Thrasher Water Association Gets Loan For Construction Of Community System

A loan of $174,000 to the Thrasher Water Association has been closed and work orders issued for construction to begin Monday, October 3, according to C. E. Young, county Farmers Home Administration supervisor. The FHA insured loan was made by the Bank of Mississippi.

The loan will enable the Thrasher Water Association to install a deep well, storage tank, distribution lines and meters.

This water system will enable rural residents of the Thrasher Community and surrounding area to solve a serious water problem. B. Fatherree, FHA State Director, stated that a system such as this will improve the community by making it more attractive for homes and industry. Income will be increased and living conditions improved. Building sites are accessible to this area and with safe and sanitary water available new homes and industry will be encouraged. Some 700 people will be served by the water system. Several small business establishments, three churches, a high school and a grammar school.

Construction of the project will provide 2,600 man-days of labor for engineers, well drillers, metal welders, operators of ditch digging equipment, plumbers and their helpers, and painters. Some 60 to 75 people will be employed in the construction of the water system which will be capable of delivering 200,000 gallons a day when completed.

Rural water system loans are available to organizations operating on a nonprofit basis such as nonprofit corporations and water supply districts. Small rural towns and other rural political subdivisions are also eligible. Officers of the Thrasher Water Association are: President, George Lauderdale; Vice-President, B. F. Windham; Secretary - Treasurer, Willie Hatfield, all of Rt. 1, Booneville, Mississippi.

There are 75 working days allotted for the completion of this important highway project.

He added that this major improvement project is being financed with 100 percent state construction funds and when completed this section of Highway No. 45 will be strengthened and will provide a safer and much smoother riding surface for the traveling public. Blue Devils Stage Comeback To Take Homecoming Tilt Over Kossuth Fri.

The large crowd gathered for the Booneville High School homecoming football game Friday night didn't have much to cheer about during the first half, but following the intermission, during which the Homecoming Queen and Court were presented to the strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by the band, the Blue Devils came back to notch a 21-13 win over the Kossuth Aggies.

Things began to look bad early for the homefolks as Kossuth took the opening kickoff and marched to the Booneville 28 before bogging down and losing the ball on downs. But, Booneville couldn't move and after three tries, Hal White punted to the Aggie 27 and the return was all the way to the Booneville four. A plunge at guard netted three and the Blue Devil line held for no gain on two attempts before a pass was good for the score. They also passed for the point to lead 7-0.

Early in the second quarter, the Aggies intercepted a pass at their own 36 and mainly on passing, went on to score, absorbing a 15-yard holding penalty in the process. The placement try for the point was wide and they had a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Late in the third period Stanley Horton led the coverage of a Hal White punt to hit the receiver at the Aggie eight for no return. Kossuth got one at guard, then were swarmed for a loss of five, and on the next try David Moody recovered a fumble for the Blue Devils at the three. It took four tries from there with Quarterback Don Guy sneaking the last six inches on GUY SCORES — Almost obscured under the mangle of this mass of humanity is Booneville's Don Guy as he scored the home squad's first touchdown on a quarterback sneak in homecoming game Friday night against Kossuth. Although trailing 13-0 at the half, Booneville came back after the intermission to score three times and win 21-13.

Booneville 15 and cut to the right fourth down. Tollison kicked the point and Booneville had 7 on the board.

Moments later Booneville fans were on their feet again as the Blue Devils held and forced the Aggies to punt. Freddie Tollison gained control of the ball at the set sail down the sideline to go all for a first at the 20. Tollison scrambled to one foot short of the goal, crashed over on the next play, and then kicked the extra point.

Booneville will go to Shannon this week for a Friday night meeting with the Red Raiders.

Employers Mutual Rates Not Increased

Employers Mutual Casualty Insurance policyholders are not having their auto insurance rates increased in Mississippi states John Vassar, Jr., agent for Employers Mutual Casualty. Employers Mutual Casualty policyholders were not included among the Mississippi car owners whose rates went up September 21.

Employers Mutual Casualty files independently for its rates, in Mississippi, Mr. Vassar explained. The rate increase applies to companies represented by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters. Most of the rate increase was in the liability coverages with overall increase averaging about 11 per cent but there was also some increase in comprehensive and collision coverages.

Who's Tight?

There are a lot of automobiles and houses that aren't being sold these days — to mention just two commodities — because would-be buyers have found that money is hard to get. Even at record-high interest rates, it often isn't to be had.

This is puzzling to many people who had become accustomed to buying on credit, whether they wanted a summer cottage, some new bedroom furniture or a seven-course dinner at Chez Louis. Where did all the money go?

The fact is that, so far as credit is concerned, we probably had too much of a good thing. Even conceding that a large part of today's business in this country must be done "on time," it was becoming too easy for too many people to buy too much. Some curtailment was in order.

So the government stepped in. A "tight money policy" was established to put a brake on a lot of needless spending. This, it was felt, would ease inflationary pressures. People wouldn't be competing so strongly for goods, thus forcing prices up.

But, as so often happens, the planners got some results they hadn't counted on. An unsold house doesn't penalize just the owner and the real estate broker selling it. As long as it remains unsold there is no need for carpenters, painters, plumbers, electricians and others to construct other houses. Not to mention the slackening in the need for building materials. And while brisk demand isn't there to force up the price of that house, or others, a growing population needs places to live, so there's pressure on rental housing, which means higher rents.

Little wonder that there has been a growing chorus of complaints against certain aspects of the tight money policy, particularly since many people think that our political leaders are setting a poor example. The President, for instance, has made it clear that he has no intention of sacrificing any of the features of his extravagant Great Society, which is about as inflationary a brain-storm as was ever conceived. And if you look at other facets of government, you will find a similar cynical attitude.

It's a tight money policy all right, but not for the bureaucrats and other fat cats.

SPEAKER'S DEATH BRINGS SADNESS

The death of Speaker Walter Sellers has caused sadness and deep regret on the part of every Mississippian. He was an able statesman and served Mississippi steadfastly for fifty years in the state legislature. A great student, he was big enough to think through any subject and to think it through fairly. Higher education, especially at this time, has lost a through friend. Speaker Sellers was a devoted believer in states rights and worked as an able diplomat. We will not feel as safe in the affairs of Mississippi since his going. The legislature has a big responsibility in replacing him as they select a new speaker of the house.

LANGUAGE OF LIFE

Many people have been disturbed by the change in the prayer policy of the public school by the Supreme Court. Maybe the supreme court can decree that the words may not be said aloud in the school room, but it cannot keep the human heart from communicating with the great Creator of Heaven and Earth and all that dwells therein.

After all, prayer is like music, it is a universal language that seeks communication with a higher being. Someone has said that every person is incurably religious. Through prayer the individual can adjust his heart to the great broadcasting station beyond the skies and over his private line receive the heart message, if the motive is the humble and sincere. If you cannot give audible prayer in the school room, you can take a stand against the sins of the age. Human life has become too cheap. Surely schools and churches should take a stand against murder. Stealing will surely destroy human society if it becomes universal. Falsehoods are an abomination to any people. There should be no place for hatred in the human heart. Mob spirit is destructive and to judge falsely is unkind. Really, the Lord is the only person who knows enough about a man to judge him. Unwillingness to work for a living and give value received is a great detriment to human society. Surely we can speak out against these very real dangers to America. It is important to do right and to live the Bible principles. This could mean much more than public prayer. This would be the greatest step toward peace, prosperity and happiness.

SIGN OF PROGRESS

The new sign at the Junior College with provision for making announcements and displaying important news or a bit of Northeast Junior College philosophy is fine-looking and should prove to be extremely useful. Looks like someone has had a valuable thought and put it into action. The "White Way" is an attractive and valuable attribute for the college and President White is to be highly commended for the excellent improvement and beautification of the college grounds. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." This sets a good example for all of us. The addition to the college of the Fugitt property and its attractive up-keep is also a fine asset. What can be said of the exterior campus can also be said of the buildings. The improvement of the college cafeteria is wonderful.

