Charles Crabb Is Among Top 12 Insurance Agents

The first anniversary of the merger of Columbia Mutual Life and Lincoln American was observed on July 1st by officially lighting the Lincoln American Tower in Memphis. All Memphis is talking about the beautiful addition to the skyline which is visible for many miles.

President of Lincoln American, Richard F. Keathley, said the tower revealed not only an addition to the Memphis skyline, but far more, further recognition of the tower of strength presented by the company. "We attribute its greatness to the dedicated group of people who originated the company with a desire and determination to reach the position we now enjoy today as well as to the excellent mergers that have been accomplished."

In a ranking of the 733 Life Insurance Companies, as compiled by the National Underwriters Association, Lincoln American, in just 8 years, ranks 326th. The company has over 22 million in assets with approximately 270 million dollars of life insurance in force.

The latest issue of the company's publication, "The Railsplitter" pictures Mr. Charles Crabb, as among the top 12 agents in the nine states in which the company operates. Mr. Crabb is a member of the President's Club after having previously come up from the Honor Club and Executive Club.

Mr. Crabb became associated with Columbia Mutual in 1948 at the age of 21 and continued with the company until it consolidated with Lincoln American in July 1965. Since that time he has often been among the top 12 agents each month.

He and Mrs. Crabb will receive an expense-paid week trip to the annual convention to be held in October at the Broadwater Beach Motel in Biloxi, Mississippi. To qualify for the expense-paid trip an agent must have $600,000 in volume or $10,000 in premiums.

Planning Party Arrives To Make Brown's Creek Watershed Survey

Mr. Ray Haynes and Jack Morgan of the Watershed Planning Party located at State College, Miss. reported to the Soil Conservation Work Unit Office in Booneville, Monday, August 29, to begin a preliminary survey of Brown's Creek Watershed.

The survey will begin at the new channel cut by the Corps of Engineers on the Prentiss and Itawamba County line and will extend upstream as far as overflows occur on the small streams.

Assisting with the preliminary survey will be Mr. W. M. Browning of the Booneville S. C. S. Office. Mr. Browning has worked in all parts of Brown's Creek and knows the farms of the area.

The men will seek the assistance of land owners in collecting information on the following subjects: Flooding of crop lands, roads, and bridges; Land treatment needs; Location of sea level bench works.

All information collected will be assembled into recommendations for a Watershed plan. At any time any assistance or information is needed by anyone we would appreciate it if they would call 728-5059 at the County Work Unit Office. Your help is needed and will be appreciated.

—Ed Honeycutt

Northeast Offers Several Fields Of Study To Students In September

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College offers an extensive number of fields of study to students who plan to enroll at the college in September.

The college preparatory courses developed to meet the current demand are designed for students who intend to transfer to senior institutions. Since Northeast is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and the Mississippi State Accrediting Committee, any college preparatory course taken at Northeast can be transferred with full credit to a senior college.

The curriculum includes the following areas of instruction: Agriculture, Art, Business, Education, Psychology, English, Health and Physical Education, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematical, Modern Languages, Music, Natural Science, Pre-Medicine, Pre-Dentistry, Pre-Pharmacy, Pre-Medical Technology, Nursing, Pre-Engineering, Social Science, and Speech.

Northeast offers a two-year terminal secretarial training program designed to qualify students for office employment. Available, also, is a nine-months intensive course in secretarial training which will prepare students for immediate employment.

The newest addition to the Business Department is a two-year terminal Data-Processing Program. The Data Processing curriculum will involve the student in a learning process up to the computer, and Northeast officials are optimistic about securing a computer by the time the student is ready for this phase of training.

As an integral part of its educational program, Northeast makes available vocational and technical training to students. Testing services, counseling, employment placement, and followup studies are offered in the Vocational-Technical Department. Persons completing prescribed courses receive a certificate and are prepared for immediate employment.

Beginning with the fall semester, persons may avail themselves of a program in Licensed Practical Nursing. The purpose of the program is to assist the hospitals of the five-county areas in remedying the acute shortage of nursing personnel.

The program will, in no way, affect the regular nursing program in effect since 1957; it will serve to complement what has already been done in the field of nursing education at Northeast.

Guidance services available at Northeast assist the student in gaining self-understanding as a basis for meeting his needs, solving his problems, and aiding his development as a mature, responsible member of society. In addition to the required American College Test, there is available to all students a complete confidential testing battery of which they may avail themselves at no cost.

In addition to the regular day program, Northeast maintains an evening program. The Evening College affords educational opportunities for those who are unable to attend regular day classes. Courses offered for credit are standard college courses. Available, also, in the Evening College are certain non-credit cultural and vocational courses.

Those who are concerned with The Northeast Mississippi Junior College feel a great sense of pride and satisfaction in knowing that the institution is meeting the educational needs of a great number of students.

Bill Chittom Wins Office Of Alderman

Bill Chittom won the election Tuesday to fill the vacancy created by the death of Alderman John Mahaffy.

Mr. Chittom received 364 votes. His opponents were Glen Goodwin who received 212 votes and Otha Maxwell who received 140 votes.

A total of 716 of the 1311 qualified voters went to the polls. Mr. Chittom will take office next Tuesday night.

In a statement he said, "I appreciate the vote of each of you in selecting me to be your alderman and I will forever be working to make our city a better place in which to live."

Blackland RCDC Has Ice Cream Supper

The Blackland RCDC entertained their sponsors, the Civitan Club, with an ice cream supper at the Community Center on Monday night, Aug. 22. Approximately 75 people enjoyed the cake, cookies, and ice cream, while visiting with their friends and neighbors.

Dalton Garner welcomed the guests and later introduced them. The Civitans present were Mr. Al-an Norton, Mr. and Mrs. John Walden, Mr. and Mrs. Piggy Bonds, Mr. Taylor Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Shackelford, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams.

The next meeting will be held on Monday night, September 12.

Mary Neal Richerson Returns From German Tour And Study

Mary Neal Richerson returned home last week from a nine week tour and study of Germany. While there, she participated in the Stanford University NDEA, sponsored German language Institute.

She and 79 other teachers and future teachers of German throughout the United States attended classes and made extended trips in their study of the language, history, and culture of the country. One of the highlights of her trip was a weekend visit in the home of a German teacher. Other enjoyable aspects were the independent weekend trips participants of the Institute made to other countries.

NOTICE!

The Social Security Representative will not be in Booneville on Monday, September 5, due to a national holiday, but will be back on the following Monday, Sept. 12.

County Voters Refuse Legal Liquor By Large Majority In Tues. Election

Prentiss Countians turned out Tuesday in what was termed an unusually large number for the type of election and voted overwhelmingly to remain under the state's prohibition laws. The vote was 1871 for, coming out from under the prohibition laws and 2557 against.

The 4428 total is approximately half of the eligible voters in the county.

Prentiss County thus joined neighboring Alcorn in voting a ban on legal liquor sales, while Lee to the south had previously voted to permit the sale of liquor and beer. Elections have not been held in the other neighboring counties of Tishomingo, Tippah, Union and Itawamba.

Only two precincts in the county gave a majority to legal liquor sales. They were New Candler with 79 for and 61 against, and Baldwin, the south half of which is already wet, 208 for and 176 against. Under the state law passed earlier this year by the legislature allowing counties to vote on local option liquor sales, a minimum of two years must elapse before voters of a county which has voted on the question can petition for another election.

To date a total of 37 counties have voted to allow legal liquor, while nine have voted against it. Several other counties have elections scheduled in the near future.

Prentiss County voting by boxes was as follows:

Blue Devil Gridders To Open Here Friday Night Against Selmer, Tenn.

Hoping for a winning season for the first time in several years, the Booneville High Blue Devils open here Friday night against a Selmer, Tennessee squad that is probably as big, tough and experienced as they will face all season.

Kickoff time is 8 o'clock on the Northeast Mississippi Junior College field.

The Selmer aggregation boasts 18 returning lettermen, 14 of whom are seniors. Their line is well anchored with a 180-pounder at center and their starting tackles weigh in at 260 and 235. Power in the backfield is furnished by the running of a 180-pound halfback and the fullback at 195.

Booneville Coach James Drewry and Line Coach Richard Brown can put experienced players at every position except center, but the squad is light, and practice injuries have taken their toll.

The coaches said that the players have been working hard in practice and have shown excellent spirit. They have better overall team speed than last year and their lack of height will be their major handicap if the injured become able to get into action. Coach Drewry said, "We'll just have to wait and see who is able at game time."

The end corps is made up of three lettermen, Larry Garner, 170, junior; Larry Barron, 155, senior; and Mark Lowrey, 165, senior; and Bob Presley, 150, sophomore.

Tackles are Marshall Dickerson, 225, senior; Jimmy Walden, 175, senior; Ronny McKinney, 170, junior; and David Moody, 180, junior. All except Moody are lettermen.

