How Has Rising Cost Of Living Affected You?

To what extent has the ris-ing cost of living affected residents of Prentiss County? Have income in the local area increased fast enough in the last few years to enable the average family to absorb the higher cost and have

Prior to the last year or two, most families, locally and elsewhere, were able to keep ahead of the game because their earnings were rising more rapidly than their costs. More recently, however, with galloping inflation, many have been falling behind.

A study by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, shows what had been happening to people's buying power.

"Because of taxes and in-flation," it states, "pay in-creases of up to 35 percent in the last seven years fall short of giving a family the same purchasing power ithad with the smaller 1966 in-come." Those with bigger increases, however, ended up even or better. In other words, the cost of living has gone up more than 35 percent, putting a squeeze on many family pocketbooks. How has a married man in Prentiss County, for example, who earned $8,000 in 1966, made out with the $2,800 in pay raises he miay have received since then?

The figures show that not only have his raisses been erased by the tax-iniflation combination, but after his aftertax pay today is worth about $390 less than it was seven years ago.

For the married man who made $10,000 in 1966 and is getting 35 percemt more than that now, the Taxx Foundation detail. how his $3,500 pay in-crease turned linto a $466 net loss.

His income taxes, Federal and state, went up $595 on average and his Social Security tax rose $35.5. Inflation caused an additional loss of $3,016.

Thus, his expense rose $3, 966 in seven years and his income only $3,500, which left him $466 short of the breakeven point.

Other calculations, based upon the general figures contained in the report, indicate that a Prentiss County man who had a $5,000 income in 1966, which rose to $6,750 in 1973, ended up with a net loss of $140 and that the one who had a 1966 income of $12,000 Lost approximately $510, despite a 35 percent hike in salary.

A 38-year old Prentiss County farmer has obtained the first farm improvement loan under the Rural Development Act of 1972.

Insurance At All-Time High Here

Compared with people in many other parts of the country, residents of Prentiss County are relatively well protected, financially, in the form of life insurance. Per family, their coverage is at an all-time high.

They have also been safeguarding themselves in other directions by increasing their health insurance, household insurance, automobile insur-ance and the like.

Of particular note, how-ever, is the extent to which they have been adding to their they have been adding to their life insurance holdings in recent years. The total amount held by local residents, as of the beginning of this year, is estimated at $95 million. Details on the number of policy holders and their participation are given for each of the states and for the United States as a whole by the Department of Commerce and the Institue of Life Insurance.

They show that overall ownership of such insurance, nationally, has passed the $1.6 trillion (yes, trillion) mark. That is $122 million more than in the previous year. The total in force in the State of Mississippi alone, according to the reports, is $11,227 million. This compares with $4,447 million in

In general, it is found, the amount of insurance carried by a family is directly proportional to its income. The total held by the average fa-mily in the state, according to the latest figures, is equivalent to 21.7 months income, after taxes.

Related to Prentiss County and to the average income in the community, life insurance holdings are estimated at $13,900 per family. That is about double the amount that most families had ten years ago and is considerably more than in many sections of the country. It adds up to a grand to-tal of $95 million for the local population as a whole. # A Christmas Story

Bly J. Nell Woodruff

EDITOR'S NOTE - The following column was written by Dr. J. Neil Woodruff, who is a teacher at Murry Staate, Ken-Dr. Woodruff is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodruff, Sr. of Booneville. He also has two brothers, Boone McCoy and Bob Woodruff, Jr. of Booneville. The article was received too late for the Christmans edition of this newspaper.

This is a story that I learned some time ago and when I went to recall it I couldn't recall it word for word. But I do remember the place and time I heard it and substantially these are the things which this strory told.

I suppose we could call it just a Christmas story. Many years ago in the land of Judea in the days of Herod the King there lived a little boy named Peter who helped his father care for his sheep. Peter was a happy child. He loved nothing better than to spend the llong days on the hillside climbing over the hills and crags, playing in the brook, picking wild flowers.