Our Junior College is on the up and up in every way, it seems. Enrollment will reach eleven hundred or more this semester. The nursing school is gaining favor and growing in usefulness and enrollment. The booster college spirit is evident and the faculty seems to be of one mind. The value of our school cannot be estimated. Let us continue to wish it well!

GREAT MEETING IN BERLIN

Dr. Billy Graham will soon stage a great evangelical meeting in Berlin. One hundred nations are expected to send representatives to this assembly. About forty will go from this country. This meeting could count in a powerful way for the entire world. Christian leadership and activity must help to bring peace to the world. Dr. Gordon Samsing, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, will be the only man to attend from Mississippi. Through him we feel that the Baptists and Christians of Mississippi will be well represented. An able minister and a popular after-dinner speaker he is outstanding in our state.

SPREADING GOOD CHEER

Mrs. J. L. McCall — Dolly C. — lives over on Dry Creek and Mrs. Liza Michael lives with her. The house nestles against a high hill just across the bottom and faces the east. The early sun shines on its front in the morning and smiles and kisses the beautiful flowers in the yard as it peeps over the horizon. The flowers blush with all of their radiance and are happy and grateful. Mrs. McCall must have twenty or thirty varieties of flowers. They bring good cheer and attractive happiness, and expel sordid and ugly thoughts. We notice that a few pretty roses stand out above the rest. We congratulate Mrs. McCall and Miss Liza on their beautiful flowers.

TALKING MISSISSIPPI

Stewart Vail conducted the Rotary program last Tuesday and had as his speaker the Honorable W. L. Sharp of Corinth, better known by almost every one as Billy Sharp. As we recall he is a native of Booneville but spent several years in Jackson and has practiced law in Corinth for several years. He is yet a young man. Representing the Economic Council of Mississippi his subject was "Let's Talk Mississippi". The address was interesting and informative. He made Mississippi stand tall and everyone who heard the address went away feeling much more pride in his state. He pointed out many things in which Mississippi was first and led the way. Billy Sharp is an able lawyer, a leader in the church and a very progressive citizen.

Even Booneville has plenty of assets of which it should be very proud. We have the first Hill-Burton hospital in the nation and our original hospital was the first and only one in Northeast Mississippi for some time. Mississippi has one of the best systems of Junior Colleges of any state and we are proud of our own. Nearly all of its students commute. Our nursing school gives an R.N. degree in two years and it was one of the first of its kind in the nation. Prentiss County has held the banner in corn production per acre. We have the largest unit of Brown Shoe Company out of St. Louis. Let us be thankful for our multiplied blessings!

"A public relation man is one who can get men and nations to understand each other." It takes a man with a lot of gumption to be a public relation man. Gumption is just "coon dog intuition."

"God is the father of science and he so loved the world that he gave it peanuts and sweet potatoes." — "George Washington" Carver.

Louis Pasteur championed the germ theory. It won out, and modern public health programs were born. Preventive and curative medicine followed also.

4-H Exhibits

An exhibit is required for a standard club and of each club member. The Club exhibit shows the accumulated results of the Club's work and gives an opportunity for comparison and improvement as well as for new ideas. Recent exhibits of projects have done much to broaden the activities of young people.

Plans to make an exhibit add incentive for club members to excel in their work. Since young people enjoy having their work displayed, exhibits add to their pleasure in 4-H Club work. Directions and suggestions for preparing exhibits in a pleasing and practical way may be obtained from the county Extension agent. Club members may by exhibiting their work at club meetings have its quality judged and make ready for the final exhibit at the community, county, or state fair. The club exhibit is a display of the club demonstrations. 'The exhibit is an object lesson of instruction which:

Here are some industrial side-lights on Mississippi:

School Pictures, Inc., in Jackson, is the largest school picture company in the world, each year processing over 100 million prints. The first plant in the South to produce sodium chlorate is the Hooker Chemical Company at Columbus. The national and world water ski tournaments use ski belts manufactured by Jones and Yandell at Canton. The world's largest plant devoted entirely to making light fixtures is the Westinghouse plant in Vicksburg. — Released by Mississippi Economic Council.

gives opportunity for comparison with the work of others; stimulates greater effort for improvement;

reveals the type, quality, product that results from following the latest recommended practices; encourages production of quality projects for highest cash income; and affords a "show window" for good teaching.

4-H Club Work For Past 22 Years

By W. T. Smith - County Agent
It has been my happy privilege to have been connected directly and indirectly with 4-H Club work in Prentiss County for the past 22 years.

The 4-H Club organization has, as all of agriculture, made vast changes and progress during this culture and homemaking 4-H of time. From the Corn Clubs, Pig Clubs, Canning Clubs and Sewing Clubs primarily for rural youth the 4-H Club Organization today has something valuable to offer all boys and girls who are interested in receiving training that will be beneficial to them throughout life.

Many of our most successful farmers and business people today were outstanding 4-H Club members and received valuable training and experience in their 4-H Club projects.

4-H today affords opportunities to rural and urban boys and girls alike. Valuable training is offered the boy or girl in whatever field of interest the individual may have. Besides training in fields of agriculture and homemaking 4-H offers training in leadership, citizenship, public speaking, health, personality and many other training activities.

4-H gives training to the youth in working and getting along with fellow 4-H members.

The 4-H Club organization is worldwide. Today it is one of the largest youth organizations in the world and leaders throughout the world are aware of the influence and training for good that it is doing for boys and girls.

Parents are invited and urged to consider the many opportunities 4-H offers in helping to build character and high ideals in boys and girls.

The training received through the 4-H organization will help any youngster become better prepared for adult life.

Adults who understand and realize the importance of 4-H work are making valuable contributions to the organization by serving on Advisory Councils, adult leaders Council, and community club leaders. With the continued support of these people and the parents of 4-H members, the 4-H Organization will continue to grow and help the boys and girls of today develop into stronger, better citizens. If your boy or girl is not enrolled in 4-H you are urged to consider the training and opportunities it offers.

Modern Language Club At Northeast JC Promotes Both Learning And Enjoyment

One of the most interesting and informative organizations on the campus of The Northeast Mississippi Junior College is the Modern Languages Club. Open to all students in Spanish or French, this club promotes interest in languages and cultures of the countries where the languages are spoken.

Mrs. Sara Martha Gentry, club sponsor, says that the program planned for the coming year will promote both learning and enjoyment. The Modern Languages Department has a new slide projector and many new slides which will be of benefit to the club. Members can look forward to such activities as book reviews and guest speakers, which will interest both French and Spanish students. Planned highlights of the year include the annual Christmas party and spring picnic.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. Grubbs. She prayed that people would become deeply concerned over the lastness of mankind and that God would strengthen Dr. J. R. Estes, who is working for the Home Mission Board in reaching followers of religious cults.

Leader Views 4-H Club Work

By J. W. Archer, 4-H Club Agent

For the past fourteen years I have had the privilege of working with the 4-H Clubs in Prentiss County as 4-H Club Agent.

We have all heard the saying, "The best crop of any county is the Youth." I believe this statement is true. The youth of this county are second to none. This has been proven to me on many occasions, for example, a few years ago we were returning from a 4-H Junior Council trip to Maggie Valley, North Carolina and stopped for lunch at a restaurant in Cleveland, Tennessee. While we were in the restaurant a man came to me and began asking questions about the group, what group we were, where from, etc. After he had asked several questions I asked why he was so interested. His reply was, "I see the group is so nice and orderly I just wondered about you."

As I think back over the 14-year period, I can recall so many examples of the youth of the county proving to be true ladies and gentlemen representing our county in a magnificent manner. On several occasions the 4-H members have brought honor and distinction to the county.

Until a year ago 4-H Clubs met in the schools. During this time we reached an enrollment of 1500 members. However, progress brings changes. As the schools became larger and their schedule tighter, it was deemed best that 4-H come out of the schools for the meetings, not to be completely eliminated from the schools but we no longer hold 4-H meetings during school hours. A number of Southern states made this move before Mississippi did.

