If Gas Rationing Is Imposed ?

How will Prentiss County be affected if and when gas rationing is imposed once again? What adjustments will have to be made by the owners of the 9,100 local cars? Less than half the people now living in the area can remember what it was like when the government previously rationed gas, during World War II.

That is not because of any faulty memory on their part. The reason is that most local residents were either not yet born or were too young then to know what was going on. The median age of the Prentiss County population is only 29.9 years.

If they had been present and aware, they would have observed that each family car had a sticker on its windshield, with a big A, B, C or X on it. This told the service station attendant at a glance just how much gas the driver was entitled to.

The A stickers were good for four gallons a week in the beginning. This was later reduced to three.

The B ones were good for supplemental allowances that would enable essential workers to commute to their jobs. The C ones went to those people who required cars for their livelihood. They got more.

The X sticker, highly prized, was for vehicles exempted from any rationing.

In addition to the sticker, each car owner was issued a ration book and stamps. A stamp had to be turned in to the gas station each time a purchase was made. The station, in turn, had to paste the stamps on sheets and turn them in to the government.

There were other severe restrictions at that time. One of them applied to the speed limit. It was set at 35 miles per hour, as compared with the 55 limit in effect now.

With the present controls on speed and on Sunday sales of gas proving to be inadequate, the government is leaning toward rationing.

Affected by it will be the 9,100 passenger cars in Prentiss County, which have been consuming gas at the estimated rate of 6,025,000 gallons per year.

A cutback of 20 percent would mean that they would get about three gallons less per week, on average. This represents a reduction of some 43 miles of travel per week.

This Season.. A Time For Love

Christmas is that special time of the year. It's the time that Christians throughout the world set aside for the worshiping of Jesus Christ. We know, however, that there are folks in other parts of the world that don't have the freedom . . . or religion . . . that we in the United States are privileged to enjoy.

This time of the year is usually celebrated by the actual giving of gifts which represents the love and affection for one another. This love is built on the real meaning of Christmas. Millions of folks throughout the world will be enjoying this festive day with members of their families. And . . . there are those who, on Christmas day, will not have the privilege to be with the members of their family.

For one reason or another, this will be impossible. But, the main point in the celebration of this great season is that WE, CITIZENS OF THIS UNITED STATES, are to express the love for our fellow man . . . just as those who came before us did.

A mere session of opening Christmas packages, eating the Christmas dinner, etc., will not get the job done. We need to be constantly praying for those in the world who are not as pleasantly blessed as we.

But, most of all, we need to show . . . in all our actions . . . the love that's in our hearts for our fellow men. WLL

One Charged In Shooting

A Booneville man was killed and three members of his family wounded by a gunshot blast here Monday.

Prentiss County Sheriff Roy Elder said that Herman Robinson, 54, was fatally injured at his home here Monday afternoon. Elder said the shooting occurred at about 5:25 p.m. Robinson was pronounced Dead On Arrival at the Northeast Miss. Hospital here.

Robinson's daughter, Mrs. Janice Thompson, 21, and her four-year old son Dale were rushed by ambulance to the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo for treatment of wounds received at the same time.

Mrs. Thompson was struck with stray shot in the nose, while the young son was struck in the left side of the face also with stray shot.

Mrs. Thompson's baby daughter, Catherine, 2, was struck by stray shots in the back of the head. She was being treated at the hospital here.

Lloyd Ralph, 52, of Booneville, has been charged with first degree murder in the incident. The Sheriff said Ralph is being held in the Prentiss County jail.

Officials said that Robinson was shot through the screen door and the door . . . both doors being closed. Robinson was struck in the left chest at close range, it was noted. A 12-gauge shotgun was used in the shooting, according to officials.

Officials commented that the family was in the living room, which is separate from the kitchen. The family residence was located just off East Church Street near Barron's Grocery here.

Co-operating in the investigation were the Prentiss

Mormon Choir On WBIP

The world-famed Mormon Tabernacle Choir will be featured in a 3-minute program of Christmas music Tuesday, December 25, at 7:00 on Radio Station WBIP.

The Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir is a mighty organization of 375 voices which had its beginning shortly after the pioneers first came to the Salt Lake Valley in 1847.

The Tabernacle Choir today, under the baton of Director Richard P. Condie, sings every Sunday morning on a coast-to-coast CBS Network radio broadcast from Temple Square, a traditional program since 1929.

The broadcasting of the Choir is the oldest continuous nation-wide musical series on American Radio. The Sunday program is carried by scores of stations in the U.S.A. and Canada, and is heard in millions of homes. It is also broadcast via tape recordings in some foreign countries over U.S.A. Armed Forces and other radio stations, including a short-wave station heard by millions in many distant lands.

For further information contact Mormon Missionaries at 728-4406.

Goodfellows Song

These ladies and gentlemen are shown as they sang here recently at the close of the Goodfellow Fund Raising Program. The program raised more than their $3,000 goal. It was noted that the county participated well in the fund. (Banner-Independent Photo)

It's That Time

With the nation waiting for the President's signature putting us on Daylight Savings Time again, this photo was taken of a clock in the city framed by a Christmas bell. It was noted that Americans will turn their clocks ahead one hour on January 13. This step is one being taken by the nation's leaders to conserve energy. Year-round DST would remain in effect through the last Sunday in April 1975 when the old Uniform Time Act would again become effective. (Banner-Independent Photo)

Goodfellow Fund Reaches Its Goal

The Prentiss County Goodfellow fund was a tremendous success here recently.

Officials of the Goodfellow program commented that some $3,077 was collected. Charles Crabb and Mrs. W. M. Murphy were emcees for the event held at the Booneville community Center.

A goal of $3,000 was set for the program, which was announced on Radio Station WBIP here from 8-11:30 p.m. Some of the entertainment for the event were The Southern Sounds, The Gaines Manufacturing Band, The Singing Echoes, Cindy Caviness, and Janice Triplett. The Girl Scouts and the Cub Scouts assisted in gathering the donations.

The Booneville Police Department also helped in the collection of the money.

Officials said that the money will be used for needy baskets for Christmas, and for various welfare cases that arrive during the year. It was noted that over 250 families benefitted by the Goodfellow Fund last year. M. W. Smith is chairman of the fund.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Tommy,
Hopefully, this letter will be able to express a collection of gratitude and sincere appreciation, to you, the Banner Independent, and the merchants of Booneville.

My involvement with the Band Boosters of Booneville prompts me to express my appreciation, and that of the Band Parents as a whole, for the recent special section of the Banner Independent spotlighting the Booneville Band. Bands in other towns throughout the area are quite envious of the fine support given the Booneville Band.

Not only did your staff do a fine job with the special section layout and content, but the merchants of Booneville are due some appreciation for the ads purchased to make the section possible.