His little pet lamb named White Face was always at his heels. Often Peter would stop and throw his arms around the lamb's neck and cry, "Oh, White F'ace, I do love you."

One morning Peter's father said to him, "Preter, how would you like to spend the night with the shepherds on the hillside?" Peter's eyes glistened for oftem he had dreamed of it but his mother had thought that llittle boys were better off beneath their own roofs when nightfall came. But now she only smiled.

"Watch over him carefully neighbor, wrap him up warmly, the nights are chilled upon those heights," she

It seemed to Peter that the day would never emd. But at last the shadows began to fall. And then it was just as Peter had dreamed it. The sheep were gathered together on the hillside, a great fire was built and the flames reached upwards into the heavens. Supper was cooked over the open fire. Never had food tasted so good to Peter.

Then when the work was done the Shepherds gathered around the fire place, some lying on the ground and some sitting near the fire. And soon they began to ssing songs and to tell the old stories.

After a time Peter's father wrapped him wærmly in a blanket and he lay where he could see the fire and hear the voices. The stars twinkled down at Peter. INever had they seemed so bright. Why, they were like a million tiny candles. And it made him think of his own small treasurer and he reached into the fold of his rolbe to see if it was still safe. Yes, it was still there...a tiny bit of candle given to him by the priest at the temple. It was too small, the priest had said, to be of further use there.

Peter had not even told his father and mother about the gift. He was saving it for a surprise. Soon there would be a great feast day and at the end of that day Peter was care for the baby. planning to bring it forth and they would light iit and then have a gift for the Christ Child after all. And stepping folks in the great house who had candles every night. quickly to Mary's side, he held out the little candle. they could sit up late and be as bright and gay as the

She had nothing really to confess but there had been other women in my life. We have now been married three years and from the beginning my wife has accused me of being unfaithful. I've told her repeatedly that there has been no one else since our marriage. However, she keeps saying that as I was promiscuous before marriage, I haven't changed. drowsier. Suddenly it seemed to him, though, as if the stars were growing brighter. Soon the whole world was as bright as day and as he looked in the very center of the light there appeared a whole host of shining angels. They were praising God and saying: Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will to men. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you. Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger. Go ye, even now, into Bethlehem and see this thing which has come to pass. As Peter looked, the angels disappeared. The light grew less until the sky was just as it had been except for one star, far larger and brighter than the others, which remained.

Peter sat up and blinked his eyes. I must tell my father, he said. And he ran quickly to where his father lay sleeping. We must tell the others, his father said, and soon all the shepherds were talking of the wondrous things that Peter had seen and heard. Some there were who doubted. It is but a child's dream, they said, and went back to sleep again.

But Peter and his father and some of the others set out across the hills toward Bethlehem. The star that Peter had seen seemed to go before them and to point out the way. And after a time it hung over the inn and then above the stable at the back.

Surely this cannot be the place, said the oldest shepherd, but he bent down and looked inside. There through the gloom he could see the figure of a mother and there was a little baby lying in the manger. A tall man was keeping watch close by.

It is indeed the Savior, he said. Come, let us worship Him. And they all moved forward and knelt for a time before the manager. And then the oldest shepherd slipped from his shoulders the cloak he had worn to protect his old bones from the winter's chill. Here, he said, wrap this about Him. It will help to keep Him warm. It is my gift to the Christ Child.

A younger shepherd spoke quickly and said: Here, here is my staff. It was given to me by my father. It will help to keep His footsteps safe. It is my gift to Him.

Peter looked quickly at his father, but his father shook his head. No gift, thought Peter. No gift! We have no gift for the Christ Child.

But listen. The baby's mother was speaking. I thank you for these good gifts, she was saying. I shall keep them with me always. I wish there was more light that I could see them more clearly and that I might see the better to

More light, thought Peter. She wants more light. Why, I

Mary looked in surprise at the boy at her side. Why listened to the voices and then he grew drowsier and thank you, lad, she said. It is the nicest gift of all. We will burn it now and enjoy its light. And we shall never forget the lad who helped make the baby's first night, bright.

