1979 Christmas Parade Plans Are Finalized

The 1979 Booneville Christmas Parade has been scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 29, at 6 p.m.

The Booneville Intercivic Club Council is now in the process of finalizing plans for the parade. Eddie Wood, parade spokesman for the Council, Monday announced the route the parade will take.

Wood said that the entries will line up on Bridge Street near the Blue Bell parking lot. Once underway, the parade will travel over the bridge, turning right onto College street. Proceeding down Street and proceed to Market street. At Market, the parade will again turn left, proceeding College, the procession will take a left turn onto Court street, passing the courthouse.

The parade will take another left from Court onto Main down Market to College street once again.

The parade will take a right turn onto College, proceeding to First Street. The procession will follow First to the intersection of First and Church, where it will take a left turn and proceed to the First Baptist Church Parking lot to disband.

Wood said that the parade would begin forming at 5 p.m. The judges will be located in front of the Peoples Bank, he said.

In addition to the Booneville High School and Junior High bands and the Northeast Tiger Band, Wood said that several out of town bands are expected to participate in this year's parade.

Santa Claus is also expected to make usual appearance in the parade, riding atop one of the city's fire trucks.

The deadline for entering a float in the Christmas parade is Friday, Nov. 23. To enter a float in the parade, contact one of the following:

For church floats, contact Barbara Taylor at 728-3037; youth floats, Linda Finch at 728-7522; school floats, Gilda Walden at 728-6957; commercial floats, Eddie Wood at 728-9411; and civic floats, James Downs at 728-3220.

CHRISTMAS PARADE EXPENSES—Lil Gaines (right), treasurer of the Uptown Association, presents two checks of $200 each to John Smith, president of Booneville's Inter Civic Club Council. The money is to be used to help pay the expenses of the 1979 Christmas parade; expenses such as prize money, mileage money for out-of-town judges and money for candy to be thrown off the floats. In addition to the money from the Uptown Association, each of the local civic clubs donate $25. The city usually makes up the rest of the money needed to cover the parade's expenses, Smith said.

Separate School District Approved By EFC Monday

The State Education Finance Commission (EFC) paved the way Monday for the establishment of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District by voting to approve the plan for the separate district, effective July 1, 1980.

The plan the EFC approved was submitted by members of the separate school district's Board of Trustees, who were appointed in September by the city's Board of Aldermen.

Charles Steen, a member of the Board of Aldermen, said at that time that the appointment of the Board of Trustees was "one more step along the road toward a separate school system."

The approval of the separate school district plan means that another plan submitted by Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain and the county school board cannot be implemented.

EFC Executive Secretary Dr. Frank Lovell said that the new Booneville Municipal Separate School District will determine what, if anything, it wants done about the school facilities within the city limits, the boundaries of the district. Following the approval of the separate school district, Lovell said, "We could not approve the long range plan (submitted by the county) because the municipal separate school district changed the county school system."

Frank Haney Dies

Frank Haney, a longtime business, civic and political leader of Baldwin, died Monday, Nov. 19, at the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo.

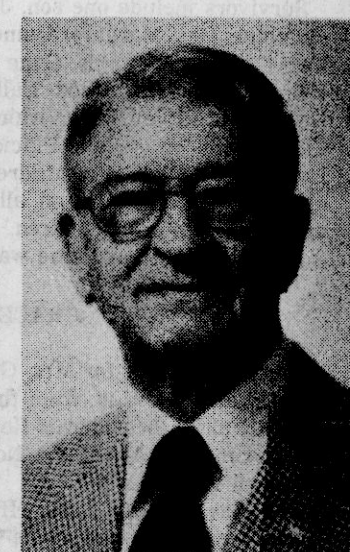

A native of Decaturville, Tenn., Haney moved to Mississippi when quite a young man. He received his educational training at Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon, Tenn., and the University of Mississippi.

He married Ruby LeCroy of Booneville in 1923. They later moved to Baldwin where Haney operated the Baldwin Dry Goods Company until his retirement in 1974. After the death of his first wife in 1972, he was married to Audrey Brasfield of Tupelo. She survives him.

Haney made his entry into politics by supporting Paul Johnson for Governor and became the youngest Colonel on his staff. While campaigning for Johnson, Frank and Senator Eastland first met and this acquaintance ripened into a lifelong friendship.

The Senator gave the principal address at the dedication of the Frank Haney Union Building on the campus of The Northeast Mississippi Junior College at Booneville, October 10, 1976. He said in his many laudatory remarks that "Frank Haney is one of the outstanding men of Mississippi, and is so regarded." Eastland praised him especially for his long years of service to the cause of public education.

For Local Merchants

Shoplifting Seminar Held

Shoplifting is a crime. As such, it carries penalties under the Mississippi Code of Law.

For a conviction on a first offense, a shoplifter can be fined a minimum of $100 to a maximum of $300 and sentenced up to five days in jail.

For a second offense, a shoplifter can be fined up to $400 and sentenced up to 10 days in jail. For subsequent offenses, a shoplifter faces even stiffer fines and longer sentences.