4-H is now on Community Club basis. A club can be organized wherever there are sufficient youth and voluntary adult leaders to serve the club. The role of the agent is to work with leaders supplying them information concerning 4-H projects, activities, etc.

The 4-H program in this county is now in this transition. As I view the 4-H program, this is a step forward. After we have passed this transition I believe we will have a stronger and better 4-H program than ever before. The basic philosophy of 4-H is still the same. The Four H's still stand for HEAD, HEART, HANDS and HEALTH — Head for clearer thinking, Heart for greater loyalty, Hands for larger service, and Health for better living, for Club, Community and our Country. The club motto, "To Make the Best Better."

Now, as never before, there is a real need for voluntary adult leaders. Anyone who has the interest of the youth at heart can serve as local leaders. Information and training is available for anyone who is interested in serving.

The greatest single problem of the County 4-H Club program is that so many parents do not realize what 4-H has to offer their children. 4-H is truly one of the

What Is 4-H Club Work?

What is 4-H Club work? Who can belong? What does it offer? These and other questions are being asked as parents, other adults and prospective members take a look at this youth organization.

1. It is a useful supplement to the work of schools, churches and some other organizations. The "H's" stand for the development of the whole individual — head, heart, hands, health. It offers boys and girls unique experiences in developing mentally, physically, spiritually and in social adjustment. In 4-H, members learn things about science and develop useful skills that they would usually miss otherwise.

2. It helps young people to explore career opportunities through study and sometimes by actual experience.

3. It provides growth experiences as members plan together, work together, preside at meetings, speak in public, enter competitive events and take part in many other activities.

4. It advances Mississippi agri-

4-H Method Demonstration

A method demonstration is to show and explain a method or process to some one who needs to know it. Many agents and 4-H Clubs use method demonstrations to make their programs more interesting and more effective. Perhaps the most widespread use of the individual demonstration is at local Club meetings. The demonstrator may be a Club member, the 4-H Club leader, or the Extension agent. In each 4-H project, many subjects may be used in teaching through demonstrations.

Both individual and team demonstrations may be available at achievement days, civic clubs, etc. They are valuable also in acquainting business and professional groups with what 4-H Clubs are doing. The team should not attempt to demonstrate before these groups, however, before they have acquired skill, speed and accuracy. Otherwise, the demonstration is of questionable value.

In certain situations the method demonstration is an excellent and effective means of informing people who like to see the real process rather than be told about it. This takes from 5-15 minutes to teach an idea or an improved practice.

Even after seeing and hearing a demonstration, people may not be able to do the thing themselves; but if the demonstration is well done, they see how it looks from the outside. The only way for them to get the "feel" of it is actually to practice the process for themselves — "Learning To Do By Doing".

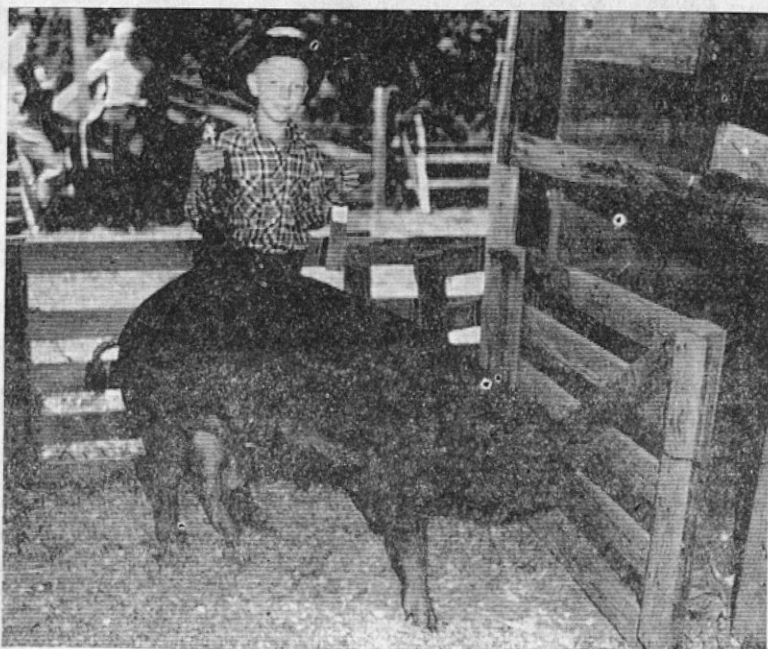

What people hear they often doubt. What they hear and see they may accept: what they hear, see, and do, they usually believe.

good youth organizations which is striving to develop character and citizenship along with teaching skills.

To me, as a parent, we need to ponder this so seriously. The wise man said, "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

As I view the Prentiss County 4-H Club program, we have a history to be proud of and a brighter future to look forward to.

PTA, and other community meet, culture toward the goal of farm products valued at $1.5 billion by 1975, an increase of 62 percent in a decade. Members who live on farms still pioneer in demonstrating improved methods of crops and livestock production. Other 4-H boys and girls, including those who live in towns and cities, study plant and animal sciences, conservation of natural resources, human nutrition and other subjects vital to the national welfare.

5. It helps boys and girls to discover hobbies that they may enjoy throughout their lives. This is of growing importance as Americans have more leisure time.

Membership in 4-H is open to all boys and girls from ages nine to nineteen. They meet regularly in clubs in their communities.

The 4-H program is so broad that it fits into any community, urban as well as rural.

All that is needed are both youngsters and adults who are interested. There must be members. But there must also be volunteer adult leaders to help them.

Leaders are trained by agents of the Cooperative Extension Service. This educational agency represents the county government, Mississippi State University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The professionally trained Extension agents have many methods and materials that make it easy to become a 4-H leader.

Anyone interested in organizing a 4-H Club, or in becoming a 4-H adult leader, can get further information from the local Extension Service office.

4-H Leaders Needed

Are you a parent or other adult who would like to perform a really valuable service to the boys and girls in your community? You can do this by volunteering to serve as a 4-H leader.

Many boys and girls 9 to 19 years of age would like to very much join 4-H, but no club are available to them. The reason is that no adults have volunteered in their communities to serve as leaders so no clubs have been organized near them.

Being a 4-H Club leader is an interesting and stimulating experience. You enroll boys and girls in 4-H, help them choose their projects, and assist with organization and planning. You watch them develop into more useful people and have the satisfaction of knowing that you contributed to it.

You're not "on your own" as a volunteer 4-H leader. Your Extension Service agents will give you regular training. You can do it.

There are two kinds of 4-H leaders, organizational and project. Organizational leaders train clubs of officers, help plan programs and assist in several ways at the club meetings. Project leaders train the members enrolled in one or more projects. Both are needed if every boy and girl who would like to join 4-H receives this opportunity.

4-H Horse Project

The 4-H horse project, one of the faster growing projects in Mississippi and the nation, now has a national sponsor. It is Merck Chemical Company, Merck and Company, Inc. of Rahway, New Jersey.

This puts it on par with other major 4-H projects. The donor will present a maximum of four gold-filled medals to each county participating. The state winner will receive an all expense trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Each of the six national winners will be given a $500 scholarship.

Ask your agent about the new 4-H horse manuals. There are two units, "Horse and Horsemanship" and "Horse Science." Both are such big books, so full of information, that they are for sale at 50 cents each.

4-H Aims

The 4-H experience seeks to prepare boys and girls for better living — physically, mentally and spiritually. Agents and leaders use these objectives as they study member's interests and needs:

1. Gain knowledge, skills and qualifies for a happy home life.
2. Enjoy useful work, responsibility and satisfaction in accomplishment.

6. Appreciate nature, understand conservation, and use resources wisely.

8. Strengthen personal standards and philosophies.

9. Acquire traits, attitudes and understanding to work well with others.

10. Develop leadership talents and abilities to become better citizens.

Leadership In 4-H Adult Leaders

Are you an adult who was once a 4-H Club member? Did your experiences in this youth organization help you to become what you are?

If so, you can help give today's boys and girls the same opportunity by volunteering as a 4-H adult leader.

