In Alcorn County

Grand Jury Indicts Two

The October term of the Alcorn County grand jury handed down indictments last week against two Prentiss County men.

An 18-year-old Jumptown man has been indicted on charges of manslaughter and a 75-year-old Booneville man has been indicted on charges of capital murder and aggravated assault on a police officer.

Jimmy V. Robinson, 18, of Jumptown has been indicted by the Alcorn grand jury on charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of an Alcorn County woman in a high speed chase June 22, according to Assistant District Attorney Richard Bowen.

Glenda Henderson, 27, a former resident of Booneville, died following a four-car accident that resulted from a chase of another vehicle by units from the Booneville Police Department.

The police started the chase about 10 p.m. the night of June 22 when they spotted a car running a stop sign. The police reported that when the car refused to stop for the officers, they pursued the car north on U.S. 45 at speeds topping 100 mph.

The driver of the vehicle being pursued lost control of the automobile south of Biggersville and collided with the rear of the car being driven by Mrs. Henderson and spun into the path of a second car before finally crashing into a third parked vehicle.

The Alcorn County indictment charges Robinson with being the driver of the vehicle being pursued by the police.

Four other persons were injured in the incident, including Mrs. Henderson's two sons, ages 9 and 4, and an 80-year-old Rienzi woman.

The children were treated for bruises and cuts. Lillian Shipman, 80, and Marie Allen, 55, both of Rienzi, were treated at Magnolia Hospital in Corinth for fractures and other injuries. Mrs. Henderson was pronounced dead on arrival at Magnolia.

The police also reported that Robinson and two teenage passengers in his car received minor injuries.

Following the chase and accident, Robinson received citations for 15 traffic violations in Alcorn and Prentiss Counties, including driving while intoxicated.

An indictment charging a 75-year-old Booneville man with capital murder and aggravated assault on a police officer was also handed down by the Alcorn County grand jury last week.

The charge stems from the shooting death of a 25-year-old state narcotics agent who was helping an Alcorn County Sheriff's deputy investigate a disturbance call.

The murder indictment was returned last Thursday against Chester A. Barnes, according to Assistant District Attorney Bowen.

Barnes has been held in the Alcorn County jail without bond since his arrest following the shooting on September 14.

The narcotics agent, Harold Lane Caldwell of Corinth, died when he was shot in the chest and head with a .25-caliber automatic pistol at a Corinth service station.

Caldwell had gone to the service station with Chief Deputy Sheriff Terry Doles in response to a call about a possible kidnapping. Caldwell's office is located in the Sheriff's Department building.

Police charge that Caldwell and Doles were attempting to persuade Barnes to leave his car when he shot at first Caldwell and then Doles. Doles escaped injury in the incident.

Both Robinson and Barnes entered not guilty pleas during their separate arraignments last week in Alcorn County.

To Grand Larceny Charges

Local Men Plead Guilty

Three Booneville men, charged with grand larceny in connection with a large north Mississippi auto theft ring, entered guilty pleas Monday in Alcorn County Circuit Court, according to the courtroom office of the Alcorn County Circuit Clerk.

Two other Booneville men and one Fulton man allegedly involved in the theft ring were also scheduled to be tried this week.

Robert Lee Bearden, 28, and his brother Danny George Bearden, both of Booneville, pleaded guilty Monday to the grand larceny charges. Melvin Minor of Booneville also pleaded guilty to grand larceny in the case, the Circuit Clerk's office reported.

Still to stand trial on grand larceny charges in connection with the auto theft ring were Bruce Minor, 44, of Booneville, father of Melvin Minor, Everett Clayton Mayo of Booneville and Winfred Dean Hill of Fulton.

Hill and Bruce Minor were scheduled for trial Wednesday morning. The trial for Everett Mayo was to be rescheduled, according to the Circuit Clerk's office, but a date had not been set as of Tuesday afternoon.

All six men were arrested May 12 and 13 following an eight month 'Sting Operation' probe of one of the largest auto theft rings in the northern portion of the state. Deputies of the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department, officers of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics and state Highway Safety Patrol participated in the operation.

FBI officials set up a store front type situation by establishing a warehouse in Lakeland, Fla.

From this warehouse various law enforcement agents worked to infiltrate any underworld auto theft ring, going into the business of buying the stolen merchandise. Through these buys, agents were able to mount up evidence against the six arrested defendants.

Alcorn County Sheriff Edwin Coleman said a total of 28 stolen cars were bought out of the north Mississippi area. The cost of these transactions was an estimated $22,000.

The money used in the buying operation was furnished by the State of Mississippi and by the FBI. The cars bought were stolen from Prentiss, Alcorn, Lee, Tishomingo and other neighboring counties.

Fire Destroys Prather Home

A man who is accustomed to helping out in disasters had one of his own Monday night.

Civil Defense Director Bill Prather's home on Golf Course Road was totally destroyed by fire around midnight Monday. Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming said that there was no one at home at the time of the fire.

"They had gone to South Carolina to pick up some of their folks who were coming here to stay with them, I believe," Fleming said.

The fire department received the call about 12:25 the fire chief said. "When we got there, it had already fallen in."

"There aren't any neighbors living close," he said, "so by the time it was reported to us it was already too far gone."

"The wind blowing like it was didn't help us any, either; even if we had been there sooner, we probably couldn't have done much with it," Fleming said.

The cause of the fire has not been determined, but Chief Fleming said that it could have possibly started from an electrical short.

In addition to the truck and men from the Booneville Fire Department, the Jumptown and Thrasher volunteer fire departments responded to the fire.

New Handicapped Group Organized Locally

Webster defines ohm as "a unit of electrical resistance." But in Northeast Mississippi, OHM is written in capital letters and means Organization for Handicapped Mississippians.

And while OHM members may have handicaps, they do not allow these handicaps to become insurmountable obstacles in their efforts to improve the quality of life for themselves and other handicapped persons.

OHM meets every Friday night at the Booneville Community Center. Their current project is making craft items which will be sold at a bazaar to be held Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Community Center.

These items are being made from scraps of fabric, yarn, nature's own tree barks and nuts, and anything else these vivid imaginations can use to fashion truly beautiful, unusual and useful items. At last Friday's session they were making Christmas wreaths, ornaments, and novelty gift items.

While scrap materials and Mother Nature provide the bulk of the materials, some of their supplies have to be paid for. And when they are, the club draws on funds raised through donations and group projects such as the food booths operated at the recent political rallies.

"Don't ever throw anything away," one of the members said. "Give it to us and we will make it into something beautiful and useful."

OHM membership is not limited to the handicapped. The club also invites family members and anyone else interested in working with and for the handicapped to become members and participate in all club trips and activities.

OHM is a local organization, conceived by club president, Sarah Smith Cummings to aid the handicapped in areas of education, training, employment, housing and recreation. Since its organization several months ago, Mrs. Cummings says she has had inquiries from groups in several surrounding counties interested in becoming members. She is also planning a trip to several Gulf Coast counties to talk with groups interested in organizing local OHM chapters.

In observance of National Employ the Handicapped Week, Mayor Charles Crabb has signed a proclamation declaring October 7-13 Employ the Handicapped Week in Booneville.

In signing the proclamation,

Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Banks Livingston of Tupelo has announced the appointment of a new postmaster for Booneville.

Wright and his wife, Lillian, have five children, only one of whom is still living at home. The Wrights are presently in the process of relocating from Memphis to Booneville.

Livingston said that postmaster selections are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the Regional Management Selection Board.

The board, composed of a representative of the United Civil Service Commission, a Postal District Manager and two postmasters, selects and recommends to the Postmaster General the best qualified person for appointment to each vacancy, Livingston said.

Phone Counseling Offered

Timber Hills Mental Health Services has implemented a 24-hour telephone counseling service effective October 1, according to Executive Director Paul W. Hunninen.

"Two primary goals of the service are to bolster the community's existing resources for coping with emergency crises and to provide immediate assistance via telephone on a 24-hour basis to those who find themselves or someone else in a situation of emotional crisis," Hunninen said.

"Understanding that people do not necessarily experience emotional crises during work hours and recognizing that many times there needs to be intervention when a crisis is occurring, we feel that the initiation of this service is another step in the expansion of our capabilities as a community mental health center."

"As one of the twelve basic services of a community mental health center, the emergency component will enhance the range of services the center is offering to the residents of Region IV."

"The telephone counseling service is linked with other basic services to respond to the mental health needs of persons in the community and to assure quality care."

According to Hunninen, emergency after hours treatment is limited to brief crisis-centered telephone therapy to enable the individual to maintain some stability until the next office hours begin. Follow-up is extremely important.

The Timber Hills staff recently received in-service training in "Suicide and Crisis Intervention" from Dr. Allan Battle, a Memphis psychiatrist and Mrs. Mary Puckett, Executive Director of the Memphis Crisis Center.

Mental health workers are on rotating call.

For after-hour emergencies phone 1-286-9209 toll free. During regular office hours phone 728-3174 to reach the Timber Hills offices. Because the phone system utilizes a telephone diverter, it is important for persons calling after hours to allow more time than normal for the staff member on call to answer. From 8 to 15 rings may be required.

Services of the Timber Hills Mental Health Center are available to all residents of Mental Health Region IV which includes Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo Counties.

In First Year Of Service—

New Haven House Cares For 150

One hundred fifty admissions have been made to the Timber Hills Haven House during its first year of operation. Eighty of these were from Alcorn County, 17 from Prentiss, 20 from Tippah and 33 from Tishomingo.

The facility, which opened its doors for the first time in September, 1978, is a 15-bed alcohol rehabilitation unit for men.

Services of the Haven House, located at the corner of Fourth and Breckinridge Streets in Corinth, are available to residents of Mental Health Region IV-Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, and Tishomingo Counties.

"The center offers residential care to recovering in an alcohol-free, non-restrictive environment," according to House Director Mike Rogers.

Residents are medically screened within forty-eight hours after admission by consulting physicians. Depending on the recommendation of the physician, the resident receives social, hospital or state hospital detoxification, if needed. Lacy Dalton, Detoxification Counselor at Haven House, is responsible for coordinating social detoxification services, as well as Alcoholics Anonymous work.

Residents are educated on the disease of alcoholism by attending lectures, films and Alcoholics Anonymous meetings. They receive 34 hours of therapy per week with a trained staff member. They attend two groups per day, an educational group and a therapy group. They also attend an A.A. study group and meeting each evening. Residents participate in both beginner and advanced group therapy sessions. Treatment programs are geared to meet the needs of individual clients.

Bill Paden, Residential Care Worker II and Marsha Baird, Residential Care Worker I, help to facilitate the resident's move through the Haven House Program. They work with the family to improve their understanding of alcoholism and the Haven House program. They are responsible for holding group therapy sessions, and alcohol education sessions.

Tom Johnson, House Manager, and Leroy Austin, House Supervisor I, assist in and coordinate the alcohol treatment program. Johnson and Austin are in charge of coordinating night activities at Haven House.

"We have implemented a family treatment approach," Rogers said. "During the last portion of the clients 60-day inpatient treatment, we begin to work with families and other significant persons to combat the negative image and the myths surrounding alcoholism."

Haven House is a part of a continuing program and residents will continue to receive aftercare treatment in their home county 12 to 18 months after their inpatient stay. Outreach Aftercare

Worker, Harry Crayton, assists the client in the transition from the inpatient unit to outpatient services. He assists residents in securing a job and a positive place to live. "Follow-up is most important to treatment," Rogers said.

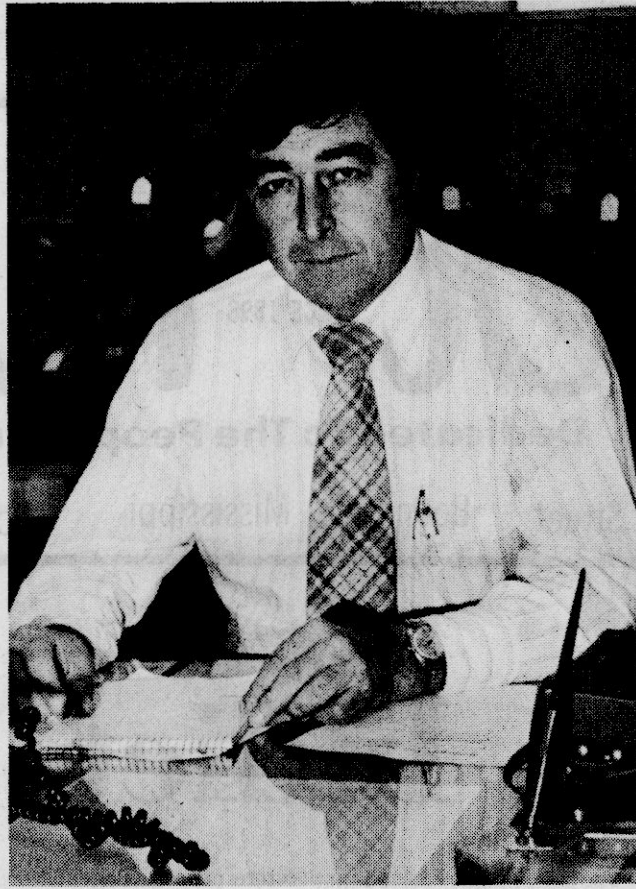

Referrals have been made to Haven House by family members, self, courts and law enforcement officials, physicians, hospital emergency rooms and ministers. Referrals can be made by phoning Mike Rogers or Alcorn County Outpatient Alcohol and Drug Counselor, Lanny Taylor at 238-6908; T.D. Rummage at 728-3174 in Prentiss County; K.B. Phagan at 837-3154 in Tippah County; or Wendell Southward at 423-3332 in Tishomingo County.

