The Number System.... In Blue

A new numbering system will be used for Mississippi's 1974 license tags when they go on sale in October, state officials said.

Motor Vehicle Comptroller Doxey Fisher said the tags will contain a combination of three letters and three numbers, with the letters coming first in all but five counties.

He said this means that "only six digits will be on any particular license tag where some tags have as many as eight digits."

Fisher said the position will be reversed with the numbers first, followed by the letters, in the heavily populated counties of Hinds, Harrison, Lauderdale, Washington and Jackson.

Fisher said the change was expected to help law enforcement officers identify vehicles more easily and assist motorists in remembering their tag numbers.

The new system was recommended nationally by Pickup truck tags also will be included in the new numbering system with a combination of letters similar to that on passengers car license plates.

Fisher said the colors of the 1974 tags will be blue numerals and letters on a white background. He said the tags will be fully reflectorized for greater safety.

The names of the state and counties will remain placed as they are now.

Gas Squeeze Likely

Despite a nationwide threat of a gasoline shortage this summer, apparently the squeeze is not being felt very extensively in Booneville at the present.

After talking with most service station operators, it was learned that, even though the shortage is expected, it shouldn't "really affect us that much."

Stations in Booneville, of course, are having the same trouble as in other cities when it comes to getting the amount of gas they want.

Most local stations have been put on an "allotment". This simply means that the stations are being allotted a certain percentage of the amount they sold the same month last year.

Most operators agree, however, that the fuel shortage will affect them...

and have already begun to take steps to counteract the shortage. Some local stations have begun closing on Sundays and also earlier each afternoon than before.

In a spot survey, only a few stations had completely run out of a particular kind of gasoline...while others were just limiting their normal operating hours to offset the shortage.

Other cities around Booneville have been hit quite a bit harder than Booneville itself. Some stations are being forced to completely close down, while others are severely limiting their normal hours.

"With the summer months ahead, most motorists have been advised to take precautions in their traveling," an operator here said. Other areas of the nation are limiting "fill-ups" to some 10 gallons, while some are just hiking the price of gasoline to 85 and 90 cents per gallon to take care of those customers who really want gas.

Most of the stations that are feeling the pinch stronger are the independent companies who are being severely cut by the shortage. As one local station owner put it, "we are simply going from month to month. We cannot predict the future, because we do not know what will happen in the future."

When asked about a rumored gas hike, local operators commented that a one-cent hike is effective July 1st. This hike, however, is due to the recent road program passed by the Miss. Legislature.

Spending Equals Average Income

Every 12.6 seconds the Federal Government spends $10,000 the average annual income of an American family. So reports the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The U. S. Chamber has unveiled a Federal Spending Clock which displays second-by-second how the Federal Government will spend $250 billion by the time the present fiscal year ends on June 30.

Every 12.6 seconds, a light flashes, indicating the Government has spent another $10,000. And every two minutes and six seconds, when all lights are aglow, a "beep" signals the spending of $1 million.

During each day, the clock registers approximately $700 million in new expenditures by the Federal Government.

The Mississippi Economic Council, the state's chamber of commerce, notes that in the past 10 years, federal spending has increased over 100 percent—from $111 billion in 1963 to $250 billion in 1973. Today the average family's share of the budget is $3,700—as compared with $2,000 in 1963. The Government currently spends more in 10 months than it spent between 1789 and 1942. Of the gross national product, federal spending accounts for 20.6 percent.

Should the clock run slower or faster? In other words, should the Federal Government increase or reduce spending?

The MEC believes Congress should be urged to require economy by reduction in spending requests which do not impair essential functions.

The Council also believes the President should be required to submit budgets in which proposed expenditures do not exceed estimates of revenue.

The Federal Spending Clock runs in a seemingly never-ending cycle. The decision as to whether the cycle slows or speeds up is in the hands of the American citizen. Let your Congressman know how you feel.

Trying The Can To Ecology

The title of this piece is not frivolous, though it may raise some eyebrows. It stems from a witty address by William S. Woodside, senior Vice President of the American Can Company, to business seminarians at Rutgers University. Said Mr. Woodside:

"I am not sure just when the word 'ecology' came into the popular jargon. I believe it was shortly after 'ecumenical' and just before 'synergetic.' At any rate, in 1973, all you have to do is say 'ecology,' and any reasonably bright fourth-grader can turn out a report on the subject—and probably will.

"Earth Day—April 22, 1970—is popularly regarded as an epochal date, the point at which lack of concern for environment and resources came to an end and the new era began, the era in which the pure of heart got rolling. In truth, in packaging, containers and related fields, concern, planning, and concerted efforts began well before.

"Paper recycling has been known and practiced for many years. During World War II recycled paper reached a level of 44 per cent of all paper production. De-tinning and recycling of cans dates back to the early years of the century, and has been continuously practiced to 65 years by M & T Chemicals, an American Can subsidiary.

"In more recent times, but still 17 years before Earth Day, a significant management decision was taken by industry representatives including our own: the formation of 'Keep America Beautiful,' an organization to combat litter through education.

"One would assume that KAB, with its solid record of service and success, would be pretty hard to knock. However, there are those who belittle it because its financial supporters have a 'self-interest' in the elimination of litter. To that I can only say, 'Who hasn't?'"

Opinions

And asked about his own personal political prospects, he laughingly replies that whenever any party official telephones from now on he, Eagleton, will begin the conversation with "First, have you heard about my mental health?"

The fact is that his mental health is now such a lifeless issue that nobody in either party shows any inclination to run against him for Senator in 1974.

The man who was propelled from obscurity to fame by a kick in the britches less than one year ago now receives 10 times more requests for personal appearances than he can fill.