"You'll be just as welcome if you weren't a 4-H member but would simply like to do something interesting, enjoyable and helpful to others."

Many boys and girls nine to nineteen years of age would like to join a 4-H Club. But there are no such clubs in their communities because no one has volunteered to serve as leaders. Adults are needed to help with either the organization and conduct of the club meetings or instruction in the various projects.

"Leaders are trained by agents of the Cooperative Extension Service. You'll find it's easy with the step-by-step instructions and the good material that these skilled agents can provide."

Today's wide range of 4-H project work includes things to learn and skills to develop for urban as well as rural youths. There's something to interest every member — and every leader, too.

For more information, visit the local office of the Cooperative Extension Service.

A total of 32 head of dairy animals were exhibited, 30 showing in the blue ribbon class and two in the red ribbon class.

Club leaders and Extension officials said it was the best group of animals ever exhibited in the county show. These animals are being shown in the Tri-State Fair and Dairy Show at Corinth this week.

Mr. Ben Hurt, manager of Pontotoc Experiment Station, served as judge.

GENERAL LIVESTOCK SHOW

The 4-H Club general Livestock Show was made up of 13 top quality Duroc hogs and four top quality Angus beef cattle.

Those exhibiting hogs and their placing were: Randy Stutts, blue ribbon; Tim McCoy, two blue ribbons; Eddie Tennison, three blue; Steve Hamblin, two red ribbons; Dennis Brown, three blue ribbons; Beny Taylor, one blue; and Jerry Taylor, one blue.

As an added attraction George Harris gave a demonstration of driving oxen. Mr. Wayne Hughey, Associate County Agent of Corinth, judged the horse show and Ring Master was John M. Morrow, member of 4-H Advisory Council.

4-H SWINE SHOW

Randy Stutts of Thrasher exhibited the Grand Champion female of the swine show. Trophy was awarded by Morton Jewelers of Booneville. S. V. Tennison of Burton is breeder of the gilt.

Eddie Tennison of Burton exhibited the Grand Champion boar of the annual 4-H Swine Show. Trophy was awarded by Chittom Milling Company of Booneville. S. V. Tennison is also breeder of this pig.

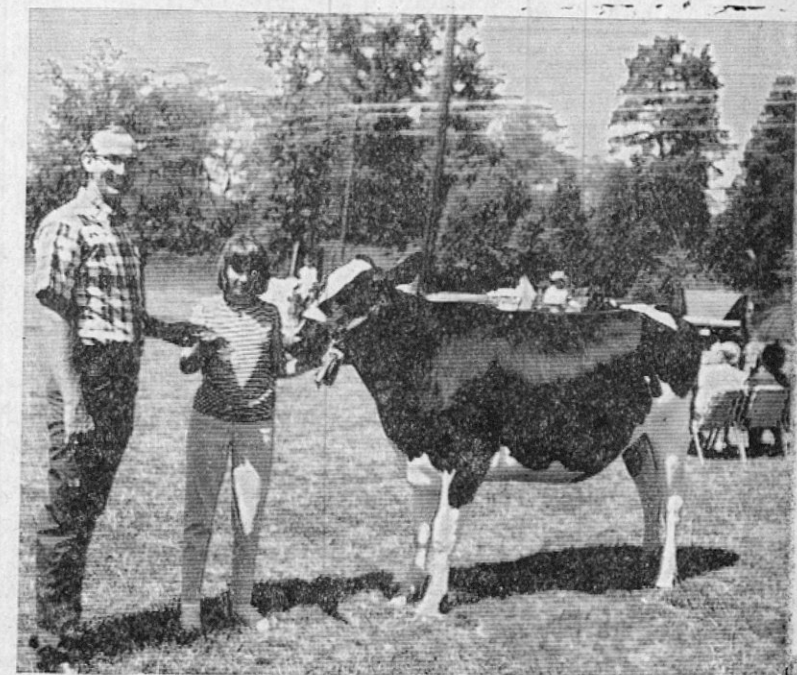

4-H Clubs Combatting Juvenile Delinquency

A momentous increase in juvenile delinquency in the United States during the past few years should shock the conscience of every adult who reads the newspapers, listens to the radio and watches television. The tremendous increase in the number of young people between the ages of 9 years and 19 years being brought into the juvenile and city courts of our country is appalling.

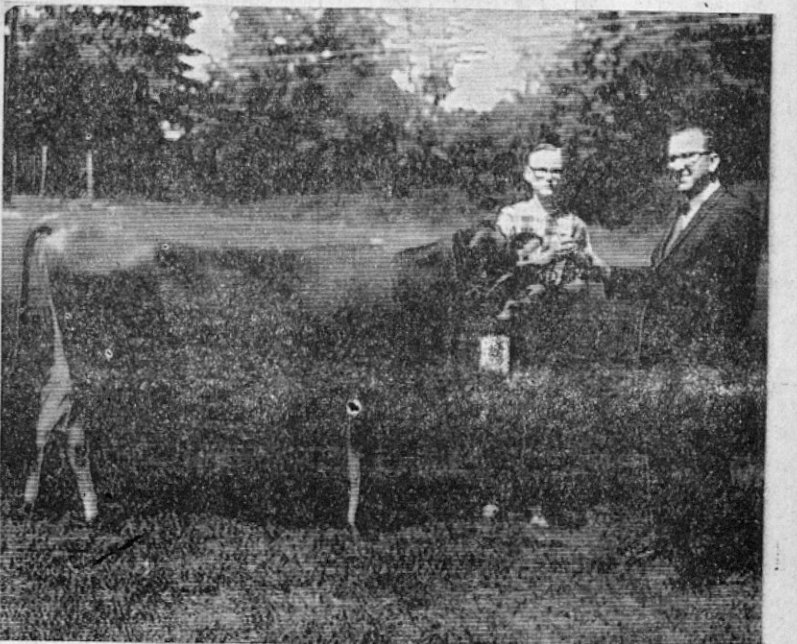

However, it should be a great deal of satisfaction and consolation to the parents of today's young people between the ages of 9 and 19 years who are members of 4-H Clubs all over our Nation to know that these young members are responsible for only a minute fraction of the crimes and misdemeanors committed by today's juvenile delinquents.

The adult leaders and counselors of these fine 4-H Clubs are to be commended and praised for the work, time and effort they are putting forth guiding and teaching our youth to be useful, honorable and respectable citizens.

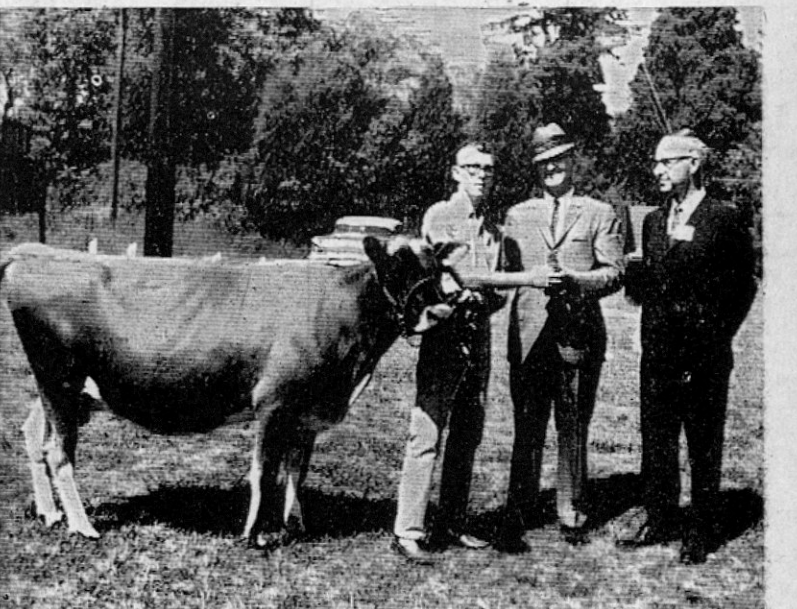

The young members of our 4-H Clubs are given worthy projects to work on and certain goals to strive for and in so accomplishing these feats their minds are kept busy and occupied and their energies are spent on worthwhile endeavors, and consequently these young club members are not out running around in a vast circle of idleness with a bunch of hoodlums committing crimes and other law violations.

