Handicapped Week To Promote Understanding

National Employ the Handicapped Week has taken on a broader meaning locally than the name implies.

The Booneville Mayor's Committee on the Handicapped is taking advantage of this special week which starts Oct. 7, to promote a better understanding by the general public of the problems handicapped persons face in their daily lives.

Larry Vuncannon, Publicity Chairman of the Mayor's Committee, Special Projects Chairman Sarah Smith Cummings, and Architectural Barriers Chairman Smith Goddard hope to make all local citizens aware of the purpose of the specially marked handicapped parking spaces in Booneville, and instruct handicapped persons in their use.

According to these committee members there are two specially marked parking spaces for the handicapped in the downtown business district. One is located at the corner of First and Main Streets behind Peoples Bank and Trust Co., and in front of the Bank of Mississippi. The other space is on Main Street in front of Dr. Walter C. Simpson's office. They also expect two other spaces to be designated in the downtown area soon.

Additionally, there is one designated space at the city park and one at the Prentiss County Court House.

The committee members pointed out that special certificates and auto tag decals for handicapped persons wishing to use these spaces are available at the County Tax Assessor's office. There is no charge for these decals, but the handicapped person's car must Schweiger Industries, Inc., announced this week that the George E. Allen Library was the recipient of a cash gift of $800.00 from the local industry.

In announcing the gift, plant Manager James Spooner said, "Schweiger Industries is very interested in the growth and development of our community, and this gift is a part of our continuing effort to be good industrial neighbors."

While Fleeing From Officers

Local Man Wounded

A 22-year-old Booneville man was shot and seriously wounded early Sunday morning while attempting to escape from Prentiss County law officers after the theft of a pickup truck from the Hills Chapel community, according to Prentiss County Sheriff Ralph Martin.

Sheriff Martin said Monday that Charles Stanley Michael, 22, of Booneville was shot in the side and seriously injured when he fled the scene of an area being searched by Prentiss County law officers.

The area was being searched after a citizen reported finding the stolen pickup in the vicinity, the sheriff said.

Radio operator Joey Cobb said that around 10:45 Saturday night, the sheriff's office received a report that a 1972 Dodge pickup belonging to Marvin Breedlove had been stolen from his home just south of Hills Chapel.

Shortly after midnight, a local citizen found the truck near Pharr's store north of Marietta on Highway 371 and reported it to the sheriff's office, the sheriff said.

Deputy Carl Sartin, who was on duty at that time, was notified of the discovery and, after coming to the office to fill his patrol car with gasoline, he went to investigate.

Upon arriving at the scene, the deputy had reason to believe that the suspect in the theft was hiding in a near-by bean field. He radioed for assistance and three other Prentiss County law officers — Deputy Jeff Jackson, First District Constable Gale Floyd, and Fifth District Constable Bobby Lambert — plus the sheriff, joined him in the search of the field, according to Sheriff Martin.

The sheriff said that the men succeeded in "flushing out" the suspect, who ran past Constable Floyd in his attempt to flee.

"Someone ordered him to halt," the sheriff said. "Two warning shots were fired, but he refused to stop."

Sheriff Martin said that since he was not personally on the scene at the actual time of the shooting, he does not know which of the officers fired the shot that hit Michael. However, he said that since Michael was a "fleeing felon" suspect, the officers could shoot to stop him, if necessary.

According to the radio operator's log at the sheriff's office, an ambulance was called to the scene at 12:27 Sunday morning.

Martin said that Michael was hit in the side and seriously injured, requiring the removal of his spleen. He was taken by Miss. Corps Ambulance to the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville for treatment.

The sheriff said that he checked on Michael's condition Monday morning and he was improving, but was still in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

Upon release from the hospital, Michael will be facing charges of grand larceny and resisting arrest, the sheriff said.

The sheriff also said that the theft was apparently the work of more than one person.

apparent damage to surrounding property, the firemen just remained on the scene to prevent the fire from spreading until a snorkel truck from the PCEPA could arrive to turn off the power going to the pole. The firemen then quickly doused the flaming oil with dry fire retarding chemicals.

Only the one transformer was damaged in the incident, even though there were two others located on the same pole.

The repairmen from the PCEPA had to wait until the hot transformer cooled down before replacing it, but Benny Stennett has announced that he is seeking election for sheriff as an independent candidate in the Nov. 6 general election. Stennett's statement follows.

My candidacy for sheriff in the November general election came about through qualification by petition. I am seeking this position of public trust due to the many citizens who requested me to do so and not for any one person or political machine or from any disrespect of the Democratic party.

Many of you already know Benny Stennett from a prior campaign. I continue to appreciate the support and vote of confidence received. For those of you who do not know me, I am Benny Stennett, 31 years old, son of the late Moise Harling Stennett and Woodrow Stennett, who both served you as Justice Court Judge of the First District. I am the grandson of the late Sarah Short Stennett and Ben Stennett (who was once elected

Cochran Sponsors New Legislation

(WASHINGTON)—Sen. Thad Cochran (R.-Miss.) is cosponsoring legislation designed to achieve energy independence for agriculture and forestry by the end of this century.

Sen. Cochran, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, is joining with other members of that panel in sponsoring the bill.

The bill would establish a loan program to promote the development of energy from agricultural and forestry products, and establish four energy research and development centers around the nation.

The Senator told Mississippi State University officials, here for the MSU-Maryland football game at nearby College Park, Md., today, that because of the university's agricultural and forestry programs "Mississippi State certainly should be in the front ranks of those institutions to be considered for such a research program."

Sen. Cochran said the rural energy bill would designate the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the federal agency with primary responsibility for production of alternate fuels from agricultural and forestry products and for rural conservation.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I hear a lot about "Repentance" what is its real meaning?

ANSWER: The verb "Repent" comes from "Metanoeo" and means "another mind," a change of mind, or determination. In Acts 2:38, Peter tells us in order to qualify for baptism, one must not only believe but also repent! This means he has resolved to quit sin, determined to abandon sin. Many people think that repentance takes place in a nightmare or a dream, or a mysterious feeling which cannot be explained. They seem to think that conversion is a convulsion. But gentle friend, repentance is a mental act, a resolution. How long does it take a man to repent? Just long enough to reach a determination, to really resolve he will quit sin. It is a change of will, or attitude, followed by a reformed life. John the Baptist told the Jews to "Bring forth fruit meet for repentance" (Matt. 3:8). Repentance is difficult for man to do in that it has to do with his own will.

VA Sets Novel Program

The Veterans Administration will inaugurate in October, 1979, a novel outreach program aimed at assisting Vietnam era veterans who have experienced persistent difficulties in re-entering the mainstream of American life.

The new, low-key counseling program was authorized by the Veterans Health Care Amendments Act of 1979, signed into law by President Carter on June 13. Under the law, the new program will be started October 1, 1979.

An innovation in the law permits VA to provide these counseling services without the necessity of a formal medical diagnosis. It was emphasized that program will be a "preventive medical service which seeks to provide needed assistance without what some regard as the stigma of a psychiatric diagnosis."

To offer the widest variety of readjustment counseling services, an informal "store front" atmosphere may be supplemented with private psychological treatment under authority granted in the law, or by admission to VA's regular mental health program if the veteran requests this level of help and it is medically indicated.

To head the nationwide readjustment counseling program, VA chief Max Cleland has named Don Crawford, Ph. D., a 39-year old Nebraskan who is a Vietnam era combat veteran and counseling psychologist.

Both Cleland, who has championed such a counseling program for 10 years, and Dr. Crawford agreed a major goal of the new service will be the readjustment motivation of Vietnam era veterans who are not mentally ill, but may need counseling for a variety of readjustment problems they are encountering in civilian life.

John B. Byrd, Director, VA Medical Center, Memphis, announced there will be an outreach team located in Memphis and the medical center will be the parent facility. The medical center has initiated action to begin selection of staff for the Memphis team and the program should be in operation by January, 1980, Byrd said.

Memphis Conference Set

MEMPHIS, TENN.—Memphis' largest machine tool, metalworking and manufacturing exposition and conference opens at Noon, Tuesday, October 2, for three days at the Cook Convention Center. Sponsored by the Society of Manufacturing Engineers, Dearborn, Michigan, this first Mid-America Tool & Manufacturing Engineering Conference and Exposition is expected to attract more than 4,500 manufacturing engineers, plant managers, executives and other metalworking production specialists from throughout Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

A full range of machine tools, metalworking equipment, tooling accessories and materials will be demonstrated by nearly 90 companies, some displaying equipment in the Southeast for the first time. SME President Joseph C. Hall, of Union Carbide's Nuclear Division in Oak Ridge, estimates the total dollar value of equipment at the show at $11.5 million.

General Chairman for the Memphis event is Les Seager, of Industrial Bearings, Inc., in Memphis. Seager explained that Tennessee, and especially Memphis, is a growing industrial contender.

"This new SME Tool Show and Conference will offer area industry an opportunity to update itself on new manufacturing technology and methods leading to greater productivity," Seager said. "Attendees will be able to examine more proven manufacturing knowhow here than they could in weeks of travel."

Exposition hours at the Cook Convention Center are from Noon until 9:00 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 2 and 3, and from Noon until 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, October 4.

In addition to the Exposition, a three-day technical conference will discuss manufacturing and productivity-related areas such as Quality Assurance, Cutting Tools, Manufacturing Systems, Numerically-Controlled Machining and Press Applications.

David Foley, of Memphis' Magnaflux Corporation, is among the 18 speakers at the Mid-America Conference. Foley will speak Tuesday morning on Testing and for Quality Assurance.

The three-day event runs through 6:00 p.m. Thursday, October 4.

TV Debate May Set Precedent

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—The first live televised debate between two Mississippi gubernatorial candidates struck no decisive blows in the contest between Gil Carmichael and William Winter, but, hopefully, it set a precedent in campaigning for the state's top job.

Who won? That, of course, is a question which can only be answered from the perspective of the viewer as to which man got the better on the responses and the in-fighting that got surprisingly rough at times between the two erstwhile "nice guys" of the state political scene.

But at long last to have a face-to-face confrontation on television between candidates for governor in Mississippi is bound to stimulate interest in the political process. And after an unusually bland political year, it's welcome.

Obviously, the decision to debate was graver for Winter who is the acknowledged front-runner in the race, and therefore to expose himself to such a confrontation presents greater risks. The first rule of oldtime politicians is when you're ahead, you never look back to give your opponent a chance to catch up.

But Winter evidently felt compelled to accept the debate in order to be consistent with his position in past campaigns in support of open discussion of the issues. Besides, his background and experience as an articulate spokesman on government gave him no cause to fear an oratorical joust in the public view.

However, it became plain from the start of the debate that Carmichael's tact would be to go for the jugular in a long-shot attack on Winter's traditional strong point, his integrity.

That is in sharp contrast with the Carmichael of 1975 who ran a model issue-oriented campaign against Cliff Finch, never raising any questions about the integrity and background of the little-known Finch.

