'Divide Cut' Gains Committee Approval

If an additional $1 million for the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway wins approval, it will probably be spent on channelling Yellow Creek to Highway 25 near Luka.

The House Appropriations Committee Monday approved an $18 million appropriation for the long pending waterway inserting an extra $3.5 million not requested by the President.

In the $3.5 million appropriation for work on the "divide cut" that will link the Tennessee River with the Tombigbee.

Col. William Brandes, Nashville District Engineer for the U.S. Corps of Engineers, said this morning that the channel project is in the "capability" of the corp.

He said the "capability" of the Corp meant that it could "effectively spend the excess of the requested budget."

Col. Brandes said from an engineering standpoint, the Corp is not ready to begin channelling in the "divide cut," but noted that the channellization "is an integral part of the waterway."

FOR CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT

Program Gains ARC Approval

A home-based program for early childhood development in four counties has been approved by the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Officials of the ARC commented that $129,951 has been approved for the work in Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo Counties. The program will serve at least 120 children. The Mississippi Child Development Council was notified of the program's funding by the ARC.

The action follows recent approval by the ARC of eight similar projects, and brings the total grant amount to $1,556,966 for the 15 grants.

All 15 projects began June 1 for a 12 month period, according to Hugh Vaughn, Director of the Mississippi Child Development Council staff.

Vaughn said Wednesday morning that the project will be covering the four counties with base office in Corinth. Mr. Vaughn said the program "will have trained people go into the homes and work with the preschool children and help the parents care for the children better."

The program will provide comprehensive services, that is, educational, health, nutritional, and social.

Recruit workers from the four separate counties will work out of the central office, it was noted. No comment was made as to who would be the director of the program.

The multi-county council will be made up of one-third public officials, one-third parents, and one-third of the private sector.

Vaughn reported that the program "will not interfere with the head start programs. The new program will be concerned with the children in the 0-5 year age bracket.

Vaughn said, even though the funds have received ARC approval, "we are waiting on the official notice of grant award from the Grants Management Office in Atlanta." He indicated that this approval is expected soon.

It was also noted that the program is hoping to obtain some Title IV-A funds in the future.

The grant was made for a one-year period, but "we have no reason not to believe it will be extended after the initial year," the official said. Officials said the program will be funded 100 percent by the ARC for the first two years, then local, state, or other sources will pick up the tab for 25 percent of the money.

Mr. Vaughn said the "concept that is being initiated in the Northeast area is very unique. We are very excited about this and are anxious to see the impact it will make on the area."

Thrasher Water Loan Okayed

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten was advised today that the Farmers Home Administration has approved a loan of $67,000 to the Thrasher Water Association, Inc., to improve its rural water system in Prentiss County.

Plans call for installing a new deep well and enlargement of some water lines to assure adequate service to 241 homes and other establishments on the Thrasher system.

The loan, repayable in 40 years at an interest rate of 5 percent, will be provided under the rural community facilities program administered by the Farmers Home Administration, a Department of Agriculture rural credit service. Benefits of the program are made available without regard to race, color, creed or national origin.

Mr. James E. Bullard of Route 1, Booneville, is president of the Thrasher Water Association, Inc., a community non profit organization.

ETV Channel Bids Go To Oxford Lumber Company

An Oxford Lumber Company is the apparent low bidder at $82,800 for construction of a building and a tower for channel 12 in Booneville, an educational television channel.

However, a Miss. Building Commission spokesman said the bid is not expected to be officially let until the July 12 meeting.

The ETV station is the last of eight stations in the Miss. System. The construction will be for the tower and building to house the television equipment. There was no information immediately available on how long construction will take.

Two other bids submitted to the Building Commission were from Elliott Lumber Co., Oxford, $84,700, and Union Lumber Co., New Albany, $86,950.

Bill Smith, director of Miss. Educational Television said the bids were almost double what they were three years ago, and they had considered asking for new bids, but decided to go ahead because of delays.

"He added," even if we readvertise we couldn't be sure the bids would be lower. They might even be higher," he said.

The ETV Channel will bring educational programming from the state authority into Alcorn, Benton, Tishomingo, Prentiss, Itawamba, Lee, Pontotoc, Union, and Tishomingo Counties.

The channel coverage will also reach portion of Marshall, Lafayette and Monroe.

