Bullard In Race, Alderman

REV. BOYET

George M. Bullard this week authorizes the Banner-Independent to announce his candidacy for the office of Alderman for the City of Booneville.

In his message to the voters, Mr. Bullard relates that, "To the voters of the City of Booneville, I take this method of announcing my candidacy for Alderman."

I have been a citizen of Booneville some twenty years and have seen the town grow and it needs to multiply.

Many of these needs have had to be passed up because of lack of funds with which to meet them. We now have different sources of income and much more than we have had in the past.

The city has expanded and more revenue is being collected. City property is now taxed much more heavily, than a few years ago.

There are now more money to make some of the very necessary expenditures to improve our city.

I believe these funds should be used in an equitable manner. If elected, I will oppose any pet project of expenditures which is politically motivated.

I will be always ready to give consideration to every section of the town. I think the tax payer should be equally entitled to a fair share of the tax dollar and none entitled to more than an equal share. I think the most important thing facing us now is street and side walk improvements.

This should be top priority and parking space must be provided to stop the erosion of our business to other towns.

We have a good town, a good community, and I desire to be a part of its continual growth and prosperity.

There will be many decisions to make and problems to solve. I believe I can work with the officials you elect and help make it a working board.

On May 8th if you'll cast a vote for me, I shall greatly appreciate it and strive to repay you with faithful and efficient service.

City Gets Almost $60,000.00

Booneville Mayor Marion Smith reported this week that the city has received almost $60,000 in revenue sharing funds.

The Mayor said the city has received $59,634 in Revenue Sharing Funds from January, 1973 through June 30, 1973.

Officials said the money will be expended as follows: $53,414 for public transportation (street improvements) and $3,220 for recreation (city park).

The overlaying of Monroe Street is already underway in the city.

Chittom Asks Your Vote

W. S. (Bill) Chittom this week authorizes the Banner-Independent to announce his candidacy for the office of Alderman for the City of Booneville.

In his message to the citizens of Booneville, Mr. Chittom says "I take this opportunity to ask you for your support, again, in the up-coming election on May 8th, to re-elect me to your Board of Alderman."

I am presently serving in the capacity of street commissioner and am fully aware of street and garbage conditions. We have had an excess of rain, since last autumn, over that we have no control, but spring is here and we are hoping we can get things in better condition.

In the past four years we have paved some sixteen miles of our streets, getting some of you good people out of the dust. We have, at present, some two miles of city streets under construction. I am fully aware we lack some work yet, but we have future plans toward paving the rest of our city streets, if funds are made available and I have your support in this election. While serving on this board, there has been a new City Hall and Fire Station erected, "thus", despending with rent. So, you can see there has been progress in the last four years.

I am also aware of some people's feelings toward the tax raise. Yet, when you stop to think; this was a necessary step toward progress, in order that the city might have funds on which to operate.

It is easy to say what one would do if elected, but when elected, one must abide by the city's laws and then, the funds have to be made available to fulfill these campaign promises.

It has been good to work with the present mayor and board of alderman. I owe this experience of the past four years to you and with this experience will work in cooperation with the next mayor and board of alderman if you permit me.

Let me thank you for your past support and ask again for your vote on May 8th. I will, as I have in the past, strive to keep Booneville a "Number One" place to live.

Letters To The Editor

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:
In the April 5, 1973 edition of The Banner-Independent I was surprised and dismayed to see the publication of a letter from one of your readers and a copy of a questionnaire that I had sent to the merchants in the Booneville area. The letter of April 5 stated that the purpose of the questionnaire was to "find out what Tupelo could do to increase their business." Quite the contrary, this questionnaire is only a part of a larger study designed to help small town merchants compete with larger trade centers, such as Tupelo. The questionnaire printed in the Banner-Independent was sent to the Booneville merchants. Another questionnaire was also sent to randomly chosen residents of the Booneville area. These questionnaires are, or were, designed to test consumer and merchant reactions to similar questions. The letter of April 5 also stated that Booneville "has become so stagnant and unconcerned it seems to be dead." Again, quite the contrary, any city that grows 69% in 10 years (1960-1970) cannot be classified as stagnant or dead. The letter also asked that the people of Booneville work together to make Booneville strong. This is a good example of how to make Booneville weak.

It's not the consumers who must react, but the merchants. Booneville is no longer a closed society confined to Booneville buying simply because of time and distance limitations. It is part of a very mobile society which can move about much more freely and easily than in the past. The merchant must realize that they are competing with some very good stores in Tupelo. They are also competing with a strong Chamber of Commerce and a strong Retail Merchants Association. Booneville does not have a Chamber of Commerce. It does have a Retail Merchants Association which, unfortunately, is so weak as to be ineffective.

If Booneville had a strong organization of the type listed above, coordination of this project would have made the letter of April 5 and this reply unnecessary. It would also enhance Booneville's ability to compete effectively with Tupelo. This is not a condemnation of Booneville merchants, but rather a realistic look at the problems the merchants face. This study is not intended to solve the merchants' problems, but to acquaint him with facts. I can only hope that the merchant's reaction is a sincere desire to compete and a realization that he is not only competing with the store across the street, but the stores in Tupelo, Corinth, and even Memphis. Although this study is only partially completed, I would like to illustrate the results we have obtained below:

1. According to the study the reasons that Booneville consumers are more likely to leave the area to shop in Tupelo are ranked in the following order:
1. Wider Selection of Goods
2. More Stores
3. Better Stores
4. Lower Prices.

The businessmen in the area perceived these reasons almost the same except for that of Lower Prices, where, on the average they ranked it seventh out of the eight on the list. To the researchers in this study, it seems that the Booneville merchants should concentrate their efforts on these four factors and help keep the dollars in Booneville where they belong.

2. The following questions and responses were extracted from the questionnaire and should help the local merchants see where they stand.

a. Which of the following best describes Booneville stores?