In fact, the local merchants are to be commended for their constant cooperation and support of all our school and civic activities. Anyone connected with school or civic activities knows that thousands of dollars extra are needed each year in the form of ads or outright donations in the support of printed programs, yearbooks, and special projects. Most of this money is spent in direct relation to our young people of Booneville and Prentiss County.

Most of our local merchants feel that requests for support are a constant drain on budgets, but they also feel that need to be a part of something worthwhile.

Growth and progress in Prentiss County are definitely worthwhile. I appreciate the part our paper plays in that growth and progress.

In gratitude,
Charles Walden

Editorial and Comment

The Uncontrollable Budget

The Tax Foundation Inc., in a recent study of the Congress and Federal Burden, declared that the nation's most pressing domestic and political problem is federal government control of its own huge spending.

The Foundation notes that federal expenditures have risen from $158 billion in 1967 to an estimated $269 billion in 1973. "Relatively uncontrollable" parts of the budget -- public debt interest, social security benefits, revenue sharing, legislative and judicial operations -- will increase from 63 percent in 1967 to 75 percent in 1974, the Foundation said.

The Foundation reports that federal spending has exceeded the growth of the national economy and that spending has exceeded revenues in 36 of the last 42 years. "Red-ink" spending in the last four fiscal years alone totals $63.5 billion.

The research organization said that the legislative branch realizes it is "unable to control overall spending amounts and establish firm priorities. The point has been made that Congress cannot determine the size of federal outlays, because it has no adequate procedures to review the budget."

The Foundation notes five major areas requiring serious consideration in reform of budget procedures:

- (1) Setting overall limits for both spending and expenditure authorization.
- (2) Matching expenditures to revenues;
- (3) Restoring the role of the appropriations committees;
- (4) Determining spending priorities; and
- (5) Enlarging staff facilities.

The Foundation report concludes that adoption of expenditure control reforms will depend on the initiative and determination of Congress.

The Mississippi Economic Council agrees with the Foundation and urges the Mississippi Congressional delegation to give serious study to the five major areas.

Best Age For Marriage Varies

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: What is the best age for marriage? -- F.L., San Antonio, Tex.

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: There is no "best age" for marriage as far as all males and females are concerned. However, there is an age for each individual whereby he may be more ready for marriage than at any other time. For example, Bill and Jim are twins. They are 20 years of age; both have steady girlfriends. Bill has shown by his behavior and attitude toward certain areas of life that he's ready for marriage. So, for him, 20 years of age may be the "best" time to get married. Jim, on the other hand, although dating steady, is still showing signs of immaturity and lack of responsibility. For him, then, 20 is not the "best" age to get married.

Usually, a fairly high level of maturity in attitudes toward spending money, the proper place of sex in life, having and rearing children, and married life in general are not reached until the person is in his late teens or early twenties. Statistics show that the present average age at marriage is around 22 for the male and 20 for the female. Some persons at 16, however, are more mature and ready for marriage than others at 30, so we can't say that age is the sole criterion for marriage. There are just too many other factors involved.

IS EXTRAMARITAL AFFAIR EVER JUSTIFIED?

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: How do you feel about a married person who is unfaithful to his spouse because he can't be sexually satisfied at home? In order to satisfy this desire, he or she seeks satisfaction outside of marriage. Is this behavior ever justified? -- C.C. Boston

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: When one is married, there is no justification, spiritually, morally, or socially for one to seek sexual satisfaction outside of marriage. However, let's go deeper into the situation and ask the question, "Why isn't one satisfied, sexually, at home?" There can be a number of reasons. Maybe, the wife, due to early home conditioning, has certain fears of pregnancy, pain, or aversions against sex. The husband, due to a dating background of sexual promiscuity, may be more demanding, sexually. Sometimes, a very confining religious background can retard freedom of sexual expression. The fact of just living together for a number of years with resulting boredom, at least for some, sets the stage for extramarital sexual behavior.

Whatever the excuse or reason may be, there is no justification for sexual unfaithfulness on the part of either spouse. Our religious, moral, and social codes for living prohibits this type of behavior. When one gets to this stage in marriage a re-evaluation of the situation including the possibility of professional counseling is in order if the marriage is to continue with any degree of happiness and stability.

If you have a question you want answered, write Prof. J. Kenneth Williams P.O. Box 1488, Pompano Beach, Fla. 33062, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pause For Power

God's Invasion Of Earth

In the winter of 5 B. C. the eternal God established his beachhead at Bethlehem.

The Bible describes this momentous event in simple terms: "The Word became flesh" (John 1:14). Theology calls it the incarnation--God's invasion of earth.

But what was the modus operandi of God's invasion of this planet? How did God establish his beachhead on earth? The answer to this question, in one sentence, is this -- God invaded earth by the modus operandi of the virgin birth. The record of this invasion is described thus in the Bible, "And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary; for thou hast found favor with God. And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS....Then said Mary unto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:31-35).

Here is the story of the virgin birth of Jesus Christ as recorded by a competent medical doctor, Dr. Luke. That testimony is unequivocal. Jesus Christ was born of a virgin. This, of course, was a miracle; but the story of this miracle is amply supported by solid documentary evidence. INDEED, the supernatural character of Jesus Christ demand a supernatural birth, as well as a supernatural resurrection. When we get down to the nitty-gritty of unbelief, we find that the real objection to the virgin birth is in reality an objection to any kind of supernaturalism. That is to say, men who deny the virgin birth do not do so because of the lack of evidence in support of the virgin birth. Men deny the virgin birth simply because they refuse to believe in any kind of supernaturalism. If they admitted the virgin birth, they would have to admit the reality of the supernatural, and this they are unwilling to do.

The questions of miracles is really the question of God. The Apostle Paul, in connection with another miracle; said to king Agrippa. "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?" (Acts 26:8). Incredible that the dead should arise? Yes! Incredible that God should raise the dead? No! Incredible that a baby should be born of a virgin? Yes! Incredible that God should bring to pass the virgin birth? No! If God is what the Bible declares Him to be, infinite in his wisdom and power, there surely ought to be no real problem with miracles. The real question is not, Can I believe in miracles?, but, Do I believe in a sovereign, omnipotent God?

But, precisely, what do we mean by the virgin birth? By the term, virgin birth, we simply mean that the human nature of Jesus Christ was conceived in the womb of the virgin Mary by the power of the Holy Spirit without the aid of man. The Bible says, "Then said Mary unto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee; therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God."

The Holy Spirit therefore was the efficient cause of that human nature which was conceived in the womb of the virgin Mary. This excluded the activity of man as an efficient factor. The Apostles Creed says that, "Jesus Christ was conceived by the Holy Ghost and born of the virgin Mary."

Jesus Christ was virgin born; and the virgin birth was the modus operandi of the incarnation of the eternal God.