More significant than today's applause is the fact that Tom Eagleton was hospitalized three times in the 1960s for "nervous exhaustion and fatigue"—what we used to call a "nervous breakdown"—and has overcome.

The senator has to know that the one-in-ten Americans now in mental hospitals are the benefactors of his triumph. It takes purposeful remembering to realize that just 15 years ago we did not even speak on radio such words as "retarded" or "breast surgery" or even "cancer."

Courts of law associated "insanity" with "criminals" and any mental sickness was a family shame. During 15 days in July of 1972 the attic windows were flung open.

And in the months since, the important public attitude toward humankind's most common malady has been so altered that the new issue of the AMA's "Archives of General Psychiatry" reports: "Most former mental hospital patients now find their jobs waiting, their family relationships improved, the old stigma is no more."

Eagleton, The Democrat Who Won

Sen. Tom Eagleton, since he was rescued from the path of the landslide in 1972, has not been able to do anything wrong.

Tom Eagleton is the Democrat who won.

Have you been paying attention to the public utterances and the personal tending-to-business of Missouri's Sen. Eagleton? The man Sen. George McGovern dumped because his emotional stability was in question has demonstrated every symptom of superb mental health: poise under stress, serene forgiveness and a gentle, natural sense of humor.

An insecure person in his position might be expected to divert criticism to others; on the contrary, Eagleton shows no such inclination.

At Akron University, asked about high food prices, he said, "It's been a dreadful crop season for our farmers; prices will moderate when the weather gets better."

Asked about Watergate, he replied, "All political parties spy on one another; the Republicans got caught at it." Asked about President Nixon's resumption of bombing in Indochina, Eagleton called it "disappointing."

PAUSE FOR POWER

An Indispensable Bridge

There are two inescapable terminal events in the life of every man, birth and death. And in like manner there were two terminal events in the earthly life of Jesus Christ—His incarnation and His ascension.

The story of Christ's ascension is described for us in Acts 1:9-11: "And when He had spoken these things, while they beheld, He was taken up; and a cloud received Him out of their sight. And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as He went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven."

Here is the story of the ascension of Christ. Forty days after His resurrection, Jesus Christ left this earth and ascended into heaven, there to remain until His second coming.

But, why did Jesus Christ ascend into heaven? The ascension of Christ, obviously, was not a last minute arrangement, for Jesus Himself predicted that He would return to His Father. Why then did Jesus Christ ascend into heaven and return to His heavenly Father?

The answer to that question, in one sentence, is simply this—the ascension of Christ was the indispensable step to His present ministry. It was the bridge between His finished work and His unfinished work. The finished work of Christ was His vicarious death upon the cross for the benefit of sinners. The unfinished work of Christ is His present intercession in heaven for the benefit of believers.

Jesus Christ therefore, ascended into heaven in order to begin His ministry of intercession for believers. The Bible says, "Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost who come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them" (Hebrews 7:25). The intercession of Jesus Christ is that present ministry of Christ today in heaven by which He keeps believers secure and brings them safely to heaven. As surely as we needed a Savior to redeem us from the guilt of sin, so surely do we need an Intercessor to keep us secure and bring us safely to heaven.

There is in the Bible a wonderful illustration of the present intercessory ministry of Jesus Christ. Here is the story, "And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren" (Luke 22:31, 32).

The Lord Jesus warned Peter that he would fail, and Peter did fail. Before the cock crowed twice, Peter denied his Savior three times. But Jesus Christ also promised Peter, "I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not."

Did Peter fail? The answer to that is, Yes. Peter failed,

When holding five trumps lacking the ace it is almost impossible to score all five, however, declarer did just that in today's hand by luring East into trumping with the ace of trumps.

Opening lead—Ten of clubs.

An unfortunate opening lead by West gave declarer a slim opportunity to bring home a rather ambitious four heart contract on this hand, however, in view of East's opening club bid and rebid we cannot find fault with West's choice of the club ten.

East won with the queen and, realizing the defense must cash spade tricks if the contract is to be defeated, shifted to the ten of spades which was permitted to run to dummy's queen, whereupon declarer led a small diamond to West's ace. West returned the spade seven, won by South's ace. A small club was then ruffed low in dummy and the king of diamonds led. Declarer received a rude jolt when East showed out, ruffing with the nine of hearts, however, recovered in time to over-ruff with the heart ten. Another club was led and West ruffed with the heart seven forcing dummy to over-ruff with the heart jack. The jack of diamonds was now led and ruffed by East with the ace of trumps on which South discarded his remaining spade loser. East's spade return was trumped by South with the eight of hearts and South then ruffed away his last club with dummy's last trump. The closed hand was re-entered by trumping a diamond and declarer claimed the balance of the tricks by virtue of his remaining high trumps.

In all South lost only the three missing aces and, ironically, never took a diamond trick. He scored two spades, all five of his hearts, plus three club ruffs in dummy.

The diamond suit provided a means whereby declarer was able to discard a spade loser on another sure loser, East's ace of trumps. Nicely done, don't you think?

VISUAL PRESENTATIONS

Giving visual presentations effectively means getting a message across in a way that accomplishes your objectives. If your audience learns what you want it to from your visual presentation you've communicated effectively.

Here are a few suggestions that might help your 4-Hers plan more effective visual presentations:

• Make visual visible. Use large charts, even for small audiences.

• Use color, not art, for headlines. Pictures and drawings in headlines require interpretation. Headlines should be crisp and clear and easily grasped.

• Simplify—eliminate details. Effective visuals present only one idea per chart.

• Show all key points. Oral presentations include everything necessary to sell through ears. Visual presentations, through eyes, should concisely reinforce oral messages.

• Check the worst seats. Center charts so people on extreme sides can see, too. Mount them high enough for back row viewers. And move them forward, if necessary, to clear lectern, table, chairs or other obstructions.