Haven House was created under the auspices of the Timber Hills Region IV Mental Health-Mental Retardation Commission. Commissioners for the program are Brenda (Mrs. Buddy) Moses, Alcorn County; E.O. Roden, Prentiss County; Troy Holliday, Tippah County; and J.O. Southward, Tishomingo County.

Funding for the program is in part by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare and state alcohol tax money.

Kent Geno Heads Bike-A-Thon

Kent Geno has been named to head the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital's 1979 Fall Wheels-For-Life Campaign in Jumpertown, Saturday, Oct. 20.

The 18-mile ride will begin at Jumpertown School at 1:00 p.m., go to Lake Mohawk and return. Riders from the entire area are invited to participate.

In making the announcement, Bob Espey, St. Jude Southern Regional Director, said, "We are proud to find such a dedicated person for this important task. St. Jude Children's Research Hospital offers hope to stricken children everywhere that would not be possible without volunteers like Geno."

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital is the only research center dedicated exclusively to the study and conquest of catastrophic diseases of children. Its work, particularly in leukemia and other childhood cancers, has been internationally acclaimed and cited as a leading example for basic and clinical research.

"No one has ever been charged for the benefits provided by St. Jude Hospital," Espey said. "And that includes the extremely expensive medical care provided to children enrolled in its research studies."

CORRECTION

It was incorrectly stated in an obituary in last week's Banner-Independent that Mrs. Carl Spencer of Booneville and Mrs. Dorothy Cagle of Baldwyn were sisters of Mrs. Minnie Mae Vandevander. Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Cagle are daughters of Mrs. Vandevander.

The Banner-Independent regrets this error and is happy to make the correction.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, doesn't Revelation 20 say that Christ will reign with us for a thousand years on this earth?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Many people believe in the premillennial idea but it is not taught in the Bible. I want you to notice some things not mentioned in Revelation 20.

1. It does not mention the second coming of Christ 2. It does not mention a bodily resurrection. 3. It does not mention a Reign on earth. 4. It does not mention the literal throne of David. 5. It does not mention Jerusalem or Palestine. 6. It does not mention US. 7. It does not mention Christ on earth.

All the above are essential to the premillennial idea. Please note that the only ones mentioned as reigning with Christ were the "Souls of the beheaded for the witness of Jesus." The Bible does not say "WE" will reign with Christ! It says, "They live and reigned." If the term reigned is limited by a thousand years, the verb "Lived" is also limited by the thousand years. If this be so everyone would die at the end of the thousand years and the theory would go down the drain! The book of revelation is filled with "Figurative" language and we must know the difference in figurative and literal language.

Farm Ponds Are Reliable Source Of Water

By DON JONES
Soil Conservation Technician

Land owners in Prentiss County have become aware of the benefits of providing water for many purposes such as fish production, recreation, livestock, and wildlife habitat. The demand for water has increased tremendously in recent years. Although there are other sources of water, farm ponds are one of the most reliable and economical.

Many land owners are finding that fish production is profitable. A properly built and managed fish pond may yield from 100 to 300 pounds of fish annually for each surface acre of water. A good fish pond can also provide recreation for your family and friends and can be an added source of income should you wish to open it to people in the community for a fee. A pond can provide many pleasant hours of swimming, boating and fishing for your family and friends. Farm ponds also attract many kinds of wildlife. Migratory waterfowl often use them as resting places in their flights to and from the North. Ducks often use ponds as breeding places, particularly where there is an ample supply of food. Also, other types of wildlife use ponds as watering places.

Water is an important to livestock production as is forage. Clean water and ample forages are essential for livestock to be finished out in a marketable conditions.

You may wish to use the water in your pond for more than one purpose. In estimating your water requirements you must total the needs for each purpose and be sure that you provide a supply adequate for all the intended uses.

If you are interested in a pond for your farm, you can obtain more information about them from the Soil Conservation Service, located in North Mississippi Savings and Loan Building. We can also provide technical assistance in building ponds and in applying other conservation practices to your farm.

Fall MSU Enrollment Increases

Final figures compiled by Mississippi State University show a 3 percent overall increase and a 1 percent on-campus increase in enrollment for the 1979 fall semester.

A total of 12,882 students are currently receiving direct educational services from MSU, as opposed to 12,500 last year. The university continues to lead all state institutions in enrollment.

Enrollment on the Starkville campus is 11,374, or 109 more than last year. Ninety-five percent of these additional students are female and over 60 percent are freshmen. Non-resident enrollment at Starkville increased by 16.5 percent.

Enrollment at the university's branch centers includes 205 at MSU-Universities Center in Jackson, 656 at Meridian and a total of 123 in resident and engineering programs at Vicksburg. Both Jackson and Meridian are degree-granting institutions.

"We are greatly encouraged by the upswing in our enrollment this year," said Academic Vice President

Robert E. Wolverton. "I think it signifies the fact that people still do have beliefs in the benefits of higher education and that we have programs and services to respond to people's needs."

Wolverton added that he felt the enrollment figures "indicate the health of the university and the confidence in the university are both in excellent shape."

Pruitt On Patrol Pistol Team

Shooting is more than a sport for members of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol Pistol Team and their seriousness was obvious during the National Rifle Association's 18th Annual Police Revolver Championship Matches.

Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol Officers took the first place award for the high scoring 4-man team from Mississippi. Winning team members were Officers Jim O'Cain of Pearl; Jim Woodard of Crystal Springs; Mitchell McNeece of Mantachie, and Ken Dunlap of Clinton.

Officers McNeece and O'Cain were winners of the President's Match, and the Distinguished Match, respectively. Both categories are considered by shooters to be among the best in the four-day competition.

Other Officers representing the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol were Gary Hughes of Tupelo; Bill McKinney of Clinton; Joe E. McFerrin of Mantachie; Oscar Pruitt of Baldwin; Bobby Reed of Walls; Lee Shelbourn of Hattiesburg; Danny Tackett of Gulfport, and Larry Wolfe of Greenville.

This was the 11th consecutive year that the Department of Public Safety and Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy have hosted the Championship Matches. There were 876 entrants representing law enforcement agencies in 45 of the 50 states and Canada. A total of 924-man teams and 124 2-man teams entered the competition.

Nurse Shortage Severe

The people who do volunteer work in Mississippi's hospitals have pledged their support to the Mississippi Hospital Association's efforts to alleviate the state's nursing shortage.

At its Fifth Annual Educational Assembly, held in Jackson, the MHA-sponsored Society of Auxiliaries passed a resolution supporting the MHA's special task force on the nursing shortage.

The statewide society recognized "a severe shortage and maldistribution of registered nurses available for hospital employment" and said "quality health care in Mississippi is in direct proportion to the adequacy of nursing staffing patterns in the hospital."

The resolution said "Auxiliaries can play a dynamic role in the development of scholarship programs and health-career recruiting." Mrs. Kathy Ballard, of Vicksburg, elected president of the organization to succeed Mrs. Beverly Gilbert, of Jackson, said following the meeting:

"The nursing shortage is real. It behooves us to assist our respective local hospitals in the recruitment of nurses and in the financial assistance necessary to meet the needs of this recruitment. We should also encourage young people to seek careers in hospital nursing."

The new president-elect of the society is Mrs. Irene White of McComb. Elected as representatives of their respective districts were: Mrs. Frances Morgan of Corinth; Mrs. Kathy Flowers of Brookhaven; and Mrs. Katherine Feldman of Jackson.

Also endorsed at the meeting was a resolution supporting the voluntary cost-containment programs of the American Hospital Association, the American Medical Association and the Federation of American Hospitals "for the purpose of reducing the rate of increase in health-care costs." This resolution noted that "The assortment of proposed and impending federal legislation aimed at containing health-care costs via mandatory caps and inflexible government controls will, if implemented, deleteriously affect the quality of hospital care and not resolve the problems of rising costs."

The resolution said Auxiliaries "may spread the word in their local communities as to what is being done to control costs" and "may influence the decisions of legislators regarding cost containment." Auxiliaries, it said, "May do much to promote health-consumer education activities, thereby lessening hospitalization."

Perspective On Productivity

(No one needs to be told of the ravages of inflation on the American pocketbook. Buying power is down tremendously and the dollar's value is continuously shrinking. Although there are many links to inflation, a major one is productivity growth; a term that few people know much about. A discussion of America's productivity performance follows.)

Wrong Vision

When most Americans hear the word "productivity" or the cry, "We need to increase our productivity," they envision a tired employee sweating over a conveyor belt with a mean and surly supervisor standing over him screaming, "Faster, faster! More, more!"

Fortunately, that is not what speakers mean when they cite the need for greater growth in productivity. Politicians, business leaders and economists do not wish to return to sweat shops and child labor. What they are really concerned with is maintaining America's standard of living.

Technically, productivity is defined as the output which results from one hour of labor input. Translated, that means, the amount of material that a worker produces each hour that he is on the job.

Obviously then, more than just the worker is involved when speaking of productivity. What does the employee have to work with? Are his machines modern or obsolete? Are the workers highly skilled and well-trained or are they new to the work force?

Inflation and Productivity

All of the above is important information for economists and policy-makers because productivity is directly tied to inflation. The Joint Economic Committee of Congress, in its report entitled Midyear Review of the Economy: The Outlook for 1979, joined the two as follows:

"The relationship between productivity and inflation is double-edged. A slowed rate of productivity growth causes inflation to accelerate, and escalating prices depress productivity."

From this it becomes quite clear that any discussion of inflation and how to slow it down must include a thorough examination of the nation's productivity growth.

To illustrate this even more

Achilles' Heel

Charges of corruption in state government have been a major topic among gubernatorial candidates, but there is another area of state government which needs attention.

Officials should take a close look at how state government is growing in the number of state-level boards, expenditures, and number of employees.

Expenditures have grown substantially over the years from $523 million in 1966 to over $2.4 billion in 1978. This represents an increase of over 300 percent—a far higher figure than our inflation rate.

This enormous outlay of tax dollars is used to fund some 170 state-level boards, commissions, councils, and departments.

Growth of state government is a natural occurrence as the state's population and economy grow, but the Achilles' heel in the system is that there is little if any coordinated, planned, or systematic effort for controlling this growth. There is no effective overall direction or organization because of the large number of agencies, overlapping of responsibilities from one agency to another, increasing administrative and support costs, and lack of uniformity in administrative and personnel procedures and quality of agency management.

State's Teachers Endorse William Winter

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Mississippi's public school teachers, apparently seeking a major upgrading of public education in the 1980's, have jumped into the political arena more forcefully than ever before in the election of the next governor and members of the legislature.

For the first time in history, the Mississippi Association of Educators (the merged group of the former separate white and black teachers' organizations) publicly endorsed a candidate for governor when it announced its support of William Winter several days ago.

Winter has long been a favorite among many school people, but they had never gone public before with their political endorsement of his candidacy. What the MAE endorsement will mean now is uncertain until it is seen how active the 17,000 dues-paying members of MAE become in behalf of the Democratic nominee.

MAE leaders say that they are going to get teachers out "walking the streets" to solicit votes for Winter who got the unanimous endorsement of the MAE's M-PACT Steering Council, the political arm which the educators established several years ago.

"We don't say how many votes we can deliver," says John Ashley, executive director of MAE, "but we believe 28,000 people in public education can be effective." In last year's United States Senate race, evidently most of the teachers' forces supported Thad Cochran, even though Cochran did not get the two-thirds vote required for formal endorsement.

The public educators believe the threat to public schools which existed because of massive integration at the beginning of the 1970's has run its course, and that the 1980's will see a solid new foundation erected for public education, if they can get the right kind of legislature and a pro-education governor.

MAE has been active in quite a few legislative races around the state during the primaries, and apparently with some success. Ashley believes that 70 percent of the lawmakers who have won nomination or election were supported by MAE.

In a few instances, the teachers forces helped retire several arch-foes from the legislature, among them Donald Strider of Charleston, George Yarbrough of Red Banks, and Dale Ford of Taylorsville in the Senate, and Norman Hendry of Louin, in the House.