During the past 7 years that I have served as City Judge of the City of Booneville I can not recall one instance when a teenager, who was in 4-H Club work, had to appear before me for a law or ordinance violation.

We, the citizens of Prentiss County, are indeed fortunate to have as our own the most decent, beloved, respected and law-abiding young children of any County in our Nation.

The Alumni View

By Dorothy Hatfield Jackson
During this, National 4-H Club Week, attention is being given to 4-H work throughout the Nation.

Thinking of 4-H is a time of memories for me. Memories of projects, people, places and prizes.

The projects are those that I worked to complete when in 4-H work. The canning, freezing, clothing, personality improvement, leadership and others. They helped me to develop confidence in myself, to be a better homemaker and Mother and a better citizen.

The people I met and became friends with during these 4-H years are very dear to me. I met and learned to know and love 4-H'ers from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico. I know that the leaders have been and are still a source of inspiration to me. They would be a fine example for any boy or girl to know. Some of these people are still giving of their best to make the best better and others have given their life to keep America the best.

The places I remember are the ones visited as a 4-H'er. The trips won, both educational and fun. The making of new friends and competing in judging at 4-H Club Congress, of State 4-H Round-Up at Jackson, of Rallies and camps.

I remember the prizes won also—the ribbons, money, trips and the most important prize of all. Learning to Cope with Life. I learned to win and to lose with a smile.

4-H is also a time of looking ahead, to the time when my son and daughter will be old enough to become members - to being a part through them of the finest organization for boys and girls covering the whole free world.

It has been said that when a boy or girl is active in 4-H work they won't become a juvenile delinquent. I sincerely believe that the 4-H organization is the best way to help a child, farm or city, to develop his "Head, Heart, Hands and Health."

SUPPORT YOUR 4-H WORK THIS WEEK AND ALL THROUGH THE YEAR.

Learn By Doing

The "learn by doing" experiences of 4-H Club work were once limited to boys and girls who lived on farms. Today, a changed 4-H offers a variety of interesting opportunities for urban and rural alike. Even an apartment dweller can have several 4-H projects.

"As changes have taken place in where families live and what they do for a living, 4-H has steadily widened the range of its projects and activities."

"One of our major educational responsibilities is still to help introduce the latest technology of crops and livestock production through the projects of 4-H members who live on farms."

"But we are just as concerned about boys and girls aged nine through nineteen who live on rural non-farm homes, suburbs, towns and cities. We want to help them all develop into more useful citizens."

The heart of the 4-H experience is still the projects which each member selects to suit his or her individual needs and interests. Emphasis in the project is on completing a definite task, keeping accurate records and sharing what is learned with others.

What are some 4-H projects for almost any member, urban or rural?

The list includes community beautification, home improvement foods and nutrition, clothing, dog care, photography, electric, entomology and gardening. A group of projects having special values in the growth of the individual are leadership, citizenship, personal development, health, safety and recreation. There are many more.

Greater depth of training in projects and activities is stressed in 4-H today.

This is a major reason why 4-H Clubs in Mississippi now meet in the local neighborhood or community. In such clubs, there is enough time for volunteer adult leaders to help members in small groups as well as individually. The boys and girls learn basic principles as well as practices — the kind of knowledge that will benefit throughout their lives.

"Adults volunteering to serve as 4-H leaders in their communities are the key to providing 4-H experience for all boys and girls who want it."

Each 4-H Club needs two organizational leaders, who help plan and conduct the meetings, plus enough project leaders for the various subjects in which the boys and girls are interested.

"All who volunteer as leaders receive training and materials from local agents of the Cooperative Extension Service."

Junior leaders, who are older 4-H members with good experience, are often available to further assist the adult leaders.

Besides the project work that can be a valuable part of their education, 4-H offers boys and girls opportunities to speak in public, preside at meetings, lead recreation and other activities, explore career opportunities, appreciate natural resources, and compete for scholarships and other valuable awards.

One of the major awards given each year in our Prentiss County 4-H activities is on "Leadership." And all the experts on leadership (that we have heard of) say, as part of the master plan for success, "Save at least 15 per cent of all you earn."

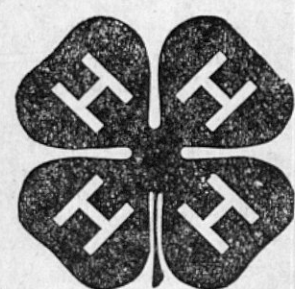

Sooner or later in life this thought rings home to us all... often too late in life. So the sooner a young person can develop the thrift habit, the easier it will be to continue. Open your savings account now. Just a small amount regularly is better than no plan at all. (It mounts up fast!)

BOONEVILLE, MISS

4-H Project

The project is: "A plan or a design; a planned undertaking; a satisfying 4-H experience involving the doing or making of something which illustrates principles already taught or leads to a member's finding out these principles for himself.

In the beginning clubs were organized strictly on a project basis. The first projects were corn (1907) and canning (1911). These were soon followed by projects in cotton, poultry, pig, beef, foods, and clothing.

The year 1907 marks the first systematic organization of Club work under the auspices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Originally the Clubs were set up in connection with the schools.

In 1914, Congress passed the Smith-Lever Act. This law established the Extension Service as a cooperative program between the land grant colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture. This Act provides for the giving of instructions and practical demonstrations in agriculture and home economics to persons not attending or resident in the land grant colleges.

One of the first requirements of 4-H Club membership is to select a project. All 4-H work centers around the project. Through project work, the 4-H members learn improved practices, which serve as demonstrations and exhibits for the community and county. The projects selected should be adapted to the land, labor, capital, and people of the home and community. Project guidance by parents, adult leaders, and agents is a good practice for successful project work. All project work should be itemized and appraised daily for keeping accurate and complete records.

There are more than 30 projects in 4-H for which a boy or girl may select one or more projects for completing. These include: Automotive, Beef, Beautification of Home Grounds, Boys' Agricultural Program (Farm Management), Citizenship, Clothing, Corn, Cotton, Conservation of Natural Resources, Dairy, Dog Care and Training, Electric, Entomology, (Insects), Food Preservation, Foods-Nutrition, Forestry, Garden, Health, Home Improvement, Horse, Leadership, Orchard, Pasture, Personal Development, Photography, Poultry, Public Speaking, Recreation, Safety, Sheep, Swine, Tractor, Truck Crops, and Wildlife Management.

4-H Record Book

County, district, and state awards offered Mississippi 4-H Club boys and girls are based on the Record Book. These awards may be medals, bonds, cash, scholarships, trips, and special recognition.

The Record Book should be planned and arranged to give a concise, accurate record of the 4-H member's activities and achievements. A neat and complete Record Book will show progress of a 4-H Club member through the years of Club work.

What Is A Permanent Record Book?

A 4-H Record Book is a summary of a member's progress and accomplishments in all his 4-H Club work, given in an accurate, clear-cut, concise form. The book should be organized so it highlights the strong features of the record that relate directly to the award program in which the 4-H member is participating. Club members should not confuse a Record Book with a 4-H Memory Book. A Memory Book may be organized as the member sees fit, including such things as banquet programs, menus, ribbons, stories of each project for different years of club work, and souvenirs. Materials in the Memory Book should not be included in the competitive Record Book. This material is too bulky to include in a permanent Record Book.

What Is A Standard Report Form?

A Standard Report Form is a printed form distributed by the National 4-H Service Committee, Incorporated. It contains tables that make it possible to show the accomplishment and progress of the 4-H Club members work. The Standard Report Form is used by all states that submit records for national competition. This form must be included in the Record Book.

When To Begin A Permanent Record Book?

A permanent Record Book should begin when a boy or girl starts his 4-H Club work. The Record Book should be planned so material can be added as the member progresses in his 4-H activities and achievements.