The contracts for equipment in the station has already been let.

Smith said from all reports he expects the Federal Communications Commission

(FCC) to act with "unusual speed" in approving the channel 12 application because "we've been waiting so long."

The spokesman said the FCC was scheduled to take up the application August 1 at 3 a.m. The channel 12 station has been under consideration for years and sparked a statewide controversy in 1972 when commercial channel 12 in Jackson objected to the ETV station.

A series of public meetings were held to demonstrate that the ETV channel would not overlap with commercial stations. Objections were later withdrawn.

Education officials here say that they are already well along in planning studies to go along with new reception over the ETV network.

New Rule Will Aid Manpower

A new rule concerning out-of-state players is really keeping Northeast Coach Bill Ward on his toes.

The new rule allows the two-year institutions to begin recruiting players from outside Mississippi. Since that time, Ward has been keeping the telephone lines bustling.

"I've been making some contacts," Ward said Monday during a lull in his chores, "and it looks like I'll have a player or two in the fold shortly."

Ward, however, is traveling a cautious course in his new quest for football Tigers.

"I'm looking for boys who not only can help our football team, but who can also help our attendance figures," the head Tiger said.

Ward said he's not going to sign an out-of-state prospect just to add a body.

"It stands to reason that if we sign a boy from near-by Alabama or Tennessee, there will be some folks from those areas coming to watch him play," Ward explained.

"Of course we want the ones we sign to be able to play some good football, too."

From experience Ward knows there are countless prospects in the areas that border the Northeast JC territory.

There's something like 20 high schools in the Tri-Cities area of Alabama," Ward said, "and that's not over 50 miles from here. There's bound to be some football players over there."

Under the new guidelines Northeast can sign seven out-of-staters, but Ward doesn't know if he'll use the rule to its maximum.

"If I can find three or four who can help us, that's fine," he said.

The new rule, Ward says, will allow him to be "more choicy" in his recruiting.

"It will help in certain areas. For instance if we need a quarterback or a tight end or a tackle, I can use the additional scholarships for that."

'Snap-On-Top'

Illinois Central Gulf is experimenting with a "snap-on-top" to meet the demand of grain shippers for freight cars. Above, mechanical and marketing officers of the railroad have opened one of the four trough doors in the 50-foot-long fiberglass cover applied to the top of a 100-ton coal hopper. Using the removable cover, hoppers when not in coal movement can be converted to move wheat, corn, soybeans and other grains. Currently ICG is testing the cover in carrying export grain to ports.

Action Described 'Crucial'

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Senator John C. Stennis described as "crucial" today favorable action by the House Agriculture Committee on a bill he authored that is designed to increase timber production on small tracts of land.

The committee voted to recommend passage of the Stennis proposal as part of a comprehensive agriculture bill. It differs only slightly from one passed by the Senate June 8.

"Getting approval of the House Agriculture Committee is a crucial test," Senator Stennis said. "I believe this action will give the Forestry Incentives Bill the momentum it needs to pass the House and to become law."

The measure would authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to share with farmers and small landowners the cost of increasing the number of trees they produce on land which is not otherwise used or not used to its fullest potential.

Stennis has estimated that some 300 million acres of land fall into those categories and has predicted that the average production on such land could double if brought to its full potential.

The action by the House Agriculture Committee is a milestone for the Forestry Incentives Bill. A similar measure passed the Senate in 1972; but when Congress adjourned for national elections, it was still awaiting action by a House subcommittee.

"The Agriculture Committee's endorsement not only means the program has been widely accepted by members of Congress from all over the country, it also means it can finally be put to a vote in the House, to a vote in the House," the senator said.

"I am very pleased at the committee's action. The bill has great merit and will go a long way towards easing what could be a critical shortage of timber in just thirty years or so," Stennis said.

The House committee's version of the bill does not limit annual payments to farmers. The Senate passed bill would impose a $2,500 yearly ceiling. The committee also specifies that federal payments be restricted to between 50 and 75 percent of the cost of the

Diamond Values Increase

What has happened to the value of your diamond since January 1972?

Through the years, we've seen a steady increase in the price of diamonds, as demand, at least in large sizes, has exceeded the ability of the mines to produce. The diamond price has been moving in one direction only, up. Since last fall, they've been going up at an accelerated rate, partially compounded by the devaluation of the dollar.