Tucker had always boasted of his sympathy for teachers because his wife was a schoolteacher, but the school forces often found Tucker recalcitrant in backing their programs. Much of the time, Tucker had yielded to the powerful former Sen. Bill Burgin who was on his Education Committee.

Jackson to replace Tucker, but because of the major turnover in several other major Senate committee chairmanships, Ellington may be drafted for some other job.

On the House side, the school lobby won't oppose reappointment of black lawmaker, Robert Clark of Ebenezer to the House Education chairmanship, but it is hopeful Rep. Hannon Miller of Greenville will again become Clark's staunch committee helper.

Fairy Tales Come True

Once upon a time not so very long ago, in the hamlet of Chester, in Choctaw county, in the state of Mississippi, there lived a beautiful Princess with a song in her heart; yea, many songs to uplift the heart, delight the ear, but most of all to honor the Creator of all things.

One day, when the Princess was eleven years old, she went for a ride in the royal carriage. But, around the bend in the road was a wicked dragon with eyes of glass and a body of steel; mowing as if on greased wheels, he pounced to crush the royal carriage and the beautiful Princess.

The King and Queen called upon famous Wizards of the Kingdom to save the beautiful Princess with their magic powers. Using every power allotted them they enclosed her in a plaster cast and waited for a time and half, but when the cast was removed the Wizards sadly shook their heads. Although her life was spared, a chair with wheels was fashioned for the Princess. She would never walk again.

The song in the heart of the princess grew more beautiful as time went by. The Creator of all things heard the song she was singing. He touched her heart and added to the love therein strength and a willing spirit. And so the Princess grew into a lovely young woman who walked into the heart of a great nation and walked away with the crown of Miss America.

And all across the land everyone is singing Cheryl's song and rejoicing because they know that fairy tales do come true, as they live happily ever after.

Cheryl, today I give you more than a bud vase of roses for my daughter's music teacher. I give you my love and support as you begin your reign as Miss America. I am fully confident that you will continue to make us proud you are our own. Your summer music students from the Cumberland area are beside themselves with excitement, love, and pride. They were so sure you would win, they never doubted for a moment. As a parent, I thank you for the good example you are, not only to them, but to the youth of America. I'm sure you will bring honor and dignity to the title you hold and a brighter luster that only you could give.

Yes, Cheryl, fairy tales do come true, and may your "Happily ever after" be such as is befitting the Princess you are.

State Tax Structure Weak

The method of assessing property for ad valorem tax purposes is recognized as a serious weakness in Mississippi's tax structure which can discourage capital investments.

Industrial concerns and investors may hesitate to come into Mississippi when they discover how unpredictable property taxation is from county to county.

New industry is not the only loss. Tax-supported activities such as junior colleges and other multi-county activities receive financing by local levies which cannot be equalized if property assessment varies from county to county. Local schools also are financed through a combination of local property taxes and state aid.

The Mississippi Constitution of 1890 states that "taxation shall be uniform and equal throughout the state. Property shall be taxed in proportion to its value." Despite the law, officials have permitted the development of inequities in which the constitutional requirements for equalization have been disregarded.

The Mississippi Economic Council, recognizing that weakness, has long sought statewide reappraisal of real property equalization of assessments after reappraisal, expanded training for assessors, and enforcement of all tax statutes by the State Tax Commission.

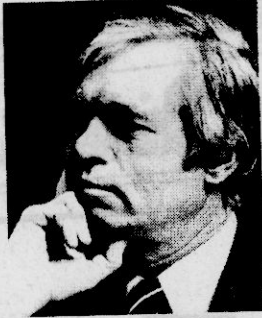

Mississippi occupies the bottom rung on the economic ladder, and state officials can ill afford to allow this situation which is a deterrent to new industry and a weakness in our educational system to continue to exist.

SPECIAL REPORT:

FBI Charter Legislation

During the last few weeks my Senate Judiciary Committee has been conducting hearings on legislation to approve and implement a charter for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Although the FBI has been the main federal law enforcement agency for many years, there has never been a specific definition of its powers and authority approved by Congress.

This lack of legal authority has resulted in threats to the federal efforts to combat crime and protect American citizens from abuse by the criminal element.

There have also arisen new concerns that the Constitutional rights of Americans to privacy and freedom of expression and assembly are not adequately respected by certain law enforcement activities.

The FBI charter seeks to both strengthen the powers of the Bureau and protect citizens' rights.

To do this effectively, our Committee has been engaged in a careful review of the techniques and procedures the FBI is using to detect criminal activity and bring law violators to justice.

It has been my privilege to preside at some of these hearings as we heard testimony from representatives of the Department of Justice, FBI, legal community and citizen groups.

Because modern criminals now employ the most sophisticated, devious and imaginative schemes to accomplish their goals, equally effective measures must be authorized to combat them.

Specific procedures for using investigative techniques such as informants, undercover agents and electronic surveillance will be prescribed by the law under this new charter. Not only will this give the legal authority to the FBI to use these techniques, it will provide a new measure of protection to innocent citizens.

Access rights to documents and records held by institutions such as banks, insurance companies, and telephone companies will also be clearly defined. When necessary such vital sources of information can be used in an investigation but only after a showing is made to proper judicial or Justice Department officials that criminal activity has probably occurred.

Complex issues surround the infiltration of agents or informers into organizations and groups whose aims may be subversive or dangerous to U.S. citizens. Special problems associated with terrorist groups also exist.

As we work to develop legal powers, and restrictions on those powers, to meet the law enforcement challenge that is presented to our government, the Committee is well aware of the importance of our efforts.

Decisions we make during these deliberations must equip our nation with a strong and aggressive law enforcement potential. At the same time care will be taken to eliminate the opportunity for abuse of legitimate rights of innocent persons.

These twin goals can be achieved. They must be achieved, to restore respect for our laws and our law enforcement personnel as they work to uphold those laws.

Mr. And Mrs. Mac Mitchell

Miss Jumper And Mr. Mitchell Are Married

Martha Jumper and Mac Mitchell were united in marriage at the Booneville Presbyterian Church on July 20 in a candlelight wedding with Brother L.K. Foster officiating the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jumper of Jumpertown. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mitchell of Booneville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful white sleeveless gown with a round ruffled neckline. Rows of lace cascaded from the satin belt at the empire waistline. A lace train flowed from the back. The matching veil featured a lace cap trimmed with pearls. The fingertip veil had a matching lace trim which blended with the train of the gown.

The brides bouquet was of beautiful peach and mint green daisies, baby breath and peach colored rose buds. Peach ribbons tied in love knots hung from the bouquet.

The brides only jewelry was a ruby necklace given to her by the groom.

Toni Hatfield, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor. Serving as maid of honor was sister of the bride, Judith Wigginton. Bridesmaids were Lee Mitchell, sister of the groom, and Tammy Shadburn. Serving as flower girl was Ronja Eaton, cousin of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore sleeveless, round neckline, peach colored gowns. The sheer outer layer was of flocked peach floral motif featuring a white lace ruffled neckline. They each carried a single peach colored rose and wore baby's breath in their hair.

The flowergirl carried a white basket filled with petals of peach and mint green daisies, which she dropped on either side of the aisle.

Serving as attendants for the groom were Joey Pittman, best man, Groomsmen Sam Mitchell and George Mitchell, brothers of the groom, and George Loveless. Ringbearer was Merle Jumper, brother of the bride.

The groom and his attendants wore mint green tuxedos with peach colored rosebuds for boutonnieres. Mike Hatfield and Earl Owens served as ushers.

Mrs. Jumper wore a street length mint green dress of Qiana. Mrs. Mitchell wore a gray street length dress. The mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Vocalist for the wedding was Mrs. Joan Koon, who sang "A Time for Us." Guy Windham served as pianist.

Registering the wedding guests was Laura Marecic, cousin of the bride. Rice girls were Cheryl Eaton and Tammy Hickman.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

The brides table featured a beautiful three tier wedding cake topped with peach daisies and baby's breath. Beneath the cake was a fountain of cascading multi-colored water. Nuts, assorted mints and punch were served from the brides table. The peach colored punch was served from a beautiful silver punch bowl, by Renate Eaton and Leista Belue, relatives of the bride.

The grooms table featured a chocolate frosted cake topped with green sugar frosted grape clusters. Serving at the grooms table were Carrie Mitchell and Clara Owens, relatives of the groom.

Miss Linda Sue Dees served as floating hostess.

For the honeymoon trip the bride wore a red and white pants outfit, complimented by a rosebud corsage. After the honeymoon trip the couple made their home at 101 S. Bridge St. in Booneville.

Bridal showers honoring the couple were given on June 27 and July 6.

In June a shower was given by the women of the Booneville Presbyterian Church. The July 16th shower was given in the home of Mrs. Renate Eaton.

October 14-21 Is School Lunch Week

National School Lunch Week has been observed each year for the past seventeen years, according to Mrs. Willie Via, supervisor of the Prentiss County Schools' lunchroom program. This year it will be observed October 14-20.

The highlight of every National School Lunch Week has been Universal Menu Day, Mrs. Via said. On this day, every child across the nation has the opportunity to eat the same meal.

This year, three special menus have been planned, offering schools the chance to serve one, two or all three of them. In addition, each menu provides choices within the fruit-vegetable and milk components.

The theme of this year's National School Lunch Week is "Eat to learn, Learn to eat." The special focus of this year's theme is "Nutrition with Love."

The Prentiss County school system will offer two menus, according to Mrs. Via. The first one includes fish-and-chips, peaches or banana and strawberry cup, broccoli or carrot sticks, corn bread with butter, and milk.

The second menu includes pizza, a year-round lunch time favorite. In addition,, there will be green beans or corn, relish cup or Italian salad with dressing, pear half or apple crisp, and milk.

keeping you in touch

By Bob Bartley
Corinth Manager

Be ready for emergencies by writing down the phone numbers for your doctor, police and fire departments, and all other numbers that you might need in a hurry. The inside front cover of your telephone directory has space for listing vital emergency numbers.

Write down important numbers and keep them next to your phone so they'll be there when you need them. That will do more than save you time. It could very well save your life. Or someone else's.

The community life jacket. It's one jacket that will never be the worse for wear.

THE COMMUNITY LIFE JACKET

Have you ever had your telephone ring and hurried to answer it, only to hear the click as the caller hung up? You immediately wonder if you've missed something important.

The next time you place a call, think of the person at the other end of the line. Wait a little longer before deciding that no one is there.

A good rule is to wait ten rings—about one minute—before hanging up. You'll avoid worrying the other person and may save yourself a second call.

Every day is somebody's wedding, birthday, or anniversary. If someone you know is celebrating, call long distance, and join the celebration.

Reach out and touch someone.

Home Economist's Notes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Are you secretly wishing you could throw out all your furniture and start from scratch?

If you did, the redecorating process might not be as much fun as you think. The more choices we have, the more difficulty we may experience in deciding what we really want and need. Having things which must be worked around automatically restricts our choices and limits the number of decisions. When there are no limitations or restraints, we must establish them if anything is to be accomplished.

The first decision that establishes the direction we wish to go in color or furniture style can be difficult. We have to weigh cost, use, durability and care required, as well as color and design. The choice is usually not clear cut and most of us suffer from vague doubts about the final choice. But, perhaps we'll suffer less from having made a questionable decision than from being in a constant state of furmoll—not being able to make a decision at all.

Sewing With Corduroy

Sewing with corduroy, a versatile fabric for attractive and durable garments, is not difficult if you follow a few simple rules.

Corduroy is a pile fabric and the direction of the pile affects the color of the fabric in the completed garment. The pile may go either up or down, but all pattern pieces must be laid on the fabric with the top of the pattern placed in the same direction.

When the pile runs up, a dark rich color is produced. A lighter shadow-like effect is the result when the pile runs down.

You can determine the direction of the pile by running your hand along the ribs or wales. If the fabric feels smooth, the pile is running in the direction of your hand movement. If the fabric feels rough, the pile is running in the opposite direction.

Select a pattern with few seams. Make sure it is suitable for fabrics with a nap. The back of the pattern envelope will give the required yardage for a fabric "with nap."

Match the ribs of wide wale corduroys just as you would match stripes.

Use sharp shears for cutting the garment. Cut large notches because corduroy frays easily. Use tailor tacks to transfer pattern markings to garment.

Loosen machine tension and lengthen stitches to 10 per inch. Heavy fabrics glide through the machine easier if the pressure on the presser foot is lengthened.

Press corduroy on the wrong side. Placing a heavy terry towel under the fabric prevents making the pile flat. Press with an up and down motion with a steam iron.

For more information, call the Extension Office at 728-5631.

Preregistration is required for both the arts and crafts and run entrants. Interested persons should contact Manette Bedford (365-9621) for crafts information and runners can contact Mary Ford (365-3604).