It perhaps would be well, however, to point out that the Bible suggests not simply one, but two incarnations. The miraculous conception of Jesus Christ in the womb of the virgin Mary is, in a sense, paralleled in every true conversion. At a certain point in history and in a certain place, Jesus Christ took up his residence here upon this earth. In the hour of conversion, Jesus Christ takes up his residence once again in the life of a believer. This is the second incarnation. The first incarnation provided me with a Savior. The second incarnation makes this Savior mine. The first incarnation makes salvation possible. The second incarnation makes salvation actual.

The Bible therefore says, "Christ in you, the hope of glory" (Colossians 1:27). To receive Jesus Christ as Savior is to possess Christ; and to possess Jesus Christ is to possess eternal life.

SPREADER CLINICS

A series of fertilizer spreader clinics has been scheduled for early January for farmers and commercial fertilizer spreaders. The clinics are jointly sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural Chemicals Council and the Cooperative Extension Service.

One of the reasons for the clinics is that most fertilizer today is being broadcast and some spreaders are doing poor jobs of applying the material. The fertilizer supply is short and we need to get the most out of every pound of fertilizer. Among the topics to be covered are the value of uniform application, value of lime and calibration of spreaders.

The clinics will be held at McComb, January 7; Hattiesburg, January 8; Jackson, January 9; Starkville, January 10; and New Albany, January 11. Each clinic will begin at 9:30 a.m. and last until 3 p.m.

PRODUCE GOOD CLEAN MILK

The real secret to producing good high quality milk is extra care and cleanliness at every milking.

Properly wash the udder and teats with a sanitizing solution before milking. Do not feed strong moldy feeds to milking cows. Keep cows off pastures that contain wild onions. These may cause off-flavors. Clean cows and equipment thoroughly after milking.

BRIDGE for EVERYONE

James Kerry

There are two distinct lessons hidden in the bidding in today's offering: Number one, to recognize a misfit and treat it accordingly, and number two, always be reluctant to double slams, unless you are absolutely assured of setting the contract and believe the double will not give vital information to declarer.

N-S vulnerable.

 3♠ Pass 3-NT Pass
 4♥ Pass 4♠ Pass
 5♠ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead—Eight of Diamonds.

South was looking at a monstrous holding opposite an opening bid, and lofty visions of vulnerable slams immediately began dancing before him. A normal reaction, but one to approach with guarded caution. The jump shift in hearts by South was by the book and completely justified as was North's rebid of three diamonds which revealed a minimum and denied heart support. South now bid three spades, his second strongest suit and North again denied with three notrump. At this point South should realize there are problems in the distribution and proceed with care. We can't blame him for bidding four hearts because from his point of view it should not be played in notrump. North decided it was advisable to show the spade preference since he is void in hearts, and bid four spades. Now South made the cardinal error by bidding six spades, a rash decision in view of the bidding which included two denials of his major suits. Six spades was passed out as East resisted the temptation to double, a smart move on his part, not to reveal the whereabouts of the missing trump honors.

South trumped the opening diamond which fell East's ace, cashed the ace of hearts and trumped a small heart in dummy. He now ran three high diamonds discarding hearts. On the third diamond East also threw a heart rather than trump. Declarer continued with diamonds and East pitched his last heart as South ruffed with the six of spades which held since West is unable to overruff. From here on he must lose two trump tricks for down one on any line of play.

On this hand even with a misfit, game must be bid, however, when the misfit is obvious and game reached, now is the time to stop. They do not come that easy so let's not throw them away.

URBAN FORESTRY NOTES

By Tom Carter

COUNTY FORESTER

The people of Prentiss County should be proud of the fact that they still have 135,000 acres of forestland.

Many people may be taking for granted that we will always have these trees and beautiful forested areas. It's something for all of us to think about.

Forests are one of the most valuable natural assets that we have from many standpoints. They act as a filter for the air we breathe and produce life-giving oxygen. They hold the earth together and store up water like a dry sponge. They act as cover for wild animals and birds. They produce sawtimber and pulpwood, and forested recreation areas provide shade and a relaxing atmosphere.

When forests are destroyed or damaged by wildfire all of us lose--not just the owner of the land. Every person in Prentiss County should take seriously the need to keep wildfire out of our woodlands in the months just ahead.

With fall of the year already here, it is again time to increase our alertness to the danger of wildfires. In past years there have been houses and barns burned by forest or field fires simply because weeds and grass were allowed to grow right up against buildings.

To avoid this tragedy it would be wise to mow or bush hog the weeds and grass; then with a plow or harrow plow a good mineral soil break around buildings of all kinds. Also, a fire-break should be cut around trash burning areas. This could be done with a garden tractor or roto-spader.

Any trash burning should be done late in the day in a container that will prevent the wind from blowing the burning trash out onto dry grass.

County Forester Tom Carter says a good rule-of-thumb to follow in doing any outdoor burning is this: "If there's even the smallest doubt in your mind about whether it's safe or not, don't strike that match! There'll be other safer times."

Carter said that "most people have a wealth of common sense about the use of fire. It's when they go against that common sense feeling that their fire might get away from them that the trouble usually starts."

POT LUCK TUNA

Amid the whirl of Christmas baking, holiday shopping, wrapping gifts and addressing cards plus the thousand and one things that go into getting ready for the most joyous season of the year, there's hardly time for the daily necessities like preparing dinner. Why not try a casserole? You can toss this one together while waiting for the last straggler to come down for breakfast. Refrigerate it, then pop into the oven while you're still grabbing a half an hour to finish some holiday preparations, or just getting off your feet before dinner.

This is the Pot Luck Tuna that you can make from ingredients on the pantry shelf and refrigerator. Melt half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Remove from heat; gradually stir in one and one-half cups of milk. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens, then cook an additional two minutes. Add one and one-half cups, that's six ounces of shredded Cheddar cheese; one can, that's seven ounces of tuna, drained and broken into pieces; one package, that's a ten ounce size, of frozen peas and carrots, cooked and drained. Pour the whole mixture into a one and one-half quart casserole. Top with one package of refrigerated biscuits. This will bake in twenty to twenty-five minutes in a preheated 350 degree oven. If you've refrigerated it, add fifteen minutes to the baking time.

If you and the family likes this, then try it again substituting sliced frankfurters and French-style green beans for tuna, peas and carrots. Another time, try shrimp, mushrooms and peas; leftover cubed ham and green lima beans for still another time.

PAN COAT
2 parts shortening

Mix well and keep in refrigerator.

I use it whenever a recipe calls for a greased pan. Try it -- you will like it too.

Special Control Measures Necessary For Mistletoe

MISSISSIPPI STATE - Mistletoe is a parasite that attacks many hardwoods in Mississippi, but other than the unsightly condition and disfigurement, causes little damage to the tree.

Work has been done on herbicide type chemicals that will satisfactorily remove mistletoe, but these have been difficult to find.

Mistletoe does cause occasional dieback and weakening of terminal limbs. It is a flowering plant which parasitizes other plants and is frequently seen on oak, hackberry and elm trees.