This reflects a new personality of Carmichael which the public hasn't seen before. Doubtless, the people will now have to pass judgment on that aspect of Carmichael's candidacy, possibly even before they can judge what he proposes to do as governor.

Recent political experience, however, has shown that candidates who turn to the personal attack don't fare well at the hands of the electorate. So Carmichael's tack of dealing in personalities obviously is a high stakes gamble to raise doubt about Winter's fitness.

Carmichael zeroed in two aspects of Winter's career, first his stint as State Tax Collector in the late 1950's and early 1960's, and his role as a private attorney specializing in public bond issues. By innuendo Carmichael intimated that Winter had black marks against his shiny record on both scores by pocketing large amounts of state money.

For historical accuracy, Winter was appointed by Gov. J.P. Coleman in mid-1956 (Winter was at the time a state legislator) to fill out the unexpired term in the State Tax Collector's office. That job had the peculiar circumstance of collecting the state's "black market" tax on illegal liquor sold in the state, and the occupant of the post could keep 10 percent of all he collected to run the office and own compensation.

When he took the job, Winter publicly announced that he advocated abolishing the job and he urged the legislature to do so. But the legislature, caught between prohibition and the need to collect revenue from the multi-million dollar liquor traffic in the state, kept Winter in the office six years because he had greatly increased the "black market" tax take.

Winter was estimated to have netted $50,000 to $60,000 a year, after expenses, which of course, was the highest paying job in state government at the time.

Carmichael's other sniping shot at Winter's practice as a bond attorney handling public bond issues intimated that Winter had steered state bond business to his law firm when he was lieutenant governor from 1972 to 1976. That same charge had been dragged across the trail in the 1975 gubernatorial campaign, and Winter, then as well as now, steadfastly maintained his firm did not handle any bond business for the state.

Winter, through an expertise he developed starting back in the 1960's after he served as State Treasurer, is recognized by New York investment firms as the leading bond attorney in the state. His services are apparently widely used by cities, counties, and local government authorities.

But the state government still uses a St. Louis bond attorney for approval of state bonds, as it has been doing for many years, sending thousands of dollars out of state each year.

Ironically, eight years ago a bill to establish a state bond authority for approving state bonds was about to pass the legislature when somebody discovered that Winter was the only bond attorney in the state that New York bond houses would deal with, and the measure was killed.

The direction which the Carmichael-Winter campaign now seems to have taken in light of the Carmichael charges, and the necessity of Winter to respond, is disappointing to those who had felt a campaign between the two would be an ideal chance to concentrate on solid issues confronting the state.

It looks now as though that won't happen.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

We recently celebrated the 203rd anniversary of our country's independence. Hopefully, this annual celebration will be continued by many future generations of Americans. However, we can remain truly independent only if we refrain from reliance on other countries for energy -- the lifeblood of our economy and our military strength. We must have our own supplies of energy, in sufficient abundance to keep our nation strong.

We face ever-decreasing supplies of oil at ever-increasing prices. This year alone, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) has increased the price of oil more than 50 percent. This will cost the average American family about $490 a year, and will certainly keep our inflation rate high.

We must reverse the trend of increased dependence on foreign oil. Today we are importing over 9 million barrels of oil a day, nearly half of the oil we use.

Our oil import bill has grown from $8 billion in 1973 to $45 billion last year. This year the bill could reach $60 billion.

This growing dependence on foreign powers for oil represents one of the most dangerous threats our nation has ever faced. In effect, the OPEC nations are gaining greater control over our economic destiny with every added barrel of oil we import.

We must make these oil exporting countries know that we are determined to gain our energy independence.

It is evident that voluntary conservation efforts and piecemeal legislation will not solve our energy problem. What is required is a massive, all-out program which will involve all Americans in dedicated cooperation. The Congress, the President, business and industry, and consumers must work together. The goal that all must aim for is production of a domestic energy source that will free us from dependence on imported oil.

Nuclear, coal, solar and other forms of energy may provide long-term answers for the energy problem. However, we must in the short-term have liquid fuel for transportation, industry and other essential activities.

It appears that our best hope for short-term relief lies in synthetic fuels. We already have the technology to use methanol (wood alcohol) and ethanol (grain alcohol) as substitutes for gasoline. Methanol can be produced from coal, wood, or municipal wastes. Ethanol can be produced from grains and other farm crops. The most immediate problem is finding a way to produce these fuels at an affordable price. With an intensive program of research, development and production, this can be done.

One of the best examples of what Americans can do in a crisis is in the development and production of synthetic rubber during World War II. When the Japanese cut off more than 90 percent of our supply of natural rubber in early 1942, our limited stockpile dwindled rapidly. It was imperative then that something be done. A crash program was initiated, and by the end of World War II, the synthetic rubber project had resolved the crisis and saved this nation from collapse.

The situation we now face with oil is similar... I believe that by calling together the tremendous technology, know-how and expertise which is available in government, industry and private institutions, and with government funding to the extent necessary, we can solve the current problem.

Free Press, Free People

By PHIL DESSAUER
President, The Society of Professional Journalists
Sigma Delta Chi

The newspapers of our country are most of the things their critics say they are.

They're nosy, noisy, aggressive, irreverent, occasionally arrogant. In some instances they embarrass people, distort the truth, get facts wrong and -- Lord knows -- misspell names. They are a long way from perfect... just as our society is.

But newspapers broaden our lives. They pursue justice, expose grafters and lawbreakers -- ranging all the way from Boss Tweed to Watergate. They keep watch over taxpayers' money; patrol the world in search of news; give us "instant history," telling it as it is. They inform, entertain, stand guard... and feed us millions of words every day with remarkable accuracy.

Daily and weekly papers can do these things because they are free. In countries without a free press the people needn't worry about aggressive reporters or high-handed editors; newspapers simply dish out the party line. If they stray, their publishers get unscheduled, indefinite vacations.

A free press has all the flaws of a free country. It has good guys and bad, diamonds and duds. But you have to ask yourself, "If we didn't have the First Amendment and a free flow of information, what would be the alternative?"

Control. Government control... and still more control -- until there would be no room for factual reporting, no tolerance for unfavorable news, no noise or dissent. Just the deadening drug of conformity -- and submission to Big Daddy Knows Best.

Newspapers should be responsible, truthful and worthy of trust. The great majority of them are. But if a few don't measure up, we can stand that -- for as long as they are free, we are free.

(Mr. Dessauer is managing editor of the Tulsa Daily World, Tulsa, OK., and National President of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi.)

"A Generation Of Non-Smokers"

The American Lung Association is involved in a nationwide education effort with the goal-a generation of nonsmokers. And the Mississippi Lung Association is intensifying its efforts this fall to reach as many children as possible in Mississippi before they get hooked on a smoking habit that can cripple their lives and lungs.

Encouraging children to take more responsibility for their own health is an urgent issue, says the Christmas Seal people. No one can force anyone to smoke or not to smoke in one's lifetime. It's an individual decision with life-long consequences.

If today's children grow up to be nonsmoking adults, says the Mississippi Lung Association, this single fact would dramatically decrease the problem of lung disease in this country.

What about American kids themselves? What do they think? Some sixth grade students polled by one lung association recently reported that in magazines you never see stained teeth and fingers, only beautiful people smoking; that life is too good to throw away on smoking and that a bad pair of lungs can't be replaced.

A Mississippi Economic Council committee was told today that the two candidates for governor would promote a professional economic development effort for the state.

Representatives from the campaign headquarters of Gil Carmichael and William Winter told members of the MEC Special Committee on Industrial Development that their candidates would appoint qualified professionals to the state's Agricultural and Industrial Board.

"Governors in the past have used the A&I Board as a source of jobs to be handed out to political friends," said committee chairman Fred Bush, a Tupelo attorney. "Staffing the A&I Board with qualified professionals is a step forward in improving Mississippi's economic standing."

The Legislature, in the 1979 session, provided for the reorganization of the state's Agricultural and Industrial Board, changing the name-effective next year-to the Board of Economic Development and reducing the size of the board membership. Additionally, professional qualifications were adopted for certain staff members.

Bush pointed out at the meeting that under the reorganization, the Board will consist of 14 members--all serving staggered, seven-year terms. Seven of the members are to be chosen from the public, with one from each of the five congressional districts and two from the state at large. The other seven members will be the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, a House member, a Senate member, the commissioner of agriculture and commerce, and the director of the R&D Center.

"The quality of work of the Mississippi Board of Economic Development will depend upon the attitude and appointments of the next governor," said Bush. "This is why MEC has called on the candidates to commit to staffing the agency with the best qualified professionals available."

Enough Oil By 1985?

Charles DiBona, the president of the American Petroleum Institute, said recently that domestic oil production could be stabilized by the middle of the next decade if no windfall tax were imposed on profits from decontrolled oil. Since 1972, U.S. crude oil production has dropped at a rate of about 100 million barrels a year, statistics show. The statistics also show proven U.S. reserves declined almost 9 billion barrels between 1972 and 1978, while new discoveries averaged only 1.5 billion barrels a year. Citing these figures, DiBona said that decontrol could boost projected oil production 2 million barrels a day in the mid-1980s without the "windfall tax."

Where Does a 500-pound Gorilla Sleep?

After hearing arguments from the plaintiffs, U.S. District Judge Andrew Hauk explained that there was no way he could force OPEC, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, to lower their prices. The antitrust suit, brought by the International Association of Machinists and supported by the cities of Cleveland and Los Angeles, among others, charges that the members of OPEC violated the Sherman Antitrust Act with its price-fixing tactics. They sought an injunction against such practices; but Judge Hauk told them, "Well, suppose I issue such an injunction and they tell me to 'go to'? How do I enforce it? Do I get some U.S. marshals and send them over to Saudi Arabia and say, 'Roll 'em back?'" At one point in the hearings, the judge told a witness, "I don't think you know from shynola about OPEC contracts." Not surprisingly, none of the OPEC nation defendants showed up on grounds an American court has no jurisdiction over their activities.

LET'S DRINK A TOAST TO GOOD-OLD ANONYMITY— Since the feminist movement began years ago many cliches have gone down the proverbial tube. The latest one that feminists would like to see disappear is, "Following in his father's footsteps." To many women's rights activists, that is a sexist statement. Recently The New York Times published an article about feminists and how they raise their sons. Some of the ways chronicled were quite interesting and really challenged normal child-rearing practices. They were also a bit weird. Consider the following: Robin Morgan and husband Kenneth Pitchford named their son Blake "because it is genderless;" Linda Suter prefers to hire boys as baby sitters for her son Joshua "because I don't want him to be assuming roles at an early age;" Phyllis Chesler says her son prefers to play with a doll and he calls the doll "Baby;" and Patsy Fleming related that one of the proudest moments of her life came when her son complained loudly "about a Stroh's beer commercial in which two cowboys toss a woman off a stagecoach to lighten the load when they are being chased by bandits." (Editor's note: The choice for the cowboys was either the woman or about a dozen cases of Stroh's beer.) These methods for raising sons by feminists are all well-intentioned. But the comment we liked best was the one given by a mother who chose to remain anonymous. She said, according to the Times, that she wished to remain anonymous because if her name were known "they'd drum me right out of the National Organization for Women (NOW)." What this particular feminist said was "that she was proud her 14-year-old son had turned out to be 'a Central Park jock who loves to break girls' hearts.'"