Two sophomores are being counted on to handle the pivot position and ball snapping chores. They are Stanley Horton, 155, and Larry Cole at 150.

Ball handling from the quarterback post will be in the hands of Hal White, 170, senior, and Don Guy, 150, junior. Both are lettermen, although White was injured and missed most of last season.

Two senior letterman halfbacks are Freddie Tollison, 155, and Mike Nabers, 150. The other halfbacks are all sophomores. They are Bill Breedlove, 150, Riley Presley, 135, Jerry Echols, 130, and Ricky Reinbold, 125.

Funds are available for operating loans to family-type farmers through Farmers Home Administration, according to Mr. Charles E. Young, County Supervisor, Booneville, Miss. These loans can be made to operators of family-type farms who are unable to obtain sufficient operating credit elsewhere to finance their actual needs at reasonable rates and terms. Their main purpose is to enable farmers to make adjustments and improvements in their farm and home operations that will result in efficiency and success.

Mr. Young states that loans may be made for the purchase of livestock, farm equipment, feed, seed, fertilizer, insecticides, and farm supplies; the repair of equipment; and other essential farm and home operating expenses. Under certain conditions funds may be included in the loan to refinance debts secured by liens on livestock and farm equipment, payment of interest or depreciation on essential farm equipment secured by prior liens, and acquisition of membership in farm purchasing and marketing associations.

The amount of the loan depends upon the need as determined by the farmer's plan of operation. Mr. Young added. Loans can be made to run from one to seven years. The number of years allowed for repayment depends upon the income expected each year and the purpose for which the money is advanced.

Application for operating loans may be made at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the North Mississippi Savings & Loan Building, Booneville, Mississippi.

Industrial Success Story

"GAS LIGHTS — Without oil, Tallow, Wicks or Smoke." These words printed in a Baltimore newspaper advertisement in 1816, marked the birth of the gas industry which this year is observing its 150th anniversary.

Referred to as "the ring beset with gems of light", gas began as a source of illumination and was even credited with a period of American history — the Gaslight Era. With the coming of the electric light in the late 1800's, gas took on a new role as a producer of heat. It has since become a sophisticated, all-purpose, total source of energy in factories, commercial buildings and homes.

The natural gas industry today supplies one third of the energy requirements of the nation and ranks sixth in terms of capital investment. Gas companies with their 765,400 mile nationwide grid of field and gathering lines, transmission systems and local distribution mains serve some 38 million customers with energy for cooking, heating, cooling, air conditioning, incinerating and a raw material used in manufacturing chemicals and plastics.

The success story of the natural gas industry is a long way from being complete. With a future even brighter than its past, the observance of its 150th anniversary is a tribute to an industry which has not only stimulated the growth of the American economy but has contributed heavily to the nation's wealth. It is a story of how, through the genius of free enterprise, the flickering of an idea unfolded into a major job-producing, taxpaying, investor-owned industry upon which the nation has become heavily dependent. Happy Birthday to the gas industry.

Vanishing Dollar

Congresswoman Catherine May of Washington says, "The trouble with a little inflation is that it never stays little. Once it is accepted as a national way of life, it gets out of hand. Unless the federal government takes definite steps to contain it, it hurts those who can least afford to be hurt — people in a low income group and our older citizens who have to rely on a fixed income. The man who puts aside some money for a rainy day or for retirement, as an example, has found his savings lost 2 per cent of their purchasing power last year alone. If inflation continues at that rate for twenty years, one dollar in every three saved would simply vanish."

THIS IS MISSISSIPPI! This rock wall and waterfall is an example of unusual and dramatic scenery to be discovered at J. P. Coleman State Park, located on a scenic bend of the Tennessee River in Tishomingo County. During this year's "Discover Mississippi" program Mississippians can discover this and other new sights throughout the state. Supervisors Endorse Senator Eastland

The Mississippi Association of Supervisors unanimously endorsed the re-election of Senator James O. Eastland at the Association's 37th annual convention in Jackson Monday. The endorsement was given in open assembly after Senator Eastland's keynote address.

During the course of the day's activities, Eastland was cited for his untiring service and his devotion to the state and his dedication to Mississippi and the State's interests in Washington.

Eastland was introduced as a champion of the conservative cause in the U. S. Senate. He told the convention that the liberal course of events in Congress is swinging back toward the conservative ideals on which America was founded.

Eastland said the vicious Civil Rights Bill now before Congress can be defeated if conservatives stand together and wage a continuing fight for constitutional government.

Eastland cited the two party system in Mississippi as a danger to the very fundamentals on which Mississippi has achieved her enviable position of leadership in the United States. He said that dividing the conservative people of the State would be to invite the domination of State Government by extremists and outside pressure groups.

In conclusion, Eastland said, "United, we will win the struggle for the rights and dignity of the people of Mississippi and the preservation of the system that insures us of a destiny of greatness."

R. L. Moss of Lena made the motion that Eastland be endorsed by the open convention for re-election to the United States Senate. The motion was duly seconded and unanimously adopted.

The Supervisors Association is considered one of the strongest grass roots political organizations in the state.

Farm Chemicals Are Hazardous Unless Proper Precautions Taken

State College, Miss. — "Read and follow all instructions on the label of cotton defoliant and desiccants." is a caution given Mississippi farmers by Wayne Houston, assistant agronomist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "Some of these chemicals are hazardous to workers, spray machinery or nearby crops if not handled properly," said Houston. Chlorate residues can explode upon contact with organic insecticides and organic phosphorus defoliants. Be careful not to mix or store these materials next to each other.

"Always clean spray equipment inside and outside to get rid of insecticide residues before using chlorate defoliants," he added.

In addition, some chlorate formulations do not mix with others. The spray system should be thoroughly flushed before changing from any defoliant material to another.

He suggested that defoliants be applied only when the following are true: (1) When over 60 percent of the bolls are open. (2) When all set bolls of a late crop are mature. (3) When yields are high and plants are leafy and succulent. (4) When plant and leaf moisture are high. (5) When temperature is well above 60 degrees.

He further stated that defoliants can not economically be used on cotton when leaves are dropping naturally, or when bolls to be saved are immature.

"Immature bolls are present if they can easily be cut with a knife, or are soft to thumb pressure, and the seed are still light in color," said Houston.

"Most chemicals should not be used within a certain number of days before harvest," he said. He used the example of sodium chlorate and magnesium chlorate which must not be applied within seven days of harvest. The areas where these chemicals are used should not be grazed, nor should grain trash be fed to livestock.

"It is extremely important that every person using farm chemicals read and understand the label," said Houston. "The label contains vital information for the application

To The Voters Of Booneville

I would like to express my appreciation to each of you for allowing me to be your next alderman in the special election held August 30.

Your fine vote and confidence allowed me to defeat both my opponents in the first primary.

I will forever be working to make our City of Booneville a better place in which to live.

ADDING ACTION TO VISION

Booneville is known far and near for its hospitality, which is a very fine product. It should never have any less of this fine product, but our town is on the eve of a new growth, a big development, and we need to add to hospitality whatever else is needed to aid and sustain the progress we may have. Health and education need to be kept to the front. We need to keep utilities and conveniences up to par. Our schools, hospitals and churches must be the best. Streets and roads must be kept in tip-top condition. At this time many vacant lots need attention and we need more painted houses, beautiful yards and the removal of car cemeteries from public view. The extension of the city limits will not wait too long. Booneville's water supply is very fine; natural gas is abundant and electricity is plentiful.

Our town board and our planning board seem to have a vision of opportunities and new responsibilities for the expected growth of the city. It is a good time to think ahead and go forward in every way!

ALWAYS DOING GOOD

The Harold Spain family is all the time going about doing good. Their son, Bob, is up in Pittsburg and they paid him a visit recently. The Spains are good observers and as they traveled back through the wonderful state of Kentucky—the state of race horses, beautiful women and oratorical statesmen—they observed some beautiful peaches and brought us a basket. We thank the Spains and the peach state of Kentucky.

NEW HOMES AND GOOD CITIZENS

Three new, beautiful homes in Wickwood have been occupied for some little time. Now three more residences are just about ready to be occupied by the Abernathys, the Ruffs and the Dubards. These six fine families would be a credit to a city of FIFTY thousand population.

FOX THERAPY

People are not always cured by medicine alone. We are thinking now of a native of Booneville, a college graduate and an able banker across the years and now a valuable adviser on sensible farming. He is a right good story teller and knows quite a few jokes. J. C. Stanley is the man we have in mind.