"Its attachment organs are closely associated with the vascular system of the tree," explained Dr. Donald Blasingame, plant pathologist for the Cooperative Extension Service. "In fact, it obtains water and nutrients from the tree's conductive systems that would normally nourish the tree."

Control of this parasitic plant is often difficult because a portion of it is growing into the tissues of the tree. Just breaking the mistletoe away from the limb is not a satisfactory means of control. It is necessary to remove a chip from the host limb at the point of attachment including a part of the vascular system.

The plant pathologist said if mistletoe is on small limbs, the entire limb should be pruned about one foot below the area of infection. The area should be treated with a tree paint to prevent the entrance of wood rotting organisms that may follow the pruning operation.

"This parasitic flowering plant can be spread by birds, as well as other means. Birds often carry the seed on their beaks after eating the white berries of the mistletoe," he reported. "Infections commonly occur on tree branches after birds wipe the seed from their beaks."

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE NEWS

Governor Bill Waller urged all Mississippians who are experiencing a problem in getting diesel fuel, heating oil and other fuels under the Federal Allocation program to contact the State Fuel Coordinator, George Cochran, in the office of the Mississippi Fuel and Energy Management Commission, 1370 Woolfolk State Office Building.

The Governor said the office of the Fuel Coordinator and Fuel and Energy Management Commission was set up to make sure Mississippi Producers know how to obtain necessary fuels under the current federal allocation programs.

Waller said, "We do not know of a crop that could not be harvested or a plant that was forced to close permanently because of the fuel shortage. We are working daily to prevent dangerous shortages that might hurt our economy."

Last week the Governor turned in the two limosines leased for him by the State and accepted smaller, more economical autos to replace them.

The Governor's Office said the move was part of the Governor's effort to conserve fuel and estimated the smaller automobiles for the Governor would save over 50% in gasoline consumption.

The Capitol moves to the Delta on Thursday in the last of the moves around the State. A capacity crowd last week in Laurel heard Governor Bill Waller urge legislative passage of a $20 exemption for one automobile per family.

The Governor said, "I believe the time has come to give a meaningful tax reduction that will affect the great majority of Mississippians. This reduction is in the cost of the average family's car tag."

The Governor said this tax reduction would cost the State only about $10 million, as compared with the over $19 million income tax reduction last year, and would affect some 500,000 Mississippi families.

He pointed out that the tax reduction would be in the form of a $20 tax exemption on one car per family and would be reimbursed by the State to local governments.

Herman Glazier, Chief Administrative Assistant to Mississippi's last three Governors was honored Friday in state-wide Appreciation Day Ceremonies in his hometown of Rolling Fork. Governor Bill Waller and former Governors John Bell Williams and Paul Johnson, Jr., led a host of Mississippi dignitaries who joined Sharkey County residents in paying tribute to Herman Glazier.

The Mississippi Coast Coliseum Commission broke ground last week for a $15 million tourist and convention complex in Harrison County.

The 10,000 seat Coliseum and 100,000 square foot exhibition center are designed to attract major regional and national convention to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Governor Waller speaking at the occasion said, "With this new tourist and convention complex, you can open the door to a 12-month business potential that staggers the imagination."

The Governor pointed out that only one 5,000-man convention that stays four days would mean $1 million in immediate new spending in the State. He congratulated the people of Harrison County for their efforts to build such a facility.

The Public Education Study Committee released its report this week with recommendations that Governor Bill Waller called "the most comprehensive set of legislative proposals for improvement of public education in Mississippi history."

Senator Sam Wright of Clinton, Chairman of the Committee, outlined the main recommendations and said the Committee's proposals were largely the result of public meetings held around the State in September.

The Committee put priorities on a two-step program of career education; a program of school attendance counselors; need for clarification of teacher dismissal procedures; proper utilization of 16th section lands; proper equalization of property taxes; reduction of the teacher-pupil ratio in grades 1-3; increasing the salary of the State Superintendent of Education and a new finance program for public schools.

The Committee also called for establishment of a legislative study group to look into reorganization of school districts and new legislation on operating procedures of accountability for the State Department of Education.

Dr. Robert L. Robinson, Director of the Mississippi A & I Board and Governor Bill Waller recently met with Robert Vlasic, Chairman of Vlasic Foods of Detroit, to discuss Vlasic's plans for construction of a new plant to be located in Greenville. Vlasic said that this $7 million facility will be the most modern food processing plant in the country. "The year-round employment will be about 200 persons, except during harvest time when this figure will double. In addition, the company plans to bring agricultural experts to Greenville who will advise and train Mississippi farmers in the growing of cucumbers for the pickling market," Vlasic said.

Dr. Robinson said, "The Vlasic Food facility is a perfect example of the type of industry we have been trying to attract to Mississippi. Our State's agricultural industry needs plants that will take raw materials from the farms and produce finished products ready for the market."

Governor Bill Waller told a news conference recently he felt the program to move the Capitol to various parts of the State was the "best event in the history of the State in establishing dialogue with the public."

The Governor said, "We are getting together with the people. We are not agreeing on all the issues, but we are getting together."

The Capitol moves to Southwest Mississippi in Laurel on December 6 and to the Delta at Cleveland on December 13.

Dr. Alton B. Cobb, State Health Officer, has announced that the State Board of Health's Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism Program has recently made ten grants to regional programs for the delivery of alcoholism services. Many of the activities of the Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism Program are based on the philosophy that programs should be developed on a regional basis, and the awards are considered a major step in fulfilling this plan.

Charles Riddell, Chairman of the State Penitentiary Board, last week announced the appointment of penologist Jack K. Reed to the position of Superintendent of the State Penitentiary at Parchman.

Riddell said, "We feel we are extremely fortunate in having a penologist so highly qualified and experienced as Mr. Reed join our corrections system. His education and previous work have left him well prepared to meet the challenges of the Superintendent's job."

Riddell said that Reed has over eleven years experience with the California Department of Corrections. "Mr. Reed has demonstrated remarkable ability in several areas of prison administration," Riddell said.

Governor Waller also last week announced the appointment of Holloman M. Raney of Yazoo City and Tyler H. Fletcher of Hattiesburg to the State Penitentiary Board. Raney is currently the general consul for Mississippi Chemical Corporation in Yazoo City. A native of Greenville, the 40-year-old Raney is a graduate of the University of Mississippi School of Law. Raney is married and the father of three children.

Fletcher is Director of Criminal Justice Studies at the University of Southern Mississippi. He retired from the Army in 1971 as a full Colonel after serving 21 years in the Military Police to start the Criminal Justice program at Southern. In the Army, Fletcher was in charge of the military prison system, United States Army Europe.

Educators and parents alike will be interested in a special one-hour program in Mississippi Educational Television's "Viewpoint" series featuring a discussion of school financing as it relates to quality education and equal opportunity in education.