A message from Gil

Public officials have gotten rich in Mississippi for years. The people of Mississippi haven't. That's the way of the old politics.

I'm fed up with that kind of politics. I will place my businesses in trust if I am elected. And I will instruct them to do no business whatsoever with any public agency. I also will open my financial records every year so you can see where my money comes from and how much it amounts to.

I invited Mr. Winter to do the same. I invited him to open his records and tell us how much he's made. He has not done so. Instead he accused me of "mudslinging."

I ask you to be the judge of whether this is dirty politics or not. To me it's telling it like it is.

This has been a busy week for our club members. There is a lot of work to getting a yard sale together. Several members worked real hard towards it and lots of others contributed in different ways. Our yard sale was a success Saturday and we appreciate everyone that helped in anyway and those non-members that helped also. Thanks to all of you.

Saturday night was our regular social. We had more than enough to go around and we had lots of fun and good fellowship. "Running Bear" couldn't make it cause he had to keep up with the lady truck drivers.

Happy birthday "Little Tree Climber," "Dead Man," "Apple Dumpling," and to "Fuss Butt." Hope each of you have a nice day and have many more to look forward too.

Some folks really do go prepared for emergencies. I heard that a fella in our club had a sack of corn cobs stored in his camper. That's what I'd call roughing it! Och!

Officers meeting is tonight. This is a special meeting at 6:30. "Hauler" said we all are to meet by the ole pinetree. Tuesday night October 16 is our regular business meeting at 7:30 at the community center. Everyone please attend.

"King" hopes to be at home sometime this week. "Lady Buffalo," "Texas Ruby," "White Girl," "Little Wrecker I," "Butterbean Lady," and "Little Red," have all been under par this week. Hope all of you are feeling better.

Our sympathy to "Telephone Lady" in the death of her aunt, Mrs. Martha Downs age 39. Mrs. Downs was originally from Guntown, but was residing in Batesville at the time of her death.

We had a nice convoy that traveled to Carbon Hill, Alabama, Sunday to there coffeebreak. We stopped at Guinn and ate breakfast and continued on to the break. Several units won nice prizes, but most of all the club brought back trophies. One for largest club out of state, one for largest junior club, and one for club selling the most tickets. "Little Blue Wave," also won a trophy for the little king. We appreciate everyone that attended and helped us get these.

Have you ever heard of putting jelly in your coffee? "Telephone Lady" must really like her coffee sweet.

The Northeast Mississippi C.B. Club will sponsor a gospel singing Sunday afternoon October 28 beginning at 1 p.m. at the Community Center in City Park featuring The Freedom Quartet and the Singing Hill Family. The public is invited to attend.

Until next week stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

News From The ASCS

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Farmers Are Asked To Make Nominations For The ASC Committee

Farmers are asked to nominate candidates of their choice to be on the ASC community committee ballot.

The ASC community committee election will be conducted from Nov. 23 to Dec. 3 by mail ballot. The five ASC communities in Prentiss county are: A-Pisgah and Jumpertown, B-Blackland and Baldwin, C-Marietta and Wheeler, D-Cairo and Thrasher, and E-New Site and Burton.

ASC committees are responsible for managing government farm programs on the local level.

To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals. Prentiss county farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community. Farmers have received petition forms by mail and are now submitting them to the county ASCS office.

A few basic considerations should be kept in mind when circulating petitions. In order to be valid, petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected, must be signed by at least three eligible farm voter in the ASC community, and must be received in the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

Farmers may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the ASC committee election may contact the county ASCS office for full details, including eligibility requirements for officeholders. Farmers should petition for an elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC committee. The election of concerned farmers to positions on ASC committees is essential in the administration of farm programs.

The county ASCS office welcomes all valid petitions. The opportunity to nominate, vote, and be elected to office is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color, or national origin.

USDA Seeks Comments On Proposals for 1980 Cotton Program

Before making decisions on the 1980 Upland Cotton Program, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is asking the public to submit recommendations on the program. Deadline for receiving comments is November 19.

D.L. Triggs, Jr., State Director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Mississippi, said public comment is being sought on the following program provisions: -the target price; -the national program acreage (NPA) and program allocation factor for upland cotton. (The NPA is the number of harvested acres the department estimates needed to meet domestic and export requirements during the 1980-81 marketing year which begins August 1, 1980. The minimum NPA required by law is 10 million acres. The allocation factor is determined by dividing the NPA for the 1980 crop by the estimated harvested acreage for the crop); -the voluntary reduction from 1979 upland cotton acreage in order to guarantee target price protection on total 1980 planted acreage;

-whether there should be a set-aside requirement for upland cotton and, if so, the amount of set-aside;

-if a set-aside is in effect, whether there should be a limitation on upland cotton planted acreage and, if so, the extent of such limitation;

-whether there should be a provision for additional diversion of upland cotton and, if so, the extent of such diversion and the payment therefor.

The national program acreage and the voluntary reduction percentage must be announced by December 14. The remaining provisions have no deadline.

Before these determinations are made, the Secretary will consider any written recommendations received by the director, production adjustment division, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C., 20013. Comments will be available for public inspection during normal business hours in Room 3630 of the department's South Building.

The request for comments will be published in the September 18 Federal Register.

Tenn-Tom Reservoir Delayed

COLUMBUS—Environmental considerations will delay the raising of the Aliceville reservoir on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway until December and are setting back the filling of the pool above the Columbus Lock and Dam by at least six months until the fall of 1980.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has reported the Aliceville pool, which was expected to be raised to make navigation and recreational facilities operable this month, has been delayed until early December to complete clearing of heavy debris within the reservoir.

At the request of the U.S.

Fish and Wildlife Service, the Corps will hold off filling the Columbus pool until the fall of 1980. The filling of the Columbus pool is timed to coordinate with the most advantageous season of the year for propagation of fish. Construction work on the lock and dam for the Columbus pool cannot be completed in time, the Corps said, to permit utilizing the favorable period of October to February for stocking the pool with fish.

The Aliceville pool serves the area on the Tombigbee River between Pickensville, Ala., and Columbus, Miss., for navigation and recreation purposes. The Columbus pool serves the area above Columbus to Aberdeen, Miss., on the Tombigbee for navigation and recreation.

Filling the pools will open approximately 100 miles of the 232-mile Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway to constrained commercial navigation from Demopolis, Ala., north to Columbus, Miss. When the entire waterway is completed, its navigation channel will allow for eight barge tows as far south as Demopolis, Ala.

Already, limited barge traffic is moving on the new waterway. Since April, 1979, soybean loadings have been moving from the port of Aliceville, Ala. to Mobile and other Gulf deepwater ports for export.

Four major recreation areas plus four smaller sites are being constructed on the Aliceville pool between Aliceville, Ala., and Columbus, Miss., as part of the overall construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway. The recreation projects remain on schedule.

Along the entire Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, 49 recreation areas will be constructed on 13,000 acres of land at a cost of $33 million.

With over one-third of the project now complete, all but two of the ten locks and five dams are completed or under contract, representing an investment of over $900 million.

Construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee continues well ahead of the federal government's projected September, 1986, completion date. If the accelerated schedule can be maintained, the waterway could be completed in September, 1984, 18 months ahead of schedule.

For Tupelo Symphony— Membership Drive Underway

TUPELO—The Tupelo Symphony has begun its membership campaign for the 1979-80 season under the direction of Mrs. Wade Lagrone, subscription chairman.

This year's symphony season will open October 27 at 8 p.m. with a Pops Concert at the Trace Hall of Fame. Texas Baritone William Walker of the Metropolitan Opera will sing Broadway and Western songs as he has done on several Johnny Carson shows.

Tigers Trounce Scooba 14-6

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

"I don't think I could ask my players to play better than they did that second half." Words of Wisdom from Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach Bill Ward after the Tigers drubbed East Mississippi 14-6 before a packed Homecoming crowd at Tiger Stadium Saturday night. "We did what we've intended to the entire year," Ward said. "And thats to control the tempo of the ballgame. Combine that with an error free game and you find a winning football team."

Both teams played to 0-0 standoff in the first half before the Tigers, now 4-2 overall and 3-0 in the Conference, cranked up their offense for two touchdowns in the second half to post the eight point Homecoming victory.

Coach Ward said the turning point of the ballgame had to be in the third period when the Tigers scored their first touchdown.

The Northeast pawmen controlled the football game for 11 minutes and Ward said that when a team does this the whole reflection of the game changes.

The Northeast Tiger defense deserves a special pat on the back for their efforts in the Saturday night contest. The Tiger monster men stopped the Scooba offensive machine all night long and during the first half never allowed the Lions penetration past the 50 yard line.

The Tigers cranked up their offense early in the third period and marched 90 yards to score heir first six pointer of the night.

Runningbacks Anthony Norman, a 165 pound freshman, and Randy Cochran, a 195 pound freshman, accounted for some 60 yards on the ground on the touchdown drive. Quarterback Al Graves chipped in with some key runs along with a key pass to end Walt Walton for a first down at the Scooba 17 yard line.

James Spears then got into the act when he caught a Graves spiral inside the five and it didn't take long for the Tigers to light up the scoreboard.

Cochran then burst through the Scooba defensive line to climax the long drive for Northeast's first score. Jim Tsagarakis, a 150 pound freshman from Corinth, split the uprights with the extra point to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

The second Northeast touchdown came just minutes later. Tiger punter Eddie Norman, Indians, led by head coach Mike Eaton, currently post a 5-39.8 average, delivered a boomer to East Mississippi's Barry Boatner, a 5'9" 160 pound wide receiver, at the 16 yard line. Boatner then fumbled the punt and Northeast's Mike Williams, a 185 pound freshman from Atmore, Alabama, pounced on the ball at the 13 yard line.

It took just three plays for the Tigers to score. Graves got the final four yards on an quarterback keeper on an option play over right guard. Tsagarakis added the point after and Northeast held a 14-0 lead with some 13 minutes left in the football game.

East Mississippi then took the kickoff from this point and marched 88 yards in 14 plays to score their first and only six pointer of the night.

Fullback Ken Waddell got his name in the record books when he climaxed the 80 plus yard drive with a one yard plunge. The extra point attempt went wide to the right and the Tigers led 14-6.

The Northeast defense shut 'em off from this point on and the Tigers held on to win their fourth victory of the year against just two losses.

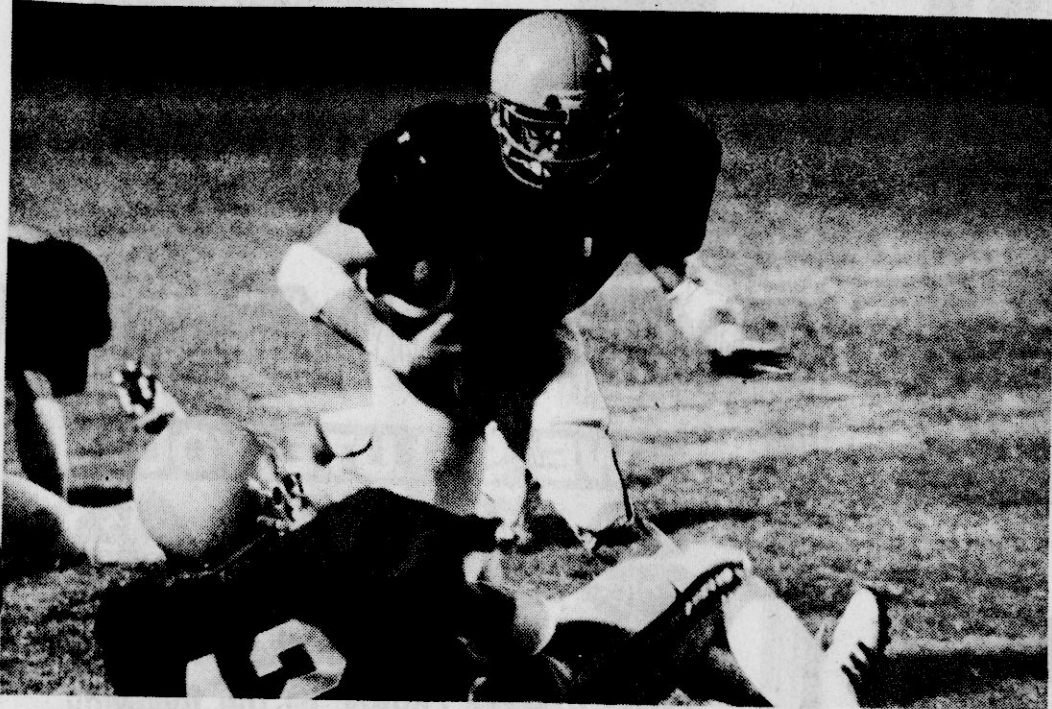

The Tigers compiled some 200 yards total offense. The Northeast squad rushed for 163 yards with Cochran leading the way with 70 yards on 12 carries followed by Anthony Norman with 63 yards on 11 carries.

