2 New Banks Approved

Two new banks have been approved for Prentiss County, it was learned here recently.

Officials of the State Bank Comptroller's office reported that the Baldwin State Bank gained approval the past Thursday. At press-time Wednesday, it was learned that a certificate of necessity and convenience had been issued to the Bank of Walnut to open a branch bank in Booneville.

Reliable sources close to the bank commented that the new name of the local bank will be the First Mississippi Bank of Commerce. The location of the new Booneville bank was tentatively set at 203 N. Second Street, which is the old Milton Ford building.

Further information was not available at presstime.

The Baldwin State Bank was approved last Thursday. The bank's incorporators were listed as Dr. John M. Ford, T. Charles Gower, Elbert F. Outlaw, Dr. Wallace E. Caldwell, Billy S. Davis, and James Mack Jones. Officials of the State Bank Comptroller's office commented that the new bank could go into operation soon.

The new Baldwin bank, which will construct a building in the shopping center on N. Second Street, will open as soon as the facilities are made available.

The bank was incorporated with 10,000 shares of stock at $25 per share. Sen. Bill Burgin was the Attorney for the bank.

Dr. John M. Ford, an incorporator of the new Baldwin bank, said Tuesday that the new facility "will offer the highest quality of service with the most courteous personnel." It was noted that the hours of the new facility will be quite different from those of the present bank...being open longer during the week-days and on Saturday.

When asked about the Saturday openings, the official said the bank will be open "at least until 3 o'clock." It will be fully equipped with night depository, drive-in window, and completely computerized service.

The new bank will offer the use of Bank Americard. Officials said the personnel for the new bank are still under consideration with a tentative opening date of 90 days.

Winter Reveals 6-Part Program To Combat Alcoholism In State

A six-part program aimed to combat alcoholism in the state was outlined here the past Thursday night by Lt. Gov. William Winter.

Winter was speaking to the Prentiss County Mental Health Association at the Northeast Miss. Jr. College cafeteria. He stated that "the abusive use of alcohol is unquestionably the major drug problem in Mississippi and the United States today."

The meeting was also the regular meeting of the Booneville Business & Professional Women's Club meeting. Other guests besides those members of the Mental Health Association listened intently to the Lt. Gov as he addressed the crowd.

"During the coming months and during the 1974 Session of the Legislature, we should give top priority to the most effective government action possible to combat alcoholism," Winter stated. "I pledge here tonight that I will lead the fight to strengthen our existing programs and to create new ones where needed."

The proposals made by Winter included an increased appropriation to the State Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism Program, governmental support for an early detection program in businesses and industry, expansion of the Alcohol Education Program in the State Department of Education, support for measures aimed to combat the drunken driver, a substantial expansion of the regional alcohol treatment program, and better coordination among all agencies dealing with the problem of alcoholism in Mississippi. "I will support needed legislation toward these ends," Winter stated.

"We have in Mississippi an estimated 64,000 alcoholics, who in turn affect directly the lives of some quarter-of-a-million people Mississippi has not been spared the waste of alcohol abuse," Winter remarked.

"While we agonize over the possibility that our children might join the ranks of the nation's quarter-of-a-million drug addicts, we barely consider the possibility that they stand a far better chance of becoming one of America's nine million alcohol abusers," Winter stated.

Winter went on to say, "alcohol abuse differs from other diseases or disorders because its ramifications are of a private and public nature. The alcohol abuser reduces his life expectancy by ten years, and spins a web of unhappy marriages, broken homes, desertion, divorce, impoverished families, deprived or displaced children--human misery which cannot be calculated. The alcohol abuser also endangers travelers, hampers law enforcement, reduces industrial efficiency, chokes medical facilities, inflates welfare rolls, and costs government $4.00 for every dollar spent on alcohol."

In reviewing the "alarming statistics" about alcohol abuse in both the nation and Mississippi, Winter said that "our task is to recognize the dangers inherent in the use of alcohol and take steps to identify and assist those who are alcoholics and potential alcoholics."

Regarding traffic mishaps due to the drunken driver, Winter cited the fact that in 1972 the Highway Patrol administered 21,000 tests under the Implied Consent Law, and 92% of these turned out to be under the influence of alcohol. Winter continued, "The bold tests revealed that 70% of the fatalities tested were under the influence of alcohol or intoxicated. Many of the rest were hapless victims of the drunken driver."

"I pledge my continued efforts to doing whatever is necessary to get the intoxicated driver off the Mississippi roads."

HERE TUESDAY

Local Man Robbed

Three men are wanted by Prentiss County Authorities for kidnaping and armed robbery here Tuesday afternoon.

Officials of the county Sheriff's office reported that an all points bulletin has been issued for the three men who kidnaped and robbed a Booneville businessman.

Sheriff Roy Elder said Bruce Lester, an employee of Pierce Appliance here, was the victim of the trio, who took approximately $600 in cash, a wrist watch, .38 calibre pistol and a Mason ring.

City Sales

On Upswing

Booneville's Sales Tax Collections for the month of April showed a marked increase over that of the months before.

Officials listed the collections as $19,764.50 for April, while the collections for one month earlier were $15,004.76. Those in the month of February were $15,688.99.

In comparing the collections in Booneville to that of other towns and cities in the area we find that Iuka, $10,481.24; Baldwin $9,482.51; Ripley, $15,476.33. This figure represents five percent of the retail sales for the City of Booneville.

Booneville Mayor Marion Smith encouragingly commented about the upswing in sales tax collections. He said that "this shows a remarkable increase in business activity in Booneville."

Lester, an electrician, was forced by three men to get into his own pickup truck about 3:30 p.m. as he (Lester) left the Hickory House Cafe where he had been drinking coffee, Elder said.

The three, two of them black and one white, forced Lester to drive to Wick Anderson School where they took the cash and other valuables, Elder said.

At this point, the white male told Lester to get into his pickup again and the two blacks stayed at the school, with a car thought to belong to the suspects, Elder stated.

The sheriff said Lester was then told to drive to the Bank of Mississippi Branch Bank on the east side of town - where he and the suspect went into the bank.

Along with the fun and sun of the summer, the Sunflower community has its own unique event. The event is the every-day stench and disease infestation of the city dump. This community eyesore and health menace will get a summer pick-me-up when the heat of the sun activates more rapid breeding of flies, gnats, mosquitoes and other numerous vermin. Located within ten city blocks of a residential area, the dump provides the residents of the area with all the smoke, filth, and stench that they will require to make their summer miserable. It also provides the residents with reduced property values (an event they will most surely appreciate) and a limited resale market for their property.

It has been publicized that the city has been given a deadline for the discontinuance of open burning, but I wonder on behalf of the community, just what the city intends to do about the hazards of garbage strewn about the ground with no regard for public safety.

There are whispers and rumors floating around the area to the effect that Sunflower may be slated for a colored community center. There has been one preliminary meeting of a few residents to discuss the possibilities of such a structure and what it would mean to the Black Community and to Booneville as a whole.

It would seem that the long outlawed separate but equal custom still prevails in some areas of the country. According to the director of City Parks, when the West Side Center was built rules and by laws were set up to insure that no Blacks would be allowed to hold membership in the center. What is surprising about this deplorable situation is that the center is erroneously called the Booneville Community Center and the rule still stands.

As a concerned citizen I wonder if a community center in the Black Community is a means of pacification rather than a means of broadening community relations.

Who Is To Blame For Drug Abuse

Is it parents' fault that many young people choose drugs as their "thing" in life? Is it the times? The generation gap? Something, surely, is causing the drug cult, with its accompanying death, crime, and misery.

Professor Alvin Toffler in Future Shock (Bantam Books) charges that "Allan Ginsberg and Timothy Leary (are) the two men most responsible for creating the hippie life style, with heavy accent on drug use" and that the drug cultists promote their merchandise with high powered promotional efforts "like any good corporation."

Toffler cites a letter from Ginsberg to Leary, in which Ginsberg wrote:

"Yesterday got on tv with N. Mailer and Ashley Montagu and gave a big speech.....recommending that everybody get high.....Got in touch with all the liberal pro-dope people I know to have (a certain pro-drug report) publicized and circulated.....I wrote a five-page summary of the situation to this friend Kenny Love on The New York Times and he said he'd perhaps do a tory (newswise)...which could then be picked up by U.P. friend on national wire. Also gave copy to Al Aronowitz on New York Post and Rosaline Constable at Time and Bob Silvers on Harper's...."

