Novel Program Set For Church Today

A novel program for strengthening the family will be demonstrated at an Open House of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) Thursday, September 27.

It will be presented by the Booneville Ward in the Booneville Ward Chapel, on George E. Allen Road, at 7:30 p.m. The subject of the Open House will be the Family Home Evening, one of the principal programs of the Mormon Church for increasing solidarity and love within the home. According to Bishop Luther McKissack of the Booneville Ward, all families in the Church are strongly encouraged to set apart one night each week for a Family Home Evening, when the family gathers together for religious studies from the scriptures, recreational activities, and family councils.

The philosophy and purpose of this program were summed up in 1964 by the late David O. McKay, ninth president of the Church, when he stated, "No other success can compensate for failure in the home."

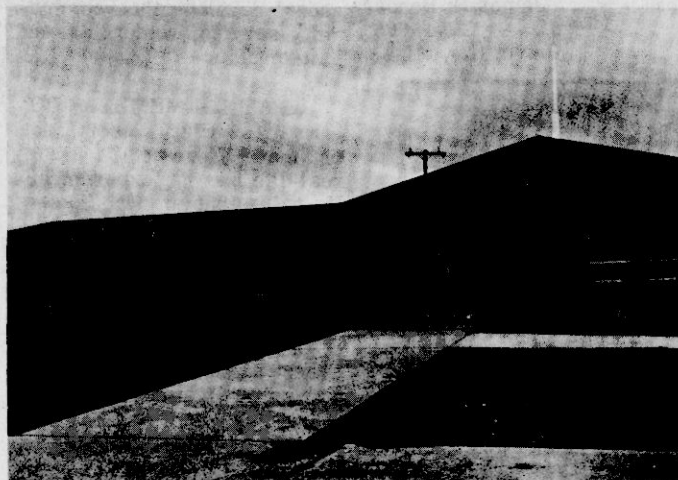

The Open House will feature a demonstration of this program which will present a typical Family Home Evening. A film entitled "Strengthening the Home," narrated by President Harold B. Lee, world leader of the Church, will also be shown. President Lee's counsel that "the home is the basis of a righteous life and no other instrumentality can take its place nor fulfill its essential function" is the fundamental theme of the film and the Open House.

Instructional materials prepared specifically for Family Home Evenings will also be presented at the Open House. Each year a new Family Home Evening manual is published by the Church and distributed to interested families. Last year, according to Bishop McKissack, more than 675,000 copies of the Family Home Evening manual were published in 17 languages and distributed to families of the Church and others concerned about modern-day moral challenges to the family unit.

FOR INDUSTRIES

200-Acre Park Obtained Here

The option for 200 acres of land for the use of an industrial site here has been obtained by the Prentiss County Industrial Committee, officials said this week.

The property, lying just north of the Gaines Manufacturing plant here and running north parallel to the railroad tracks, was owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bolton. The city obtained a 12-month option on the land at a price of $600 per acre.

A spokesman for the industrial committee commented that no time will be wasted in getting the necessary details, etc. to develop this property for prospective industries.

It was noted, also, that several prospective industries are "looking into the idea of locating here." With this property developed at its full potential, we shouldn't have any problems getting needed industries in Booneville and Prentiss County, a spokesman said.

Officials said the option gaining was a joint effort of several persons in the area, and especially the industrial council members. The members of the council are, W. V. Horn, chairman, Charles Steen, vice chairman, Ross Pharr, Charles M. Gordon, J. W. Timbeis, Wade Lambert, J. W. Abernethy, Doug Jumper, Luther Moore, and Thomas Keenum, attorney and secretary-treasurer.

It was also noted that the acquisition of this land might necessitate the assessment of not more than two extra mills on the county budget. But, it was stated, if this is done, the millage will not be taxable until October, 1973.

Officials of the council commented that all work for the industrial site's preparation would be done so as to open it up at the earliest possible date. All utilities will be constructed in the park.

Final Inspection Given On 2 Watershed Dams

According to Soil Conservation Service officials, construction of the first floodwater retarding structures in the Tuscumbia River Water Management District has been completed.

Approval was given Thursday, September 20, to the completed work on Structure No. 14 in Alcorn County and Structures 38 and 39 in Prentiss County. On hand to make the final inspection from the Soil Conservation Service were Peter Forsythe, State Engineer, Chas. L. Pugh, Administrative Officer, and Jerry Keeton, Project Engineer. Representing the Tuscumbia River Watershed District were commissioners Lin Dillworth, Millard Phillips, and Troy Inman.

Hopes had been for an early completion of the structures last fall, but according to Randall Goolsby, contractor for the job, severe weather conditions hampered construction considerably, causing the almost one-year delay. Officials stated that due to the late season no attempts would be made to vegetate the sites until next spring. However, a contract has been awarded to apply mulch immediately to the areas. This will provide temporary protection from erosion.

Nineteen structures remain to be built as a part of the project which will cost an estimated $5 million.

District officials stated that this remaining work was expected to be completed in seven to ten years.

Benefits to landowners in Prentiss and Alcorn Counties include: reduction of flood damage to roads and crops; sediment in streams will be reduced, along with the amounts of fertilizers, pesticides, and herbicides; natural beauty of the land will be enhanced; land freed from flooding will eventually be improved by owners; and crops may be rotated from hills to bottom land.

Final Inspection

Looking over construction plans at the final inspection of Floodwater Retarding Structure No. 38, near the Pisgah Community in Prentiss County are (L-R) Millard Phillips, Troy Inman, Lin Dillworth - Commissioners for the Tuscumbia River Water Management District, Jerry Keeton, Project Engineer, SCS, and Randall Goolsby, Contractor.

Vaught Replaces Kinards At Ole Miss

UNIVERSITY--After coaching the Ole Miss Rebels for 24 seasons, Coach Johnny Vaught is back at the helm.

Vaught was named here Tuesday as head coach and Athletic Director after a shakeup in which veteran coach 'Bruiser' Kinard as Athletic Director and brother Billy Kinard as Head Coach were fired.

University Chancellor Porter L. Fortune, Jr. said the changes were effective immediately and were made by the State College Board of Trustees at his personal request.

"Coach Vaught will have complete authority to reorganize the athletic program as he feels necessary and he will have my personal support in whatever he wishes to implement," Fortune said in an early morning statement.

Fortune said the remainder of Billy Kinard's contract would be honored and that Bruiser Kinard had been offered another post at the university.

It was noted that Vaught, who retired as head football coach three years ago after suffering a mild heart attack, had "received a clean bill of health from his doctor" to return to his old post as well as athletic director.

Fortune said he had asked the Athletic Committee to approve his recommendation for the Kinard brothers removal because of the necessity "to bring about a unity of effort and purpose."

The Kinards assumed their posts in 1971 on the retirement of Vaught and Athletic Director C.M. "Bud" Smith, who also had suffered a mild heart attack.

Billy Kinard's first team in 1971 compiled a 9-2 record and defeated Georgia Tech in the Peach Bowl. Last year's record was a disappointing 5-5 and there were grumbles among the alumni. Pressure for the Kinards' removal mounted this season after the Ole Miss won its opener against Villanova, but then lost to Missouri 17-0 and was upset by Memphis State 17-13 last Saturday.

Vaught in his early 60's, coached Ole Miss 24 seasons, compiling a record of 185 victories, 58 losses and 12 ties and winning 6 Southeastern Conference football championships. Bowl trips became a regularity for the Rebels under Vaught.

"I have complete confidence in Coach John Vaught's ability to return that unity to the athletic program which has characterized his long and distinguished career," said Fortune.

"I am elated that Coach Vaught has agreed to resume his responsibilities. The University Of Mississippi has a long and distinguished heritage which now requires the support of all of us during this period of adjustment," Fortune said.

Fortune praised the Kinard brothers as "gentlemen and dedicated Ole Miss alumni" and said their removal was "not an easy decision for me to make."

Billy Kinard said after a pre-dawn meeting with assistants that he was "not mad at anybody and I hope no one is mad at me. I did my best... it just didn't work out."