Graves passed for 40 yards for the night's work connecting on six of ten attempts and combined with the running game, the Tigers had six first downs.

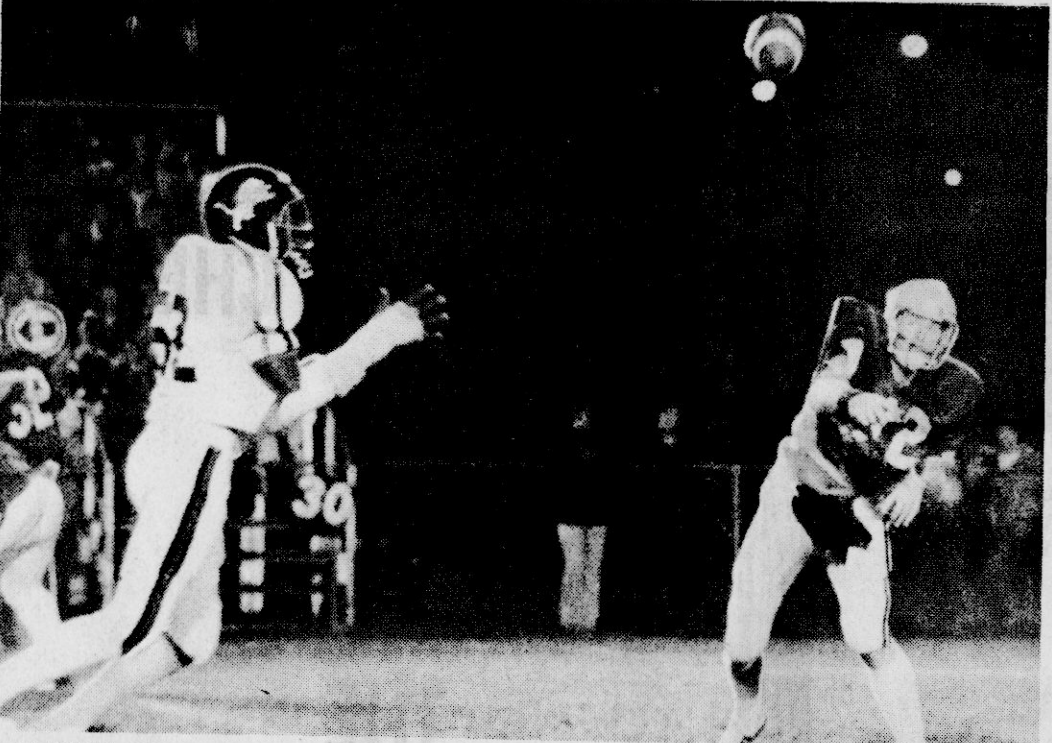

Northeast travels to Fulton, this Saturday night where they will face one of the top football teams in Mississippi. The Tigers, led by head coach Mike Eaton, currently post a 5-1 overall record and, along with the Tigers, are 3-0 in the North Mississippi Junior College Conference.

"We'll have to play the best defensive game of the year Saturday," Coach Ward stated. "They have some speedsters, some good receivers and can put points on the board. "Offensively we have to be aggressive and we have to be quick off the ball against the Indian defense."

'Bigbee Recap

Salttillo's Tigers all but wrapped up the 1979 Tombigbee Conference championship here Friday night with a 14-12 victory over a very tough Baldwin Bearcat team. The Tigers have first place in the 'Bigbee all to themselves and would appear to have an easy schedule the rest of the way.

Ripley's Tigers have lost only one game, that coming to the hands of Salttillo, while Baldwin has two losses in the conference coming to, guess who, yep, Ripley and Salttillo.

The Tigers only loss of the '79 campaign came on the opening night of the season to upset minded New Albany's Bulldogs.

SALTILLO 14
BALDWIN 12

The Tigers jumped out to a 14-0 lead against the Bearcats but Baldwin came back in the final two quarters to score two touchdowns. When trying for the two point conversion that would have tied the game, holding penalty brought the ball back and Salttillo held on to win.

Terry McGlaun scored two tallies for Salttillo while Carl Hall added two for the Bearcats...

RIPLEY 41
KOSSUTH 6

The Tigers from Tippah County clearly showed who's the boss between these two teams. Ripley exploded for 28 points in the first to put the game away. Phillip McDonald, who dashed 66 yards for Ripley's first six pointer, and scored another six pointer later, paced the Tigers in the win. Place kicker Dan Bennett added five extra points in the game.

NETTLETON 10
OKOLONA 6

In what might be called an upset, the Nettleton Tigers upped their record to 3-3 on the year with this four point victory.

Rickey Finley scored on a one yard run for Nettleton while Greg Edwards booted a 24 yard field goal to pace the Tiger win. Okolona scored their only six pointer of the night Reggie Morris caught a 25 yard pass from Lamar Aldridge.

IUKA 38
ALCORN CENTRAL 16

The Chieftans had to come from behind to do but indeed they did it. Trailing 16-0, Iuka scored three touchdowns in the third quarter and added two more in the fourth to post the win.

FULTON 28
BOONEVILLE 0

The Booneville Blue Devils played one of, if not the, toughest opponents they've face this year in Friday's contest with Fulton's Indians of the Little Ten Conference.

The Indians scored two touchdowns in each half to post the win over the Bigbee team to spoil the Blue Devil Homecoming.

Indians Sclap Devil Homecoming

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Booneville's Blue Devils dropped their fifth game of the season here Friday night with a 28-0 defeat at the hands of Fulton's Indians.

The Devils, although they moved the ball well at times, just couldn't put the ball across the goal line and the Fulton squad appeared to be just too awesome for the men with the horns.

Booneville, who has had problems scoring this season, with just three touchdowns in six ballgames, held the powerful Indians in the first several minutes of play but the Little Ten Squad caught fire late in the first half to take a 14-0 lead to the dressing room at the intermission.

The Devils had their offensive serges in the opening half and moved the ball well at times but at the ole cliché goes, "what goes on from the 30 to the 30 is irrelevant, it's what crosses the goal line that counts."

The Indians started their scoring parade, which included four six pointers for the night's work, in the opening half when they cranked up their offense.

Fulton runningback Kenneth McKinney, a 160 pound tailback, put on a show for the 2500 plus fans that turned out for Booneville's Homecoming game. The fleet-footed performer, said by several football observers to be one of the best in North Mississippi, did about everything but carry the water bucket in the Friday night contest and paced the Indian scalping.

McKinney opened the Fulton scoring when he caught a touchdown pass from quarterback Dixon Thornton. Phil Pearson added the point after and the Indians held a 7-0 lead.

Booneville came back after this to charge some drives behind the quarterbacking of Buddy Hall using their running game along with some passing but were stopped by Fulton's defense. After they marched down the Indians throat in their territory.

The Indians came right back after this however and put seven more points on the board before the half ended.

McKinney got his second tally of the night, this time on a running play off right guard late in the first half. Pearson split the uprights with the extra point to give the Fulton troop a 14-0 lead at the half.

The second half started with a bang. On the opening kickoff, Reggie Gates, a 130 pound senior wide receiver, took the kickoff and raced 75 yards for the Indians' third touchdown of the night. Pearson's extra point gave the Indians a 21-0 margin.

Booneville's defense stiffened at this point behind the play of defensemen Ed Cawiness, Toy Pharr and Nelson Cole among others, and allowed only a single six pointer after the opening second half kickoff.

Fulton scored their final touchdown late in the game when fullback Mike Turner scored. Pearson added his fourth extra point for the 28 point total.

Blue Devil coach Mac Curlee pointed out before Friday's contest that the Devils would have to play even better than they played against Kossuth the previous week to stay with the powerful Little Ten team.

Curlee pointed out that they had the top notch runningback in the McKinney boy and added that the Devils would have to be on their toes to stop him.

Coach Curlee added that the Devils would now have to start preparing for Alcorn Central, Friday night's opponent. "We can't let down for a team like Central," Curlee said. "When you play a good team like Fulton you have to be ready for a team like Alcorn Central or they can beat you. We can't slack up any."

The Devils face the Golden Bears Friday night at Alcorn Central and will then return home next Friday night when they host Nettleton's Tigers.

Saltillo Edges Bearcats For First Place Tilt

BALDWIN—Extra points make the difference. At least that was the case here last Friday night when Baldwin's Bearcats fell just two points short of a tie with Tombigbee Conference leader Saltillo's Tigers, losing 14-12 in a rough and tough rivalry battle at Latimer Park.

The game was rated a toss up by area sports prognosticators and fans and turned out to be just that.

One of the largest turnouts for a high school game in this area arrived for the Friday night encounter which, according to estimators, soared to near 3000 fans.

The game, as stated earlier a toss up, could very well determine the outcome of the 1979 campaign however the season still has some five weeks remaining.

A holding penalty by the Bearcats turned out to be the stopper in the ball game. After Baldwin, trailing 14-0 in the contest, scored two touchdowns, they tried for the tying two point conversion and failed as a result of a holding penalty.

Baldwin actually gave the Tigers their first six pointer in the game. The Bearcats, taking ball possession at their own 10 yard line, fumbled the ball in their own endzone and Saltillo defender Terry McGlaun pounced on it for Saltillo's first score. Gary Moore added the extra point to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

The Tigers scored their second touchdown of the night on an 89 yard drive that covered 13 plays. Terry McGlaun, who scored the first tally, got the second here on a 17 yard sprint. Moore again split the uprights with the extra point and the Tigers held a 14-0 margin.

The Bearcats broke the ice in the second quarter when runningback Carl Hall plunged over on a fourth down situation from three yards out for the Bearcats first six pointer of the night. Quarterback Ray Scott then tried a two point conversion pass to Tim Devaughn which failed and the Baldwin troop trailed 14-6 with seconds remaining in the third period.

The second Bearcat tally came when Hall scored his second touchdown of the night on a four yard run to trim the Tiger margin to two (14-12).

Here's where the big play of the game came. Hall, after scoring his second tally, plunged over for the apparent two point conversion but the holding penalty brought the ball back and the first place Tigers held on for the two point victory.

The win gave Saltillo their fifth victory of the season against only one loss and also gave them first place in the Tombigbee Conference all to themselves.

The Bearcats are now 4-2 on the season and this week will seek their fifth victory Friday night when they travel to Okolona to face the Chieftans.

After a discussion of the subject, Supervisor Jimmy Moore offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF SUPERVISOR'S DISTRICT NUMBER THREE IN THE MAXIMUM PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF ONE HUNDRED SIXTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($165,000) TO RAISE MONEY FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSTRUCTING, RECONSTRUCTING, AND REPAIRING ROADS, HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES, AND ACQUIRING THE NECESSARY LAND, INCLUDING LAND FOR BUILDING MATERIALS, AND RIGHTS-OF-WAY THEREFOR, WITHIN SUPERVISOR'S DISTRICT NUMBER THREE OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, in the State of Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "Board"), acting for and on behalf of Supervisor's District Number Three of said County (hereinafter referred to as the "District"), does hereby find, determine, adjudicate, and declare as follows:

1. That it is necessary and in the public interest to issue general obligation bonds of the District in the maximum principal amount of One Hundred Sixty-five Thousand Dollars ($165,000) to raise money for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, and repairing roads, highways and bridges, and acquiring the necessary land, including land for building materials and rights-of-way therefor, within Supervisor's District Number Three of Prentiss County, Mississippi.

2. That the assessed value of all taxable property within the District, according to the last completed assessment for taxation, is Four Million Eighty-eight Thousand Eight Hundred Sixty-five Dollars ($4,888,865.00); that the District has outstanding bonded indebtedness subject to the ten percent (10 percent) debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9-4, Mississippi Code of 1972, in the amount of Two Hundred Thirty-four Thousand Dollars ($234,000.00) and outstanding bonded and floating indebtedness subject to the fifteen percent (15 percent) debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9-5, Mississippi Code of 1972 (which amount includes the sum set forth above subject to the 10 percent debt limit), in the amount of Two Hundred Thirty-four Thousand Dollars ($234,000.00); that the issuance of the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued, when added to the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the District, will not result in bonded indebtedness, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid ten percent (10 percent) debt limit, of more than ten percent (10 percent) of the assessed value of taxable property within the District, and will not result in bonded and floating, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid fifteen percent (15 percent) debt limit, in excess of fifteen percent (15 percent) of the assessed value of taxable property within the District and will not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation upon indebtedness which may be incurred by the District.

3. That the District is authorized by Sections 19-9-1 through 19-9-31, Mississippi Code of 1972, to issue the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth, for which purpose there are no other available funds on hand.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AS FOLLOWS:

If no protest be filed, then such bonds may be issued without an election on the question of the issuance thereof at any time within a period of two (2) years after the date above specified.