These and other facts were pointed out by Capt. Al Kelly, crime prevention and public relations officer of the Tupelo Police Department, during two visits to Booneville last week.

Capt. Kelly presented three seminars in Booneville on shoplifting, detailing the methods used to steal merchandise from the stores, how to prevent it and how the store owners and employees can make an arrest when they catch someone shoplifting.

Two of the seminars were presented Wednesday morning for the Uptown Association and the third was presented Saturday morning for the employees of Wal-Mart.

In order to acquaint the local merchants with the methods used in shoplifting, Capt. Kelly showed a short film entitled "Sticky Fingers." This film, shot in an actual store, showed how clever shoplifters can be and how they go about concealing the merchandise they plan to take.

Following the film, Capt. Kelly cited some startling statistics from a report prepared by the Marketing Department at Itawamba Junior College.

He said that shoplifting is the largest monetary crime in the nation, with losses estimated to be in excess of $8 billion dollars annually.

According to the report, it has been estimated that one in 12 people entering a retail store is a shoplifter, but only one of every 35 shoplifters is caught.

Shoplifters come in all sizes, shapes and colors, the report continued, but girls shoplift four to one over boys because they shop more frequently and the items which interest them, such as jewelry, cosmetics, clothing, and so forth, are more accessible.

More than 45 percent of all shoplifting losses occur during the Christmas selling season, following by "Back to School" days, the report stated.

Capt. Kelly cited a recent survey showing that:

—better than half of those arrested for shoplifting are between the ages of 13 and 19;

For Christmas

Shop Early, Mail Early

Officials of the Booneville Uptown Association and the Postal Service this year are joining forces to encourage shoppers to shop early and mail packages early during the holiday season.

Postmaster Jack Wright, and Uptown Association President, Marshall Dickerson declared the official opening of the Christmas shopping season for Booneville.

"By shopping early and mailing early, the public can be better assured their cards and parcels will reach their destinations in plenty of time for Christmas," said Dickerson.

"With the Christmas shopping season now officially open, we wish to further emphasize that many suggested overseas mailing dates, including the U.S. Armed Forces, fall due before the end of this month," Postmaster Wright said. "These dates, as in past years, vary according to different parts of the world. Specific information can be obtained by calling the Booneville Post Office. The important thing to remember is to do your shopping early and mail your cards and parcels early."

"In addition to planning early shopping," Postmaster Wright suggested, "you should take the necessary time to properly prepare your cards and gifts for mailing. Use ZIP Codes. Legibly write your own ZIP-Coded address and the full ZIP-Coded address of the recipient.

"This helps in processing your mail more rapidly and assists in making delivery in case portions of the address become illegible," he said. The Post Office also recommends proper wrapping of gifts to be mailed, including use of strong packaging materials.

"Remember," Postmaster Wright said, "the key to the successful mailing of cards and parcels is to allow adequate time. Shop early, allow enough time to properly prepare cards and parcels for mailing, and mail early. By cooperating with the Post Office in this matter, you will help us help you have a better Christmas."

--the most common items taken are jewelry, clothes, perfume, tools, appliances, records, 8-track and cassette tapes and beauty aids. The average item stolen has a value of approximately $28.

--professional shoplifters "earn" their living through frequent thefts, selling the items for cash. On the average, they take more expensive items than the amateur. Professional shoplifters are also more difficult to detect and apprehend because of their smooth and skillful techniques.

Capt. Kelly also cited a list of things for the merchants to do after a shoplifter has been detected.

First, stay calm. Be sure something has actually been taken. Know exactly what this item was, have a description of the person who took it and know where they concealed the merchandise.

Make sure the merchandise is not put back. Professional shoplifters often take merchandise, put it down in another department and hope that someone will accuse them of shoplifting. In some cases, the store can be sued.

Be careful not to lose sight of the shoplifter. Do not approach or accuse the shoplifter in the store. It is much easier to prove that shoplifting has taken place if the shoplifter is apprehended outside the store.

Prosecute! More and more retailers are agreeing that prosecution is often the best deterrent.

Following Capt. Kelly's talk to the employees at Wal-Mart, Tupelo City Judge Carrol White talked about some of the legalities involved in arresting a shoplifter.

Judge White said that a merchant has the right to question someone in a reasonable manner if he has reasonable cause to believe the person has been shoplifting in his store.

"You (the store employees) are protected if you act in a courteous and reasonable manner," the judge said. "Do your part and you will have a good defense if someone should decide to bring a civil suit against you."

Repeating Capt. Kelly, the judge said that it was best not to question someone in the store; they should be questioned in the office. If a suspect will not give consent to be searched, the judge said that it is better to wait until they arrive at the police station to do so.

Judge White also said that, following the incident, it was a good idea for all the employees involved to sit down and write out all the information they could remember about the person involved and the incident.

"Write it down while it is still fresh on your mind," he said. "If you should have to take the stand during a trial, you are allowed to refer to your written records."

Judge White pointed out that when a merchant detains someone for shoplifting, that merchant is actually making a citizen's arrest. When an officer is called to the store, he is assisting a civilian in making an arrest and does not need a warrant.