After the dollar devaluation of January 1972, there was a price increase followed by one in September, and another price jump because of devaluation this January. In March of this year, there has been another increase. The rise in prices of diamonds coupled with the dollar devaluation makes a rough diamond that cost an American cutter $100 before the January devaluation in 1972, now cost that same cutter $184.

You do not have to be an economist to know what has happened to the value of your diamond, just in the last two years. This is not official but according to my calculation, diamonds have increased almost as much in the past two years as they have in the fifty years prior to January 1972.

I believe diamonds have always been a good investment and especially since the dollar devaluation. So hang on to those diamonds and invest your extra change in diamonds when possible.

FARM PROGRAM CERTI-FICATION RATE IN-CREASING

Each day more farmers are certifying compliance with provisions of the 1973 farm set-aside programs for feed grain and with the compliance provisions of the cotton program. Through June 15, some 100 farmers have certified, thus virtually assuring themselves of receiving early farm program payments. Program payments will begin nationwide on July 2. Some 1100 farmers are participating in the feed grain, wheat and cotton programs in the county.

Certification is the method the farm program agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture uses in order to provide early payments while at the same time obtaining assurance of farmer compliance with program provisions.

The farmer first certifies his farm is in compliance, then payment is made to him. Through random selection some farms in each county are visited and checked for compliance each year by ASCS officials.

If a farm is found not in compliance, the farmer may forfeit some or all of his program benefits. If a significant number of farms in a county should be found not in compliance, it could result in a county-wide compliance check. The certification and random checking procedure is used in all States and has proved to be an effective tool for efficient administration of farm programs.

PRE-CERTIFICATION
MEASUREMENTS STILL AVAILABLE FOR FARM
PROGRAM PARTICI-PANTS

With the July 1 final certification date for farm program participants only weeks away, little time remains for farmers to request set-aside inspection and acreage measurement.

Requests for the service are still being accepted at the Prentiss County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office. Farmers who have any question about their set-aside land are urged to get the correct answer before certifying.

NEW LEVERAGE IN THE MARKETPLACE

Farmers can benefit by looking over new marketing techniques now that farm prices are well above loan levels and CCC-owned grain stocks are at near zero levels for the first time in years. This is the message that is now coming through loud and clear from Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz.

At Memphis, Tennessee early in May, the Secretary stated: "We want to give farmers the chance to maximize their muscle in the marketplace." He pointed out that much of the perennial farm problem though the past four decades can be blamed on the fact that government -- instead of farmers -- has exerted leverage in the marketplace.

"As soon as Government influence in the soybean industry was diminished, soybean production and soybean sales skyrocketed," the Secretary said. "Continuation of Government domination would have killed the American cotton industry and prevented meaningful expansion of soybean production, he added.

The alternative? Muscle in the marketplace by farmers, the Secretary said. He added that farmers can now contract for future sale of their commodities and carry them under loan until delivery, without loss of loan eligibility. The Secretary also said that Government regulations have been changed to allow this practice. And he added:

"This gives farmers greater leverage in taking some of the risk out of price changes, while they maintain control and seek the best terms of sale."

FAMILY RATED PROGRAMS?

Thank you for the letter which asked that I explain in this article about family rated TV programs along with some other questions. There is a trick that the Devil is using today which is very successful. That is the idea of a "half-truth". This nothing but a lie mixed in with truth and the lie is hard to spot due to it being surrounded with so much truth. Look at what he did to Eve. God said "ye shall surely die" and the devil came along and said "ye shall not surely die" did you notice how close to the truth this is? Just one word from the truth. There no doubt are programs which may not be harmful, or lustful such as the news etc. but surrounding all these programs comes those things that are bad.

To many of you the devil will not be able to get you to go to the bar or nightclub. He may not get you to smoke, drink, swear etc. so if he can't get you to go where they do that he will bring it into your home through the means of the TV. Where do the scenes on many of the programs take place? In actual bars and actual nightclubs. You can become so engrossed in these programs that you actually feel the part of sitting in the bar or nightclub itself. Now I ask, is this the atmosphere for a christian to find themselves in? While there may be a good family program, as you call it, what follows it? Do you turn the TV off as soon as it goes off? See, this his business, let you watch one thing and then slip another right in on you. In 2 Thes. 5:22 we are told to "Abstain from all appearance of evil." To abstain is to willfully turn away or stay away from anything that would appear evil, in any way.