GIRLS MATURE YOUNGER THAN GUYS

DEAR PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Would you settle an argument between me and my boyfriend. He says guys mature earlier than girls. I don't agree; our psychology instructor says the reverse is true. -- J.W., San Francisco

PROFESSOR WILLIAMS: Your psychology instructor and you are correct. Girls do mature earlier than guys. However, both are about equal by the time they're around 21 or 22. Girls stay around the house more and learn things which are important for later homemaking. They learn from mother how to cook, keep house, buy wisely, handle money, often baby-sit with younger brothers and sisters, and many other things important to later life. Boys, on the other hand, are out-of-doors playing ball, riding the bicycle, and doing things, generally, which really don't contribute to maturity in those areas of life which are really

There is no conclusive evidence that girls are any smarter than boys. However, due to circumstances, they do grow up, mentally, a little sooner. Incidentally, the maturity factor is a major reason why girls date guys older than they.

The Rationale Of Bethlehem

"Plan your work," goes the old proverb, "then work your plan." If finite man sets objectives in life, surely the infinite, eternal God had an objective in coming to this earth.

What then was the rationale of Bethlehem? Perhaps the clearest Biblical statement on the reason behind heaven's invasion of earth is to be found in Isaiah chapter "Surely, He hath borne our grief . . . yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But He was wounded for our transgression, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace is upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned everyone to his own way: and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all" (Isaiah 53:4-6).

Here in Isaiah 53:6 is perhaps the greatest verse in all the Bible on the rationale of Bethlehem: "All we like sheep have one astray; we have turned everyone to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all."

Three simple, yet supremely important, facts are underscored in this verse.

First, the death of Jesus Christ was divinely ordained: "The Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all." Sometimes I hear men say, "I laid my sins on Jesus." But, that is not true. No man could ever lay his sins on Jesus. Only God Himself could lay our sins on Jesus Christ; and the Bible therefore "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all!" God the Son volunteered to die for sinners; and God the Father poured out upon Jesus Christ the just wrath of God upon our sins. God the Judge laid our sins on God the Savior.

The death of Jesus Christ, therefore, was divinely ordained. That death was not an accident. Jesus Christ was not a victim of unforeseen circumstances. Jesus was not simply a martyr who died in behalf of a good cause. The death of Jesus Christ was planned by God in eternity past, for the Bible says that Jesus Christ was "the Lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world" (Revelation 13:8). The death of Jesus Christ lay at the center of the eternal plan of God for this universe. The death of Jesus was divinely ordained.

Second, Isaiah 53:6 informs us that the death of Jesus Christ was a penal death. The Bible says, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." Jesus Christ bore our iniquities, that is He bore our sins. When the Bible says that Jesus Christ bore our iniquities. or that He died for our sins, or that He suffered the just for the unjust, or that He bare our sins in his own body on the tree, all these verses simply mean that have jumped to seven immediately. West passed and North bid six hearts. The hand is now cold for six but South made a serious error in the play which is our chief purpose in reporting this hand, so you won't make the same error should the occasion arise.

South won the opening lead in the closed hand and laid down his king of hearts as he proceeded to pull the trumps. This play cost him the contract since he must lose the jack of trump and one club trick.

The proper play is ele-mentary but since we at-tempt to write this column for everyone including the novice it is appropriate to relate the lesson. I witnessed an expert player make this error, as anyone can, unless we concentrate on the problems that arise in the play.

There is no problem in today's hand unless the outstanding trump are all in one hand, and that is no problem if South properly allows for that eventuality. If East has them all, the proven finesse to South's king-nine will solve that situation as long as he retains the king. If West has them, the ten in dum-my provides the same escape. The important thing is to retain a major honor in each hand when first testing trumps to allow for the proven finesse either way. See, I told you it was elementary, but be careful you don't make the same mistake, it happens every day!