White also said that it is up to the judge that hears the case to decide the exact fine and sentence. However, he said that the city attorney can make a recommendation.

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy was also present at the shoplifting seminars. He said that he and the Booneville Police Department would work with the local stores in any way possible to help curb shoplifting in the area.

Separate Schools

be prevented from submitting another long range consolidation plan, affecting only its own district, Lovell said.

During the hearing Monday, Booneville physician Dr. William H. Preston, who is president of the municipal school board, told the EFC that "Our sole purpose is, we're trying to improve, if we can, the education of our children."

The separate school board, of which Preston is now president, was originally established in 1970 when the city aldermen passed an ordinance setting up a separate school system. The system never became functional, but the enabling legislation creating the system and the board was never rescinded. In September of this year, the city aldermen appointed the system's second school board and work was begun to get EFC approval for the system.

Over the past few years, three consultants, after conducting surveys of the Prentiss County School System, have recommended consolidating all the high schools in the county into one high school with about 1,200 students.

Dr. Joe Blackston of the University of Mississippi, who conducted the most recent survey, said that the county system revealed a need for reorganization.

The consolidation of the system into one high school would offer more educational opportunities and make a long range saving for the system, Blackston said.

"The people of Booneville want to control their own destiny," he added. "I feel the only way they can do this is to form a separate school district."

Blackston also said that the establishment of the separate district would free the city schools to get EFC funds and also furnish a better tax base for the schools because the city has reappraised and reassessed property, a condition that does not exist in the county. He also said the establishment of a strong separate school district could also attract new industry into Booneville and Prentiss County.

In a statement Tuesday, Dr. Preston said:

"The EFC was convinced that the Booneville Separate School District can support an acceptable school program without adversely affecting schools outside the district. Surveys made in 1969, 1977, and 1979 all gave evidence to support the need of a separate school district.

"Proposals submitted by the group also convinced the EFC that the educational status will be improved, and the Commission gave the go-ahead for operation to begin as a separate district next July 1, 1980.

"Ownership of all school facilities within the Booneville city limits, except the vocational-technical school center and the bus garage, (which will remain the property of the county school district) will be transferred to the new Booneville Municipal Separate School District.

"Parents of pupils who want to attend Booneville schools but live outside the city limits must go to the county school board and request that their child be released to attend a city school. This is the only requirement necessary and means that the ADA funds and the territory of that student for educational taxation follows him. The new Booneville separate school system by law must have this permission before it can accept the student."

Speaking on behalf of the new city school board, Dr. William Preston said, "We welcome and will provide a place for all students in the county who want to attend a city school when they are released by the county school board."

Cain said before the ruling Monday that, regardless of which plan the EFC approved--the city's or the county's--"it would be the citizenry who would decide, by their vote for or against a bond issue, which long range plan would be implemented."

"It is clear that a majority of our citizens will not vote for a bond issue to implement any plan which calls for one high school in the district. Our people are community oriented and have, for a number of years, insisted on five high schools in five communities," Cain said. "We believe that we now have a majority convinced that some consolidation is imperative."

Cain told the EFC that he was elected to his office because of his stand against consolidation, but assured the commission that a bond issue for the new consolidation plan submitted by the county would pass "90 to 1."

After the EFC's ruling in favor of the separate school district, Cain said that he was very disappointed. He predicted that the ruling could hurt both systems, academically and financially.

Whichever plan is implemented, Cain said Monday that his first concern is for the students.

State law says that a decision by the EFC is final, but an appeal through the courts is not impossible. However, in a similar case involving the Pearl Municipal Separate School District, the state Supreme Court ruled in favor of the separate school district.

Cain also said that he plans to meet with members of the Prentiss County Board of Education within the next few days to decide what action will be taken in response to the EFC decision.

On the local level, Haney served as a member of the Baldwin School Board for many years. On the state level, he was a member of the Education Finance Commission for 13 years, serving two terms as chairman. At the regional level, he served 15 years as a member of the Board of Trustees for the junior college at Booneville.

President of the college, Harold White, praised Mr. Haney for his many years of faithful service.

Haney became involved in the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Baldwin in 1941 and has been a vice-president and member of the board since then. Paul Haynes Sr., President of the Bank and a close Haney friend for 40 years says, "I don't think you can find a man more interested in the welfare of the community than Mr. Haney."

During World War II, he was chairman of the local Selective Service Board.

He was a Shriner and a member of the First Methodist Church of Baldwin.

Survivors other than his wife are a brother, R.L. Haney of Decaturville, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. C.O. Hay of Memphis; and the following nephews and nieces: David Haney, Atlanta, Ga.; Capt. Donald Haney, San Antonio, Texas; Harold Haney, Dr. Leon Hay, Dora Wheeler and Anita Denman, all of Memphis.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 20, from the Chapel of Waters Funeral Home in Baldwin, with burial in the Booneville City Cemetery.

Pallbearers were M. Paul Haynes, Harold White, James Nanne, M. Gordon, Sam Johnson, Johnnie Arnold, Clanton Samson and John M. McElroy.

Trustees of The Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the Board of Directors of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Baldwin were honorary pallbearers.