SECTION 3. That this resolution shall be published once a week for at least three (3) consecutive weeks in The Banner Independent, a newspaper published in the City of Booneville, Prentiss County, Mississippi, and having a general circulation in the District, and qualified under the provisions of Section 13-3-31, Mississippi Code of 1972. # Farm Bureau Notes

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau

The nation's apparent largest lettuce grower recently capitulated to farm labor demands after prolonged strikes and coercion, and signed a farm wage contract that gives farm harvest workers more hourly take home pay and fringe benefits than skilled members of the United Auto Workers.

By 1981, farm workers with Sun Harvest in California will be receiving wages and benefits from $14 to $18 per hour.

This comedy-tragedy melodrama has an ironic ring that may be likened to one of Mississippi's favorite riverboat productions which pitted the good guys against the bad guys while titillating audiences expressed displeasure at the villains by throwing peanuts.

United Farm Workers, was beating the drums for better wages and more benefits in the commodity rich California heartland. Having gained mission support of certain national church bodies and questionable government grants (two of which totaled $805,000), Chavez shored up and toughened his onslaught against farmers for more and more wages, benefits, working conditions, and even recruitment privileges on private farmlands.

Last month the California legislature sought to discipline the UFW movement by drafting legislation which would put the union's membership safeguards in line with provisions of the National Labor Relations Act, and on the same plain with all other free to discipline, fine, or toss our members, or call strikes at will.

Sun Harvest is probably the largest lettuce producer in the nation, and kow-towed to UFW demands in recent weeks only after absorbing big losses in its winter operations in the Imperial Valley and being hit with large-scale vandalism and sabotage. The large farm also paid out sizeable sums for protection of a replacement force in Salinas.

As a result of this farm labor revolution in America manipulated by UFW, today Sun Harvest has been forced into a labor contract which calls for a base hourly wage of $5.00 now that will move up to $5.71 in 1981. A cost of living adjustment clause will push it up to $6.20 at current inflation rates. Added to that, workers will receive piece rates (or bonus wages for their picking rate) which go to 75 cents per 24-head carton of lettuce right now, and up to 82 cents by 1981.

So, in all, the wage package is up 57 percent compared with President Carter's suggested 7 percent wage guidelines, and farm harvest workers will be receiving upwards of $14 to $18 an hour by 1981—surpassing wages paid to members of the United Auto Workers union of about $15 an hour.

What this means is that what started out as a well intending boost for low farm wages has ended at the opposite end of the scale—surpassing wages paid to most blue and white collar workers in America.

The effects will be widespread and damaging. In order to compete for farm labor farmers will be forced into competition they cannot afford to pay and cannot pass on effectively to consumers although prices for food will soar to pick up this new tab. Even more food production will be pushed into Mexico where labor is cheaper as another crucial American industry bites into the dust by pricing itself off the market.

The Influence of Forest Management on Insect Control

Bark Beetles and Forest Management

Residues consisting of slash and stumps left in the woods following logging can also have an important influence on the development of large destructive populations of certain innerbark borers. This is especially pertinent for certain species of bark beetles that infest conifers. The Ips engravers and the turpentine beetles are examples of these. These two groups readily breed in fresh slash and fresh stumps. However, after the populations of these insects have increased to sizable numbers and no additional fresh logging residue is available, they may then attack the living trees.

During the past 20 or more years, however, utilization of the cut timber has been so thorough throughout most of the South, and elsewhere whenever intensive forestry is practiced, that little slash is left for the Ips beetles. The small amount of slash that is left—consisting mostly of the upper crowns—usually dries so rapidly that survival of the bark beetle broods is poor. Consequently, the large beetle populations necessary for inflicting severe losses to the remaining living trees do not develop.

There is the possibility that because of poor management or uncontrollable conditions, too much residue and or even usable timber (pulpwood bolts) may be left in the woods for too long a period during the warm summer season. For example, if a succession of different loggers are involved in harvesting a pine stand, the period of time between one operation and the next may be sufficiently long for the Ips engravers to produce one generation of brood in the slash.

Thus, a sequence of delays in successive logging operations may occur if a pulpwood sale is followed by another contractor who removes the sawtimber. Each of the two loggers may leave sufficient slash which provides suitable breeding material for the Ips engravers. If the sawtimber logging operations should be delayed two or more months an insect problem may develop. The obvious solution is to have each operation follow the succeeding one without much delay.

The fresh stumps that result from logging also provide a most suitable source of breeding material for turpentine bark beetles. It is not practical to remove the stumps but, as indicated, a desirable management procedure for preventing the development of large population of debarking weevils is for successive logging operations not to be concentrated in one area. Whenever possible the timber harvesting should be alternated from one area to another located many miles away. If this is done the young emerging bark beetles will disperse to located fresh breeding material and few will be successful in locating the distant fresh stumps fields. Consequently, development of large destructive populations of the insects will be minimized.

Whenever only part of the stand is removed, as in thinning, certain considerations should be given to the actual operations of extracting the timber. Usually the trees left always suffer some logging damage—and this type of damage is becoming more severe because of the use of heavier equipment. Not only are the bases of the residual trees partially debarked but there is an increasing amount of disturbances to the surface soil where the bedding roots occur in great abundance. Trees so weakened by excessive root destruction may appear undamaged but, nevertheless, they often are more attractive and more susceptible to bark beetle attacks.

Because of this relationship between tree injury and insect susceptibility, a determined effort should be made to train loggers and to insist that this type of damage be minimized. In this regard it would be better to utilize rubber-tired tractors rather than crawler types.

There are time, of course, when suitable preventative methods by management procedures are either unknown or not practical. This occurs, especially where population explosions of pests so not seen to be related to the abundance of suitable food. Under these conditions the only thing that foresters can do is to use some type of "brute force" method such as insecticides, burning, etc. The time when these controls should be applied is very early in the surge of the pest populations. Theoretically, these methods work but they will be practical only if treatments are applied to large contiguous areas over a sufficiently long period of time.

For problems that can be prevented by some type of management procedure, the forest managers should start working for the long term type of preventative control rather than waiting until the exploded insect population forces them to act. At these times the control efforts are difficult and may be futile.

For additional information on forest management contact your County Forester, John Stuart, in the First Mississippi Bank of Commerce Building, or phone 728-6835.

When asked if this was the largest potato he has ever grown, McCoy told the Banner-Independent he grew one so big a few years ago that he had to cut it in half with a power saw, and his wife made a pie with the sawdust. # New Meat Products Labels Could Confuse Consumers

MISSISSIPPI STATE — As of Sept. 20, "cured" meats such as ham, bacon, frankfurters and bologna don't have to be cured anymore, reports Dr. Charles Shannon, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food technologist.

"Consumers will have to read labels carefully," he warns. "The new regulations of the Federal Meat Inspection Act permit meat food products traditionally preserved with nitrates and/or nitrites to be prepared without these preservatives and labeled and marketed under the same names. Uncured fresh products that look similar to cured ones and go by the names of cured meats, like bacon and ham, will be sold as though they were preserved."

There's one important difference, says Dr. Shannon. The uncured products must be stored, prepared and refrigerated carefully, just like any other fresh meat. The no-nitrite products simulating cured items will also be properly labeled. Such products must carry the label, "uncured" and the statement,

"No Nitrite or Nitrate Added." If no alternative method of preservation is used, such as canning, pickling or drying, the labels also must carry the warning, "Not preserved: Keep Refrigerated Below 40 degrees F at all times."

This means precautions must be taken with these products throughout commerce and by the consumer to insure that temperature requirements are maintained. Without nitrites, low temperatures are our only defense against the potential growth of bacteria capable of producing food-borne illness, he explains.

The term "uncured" in the labeling of a meat food product is commonly understood to mean that the product does not contain nitrates or nitrites, and that the product does not contain sufficient salt to preserve it, explains Dr. Shannon. Salt-cured products won't have this "uncured" labeling requirement, he adds. When the term "uncured" is required, it will be in the same size and style of lettering as the product name since, under the new regulations, it is part of the product name.

Consumers may be confused at the new labeling, says Dr. Shannon, but they shouldn't dismay. He advises consumers to read labels carefully and treat the products without nitrite carefully, just as they would any other fresh meat. This new regulation provides a choice for consumers who prefer traditional meat products that do not contain nitrate or nitrite.

4-H'ers map their way to free-wheeling adventure in the great outdoors. Young people 9-19 combine cycling fun with safety in two popular 4-H projects: the national 4-H bicycle program, supported by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, and the safety program, sponsored by The General Motors Foundation.

Most Football Injuries Are Among Sandlot Crowd

Let's score a touchdown for safety! That's the signal being called this year for the estimated 2,000,000 boys—and a few girls, too—who are donning helmets and shoulder pads and heading for football fields and sandlots to play touch or tackle football. While the public's eye is mainly on the 100,000 or so college, university and professional players, most of the gridiron action is among children—and most of the injuries are among them too, according to the Department of Safety and Research of the Combined Insurance Company of America.

An estimated 15,000 public and private secondary schools sponsor organized football every fall, with about 1.2 million boys participating. An additional 200,000 boys and girls compete on teams sponsored by police organizations, Boys's Clubs, Kiwanis, church groups and others. Probably 800,000 more youngsters play informal sandlot or semi-organized football.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that about 250,000 people, mainly high school and college students, receive emergency room treatment every season for injuries associated with football and football equipment. Most are knee and head injuries. Some players die with broken necks and cerebral hemorrhages and some are paralyzed because of a technique called spearing—biting an opponent with one's head.

The American School and Community Safety Association reports that there have been an average of about 20 deaths a year since 1931 among high school football players, with head and neck injuries accounting for about 80 per cent of them. The safety association attributes overemphasis on use of the head in blocking and tackling to the strengthening of helmets and the addition of face masks, leaving the cervical spine unprotected. Mismatching players by age, size, training and experience also figure in serious injuries on the gridiron, safety experts say.

Physicians have reason to believe that as many as half of all the players—more than a million—suffer at least slight injuries every season. Many doctors have urged schools, coaches and others who supervise players to provide adequate protection against injury and make sure that emergency care is readily available. Educators have been asked to take more active leadership in the prevention and treatment of football injuries.

The National Safety Council adds another concern as expressed by some pediatricians who object to poor supervision of young players coupled with over-emphasis on winning. Children thus take chances on the field that can result in unnecessary injury.

In an effort to minimize the perils encountered on the football field, Combined Insurance's safety experts have developed the following list of suggested safety measures:

- Spearing—using the head as a battering ram—should be abolished on every gridiron.
- Players in any game should be in the same size and weight group and be equally familiar with techniques and rules.
- Youngsters should be equipped with soccer shoes, with short, flat cleats, rather than the more dangerous football shoes.
- Fields should be cleared of rocks and any litter and holes should be filled.
- At the start of the season every player should present a medical evaluation and history to the coach.
- If a player is injured, he or she should not be allowed to return to the field without a doctor's written permission.
- Whenever possible, a physician should be on the sidelines or easily available during all practice sessions and games.
- Every school, institution and sponsor should carry athletic insurance.
- Players should be in the best possible condition by the time the first game begins. That means gradual conditioning, with special emphasis on signals, plays and timing and with running and dummy scrimmage drills. Special exercises should be given to strengthen neck muscles and improve endurance, speed, flexibility and general well being.
- In hot weather, practice should be limited to early morning or evening with extra rest periods and plenty of water on hand.
- Because many injuries occur during practice sessions, limited contact during those periods can make football much safer without reducing the effectiveness of a team.

Combined Insurance safety researchers add that the attitude of the coach is important. It is his duty to make sure that his players are in good condition and do not take avoidable risks.

"The football field is not a place to win at all costs," the safety experts said. "It should be a place for learning good sportsmanship and having fun, while at the same time making youngsters physically fit."

All High Risk People Need Flu Protection

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Are you one of those considered at "high risk?" If so, you need to think about getting protection from influenza, says Susie Overstreet, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service health education specialist.

For most, an attack of the flu means a week of aches, sniffles, bed rest and general misery, followed by a feeling of weakness and exhaustion. Full recovery is uneventful. But for others, it could mean a serious, life-threatening disease.

Individuals older than 60 and those with a chronic illness, including heart or kidney disease, diabetes, or respiratory diseases such as asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis and tuberculosis are considered "high risk."

Persons in this group run the risk of contracting serious complications as the result of a secondary infection, she explains. The most common complication is pneumonia. Others, more rare, but sometimes more serious, are encephalitis, acute kidney failure and nervous system disorders.

"The person at 'high risk' already has a weakened defense system which, when further weakened by the flu, often results in defenses which are ineffective against these life-threatening infections," she says.

Because influenza is caused by different types of virus which recur at regular intervals, prevention is available through a vaccine. Each year, after it has been determined which two or three strains of virus are likely to cause illness, a vaccine is produced. Since the predicted virus may differ from year to year, the vaccine will, too. Therefore, it is necessary to have protection with the vaccine each year. The annual flu vaccine is 70 to 90 percent effective, adds Miss Overstreet.

