

City Wins Industrial Award

Booneville was one of four Mid-South cities to win Industrial Awards during the Memphis Cotton Carnival recently. Officials of the carnival said that the City of Booneville won the award for industrial growth in the 2,501 to 7,500 category. The awards were given to such cities as Dyersburg, Tenn., Jackson, Tenn., and Adamsville, Tenn.

The City of Booneville was the only city in the State of Mississippi to receive the coveted award for the past years growth.

It was also noted that the city had entered the contest, sponsored by The Commercial Appeal in Memphis, in past years, but, of course, has never before won the award.

The awards were presented at the 36th annual Mid-South Mayors Luncheon at the Sheraton-Peabody.

In explaining the industrial growth of the city, it has received three new industries employing 230 persons and annual payrolls of $1.3 million.

There were four expansions which added 195 jobs and $1 million in additional pay roll. The city has also purchased a debris-chopping machine to alleviate the debris problem on the city streets.

The report went on in saying that one bank has expanded and been refaced, a senior citizens housing project has been completed, a health center has been built on the campus of Northeast Miss. Junior College and a new fire station has been constructed.

In commenting about the honor to the City of Booneville, Governor Bill Waller said that "the city with its dynamic leadership is well-deserving of this high honor. This city has shown much growth during the past years, and I'm sure with its leaders, will continue this growth."

The Governor in talking to Mayor Smith went further in saying that "I think its an outstanding honor...and I want to congratulate you on doing the job that you've done and give you the thanks of State Government for making the contribution you have to the growth of Booneville."

When asked the position of the City of Booneville in economic growth...being between Corinth and Tupelo, the Governor said "I don't know of a town the size of Booneville in the first 16 months that I have been in office that has had the new industries and expansions of industries."

The Chief Executive praised Booneville Mayor Marion Smith for his part in this industrial growth. He said that "definitely this growth is due to the outstanding ability of Mayor Smith."

Mayor Marion Smith commented that "this honor belongs to the City of Booneville, and to those who have worked so hard for it. It has certainly taken a cooperative effort..... and all those responsible are to be commended.

'Look To The Future' Says Waller In Commencement Address

Mississippi Governor William L. Waller challenged the graduates from Northeast here Thursday night to 'look to the future'.

Waller presented the commencement address to the graduating class at The Northeast Miss. Junior College.

The Governor challenged the graduates "to get the best possible education possible." The Governor posed the question to the graduates of "will our state be able to offer you who want to continue your education an opportunity for higher education? Will our state be able to offer you the opportunity to get a job paying sufficient income so that you and the families that you will have in the future can live on a par with the other states in this union? Or will you, as have many other graduates of Colleges in Mississippi, be forced to leave Mississippi to seek your opportunity?"

He said during this past century, the young people of the South faced a very bleak period. History is replete with the cases where the bright, young people of the South were forced to go North, East, and West to seek economic and career opportunities. During this past century, the South and Mississippi have lived with this problem. Were our most promising young men and young women forced to leave the State of Mississippi to seek opportunities and economic advantages?

"As Governor here in 1973, I am pleased to report to you, the 25th graduating class of Northeast Mississippi Junior College in Booneville that this is changing and it is changing rapidly. No longer do you have to leave the State of Mississippi to seek opportunities either economically or career wise," he noted.

Taxes Get 2 Hours, 39 Minutes

In the average American's eight-hour workday, two hours and 39 minutes are needed to meet the bite of federal, state and local taxes.

The Mississippi Economic Council, the state's chamber of commerce, notes that a report issued by the Tax Foundation Inc. shows the average man now must spend five more minutes of the workday to meet his tax burden than he did in 1972. In 1972 the average citizen worked two hours and 35 minutes to pay his taxes. While the tax bite jumped in 1973, the amount of time worked to pay for food, shelter, and clothing fell eight minutes--two hours 23 minutes in 1973, as compared to two hours 31 minutes in 1972.

In 1972 the average citizen worked two hours and 35 minutes to pay his taxes. While the tax bite jumped in 1973, the amount of time worked to pay for food, shelter and clothing fell eight minutes--two hours 23 minutes in 1973, as compared to two hours 31 minutes in 1972. In 1973, the average American's eight hour workday was divided like this:

TAXES (federal, state, local), 2 hours, 39 minutes

HOUSING, 1 hour
FOOD AND BEVERAGES, 58 minutes
TRANSPORTATION, 40 minutes
MEDICAL CARE, 23 minutes
RECREATION, 18 minutes
ALL OTHER EXPENSES, 1 hour, 37 minutes

The MEC is concerned about the tightening grip of taxes on the American taxpayer. Council recommendations for curbing tax increases at all levels include:

Reduction in federal spending which would not impair essential functions.

Requirement that the President submit to Congress budgets which do not exceed anticipated revenues.

Reorganization of state government departments and agencies in order to achieve more efficiency and economy in government, while, at the same time, providing optimum governmental services to all citizens.

Central purchasing at the local level to assure economical use of tax dollars.

Consolidation of city and county functions and facilities as appropriate to eliminate duplication of services.

Editorial and Comment

30 Percent Getting Aid

Thirty percent of Mississippi's population -- some 600,000 -- are receiving some sort of public assistance through our state's welfare system.

Mississippi leads the nation with nearly 10 percent of its general fund budget--approximately $40 million--spent on welfare programs.

These are just a few facts noted by the Mississippi Economic Council, the state's chamber of commerce, in the Council's 40-page study of Mississippi's Welfare program.

The MEC believes the program is "meeting the needs" of the people unable to help themselves and that the program is being administered "in a professional manner."

The Council noted that the welfare system--despite a poor public image, general public suspicion, and obvious needed improvements--is providing aid and assistance to the needy.

The Council praises the welfare program for making efforts to limit benefit recipients to a single assistance program and require vocational training for recipients physically able to help themselves.

The Council notes that public assistance programs should be designed to meet "immediate needs and encourage recipients to strive to help themselves within the system."

To improve Mississippi's welfare program the MEC recommends the members of the State Board of Public Welfare be appointed by the Governor. Members should have staggered terms for continuity within the system.

The Council also proposed the Commissioner of Public Welfare be given full and complete authority to implement policies and administer programs.

Other recommendations include:

--Abolishment of county welfare boards which have no authority and are of questionable value;

--Establishment of multi-county departments;

--Strengthening of reporting requirements for efficient control of money payments and service programs; and

--Establishment of planned parenthood education programs in conjunction with the Aid to Families of Dependent Children Program.

Watergate Expose . . . ?

Newsmen, even more than partisan politicians, persist in rubbing the Administration's nose in Watergate.

Where does the proper impersonal exposure of wrongdoing become more a personal vendetta?

Condemnation of the Nixon Administration over Watergate is much less vociferous on The Hill than in public print. Sen. George McGovern, with the most valid grievance, says "I take no satisfaction from this sad affair; I take no joy from the President's difficulties."