Mrs Michael Mabry

Miss Sharry Stroberg Weds Mr. Michael Dean Mabry

ROCK HILL, S.C.—Westminster Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding on Saturday, August 18, of Miss Sharry Stroberg, of Rock Hill and Miami, Fla., and Michael Dean Mabry, of Booneville, Miss., and Phoenix, Arizona.

The double ring ritual, in which identical gold wedding bands were exchanged, was solemnized at 3:30 p.m. by the Rev. Gene Craven, pastor, and the Rev. Hal E. McNeely, of Montgomery, Ala. The vows were exchanged at the altar, before a background of white gladioli, snapdragon, Fujii chrysanthemums and daisy pompoms posed in a large central arrangement, and flanked by a pair of chandelier candelabra with white tapers. Tall palms and a kneeling bench completed the altar decoration.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Nancy Gay, organist, and Mrs. William Early and David Bingham, vocalists.

The bridegroom's father, Henry E. Mabry, of Booneville, Miss., was best man. Ushers were Allen West, of Memphis, Tenn.; Jon Featherston, of Phoenix, Ariz.; and Randy Long, of Miami, Fla.

The bride's honor attendants were Mrs. Judy Gentry Johnson, of Dallas, Tex., as matron of honor, and Miss Sandra June Stroberg, the bride's sister, of Miami, Fla., as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Helen Barron, and Mrs. James Robinson, of Rock Hill; Miss Deborah Hord, of Winston Salem, N.C.; and the bridegroom's sister Mrs. Bart M. Hodgins, of Oxford, Miss. All the bride's attendants wore back-wrap pinafore style dresses of royal blue dotted swiss trimmed with rows of white lace on the hem and across the bodice. They carried nosegays of white daisies, and they wore a white daisy in their hair.

Flower girls were Mary Elizabeth Ward, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W.B. Ward, Jr., of Rock Hill, and Leslie Hodgins, of Oxford, Miss., niece of the bridegroom. The ringbearer was Jeffrey Hodgins, also of Oxford, Miss.

Given in marriage by her father, J. Oscar Stroberg, of Miami, Fla., the bride chose for her wedding a formal gown of white organza and Venice lace. The sheer yoke was Schiitfe embroidered and outlined with lace and ruffles. The bishop sleeves were cuffed at the wrist with lace ruffles.

The modified empire bodice was appliqued in Venice lace and seed pearls. Matching lace hemmed the full skirt and banded the inverted pleat of the chapel train. Her headpiece, handmade by the bride, was a Juliet cap of Venice lace. The waist-length illusion veil was edged in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white silk valley lilies, azaleas, forget-me-nots, and daisies posed on a small white Bible given to the bride at birth.

Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social hall. The guest register was kept by Charlotte Pfeifer, of Pineville. The refreshment table held a centerpiece of white snapdragons and white daisies, and the wedding cake was topped with a spray of white daisies. Assisting in serving refreshments were Pam Wells, Virginia Marshall, Evelyn Ward, Dickie Ward, Nancy Butts, and Carolyn Clatfelder, all of Rock Hill.

The newly married couple left afterward for a wedding trip to Beech Mountain. For traveling the bride wore a pale yellow shirt-dress with white collar and cuffs on three-quarter sleeves.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Stroberg, of Miami, Florida. She holds a B.S. degree from Florida State University in Child Development and Elementary Education; also an M.S. degree from University of North Carolina in Recreation Therapy. She has been employed for the past three years in Winthrop College's Human Development Center, and this fall will be on the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Mabry, of Booneville, Miss. He is a graduate of the University of Mississippi, with a B.S. degree in Physical Education. Currently he is employed in high school ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ.

The newly married couple will make their home in Phoenix, Arizona.

Rienzi News

By VIOLA PRESLEY
Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Olen Moore of Belmont were in town early this week. Mrs. Moore is the former Miss Marie Basden of the Pisgah Community and she and her family share in many congenial memories. Mrs. Moore relates that she and a sister living in Jackson, Ms. keep in touch with a number of families names through the Rienzi column each week in the Banner. Come back again, Marie, for one of your delightful visits.

Friends of Larry and Helen Isbell are delighted to know their son, Mitch, was able to return home Friday, September 28, from LeBonHeur children's hospital in Memphis.

Dwight Massengill of Southwestern Seminary, Forth Worth, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough of Fulton, Ms., will be among those from out-of-town who will be included in the Roach-Massengill wedding at the Rienzi Baptist Church Saturday night, September 29.

The sympathy of all the friends of the Cosby Family is being given to them in the death of Mr. Fred Cosby on Sunday. Mr. Cosby was one of Rienzi's oldest citizens. Funeral services for Mr. Cosby were Monday afternoon at two o'clock with burial following in the Hinkle Cemetery. The service was conducted by Bro. James H. Moore.

Mr. Earnest Richardson continues to be a patient in the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth.

Mrs. E.M. Key and Mrs. Anne English of near Booneville were honored Sunday with a birthday dinner at the home of Mrs. Helen Moore and family in Jumpertown. The large number of relatives were generous with lovely gifts to each and the abundance of food and fellowship was a joy to share. Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry, Ken and Keith Nash. Also present as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Perry was Ms. Viola Presley.

Postmaster and Mrs. E.M. Furtick are being given a welcome back to town following a stay of several days attending a postmaster's convention.

A number of our people from Rienzi were in Thrasher Friday night for the Beauty Revue at the Thrasher High School. Ms. Alice Bridges was an entrant in the contest and Miss Vicki Potts was recognized as a class favorite in the eleventh grade.

Pharmacy Seminar Set Oct. 14

TUPELO—A "Keep Up" Seminar for area pharmacists will be held at the Ramada Inn on October 14, 1979 here as part of a program to help Mississippi pharmacists remain up-to-date on latest developments in the delivery of Pharmacy Services.

Notes From The Library

By LEEDAVIS
Librarian

Two reference books that should help students with research paper recently received by the George E. Allen Library are 'Dictionary of Fictional Characters,' by Fred Urquhart and 'Asimov's Biographical Encyclopedia of Science and Technology,' by Isaac Asimov. A new edition of 'Webster's Biographical Dictionary,' a new 'Secretary's Handbook,' and a new book by William Strunk, Jr. entitled 'The Elements of Style' should also be very helpful.

Among other recently added non-fiction books are Theodore H. White's 'In Search of History,' 'Bay of Pigs: an 'Untold Story,' by Peter Wyden; 'For Women of All Ages: A Gynecologist's Guide to Modern Female Health Care' by Sheldon Cherry, 'Surgeon at Work,' by Clarence Schein; and 'The Powers That Be,' by David Halberstam.

For the very young two very colorful books by Gyo Fujikawa are filled with fun:

'Our Best Friends' and 'Oh, What a Busy Day.' Of course, there are others, and for the young dramatist, 'Stage

Properties and How to Make Them,' by Warren Kenton. 'Chisanbog: Finger Calculation Method' is on a subject frequently mentioned in requests. This explanation of the mathematical system created by Sung Jin Pai was written by Edwin Lieberthal. For the high school reader and adults is Isaac Asimov's 'Extraterrestrial Civilizations,' for both also in Margot Fonteyn's 'A Dancer's World.'

New on the fiction shelves are 'Now God Be Thanked,' by John Masters; 'The Coup,' by John Updike; 'Shosha,' by Isaac Bashevis Singer; and 'Sophie's Choice,' by William Styron.

A display of porcelains from Portugal is on loan to the library and its exquisite workmanship receives much comment. Interesting and richly detailed, too, is an exhibit from the Breyer animal collection, featuring farm animals and pets.

Home Economist's Notes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Microwave Ovens:
Who's Using Them and Why

Microwave cooking is popular. In 1977, more than two million microwave ovens (MWOs) were sold. Sales in 1978 totaled more than three million units. Many manufacturers expect 20 percent of the U.S. households to have a microwave oven by the end of 1980.

To remain competitive, manufacturers have introduced add-on features (variable probe, memory, meal-in-one, etc.). The price of the basic unit has dropped each year.

In a recent USDA "National Food Review" article, the author said microwave cooking is more energy efficient than conventional oven cooking. According to the National Bureau of Standards (NBS), MWOs are 40 percent efficient, compared with 14 percent efficiency for electrical ovens and 7 percent efficiency for gas ovens.

MWOs can be powered at one of several wattages, and there is no standard nomenclature of oven setting. This means one firm's "medium" can be another's "medium high" or one's "roast" can be another's "bake." Food manufacturers find it hard to advise homemakers on cooking times and temperatures. This hinders homemakers from changing the heating or cooking instructions of their favorite recipes from conventional cooking methods to microwave cooking.

Some consumers now consider their time valuable. Although they may want to prepare as many foods as possible from scratch, they want to spend as little time as possible doing so.

News From Oak Ridge

By BERYL COATS, Correspondent

The whole congregation has been very concerned about Mrs. Jodie Barnes who had open heart surgery in Memphis last week. She is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes, who formerly worshipped here. Her condition was critical at first but she was doing better the last report we had.

There is concern for Mr. Sherman Estis who suffered a stroke, Sept. 26 and is in Intensive Care in the North East Mississippi Hospital. Our thoughts and prayers are with Jodie, Mr. Estis and all others who are ill.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives of Mr. Claude Keenum. His funeral was last Friday.

Myron Coats suffered a broken ankle in a motorcycle accident last week. He uses his crutches well and stood up using them on Wednesday night long enough to direct several songs. That night was the fourth Wednesday night—a time set aside for song practice. Several leaders were absent but a profitable time was spent in singing and learning a little about the rudiments.

Mr. Earl Kennedy has been feeling better lately.

Mrs. Virgie Harris was in Memphis last week for a check-up. Dr. Flemming gave her the best report ever telling her to come back in October 1980 if she doesn't have problems before then.

Mam-Ma Coats seems to be doing better. I stayed with her three days and nights last week. Wednesday morning as I fed her and talked, she whispered several words to me. That was her first effort in a long time to communicate with us.

We're proud of Mike Coats and Lee, who are 4-H club members. They won ribbons and some money on the hogs they exhibited.

By LADY BLUE SURF, Correspondent

Our sympathy goes out to "Lady Walking Cane," in the death of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Vandevander.