Incidentally, I would like to note that I am a former Booneville resident, now attending the University of Mississippi working toward a Masters degree in Business Administration. Don't Quotas Discriminate?

We've had a sick situation in Chicago. The FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) says the city is 20% black so you, Mr. Employer, must employ 20% blacks--qualified or not. Then, while government holds this sword of Damocles over your head, you are visited by an individual or a delegation from some-or-another "rights" organization offering to keep the heat off for a year in exchange for a "contribution."

Thus, a protection racket as blatant as Al Capone's enjoys the complicity of the federal government. The Supreme Court is now considering the quota system and whether this effort to end discrimination has not, instead, resulted in enforced discrimination.

Mr. Larry Lavinsky, chairman of the Anti-Defamation League's national law committee, believes quotas are unlawful and ultimately will be struck down by the Supreme Court. And, by the way, he refers to educational as well as employment quotas.

Mr. Lavinsky cites the Fourteenth Amendment which ordains that no state shall... deny to any person... the equal protection of the laws.

If all persons stand equal before the laws of the states, a quota in favor of nonwhites contradicts that law. It should be remembered that this constitutional lawyer is by preference and precedent on the side of the racial and ethnic minorities.

Mr. Lavinsky believes true equality of opportunity for minorities to be one of the most urgent priorities of our time. But, he says, the use of quotas cannot be justified by arguing that they are "necessary to end discrimination." You don't determine what is legal by what seems needed. There is evidence that the U. S. Supreme Court is moving toward this view.

In Hughes vs. California the issue was whether black clerks should be employed in proportion to black customers, and the Supreme Court majority took the position opposed to racial quotas.

Comments And Opinions

PAUL HARVEY

Chief Justice Warren Burger has stated in effect that discrimination against any group is not correctable by discrimination in favor of any group.

In Carter vs. Gallagher, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals considered the all-white Minneapolis fire department where a one-to-two hiring ratio was imposed in an effort to force the employment of blacks.

And the court found that "giving preference to a minority over whites who were equally or better qualified" violates the Fourteenth Amendment.

President Nixon has ordered an end to quota systems for hiring government employees.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is now implementing an Executive Order that warns universities that any preferential treatment for minorities may result in "reverse discrimination."

Mr. Lavinsky nutshells the Supreme Court's eventual consideration. "Discrimination against black people was wrong. Discrimination against white people is wrong. The problem of achieving an integrated society is far too complex to indulge in the simplistic notion that two wrongs will somehow make it all come out right."

in some way can insure his financial future, there is little likelihood of a young person who has only an elementary or even high school education ever achieving a standard of living to compare to that achieved by someone who has learned a trade or who has gone thru college and is in a profession.

Everyone does not have to have a college degree; in fact, there are many in college today who would do better elsewhere. However, unless there is some specialized training beyond high school, the person will likely have a difficult time, financially.

Let's ask some questions which need to be answered. If the answers are unsatisfactory, the couple should possibly reconsider, at least at this time.

1.) Is there adequate training or education to maintain an acceptable standard of living?

2.) Does each have the ability to handle money wisely, at least to the extent their marriage won't be jeopardized, financially?

3.) Has each developed a monogamous attitude? In other words, have they settled down to each other and have no "outside" romantic interests?

4.) Is the couple ready to have children? Unless they are mature enough to assume responsibilities such as this, the resulting children and the couple's marriage may suffer.

5.) Is each reasonably sure of his love for the other or are they just infatuated?

This couple should, if they are definitely going to get married soon, see a marriage counselor or someone who can help them in matters of budgeting and giving them information as to what problems will likely come up after marriage and how to cope with them. Also, both should consult a medical doctor for a physical examination, information on birth control and family planning.

SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE
by Professor J. Kenneth Williams

Dear Professor Williams: We have a seventeen year old son who says he is in love with a sixteen year old girl. They are planning to get married when he graduates from high school this year. What are some problems that may come up in such a marriage?

Professor Williams: Obviously, the couple is very young to be getting married. Your son should be made aware of some of the problems that will most likely come up in such a marriage. Your question does not mention how long they have known each other and have dated. This is important in establishing the fact whether they are in love or possibly in a state of infatuation.

In this present age with an emphasis on higher education and high standard of living, a couple possibly should wait until the male has entered a profession or trade so they will have at least a minimum standard of living. Unless a male, today, has some specialized training beyond high school or has gone to college, he may find it difficult to get a good paying job. Unless one's parents own a business or

Heaven's Pledge... And Pattern

"The resurrection of Jesus Christ," once observed the Archbishop of Armagh, "is the rock from which all the hammers of criticism have never chipped a single fragment."

But it is one thing to know a fact it is another thing to understand the meaning of that fact. What then is the significance of the resurrection of Jesus Christ?

First, the resurrection of Christ authenticated the claims of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ made numerous staggering claims for Himself. Jesus said, "I and the Father are One." In another place Jesus said, "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." Elsewhere, Jesus said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life; no man cometh unto the Father but by Me." Again Jesus said of Himself, "I am come down from heaven." These claims of Jesus to be God incarnate could be multiplied many times. Jesus Christ unquestionably claimed to be the eternal God, the Creator of the heaven and the earth.

The question now arises, Were these claims true? The contemporary evidence that these claims were true is simply overwhelming. Indeed, these claims are authenticated by several lines of evidence. But the greatest of all the proofs for the deity of Jesus Christ is the resurrection of Christ. The Bible says that Jesus Christ was "... declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead" (Romans 1:4). The Bible here says that the resurrection of Jesus declared or demonstrated Him the Son of God with power. This word "demonstrate," or "declared" in our King James Version, is in the Greek a form of horizo. We get our English word "horizon" from it. The resurrection of Jesus placed Jesus Christ clearly out on the horizon as God's eternal Son. The resurrection of Christ, therefore, authenticated all the claims of Jesus Christ to divine dignity and honor.