Entitled "Viewpoint: Education - School Financing," the special program will be aired Thursday, December 6 at 6:30 p.m. over the Mississippi Educational Television Network (Channels 19 Biloxi; 17, Bude; 23, Greenwood; 29, Jackson; 14, Meridian; 18, Oxford-University; and 2, State College).

"Many different aspects dealing with financing public education are brought to light and debated by program participants; and while no really specific conclusions are reached by the on-camera personalities, viewers should be left with facts and impressions that can be useful in understanding some of the most significant issues in public education today," said Benita Lucroy, director of education at the Mississippi Center for ETV.

County Tournament Matches All Teams

By Ricky Gillentine
In the 10-year history of the Prentiss County Basketball Tournament, it seems that the New Site Royals have carried the crown more than any other team.

The record shows that New Site has captured the tournament five times, with Baldwin and Booneville each having an equal share of two wins each, and Wheeler has won the tournament one time.

But, this record shouldn't dampen any spirits, because there's plenty of action to be had at the tournament. It will be played this week at the Northeast Jr. College gym.

From a little research of the years in the past, it was found that this tournament got its start during the 1963-64 school year and has been played every year since. The county tournament was the first type of program established in the county, which gave all county schools a shot at each other for the county title.

According to research, this is the 11th year of county-wide basketball competition. To let one know why each school wants to win this tournament so badly, is because there are some schools who have never won it, one school who has won it more than the others and two schools that are presently matched even. Thrasher and Jumpertown have not yet won the tournament. Of the past ten years of competition, New Site has carried the title home five times.

For one of these teams there is another trophy waiting for them. Who will it be?

The Record
School Years - 1963-64 - Baldwin defeated Booneville and won State. 1964-65 -

New Site defeated Wheeler and won State. 1965 - 66 - New Site defeated Baldwin and won State. 1966-67 - Baldwin defeated Wheeler; New Site won State. 1967-68 New Site defeated Baldwin and won State.

1968-69 - New Site defeated Baldwin and won State. 1969-70 - Wheeler defeated Booneville and won State. 1970-71 - New Site defeated Thrasher. 1971-72 - Booneville defeated New Site. 1972-73 - Booneville defeated Jumpertown. 1973-74 ? defeated ? ? ? ?

Northeast Wins Over EMJC

By Lee Gentry
The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes had a home date with East Mississippi Junior College Saturday night.

The results was spectacular for the Northeast fans as they saw the Tigers score 113 points, their highest of the season as they beat Scooba 113 to 78.

The fans also saw the Tigerettes win their seventh consecutive game as they knocked off the Scooba gals 60 to 49.

In the girls action Northeast jumped off to a 29 to 21 halftime lead. But things hairy in the second half as Scooba overcame the halftime lead and took the lead with 4:14 left in the third quarter on a 15 footer by Scooba's Debra Deason but the lead didn't last long as the Tigerettes came back in the fourth quarter to take the lead to stay as Regina Keenum scored on a layup with 5:43 to go in the game to give the Tigerettes a 52 to 44 lead. Scooba was gone from there as the Tigerettes stretched the lead at the end to 11 points and won their seventh game without a defeat 60 to 49.

Becky Tate had 14 for Northeast followed by Janie Hamm with 11.

Debra Deason had 20 to lead East Mississippi followed by Dora Strickland with 17.

The Tigerettes are now 7-0 and face Holmes Junior College at home Jan. 12. In the boys action the Northeast Tigers played an average game in the first but played remarkable in the second half and beat East Mississippi 113 to 78.

The 113 points was the highest scoring mark of the season as five Tigers scored in double figures.

Northeast shot 47 of 81 for a 58% average while Scooba shot 30 of 59 for a 50% average. But the big difference was the overall number of shots. Northeast took 81 shots while Scooba took only 59.

Action got hot and heavy late in the game as the Tigers scored 4 consecutive buckets as Reggie Brown stole the ball twice and Mike Childers scored 2 buckets, then with 8:14, left Brown scored 2 more buckets to give the Tigers a 77 to 65 lead.

Northeast began to pull away with 3:23 left in the game as Scooba began making mistakes and the Tigers took advantage of every one and won it big at the end 113 to 78.

The five Tigers who scored in double figures are Reggie Brown with 29, Allen Holditch with 14, Bryan Tyron with 13, Mike Childers with 12, and Freddie Copeland with 12.

Scooba's Joe Meady had 30 followed by Moses with 16 and Scallon with 12.

Northeast will play Florence State on Jan. 4, Martin Junior College on Jan. 5, and Calhoun Tech. on Jan. 7 all away before coming home to battle with Mississippi Delta on Jan. 11.

Tigers

A Tigers Split

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes traveled to Senatobia Friday night to battle with Northwest Junior College.

The result was a split, the Tigerettes winning 60 to 57 and Tigers losing 77 to 64.

Northwest led 35 to 28 at halftime and pressured the Tigers in the second half and knocked them off 77 to 64.

Larry Powell had 22 followed by Lee Payton with 18 for Northwest. Reggie Brown had 16 followed by Freddie Copeland with 14 and Allen Holditch with 13 for Northeast.

The Tigerettes won their sixth consecutive game as they beat the Rangerettes 60 to 57.

Shirley Hall had 13 followed by Jeannie Hamm with 10 for Northeast. Reda Stone netted 19 and Berdine 17 for Northwest.

Food-Nutrition Project Involved With Science

MISSISSIPPI STATE - Why does a potato turn dark after it is peeled? What happens to eggs when cooked at too high a temperature? These are only a couple of the questions 4-H'ers are asking as they become interested in the foods and nutrition project.

"For many years 4-H members have excelled in canning and freezing fruits and vegetables; in preparing well-balanced meals; and in baking golden brown loaves of bread and mouth-watering cakes," said Miss Nancy Ertz, Extension food-nutrition specialist. "But now, in addition to learning the hows of preparing foods, more and more 4-H'ers are becoming interested in learning why certain things happen in food preparation."

Mississippi's Forest Supplies Roundwood

Mississippi forests supplied more than 559 million cubic feet of roundwood to forest industries in 1972, an increase of over 39 percent since 1966.

Softwoods, mainly pine, made up more than two-thirds of the total. Pulpwood and saw logs were the major products, accounting for 85 percent of the harvest. Veneer logs added 11 percent, and poles and piling made up more than half the remainder.

Although forest area has decreased 1 percent or 200,000 acres in the last 6 years timber still occupies more half of the State's land area. In all, some 16.7 million acres are currently forested.

The are some of the facts found in two new USDA Forest Service publications released by Dr. John C. Barber, Director of the Southern Forest Experiment Station.

One is "Mississippi Forest Industries, 1972" by Daniel F. Bertelson of the Southern Station's Forest Resources Research Unit. Data for the report were provided by the Mississippi Forestry Commission, which canvassed all primary forest industries in the State. The report shows softwood and hardwood output by county, lists names and addresses of all primary forest industries, and maps plant locations, information useful to State and local agencies, planners, industrial developers, and Chambers of Commerce.