But newsmen have been scrounging for quotable indictments from everybody--from Ralph Nader's demand that the President resign to the little Carey, Ohio, schoolgirl who carried the first "Bring Us Together" campaign sign in 1969 and who is now sought out for the quote: "Watergate has given me cause to wonder about the President."

One prominent TV pundit tells the Chicago TV Academy that "none of the scandals that occurred during any previous administration was so potentially far-reaching as Watergate."

The President of the American Society of Newspaper Editors tells that society's convention: "Watergate was Nixon's Waterloo!"

So effectively did the media imply presidential complicity that the May Day Gallup survey showed that 40% of Americans polled believe President Nixon knew of the bugged-burglary in advance.

There has been no evidence and no testimony to that effect, but the idea got planted.

More than any previous administration, this one dared to criticize certain newspapers by name, one network by its initials. It is understandable if they are now "out of get" Mr. Nixon.

It is understandable but unbecoming. And where righteous wrath is respected, feuding is not.

Lebanon, Ind., reporter Owen Hansen, a reliable reflector of the grass roots, says he expects the Committee for the re-Election of the President to be linked to the 1967 earthquake in Alaska, to baseball's "Black Sox" scandal of 1919 and perhaps to the mysterious demise of Terry and the Pirates.

Says he'd not be too surprised to learn, before it's all over, that Haldeman and Ehrlichman had friends who were friends of the ticket seller on duty at Ford's Theater that night President Lincoln was carried out.

His facetiousness reflects suspicion with the conspicuous overkill of the New York Times, The Washington Post and Newsweek.

Neither Hansen nor I would ignore the creditable record of tenacious reporters in spotlighting the hiding places of wrongdoers.

But when the watchdogs won't let go after the police arrive, their motivation becomes suspect.

PAUSE FOR POWER

The Book Some Men Can't Understand

Johann George Hamann, the brilliant German philosopher, was converted to Jesus Christ in middle age. Before his conversion, Hamann had carefully investigated the Bible and Christian doctrine; but, despite his brilliant intellect, he could not understand the Bible until he was converted. Hamann confessed, "I seemed to become aware that a cover was spread over my reason and my heart, which had closed the book for me at my first reading."

A frank confession was this, but not an unusual experience. There are certain indispensable requirements for understanding the Bible; and until a man meets these, the Bible will remain a dark Book.

And Jesus Christ Himself laid down a supremely important and indispensable requirement: "If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself." (John 7:17). The word translated, will, carries with it the idea of desire. It signifies a deeply rooted determination. Jesus is therefore saying, "If any man really desires to practice God's will, he shall know the doctrine whether it is from God." The adversaries to whom Jesus was talking had challenged his teaching. They said His teaching did not come from God. Your teaching, they said to Jesus, is not God's truth. In reply to this charge, Jesus said, "What you have just heard from my lips is no invention of mine, but instead, it proceeds from Him that Now if you really wish to test this and to prove it for yourselves, you must take care to preserve an honest mind and you must cultivate a heart that yields itself unquestioningly to God's truth."

"If any man has a genuine desire to practice God's will, then he shall know the doctrine." In this declaration Jesus Christ laid down a principal of supreme to be obtained. The fundamental condition for obtaining spiritual knowledge and certainty is a genuine heart's desire to carry out the will of God in our lives. Wherever the heart is right, God gives the capacity to understand His truth. God will not grant light on His Word unless we are truly anxious to walk according to that light.

Jesus Christ thus laid it down that moral earnestness is an indispensable requirement for understanding the Bible.

Let us now apply this principle. You say you want to understand the Bible, but you confess that the Bible is a dark Book to you. Christian truth seems foolish to you. You cannot understand the Trinity. You cannot understand why Jesus Christ had to die on the cross, and why men can only come to God through Jesus Christ, and why God will call every man into account. You simply cannot understand these Bible truths. The Bible does not make sense to you.

Now, God puts one question to you. God says, "If I enable you to understand my truth, will you act upon it? Do you want to understand the Bible so that you can believe it and practice it . . . or do you want to understand the Bible in order to have a conversation topic at a party?"

Here is a great spiritual principle - the moral attitude of a man toward God will determine his understanding of the Bible.

The eminent philosopher and literary atheist, Bertrand Russell, died a few years ago. Prior to his death, Bertrand Russell was asked the question, "Mr. Russell, suppose when you die, you find out that there is a God. What will you say to Him?" Russell replied, "I will say to God, You did not give me enough evidence."

But that reply is not true. God has given sufficient evidence, but a man will never see the evidence, if he is looking in another direction. And some men refuse to believe because they have preconceived ideas of what the evidence should be. And some men cannot believe because, even if they ascertained the truth, they would still refuse to submit to God's will. The moral attitude of a man will affect his view of God and the Bible. A right will tends to just judgment and knowledge of the truth. A perverse will darkens the understanding and leads to error.

An indispensable requirement for understanding the Bible is therefore a right moral attitude toward God. Jesus Christ said, "If any man wants to practice God's will, he will understand the doctrine of God."

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

W. T. Smith

The quality of available soybean planting seed is more variable this year. Overall seed quality is probably below normal. Know as much as possible about the particular seed you choose to plant.

To choose the correct planting rate, check the germination as close to planting time as possible. As weather warms up, bean seed of lower quality may begin to drop in germination. If this happens increase the planting rate to get a stand.

When the weather breaks, there will not be enough time nor enough seed for replanting. Therefore, getting a stand on the first planting is more important than ever.

Conduct an emergence test using your planting seed. Plant 100 seeds in stand, or preferably field soil and count the number of plants that emerge to determine the percent germination.

MAKING NEW PASTURES

When putting in additional pastures, select the kind of grass and clovers you need. The success of your rotation program depends upon your selection.

Start new pastures as soon as possible, taking advantage of the moisture available.

Coastal Bermudagrass should be planted this month. It can be established from hay clippings or sprigs. Planting with hay clippings requires 20 to 30 bushels of freshly cut clippings broadcast per acre of prepared seedbed. After broadcasting, run a pulverizing disk and cultipack immediately. Use a preemergence herbicide soon after sprigging.

SILAGE Consider sorghum as a substitute for late planted corn. The increases in yield may offset the usual decrease in quality. If planting either forage or grain sorghums, try to get the crop in as soon as possible. If plantings are made June 1 or later, lower yields can be expected.

Before planting sorghum, make sure that sufficient storage space is available. Remember also that grain sorghum should be cracked or ground for best feed efficiency.

HOME MANAGEMENT HELPS YOU.....

.. Determine Cash or Credit.

Many people have learned how to use credit wisely in getting ahead financially. However, credit is a matter of risk and can hurt you if had judgment is used in overbuying or if you are neglectful of your payments.

