He Wants To Do Something 'For' Them, Not 'To' Them

A 27-year-old Greenwood native has been named Youth Court Counselor for Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties in North Mississippi.

LARRY MCCALOP

He will work in cooperation with youth court referees in each county and under the direction of chancery judges Fred Wright of Amory and Jack Dody of Pontotoc.

Larry McCalop, a 1963 graduate of Greenwood High School, was appointed to the post with Joseph H. Mitchell, supervisor of Region I Probation and Aftercare Workers of the Miss. Training Schools, making the announcement.

McCalop accepts the youth counselling job after serving the past 2 1/2 years as a head football coach in Cleveland. The standout football star at Greenwood high attended Delta State College and has done Master's degree work at both Delta State and Mississippi State.

He is married to the former Phyllis Thompson of Cleveland and they have one daughter, Laura age 4.

In making the announcement of McCalop's appointment, Mitchell said, "Our agency realized about 2 1/2 years ago that the training schools (formerly known as reform schools) in Mississippi were failing in their follow-up and some preventive services for finding the potential of juvenile offenders. And, the rate of children getting into trouble again was, too high."

Under the old system, first offenders were committed to Training Schools without any regard to their potential for rehabilitation in the community.

According to Mitchell, as a result of these aspects of juvenile delinquency, the Community Service program was begun.

With the appointment of a counselor for Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo, only 3 Mississippi counties are left without this service.

The results of the community service thus far has been a dramatic decrease in the number of repeat offenders and also a 25 percent drop in the population of the training schools.

It cost about $3100 per year for each child in a training school, Mitchell pointed out. "So you can easily see," he said, "that our program can justify itself financially."

About coming to Corinth, the new youth counselor said, "I'm genuinely interested in the problems of these young people and the origin of their problems. I feel sincerely motivated to do something about the problems of young citizens and I want the young people to know that I'm here to do something "for" them rather than "to them."

McCalop went on to say, "Entering the field of juvenile correction has been a dream of mine for several years. I'm juvenile correction

Dig Deep...Heart Fund Campaign Sunday

Mr. Charles Walden, in cooperation with the Booneville Jaycettes, has been named Heart Sunday Chairman to direct volunteer efforts in Prentiss County as the Heart Fund Campaign reaches its high point on Heart Sunday, February 25.

During the campaign, local volunteers will join an army of more than 15,000 Mississippians to visit friends and neighbors, distribute Your Heart Saver leaflets and collect funds to help reduce death and disability from heart and blood vessel diseases. This year's expected death toll will exceed one million, more Americans than have been killed in all of the nation's wars since the American Revolution. Aside from the suffering and loss of life, the dollar cost of the epidemic this year will total $19.5 billion in lost wages and medical expenses -- this is ten times the cost of last summer's nearly two-billion-dollar hurricane floods, the greatest natural disaster in the nation's history.

The Booneville Jaycettes will be in charge of the residential phase of the Heart Sunday campaign. Plans are being made to reach rural communities as well as Booneville residents in an all-out effort to "Beat the Big One -- Heart Attack". All Prentiss County residents are urged to be at home Sunday afternoon in order not to miss the Heart Sunday volunteer who will be calling.

Those who wish to pledge a donation are invited to call the Bank of Mississippi at 728-5342 or come by for refreshments between the hours of 1:00 and 4:00 p.m. Sunday, February 25. Volunteer workers are also invited to come by the bank with their collection.

Heart Helpers

These members of the Booneville Jaycettes will be helping raise money this coming Sunday for the Heart Fund. They are, left, Barbara Walden, Sue Dillard, Pat Walden, and Bobbie Jeffreys. The main fund campaign is this coming Sunday, officials said.

PAUSE FOR POWER ....

God's Two Gifts

God has given us two infinitely wonderful gifts, His Son and His Spirit, and both are described in Galatians 4:4-6. God gave His Son for us: "But when the fullness of time was come, God sent forth His Son...to redeem them that were under the law" (Galatians 4:4,5). And God gave His Spirit to us: "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts" (Galatians 4:6).

Cod's gift of His Son for us was to redeem us from the guilt of sin. God's gift of His Spirit to us was to liberate us from the tyranny of sin. God's gift of His Son will bring us some-day to Heaven. God's gift of His Spirit brings Heaven now to us.

Now, God's two Gifts meet precisely man's twofold spiritual plight. Sin is both guilt and pollution. It is important to observe, however, that sin is first and primarily guilt and then it is pollution. In direct contrast to those who tell us today that sin, for example, homosexuality, is only a disease, the Bible teaches us that sin is first and primarily guilt. To put it another way, sin is first a spiritual crime and then a moral disease.

The Bible informs us that sin is a violation of God's law and therefore renders the sinner guilty. The Bible says, "Sin is the transgression of the law." And since sin is a transgression of God's law, sin renders man guilty and places him under the just judgment of God, for the Bible says, "Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it speaks to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may stand guilty before God" (Romans 3:19). As a sinner, I have transgressed God's law. I have sinned against God. As such, I stand guilty before God, and that means two things. It means, first, that I am blameworthy. I am responsible for my sin. No one compelled me to sin. As a free moral agent, I sinned willfully. Second, however, I am also liable to the punishment for my sin, and the punishment for sin is death. The Lord God said to Adam, "In the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die." Again, the Bible says, "The wages of sin is death." Sin has rendered me guilty before God, and the guilt of sin includes liability to punishment. And the punishment for sin is death.

In addition to this, however, sin is not only guilty; it is also pollution. Sin not only has rendered me guilty before God; it has also corrupted and polluted my life. It has gripped me with terrible and fearful sinful habits. It exercises a tyrannical power over my life. It has polluted every fiber of my being. As a sinner, therefore, I am dominated by sin. And Paul describes in graphic personal language the terrible polluting effects of sin in his own life (Romans 7:14-25). Sin is therefore both guilt and pollution, both crime and disease.

Now to meet these two problems the Lord God given men two Gifts, God gave His Son for me, that is, God gave His Son to die for me. He bore the penalty of sin in my place. This answers the guilt of sin.

Second, God gave His Spirit to me. At conversion the Holy Spirit takes up His residence in a believer's life. The Bible says, "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you?" (First Corinthians 6:19). The Holy Spirit indwells every believer, and one reason for which the Holy Spirit indwells a believer is to liberate him from the tyranny of sin, to give him victory over sin, and to sanctify him.

Two infinitely wonderful Gifts! God gave His Son for you. That answers the guilt of sin. And God gave His Spirit to you. That answers the pollution of sin.

Augustus Toplady had both of these ideas in mind, the ideas of guilt and pollution, when he wrote his hymn, "Rock of Ages cleft for me

Let me hide myself in thee,
Let the water and the blood
From thy wounded side which flowed
Be of sin the double cure
Save from wrath and make me pure."