Jesus Christ bore the penalty due our sins. He bore the penal

Let me put that in four simple propositions. First, we have all sinned against God and against his law. Second, sin is a violation of God's law and renders me guilty before God. By guilt,, we mean liability to punishment. Third, the penalty or punis; hment for sin is death. The Bible says, "The wages of sin is death." Fourth, Jesus Christ came into this world to bear the penalty of sin in our place. His death, therefore, was a penal death. He bore the penal consequences of our sins. In his death upon the cross, especially in those three hours of darkness, Jesus Christ bore the penalty of sin in our place. And since the penalty of sin is death, Jesus Christ died for us.

Third, Isaiah 53:6 teaches us that death of Jesus Christ was also a vicarious death. Jesus Christ died as our substitute. The Bible says, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all." When Jesus Christ died at the cross, He died in our place. He suffered in our behalf. He took our place in judgment. This is what we mean by the terms, vicarious and substitution. Jesus Christ was our Vicar, our substitute; and the death of Jesus was a vicarious death. He did not die for his town sins, for Jesus Christ never sinned. He died for us. He beore sin's penalty in our stead.

How beautifully Charles Wesley captured this truth when he wrote, "Amazing love, How can it be? That thou my God,, shouldest die for me?

UNIVERSITY, Miss. --Fifty-eight colleges and uni-versities in 16 states, from Florida to Pennsylvania and from Washington to Texas, have employed graduates of one of the University of Mississippi's most productive departments.

Graduates of the Depart-ment of Higher Education and Student Personnel, in addi-tion to their work in academic fields, also hold pos-itions in a wide variety of other agencies and institutions these including state departments of education, public libraries, state planning commissions, The United States Marine Corps Development and Education Command, and the Cooperative Extension Service.

But Dr. John R. Fawcett, chairman and professor of Higher Education, said that over 90 percent of the department's graduates are employed in colleges and un-

The Department of Higher Education and Student Personnel is unique in that it is the only department in the University which offers only the terminal degree, Ph. D. and the Ed. D. Another unusual aspect is that all department professors hold graduate degrees in an academic discipline in addition to doctorates in education.

According to Dr. Fawcett, the first person to earn the doctorate in the area of Hi-gher Education and Student Personnel was a native Mississippian, Dr. Arthur D. McCary, now employed as the assistant director of Institutional Research and as-

First A Friend... Then A Host'

Everything in shape for that holiday party you'll be hosting?

You may think so, the Cemtral Gulf Division AAA has an important suggestion: To avoid any remorseful "mornings after" for you and your driving guests, why not take some moments out one "morning before" the party for a little perspective on the

Consider first: It takes only one drink too many -one guest with senses too impaired by alcohol to drive safely -- one traffic accident -- to weave the thread of despair into the lives of

There's a simple formula to insure against this threat, and it's wrapped up in AAA's annual "First a Friend -- Then a Host" message. We hope that message will come across in the following questions:

-- Have you included an equal amount of soft drinks and low-alcoholic beverages among the liquor you plan to serve? This practice makes it easy for guests to avoid the stronger stuff, especially if non-alcoholic drinks are displayed attractively. And do have a selfservice bar -- guests who make their own drinks are generally inclined to make them less potent.

--Have you laid in a bountiful supply of food? Parties are apt to last a while longer than planned, and having an aboundance of rich and starchy snacks and main dishes within easy reach will tempt your guests away from the bar. Studies show that eating while drinking can reduce blood alcohol concentration by as much as one-fourth to one-half.

--Have you a fail-safe plan to keep your reverlers cir-culating? An hour or two of inactivity while sipping alcohol allows its effects to sneak up treacherously. Dancing is probably the best choice, with charades a close second. But if these diversions don't suit your guests, at least keep them moving about in small conversational groups.