In the 4-H Home Management program you'll:

(1) learn how to get a credit rating, (2) decide when to use credit, (3) determine how to figure how much you are paying -- both in dollars and in true interest rate, and (4) determine what is a "good buy."

Buying items at the time of sales, determining whether or not a trade-in allowance is appropriate and considering the methods of payment for items are all important home management practices. Check the reasons for price difference in comparable items. It may be a wiser investment to spend more for a brand name item which carries the manufacturer's guarantee for parts and service. Spend some time investigating major purchases before spending your money.

.. Plan and Record.

Writing your plans helps you think through what you want to accomplish and determine the best way to accomplish it. You can identify your immediate needs as well as your long-range goals. Record keeping helps you review and evaluate your results. Are the results satisfactory or is there room for improvement? Evaluation is a guideline for future planning.

Learn Better Banking. What does good money management mean? It simply means that you make your money work for you -- you know how much money you have to use, you plan what you want it to do for you and see that it does it. Wise use of money makes it go further.

There is more to know about your bank than simply that it is a place to save or borrow money. Although a bank makes its money chiefly from interest on loans, it also offers many other services. There are several kinds of bank accounts, all serving different purposes to suit the needs of their customers. Besides checking accounts and savings accounts there are such things as Christmas funds and vacation funds. Banks also have certified checks, cashier's checks, traveler's checks, government bonds, safe deposit boxes and bank counsel and advice. These are things with which everyone should become familiar.

You should know how to open an account, how to deposit a check and how to write a check.

.. Work Smarter -- Not Harder!

Everyone has tasks to perform in daily living. It is easier and less tiring if you work smarter -- not harder, by thinking through the tasks you must do and then deciding the best way to do them.

Consider how you can take one routine task and make it easier and more enjoyable.

In some tasks it may be better to do the job yourself, while at other times it may be best to hire it done, depending on the time involved, your skills and knowledge and the cost of the service or item. Home management can guide you in making sound decisions based on your own resources.

A Sportsman's Prayer

EDITOR'S NOTE -- The following poem, written by C. Wesley Grisham, was the invocation delivered at the Detroit Athletic Association Dinner in April, 1960. We thought it proper to reprint.

A SPORTSMAN'S PRAYER

Our Father,
As Jesus took the bread and broke it, took the cup of wine and poured it, so, also He took the "flesh" and wore it and played the game of life as a Christian Sportsman.

Lord, help us to be good winners as well as losers in the game of life. Let us not pray to be the pitcher, or for any prominent place in the line-up. Play us anywhere You need us. We ask only that You give us the patience, courage and stamina to give You the best we've got in the game.

If we wind up as the catcher, and many bad hops, wild pitches and foul tips come our way, may we not complain, nor alibi, nor protest that the game was a frame-up. Let us never side-step one that is too hot to handle.

Lord, if we turn out to be the hitting star keep us humble in heart.

Please play us wherever You will in such a way that You will have no regrets for having given us the chance.

And, finally, Dear Lord, when we reach that "last big inning" and the evening shadows are falling across home plate, may we not have to "slide in" nor be "squeezed in." But grant that we will get that last big hit and trot safely home.

--C. Wesley Grisham

Over 100 Golfers Expected Here

A field of at least 100 entries is expected to tee-off here Saturday morning in the qualifying rounds of the Booneville Invitational Golf Tournament.

David Rather of Holly Springs in the defending champion and is expected to be on hand to make a title defense. Finals are set for Sunday.

in the 36-hole medal competition.

Nobody has ever won this event in back-to-back fashion and only Billy Stone of Corinth can lay claim to more than one champion.

This event has run into weather problems repeatedly over the years and one time around finished with a ring of cars lighting the final hole.

This is the third of the neighborhood medal tournaments, this one following similar events at Red Bay-Belmont and Natchez Trace at Tupelo.

A year ago Rather won both here and in the Tupelo Invitational which slated next month, a 54-hole event at Tupelo Country Club.

Last year a field of 124 participated in the two-day competition.

New Mobile Fire Fighter Tested

A fire-fighting vehicle called the "Minotaur" for combating aircraft crash fire hazards was demonstrated recently by the Ward La France Truck Corporation at the Norfolk (Va.) Naval Air Station.

The Minotaur's three-man crew successfully fought a blazing gasoline-soaked fire in an old Navy fighter plane, dousing the flames in 40 seconds. A "dummy" pilot was rescued unscathed in 18 seconds.

U.S. Spending Lid Urged To Stop Runaway Budget

Runaway federal spending, which has risen 25 per cent since 1970, has resulted from the lack of "adequate spending controls" by the government, according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

In testimony before a Senate subcommittee, NAM spokesman A. L. Bolton, Jr., president of Bolton-Emerson, Inc., Lawrence, Mass., recommended an all-inclusive expenditure ceiling, creation of a joint committee of the budget which would "force" a meaningful consolidation of the expenditure review function, periodic review of federal programs with a three-year limit on authorizations, and a Federal Economy Act that would allow the President to name low-priority programs to be eliminated automatically unless he was specifically overruled by Congress within a certain period.

Mr. Bolton said that the true apparent transfer of power over federal finances to the executive branch is "less a usurpation of power than an uneven development of the procedures, knowledge, and resources for program evaluation, long range planning, and total budget review."

Collins, Swinney Will Wed In May Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Williams of Booneville announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter

MISS COLLINS

Jacqueline Gail Collins to Robert Louise Swinney, son of Mrs. Lillian Marie Swinney of Booneville and Mr. Troy Swinney of St. Louis.

The bride-elect's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wilson of Okolona. Miss Collins is a 1973 graduate of Booneville High School.

The prospective groom is the paternal grandson of Mrs. Gennie Mae Anderson and the late Mr. John Anderson. The maternal grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swinney.

Mr. Swinney was graduated from Booneville High School in 1972 and is presently employed at Marathon Cheese Corporation.

The couple will be united in marriage May 25, at 7:00 p.m. at Beckley Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal Church of Booneville.

Proud Folks

Christa Cartwright of Booneville was named president of the Mississippi Association of Future Homemakers of America (FHA) at the club's state meeting in Jackson Saturday, April 28.

She is shown with her parents, both of whom are active in vocational education. Her father, Merrill, is director of the Prentiss County Vocational Center, and her mother is a business education teacher at the center. Christa carries on a family tradition for heading state youth organizations. Her father was state president of FFA in 1948 and her brother, Cliff, was state FFA president three years ago. The FHA is one of the youth organizations sponsored by the Vocational and Technical Division of the State Department of Education.

Fatality Count Shows No Gain

During the first ten days of May, the Mississippi highway fatality count shows no gain over the same month last year.