USING NON-STICK UTENSILS

Before using cooking utensils and electrical appliances coated with a non-stick finish clean them. Wash the utensil with hot sudsy water, using a sponge or dishcloth to remove any manufacturing oils. Then rinse it thoroughly with hot water and dry. After cleaning, the no-stick finish should be "conditioned" to insure stickfree cooking. Lightly wipe a teaspoon of cooking oil with paper toweling or a soft cloth over the entire surface. Do not use shortening or butter. Let cooking oil remain on the surface.

The no-stick finish must be conditioned again after each time it is cleaned in dishwasher, after each time it is treated with a commercial cleaner for non-stick finish and after each time lemon juice or vinegar is used to remove a mineral film.

There are suggestions for better results when you cook in these utensils.

It is not necessary to use fats when cooking foods on no-stick. When frying, however, the use of a small amount of butter, fat or oil will improve the flavor, color and crispness of foods.

The cooking temperature is important.

For top-of-the range cooking, use medium to low heat. Do not use high heat, except for bringing liquids to a boil. If preheating is necessary, use medium heat for 2 to 3 minutes. The use of high heat and prolonged preheating will result in stains on the no-stick finish and may cause it to lose its non-stick property.

Cookware with no-stick finish is oven-safe at temperatures up to 425 degrees. The oven should be completely preheated prior to placing the pan in the oven, as the heat during the preheat period can exceed 425 degrees. Do not use cookware with no-stick finish under an oven broiler unit.

Clean after every use. Let the pan or appliance cool completely, then wash in hot soapy water. Clean the interior regularly with a plastic pad. Although it may look clean, a thin layer of food or grease may settle into the porous finish. This residue will carbonize when reheated, resulting in stains and possible damage to the no-stick finish.

Rinse thoroughly. After washing, rinse pan or appliance thoroughly with clean hot water. If detergent is not entirely rinsed off, it can result in stained areas when reheated.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

W. T. Smith

Competition from broad-leaf weeds will reduce yields of small grains. Weeds often become serious problems even with good cultural practices as some weeds are favored by the same management practices that favor small grains.

Chemicals recommended for weed control in small grains include 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T and dicamba. 2,4-D is more effective on dock and less effective than 2,4,5-T. Where all three weeds occur in the same field, better weed control will be obtained with a mixture of one half pound 2,4,5-T and 2,4-D per acre.

Small grains can be damaged by 2,4-D. Timing of application is important so that damage will be reduced. From germination to the four leaf stage, small grains are susceptible to damage. When the plant is fully tillered and is five to eight inches tall it is tolerant. From jointing through flowering it is susceptible and from soft dough stage to maturity it is tolerant. Wheat is more tolerant than barley, which is more tolerant than oats.

Fertilizer supplies. Fertilizer may be short this spring at the peak of the season. It would be a good idea to book mixed fertilizers now or lay in a supply if you have adequate storage.

Prices are also likely to be more favorable now than at the peak use season when supplies become tight.

Nitrogen fertilizer will also be in short supply during the peak use season due to the energy crisis. Natural gas is used in the manufacture of nitrogen fertilizers.

TREES LIKE GOOD LAND

If you are an owner of land that you cannot look after closely, putting timber on that land could well be your best bet. Research has shown that trees will grow two and a half times as much merchantable timber in 17 years on good land as on poor land. But they will grow enough timber even on the poor land to show a profit.

A. I. SHORT COURSE

An artificial insemination short course will be held at Mississippi State University for both dairy-men and beef cattle producers March 19-23. Attendance is limited to the first 35 applicants. If interested, mail a $5.00 pre-registration check with your application to George Crain, Leader, Extension Dairy Science Department, P. O. Box 5425, Mississippi State MS, 39762.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Nancy White

Extension 4-H Youth Agent

As evidenced by the following verse, found in the September 1971 issue of the National 4-H News some 4-H leaders are real poets:

THE 4-H CLUB
School gives a club what he learns from a book.

Father may offer an hour by the brook.

Church imparts spiritual strength from above.

And mother gives her own special love.

Neighborhood bully makes him pitch in and fight.

And good civic leaders help him stand for what's right.

Aunt Hattabell tells him he just shouldn't ought.

But... big brother John says: "Just don't get caught." Now we know good advice is always needed.

But advice, though it's good, is not often needed;

So how can we know that our Suzzo or Bill

Grow all they should in knowledge or skill?

4-H is the answer; but first you must take

A 4-H youth agent, then the news he will break

To parents, to leaders, the kith and the kin;

Get them all together and then we begin.

There's sewing for Mary and archery for Jim.

But Edith says: "Really, I can't hold a pin."

So we undertake cooking for Edith and Jill.

And with dairy and woodwork, they all have their fill.

A trip to the Capitol, top of the nation,

Provides civic leaders in most every station.

State University helps future leaders

And encourages doers instead of just readers.

The grand county fair is a sight to behold.

With goodies and projects, some tame and some bold;

Activities, fashions, good grooming and such

We wonder in awe: "Could we do so much?"

4-H offers leaders a chance to inspire

And members can work 'til their energies tire.

The community gains some good citizens too--

Parent, leader, or member, it's all up to you!

HHHH

4-H'ers can choose a variety of activities to suit their own needs and interests.

Many kinds are offered for selection at every age. Some of these are:

Environment--Fighting air and water pollution, learning about land management, striving for safe use of insecticides and other chemicals.

Nutrition--Aiding in improving the nutrition of all people. Working with low income families in teaching them how to have appetizing and nutritious low budget meals.

Health--Promoting health education, working to eliminate harmful drug usage and smoking.

Community Betterment--Building a more pleasant, safe surrounding; group activities in community projects.

Management--Learning management techniques and a knowledge of the free enterprise system.

Careers--Striving to find a key to the future through experience gained in the numerous 4-H projects offered.

