Doctor Situation Still Hazy...

The apparent differences of opinion between some medical doctors in Booneville and members of the Board of Trustees has grown from a set of by-laws drawn for the local hospital.

It was noted that a set of by-laws to operate the Northeast Mississippi Hospital here was forcibly written by the hospital's board of trustees. David H. Prichard, President of the Board of Trustees said that "the medical staff were asked to write the by-laws for the hospital.....but could not come up with a workable solution."

It was noted that the hospital's by-laws were re-written about a year ago. At this time, officials said, the medical staff was asked to re-write the laws. But, they couldn't come to a workable solution.

"When the medical staff couldn't agree on the by-laws, then the Board of Trustees were forced to re-write the laws to coincide with the Joint Commission", Mr. Prichard said.

In order to keep the local hospital accredited, the by-laws had to be written in a manner to meet the guidelines of the Joint Commission on Accreditation.

The accreditation officials reported that the by-laws had to be "very specific as to the privileges of the medical staff, and when the medical staff couldn't agree on this type of by-laws, the board of trustees were forced to rewrite the by-laws", an official of the board said.

It was also stated that the medical staff by-laws had not been revised since 1962.

Prichard said that the hospital board of trustees was advised by the surveying doctor that "if the medical staff do not approve, it's up to the board to adopt the by-laws."

Rumors have been circulating around the city that the four doctors in the Medical Clinic are making plans to leave the city, but this newspaper has no confirmation of this. The Mayor, Hospital Administrator and a representative of the doctors refused to comment on the matter Wednesday.

Monday, a group of citizens interested in keeping the doctors in the already 'shortage of doctors' city, met with the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors. Officials of the board commented that they had "no authority to replace a member of the board unless proper information concerning the member was channeled to their office....and this has not been done."

"We have to have knowledge that the member of the board is not fulfilling his duties to that board before we can replace him," it was noted by a board spokesman.

Our City Has A Decision To Make

Dear Editor:
Is Booneville dead? In my younger days, Booneville was a growing city, but now it has become so stagnant and unconcerned, it seems to be dead.

Booneville's merchants have lost a lot of trade to the surrounding cities because of not enough concern. Last week there was a circular sent to all merchants of Booneville asking their opinion on certain questions. This was a survey to find out what Tupelo could do to increase their business.

The survey was not designed to help Booneville in any way, only to hurt their trade. Our city needs to rise to the occasion, promote new businesses, industries, encourage growth in our city.

Booneville can not and will not grow as long as only a few of the people in our city try to make things better. In order for our city to grow each responsible individual must work toward making Booneville grow.

Our city will either die or grow in the next five years. It's up to the people of Booneville. What will you do? Stand back and let it die or stand up and make our city GROW.

Dear Editor,
In reply to last week's letter to the editor regarding law enforcement, I would like to commend the writer for the statements about our law enforcement.

But even if the Sheriff's Department is the way the writer tells it, believe me if you lived in the 5th District you would add the Constable to that list.

This young 'BILLY THE KID' with a pistol is not only unfair, but he is highly tempered and very rude.

He too insist on strict law for some and none for a few friends. This Crowson is the worse headache for good citizens we have ever had.

If you leave home you can bet on a 50-50 chance of getting stopped and receiving a ticket or even going to jail for having one can of beer in your car.

It's not just young people he intimidates, but none spared by his approach to law.

Some may recall this kind of law enforcement in years past like J.B. Dugger and Gulmer Sparks but even they can't equal the type harassment we encounter from Crowson. All I can say is God help us out here for 3 more years and protect us from this kid with a gun.

Dear Mr. Izard,

I read your paper weekly and I say without reservation that you have an outstanding publication! Some of the recent "Letters to the Editor" published by your paper have caused me concern to say the least, and I suppose emotional trauma, to say the most.

I have been appalled at the abuse and confusion the Good News (Gospel) of JESUS CHRIST has suffered in these immaturely contempt filled arguments that blaspheme the name of our Dear Saviour by making it a part of these selfish self-centered "religious" battles of words.

God forbid action on the part of anyone associating themselves with the name of JESUS to create confusion (Satan is the author of confusion) And possibly widening the path to destruction for one who has not accepted the GOOD NEWS OF JESUS.