To this hard evidence that the liberal media, knowingly or not, collaborated with drug pushers, Toffler comments:

"No wonder LSD and the whole hippie phenomenon received the mass media publicity it did. This partial account of Ginsberg's energetic air press agency, complete with the Madison Avenue suffix 'wise' (as in newswise) reads precisely like an internal memo from Hill and Knowlton or any of the other giant public relations corporations whom hippies love to flagnellate for 'manipulating' public opinion. The successful 'sale' of the hippie life style model to young people is one of the classic merchandizing stories of our time."

Drugs and the drug cult did not, therefore, arise because parents, or teachers, or clergymen, or the police of this generation are any less dedicated than those of past generations. We are burdened with a runaway drug problem because it is being sold as a way of life to young by the "liberal pro-dope people" and "mass media publicity."

SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE

By Professor J. Kenneth Williams

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Should a guy and girl tell their parents where they are going on a date? My parents always insist on knowing where we go and when we are going to be home. This seems old fashioned.

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Yes, I think your parents should know where you go on a date and when you will be home. There are some very good reasons for this. It doesn't mean that you are so "adolescent" that they have to know every move and word said on a date. The fact does exist that emergencies do occur and parents need to get in touch with their sons or daughters; and, of course, there are certain places they might not approve of your going if they were advised in advance.

It's just "good business" and good good training for later adulthood to let someone know where you are or can be reached, either immediately or at least within a very short time. Even if a date is a last minute affair and no one may be at home when you leave, by all means, leave a note and let someone know your plans.

Young people learn habits and attitudes in their teens that will go with them throughout their lives.. Unless constructive habits and attitudes are internalized, behavior can be seriously affected later on. In your case, unless you learn some system and order in your life now, you may find the lack of such system and order very frustrating and damaging to your relationship with others later on.

What if something should happen that you and your date should be kidnapped, physically harmed, or just disappear through criminal action? At least your parents, would know where you said you were going and can start the search from there.

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Just how much should parents tell their children about the "facts of life"?

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: A short and concise answer is to tell them all they want to know. When children begin to ask questions such as, "Where did I come from?" "How did I get here?"; "Did the stork bring me?" and so on, they should be given the answers in very simple wording.

Too often, parents evade questions by giving some excuse for not answering. This is one of the major reasons why children seek or learn sex information from other sources which often involves misinformation.

When your child asks questions about how he's different from the opposite sex, or about his body, or shows an interest in these things, don't be alarmed; he's merely curious and seeking information. He wants and deserves the answer. It should be straight-forward and in words he can understand.

If parents feel that they're inadequate to explain sex information they should get a book to help them. Books are on sale in practically any book store which helps parents tremendously. These books aid in telling how to approach and handle the subject of reproduction and sexual behavior in an organized and simple manner.

If the child's questions are always answered, he'll go to his parents for information; if not, he'll get answers elsewhere which may or may not be in his best interest. Personally, I would rather tell our children about sex rather than letting learn from their friends; I know what I'm going to tell them; I'm not sure what they might hear or read from other sources.

note: If you have a question you want answered, write Professor J. Kenneth Williams, SUCCESS IN MARRIAGE, c/o this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Airplane Being Shot At ...By Home Folks

Congress shot down our own supersonic plane before it ever got off the ground. With an unreasoning fair approaching superstition, Congress decided maybe we'd better not.

The airplane, once heralded for adding a whole new dimension to our nation's expansion and for rescuing us from enslavement by Hitler and Tojo--that same magnificent flying machine is now being shot at by home folks.

They call it noisy, dirty and a disturber of the peace. They blame it for heart attacks, miscarriages, broken windows and nervous poultry. So superplanes are still-born and VTOLs (vertical takeoffs and landings) are stillborn. Airports are not being built and few are being expanded.

The builders and fliers and users of aircraft have pulled in their necks, hunkered in their shells, hoping the flak would subside.

For so long our airmen have been forced to flight pulled-punches wars abroad that they have been preconditioned to approach the challenge at home with anxiety, timidity and apology.

Recently, Jim Taylor of Cessna dared to plead aviation's

PAUSE FOR POWER

Biblical Distinction, Standing And State

One of the supremely important distinctions in the Bible is the distinction between standing and state. This distinction is underscored especially in First Corinthians 5:7: "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened." Did you observe the seeming paradox in that verse? The Bible says, "Purge out the old leaven...as ye are unleavened." Leaven in the Bible is a symbol of sin. Now, if a believer is already unleavened (that is, without sin), how could he possibly purge out the old leaven? If a believer is without sin, why would God command him to purge out sin? The answer to this seeming paradox is found in the Biblical distinction between standing and state. In his standing before God God sees the believer in the perfect righteousness of Jesus Christ. He is absolutely without leaven. But in his state, that is, in his conduct, God sees the believer in his sins and failures. Now this distinction between standing and state, a supremely important distinction, is the Biblical distinction between justification and sanctification. Justification is a believer's standing. This is perfect. Sanctification is a believer's state. This is imperfect.

Let us look at this distinction.

First, justification is our standing before God. The Bible says, "Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Romans 5:1). Justification is simply the sovereign act of God's free grace whereby he forgives us our sins and imputes to us the righteousness of Christ. To state the contrast succinctly, justification is the immediate act of God whereby he declares the believing sinner righteous, whereas sanctification is the life-long process of God whereby he makes the believer righteous in conduct. Justification changes the believer's standing before God. Sanctification changes the believer's conduct before men. Justification is invariably first, but it is always followed by sanctification.

Moreover, the work of divine justification is perfect. We are justified by God, and anything that God does is perfect. The Bible says, "Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth" (Romans 8:33). Once God justifies a sinner, no one can ever level any charge against the believing sinner. Our standing before God is absolutely perfect. This standing before God can never be improved, neber be developed, and never lost.

But there is another side to the coin, and that is a believer's state. A believer's state is his present conduct in this life, and that state is imperfect. This believer's state is known in the Bible as progressive sanctification, and progressive sanctification is all the gracious and continuous work of the Holy Spirit in the life of a believer by which the Holy Spirit liberates the believer from indwelling sin, transforms him into the likeness of Jesus Christ, and enables him to do good works.

Progressive sanctification, as the word implies, is a growing and developing thing. No one this side of Heaven will ever be entirely sanctified. There is always room for growth and development and improvement in progressive sanctification. No one is perfect here. A believer is perfect in his standing before God, but imperfect in his conduct.

And yet, it is always true that a believer's state, his conduct, serves as unimpeachable evidence of his genuineness of his salvation. The transformed life is the proof of genuine salvation. No believer, of course, is perfect. He will sin; but if a professing believer continues in his old conduct and habits, and there is no change in his life whatsoever, then there is a very good possibility that he has never been truly regenerated. A believer's state serves as an index to his standing before God. Jesus Christ said, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

Here then is a supremely important distinction. It is the distinction between standing and state, between justification and sanctification. A believer's standing before God is perfect, because the believer is seen in the perfect righteousness of Jesus Christ. But the believer's state is subject to change; and it is subject to change because it depends, in part, upon a believer's earnestness in doing the will of God. To that degree to which a believer is earnest in studying God's word, in obeying God's word, and in submitting to the ways of Jesus Christ, to that degree will he grow in sanctification. My eternal destiny in heaven depends upon my standing, but my effectiveness on this earth depends upon my standing, but my effectiveness on this earth depends upon my state.

Jesus Christ, therefore, said, "Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth; (John 17:17).

PLAN HOME DECORATING

Before planning your home decorating, arm yourself with facts. Guesswork, random opinions and incomplete facts and figures are not enough. Fit furniture to the room. Rooms should be lived in and used. A too perfect room is like an exhibit in a museum. Furniture should be placed with regard to the everyday needs of the whole family. Chairs should be placed in friendly conversational groupings with large pieces of furniture paralleled to the walls. Furniture should be in proportion and scale to the room.

Build your furnishing arrangement around a specific center of interest.

In most homes today, this has to be planned. A fireplace, large windows or a piece of furniture could be the core of the emphasis center.

If you want a room to appear larger, consider wall-to-wall carpeting. Select light wall colors. If the ceiling is low, use furniture with low horizontal lines. Murals and mirrors can help create a feeling of more space.

If a room needs to appear smaller, use area rugs and select larger figured patterns for walls, upholstery materials and draperies. Use larger chairs and tall pieces. Warm colors also help.

If dark rooms need to be brightened, try painting walls and ceilings in light colors. Use bright upholstery materials and draperies. Use larger chairs and tall pieces. Warm colors also help.

If dark rooms need to be brightened, try painting walls and ceilings in light colors. Use bright upholstery materials and draperies. Use larger chairs and tall pieces. Warm colors also help.