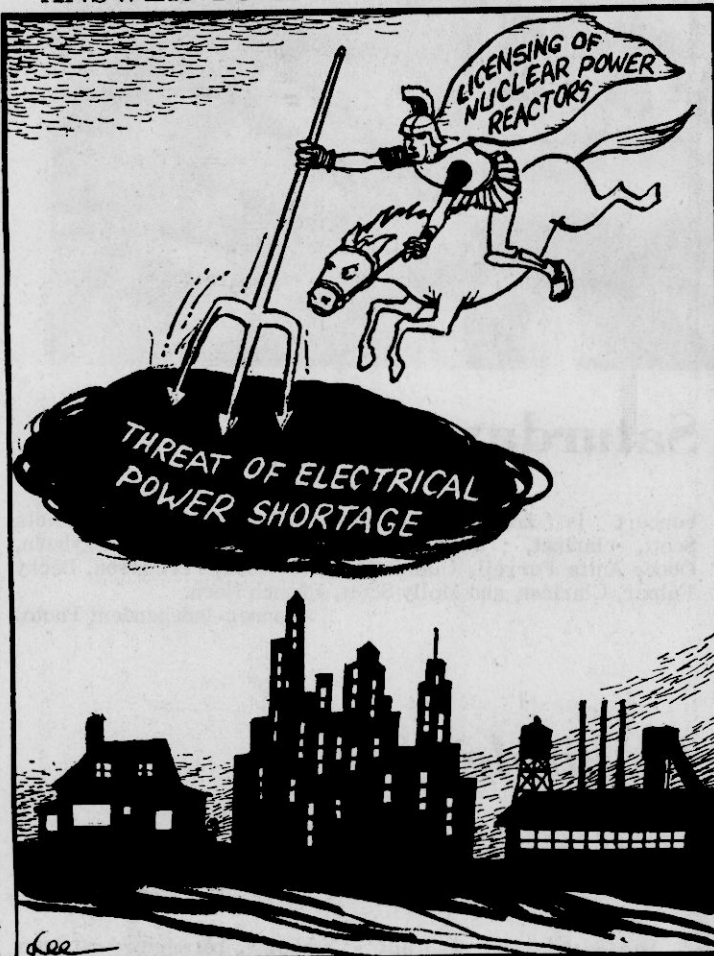

HHHH

If you, as an adult or an older youth, would like to volunteer to work with the youth in your community, please contact your Extension 4-H Youth Agents at 728-5631 or come by the Prentiss County Cooperative Extension Office in the basement of the Post Office Building for more information.

There is a youth group in your community that needs your guidance and leadership.

ANSWER TO A CURRENT PROBLEM!

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Most areas in the country have experienced "brown-outs" and voluntary reductions in the use of electricity.

As a temporary expedient, the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy is considering the interim licensing of nuclear power reactors.

Government, business and civic leaders are becoming increasingly concerned about the future availability of energy fuels and the power supplies necessary for the production of manufactured products.

Shut-downs of facilities, such as have occurred during the past two winters when natural gas supplies to some plants were interrupted, can be extremely costly as well as physically inconvenient.

Interim licensing of nuclear power reactors in order to safeguard continuing supplies of power will help alleviate the drain on normal power supplies and assure a margin of safety for home, business and industrial use.

The Houses Your Jack Built

The houses your jack built are falling apart. Just in one city, Chicago, you own 5,000 empty houses. Built with "government money", they were made available to low-income families at low rent.

But they've been torn apart by misuse or are falling apart from flimsy construction. They've been abandoned by their occupants or forfeited for nonpayment even of the token rents required.

When President Nixon asked Congress to halt direct federal payments for housing and community development, his was no hasty decision.

Outgoing HUD Secretary George Romney had calculated that what with all subsidies and rent supplements included, an apartment unit worth $17,500--under the government's complicated interest-subsidy commitment--eventually will cost you, the taxpayer, perhaps $142,000!

You'll be paying for the next 40 years for white elephants already in the graveyard.

That's why the President said no more. It was not a capricious or sudden decision.

Government housing had been tried for four decades. The Socialist scheme was a thoroughly tested and proved fiasco long before Mr. Nixon let it die.

Socialism is for hereafter, not for here. It works on paper but not in practice because it assumes all men to be idealistically motivated and not all are.

Most public officials are imperfect and some are crooks. Most real-estate developers are going to meet government construction specifications just barely and some will try to get by with less.

And too many occupants of low-income dwellings don't know or don't care about maintenance and some are outright destructive. Every city now has ramshackle eyesores yet unpaid for, once-gleaming public housing complexes--ravaged.

Last year 14% of all new homes--341,000 units--were built with "government money." Many builders have become dependent on this "government money" for all or part of their work.

Of course they're hollering. So are some congressmen. So are some social planners, protesting: "He'll rebuild homes for Vietnamese but not for us."

But the Nixon budget for housing in fiscal '74 is a record $4.9 billion, a billion more than last year. It's just that he's trying to reallocate the administration and the responsibility to community and state hands.

If government cannot life people out of the slums, what can?

The history of orderly social improvement is agonizingly gradual but it works.

Energetic, ambitious, hard-working people save for, borrow and build newer, better houses. The poor move into the older houses thus vacated, proudly upgrading them and themselves.

This, history says, is the only way you can get the people out of the slums and the slums out of the people at the same time.

Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q-- Is there a limit on the amount of G. I. loan a veteran can get?

A-- The amount of the home loan is a matter between the veteran and the lending institution. However there is a maximum on the portion of the loan that the Veterans Administration can guarantee -- 60 percent of the loan, not to exceed $12,500.00.

Q-- I am insured under a "V" pre-fixed National Service Life

Policy. Can I take out more insurance?

A-- Yes. A recent law (92-188) allows veterans with that type of coverage to buy paid up additional life insurance with their annual insurance dividends. Write the insurance center where you pay your premiums (St. Paul or Philadelphia), if you have not received an application form.

Q-- Can a service-disabled veteran who received a VA automobile allowance be reimbursed for the special adaptive equipment more than once?

A-- Yes. Payment may be made to the seller of the equipment or reimbursement to the veteran, under certain conditions, when the equipment requires repair or replacement.

'It's Time To Tighten Our Fuel Belts...'

You can help your Nation's energy conservation efforts, live comfortably, and save money too.

Each of us can help accomplish these worthwhile ends--on a daily basis in our own homes, and where we work, according to Darrell M. Trent, Acting Director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness. All we need do is practice conservation habits that help save energy.

As our country continues to grow, we must face up to the fact that energy of many kinds is in short supply, Mr. Trent says. "It's time to tighten our fuel belt and stop wasting electricity and heat. This in turn saves oil, gas and coal. Save energy, and you save money."

America now consumes about 29 percent of its energy in industry, 25 percent in transportation including getting back and forth to work, 21 percent for residential and commercial purposes, and 25 percent for utilities. But the Nation can keep warm, get to work, and keep industry humming with much less energy than is now being used.

An O.E.P. energy conservation study shows that there are many ways you can help conserve fuel and electric energy at home, on the road, and on the job. Here are some:

Weatherstrip and caulk around windows and doors. Properly applied, this can keep out cold air and seal in warm air so effectively that your family's heating bill can be cut 15 to 30 percent. It's easy and inexpensive to install weatherstripping at movable joints and to caulk the frames of all windows and doors. Keep at it until you find that in quite cold weather light but not excessive fog or moisture occurs occasionally on windows on the downwind side. When that point is reached you will not only have accomplished substantial heat savings but will have provided about the proper humidity conditions for your comfort.