In lieu of flowers, the family requested that donations should be made to St. Jude Hospital in Memphis, or to French Camp Academy, French Camp, Mississippi.

One Of Eight Is A Vet

One of each eight citizens is a military veteran, according to Charles Smith, Corinth Area Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service.

At the present time, Mississippi has 243,000 veterans and 63,000 of these are Vietnam Era veterans. The mean age of all veterans is 47.2 years. One in ten veterans have some type of disability. One-half of these have a Veterans Administration service connected disability rated at 20 percent or less. Thirteen and one-half percent (13.5 percent) are rated 70 percent disabled, and Mississippi has the highest degree of disabled veterans.

In 1978, veterans spent $252,980,732 in Mississippi, of which one-half was veterans pensions and compensation paid to disabled veterans. The Veterans Administration has spent 3 million dollars helping veterans find jobs.

Limited physical capabilities of veterans cause some employers to have some prejudice against disabled veterans. Smith stated that, because disabled veterans and Vietnam veterans were having difficulty finding jobs, the Department of Labor created a Disabled Veterans Outreach Program staffed by disabled veterans qualified to assist jobless veterans.

The results have been an increase of 17 percent in employment of disabled veterans in the first year of the program. The program was developed to last eighteen months and has been continued to 1982.

Smith also stated that

Marion A. Blunt is the Disabled Veteran Interviewer in the Corinth Office of the Mississippi State Employment Service. He urges all disabled veterans to contact him for the services available.

Employers are also urged to contact Mr. Blunt about any job vacancies they might have that might be filled with these qualified veterans.

S & J Builders Introduce Solar Heated Buildings

Doug Jumper, president of S&J Steel Builders in Booneville, local dealers for Gulf States metal building, announces the introduction of solar heated metal buildings.

This breakthrough in the field was brought about by years of research by Gulf States and a leading university, and was made available to S&J this month.

The key feature in the solar building is the simple solar wall panel used to collect heat from the sun's rays and is designed to save the building owner a substantial amount on his winter daytime heating costs.

The Gulf States system offered by S&J is manufactured from materials used by the metal building innovator for many years, and there are no pipes or liquids involved, in the system. The maintenance on the Gulf States system is no different from the normal maintenance on a metal building, Jumper stated.

"Based on current energy costs, this system will return to the building owner much more than the cost of the system over a period of years. The owner saves initially both from tax credits for the construction of a solar system and from investment tax credits," Jumper said.

"The cost of fuel will continue to escalate, but nobody has found a way to charge us for the sun yet," Jumper added.

Local Judges Scheduled For Training Session

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—Justice court judges from Prentiss and Lee Counties will meet for a mandatory training program December 9-12 at the Alumni House, University of Mississippi, Oxford.

Mississippi law requires that all justice court judges be certified by the Attorney General of the State of Mississippi as having successfully completed a prescribed course of training and education prior to their taking office in 1980. Failure to attend this mandatory training program will prevent the judge from taking office.

The four-day program will include presentation of lectures, demonstrations, and discussions both live and on videotape.

The training program is conducted by the Mississippi Judicial College at the University of Mississippi Law Center, sponsored by the Mississippi Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General, and funded by the Criminal Justice Planning Commission, Office of the Governor.

Registration will begin at 3 p.m. on December 9.

County Forester's Report

County Forester

to your area forester.

In most cases insect and disease problems can be controlled if discovered early enough. To contact your local area forester, call me at 728-6835 or come by my office located in the back lefthand side of the First Miss. Bank of Commerce Building.

Trees are subject to continual attacks from insects and disease, from seedlings to maturity. Different insects and diseases affect trees according to the age, and condition of the trees.

Planted stand of pines and pure stands of hardwoods are very acceptable to attack. Since there are many different insects and diseases, no attempt will be made to explain all of them.

You, as a landowner, should be aware of this and report any unusual signs of attack to a forester. Some of the things to look for are: unseasonal leaf fall, discoloration of leaves or needles, pitch-pockets on pine trees, heavy defoliation of hardwood leaves, and three or more dead trees within a stand.

This does not cover all instances of insect or disease attacks. If anything is noticed that is not normal, report this

Postal Service

Asks For Bids

On Building

BURNSVILLE, Miss.—The U.S. Postal Service is again asking for construction bids to build and lease a new main post office building in Burnsville according to Postmaster Linda Stone. All bids received on a previous advertisement in August were rejected.

Bids are to be offered to William D. Bennett, realty management and acquisition specialist, Field Real Estates and Buildings Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Drawer 3744, Memphis, TN 38103.

Bids will be opened at 2:30 p.m. on Dec. 11, 1979, in Room 332, U.S. Postal Service, 1 North Front Street, Memphis, Tenn.

The proposed building will have 2,320 sq. ft. of interior floor space. It will be built with private funds and leased to the Postal Service for a basic period of 15 years with renewal options for 25 additional years.

The Postal Service has acquired an option to buy a site for the new post office which will be assigned to the successful bidder.

The site containing 25,500 sq. ft. of land is located on the south side of U.S. Highway 72 east of the Sewage Treatment Plant and west of a two lane and a four lane intersection.