What To Do With A Permanent Record Book?

A permanent Record Book should be kept and turned in to the county agent at a date determined by the County Extension workers. Record books entered in state contests will be submitted by the county Extension workers in September. The County Extension worker who signs the Standard Report Form should take time to review the report and be sure that the statements contained are as near accurate as possible.

The Basis for Scoring 4-H Records Includes:

4-H Is For All

We sometimes hear folks say that 4-H is just for rural boys and girls. This impression of 4-H is not correct.

There are many opportunities in 4-H for all boys and girls regardless of where they live. Many who live in towns and cities now belong to 4-H, and this number is increasing each year.

Some projects may not be suitable for boys and girls not having access to land and other facilities. But many projects are suitable for all. These include citizenship, leadership, safety, health, personal development, career exploration, community beautification, foods, clothing and many others.

The 4-H program does not take the place of training given by schools, churches and other organizations, but it supplements this training. It provides different kinds of educational opportunities and experiences. These add greatly to the fourfold or total development of the individual — the Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

The Cooperative Extension Service staff in each county directs 4-H club work. Volunteer leaders conduct the program through local clubs.

If you are a young person who would like to take part in 4-H, or an adult who is interested, contact your local Extension office. It is located in basement of Post Office in Booneville.

If no club is now available near where you live, plans may be made for one.

The 4-H program is a part of your state Land-Grant University, Mississippi State University, and of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It is actively supported by county government and local citizens. One of the most important and attractive features of 4-H is that it is flexible, adaptable and changing frequently to meet the needs of the times.

4-H Career Exploration

What are your plans now that you are finishing high school? Or maybe you'll be graduating in another year or two. Anyway, have you compared the opportunities available to a high school graduate with those after you have some college or technical training?

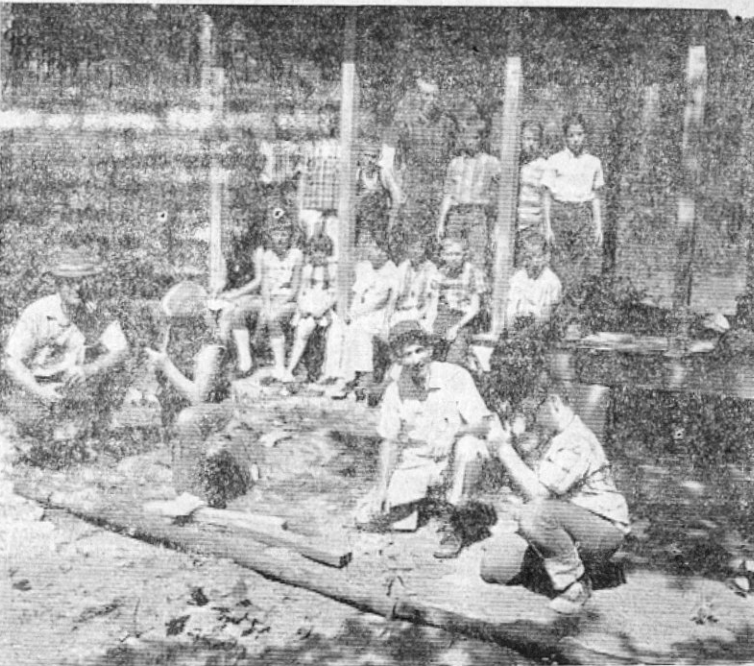

On the average, the more education or technical training you have, the more money you'll make during your lifetime. The trend is toward jobs that require more education.

College graduates earn an average of 73 percent more money during a lifetime than do high school graduates. So if you expect to earn $4,200 a year with a high school education, you could expect to earn about $7,300 a year with a college education.

Many boys and girls start look-

Members of the Booneville Junior 4-H Club participating in Rifle Firing contest held at the Rifle Range of the Sportsman's Club. Tim McCoy was first place marksman. Adults assisting on the firing line were: 4-H Club Agent, J. W. Archer, W. W. Montford, Associate Extension Forester of State College.

Five 4-H members from Prentiss County as they entered the State 4-H Judging Contest at the Dairy Festival. They are, L to R: Tommy Massey and Perry Walden of Thrasher 4-H Club; Eddie Alexander of Jumptown, Ronny Rowland of Blackland, and Charles McGee of Booneville 4-H Club.

ing for a job with no idea of their qualifications or what they might like to do. Others entering college too often have no idea of what to select as a major field of study. The 4-H Career Exploration Program will help you in making your career decision. It aims at helping you to (1) explore yourself, (2) explore the several careers in which you may be interested and (3) select the career for which you are best fitted.

You'll be wise to decide on a career before you start looking for a job or enter college. It's expensive to change jobs or schools. The right decision now will make you dollars in the years to come. Discuss this with your Extension Service agent or 4-H adult leader. They have a manual with steps to follow in helping you make one of the most important decisions of your life.

Learning About Electricity

Learning about electricity is for every 4-H boy and girl and many who have not yet enrolled. You benefit by being able to make electricity work better for you in the home or on the farm.

You'll learn to make seeing easier through better lighting. You will know how to handle electricity safely, and how to save steps and energy by letting electricity do the work.

Many 4-H'ers combine electricity with other projects. They make it a companion to such projects as home improvement, safety, community beautification, food preservation, foods livestock, dairy and poultry.

4-H Has Large Alumni

Are you an alumnus of 4-H Club work? If so, you are in good company. One of every five adults in America is a former 4-H'er. The group includes top leaders in all of the businesses and professions.

The National 4-H Alumni Recognition program, sponsored by Oil-Mathieson Chemical Corporation, recognizes selected former 4-H members at county, state and national levels. But besides recognition, these 24 million alumni help make the 4-H program stronger.

As a former 4-H'er familiar with local 4-H activities, you can spark the interest of citizens in helping plan, a design, a planned undertaking. It is a satisfying 4-H experience involving doing or making something to illustrate principles already taught or to lead a member to discover these principles for himself.

In the beginning, clubs were organized strictly on a project basis. The first projects were corn in 1907 and canning in 1911. These were soon followed by projects in cotton, poultry, pig, beef, foods and clothing.

The year 1907 marked the first systematic organization of youth club work under auspices of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This occurred in Holmes County, Mississippi. Originally the clubs were set up in connection with the schools. In 1914, Congress passed the Smith-Lever Act that established the Cooperative Extension Service much as it has since operated.

One of the first requirements of 4-H membership is to select a project. All 4-H work centers around the project.

Through their projects, 4-H members learn improved practices which serve as demonstrations and exhibits for the community and county. Projects selected should be adapted to the land, labor, capital and people of the home and community. Guidance by parents, adult leaders and agents is important for successful project work. For additional information, contact the local Extension Service agent.

DECISION

There's a difference of opinion here. Both of these Little Leaguers stand ready to put up a good argument, even though it is a foregone conclusion that the "ump" is going to win. But when the game is over, differences will be forgotten and umpire and catcher will go down to the drug store together for a banana split.

In doing so, they will be reflecting something that is a basic part of our heritage — the ability to lose, without holding a grudge . . . the ability to yield.

These are qualities important not only to sportsmanship but to life. And this importance is stressed in the most powerful of terms again and again throughout the Bible.

Little Leaguers learn the rules of sportsmanship — and of life — in one way on the playing field and in another, deeper way when they attend church with their families on Sunday. Are you taking your Little Leaguer to Church?

Elder J. F. Ishee of Iuka will preach at Forked Oak Baptist Church Sunday, October 2 at 9:45 a.m. Everyone is invited.