The overall fatality rate this month equals the 20 deaths reported in May 1972, as does the 14 fatalities reported by the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

A spokesman for the Highway Patrol said, "We're beginning to ease back into our normal patrol routines now that flood relief operations are improving. We feel like we're gaining ground again after a slight increase in fatalities during April."

Thus far in 1973, the Highway Patrol is reporting a fatality decrease of 12% and 23 fewer deaths, while the overall Mississippi rate stands at a 5% reduction and 16 fewer deaths.

The Highway Patrol reminds Mississippi motorists that safe driving not only saves lives, but needless traffic violations as well.

Patrol announced that increased radar and helicopter surveillance would be an extra incentive to drive safely during the long daylight hours of the summer months ahead.

Tests for Good Vision Urged for Vacationers

The American Optometric Association recommends that vacationists go in for an 'eye check' when the car goes for a safety check before leaving for vacation.

Stating that about 90 per cent of driving decisions are based on what you see, the Association reminds us that you should be able to see effectively ahead, to the sides and in the rear view mirror and your depth perception should enable you to judge distances between your car and other cars or objects.

Spectators, Parents Jam City Park For '73 Pet Show

Over a hundred cheering spectators and anxious parents jammed the bleachers and sidelines at the City Park baseball field Sunday afternoon, April 29. The attraction was the 1973 Pet Show sponsored by the Booneville Junior Auxiliary (Provisional).

The clear, sunny day brought a sigh of relief from both Auxiliary members and participants after the drenching rains of previous weeks. Thirty-eight animal-lovers began registering their pets at 3:00 p.m. During registration, the scene became hectic as owners tried to avoid clashes between rabbits and cats, between rabbits and cats, sheepdogs and poodles, and varieties of cats and dogs.

The Pet Show got underway at 3:30 p.m. when commentator Tommy Walden announced the first category to be judged: Best Dressed. After entrants had led their outlandishly groomed

Next, the judges awarded ribbons to Registered Dogs: Ed Caveness received the Blue Ribbon for Tiny Baby, a poodle; Daryl Dodson accepted the Red Ribbon for Bojangles, English sheepdog; Cynthia Smith was awarded the White Ribbon for Macks, a pug.

In the third category, Non-Registered Dogs, the Blue Ribbon winner was Ginger shown by Jane Spencer. David Jenkins won the Red Ribbon for Snowball, and Carla Bonds received the White Ribbon for Silky.

Next to these plant three rows of squash; Squash gossip, Squash indifference, Squash criticism. Then plant five rows of lettuce; Let us obey rules and regulations. Let us be true to our obligations. Let us be faithful to duty Let us be loyal and unselfish. Let us love one another. No garden is complete without turnips; Turn up for meetings. Turn up with a smile. Turn up with new ideas Turn up with determination to make everything count for something good and worthwhile.

Pet Show

The Banner - Independent inadvertently omitted a portion of a story concerning the 1973 Pet Show.

The rest of the story is as follows:

Cats winning ribbons in their class were Timothy, shown by Lori Smart; Spooky, shown by Belinda Hester; and Ivy shown by Danielle Prichard. Timothy was awarded the Blue Ribbon, Spooky received the Red Ribbon, and Ivy was awarded the White Ribbon.

A wide variety of pets comprised the fifth category. The diversified winners of the Miscellaneous category indicate that not all children prefer cats or dogs for pets. Shave I, Patrick Weatherford's white rabbit, won the Blue Ribbon in this class, while Amy Hughes' pony, Princess, won the Red Ribbon and John Simpson's canaries, Froline and Frollick, won the White Ribbon.

Awarding the trophy for over-all Grand Champion climaxed the 1973 Pet Show. In this final event, Judges chose one pet from the first-place winners of the five categories. Receiving the Best-in-Show trophy for his dog Ginger was Karl Buchberger.

According to Mrs. Eddie Caveness, Chairman of this project for the Junior Auxiliary, the event was very successful. "Everyone enjoys the Pet Show. Spectators have as much fun watching the animals perform as the entrants do in parading their pets," Mrs. Caveness commented.

Burness Morris, Lori Smart's grandfather, rethat four-year-old Lori had been so excited the previous night that she could hardly sleep, so anxious had she been that her pet win a ribbon. Lori was not disappointed. Timothy the cat received the first-place Blue Ribbon in his category.

HAVE TONGUES CEASED?

This is the question raised in an article entitled "This I Believe" in the Banner-Independent, Thursday May 10, 1973. Due to a great deal of misunderstanding and misapplication of things said in the scriptures it is needful to point out such. Regardless of what may be thought, or said, of our motive God knows our hearts. The article does not question the sincerity of the author or those associated with him. It does, however, question their teaching and practice. We take up the following from the above mentioned article.

(1) Have tongues ceased? No where does the word "Tongue" or "Tongues" refer to anything except a member of the body or a known and accepted language. But someone asks, "What about the word 'Unknown' in 1 Cor. 14?" That word is in italics indicating that it was supplied by translators and was not in the original. It signifies that the language spoken was not known to some while it may have been known by others. To say that tongues have ceased would be to say that languages have ceased. This is not the case.

(2) The issue is not have tongues ceased. It is whether the author, Mr. Odle, or anyone has the miraculous power or ability to speak in tongues (languages) where people of other nations can hear and understand as was done on Pentecost of Acts 2? If so, we challenge him to name the language and tell us that he never studied it a day in his life. We are referring to something called tongues by some religionists. We are referring to languages which are spoken and understood as in Acts 2:1-13. Now we suggest that this not be given the run-around as in the recent exchange of articles on the question of Baptism. Somehow, that issue was dropped with the questions raised unanswered. Let's not do our readers this way.