Install storm windows or insulated glass to cut in half the heat that is needlessly lost through the windows in your house. This extra window investment will pay for itself within 10 years, and thereafter return you an annual dividend of 13 to 18 percent or more in areas of the United States where the average winter temperature is lower than 45 degrees.

Increase insulation in your attics and walls when possible. You cannot afford to have less than the equivalent of six inches of good thermal insulation over your ceiling.

Install wood sash windows whenever possible. Wood is a poor conductor of heat and moisture and therefore an excellent natural insulator. In comparative tests with other sash and frame materials, wood rated a much better insulator than metal. In tests with an outdoor temperature of 20 degrees, interior wood sash registered a warm 59 degrees; metal, a chilly 32 degrees. A costly 22 percent more heat was lost through metal windows with an 80 percent glass area than through wood sash windows of the same size. Also, weatherstripped wood windows with insulating glass stayed free of condensation in outdoor temperatures of 30 degrees below zero, while moisture formed on metal sash windows in temperatures of 20 degrees above.

Keep your heating and air conditioning equipment in top operating efficiency. Vacuum dust and lint from air intake registers. Replace your furnace air filters every two to four months or when they become loaded with dust or lint. Have the heat exchange surfaces of your heating plant cleaned when needed and have the combustion air adjustment checked or improved by service professionals.

In homes and apartments without storm windows, close draperies at night. This results in some deflection of drafts and more comfort. A little heat may also be saved.

Regardless of where you live and work, turn off electric lights, TV, radio and other electric utilities, when they are not needed. Every kilowatt-hour saved is a benefit to you and your country. Try to avoid prolonged use of major appliances during "peak-use" times--in the early morning and during late afternoon and early evening.

Repair leaking water faucets. A leak of one drop per second adds up to about 650 gallons per year. A leak that fills an ordinary cup in 10 minutes wastes 3,280 gallons per year. If this and sinks and often cause unsightly sink stains.

Lower the thermostat setting in your house or apartment at night. By reducing the thermostat setting 4 degrees for 8 hours each night, a savings of $1.80 on a $60 monthly heating bill can be achieved.

If you live in a metropolitan area, consider riding a bus rather than a car. It takes up to 5 times as much energy fuel-use efficiency, is an expensive 'consumer' of energy.

Many of the same points mentioned above to conserve heat loss in winter also apply to air conditioning savings in the summer. So such measures as weatherstripping and caulking, use of storm windows and insulated glass and installing overhead and sidewall insulation have year-around energy conservation virtues.

Remember, when you conserve fuel and energy, you help yourself, your community, and your country.

Story And Photos

By Willie Izard, Editor

As the basketball went through the net for the final score...it was victory for the Booneville High School Blue Devils. But it was more than a victory, it was a combination of efforts. The combination of talents proved that anything can be done when people pool their resources and efforts for a common cause.

Immediately after the final buzzer sounded the basketball court was completely filled with well-wishing fans of the Blue Devils.

The fans, led by the high school cheerleaders, never gave up.

Throughout the see-saw game, the fans continued to yell to their hometown team and give them the spirit that was needed.

The Players, coach, cheerleaders, and fans of the Blue Devils are to be commended for a spectacular performance. For that's exactly what it was.

The referees called a very close game...and rightly so. But, even with this close officiating, the team members never lost their 'cool'.

As earlier mentioned, each member of the team and the fan club is to be commended for conducting themselves in an excellent manner. And when that last buzzer did sound...the Blue Devils had won the District I, Class A Championship...the hard fought for praise did come.

This game should be a lesson for our people in the future. It matters not who wins the game...it's how the game was played.

Due to the presstime of this newspaper, we were unable to give on-the-scene coverage to the game Wednesday (last night) in Water Valley...but we extend our congratulations to the team members, coaches, etc., for a game well played Friday night. We, of course, wish for the Blue Devils a victory on Wednesday night...but that is yet to be decided at this writing.

UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES

Vets Can Get Eligibility Restored

Veterans who have used their G. I. loan can have their eligibility restored and get another VA-guaranteed loan under some circumstances. Wesley H. Witt, Loan Guaranty Officer of the Jackson Veterans Administration Center, reminded veterans today. The basic qualification is that the first home was sold for compelling reasons and in addition, VA must have been released from liability on the original loan. This usually happens when a home is sold with new financing, Witt explained. Some of the reasons for which property may be disposed of and entitlement restored by VA are:

- Transfer of employment from one locality to another by an employer.
- Destruction of home by fire or natural hazard.

Voluntary change of employment to another locality offering more income and opportunity for advancement - provided satisfactory evidence is furnished VA.

Retirement of a veteran, or transfer of a serviceman by his military department while he is on active duty.

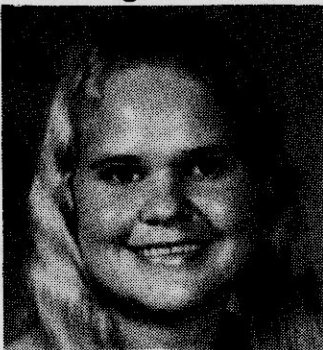

Limited space in a veteran or serviceman's home, if a doctor certifies that space is a health question. An increase in size of his family, however is not in itself sufficient grounds for restoration of entitlement.

Loss of employment through a reduction-in-force, or curtailment of activities in occupation where he is employed -- if suitable employment is obtained in another locality.

Dr. Haggai Will Address Tupelo Leadership Meeting

His message is timeless, but his language is flavored with contemporary phrases; his warmth, humor, and understanding indicate a very human guy.

In addition to his heavy nationwide schedule of speaking engagements, Dr. Haggai is heard daily from coast to coast on the syndicated radio program, "Values For Better Living."

And so he is. Dr. Tom Haggai of High Point, N.C. is a minister who can communicate with both teenage rebels and conservative gray-suited businessmen.

It was announced today that Dr. Haggai will be in Tupelo Miss. on March 1, to address the Yocona Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. This is the Annual Recognition Banquet for all volunteer leaders, Eagle and God and Country Recipients.

The general public is invited to hear Dr. Haggai; tickets are available at the Boy Scout Service Center, 411 South Spring Street, Tupelo, phone 842-2871. The Banquet starts at 6:30 P.M. at the Natchez Trace Hall of Fame, and advance reservations must be made.

High School Day Set Mississippi College

CLINTON, Miss. -- When students from the Booneville area attend the annual High School Day at Mississippi College on Saturday, March 17, they will have the opportunity of attending a special classroom session of their choice as part of the morning program.