When our banks were closed for a while during the depression years J. C. had charge of The Bank of Booneville, which his father had established. His ambition was to collect enough to pay back the depositors and the stockholders a hundred cents on the dollar, and as we recall, he accomplished this task. When his strenuous work was over, J. C. was let down. We knew he needed something but we did not think it was pills. Mrs. Stanley was quite concerned, too. We had a heart to heart talk with J. C. and asked him what he had rather do than anything he could think of, what would cause him to just forget himself and his past work for a little while. With his characteristic laugh he said, "I'd rather FOX HUNT, but I'm not sure Candace would want me to keep dogs." "Well, I believe she will (and she was very gracious about the matter). You get about five of the best fox hounds you can find; get Jim Thomas to keep and hunt them for you. He's an expert." This J. C. did for several months. He rode under the stars, slept under the trees and listened many times to his hounds leading the pack. He breathed the atmosphere of the lover of the fox chase. And generally speaking, he has been fine ever since!

"The path of the just is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."

"Tomorrow's growth depends upon the use we make of today's materials and experiences."

"The purpose of learning is growth and our minds, unlike our bodies, can continue to grow as we continue to live."

THE HOT BISCUITS TEST

The sorghum factory is looking good and appears to be about ready for business. We can soon tell about the outlook for this new industry. When we see the consistency of the molasses and get a whiff of the aroma from the boiling pan we can better estimate the value. To make the value sure and complete we will have to taste the syrup with a first-class hot, buttered biscuit. If it stands this test the county can produce thousands of gallons of sorghum. It has the right type of soil and the production per acre will be mighty good.

FATHER OF WATERS

The Mississippi River, known around the world, really took its name from the Indians. This mighty river gathers its waters from 32 states and two Canadian Provinces. Only the Amazon River drains more territory than the Mississippi. Measurements indicate that the Nile River is 4,052 miles long and the Mississippi River without the Missouri tributaries is 3,986. Engineers have shortened the Mississippi quite a bit, otherwise, the longest river would still be in America rather than Africa. The Missouri brings in muddy water from the West, the Ohio brings clear water from the East. The waters are slow to mix as they flow down the Great River. Although the Mississippi River basin is not the biggest in the world, its soil, climate and other great resources make it the kindest and most helpful of any of human society. It is often called the Father of Waters and this is a good name.

At the origin of the Mississippi up in Minnesota the stream is shallow enough for one to wade across, but the Old Man is extremely crooked and changeable. In some places now it is more than a mile wide and from fifty to one hundred feet deep.

We are proud that so much of our state has as its west boundary this great body of water, furnishing commercial advantages and the wonderfully rich soil it deposits on our shores. We are grateful that it has helped to carry the name of our state across the nation and around the world, for the song and sentiment it has furnished and the rich romance it has brought. We are happy that Old Man River has been rolling along so long and will keep rolling on into the sea of eternity.

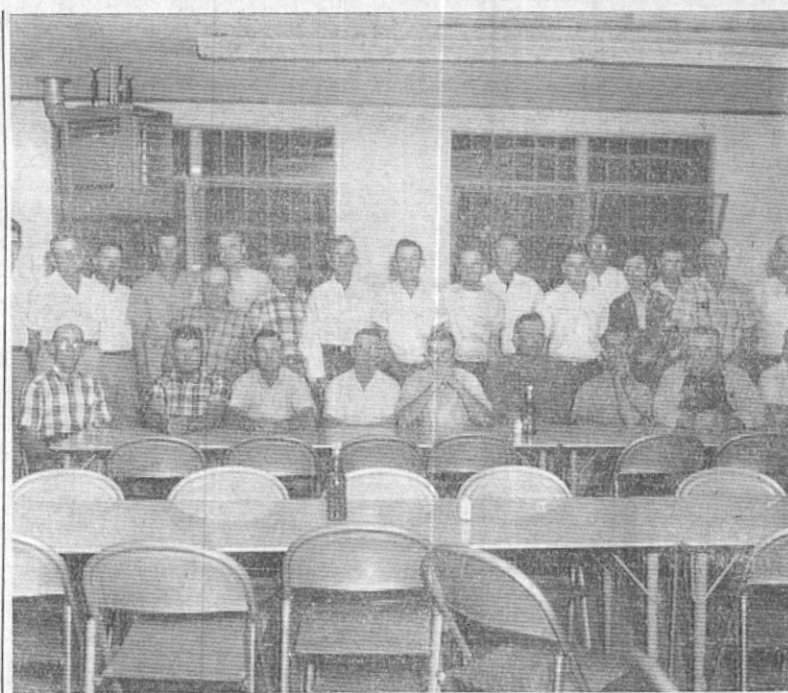

THE SOUTH ON THE UP AND UP

One hundred years ago the South was on the ground financially and it was a sad and distressing time; but it did have left a very fine citizenship. When we began practice in Booneville many men who wore the gray were still living; our own father was one. General Robert E. Lee was the idol. But as the years went by and we began to read history, we developed a deep admiration for Abraham Lincoln, too. The great tragedy of our nation is the loss of so many fine men on either side in this great conflict.

We have heard it said that when the United States had twelve millionaires seven of them were located in Natchez. But after the war the South drank the cup of poverty down to its dregs. Because the South has been so long so far behind in many ways it has been a problem for the nation; but in the last few years the South has come alive and is rapidly reaching the national level in so many ways.

In some fields the South is even leading the nation and this growth extends all across its borders. Since 1960 its population has shown a great increase over the decade of the 50's. President Franklin Roosevelt said that the South was the No. 1 economic problem of the nation, but not so now. Personal income in the region of the southern states has increased from about sixty per cent of the national average to eighty per cent. Job opportunities in the last ten years have been created at a rate of more than twice the rate of any other section. Enrollment in southern colleges has increased fifty-four per cent in just five years. The South is now turning out 16.6 per cent of the national holders of the doctoral degree compared with 9.1 per cent in 1950. Many research laboratories have come into existence. More than thirty junior colleges were authorized in the South in 1965. Mississippi was one of the first states, a half century ago, to recognize the value of the junior college and now has perhaps the best distribution of junior colleges of any state.

The people of the South are becoming more ambitious. They are seeing the value of fine factories and good citizens coming in from the states north of us. The best citizens of the Southland are working hand in hand with the best who are moving in to help us develop our great resources, enjoy our fine climate and cordial hospitality. The boom which has been increasing slowly has really become marvelous for the last five or six years. At last the South is beginning to have money of its own to help finance its own development and to invest in factories and industries. The Tombigbee Canal is evidently on its way now and this will mean so much to our region and to the total strength of the nation. With the continuing good citizenship of our own people and the good help of our new citizens the Southland with its resources and its wonderful climate will continue to go forward.

Route Patrons Of Bud Eaton Honored

The Mid-South and Sealtest patrons of Bud Eaton's milk route were entertained Friday evening at the Jumptown Cafeteria with a fish fry given by Mr. Eaton.

Earlier in the evening 125 pounds of catfish were cooked to a golden brown. Served along with the fish were fried chicken, hush puppies, french fries, tossed salad, potato chips, cold drinks, Sealtest ice-cream and milk.

The invocation was given by Rev. H. C. Smart and the long line began heaping their plates with delicious food.

After the supper, Mr. Eaton greeted the group and Mr. Billy Bowlin of Sealtest extended appreciation from Sealtest and The Mid-South Milk Producer's Association for the delicious fish fry.

Approximately 200 were present and special guests were Charlie Detchon, Billy Bowlin, W. T. Nichols of Memphis, representatives of the Sealtest Milk Co., Benny Goolsey, Larry Miller, Frank Milazzo, Miles Darby and Robert Dunlap of The Mid-South Milk Producer's Association, Mrs. Jettie Nunley, Mr. C. E. Young of Booneville and Mr. Joe Wilson of Alcorn County.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Smith and Suzanne spent Saturday through Monday at Shreveport, La. with Capt. and Mrs. Harry Richard. Suzanne remained to attend school there where Mrs. Richard is teaching.

Local Business

By S. S. TALBERT
Chairman, Dept. of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Certain types of retailers have traditionally limited their advertising to listing prices and products with little emphasis on the personality of the store itself.

It was assumed that bare essentials of price and product information was all the consumer desired for grocery shopping. Major grocers have found that much more is needed to make advertising complete.

The new attitude is reflected in the current advertising of the Independent Grocers' Alliance. In 3,000 newspapers, the IGA stores are devoting 40 percent of their advertising space to the task of telling local citizens about the personality of the stores.

Other large retailers are giving similar emphasis to the role of the retail firm as a community institution.

Friendliness of personnel, reputation for fairness, convenience of location, credit policies, variety and quality of brands, availability of parking space, and even the civic activities of clerks and officials may affect the shopping decision.

Institutional advertising which emphasizes the role of a company in overall community activities may serve the small store even more effectively than the large business. It is just as important to the service station as it is to the bank.

It is as important to the specialty shop as it is to the department store.