We still have some folks on our sick list—"King," remains in Big M in hospital running tests to determine when to operate. "White Girl's" mother has been in the local hospital, "Little Wrecker I," got burned Wednesday afternoon when a hose burst on his automobile and blew over his face and parts of his body, "Sparrowhawk," has to report Tuesday back to the doctor in Big M, "Tree Climber," hasn't been feeling well lately, and "Little Princess," is having to stay in bed until the big event. Hope everyone is feeling better.

"Dozer Boy," are you trying to start a new trend? Some folks go to a ballgame with a boot of a kind on? Wonder who that could have been?

Happy birthday to "King," "White Dove," "Yo Yo," "Sparrowhawk," and "Bed-springs Man." Hope you have a nice day and have many more wonderful years together.

Saturday, October 6, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Northeast Mississippi C.B. Club will have a giant yard sale at the Community Center in City Park. Anyone having anything to donate may contact "Upholstery Mam." The public is invited.

"Charly," you and "Beaver Pleaser," sure sounded good Sunday night. Sometimes, the skip is so bad we can't even copy you all.

Saturday night, October 6 is our social and it will be earlier, at 6:00 p.m., because we will be entertained by "The Bear Creek Boys," and want to get home earlier because of the big day Sunday. It is pot luck, so everyone bring your food and have a good time.

Everyone get your uniforms cleaned and ready to leave between 6:30 and 7:00 a.m. Sunday, October 7 for Carbon Hill, Ala., coffeebreak at the National Guard Armory. First prize, Browning Mark IV.

Second prize, $300 cash, Third prize, $200 cash.

We have a chance for several trophies. All Junior Club members please attend in uniform also because their will be a trophy for the largest junior club in dress.

Any handicapped person needing a decal for their auto should go by the court house and pick up one. It is necessary to have one to park in handicapped parking spaces.

Some folks sure have got it made. "Lame Duck," has been in Miami for a few days enjoying the pretty sun. He has been attending an arthritis clinic there. We sure hope it helps.

If you don't have smoke alarms installed in your home you should. Everyone needs them. Ours went off the other morning about 2:00 a.m. and possibly saved our home from fire. They would make nice Christmas gifts.

Until next week, stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

Nearly 98 million meals were served in Veterans Administration medical centers last year.

Much Excitement Over Gasahol Potential

Gasohol, a mixture of 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent alcohol distilled from renewable resources, may well be the "ready now" fuel of the future for the automobile. Gasohol is a cleaner burning fuel than gasoline, its octane rating is higher, it delivers higher miles per gallon, and it reduces pollution. All of this makes for a more efficient fuel for the automobile, experts say. In addition, Gasohol can be used in all gasoline engines with no modification whatsoever.

In Mississippi there is a lot of talk and excitement about the possibility of a new multimillion dollar industry being carved from Gasohol production. The potential investment could reach 200 million dollars by 1985, employing 5000 people, says a representative of the newly formed Mississippi Gasohol-Alcohol Association, a non-profit corporation formed to accumulate and disseminate information on Gasohol as it relates to the rapidly changing field of energy production.

Alcohol used in the Gasohol blend can be made from a variety of raw materials already available in Mississippi: wood and wood wastes, corn and other grains, rice and sorgham, to name a few.

The widespread use of Gasohol as fuel for automobiles could reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil by as much as 20 percent, while improving our balance of payments deficit by subsidizing the American farmer instead of the Arab oilmer.

The introduction of widespread energy farming for Gasohol production could give a much needed shot in the arm to Mississippi agriculture. The alcohol to be made for the production of Gasohol is a natural fuel, and is renewable as long as the sun shines. It is an efficient form of solar energy.

Several feasibility and engineering studies are already under way for the construction of alcohol plants in the State of Mississippi. The construction period will vary from 9 to 24 months, depending on plant size.

State Pharmacists Attend Seminar

OXFORD—More than 40 pharmacists from the 28 counties in Districts I, II, and III-A area of the Mississippi State Pharmaceutical Association attended a continuing education Pharmacy Seminar here September 20, 1979.

The seminar was sponsored by the University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy and its Bureau of Pharmaceutical Services in cooperation with the M.S.P.A. Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Lon Larson whose topic was "How a Bill Becomes Law."

"Pharmacy, as with the entire health care system, is more and more being affected by governmental actions. Consequently, pharmacists must be aware of and participate in the legislative process," said Dr. Larson.

"Influence is not acquired through bribery. On the contrary, good sound information is probably the most powerful political tool. Logical analysis, not 'winning and dining,' is the key to influencing legislation."

Everette Bowie of Southaven, Harold Sheffield of Tupelo and Bobby Rea of Grenada are the chairmen of Districts I, II, and III-A. Counties in the Districts are Coahoma, DeSoto, Lafayette, Panola, Quitman, Tallahatchie, Tate, Tunica, Northern Yazobusha, Alcorn, Benton, Calhoun, Chickasaw, Itawamba, Lee, Marshall, Monroe, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Tippah, Tishomingo, Union, Carroll, Grenada, Holmes, Leflore, Montgomery and South Yazobusha.

The Pharmacy Seminar was planned by the School of Pharmacy and the M.S.P.A. to help Mississippi pharmacists in rural and urban areas keep current with the ever-changing aspects of the Pharmacy profession.

Northeast Offers Credit Courses On Cable TV

Who says there is nothing educational on TV? Through the cooperative efforts of the Appalachian Education Satellite Program, the Northeast Mississippi Junior College, and the Booneville Video Company, subscribers to Booneville Cable TV will now be able to roll in late-courses for college credit.

This arrangement will enable participants to obtain graduate or undergraduate credit or Continuing Education Units in the privacy of their homes at times convenient to them.

Each class will have two 30-minute classes televised each week on alternate days on Channel 2 on the cable system. These classes will be repeated three times per week to assure participants the opportunity to view each class.

Participants will be required to visit the Northeast campus only three times throughout the course, once for registration, a visit mid-way through the course and one at the end of the course.

Included in the courses to be offered during the fall semester is the course "Coping with Kids: Proven Methods of

"Keep Kicking And You'll Reach Your Goal"

By ED BLAKE

Country philosophy is one of the best institutions we got going. Its truth is wrung both from the land and its people through raw experience; hence, its credibility is beyond reproach.

Grandpa Claypoole was a unique reservoir of country philosophy - gained first as the son of a western Pennsylvania horse breeder and later as a thrifty yankee lad begotten to a practical German mother who personified the fountain head of thrift and other good virtues befitting immigrant Americans of the 19th century.

Grandpa was a great salesman who died recently after receiving all the honors and monetary reward that any salesman ever could hope to attain - a national Hall of Famer, Salesman of the Year after year, etc. But it wasn't always so.

When he was a fresh young chip his younger sister Katherine took ill on the eve of Christmas Day, 1899. Katherine had acted un-naturally when she had excused herself from ice skating on the creek with her nine brothers and sisters because she had a sore throat. It became too sore, in fact, for fumes of kerosene soaked into a piece of wool tied about her neck to do anything about it. It plainly was a case for the doctor on that Christmas Eve who was not easily come by in the hilly, snow-covered, rural countryside northeast of Pittsburg. When Dr. Ansley arrived on horseback through the snowdrifts he took one look at her tongue and pronounced a chilling diagnosis of black-tongued diphtheria - a dread epidemic that already had claimed a heavy toll among the children of the immediate family of George Washington Monroe Claypoole a generation earlier.

Though the rest of the family was prohibited from visiting Katherine's room, her mother had been faithful to the season and the family and had placed a newly cut tree in its place with horehound candy, crullers and other goodies beneath it. Then at 10 a.m. on Christmas morning G. W. M. Claypoole descended the stairs with reluctantly ill Katherine in his arms to view the tree. At 2 p.m. that Christmas Day she died.

The death of young Katherine thrust new responsibilities on Ralph (Grandpa). When spring came it was his turn to take the basket of fresh vegetables through the lanes of Saltsburg to sell them for the nickels and dimes and quarters that were to be used to buy needed clothing for the children. When his mother called him for the task, young Ralph scampered beneath a bed and had to be drug out. But his mother meant business, and soon he was walking timidly, hesitatingly down the street. He came to a big white house with a long entranceway. He stood in the road shifting from foot to foot trying to get up courage to go to the door.

The door opened nonetheless, afar off, and a friendly lady called out, "Ralph, is that you? Come here. What do you have there? My - what pretty radishes, carrots - say, would you sell me some of these-and these-and these?"

That was the makings of a young salesman. Or, it could have been the breaking - but for the graciousness of a real lady. Ralph later worked his way through college selling pots and pans and entered the insurance field, reaching the top.

This writer's children were around the table as Grandpa, his blue eyes twinkling and his pink cheeks glistening, said, after we had finished supper: "I want you boys to remember this story of two frogs. One, is a content one. He hopped quite accidentally into an outside kettle of water that was to be heated. The water felt so good that he floated happily, not caring that shortly a wisp of smoke arose. As the water gradually warmed the frog enjoyed it even more, growing even more contented, relaxed, and sleepy. He didn't even realize, unfortunately, his demise - and the fact that he was turned into a boiled frog. But the other frog - it leaped quite by error also into an old fashioned churn on the

Fellowships Available

Landis Jones, Director of the President's Commission on White House Fellowships, announced that applications for the 1980-81 White House Fellowships are now available and must be requested by November 15, 1979. The program was established by President Johnson in 1964 to give outstanding individuals early in their career firsthand experience in governing the Nation. It is open to U.S. citizens, not employed by the Federal Government except career military.

Fellows are assigned for one year to a Cabinet officer, the Vice President, or a senior member of the President's staff. Although their job assignment is the core of their year, they also participate in educational seminars with top government officials, leading scholars, journalists, and others who deal with the national government.

White House Fellows have been chosen from a wide variety of careers and professions including law, medicine, teaching, state and local government, banking, the arts, and others. Among the 1979-80 class are a Catholic priest, a rabbi, and a farmer. All, however, have one thing in common—a strong desire to excel and contribute and a sense of involvement in the leadership of their society.

There are no occupational, age, sex, racial, political, or religious restrictions. Minority groups and women are encouraged to apply.

Application materials and additional information can be obtained from the President's Commission on White House Fellowships, Box 7737, Washington, D.C. 20044, (202) 653-6263. Requests for applications must be postmarked no later than November 15; completed applications no later than December 1.

A message from Gil

My mother's family, the Smith's, settled in South Mississippi around 1800. The Carmichael's settled in the wilderness of East Mississippi in 1835. Like most Mississippi pioneers, they were poor, hard working people. They struggled, they suffered, and they appreciated Christian teaching.

This heritage is a very important part of my life. I have restored the family farm in Clarke County to help preserve this family history and to teach my son Scott about his heritage.

Our heritage as a state is very important too, and we must preserve it. We have tremendous potential as a state. We have the people, the land, the water, the climate and the natural resources to do anything. If we will apply our heritage of hard work and dedicate ourselves to our future as our forefathers did, our potential will soon become our prosperity.