Rory Lee, admissions counselor at the college and coordinator for the day's activities, said that 25 different academic departments will stage informational sessions with faculty members and Mississippi College students participating. The visiting students will attend sessions in the department they are not interested in.

In announcing the classroom visits, Lee said, "We want the Booneville visitors to know what academic departments we have at Mississippi College and give them the chance of spending some time with a professor in their particular field of interest."

The departments holding sessions will be business, economics, education, home economics, library science, psychology, art, music, physical education, English, foreign language, speech, Bible, philosophy, religious education, biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics, history, political science, sociology, and the School of Nursing.

Following the classroom visits, the high school students will then attend special sessions conducted by Dr. Louise Griffith, dean of women, and Ed Hewlett, dean of men.

Students interested in a special College Program for Seniors to be offered at the college this summer will have the opportunity of meeting with Dr. Phil McCarty, associate professor of Bible and religious education and program director. The Seminar will enable students who have completed their junior year of high school to attend regular college courses and get the feel of college life before actually becoming a collegian.

Registration for High School Day will begin at 9 a.m. in the foyer of Nelson Hall. A day-long program is planned.

Notes from the state Capitol

By

Martha Carole White

State Representative

District 2

Business continues to pick up in the Legislature, as each day the calendar, or list of bills to be considered, grows longer. Some issues will ultimately die, due to lack of time to bring them up for a vote, and some of our House bills will die in Senate committees and on the Senate's calendar.

House bill 770, which reorganizes the Board of Trustees at Northeast Junior College giving each of the five supporting counties three trustees, passed the House last week. I opposed this bill to "equalize" the board because I think it is a bad policy to involve the Legislature in changing present law just to apply to one college, while the other junior colleges in the state system remain within the present law under which all were established.

Mississippi has been a leader in this establishment of its junior colleges, and Northeast is recognized as being one of the most excellent. I regret to see the unity of the whole system threatened by separate acts of the Legislature, and I especially regret to see change take place first at our area college.

By the way--for those of you who have asked, a "snake with a mustache" is just a slang expression for a bad piece of legislation. Evidently the House thought the double-trailer truck bill was also bad legislation, for it was soundly defeated early in the week.

The House, in its efforts to meet court rulings and meet its own responsibilities, has passed several penitentiary bills, the most noteworthy of which abolishes the State Penitentiary Board in favor of a single state director of corrections.

Backers of the bill indicate that so much is wrong at Parchman, but that no central control means that there is no way to know exactly who is responsible nor where the trouble is coming from. This bill makes someone answerable for inmate problems and the three to fifteen million dollars that will ultimately be spent to clean up these problems and conform to the court's rulings.

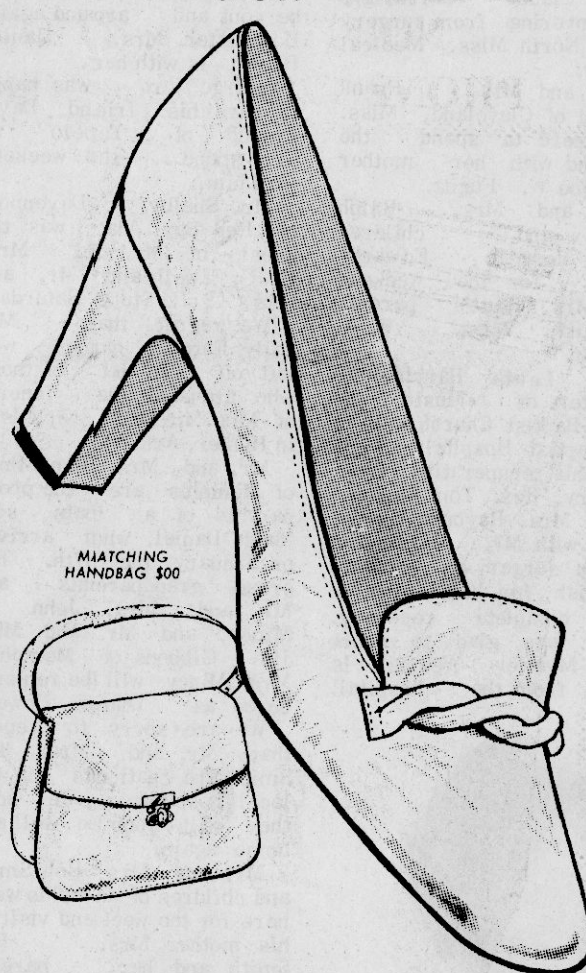

During the latter half of the session, now beginning we will be meeting head-on with some of the most serious issues affecting our state.

We are still to consider the new state employees retirement system, a final meeting of the minds on our massive education and teacher pay raise bill, and possible action on the reinstatement of the death penalty, as passed by the Senate last week.

Please feel free to contact me on these or any other issues which interest you. If you wish to contact me during the week, the Capitol number is 948-7321. Thank you for your support. I appreciate each of you.

Farmer's Guide Available Now

JACKSON, Miss. The 1973 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" is now available from county agricultural agents or the Internal Revenue Service, a spokesman from the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The booklet, IRS publication 225, shows farmers how to fill out the 1040 tax return and which supporting schedules must be attached. The publication also includes a listing of important Federal tax dates for farmers.

Written in easy-to-understand language, the tax guide contains many examples of how farm transactions are reported for Federal income tax purposes.

Although primarily written to help farmers prepare their 1973 tax return, the Guide serves as a useful reference throughout the year.

MEC Notes State Tax Increase

Mississippi Economic Council, the state's chamber of commerce, has noted a report in the U.S. News & World Report concerning the rise of state taxes and the increasing surpluses in state treasuries.

The MEC, concerned with fiscal integrity and equity in taxation, notes that Mississippi ranks fifth in the nation with a tax increase of 98 percent in years since 1967.

Mississippi ranks behind Illinois with 127 percent increase; Nebraska, 120 percent; Pennsylvania, 113 percent; and Connecticut, 105 percent.

The tax burden per person in Mississippi in 1972 was $259.94. The national average was $288.35 per person--a 78 percent increase since 1967.

Even with state and local treasuries expecting to show a surplus of over $12 billion, the report cites three reasons why no tax relief is seen for the average man:

--State spending is expected to go up as revenue sharing funds are put into new or expanded activities;

--If the growth rate of the economy begins to slow, a corresponding slowdown will appear in the tax receipts, too;

--Many states face a new burden: the shift of a larger share of school financing to the state from localities, the cutting of federal aid in an effort to trim the federal budget, and the continuing rise in state operating costs.

The report also shows that state income taxes on a national average, rose 28 percent in 1972. It states that five states increased income tax levies in 1972 while other states increased taxes on cigarettes, gasoline, and alcohol.