Such advertising may be just as newsworthy, just as interesting, and just as significant to the consumer as price-product information.

For, being human, the consumer may be more interested in how he will be treated than in what he will save. Good advertising should tell him both.

Mr. and Mrs. Ausbin Hurt of Ripley, Mississippi, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelia, to Mr. Coleman Simpson, son of Mr. Milton Simpson and the late Mrs. Simpson.

Miss Hurt is a graduate of South Tipton High School where she was active in many school activities. She attended Northeast Mississippi Junior College where she was a member of Phi Beta Lambda.

Mr. Simpson is a graduate of Ashland High School. He attended Northwest Mississippi Junior College. He is in the National Guard and is presently employed at The Dictaphone Corporation in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Miss Hurt is the granddaughter of Mr. Mike Hurt of Ripley and the late Mrs. Hurt, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Windham. Mr. Simpson is the grandson of Mrs. Robert Simpson of Ashland and the late Mr. Robert Simpson and the late Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Thompson.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 8:00 p.m., Friday, September 23 at Springdale Baptist Church.

Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

VOCATIONAL AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Vocational and technical education in Mississippi is attracting national attention through its curriculum materials laboratory — an instrument of trade and industrial section of the vo-tech division of the State Department of Education. The lab is located in the Department of Industrial Education at Mississippi State University and works nation-wide in its attempt to place the very latest curriculum

"A Survey Of Mississippi Painters" Program For Thursday Study Club

A culturally rewarding slide program, "A Survey of Mississippi Painters" was screened at the home of Mrs. John M. Curlee Thursday afternoon at the meeting of the Thursday Study Club.

After the arrival of the guests, the president, Miss Mabel Cunningham, briefly discussed business matters, followed by the enjoyment of a delicious dessert plate served by the hostess, and Mrs. Joe N. Walden.

The entirely fascinating program of real and absorbing interest was charmingly presented by Mrs. T. C. Gardner, Jr., with Mrs. William H. Preston, the narrator.

Mrs. Preston's selection of the Miss Ann Rutherford Is Honoree At Lovely Kitchen Shower

Miss Ann Rutherford, bride-elect of Jerry Floyd, was complimented with a kitchen shower by Mrs. Dexter Hoyle Eaton on Wednesday afternoon, August 24 at her home on Osborne Creek Road.

The honoree chose for the occasion a two-piece dress of white and yellow with which she wore a corsage of baby carnations in delicate cream, arranged with green ribbon and net.

The guests were ushered to the refreshment table, which was covered with a red and white checked cloth centered with a black tea kettle filled with red and white garden flowers. Dainty sandwiches and other delicacies were served. Flowers of many colors and foliage plants of dark green added to the beauty of the living room and den where the guests admired the many useful and beautiful gifts received by the guest of honor.

materials in the vocational and technical phases of trade and industrial education being conducted in 125 high schools and 17 junior colleges. In reviewing the success of the lab that is now in its third year of activities, it has not only put together North America's first curriculum for training saw filers, but has designed the finest curriculum available for courses in drafting and design technology, electronics technology, mechanical technology, vocational industrial electricity, vocational machine shop, and vocational automotive mechanics.

basic information from William Daniel Rowell's survey, was impressive.

It had come to Mr. Rowell's attention that one facet of Mississippi talent had been neglected — the painter. "He is active, he is capable, he is honored nationally, yet he is relatively unknown in his own state." Material available about other professional people, is adequately covered, but information on painters is sparse.

In order to give full impetus to Mr. Rowell's data, and make of it a valid educational aid, reproductions in form of color slides, a collection of two slides from each of the thirty painters were selected as representative of what is being done in the state today. The purpose of the screening was to provide a comprehensive resume of who the Mississippi painters are, where they are located and what they are doing. The survey took in a meaningful didactic "living" role.

In the light of many facts it is inevitable that the arts will survive and become a more vital part of Mississippians in decades to come.

Mississippi painters are men and women with their own personal visions, which they have discovered as the means to express. All of this has happened in the past fifteen years. Mississippi painters have been swept into the mainstream of contemporary painting. In the beginning most of their painting, was traditional.

Some of the artists of our state who have achieved recognition in the National shows are native sons and daughters. During the past nine years those closely associated with them have found them to be active capable and a credit to their field. They have grown into painters of national importance. They are able to match the diversity and vitality of contemporary painters anywhere. This opinion is shared by nationally recognized authorities.

The five influences effecting the development and growth of the painters are: 1. College and art departments have grown. 2. Mis-

VA Answers

Vets Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I have been told that I am not eligible for treatment at a VA hospital for my nonservice-connected disability because my military service was in a so-called peacetime period and was not considered wartime service. Is this correct?

A — If you were separated with other than a dishonorable discharge anytime after January 31, 1955, you are eligible for all medical, hospital and domiciliary benefits to which veterans with war-time service are entitled, and on the same priority with war-time veterans.

Q — My son enlisted in the Air

Mississippi Art Associations annual exhibits. 3. The establishment of Allison's Wells' Art Colony. 4. Art Magazine now available. 5. More are visiting the national and regional exhibits.

Today, there are approximately two dozen painters who are regularly accepted in the major regional shows in the South and Southeast.

Two paintings in the collection by a recognized local artist Rev. W. R. Richerson were "Disputed Passage" and "Sanctuary", both in oil.

The paintings shown encompassed a great variety of styles, educational background experiences and outlook on painting. They varied in their concern for the emotional, economic, spiritual, and social comment.

The group found additional interest through the opportunity of viewing a number of art treasures throughout the home obtained by Miss Mary Whitley Curlee, who taught several years in Yamato, Japan, at the Air Force Base.

Force in 1955. Shortly after he was in they did away with the G. I. Bill. When he was discharged after four years he decided to go to college and with our help, and working himself he graduated in 1965. It was a struggle. Now the G. I. Bill is back. What he would like to know is can he get a loan on the bill to start him in business? Two or three thousand dollars would help him a great deal.

A — Loans may be made only for the purchase of homes; to make alterations, repairs or improvements in homes already owned and occupied; to purchase farms or farm supplies or equipment; to obtain farm working capital; or to refinance delinquent indebtedness on property to be used or occupied by the veteran as a home or for farming purposes. The post-Korean G.

I. Bill does not authorize business loans.

Q — Several people have told me that my husband, a World War II veteran now deceased, is entitled to a marker on his grave site stating he was a veteran. Could you give me any information on this matter?

A — Headstones or grave markers are available for any deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service whose last period of service was terminated honorably by death or discharge. If you desire a headstone or grave marker you may contact the nearest VA office, which will provide an application and assistance in filing. If you mean a marker in which the service organizations place flags on Memorial and Veterans Day, contact the service organization to which your husband belonged.

B. and P. W. Club Honors Club President Miss Ann Rutherford, With Shower

Miss Ann Rutherford, bride-elect of Jerry Floyd, was honored by the Business and Professional Women's Club with a miscellaneous bridal shower Monday night at the Town Motel Restaurant. The officers of the club acted as hostesses.

Mrs. Clyde Jones registered the guests.

Members of the Club were served bridal cakes, nuts, mints and punch from a refreshment table. The table was covered in white lace over light green, centered with an arrangement of white and pink carnations. Crystal candle holders were used to complete the decorations of the table.

Mrs. Malcolm Carter served the cake and Mrs. Billy Hester presided over the punch bowl.

The gift table was lovely with a large pink umbrella hanging over the gifts. The other end of the gift table was flanked with a beautiful green floral and candle arrangement.

The bride-elect wore a two piece dress of light blue silk shantung and a gift corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Joe Ray Langston, Mrs. Thomas Keenum and Mrs. Mark Johnson, Jr., helped with the decorations.

Singing School In Progress At Little Creek Church

A Singing School is now in progress at Little Creek Baptist Church and will continue through September 9. School begins each night at 7 p.m. and is being taught by Roy McCarley of Baldwin. Everyone has a special invitation.

Cytology Kits Available To Dentists For Checking Of Oral Cancers

Cancers of the mouth, called oral cancers, aren't going undetected as much as formerly because of a program that is being conducted by the State Board of Health in cooperation with the Mississippi Dental Association.

It's a program in oral cytology — which means the study of cells from the mouth. The program has been in progress for the past two years, with the majority of the Mississippi dentists enrolled.

The State Board of Health is furnishing cytology kits to these dentists and collecting data on findings and necessary follow-up procedures. Public health dentistry officials, also, have held eight orientation conferences for dentists in various areas of the state.

Whenever a lesion is seen in the mouth of a patient, the dentist takes what is known as a cytology smear. It's a quick, painless procedure consisting of swabbing the lesion with a cotton-tipped applicator which picks up superficial loose cells that are always present. The cells are then transferred to a slide and submitted to a pathologist for microscopic examination.