The other is "Midcycle Evaluation of Mississippi Timber Resources" by Duane D. Van Hooser.

Normally, Southern Station researchers prepare an appraisal of each State's forest resources every 10 years. Dr. Barber explained. But the dynamic growth of Mississippi's forest industries makes the 10-year cycle too long to wait. The new two-stage 3P sampling technique makes a midcycle evaluation possible, he said. Thus, Mississippi is the first State to have a midcycle update.

Overall change in the amount of forest land was small, because abandonment of some fields to forestry almost offset land clearing. Nevertheless, substantial shifts occurred in land use in some sections. In the Delta area, encompassing the alluvial plain of the Mississippi River and a lot of prime hardwood land, more than 14 percent of the commercial forest was cleared and planted, primarily to soybeans or cotton. Here, heavy losses through clearing have been taking place since the early 1960's. If widespread clearing continues, and indications are that it will, Southern Station researchers predict impact on the hardwood resource may become even more severe within the next decade.

Net growth of softwoods in 1972 amounted to 454 million cubic feet, exceeding softwood timber removals by only 6 percent. Six years ago, the margin of timber growth over cut was ten times as great.

MR. AND MRS. WHITE

Gault, White Wedding Told

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gault was the setting November 22 for the Thanksgiving Day wedding of their daughter Peggy Ann to Charlton White.

Entering on the arm of her father the bride looked radiant in an original gown of her own creation. The floor length gown of white tulle featured fitted waist and a sash tied in a bow with streamers falling on to the full skirt. Ruffles trimmed in wedding bell tating accented either side of the front bodice. The shoulder length veil of French illusion was caught and held in place by a headpiece of lace orange blossoms studded with seed pearls and crystal beads. Her single ornament was a diamond pendant a gift from the groom. The bride's bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by yellow rose buds and white tulle.

The ceremony, written by the bride and groom, was performed by Rev. Tom Rayburn. The vows were exchanged before an altar featuring a basket of yellow gladiolus and orange daisy mum which was flanked on either side by candleabra holding yellow lighted tapers. Ferns surrounded the entire area.

Serving as the bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eileen Gault. Mrs. Gault wore a floor length gown of green and yellow floral crepe. The gown's empire waist was tied with gold velvet ribbon. She carried a long stemmed yellow rose bud with streamers of gold ribbon.

Serving the groom as best man was Dale Gault, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gault chose a dress of royal blue tulle.

Mrs. White wore a dress of navy blue tulle. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Prereceptional music was provided by Mrs. Gaye Cau, Mr. Ray Taylor and Mrs. Mary Rayburn. Songs included More, Whether Thou Goest, Follow Him and Savior, Like A Sheppard Lead Us.

Friends and relatives were registered by Shirley Langley, sister of the groom. The three-tiered white cake was trimmed with yellow sugar roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Serving the cake, nuts and mints and coffee from the bride's table, which was covered in a cutwork cloth and accented by an arrangement of yellow and orange fall flowers, were Mrs. Granvel McCoy, Mrs. E. C. Roden and Mrs. Milton Grisham.

Recreating Christmas, An Annual Event

Recreating Christmas in the 1860's is an annual event at Gallier House in New Orleans' French Quarter.

The authentically restored home of famous architect James Gallier, Jr., is a lesson in 19th century history the year round, but at Christmas time it takes on a special glow and liveliness like no other place in the region.

Gallier House researchers have looked into old New Orleans newspapers and discovered in advertisements and feature stories the sort of decorations that a sort of decorator of the home made in the 1860's might use to imbue her family and friends with the Christmas spirit.

"Just about everything Mrs. Gallier used for decorating was natural," said Nadine Carter Russell, curator of the museum house. "She probably bought evergreens, fruits and nuts by the basketful. Then she sat down with her four daughters and made ornaments using the natural things and scraps of silk and velvet."

In this 1973 Christmas season the Gallier House staff has done everything to recreate the spirit of Christmas past. The staircase and all doorways in the house are framed by chains of evergreens and velvet ribbons.

Along the walls of the double parlour peeking out from behind massive gilt frames and romantic landscape paintings are boughs of holly and pine. A Christmas tree near the window is alive with tiny candle flames. Gilded pinecones and silk cornucopia stuffed with sugar coated almonds dangle from the branches. Beneath the tree are small gift packages colorfully wrapped as they might have been during the days of the Galliers.

In the dining room, the scene of so much family pleasure at Christmas, past and present, the theme of naturalness in decorating is again used. The centerpiece on the mahogany table is a large arrangement of holly, pinecones, nuts, oranges and kumquats.

Gallier House is a non-profit organization dedicated to interpreting for visitors and students the customs and lifestyles of New Orleans in the middle 1800s. The House is open Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday 1 to 5 p.m.

Two films on ornamental ironwork and decorative plaster cornices are part of the guided tour through the house, courtyard and exhibit building. Complimentary coffee and Southern desserts served on the balcony overlooking Royal Street complete a visit to the complex. In keeping with New Orleans religious and holiday tradition, the Christmas decorations will be up at Gallier House until Twelfth Night, January 6th.

Don't Turn Off Top Burners

WASHINGTON, D. C., — "Because of public safety considerations and heat loss, extinguishing top burner pilot lights is not justifiable as a conservation measure," F. Donald Hart, president of the American Gas Association, said today.

Hart's statement was in response to a concurrent resolution calling for the turning off of all top burner pilots on gas ranges, introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Lester Volff (D-N.Y.).

drops below 68 degrees."

Hart explained that turning off top burner pilots will not conserve natural gas. "During the winter months," Hart said, "range pilot lights add to the heating of the home at 100% efficiency. If the pilots are turned off, this heat must be replaced from some other source, resulting in an increased load on the furnace. On a national average, the turning off of range top pilots could mean as much as a 3% increase in furnace usage."

"A.G.A. is taking every reasonable step it can to encourage conservation of our country's natural resources," Hart stated. However, our paramount concern must be the public safety. Permitting the continuance of range top burner pilot lights would, in our view, be more justifiable in terms of public safety than diverting the small amount of gas they consume."

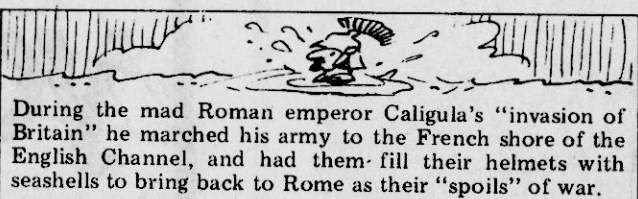

"Top burner gas range pilot lights are designed to provide automatic ignition when the gas burner valve is opened. On a range with a top burner pilot, if the pilot accidentally goes out, the gas escaping is not enough to create a hazard," Hart said. "However, if there is no top burner pilot, and if the burner valve is accidentally turned on, enough gas can escape to create a hazard."