PCEPA Lends Assistance To Gulf Coast Area

Prentiss County Electric Power Association (PCEPA) manager Whit Abernethy said Tuesday that the local power association had been lending assistance to a Mississippi Gulf Coast area that was hit by Hurricane Frederic.

"Like most other power associations," he said, "we've had a crew down on the coast, assisting with the storm damage. They were at the Singing River Electric Power Association in Lucedale, Miss."

Billy Smith, Hansel Smart and James McDougal, from the PCEPA spend one week there helping repair lines and restore service, Abernethy said.

Some of the men had been down to Laurel, Miss., after Hurricane Camille struck the area, Abernethy said.

"They said that there was much more damage done to the power lines this time than by Camille," he said.

"They have just about everything in that particular association back in operation," Abernethy said, "but it will probably take over a year to finish the clean-up."

New Standards Set For CB Antennas

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Sept. 18).—The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission is seeking outside assistance in the development of a mandatory safety standard for citizens band (CB) antennas.

The standard would require manufacturers to insulate or otherwise manufacture their base station omnidirectional antennas to protect consumers from electrocution. Antennas are annually the largest single cause of electrocutions (recently averaging more than 200) by a consumer product.

CPSC invites participation by private citizens, consumer organizations and industry groups, as well as technical societies, laboratories, educational institutions, and other government agencies.

Individuals and groups which cannot afford the costs of participation may be eligible for reimbursement and are encouraged to apply for public funding.

Most deaths occur when the antennas brush against high voltage power lines while consumers are installing or removing them from roof tops.

Participants may attend a series of public meetings (with the first scheduled in Washington, D.C., November 1), and may critique drafts of the standard or volunteer for individual assignments. The proposed standard is to be ready for Commission consideration by April 30, 1981.

Initial development efforts will focus on the hazards posed by omnidirectional antennas, which are less complex than directional antennas. CPSC anticipates that expertise gained in focusing on omnidirectional antennas will be useful for any future regulation of directional antennas.

A CPSC regulation became effective in September, 1978, which requires manufacturers and retailers to attach warning labels to CB base station antennas, outdoor television antennas, and their support structures. The labels alert consumers to the potential electrocution hazard.

Details for participation and applications for funding are contained in the September 14 issue of the Federal Register. Applications should be received by October 15, 1979. Anyone who requires additional information about participation or public funding should contact: Office of the Secretary, U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C., telephone (202) 634-7700.

Tax Penalties May Be Excused

JACKSON, Mississippi—The Internal Revenue Service has received inquiries from taxpayers who are unable to make required deposits or payments on Federal employment, excise and income taxes because of Hurricane Frederic.

The Internal Revenue service announced that all taxpayers are expected to make deposits or payments of taxes due in a timely manner or as soon as possible under the existing circumstances.

Because of the recent disaster, taxpayers from Clark, Covington, Forrest, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jones, Lauderdale, Pearl River, Perry, Stone, and Wayne counties in Mississippi who are unable to make their tax deposits or payments timely should attach a statement to their return when it is filed explaining the reason for the late deposit or payment. Late deposit or payment penalties will not be assessed when these taxpayers attach this statement to their filed return.

Stanton Opposes Board Changes

Howard Stanton, Republican candidate for Northern District Highway Commissioner, said today, "Mississippians may be facing their last chance to have a voice in the selection of those who supervise the construction and maintenance of the state's highways."

"The proposal made last week by the Mississippi Economic Council (MEC) to change the three-man elected commission to a five-man appointed board would only compound the political interference in the highway department," Stanton said.

"Obviously, the researchers at the MEC do not believe the highway commission is being run in the best interest of Mississippians," Stanton said. "If our present highway commission were doing a credible job, these people would not be suggesting taking away the voter's right to choose those who supervise hundreds of millions of tax dollars each year by making the commission another political football."

"We do not need a change in the method of selecting our highway commissioners. We need people dedicated to building the safest and best highways for Mississippi while conserving tax dollars," Stanton said.

"Our highway department, as the MEC pointed out, is operated in many respects as three separate highway departments, with each commissioner acting on behalf of his district."

"It is my intent, when elected highway commissioner, to use my thirty years of highway construction experience to insure that all Mississippians have the best possible highways built in the most economical manner," Stanton said.

Pasture Is Good Investment

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist

Now is the time to establish fall fescue and clover pastures. Cattle prices have been low for the past few years, but now with higher cattle price, pasture management will be a good investment. Mississippi produces an average of only 89 pounds of beef per acre of pasture. We can produce 300 to 350 pounds of beef per acre with good pasture management and herd health. Tall fescue and clover combinations fit well in a forage program for beef cattle. Fescue and clover pastures will produce forage from September to June, longer than any other forages grown in Mississippi. The quality of fescue and clover is adequate for beef cattle if it is grazed properly.

Fescue and clover combinations should be planted between September 1 and October 15 at a seeding rate of 20 pounds of fescue per acre and three pounds of white clover per acre or red clover in combination with fescue may be used by planting 8 pounds of seed per acre. If red clover is used with white clover, plant two pounds of white clover seed and five pounds of red clover seed per acre. Fescue and clover combinations should be planted on a well drained soil. Avoid planting on soils that have standing water during the winter or on sandy, hilly soils that are droughty during the summer and fall. Tall fescue should be planted on a well prepared seedbed at a seed depth of 1/2 inch to 1 inch. Clovers should be planted separately at a depth of 1/4 inch. Remember, the largest cause of stand failure in forages is poor seedbed preparation and improper planting depth. Fertilizer and lime should be applied according to a soil test. If a soil test has not been made, apply 250 pounds of 8-24-24 fertilizer per acre and one ton of lime per acre on acid soils. The clover seed should be inoculated with the proper inoculum to insure nitrogen fixation. Clover can produce over 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre if it is properly inoculated at planting.

Grazing management of fescue and clover pastures should be given careful attention. Newly established forage should not be grazed until it is at least 8 inches high and has a well developed root system. Cattle should be removed from the pasture when the forage is grazed down to 3 inches. Maintaining a grazing height from 8 inches down to 3 inches will insure combined growth of both the fescue and clover. The use of rotational grazing will be needed to accomplish this.

September and October are also a good time to intersperse clovers into summer pastures. Clovers interseeded into summer pastures will increase forage production and quality; provide earlier spring grazing; and add nitrogen to the soil.

For on-site assistance in planning your forage program, contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Booneville, phone 728-3544.

Hospitals Lose Money On Programs

Mississippi hospitals lose multi-millions of dollars each year in providing services for patients eligible for various federal and state health-care programs, a Mississippi Hospital Association survey shows.

The survey covers 53 hospitals responding, out of 120 member institutions, which reported losses totalling $29,740,138. The 53 participating hospitals account for 6,426 beds—approximately half of the short-term beds approved for government programs.

"If all member hospitals in the state had responded," said John Reedy, Jackson, chairman of the M.H.A., "losses, without a doubt, would have been in excess of $50 million, for just a one-year period.

"This means that private patients subsidize these government programs twice—once as taxpayers and then as patients at which time they pay a hidden tax. I don't think taxpayers realize just how much these programs are costing them and the net effect such has on increase in costs."

Medicare (care of the aged) alone caused $18,667,281 in losses (the difference between hospital charges and federal monies received by the hospital) at the 53 hospitals which responded to the survey.

None of the responding hospitals were identified by name in the M.H.A. report, but one hospital reported a loss of just over $2 million on Medicare programs participation alone.

The Medicare program, by itself, thus accounted for more service-program financial loss on the part of the responding hospitals than all the other government programs put together.

Ranking second was the Medicaid program, in which the 53 hospitals lost $5,691,521, followed by the loss of $3,100,056 by Hill-Burton hospitals (those built with some federal financial assistance) which must provide a certain amount of "free care" annually for up to their first 20 years of existence.

Services for hospital patients who do not qualify for other state charity programs amounted to a loss of $896,297, and Vocational Rehabilitation programs drained the hospitals of another $703,268.

State Board of Health programs for tuberculosis and other types of hospital patients accounted for another $257,694 and a loss of $54,210 was attributed to the CHAMPUS program—Civilian Health Assistance Military Program, United States—which pays for military dependents unable to get health care at a military hospital.

"Other miscellaneous programs" added $369,811 to the losses reported by the surveyed hospitals. None of these figures include loss on bad debts fostered by patients not eligible for these service programs. Five of the hospitals reported losses exceeding one million dollars each during the one-year period. They were listed as Hospital No. 1: $3,767,000; Hospital No. 2: $2,786,833; Hospital No. 3: $2,324,347; Hospital No. 4: $1,595,967; and Hospital No. 5: $1,050,500.

"People may wonder why hospitals participate in programs causing losses," said Reedy. "The answer is that the federal government has now become so involved in health-care delivery that it's impossible for hospitals to serve their entire populations without getting into these federal and state programs.

"Another question we're asked is why the governments don't reimburse us for the total costs, and the unhappy answer to that one is that the reimbursement formulas of the governments consistently refuse to include many of the true operation costs of hospitals."

BENNY STENNETT

TO THE VOTERS OF PRENTISS COUNTY

In the August primary a Democratic nominee was chosen to run for the office of Sheriff in the November general election. My independent candidacy for sheriff in this November general election came about through qualification by petition. I am seeking this position of public trust due to the many citizens who requested me to do so and not for any one person or political machine or from any disrespect of the Democratic party.

Many of you already know Benny Stennett from a prior campaign. I continue to appreciate the support and vote of confidence received. For those of you who do not know me, I am Benny Stennett, 31 years old, son of the late Moeie Harling Stennett and Woodrow Stennett, who both served you as Justice Court Judge of the First District. I am the grandson of the late Sarah Short Stennett and Ben Stennett (who was once elected Town Marshall of Booneville), and the late Sophia Lee Harling and Arthur Harling. I am married to Paula Henderson Stennett, a Registered Nurse Instructor at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College. I am the father of two children; Janette, age 8, and Ben, age 2. I am a life-long resident of Prentiss county, a 1966 graduate of Booneville High School, and now reside in the Martin Hill Community.

I am aware, as you are, of the many problems in our county, and will work hard to stop and prevent these problems. All Laws will be enforced in a fair, firm, impartial and lawful manner. Benny Stennett, or any of my staff will never unlawfully abuse the authority and public trust you place in me as your sheriff. All calls will be answered promptly, a full investigation will take place, evidence will be gathered, and proper arrest will be made in order to stop the burglaries of our homes, churches, and businesses. The entire county will be constantly patrolled in order to protect all the people against these problems that exist.

Benny Stennett attended The Northeast Mississippi Junior College for two years majoring in Law Enforcement. Some of the courses taken were: Law Enforcement; Criminal Investigation; Police and Community Relations; and Police Administration. Although, I have never worn the badge, I think by educational training along with my common knowledge, make me a very qualified and serious candidate for sheriff of Prentiss county.