The report concludes that despite the brighter outlook in state finances, "there appears to be little hope for the average citizen that he will get a lower state tax bill in the months ahead."

Power Rates Rose Sharply

Electric power sales by the Tennessee Valley Authority turned sharply upward in the last half of the 1972 calendar year, running 15 percent above sales for the same period of 1971, the agency reports.

Use of electricity in the Tennessee Valley region rebounded from a small decline that had occurred in 1971 when weather, economic, and other factors interrupted the long-term growth trend in power requirements.

For the year as a whole, 91 billion in 1970.

Total 1972 sales included increases of more than 4 billion kWh in sales to 160 local municipal and cooperative distribution systems, 3 billion in sales to Federal agencies, and 1 billion in sales to large industrial power users served directly by TVA.

The agency said the increases resulted from record numbers of new customers on the local distribution systems, from an upswing in business and industrial activity, and from larger power use at Atomic Energy Commission plants producing enriched uranium for nuclear power plant fuel.

Total power generation on the TVA system was 102.7 billion kWh in 1972, up 10.5 billion over the previous year. Both steam plants and hydroelectric plants generated record amounts of electricity.

December power sales totaled nearly 9.5 billion kWh, largest ever for a single month.

With generous rainfall and streamflows during the year, total hydrogeneration at TVA, Corps of Engineers, and Alcoa dams on the system was 22.5 billion kWh, compared to about 17 billion in a typical year.

THE GOODNESS GEM

As you know, the Greeks had a word for everything. Amethyst could have derived from several Greek words. Amethystos might be translated "not to be drunk," amethystos as "remedy for drunkenness." In any case, one of the most charming legends connected with this beautiful stone has traditionally been its association with precision against drunkenness. Good old sober amethyst.

To elaborate on amethyst's more staid attributes, it also has a long tradition for being used in ecclesiastical rings, especially those of bishops. Amethyst has been given many attributes and all of them are good. A few of its powers are: control of evil thoughts; to calm evil passions; quicken intelligence; protect the warrior from battle wounds; protect the wearer from contagious disease; and put demons to flight if the figure of a bear is inscribed in the jewel.

It is no wonder that at one time, amethyst was seen mostly gracing the fingers and bosoms of old maid aunts.

At one time, too, amethyst was valued equally with diamond. Then great finds in South America and elsewhere made amethyst more plentiful. A general rule of thumb for ascribing a gemstone as precious is: Is it beautiful, is it durable and is it rare? So, as the rarity of amethyst decreased, so did its price. But it remains a stone precious to many just the same. Recently, the supply of fine amethysts has once more begun to diminish (the mines are being worked out), and the cost will probably increase again. The demand for fine amethyst is constant.

What this could mean to you, is that the amethyst you buy today will certainly be worth more money a few years hence. Come into Way-Fil Jewelry and let us show you how to make a lovely investment in the stone that is very suitable as the February birthstone.

Gatehouse, Cabins Completed

IUKA---Final construction of two new duplex cabins and a gatehouse was announced today by Dr. Bobby F. King, Mississippi Park Commissioner from Iuka.

Dr. King said, "The Mississippi Park Commission is making a concerted effort to promote greater year-round use of all state parks. We feel that the two (2) new duplex cabins at J. P. Coleman which offer such outstanding features as central air and heating systems, built in kitchens, wood burning fireplaces and screened porches will be popular to future cabinguests at the Park.

"A Park Commission crew is presently landscaping an area around the cabins to prepare them for use. Forms are being built for sidewalks, patios, and parking ramps. New furniture has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon", the Park Commissioner added.

King stated, "A gatehouse is also complete and will be used as an information booth and a traffic control point. The gatehouse will also serve as a fee collection point in the park for campers and cabin guests."

J. P. Coleman is located twelve miles northeast of Iuka, Mississippi and overlooks Pickwick Lake.

Thrasher Betas At Capitol

Fourteen of 16 Beta Club members of Thrasher High School were in Jackson recently for the State Beta Club Convention and this group of young people visited Governor Bill Waller in the Capitol. The Beta Club is sponsored by Mrs. Charles Williams. They

U. S. Navy Retiree

Bobby H. Hughes G.M.G. 1, retired from the U.S. Navy on January 29, 1973. Capt. Donald Smith, Commander of the Long Beach Naval Station, presided over the ceremonies. Bobby was presented with a beautiful Ship plaque on which was engraved the names of all the ships he had served on and all the cities that he had been stationed in while in the Navy and another plaque of the U.S.S. Ajax, which was the ship that he was on at the time of his retirement. Bobbys mother, Louise Hughes, formerly off Booneville, lives in Long Beach, Cal. where Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hughes will also make their home. Bobby is now employed with Byron Jackson oil well service in Long Beach. Bobby and his wife Evelyn will be visiting in Booneville this summer. He is the grandson of C.C. Bullard and the brother of Mrs. Marie Armstrong, both of this city.

Foreign Aid?

The Inter-American Foundation, a Federal government corporation, funded 14 projects in Latin America for more than $2 million. They include a $124,850 grant to set up rural housewives' clubs in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, and a $23,300 grant to set up a cooperative organization of trash pickers in Medellin, Columbia.

92 Million Times

The postman rings 92 million times a year at various offices and hospitals of the Veterans Administration, a VA survey discloses.

At the VA Center in Jackson, Andrew M. Landry, Acting Director, said 1,165,263 pieces of mail were received last year.

Thus, when writing to VA, the veteran should include full name and address; claim (C) number, if he has one, or his military serial or Social Security number.

Also, include ZIP codes as these have become an integral part of moving the mails. VA, for example, sorts its mail by ZIP code when the volume warrants it, such as in the issuance of insurance notices.

Real Estate More Than Doubled

UNIVERSITY, Miss.--Average value per acre of farm real estate in Mississippi has more than doubled since 1960, attributable only in part to continued upgrading of farm homes and other buildings, according to the University of Mississippi's Bureau of Business and Economic Research. "Available data shows that land values have grown faster in recent years than building values have," explained a recent article in Mississippi Business, A Bureau bi-monthly publication. Dr. Walter J. Primeaux is director of the Bureau; E. Nolan Waller is assistant director and editor of Mississippi's Business. "The total value of all farm land in Mississippi increased by 42 percent between 1966 and 1972, while the total value for farm buildings increased by 31 percent; the combined value of land and buildings in the State increased by 39 percent during this period," said the article.

"In the 48 contiguous states, the total value of farm land went up by 34 percent between 1966 and 1972, buildings alone increased in value by 27 percent, and the total value of buildings and land increased by 33 percent."

The average value per acre of farm land in Mississippi, including improvements, was $263 in 1972, compared with $107 in 1960 and $55 in 1950. Average per-acre land values in the State increased at an average rate of 7.6 percent per year between 1940 and 1972. The comparable average increase during this period in the U.S. was 6.3 percent per year.