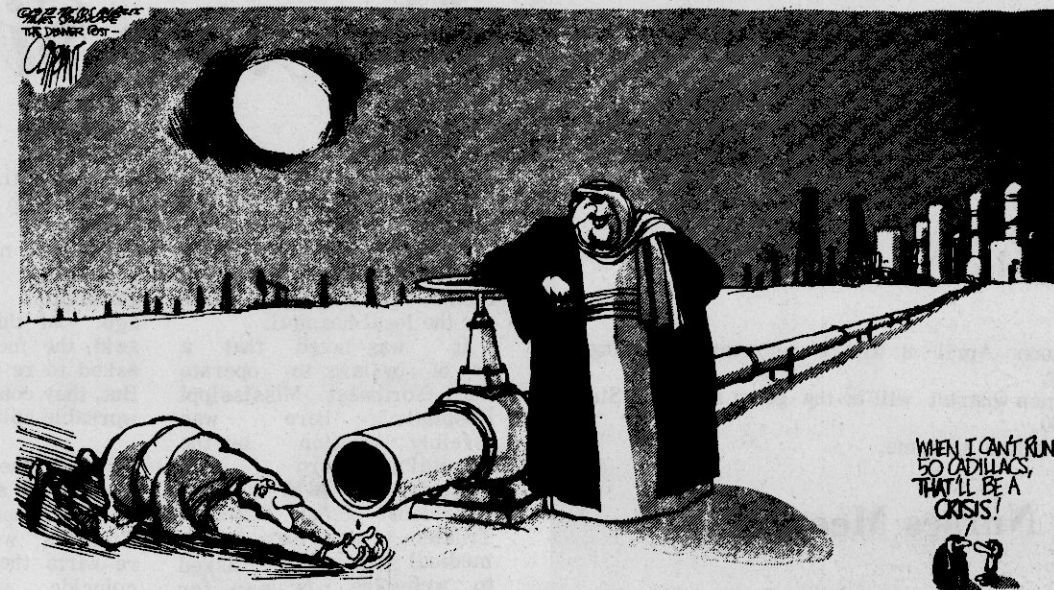

No argument in these passages: Romans 3:23 - 6:23 - 5:8 - John 3:16, Romans 10:13, 10:9,10. I sincerely impart my love in Christ to all these well-meaning letter writers.

Not waiting for an answer - the Good News is enough!

PAUSE FOR POWER

Accident . . . Or Plan ?

The Gospel of Jesus Christ is Good News, not good advice. And the Good News of the Gospel is succinctly summarized in 1 Corinthians 15:3: "For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures."

There are two supremely important facts underscored in that verse.

First, when our text says, "Christ died for our sins," the Bible is unmistakably saying that Jesus Christ literally and physically died. During the past 200 years there have been two or three attempts to circumvent the evidence for the bodily resurrection of Christ by denying that Jesus really died. Frederick Strauss, for example, asserted that Jesus only fainted on the cross.

His disciples took down that fainting body from the cross. placed it in a tomb, and the aromatic spices and cold atmosphere of the tomb revived Jesus. He stumbled out of the tomb, and was somehow able to convince His disciples that He had really died and had actually risen from the dead. Strangely enough, in the past ten years, and English scholar has resurrected this theory of Strauss. He wrote a book The Passover Plot, in which he advances this theory.

But the evidence is all against this theory. And interestingly enough, not one in a thousand skeptics, who are searching for some way to deny the bodily resurrection of Christ, resort to this far-fetched theory. Jesus Christ literally died. The Bible says, "Christ died for our sins."

But, in the light of much that we read and hear today, we need to add a second supremely important fact regarding the death of Christ: the death of Jesus Christ was not an accident.

Jesus did not die because He could not help Himself. I would not even mention this point, were it not for the fact that a good deal of modern literature, including some religious periodicals, so often misrepresent the death of Christ. They picture Jesus as a poor victim of circumstances. They assert that Jesus' death was an unfortunate accident that He could not prevent. But this absolutely false, and it is directly contrary to all the existing contemporary evidence. No one forced Jesus to go to the cross. Jesus Himself said, "No man taketh My life from Me, but I lay it down Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again" (John 10:18). Jesus Christ was not a helpless victim of circumstances when He died on the cross. On the contrary, Jesus died because He chose to die.

But why did He choose to die? The Bible gives us the answer in clear and simple terms: "Christ died for our sins." Here is the Biblical explanation of Christ's death. Christ died for our sins. The death of Jesus is the central event of human history. And the Bible is therefore careful to tell us precisely why Jesus died. For example, the Bible says that "the Man Christ Jesus gave Himself a ransom for all" (First Timothy 2:5,6). And the Lord Jesus Christ Himself said, "The son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).

Why then did Christ die? In His very own words, Jesus died to give His life a ransom for sinners. The two finest words capable of describing most accurately and precisely the nature of Christ's death are penal and substitution. By penal, we mean that the death Christ suffered was suffered as a penalty -- a penalty not due Him, but due us. The Bible says, "The wages of sin is death" Romans 6:23. Jesus Christ stepped up to the counter of God's Calvary and paid fully our account of sin. The death of Christ, therefore, was a penal death. Jesus Christ bore the penalty of sin, and that penalty was death.

The second word that accurately describes the nature of Christ's death is the word substitution. By substitution, we simply mean that Jesus Christ died in the place of someone else. Jesus Christ died in the sinner's place. The Bible says, "Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God" (1 Peter 3:18).

And this, quite simply, is the message of the cross. This is the heart of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ bore in His own body the penalty of sin...and He bore that penalty in my place.

Charles Wesley beautifully captured this truth when he wrote:

"Amazing love! How can it be That Thou, my God, shouldst die for me?"

Luxury At $8.00

What this country needs is a good $8 motel room.

It's got it.

Cecil Day, Macon, Ga., realtor, was rich and retired at age 35.

But driving with his family to and from California's Disneyland he was aghast at the nightly costs for lodging.

That trip was the inspiration for the first of Day's Inns--in Savannah, Ga., in 1970. Today, there are 43 operating--and 30 more under development--handsome, functional motels which offer luxury living for $8 a night.

It was the high cost of a night's lodging which spawned the tremendous increase in campers and camping. Now our perambulating population has an option.