--Do you have a "taper-g off" tactic up your sleeves? One delightful way to slow down drinking about an hour before the party ends is to make a grand entrance with your tastiest, richest, and most eye-appealing dessert. At the same time, serve cups of delicious steaming coffee or tea. The caffeine won't sober anyone up, but such hot drinks are a fine substitute for one for the road. --Finally, what's your mo-dus operandi if, despite your efforts, a guest does over-imbibe? We recommend that you keep in mind the destination points of other guests, and quietly ask someone to offer him or her a ride

-- There's nary a move in this soft-sell approach to mar the fun of a party. After all, the joy of being with your favorite people at your favorite time of year is what it's all about. That's why it's so easy to make your party full of spirit not

Support Senate Bill 1677 as if your life depended upon it. It just might!

The 1974 Legislature can hellp save dozens of lives each year in Mississippi! There is a bill prefiled in the Senate which can force the repeated violator of traffic laws off the highways and streets. These dangerous, drunk and unqualified drivers make up only 5% of all drivers, yet they are responsible for more than half of the auto deaths and accidents. It's past time for laws to be enacted that will protect the lives of the other 95%.

Fulton Pipa Co.

This bill is fair to all drivers with adequate provisions for warnings and appeals. But the driver who continues to break the law without regard for others would and should be forced off the highways.

Many states have "habitual offender" laws and the auto accident death rate has dropped consistently in these states since the law went into effect.

Don't you think it's time for Mississippians to have this kind of protection, too?

The Mississippi Insurance Council urges the 1974 Legislature to make this one of the very first pieces of business in the upcoming session. And every voter is urged to let his legislator know we want this legislation passed this year. No one has more influence on your legislator than you. Use it to assure passage of Senate Bill 1677. Your life could depend upon it!

Comet Kohoutek Will Be Plainly Visible

HATTIESBURG, Miss. - Comets have evoked fear and superstition for centuries, and only until recently has this fear been largely removed, according to Dr. William E. Hughes, chairman of the department of physics and astronomy at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Dr. Hughes was discussing comets and their history in a Sigma Xi lecture Monday night

"Nobody will have to tell you where to look for Kohoutek during the first week of January because you can't miss it," he said.

About early beliefs regard-ing comets, Dr. Hughes said, "Comets were supposed to forewarn of war, death, plagues, and tragedies. In 1456 Halley's Comet frightened everyone in Europe so much that Christian churches added a prayer to be saved from 'the devil, the Turk and the Co-

In January 1681, the inhabitants of Baden, Switzerland, were so scared by a comet that the town council issued a proclamation urging all inhabitants to attend mass and sermon every Sunday and Feast Day, and also that evening drinks were to be held to a modest scale and be completed by 9 o'clock, "after which all were to go home quietly, without shouting in the streets."

"The theory of comets that was to dominate history for more than 2,000 years was expressed by Aristotle in the 4th Century B.C. when he ruled out the celestial nature of comets and accepted the view that they were atmospheric phenomena," Hughes added.

In the 1st Century A.D., the Roman sage Seneca obj-ected to the Aristotelian notion of comets and predicted they would eventually be considered to move in accordance with natural law.

"For the next 1,500 years," Dr. Hughes emphasized, "until the late 16th Century, the study of comets was little more than the listing of various calamities associated with certain comets. At one time or another, blights, pestilence, floods, deaths and defeats in battle were attributed to the appearance of comets."

The popular notion encouraged (or at least not discouraged) by the church, he added, was that "comets were balls of fire hurled from the right hand of the avenging God tow-ard the sinful earth."

This view was held throughout the Middle Ages and into the Reformation Period.

Scientific studiess of comets, studies which began around 1600 with Kiepler and Sir Isaac Newton,, have re-moved almost all the fear and superstition associated with

"I might add, however,"
Dr. Hughes said, "that some superstition is still with us. As late as 1910 when Halley's comet made a passage, residents in a certain area provided themselves wiith barrels of water in which they could immerse themselves if worst came to worst.