From 1965 to 1970 the average rate of increase was 8.7 percent in Mississippi and 6.0 percent in the U.S.; the annual rates of increase for the last two years were 6.0 percent in Mississippi and 5.5 percent in the U.S.

Returning Vets 'Bravest'

WASHINGTON -- Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said today the returning prisoners of war must rank with the "bravest most loyal Americans of all time."

Eastland said the nation owes these men and their families "a debt of gratitude that we can never really repay." He characterized the POWs as "a fine example" for all Americans.

"One could not help but be deeply moved by the actions of these men -- many of them showing the physical scars of years in a communist prison. As they stepped off the airplane, their smart salutes, their respect for the flag, and their loyal statements about their country were a moving tribute to America."

The Mississippi lawmaker paid tribute to the "courage and loyalty" of the Americans who were imprisoned by the communists in Southeast Asia. "Their performance is in keeping with the highest traditions of America and the ideals which this country holds so dear," he said.

Eastland also was highly complimentary of the families of POWs. "They too, must stand alongside these men -- because it was the love and devotion of wives, children and parents that sustained these men over the years in prison," he added.

"No word of welcome, however, would be complete without our renewed prayers for those whose fate is yet uncertain. We must never rest until we have a full accounting of all who served in this unfortunate war."

Taxpayers, Key To Counties Share

JACKSON.--Taxpayers can help insure that Mississippi and its counties, townships, and municipalities receive their fair share of Federal Revenue Sharing funds by answering accurately two questions appearing on Forms 1040 and 1040A, Richard J. Stakem, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Mississippi said.

One Revenue Sharing question relates to principal place of residence of the taxpayer on December 31, 1972, while the other question asks about dependents who lived elsewhere on that date.

Because the amount of money that Mississippi and its local communities will receive is based on population as well as income amount, it is extremely important that taxpayers answer the questions accurately and completely.

Detailed information on completing the two Revenue Sharing questions appears in both the 1040 and 1040A instructions.

Taxpayers who fail to provide Revenue Sharing information or who supply incomplete data may experience refund delays because of the additional time required to process the return.

The Revenue Sharing law also provides for a $5 penalty for failure to answer the two Revenue Sharing questions unless due to reasonable cause.

Bank Of Miss. Announces Merger Plans

Bank of Mississippi President J.C. Whitehead of Tupelo, and Bank of West Point President S.H. Bryant of West Point, announced Friday the intentions of their two banks to merge under the charter of the Bank of Mississippi.

Presidents Bryant and Whitehead said the Boards of both banks have approved the merger and the approval of stockholders and governmental regulatory agencies will now be sought.

Bank of West Point has served the West Point area since 1896. Mr. Bryant, who has been associated with Bank of West Point for 21 years, says his bank's assets at year-end were more than $11 million.

President Bryant stated that among the reasons for his bank's pending merger with the Bank of Mississippi are an expanded loan base, expanded investment and trust services, an industrial development department to assist in local industrial expansion, data processing facilities and an overall increase in bank services.

"The West Point and Golden Triangle area has tremendous potential, and by expanding our banking service to this community we can better do our part to realize this potential", President Bryant added.

Bank of Mississippi President Whitehead welcomed the opportunity for his bank to become associated "with the fine officers and staff of the Bank of West Point".

The merger of the two banks will bring total assets of the Bank of Mississippi to more than $126 million and will increase to 12 the number of cities served by the Bank.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Up, If....

JACKSON, Miss. -- The Mississippi Senate voted Monday to boost the cost of hunting and fishing licenses after backers said additional money was needed to "upgrade" the Game and Fish Commission.

Sen. Donald Strider of Charleston, who handled the bills, estimated they would yield a total of about $750,000 in extra revenues during the next fiscal year for the agency.

Strider, chairman of the Senate Game and Fish Committee, stressed the commission is supported entirely by "special" funds such as licenses and fines, and gets no money from the state's general operating fund.

The series of bills, which still faces House action, would raise the resident fishing license from $3 to $4.50 per year; the nonresident fishing license from $6 to $10; the special three-day nonresident fishing license from $1.50 to $3.00; and the combination hunting fishing license from $5 to $6.50.

'Golden Opportunity' Seen

JACKSON--Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said here today the South has "a golden opportunity" to lead the nation

The special fee for deer tags would be increased by $1.

The Senate also adopted amendments by Sen. George Yarbrough of Red Banks to increase from 25 to 50 cents the fee received by agents for selling the licenses. This is in addition to the basic cost of the licenses.

The key vote came on the resident fishing license, which was the first in the series to be considered. It was narrowly approved 30-17, only one vote more than the three-fifths majority needed for passage of a revenue bill.

Some lawmakers said they felt the proposed increases were too high. Sen. Nap Cassibry of Gulfport said they represented an "indirect" tax increase.

But Strider said there had been no increases in license costs since 1958. He said the extra money was badly needed by the Game and Fish Commission for a variety of purposes, including salary hikes for game wardens.

Sen. Bill Burgin of Columbus, who supported the measures, said the salaries of game wardens have not kept pace with pay raises approved for other state employees in recent years.

"They have been the stepchildren of state government," said Burgin. Sen. James Molpus of Clarksdale inserted an amendment in the package providing that no ad valorem taxes shall be paid by the Game and Fish Commission for state-owned lands to counties in which game preserves are located.

Strider also gained passage of a bill setting the deer hunting season for "primitive firearms" between the regular deer seasons as fixed by the Game and Fish Commission. However, the bill specified the special session shall not exceed 12 days.

in beef cattle production. Eastland said Mississippi alone can double its present beef herd in an effort to meet growing national demands for beef at the market place. "In my judgment, the South must produce the beef for the future," the Senator said.

"We have the land, the climate, the best seed stock in the nation -- and the people. The only question is have we awakened to the great opportunity that is ours?"

The Mississippi lawmaker, a ranking member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, delivered a major address to the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, sounding the meeting there, "The Future is Ours." Eastland was keynote speaker as the group opened its statewide annual meeting at the Mississippi Coliseum. Eastland described the South's opportunity as "a tremendous and awesome responsibility" and called on Mississippi cattlemen to help meet the national demand for beef.

"It will take a coordinated effort -- based on sound judgment -- using all of our natural, financial and human resources to capitalize on the opportunities that are ours," he said. "We must fulfill the responsibilities facing us to help build a better America."

The Senator, however, cautioned the producers that they could face trouble from increasing imports and the development of beef substitutes.

Probably the most significant development in our lives in this century is the automobile. It has made us a society on the move, a people going places in a hurry. We need a car to go to work, a station wagon for shopping or family vacationing, possibly a camper for communing with the great outdoors.