• Maintain eye contact with your audience. Know your visuals so well you can manipulate them without ever having to peek under one or two to see what's coming next. When you do that, you lose your audience.

• Don't show your hand prematurely. If you want to emphasize a point before you present the visual, keep the visual hidden. Don't handle and expose flannel-board cards before you're ready to use them. And with flip charts, don't flip the next one ahead of time.

• Prepare. Most of us don't take time necessary to prepare best possible visuals, nor to rehearse our presentations with them. Practice a demonstration before you get in front of your audience.

Get the bugs out so you can smoothly present your message.

and failed miserably. He denied the Lord Jesus at His trials. But, did Peter's faith fail? The answer is, Absolutely not! Peter failed, but his faith did not fail. He did not lose his faith in Jesus Christ.

The question now arises, Why did Peter's faith not fail? The answer is that Jesus Christ prayed for Peter. Jesus said, "I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not." It was the prayer of Christ for Peter that prevented Peter from losing his faith. And this is precisely what Jesus Christ is doing in heaven for believers today. He is praying for them. He is interceding in their behalf. And the purposes of His intercession is to keep believers secure and to bring them safely to heaven. Believers will fail, but their faith will never fail.

You are today a Christian. Yet you have failed—and failed miserably. You have dishonored the Lord Jesus, and I would not want to excuse or extenuate your sin. The Bible never does this. Furthermore, the Bible tells us, "Whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap." But, failure and sin will not cause a believer to lose his salvation. If you are a true Christian, Jesus Christ is praying for you. He is praying daily for you. And because of His faithful prayers for you as a Christian, you will be kept secure and brought safely someday to heaven.

Jesus Christ said, "I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not."

FOOD CLIPS

If you're planning a salad with iceberg lettuce look for a head with fresh, crisp green leaves. According to U.S. Department of Agriculture you should check and see if it is firm—if it "gives" a little that's fine. If it's hard—it's overripe. Don't pick lettuce with spots or any discoloration because a little brown on the ribs may spread through the rest of the head.

Do you store eggs in the refrigerator? You should; it helps to maintain the quality. Do it promptly after purchase too. Always store eggs with the large ends up. If possible use eggs within a week after purchase. Leftover yolks should be covered with cold water in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator according to USDA.

COTTON

Don't let grass and weeds take over your cotton crop. Due to the lateness of planting, many growers did not get to apply their usual preplant or preemergence herbicides. This makes it more important than ever to do a good job of postemergence control.

If you apply a non-selective herbicide like herbicidal oil or Mobilux just as soon as a stand of cotton is obtained, weeds and grass should not become unmanageable.

Herbicides like MSMA or DSMA mixed with Cotoran or Lanex applied on small weeds and grasses give effective control. They can be safely used after cotton is three inches tall.

Once cotton reaches five to six inches in height, you can use the "hotter" or more effective materials. These include Caparol plus MSMA or DSMA or Karmex plus MSMA or DSMA.

If you are going to grow cotton profitably today, you must use herbicides and use them properly. Grass and weeds can slow development of cotton and with our late start this year, we just can't allow slow development.

FLIES ON DAIRY COWS
A survey by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that heavy fly populations can cost up to $40 per cow in loss of milk during the next 90 days. You cannot afford this loss.

To control flies you can use sack dusts, backrubbers or dusts and sprays. For sack dusts, use only three percent Ciodrin dust. On backrubbers, use Ciodrin, Co-Ral or Ronnel in oil. Read label restrictions.

On animals, you can use two tablespoons of three percent Ciodrin dust every two weeks, three tablespoons of five percent Malathion dust every three weeks or one tablespoon of 50 percent Methoxychlor dust every three weeks. Do not apply any of these materials within five hours before milking.

You can spray lightly with one percent Ciodrin or Clovax once a week.

SOYBEANS
The date that you plant soybeans should determine the varieties you plant.

Varieties best suited for planting through June 20-25 include Lee, Lee 68, Davis, Pickett 71, Semmes, Ranson, Coker 266 A and Hutton. After June 25 the best varieties will be Davis, Semmes, Bragg, Ranson, Coker 266 A and Hutton. Bragg is the most flexible of all these varieties in terms of planting dates. The varieties Ranson, Coker 266A and Hutton are not well suited to heavy clay soils, but could be planted on sandier soils.

Death Toll Decreases

A drop in the number of highway deaths during May has placed the Mississippi Highway Patrol traffic toll at a 16% decrease for the year.

Last year 57 deaths were reported in May, as compared to 41 this year. The Highway Patrol has recorded a decrease in fatalities in four out of five months thus far in 1973, resulting in 49 fewer deaths. The overall Mississippi fatality picture reveals a 7% reduction and fewer deaths for the year.

The recent arrival of 33 new moving radar units should be an added boost to the improving highway fatality figures. The new units will allow radar coverage of every county in the state.

A spokesman for the Highway Patrol said, "We feel the moving radar has greatly increased our effectiveness by enabling us to be seen by more motorists in a greater number of areas. By simply being present motorists tend to slow down and concentrate on safer driving."

Mrs. Lauderdale is retiring after 35 1/2 years of teaching in varied fields from first grade to high school social studies. She has been at Marietta for a total of 20 years - serving as 2nd grade teacher there for the past 10 years. Mrs. Lauderdale was born in Itawamba County, graduated from Thrasher High School and Mississippi State University, and began her teaching career in Houston. Bank Of Mississippi Announce Merger

The Presidents of the Bank of Mississippi, a North Mississippi regional bank with headquarters in Tupelo, and the Bank of Olive Branch today announced the intentions of their two banks to merge under the charter of the Bank of Mississippi.