In making a room seem darker, use cool colors such as blues, greens, browns, taupe or lavender. Upholstery and draperies can be in darker shades. Darker or neutral colors are best for floor coverings.

Remember these pointers to help you get on with your decorating. They will also save time if you are planning to call on professionals for help in designing your home.

BRIDGE for EVERYONE

James Kerry

When playing rubber bridge it is well to remember that the most important item is to make the contract and never endanger it just to score an overtrick as South did in today's hand. South's attempt to explain to his partner how he went down one on this hand fell on very unsympathetic ears. We suspect that he did not take time to count his winners and, therefore, fell into a common defensive trap.

North-South vulnerable. North deals.

NORTH		503
♦ 43	♥ AK7	♦ AKQ3	♠ A842
♣ K1052	♦ 976	♥ 108	♦ QJ96
♦ 98	♦ J1065	♣ K10965	♠ J7
SOUTH		503
♦ AQJ8	♥ 5432	♦ 742	♣ Q3
THE BIDDING:
South West North East	1 -	2 ♠	Pass
	1 ♠	Pass	2 NT
	Pass	Pass	3 NT
	Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening lead - Six of clubs.

North had a very strong hand and his second bid of two diamonds hardly does justice to it, however, the best contract was reached on the bidding shown.

The opening club was permitted to run to declarer's queen and after a quick survey South decided the hand was a shoo-in, probably with overtricks.

He entered dummy with a small diamond to the ace and returned a small spade finessing the jack. West permitted the jack to hold the trick and, unhesitatingly, dropped the deuce.

Declarer now tasting three spade tricks returned to dummy with another diamond and lead his remaining spade to the queen finesse. At this point West grabbed the king and a heart return locks declarer in dummy forevermore.

South just saw three spade tricks reduced to one, the jack, and the contract lost, held to only eight tricks.

When West held off on the first spade finesse it was a calculated risk but had nothing to lose since declarer had nine tricks from the word "go." West gave him a chance to go wrong and he took the bait.

You can see the importance of counting your winners before playing to the first trick, especially in no trump. In rubber bridge if the contract is cold, take it and get on with the next hand.

For a new appreciation of the environment, better health through exercise, and just for fun, try bicycling. 4-H members advise.

They point out that more and more Americans are turning to cycling for recreation, exercise and to help cut air pollution and traffic congestion. Making up a sizable portion of the current bicycle drivers are some 265,000 young people affiliated with the national 4-H bicycle program.

Supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, the program is sponsored by The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company. It stresses proper care, maintenance and the use of bicycles. And with increasing numbers of riding paths, trails reserved lanes and training, the 4-Hers feel that bicycle safety records can be greatly improved.

The young people claim that developing good bicycle driving habits makes the transition to safe automobile operation that much easier. And they see the program providing an outlet for their leadership talents as well as a good way to share their enthusiasm and know-how with others.

New opportunities for recognition in the 1973 program have been announced by the National 4-H Service Committee. Up to four attractive medals of honor are offered for the first time in each of the 3,000 U.S. Counties. These are provided by Goodyear as are other awards for Junior leaders in the program. . . a $50 U.S. Savings Bond to the state winner . . . 12 expense paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago Nov. 25-29, as sectional awards . . . and six scholar ships of $700 each for national recognition.

Comments And Opinions

Paul Harvey

cause, but, wouldn't you know, his audience was a Canadian convention of industry people who already agreed with him.

He told them what he should have been telling you-- new planes, quiet and smokeless, are threatened by blind, prejudiced ignorance.

We owe aviation for much of the world trade supremacy we are now losing.

We'll never be out of debt to Wilbur and Orville Wright and their heirs for "bringing us together" or for the payrolls or for weather forecasting, rescue, blight control, fire fighting and the phenomenal fallout of medical techniques and devices.

Aviation research introduced us to the myriad uses for plastics, nylon, fiberglass, heatproof ceramics, solid-state electronics, seat belts.

A lot of guys skidding on airport runways taught us how to design highways to limit similar hazards.

So the characters who holler only that "airplanes are noisy and dirty" are misleaders who are costing us more than we can afford.

Aviation-related industries had better save some of the time, effort and money they've been spending on competing and instead co-operate--toward beefsteaking their black eye and throwing some counterpunches.

Now a footnote:

Sixty-five years ago a teacher of deaf students in the United States, vacationing in Canada, became interested in man-carrying machines.

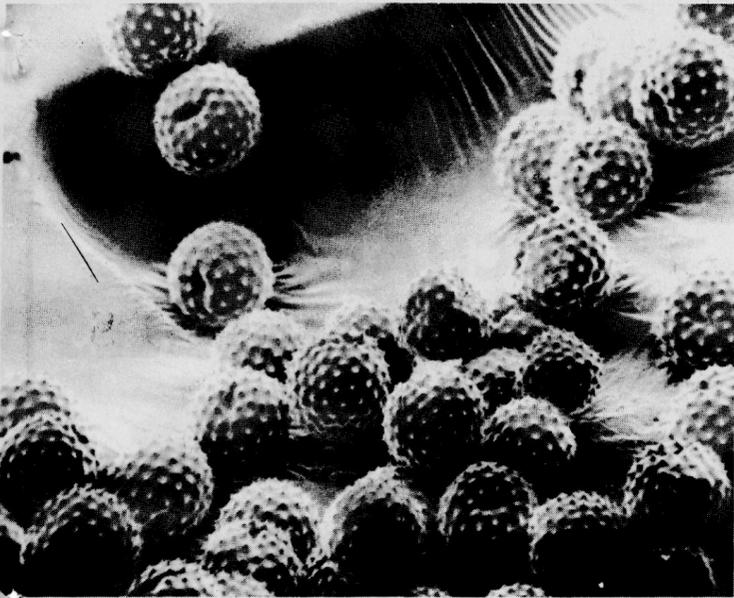

It was he who brought two engineering students and an Army Lieutenant and a motorcyclist together in a five-man group called the "Aerial Experiment Association."

These men developed the aileron. They developed lighter, more powerful engines. They developed the tricycle landing gear. One of the five was first to fly a machine in public 319 feet.

Where the Wright Bros. had been secretive, these five brought aviation out into the open and thus sent the industry on its way.

The motorcyclist had a name airmen will recognize: Glenn Curtiss.

The organizer of the association, the teacher of deaf students whose fascination with aviation prospered us all, was Alexander Graham Bell. Now you know the rest of the story.

Mrs. Copeland then told the story of Jazz and Marsha, Cissy and Leah did a routine to the tune of Vibrations.

She's An Authority On Cookery...

CHICAGO, Ill., -- "What temperatures and methods are now recommended for cooking pork?" "How should fresh meat be stored?" "What's the best way to cook a frozen pot roast?" "Does microwave cooking affect the flavor of beef?" "How will the new system of meat labeling affect the homemaker?"

These are just a few examples of the myriad of questions which Reba Staggs might be called upon to answer in the path of a day's work. And answer them she does, with all the gracefulness, knowledge and reliability which only years of study, research and experience can provide.

Miss Staggs, who is recognized throughout the country (and even beyond) as a foremost authority on the subject of meat and meat cookery, is Director of the Home Economics Department of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

In today's fast-moving world, helping the homemaker with her meal problems is far from just supplying a few helpful hints and recipes. It means providing correct information not only to homemakers but to others who work with today's and tomorrow's homemakers: food editors, teachers, dietitians, etc. It means being counselor, advisor and researcher on every facet of meal planning, buying, storage, preparation and serving. It means keeping up with every new development and issue related to meat -- from livestock feeding to open-date labeling to meat prices. A home economist expert must even be something of a crystal-gazer (with educated guesses, of course) as to coming trends in the field of food preparation. And she has to stay up with the research literature -- on sanitation, preservatives food additives and food and nutrition studies.

"Meat is the food store item on which most homemakers spend the largest share of the food dollar, and it is the food around which most meals are planned," she says. "Therefore it is doubly important that homemakers know what meat cuts they are buying and how to prepare and serve each cut properly to avoid those heartbreaking disasters at dinner time." So Miss Staggs, who started her career as a school teacher, still spends most of her time teaching others -- how to select, cook and care for meat.

She points out that with a little care even the most economical cut of meat can be turned into a tasty, nutritious entree of which the most famous chefs would be proud. "While steaks and chops get top billing when one's thoughts turn to meat, these cuts represent only a small part of those available at today's meat counter," she advises. "From the proverbial ground beef to pork shoulder and lamb shanks -- each can be prepared to suit even the most finicky eater if cooked by the proper method." Broiling, pan-broiling and roasting are recommended for the tender cuts; braising, pan-frying and cooking in liquid for the less tender.