"I am an Ole Miss Alumnus and I have always supported the University and I will continue to do so," he said. "I completely understand what happened."

More than 1,000 jubilant students gathered outside the athletic dormitory around midnight for what one described as an "Impromptu Pep Rally." Many were waving rebel flags, blowing car horns and giving football yells.

A student leader said most football players were reluctant to comment on the changes at first. One unidentified player was quoted as saying: "We're not sure what this means but after they told us of the changes some of the people applauded."

Another player said he felt Kinard was "a good man... he'd done all he could do."

Government: A Dozen Enemies

Good, sound government has a dozen enemies.

The Mississippi Economic Council notes these enemies as published by the MUNICIPAL NEWS: 1. Citizens polarized only around their special interest and not willing to recognize another point of view. 2. Decision-makers who cater and respond to special interests to the detriment of the larger community. 3. A lazy or disinterested citizenry that is willing to be led with no questions asked.

4. Leaders in public life who follow only politically popular trends and surface with a flurry of activity and press releases six months before an election. 5. Government that becomes stagnant and moribund in its own bureaucratic entanglement. 6. The bright and energetic government employee or official who is held back and covered up by a superior who is a graduate of the "Peter Principle" school of incompetence.

7. A government unionism that stifles individual initiative and is geared only to input and not output.

8. Government services and operations that are duplicating and overlapping and as a result are confusing, inefficient, and costly. 9. The honest but arrogant and proprietary official who maintains an iron hostility to any suggestions that functions of his agency be changed or realigned. 10. The citizen who blindly opposes any change or improvement in local government by responding with any easy cliché or simply ignoring the problem.

11. A person who wants the easy way and avoids the tough decisions necessary to realistically deal with the issue.

12. The masks and coverups that are the work of the professional image-makers.

How many of these "enemies" exist in your community?

automobiles, and the general hysterical screaming of students. Rebel flags were everywhere.

Females were walking around campus with curlers in their hair, and some still in their nightgowns. People hugging each other, whether they were acquainted or not. There were smiles everywhere at that early morning (or late night) hour as cries (Go To Hell LSU, Give 'em Hell Johnny Vaught) among others rang through the campus.

An estimated 1,000 students circled Miller Hall, the football dorm, with a truly sincere exhibition of pride and spirit. Yes, the Kinards had been fired. That's what happened as far as the majority of the students were concerned. Personally, I feel its very easy to blame the head coach for the misfortunes of a football team. The Ole Miss Alumni and students aren't accustomed to losing football games, so by, bye Bruiser and Billy.

Wherever the fault lies, we will all have a chance to compare how Vaught handles the Rebs as to Kinard's approach. Hody-Toddy.

BRIDGE for EVERYONE

♠ ♥ James Kerry ♦ ♣

In today's hand played during a recent Club tournament, the player in the South position employed a simple but seldom used technique to find his tenth trick. True, it could have failed but South had already observed there was no other avenue to pursue and therefore had no choice but to make the play. The important thing is to see the play possibility before proceeding in the wrong direction as you will observe South did in this hand.

Both vulnerable.
South deals.
North-South 60 part score.

the seven card suit it was not all bad. West's three heart re-bid could have been disastrous for his side since North's double could be expected. With good defense East-West will be down 800 points. South could not see the double and in view of a vulnerable game proceeded to four clubs, a bid which we cannot condone under the circumstances.

West opened the king of diamonds and East signaled encouragingly with the ten. The ace continuation was trumped by South who now observed he had a loser in each suit as cards lay. He must place West with the king of hearts on the bidding and attempting to find some avenue to success he was about to give up when he suddenly realized that perhaps West's heart overall was based on five or six hearts missing the king.

Since declarer had everything to gain and nothing to lose, he proceeded on the only possible winning combination, and after trumping the second diamond, lead a small club to drive out East's ace. East switched to the two of spades which declarer won with his ace, pulled the last trump ending in dummy and lead the seven of hearts up to his queen. At this point East is confronted with a hopeless situation. If he plays the king of hearts, South wins any return, cashes the heart queen, crossing to dummy with the spade and discards his losing spade on the ace of hearts. If East elects to duck the small heart from dummy this permits South to score two heart tricks eliminating the loser in that suit. In either case the contract is assured for declarer, winning six club tricks, two hearts and two spades.

The reader will observe the defense cannot profit by leading hearts since this will score South's queen and as the cards lay there is no way to set the hand unless South misplays it.

SUCCESS in MARRIAGE
by Professor J. Kenneth Williams

Law Guides Human Behavior?

PREMARITAL SEX JUSTIFIED?

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: What's wrong with having premarital sex relations if two people are really in love? -- B.F., Boca Raton, Fla.

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Personally, I feel that premarital sexual relations between a couple, whether they're in love or not, violates three basic laws or codes of behavior. First, one violates the spiritual law. Nowhere in the Bible is premarital sex relations approved. In fact, the New Testament contains numerous passages condemning such behavior.

THE SECOND LAW ONE VIOLATES is the moral law or code for living. Every society has certain basic moral rules for behavior to which its members have to adhere for their stability as persons, groups, and ultimate society. No society, to my knowledge, has ever encouraged sex relations outside of marriage other than those in which paganistic rituals involving sex orgies were practiced.

THE THIRD LAW ONE VIOLATES is social in nature. By engaging in premarital sexual relations, a couple violates the civil law, often spreads venereal diseases, promotes illegitimate children, and generally imposes a burden on society. Unless the sex urge is directed into a spiritually, morally, and socially accepted manner, all kinds of problems develop in the life of the individual and the group.

BUT WHY DO WE HAVE to have any kind of law or guide for human behavior? Unless we have guidelines on how to act in a given situation, there is mass confusion. For example, if one wants to go to another section of the United States, unless he has been there previously, the first thing he does is to ask for directions or seeks a roadmap. Life is no different. Man has found that over the thousands of years of his existence that unless he goes by certain rules, his personal life and that of his society is beset by all kinds of problems. At no time in recorded history has there been a period when types of behavior, basic to stability, including sex, have not been regulated and disciplined. The regulation of sex expression is and has been through some form of marriage.

STUDIES ARE CONSTANTLY showing that when individuals or groups are engaging in sexual activity outside the spiritual, moral, and social framework of that particular society, all kinds of problems develop. You may think that everyone else is doing it and that makes it right. However, everyone else is not doing it and even if proportionately more are engaging in this behavior than ever before, it still doesn't make it right. There is only one proper place for sex relations. That is within the relationship of marriage between husband and wife.

PAUSE FOR POWER

What Will Life Be Like In Eternity?

Time is the dressing room for eternity.

This truth was eloquently spelled out on the tombstone of a 17 year old boy: Reader, one moment, Stop and think, That I am in eternity, And you are on the brink.

But what is eternity? And more precisely, what will be the condition of believers in the eternal state? What will life be like in eternity? What will be included in our final redemption?

The Bible informs us that the state of believers in eternity will include at least four blessings.

First, there will be the release from our old sin nature. The Bible says, "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is" (First John 3:1-3). In the hour of final redemption believers will be made like the Lord Jesus Christ. The sin nature of believers will therefore be eradicated. It will then be impossible for a believer to sin. His old sinful nature will no longer tempt him. It will no longer bring grief and sorrow and tragedy into the life of a Christian. The first element, then, in final redemption is the eradication of the old sin nature.

The second element in our final redemption in the eternal state is the possession of a transformed body. The Bible informs us in Romans 8:23 that believers wait for "the redemption of the body." The present body of the believer is called "a body of humiliation" (Philippians 3:20). It is a body subject to disease and weariness and sickness and eventually death. However, salvation includes redemption for the body. And that redeemed body will be a body like unto the resurrected and glorified body of Jesus Christ. Thus the Bible says, "For our citizenship is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body" (Philippians 3:20,21). Final redemption will therefore mean a redeemed and transformed body.