Budget motels are sprouting up all over the country. While expensive competitors struggle to keep their rooms 70% full, most economy motels enjoy 90% occupancy.

Leaders in this gung-ho young industry, other than Day's Inns, include Motel Six Inc., Scottish Inns, Chalet Suisse International and Econo-Travel.

Another 15 companies are planning economy inns--including Howard Johnson's and Holiday.

How do they do it? Uniformity of construction, functional interior design for ease of maintenance, consolidation of services and in some cases no swimming pools.

The other differences in budget rooms and luxury rooms are less obvious. The usual room size is a more-than-adequate 12 by 24 feet. Sometimes beds are built to the floor to leave less area for sweeping, some omit drawers which few travelers use, thus to reduce dusting, some use paper cups to eliminate the washing chore.

No-frills budget motels, a $9 billion business in 1972, may double in 1973.

Budget motels prefer to "piggyback," to locate next door to the big ones. As Roy Overton of Econo-Travel explains, "They've already spent a lot of money on site study; we don't have to. Also, our lodgers can go next door and eat at the big chain's restaurant."

Cecil Day of Day's Inns, son of a Baptist minister, is a Christian layman of increasing influence. His corporation, privately owned, enjoys increased latitude in how its money is spent.

For example, Day's Inns tithe--corporately as well as personally.

Further, each room includes a paperback New Testament in modern English which the occupant is invited to keep, and 30% to 40% of all occupants do.

In 1972, 100,000 of these New Testaments were distributed 500,000 will be in 1973.

Day's Inns wants to send each overnight guest on his way "refreshed in body and soul."

Editorials and Comment

Education . . . 'Down Home' Style

In view of the recent Miss. Legislature's support of higher education, we think it's about time to bring the cause 'down home'.

Following a trend established in recent years, the state's lawmakers again voted an increase in general support funds for Mississippi's colleges and universities.

This precedence set by the state's lawmakers should give Prentiss County taxpayers 'food for thought'. The state is upgrading or keeping abreast in our colleges and universities. . . what are we going to do about our own school system?

Accreditation for the school system is coming up this coming next year. Can we afford to sit around until we are forced to do something after we lose this accreditation. Some other counties in our area did this. . . and it makes the job much harder to do forcibly.

Prentiss County has some of the finest educators in the state, but our school buildings are literally 'falling apart'. It is the current opinion of this newspaper that the county school system will not pass the accreditation test when it comes.

Is consolidation the answer, or Mr. and Mrs. Booneville, would a separate school district for the city be part of the answer? This is our opinion, what's yours? We would like to hear from you on this subject.

USM Involved In Market Test

HATTIESBURG, Miss.-- The University of Southern Mississippi is one of four campuses across the United States currently involved in a market test for the new campus communication concept, The Electric Messenger.

The Messenger is a wall mounted unit containing two screens. One screen is a tascolite process with four messages in a fade-in, fade-out process and the other screen is a rear-projection unit for an 80 slide carousel.

Campus communications are made into regular slides and inserted in the carousel, changing automatically at predetermined intervals giving messages multiple exposure each hour.

Proto-types of the unit are being evaluated at San Diego State College, Arizona State University, Townson State University and the University of Southern Mississippi.

Each proto-type is being set up in locations which provide the unit with maximum exposure. At Southern the Messenger is in the grill portion of the Hub.

The Electric Messenger helps to better inform students of campus events enabling them to take advantage of available activities and acquire a feel for the total campus of which they are a part, from one central location.

Communications on any campus is a problem. Bulletin boards are constantly crowded with posters, notices, flyers, etc., of every shape and fashion, most in some stage of being outdated.

This program is designed to help eliminate cluttered bulletin boards, with outdated announcements, by providing student organizations an opportunity to communicate on an organized, updated manner.

At Southern the Electric Messenger is a function of the Office of Public Information. Heading up the program is Randy Parke, Meridian senior. Parke is responsible for keeping communications up-to-date, space sales and allotment, and general administration of the program.

The national program is a new student service concept from University Programs Corporation, UPC is also involved in other student service programs in the areas of leasing and publications.

Over $1,000 Donated

Heart Sunday contributions from Prentiss County on February 25 totaled $1,012.99, according to Mrs. Charles Walden, chairman of the 1973 Heart Sunday canvass.

Tommy Floyd, over-all chairman of the campaign here, said, "The contributions collected during the Heart Fund campaign will be used for research, education and local community programs aimed at reducing deaths and disability from heart and blood vessel diseases."

Volunteer efforts for Heart Sunday were coordinated by the Booneville Jaycettes, who contacted community groups, provided transportation for young volunteers, and furnished refreshments for volunteers as they brought in contributions.

The Jaycettes received outstanding cooperation from several youth groups, including the Booneville High School FBIA, Cadet Scout Troop 25, New Site Beta Club, Baldwin Beta Club and Pisgah and Sunflower 4-H Clubs. Rural community groups and interested citizens assisted in bringing the Heart Sunday campaign to the communities of Pisgah, Jumpertown, Blackland Marietta, New Site, Liberty, Hills Chapel, New Hope, and Burton.

Those who were not at home on Heart Sunday or those who were not contacted are urged to see or call Tommy Floyd at the Bank of Mississippi, telephone 728-5342, to make their contribution.