"New meat cuts and products developed to meet the mode of living of today's homemaker appear in the market every day," says Miss Staggs. "Moreover, through research, we've been able to improve cooking methods to assure maximum satisfaction when the meat is served.

"Take pork, for example. There is now no cut of fresh pork that needs to be cooked to the 'old' 185 degrees F. temperature. Careful research studies during the past 10 years show that an equally desirable and more juicy end product results from the 'new' 170 degrees F. internal temperature or degree of doneness. And pork cooked at 325 degrees F. oven temperature instead of the older, higher oven temperatures results in less cooking loss or shrinkage."

She also notes that fresh meat, prepackaged by the meat retailer (self-service) may be placed in the refrigerator in the original wrap for up to two days, or it can be frozen without re-wrapping and stored in the freezer for one to two weeks. "By the same token," she adds, "self-service meats that go into the freezer for longer storage should be re-wrapped in moisture-proof wrapping materials."

Speaking on other trends in the meat industry, Miss Staggs explains that boneless beef cuts grew out of industry economics and consumer desires. "Boneless cuts mean less in the way of shipping costs, and consumers like boneless cuts because they are more compact and easy to handle, lend themselves more readily to rotisserie cooking, both indoors and out, and are easy to carve," she says. "Incidentally, an 'old wives tale' which should be laid to rest is that grilled or broiled meat should be seared to 'lock-in' the juices. Searing is more apt to 'lock out' the juices, resulting in a less juicy, less tender, and somewhat shrunken roast, steak or chop," she advises.

About pre-frozen meat: "While many homemakers have not yet accepted the concept of purchasing meat in frozen form, most of them will buy fresh meat and freeze it a home themselves. Once they are convinced that pre-frozen meat has as good or better quality as the unfrozen product, they will recognize its practical benefits -- it has been frozen scientifically, almost instantaneously at temperatures of minus-60 degrees F. or lower, reducing moisture loss and retaining more flavor, and it comes professionally wrapped for the freezer."

Planning research studies such as the ones on pork, which were carried out at Iowa State University and Kansas State University, are part of Miss Staggs' responsibilities at the Board. She also spends much of her time consulting with manufacturers of kitchen equipment, utility companies, institutional and quantity feeding personnel and authors and publishers who come to her for reliable information on a variety of topics related to meat, such as tenderness, quality, palatability and new developments in the field.

Power Supply Adequate

Electric power supplies are expected to be adequate this summer for Mississippi's homes, farms, businesses, and industries, the Mississippi Public Service Commission said today.

Commissioners Norman A. Johnson, Jr., and John L. Dale.

"While other sections of the nation—particularly the Northeast—are experiencing electric power supply difficulties, we believe that the electric power supply for Mississippians at the present time is sufficient to meet the needs of our people," the statement said in part.

The Commission pointed to the fact that it has sought at all times to promote the development of adequate power supplies in Mississippi while at the same time seeking to maintain rates which are economically sound.

"The nation is unquestionably in the grip of a major energy squeeze," the statement continued. "This places great burden on electric power generation. Electric suppliers in Mississippi are making great efforts to maintain these fuel supplies, and so far they have been successful."

The Commission said that it recognized the tremendous problems posed from fossil fuel shortages and actions by the Federal Power Commission is granting an order to gas suppliers under which they limit gas for electric plant power generation, and stated that the Public Service Commission was taking every possible step within its power toward helping to secure national policies which would maintain energy supplies at an adequate level.

It was noted by the Commission that because of the action of the Federal Power Commission in limiting the use of natural gas by the electric companies and substitution of more expensive boiler fuels, electric bills will include what has come to be known as a fuel adjustment factor which will make electric bills somewhat higher. This, of course, is not due to any act on the part of the Public Service Commission which has granted no rate increases.

In its statement, the Commission said that it had made a survey of electric utilities with generation capacity in Mississippi and that there is adequate capacity in existing plants and through interconnections with other utilities to provide needed electric service.

It was pointed out that "while any man-made enterprise is subject to problems," electric curtailments are not expected in Mississippi this year.

TELEVISION

This is the final article in this series on the subject of Television. For more serious is the threat that television is to children's inner stability. The violence to which this generator's youth is prone has been traced by reputable authorities to the fact of a generation raised on television. The sex saturation to which television and the movies have subjected them has made them lose the sanctity of marriage and the home. I do not want to raise children that are sensual or violence prone. Law keepers in the Old Testament were instructed to daily, constantly remind their children of the principles of the law. An evening of adultery and divorce, mayhem and murder, drunkenness and dancing is certainly no inducement to righteousness. I know that television can become a baby sitter that will free the parent from close supervision. I know that it is easier to yield to the pressure that (1) the neighbors all have one so why not you, or (2) they will grow up to be backward and slow in their studies or, (3) they will resent you in the future because you have not provided them with a television. But I have found that none of these arguments are valid. There are many things the neighbors do that I don't want my children to do. I cannot shirk my responsibility as a parent. I cannot afford to have a television.

Some have defended their use of television by the claim that they feel it is worthwhile to watch the religious programming. First of all, I could not afford to stay home from church and watch television, for the Scriptures warn me that we should not forsake the assembling of ourselves together. I would have to choose between a Roman lecture or an ecumenical sermon from a liberal theologian. Where can I find a program that was geared to the gospel? A message of "do the best you can" or just to accept Christ is not the Gospel. The Gospel of the death, burial, and resurrection in its fullness cannot be found. Peter's message on the day of Pentecost is the Gospel message for this day and hour.

My Conclusion: I am better off in every way not to have a television set. I have not missed anything except slanted new, old re-run movies that I wouldn't go to see when they were new. And new ones that are so lousy that I would be ashamed to watch them. I have missed educational films that educate away from God, religious programs based on bad doctrine, beer commercials, and all the rest.

For these and many other reasons, I am glad that I don't have a television.

Weekly News Summary from the Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Waller has called for the creation of a single federal "umbrella" agency to deal with the problems stemming from the current energy shortage. In testimony before the Oil Policy Committee June 13, in Washington, Gov. Waller said the energy crisis "is the biggest problem facing our nation today, because it involves the very essence of our economy and our way of life—our standard of living."

In urging the creation of the new agency, Gov. Waller urged President Richard Nixon to take action: "Rather than a piecemeal solution Mr. President, let's have a law that will give us an umbrella agency for energy. It would give us the exploration, production, transportation, refining, and distribution systems necessary to keep this nation in an adequate supply of energy."

The Oil Policy Hearings were called to receive comment and testimony on all aspects of the program of voluntary allocation of crude oil and refinery products.

Gov. Waller was one of two governors scheduled to testify before the Committee. The Trustees of the Schools for the Blind and Deaf in Mississippi are visiting and studying Blind and Deaf Schools in other Southern states in order to improve the Blind and Deaf Schools in Mississippi.

A special study committee of the Trustees have visited Blind and Deaf Schools in Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana. The Committee plans to visit Tennessee in the near future.

J. L. Rankin of Clinton, Chairman of the special study committee, said visits to other schools are educational because other schools have faced and overcome problems "similar to ours".

In ceremonies last week, Tom Parry, President of Mississippi Chemical Corporation and Gov. Bill Waller announced a $43 million expansion of Mississippi Chemical's fertilizer manufacturing facilities at Pascagoula and Yazoo City, Mississippi.

Mississippi Chemical Corporation is the State's largest home grown industry and employs 1,100 Mississippians, who earn an annual payroll of $10.5 million. Founded in 1948 as the world's first farmer owned nitrogen fertilizer manufacturer, Mississippi Chemical produces over two million tons of plant food annually at major manufacturing complexes at Pascagoula, Yazoo City, and Donaldsonville, Louisiana.

Parry said the expansion will allow Mississippi Chemical to make an additional 1.6 billion pounds of fertilizer yearly. Last year Mississippi's 93,000 farmers used 1.6 billion pounds of fertilizer.

Nearly 10 of the $43 million will be spent for advanced pollution control equipment.

Parry said the expansion program will create 500 new construction jobs in Mississippi for the next 24 months.

In a press conference last week, Gov. Bill Waller said he felt a Southern Democrat might be nominated as Vice-President on the Party's next Presidential ticket.

Waller said many Southerners represented the average Democrat more than George McGovern.

The Governor predicted the Democratic Party will have "a revival of interest" among Mississippians and Southerners.