SCOUT LEADERS from the three county Jacinto District met recently at the Tennessee River Pulp and Paper Company at Counce, Tennessee, to learn something of the art of making paper and to plan Scouting activities in Alcorn, Prentiss, and Tishomingo Counties. Before getting down to the serious business of Scouting, George Griffith (pictured right), Secretary-Treasurer of the Company and Chairman of the Jacinto District Boy Scouts of America, explained the chemical formula for converting wood into pulp and eventually into paper. Pictured prior to a tour of the kraft linerboard mill are five of the more than 60 Scout leaders who attended the meeting. Left to right are Joe Duckworth, Booneville, Jacinto District Vice Chairman; Jimmy Peterson, Tupelo, Yocoma Council Scout Executive; Richard Milam, Corinth, Jacinto District Scout Executive; Morris Miller, Corinth, Jacinto District Commissioner; Harold Lomenick, Iuka, Jacinto District Vice Chairman; and Mr. Griffith, also of Corinth.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

N. TAYLOR SMITH, County Agent

Harvesting

At harvest season especially will good management pay off. Make sure that you get the total crop and get it in a high quality condition.

Be sure that combines, cotton pickers and corn pickers are set properly and run at a slow enough speed so they will not leave part of the crop in the field.

Many of the hired hands are not capable of setting these precision pieces of equipment and must be given good supervision in order to do a good harvesting job.

Now, during and after harvest, is also a good time to take a good close look at all fields and see how they are performing. If you have problem areas, find out what is causing the problem and correct it before next year's crop.

Some other timely jobs include land leveling, filling of pot holes in fields, lime application and stalk destruction.

WINTER GRAZING

Now is a good time to sow ryegrass out on top of the ground for late winter and early spring grazing. Crimson clover can also be sown on top of the ground now through October. Sod seeding can be done all through October and November. Oats, wheat and ryegrass are good sod seeding crops.

FALL ARMYWORMS

Watch small grain fields closely for signs of fall armyworm damage. Heavy infestations of these worms can almost totally destroy a field of winter grazing. If you find worms we will give you control methods.

OCTOBER GARDENING

Both Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes should be dug before frost. After frost kills the tops

News From Frankstown Mission

We have been asked the meaning of the word "hallucination"? It is a person who has an automatic pricked ego, to the extent that they believe they are responsible and the founder of every good endeavor. A person who thinks that a monument should be erected to their memory for great accomplishments that have been made collectively through the co-operation of the people is down right egotistically crazy.

Everything is done by God in man, and the position is this: No man could judge and no man has the right to boast.

W.S.C.S. District Fall Meeting Held

High points of information and inspiration were shared in the New Albany District Fall Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday, September 20, 1966, at the First Methodist Church, Corinth, Miss., with Mrs. A. C. Childers, chairman of committee on program, presiding.

Rich in inspiration Mrs. G. W. Harwell, former president of the North Mississippi Conference Woman's Society, built her timely meditation around the theme, "Christian Being and Doing," and lifted up the thought of proving faith by works. Mrs. R. E. Tate of New Albany shared inspiration through the presentation of the new Methodist Hymnal with congregational singing of hymns, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Stroup of Corinth, organist.

For information Mrs. E. S. Furr, chairman of committee on nominations, discussed factors for serving as an officer, and Mrs. C. W. Hall, director of Christian Vocations, stressed the need for increased giving in discussing Financial Opportunities - Report and Challenge. Mrs. J. G. Houston, president, lifted up factors concerning the program committee and gave out copies of the new Annual Report.

Presenting the study course, "Affluence and Poverty - Dilemma for Christians," Miss Virginia Thomas, secretary of Missionary Education and Service for the Southeastern Jurisdiction, lifted up plans and materials for the study and listed startling facts relative to poverty and affluence of these days. Mrs. J. G. Houston of New Albany presented the Bible study as a guide for Christian living, saying if we believe in Jesus we will be doing people.

Rev. B. G. Whitehurst, director of Missions for the district, ably discussed the relation of the Woman's Society to the total program of the church. Mrs. Roy Hall, secretary of Program Materials, presented varied materials and helps for the local society, and the district officers lifted up phases of their line of work.

Rev. W. F. Appleby, pastor-host, led the closing prayer and gave the blessing for the noon meal served in the new fellowship building for the church. The fine representation of 150 or more included all the district officers and sub-district presidents less four; Miss Virginia Thomas of the Jurisdictional Council; Mrs. B. W. Gaston of Clarksdale and Mrs. T. E. Shelton of Corinth, both conference officers; and the following ministers of the district: Rev. W. F. Appleby, Rev. E. E. Woodall, Jr., Rev. Macon Steele, Rev. J. S. Hathorn.

No Hunting Allowed On Trace Parkway

The Natchez Trace headquarters office cautioned sportsmen today that hunting is not permitted on parkway lands. Chief Ranger Gilbert Calhoun points out that the rules and regulations of the National Park Service prohibit the carrying or transporting of firearms unless they are adequately sealed, cased, broken down or otherwise packed within the vehicle in such a way as to prevent their use while on parkway lands.

Natchez Trace Parkway lands, as true with other National Parks, are sanctuaries for all forms of wildlife. The National Park Service regulations that govern use of firearms on parkway lands are similar to State laws against shooting along public highways. There is danger to motorists traveling on the parkway road should a careless hunter discharge his firearm towards the roadway. True sportsmen observe all laws, regulations and safety rules pertaining to legal possession and proper use of firearms.

During past hunting season, Park Rangers have sometimes found individuals and groups with loaded guns in their possession and using park lands as a base for hunting.

To avoid the inconvenience and embarrassment of appearing in court, the Rangers suggest that hunters riding on the Natchez

VA Answers Vets Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — Can I use one certification card to show attendance in school under the new G. I. Bill for a period June 20 through August 14, 1966?

A — One certification card can cover the full period when training is interrupted or completed. Otherwise, a card must be completed and submitted for each month of training.

Q — Under the new G. I. Bill, when will a veteran certify his monthly attendance?

A — Veterans enrolled in institutions of higher learning will not certify their first month's attendance. They will receive a certification card with their first month's check, and then must report and certify attendance for each month thereafter. Veterans enrolled in institutions below college level will receive a card from the VA and must report the first and all subsequent months of attendance.

Q — I am a disabled veteran. My daughter is in need of surgery. Can she be admitted to a VA Hospital for this?

A — No, not unless she is an eligible veteran. Hospitalization is not provided for dependants of veterans.

Q — I am a serviceman with a prior period of qualifying service since January 31, 1955. I am now enrolled in a local college carrying an academic load of seven semester hours and have two dependants. Will I be paid the half-time educational assistance allowance rate of $75 per month?

A — No. The rate of allowance will be computed at the rate of the established charges for tuition and fees or $100 per month for a full-time course, whichever is the lesser. This is in accordance with a recent regulation change.

A NEW MACHINE TO AID COTTON INDUSTRY

Of major significance in the progress of our cotton industry is an experimental machine to save money for cotton growers by doing five jobs at once now being developed by engineers. This versatile two-row machine prepares the seedbed, plants and covers the cottonseed, places the least amount of herbicide required for effective weed control over the row after the furrow is closed, fertilizes, and applies a mulch to assure proper soil moisture for seed germination and growth. It is still in the process of testing and is not yet available commercially.

Proven cream
makes wrinkles
diminish or vanish in 2 weeks

With a substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

After a two-week trial on a selected group of women, a noted dermatologist reports on the ingredients in Genava:

"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished in two-week period; even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement."

Dr. W. P. also comments, "the small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance." These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Genava was developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory. Designed to be used twice daily—under make-up and overnight—it is absorbed instantly by the skin. Start using Genava today. In just two weeks your wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. Skin becomes more translucent, smoother. You will look gloriously younger! 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00.

COTTON LOANS AVAILABLE AT ASCS COUNTY OFFICE

With harvest of the 1966 cotton crop getting under way, growers were reminded today that loans are available to eligible producers at the ASCS county office. Loan rates for eligible upland cotton vary according to storage location; they are based on a national average rate of 21 cents per pound, gross weight, for Middling 1-inch upland cotton at average location before adjustment for micronaire premiums and discounts.

The cotton loan rounds out the three-way income protection offered participating growers under the government's upland cotton program. The price support payment—available on the projected yield of the farm's domestic allotment (or the acreage planted if this is less than 90 percent of the domestic allotment) is 9.42 cents per pound; the diversion payment—on the projected yield of the acreage diverted at the level signed up—is 10.5 cents a pound.