The third element in our final redemption is rest from our labors. The Bible says, "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from hence forth; Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours" (Revelation 14:13). Final redemption will mean that believers will rest from their labors. This, of course, does not mean that there will be no activity in heaven. There will be plenty of activity in heaven. It does mean, however, that we shall no longer labor as we have labored here. We shall rest from our labors in the sense that we shall no longer be subject to the toil of labor. Whatever we do in heaven will never cause us weariness. And then we shall rest from all the imperfections of our present service. Here we must sow in tears. There we shall reap in joy. Final redemption then includes rest from our labors.

Finally, future redemption in the eternal state will mean an unclouded vision of God. The Bible says, "For now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face." It was the confident hope of Paul that he would one day see his Saviour face to face. The incomprehensible blessedness of heaven shall arise from this vision of God. The Puritans spoke of this vision of God as the beatific vision. This vision beatifies. To beatify means to transform and make supremely happy. This vision of God will transform the soul into the divine image, transfiguring into it the divine life, so that it is filled with the fullness of God. And since this vision of God will be in the face of Jesus Christ, the Bible says, "It doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is."

Professor G. C. MacGregor once related how an old Aberdeen preacher was comforted by a little personal incident. He had always feared death, and was powerless to comfort others who were facing death. Toward the end of his life he moved into another house. Yet when the furniture had all gone, the old preacher lingered in the home where his children had been born and his sermons had been prepared. At last his servant came to him and said, "Sir, everything is gone, and the new house is better than this one. Come on away." The servant's words preached to him a lesson that he never forgot. God has prepared for his children a home much better than this, "an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (Second Corinthians 5:1).

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

CLEAN, GOOD MILK

This time of year we have to take extra precautions to keep pesticide residues out of milk. Here are some suggestions:

Do not graze out cotton fields with either cows or heifers. Observe waiting periods specified on labels before harvesting or grazing fields that have been treated with pesticides.

Do not feed hay or silage that contains any pesticide. If you feed whole cottonseed, make sure that it does not contain any pesticide. Do not store chemicals in or near your feed room. Do not throw empty chemical sacks or drums in areas where cows are kept. Be sure to use only recommended materials on animals or around your farm.

BOLL WEEVIL

Keeping boll weevils from entering hibernation will greatly reduce weevil problems the following year.

To hibernate successfully, the boll weevil must achieve a condition called diapause. This means that the weevil must accumulate enough body fat to take him through the winter.

To prevent this from occurring, make an additional application of insecticide 10 days after your last regular season application. This could be combined with defoliation application. Then make one or two more applications 14 to 21 days later, or until killing frost has removed all green matter. Complete stalk destruction following harvest will also aid in removing the weevils' food supply.

The extra fall application of pesticide could replace five or six applications early next season. This would allow the beneficial insects to aid in controlling bollworms and result in many dollars saved.

SEED PRODUCTION

Guess you have noticed that clover and small grain seed are in short supply and the cost is way up. Think about it for a minute. It might be an opportunity for you to make some extra money by becoming a seed producer.

If you are seriously considering getting into the business of producing seed, it is important that you start planning now for high quality seed next spring.

Land that is intended to produce planting seed should be weed free and subject to easy harvesting. Test the soil to determine fertilizer needs and plant only weed-free, high quality seed.

You might be interested in growing certified seed. In this case, the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association is the outfit to contact.

Questions--p-3 std

(This column is prepared by the Food Assistance Division in cooperation with the Informational Services Unit of the Mississippi State Department of Public Welfare, Max M. Cole, Commissioner)

Q. How Much Will I Have to Pay and How Many Food Stamps Will I Get?

A. This, of course, depends on the number of people living together and the amount of net income this group of people have. For the purpose of an example here, we will take a family of four (4) people, whose net income monthly (after deductions) is $350. They would have to pay $89 and would receive a total of $116 in food stamp coupons. The purchase price would vary if their monthly income did. They would still receive the same total of $116 in food stamp coupons.

Q. You Keep Talking About Deductions. What Deductions Are Allowed in Determining the Price of the Food Stamps, or if I Am Eligible to Buy Food Stamps?

A. There are only certain things that can be counted as a deduction in figuring the price of the food stamps. Excess rent of house notes, utilities or medical bills must be considered. Now to explain excessive rent or house notes, and utilities. These make up your shelter costs. Anything you must pay for these shelter costs above thirty percent (30%) of your net monthly income may be deducted. We will provide an example here: Suppose you are paying rent or a house note of $50 a month and your utilities cost you approximately $30 a month. Your total shelter costs would be $80. Suppose that your net income is $300 a month. Thirty percent (30%) of this income would be $90, and since your shelter costs you less than this, you could not be allowed a deduction. However, suppose your net income was only $250 a month. Thirty percent (30%) then would be $75 and you would be allowed a $5 deduction, ($80-$75). Medical expenses above $10 a month become deductible items. We cannot allow you the expenses you have such as a furniture payment, a TV payment, a car note, clothing bills, etc.

Remember, we are trying to answer these questions in a general way and that when a person applies for food stamps his individual situation is considered. If you think you may be eligible to receive food stamps, please contact your local Welfare Department. They will be happy to talk with you.

SEPTEMBER IS BETTER BREAKFAST MONTH.

September is Better Breakfast Month -- this is a good time to review your family's breakfast habits.

Don't create an energy crisis for yourself. Don't skip breakfast. For energy all morning long, health authorities and doctors suggest you eat a good breakfast -- one that gives you about 1/4 of your daily needs for calories, vitamins, minerals and protein.

Remember --- a good day starts with a good breakfast.

CHECK YOUR MENU.

Every meal you eat or cook should have a check by each point on this score. After you check with pencil a few times, you will remember the points and can check mentally as you plan meals.

A. Does the meal contain foods rich in nutrients: (Should include foods rich in vitamins A and C and at least one food from each food group)

() Milk and Other Dairy Foods.

() Fruits and Vegetables

() Meats, Poultry, Fish, Egg, nuts.

() Wholegrain and Enriched Breads and Cereals.

B. Does the meal have variety for appetite-appeal?

() COLORS...green, red, yellow, brown, white.

() FLAVORS...sweet, sour, bland, spicy.
() TEXTURES...crisp, soft, liquid, chewy.
() TEMPERATURES...hot, cold, warm, cool.
() SHAPES, SIZES...small, big, round, square.
() PREPARATION METHOD...boil, fry, roast, raw.

PEAR RELISH
12 large pears, 3 green peppers, 1 or 2 or 3 pods of hot pepper (take out seed), 3 onions, 3 red sweet peppers (2 or 3 canned pimiento may be used instead of sweet red peppers). Grind the above together. Set aside.

Fall Fell In On Past Saturday At 9:21

By DAVID MANGUM

Despite most of a week of cool temperatures, autumn officially began this past Saturday evening at 9:21 Central Daylight Time.

Within a few seconds of that time the direct rays of the sun crossed the earth's equator traveling in a southerly direction. For the next six months a straight line drawn from the center of the earth to the center of the sun would pass only through the southern hemisphere.

This, of course, accounts for the fact that for the next six months we in the northern hemisphere will be experiencing our coldest portion of the year while spring and summer visits our neighbors to the south.

The autumnal equinox is a significant moment for a variety of reasons.

On approximately this date one of the two times of the year is achieved when days and nights come closest to the same length. The other such time is the vernal equinox when the direct rays of the sun recross the equator on their journey north.

This vernal equinox serves as an arbitrary but important nexus between two different types of time kept by earthlings for a variety of reasons.

The watch steers's staple is solar time reckoned on the basis of a twenty-four hour day in which the earth is expected to complete one rotation about its axis.

The problem with this old reliable is that it is not so reliable after all.

Approximately a half billion years ago the earth rotated at a rate fourteen per cent faster than it does today, and the rotation continues to slow. What this all adds up to is that a day gets .003 seconds longer each century.

While your boss probably wouldn't become too upset if you showed up .003 seconds late for work, amounts far less than this are significant enough to disturb the likes of an astronomer or anyone contemplating a deep space probe.