For this reason, the American National Standard for ranges was changed more than 15 years ago to require automatic top burner lighting as a safety measure. Hart also pointed out: "Range top burner pilots use only about 1/4 of 1% of the gas consumed in the country, and the heat which these pilots generate is useful in the home during 3/4 of the year when the outside temperature

When asked about the use of pilots as a heat source during warm weather, Hart agreed that turning off pilot lights on top burners during the summer months (in a home where air conditioning was operating) would conserve some fuel. "However," Hart said, "gas supply is not as critical in summer as in winter."

At present, according to the A.G.A. president, there are no inexpensive and practical automatic devices that provide the equivalent safety, reliability and convenience of the pilots on ranges. "The gas industry is very concerned with energy conservation and is actively engaged in research for acceptable energy saving methods of igniting gas range burners," Hart said.

However, as an indication that gas ranges, even with pilots, are more efficient than other comparable ranges, Hart referred to the Council on Environmental Quality, August, 1973 report on Energy and the Environment. That report states: "...all the gas fired appliances are more efficient than their electric counterparts; 1.4 times as much energy is needed to run an electric stove than a gas stove."

During the mad Roman emperor Caligula's "invasion of Britain" he marched his army to the French shore of the English Channel, and had them fill their helmets with seashells to bring back to Rome as their "spoils" of war.

Bridal Honors Miss Vicki Moreland

The hostesses were Mrs. Wilford Gray, Mrs. Jim Ramey, Mrs. Jimmy Pharr, Mrs. Ross Pharr and Mrs. Gene Pharr.

After many useful and lovely gifts were opened and displayed, refreshments including pink petit fours adorned with white wedding bells, mints of pink, lavender, and blue, chosen colors of the bride-elect, and nuts were served from a table covered with a white cut work cloth. ## Health Dept. Wants Funds For Vaccine

The Mississippi State Board of Health is asking for funds in the new Legislative Budget to acquire and administer a new triple vaccine for mass immunization against measles, mumps and German measles (rubella), says State Health Officer, Dr. Alton B. Cobb.

Made available to physicians in 1971 and used thus far in health departments only in the State of Massachusetts, "this vaccine may be administered by jet gun and immunizes the child against three diseases with a single injection," explained Dr. Durward Blakey, Chief of the Bureau of Disease Control, State Board of Health. "This makes vaccination more convenient and spares children the discomfort of two additional injections. Although the cost of the vaccine is greater, in the long run the cost of immunizing the child is less due to the saving of additional visits to the health departments for immunization services."

We must do everything we can to see that Mississippi's children are properly immunized," emphasized Dr. Cobb. "These so-called harmless childhood diseases are actually a very real threat to not only the child but those exposed as well. German measles, for example, may cause very little discomfort to the child, but during 1964-65, 30,000 fetal deaths and 20,000 children born with birth defects were the results of a major rubella outbreak.

There are many other dangerous complications from childhood diseases, such as damage to hearing and vision. If you are not sure that your children have been properly immunized, consult your local health department or private physician now.

Special Education, Jaycee Program

At the recent Booneville Jaycee meeting, Mrs. Danny Crowe, Miss Wanda Bullard, and Mrs. Doris Trollinger gave several speeches on special education.

Special education is the education of those individuals who deviate so far from what is supposed to be normal, that they require special help in order to reach their full potential. Special Ed. is the education of the gifted, blind, hard of hearing, crippled, and the learning emotionally disabled.

There are two groups at the elementary school: The educable and the trainable. The average IQ of an individual is from 90 to 110.

The educable child has an average IQ of from 51 to 87. A trainable child has an average IQ of below 50.

The specialized teacher goals are to help the children learn to be co-operative with other people; to help the children have a good feeling toward themselves; to help the children develop social behavior that is acceptable to other people, and to help them reach their full potential in academic skills.

There were pictures shown that the children had made. The talk was well received by everyone in attendance. At the end of the program, Bill Smith was presented the award for outstanding Jaycee for the Month of October.

Langston's Cited At Baylor School

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. - A pair of brothers from Booneville, junior Joey Langston and sophomore Shane Langston, have been cited for academic achievement at the completion of the Fall term at Chattanooga's historic and famed Baylor School.

Joey was named to the Honor Roll, which at Baylor is limited to only those students with an overall average of 86 or higher and with no single subject grade below 80.

Shane made the Dean's List, which signifies students with averages of 75 or higher in each of their five accelerated academic courses at the 91-year old private educational institution which is generally regarded as the South's foremost college preparatory school.

The brothers are son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ray Langston of Main Street in Booneville.

Highway Merit Increases Denied

JACKSON, Miss. - State Highway Department employees were recently informed that a request by the Highway Commissioners to reinstate anniversary date merit increases was denied.

Salary increases on anniversary dates were proposed by the Highway Department so that each employee would work a full year before merit increases would be given. In the present system used by the Commission of Budget and Accounting and the Classification Commission, pay raises are given July 1, regardless of the date of employment.

The Commission made their request to equalize salary increases of employees and to provide for annual evaluation of performance. A spokesman for the Highway Department gave an example of the practice. "A person hired in October and another person hired the following May would both receive merit increases on July 1, under the present system, although the person hired in October had worked seven months longer," the official said.

Highway Department officials feel that no feasible course is available to equalize treatment of salary increases.

Anniversary dates had been used in the Highway Department since 1965, until the Classification Commission ordered the change in July, 1973.

A LIVING FAITH

PVE DREAMED many dreams that never came true. I've seen them vanish at dawn But I've realized enough of my dreams, thank God, TO MAKE ME WANT TO DREAM ON.

PVE PRAYED many prayers when no answer came Though I waited patient and long, But answers have come to enough of my prayers TO MAKE ME KEEP PRAYING ON.

PVE TRUSTED many a friend that failed, And left me to weep alone, But I've found enough of my friends true blue, TO MAKE ME KEEP TRUSTING ON.

PVE SOWN many seed that fell by the way For the birds to feed upon, But I've held enough golden sheaves in my hands TO MAKE ME KEEP SOWING ON.

PVE DRAINED the cup of disappointment and pain And gone many days without song, But I've sipped enough nectar from the roses of life TO MAKE ME WANT TO LIVE ON.

SWEET CITY

Dear Sweetie:

Welcome to the city of love and happiness! This is the only place any one can be truly happy. Ask anyone around, they will tell you. Come on smile real big so everyone can see that this is one place no one frowns for over 3 seconds. That's it SMILE.

Once you come three feet into the glimpse of this happy town, you automatically start smiling for no cause, is it true or am I fibbing? Don't you feel like jumping around like daisies in a beautiful pasture of green grass.