Cotton loan notes may be prepared at the ASCS county office or by approved loan clerks at other business locations. The warehouse receipts will be kept in the ASCS office for the county where the farm growing the cotton is located until the loan matures or the cotton is redeemed.

Loans to producers may be disbursed by any county office thru issuing a CCC "loan draft," which may be cashed the same as a check or money order and may be held by financial institutions as interest-bearing papers. If the loan is disbursed by a county office other than the one maintaining the farm records, the producer will need a certificate from the county which has his farm record showing that both he and the cotton are eligible for a price support loan. Redemptions of cotton loans also will be handled through the ASCS county office. However, arrangements may be made to have the warehouse receipts and other necessary papers sent to a bank for loan repayment if this is more convenient for the producer.

The cotton loans will be available from time of harvest through April 30, 1967. Loans mature July 31, 1967. Repayments may be made at any time up to maturity.

125,000 Drivers Licenses To Expire On September 30

Are you one of 125,000 whose drivers license will expire on September 30?

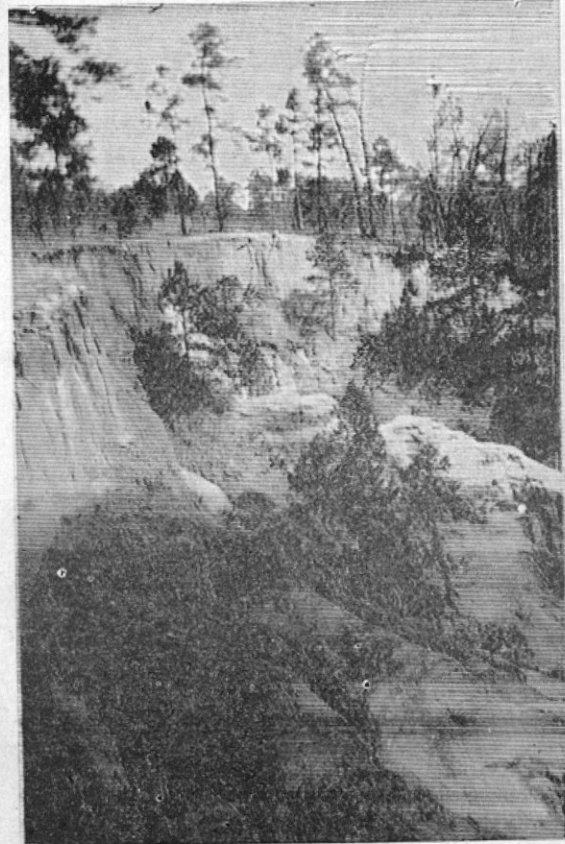

If so, you are advised by Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong to renew early and avoid the rush.

Each year drivers licenses expire on the 1st day of each quarter; that is, all licenses expire on one of four dates: March 31, June 30, September 30 or December 31. On those dates, hosts of motorists line up for renewal by each renewal agent in the State.

Why not be an early applicant and avoid waiting in line while hundreds of drivers jam the corridors. Check your license now, advises Andy Smith, Director of the

Watershed Treatment Needed

More adrenalin to quicken Mississippi's economic pulse was indicated today as W. L. Heard, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Jackson, announced authorization of over $8 million in federal funds for five small watershed projects.

As construction gets underway, about $2 million will flow into the economy annually. This will swell to $12 million the amount brought into the State each year by the Yazoo-Little Tallahatchie flood prevention and PL-566 small watershed projects, administered by the Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Heard said Congress approved more watershed projects this year for Mississippi than for any other state.

The five new projects are all authorized under Public Law 566. They will cover 346,000 acres, and will be located on Houlika Creek in Clay, Pontotoc, and Chickasaw counties; on Tallahatchie Creek in Winston, Choctaw and Neshoba counties; on Dry Creek in Covington County; on Holiday Creek in Marion and Jefferson Davis counties; and, on Home Cypress Bayou in Sunflower, Coahoma and Tallahatchie counties.

Highway Patrol Driver License Division. If you find that it will expire on September 30, go directly to your renewal agent. Renewal is $2.75 for one year or $5.25 for two years, by any renewal agent; or $2.50 for one year and $5.00 for two years at your State Patrol Headquarters Building, Jackson, Mississippi.

Like all small watershed projects they are sponsored by local soil conservation and water management districts which will finance cost of easements and local management of the projects upon completion. To speed installation of flood prevention measures along Dry Creek, the Pat Harrison Waterway District is co-sponsoring this project, and helping with local costs.

Construction of floodwater retarding structures and stream channel improvement will take the biggest bite out of the over-all appropriation. Mr. Heard said more than $7 million have been earmarked for this purpose.

Federal funds for land treatment measures will total better than a million dollars. Of this amount, about $200,000 has been approved for use by the U. S. Forest Service in woodland phases of the projects.

"The bulk of the land treatment will be done on private land by farmer-cooperators using SCS technical assistance provided through their local soil conservation districts," reported Mr. Heard.

In Prentiss County, land treatment funds are being alligated in Tuscumbia and Town Creek water sheds; while a survey is being made to develop a plan on Brown Creek. Dry Creek on the west side of Prentiss County will be planned with Big Hatchie Watershed. Tree planting should begin with the 1967 planting season. Trees will be planted free.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

by CLAIRE T. ROSS, Extension Home Economist

I hope you have been one of the many folks who have gotten the idea during this National 4-H Club Week that 4-H is rolling ahead. You might call it a rolling stone, but never one without a definite goal and never one that gathers new members and new leaders in rural communities, as always and also from small towns and large cities. 4-H is for everybody.

4-H is an organization in which boys and girls "learn by doing", in about 40 projects and activities. You'll find a project for any boy or girl wherever he lives, however much space he has, whatever amount of time and money he can invest.

Prospective members and their parents can find all sorts of information about 4-H Clubs at the offices of your county Extension agents. Come by the office in the Post Office Building, and let's talk about 4-H. Or, if several of you are interested in a 4-H Club, let us know and we'll come by and talk with you. We'd like to have your sons and daughters as 4-H members and you as a 4-H leader.

Emergency Preparedness
How well prepared is your family to face an emergency such as a hurricane, tornado, or other natural disaster — or the fallout from a nuclear attack?

You will all be better prepared if you have worked together to prepare a written family survival plan. This plan should outline each member's responsibilities in case of an emergency.

It should also provide for some shelter. It will be the place that will provide the most protection now, and even more after you have made plans to make it safer. Places like tornado cellars and basements are good.

Your plan should also provide for a two weeks' supply of food and water. Select foods that keep well without refrigeration, require little or no preparation and that members of the family like.

Provide a well-equipped first aid kit, and be sure that someone knows how to use it.

Other items needed are a battery powered radio, clothing, food preparation and serving equipment and sanitation equipment.

Ask at your home economist's office for a copy of the publications "Your Family Survival Plan" and "Family Food Stockpile for Survival!" Another publication that you will want to add to your emergency preparedness is Extension Publication 565, "Protecting Family and Livestock from Nuclear Fallout."

MISSISSIPPI TOPS NATION IN 4-H FOOD PRESERVATION

Mississippi topped the nation in the 4-H Food Preservation program enrollment last year with more than 30,000 members. If 4-H enrollment increases for 1966 as predicted, the Magnolia State should keep the lead. The 1965 runner-up was Oklahoma with some 24,000 members in the project. Besides turning out sparkling arrays of canned foods and frosty frozen dishes, the 4-H'ers enjoy the pride and satisfaction of making something useful, nutritious and tasty. They also keep a detailed account of progress made in a "4-H Club Members Record" book. It is this book that is used in judging state and national winners.

NEW INDUSTRIES NEED NEW SKILLS

The challenge of increasing Mississippi's per capita income and providing an adequate supply of trained labor for our diversified industrial expansion finds public and private leadership generally agreed on the importance of technical training for future workers — especially young people. There is sound reason for such emphasis with modern industrial growth putting a premium on special skills.