Last Frost, Fig Tree Planting

MISSISSIPPI STATE, Ms. The average date of the last killing frost has passed and many Mississippi homeowners may be considering planting fig trees in their orchards. Fig trees are often used as ornamentals as well as for their fruit. Perhaps the most important factor to consider when planting fig trees in the variety.

According to Dr. Richard Mullenax, horticulturist for the Cooperative Extension Service, there has been considerable confusion over variety names.

He said that the Brown Turkey and Celeste varieties are recommended for Mississippi, but the Turkey or Brown Turkey of California is not the same Brown Turkey recommended for the South, even though it is mistakenly sold as such. He advised buying Brown Turkey nursery stock from a southern nursery to be sure of getting the right variety.

"Fig trees need full sunlight and freedom from competing trees and shrubs," he said. "A good place to plant fig trees is on the south side of a building. Here your tree will get sunlight most of the day and the building will offer protection against north winter winds."

The trees should be planted about four feet from the building. Although the roots may grow under the building, they will be somewhat protected from nematode injury. Soils in orchards and old gardens are generally heavily infested with nematodes and such areas should be avoided.

Dr. Mullenax explained that the frequency of watering and the amount of water to apply depends to a large extent on the soil. He said that soils that are shallow or that do not hold moisture will need frequent watering.

"Newly transplanted and established fig trees will need additional water during droughts. In lawns, the grass beneath fig trees may wilt in the heat, while the plant itself does not. This is an indication that the trees need water," he explained. "Figs grown with lawn grasses may require one or more waterings a week during hot, dry periods."

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Smith celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary March 25, in the Fellowship Hall of Chandler's Chapel Church.

The event was sponsored by their son, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Amory. Mrs. Smith wore a gold polyester dress with a yellow mum corsage.

Guests were welcomed by their son, Charles Smith. Amanda Smith, great-niece registered the guest. A lace cloth over gold decorated the register table which held a gold bouquet.

The tea table, in lace over gold, was centered with yellow mums flanked by candelabra with gold tapers. The three-tiered cake with gold roses, doves and gold rings was topped with the traditional monogram and bride and groom. Golden punch was served from crystal.

Mrs. Charles Smith served the cake, Mrs. Linus Hare, Jane Barker and Janie Gale Smith, nieces, served punch. Gifts were received by Karen Smith, granddaughter and Lana Mathis great niece.

Many relatives and friends called during the afternoon and evening to congratulate the couple. The many lovely and useful gifts were displayed.

IPC Will Sponsor Jaycee Program

Herman Moore, manager of Public Relations for the Southern Kraft Division of International Paper Company, has announced that for the second

Mr. Harry Rogers, Vicksburg; and Mr. H. C. Herring, Moss Point, Woodland Regional Mangers are Mr. Norman Gamso, Gulf Region; and Mr. J. R. Ward of the Delta Region.

consecutive year, International Paper will sponsor the Jaycee Outstanding Young Educator Program.

Mr. Moore pointed out that the Southern Kraft Division mills at Moss Point, Natchez and Vicksburg, and the two Woodland Regions are the direct sponsors of the program. Mr. Herman Hossfeld, administrator of public affairs for the Mississippi operation, is the coordinator of the program for International Paper and will work with the Jaycees in making this the best educator recognition program in the state.

International paper has for over 16 years, taken a part in bettering education in our state, through their aid-to-education programs in school systems in or adjacent to Moss Point, Natchez and Vicksburg. "Our support to the Jaycee O.Y.E. program is just another indication of our continued interest in the education of the American youth," said Mr. Hossfeld.

The Outstanding Young Educator is designed to focus attention on and upgrade the education profession in Mississippi. Educators throughout the state, between the ages of 21 and 36, teaching in grades 1 through 12, are eligible to participate in the program.

The O.Y.E. project is conducted by the local Jaycee chapters in Mississippi with local winners competing for three top educator awards in the state competition.

The state awards banquet, which will be held in Clinton this year, at Mississippi College, is tentatively scheduled for April 28, 1973. Larry Vinson of Clinton is serving as state chairman of the event.

Jaycee State President Mike McElhane said, "the Jaycees of Mississippi, as well as all Mississippians, feel we are fortunate in having International Paper and their people in our state." He added, "industries such as International Paper, working with our state leadership, and developing our resources, are making Mississippi one of the better places to live and work."

"The Jaycees recognize the important contributions teachers make to the state's educational program and we are proud to be associated with them in this tribute to the teachers of Mississippi," said Mr. Hossfeld.

Forest Fire Reward

A $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons unlawfully setting woods fires in the State of Mississippi is being sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry Association, "The Voice of Forestry," according to L. C. White of Greenville, President.

Representing 1400 Mississippi timberland owners, forest products manufacturers and suppliers, the MFA has expressed concern through the years about the amount of timber destroyed in the state through set woods fires.

Working with local and state law enforcement agencies, and the Mississippi Forestry Commission, the mfa established the reward program in 1963. It is designed as an incentive for possible witnesses to report these crimes.

To date more than $4,500 has been paid through a special fund into which Mississippi timberland owners make contributions for the rewards.

Forest Fire Reward Chairman L. L. "Moon" Mullins of Starkville explained that to qualify for the reward, a person must have provided information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons illegally setting forest fires. "This reward does not apply in the case of an accident," Mullins said. "We want to stop all woods fires, but the purpose of this reward is to stop illegal setting of fires."