Second, the resurrection of Jesus Christ is the pledge and pattern of the believer's resurrection. What is probably the deepest question of life was voiced by Job: "If a man die, shall he live again?" (Job 14:14). And it is not reason nor argument, but an historic fact, the resurrection of Jesus, that meets and masters this great dilemma of death. Upon the empty grave of Jesus Christ, who died for our sins and rose again for our justification, we build the structure of our faith and hope. So the Bible says, "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at His coming" (First Corinthians 15:20-23).

Any Jew of Paul's day would have understood Paul's figure of speech - "firstfruits." In the early part of the harvest season an Israelite would bring to the temple a sheaf of grain and present it to the Lord. This sheaf was called "firstfruits," and it served a double purpose. It was both a pledge and a pattern of the coming harvest. So the resurrection of Christ is both a pledge and pattern of our resurrection.

The resurrection of Christ is first the pledge of our resurrection. He is the "firstfruits." The salvation which is ours in Christ Jesus includes both the redemption of the body as well as the soul. And the resurrection is God's pledge to the believer that one day his body also will be raised.

The resurrection of Christ is also a pattern of our resurrection. The nature of the resurrection of the believer is determined by the nature of the resurrection of our Lord. Though in many ways different, the same body which suffered on the cross, and was laid in the tomb, was raised by God. In like manner, though the particles present in the body at death shall not necessarily be in the resurrection body, yet there will be a close, physical connection between the two so that the one that is sown, as Paul says, is the one that is raised.

The Christian can therefore sing with Paul: "Oh Death, where is thy sting? Oh Grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" (1 Corinthians 15:55-57).

good enough to support one cow per acre will return more than twice as much net profit as using three acres per cow.

FOREST MANAGEMENT
Letting nature take care of needs of timber management is just not enough when you consider today's demands for timber products.

Nature's way would probably be O.K. if we did not need lumber to build bridges, homes, furniture, railroads, boxes, poles, crates and paper products for books, newspaper, packaging, cleaning tissue, grocery bags and many other uses.

For maximum usable production from a forest, we need management assistance from man.

The growth of usable timber products on most of our forest land is only one-third to one-half of what we could be producing with just a little management. Almost half of our forest area is covered with cull trees or undesirable species.

If a preferred species of tree is in the woods and is being suppressed by undesirable species or weed tree, then all that is needed is to remove the weed tree. If the preferred species is not already there, then we are going to have to plant it.

Right now, the time, money and labor spent in releasing the preferred trees will pay greater dividends than any other one practice.

A Great American... From Mississippi

The Mississippi Economic Council joins the rest of the state in praising the achievements of Sen. John C. Stennis.

The esteem in which he is held both in our state and in the country can best be exemplified with the visit by the President of the United States at dedication ceremonies for the Stennis building at the Meridian Naval Air Station.

Few Mississippians can doubt the prestige and honor our junior senator has brought to Mississippi. Sen.

Stennis has served this state in the U. S. Congress with unselfish devotion and inexhaustible energy.

Sen. Stennis has served with pride that envelops any man who dedicates his life to public service.

Mississippi can be proud of Sen. Stennis, as well as the rest of the state's Congressional Delegation.

But, for this moment, Mississippi's heart goes to Sen. John C. Stennis...an American...a statesman...a Mississippian.

This I Believe

By Pastor Dannie Odle, First United Pentecostal Church

THIS I BELIEVE! Men and Long Hair Much has been said both pro and con about the hair of women. The Bible even has something to say about a woman's hair but many fail to realize that the Bible also speaks about men and their hair. In 1 Cor. 11th chapter it speaks that "Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?" You cannot go anywhere anymore without seeing men, boys and children with long hair. This is a shame and a disgrace to their position of being of the male sex. The scripture says that it is a shame and that even nature will teach you this. Men were not meant to have long hair this belongs to women and is given to them for a special reason. Just as a woman would not wear that which pertains to a man neither should a man wear that which pertains to a woman. In our society today where men will even go so far as to marry another man and let that man try and fill the role of the woman why do men desire to wear long hair. What is the purpose of it? Why do you do it? Don't you know it is contrary to the word of God? Didn't Jesus have long hair? The answer is NO! I know you have seen pictures of Jesus with his long hair but who made that picture or did the art work of the picture? They even try to make him look very pretty and even feminine looking but this does not go along with the scripture. It says he was not a man of beauty and when you would see him he would not be a person to be desired. Look at the scriptures it says "For a man indeed ought not to cover his head." This may mean nothing to you and it won't if the Bible means nothing to you but you who are supposed to be Christian men how can you call yourselves that with your long hair? It is time for all to cry out against the last day fads and fashions when men try to look like women and women try to look like men. Let us get life in it's true perspective and the men be men and women be women. If you are a Bible believing man and your hair is long you should be the first man to the barber shop and rededicate your life to God. If you are going to be a Christian be one, a true one.

MAKE A WISE CHOICE
Choosing your career is not a simple matter. Your health, wealth, and happiness will depend largely on the career you choose. In fact, choosing a career is one of the three most important decisions a person makes in his life; the other two are whether to accept or reject God and choosing a mate. The steps to making a wise career choice are:
Explore Yourself
Study your aptitudes, interests and intelligence and personality. Explore Careers

Review all types of careers and study closely the ones that interest you the most.
Make a Choice
Use the facts you obtained in the first steps and match yourself to the career for which you are best suited. After you have completed these three steps, you are now ready to plan an educational program that will prepare you for success in the career you have chosen. Don't make the mistake that so many do of going into an educational program without a career in mind. This indecision only leads to wasted time and money. And later when you are out of school you will find nothing is more frustrating than to find yourself in a career for which you are not suited.

Remember This!
Make a wise career choice and pursue it. You will get out of a career what you put into it. It's up to you to decide what you like and what you want to do if you are to get the greatest returns in satisfaction and income out of the career you choose.