Too often the need for transportation keeps us in debt. The car, or cars, become a burden, not just a pleasure. The old car always gives out at just the wrong time. And we develop new needs as time goes by.

With our lives keyed permanently to the automobile, it just makes common sense not to be "at its mercy" financially. And that's where car savings come in--that is, a program of savings that lets you call the time about what and when you'll buy.

A "car fund" can enable you to handle those costly breakdowns when they occur, get a better buy when you find a bargain in a car--and save substantially on the interest in big car payments. Take charge of your "charger". Start your "Car Fund" savings program with us now, and earn our current annual interest rate of 5% with safety.

Prentiss Manufacturing Continues To Grow

Prentiss Manufacturing Company began its 26th year of continuous operation in Booneville on January 1, 1973. The company continues to employ some 400 people with an annual payroll well over $2,000,000. Each year this progressive company adds new equipment and new methods of production in order to keep abreast of the time.

Officers of the company are James H. Bethay, President; Emmons Turner, Jr., First Vice-President; Nelson Baldwin, Second Vice-President; and Betty Mae Bethay, Treasurer.

All of the officers have lived in North Mississippi all of their lives.

Prentiss Manufacturing Company was founded by L. L. Bethay, who retired on February 3, 1973, after serving as President for 15 years and Chairman of the Board for the last 10 years. The company began operation in Booneville on January 1, 1948, with 35 machines and 70 employees and has had a continuous growth over the years. The plant now has some 80,000 square feet of air-conditioned operating room and 20,000 square feet of warehouse room.

Approximately 250,000 dozen work shirts and sport shirts are produced annually. Sales volume for 1972 exceeded $6,000,000, and the product is shipped to every state in the union including Alaska and Hawaii.

President James H. Bethay attributes growth of the company to the excellent teamwork of every employee, and to one of the finest sale outlets in the world, plus the fact that production has never slowed down due to lack of work.

Prentiss Manufacturing Company is certainly an excellent example of home grown big business that has left its mark on our fine community. Expansion plans for our company are anticipated as the economy continues to grow.

Frankstown Man Tapped For Hall Of Fame Honors

Two veteran Northeast Mississippi high school coaches, now retired, have been named to the Mississippi Association of Coaches first annual Hall of Fame. Pickens (Pick) Noble of Tupelo and Harrison Arnold of Frankstown Saturday were named along with three others from around the state for induction next month.

Formal induction is planned at Mississippi College on March 20.

Arnold, generally recognized as Mr. Basketball in the 'hill country' until his retirement, spent 37 years as an active coach and 44 in the teaching profession.

He produced state champions at Wheeler in 1929 and 1955 and during his years as a coach went to the state playoffs 16 times. He's list of trophies include third place at Booneville High School in 1962.

Arnold had runnerup teams at Wheeler in 1941 and 1942 and then at Jumptown in 1943.

One of the highlights of his career came in 1929 when he took the Eagles to the National Interscholastic Tournament at Chicago where he reached the semi-finals.

During that season his team was unbeaten in Mississippi, and went on to post a 62-2 overall record. He coached, during his career at Wheeler, Bluff School in Tippah County, Bynum in Prentiss County, New Site New Hope, Jumptown, Baldwin, Pontotoc, Pine Grove and Delta Junior College and Booneville High School. In all, he was at Wheeler for 27 years.

Arnold is a graduate of Mississippi Heights Academy at Blue Mountain, Sunflower (now Delta) Junior College at Moorhead and Mississippi State University.

He was an all-star coach in both 1955 and 1962, just prior to his retirement in 1965. There is no complete won-loss record available.

A brother, Bonner, athletic director at Northeast Mississippi Junior College, produced state champions there and a son, Richard at Wheeler came in first in 1957.

Arlis Ricks at Delta State and Gooe Prather at Alabama are two all-Americans who played under Arnold during undergraduate days.

"We feel these two men have made outstanding contributions to the young people and their professions over the years," a MAC spokesman said, "and we are delighted that they were included among the first."

Noble is making plans to attend the presentation, while Arnold may have to by-pass the event.

State Businesses Reminded Of Form

The Mississippi State Board of Health's Division of Occupational Safety and Health reminds state businesses covered under the Williams-Steiger OSH Act to prepare OSHA Form 102 during the month of February. In addition to displaying the OSHA poster, Mississippi employers are required to "complete and post in a place readily accessible to all employees, the OSHA Form 102," says Dick Whitehead, Division Director. "This summary sheet should reflect the injuries and illnesses that occurred during calendar year 1972 and should be posted this month," he added.

Whitehead also explained that all completed summaries should bear the signature of the party responsible for its preparation and the preparation date. "This should be recorded in the lower right corner," he said.

Those establishments which had no occupational injuries or illnesses during 1972 are only required to designate a zero injury and illness experience, sign and date the summary form and then post the 102 in a place readily accessible to all employees.

State Health Officer, Dr. Hugh B. Cottrell noted that businesses which are physically dispersed may satisfy the posting requirement by furnishing the information found on the 102 to each employee who would not ordinarily visit the central office where the original OSHA 102 is posted.

A supply of the summary forms and assistance are available at the State Board of Health, Division of Occupational Safety and Health, 2628 Southerland St. or by telephone at 354-61635.

This I Believe

By Pastor Dannie Odle
First United Pentecostal Church

Is Pentecost Real?

This is an honest question which deserves an honest answer. More and more in this day people are experiencing the experience of Pentecost. It is a moving exciting and thrilling experience to feel the power of a real God moving in your life and receiving a personal experience with God. Pentecost was born in the same feeling which filled the hearts of those who experienced the initial outpouring of the Holy Ghost. My what a change it made in the lives of those that heard the word and believed. What answer do you suppose you would have received from any of those gathered at Jerusalem that day should you have asked them that question Is Pentecost Real? Real, it changed their lives from people who would deny the Lord to a man who was willing to be crucified for him. From backward people to bold people eager to spread the message around the world.

People all over the world are receiving the experience of Pentecost. It is the force that will change the lives of people. Why should you be satisfied with cold formalism when you could have the power that is spoken of in Acts 1:8 "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you" Power to change your life, power to live above sin, power to separate yourself from the things of this world. What joy it is to know that he has filled your life with the power of the Holy Ghost. Do not listen, simply refuse to believe those who would say this power is not for you. They may claim there is nothing to it, or that it is not far us today but it does not change the fact that God is still giving to the honest hearted people today the power of Pentecost. Yes my friend, you too can have this experience of Pentecost. Just ask someone who has received this experience if it is for you. It is being given to all who will believe him and then you too will know without a doubt that Pentecost Is Real! (Paid Advertisement)