If the cytology smear has abnormal cells present, further examination of the lesion is necessary, which usually includes a biopsy.

Biopsy, the removal of a section of tissue for microscopic study, is the only means to definitely diagnose the exact nature of a lesion, according to Dr. Aaron Trubman, Public Health Dentistry Director. He said cytology supplements biopsy and is not a replacement for it. "The relative ease in detecting oral cancer should result in early diagnosis and high cure rates as well as in reducing the necessity for disfiguring surgery," Dr. Trubman stated. "That's why the State Board of Health is offering this program to Mississippi dentists."

Too many oral cancers are not diagnosed at a time when satisfactory treatment can be done, he said. The chief reason for this is that often early oral cancers are painless and do not interfere with functions of the mouth.

Another reason is that too many people do not make regular dental visits during which time a complete oral examination, including that of any lesions present, can be made.

Dr. Trubman said this is especially true for the older segment of population where the incidence of cancer is highest.

"The dentist can play an important role in the detection of oral cancers. By making regular dental visits for a complete oral examination and additional visits for examination of any lesion — painful or not — present for more than a few weeks, it will be possible to greatly reduce the toll that oral cancers take in lives and suffering," stated Dr. Trubman.

Sponsors Sought For Methodist Children's Home

JACKSON, Miss. — As school bells will soon be ringing again people throughout the state of Mississippi will be given another opportunity to manifest their friendship toward the boys and girls at The Methodist Children's Home of Jackson.

Each year at this time the administration of the Home solicits the support of all interested individuals and groups in behalf of the Home's school Lunch and Support Sponsorship Program. This program which was begun approximately 15 years ago has been of tremendous help and receipts from this source are relied upon more heavily each year.

Since the boys and girls at The Methodist Children's Home all attend public schools in the city of Jackson, it is necessary for the home to provide money for their lunches at school and for their school supplies. Money for this comes through The School Lunch and Support Sponsorship Program. Two years ago the base of this program was expanded to include the cost of the meals which the child receives on the campus of The Methodist Home. Thus, all money received through this program is used to bear the cost of the child's lunches at school, his school supplies, and food for his meals on The Home campus.

Obviously it takes considerably more than $36 per year to provide all of the above for each child. But in order to put such sponsorship within the reach of the individual or group the home requests only $36 per year from each sponsor. Several sponsors are secured in order to provide the total amount needed for each child.

Any one who desires to serve as a partial school lunch and support sponsor of a child at The Methodist Children's Home may do so for a total of $36 for a nine month school year. This amount may be sent in one lump sum payment, in two payments of $18 each or in nine

ANSWER THIS QUESTION

Am I doing a good job with my farm? Yes—No—Think before you answer that question. Are you taking soil samples? Are you following recommended practices that are offered to you as a free service that takes the guessing out of farming? Are you putting all your acres into proper use? Our land has to be fed just as our bank account does or it will soon be depleted. We would appreciate being favored with any part of your business.

monthly payments of $4.00.

Upon receipt of the first payment the sponsor will be sent the name, age, and a picture of the child who will then become his "Unseen Guest." Some sponsors also remember the child whom they are sponsoring with gifts on special occasions, such as on the child's birthday, at Christmas and Easter. All of this is a tremendous help and is deeply appreciated both by the children and the administration of The Home.

"You can bring a tremendous amount of joy and happiness to the heart of a fine young boy or girl by serving as his or her sponsor. Incidentally, you will also derive a great deal of happiness from this act yourself," says the Rev. J. H. Morrow, Jr., Superintendent.

Six-Year Study Shows Value Of Winter Grazing

STATE COLLEGE, MISS. — Ryegrass grazing was less expensive and more profitable than grain feeding for fall dropped calves in a six-year test at the North Mississippi Branch Experiment Station.

A third comparison, introduced the last three years of the test, showed that both the ryegrass and the grain feeding systems were definitely more profitable than the practice of no supplemental feed or winter grazing.

S. P. Crockett, superintendent of the branch station at Holly Springs, found that creep-fed calves averaged a return of $24.62 each over the past six winters. During the same period, calves allowed to graze ryegrass averaged a return of $27.41.

"Quite a few calves dropped in this area in late summer and fall are carried through the winter with little or no feed other than their dam's milk and what dry forage they can get from pastures and fields," Mr. Crockett said.

Three years ago, in the winter of 1963-64, a third lot was added to the test in order to study this practice and also to use as a comparison for the other two lots. Calves with no supplementary feed gained very slowly and returned an average of only $4.04 each. Over this three-year period the fed calves returned $18.93 each and those on grazing $19.35.

The complete report is published in the August issue of Mississippi Farm Research, available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi.

attached to a headpiece of organza roses encrusted with seed pearls. Her bouquet consisted of a cascade of white roses, green ivy, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Raymond Spreckels, sister of the bride, of Zion, Ill., was matron of honor. She wore a blue floor length sheath with a crepe skirt and brocade bodice and train, with a matching headpiece. She carried a cascading bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Mr. Raymond Cheatham of Waukegan, Ill., a friend of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Harry Kapaun, brother of the bride and Raymond Spreckels, brother-in-law of the bride, both of Zion, Illinois.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the church.

After a honeymoon through the Southern States to Mississippi, the couple is now at home at 819 Kingsway Estate, Waukegan, Illinois.

Jacksonian Wins Award

Miss Patricia Hinton, Research Technologist at the Jackson VA Center, was awarded a Scientific Products Foundation Award which included a cash award of $200 at the national convention of the American Society of Medical Technologists held in Los Angeles.

Miss Hinton received the Serology and Immunology Award of the Foundation for her paper entitled "Separation of Six Antigenic Constituents of Histoplasma by Immunoelectrophoresis".

The American Society of Medical Technologists is a national organization with a membership of approximately 10,000 members. Twenty-five hundred of its members attended this year's convention.

The awards program of the Society was established in 1936 to promote professional growth of its membership and encourage the exchange of information, methods and techniques through scientific reporting. Scientific Products awards are given in 10 categories which include: biochemistry, education, hematology, histology, cytology, blood banking, microbiology, radioisotopes, instrumentation and serology. Miss Hinton received the '66 Serology Award.

Miss Hinton has been employed at the VA Center as a Medical Technologist in the Blastomycosis Laboratory for the past five years.

She is a native of Jackson, having attended grammar school and Central High School in Jackson and graduating from Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus. She did post graduate work in an approved School of Medical Technology at Charity Hospital in New Orleans and has been registered by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Miss Hinton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hinton of Jackson, Miss., and the granddaugh-

Mrs. Mickey Wood Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Hugh Michael Wood, nee Ann Brown, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon, the 27th of August in the social hall of the First Methodist Church in Booneville.

Carrying out a yellow and white color scheme, the table was lovely using a yellow cloth overlaid with lace and an exquisite arrangement of yellow roses, yellow and white glads and fragrant August lilies. This was flanked by twin silver candelabra, each holding five lighted yellow tapers. A golden punch was served from the crystal bowl along with individual cake squares, mints and nuts. At the register a crystal bud vase held yellow rosebuds. Other decorations included a table of yellow roses and lovely miniature bridesmaid dolls dressed in yellow on a cloth of white.

The honoree was lovely in a two piece linen suit and wearing a yellow glamelia corsage. Also in the receiving line were the bride's mother attired in a blue embroidered cotton and the groom's mother in a blue dotted swiss. Each mother wore a corsage of white miniature carnations.

Hostesses for the event were Misses Elizabeth Box, Charlotte Oakley, Linda Perry, Sandra Pounds, Amy Jo Stewart, Katherine Tays, and Judy White.

The many lovely and useful gifts which the bride received were on display for the guests to view.

ughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walton C. Peeler of Booneville, Miss.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER — Mrs. Mickey Wood, the former Miss Ann Brown, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist Church. Goodwin Nursery Receives Contracts

Goodwin Nursery of Booneville has received two contracts from the Mississippi Highway Department.

They were the successful bidders on approximately .142 miles of control of junk yards of Highway 78, North of Tupelo in the amount of $1,483.00 and also approximately 4.045 miles of landscaping of Mississippi Highway 6 at Oxford in Lafayette County in the amount of $31,518.00.

These were among projects totaling $2,756,809.00 in 13 counties recently awarded by the Mississippi Highway Department.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank each and every one who was so nice to me while I was in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. The beautiful flowers, cards, gifts, telephone calls, food and everything made my days much shorter. May the good Lord bless and keep all of you in my prayer.

NOTICE OF SALE
IN RE: LAST WILL AND TESTA-MENT OF FRANK OWEN, DE-CEASED NO 8763

By virtue of a provision of a Decree of the Chancery Court of Prentiss County, Mississippi, rendered on the 30th day of August, 1966, the undersigned as Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Frank Owen, Deceased, will, on the 24th day of September, 1966, at the West front door of the Prentiss County Courthouse in the City of Booneville, Mississippi, within legal hours, offer for sale and sell to the highest and best bidder for cash the following described real estate situated in the County of Prentiss,
State of Mississippi, to-wit:

The Southwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 10,
Township 6, Range 6, Prentiss
County, Mississippi, being 40 acres, more or less.