Now you asked about watching the dirty soap operas as long as you don't take part in the actual sin. Can we watch such things without having the very thought put into our heart and thinking about the sin? Jesus told us that if a man look upon a woman to lust he has committed adultery already. committed adultery already with the party. You can't look and listen to filth without thinking about it and when you think about it we can very easily begin to lust for that which we think about. Why take the chance, your soul is to important and much more than a little pleasure of a dirty program. Don't contaminate your life with filthy things. If you would like to send me your name and address I would be glad to go into further detail concerning this subject. I am glad that the United Pentecostal Organization has in it's by-laws that none of their ministers are allowed to have a TV in their home. Our entire fellowship feels this way about the subject.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

W. T. Smith

FARMERS ASKED TO REPORT CRITICAL FUEL SHORTAGES TO ASCS

Prentiss County Farmers are reminded they should report immediately any critical farm fuel shortages to the county ASCS office. If a fuel supply problem cannot be resolved locally or at the State level, the shortage will be reported immediately to Washington, D.C. where it will be brought to the attention of the Office of Oil and Gas (OOG), U.S. Department of Interior. The OOG operates under the authority of the fuel allocation program which designates farming and other vital activities for priority access to fuel supplies. Some suppliers have not been able to meet farm customers' needs fully, partly because independent producers and marketers have not been able to obtain enough supplies.

It is the responsibility of the federal Office of Oil and Gas to see that the allocation programs work. Farmers are reminded that they must make their problems known to ASCS before assistance can be provided either directly, or through the Office of Oil and Gas, if necessary.

The national concern over fuel is based on two problems: supply and distribution. Demand for fuel has increased steadily, while supply has not. And, some areas are near the end of major petroleum distribution systems, making equitable distribution difficult.

A primary reason for the fuel problem in farming areas is the greater need for farm products. The country's farmers have been encouraged to plant about 40 million additional acres of food and feed crops this year.

The gasoline supply/demand situation is cited as an example. Gasoline demand has risen at an annual rate of about six percent during the past two years, while crude oil processing has risen only three percent annually. We use nationally an average of 47 million barrels of gasoline weekly, while we produce only 43 million barrels.

Both State and Federal agencies have been working on the problem and several actions have been taken to increase supplies. In the meantime, ASCS will offer the critical shortage reporting service for farmers as long as it is needed.

ASCS is handling this monitoring service for all farmers in the county regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

JULY 1 FINAL DATE TO CERTIFY CROP ACREAGES. Farmers are reminded that July 1, 1973 is the final date to certify 1973 planting of crops to the ASCS office. Crop information must be reported in order for payments to be made and history acreage be protected.

BAKED POTATOES - Did you know that a medium sized potato has only about 100 calories? This holds true whether the potato has been baked, pressure-cooked or boiled, according to nutrition specialists at the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. Medium potatoes have no more calories or carbohydrates than a large apple or banana. Butter, sauces and gravies are responsible for the potato's reputation as a fattening agent.

'A Birthday Story' On ETV Coming Sunday

Three years ago Mississippi children drew pictures depicting their idea of America's birthday.

Today these drawings are still being seen over nationwide television.

Mississippians -- along with the rest of the nation -- will have another chance to see these drawings at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, July 1, when the Mississippi ETV production of "A Birthday Story" makes a return appearance over the Mississippi Educational Television Network (Channels 19, Bi-Loxi; 17, Bude; 23, Greenwood; 29, Jackson; 14, Meridian; 18, Oxford-University; and 2, State College). "A Birthday Story," a colorful 30 minute children's art interpretation of the drama of the American Revolution, is a whimsical look at American history.

"A Birthday Story" is a production of the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television, Jackson, Mississippi. Executive producer: Bob Rowland, writer/producer: Mike Kelly, Directors: Mike Brotherton and Henry Kline II.

Mary Jane Hill Weds David Wayne Jones

The Banner-Independent regrets the error in last week's edition of this newspaper in that it inadvertently omitted part of the story concerning a wedding.

The following is the complete article concerning the wedding of Mary Jane Hill and David Wayne Jones. We hope the omission did not cause anyone any undue misfortune.