"The Earth passed through the tail of Halley's comet that year, and some news-papers had announced that the tail contained poisson gases, which it did in small amounts. Anyway, many people feared they would choke to death or be poisoned, and they were easily taken in by fakirs. One enterprising man made a fortune selling Comet Pills."

To present the scientific data about comets, Dir. Hughes said all comets comtain a nucleus which is the central This is thee frozen, solid matter of the comet. "Fred Whipple has described the nucleus as beiing like a dirty snowball," he said. "Others describe itt as a flying gravel pit. Am average size comet has a nucleus about one mile in diameter consisting of chunks of material and dust loosely bound together by ice." The coma is a sphere of shining light surrounding the nucleus. "Coma, meaning hair," he explained, "'was derived from the Lattin words meaning Hairy Star. The smallest coma ever observed was 10,000 miles across. A large comet will have a coma of about 1.5 million miles across. An average size is about 100,000 miles in diameter."

The nucleus and the coma combine into what is called the head of the comet, and the tail of a comet always points away from the sun. Tails vary from 90 to 200 million miles. "One way to put it," he added, "is to say that as the nucleus of the comet heats up it melts giving of gas, and this gas forms the tail of the comet."

Dust particles and chunks of material are also relleased in this melting process, and if a chunk of this material finds its way into the earth's atmosphere and burns, it is called a shooting star. If the material is large enough, so that it is not completely consumed when it burns, it strikes the earth and is called a metero-

Chambers' Opinion Wanted

Over 100 local chambers of commerce have been asked to consider three issues as part of the Mississippi Economic Council's effort to involve local leadership in legislative affairs. The three issues are expected to be debated in the 1974 session of the state Legislature.

According to MEC President J. C. Redd, the local chambers have been asked to study the proposals and adopt policy positions on each.

"The reports from the chambers," Redd stated, "will be compiled and presented to legislators before the 1974 session convenes. "The three issues - equitable property assessments, county unit management, and lay state board of education - should be lively in the upcoming legislative session; and we are anxious to present the chambers' positions to the legis-lators," Redd said.

"Our main concern is the State of Mississippi and her future development. This is the reason we speak on legislative issues. We encourage the chambers to participate in the program so that we will be able to present a strong 'voice of business' to the legislators," Redd declared.

Drivers under 25 years of age hold 18.7 per cent of the driver licenses in the country, according to The Travelers Insurance Companies, but were involved in 29.5 per cent of 1972's highway fatalities.

USDA Money Approved

The U.S. Department of Labor has approved funding of the Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System (CAMPS) in Mississippi.

The grant is designed to assist the governor in planning and coordinating area manpower programs.

Assistant Regional Director for Manpower William U. Norwood, Atlanta, said fed-eral funds in the amount of $51,877 have been allocated to provide professional jobs to support local CAMPS efforts.

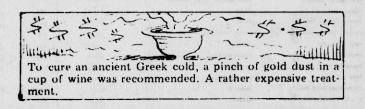

The CAMPS system is designed to coordinate the planning and utilization of the resources of federal, state and local agencies to meet manpower needs.

The CAMPS system is an essential element in meeting both short-term and longrange manpower goals and operates through a network of national, regional, state and area comprehensive manpower planning councils.

Veterans, Apply For Dental Care

Vietnam Era veterans needing dental care are presumed to be service connected and therefore eligible to receive dental treatment at Vieterans Administration expense provided: . they apply to the VA within one year after their dischiarge, and they were discharged or restired under conditions other than dishonorable. This general eligibility covers sufficient treatment at VA expense to put the veteran's teeth into good condi-tion one time. It does not extend to treatment for dental conditions that obviously existed before the veteran entered military service, VA officials pointed out.