As Sheriff of Prentiss county my duty will be to mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent, the weak, and all people against violence and disorder; and to respect the Constitutional Right of liberty, equality, and justice.

As your Sheriff, I will maintain courage in danger or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of the Sheriff's Department.

Benny Stennett will never act officiously or permit personal feelings or prejudices to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and relentless prosecution of criminals, Benny Stennett will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, never employing unnecessary force or violence. Benny Stennett will recognize the badge of the Sheriff's Office as a symbol of public trust and faith to be held as long as I am Sheriff of Prentiss county.

I have not selected any deputies or staff members for my administration in this office. Selection of deputies and staff members will be based on the applicant having similar beliefs and attitudes toward law enforcement and public service as those I am presenting to you. I am, however, open to recommendations and applications for deputies and staff members. I believe we can develop a positive, progressive law enforcement service in this county.

My beliefs regarding the juvenile offender are based on the fact that the early years shape the future course of existence. The attitudes and behavior patterns developed during this critical time determine whether the youth will become a law-abiding citizen. The Law Officer's effectiveness in the correction and guidance of youth is based on understanding and trust of the Law Officer. Benny Stennett, deputies and staff will present to the young a feeling of trust and respect, not fear of the Sheriff's Department. When your children have encounters with the Sheriff's Department, you, the parent will be the first to be contacted. The effectiveness of treatment is greater in youth, because the young offender offers a greater promise of reformation in return for effort expended than the older person. Thoughts and emotions and behavior become set, in time, and if these can be made favorable at an early age, in terms of social good, no effort is too great.

Benny Stennett can and will work with all Constables, Judges, Police Agencies and other related officials order to control all our existing problems. Benny Stennett will work as hard as humanly possible to prevent as well as stop the break-ins, robberies, and flow of narcotics in Prentiss County and will give you results on these issues. Benny Stennett is a young man in the prime of life, who wants to serve the people of Prentiss County and who will be the type Sheriff you have always wanted—a man who will enforce all laws, make proper arrest, give you results, and never forget that I am a public servant.

The addressing, or heading, of my petition was questioned by my opponent which forced me to wait for written laws from the Attorney General's office before I could make my formal announcement and begin campaigning. I am aware of the shortness of time before the election, but will see as many of you as possible. If for some reason we do not make personal contact, I ask that you take these means as a personal presentation of my qualifications, my desire to serve you, and the functions that will take place as long as Benny Stennett is Sheriff of Prentiss County. A vote for Benny Stennett as Sheriff of Prentiss County will be a vote you will always be glad you cast, because it will be a vote for the best law enforcement and public service humanly possible.

Community Boundaries
Set For ASC
Committee Elections

Community boundaries have been set for the ASC committee elections to be held between Nov. 23 and Dec. 3. Prentiss County has five ASC communities.

ASC communities are local administrative areas which help provide farmers with effective farm program administration. These areas are reviewed yearly to determine whether boundary changes would benefit farmers.

A list of ASC communities, a boundary map, and the number of farms within each community are available to the public at the ASCS office in Booneville. The ASC communities in Prentiss county are as follows: A-Jumpertown and Pisgah, B- Blackland and Baldwyn, C- Wheeler and Marietta, D-Thrasher and Cairo, and E- New Site and Burton.

County ASC committee review of community boundaries is one of the first steps in administering the annual ASC farm committee elections. Other actions concerning the upcoming election will be announced as they occur. Participation in ASC elections is open to all eligible farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color, or national origin.

List of Eligible Voters
Is Posted For ASC
Committee Elections

A list of the names of all known eligible persons to receive ballots in the upcoming annual ASC committee election is available in the county ASCS office. ASCS, an agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is responsible for farm program administration. On the local level, ASCS operates under a farmer-elected committee system. This year's elections will be by mail ballot between Nov. 23 and Dec. 3.

Anyone who meets the following requirements is eligible to vote in these farmer committee elections: any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, or sharecropper who is eligible to participate in any ASCS program.

Several general provisions relate to ASC voter eligibility. A wife who operates a farm with her husband can vote if her name is on the deed of conveyance. Any person under 18 years of age can vote if he or she runs a farm, and a legal guardian who runs a farm for a child can vote for the child. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, color, religion, or national origin.

A person may cast a ballot in any county in which he or she is an eligible ASC voter, but he or she cannot vote in more than one community in the county. If an eligible voter has separate farm interests in more than one community in the same county, special care will be taken to see that only one ballot is issued to that voter.

Teen Age Pageant Plans Announced

The Mississippi University for Women (MUW) in Columbus, Miss., will co-sponsor the ninth annual Miss Mississippi National Teen-Ager Pageant on the college campus March 22, 1980, according to Billie McLarty, state director of the pageant. Young ladies between the ages of 13 and 18 years of age are invited to participate in the pageant, she said.

MUW will award various scholarships to winners in the pageant, which will include an essay winner, a Miss Congeniality Award and a Citizenship Award.

The Mississippi pageant is the official state preliminary to the Miss National Teen-ager pageant which will be held in Atlanta, Ga., in August, 1980.

The Mississippi winner will receive, among other prizes, a $200 U.S. Savings Bond, an all expense paid trip to compete in the national finals and a modeling scholarship from Barbizon.

In the national pageant, all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico are represented by a winner selected in statewide competition.

The program is nationally syndicated for television by American International Television with special guest star Pat Boone.

The state pageants, leading up to the national pageant, are held in participation with 41 colleges and universities. More than $400,000 in cash, tuition scholarships and awards were awarded to participants in 1979 state pageants, according to Mrs. McLarty.

Prizes in the 1980 national pageant will include $20,000 in cash scholarships for use at the college of the winners choice, a 1980 Mazda GLC, a $2,000 personal appearance contract, and a full tuition fashion merchandising course scholarship from Barbizon international.

Contestants are judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and appearance. There is no talent competition or swimsuit competition.

The theme of the pageant is "What's right about America?" and a $1,000 cash scholarship will be awarded the national essay winner. Each contestant will participate in the Volunteer Community Service Program which is designed to promote teen involvement and participation in volunteer civic and community affairs. A mini-modeling charm course will also be given during the three-day state pageant.

Cindy Saucier of McComb, the reigning Miss Mississippi National Teen-Ager, will participate in the activities and will crown the 1980 winner. Missi Bradley, 1979 Miss National Teen-Ager of Mansfield, Ohio, will also participate in the pageant. Missi received a $25,000 cash and college expense scholarship, a 1979 Mazda, and a $2,000 personal appearance contract, along with other awards, in the 1979 contest.

For further information, girls interested in participating in the Miss Mississippi National Teen-Ager pageant should write Mrs. Billie McLarty, 121 Boxwood Drive, Franklin, Tenn., 37064, or telephone (615) 373-9456.

The Picking Post

This Week's Choices

Well it's once again time for us to stick our necks out (boy did we stick 'em out last week) and try again this week to pick the winners.

I don't know how the famed Leonard Post Toasties came out but if he didn't do better than we did here in Booneville, then he had a bad week.

Our panel last week went mostly by the favorites and as we all know, some of the most likeable choices didn't fare so well.

In last week's predictions, Manfred Saylor's led with 7-11 while the sports desk had 6-11 and Doug Jumper and Leighton Miller had 5-11.

On to this week's games:

JOHN FERRELL'S PICKS

Fulton at Booneville-Booneville by 1-finally got it together..

Saktillo at Baldwin-Salttillo by 15..Tigers got it cinched. Alcorn C at Iuka-Iuka by 1...Battle of the losers.

Kossuth at Ripley-Ripley by 5-Tigers in a close one. Okolona at Nettleton-Okolona by 1-Battle of the second division.. East MS. at Northeast-NE by 3...Tigers stay at top North Division..

Georgia at Ole Miss-OM by 4-Rebels bounce back from humiliating defeat..

State at Tennessee-Tenn. by 15-Fumbling by Bulldogs won't be so lucky this week..

N. Texas St. at Southern-Southern by 15. Golden Eagles made believers out of me...

Penn St. at Maryland-Penn by 2..Nittany Lions won't lose three in a row.

Stanford at UCLA-UCLA by 12-Bruins roll over helpless Indians.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech-A&M by 1-Aggies ready to challenge for Southwest conference.

Colorado at Oklahoma-Oklahoma by 30-Fairbanks should of stayed in New England.

Florida at LSU-LSU by 10-Pell should have stayed at Clemson.

GEORGE OAKLEY'S PICKS

Fulton at Booneville-Booneville by 2-Maybe they're on their way..

Saktillo at Baldwin-Baldwin by 1-Bearcats will use homefield advantage..

Alcorn Central at Iuka-Iuka by 7...Battle of losers. Golden Bears will remain winless.

Kossuth at Ripley-Ripley by 18-Larry Cole has another fine club...

Okolona at Nettleton-Okolona by 10...Good rivalry by the Chieftans will win..

East MS at NE-NE by 7...Tigers are young but have a good club.

Georgia at Ole Miss-Georgia by 12..Georgia needs a win and the Rebels are down..

State at Tennessee (Memphis)-State by 3..Bulldogs on their way.

N. Texas St. at Southern-Southern by 14...Collins and the Eagles are for real..

Penn St. at Maryland-Penn St. by 7...Nittany Lions don't lose three in a row.

Stanford at UCLA-UCLA by 13...Bruins are good and they'll show it.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech-A&M by 5...Aggies will win in a close one.

Colorado at Oklahoma-Oklahoma by 35..No contest.

Florida at LSU-LSU by 13..Tigers prove they're tough to handle..

PREDICTIONS FROM THE SPORTS DESK
By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Fulton at Booneville-Booneville by 1. The Indians scored a bunch last week but Booneville's win over Kossuth picked em up. Booneville would have to play their best game of the year to win it. But I'm upset minded and will go with the Devils.

Saktillo at Baldwin-Baldwin by 7. The game of the week. It's going to be a hot time in the old town tonight..This is hard folks. Close all the way. High scoring game. The Bearcats need it the worst.

Kossuth at Ripley-Ripley by 14. The Aggies will play well in the game. There's a closeness between Drewry and Cole but the Kossuth mentor just don't have enough talent for the Tigers. Okolona at Nettleton-Okolona by 10. Could be a close one. The Tigers played well against Central last week but will see an entirely different team against the Chieftans.

East Mississippi at Northeast-Northeast by 3. Scooba will be after Blood. The Tigers have improved every game and will squeeze out this win, but barely..

Georgia at Ole Miss-Georgia by 3. The Rebels have to go back to the drawing board. They have to learn how to tackle, block, and run their offensive sets right. Georgia has had their troubles, but even with the Rebels home court advantage, they'll nip Ole Miss by 3.

State at Tennessee-Tennessee by 10. The Vols are for real. State now knows they can win but it's going to be hard for them to continue their winning ways this week.

N. Texas at Southern-Southern by 4. The Golden Eagles made believers out of just about everyone last week and will be ready for the Texans. It's going to be close. This is somewhat of a rivalry...