No one talks bad or about people behind their backs. Because they have nothing to say that's bad. Don't you agree? There is no alcoholic beverages to drink because they are bad. No dope of any kind because no one is ever sick. Every one is happy.

After this little visit, would you like to come back and live forever with happy people instead of sad. It's just like candy that you like very much. Once you've had a taste of it you want more.

Come on and join this land of happiness, where no one buys anything because there is no money at all to cause confusion. Everyone gets their fair share. There is no smog or pollution and best of all there is no noise pollution to cause loss of hearing and, WELL WHY DON'T YOU COME ON AND TRY IT.

Here's how: Trust God and He will provide a way. He always does, only He knows what is best for us and only Him.

Holidays Lend To Buffets

ATLANTA, Ga. -- The holidays are a time for informal entertaining, which means more buffets rather than formal sit-down dinners. Buffets are fun because they lend themselves to the creation of many different festive dishes.

But there's also a risk that food can become contaminated in the best of homes. Buffet-type foods are more susceptible to food poisoning bacteria like salmonella. Also, having to hold food at room temperature for long periods of time increases the risk.

The usual candle or alcohol burner will keep food warm to the taste. It may not keep food hot enough to destroy harmful bacteria. The electric hot tray is better -- if it can maintain a temperature above 140 degree F.

Below 14 degree F, there is no bacterial growth. From 14 degree F, to 44 degree F.

WAC Program Announced

The U.S. Army has announced a new recruiting campaign to recruit bright and interested women to become part of the Army's new "American WAC Company."

Fort Jackson, S.C., will be the home of the new company. Presently basic training there is confined solely to men, but on January 4, the American WAC Company will change that tradition and become the first peace-time women's company ever to train at a post other than Fort McClellan, Alabama, the major WAC training location.

The "American WAS Company" will be composed of 150 women from all of the 50 states. Three women will be recruited from Mississippi.

Recruitment is now underway to get not only women from each state, but also women who are qualified in a broad range of Army job skills.

Applicants must be high school graduates or the GED equivalent. They will be placed in the Delayed Enlistment Program no later than December 14, their enlistment becoming effective January 2. Upon enlistment, their orders will take them to Fort Jackson, for their basic training.

Special attraction is the new Army pay, starting at $326.10 a month, before deductions. Meals, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, are all provided free. All this and a 30 day paid vacation, plus many more benefits are yours for enlistment.

Women who are interested in joining the "American WAC Company," or who are interested in any of the broad range of Army opportunities should contact a local Army representative, listed in the Yellow Pages.

there is slow growth of harmless spoilage bacteria. Between 44 degree F. and 125 degree F, there is increasingly rapid growth of food poisoning bacteria.

For safety's sake, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) says to allow a little below and above this range. USDA further advises not to leave food between 40 degree F. and 140 degree F. for more than two hours. Plan the buffet so that most hot foods can be served almost directly from the stove.

Keep the servings small and replenish the depleted dishes from the stove or refrigerator. This will eliminate much worry and concern.

Stuffed foods, including the traditional seasonal bird, are choice hideaways for bacteria. The warm, interior cavity of the turkey is a favorite spot for bacterial growth. Also, the stuffing gets a lot of handling which increases the chances of contamination.

If stuffing is mixed in advance, store it in the refrigerator separate from the bird. Stuff the bird just before cooking and cook the interior of the stuffing to 165 degree F. Use a meat thermometer.

Remove all leftover stuffing from the bird or other foods. Refrigerate the stuffing if it is to be served again. Although bacteria can be killed by cooking foods thoroughly, meat and poultry inspection officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) says there is the danger of recontamination. They say bacteria on raw food can contaminate cooked foods if the two come into direct contact.

Equally important to remember, they warn, is that bacteria can contaminate any foods as the result of direct or indirect contact with dirty hands and kitchen utensils--such as bowls, knives, forks and cutting boards.

The meat and poultry inspectors say such cross-contamination can be prevented by washing hands and kitchen utensils with soap and hot water after handling one food and before moving on to another. Also, the safety-conscious homemaker wears kitchen gloves if she has sores on her hands and keeps her hands away from the mouth, nose and hair when preparing foods.

The home kitchen may look spotless, and the dishes freshly washed, but the food can still become contaminated if careful handling procedures are not followed!

Home menu planner is the most important person when it comes to guarding food safely at meal time or parties. USDA food scientists estimate that 80 per cent of all food poisoning occurs as a result of food contamination in the home kitchen.

Therefore, food safety over the holidays is in your hands. Follow the simple food handling procedures and your family and guests will remember your festivities for the fun they had rather than for an upset stomach.

Remember in planning holiday meals, think about food safety. Holiday feasts should be remembered for fine foods --not for food poisoning!

Growing Timber, Investment

Growing timber is a long-term investment but you can realize a financial return before you realize it by periodic thinning of your stand and sale of these thinned trees for pulpwood.

While we are considering investments and financial returns let's not forget that when we plan a pine plantation on land that is unproductive we increase our property value and this property value increases every year as our timber grows toward maturity and as the market value of timber and the demand for timber increases.

Simply stated, if an individual purchases a parcel of land, large or small, and does not farm this land or put it in pasture for livestock, this land will return to its owner only what it will bring when sold on what he gains from income tax savings. However, if the landowner plants a pine plantation on this land he will reap all the aforementioned benefits plus periodic income, additional income tax deductions, increased property value, and a sizeable profit when his stand matures and is harvested.

You hear a lot of people say "well, there is no point in my planting trees, I will not live long enough to enjoy it." This may be true depending on the age of the landowner but consider what he leaves to those that will inherit his estate.

I have heard theoretically stated that if a man had or could acquire enough land to plant a million seedlings, upon maturity these seedlings and the revenue from periodic thinning and pulpwood sales would make this landowner or his estate worth well over a million dollars.

By Ricky Gillentine
For the 9th grade of Booneville High School, basketball season looks successful and promising.

Coach Bobby Lowery stated that he was in hopes of having a good team with a winning season. The squad this year is made up of 18 boys who are working for two top goals; to play good hustling basketball and to win. Coach Lowery went on to say that in order to have a winning team they have got to hustle and want to play basketball regardless of whether they are winning by 20 points or downed by 30.

mes McGee.

Of three games played their present record is 1 win and 2 losses.

In the first game of the year they were defeated by New Site 54-44 in the Baldwin Jr. High Tournament. Corinth also downed them by a 52-38 score, then in the last game they've played thus far, which was against New Albany, they pulled it together (with the extra effort of hustle) and won by a 55-50 score. The next scheduled game is January 10, against Baldwin (there).

Coach Lowery said that this is his first year to coach with this group and that he enjoyed it thoroughly, especially working with the boys. Coach Lowery also mentioned his "B" team who have not lost a game thus far. There are 20 boys out, 9 sophomores and 11 juniors. Present Record 5 wins-0 losses.