Many in Mississippi are in the high risk group and fail to get protection. One of the reasons given is fear of side effects. It's true that vaccination does have risks, but the majority suffer no reaction. When a reaction does occur, it is usually mild and transient.

If you are in the high risk group, follow your doctor's or health department's advice about your need for protection. Since it takes time for protection to be effective, check now so you will be fully protected before the flu season arrives, she advises.

Tax Relief Available For Storm Damage

JACKSON, MISS.—Immediate tax relief is available for many Mississippi taxpayers who recently suffered property losses due to Hurricane Frederic. Twelve counties in Mississippi been declared a disaster by the President, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

Tax law permits taxpayers in areas designated eligible for federal disaster assistance to deduct losses on either their 1979 tax return or amend their 1978 tax return in order to get an immediate refund, according to the IRS.

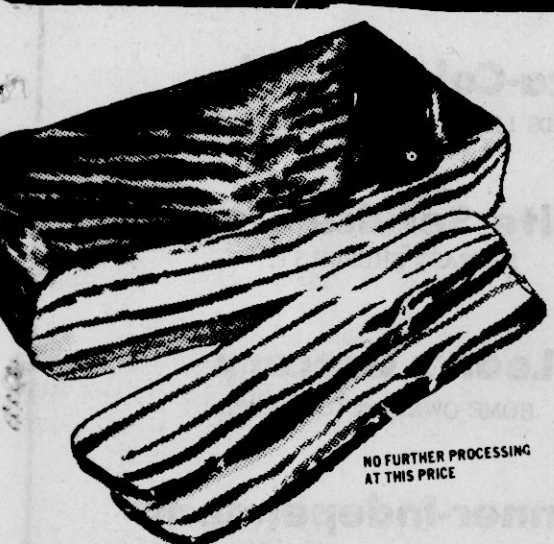

Losses to business property are generally deductible in full while non-business losses are deductible only in the amount that each exceeds $100, the IRS said. Deductions are not allowed for the portion of any loss reimbursed or expected to be reimbursed by insurance or other compensation. Individuals can amend their 1978 return by completing Form 1040X and submitting it to the IRS. Corporate taxpayers should use Form 1120X.

Clark, Covington, Forrest, George, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jones, Lauderdale, Pearl River, Stone and Wayne counties were designated eligible for federal assistance by the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration Administrator.

Taxpayers should compile lists of those items damaged or destroyed, and determine their value immediately before and after the loss occurred. Before-and-after photos of the damaged property and judgements of appraisers are helpful in establishing the amount of loss.

Taxpayers who need help in preparing their returns or claiming refunds should contact their local IRS office. Two helpful IRS booklets, Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses and Thefts," and Publication 564, "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss," are also available free from IRS offices.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
"Cheerfulness"
By Rev. Luther Gibson

"Happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Lord." Job 5:17.
"Happy is that people, whose God is the Lord." Psalm 144:15."
"Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God." Psalm 146:5.

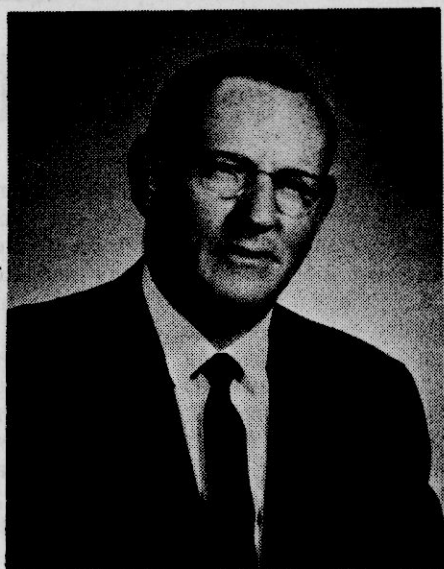

God bless the cheerful person-man, woman, or child, old or young, illiterate or educated, handsome or homely. Over and above every other social trait stands cheerfulness. What the sun is to nature, what the stars are to night, what God is to the stricken heart which knows how to lean upon Him, are cheerful persons in the house and by the wayside. Man recognizes the magic of a cheerful influence in woman more quickly and more willingly than the potency of dazzling genius, of commanding worth, or even of enslaving beauty.

When you smile, everything else does. If we are cheerful and contented, all nature smiles with us; the air seems more balmy, the sky more clear, the ground has a brighter green, the trees have a richer foliage, the flowers a more fragrant smell, the birds sing more sweetly, and the sun, moon, and stars all appear more beautiful.

We should carry cheerfulness everywhere: to brighten everybody. How sweet in infancy, how lovely in youth, how saintly in age. There are a few noble natures whose very presence carries sunshine with them wherever they go; a sunshine which means pity for the poor, sympathy for the suffering, help for the unfortunate, and benignity toward all. How such a face enlivens every other face it meets, and carries into every company vivacity and joy and gladness. But the scowl and frown, begotten in a selfish heart, and manifesting itself in daily, almost hourly fretfulness, complaining, faultfinding, angry criticisms, spiteful comments on the motives and actions of others, how they thin the cheek, shrivel the face, sour the countenance. No joy in the heart, no nobility in the soul, no generosity in the nature; the whole character as cold as an iceberg. If you find yourself losing all your confidence in human nature, you are nearing an old age of vinegar, of wormwood and of gall; not a mourner will follow your solitary bier, nor one tear drop shall ever fall on your forgotten grave.

Look on the bright side. Keep the sunshine of living faith in the heart. Do not let the shadow of discouragement and despondency fall on your path. However weary you may be, the promises of God will, like the stars of night, never cease to shine, to cheer and strengthen. Learn to wait as well as labor. The best harvest is the longest in ripening. The harder the task, the more need of sifting. A hopeful spirit will discern the silver lining of the darkest cloud, for back of all planning and doing, shines the light of Divine promise and help. Ye are God's husbandmen. It is for you to be faithful. He gives the increase.

Consumer Reactions Vary In Coping With Inflation

MISSISSIPPI STATE — The impact of rising prices is as diverse as the number of decisions people make in responding to price increases.

The meaning of inflation to some families may be simply a slight change in lifestyle or drastic reappraisal of financial goals and strategies, says Dr. Julia Barnes, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service family economics and management specialist.

For the first half of 1979, real spendable earnings were down 3.5 percent. Real earnings, or earnings in current dollars, can be calculated by adjusting earnings in current dollars for changes in the Consumer Price Index.

In response to rapidly rising prices and improved incomes, consumers are supplementing their current income with credit and buying in advance of anticipated price increases. Consumers are now taking on new debt at a rate 50 percent faster than their incomes are rising. Total consumer debt, including home mortgages, now stands at $1 trillion—equal to about $4,600 for every man, woman and child in America, says Dr. Barnes.

"The game of economic practices may be the secret to the cost of living problems," she adds. "This game may be activated by decisions that practice stretching or controlling money by using money substitutes. Such decisions can hit the 'jackpot' and enhance the quality of life.

"Begin by recycling the attitudes of family members. Get them to think 'thrift' in every action. Take inventory of idle or surplus items on hand and recycle them. Check for all types of inactive items — food, clothing, furnishing, equipment, toys, personal items and tools. Create a calendar for recycling which indicates the items to be recycled, person(s) responsible and dates for finishing. State how the items will be used (for family or gift)," she urges.

Look for opportunities for family members to gain new knowledge and learn new skills. Contact public agencies like the Extension Service and libraries for information on the skill training needed.

Plan dollar-stretching projects for making or doing things and services instead of buying them. Car repair and maintenance, personal care, clothing, household maintenance, recreation and gifts are areas that might be included.

In buymanship decisions, remember to buy items for basic function, long and durable service and low maintenance. Slash purchases with fads, frills and gadgets, and buy standard models and classical styles, she advises.

Use, maintain and repair everything to get longer service from it. These decisions will stretch the service life of all household items. Don't buy goods and services available through your tax-paid dollars. Consider health care, educational and public information agencies and recreational facilities.

For a month or two, play the game of economic practices with your dollars and decisions. Evaluate the value this project, in dollars and cents, gives your household. Then decide how you will continue to enhance the quality of life, she suggests.

MSU Gets Pesticide Research Grant

A research grant for more than a half-million dollars to study how pesticides benefit American farmers, in terms of dollars and yields, has been given to Mississippi State University's Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station (MAFES).

The grant was awarded to Dr. D.W. Parvin, MAFES agricultural economist, by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Parvin will get $582,650 for two years.

He will develop ways to measure the dollar value of pesticides (mostly insecticides and herbicides) to farmers in all parts of the nation. Five economists will be added to the MAFES staff to work on this project.

Parvin is experienced in evaluating the economic impact of technology in farming. He has a grant from USDA's National Economics Division for continuous study of what new technology is worth to farmers.

Parvin's newest grant brings his outside support money to about $1.1 million worth of grants currently in force. Some of his other major projects:

—A 40-month study funded by Agricultural Research Service, USDA, to develop a cotton crop computer model that can calculate yield based on soil type, fertilizer, weather and insect populations, both pests and predators.

—A three-year grant funded by the National Resource Economics Division, USDA, to estimate costs and economic benefits of eradicating the boll weevil across the cotton belt. Parvin will compare those benefits and costs with alternative methods of managing the boll weevil.

—A two-year study supported by Cotton Incorporated to develop better treatment thresholds for bollworms on cotton in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Mississippi—The Mississippi State Highway Department announced today that Randle Goolsby Contractor, Inc., of Ripley,

The project, let by the Mississippi State Highway Commission in August, totals $2,206,706.19.

Bobby G. Richardson, Northern District Highway Commissioner, stated that Mr. F.A. Long, Jr., of Corinth, Mississippi would serve as Project Engineer for the construction.

Mississippi would begin construction of 7.126 miles of reconstruction on Mississippi Highway Number 364 between Altitude and Cairo, in October.

AT THE PEOPLES BANK, OUR GREATEST ASSET IS YOU.

Jimmy Smith Head Wrangler

Jimmy Smith is manager of the Wrangler plant at Booneville, and a life-long Peoples customer. "I've banked with Peoples all my life; the company has been here since 1934, and it's always banked with Peoples. The Bank has always helped us out, and our employees have always been able to go there and get a helping hand from bankers who are really interested in their needs."

Virgil Nicholson Farm Funds

Farmer Virgil Nicholson started banking with Peoples in 1938, and has been with us ever since. "When I started doing business with The Peoples Bank, I was getting paid 75 cents for a ten-hour day. My first loan was a lot of money—18 or 19 dollars—that I needed to farm 25 acres of cotton and corn. I know that anytime I need money, I can get it at The Peoples Bank."

Peggy Gilley Teacher Knows Best

Peggy Gilley teaches 7th grade science at Booneville Junior High, and is a housewife. "I've banked with Peoples since 1945, so you can tell I'm a satisfied customer. I've used many of the banking services Peoples offers, particularly real estate loans. In fact, I have my home loan there. I enjoy banking where you feel your business is appreciated."

Paul Ellzey, M.D. What the Doctor Ordered

Doctor Paul Ellzey has practiced medicine in Booneville for over 26 years. "I came here because it was a progressive area with a good hospital, and I found a good bank in the bargain. The Peoples Bank is the first bank I used here, and they helped me start my practice and build my house. The Bank and I have done a lot of business together, and I intend to keep it up."

Howard Davidson Solid Support

Chevrolet Dealer Howard Davidson looks on The Peoples Bank as a vital partner in his business. "I've been with the Bank since 1961, and they've done everything I've wanted. I appreciate the way that they counsel their customers, because if I'm doing something wrong, I need for my banker to tell me about it. I think the success of The Peoples Bank is due to the fact that they take the time to help the little folks."

Thousands
See Blues
Festival

A crowd of 7,000 gathered at the historic site of Freedom Village, Mississippi, Saturday, September 8, to listen to the musical heritage of the Delta. Produced by Mississippi Action for Community Education, the Second Annual Delta Blues Festival not only demonstrated the early pure blues as rendered by Sam Chatmon, Eugene Powell and Son Thomas but the program included an introduction by the Fife and Drum Band, spirituals by Boyd Rivers, a Jug Band composed of Hammie Nixon, Eugene Powell, Mrs. Van Hunt and Eddie Knight, harmonica playing by Frank Floyd and Honey Boy Edwards; towards the end of the Festival the program ignited with some blues rock in one of the most exciting segments of the day with Bettie Fikes, Johnny Shines and Robert Jr. Lockwood interacting in a pulsating beat. The young, attractive and talented Ms. Fikes had no difficulty relating musically to veterans Shines and Lockwood.