The First Baptist Church in Booneville was the setting May 18 at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for the wedding of Miss Mary Jane Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hill of New Site and David Wayne Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit V. Jones Jr. of Booneville.

The Rev. Tom Rayburn, pastor, performed the impressive double ring ceremony.

The nuptial prelude was presented by Miss Becky Knight of Tupelo, organist.

Miss Rosemary Downs of Booneville soloist, sang "The Twelfth of Never" and Miss Knight accompanied her on the song "The Wedding Song." Miss Knight played the traditional wedding marches.

Candlelights and soft greens accented the beauty of the sanctuary. Simulated candelabra entwined with Southern smilax and trailing boxwood holding lighted yellow tapers, which reflected the beauty supplied by the wrought iron baskets filled with yellow gladioli and white daisies and stately Boston fern trees, flanked the altar.

The reserved Church pews were marked with a single yellow candle and tied with sprays of smilax and yellow satiny bows.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was radiantly beautiful in a white silk organza over peau de soie wedding gown designed by her mother. It was fashioned with an A line skirt ending in a single row of lace which fell from an Empire bodice featuring long fitted sleeves with satin covered buttons. This lovely gown was enhanced by motifs of reappliqued lace above a detachable waist line train.

Her three tiered veil of English illusion fell over a Juliette cap edged with pearls interwoven with lace. She carried a caudal bouquet of white daisies centered with a white orchid streamers of white satin ribbons fell from the bouquet.

Miss Cindy Jones, sister of the bride-groom, served as Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Rayburn and Miss Mary Green. They wore identical floor length empire gowns with bell sleeves of yellow voile over yellow floral voile embroidered with daisies and featuring yellow velvet ribbons at the waist. They wore matching yellow velvet ribbons in their hair and carried white wicker baskets filled with daisies and tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Dwight Pharr served as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Walker and Terry Moore.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hill wore a beige dress of polyester lace. Mrs. Jones chose a light blue alaskine silk dress with crystal pleated chignon long sleeves with a matching sleeveless coat. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Curtiss Floyd, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom, was attired in a lilac knit dress, and Mrs. Kermit Vance Jones, Sr. paternal grandmother of the bridegroom chose an orchid knit ensemble. Their corsages were white carnation.

Following the ceremony, the brides parents entertained with a reception in the Church Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Jimmy Moore, sister of the bride and Mrs. W. V. Kemp received the guests. Presiding at the guest register was Mrs. Jerry Riddle. The register was placed at a table covered with a yellow linen cloth with inserts of cotton lace. A gold vase containing yellow roses completed this setting.

Forming an attractive background for the bride's table was a pyramid arrangement of huckleberry greenery, maiden hair fern, and two colorful arrangements of yellow and white garden flowers placed in tall white baskets.

The brides table was covered with a floor length yellow linen cloth, and overlaid with yellow illusion caught at the corners with yellow satin roses and in the center with a cluster of golden wedding bells. The three tiered white wedding cake was placed in the center. The Anniversary tier was topped with white materhorn roses. Grecian posts separated the other tiers. A small cherub holding two love birds was placed on the bottom tier. Yellow spun roses completed this decoration.

Placed in either side of the cake were three branched candelabra holding lighted yellow tapers. Mints and nuts were served in silver containers. Serving the wedding cake were Mrs. Wyatt Weatherford and Mrs. Anne Green, aunts of the bridegroom.

Punch was poured by Mrs. Francis Johnson and Mrs. Marie Downs, aunts of the bride, from a silver punch bowl flanked by silver candelabra and placed on a companion table to the brides table. This table also held a silver tray containing souvenir book matches inscribed with the names of the couple.

Traci Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Floyd, wearing a yellow floor length gown presided at the white rice tree and distributed yellow rice bags to the guests.

Assisting as Circulating hostesses were Mrs. Mildred Elder, Mrs. Milton Floyd, Mrs. Jim Alexander, Mrs. William Arnold, Mrs. Luther Moore, Mrs. Shirley Hindman, and Miss Melba McCoy as a Junior hostess.

Mrs. W. V. Kemp created the beautiful decorations for the reception.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a smart pink polyester sports ensemble with which she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon the couple's return they will be at home at the University of Mississippi where Mr. Jones is a student.