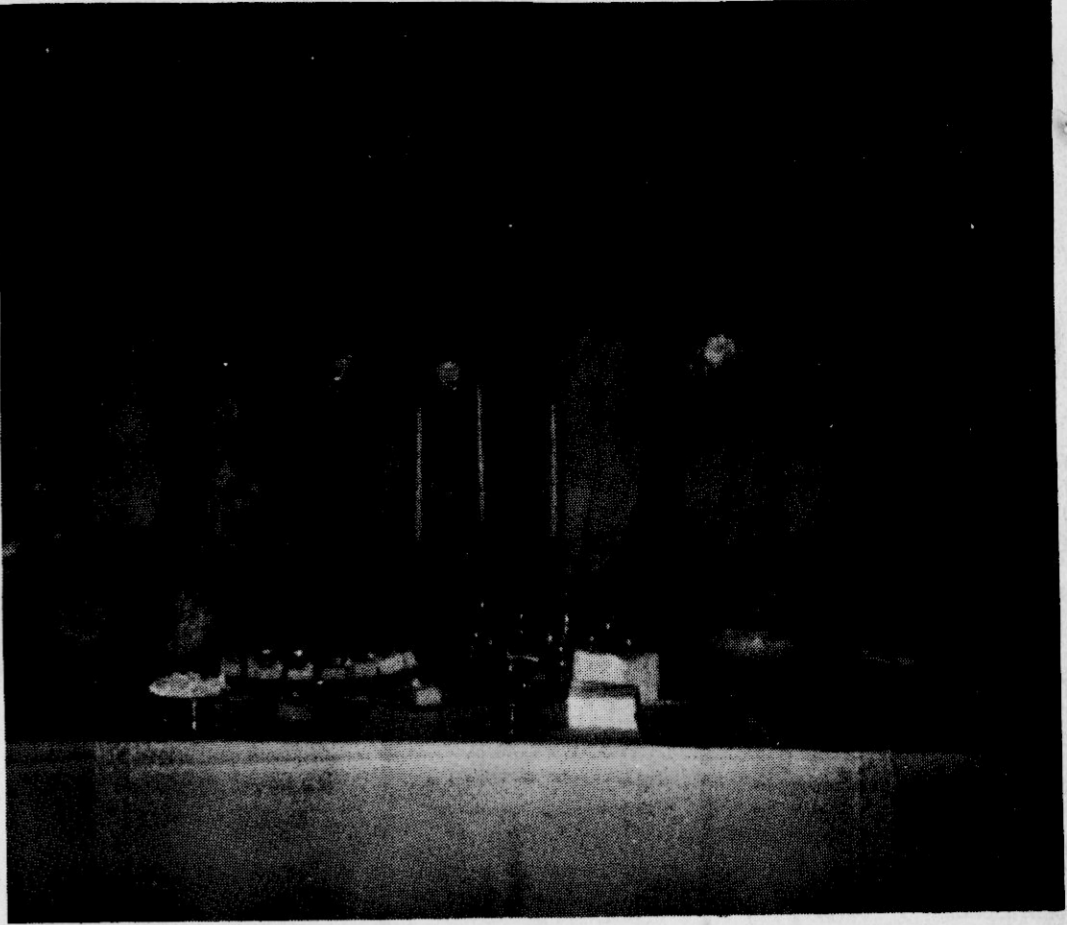

(3) We are pointed to 1 Cor. 14:18 as proof that miraculous tongues speaking is in evidence today - the same as on Pentecost. The author concludes that when Paul thanked God that he spoke with tongues more than they all that this means they all had the same experience of tongues speaking as Paul. This is not the case at all. If so, perhaps Mr. Odle will explain 1 Cor. 12:30. Paul asked three rhetorical questions. The second is: "Do all speak with tongues?" If they all did speak with tongues how is this question along with verse 10 explained. Actually, some in the early church had that gift and others did not. Paul's reason for making such a statement was not to prove everyone could speak in tongues but to show, as the context proves, that each one was to use with gratitude what spiritual gift he possessed to the Glory of God. Paul was a man of wide travel and could use such a gift profitably in the proclamation of the Gospel.

(4) Verse 39 of 1 Cor. 14 is cited. "... Forbid not to speak with tongues." Why? Why did Paul say this? Was he saying that men would always have the miraculous power to speak in languages not studied and learned? No! 1 Corinthians, Chapters 12-14 is a total context dealing with certain problems related to spiritual gifts in the early church. There was some jealousy on the part of those who didn't possess the gift of tongues and some arrogance on the part of some who did. Read the three chapters to see how Paul deals with this. Then, you can better understand why, in such a setting Paul would give the advice of chapter 14, verse 39.

(5) This article is not an attempt to say some in the church did not at one time speak in languages (tongues) of other nations and people. They did. There was something to it. But, my friends, what they did in the early church and what is practiced by some religionists today are NOT the same! If so, then let those who claim it face squarely the challenge of number (2) in this reply.

(6) We are told not to point to 1 Cor. 13:8 as proof that miraculous tongues speaking has ceased. Mr. Odle thinks if this is the case then knowledge has ceased. But he says this can't be the case with all the knowledge man has today. Does the author not realize that there is a difference in the knowledge of man today and the knowledge Paul referred to in 1 Cor. 13:8? One is technological, scientific, etc., and the other is the gift of knowledge, 1 Cor. 12:8. It was supernatural knowledge. Paul said, the gift of prophecy would fail, and tongues would cease; that is, the miraculous power to speak in other languages, and knowledge (supernatural) would vanish away. Then, they knew in part and prophesied in part (1 Cor. 13:9) so, Paul declared, "When that which is perfect is come, (not the perfect one) then that which is in part (prophecy, tongues, knowledge) shall be done away." 1 Cor. 13:10. This is in keeping with the entire context.

100 Attend Blackland Meeting

The April meeting of the Blackland R. C. D. C. was attended by over one hundred people.

This was a special meeting honoring the Wheeler basketball squad and coaches.

The Wheeler Cheerleaders did a beautiful job of decorating, using the school colors.

Greg Geno called the meeting to order at 7 P.M. Rev. Fabian Clark was asked to return thanks. Guest were then invited to eat the delicious food of their choice.

The group assembled after the meal for a short program. Jill McAlpin led the group in singing America and the pledge to the flag. Rev. Clark gave an inspiring devotion.

Greg Geno extended a hearty welcome which was very entertaining. He introduced the special guests, Coach Coggins responded with timely remarks.

Mr. Irvin Feldman was the guest speaker. His topic was "Sports and Broadcasting of Years Gone By". His remarks brought forth much laughter. Now if Irv keeps this up Howard Cosell had better watch out! We expect a hearty welcome to Mr. Mrs. Feldman to visit us again.

The meeting was a joyous occasion. Dancing and music was enjoyed by the young people for several hours.

Steel Industry, Workers Agree to Arbitrate Issues

An unprecedented preliminary agreement that guarantees uninterrupted production in the American steel industry through July, 1977, has been announced by ten of the nation's major steel producing companies.

In a joint statement, the union and the companies said they have agreed on an experimental basis to establish voluntary final and binding arbitration for unresolved collective bargaining issues in the 1974 contract negotiations. Additionally, the parties have agreed not to call a general strike or to employ the lockout in support of their respective bargaining positions.

"Cyclical swings in operations and employment reflected by accumulation and liquidation of inventories by steel consumers," the statement said, "have had a devastating economic impact, not only on the steelworkers and companies, but also on the communities where steel operations are located in virtually every state of the nation."

More Low-Sulphur Coal to Be Mined

Low sulphur-content coal, needed by electric utility plants to meet smoke emission standards, will be mined in Campbell County, W. by the Atlantic Richfield Co. The first production is anticipated in late 1975. A comprehensive environmental analysis of the development is being coordinated by Dr. Oscar Paris, head of the University of Wyoming Zoology Department. The team of scientists will complete an environmental analysis of the proposed mining effort after studying the physical, biological and social aspects of the area. "With coal our nation's plentiful fossil energy source, we are seeking ways to develop it in an environmentally responsible manner," a company spokesman said. "The team of consultants will help us determine satisfactory solutions to the environmental aspects of coal development in this area." The unemployment rate for 16 to 24-year-old student seeking work was 12.5 percent in both October 1971 and October 1972. The rate unemployed out-of-school youths was 19.6 percent.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

"Serving the fine jeweler" can be said to the motto of the American Gem Society. I am a proud titleholder in this fine organization. One reason for my allegiance is that I believe firmly in the concept of service.