For years this discrepancy was corrected against a vastly more accurate timekeeping system derived from the observation of the planets.

Planetary or sidereal time long ago pointed out the fact that a total of 365 1/4 days are necessary for the earth to complete a revolution about the sun. It is due to this realization that an longextra day is added to the fourth year in order to re-establish an approximate agreement between the two "times."

The aforementioned vernal equinox is defined as sidereal noon and thus the nexus between solar time and planetary time is established. Following this line of nomenclature, we may then point out that 9:21 p.m. Saturday was sidereal midnight.

During the past few decades however even sidereal time has lost prestige.

As early as the 1880's it was suggested that microscopic data might be more effective than stargazing as a means of keeping super-accurate time.

Ordinarily the southern soljour of the sun's direct rays might be expected to bring about the kind of good-old-days winter during which you used to walk barefoot through the snow to get to school. (You mean you never did that?)

Weather historians are pointing out that changing times are seeing the reversal of the poor old earth's 10,000 year old warming trend that began back when the ice age started to thaw.

Floods, droughts, blizzards and famines as far away as the Sahara and as near as the Mississippi Delta are cited as possible examples of the shift.

Well, everyone expects times to change. People come and people go, and each new batch builds and destroys upon the ruins and the achievements of the last. But the weather? I guess you can expect anything in a day which sees changing times see a change in time itself.

VA Questions And Answers

Q - Can the Veterans Administration restore a veteran's GI home loan entitlement?

A - Yes, provided the veteran was required to dispose of the property for compelling reasons such as destruction by fire, condemnation proceedings, etc. However, before entitlement can be restored the loan must have been repaid in full, and the agency released from liability for the loan.

Q - I was just discharged from military service, and would like to become a physician's assistant. Which Veterans Administration hospitals may I apply to for this training?

A - Apply to the college or university of your choice for the training, and contact the nearest VA office if you want to train under the GI Bill. VA hospitals provide clinical training to students enrolled in physician's assistant programs of colleges and universities.

Forestry Commission's Aim To Reach Landowner

"The ultimate aim of the Forestry Commission personnel in the Northeast District is to provide a forestry program that is available to every landowner in the district and that will generate more revenue for the timber producer," said George Ayers, District Forester with the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Our personnel are continually seeking ways to improve so that services to landowners are of the highest quality and greatest impact. Constant training of our personnel keeps them up-to-date on the two primary areas of forestry concern to our landowners, wildfire control and forest resource management. However, hard as we try the success of the Mississippi Forestry Commission's program depends upon the support given the commission as we continue our efforts in producing more wood per acre. At present, we are producing less than one half of our productive capabilities. Our timberland should be producing more than twice the income it is now producing.

More productive forests mean more industry, more jobs, and more personal income to every citizen in our State. Utilize the professional foresters and the key services provided by the Mississippi Forestry Commission which are: wildfire protection, insect and disease control, woodland examination and advice, timber marking, tree seedling purchasing, timber marketing assistance, tree planting, control of undesirable trees, fireland construction, prescribed burning and numerous others that your local county forester can describe.

Many of the services offered by the Commission are performed without charge to the landowner on a controlled amount basis. However, added cost involved, and a limited amount of funds available for our basic operation make it necessary for the Commission to perform some of this work on a fee basis. If a landowner wishes to utilize the services of the Commission, a local county forester will determine job costs prior to the time work begins and provide job agreements so the landowner may know where he stands at all times.

The Mississippi Forestry Commission is a public service agency of our State government designed to provide necessary services and assistance to landowners. Consider what the Commission has to offer and contact County Forester Tom Carter at 728-6835 for further assistance.

Tigers Shot Down By Indians, 53-14

The Itwamba Junior College Indians of Fulton got their first win this past Saturday night . . . at the hands of the Northeast Tigers.

The winless Indians socked the Tigers 53-14 on home ground.

The win was the first for the Tribe in three starts and the Tigers have a lone win over the Bears of Southwest.

Quarterback Sam Kline threw for three touchdowns and tailbacks Dennis Bolden and Steve Shotts scored a pair of touchdowns each to lead scoring for the Tribe.

Earnest Cummings, Freddie Dillard and Chip Petersen scored a touchdown each for the Tribe and Roger Davis kicked four conversions to cap scoring for the Tribe.

For the Tigers, Jim Stanley, and Rick Ewen did the touchdown scoring and Steve Carter kicked a pair of conversions.

The Tigers failed to capitalize on an early break in the game after recovering an Indian fumble at the Tribe 28.

Northeast advanced the ball to the 13, and Carter missed a field goal with 13:35 remaining in the first period.

Petersen stopped an early Northeast drive, recovering a fumble at the Tribe 24.

The Indians marched 76 yards in eight plays from that point with the big play coming on a 42-yard pass to Bolden from quarterback Eddie Marshall.

The conversion by Davis was no good and the Indians held a 6-0 lead with 8:26 remaining in the first period.

The Indians got a break late in the first period as Northeast punter David Griffin hit a punt "off the side of his foot" and the Tribe had good field position at the Tiger 29.

The touchdown march took five plays, and was aided by a fourth and four end-around by Orna Middlebrook which carried to the 14 for a first down.

Kline found Cummings on the next play for the score with 14:22 remaining in the second quarter. The conversion by Cole was no good making the score 12-0.

Linebacker Jim Stanley got the Tigers on the scoreboard intercepting a Kline pass and returning the ball 40 yards up the left sideline to score.

The conversion by Carter closed the gap to 12-7, with 10:54 remaining in the second quarter.

The Indians got another score after an exchange of punts as Bolden set sail with a Tiger punt and went 45 yards to score.

The conversion by Davis was good with 6:13 remaining in the second period and gave the Tribe a 19-7 half-time edge.

Itawamba got the first of its five second half touchdowns early in the third period staging a 67-yard drive in four plays.

The Tribe put the ball in play at its own 33 and two plays later on passes to Middlebrook from Marshall moved the ball to the Tiger 11.

Shotts carried the ball in on two tries getting to the eight on the first try and scoring on the second.

The conversion by Davis was good to push the Indian lead to 26-7 with 10:29 remaining in the third quarter.

Linebacker Galen Wilson set up the next touchdown of the game for the Tribe, intercepting an Ewen aerial and returning the ball to the Tiger 35.

Marshall passed to Middlebrook twice to put the ball at the 26, and three plays later, Kline hit Dillard with a 20-yard touchdown pass.

Davis kicked the conversion to make the score 33-7 with 6:22 remaining in the third period.

Petersen got the next Tribe touchdown, intercepting a Tiger aerial deep in Tigerland and returning the ball 32 yards for the score.

The conversion by Moore was blocked by Tiger Hugh Hathorn and the score with 1:56 remaining in the third period was 39-7.

The Tigers came right back as Michael Boggan returned the ball to the Indian 47 on the ensuing kick-off. A pass interception by Cockrell at the two stalled the Tigers' effort, momentarily.

The Tribe couldn't move the ball on three plays and punted.

The Tigers put the ball in play at its own 46 and went 54 yards to score in seven plays with Boggan getting most of the ground around the ends.

Ewen went in for the score with 11:21 remaining in the contest and the conversion by Carter put the score at 39-14.

The Indians put the ball in play at its own 43 after the ensuing kick-off and went 57 yards to score in 12 plays.