Veterans who have special eligibility for continuing VA dental treatment, and for whom the one year application limit does not apply, include:

Gas Industry

Needs Green Light

The natural gas industry needs realistic pricing and a green light to go after untapped energy resources, American Gas Association President F. Donald Hart declared today.

"We have a supply problem -- that is, a shortage of proved reserves -but there are large potential domestic gas resources waiting to be discovered and developed," the trade association executive said during a luncheon for financial editors and analysts. Unfortunately, he added exist-ing wellhead prices provide little incentive for drilling.

'Natural gas has been locked for too long a time in an economic bargain basement," he asserted, "and the inventory in that bargain basement cannot be re-plenished or enlarged" at prices permitted by the Fed-eral Power Commission for gas moving in interstate commerce.

The gas industry contends that "the best way to turn the situation around is for Congress to deregulate new gas supplies," Hart said, adding that exploration also can be spurred by the lease availability of more Federal lands where extensive potential gas resources remain untouched.

Hart pointed out that sharp declines in gas exploration have reduced proved reserves in the lower 48 States to an estimated 235 trillion cubic feet, equivalent to a 10-year supply at the present rate of production. The po-tential additional supply of natural gas in the U.S. and Arctic Isle, he added, is believed to be at least 1, 600 trillion cubic feet.

On top of that, he said, another 800 trillion may be added to future supply through advanced technology, including production of high-quality gas from abundant coal reserves and gaining access to large quantities lock-ed in tight geological struc-tures of Western states.

For rapid development of all potential conventional and supplemental resources, the gas industry must have "clear-cut policies and forthright actions" from the Federal government, Hart said, adding that "answers must be found without delay."

Safety Begins At Home

Safety begins at home. True () False ()

How is thatt question answered in your home?

The answer is "false" in too many households, as the statistics show: nearly 30, 000 men, women and children are killed every year inhome accidents; more than 20 mil-lion are injuried severely enough to require medical at-tention; some: 4 million are disabled.

The Department of Safety and Research of the Combined Insurance Company of American reports that the largest number of fatalities -nearly 15,000--result from falls. More than 6,500 die in home fires:. An additional 4,000 suffocatte, while 2,800 are poisoned and 1,000 are killed in firearms accidents.

And nine out of ten of these casualties could have been prevented at: littel cost in time, effort or money, if safety had begum at home, ac-cording to the safety-first experts.

Why not start the New Year with a Safety-First Policy at home? Play Combined Insurance Company of America's "game" of Twenty Questions at your New Year's Eve party. Anyone who answers yes to all of the questions will be a winner. Those who respond with any no's should take the necessary steps to keep from being a loser.

Canadian Elected Lions International President

OAK BROOK, ILLINOIS-Tris Coffin of Montreal, Quebec, Canada, was elected President of the International Association of Lions Clubs at the Association's 56th Annual Convention in Miami Beach, Florida. The Association is the largest service club organization in the world. It is a non-political, non-sectarian association with over one million members in clubs in 149 countries and geographic areas.

An optician, Coffin has been a member of the Montreal (Central) Lions Club since 1939. He and his family reside in Rosemere, a Montreal suburb.

President Coffin's theme for his year in office will be, One Million Men Serving Mankind". Of his new responsibilities Coffin says, Lionism is an organization that looks beyond the horizon, that seeks out the good in every man. Our goal is simple: to make the entire world a better, healthier, happier place where man can live in the spirit of peace and understanding".

Travel Broadens Tourists' Views On Food Prices

American tourists who traveled abroad this summer came home with a new appreciation for U.S. food

Compared to what they Meanwhile, in Japan, beef paid for food in foreign councosts range upward from $12 tries, they're quick to admit a pound.

that American food is still a bargain.

One tourist just back from a visit to Sweden reports his tab for five hamburgers, some French fries, and a soft drink added up to a whop-ping $27 in American money. Another businessman who went to London said a dish of strawberries and a cup of coffee cost him $5.