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read a great deal about "Workshops" and other gimmicks in some churches of Christ, what is your opinion?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: My opinion wouldn't be any better than yours, but I do know the Bible teaches the gospel is God's power to save (Rom 1:16). Brother Paul Southern of Abilene, Texas wrote an article in the Christian Journal in May 1979 which expresses my view so I give it to you. "There is a growing tendency to confuse 'Programs' with spirituality. We have almost 'Programmed' and 'Work-shopped' ourselves to the point of futility. We have more 'Specialists' in the church than Chic Sales ever dreamed of. Many church members find it difficult to do the work of the Lord because they are always going somewhere to another workshop. The ecclesiastical machinery involved in church operation has become so complex that special courses are necessary to teach us how to operate it. Is it any wonder that someone seeing a camel for the first time said it must have been put together by a church committee?"

I agree with brother Southern. We need to get away from gimmicks and come back to the gospel.

Letter To The Editor

Save The Children

Editor:

As we brace ourselves for our annual Thanksgiving feast, the faces of starving Cambodians stare vacantly at us from the pages of our daily newspapers, offering a painful contrast to our holiday preparations.

In what has been termed the Auschwitz of Asia, the condemned people of Cambodia march slowly but certainly down the path to extinction.

More than a third of the population of this tranquil land has already perished from the effects of war, repression and disease. As many as two million more are on the verge of death by starvation. Two hundred and fifty thousand refugees are camped along the western provinces of the country, waiting for a chance to cross the border. Their numbers increase daily. We are witnessing genocide in our time.

As always, it is the children who suffer the most. Large numbers of the country's under-five population have already died. Many of those who survive do so with permanent brain damage and bone deformation due to malnutrition. Even those settled in refugee camps are easy prey to the effects of malaria, dysentery and pneumonia.

Through a joint effort of the International Save the Children Alliance, Save the Children (U.S.) can now provide these desperate refugees with food, medicine and health care.

A pediatric medical team is battling to save children's lives in the Sa Kaew holding camp. A hundred thousand refugees are being treated by other medical teams in border camps between Cambodia and Thailand. Rice, high-protein fish meal, milk and essential drugs are being flown into Phnom Penh or shipped to Kampong Som. Yet the need seems unending.

The year 1979 has seen a series of tragedies, beginning with the plight of the boat people, befall the peoples of Southeast Asia. Spiraling inflation or projected recession here in America sometimes blurs our view of how blessed we really are.

At this time for giving thanks, I ask you to consider extending a hand to those who, quite literally, have nothing. Any contribution, no matter how small, can help save the children of Cambodia. Please mail your check today to Save the Children, Cambodian Relief Fund, Dept. P, Westport, Connecticut 06880.

Pickering Blew Election At Last Minute

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—As long as the 1979 elections are reshaped in Mississippi politics, the story will be retold as to how Republican Charles Pickering blew his election for Attorney General at the last minute.

Of course it will never be resolved to the satisfaction of supporters of Atty. Gen.-elect Bill Allain that his narrow victory over Pickering was the result of the faux pas Pickering forces pulled in making an eleventh-hour charge that Allain had been a member of the old segregationist Citizens' Council.

But the empirical evidence is that the accusation, on which Pickering had to backtrack on election eve, cost him precious votes in what was already going to be a very close race. Enough votes to possibly swing the election.

This whole episode, in any case, underscores the state of current political thinking in Mississippi and the negative responses of the voter to certain stimuli, in contrast to how Mississippians reacted a few short years ago.

The message which was the culprit was prepared by the Pickering forces solely for a black listening audience, aimed at showing that Democrat Allain was the enemy of black folks, and as evidence, that he had belonged to Citizens' Council.

A few years ago, the only kind of last minute smear in a political race would have been quite the reverse. It would have said that so-and-so had attended a certain meeting at which blacks were in attendance, and it would have been aired solely for white audiences.

Now white politicians openly and eagerly go to command performances staged by the NAACP or other black groups and avoid being seen around any white organizations which have any sort of segregationist label. This latter attitude was illustrated by Allain being very quick to deny that he had been a member of the White Citizens Council.

Not long ago, he would have been saying he was proud to have been a CC member, and why wasn't Pickering one too?

Trying to document who was and who wasn't in the CC in its heyday, is somewhat like trying to prove now who was in the Ku Klux Klan. Unless there is some printed evidence of it, then it's hard to make any assertion such as the one the Pickering forces made about Allain, even though there was ample reason to believe from the company Allain kept back in the early 1960's that he could well have been connected with the Citizens' Council movement.

What the voter perceived of the affair in the present context was that Pickering had suddenly changed the tone of his campaign at the last minute and resorted to negative politics, and this was not the year for negative politics.

Suddenly Pickering in the minds of many voters who planned to vote for William Winter because of Gil Carmichael's personal attacks was placed in the same camp with Carmichael, the position which Pickering strategists had carefully avoided since they saw the GOP gubernatorial candidate going down the drain weeks before.

Pickering's late polls had shown him ahead of Allain by a few percentage points, but the strategists feared that the Carmichael debacle might pull him down too. So the decision was made to aim a rather broad message to shore up black support, which was then hard for the Pickering forces to pin down, even though they couldn't conceive of blacks supporting a close associate of Atty. Gen. A.F. Summer.