Willful woods burning is punishable by fines from $200 to $1,000 or prison terms from one to ten years.

If a person feels he qualifies for the reward, he should write the MFA office at 1111 Standard Life Building, Jackson, Miss. 39201. Or he may contact his local forester or MFA members to assist in his being considered for the reward.

James Wilson Speaks To Civitan Club Here

James Wilson, Mississippi Department of Agriculture (Weights and Measurements Division) spoke to the recent meeting of the Booneville Breakfast Civitan Club.

Mr. Wilson gave an interesting presentation on the imported fire ant now moving into this area. The presentation included origin, port of entry, method of migration across the Southern States, detritmental effects on land, crops, and animals, and control measures including application of chemicals by airplane. The club welcomed as visitor Jimmy Murphy of Booneville.

Petro Taxes Up Four Per Cent

Mississippi petroleum taxes collected in March dropped five per cent from February collections but were up four per cent over receipts for March 1972.

Motor Vehicle Comptroller Dorey Fisher said March collections were $8,807,512 compared to $9,288,356 in February and $8,434,134 in March 1972.

Fisher also said collections of $115,137,079 for the year ending March 31 were ten per cent higher than receipts of $104,662,496 during the previous 12-month period.

Distribution of the March highway revenues including disbursements to all counties, the highway department, highway bond sinking fund and a reserve fund held back for distribution at the end of the fiscal year.

Law Enforcement Training Course

JACKSON, Miss.--A two-week training course in Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs will be held at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy in cooperation with the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics on April 15-27.

This course is being offered to all Police and Sheriff Departments, and would be responsible for providing the majority of instruction during the study. He urged law enforcement officials to take advantage of the training. "We find that participants of the training have a better understanding of the Mississippi Drug Problem and what assistance they can expect from the different state agencies."

Bureau of Narcotics, Kenneth W. Fairly, said that his Bureau

According to Mr. Shelton the Academy has received a number of reservations, but spaces are still available.

Further information can be obtained by writing to Mr. Thomas Shelton, Administrator, Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy, Box 6097, Jackson, Mississippi, 39208, or by calling 939-3943.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Otis Shinault of Enterprise, Ala. After several months illness. He was receiving treatment in the hospital in

Mobile, Ala. when he passed away on last Friday. Otis grew up in Booneville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shinault. He served in World War II as Lt. Col. He has many friends here who will regret his untimely death. Surviving him are his wife, two daughters and one son, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Dora Moore, Mrs. Blanche Howell and Miss Ethel Sims were my guest for a tour of our city. We covered the West and East side and were so excited over all the beautiful flowers, wisteria covering trees little yellow pom pom roses, azaleas of many colors, tulips and others. I know I have never seen so many beautiful blooms this early before even my fig bushes are full of figs which is unusual this early. I truly hope we don't have a late cold spell.

Miss Vickie Glover went VIA plane to Hartford, Conn last Thursday to attend the wedding of her cousin Jack Swindle. She returned home Sunday.

On Monday night on T.V. Channel 7 and 9 the program "Pass it on" was presented, with host Cecil

Todd. It was a very moving program and as I sat watching and listening to Anita Bryant and others "Pass on" their faith it came to me that how wonderful it would be for people, when gathered together would forget gossip of a nature that it might cause the down fall or a great hurt to someone, and just pass on the good things they know. I don't think there is anyone that has not felt the presence of God and what it meant to them, so pass it on. We never know how much an act of kindness or a word of hope will do I have had so many kind things said to me since I have been writing this column and I sincerely appreciate them all.

Please call me with your news by Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Young, Midway, Georgia, are receiving Congratulations upon the arrival of a 6 lb. 7 oz. daughter Kimberley Leigh, born on March 31, 1973.