Bank of Olive Branch President C. W. Kelly and

Bank of Mississippi President J. C. Whitehead said the boards of both banks have approved the merger and the approval of stockholders and governmental regulatory agencies will now be sought.

The Bank of Olive Branch, which has served the Olive Branch and DeSoto County areas since 1917, currently has assets of approximately $11 million. This merger, including another in the final approval stages, will bring the total assets of the Bank of Mississippi to more than $140 million and will increase to 13 the number of cities served by the bank.

President Kelly said that among the reasons for his bank's pending merger with the Bank of Mississippi are an expanded loan base, expanded investment and trust services, an industrial development department to assist in local industrial expansion, expanded data processing facilities and an overall increase in banking services. He added "We are serving one of the fastest growing areas in the State of Mississippi and have approved this merger to ensure that we can continue to provide adequate banking services to our area."

University, we feel we can better realize the potential Olive Branch has by expanding our banking service to this community," President Kelly said.

Bank of Mississippi President Whitehead welcomed the opportunity for his bank to become associated "with the fine officers and staff of the Bank of Olive Branch and the progressive citizens of Olive Branch. By combining the assets of our banks into regional banking facility, we can provide local prospective industry better local financing in addition to providing improved personal banking services. We welcome the opportunity to serve the Olive Branch and DeSoto County area."

"As a regional banking center, we can provide the needed capital for industrial construction and expansion, without that industry having to go out of state for financing. Also, it allows more than 1,400 bank stockholders to contribute to and profit from the growth of our state," Mr. Whitehead added.

OF 'MISS HOSPITALITY'

1200 Women Have Competed For Crown

This week marks the beginning of Mississippi's traditional "Hospitality Month" - a month when the state puts on her best dress and prettiest face for the benefit of visitors.

Once again the A & I Board's observance of Hospitality Month swings into action, with mayors and officials from towns and cities throughout the state being asked to cooperate. Governor Waller has said that the purpose of this program is "to encourage local people to promote the tourist business in their respective areas and to assure a hospitable welcome for the visitor upon his arrival."

He also said that the program has received the "wholehearted cooperation of scores of Mississippi communities since its inception in 1949."

Mississippi is the only state which officially declares Hospitality Month and which climaxes the activities with the crowning of a lovely Miss Hospitality to reign as the year's Ambassador of Goodwill. A valuable asset to the state, Miss Hospitality travels about 45,000 miles during her reign, attending several major travel shows in cities such as Chicago, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. From the attractive Mississippi booth she personally invites visitors to the state. She represents the hospitality of her people, serves as a model in state advertising and promotion material and attends conventions and other special events throughout the nation.

Since tourism is now the third largest industry in Mississippi, hospitality is a key word in helping the communities attract this added source of income. Last year alone more than $420 million in new money was brought into Mississippi by tourists, and again this year it is imperative the state's citizens do everything to put Mississippi's best foot forward and impress visitors with our hospitality.

Through the years of selecting Miss Hospitality, approximately 1200 young women have competed for the coveted crown, and each year the pageant held in Biloxi has drawn more contestants and more attention. An integral part of the state's tourist-advertising and promotion program, Miss Hospitality came into being June 8, 1949, when the first winner - Katherine Wright of Pascagoula was selected. The late Governor Fielding Wright placed the crown on her head and a kiss on her cheek, a tradition which successive governors were happy to follow.

For several years activities in the pageant were divided between Jackson and Biloxi, with the girls making the trip by bus. But in 1958 the procedure was changed and the entire contest now takes place on the Gulf Coast.

The unique pageant is not strictly a beauty contest. A panel of three out-of-state judges interviews each girl repeatedly to determine their selection of the winner. There are no "scoresheets" or tight standards by which to judge. Points to be considered are poise, personality, intelligence, and beauty. In short, the judges know that Miss Hospitality must represent the state all over the nation; they pick, then, the girl they feel can best represent Mississippi.

The object of the pageant is to select an attractive young Mississippi girl who will best show the gracious, friendly - yet dignified spirit of hospitality which has been traditional in Mississippi and the South.

Again this year, from July 25 to July 28 the Travel & Tourism Department of the A & I Board will sponsor the Miss Hospitality Pageant in Biloxi. Deadlines for entries to be mailed to the A & I Board Travel & Tourism Department is Monday, June 25.

It is the hope of the A & I Board that communities throughout the state will participate in Hospitality Month and do their part to produce favorable publicity

Magnet May Lift Pollution Burden M.I.T. Discovers

A new and underdeveloped use of magnetism for ecological use is being developed by Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientists.

Judged to be economically competitive with other methods, the technique supplies a sufficiently strong magnetic force to purify water and sewage, to remove 60 per cent of the sulfur from pulverized coal and to concentrate iron in low-grade ore, according to the news magazine of the American Chemical Society.

In laboratory tests with water supplies and sewage, the high-gradient magnetic separation (HGMS) removed phosphate, color, bacteria and other pollutants, and reduced the amount of suspended solids.

Economic recovery of iron from vast deposits of currently untreatable ores is also possible based on a successfully tested pilot-plant model called the Carousel, according to Dr. John A. Oberteuffer and David R. Kelland of M.I.T.

2 NE Students Win In Trouble-Shooting

Four auto mechanics students became this area's top "Road Scholars", today by winning the 1973 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest at Jackson.

The winning high school team was David Johnson (18) & Merle Wilder (19) of Pontotoc Ridge Area Vocational Tech.

The post-high school

scholarships and prizes for the winners and trophies, tools and automobile equipment for their schools valued at more than $90,000.