Penn. State at Maryland-Penn State by 7. Good matchup here. Maryland would be the favorite in the game but Joe Paterno, who's received a few gray hairs in the past two weeks, will pull it out..

Stanford at UCLA-UCLA by 10-Here's another good one. The Bruin have had their problems but the tanned boys will get it in gear this week..

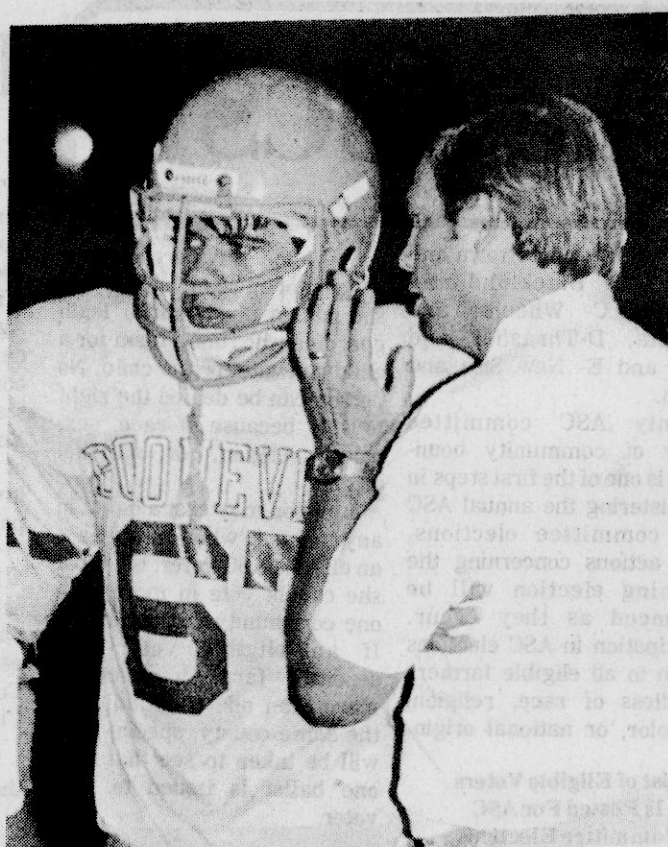

Texas A&M at Texas Tech-A&M by 12-This game could be a weird one. It's a rivalry battle but A&M could blow them off the field..

Colorado at Oklahoma-Oklahoma by 28. Powerful sooner offense will prevail. You'll have to have a calculator for this one..

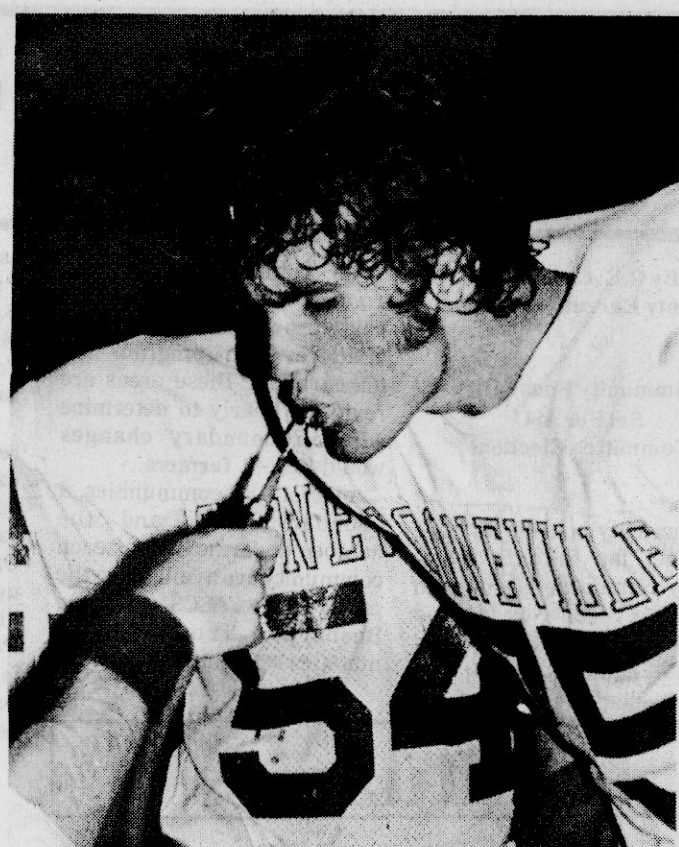

Florida at LSU-LSU by 18-The Tigers are one more tough bunch of folks. They may even play their managers in this one.

'Devils Drop Aggies In Friday Slugfest

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

KOSSUTH-Booneville's Blue Devils, behind the quarterbacking of Buddy Hall and the pass catching ability of Bill Groves combined with a superb defense, won their first game of the season here Friday with a 16-14 thriller over Kossuth's Aggies.

Football games are played in several phases. Some are exciting while others tend to be on the boring side.

Friday night's game at Aggie Field would call for a doctor's warning to persons with heart conditions. The game was packed with thrills and excitement from both the Booneville and Kossuth fans. The contest appeared to be a guessing game from start to finish with both Booneville Coach Mac Curlee and Kossuth coach James Drewry battling against each other. Curlee, however, had control of the game and one could easily see that the Booneville mentor had his players well prepared for the Friday night rivalry contest.

There use to be an old cliché around these parts when coach Drewry was coaching at Booneville that when you saw him throw his hat on the ground then something was definitely wrong. Well he turned his cap every way but loose here Friday night as nothing could jell for the first place Aggies throughout the first three quarters.

Kossuth did indeed almost pull the game out of the bag in the final frame after Booneville had clearly dominated the previous three. Lets go from start to finish and after all this is over you tell me if this is not an exciting football game.

On the opening kickoff, The Aggies' Glen Bradley raced 81 yards for Kossuth's opening score. The extra point went through the uprights and Kossuth took an opening 7-0 lead.

This lead lasted about as long as it took to run the touchdown. Booneville came right back as if nothing had happened to score and then take command of the game.

After Booneville marched downfield, running plays left and rights, including some rink and dink jobs, quarterback Buddy Hall handed off to Braddock Miller on a halfback option play and the Devil speedster fired a halfback pass to Bill Groves for the Devils first six points. Hall added the point after and Booneville tied the game 7-7.

The whole reflection of the game changed at this point. The Devils came right back to add two more score to put the heat on.

On almost the same identical play as the Devils first score, Hall this time cranked up his arm and fired a 10 yard toss to again Groves for the second tally of the night. The extra point missed this time and Booneville held a 13-7 lead.

The Devils struck paydirt once again in the second half when Hall, who played well all night, booted a field goal of some 20 yards to give the Devils a 16-7 margin.

Here's where the trouble began. When Booneville's troops appeared to have the game well in hand late in the game, the men with the horns coiffed up the ball on the Kossuth 12 yard line and four plays later quarterback Kenny Mathis plunged over from the one to trim the Blue Devil margin.

With time running out, Kossuth, trailing 16-14, tried an onside kick twice after a penalty, but to no avail as the Devils gobbled up the football at mid field.

Here's where the most exciting part of the whole ballgame came in. After Booneville failed to moved the ball for a first down they punted to Kossuth's Bradley and the fleetfooted performer took the ball and raced some 80 yards to score. Booneville faces saddened at this point but lit up just seconds later when a clipping penalty called the play back and Booneville stopped Kossuth after four plays as the clock expired.

One would have to say Booneville deserved the victory. The Devils played well all night and put together by far their best performance of the season.

A key interception by Bill Morris, several key defensive plays, a superb game plan on the part of Coaches Curlee, Presley and Wilkerson, all combined for the two point Blue Devil victory.

Kossuth coach James Drewry said before Friday's game that Booneville was much too good of a team to have the record they had and praised the entire team as having the ability to win.

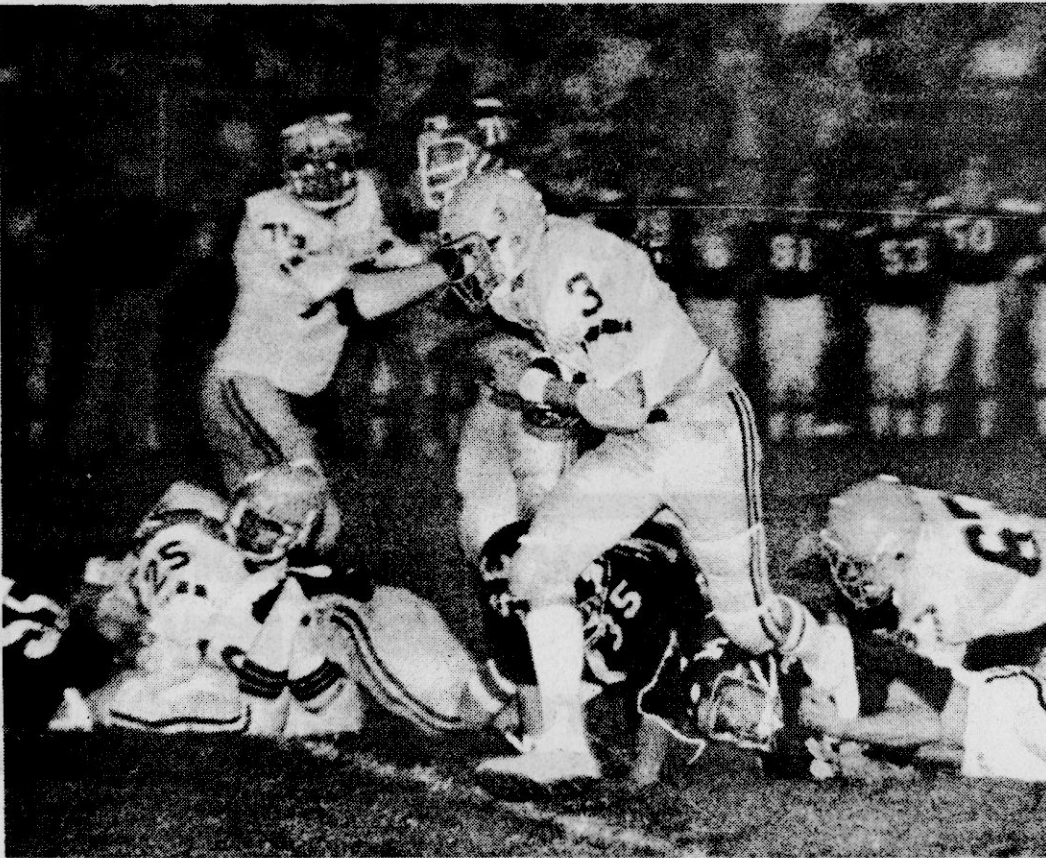

Summing up the Friday night encounter, one would have to say the Devils wanted it and got it...

The Booneville bunch will host Fulton Friday night for thier homecoming at Tiger Stadium and will then hit the road next week against Alcorn Central.