Employers Subject To Stiff Penalties

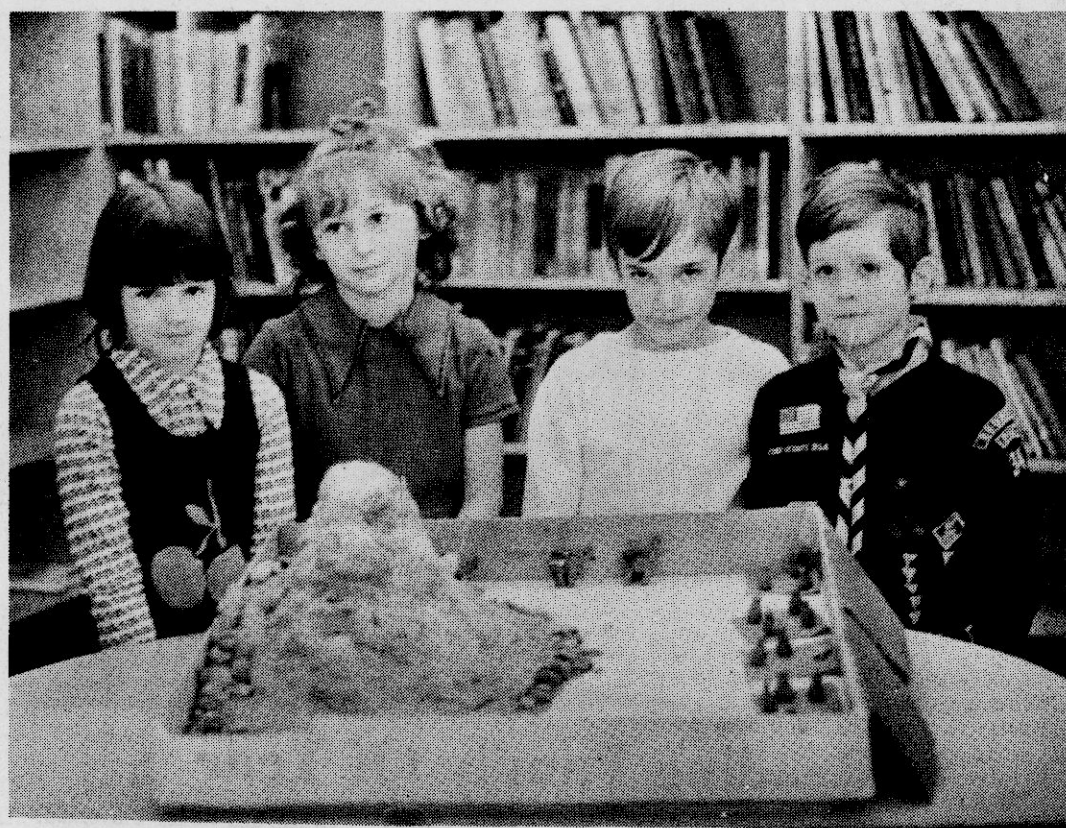

JACKSON, Miss -- Employers who fail to provide their employees with W-2 forms are subject to severe penalties, a spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said today. Under Section 6674 of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), employers who willfully fail to furnish wage and tax information to their employees are subject to a $50 penalty for each failure.

Section 7204 of the IRC states that persons convicted of failure to furnish employees Wage and Tax information may "be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both."

Most employers in Mississippi voluntarily comply with the laws and regulations on this subject. Recently however, there have been indications that a few employers have slow in issuing Forms W-2.

Employers wishing further information on this subject should refer to the IRS Publication 15, "Circular E," or call IRS. In Jackson the number for tax information is 948-4500. Outside of Jackson persons should call toll-free 1-800-222-8070.

VA Questions Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE -- Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q-- Is the Veterans Administration cutting back on hospital care?

A -- On the contrary. An all time high record of more than one million patients will be treated in fiscal year 1974. Because of advances in medical science and improvements in treatment techniques, hospital stays will be shorter and fewer patients will be in bed on an average day.

Q-- How can I apply for my special dividend which I hear the VA is paying to holders of World War II life insurance policies?

A -- Sorry to disappoint you, but there is no special dividend. VA pays regular dividends to veterans who have kept their World War II "V" prefixed National Service Life Insurance policies. Dividends are paid on the anniversary date of each policy and no application is necessary.

Q-- Why is the Veterans Administration's budget for fiscal year 1974 being reduced?

A -- VA's budget is not being reduced. Overall expenditures will be some $300 million higher than in the current fiscal year.

EDITOR'S NOTE -- Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q-- I want to start college in the fall, but I have limited funds and I'm told it takes two or three months after I start to get my GI allowance. Does VA have a loan fund to help me?

A -- Under recent legislation passed by Congress, VA can advance (effective August 1973) as much as two months allowance to veterans who apply to VA prior to registration at school. A check for the first and second months of school can be waiting for him when he registers for classes.

Q-- I am a widow who received dependence and indemnity compensation payments for a short time based on the death of my first husband who was a veteran. After his death, I remarried, and now my second husband has died. May I claim benefits on my first husband's service again?

A -- Yes, upon submission of application and proof of death of your second husband, VA benefits will be restored.

Q-- Please clear up something for me. Is it true that 2.3 million service-men have served in Vietnam?

A -- On June 30, 1972, approximately 2.3 million veterans had served in Southeast Asia. This includes not only Vietnam, but Thailand, Laos, Cambodia etc.

GRAY'S

Mr. Crappie . He's Every Bit A Gentleman

EDITOR'S NOTE-- The following article is being reprinted from the January-February issue of the Mississippi Game & Fish magazine in the interest of local anglers.

By BOB DALE

IT MAY VERY WELL be true that future generations of fishermen will refer to this period in history as the age of the black bass. He is exalted at every turn — lure makers, tackle companies, boat manufacturers and the sporting world in general seem to be totally enamored of this stout and bruising rascal.

Moody and taciturn, he is such an imposing gentleman, whether on a stringer or at the end of a singing lime, that we seem to have forgotten all else. Yet, his shy and gentle cousin, the crappie, would probably have to be rated higher on any scale when all things are considered.

First of all, it doesn't take several thousand dollars worth of equipment to go out and catch "white perch". In 95 percent of the fishing areas in Mississippi, one would be perfectly safe in a 12 foot aluminum boat without a motor. The only other equipment which is absolutely necessary is a paddle, cane pole and jigs or minnows.

Now a dedicated bass fisherman would suffer a severe, if not fatal, trauma to be forced to sally forth after his intended prey in such a rig. He must have a 16 foot boat, swivel seats, a salvaged motor from a semi-truck, a depth finder and so many lures and rod and reel combinations that his most important decision of the trip will be which outfit to use. This is not to imply that crappie cannot be caught with such a rig. They can, but it is not absolutely essential, like such equipment has become in bass fishing today.