31 teams competed in today's contest. There were two students on each team. In the mechanical phase of the contest, the teams raced to their cars to find and fix several identical mal-functions deliberately hidden in the cars to keep them from starting or from running; properly once started. But before they started looking for trouble, the students took a final examination which counted as part of each team's final score.

The winning teams received a handsome trophy for their school and individual prizes for themselves.

Trouble Shooting is sponsored by Plymouth dealers to honor outstanding auto mechanics students and to encourage them to make a career as automobile service technicians.

Voluntary Alleviates Problem

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Despite continued reports of spot shortages, voluntary allocation of gasoline supplies appears to have alleviated some of the problems' Deputy Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon has told the American Automobile Association.

He added that though he also has the authority to institute mandatory controls and will hold public hearings to determine whether they will be needed during the tight summer season, the present "plan is about as voluntary as your income tax."

AAA's own Fuel Gauge Reports -- a survey of more than 250 gasoline stations in 16 states -- tends to confirm a current broad availability of gasoline for motorists. A pilot project the Fuel Gauge Reports soon will be expanded nationwide on a regular basis to let motorists know those travel designations where there is a tight or short supply of gas.

Simon, who as chairman of the Oil Policy Committee holds the power to implement rationing in a fuel emergency stressed that there still may be certain acute shortages in some areas from Memorial Day through Labor Day. However, Simon agreed with AAA that motorists need not shelve summer vacation plans if they and oil companies continue to cooperate.

Motorists can avoid major inconveniences in areas where gasoline supplies are tight by "driving on the top half," -- keeping their fuel tanks above the half-full mark and by filling up during the day on Fridays or Saturdays to skirt Sunday closings some stations now are employing.

AAA obtained from the Office of Emergency Preparedness, which is working closely with Simon, a breakout of current and potential trouble spots nationwide. It shows the number of service stations "closed" or "threatened closing" due to fuel pinches in each of 10 OEP regions.

A total of 562 stations less than a quarter of one per cent of the approximately 220,000 gasoline stations in the U.S. were closed as May 9, with 1,376 "threatened."

An oil industry spokesman indicated that a number of the closings, however, may not be directly caused by fuel shortages but by other factors. It is common for some 25 per cent of all stations to change hands each year -- bringing about temporary closings while the changeover takes place, he said.

Lasso® herbicide. When you've got no time to incorporate.

Foul weather last Fall and again this Spring has put soybean farmers way behind schedule. Some have even had to harvest last year's crop this year.

And this year there's very little time to get your beans planted and apply your herbicide . . . least of all to incorporate a herbicide.

Meet Lasso, the soybean farmer's foul-weather friend. Lasso is the preemergence herbicide from Monsanto. And it doesn't have to be incorporated. Just put it on at planting. One trip through the fields and you're finished. So you've saved some of that precious time.

Lasso used at the full recommended rate on the label will control or suppress Pigweed, Teaweed and Seedling Johnsongrass as well as many other broadleaves and grasses. These are the troublemakers that can compete for the early moisture and vital soil nutrients your soybeans need for healthy, abundant growth. (And if, like so many farmers, you've had to settle for a lower percent germinating soybean seed, this year, you know how important soybean safety is.)

Lasso is proved safe for soybeans. Won't attack young roots, or stunt young plants. Safe to soybeans . . . good control of many annual grasses. All this without having to incorporate. (Farmers with heavy buckshot soil take special note!!)

Maybe you can't do anything about the weather. But you can work around the dry days you do get for planting.

Lasso. Works effectively in most any kind of soil and with a little or a lot of moisture.

But especially, Lasso works without incorporation.

This year, make it Lasso.

When you haven't got time to incorporate.

FLAG DAY, JUNE 14

President Woodrow Wilson's eloquent address on Flag Day, June 14, 1917 is an effective reminder to all of the significance of Old Glory:

"We meet to celebrate Flag Day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choice is ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices whether in peace or war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us—speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and of the records they wrote upon it. We celebrate the day of its birth, and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people..."

THIS I BELIEVE

By Pastor Dannie Odle First United Pentecostal Church

Television is an accepted part of modern American life. The poorest pauper often owns a T. V. The dwelling may be a tent, a tarpaper shack or a tenement house, but there is usually a T.V. The family may not own a car or have a bathtub, but they must have a TV. In such a society a man who says he does not have a TV is regarded strange to say the least. What kind of a person would not have a television? Such a person is considered some sort of maladjusted freak who would admit such a nonconformity to the ideals of society. He is accused of being woefully ignorant of world events culturally deprived, and guilty of cruelty to his children, who are missing one of life's choicest blessings. At the risk of being misunderstood, ridiculed, pitied, criticised and even persecuted I am going to admit that I do not have a television. Further more, I intend to compound the situation by trying to defend my status as a non-television owner. At the risk of being thought mad, I am even going to suggest this as a more logical, a holier and a happier state than that of the tube owner. Bear with me in my folly. My personal happiness and well being, my personal salvation and eternal destiny, my personal character and integrity are all jeopardized by a TV set. Sure, I can choose my programs if I will. But will I? Yes, I can turn it off if I want. But will I? I do not have to let it come between God and me. But will I?

Television is a thief of character. It erodes the moral fiber of men. Seated in the seclusion of your home, you can have a private interview with the purveyors of sex and sin Madison Avenue glamorizes ungodly situation until every sin in the catalogue is paraded before you. There is a murder, an adultery, a fist fight and a gambling scene to choose from. In between, the best brands of beer are extolled by highly-paid hucksters. Movies that I would have been ashamed to enter a movie house to see are presented in the living room. Can I survive the assault of the devil? Did I pray today, "Lead me not into temptation, but deliver me from evil"? Then how can I open the door of my living room, my dining room, or my bedroom, to these beautiful devils of deceit. I cannot invite my arch-enemy to enter my home and devour me there. I fight to escape him elsewhere. I flee from his presence. My soul is at stake. I must be saved. I cannot take the risk of having the presence of a TV become my stumble stone. This thought shall be continued next week in this article.