Mothers Day,
A Diamond Occasion

The anticipation of Mother's Day brings many gift seekers into our store. How to honor the lady of the house? We have recently added to our stock of fine jewelry for the occasion. This year, small diamonds used in a variety of interesting ways places them within most budgets.

Small diamonds massed in cocktail and dinner rings make a sensational conversation piece. If your lady has quieter tastes, simple diamond-mounted pendants shimmering at the end of a fine gold chain makes a lovely effect. Brooches and smaller diamond-decorated pins are popular, too. Drop earrings are enhanced by diamonds, as are a variety of bracelets we can recommend.

Diamonds have been described as having "... the fire that never burns out." I find this a lovely way of expressing our love for our mothers. Diamonds ideally symbolize unflinching love and devotion. No matter what size, diamonds are a significant gift, sure to please, guaranteed to be appreciated.

And don't forget the Mothers rings made up of the birthstones of the family. Here at Way-Fil Jewelry we make these rings up especially for you in a completely different style and design, mixed with diamonds if you wish.

This is a special day so why not remember it with something special from Way-Fil Jewelry, Tupelo and Booneville.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE TO THE VOTERS OF BOONEVILLE

1. Do you want a man who can work in every aspect of the office of Chief of Police one who can work with all the members of the force, the Mayor and Board of Alderman, the county officials, and every citizen to make Booneville a better place to live?
2. Do you want a man in this office that will work and strive to reduce law violations at every level rather than boast of the number of arrest he has made?
3. Do you want a man who can investigate accidents, break-ins, and other law violations in a qualified and professional manner without being prejudice to anyone?
4. Do you want a man that will treat every law-abiding citizen the same regardless of race, color, or creed and one who can and will work with the young people of our city?
5. Do you want to give a young man an opportunity to serve you that was born, reared, and educated in Booneville? One who served you for three years in the U-S Marine Corps (1968-1971) and has obtained a degree in Law Enforcement from the University of Mississippi.

Most important of all if you want a qualified Chief of Police, then support a young man who is just as proud of our city, as you the voters, because Booneville is my hometown too. I was taught at an early age that the two greatest services a man could perform in life was first to served GOD and second his fellow man. Therefore. I am asking for an opportunity to serve the people of Booneville.

FOR THE TRUE IMAGE OF BOONEVILLE IS REALLY A SELF-IMAGE, IT IS REFLECTIVE OF EVERY CITIZEN LIVING HERE. THERE MUST BE A CONSCIOUSNESS OF CONCERN ABOUT THIS TOWN; A SENSE OF COMMON PRIDE, AND A CONVICTION THAT EVERY CITIZEN STANDS TO BENEFIT FROM THE ADEQUATE SERVICES, THE IMPROVED FACILITIES AND THE EXPANDED OPPORTUNITIES THAT CAN AND MUST BE PROVIDED BY THIS TOWN.

EVERY CITIZEN HAS THE RIGHT TO EXPECT THEIR CITY OFFICIALS AND EMPLOYEES WHATEVER THEY DO, WHATEVER THEY UNDERTAKE, TO DO IT WELL - TO STRIVE FOR EXCELLANCE. IF ITS CLEANING OUT A DITCH IT DESERVES TO BE DONE WELL. IF ITS THE ENFORCEMENT OF A CITY ORDINANCE IT SHOULD BE EVEN-HANDED. IF ITS THE EXTENSION AND IMPROVEMENT OF STREETS, SEWER AND WATER LINES - THEN NEED AND MERIT MUST DETERMINE PRIORITY.

IT IS THIS HOME-GROWN QUALITY OF COMMON CONCERN AND EFFORT THAT WILL INSPIRE HER FINE CITIZENS TO DECLARE WITH FEELING AND ENTHUSIASM, "I BELIEVE IN BOONEVILLE."

Consumers Feel Cost Of Clothing Increase

MISSISSIPPI STATE, MISS. - Consumers spent more for clothing and its upkeep in 1972 than ever before. "The total U.S. expenditure for clothing was $61.9 million," said Marguerite O. Davis, Extension clothing specialist at Mississippi State University. "The report findings of a recent U.S. Department of Agriculture study show that each person spent an average of $296 on clothing and shoes during 1972 as compared to $275 in 1971 and $254 in 1970."

Miss Davis said footwear costs increased the most, followed by women's and girl's clothing. She stated that men's and boy's clothing costs increased the least.

"At first glance these rising costs appear alarming, however, when viewed as a percentage of change on the consumer price index, clothing and upkeep costs increased less in 1972 than in any year since 1965," the specialist said.

She said in the last three years, clothing costs increases remained below those of food, housing, transportation, health and recreation.

"The percentage of total income spent for clothing and its upkeep also has declined for the average consumer from 13 percent in 1945 to 8.6 percent in 1972," Miss Davis said.

With the demand for fuel rising faster than the supply, here's one way to help ease our energy crisis. According to the latest U.S. Bureau of Highways figures, the national average for gas mileage is about 13.5 miles per gallon. The new Datsun 1200 gets around 30 miles per gallon or over twice the national average. The average car in the U.S. is driven just over 10,000 miles a year, so you can save about a gallon of gas every day by driving a 1200. - (1) What is your tax money spent for?
- (2) Why hasn't the present city administration rebuilt our streets and sidewalks and constructed new streets with curb and gutters?
- (3) Why is the business of the city conducted in secrecy?
- (4) Why doesn't Booneville have an active Chamber of Commerce with a paid fulltime director?
- (5) Why doesn't the present city administration publicly support the construction of new schools for our children?
- (6) Has all property within the city been assessed fairly and in proportion to its true value? Shouldn't all citizens be treated alike?
- (7) Why have the neighboring cities of Corinth, Tupelo, Aberdeen, and Amory received millions of dollars in grants for urban renewal projects for the downtown business sections and we haven't received anything? Have we ever applied for these programs?
- (8) Why doesn't this city have a central purchasing agent to receive sealed bids on purchases of all equipment and supplies purchased by the City Government?
- (9) What have the $125,000 in Federal Revenue Sharing Funds that we have received to date been spent for or allocated for?
- (10) Does the present City Government promote the best interests of all the people all of the time?
- (11) Why can't we have carefully planned and professionally executed civic programs that would benefit and improve the quality of life of all our citizens?