Since Monday when my friend Dr. Wade and wife stopped to see me I have been thinking a lot about friendships so I have this poem for you this week.

-Old Friendship-
Beautiful and rich is an old friendship,
Grateful to the touch as ancient ivory,
Smooth as aged wine, or sheen of tapestry where light has lingered, intimate and long.
Full of tears and warm is an old friendship

That ask no longer deeds of gallantry,
Or any deed at all - save that the friend shall be Alive and breathing somewhere like a song.

Watermelons... Southern Favorite

COLLINS, Miss. -- Watermelons... a summertime Southern favorite... got a big boost here this week with the organization of a statewide association.

About 50 growers and Extension Service leaders from 10 counties organized the Mississippi Watermelon Growers and Distributors Association to promote the watermelon industry.

Presiding at the organizational meeting was Covington County Agent Arthur O'Brien with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

President-elect Charles McQueen of Covington County said the purpose of the association is to promote the interest of the industry from production to consumption. "We will not be in the business of buying and selling but will concentrate efforts on promoting watermelons," he said. "This will be done through a strong association with statewide promotional efforts, including a watermelon queen contest."

The group voted to affiliate with the national organization composed of delegations from nine states.

National secretary-treasurer H. R. Lawson said a state association would benefit both growers and distributors. "We will also spend most of our national dues on promotional and advertising campaigns for watermelons," he said.

Other officers elected were Leo Herrington, 1st vice-president, Smith County; John W. Crawley, 2nd vice-president, George County; and Alvin T. Pullin, secretary-treasurer, Extension Service marketing specialist.

McQueen is a grower, buyer and shipper. He has 75 acres in watermelons this year and is now buying watermelons from Florida. "I usually buy 50-100 loads each year here in Mississippi," he said. "The big problem is flooding the local markets during the peak July and August harvest season. However, the overall demand is great. We need to concentrate on shipping the bulk of our crop to the big city markets."

Nunley Aids Unit Earn Award

AGANA, Guam--U.S. Air Force Sergeant Larry R. Nunley has been recognized for helping the Eighth Air Force earn the coveted Collier Trophy for Operation Linebacker II, the successful air campaign last December against key military targets in North Vietnam.

Sergeant Nunley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin R. Nunley of Rt. 3, Booneville, Miss., is assigned at Andersen AFB, Guam, as an aircraft mechanic with the 43rd Organizational Maintenance Squadron. The 43rd is a part of the Eighth which shares the trophy with USAF's Seventh Air Force and U. S. Navy Task Force 77.

The 27 aerospace leaders and authorities serving on the Collier Selection Committee of the National Aeronautic Association unanimously selected Operation Linebacker as the greatest achievement in aeronautics or astronautics of 1972.

During the 11-day operation, U.S. aircrews penetrated the most concentrated and sophisticated air defenses ever assembled. The committee cited the campaign as a crucial and decisive factor leading to the return of U.S. prisoners of war and the attainment of other principal U.S. objectives.

Admiral Thomas J. Moorer chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, recently accepted the award in Washington in behalf of all military units involved.

Sergeant Nunley is a 1968 graduate of Booneville High School. His wife, Barbara, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Waddell of Booneville.

INTENDED FOR LAST WEEK

I have had quite a few calls about our column last week. I can only say I'm sorry I didn't have one but there are times when there just isn't enough of me to go around and worse than that is having a telephone on an eight party line. So bare with me, and we'll make it part time anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christian, Joseph and Ann motored to Starkville last Wednesday then back up to the Air Base at Columbus and watched the plane's land and take off for a while.

Mr. Custer E. Mink and Debra Ann Mink were up from Starkville for a few days last week for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Challis Barron and Mr. and Mrs. Alvert Casstevens and Anita.

Anita returned home with them for a weeks visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert Casstevens motored down Sunday to bring her home and have Father's Day dinner with Mr. Custer E. Mink.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christian and Mrs. Fay Huddleston motored down to Columbus on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Ruth Christian and Mrs. Alma McCoy were hostesses for a bridal kitchen linen shower honoring Miss Marilyn Huggins, bride-elect of Mr. Ricky Caldwell at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Billingsley, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Breedlove and Mr. and Mrs. Challis Barron motored to Red Bay, Alabama, Vina and Maude, Ala. and other sections of Northern, Ala. and Northern Miss Sunday afternoon sight seeing. Carmon visited for a while in Red Bay with grandmother Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christian recently attended open house honoring Mrs. Mencie Christian hosted by her daughter, Mrs. Emma Lee Womack of Memphis.