Tucker Says Bearcats Must Stop Saltillo Running Game

BALDWIN-The Tombi-gee Conference Championship could very well be decided tonight when saltillo's Tigers, last year's 'Bigbee champs invade Baldwin's Bearcats den at Latimer Park.

Baldwin head coach Hubert Tucker said the Bearcats would have to stop Saltillo's running game.

"This is their bread and butter offense," Tucker said.

"They run both the trap series and the power series and we know we have to stop this to beat them."

The Bearcats, now with a 4-1 record on the year, will field one of the best defenses the Tigers have seen this year. The Baldwin monster men have allowed just 21 points to their opponents this season in four games and 14 of them came against their only loss or the year to Ripley's Tigers.

Tucker said his defense had improved with every ballgame. "The defense will have to play well against Saltillo," he said. "And our offense-well we'll have to go to the grab bag."

Tonight's ballgame will be yet another rivalry matchup that pits two top ranked coaches together. Both coach Tucker and Saltillo coach Willie Wright have met before and both have a good idea of what the other will run.

This marks the seventh time that Tucker and Wright have met. The Bearcats lead during that tenure with three wins while Saltillo has two and there has been one tie.

"I have a lot of respect for coach Wright," Tucker said. "Saltillo has a good coaching squad and they will be prepared for tonight's ballgame."

"We'll try to balance our attack, to quote an old cliché," Tucker said. "Saltillo will run their basic 4-3 defense and we really don't know what we'll run offensively."

The game has a lot riding on it for both ball clubs. If Saltillo wins, it could be 'Katie Bar The Door,' if the Bearcats win, the race could go down to the wire.

Wrestling Slated Tonight

Wrestling superstar Jackie Fargo will headline a giant All-Star Wrestling Card to be held at Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Bonner Arnold Coliseum Tonight.

A packed house is expected here tonight with some of the top wrestlers in the mid-south and the world competing.

A Ten Man Tag Team match will also highlight the card which is, according to wrestling promoter Eddie Marlin, one of the biggest cards anywhere.

Jackie Fargo, the area's wrestling legend, will be at Northeast for the first time as he teams with Jerry Jarrett, Bill Dundee, along with Eddie and Tommy Marlin. This terrific team will battle against Jerry (The King) Lawler and Jimmy Hart along with Wayne Farris, Larry Latham and Danny Davis.

This match has the potential of being one of the toughest matches of all times considering the bad blood between some of the wrestlers.

Fargo, says he will stop at nothing to win this match and of course Lawler, who has turned sour, has a grudge of his own.

This is just part of the action. Lawler will also battle against Bill Dundee in a single match.

These two have fought each other several times in their careers and this: one will be just as rough and tough as all the rest.

BALDWIN—Baldwyn's Bearcats came from behind and early 7-0 lead by Walnut's Wildcats here last Friday night and waltzed the rest of the way on to a 20-7 rout at Latimer Park.

Tombigbee Recap

Action continued this week in the Tombigbee Race with local action throughout the area.

BOONEVILLE 16
KOSSUTH 14

The big game of the week came at Kossuth Mississippi where Booneville's Blue Devils with a record of 0-4 going into the game, took a 16-14 victory over the Aggies at Aggie Field.

The two teams went at each other's throat and the Devils clearly dominated the game but had some trouble in the fourth quarter.

Bill Groves caught two touchdowns in the game, one from Braddock Miller and one from Buddy Hall who also kicked a field goal, to aid in the two point victory.

BALDWIN 20
WALNUT 7

Baldwyn's Bearcats, said by several football observers, to be best team in the Tombigbee Conference played one of their better games Friday night and took a 20-7 victory over Walnut.

Dennis Anderson scored two touchdowns to lead the Bearcat charge while quarterback Ray Scott aided in the cause with a touchdown run and a two point conversion.

The Bearcats host Saltillo's Tigers Friday night for what could be the conference clincher.

RIPLEY 24
OKOLONA 0

The Ripley Tigers had a field day here Friday night with Okolona's Chieftans with a 24-0 romp before the Chieftan fans.

Junior runningback Phillip McDonald led the Ripley charge with three touchdowns. The fleetfooted performer scored on runs of 33 yards, four and 24 yards to pace the Tigers to their second conference win of the season against one loss.

NE Homecoming Set Saturday

Tigers Fall To Gulf Coast

Nationally ranked Gulf Coast Junior College lived up to their top billing here last Saturday night with a 27-9 victory over Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Tigers.

The score here doesn't by any means indicate the type ballgame Northeast played. The Tigers moved the ball well all night long but failed to cash in on golden opportunities.

"We played a shakey first half," Tiger head coach Bill Ward said. "We did settle down in the third period and scored but we played in spurts and this is something you can't do against a team like Gulf Coast."

Gulf Coast jumped out to an early 14-0 lead and never really looked back from there.

The Tigers struck paydirt in the third period when runningback Randy Cochran capped off a 45 plus yard drive with a five yard run off right guard for the Tigers first score.

The Northeast pawmen kept bringing it back time and time again on the South squad but fail to really muster any major threat when they had the offensive surge.

The Tigers final score came when side winder place kicker Jjim Tsakarakis booted a 35 yard field goal after a Northeast march was snuffed by

Gulf Coast at the 18 yard line. "Overall we played fairly well in the game," Ward said. "We're still making some little mistakes that always prove to be costly."

"Gulf Coast is a good football team," Ward added. "They can do about everything well and they do it alot."

Ward said the turning point in the game came when Gulf Coast put 14 points on the board before the Tigers hit paydirt. "This is something that's hard to do is come from behind on a team like that bunch," Ward said.

HOMECOMING SET SATURDAY

The Tigers are busy as beavers this week getting ready for Saturday night's game with East Mississippi. "They're a good football team," Ward said. "They're coming off a big win over Jones Junior College (20-18) and they'll be high as a kite when they play us."

"We're got our work cut out for us," Ward added. "We don't plan to change too much, though. We're improving every game and we'll use our basic game plan."

The Tigers, now 3-2 on the year, will play Scooba Saturday night for homecoming and will hit the road next week against arch-rival Itawamba.

For BHS And Northeast

Homecomings Set This Weekend

Both Booneville's Blue Devils and The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers will hold their Annual Homecoming Games this weekend.

The Devils, coming off a win last week over Kossuth's Aggies, will host Fulton Friday night for their Homecoming contest while The Northeast Tigers will field some 65 performers in their homecoming battle against East Mississippi Saturday night.

The Devils, under coaches Mac Curlee, Riley Presley and David Wilkerson, have worked hard this week in preparation for tomorrow's slugfest. The game marks the return of the Indians to the Blue Devil schedule and all the local fans remember the Fulton days of old.

The Tigers, with a 3-2 record to date, are very much improved over last season and should give East Mississippi all they want Saturday night.

Lets show both the Devils and Tigers that we're behind them all the way. Lets fill the stands for the two Homecoming games.

CB&I Is Big In Construction

IUKA, MISS.—Constructing steel containment vessels for nuclear power plants is nothing uncommon for Chicago Bridge and Iron Company.

CB&I is as common to the nuclear power industry as General Motors is to automobile manufacturing. Currently, the largest contractor at the Tennessee Valley Authority's Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant, CB&I is responsible primarily for fabricating, assembling, testing, and erecting two structural steel containment vessels for the reactor buildings. The $19 million job is the third contract received by the company from TVA. CB&I also performed the same containment functions for the government utilities at Sequoyah and Watts Bar Nuclear Plants in east Tennessee.

Other recent jobs contracted by CB&I were containment vessel erection and assembly for Bechtel Power's Guard Gulf Plant, Flower Power and Light's St. Lucie Power Plant, and Louisiana Power and Light's Tafe Power Plant.

The scope of CB&I's work here includes the complete design, furnishing, fabricating, examining, shop cleaning, shop painting, selling, delivering, unloading, field assembling, installing, erecting, inspecting, testing, field cleaning, and painting the steel containment vessel, complete with attachments, parts, penetration assemblies, and appurtenances.

Presently, CB&I is fabricating, welding and assembling containment sections for unit 1 reactor building with the first erection scheduled for January.

To better understand the functions and locations of the containment vessels, there are basically four major structures of each reactor building: the enclosure structure, the steel containment vessel, the auxiliary area structure, and the interior concrete structure.

The enclosure structure is a medium leakage concrete structure which surrounds the steel containment vessel providing an annular space of approximately five feet. This area permits construction operations and periodic visual inspections of the steel containment vessel. In addition, the enclosure structure is designed to provide protection for the steel containment vessel from low temperature adverse atmospheric conditions, external missiles, and to provide means for collection and filtration of radioactive leakage from the steel containment vessel.

The auxiliary area structure is a reinforced concrete structure which supports the steel containment vessel and encloses auxiliary equipment. The interior concrete structure is a group of reinforced concrete structural elements that encloses the reactor vessel, steam generators, reactor coolant pumps, and associated equipment, and supports the polar crane. The interior concrete structure provides biological shielding and pressure boundaries for the volumes of the containment interior and protects the steel containment vessel from internal missiles. The base rests on the bottom interior of the steel containment vessel.

Finally, the primary containment vessel is a spherical, freestanding, welded, steel structure. The structure is supported by sandwiching the lower portion between the building foundation concrete and the interior concrete structure base. There are no structural connections between the containment vessel and interior or exterior concrete structures. The inside diameter of the containment vessel is 200 feet and the wall thickness of the vessel is 1.5 inches minimum.

Big Weekend Ahead At MSU

The weekend of October 19-21 is chock-full of activities for potential Mississippi State University students, including High School-Junior College Day, a football game, and a "Sleeping Bag Weekend."

October 20 is High School Junior College Day, featuring traditional orientation-type activities on the MSU Drill Field from 9 a.m. - 12 noon.

"Representatives from various departments and academic areas will be available to answer questions," said Tom Scarbrough, director of MSU College and School Relations. "Brochures and applications for MSU programs such as housing, financial aid, and admission to the university will be available also," Scarbrough said.

In addition, an Organizational Fair will include representatives from campus organizations. Tours of the campus will be conducted throughout the day by the MSU Roadrunners—a 30-member student recruiting team.

One of the visitors might be lucky enough to purchase the winning raffle ticket for a bulldog puppy, which will be given away on MSU's Homecoming, October 27. Raffle tickets will be sold on the Drill Field during High School-Junior College Day by the Pre-Vet Club.

In addition to participating in High-School-College Day activities, prospective MSU students are invited to make it a "Sleeping Bag Weekend," which involves bringing a sleeping bag and sharing a dormitory room with an MSU student for the weekend. For overnight accommodations, contact Housing and Residence Life at 1-800-222-1810, extension 4631.

Special $2 tickets to the MSU vs. Marshall football game on October 20 will be available to High School-Junior College Day visitors on the Drill Field. The on-campus game begins at 1:30 p.m.