Secondly, a fisherman of average ability with no prior knowledge of a body of water can — again with a minimum of equipment — catch crappie. He may not limit out but he will catch fish. Who can make this statement about bass fishing? Grown men with thousands of dollars worth of equipment have been known to weep and wail and gnash their teeth after constant and repeated failures.

Bass fishing is a fragile and tenuous thing at all times in all places. There is no certainty. Admittedly, some fishermen are successful a higher percentage of times than others, but those are the people who concentrate on specific areas and have access to highly specialized equipment. Also, at last report, this equipment, such as depth finders and fishthometers, was not being given away free at tackle shops.

On the other hand, following the spring rise on the Mississippi River when the gauge is somewhere between 20 and 25 feet at Vicksburg, anyone — yes, anyone — can catch a limit of crappie in any of the old ox-bow lakes in the Delta. The same is true of the "bar pits" in this area. Lakes such as Albemarle and Chotard are predictable and easily fished. Tree lines, drifts, mats, trolling — almost all places and methods will produce fish. The only variable is depth, and the only way to isolate this factor is by experimenting.

It is in the "bar pits" between Greenville and Albemarle which furnish some of the most overlooked fishing in the state. They range in area from pond size to a mile and more in length. Most are not posted and anyone can fish them if a little judgment is exercised, such as not tearing up the sides when they are wet.

The best time for fishing is on a slow fall. The river feeds the bar pits directly and the loss of water back to the river is almost imperceptible. At such times, the fish seem to go into a frenzy to feed. Limits which will approach 100 pounds are not at all uncommon. This writer once caught 14 slabs which together weighed over 32 pounds. Minnows work, but the bigger crappie seem to hit jigs better. Although limits may not be certain, one will always catch fish when river conditions are right. Outside of Mexico, where is there such bass fishing?

Thirdly — and this is the most galling argument to crappie fishermen — bass people seem to believe that there is no sport in catching anything but bass. Well, the only thing to be said about this contention is that such people have never fished with ultra-light tackle rigged with four-pound test line and a tiny lead-head jig. A crappie suddenly becomes a bully when caught in such a fashion. And it is an easy trick to master. Simply cast in a circular pattern at various depths until the fish are located. Remember, however, that this tiny jig sinks very slowly and must be given plenty of time to get down. Otherwise the same water will be fished over and over.

For those who have never fished in the Delta, the following information might be used in planning a trip. Although it is possible to launch even the largest of bass boats in the ox-bow lakes, they are not really needed.

THE WHY OF DIAMONDS

Our new stock of engagement and wedding rings is ready for your inspection. It is spring and everyone's thoughts - sooner or later - lightly turn to love. If you are soon to be engaged, and many are this time of year, we, at Way-Fil Jewelry can advise you on the one ring that will be exactly right for you. I personally will explain the contributing factors of diamond quality for you.

For centuries, diamond has been the accepted symbol of romance and the stone most often used in the betrothal ring. It has been lasting popular because of its great beauty and durability, its charming, historical legends and because of its fashion suitability for almost every occasion.

The engaged young lady of today carries out a very old and honored tradition when she chooses a ring set with diamonds. But she has new ideas when it comes to the style for the mounting of her stone. At the turn of the century a simple six-pronged setting was popular. Now a four-pronged setting is more suitable to modern tastes in design.

We can show you diamonds to meet all budget requirements that can still be mounted, set to meet your own individual tastes here in the store. And not only as engagement rings. Around 1585 diamond was dubbed the gem of reconciliation: It was believed to enhance the love between a husband and wife. Think about it.

"Professionally trained" diamond personnel. This is the result of our being a firm member in the American Gem Society. Our affiliation with this organization of better jewelers and gemologists is your assurance of expertise in the area of diamonds. Why diamonds? Come in and find out.

They're 'Sounding A New Note' At UM

UNIVERSITY, Miss., -- They're "sounding a new note" at the University of Mississippi where movie sound tracks are making physics more attractive to science students. Students, for instance, put on a pair of headphones, flip a switch, and listen to music from Stanley Kubrick's "2001: A Space Odyssey" and view the sound patterns on an oscilloscope. A simple experiment reflecting the physics of music and sound, it's one of many that students may conduct to make physics laws more interesting and relevant to everyday life..

Attempting to give physics humanistic features the physics faculty at Ole Miss removed the rigid structure in two courses and replaced it with a skeletal frame giving students a new freedom in study. "The new format puts physics into more of an everyday aspect," said Helen Dauro of Long Beach. "Even students like me with average intelligence can understand and enjoy it." Students taking either "Physical Science for Pre-Teachers" or freshman "Physics" have the freedom of choosing any three out of five topics-- meteorology; geophysics; astronomy and cosmology; physics of music, sound and art; and physics of light- to study each for a five-week period.

Re-structuring of the two courses was initiated this year. Approximately 220 students are included in four sections of classes being taught by Dr. Roy Arnold and Dr. Lee Bolen, professors of Physics, and Dr. Ronald Carter and Dr. Robert Bass, assistant professors of Physics.

"These are not traditional lecture courses," Dr. Arnold said. "There is only one formal lecture per week. The remaining time students are free to pursue their particular interests within the field of study."