Gov. Bill Waller said last week backwater flooding in Sharkey, Issaquena, Warren and Yazoo Counties remains serious although the flood waters are receding.

The Vicksburg District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers forecast water elevations of 94.0 feet for June 20.

"Draw an imaginary line from Yazoo City west to Holly Bluff, west to Cary and west to the Mississippi River. All lands south of the line, except for the higher land along Deer Creek and the Big Sunflower River will remain flooded. This will be approximately 300,000 total acres of which approximately 115,000 acres is cleared farm land," Waller said.

The Mississippi Arts Commission recently received $11,000 in grants from the National Endowment for the Arts for the State's "Artists in the Schools" program.

Mrs. Theo Inman, a member of the Arts Commission said $6,000 of the funds would be used in a film program in the Gulfport Public Schools.

The Commission received $5,000 to continue the poetry program in indifferent schools. Last year the program was used in Laurel, Hattiesburg, and Winona.

Last Friday Gov. Bill Waller spoke to the Southaven Chamber of Commerce and participated in ground breaking ceremonies for the new Holiday Press facility at Holiday Industrial Park in Olive Branch.

The new 256,000 square foot printing and publishing plant will print national magazines such as SATURDAY EVENING POST, HOLIDAY INN MAGAZINE.

Saturday is the date of the annual Batesville Art Mart.

The Mississippi High School Championship Rodeo will be held in the Cart-hage Coliseum June 26-30.

IRS Forms For Hospitals

JACKSON, Miss - New instructions covering Phase III price controls for institutional providers of health care, including hospitals and nursing homes, are now available at offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

The instructions, spelled out in a revised IRS Form S-52, cover the reporting and auditing of revenues and price increases by Health Care institutions. Both old and new forms are used to calculate projected cost increases to support increased prices and to request exceptions from Economic Stabilization Program regulations. The new form provides step-by-step methodology for making the required computations.

The revised form does not alter the basic rules. However, it does clarify some of the old ones. One feature of the S-52 is a new standardized audit package which gives the Internal Revenue Service a better informational tool with which to determine if hospitals and nursing homes are complying with stabilization regulations.

The form was revised after a series of consultations with representatives of the health services industry and with independent hospitals financial and accounting specialists.

While institutions can raise individual prices to conform to cost changes, they remain limited under Phase III as in Phase II, to a 6 percent increase in annual revenues due to price changes. In addition, they cannot increase prices to cover total wage increases of more than 5.5 percent, and non-wage cost increases of more than 2.7 percent of total costs in the previous year without an exception authorized by the Cost of Living Council.

The new S-52 must be used by institutions whose budgeted fiscal years begin on or after July 1, 1973. The previous S-52 Form is to be used by providers whose budgeted fiscal years end on or before June 30, 1973. Hospitals with a budgeted fiscal year that includes both June 30 and July 1, may choose to use either version of the form, but must continue to use the S-52 for all filings in that fiscal year.

In addition, an addendum to the old Form S-52 has been published to adapt portions of the step-by-step methodology used in the new form for those fiscal years which are required to or may be reported on the old form.

3 Win Trip To Boston

A trip to historic Boston and a chance to win college scholarships is on the schedule next week for Eddie G. Reed, 20, of Rt. 1, Box 220, Dennis, and Wister R. Martin, Jr., 21, of Rt. 1, Belmont, students from Northeast Mississippi Junior College, and their instructor D. E. Wisenant, of 114 Smith Dr., Booneville.

They will travel to the National Finals of the Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, which will be held on Boston Common on June 26. The students will be among 113 teams representing all 50 states who won the all-expense trips in a regional elimination contest this spring.

Their goal will be a national championship and a share in more than $90,000 worth of college scholarships and other prizes for the contestants and trophies, tools, and automobile components which will be used as training aids by their schools.

A total of $37,000 in scholarships tops the prize list. The first place team in each of two classes, high school and post-high school, wins $5,000 in scholarships. Each team placing in the National Finals wins for its school a new Plymouth engine and transmission, complete with accessories, for instructional use in the school's auto mechanics shop, and a large trophy for its school. Each participating team receives a complete set of tools for its school.

The finalists are America's most talented auto mechanics students. They have emerged from among some 165,000 students who tried out for their schools' Trouble Shooting teams. They compete in two-man teams. Each team takes a written examination, which contributes to its final score, and is then assigned to a new 1973 Plymouth automobile in which several identical malfunctions have been concealed in advance by expert technicians. Working against the clock and each other, under the eyes of a team of judges, contestants seek out and correct the hidden problems.

After being properly weighed, examination scores are combined with the finishing times in the mechanical competition to determine the overall winners of the contest.

The Trouble Shooting program, now in its 25th year, is sponsored by the Chrysler-Plymouth dealers of America in cooperation with the more than 2,000 schools involved. Since becoming a national event in 1962, the program has offered scholarships to 240 students.

PEARL QUALITY

This is the last of the articles on pearls for while as June, the pearl month, comes to an end.

The basic factors that fine jewelers consider when judging the value of a cultured pearl are lustre, orient, color, shape and size.

Color refers to the background or "body" tint of the pearl. Most popular are the white or cream color pearls. Just below the surface of nacre, may be another color which is called the orient. Most desirable is a rose, or slightly pinkish shading.

The lustre of a pearl depends on the relative smoothness of the surface, thickness of the nacre coatings, and ability to reflect light. Cultured pearls with a high, silky sheen are the finer quality.

The translucency of a pearl adds to its mysterious beauty, for then the orient and lustre are most apparent. The texture of round, spherical pearls, should be free from blemishes for best quality. Blemishes are whitish patches, small "bumps", and a patterned or grained surface.

Pearls have been appreciated by man since he first walked the sandy beach and picked up this "gift of the sea".

When you purchase your pearls be sure you know what you are buying.

For economical air conditioning —

Fan setting: Operate as you like best. "Auto" gives better humidity control and economy. "On" gives more uniform air motion, sound level and temperature.

Away from home: Set unit at 5° to 10° above normal setting with fan on "Auto" for mildew protection and quick comfort when you return.

Filters: Replace regularly. Clogged filters make unit work harder and cause higher operating costs.

Outdoor section: Keep clear of plants and obstructions.

Return air grill: Don't block air flow with furniture or drapes.

Windows and doors: Shut out heat from the sun with drapes or outside shading.

Insulation: Adequate insulation and proper attic ventilation will result in lower operating costs.

Rebecca Rogers Becomes Bride Of William Swanner In Greenville

Rebecca Ann Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Rogers, became the bride of William Eugene Swanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rother Swanner, in an afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Greenville. The Rev. G. Barry Landrum officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

George Edward Rogers is formerly of Booneville. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. David Turner, organist, and Willard Harrell was soloist.

Vows were exchanged before a background of cathedral candelabra entwined with fern and holding white tapers. In the foreground were candelabras holding white tapers and arrangements of white spring flowers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of pea de faille with the empire bodice fashioned with a dutchess neckline and Juliet sleeves. The rounded yoke of English net was applied with Chantilly lace, beaded in seed pearls. Appliques in floral designs extended down the front of the bodice and a border of scalloped lace finished the hem of the controlled A-line skirt.

The bride's veil of illusion was attached to a matching Queen's cap and she carried a bouquet of white bride's roses and stephanotis entwined with lace and ribbon streamers.

Julia Rogers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joanne Anderson, Harriett Peoples and Sara Swanner, sister of the groom, all of Greenville.

The attendants wore dresses of spring print with the waist emphasized by a satin bow and band of Samaron Rose. The dresses were designed with self-ruching at the V-neckline and they carried nosegays of rose buds and gill carnations in shades of pink.

The father of the groom served as best man. Groomsmen were Bob Swanner, brother of the groom, of Greenville, Richard McVea of Merigold, and Joe Lane and Charles Berry, both of LeLand.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rogers wore a formal gown of pink chiffon with Alencon lace bodice styled with cuffed neckline and long fitted sleeves. The groom's mother chose an ice-blue formal of chiffon designed with a cowl neck and a full skirt.

The reception was held at the church following the wedding. The bride's table was overlaid with a white organdy cloth. Silver candelabra filled with spring flowers in shades of pink were placed on each side of the wedding cake. Punch and coffee were served from round tables covered with pink floor-length cloths

MR. AND MRS. DAVID JONES

Mary Jane Hill Weds David Wayne Jones

The First Baptist Church in Booneville was the setting May 18 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for the wedding of Miss Mary Jane Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hill of New Site and David Wayne Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit V. Jones Jr. of Booneville.