Mrs. Mencie has just recently moved into her new home in the Thrasher Community. She received an array of lovely gifts as several of her friends and relatives come by with best wishes.

Glad Mr. R. D. Barron continues to improve at his home after a couple of weeks in the local hospital.

Mighty proud Mr. Noonon Hopkins was not seriously hurt when his tractor was hit by a car last week when he was making a left turn into his drive way. Did quite a bit of damage to both the tractor and car. Now let me give a word of caution, watch out for those tractors on the roads, watch the man not the tractor alone. Tractors don't have signal lights to turn by so watch that man's arm, he's giving the signal and don't try to pass just because he's slow. Slow down yourself or stop. The same thing almost happened to my husband as did to Mr. Hopkins. He had his arm way out to signal a left turn but the young man in the car passed him anyway and quick thinking avoided an accident. So please watch out for this farm equipment. It just might save your own neck.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Joe Lauderdale and children spent the day Sunday at Lake Lemar Bruce in Lee County swimming and picnicing. Got a good suntan. Hope it is not to sore Lila.

Mr. Johnny Lambert visited Mr. and Mrs. Carmon Breedlove Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cratus Barron and Mr. Dayton Mink.

VA Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q-- My husband died of service connected disabilities while in military service. Am I eligible for Veterans Administration assistance to take correspondence courses or on-the-job training?

A--Yes. Public Law 92-540 (Oct. 24, 1972) extended these benefits to wives and widows of veterans whose permanent total disabilities or deaths were service connected.

Q-- I still carry my World War II "V" prefixed National Service Life Insurance. Can I get additional coverage?

A--Yes. Public Law 92-188, enacted in December 1971 allows veterans with these policies to use their insurance dividends to buy additional paid-up life insurance protection.

Q-- The Veterans Administration guaranteed $7,500 of my home loan, based on my World War II service. Since VA now guarantees more, do I have more entitlement coming?

A--Yes. VA currently guarantees up to 60 percent up to a maximum of $12,500 of home loans. Since you received a loan guarantee of only $7,500 you are eligible to apply for an additional $5,000 in loan benefits.

Q-- What is this work-study program for veterans I keep hearing about?

A--A program authorized under a recent law which allows the Veterans Administration to advance up to $250 in extra allowances to veterans enrolled in the agency's education programs. In return, the veteran agrees to work up to 100 hours for the agency.

Q-- If a lender turns down a veteran's application for a G.I. loan, what should the veteran do?

A--He should see another lender. The fact that one lender is not interested in making the particular type of loan the veteran wants does not preclude the possibility that another may be interested.

Tax Stamp Deadline

JACKSON, Miss. - Persons whose occupations require a Federal occupational tax stamp should register and pay for tax stamps by Monday, July 2, 1973, a spokesman for the Internal Revenue Service said today.

Businesses or products requiring a stamp include gaming devices, wagering, distilled spirits, wine and beer. After paying the tax, the taxpayer will receive a Form 4732, "Special Tax Stamp," as a receipt for the new fiscal year, which runs from July 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974.

Those planning to start a business that requires a stamp should register and pay the tax before commencing business.

NEWS FROM THE

COUNTY AGENT

W. T. Smith

SOYBEANS
Soybean yields depend upon many other factors than planting dates. Much of the effect of late planting can be overcome if there is ample moisture at planting time to assure a rapid stand and fast growth for the first month.

Also of great importance is the amount of rainfall we get during August and September when the pods are being filled. Above normal rainfall during this period could offset much of the influence of planting date.

PASTURE MANAGEMENT
You can increase your forage yields 20% to 30% percent by giving your pastures good management and proper fertilization.

Summer grass pastures should get at least two applications of 45 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre during the summer.

For grazing management, the permanent pastures should be divided into at least three grazing areas. Cattle should be rotated from one area to another at weekly intervals. This will force cattle to graze all of the grass, preventing spot grazing. It will also permit uniform regrowth of pastures once cattle are moved from each individual area.