Lions Sight Service will concentrate on screening employees in industries in the same 6-county area. All services to industries will be absolutely free.

Mr. Jams E. Pannell, Project Director of the Lions Sight Service, stated "During the school year our primary area of concentration was in the screening of school children and in performing followup work with the schools. We discovered many children with eye problems that were previously undetected. There is no doubt that many of these children had learning problems as a result of poor vision. In working with persons in industry it is our goal to detect eye problems that slow down production goals and that could lead to accident. Of course, our primary goal in all our testing work is to prevent blindness."

Mr. Glen Goodwin of Booneville is the Executive Director of the Northeast Mississippi Health Planning Council which funded the Project.

Three technicians from the Lions Sight Service, Inc. have been screening the eyes of employees at the Lucky Star Industry in Baldwin this week. They are using the Titmus Vision Tester, a device designed to test for visual

Misses Fulper, Carter Honored

MISS RAGINS

On Friday morning, May 25, Mrs. Carol Yarber, Mrs. Hubert McDaniel, Mrs. Dave Prichard, Mrs. Dewey Martin and Mrs. L. W. Peeler entertained in the home of Mrs. Yarber with a morning coffee honoring Miss Marilyn Carter, bride-elect of Harold T. White, Jr. and Miss Laura Fulper, bride-elect of Steve Hutchens.

White filigreed wedding bells and Lily of the Valley tied with white satin streamers adorned the entrance of the foyer where Mrs. Yarber welcomed the guests. The dining table, covered with an imported cut work cloth had a center arrangement of pastel daisies in shades of lavender, pink, blue and yellow, and miniature yellow and white carnations interspersed with gypsophylla.

A lovely array of delectables tempted the large number of guests who called during the appointed hours. The chafing dish held tangy cocktail franks, and trays of cheese and sausage balls, miniature bis-uits with ham, blue berry muffins, openface sandwiches and cookies. A fruit and melon compote was most tempting. Mrs. Peeler was at the coffee service and Mrs. Martin, Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Prichard assisted with serving.

The bridal motif prevailed throughout the reception rooms, with dainty pink roses, gypsophylla and white wedding bells artistically arranged. The coffee table held an arrangement of daisies in a crystal epergne and stately magnolia blossoms graced the mantel.

Miss Carter chose from her trousseau a green and white one piece dress and Miss Fulper chose yellow and white. Each was presented a corsage by the hostesses. Out of town guests were Mrs. Norman Fulper, Sr. of Florida, Mrs. Joseph Wagner and Charlotte of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. Herman Durr, Wrightown, N. J., Mrs. Jack Geeonaccia, Norge Va. Mrs. Howard Flurer, Columbia, N. J. Miss Cindy Fulper, Lambertville, N. J. Mrs. David Gray, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Jimmie Ellen Ward, Charles Brumley Wed In Church

In an elaborate summer setting of beauty and serenity, Miss Jimmie Ellen Ward became the bride of Charles Brumley in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church at 5 o'clock p.m. on May 12, in Booneville.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Ward. The bride-groom is the son of Mrs. Bruix Brumley and the late Mr. Brumley.

The Rev. E. S. Furr, Pastor, officiated as the double ring ceremony before a background of huckleberry greenery and centered with a semicircular brass candelabra holding pink tapers with seven branched candelabra and six tiered baskets holding pink gladioli and pink roses placed on either side.

The church pews were marked with bouffant bows of pink satin. These beautiful decorations were designed by Mrs. W. V. Kemp. The nuptial Prelude was presented by Mrs. Mary Gault Nabors, organist. John Andy Ward and William B. Ward, Jr. served as Acolytes. Preceding the singing of "The Wedding Song" by Michael Steen, soloist, Mrs. Nabors played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore an Empire dress of white silk organza. The Sabrina neckline was of scalloped imported Peau d'ange Chantilly lace. Lace motifs centered with seed pearls trimmed the entire dress which ended in a Chapel-train. Her full length mantilla illusion fell from a jeweled head clip. This wedding gown has been described as the interpretation of the 1971 White House Wedding gown. The bride's flowers were a cascade of pink

HOW HARD IS HARD

A growing number of our customers are expressing concern and puzzlement over how to interpret hardness claims made by the manufacturers of diamond imitations.

For example, the colorless material called Yag (synthetic garnet, often used under a variety of trade names as a diamond substitute) has a much-advertised hardness of 8½. This is correct, but only on the Mohs' scale of hardness. On Mohs' scale, diamond has a hardness of ten.

Mohs' scale is based on a simple scratch test devised 160 years ago, which experts now agree is a woefully inadequate basis for expressing the hardness of other gemstones relative to diamond. The Mohs' scale merely ranks various substances in order of hardness from one to ten; two will scratch one, three will scratch two. The distance between the number means nothing. No attempt is made to indicate how much harder one substance is than another.

Using Yag as an example again, on Mohs' it appears to be 85% as hard as diamond. Actually modern testing techniques show that diamond is 140 times harder than ruby, which itself is much harder than Yag.

Be careful how you relate the hardness of a diamond substitute to the real hardness of the true diamond. The information in this article often misleading.

and white roses, stephanotis, and smilax with white satin streamers.

Attendants For this colorful wedding the bride was attended by Miss Martha Carolyn Miller of Booneville as Maid of Honor. She wore a Rose Abstract Print organza in Pink featuring varying colors of green. A Bertha Collar framed the face of the flare skirts ended in a florence. The bridesmaids were Miss Tina Speed of Prentiss, Mississippi, Miss Debbie Lindsey of Booneville, and Miss Sherri Cousar of New Albany. They wore dresses identical to the Maid of Honor. Each of the feminine Attendants wore white, broad brimmed lace hats featuring of pink grosgrain ribbon band. They carried a single long stemmed pink rose tied with white flowing ribbons.