Study these questions and seek an honest answer to each of them before you vote in this election. Believe in Booneville and enlist the support of all of your neighbors. We must improve our city in every way possible.

Rites For Fate Gullett Saturday

Funeral services were held at two Saturday afternoon for J. L. (Fate) Gullett, 72, who died of a heart attack at his home about 8:15 Thursday night.

He was the son of the late Rev. J. T. Gullett and Cornelia Stanford Gullett Pioneer family of Booneville. He was the last of four children to die, Mrs. Lula Roberts, Columbus Gullett and Lawrence Gullett having preceded him in death. His wife Mary Bett Smith Gullett, whom he married in 1938, survives, as do two nephews and four nieces.

Mr. Gullett was a member of the First United Methodist Church, in Booneville. He had owned and operated a business for some fifty years. He loved to garden and was an ardent gardener.

Fate Gullett was an individual whose consistent personal concern for the needs of others made him special and unforgettable. An all-important repair, delivered on time with an accommodating exchange left countless friends indebted to him. Optimistic right action was automatic for him. He made time live because he made the most of every minute, and the stamp of this kind of personality on all the work he did, made his work a reflection of his faith, his integrity his mission--that the goodness of God can best be seen in human goodness. Fate was a good man, who did ordinary things extraordinary well.

His pastor, the Rev. E. S. Furr and the Rev. Huey and Ruth Wood, conducted the last rites at McMillan Funeral Home. Cecil Gullett, Billy Jones, Fred Fugitt, Jr., Walter E. Bane, Beebe McCustion and Billy Ward served as pall-bearers. Interment was in the Booneville cemetery. Out of town friends and relatives attending the funeral of J. L. (Fate) Gullett were, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gullett, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gullett, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Surratt, Michelle and Stevie, Mrs. Archie Surratt of Memphis, Tenn. 'You Have To Involve People In The Decisions ...'

He walks softly, but with a firm step. That's Kermit Keenum, the new superintendent of the Cobb County School System in Georgia. Keenum, who is presently assistant superintendent for administration, takes office July 1 in the new position. The new superintendent is the son Mr. and Mrs. Claude Keenum of Booneville. "I think people will accept orders if you take time to convince them you're going in the right direction," he said in an interview at his Marietta office. "This always is better than just saying, "Do it." He added, "I think you have to involve people in the decisions affecting them. At the same time, I won't hesitate to make any decision that I, personally, feel is necessary."

Not exactly the "iron fist in the velvet glove" approach, but something like that.

The soft-spoken, courteous Keenum -- who has been with the Cobb System for 10 years -- was chosen superintendent by the school board at a meeting Monday. Five of the seven members favored him over 15 other applicants.

Keenum's predecessor Dr. Alton Crews, resigned in June after endless policy conflicts with four board members, none of whom still is on the board.

Keenum said he does not expect to experience the kind of controversy that characterized the Crews administration.

"Any time you're operating a major school system degrees in social science like Cobb, there are going to be difficulties," he conceded. "But I don't expect serious conflict."

Keenum, who is assistant superintendent for administration, takes office July 1 when acting superintendent J. Milton Lewis retires. Keenum was one of seven children born to an "honest, poor, hard-working farm family" in Booneville, Ms.

He has risen at the age of 37 to the head of an organization of 57 schools, 47,000 students and 3,500 employees, at a yearly salary of $28,500.

But Keenum feels his background has prepared him for the task. After high school, he did administrative work for two years in the Air Force. Then, financed by the GI Bill he earned BS and MS from Mississippi State University.

He also has done post graduate work there in school administration.

From 1960-63, he taught social studies at Marietta High School, then joined the Cobb System. He was assistant principal at North Cobb High and principal at Awtrey Middle School before assuming administrative duties at the county school office in Marietta in 1969.

Along the way, Keenum has developed some convictions about what education should be in the modern world.

"We have to stop being dispensers of information," he said. "Most of the knowledge we impart to students today will be out of date in 10 years."

He explained that the emphasis should be on teaching students how to learn and how to think rather than on filling them with information that rapidly becomes obsolete.

"I read the other day that human knowledge is doubling every six years," he said. "It's frightening, in a way. We can't continue trying to teach children everything there is to know."

Keenum admits that teaching children how to learn and think is not as easily done as said. But he insists that "almost everything we learn can be reduced to some kind of process. It's the process that we must learn how to teach."

Tower Of Shuri

The following poem was written by Captain Harvin Lauderdale of Marietta, United States Marine Corps Reserve-Retired.

The poem was written about the battle of Okinawa, the last battle of the second World War. Captain Lauderdale wrote the poem from a fox hole, while the battle was going on. It began April 1, 1945 and lasted 81 days.

The Captain said he regretted very much to see this Island returned to Japan, for it is indeed the Magic hub of Peace.

He went further in saying "extend your hand from Okinawa toward Asia, palm up, and each finger points to a great nation and a danger spot.. Russia, China, Japan, India, Indonesia, and the Phillipines.

I saw the towers of Shuri yesterday. Quivering amidst the haze of smoke and dust from shells And bursting bombs and rocket flares How long they stand! how soon they fall Tomorrow yea tomorrow; but now they stand A shaken skeleton and former grace Like that Kingdom of the Orient Whose bannered rising sun Hangs in sickly shreds before the fall When falls the towers of Shuri will end The bloody strife of man and men For one more tiny strip of land The magic hub of enduring peace.