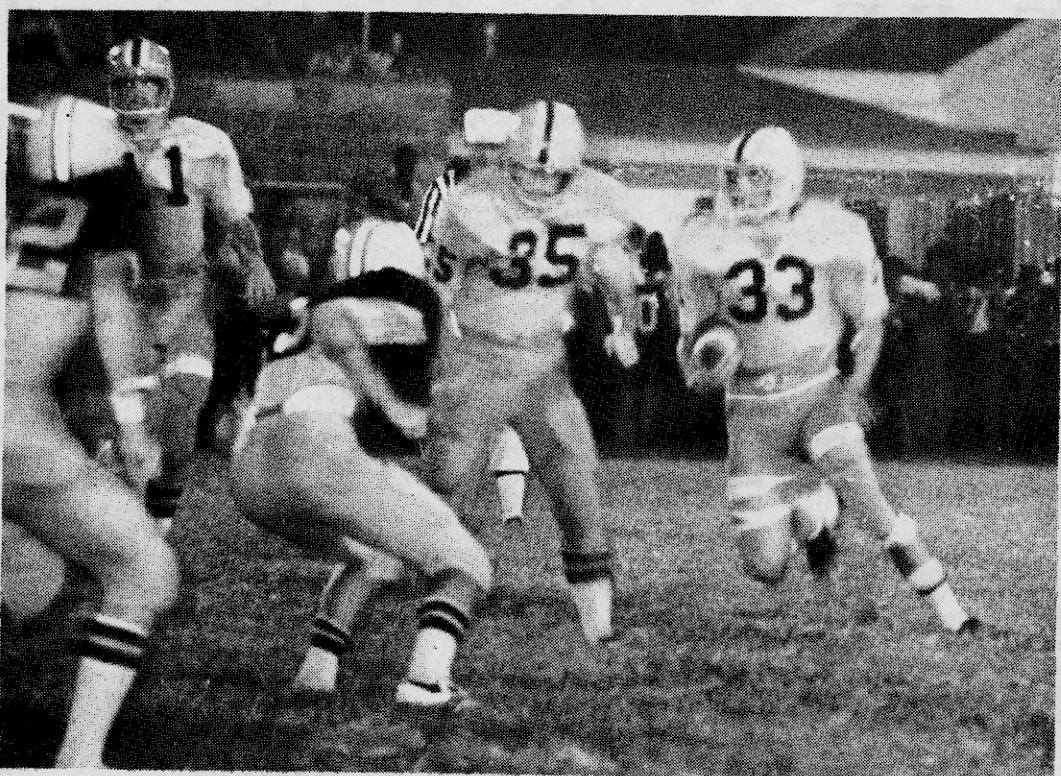

Kline punched the ball in from a yard away and the conversion by Davis pushed the score to 46-14.

The Indians went 58 yards in five plays for the game's final score after putting the ball in play after a Tiger punt.

Kline hit tailback Shotts on a screen pass on the left side for a 24-yard score.

The conversion by Davis made the final score 53-14.

Neeley On Run

Northeast Halfback Billy Neeley (33) is on the run here as Fullback Jan Prichard (35) clears the way with some blocking. Despite the gains in yardage, the Tigers were defeated in the game with the LJC Indians in Fulton.

Program To Serve 5.5

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter estimated recently that a total of more than 5.5 billion half-pints of milk will be served to children this year through the federal-state child nutrition programs.

He predicted an increase of some 11 per cent in the amount of milk that will be served to the children who take part in the National School Lunch Program and the Special Breakfast Program.

"These federal-state child nutrition programs," Assistant Secretary Yeutter said, "provide the means to make milk available at school to all of America's 51 million school children, in the school year now getting under way. If children do not have milk service in the school they attend," he pointed out, "it is because local authorities have not chosen to utilize the programs available to them."

The Assistant Secretary gave this outline of the child nutrition programs in operation in schools as the new school year gets under way: --More than 43 million children are this year attending schools which make the National School Lunch Program available to their children. A serving of a half-pint of milk must be included in every one of the lunches that is served under this program. In addition, each of the breakfasts served under the School Breakfast Program--in operation in some 9,000 schools--must also include a half-pint of milk.

--Another 3 million children attend schools which provide meal service, including milk, which is not federally subsidized. These schools are eligible to participate in the National School Lunch Program, but choose not to do so. USDA, the states, and other cooperators are encouraging these schools to participate in the National School Lunch Program.

--Five million children are attending schools which do not as yet make any meal service available to their children. The Special Milk Program is available to all of these schools which do not yet provide a food service to attending children, and the schools use these subsidy payments to reduce the price at which the milk is sold to the children.

Again, USDA, the states, and other cooperators are making every effort to get the National School Lunch Program into these schools, so that complete meals including milk may be served to the children who attend them. But the Special Milk Program will make milk available to the children, until such time as the schools join the National School Lunch Program and make full meal service (including milk) available to the children.

Child nutrition programs are administered cooperatively by the Food and Nutrition Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, by state educational agencies, and by local school authorities.

Booneville, Baldwyn, Jr. High Teams Play

Booneville and Baldwyn junior high football teams will tangle tonight (Thursday) in Baldwyn.

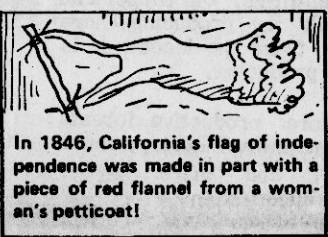

Officials said the game will be played on the Baldwyn football field. It was noted that the seventh graders will play at 5:30 with the eighth graders battling at 6:30. Then, at 7:30 the ninth grade players will tie up.

Golf Tournament Termed A Success

The ladies of the Booneville Golf and Country Club are delighted over the tremendous success of the First Annual Ladies' Golf Tournament.

This event owes a large part of its success to the many people who kindly assisted. Also the tournament's success is due to the many businesses and private citizens who donated their time and energies to the first annual affair. These gracious business people showed once again that we live in the City of Hospitality. As the golfers departed to return to their home town throughout the area, they carried with them many fine compliments of Booneville and its lovely people.

In 1846, California's flag of independence was made in part with a piece of red flannel from a woman's petticoat!

Bearcats Drop Game To Ripley

The Baldwyn Bearcats bowed out to the Ripley footballers in conference action in Ripley Friday.

The Tigers defeated the Bearcats 33-6 after a 19-6 half-time lead.

The Bearcats were the first on the scoreboard with their only six-pointer of the night when quarterback Tony Bailey made a 55 yard pass-run to wingback Jimmy Baxter.

Ripley came back in the first on an 80-yard march with James Storey going from the 11 for the touchdown. Again in the first a 50 yard march was capped when David Wilkerson went over for the Tigers.

Storey scored in the second on a pass from David Wilkerson from 60 yards out. Ripley added two TDs in the third--on a 20-yard run and a 75-yard run, both by Storey, who had rushed for 340 yards during the game.

Tommy Womack added all three points after touchdown for Ripley.

STOP THE HEAT THIEF!

He's robbing you. Don't stand by and take it. Seal your home against cold winter air, the heat thief.

Fully insulate ceilings, floors, and side walls. Caulk around windows and door frames. Install storm windows and doors, then keep them closed. Seal passages between the living area and the attic. Close the fireplace damper when not in use. Weatherstrip outside doors.

We urge you to fully insulate your home in the ways we've suggested. This way the heat thief will be stopped. Then you and your family will get maximum warmth at minimum cost from your heating system, whether it's baseboard, ceiling, central, or heat pump.

VA Hires Vietnam Veterans

The Veterans Administration has hired nearly 20,000 Vietnam era veterans, a gain of 4,200 over the previous fiscal year, it was reported by Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson.

Johnson said the young women and men were hired "because they have so much to offer VA as employees and also because the agency is cooperating fully in the national campaign to provide job opportunities for returning veterans."

James R. Harrison, Center Director, said 64 Vietnam veterans are employed at the VA Center in Jackson.

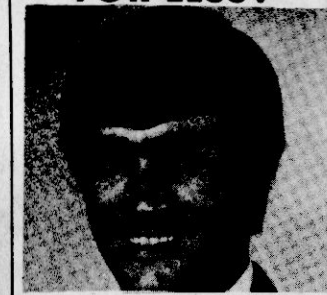

Vietnam veterans now make up nearly one-fourth of the 86,000 total veterans employed by the VA, Johnson noted.

The Vietnam veteran total includes 14,881 veterans hired under the Veterans Readjustment Program, inaugurated by President Nixon in 1970. Mr. Johnson said the program offers employment, coupled with job training or education, to help veterans make the transition to civilian life.