Mrs. Ward, Mother of the bride selected for her daughters wedding an electric blue chiffon dress with which she wore matching accessories. Mrs. Brumley, Mother of the Bridegroom, was attired in a pink crepe dress styled with an overlay of lace. Both mothers wore white orchids. Mrs. William L. Gullett, Sr., grandmother of the bride was costumed in a dress of Nile green. Her corsage was of White Carnations.

Reception Following the ceremony, a reception under the supervision of Mrs. Billy Joe McCollum of New Albany, was held on the patio of the church which was brilliantly lighted with flaming hurricane lamps. Mrs. Fred Fugitt, Jr. and Mrs. Richard Kemp welcomed the guests as they entered the beautifully decorated pathway. They were assisted by Mrs. Ralph Johnson and Mrs. Tate Oakley as circulating hostesses.

The bride's table was covered with a white maderia cloth which was draped with similar and caught with pink Satin bows and centered with a large crystal epergne filled with a spreading arrangement of pink and white carnations. The brides three tiered wedding cake was placed on one side. The anniversary cake was mounted with a miniature bride and groom placed under tiny wedding bells. Decorative pink sugar spun roses marked each tier. The Wedding Cake was served by Miss Debbie McCoy of Wheeler, and Miss Jane Davis of Ripley. On the opposite end of the table pink frappe was served from a candlewick crystal bowl which belonged to the brides grandmother by Miss Judy Barnes, and Miss Kay Rutherford. Giant Hurricane lamps completed this setting.

The groom's table was overlaid with a beige drawn linen cloth was centered with a rich chocolate cake cascaded with frosted grapes and strawberries. It was baked by a friend of the family, Mrs. David Bennett of Ashland, Miss., and served by Mrs. Wanda Crowe, Mrs. Becky Harris and Miss Patti Perry. Antique hurricane lamps cast a glow upon this unusual scene.

Miss Cheryl Hunter presented a medley of music on the piano which was placed on the patio.

Miss Marilyn Carter presided at the register which rested on a white linen covered table beside an arrangement of primroses. Rice girls were Miss Darlene Ward and Little Miss Nancy Neil Stutts, cousins of the bride.

For traveling the bride wore a navy and white ensemble which featured a red, white, and blue scarf. Her accessories were white and she wore a white orchid.

Upon their return from their wedding trip they will be at home in Corinth, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Childers, formerly of New Albany and now of Booneville also attended. A buffet of Ham, turkey casseroles, salads and relish dishes were served the guest.

Rehearsal Dinner The rehearsal dinner for the Ward-Brumley Wedding party was hosted by Mrs. Bruix Brumley and Mike Brumley, Mother and Brother of the bridegroom in the beautiful Antebellum home of Mrs. E. M. Cochran in Corinth, Friday evening, May 11, at 7:30. For an exquisite setting a color scheme of pink, green, and white was carried out through the reception rooms. A focal point of interest was a large white satin Wedding bell holding a bride and groom on an improvised altar and completed encircled with beaded hearts.

The bride and bridegroom table was laid with linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations, gypsophila, white pompons and leather leaf fern placed on an oval mirror. Gracing the sides were silver candelabra holding pink tapers and tied with pink satin ribbons securing white wedding bells. Other guests were seated at individual tables holding miniature arrangements of the same flowers and single pink tapers.

The invocation was given by Mike Brumley who also proposed a toast to the bride and groom in which he extended a gracious welcome to the bride into the Brumley family.

Miss Ward was attired in white silk dress with navy trim with which she wore a pink carnation corsage. Special guests other than the Wedding party included Mr. and Mrs. William B. Ward, Mrs. Fred Myers of Corinth, Mrs. W. V. Kemp, Mrs. L. W. Peeler, and Miss Cynthia Reeves of Tupelo.

Bridesmaids Luncheon One of the most beautiful parties of the Ward-Brumley prenuptial events was the bridesmaids luncheon given in the lovely Cherokee park home of Mrs. Kenneth Lindsey at 12:30 o'clock, May 12. Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Douglas Miller served as hostess and honored Miss Ward and her attendants.

The reflection of an artistic arrangement of summer flowers placed in front of the mirror of the hall tree gave a distinctive decor to the foyer where the twelve guests were greeted by the daughters of the hostesses, Miss Martha Carolyn Miller, Maid of Honor, and Miss Debbie Lindsey, bridesmaid.

The guests were seated at tables for four where their places were marked with place cards featuring two wedding rings caught with green ribbon and lilies of the valley symbolizing the double ring ceremony. The tables were covered with green and white striped voile cloths and centered with tiny green ceramic pitchers carnations accented with fern. A delicious three course menu was served.

Miss Ward wore a yellow and white knit trousseau dress designed with a yellow bodice embroidered in white upon which was pinned a gift corsage of white carnations. She presented each of her attendants with a gold bridesmaid charm engraved with the date of the wedding. The hostesses gave Miss Ward a crystal dinner bell as a memento of this occasion.

Guests in addition to the bride's attendants included her mother, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. William S. Gullett, her grandmother, Mrs. Bruix Brumley, Mother of the bridegroom and Mrs. L. W. Peeler who directed the wedding.

Little Knowledge, Bit Of Patience....

DETROIT -- "A little knowledge, a bit of patience, and some thoughtful driving will save you a lot of money", said Bob McCurry, Chrysler Vice President, U. S. Auto Sales and Service.