HOME ECONOMIST'S NOTES

Claire T. Ross

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMIST

FOLLOW THE LAWN-MOWING RULES
It's nice to look out and see things green and pretty again. But in order for it to stay pretty it's going to mean some lawn-mowing. That's not so nice. And it can be dangerous.

The blade of a rotary-mower spins at 2000 to 4000 revolutions a minute. This means that the blade tips of the average 20 unit mower revolve at 100 to 200 miles an hour.

Don't let an accident with a power-mower spoil your summer or that of a member of your family. Review these rules with the members using a mower:

- * Make sure the lawn is clear of sticks, stones, wire and debris which could be thrown by the blade.
- * Never add fuel to a running engine. Use an approved gas container and remember that gasoline can be a hazard to your home.

- * When mowing, keep children and pets a safe distance away.
- * Disengage all blade and drive clutches before starting.
- * Start the engine carefully with feet wellaway from the blades.
- * Keep the mower maintained.
- * Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, even for a moment.
- * Stop the engine before pushing mower across drives, walks or roads.
- * On slopes or wet grass, be extra careful of your footing.
- * Never use a plug-in electric mower in the rain or on wet grass.

- * Never cut grass by pulling the mower toward you.
- * Stop the engine and disconnect the spark wire before checking or working on the mower.
- * Be extremely careful when using a riding mower on slopes. A riding mower can tip over.
- * Don't alter governor settings. Excessive speed is dangerous and shortens the life of the mower.

Cotton Base Quality Change In August

The base quality used in cotton quotations will be changed from Middling 1 to Strict Low Middling 1/16, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The change is scheduled to be published in the Federal Register on April 27 and will be effective August 1, the beginning of the 1973 cotton marketing year.

Agricultural Marketing Service officials said that the change was made because production of Middling 1 cotton has amounted to less than one percent of annual U. S. production since 1961. Strict Low Middling, 1-1/16, the predominant cotton quality over the last ten years, will make a more representative base quality. The change will result in a more accurate base price for cotton and will provide for more meaningful premiums and discounts.

In quoting spot cotton prices the base quality price is determined first and stated in cents per pound. Differences are then determined for other qualities and stated in points per pound as premiums or discounts above or below the base price.

Take A Long Look At Food Prices

MISSISSIPPI STATE, Miss. --Take a longer, broader look at what's happening in food prices and you may feel better, suggested Mrs. Ina Kimbrough, Extension specialist in foods and nutrition for the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. "Increases in the retail prices of foods result from many kinds of change," she pointed out. "Not only do most people have more money to spend, but their patterns of living -- what they want to buy -- are changing. Dramatic changes have occurred in farm technology and in the world trading of agricultural commodities," she explained.

Mrs. Kimbrough replied to some common questions about food prices:

Q. - How much have food prices gone up?

A. - The retail price of food in February, 1973 averaged 7.3 percent higher than a year earlier. In 1972, the prices of all food increased 4.3 percent. This includes meals eaten out as well as food purchased for use in the home.

Q. - There's more change in prices than this during some months, isn't there?

A. - Yes. A given month often provides a dramatic but misleading shift in food prices which will moderate over the span of a year. It's unrealistic to multiply a one-month change in food prices by 12 to suggest an anticipated annual rate of change. For example, during the past five years, the larger monthly increases times 12 would indicate 17 to 19 percent increases in retail food prices. Actual annual changes during those years ranged from 3.0 to 5.5 percent.

Q. - Why have food prices gone up?

A. - There is an extremely strong demand for food. More people are working and wages have gone up. We are eating more meat than ever and bidding up the price. Although the supply of beef is up, pork production is down because of low hog prices in late 1970 and 1971. We are eating more prepared, convenience foods, which saves work in the home but costs more. We are eating more meals out of the home. The Food Stamp and Food Distribution programs are helping many lower-income people to eat better, adding to the demand for food. The world-wide demand for food is up.

Q. - So the demand for beef has forced its price up?

A. - Yes. Our consumption of beef per person has climbed 87 percent in the past 20 years, from 62 pounds in 1952 to 116 pounds in 1972. During that same 20 years, farmers increased their production of all beef 2.3 times. They are now producing nearly four times more prime and choice beef than they did in 1952.

Q. - When you spend a dollar for food, how much of it do farmers get?

A. - For all farm-produced foods, farmers receive an average of 40 cents of the retail dollar spent for food. The farmer's share varies a lot with products, however. It ranges downward from 64 cents for choice beef, 51 cents for milk, 49 cents for frying chicken, 34 cents for lettuce, 15 cents for white bread and 11 cents for canned corn.

Q. - Have food prices risen as rapidly as wages?

A. - No. In the past five years, the price of food in retail stores has gone up 22 percent while wages advanced more than 33 percent. From 1952 to 1972, the price of food eaten at home and away increased 47 percent while hourly wages rose 140 percent.

Q. - How much of the family income is spent for food?

A. - It depends upon the size of the family's income. For all of our people, the food bill took 15.7 percent of the after-tax disposable income in 1972, compared with 23 percent in 1952. On the other hand, this percentage may vary from 12 percent for families with annual incomes of $15,000 to 50 percent or more for families with incomes below $3,000. by Duane Rosenkrans, 4-26-73

Parents Do Eye Testing

WITH A Home Eye Test Kit parents may do simple testing of their children's eyes for amblyopia and other vision defects.

According to the Mississippi Society for the Prevention of Blindness this free kit contains a scale version of the Echart, directions for training the child to take the test, for giving the test and for interpreting test results. It will show the parent if his child is using only one eye, or if he "reads" the chart with each eye separately but not with both eyes together.

This test is especially useful when little ones are preparing to go to nursery school or kindergarten. Children under four need eye examinations for amblyopia and other defects so that these may be corrected as early as possible.