Evidently something happened between the messenger and the message which finally came out, and the undocumented fact that Allain had been a Citizens' Council member, was tossed in by Pickering's sharp young media man, Stuart Stevens, thinking it was not a very explosive issue.

Some political observers believe that Pickering, once the question was raised, could have handled his response more effectively by standing by what had been done, even if, as he says, he was unaware of the specific content of the radio spot. By publicly recanting, he apparently left blacks in doubt, and lost confidence with a lot of undecided whites.

The Pickering faux pas may be symptomatic of the suicidal tendencies of the Republican Party, which on other occasions has managed to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

A little guy named Harry S. Truman chuckled all the way to the White House about Republican overconfidence in 1948.

Mississippi Economic Council

The People's Business

An Editorial

Mississippi's highway system has come a long way since Governor Hugh White promised over 40 years ago to get the state "out of the mud, dust, and gravel."

But, the state's highway system continues to remain a major issue despite the fact that more than $450 million a year is spent on the state's roads.

The major problem is that highway maintenance and construction have not kept pace with the transportation demands of a state straining to grow. The state needs a good highway system to serve its growing economy—for without a good system, any chances of economic advancement are greatly hindered.

The Mississippi Economic Council has taken an in-depth look at the state's road systems and recommends:

—The State Highway Commission should continue to select, construct, and maintain the mileage on the state highway system with priority assigned on a traffic count basis.

—The revenue from motor fuel sales tax should be set aside for highways, roads, and streets, and should be determined on a cents-per-gallon basis.

—The proceeds from any additional highway bond issues should be set aside for use on principal highways.

—The formula for distributing motor fuel tax revenues to the state, counties, and cities should be revised for more equitable distribution.

—Highway weight limits should be increased to 80,000 pounds on those presently authorized for 73,280 pounds and adequate user charges imposed to cover increased maintenance and construction costs.

—An appointed Highway Commission of five members to replace the present elected Commission.

—The Highway Commission, elected or appointed, should be limited to policy making and approval of bids and other contracts. And, the Commission would select a director of the State Highway Department subject to confirmation by the Senate.

—Require that county roads be administered under a county board-manager plan.

The state's highway system and other vital issues of concern to the future of Mississippi will be on the agenda for MEC's 1979 Legislative Forums to be conducted in five geographical areas of the state.

Members of the state Legislature, the governor-elect, lieutenant governor-elect, other state officials, and all interested citizens are invited and encouraged to take part in the Forums, designed to invite discussion, debate, and information exchange between the state's business and professional people and governmental leaders.

All Forums start at 9:30 a.m. and continue through lunch. They will be held at the following locations: November 27, Jackson, Delta Hall; November 28, Greenwood, Holiday Inn Downtown; November 29, Tupelo, Ramada Inn Convention Center; December 4, Biloxi, Coronet Room; Broadwater Beach; and December 5, Hattiesburg, Commons Rooms A,B, and C, University of Southern Mississippi.

VA Questions & Answers

Q—Will the Veterans Administration make sure that a home bought by a veteran with a VA guaranteed loan is free from defects?

A—VA does not have the legal authority to guarantee that a home is free of defects. The government guarantees the loan, but it cannot under the law guarantee the house.

Q—I am enrolled in school under the GI Bill. I need an education loan. Can I get a loan from the Veterans Administration?

A—Yes, if certain requirements are met. The maximum amount is $2,500 during any one academic year.

Q—As a disabled Vietnam veteran, what are my chances of employment with the federal government?

A—The United States has a policy of promoting maximum job opportunities within the federal government for qualified disabled veterans. Veterans may inquire at any Veterans Administration office, but more specific information may be obtained by contacting the Federal Job Information Centers of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management.

Q—How are GI insurance dividends computed?

A—Dividends are based on the face amount and plan of insurance, length of time in force, age of insured, and number of months for which premiums are paid during the policy year, as well as interest earnings and mortality experience during the year.

Civil War Veterans'

Relatives Receive Pensions

Among the more than two million parents, widows and children of ex-servicemen on Veterans Administration compensation and pension rolls are 90 widows and 134 helpless children of Civil War veterans. These children receive benefits based on their being disabled before attaining age 18.

The last Civil War veteran died in 1959.

The most senior veterans on VA rolls are 209 Spanish American War veterans. This group that once numbered 392,000 during that war still has 14,013 widows and 1,116 children who are receiving VA payments.

Surviving spouses qualify for compensation or pension benefits as a result either of the veteran's service connected death or their own financial need. Children who qualify are eligible under the helpless child rule.

Through World War I veterans themselves average 94.5 years, 153 parents of World War I veterans are receiving VA death or dependents' indemnity compensation benefits. Parents of veterans who died in service or from service connected causes are eligible if their income is insufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and for members of their families under legal age.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

THE IRANIAN CRISIS

I have been as upset and disturbed as many of you at the alarming situation involving the seizure of our American embassy in the capital of Iran and the holding as hostages more than 60 of our U.S. citizens there.