ALSO: The Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 10, Township 6, Range
6, Prentiss County, Mississippi, being 40 acres, more or less.

By a further provision of said Decree, the undersigned, acting in the same capacity, will, on the 24th day of September, 1966, at the Frank Owen house located on Highway No. 30 West, Prentiss County, Mississippi, within legal hours, offer for sale and sell to the highest and best bidder for cash the following described articles of personal property:

Household furniture located in said house, household furnishings located in said house and other articles of personal property therein situated.

The above property is being sold for the purpose of partitioning among the heirs of the said estate, in accordance with the aforesaid Decree, and the title is believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as is vested in me as Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Frank Owen, Deceased.

Dated this 31st day of August, 1966.

Harry Cowan, Executor 23-4tc

CARD OF APPRECIATION

To my friends, who have expressed their thought and regard in so many lovely ways during my several weeks at the hospital, I wish to say, gratefully, your kindness has been meaningful and sustaining as a daily source of strength and encouragement.

Through their earnest concern for my welfare, Dr. Galloway and Dr.
Pharr, the nurses and aides have been most generous with their time and attention.

May I assure you, that there will always be from my heart a prayer of thankfulness for the blessings I have received through your friendship.

Dr. Bernard Patrick, North Mississippi physician for many years, died Tuesday at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. He was 73.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) in the chapel of Mc-Millan Funeral Home with burial in the Booneville Cemetery.

Born in Booneville, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Patrick. He was graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Medicine. He practiced medicine in Corinth until his retirement in 1964, when he returned to Booneville.

He was a Methodist, a Mason and Veteran of World War I. Dr.
Patrick held membership in the American Medical Association, the Alcorn Medical Society, the American Academy of General Practice and the American Society of Abdominal Surgeons.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Hortense
Sutherland Patrick; two daughters, Mrs. David Budlowe of Booneville and Mrs. Robert Lambright of Kansas City, Kansas; a son, Dr. Bernard Patrick, a neurosurgeon of Memphis; three sisters, Mrs. W. W.
Cunningham and Mrs. J. F. Milton of Booneville and Mrs. William J.
Edwards of Cullman, Ala.; two brothers, Hugh Patrick of Fulton and Julian Patrick of Meridian.

Cynthia Faye Bain
Dies Suddenly Thurs.

Cynthia Faye Bain of Route 1, Rienzi, died suddenly Thursday at 5 a.m. in the Northeast Mississippi
Hospital. She was 3.

Funeral services were conducted
Friday afternoon at Liberty Hill Baptist Church. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with McMillan
Funeral Directors in charge.

She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Levi Bain; two brothers, Richard Bain and Joseph Bain, both of the home, and a sister, Jennifer Bain, also of the home.

SHOW-OFF

Harry is "showing-off"—and he certainly has a most appreciative audience!

We all "show-off" sometimes, in one way or another. It's a natural human tendency, and we can't be blamed for expressing it occasionally. And we are not apt to overdo it if we discover the need for humility.

Church is one place where this lesson can be learned. In God's House, we know instinctively how small we really are, which makes us more thankful for both His love and compassion.

We need this sense of coming down to size. We need to look with humble eyes at ourselves, at our fellow men, and at the miracles of God's creations.

Yes — we need to go to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

On The Local Scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gardner and Mrs. Leonard Nabors attended the funeral of Mrs. Gib Baker in Jackson, Tenn., last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Willey, Miss Claudia Willey, Mr. Robert Willey, and Lourine Willey are expected to arrive today from El Paso, Texas, for the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Jim E. Scott's Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday.

Mrs. W. N. Reynolds of Tishomingo, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Moore, Mrs. Kate Wilemon and Carolyn, and Mr. Evan Murphy all of New Site, Mrs. Thelma Maroon of Memphis, Tenn., Miss Shirley Wilemon, a teacher in a Missouri college, and Miss Robin Jones of Booneville were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Jones August 25. This was a special treat for Mrs. Jones for this was the first time she had had all four sisters with her at the same time in nine years.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Walden of La Place, La., and John Walden, who is stationed on Guam, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Scott this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith and daughter, Tina, have been visiting Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Lucille Smith. The Smiths have been transferred to Oklahoma City, Okla., from Virginia Beach, Va., where Mr. Smith is manager of the Ward Company.

Friends of Mrs. Barney Davis will be glad to know she is improving after undergoing surgery Friday at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis.

Miss Liz Box was in Jackson, Miss., last week attending KD workshop. This annual event was in preparation for Rush Week at Millsaps College.

Miss Mary Neal Richerson is at home for a few days before leaving for Pennsylvania State University, where she will be enrolled in graduate school. Miss Richerson has been in Germany for the summer.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

By CLARE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

What comes in mind when you hear the word breakfast? Do you think mmm or ick? Could be that you never think about it at all, but just dash off to a morning of activity after an inadequate meal. Or perhaps you're one of those who think that eating no breakfast will keep you slim. If so, better read on.

The word "breakfast" comes from two Anglo-Saxon words "bre-can" and "fasten" which literally mean "break a fast". With a closer look you'll see that breakfast signifies even more . . . namely, glowing health, vitality, and most of all the other things that contribute to beauty.

Studies show that many people who skip breakfast for lack of appetite are those who don't get enough rest. Anyway, you can benefit far more from a good meal in the morning than from a few minutes of extra sleep.

Research indicates that one fourth to one third of the total daily intake of important nutrients should be taken at breakfast. People who skip breakfast do not make up the difference at other meals and snacks.

For revolutionizing your life with a new plan for breakfast.

The fallacy that skipping breakfast will help you ease pounds. The opposite is true, for breakfast skippers tend to nibble between meals to eat too much at lunch or dinner. The foundation for figure control is a good breakfast, plus two other well-balanced meals. For those trying to lose weight, cutting down on these extras in sweets and very high in calories is the right way to approach the problem.

If you are among the many who can't seem to get inspired on the subject of breakfast, help yourself out of the doldrums with some of these variations of and additions to the breakfast standards: Fruit: sliced bananas topped with orange juice, or baked apple, or prunes. Cereal: topped with chopped nuts, coconut, crushed pineapple, cinnamon and brown sugar, fresh fruits, or cream.

HOW MANY SHEETS MAKE A WASHER LOAD?

One thing which puzzles many consumers is how many bed sheets should be washed at one time. U. S. Department of Agriculture electrification specialists say it's best not to make a washer load of big items like sheets. A mixture of big and little items is recommended.

It's good practice to wash not more than two double-bed size sheets in one washer load. Some of the newer large-size washers may carry more. Fill out the rest of the load with smaller items which are lighter in color. This allows space for all items to move freely through the water for good washing action, the experts say.

If clothing and bedding does not wash clean to your satisfaction, try a smaller load and also check to see if your problem is packing too many large items into one washer load.

Merit System Exams Are Announced

The Merit System Supervisor for the State Department of Public Welfare announced today open competitive examinations for the following positions: Welfare Visitor I, Day Care Reviewer, Work Foreman, and Clerks I, and II.

Welfare Visitor I requires college graduation, salary range $345-425.

Day Care Reviewer requires college graduation, and 18 semester hours in pre-school, nursery or kindergarten education, salary range $365-445.

Work Foreman requires high school education, and two years employment in a supervisory capacity, salary range $345-425.

Clerks I and II require high school graduation; the level of classification depends on experience, salary range $230-300.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the local welfare office, or by writing the Merit System Supervisor, P. O. Box 647, Jackson, Mississippi. Applications must be postmarked not later than Saturday, September 10, 1966.

Position Open For Senior Clerk

Announcement is made by the Merit System Supervisor of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission that open competitive examination is being held for the position of Senior Clerk.

The examination will be given in Jackson on September 9, 1966. Closing date for receipt of applications is September 5, 1966. Applications must be in the Merit Office not later than this date. The examination is open to male and female candidates.

Applicants can qualify if they have graduated from a standard 4-year high school and have completed one year of college work or one year within the past five years of successful full-time paid employment in clerical work.

Complete announcement with full information may be obtained from any Local Employment Service Office or by writing: Merit System Supervisor, P. O. Box 1726, Jackson, Mississippi.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

Cotton Defoliation

Defoliation can help your produce a higher quality cotton, but it must be done properly and at the correct time.

Some advantages of defoliation are: Boll rot in rank growth is reduced, color and grade are improved and fiber strength is maintained after defoliation.