What is amblyopia and why should a pre-school child be tested? Amblyopia, or "lazy eye" blindness is a condition in which the two eyes are not focusing together causing blurring or double vision. The brain will not tolerate this confusion and suppresses the image from one eye with disuse. That eye gradually weakens until blindness results. One in twenty pre-schoolers is affected by amblyopia. Through the use of a Home Eye Test Kit parents can determine if amblyopia is a threat to their children's vision.

On your check-list of preparation for kindergarten or nursery school add testing with a Home Eye Test Kit obtained by writing: National Society for the Prevention of Blindness 79 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

PRESENTED TO NE GROUP

Repro Of Scroll Portraying Christ

A reproduction of a scroll portraying Christ and the New Testament, which was made by a Korean artist, a refugee from North Korea to South

Korea, has been presented to The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Student Christian Association by the Northeast Wesley Founda-

The original which took the artist two years to complete is about six by four feet, and the words can be read with the naked eye. The unique thing about the scroll is that the whole of the New Testament is written by hand with a very fine pointed pen. There are about 185,000 on the scroll, about a thousand words in a line. The figure of Jesus is not imposed on the words—the figure comes out of the words. The words are inked light and dark to bring out the figure.

Around the borders are twenty-seven little angels representing the twenty-seven books of the New Testament.

vae are found, apply an insecticide spray," the entomologist advised. "If the water you wish to treat is not used as drinking water for humans or animals, or for birdbaths or aquariums you may apply a spray containing 0.5 percent of lindane or 0.2 percent of malathion. Kerosene or fuel oil may be substituted for these sprays."

Guard Confab Slated

TUPELO, Miss.-- Mississippi National Guard officers and their wives, totaling some 800 people, will meet here Friday and Saturday for the 25th Annual Conference of the National Guard Association of Mississippi.

Presiding over the two-day event will be Col. Curtis D. Roberts of Brandon, the Association president. He said activities will begin with a golf tournament at the Tupelo Country Club on Friday and conclude with the Units Dinner on Saturday night with Rep. A. C. (Butch) Lambert of Tupelo as featured speaker. Mayor James L. Ballard will welcome the group at the Saturday morning session.

The Saturday business meetings will include an address by Lt. Gov. William Winter in the morning and Major General S. H. Matheson of Third Army, Atlanta, Ga., in the afternoon. Also on the agenda is the report of the Adjutant General, Maj. Gen. E. A. Beby Turnage.

Included among the special events is a retired officers breakfast and an informal fellowship party and dance with music by the 1st Army National Guard Band.

A new slate of officers will be elected to head the organization for 1973-74. Currently serving with Col. Roberts are Col. William W. Gresham, Jr. of Indianola, Army Vice President; Major Kincheon V. Combs of Gulfport, Air Vice President; Major Jimmy W. Stiglets of Jackson, Secretary; and Lt. Col. James C. Thompson of Hattiesburg, Treasurer. Executive Director of the Association is Major John Tipton Lewis of Jackson.

Stitching Along

Making a fine stitch is Mrs. Carl Welch of Corinth as she completes a hand embroidered applique (Jacinto Courthouse) which will be one of the features of the Crossroads Jubilee '73 quilt to be on display during the May 3-6 event at the Curlee House. Within the next few days the appliques will be attached and ladies will begin the final stages toward completing the project. Mrs. H. L. Williams Jr. designed the quilt and also did the art work for the appliques of the Curlee House, Ft. Robinette, Fish Pond, House, Jacinto Courthouse and Oak Home.

Northeast Students Competing In Trouble Shooting Contest

Arrangements have been completed for the annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, often called "the Olympic Games of the auto industry", which will bring together the top auto mechanics students of this area May 11 at Mississippi State Fairgrounds, Jackson. Students from Northeast

Miss. Jr. College will be in competition in the contest.

The students will be competing in one of 113 regional contests being held in all 50 states this spring under the "For Veterans" ship of dealers and participating schools. Regional contest winners receive all-expense trips to the National Trouble Shooting Finals at Boston June 25, 26, and 27.

In addition to the trip and a chance to visit many historic Boston landmarks, prizes and awards in the National Finals are worth more than $90,000 in college scholarships and other prizes for the contestants, and trophies, tools and automobile components for their schools.

At the National Finals, each member of each first-place team wins a $2,500 scholarship. A total of $37,000 worth of scholarships is offered.

Each team participating in the National Finals receives a complete set of tools for its school, and those placing among the winners receive for their schools new Plymouth engines and transmissions for instructional use in each school's auto mechanics Shop.

Trouble Shooters, sometimes called "road Scholars" have to hit the books before they can hit the road to Boston for the National Finals. In their classes to be outstanding in their classes to qualify for a regional contest, and they must be top students and auto mechanics to win in the regional meet.

Teams consist of two students, who are assigned to a new car in which a series of malfunctions have been deliberately placed. Malfunctions in all cars are identical, fuel systems and body hardware of the cars. Teams race the clock and each other to find and fix the "bugs" and restore their cars to normal running order.

To win, however, a team must receive high marks in a written examination which is part of the contest and which contributes to the final score.

The program is sponsored by the schools and Plymouth dealers in the area as a means of encouraging students to complete their education.

New Benefits Available

The Veterans Administration has announced the availability of a new educational benefit which will provide a work-study allowance for veterans who are pursuing a full-time program of education or training, according to H. B. Musick, Adjudication Officer of the Jackson Veterans Administration Center.

Musick said that qualified veterans may receive up to a maximum of $250.00 in any 100 hours of services agreed to be performed during an enrollment period.

No veteran may be awarded a work-study allowance of more than $250.00 in any one fiscal year.

Interested veterans are encouraged to contact school officials, who are being furnished the implementing instructions and application forms.

Musick pointed out that aap-lications for the work-study program for the remainder of this fiscal year, which will end on June 30th, should be sent in as soon as possible, to allow veteran-students to complete the 100 hours of work by that date.

Musick noted that veteran-students may be performing services at the schools, or at one of the VACenters in Jackson or Biloxi-Gulfport.