There is no question that such action, apparently encouraged and approved by the revolutionary rulers of Iran, is a serious diplomatic breach and an insult to the United States.

Most of us in the Congress have tried to exercise restraint in our own comments, to give the President and other international figures, such as the Pope, support in their efforts to obtain the safe release of our citizens in Iran. In addition to those held hostage at the American embassy, there were several hundred other U.S. citizens in Iran when this situation developed.

I think everyone will agree that our nation's first priority was to try and gain the safe release of our fellow Americans from the danger in Iran.

Every effort must be made to accomplish this objective. We must also seriously consider and implement appropriate measures to lessen the risk of this type occurrence from taking place in the future. The President has already announced a cutoff of our purchase of Iranian oil, and we are refusing to deliver any equipment and spare parts for their armed forces, which are largely American equipped and trained.

It is also appropriate to move quickly to deport those Iranians in this country, students or otherwise, who are violating their visa requirements or immigration laws. In fact, this should have been done by the administration much earlier, after a group of Iranians attempted to seize our embassy several months ago.

Further diplomatic, economic and other sanctions against the present Iranian regime must be given serious consideration by the United States.

The administration's action freezing about five billion dollars in official Iranian assets, including deposits held by American banks in the United States and abroad, certainly is a step in the right direction to give us more leverage in dealing with the revolutionary forces in control of Iran.

The arrogant provocation of seizing our embassy and American personnel in Iran ranks as one of the most intolerable violations of international law and treaties of diplomatic behavior in history. Even Germany and Japan did not treat our diplomats in this fashion when World War II broke out.

Apparently what has evolved the past several years is that some nations, particularly those in the so-called Third World bloc, view the United States as a paper tiger, declining in power and lacking the will to firmly and forcefully protect its interests when challenged.

Much of this lack of respect for our country in some foreign capitals can be traced to the hesitant course in foreign policy that has developed in the past few years. This hesitation or uncertainty has been viewed by other countries as weakness and the loss of the will power necessary to maintain respect in international circles.

I can assure all Mississippians that as your United States Senator, one of my major objectives is to help steer our nation back on a path of strength and firmness of purpose at home and abroad.

Perhaps the ultimate result of the current Iranian crisis will be to unify our country, to bring our people together with a resolute determination to protect our national interests and in so doing to earn the respect of all nations around the world.

Neither our friends nor our potential enemies should have to guess about our nation's intentions to help promote peace and understanding throughout the world. But, at the same time, none should doubt our will to do what we must to safeguard our security and our economic interests anywhere in the world.

Ann Rayburn Rayburn Selected For Who's Who

Ann Rayburn of Booneville is among 26 Union University seniors who have been selected for membership in the annual publication "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

More than 1,100 colleges throughout the United States annually participate in the program which recognizes outstanding students on the basis of scholarship, leadership ability and character, explained Vice President for Academic Affairs Dr. Hyran E. Barefoot.

Miss Rayburn is a member of Alpha Chi honor fraternity and is pledging Sigma Alpha Iota professional music fraternity. She is also a member of the Union University Singers and Covenant, two professional vocal groups of the college. A music major, Miss Rayburn plans to attend graduate school following graduation. She is currently serving as the pianist for First Baptist Church in Jackson. Union University is a private, four-year, coeducational college of the liberal arts located in Jackson, Tenn. Founded in 1825, it has been under sponsorship of the Tennessee Baptist Convention since 1875 and has a student body of 1,158.

Vets Should Refigure Income

The Veterans Administration reminds approximately 670,000 elderly veterans that it's time to recompute their income for this year to make certain it still meets VA pension requirements.

The agency said a formal reminder of its pension income standards will be enclosed with the December pension checks. VA officials said they wanted to make sure, however, to bring the subject to the attention of veterans age 72 and older receiving pensions under laws that were in effect prior to Dec. 31, 1978.

Last year, for the first time, this group received the annual income questionnaires that are sent to more than a million other pension recipients.

But these elderly veterans who have not elected under the improved pension program will not receive the questionnaire this year.

This doesn't mean, however, that they are exempt from the income limits set by the new law. They must still report any changes in the number or status of their dependents and any income increase which causes it to exceed the limit.

These pension recipients do not need to report general rate increases in social security benefits because VA automatically records them.

Pensions are paid to wartime veterans with non-service connected disabilities who meet income limitations, and to their eligible widows and children.

"Hauler," why are you making spark plugs? Have you still got your secretary?

Saturday the Northeast club members that could, worked a roadblock at various places and made-up money which will go to the Rehabilitation Center in Tupelo for the handicapped.

We appreciate all the club members that helped and we thank everyone that contributed to the roadblock. We never know when some of us might need their help. The Radiothon will be December 2 from 1 a.m. until 10 p.m.

"Letterman," and "White Dove," worked together Saturday. Some people probably thought they could contribute and get "Letterman," to help too. Life wouldn't be what it is if we couldn't aggravate someone.