Cotton dries more quickly on the stalk resulting in less moisture and green-leaf trash in seed cotton arriving at the gin. This cuts down on excessive drying and cleaning and preserves fiber length.

One disadvantage is that when defoliation is done too soon, bolls open prematurely and cause immature fibers in the cotton. Immature fibers have a lower fineness value, they break more easily in gin or mill processing, nep more readily and do not dye uniformly.

We will give you details on good defoliation, when to do it and how.

Dairy Notes

Mississippi dairymen plan to increase their value of production to $91 million by 1975. This is a part of the 1.5 by '75 program launched by the Cooperative Extension Service. It is designed to raise the value of farm production in Mississippi to $1.5 million by 1975.

Dairymen plan to reach their goal by improvement in feeding, breeding and management, with greater emphasis on records.

Winter Grazing

Now is the time to make that first planting of oats, wheat or ryegrass for early fall and winter grazing.

Be sure to use plenty of fertilizer at planting time. Do not wait until you have a stand to put out the plant food. If you do, you have lost around two weeks good growth.

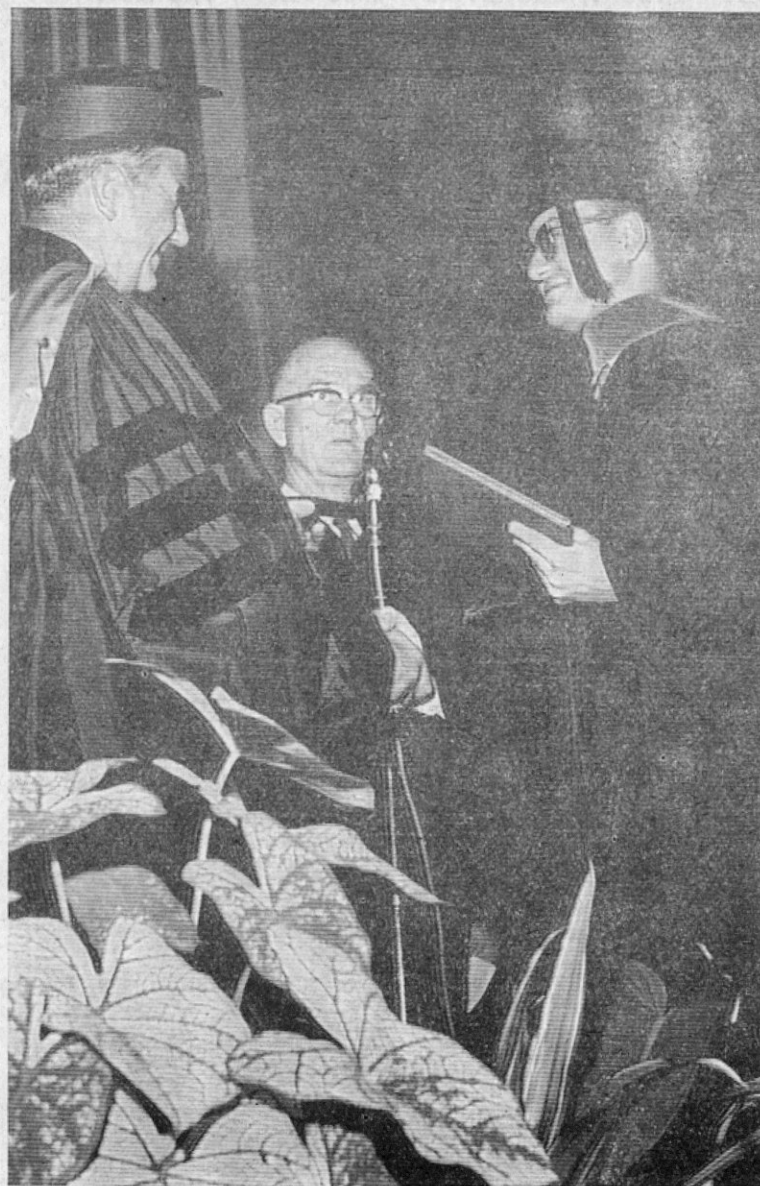

Do not plant any oats seed that are not treated for leaf blight. The cost of treatment is extremely low compared to the possible loss you would have from planting untreated seed.

Insect Control

Hornflies on beef cattle often tend to increase at this time of year as some cattlemen slack off on control measures. Keep your backrubbers charged up and your dusting sacks filled.

Boll weevils are heavy in many fields. Don't let them harvest your cotton crop for you. Top crop should be protected at least until September 10th.

Veterans Administration hospitals have used the technique enabling a veteran with one leg paralyzed because of stroke or other brain injury to walk without the usual crutches or braces. The Hines, Ill., VA hospital developed the technique using an electronic device to provide the proper stimulation to the nerves controlling the muscles.

GETS DIPLOMA — Charles E. Treas (right) receives his doctoral degree from President Frank Rose at summer graduation exercises last Friday night at the University of Alabama. In the background is Dean Eric Rodgers of the Graduate School. Dr. Treas is married to the former Sue Garrett of Booneville. He will be on the faculty of Ole Miss after September 1, and the family will be at home at 1415 Jefferson Avenue in Oxford.

Claude S. Sanders Services Held Sat. At Harpersville

Forest, Miss. — Funeral services for Mr. Claude S. Sanders, 74, of Harpersville, were held on Saturday morning, August 27th, at 10:00 from the Harpersville Methodist Church with Rev. T. M. Dye, Jr. and Rev. Robert Hunt officiating. Interment followed in the church cemetery with Ott & Lee Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Sanders passed away in the S. E. Lackey Memorial Hospital on Thursday afternoon after a short illness. He was a native of Leake County but had lived fifty two years in Harpersville. He was a member of the Harpersville Methodist Church and a retired farmer and business man.

The survivors are his wife, Mrs. Una Majure Sanders; two sons, Claude S. Sanders, Jr. of Jackson and John Sanders of Columbus; three daughters, Mrs. Stewart Vail of Booneville, Mrs. Paul Baddour of Memphis, and Mrs. Ray Sturup of Forest; seventeen grandchildren; one brother, Roy L. Sanders of Harpersville; and one sister, Mrs. John F. Hudson of Shubuta.

EHC Officer Attends National Conference

The presentation of reports of community development projects by Extension Homemakers groups from 42 states and Puerto Rica was a major highlight of the National Extension Homemaker's Council conference on the Colorado State University campus in Fort Collins, recently.

Dr. Margaret Browne, head of the home economics programs for the Federal Extension Service, who was a major convention speaker expressed her conviction that "a democratic society cannot exist without trained leadership. The women who have acquired self-confidence and the ability to identify problems through involvement in Extension Homemaker programs are the standard bearers who help secure better health, education and recreation services for the community. In many cases, their concern for human development has paved the way for economic development."

The meeting was the thirtieth annual get-together of homemakers representing about one million members from about 42,733 Extension Homemakers Clubs and organizations throughout the country.

National officers who presided at general sessions were Mrs. E. L. Survant of Trinchera, Colorado; Mrs. Lawrence Fisher of Valders, Wisconsin; Mrs. Charles Porter of Vicksburg, Mississippi; and Mrs. Mary Moore, of Raton, N. Mexico.

In a final round-up session, Dr. Browne related the conference theme "The Family — Beacon Light of the Nation" to the charge for individual delegates returning to their own communities: "Any true evaluation of this week's program can only be made back home — in homemaker programs that help make stronger families that are truly beacon lights, in programs that serve the needs of others as well as ourselves; in acceptance of citizenship responsibilities and important community service."

Mrs. Harold Burns of Baldwin, vice president of the County Extension Homemakers council represented Prentiss County at the National Conference of Extension Homemakers.

Legionnaires To Meet September 6

Members of the local American Legion Post will meet in regular session at the Post Home on Front Street, Booneville, Miss. at 7:30 Tuesday night, September 6, 1966. Every member is urged to attend and bring a prospective member along. In this way we build membership and promote the ideals and principles of The American Legion, says Commander White.

Let's pay our dues early and make this another banner year for our great organization.

Plans For WSCS Fall Meeting Made

A full program of inspiration and information is being planned for the District Fall Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service for the New Albany District to be held September 20, 1966, at the First Methodist Church, Corinth, Mississippi. "Christian Being and Doing" is the theme for the meeting.

Rich inspiration will be offered in the hymns and prayers for the day and the meditation to be given by Mrs. G. W. Harwell, former president of the Woman's Society for the North Mississippi Conference. The closing meditation thought of thanks will be given in song by Mrs. June Jumper of Etta.

The approved studies will be presented by Mrs. Harold Robinson of Dumas and Mrs. W. C. Smallwood of New Albany, both conference officers. Rev. B. G. Whitehurst of Belmont will discuss the relation of the Woman's Society with the total church program.