Superficially, most jewelry stores offer the same items. We are specialists in rings and things, objects of adornment, gifts and collectors' items. But we, at Way-Fil Jewelry can guarantee one thing that you can't get at discount or off the pages of a catalog: Service.

Recently, a speaker whose subject is fine jewelry appeared before a small group of wealthy ladies. During the question and answer period following the talk, the speaker anticipated queries about the size of Liz Taylor's latest multi-carat acquisition or what is acceptable in high fashion jewelry. But the subject, the affluent audience kept talking about was cleaning their jewelry.

I heard about this situation with some surprise. Then I thought about it and wondered how many of my customers knew that we are more than happy to clean their fine jewelry — usually with no charge. This is part of our service.

Check the pages of what is offered from catalog houses. What do you find under cleaning fine jewelry? How about restringing pearls? Do they offer precious jewelry appraisals? Would you trust them to advise you on resetting your engagement diamond?

These days, we find a certain appeal in things that are quick and easy. Life is complicated, so a little relief is welcome. Shopping through the mail eases the burden and everybody loves a bargain. But I don't believe I could be a jeweler, in the true sense of the word, through the mail. At least not the serving jeweler I try to be.

"I believe we are entering what has been called the Southern Century. For the past two days, we have conducted in Jackson a series of meetings and seminars known as the first annual Governor's conference on tourism. One of the speakers at this conference was a Major Executive with a major movie company from California. He reported to the conference that his company — after extensive research — was concentrating its efforts in the South and Southeast. He reported that all economic indicators seemed to indicate that the South and the Southeast is really the land of opportunity in this next coming century. For this reason, he has called the next century the Southern Century.

"I believe that you here today will find more opportunity in Mississippi and in the South than you will find in any other part of these United States.

In Mississippi we are progressing faster than most states in this nation in rate of economic growth. True, we have a long way to go. But we have the natural resources and the people who are willing to work to get the job done. Our state has not been saddled with many of the welfare pollution and crime problems that are preventing many other sections of the nation from making rapid progress.

Mississippi is making rapid advances on many levels. I believe the most important reason we are making rapid progress is that our people are united and are working together for progress.

When I speak of unity, I believe the people of Mississippi are united in their desire to get this state moving. . . and moving now.

I do not believe the people of this state are concerned about political parties, political personalities or differences between political leaders. I am convinced that the people of this state are interested in only one thing. They are interested in results — results — that get the job done.

"In this decade of the seventies — a decade which may be setting the tone of the Southern Century to come — it is evident that Mississippi is moving forward rapidly. I would like to give you some examples, the Governor said.

In industrial development, last year, the state recorded nearly one billion dollars in new industrial development — the highest total in the history of our state, nearly three times the highest total ever recorded in the past.

In economic development, the states per capita income grew faster than any other section of the country, and she has the lowest unemployment. In other words, the jobs are available here in Mississippi and the salaries are growing faster than any other section of the country. Our state is making progress in many, many areas such as highways — Last year the Legislature passed the largest road construction program in the South — six hundred million dollars — We passed the largest bond program for our state parks — Twenty-Five Million.

Mayor

Mayor Smith pointed out that the National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only national voluntary health agency conducting programs in national and international research to find the cause, prevention, and cure of multiple sclerosis. He also noted the valuable community and patient services provided MS victims and their families by the Society's local Booneville Chapter.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic disabling disease of the central nervous system the brain and spinal cord. It distorts and sometimes blocks nerve impulses that control many vital bodily functions. Because MS predominantly strikes in the prime career and family building years between 20 and 40, it is called the great crippler of young adults.

Keenum Will Accompany Dunn On Tenn-Tom Trip

Tennessee Governor Winfield Dunn will head a delegation from the five state Tennessee - Tombigbee area scheduled to appear in Washington on May 21 to present the Waterway's plea to the Public Works Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committees in the House and Senate. Governor Dunn currently serves as Chairman of the Tennessee--Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority.

the Authority, and members of his staff. Governor Dunn has described the project as a "long range investment in human opportunities" and will tell the Committees of the urgent need to build the Waterway as soon as possible, particularly in view of the devastating floods in the Waterway area this spring.

The House Public Works Subcommittee is chaired by Congressman Joe L. Evins

(D. Tenn.) with Jamie Whitten (D-Miss.) being the ranking member. Congressman Whitten also serves as the ranking member next to Chairman George Mahon (D-Texas) on the full House Appropriations Committee.

A press and Congressional luncheon will be held in honor of Governor Dunn on Capitol Hill between Hearings in the House and Senate.

The Tennessee - Tombigbee Waterway was begun last December in Gainesville, Alabama following groundbreaking ceremonies attended by Undersecretary of the Army, Kenneth Belieu, ranking representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers, more than 20 Congressmen and Senators, three Governors and a host of state and local officials. Governor George C. Wallace, serving as Chairman of the Authority at that time, set off the explosion marking the beginning of construction on this long-sought Waterway.

The Waterway will connect the southeastern Gulf with mid-America's inland river system by way of the Tennessee and Tombigbee Rivers. The Corps of Engineers have testified that the Waterway will benefit over 23 states with 55 per cent of the benefits being benefits being to states outside Mississippi and Alabama through which the Waterway will pass.

Tenn-Tom Meeting

Thomas Keenum, Booneville attorney, will accompany Tenn. Governor Winfield Dunn to Washington to appear before the Public Works Subcommittee of the Appropriations Committee in the House and Senate. The Governor will lead a five-state delegation to Washington on May 21 seeking funds for the waterway.

Cotton Growers Urged To Plant Cotton Late

Mississippi cotton growers have been urged to plant cotton as late in the season as they can expect a reasonably fair crop to be harvested in order to prevent prices of cotton to escalate to a non-competitive basis with synthetic fibers.

Hugh M. Arant, Ruleville president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, said farmers and the entire cotton industry need every pound of cotton that can be produced in 1973 in view of flooding and inclement weather that have sharply curtailed plantings over the state.

Under normal planting conditions Mississippi cotton farmers plant cotton through the last week of May and expect good yields. Beyond that planting date they risk the loss of a portion of the immature portion of the crop from early frost in the fall.