The Rev. Tom Rayburn, pastor, performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The nuptial prelude was presented by Miss Becky Knight of Tupelo, organist. Miss Rosemary Downs of Booneville soloist, sang "The Twelfth of Never" and Miss Knight accompanied her on the song "The Wedding Song." Miss Knight played the traditional wedding marches.

Candlelights and soft greens accented the beauty of the sanctuary. Simulated candelabra entwined with Southern smilax and trailing boxwood holding lighted yellow tapers, which reflected the beauty supplied by the wrought iron baskets filled with yellow gladioli and white daisies and stately Boston fern trees, flanked the altar. The reserved Church pews were marked with a single yellow candle and tied with sprays of smilax and yellow satire bows.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was radiantly beautiful in a white silk organza over peau de soie wedding gown designed by her mother. It was fashioned with an A line skirt ending in a single row of lace which fell from an Empire bodice featuring long fitted sleeves with satin covered buttons. This lovely gown was enhanced by Motifs of re-applied lace above a detachable waist line train. Her three tiered veil of English illusion fell from a Juliette cap edged with pearls interwoven with lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies centered with a white orchid. Streamers of white satin ribbons fell from the bouquet.

pack trips, picnics, and other outings.
Each Cub Scout Pack encourages its family-centered program by planning special summer activities around a monthly theme such as Flags of America, Cub Scout Chefs, and County Fair, according to George Walsh, Council Commissioner, Yocona Council, Boy Scouts of America.
Mr. Walsh said that the Packs also may feature hikes, ball games, field meets, athletic events, visits to recreational areas, or activities related to swimming, fishing, and boating.

"These boys, who are 8, 9, 10, have the most free time in the summer and have the greatest need for Cub Scouting," Mr. Walsh said. "And we find they're not all away on vacation at the same time."

A Cub Scout in a Pack that has earned the summertime pack award now also may be recognized with his own distinctive, gold-toned metal pin which is worn on the Cub Scout uniform shirt.

Packs qualify for the National Summertime Pack Award if they conduct three pack activities -- one each during June, July, and August. Dens are eligible for den participation ribbons if they average at least 50% or more of their members at the three summertime pack activities.
The Yocona Council assists the packs by providing a Cub Scout Day Camp, Fishing Rodeos, and Swim Parties during the summer.

Summer is here and the "Marriage Bug" has taken a rather large bite out of the young people of this community. At least three new families have come into existence in this month and at least two more are scheduled for July. New families include the Robert Swinney family, the Gary Grizzard family and the Edgar Simmons family. Those soon to become families are the James Bennett family and the Charles Harris family. Congratulations and good luck to each new family and to those that are soon to be.
The Spring Hill District Sunday School and Church Training Congress held recently in Verona was attended by several area young people. Among the youth were Cassandra Gardner, Melinda Pierce, Janice Lasley, Tinnie Pierce and myself. The National Baptist Congress held in Indianapolis, Indiana was attended by Orpheus Triplett, a recent graduate of Booneville High School, the Rev. Bill Ragins and the Rev. Willie Shinault. Beckley Chapel CME Church, under the pastorship of the Rev. Guyton, is currently holding its revival services.

The BTA held a dance featuring the rhythms of "Black Smoke" this past week in the West side Center. I hear from reliable sources that another dance is slated for the very near future.
The BTA holds regular meetings each Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the Spring Hill Church.

James R. McCreary Gets Listing In 'Personalities Of South'

The son of Booneville residents has been selected for listing in the 1973 edition of "Personalities of the South" and also in the 1973 edition of "Who's Who in Georgia."

Officials said James R. McCreary of Trenton, Ga., son of Mrs. W. A. McCreary and the late Mr. W. A. (Bud) McCreary of New Site and Booneville received the distinction.

He is principal of Davis High School and Davis Elementary School.

McCreary has also served as a classroom teacher at Dade County High School, and as principal at North Dade School and at Lookout Mountain Junior High.

Southerners chosen for the forthcoming edition of "Personalities of the South" are individuals who stand out from their peers and are deserving of commendation for excellence and achievements in business, the professions, government and in community and civic activities, according to K. B. Newton, editor of the biographical publication.

To be included in this year's edition are the biographies of Governors George Wallace of Alabama, Jimmy Carter of Georgia, Winfield Dunn of Tennessee, and other heads of state government as well as Senators and Representatives and other outstanding Southerners.

"Who's Who in Georgia" is a compilation of biograph-

Tishomingo Park Manager

JACKSON. . . Dr. John M. King, Executive Director of the Mississippi Park Commission, announced that Leon Ferguson has been named as the new manager at Tombigbee State Park.

J. E. Blanchard who served as manager at the park for the past several years recently resigned his position to assume management responsibilities at Olive Branch Country Club.

Dr. King stated, "Leon Ferguson and his wife, Bernice, served for four years as manager and hostess at Tishomingo State Park until being transferred to Tombigbee and are best known for developing Tishomingo Park into the beautiful and well-maintained park that it is today."

"Mrs. Ferguson's outstanding service as hostess and group camp manager at Tishomingo will be extremely valuable at Tombigbee Park," Dr. King said. "Tombigbee has the most modern group camp facilities of any park in the state and Mrs. Ferguson's experience and ability should be well used here."

For group planning retreats, Tombigbee offers two ultra-modern group camp dormitories and a group camp cafeteria building, all of which feature year-round comfort systems.

Dr. King emphasized, "We know Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson will continue to perform at Tombigbee in the same outstanding manner as they did at Tishomingo and that their knowledge and experience in park management will contribute toward future improvement of Tombigbee State Park. We want to invite all residents from Tupelo and the communities surrounding the park to come by and meet Leon and Bernice Ferguson."

Goldman Will Represent County At Workshop

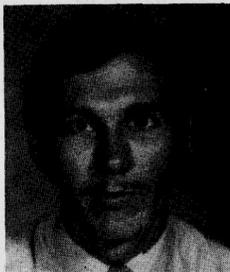

Steve Goldman of Thrasher will represent Prentiss County at the fifth annual Environmental Conservation Workshop being held at the University of Mississippi, June 18-29.

Mr. Goldman teaches ninth-grade science and math at the Booneville High School. He graduated from the University of Mississippi in 1971, with a BS Degree in Biology and is presently doing work toward his Masters Degree.

As a member of Gaston Baptist Church, Steve is also very active in church work. He was instrumental in recently forming a county-wide church softball league.

These accomplishments and qualifications led the Booneville Civitan Club to select Mr. Goldman as the recipient of a $75 scholarship to attend the Teacher's Conservation Workshop at Ole Miss. At this workshop, Steve will be provided with the latest information on current conservation practices. He and other participants will have the opportunity to acquire knowledge which will enable them to educate the young citizens of our nation in the values of natural resource conservation.

Subjects will be taught by professional foresters, biologists, conservationists, and by members of the staff of the University of Mississippi. Excellent field trips are also planned. One of the sponsors of this workshop is our own Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Civitan's believe in their motto: "Builders of Good Citizenship". They feel that by participating in events such as this, they are having an important part in helping to instill in young people the responsibilities of good citizenship. Club President Gerald Carter asks that the people of Booneville continue their fine support of the club in its efforts to make our city, county, and nation a better place in which to live.

To avoid "hydroplaning" during wet weather, the Tire Industry Safety Council recommends two important steps for all motorists: Make sure your tires have sufficient tread depth -- at least more than 1/16 inch -- and slow down.

Future Policewoman

Mrs. Frances Herb (right), former Chicago policewoman and member of the University of Mississippi Law enforcement faculty, discusses careers in law enforcement with Ole Miss students (from left) Betty Burress and Nita Shugars, both of Booneville.

Roadblock To Violence Proposed...

UNIVERSITY, MISS., -- A possible roadblock to violence which erupts in bloody shoot-outs between police officers and criminals has been proposed by a former Chicago policewoman now on the University of Mississippi law enforcement faculty.

Women police officers, according to Mrs. Frances Herb, tend to defuse volatile situations and provoke less hostility than men.

"Substantial benefits have accrued from assigning women a broader law enforcement role," Mrs. Herb explained. "One is a reduction in the incidence of violence between police officers and citizens when women are assigned to patrol, because men by their attitudes and behavior frequently elicit anger and violence, while women tend to diffuse it."

Criminal psychology also places great value on physical strength and in many encounters male officers assaulted because they represent a male authority figure which makes them fair game, according to Mrs. Herb.