TIMBER MANAGEMENT
About one out of every three trees growing in our timber lands is a cull--of little or no value now and with little hope of ever having any value. These culls take up needed room from valuable trees and should be removed so that the good trees can grow.

Most researchers say that timber owners' greatest returns on investment of time, labor and money will come from removing these culls so that better trees will have more room to grow.

PECANS
Pecan crop prospects look good right now, but insects and diseases could change the picture.

Trees must be sprayed to control fungus and insects that could seriously reduce the crop. Follow a spray schedule closely.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL
This is shaping up to be a bad bug year, so it will pay dividends for you to keep a close watch on your cotton fields. Don't let the insects get the jump on you.

Apply insecticides as needed but don't apply them unless the bugs are present in damaging numbers. Unnecessary applications of phosphate insecticides can delay the maturity of the crop, and we are already three weeks to a month late.

capable of supplying grass for one cow and calf on every three acres, you can do something about it.

Lots of Mississippi cattle men, through fertilization and good pasture management, have pastures that support one cow and her calf per acre.

Summer grass pastures tend to get tough and extremely low in quality toward late summer. This can be prevented to some extent, through fertilization and management. Nitrogen fertilization will improve the protein content of the grass, make grass more succulent and improve the efficiency of moisture use.

Between now and July 1, apply 45 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Then, in early August, make another nitrogen application. This should allow enough nitrogen to supply the grass until frost.

Cows will eat more grass that is highly fertilized because of increased protein content and palatability.

Along with fertilization management of grazing is needed to get the most from the fertilizer and keep the grass tender all summer. Summer pastures should be divided into at least three grazing areas, and cattle rotated from one area to another each week. This will force the cattle to eat all of the grass and prevent spot grazing. It will also permit uniform regrowth of the grass once the cattle are moved.

LIME
In 1967 Mississippi farmers used 800,000 tons of lime. In 1972, they used only 500,000 tons. Why? Agronomists estimate that we should use 8 million tons now, to bring our soil up to the recommended pH. Then we need to use one million tons a year to maintain the soil pH.

We cannot afford to go backwards in our liming program. Lime is a blue-chip investment.

UREA POISONING
Urea toxicity or poisoning can occur when an animal receives more than the daily recommended limits of urea. Symptoms of urea poisoning develop rapidly (within 30 to 60 minutes) after the animal eats a toxic dose.

These symptoms in cattle include uneasiness, staggering and kicking at the flank, at which point they usually go down. Other symptoms may include labored breathing, slobbering and bloating.

Treatment should be under the supervision of a veterinarian. But at the first symptom, animals should be drenched with a gallon of vinegar.

Poisoning is likely to occur when urea is fed from two sources, or when an overdose is fed from one source. It can be avoided when animals are changed over gradually to urea-containing feeds and when recommended limits of urea in the feed are not exceeded. Use care when feeding any ration containing urea.

SOYBEANS
If you have not yet planted your soybeans, select one of the later maturing varieties. For planting after June 25, the best varieties will be Davis, Semmes, Bragg, Ransom, Coker 266 A and Hutton. Bragg is most flexible of all of these varieties. In terms of planting dates.

TRY A LITTLE TENDERNESS...

We won't solve our nation's problems by berating Old Glory or showing it disrespect. On the contrary, by tearing down the Stars and Stripes, we destroy the symbol of what every American wants to achieve: liberty and justice for all. It makes better sense to keep that flag flying before us as a beacon, reminding us of the goals our founding fathers set for a new nation, goals we are still striving toward. Don't knock it . . . cherish it.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

We Salute The Dairy Farmer

During the many, many years we have worked quite closely with our local dairy farmers—serving their personal and family banking needs; helping them, through prompt low-cost credit services, to further their plans for the care and improvement of their land, livestock, equipment and buildings—we have become keenly aware of their special effort and enterprise, as dairy farmers in producing a great variety of products essential to the health and vitality of our nation and its people.

Therefore, because JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH, we want to take this opportunity to join our fellow citizens throughout America in saying "Thank you!" and in praising the dairy farmers, their families and their "dairy foods—the best refreshers under the sun!"

To our local dairy farmers and neighbors we add a year-around invitation: Come into our "Full Service" bank and see how many ways we—and our services—can help you, your family and your farm. COME IN SOON!