In designated disaster counties farmers have been given until May 15 to decide whether to plant cotton or switch to optional crops such as soybeans or feed grain crops. This year farmers in the disaster area may still plant cotton beyond the May 15 option date with government protection. If he gets caught by early frost after electing to plant late, his county ASC committee can adjust his projected yield in which his government payment is based up to 90 percent of his normal yield, thus shifting late planting risk to the government ASC program.

Farmers Run Risk

WASHINGTON -- Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said today Mississippi farmers run the risk of losing emergency disaster loan eligibility unless they apply before June 19.

Eastland urged farmers to make application immediately with the Farmers Home Administration. "Otherwise, they may find themselves ineligible for loans," he said.

The Mississippi lawmaker said the FHA will not be able to accept applications for farm damage and production loans after the June 19 cutoff date. Farmers in 37 counties included in the presidential disaster declaration are affected by the Department of Agriculture ruling.

"The June 19 date is an extremely important one," Eastland said. "A farmer must apply by this date and there appears to be no provision for any type of extension."

Eastland said the FHA is well aware that many thousands of acres of Mississippi farmland is under water and no reasonable estimate of damage is possible. "Still farmers must go ahead and make applications for emergency loans -- even though their land is under water," he said.

"You can simply state that you are unable to estimate the damage."

The Senator pointed out that immediate application is necessary to establish loan eligibility for aid as soon as the water goes down. "If you apply now, you will still be eligible for disaster assistance once the water goes down."

Eastland added that filing applications now will also make the farmer eligible for refinancing loans on real estate should they be needed.

If a county in which the farmer lives has been declared a disaster area in the last three years, filing before June 19 will make the farmer eligible for the lower interest rate on refinancing loans if they are necessary in the fall.

Welfare Issues Checks

During the month of April the State Department of Public Welfare issued $8,737,606 to 157,045 persons through its needy aged, blind, disabled and dependent children assistance programs.

Each person who receives a welfare check is eligible for Medicaid. An additional 16,747 persons were determined eligible for Medicaid benefits only. This group includes needy caretakers, etc. They do not receive a welfare check.

Mr. J. B. Hill, director of Prentiss County Department of Public Welfare, reports 1,554 checks were issued to Prentiss countians through the four public assistance programs; 43 applications requesting assistance were filed and 24 new public assistance cases were approved. The report shows 58 persons eligible for Medicaid only.

A total of $88,997 was spent overall for public assistance. Of this amount $59,365 went to 1,036 persons in the old age assistance category; $1,681 to 24 legally blind persons; $16,865 to 254 permanently and totally disabled persons. In the aid to dependent children category, 240 checks were issued for 601 children in the ADC grants. A total of $11,086 went to ADC families.

Director Hill added there were 46 active child welfare cases and 2 children in a licensed foster home.

COSMETIC COLLECTION IN CORINTH

This I Believe

By Pastor Dannie Odle
First United Pentecostal Church

THIS I BELIEVE!
Importance Of The Name
Much has been said and much will be said in future days about the name of Jesus. Some say that Pentecostals put too much emphasis upon the name, so let us look at why they do this. Would you please examine Acts 10:43 which says, "that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins." Notice that it says that through his name, which of course is Jesus, a person shall receive remission of sins. Now how is this possible to receive remission of sins. You then must go to Acts 5:31 "Him hath God exalted -- for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins." Follow this with Acts 2:38 "Repent and be baptized -- in the Name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins." Put the scriptures together and you will see that in order to get remission of sins it must be through the name of Jesus and that baptism is the way to have your sins remitted and that by using the name of Jesus.

In Acts 4 Peter was questioned concerning the healing of the man who sat at the gate and notice his reply. In verse 10 he stated that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, that the man was made whole. Then in verse 12 he stated further "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Now preachers say that it doesn't matter how you are baptized and others will say you should use the titles Father Son and Holy Ghost but this says there is salvation in no other name other than the name of Jesus. Don't let anyone, even a minister, talk you into believing it doesn't matter or it is not that important. Read it for yourself. You read in the paper yourself that a certain minister said "The Bible no where contains a formula that must be said" and further "We did not offer Matt. 28:19 as a "formula" for something to be said when one is Baptized." I say the Bible is our pattern to follow and if we follow the Apostles we will find they baptized in the name of Jesus. If you have never been baptized in that wonderful name please do so because your sins have never been remitted until you have, notice, no other name whereby we must be saved. We have for you free of cost a 31 page booklet entitled "The Real Truth About Baptism in Jesus Name" which will be sent to you for the asking. Just drop a card or letter to Box 384 Booneville and we will send it direct to you. We want you to know this Bible truth which saves from sin.

Auto Survey Results In Accessory Rollbacks

JACKSON, Miss. -- A national survey of auto dealers has resulted in over $10 million in auto parts and accessory rollbacks, a spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said today.

More than 300 Ford and General Motors dealers in Mississippi have been contacted by the District Office of the Internal Revenue Service. A preliminary report shows that 212 of the dealers were not in compliance and that rollbacks totaling $174,693 are being made to customers by the dealers in Mississippi.

An Internal Revenue Service spot check of auto dealers late last year in Tennessee and Virginia showed that dealers were selling parts and accessories in inventory at increased prices which caused them to exceed their allowable customary markups. This spot check triggered the national survey.

During December of 1971, General Motors and Ford advised dealers that the Price Commission has approved auto parts and accessory increases of 2.5 percent and such increases were to be charged on items shipped by Ford after December 31, 1971, and by General Motors after January 3, 1972.

Under Economic Stabilization Regulations, dealers are not allowed to reprice inventory to reflect higher prices for new purchases. Supplies in inventory are required to be sold before prices can be increased.

If inventory items were re-priced contrary to provisions of the economic Stabilization Regulations, the dealers are required to return the over-charged amount to the marketplace by discounting current sales of parts or accessories.

Such reductions are now made throughout the country.

A spot check of Chrysler and American Motors dealers will be made soon.

Greenery Faces Threat

CHICAGO -- As that hot old summer sun climbs across the sky every day, trees, shrubs, ornamentals, and flowers face one of the most critical threats to their life and health ... lack of moisture. Insufficient watering can cause this, or evaporation from the soil surface or both.

Yes, the sun can bake soil so dry that nothing short of a cactus will grow in it. And if you fight back with an intensive watering program, you invest in a lot of moisture that may simply get drawn off again by evaporation!

What we'll do here is look at ways to beat "back yard drought", and how a new product from Masonite, called Fibrex, can do a lot to make the job easier.

How should you wage the battle? One of the best ways is use a mulch, which covers the soil and insulates it against water loss. Mulch is generally an organic material placed on the surface around plants to enhance the soil's ability to store water and nutrients -- as well as shade and cool the ground -- thereby sustaining plant life.

At the same time a good mulch is porous, allowing rain and other water to soak through to the soil underneath. In other words, it's a one-way waterer, which passes moisture but prevents its evaporation.