"This happens particularly if the encounter takes place in the presence of their peer group where such values are shared. A female officer could avoid such assaults merely on the grounds that while it may be heroic to physically take on another man (particularly if he is a police officer) it is cowardly to attack a woman even though she is a police officer."

Another benefit afforded by use of women police officers is a decided increase in the department's crime-fighting capability, she said.

"Women seem to have a special ability to elicit important information from both suspects and victims. Then, too, women may improve the image of the police because the public can begin to see the police as public servants who care about those who need help."

As an example, Mrs. Herb cites one case in which a city employed women as security guards in a public housing project.

"They found that the women tenants appreciated them because, while the male guards did not seem to have their interests at heart, the female guards sympathized with the plight of the woman who called for assistance during a family crisis and brought compassion and understanding when responding to a call of distress."

Women police officers have demonstrated their ability to handle serious situations in many parts of the country, Mrs. Herb said.

"In Miami, policewomen walk downtown beats; in New York, they are assigned to the Detective Bureau, where women are used interchangeably with men in the Bureau's various units -- investigating burglaries, auto thefts, and narcotic violations. Others patrol Times Square and crowded department stores looking for pickpockets and confidence men and women" she added. "Indianapolis was the first city to assign uniformed women regularly to a patrol car."

According to the Ole Miss faculty member, police departments experiencing difficulty in recruiting qualified applicants are disregarding women as a great potential resource.

"Many women want to be police officers. Ole Miss has 25 women presently enrolled as majors in its law enforcement program," she said.

Why do women want to be police officers? According to Mrs. Herb it is because the salary is generally equal to that for male officers. Another reason is the same as men give for entering police work: an opportunity to perform a useful service.

Air Conditioner Can Give Motorists Relief

WASHINGTON, D.C.-- By turning on the air conditioning, or getting a little fresh air, motorists can avoid the frustrations during the hot and muggy days ahead. And a little fresh air for the tires will also aid in avoiding a lot of frustrations.

"One of the most persistent problems in tire care and safety is underinflation," says Ross R. Ormsby, Chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council. "Underinflation causes an excessive build-in of heat in a tire, and heat is its worst enemy."

Ormsby notes this problem is very evident during the summer months when families are taking longer trips, and vehicles are often overloaded. One strong recommendation of the Council is for motorists driving long distances at prolonged high speeds to inflate their tires 4 pounds per square inch above the auto manufacturer's recommended inflation levels found in the owner's manual, but never to exceed the maximum level found on the sidewall.

The Council also offers these summer driving tips: 1. Make sure your tires have not worn to less than 1/16 inch in any two or more adjacent tread depth grooves. Replace immediately if they have worn to this danger point.

Tires have built-in "wear bars" which appear as smooth bands across the face of the tread when it has worn to 1/16 inch. Another method for checking tread depth is to take a Lincoln-head penny and insert it into the tread groove. If the top of Lincoln's head is visible, then the tire should be replaced.

2. Examine your tires for any cuts, bulges or knots. Should you find any, remove any foreign matter which may have become trapped in the tread grooves.

4. Never "bleed" your tires when they are hot after prolonged driving. They will eventually return to their normal pressure.

5. Look out for "summer lice." Sudden showers mix with the oil and grime on the road causing a light film and bringing about "hydroplaning" conditions. Slow down and drive according to conditions.

The Council also notes that underinflation can add a strain on the car's motor as there is more road-resistance, cutting down on potential gas mileage.

"A good way to realize greater gas mileage, tire life and increased safety is to slow down," Ormsby points out. "All drivers should realize the cost factor, both for economics and safety, is greatly increased for the car going at 70 miles per hour compared to one traveling at 50 mph."

Inflation should always be checked when a tire is "cool," or before starting out on a trip. It is also advisable to check the pressure with an individual hand gauge as service station air towers are often inaccurate. Make a mental note of how much additional pressure each tire needs, and add air at the local service station.

The need for proper inflation was dramatically pointed out by researchers of the National Business Council for Consumer Affairs, U. S. Department of Commerce. Their surveys found that underinflation from 4 to 12 psi cuts tire life from 10 to 40 percent.

Miss Crabb Becomes Bride Of Mike Johnson

On Friday evening, May 25, at seven o'clock, Miss Cathy Crabb became the bride of Mike Johnson in one of the most impressive ceremonies of the season. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Crabb and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson.

A full length maunna bordered in lace fell from a matching bow. Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby breath centered with a lavender orchid and ribbon streamers of white and lavender satin. Miss Cindy Crabb, only sister of the bride, attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a lavender gown of crep with a deep neckline and long sleeves trimmed in lace. She wore a white lace hat accented with a lavender satin ribbon. The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Goddard, cousin of the bride, Miss Sandra Presley, Miss Judy Bethay and Miss Trace Arnold, cousin of the groom. They wore gowns identical to the maid of honor. They also wore white lace hats accented with lavender satin ribbon. They carried bouquets of white roses, lavender mums with baby breath and lavender and white satin streamers, fashioned after the brides bouquet.

Johnson, mother of the groom, selected a gown of aqua crepe. Both mothers wore white orchids. Mrs. Nina Pounds, grandmother of the bride wore a dress of white and lavender. Mrs. R. C. Crabb, grandmother of the bride wore navy and white. Mrs. Bonner Arnold, grandmother of the groom wore blue crepe. Mrs. Nolen Johnson, grandmother of the groom chose blue crepe. All grandmothers wore white orchid corsages. Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents held a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with white satin and overlaid with white taffeta net. White satin bows intertwined with white carnations caught each corner of the tables. Green palm trees were placed on each side of the tables, white baskets of white gladiolus were placed behind each table. A silver candelabra adorned the table. The punch was served from a silver punch bowl with nuts and mints served from silver compote bowls. Live lavender asters topped the all white three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Lavell McCreary of Tupelo, Mrs. Virginia Goddard, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Mary Joyce Jones and Mrs. Kathleen Arnold, aunts of the groom, presided at the bride's table. Tea girls were Tammy McCreary, Tupelo, Anita Gerrell, and Shelia Johnson. All wore gowns and each wore a white carnation corsage. Rice girls were Jennifer Jones and Kathy Arnold, cousins of the groom. They wore identical gowns of lavender and carried white baskets filled with lavender rice bags.

As director of the wedding, Mrs. Ronny Guin, cousin of the bride, wore a gown of floral silk jersey. The bride chose a two piece blue silk jersey for traveling. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a trip to the Ozarks the couple will live at Wheeler until entering college this fall. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Caver, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Faust and Kevin, all of Florence, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bishop, Chris, Ralph Jr., Russellville, Ala., Mrs. Ann Blanchard Memphis, Tenn., Miss Mildred McVay, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCreary, Debra and Tammy, Tupelo, Miss., Rev. and Mrs. Trent Grubbs, Jim Myers, Corinth, Miss., Martha Norton, Belmont, Rehearsal Supper Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson entertained the wedding party and guests at the Town Motel on Thursday night. A floral arrangement of red and yellow gladiolus centered the table of the bride and groom. A buffet meal was served to the wedding party and guests. The bride wore a gown of pastel green and pink for the occasion.

Miss, Mr. and Mrs. James Crabb, Cincinnati, Ohio, Dennis Hines, Corinth, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reed and Al, Water Vally, Miss., Deda and La Doska Bennet, New Albany, Miss., Mrs. Clytee Barber, Mrs. Charles Rowan and Pat, Baldwin, Miss., Donna Eldridge, Rienzi, Miss.

Butch Caldwell and Glenn Bennett also lite the candles. The solist, Cindy Crabb, sister of the bride, sang "For Once In My Life" and "The Twelfth of Never". The lovely bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a beribboned empire gown of organza. Sequined chantilace formed an apron effect down the front of the traditional styled gown. Lace trimmed the high neckline and full bishop sleeves. A chapel train fell from the waist that had rows of small buttons accenting the back.

Mitch Johnson, only brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Donald Johnson, father of the groom, Glenn Bennett, Butch Caldwell, and Joe Storment of Belmont, Miss. The vows were exchanged before an altar of the wedding ring circle of candles intertwined with greenery. Huge baskets of white mums and gladiolus were used along with greenery on each side of the circle of candles. The memory candle was lite by the bride and groom during the ceremony. After the exchange of vows the couple knelt while Cindy Crabb sang the "Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Crabb, mother of the bride was attired in a gown of light blue crepe. Mrs.

Lex Cain, County Superintendent of Education, announces the retirement of Henry Christian, Bus Shop Manager, and James Bush, bus driver, at the end of the 1972-73 school year.