Hartford Gives Full Coverage

JACKSON, Miss., April 26-- The Hartford Insurance Group is providing full insurance coverage to policyholders who have relocated household belongings because of the recent floods. Under normal policy terms household belongings are only covered for 10% of their insured value when relocated. The Hartford has notified the Mississippi Insurance Commission of its plans and is making the extension effective through noon, June 1. The Hartford cited the confusion over coverage which occurs during a disaster situation and the inadequate insurance at temporary locations as the reasons for its move. In a letter to its Mississippi agents, the company said, (in part) "Due to the recent flooding in Mississippi many people have been forced to relocate their personal possessions to protect them from rising water. The 'off premises' coverage afforded in the comprehensive dwelling policy and the dwelling or farm form attached to a fire policy for contents or household and personal effects is limited to 10% of the amount of insurance specified for these categories.

have inadequate insurance at the temporary location for the perils covered under their individual policies. In order to assist in this emergency situation, we have notified the Mississippi Insurance Department that The Hartford will interpret the full amount of insurance to be applicable on contents or household effects at the temporary location to which such property has been moved to protect it from flood damage. The 10% off premises limitation will not apply."

"We at the Hartford recognize that during this period of confusion many victims of the flood may

The company said it may continue the temporary extension beyond June 1, if the need exists.

Food For Hungry Children

What has food for hungry children, medical help for the sick, and development aid for impoverished nations got to do with Mother's Day?

For example, just $2 gives 600 bowls of porridge to nourish children. A $5 donation provides enough suturing material for 20 operations, and $10 can furnish a two-seater school desk for primary pupils. It's truly an international gift that is a bargain for the givers, and a blessing to the receivers.

Contributions may be sent to Mother's Day Plan, CARE, Inc., 615 Forsyth Building Atlanta, 30303. Be sure to give your name and address, the name and address of each mother you are honoring--and, if you want it mailed directly, instructions on how the card should be signed. Checks should be made payable to CARE, Inc. Mother's Day is May 13th, so orders should be sent as early as possible to assure time for card deliveries.

At CARE, a lot. On Mother's Day, when sentiment, gratitude and remembrance fills the hearts and minds of millions in this country, CARE offers a way of giving to many in honor of one.

In turn, your mother will receive an attractive CARE card notifying her of your special tribute on Mother's Day. The card will be mailed directly to her or to you, as you prefer.

A contribution to CARE in your mother's name will provide much needed assistance to mothers and their families overseas.

ever see a piano-playing pig ! ! ! !

Have you ever seen a piano-playing pig, or walked into the "living room" of a mountain lion, or ridden through a buffalo herd aboard an antique train, or seen a nine-foot tall banjo walk?

You can at Opryland U. S. A. in Nashville, Tenn., where the unusual is the usual state of entertainment.

Opryland is more than an 110-acre entertainment park. It is the melting pot Americana, from a cantina singer belting out songs of the Old West, to southern fried chicken at a plantation restaurant overlooking the Cumberland River, and even to an Animal Opry where a pig knuckles the ivories of a piano while a goat dances to his tune.

To capture the flavor of America's history and entertainment, Opryland has done the unusual, as far as theme parks are concerned. It's built right in the woods. And so with woods it was natural to put animals in them that people could see.

A stroll along the shaded paths will put you in visual contact with mountain lions, bears, beaver, timber wolves, deer, elk and a host of friendly and pettable barnyard creatures.

Or the path might lead you to a woodland amphitheater where you sit like the pioneers on split log benches to hear hear great folk songs, and maybe even participate in the musical show.

Everywhere you turn at Opryland the excitement of America pops out. You might see Roy Acuff, "The King of Country Music," spinning a yarn or showing a youngster a yo-yo trick, or see and hear a local disc jockey spinning records for his show back in your home town.

To capture the unusual at Opryland, the buildings are decorated with antiques to bring out the warmth and good old days of years gone by.

Even the food at Opryland has an unusual flair from such delicacies as freshly made pralines in New Orleans, to a hearty "Befo the Wah" breakfast from the Country Kitchen, to sausage and country ham on biscuits. The star of Opryland's food is an ice cream bar shaped like a guitar, and appropriately called the Guitar Bar.

That's not the only thing guitar shaped at Opryland. Because it's "The Home of American Music," six, nine-foot tall cartoon musical characters were created. So don't be surprised if a banjo, fiddle or dulcimer steps out behind an oak tree and plays themselves.

If you are impressed with Delilah Dulcimer, who has the gusto of Mae West, you can watch a craftsman build dulcimers in the live craftsmen area where potters, weavers, woodcarvers and glass blowers ply their crafts.

The love craftsmen have for their art is probably best shown in Opryland's antique carousel. It sits like a splendid birthday cake on a lake. The unusually carved 1880 ride was built by German craftsmen in the Black Forest of Germany and is one of the oldest operating rides in America.

But the prince of rides at Opryland is surely the excursion through the park aboard Beatrice and Rachel. They are two real live huffing and puffing antique engines that came out of the glory days of railroading. One used to haul sugar cane on a Louisiana plantation and the other clay from Georgia mines.

The authenticity of these trains gives visitors the feeling of being back in the good old days. And even the more thrilling rides are given a bit of authenticity. The log flume ride, like real lumbering log flumes, soars through the tops of trees before taking a plunge into a lake.

So when you are looking for an unusual way to see America from El Paso to Grinders Switch, and hear the music of this land, come to Opryland U.S.A. where the unusual is the usual state of entertainment.

Country Living

Unusual Is Usual... At Opryland

New Orleans Flavor

The authenticity of the American hill country is brought to life in craftsman shops like the String Instrument shop where genuine hand-crafted items are made and sold at Opryland U. S. A.

Street artists add to the flavor of the New Orleans section with galleries, coffee and candy shops, and a live Dixieland jazz and blues show at Opryland U. S. A.