There are a lot of mulches around to choose from including peats, straws, shell, hulls, hard barks, soft barks, sawdust, and so forth. A word of caution though: some of these have drawbacks such as attracting insects or rodents, causing the rotting of plants just above the ground, compacting too much and shedding water, short life, or simply being too powdery, messy or dirty. So you have to look at the problems a mulch can give you, as well as its advantages.

A chipped pine bark has about all the attributes you could want in a mulch and it will last a full season. Just a couple inches of plain bark can conserve soil moisture to cut down on summer watering, and protect your plant roots from extremes of heat as well.

But if you use Fibrex ground cover instead, with pre-emergence weeder added, just a one-inch layer will give double-barrelled weed control as well as moisture, shade, and cooling protection for your plants. And it eventually converts to a soil-enriching humus.

Committee Says State's Four Lane Program 'Ready To Roll'

Two members of the State Highway Commission and the Commission Director told a meeting of the Mississippi Economic Council's Highways Committee that the State's four-lane program for roads in the state is "geared and ready to roll" as soon as contractors "get the weather they need."

Northern District Commissioner Herschel Jumper, Central District Commissioner Sam Waggoner, and Commission Director E. L. Boteler reported Tuesday the Highway Commission realizes Mississippi "does have a highway problem," but they ask the people of the state to understand it "takes time to build highways."

C. M. Whitaker represents Booneville on the Highways Committee.

The commissioners and Boteler were introduced at the session by Highways Committee Chairman W. L. Norton of Jackson. Other guests of the committee at the meeting were John Tabb, assistant director of the Highway Commission; Perry Nations, manager of the A & I Board's Travel and Tourism Department; Commissioner of Public Safety W. O. Dillard; and W. W. Gresham Jr. of Indianola.

Jumper told the MEC that Mississippians "receive more for their tax dollar than any of their neighbors." The Northern District Commissioner said Mississippi, based on records of other states, builds highways faster than any other state.

Waggoner said highway construction in Mississippi, beginning with the public hearings and continuing through completion of the road, takes an average of five years. The Commissioner also said the State Highway Commission spends 99 percent of its appropriated funds on road construction and reconditioning while neighboring states of Louisiana and Arkansas spend only 67 percent and 66 percent, respectively.

Norton said committee projects for 1973 will include a study of the utilization of highway taxes in the state, continued support for construction of information centers, and work toward uniform enforcement of the habitual offender law.

He said the MEC Highways Committee will be divided into three special committees. The committees and their chairmen are: Highway Construction, John Lee of Morton; Highway Commission, John Tatum of Hattiesburg; and Highway Finance, W. M. Beasley of Tupelo.

Birthday Wish: 'God To Give Me A Brand New Heart...'

DANA JILL BROOKS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Brooks of 109 Penny Lane in Booneville, request the prayer of all Christians, especially on May 31, for their daughter, Dana Jill Brooks. Jill will be admitted to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota on May 24, for screening, and then be transferred to Saint Marys Hospital, also in Rochester, for open heart surgery on May 31.

Jill is 8 years old and is completing the 2nd grade at Booneville Elementary school. She tries very hard to lead a normal life, but thus far, she's had difficulty. She underwent closed heart surgery at age 15 months in the Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago. Until she was 4, she spent almost half her life in the hospital at the Loretto, and Children's Memorial. The family moved to Booneville when she was 5, and since, she has only been in the hospital 4 times, once at North East, twice at Memphis, and once in Rochester, Thos, she has been sick a great deal of the time, this is counted an improvement over her first years.

At Children's Memorial, she had temporary surgery, "a post op banding of size hole has developed, besides the one she already had, and also found that she has no partitions (walls) to separate the chambers of the heart. Dr. McGoon phrased this as "the dangerous part". She also has a paralized vocal cord caused from the pressure of the enlarged heart. Her chances of survival were only one out of four at Memphis and Chicago, however, we've been given greater hopes at the Mayo Clinic for this type surgery.

When Jill is "up to it" she's playing, schooling, or going to church. In her own words on her birthday, Feb. 17, she wished for "God to give her a brand new heart so she could do all the things other boys and girls do without tiring or getting sick". She knows God had the greater part of her recovery the last time. You can see why she desires and needs your prayers. It will be appreciated more than words can express.

Jill has one other sister of the home, Regayda 115, who attends Jumpertown High School. She plays the piano and sings with Arlis Scott, Terry Scott, Fannie Fleming and her mother, known as the Spiritual Heirs Quartet. Jill's grandmother is Mrs. Daisy Smith of Jumpertown and the granddaughter of the late Mr. Youles W. Smith.

After May 31, any mail to her should be addressed to her parents, General Delivery, Rochester, Minn. 55901, c/o Jill Brooks. We prefer your faith in prayers to God over sympathy. Keep your paper handy as a reminder.

Attention, Senior Citizens

May is Senior Citizens Month, a time when the whole Nation is focusing attention on the needs and problems of older people.

Educational Television is airing the program in cooperation with Mississippi Council on Aging as a part of Senior Citizens Month observance.

Shoppers Urged For Surveillance

A searching inner look into this growing phenomenon on the American scene is a film called: "A Time To Live" to be aired by ETV May 21st at nine o'clock and again on May 23rd at 6 o'clock. The story deals with the elderly whom remain active and energetic as well as those who are alone and lonely living in nursing homes and others trying to exist on meager Old Age Assistance.

A former Ziegfeld girl, now in her seventies leads a group of her contemporaries through their daily routine exercises on the beach. She displays photos of a stunning young girl half a century ago but refuses to dwell on the past. Now, is the important time, she says. "A Time To Live" examines both sides of growing old in America. Not all of the retirement people on the program have adjusted as well. There are the old men who sit on park benches for seemingly endless periods of time and there is a black woman who is blind and unable to walk, dependent on Old Age Assistance.

The Program is narrated by actress Aline MacMahon, a member of the Lincoln Center Repertory Company. The program was produced in Florida, but relates to problems that are relevant and urgent in every section of the country.

Newcomers Welcome

The Welcome Wagon this week lists two new families moving into the city.

Officials said Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minkler and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McIntyre and family have moved into the area.

THANKS

I WOULD LIKE TO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO PERSONALLY THANK EVERYONE FOR THEIR SUPPORT IN MY CANDIDACY FOR THE POSITION OF ALDERMAN FOR THE CITY OF BOONEVILLE

Automated Plywood Said to Reduce Costs

A highly automated method for manufacturing plywood, developed by Georgia-Pacific Corp. for its own plants to reduce unit costs, increase production, and improve wood utilization, is now being offered to other manufacturers on a royalty basis.

The machinery and techniques, including special company-developed thermo-setting resin adhesives, has resulted in "substantial savings at G-P plants in both the West and South," and can be custom engineered to fit individual plant production and space needs, the firm said.