Seven percent of the Vietnam era veterans employed by VA are women and nearly 20 percent are members of minority groups, Johnson stated.

It was also pointed out that although the total VA workforce represents less than seven percent of the total federal workforce, VA is hiring about 17 percent of Vietnam era veterans being hired by all federal agencies. The rate of employment is about 1,000 a month, Johnson noted.

McCary Receives Mauney Memorial Scholarship

Concord Baptist Church of the Dry Creek Community in Tippah County recently presented the Gerald C. Mauney Memorial Scholarship to a Blue Mountain College Ministerial Student, Larry McCary.

The Scholarship of $100.00 was given to the young student at the close of the Morning worship service on August 2. Larry, a senior at B M C., is one of three brothers studying for the ministry and is from Hayti, Mo.

The Gerald C. Mauney Memorial Scholarship was set up by Concord Baptist Church to honor the memory of the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Mauney of the Dry Creek Community. Gerald was an outstanding young man who had been in Viet Nam only about six weeks before meeting his death in hostile action.

Prior to leaving for Viet Nam Gerald had made a definite commitment of his life for full time Christian church related service. He was a graduate of the Pine Grove High School and attended Northeast Jr. College. Gerald was active in community and church work and all who knew him can never forget his deep dedication to his family, friends, community, church and country.

The Scholarship funds have rapidly grown to the amount of approximately $2,000 through contributions of friends and the membership of Concord Baptist Church. All scholarships will be awarded to students who have felt and made a definite commitment to full time church or mission related service.

Robert E. Walker, pastor of Concord Baptist Church stated, "We are pleased to be able to make this scholarship available each year to worthy young men and women who have felt a definite call for special church related service. We are happy to have this opportunity this year to share in the life and ministry of Larry McCary. We feel this man, McCary. We feel this is a way we can both honor the memory of this fine young man, Gerald Mauney and be able to let his influence live on for the glory of God in the lives of others who can go in his place."

Memorial Scholarship

Larry McCary, a Blue Mountain College Ministerial Student, was the recipient of the Gerald C. Mauney Memorial Scholarship recently. The award was presented by the Concord Baptist Church of the Dry Creek community. Shown here are, left, Keith Mauney, a brother of Gerald, Robert Walker, pastor of Concord Baptist Church, Larry McCary, and Mrs. T. C. Mauney.

VA Assumes Responsibility For Natchez Nat'l Cemetery

Responsibility for operation of the Natchez National Cemetery at Natchez, was assumed on September 1, 1973, by the Jackson VA Center, according to James R. Harrison, Center Director. This is part of the new national cemetery system, said Donald E. Johnson, VA Administrator, in Washington noting that under a law signed by the President June 18, 1973, some 1,000 Department of Army employees and 82 national cemeteries operated by the Army were transferred to the VA on September 1, 1973.

On the same date, 21 VA cemeteries were converted into the new system as national cemeteries, thus making available an additional 53,680 VA grave sites for burial of veterans. Prior to September 1, VA cemeteries were generally limited to the burial of veterans who died in VA facilities.

Excluded from the new 103 VA cemetery system are Arlington National Cemetery, cemeteries at the three military service academies, the U. S. Soldiers and Airmen's Home Cemetery at Washington, D. C., and the U. S. Naval Home Cemetery in Philadelphia.

Also excluded are the U.S. military cemeteries in foreign countries, which are under the jurisdiction of the American Battle Monuments Commission.

Of the 103 cemeteries in the new system, 56 still have grave sites available. The 56 open cemeteries are located in 28 states and Puerto Rico.

The statue (Public Law 93-43) creating the national cemetery system directs the VA Administrator to conduct a comprehensive study and report to Congress on the criteria governing the development and operation of the new system, including the concept of regional cemeteries, and on other related matters.

In addition to creating the new national cemetery system, the law increased burial benefits for veterans. An additional $150 plot allowance is authorized for veterans buried in private cemeteries after August 1, 1973, in addition to the $250 burial allowance already authorized, and the payment of up to $800 in funeral allowances is now available on behalf of veterans who die of service-connected causes.

Employ the Handicapped

'Inability To Read, Greatest Problems...'

"The inability to read is one of the greatest problems in America today," said Miss Mary Love, director of the Mississippi Library Commission.

"Right now 12% of the adults in the United States are functionally illiterate. This means they cannot fill out simple forms or read well enough to follow directions. Because these people cannot read, they have a high unemployment rate."

Dr. Garvin Johnston, State Superintendent of Education said, "Three out of ten school children read below their grade levels. These are the children who are potential school drop-outs. They cannot keep up in their various subjects when they are unable to read or comprehend the material."

To help overcome the illiteracy problem in Mississippi, the Mississippi Library Commission, Mississippi Library Association, State PTA, and the Mississippi Division of the YWCA joined forces to promote a program called "Volunteers for Reading."

Under this program, volunteers go into elementary schools where they tutor children with reading problems. The program is designed for a one-to-one relationship with one tutor working with an individual child.

To insure that the volunteer is well trained as a tutor, the "Volunteers for Reading" sponsoring groups have initiated a program in which former teachers are enlisted to serve as trainers. After further training themselves, the trainers then instruct volunteers in effective tutoring techniques.

"Volunteers for Reading" was begun in Mississippi last year and in the areas where the program was used in the elementary schools, outstanding individual gains in reading skills was noted. This school year the "Volunteers for Reading" hope to expand their activities into more elementary schools.

So that school superintendents, principals and reading supervisors may learn more about the "Volunteers for Reading" program and how it worked in some Mississippi schools, a workshop has been called for 9:00 a.m. September 27th at the Education and Research Center on Ridgewood Road in Jackson. The invitation, which went to school administrators and reading supervisors throughout the state, was issued jointly by Miss Mary Love, director of the Mississippi Library Commission and Dr. Garvin Johnston, State Superintendent of Education.

Appearing on the program at the "Volunteers for Reading" workshop will be

Dr. Johnston; Dr. Kirby P. Walker, former superintendent of education for the Jackson Municipal School System, Mrs. Mary Lou Ray, language arts coordinator for the Mississippi Educational Television Network; and Miss Love. The workshop is being coordinated by Mary Ann Baird, State Reading Supervisor with the Department of Education and the Ad Hoc Committee on Volunteers for Reading composed of representatives of the sponsoring organizations.

Dr. Walker will moderate a panel at which "Volunteers for Reading" success stories will be told. Participating on this panel will be people who have been involved in effective volunteer tutoring programs.

"We do not want to limit this workshop entirely to school personnel," said Miss Love. "Anyone who has a genuine concern and is interested in the improving of reading skills is invited to attend."

Maxey Asks Response To Questionnaire

State Senator Joe Maxey is trying to "feel the pulse" of the people. Maxey, a freshman senator preparing for his third session of the Miss. Legislature, is attempting to find out what exactly the people want. He is taking a unique survey wherever he fulfills speaking engagements. If all of the people in the state feel as do those in Sen. Joe Maxey's district, and if the 1974 legislature pointing either Highway Commissioners or the State Superintendent of Education, preferring that the present system of electing them - and allowing them to succeed themselves-be kept intact. On the question of adoption of a County Unit System, there might be some changes made. He is also planning to insert the questionnaire in newspapers published in the four counties he represents: Itawamba, Monroe, Prentiss and Tishomingo. This being one of the largest senatorial districts in the state, geographically speaking, it may be a bellwhether to guide the legislature on what the people think about some outstanding issues. Thus far, the survey has shown some remarkable results. For example, 75 per cent of the people Maxey has surveyed are opposed to the governor - any governor - succeeding himself; but 98 per cent are opposed to apportionment of government, 91 per cent were opposed to it but, of these, roughly 90 per cent are in favor of some form of modification of the present board of supervisors beat system. Nine per cent of those surveyed came out flatly for the county unit system. Meanwhile, 85 per cent were in favor of "making changes" in the Justice of the Peace system. And apparently the people in Maxey's district are overwhelmingly fed up with the legislature continuing to "study" no-fault auto insurance since 90 per cent want the no-fault concept adopted. Another thing the people in Maxey's district want to see changed is the practice of keeping the people's business from the people. Ninety-one per cent of those surveyed are in favor of the freedom of information bill which would serve to open meetings and records not presently available to taxpayers or the press. Other questions and their results were: -Should more emphasis be placed on Vocational Education, to which 96 per cent replied yes. -Eighty-five per cent opposed the Equal Rights Amendment. -Ninety-three per cent feel changes should be made in the small loan act. -Ninety-four per cent feel the state should build a Veterinary School in Mississippi and preferably at Mississippi State University. -Seventy per cent of the people surveyed feel the state should adopt a compulsory education law. However, majority of these feel it should be done on a grade by grade basis, starting with the first grade, rather than all at once.