"Let's assume you drive an intermediate-sized car such as a Charger with a V-8 engine. If you cruise at 50 miles per hour rather than 70 you can save 4 miles per gallon (mpg) of gasoline. That really adds up.

"Steady driving is very important too. Set your speed and stay with it as long as traffic conditions will allow. If you vary your speed by 5 miles per hour in the 50-70 mph range, it can reduce your economy by 7 to 9 percent!

"Don't drag race away from a corner. It's illegal in many places and it can increase your gas bill by as much as 18 percent everywhere.

"Keep your car clean too. If you have 100 pounds of unnecessary tools or other ballast in the car it will nick you for .2mpg in city traffic and .1 on the highway.

KEEP CAR IN SHAPE
"Read your Owner's Manual and keep your tires at the correct inflation level. If they're soft they cost you in additional tire wear and 1/2 to 1 mpg of gasoline on the highway.

"Your car must be kept in tune if you expect to make the most of each gasoline dollar that you spend. If the ignition timing is retarded just 5 degrees it can cost 1/2 mile per gallon.

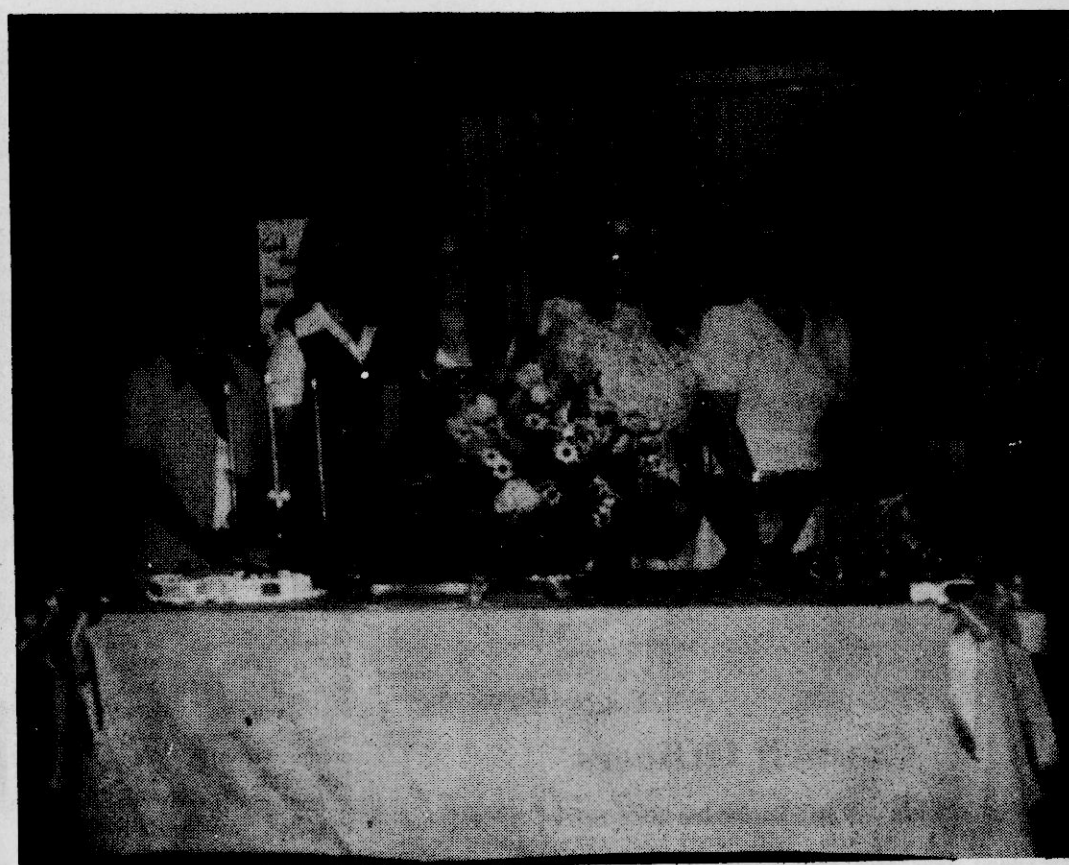

"There are a lot of 'saving graces' to improve gasoline economies, and you have to remember, and observe, them all. Front wheel alignment is vital to tire life and fuel economy. If the tires have just 1/4" extra toe-in it can cost you .3 miles per gallon at highway speeds.

"You can't change the weather but you can be conscious of what it does to economy. Wet pavement can cost up to 1 mile per gallon at highway speeds. If the temperature drops from 30 degrees to 10 degrees it can cost up to 1 mile per gallon at highway speeds. "Wind can help or hurt your mileage. Let's assume an 18 mile wind blowing from the West, and a vehicle traveling at 70 mph with no wind might get 13.9 miles per gallon.

"Short errands are the most costly of all. Trips of 1 mile may reduce your miles per gallon by as much as 40 percent over the economy you'd get on a ten-mile trip.

"The rules are simple: keep the car in shape, drive smoothly, and keep your speeds as constant as possible. Add up all the savings and you'll save quite a bit of money while helping to ease our national fuel shortage. Additionally, your passengers will enjoy your driving a lot more."

My poem for this week will be the Parsons Prayer by Ralph S. Cushman.

I do not ask
That crowds may throng the temple,
That standing room be priced,
I only ask that as I voice this message,
They may see Christ.
I do not ask
For churchy pomp or pageant,
Or music such as wealth alone can buy,
I only ask that as I voice the message,
He may be nigh.
I do not ask
For men may sound my praises,
Or headlines spread my name abroad,
I only pray that as I voice the message,
Hearts may find God.
I do not ask
For earthly place or laurel,
Or of this world's distinctions any part,
I only ask when I have voiced the message,
My Savior's heart.
