORTED

Altogether, 651 farms in Prentiss County were improved and their resources conserved through practices carried out under the Agricultural Conservation Program during the 12 months ending June 30, 1966.

Throughout the country, about a million farms took part in ACP last year. Under the Agricultural Conservation Program for the past year, conservation measures on Prentiss County farms represented a total investment of around $140,

000. ACP cost-sharing accounted for about half this amount, and farmers matched the public investment with their own resources. Since similar investments were made through ACP and by farmers in all of the Nation's agricultural counties, the people of America benefited from a half-billion dollars' worth of ACP conservation work.

Program practices completed on participating farms in the county included: A-2, Establishment of Permanent pasture; A-4, Lime; A-7, Forestry practices; B-1, Improvement of Permanent cover; B-7, Stock ponds; C-9A, permanent ditches; and D-1, Winter Cover.

The ACP for 1966 — the 31st program year — is now well under way, and most farmers who intend carrying out needed conservation measures on their farms this year have already arranged for ACP cost-sharing to help expand soil, water, woodland, and wildlife conservation work.

1965 COTTON LOANS MATURE JULY 31

Loans on 1965-crop cotton mature July 31, 1966. Since the regular maturity date is on Sunday, repayments will be accepted from producers or equity purchases through Monday, August 1, 1966.

There continues to be a demand for some qualities of cotton. Consequently, producers are being reminded of the maturity date now to give them ample time to redeem or sell their equity in loan cotton. Loans may be repaid at the coun-

Dwarf Corn Has Good Prospect As Silage Crop

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Dwarf corn, which is replacing normal tall corn in some fields, would be expected to make excellent silage because of its high proportion of grain to stalk. The Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station has found dwarf corn silage superior to normal corn silage in some respects, but the difference was not as great as might be expected by the difference in height.

In a three-year test, Dr. Dero S. Ramsey and J. W. Lusk, of the Dairy Department, planted dwarf and normal corn in 40-inch rows, with a higher rate of planting for the dwarf corn. Both were harvested in the dough stage, finely chopped and ensiled in concrete silos.

The dwarf corn grew faster and shaded the middles to preserve moisture. Yield in tons of silage per acre was about the same but in a dry year the dwarf corn out-yielded the normal corn and in addition had a higher protein content.

Six cows were fed each silage each of the three years. Consumption of the dwarf corn silage was significantly better than that of the silage made from normal corn. There was no difference in the digestibility of the dry matter.

Although there was not as much difference between the two silages as might be expected by the difference in height of the plants, Dr. Ramsey believes the advantages of better consumption and better adaptability indicate that dwarf corn should receive further attention as a silage crop.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLAIRE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

You'd better get busy if you haven't yet gone to work on safety and accident prevention around your house and grounds. We are nearing the end of National Farm Safety Week.

Safety and accident prevention can't be limited to farms. It can't be limited to just one week each year. But it is appropriate to concentrate on farm safety at this time of year when so many farm machines are operating, when so many chemicals are being used in fields and around yards and homes, when traffic is heavy on rural highways, and when so many people go to the countryside for swimming, boating, picnics, vacations and other recreation.

The slogan for the week is "Safety Is Victory Over Accidents". Keep this slogan in mind this week and throughout the year wherever you live.

Trees for Shade

During these hot summer days when the heat from morning or afternoon sun is streaming into some rooms of your house, do some planning for planting shade trees this fall and winter. You can eliminate the effects of the sun during part of the year by using deciduous trees that will let winter sun penetrate when the trees are bare. An evergreen tree will give shade throughout the year.

No Spray On Teflon

Beware of claims that you can treat your cooking utensils with a spray on coating of Teflon. According to the DuPont Company for which teflon is a registered trademark, the standards of applications of the finish require special treatment of the utensils surface and baking of both a primer and top coat at about 750 degrees F.

Two Things At Once

As you take your bath to refresh and cool yourself these hot summer days, add a bonus feature — exercise to help with that trimming you've been planning.

Scrubbing your back can be wonderful exercise, if you don't cheat by using a long-handled back brush. Instead, use a well-lathered washcloth to reach around to your back, stretching and twisting your body as you scrub. Make sure to include all of that hard-to-get-to middle region. This is good for both your waistline and your upper arms.

Another tub-toner is to try keep-

No Deficiency Of Vitamin A Found In Grazing Cattle

STATE COLLEGE, MISS: Cattle grazing summer or winter pastures in Mississippi apparently do not need supplemental vitamin A for ing your back and legs straight as you wash your ankles and feet. Besides firming your waist and arms, this exercise stretches the thigh tendons which tend to shorten when you wear high-heeled shoes.

best performance. This is the conclusion of E. G. Morrison, superintendent of the Brown Loam Branch Experiment Station after three years of testing. The test was undertaken in an effort to find why steers often make low and unsatisfactory gains in late summer.

In the summer grazing test, Mr. Morrison had a group of steers on common Bermuda-Dallisgrass pastures. Half of the steers were injected with vitamin A on July 1 and again 55 to 60 days later. The remainder had no supplemental vitamin A. All grazed together each year and had adequate forage for the 117-day test period.

Steers in the winter grazing test were divided into four treatment groups. Three different levels of vitamin A injections and a no-vitamin control made up the four treatments. All these steers grazed together on wheat-ryegrass pastures for 178 days and had adequate forage throughout the three-year test. "No real improvement in gain was recorded for any of the vitamin levels studied," Mr. Morrison said. "From this study it is concluded that vitamin A is not a factor in the poor performance on common Bermuda-Dallisgrass pasture in late summer. It is further concluded that no need exists for supplemental vitamin A in cattle grazing annual winter pastures."

The complete report of Mr. Morrison's research on this subject is published in the July issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Miss.