Mrs. Roy Hall of Hickory Flat presents Program Materials and Mrs. E. S. Furr of Ripley will answer the question, "Must you take an office?" Mrs. R. E. Tate of New Albany will lift up the new Methodist Hymnal.

Other features include the discussion of Financial Opportunities, Report and Challenge by Mrs. F. A. Stanford of Ripley and the committee on program by Mrs. W. C. Smallwood. District information to be offered by the district officers, the offering, announcements and business will round out the program for the day.

Registration begins at 9:30 with the call to worship at 10:00 a.m. Mrs. A. C. Childers, chairman of the committee on program, will preside, and all members, pastors and friends are being urged to attend the district meeting.

Holiday Traffic Fatalities Grow

"Holiday traffic death statistics could decrease tourist trade", warns Mississippi State Automobile Association, Inc. With the 531 "immediate deaths" reported on the highways during the most recent 4th of July weekend, it is easily understandable that drivers are reluctant to travel over the holiday weekends. (Total 4th of July death rate not completed until those injured either recover or become added to the statistics.)

The Labor Day long weekend ahead has little to recommend to as a safe time for travel. Last year 574 "immediate" traffic deaths were reported — and a final total of 765 died as a result of injuries from accidents on that weekend. Small wonder that so many enthusiastic tourists are becoming stay-at-homers on holiday weekends!

The reason for these accidents have been repeated so often that the public views them with bored apathy. This is a most dangerous attitude, and dire measures may be necessary to shake drivers into a responsible awareness. The Mississippi State Automobile Association, Inc., backs the movement for stricter crackdown on offenders. Reckless drivers, speeders, drinking drivers — all should be stopped. The term "drinking drivers" is used in preference to "drunk drivers" for the simple reason that they are creating an even greater hazard for motorists. The obvious drunk more frequently advertises his condition in time to be avoided, while the "drinking drivers" are a hidden threat because their slowed reflexes and dulled alertness may not be apparent until after an accident.

It has been proposed that double fines and penalties be assessed during the "double danger" holidays, forcing a higher price to be paid by the offenders, in the hope this could reduce the high price that is presently being paid by the entire motoring public.

In the event you feel the "shoe fits the other driver" in terms of speed, recklessness, or drinking, the Mississippi State Automobile Association, Inc., reminds there are two other killers on the highways fatigue and inattention! Serious, safe, sober drivers are frequent offenders of these two causes of accidents. Obeying traffic laws alone may not be enough, if you continue to drive past your peak of performance. Get off the highways before you reach the point of exhaustion — and stay off the highways entirely when your mind is on anything other than your driving.

State Continues Population Gain At All Age Levels

STATE COLLEGE, MISS — In spite of increasing migration losses, Mississippi population continued to grow at all age levels in 1965, according to census estimates recently published at Mississippi State University by Mrs. Ellen S. Bryant of the Department of Sociology and Rural Life.

The additional 13,000 accrued since 1964 brings the increment since the Census enumeration in 1960 to about 152,000, which amounts to an approximate seven percent increase over the first five years of the decade. The rate of growth is nearly identical for both races but, numerically, the increase is greater for whites. The increase for whites and persons of color places the state's 196 portion at 42.3 percent which is the same as that given in the 1960 Census.

"The net growth, however, resulted not from migration but from the addition of births," Mrs. Bryant said. "Most of the state's recent growth seems again to be of an urban or suburban nature."

"Most outmigration occurred in the age group entering the labor force and probably can be explained in large part by the maturing of the young people, born at the start of the post-war baby boom, who are leaving the state in search of economic opportunity."

"Unless attractive jobs are offered these young people the state can expect to continue to lose a large proportion of the young people it has been paying to educate over the past fifteen years. The rates of loss are estimated at one in three for whites and four out of five for nonwhites."

"The estimates of Mississippi County populations, prepared for the first time by age, were computed by a new method using data which indicates a probable 1960 Census undercount for the 6-through-14 age group of about 10 percent for nonwhites. An undercount of these proportions would mean that recent outmigration has been much higher than estimated and the growth rates lower."

Mrs. Bryant's 1965 population estimates, which include figures for each county in the state, have been published by the Agricultural Experiment Station. They may be obtained on request from the Department of Sociology and Rural Life, State College, Mississippi.

MODERN SERVICES ESSENTIAL TO ECONOMIC PROGRESS

Mississippi has all modern communications necessary for efficient business and industrial operations in whatever quantity may be required at any point in our state. This is all important to achieving maximum economic development. It is a fact that modern air facilities, public transportation systems, telephone and mail service are vital for a progressive economy.

Rites Held For James O. South

The death of James Odell South on August 19th at his home after a brief illness in his 66th year, ended a life of signal usefulness. He was an individual whose contribution to life and the cause of Christianity, was wholly worthwhile and constructive.

Mr. South was a native of McNairy County, Tennessee. His family was among the earliest settlers. The South and Latta families had lived in this area a long time before the War Between the States. He was married in 1918 to Miss Mamie Bolding, a lovely helpmate who was also a native of McNairy County. They had happily celebrated the 48th anniversary of their marriage on the 25th of July, with a profound spirit of gratitude for the years of enrichment which their idyllic companionship had brought them.

Mr. and Mrs. South were dedicated members of the Primitive Baptist Church. Mr. South joined in 1940 and was ordained as a deacon in 1951.

Mr. South came to Booneville at the time of the opening of the Brown Shoe Factory, and with scholarly interest he proved his ability and loyalty in the chemical division of the plant for ten years. He retired in 1955. Prior to his services here he had been employed at the Union City, Tennessee plant for fourteen years.

Before engaging in industrial employment, Mr. South was in the real estate business for a period of seven years, in the management of which he displayed executive ability of a high order. Active and successful, his influence grew with the expansion of his interests. In this field he was materially assisted through the artistic talent of Mrs. South. They owned and lived at the Bluford McCullar home on Jefferson Street, which they had restored to its former beauty.

A man of versatility and enterprise, his influence was very broadening and human type. He possessed a nature that emphasized above everything else, a sincerity of affection that hallowed his friendships and refreshed the faith of all his associations. He was known for his depth of devotion to his companion, his home, and his church. He had a delicate and refined regard for the feelings and interests of others, that made him the object of admiration and esteem wherever he was known. Modesty, which is always the consort of the truly great, and the ideals and purposes of his life, seemed not only to walk by his side, but to precede him at least, one step in advance. He was one of which future generations will say: "The world is better, because he lived."

Services were held Sunday afternoon, August 21 at 3 o'clock in the chapel of Shackelford Funeral Home in Selmer, Tennessee, conducted by ministers C. P. Rinehart and Elwin McCutcheon.

Pall bearers were his nephews and the honorary members of his church.

He was buried in the Foster Park Memorial Garden, near Corinth. He leaves his beloved companion; a sister, and a host of friends.

RECREATION IN MISSISSIPPI
No Mississippian needs to leave his or her state regardless of his or her recreational taste. Fishing, boating, camping and hunting facilities, golf, bowling, basketball and football, Mississippi has them all. Historical and scenic features are everywhere. Fine roads run to mighty rivers, countless lakes and streams, and the magnificent Gulf Coast. You're never out of sight of colorful, majestic sites. Green forests offer quiet and serenity; and for contrast, there are bustling and beautiful cities which reflect Mississippi's vitality.

Annie E. Logan Celebrates Birthday

Miss Annie E. Logan, formerly of Hernando, celebrated her birthday Sunday, August 7, in the home of her niece, Mrs. Howard Duncan, Meadow Creek Road, Booneville.

Miss Logan, a retired registered nurse, has spent most of her life in DeSoto County. A member of a prominent pioneer family of that section, she served during World War I in Maryland as a nurse and later in New Mexico as a missionary nurse among the Spanish-American people there.

Her life has been devoted to the service of others in whatever capacity she could serve. She loves her church, community, friends and relatives with an enduring devotion. The Aletha Lodge Nursing Home in Booneville is her residence now as she recuperates from a recent illness.

Among the other guests and well-wishers who came to honor Miss Logan, who was eighty-seven on August 11, were: Miss Lula Hill, Miss Sammie Bennett, Mr. and Mrs.

his homeport of Alameda, Calif., as a crewmember aboard the attack aircraft carrier, USS Ranger, after an eight and one-half month deployment in the Western Pacific with the Seventh Fleet.

While operating off the coast of Vietnam, the Ranger struck strategic sites in North Vietnam, delivering nearly eleven thousand tons of ordnance on enemy positions.

The Ranger planned and executed the first strike against the Haiphong, Vietnam petroleum, oil, and lubricant storage facilities. This strike was said to have had severe damage to the depot and despite the intensive ground fire encountered there was no damage to the attacking aircraft from the Ranger.

Other missions from the Ranger, included strikes on railroads, bridges, highways and water traffic, seriously hampering the movement of war materials to the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.