Maxey has been working on his informal survey for about a month, and he said that by the end of the year he thinks he will have a fair sampling of what the people in his district want. The average age of the people surveyed is 43, but the survey covers people from age 21 to 83. Sixty-six per cent of these are male and 34 per cent female.

Floyd Selected Drive Chairman

MISSISSIPPI STATE, Ms. -- Tommy Floyd of Booneville is chairman of a special drive now underway in Prentiss County to raise use funds for the John C. Stennis Chair in Political Science at Mississippi State University. Committee members assisting with the drive are: J. W. Smith, Jr., Taylor Smith, and Herman Wood of Booneville and C. G. Henderson of Baldwin. "In sincere thankfulness for the continuing recovery of our senator, John Stennis, friends and admirers are making a gift in his honor to the John C. Stennis Chair in Political Science at Mississippi State," Floyd said. Dr. William L. Giles, president of Mississippi State University, said, "As Senator Stennis begins his silver anniversary year as a member of the United States Senate, the University wanted -- in some permanent way -- to memorialize this great alumnus. The Chair in Political Science will not only honor this great man but will benefit the University and the countless thousands who may attend it through the years." Contributions to the Chair, which are tax deductible, should be made payable to the Mississippi State University Development Foundation and given to the county chairman, the Peoples Bank and Trust Company, or the Bank of Mississippi. The names of persons who contribute $500 or more will appear on a special plaque in the Stennis Suite of MSU's Mitchell Memorial Library. In addition, all gifts are recorded in the archives of the Library. "We would like to emphasize that this is not just a Mississippi State University project," Floyd said. This is a way for all friends of the senator, regardless of their college or university affiliation, to show their love and appreciation for what he has meant to our state."

ELEGANTLY MASCULINE

The so-called peacock revolution is having its tenth anniversary. It was around 1963 that men's fashions made a historic leap out of the dark ages of required gray flannel, white shirts and striped neckties. As a jeweler, I was very happy to see the dawn of the renaissance of finery for men. It was predicted that it wouldn't last, that the fashion flash for men was just a flash in the pan. Not so!

This fall, men's shirts are fashioned in a wide array of colors, smartly cuffed in the French style. We have a wide selection of cuff links to accommodate this latest fashion dictate.

The wide necktie seems here to stay. They are being shown from 3 1/2 to 5 inches, any width apparently correct. These ties require a slightly longer tie bar to keep them neatly to the shirt. Or a tie tack. Tacks do the job nicely and seem an excellent accent for even the most audacious ties.

There was a time when pearl tie tacks were it; not much else was available. Now we have a large array, from sport and business motifs to gem-set designs.

Men's wrist watches -- all watches -- are going through a seemingly endless revolution. The self-winding, mechanical watch is still being manufactured in beautiful, up-to-date designs. But the electronic quartz watch is a big part of the revolution. Space-age technology has led to the development of a new timepiece whose battery can be recharged indefinitely by solar cells, by the sun. But whatever the latest technological breakthrough, men's watches are a jewelry item and reflect the taste of the owner: How timely is your timepiece?

Men's jewelry changes with the times. Not as fast as the width of the neck tie, perhaps, but subtle changes are afoot.

Blue Devils Take Chieftain Scalp Friday Night

Carting three wins against no losses in the season thus far, the Booneville Blue Devils defeated the Okolona Chieftains 28-6 here Friday night. The Blue Devils have lived up to their pre-season prediction thus far. Booneville, which now carries a 3-0 record in the Tombigbee Conference, led off in the scoring when half-back Charles Grizzard plunged over from the two-yard line in the first quarter. The conversion attempt was no good, as were all conversion attempts during the night. In the second quarter, Grizzard gave the Blue Devils another six points, on a straight ahead dive from the five. First half scoring was wrapped up when Bill Ward,

Jr. kicked a 26-yard field goal for Booneville, making the halftime score 15-0 in the Blue Devils' favor. In third quarter scoring, Booneville QB Larry Nesler rifled a 22-yard pass to HB Dwight Hasting for another six points. Booneville scored its final tally in the fourth quarter when Nesler lobbed a nine-yard pass to FB John Williams. Okolona got its only score of the evening when defensive back A. L. Adair picked off a Blue Devil pass and scampered 54 yards for a TD with less than a minute on the clock. Okolona now carries a 1-2 record. Booneville will try to defend its undefeated record next week against the Kossuth Aggies at Kossuth.

A Rose to the Living
A rose to the living is more
Than sumptuous wreaths to
to the dead;
In filling love's infinite store,
A rose to the living is more
If graciously given before
The hungering spirit is fled—
A rose to the living is more,
Than sumptuous wreaths to
to the dead.

Upward
Glad that I live am I;
Glad that the sky is blue;
Glad for the Country lanes,
And the fall of dew.

After the sun the rain,
After the rain the sun,
This the way of life
Till the work is done.

All that we need to do,
Be we low or high
Is to see that we grow
Nearer the sky.

News from the Governor's Office

WEEKLY NEWS SUMMARY
SEPTEMBER 26, 1973

Governor Bill Waller addressed the 39th Annual Session of the Southern Governors' Conference at Point Clear, Alabama, this week concerning Mississippi's model new drug education program in the public schools.

Waller told the Governors that the Mississippi plan was the first of its type in the nation and was being evaluated by the U. S. Office of Education as a model program for other states.

He said, "I do not believe more drug agents and stiffer penalties will solve the problem."

The Governor said the proposed program in his address to the joint assembly on January 31, 1973, as, "an emergency program of teacher training in the field of drug abuse."

The 1973 Legislature provided almost $1.9 million to fund a training program calling for one drug education specialist for each 100 teacher units and no less than one drug education specialist for each public school district in the State reported Waller.

"When public school began this month, 155 trained drug education specialists were on duty in our public schools," Waller said.

Waller reported the Legislature provided for a one-third increase in the salary of drug specialists and paid them an extra $100 per week while undergoing the summer training program. School districts also received $1,000 for each drug education specialist to be used for supplies, materials, and travel.

"We are convinced that this program is a new approach to the drug problem and is well worth the investment," concluded Waller.

Waller told the Governors, "While the program is too young to show statistical results as yet, I am convinced that we are on the right track--teaching the dangers of drug abuse to our youngsters at the same time our teachers are teaching reading, writing and arithmetic."

Governor Bill Waller announced at a press conference last week that the First Annual Conference on Economic Development would be held in Jackson on November 13-14.

The Governor said he estimated over 2,000 officials from towns, counties, and development districts would attend the conference. He said experts familiar with industrial parks, city planning, bond financing, air and water pollution, and land use would appear on different conference programs.

Waller said the purpose of the conference will be to familiarize officials from small towns and counties with the help they can receive when trying to further the economic development of their community. He said even the smallest towns and counties should participate in the economic boom now occurring in the State. "We're aiming especially for officials from smaller towns and counties," said Waller.

Dr. Robert L. Robinson, Director of the Mississippi A & I Board, which is planning the conference, said complete plans for the conference would be announced later.

The Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates a record 60,500,000 bushels of soybeans will be harvested this fall in Mississippi. The previous record is 58,050,000 bushels which was harvested in 1970.

The forecast for the 1973 Mississippi cotton crop is 1,785,000 bales of 480 pounds net weight. A crop this size would be 220,000 bales less than the 2,005,000 bales produced in 1972, but 92,000 bales above the 1,693,000 produced in 1971.

The Federal Communications Commission has granted the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television permission to construct Channel 12 in Booneville. The March 1, 1974 activation of this station will complete the eight-station Mississippi ETV network.

Channel 12 will serve Tishomingo, Prentiss, Alcorn, Itawamba, Benton, Union, Lee, Tippah, and parts of Pontotoc, Marshall and Lafayette counties. With the completion of the Booneville station, every person in Mississippi will have access to ETV.

The Natchez Trace Parkway is sponsoring a Crafts Festival at Kosciusko on Saturday and Sunday, September 29 and 30. Held on the first weekend of the sorghum-making demonstrations at Kosciusko, the festival will feature craftsmen who will demonstrate their skills.

The purpose of the festival is to keep alive the many crafts of the area and to show visitors how these skills contributed to the way of life along the old Natchez Trace.

Governor Bill Waller last week spoke at the State Law Enforcement Academy during graduation ceremonies for the first civilian guards trained for duty at Parchman and told the graduates that "Mississippi is seeking to bring professionalism to all law enforcement agencies in the State."

Waller told the 14 graduates, "We intend to reward you with good working conditions and good pay."

"You must maintain your dignity and self-control at all time," said the Governor. "Our job ultimately is to return men to a productive place in society," said Waller.

Tom Shelton, Administrator of the Law Enforcement Academy told the security guards they trained at the finest facility anywhere in the United States.

Last week Sir James Plimsoll, Ambassador of Australia to the United States made an official two-day visit to Mississippi.

The Ambassador met with Governor Waller and state officials and discussed trade opportunities between Mississippi and Australia.

The Governor hosted a luncheon for the Ambassador at a meeting of the full Agri-

DRUG EDUCATION IN THE SCHOOLS

BY TED LEDBETTER
DRUG EDUCATION COORDINATOR
PRENTISS CO. DEPT. OF ED.

Drug Education in our school system is not a new thing that has just been added this year.

It's been around for several school sessions, but since the passage of the bill in March of this year, new emphasis, concepts, and structure patterns have been given to the program. The primary objective of this program is to prevent drug abuse. Students become aware of their personal beliefs, attitudes and values and the teacher and drug specialist role is to see that these are congruent to the students actions. Many approaches will be used throughout our school system to integrate activities concerning drug abuse into the total curriculum.

Through our program we will strive to develop the concept that many drugs are of great value if properly used but when abused they can interfere with ones success in life. Through this program in our schools, we hope to be able to lead the students into making constructive choices, participate in self expression and creative sessions, clarify his own values, develop communication skills, develop positive self concepts and feelings and understand his own behavior.

The Mississippi State Fair is scheduled to run October 9-16 at the Coliseum Fairgrounds in Jackson.

A $1 gate admission will allow fair goers entrance to the midway, the exhibits, and to see the nightly entertainment in the Coliseum.

There will be over 175 exhibits on education, agriculture, commerce, and conservation displayed in the Commerce buildings.

Entertainers scheduled to appear at the 1973 Fair include Boots Randolph, Donna Fargo, The Statler Brothers, Danny Davis and The Nashville Brass, The Sound Generation, Dawn, George Kirby and The North Door.

In the weekly radio program, "A Talk With the Governor," Waller said he favored a state-wide tourist program. He said Mississippi was not receiving the maximum tourist dollars available to the State.

The Mississippi Governor also said he was opposed to the advertising of alcoholic beverages in Mississippi.

Resource Development, Field Day Purpose

Developing a resource that covers over one-half of Prentiss County's land area was the central idea behind the recently held Prentiss County Forestry Field Day.

The event was sponsored by the Prentiss County Coordinating Council in an effort to inform woodland owners and users of the importance of our forest resource and ways to develop it. Approximately seventy five people attended the tour and ate a catfish dinner sponsored by the Peoples Bank and the Bank of Mississippi.

On the day's program were representatives from all the agricultural agencies in the county who have some service to offer the woodland owner. Woodland practices discussed in depth by foresters from the Mississippi Forestry Commission and the

Becky Caver Becomes Bride Of Danny Comer

In a double ring ceremony solemnized Monday Morning August 20 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Baldwin, Miss. Rebecca Jean Caver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Caver of Baldwin, became the bride of Danny Curtis Comer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Comer of Belmont.

Guests were registered in the foyer of the church by Mrs. Jerry Conlee of Baldwin.

The Reverend Hershal Wyling officiated at the double ring ceremony and a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Clanton Sansom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white crepe. The bodice of the Victorian styled dress was centered in white Venice lace which also encircled the neck and sleeves.

Her elbow length Veil of Bridal Illusion was fastened to the back of the chantilly lace Juliet cap, outlined in pearls. She carried a bouquet of white Sweetheart Roses, Baby's Breath and Stephanotis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Sheila Watterson of Aberdeen. She wore a floor length gown of green veil accented with white daisies, with a matching wide brimmed hat, and carried a nosegay bouquet of spring flowers.

Jeff Comer of Belmont served his brother as Best Man.

Mrs. Caver chose for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of beige linen. Mrs. Comer selected a street length dress of gray knit. Both mothers wore white cymbideum corsages.

After a wedding trip to Gatlingburg, Tennessee, the couple are at home in Baldwin.

MR. AND MRS. COMER

MEC To Seek Support County Unit System

The Mississippi Economic Council will crisscross the state in late October in a concerted effort to win legislative and public support for county unit legislation.

MEC President J. C. Redd of Jackson said the program will include proposed legislation, MEC's recommendations, a visual presentation of unit operations in Yazoo County, and a panel discussion of unit operations and proposals.

Scheduled as speakers are Rep. John Pearson of Rose-dale, Rep. Hainon Miller of Greenville, Council Vice President Joe Tatum of Hattiesburg, and Mayor G. B. Beard of Forest.

Pearson, an eight-year veteran of the Legislature and chairman of the House County Affairs Committee, will discuss the Legislature and what actions may be taken on unit proposals during meetings in Jackson, Cleveland, Oxford, Hattiesburg, and Biloxi.

Rep. Miller, a member of the County Affairs Committee and six-year veteran of the Legislature, will present the legislative position at the Starkville, Meridian, and Summit meetings.

Vice President Tatum will present Council's proposals during the first week of meetings, with Mayor Beard taking over the second week.

The MEC president said the panel discussion/question-and-answer period will be composed of the meeting speakers plus Yazoo County Board of Supervisors President L. M. Phillips of Holly Bluff and Board attorney Griffin Norquist of Yazoo City.

"Our plans are to take the county unit issue directly to the people," Redd said. "We want to be sure the public understands the advantages of the unit system of county road operations, and we want to point out the inefficiencies of the beat system under which most of the counties are operating."

The Jackson businessman said the Council will be contacting Council members, legislators, and members of other civic groups and organizations about the meetings.

"We hope all the people of Mississippi realize the importance of these meetings. These programs are all designed to emphasize the need of legislative action on the county unit issue."

The meetings which begin at 2:00 p.m. are scheduled as follows:

Monday, October 22-- Jackson, LeFleur's Restaurant. Tuesday, October 23-- Cleveland, Zeigel Hall, Delta State College. Wednesday, October 24-- Oxford, Center for Continuing Education, University of Mississippi. Thursday, October 25-- Starkville,

Union Auditorium, Mississippi State University. Monday, October 29-- Meridian, Holiday Inn South. Tuesday, October 30-- Hattiesburg, University Commons, University of Southern Mississippi. Wednesday, October 31-- Biloxi, Gulf Room BCD, Sheraton - Biloxi. Thursday, November 1-- Summit, Bryan

Science Building, Southwest Mississippi Jr. College.