Mr. Christian has served as manager of the Prentiss County School Bus Shop for 21 years, beginning his service under the administration of County Superintendent Cecil Lauderdale in 1952. The bus shop began operation in a shop located near Mr. Christian's home, with only 36 buses in his care. As the county began to buy up all privately-owned buses, the bus maintenance operation grew to three full-time employees and, in recent years has moved into a new and modern facility on Fairgrounds Road. This year Mr. Christian was in charge of 59 buses on regular routes, 6 spares, and 6 service vehicles. He has served under the administration of four County Superintendents: Cecil Lauderdale, J.P. Crabb, Mrs. W. M. Murphy, and Lex Cain.

James Bush began driving a school bus in 1946 to the Gift School. He has since driven to Carver, Wick Anderson, and Thrasher under the administration of County Superintendents J.P. Crabb, R.E.L. Sutherland, Cecil Lauderdale, Mrs. W.M. Murphy, and Lex Cain. Mr. Bush drove his own bus for 9 years, beginning with a 1936 GMC truck with the cab removed and a red bus body built over it. He has worked for five different principals, including Dumber Calomese, Mark MaGaha, Mr. Trice, James L. Triplett, and E.M. Hamblin.

Mr. Bush and his wife, Theola, have three children; Sim Edward Bush, who is with General Motors in Cleveland, Mrs. Armentha Naylor, a cashier from Tampa, Florida; and Mrs. Bobbie Evelyn Nixon, who is a bookkeeper in East St. Louis.

Out in the fields with God The little cares that fretted me

I lost them yesterday, Among the fields above the sea Among the winds at play, Among the lowing of the herds

The rustling of the trees, Among the singing of the birds The humming of the bees, The foolish fears of what might happen,

I cast them all away Among the clover -- scented grass,

Among the new-mowed hay, Among the husking of the corn Where drowsy poppies nod Where ill-thoughts die and good are born -

Out in the field with God.

Officials said Lester attempted to get the money at Pierce Appliance prior to this, but to no avail.

Lester was made to tell the banker he wanted $4,000 in one-hundred bills. When the bank teller said that she didn't have that kind of money and would have to go to the main office to get it, the suspect apparently panicked and ran, according to the sheriff.

The trio are believed to have escaped in a late model Monte Carlo Chevrolet with a black vinyl roof over yellow.

Lester was not injured. The white suspect was described as about 5' 10" tall, long blond hair, blue knit suit with a white shirt and weighing about 150 lbs.

One of the black subjects was described as heavy built wearing a straw hat and a checked shirt and the other suspect was described as being a small man.

Sheriff Elder said that the FBI and special investigator Sam Allen have been called in on the case. The robbery is still under investigation by officials here.

It was learned Wednesday that Mr. Lester's daughter Mrs. Brenda Sue McClung was a teller at the Bank of Golden when it was robbed several weeks ago.

The Booneville Police Department is helping with the investigation.

Girl Scouters At Camp Tik-A-Witha

One hundred thirty two Girl Scouts from 28 communities in the Prairie Girl Scout Council are spending a busy two weeks at Camp Tik-a-witha.

Horesback riding, Red Cross swimming instruction, archery, astrology, arts and nature crafts, folk dancing and music, canoeing, primitive camping and backpacking are the most popular activities during the first of three camping sessions at the newly developed 261 acre campsite just off the Natchez Trace at Van Vleet.

There is also a Counselor-in-Training Unit composed of Senior Girl Scouts who take a month's concentrated course for two consecutive summers in order to qualify as bona fied camp counselors. Holders of Counselor-in Training certificates are accepted as staff members in any camp in the United States.

Twenty-four staff members from 8 states are serving as counselors and instructors for Girl Scouts of the 19-county area of the Prairie Girl Scout Council. A registered nurse is in residence, as well as a dietitian and full kitchen staff.

Mrs. Robert Dows, Board Member and Trainer from the Tenn-Ark-Miss Council is serving her third year at Tik-a-witha. "Having been active in Girl Scouting all over the world and directed camps in Japan and Memphis, we feel most fortunate to have her for director of our camp," said Mrs. Howell H. Gwin, Executive Director.

There will be two more camping sessions at Tik-a-witha beginning June 24th and July 8th. There are a few openings available at present in the Junior, Cadette, and senior levels. For information concerning registration for these call Columbus 328-1930 or write to P. O. Box 2492.

'He Is Out Of Step With People..'

"We are not surprised that Governor Waller is still married to the National Democrat Party. But we are disappointed that he doesn't realize the value of the two-party system in this State. He is out of step with the people of Mississippi."

servative would be Edmund Muskie or Teddy Kennedy. "I should be remembered that he was making these same profound predictions in 1972, when the Democrats nominated McGovern. To Waller's credit, he stood loyally by."

for that "good" Southern Democrat, LBJ, John Kennedy would have never been President."

"As the ultra-liberal con men of the Democratic Party know, the Vice Presidential nomination means nothing unless the President dies. These people would be more than happy to let a Southerner run for Vice President along with their liberal Presidential nominee, knowing that the Vice President would be powerless, in exchange for the support of the South," stated Reed.

"But the South is now wise to the "Kennedy Shell-game" that Waller is peddling. The Governor is living in a dream world. Fortunately, the people of Mississippi are awake, and not buying."

"We shudder to think where Mississippi and the United States would be if Waller's candidates like McGovern and Humphrey had been elected," the Chairman stated.

So, said Mississippi Republican Party Chairman Clarke Reed following Governor Waller's statement yesterday that a Southerner would be the 1976 Democrat Vice Presidential nominee.

"Waller's blind loyalty and optimism about the Democrat Party may be admirable, but very few people believe like he does that the Democrats will nominate a conservative in 1976," said Reed. "By McGovern Democrat standards a con-

"The Governor's "snake oil" about a Southern Vice President has conned the South for decades, but it won't work any more," said Reed. "Roosevelt, Stevenson, and Kennedy all had Southern Vice Presidential nominees. If it hadn't been

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS CHILD?

THE HEARTENING STORY OF A MARCH OF DIMES POLIO "MODEL"... AND HOW CHIROPRACTIC CARE ENABLED HER TO WALK AGAIN.

Pictured here in striking contrast is five year old Winifred, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gardella of Stockton, California.

Winifred was The March of Dimes "Poster Girl" in 1952 and 1953. Many of you probably remember her as standing in a hospital crib on large posters which were used in the '52-'53 campaign. For her services in this "campaign" Winifred received two years of treatment under the direction of the "National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis." At the end of the two years, the inset photo was taken. Winifred had received from the National Polio Foundation a life sentence to wear the crutches and braces with which she is shown. They further termed her "A Hopeless Paraplegic".

Pictorial Evidence of Dramatic Victory of Chiropractic Over Polio in the Case of "March of Dimes" Poster Girl, Who Walks Again

The second, or main photo, was taken six months after the first one. As is plain to see Winifred is taking a brisk walk. Pictured walking with her is her Chiropractor, Dr. Lewis Robertson, Santa Cruz, California. After being deemed hopeless by her Medical Doctors and sentenced to life as a cripple, Winifred's grand parents refused to give up. They turned to Chiropractic. They were satisfied beyond all expectations as results came quickly. The Gardellas termed their granddaughters recovery as a "miracle", but others know that such results are common as witnessed in many similar conditions. Thus, in the field of Chiropractic, the case of Winifred Gardella is no exception. It is the rule where Chiropractic skill and knowledge are applied together in the early stages of polio.

The most wonderful thing about this example of modern Chiropractic at work is not the fact that Chiropractic is good for polio. Similar case histories can be produced on cases of cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, and even multiple sclerosis, while modern science spends millions of dollars each year searching for cures for these crippling diseases, it may be that he is looking in the wrong direction. Modern medicine seems to be persuaded that the cause of all disease is outside of the body. We are told that our bodies, though Gods supreme creation, are subject to invasion by countless thousands of bacteria and viril. All the time this "scientific pursuit" is going on the chiropractic profession remains silently in the background; 'Doing their thing.' Chiropractors have for years believed that the cause of disease was hidden in the failure of human body to change to change and adapt to environmental stresses. These stresses then overcome the natural resistance of the body and health is lost. Only when the body is returned to a state of structural and functional order can health return. Perhaps this explains the "miracles" that happen every day in Chiropractors offices. It seems that in our pursuit of health and happiness, we "can not see the forest for the trees". As Thomas Edison said, "The doctor of the future will give no medicine, but will interest his patients in the care of the human frame, in diet and in the cause and prevention of disease." Chiropractic is fulfilling that prophecy!