On a perfect September summer day with sunny blue skies and sweet Mississippi breezes, an audience as varied as the music with native Mississippians, visitors from out of state and from abroad roamed the fields of the village that had been nurtured in strife and perseverance and heard a music that provided an outlet for such difficult beginnings. Co-host Willie Dixon explained though that the blues were not always sad but rather a record of the realities of living as one of his early songs about if you don't catch the rabbit in the morning you don't eat that day.

The program was co-hosted by Dr. Bernice Reagon of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. and included such other noted performers as Belton Sutherland, Clyde Maxwell, Houston Stackhouse, Big Joe Williams, Mose Vinson, Lonnie Pitchford, Furry Lewis, Cleveland Jones, R.L. Burnside, Sam Myers and the Lefty Dizz Blues Band.

The Second Annual Delta Blues Festival was sponsored by Mississippi Action for Community Education, the Ford Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Mississippi Arts Commission.

Commission
Buys Tree
Seeds

The Mississippi Forestry Commission's annual purchase and collection of tree seed is currently in full swing, according to State Forester Jack Holman.

Slightly more than 16,000 bushels of quality Loblolly Pine, Slash Pine, Longleaf Pine and Yellow Poplar will be bought by the Commission this year from local suppliers. Commission personnel themselves will collect an additional 10,000 bushels of pine and hardwood seed, including (in addition to the above named species) Spruce Pine, Sycamore, Green Ash, Baldcypress, Cherrybark Oak and Black Locust.

Slash Pine purchasing and collection is almost over, with some buying stations already closed down. Purchasing of Loblolly and Longleaf Pine species and Yellow Poplar will probably continue into October.

Persons interested in selling cones or hardwood seed should talk to the local Area Forester before beginning their collecting. There will be certain standards to meet in terms of seed quality and source. Failure to talk with the Area Forester about these quality standards, local quotas and current purchase price prior to going out to collect seed could mean wasted effort on the part of independent seed collectors.

Seed purchased and collected this fall will be used in producing millions of tree seedlings at the Commission's three nurseries in Winona, Mt. Olive and Waynesboro.

Football And Flu Seasons Are Here

Fall brings football and flu, but few are fond of influenza. Anyone can get influenza, but the virus-caused respiratory disease hits hardest those who are 65 and older and those who have heart trouble, lung disease, kidney disease, diabetes, anemia, or other chronic illness. Some 441,000 Mississippians are in this "high risk" group.

For most people, influenza is inconvenient. The flu virus attacks and inflames the respiratory tract, and the victim coughs, sneezes, and has chills and fever, aching head, and painful muscles.

Young, healthy flu victims usually recover fully within a week, but those in the high risk group may find flu a tough or impossible disease to beat.

That's why the State Board of Health and a statewide group of other health professionals and volunteers encourage those in the high risk group to protect themselves from flu with immunization.

A yearly vaccination can be 70 to 90 per cent effective in preventing flu. Vaccines are made each year from the major viral strains scientists expect to cause illness that year. The formula for 1979-1980 is directed at the Texas and Brazil strains of Influenza A and the Hong Kong strain of Influenza B.

Influenza outbreaks are most common in the fall and winter; so people in the high risk group should get vaccinations in the early fall, by December at the latest.

Many private physicians have already received this season's supply of flu vaccine, and local health departments are scheduled to get their vaccine by October.

Anyone in the high risk group is urged to see his physician or local health department for influenza immunization.

Fertilizer Seminars Announced

MISSISSIPPI STATE—A series of Fertilizer Dealers Seminars for fertilizer dealers and their employees will be held in four Mississippi locations in October. A weekly session will be held at each location on four different dates.

The seminars will be conducted at the County Agent's Office Auditorium in Tupelo on Oct. 15, 22 and 29; the County Agent's Office Home Economics Kitchen in Clarksdale on Oct. 9, 16, 23 and 30; the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium in Greenwood on Oct. 10, 17, 24 and 31; and at the East Mississippi Electric Power Association in Meridian on Oct. 11, 18, 25 and Nov. 1. All sessions will be held from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Topics to be discussed include: Soils of the Area; Concepts of Soil Fertilization; Liming and Soil Reaction; Nitrogen; Phosphorus; Potassium; Secondary Nutrients; Minor Elements; and Fitting Fertilizer Practices into Production Systems.

Speakers will be: Dr. Kelton Anderson, leader, Agronomy Department, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service (MCES); Dr. W.R. Thompson,

Potash and Phosphate Institute; Dr. Wayne Houston, agronomist, MCES; Dr. Maurice Carroll, Chevron

Chemical Co.; Dr. G.R. Hagstrom, Duval Chemical Co.; Jesse Holder, Freeport Sulphur; and Dr. Wayne Jordan, agronomist, MCES.

"These are intensive seminars where the latest information on all of the topics will be presented. We urge all fertilizer dealers and their employees to attend," said Dr. Anderson.

The seminars are sponsored by MCES and the Mississippi Agricultural Chemicals Council.

State Youth Now Observing 1979 National 4-H Week

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Youth involved with everything from livestock and home economics to career exploration and community development are joining together Oct. 7-13 to celebrate National 4-H Week.

"National 4-H Week is the focal point of the annual 4-H calendar which involves more than 5.2 million young people across the nation," explains Dr. Charles Sappington, state leader, 4-H Youth Development, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"It is an appropriate time for Mississippi's 195,000 4-H'ers to recognize volunteer leaders, parents, Extension professionals and local groups and businesses for their contributions throughout the year to the development of youth and to the betterment of the community," he continues.

National 4-H Week theme, "Expanding Horizons," challenges 4-H'ers everywhere to "seek new knowledge, acquire life skills and build on personal strengths." It calls on members to strengthen their citizenship and leadership abilities and to assume positive roles in a free democratic society.

4-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service, and is conducted jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the land-grant universities, and state and local governments.

During National 4-H Week, communities throughout the state will witness various activities as clubs celebrate this observance at the local level.

"During this week, youth interested in learning more about 4-H should contact their local 4-H agents," concludes Dr. Sappington.

5.2 Million Youth To Observe National 4-H Week Oct. 7-13

From RFD 1 to 77th Street, more than 5.2 million young people nationwide are observing National 4-H Week Oct. 7-13.

Whatever their address, 4-H members in the United States, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam are taking part in special activities that focus attention on the values of 4-H, the nation's largest youth-serving program.

The National 4-H Week theme, "Expanding Horizons," challenges 4-H'ers everywhere to "seek new knowledge, acquire life skills and build on personal strengths." It calls on members to strengthen their citizenship and leadership abilities and to "assume positive roles in a free democratic society."

Boys and girls 9-19 participate in 4-H through organized clubs, special interest groups, short-term projects, camping, television series, and programs planned to meet their specific needs in the communities where they live.

Twenty-three percent of 4-H members now reside in suburbs of cities, or in central cities, of more than 50,000 population. 21 percent live on farms, 40 percent in small towns or open country, and 16 percent in towns and cities of 10,000-50,000.

4-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service, and is conducted jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the land-grant universities, and state and local governments.

580,000 adults and teens serve as volunteer 4-H leaders at the local level.

4-H projects and activities encourage young people to learn and apply real-life skills and to become competent, productive citizens.

Around the world, 82 countries have youth education programs similar to 4-H.

Safety Important In Packed School Lunches

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Whether it is a brown bag lunch for work, a school lunch packed in a new lunch box or a picnic lunch, food safety is the most important part of the lunch, says Ina Kimbrough, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

The keys to packing a safe lunch are good sanitation, personal hygiene and sound food care. Cook food thoroughly. Hot food should be kept above 140 degrees F and cold foods below 40 degrees. Food may not be safe to eat if it is held for more than two or three hours at temperatures between 60 degrees and 125 degrees, the zone where bacteria grow rapidly. Remember to count all time during preparation, storage and serving.

Use only clean utensils washed in hot, soapy water. Of course, your hands should be clean. Wear clean plastic gloves if there are cuts on your hands, adds Mrs. Kimbrough.

Wash vacuum bottles and rinse them in boiling water after each use. Use tongs or another clean utensil — not your fingers — to place meat, poultry or cheese in a sandwich. Fingers can spread bacteria.

A vacuum bottle is a good way to keep some foods hot or cold. A freezer gel device can be used, or you can use water frozen in a clean plastic container. Put it in the lunch box to keep food cold until you're ready to eat. Don't leave the lunch box in a warm place, such as a car, because the bacteria will grow. The longer it stays in a hot place, the greater the potential for problems, explains Mrs. Kimbrough.

Canned meat and poultry products carried in an unopened can are safe. Be sure the can is sealed and not bulged or dented. If it is cooked correctly, handled well and kept cold enough, almost any meat or poultry product can be used.

Fresh fruits and vegetables are excellent for packed lunches. Just be sure they are clean and well scrubbed, she adds.

An insulated lunch box holds the cold much better than paper bags. Keep the lunch box clean and sanitary. If you do use "brown bags," buy them specifically for lunches and use them only once.

If you have severe headache, diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and fever after eating, there is a good chance the culprit might be food poisoning. Because the symptoms are similar to "flu," food poisoning is often mistaken for it.

Food poisoning is rarely fatal, but it can severely affect infants and elderly persons. If you get sick, ask your doctor about the possibility of food poisoning. Remember: Don't take chances. You can help prevent food poisoning.

Increased Supplies May Push Prices Down

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Livestock and meat prices will average below their second-quarter levels for the rest of 1979 because of larger supplies and lagging consumer income, says John C. Wilson, marketing specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"U.S. Department of Agriculture economists predict nominal per capita disposable income will continue to increase, but at a much slower rate than earlier in the year," he explains. "Per capita red meat and poultry supplies will increase above earlier levels by six to eight percent, and will average three percent above last year's levels."

The increase in meat supplies will come mainly from near-record levels of pork production, says Wilson. Commercial hog slaughter for 1979 could average 14 to 15 percent above the 1978 level and could be about 20 percent higher in the second half of the year. These larger supplies and some lagging in demand are expected to push prices for barrows and gilts $5 to $7 below the spring quarter average, with further declines expected this fall. Retail pork prices are also expected to decline and could average 12 to 15 percent below last year's levels.

Second-half 1979 beef supplies will remain near the first-half level, but will be well below last year's levels, say experts. Fed cattle marketings this fall will probably be sharply lower; cow slaughter will increase in the second half.

Recently, wholesale beef and fed cattle prices have come under strong downward pressure from the large supplies of competing meats and the heavy dressed weights on cattle, explains Wilson. Prices for choice yield grade three steer beef dropped from highs of about $115 per 100 pounds in the spring to $90 in late summer.

Even though the farm-to-retail price spread remains record-wide, retail beef prices are expected to continue to ease off through the fall, he adds.

Boll Weevil Count Down In State

MISSISSIPPI STATE — In recent seasons Mississippi cotton farmers have been blessed with low boll weevil populations. This is still true for most of the Delta, but many hill farmers are currently seeing a reoccurrence of this pest.

"Since the weevil has shown an unusual capacity to survive, it might be wise to review a little of its history," says Dr. Bob Head, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service pest management specialist.

"The weevil was first detected in the United States in 1892 when the economy of the whole southern region from Texas to Virginia was built around cotton.

"The introduction of the weevil started a change which may still be in progress," he adds. "Absolute panic developed in cotton communities as the boll weevil spread. That first year of introduction, at least 50 percent of the crop was lost. Farmers used any means at hand to attempt to stop this tide. All efforts failed; the weevil continued to spread and multiply."

The survival of the weevil is phenomenal. It can adjust to almost any climate — from near tropical, to regions which have very cold winters.

A strong flyer, it has been captured at distances up to 45 miles away from cotton. This enables the insect to move from one area which may have been taken out of cotton to fields great distances away.

The ability of the weevil to "diapause" is another important survival mechanism, says Dr. Head. Diapause, a type of hibernation, is employed to survive cold winters and drought. In addition, all of the life stages except the adult stage are well protected from natural enemies.

The eggs, larvae and pupae all develop inside cotton squares. This inhibits parasites and predators and protects these stages from insecticides.

The full life cycle takes only about three weeks, and many generations develop each season. After mating, a female may lay eggs in three to five days but may also postpone egg-laying indefinitely. Mating may take place in the fall, and the female can remain fertile all winter.

The chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides gave good control of weevils for a short period, but the weevil rapidly become resistant. The principle insecticides for good weevil control today are some of the organo-phosphates. The weevil has never been able to build resistance to these materials. Reduced use of phosphates could allow the weevil to resurge and again become a serious threat to Mid-South cotton, warns Dr. Head.

A new material, "Dimilin," offers great promise in weevil control. A growth regulator, it works differently from other insecticides. If producers plan to use this material, they must adjust their thinking on insecticides, he points out. Dimilin will not kill adult weevils. The toxicant causes infertility, or abnormal development, in the immature stage. The performance of Dimilin to date is encouraging, adds Dr. Head.