Helen, a freshman history major taking the physics course to fulfill science requirements, prefers the new format.

"First semester we got a smidgen of everything... light, heat, water...but we didn't spend much time on any one topic. This semester we get to delve into it deeper; I can understand it better this way," she said.

"Our study is now more individualized," said sophomore Debbie Greshaw of Jackson. "We're learning more because we are doing the actual experiencing ourselves."

To "experience" physics, students incorporate their senses with experiments for more realistic lessons. "We can listen to professors' lectures on tape, view lessons from audio-visual equipment, watch films, conduct simple experiments, watch and listen to voice patterns on an oscilloscope and conduct research through textbooks," said Debbie.

In addition, students may interview experts in the field of their study. For example, the student interested in earthquakes may visit the seismological observatory, talk with the director, and see how the instruments work.

"We get to do most of the work ourselves which puts a great deal of responsibility on us," said Helen. "The responsibility gives us more incentive to do the work. Also, doing the experiments ourselves at our own pace helps the knowledge stick with us for a longer time."

"The students aren't just teaching themselves," Dr. Arnold said. "They do conduct research and experiments on their own but are free to seek advice or aid from the instructors or from assistants in the labs. The professors are always available for individual conferences." "It's just better than the typical lecture course. We're learning more by doing more," said Debbie.

Choral Group

Presents

Program

Members of the Saltillo High School Choral group presented a musical program at the March meeting of the Booneville Kappa Kappa Iota held in the home of Mrs. Lunelle Miller of Baldwin with Mrs. Ruby Wesson as co-hostess.

Under the direction of Mrs. Bonnie Partridge, who accompanied the group with the Auto-harp, the group included Virginia Mitchell, guitarist, Gail Harris, Judy Murphree, Anita Woods and Sherry Franks.

Selections chosen by the group included "Let It Be", "O Happy Day", "Love's Sweet Love", "Cotton Fields", "Where Have All the Flowers gone" and "Swing Low".

"Well, try your pitch on me--maybe I can spot where your weaknesses lie."

Nixon Impeachment

Ask For By Sen. Hart

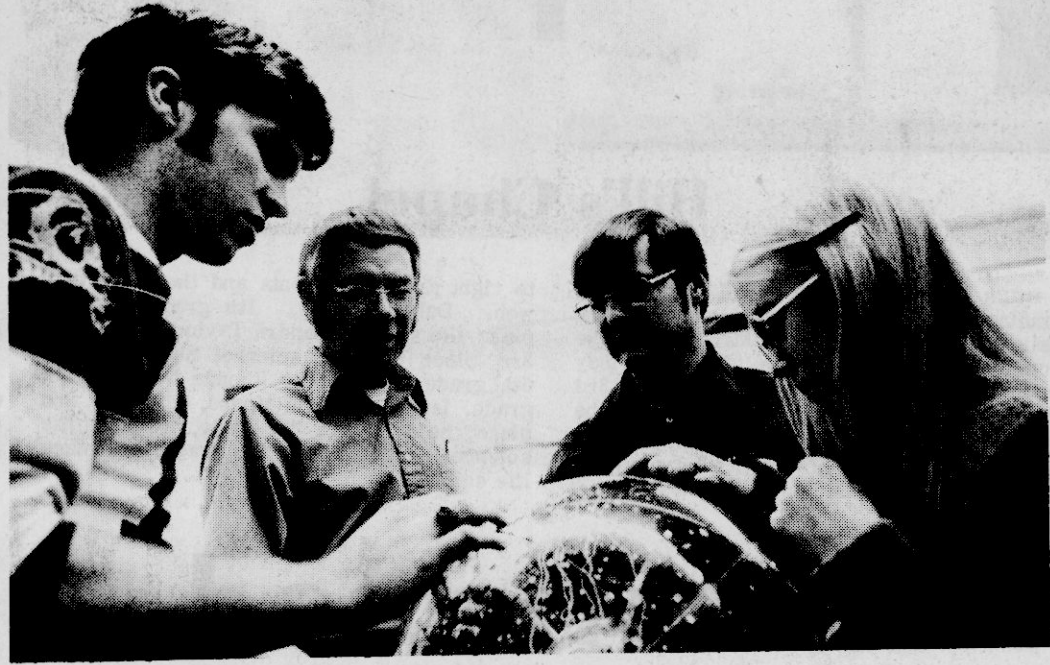

WASHINGTON --Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has suggested that Congress look into the possibility of impeachment proceedings against President Nixon because of continued U.S. bombing in Cambodia.

"We ought to get the books out and find the chapter on impeachment," Hart told UPI Tuesday as U.S. B52s continued to pound Cambodia and the administration continued to assert it needed no congressional authority for the action.

HART SAID HE realized his suggestion was harsh and the chance of impeachment was "zero." But he said, "the violation of the Constitution is clear."

Hart said that since all U.S. troops had been withdrawn from Indochina, there was no foundation for Nixon's contention that he had authority as commander-in-chief to bomb to protect his troops. He said he realized that Nixon won a heavy majority from the voters last year, "but they weren't electing a king."

Seeking Advice

Charlie Whitnel (left), Fulton, Ky., seeks advice about a physics experiment at the University of Mississippi from (second from