Some of the club members visited with "Sidekick," and "Lady Sidekick," after the roadblock and then went to the upholstery shop and worked on some macrame items the club is selling for Christmas. They plan to work on them some more Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Fulghum and family of Pascagoula and Mr. and Mrs. David Fulghum, Diane and Glenn of Memphis spent last weekend with Mrs. Lila Fulghum.

Bro. and Mrs. Roy Bostick were among those attending the Mississippi Baptist Convention last week in Jackson.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Mrs. Grace Fugitt. She passed away last Wednesday and will be greatly missed by friends and loved ones.

Visiting recently with Bro. Smith Windham was his former pastor, Ernest Gorden of Victory Baptist Church in Batesville. These two have been special friends for many years, having worked in Panola County churches together.

Mrs. Joe Wilkinson has had surgery at St. Dominic Hospital in Jackson, Miss. We wish Martha Louise a very fast recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Presley of Memphis spent Friday with Mrs. D.W. Presley.

The Brotherhood Rally at Parkway Baptist Church, Jackson, Miss., attracted 800 men for their annual meeting Monday evening. The five, George Holmes, George Holifield, Frank Pike, Hershel Dubbisson and Sam Turner, reported on their mission construction work along with several other groups which traveled to other mission points this year. Mayor Charles Crabb was among those attending the meeting from Booneville.

Mrs. Nona Tate of Jackson, Miss., was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer for a few days last week.

Mrs. J.W. Ashmore left Saturday for Mission Viego, Calif., to be with her daughter, Mrs. Hoyt Stringer, who is having surgery this week. We send Joyce our very best wishes for an early recovery.

Attention! All Baptist Churches in Prentiss County! "M" Night, (Mobilization) will be Nov. 27 at Calvary Baptist Church. The time is seven o'clock. Each church has set a goal. Let your church know you care by being present at this meeting. Dr. Jonas L. Stewart of Nashville, Tenn., will bring a special message.

We welcomed a new correspondent to our Banner-Independent staff last week. She is Bettye Brandon and is writing "News from Sunflower." I'm sure she will appreciate your cooperation.

Mrs. Ben M. Phillips, Michael and Garner of Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. T.S. Daniel Jr., of Morrilton, Ark., will be Thanksgiving guests of Mrs. W.C. Garner and Miss Elizabeth.

Roy Blackwood is spending a few days with relatives in Tupelo.

Mrs. Bilbo Moore remains seriously ill at her home on King Street. Overnight guest of the Moore's Saturday night was Mary Spencer of Tupelo.

Blue Bell employees were treated to a good meal and a half day holiday last Friday. Jimmy Smith is the manager. The treat was a reward of a 60 unit hour made by the plant.

George Willis Taylor, Mrs. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are among the sick on East Circle Drive. We wish each of them a speedy recovery.

Among those attending the Hasting-Owens Wedding at Oak Hill Baptist Church were, Mrs. Liz Kingley, Mrs. Maxine Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Inmon, Bro. and Mrs. Roy Bostick and Renea.

Mrs. Almie Davis visited her brother, Lester Holder of Belmont recently. Lester has been ill for several weeks now.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the Clifford Long family. Clifford was buried on Saturday. He will be greatly missed by his many friends and loved ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hodges visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hodges of Corinth, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tucker, of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. T.W. Muse, of Tupelo were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Muse

during the weekend.

Among those attending the funeral of Lindsey Keeton last week were Mr. and Mrs. Wigelo and Jack Shirley all of Tupelo, Capt. Joe and Mrs. Comacho and family of O'Fallon, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller of Gulfport, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ruffin of Jackson, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. John Keeton and Kim of Starkville, Mrs. Bill Surman, Mrs. Lucy Hancock and Mrs. Jimmy Deakle, both of Gautier, Miss., Eddie Rambeau of Oxford and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keeton, Tuscumbia, Ala.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Presley of Aberdeen Thanksgiving Day will be Jessie Presley, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hodges and Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson of New Albany.

Don't forget the Union Thanksgiving Service (churches in town) at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. This will be a time of praise and giving thanks.

You mothers will be putting your best foot forward as you cook that delicious Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. I have a suggestion that you add a "Sunshine Cake" to your menu.

Here is the recipe for Sunshine Cake.

Some crumbs of comfort too, Then mix them well with Loving thoughts,

And words both kind and true.

Let them quickly rise with action

To Deeds of golden hue, And you'll have a cake worth eating

When baking time is through.

Yes, you'll have a life worth living

And a cure for every ache, If you and all your family will

News From Oak Ridge

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

For several mornings the "frost has been on the pumpkin" but warmer weather has been predicted. No rain has been forecast through this week—harvesters can keep rolling.

Our shut-ins continue to show little, if any, improvement.

Mrs. Pearl Green, Mrs. Pearl Barnes and Mr. Robert Kelly are patients in the local hospital. Mrs. Anna Reece is in the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo to have surgery.

Get-well wishes are extended to those four, our shut-ins, Mrs. Myrtle Harris and all others who are sick.

Karon Koon, a pupil of Mrs. J.R. Wheeler, won first place in the talent Contest (Junior Division) in West Memphis, Ark., when she sang "Don't Cry Out Loud."

Congratulations, Karon! We're proud of you.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Ruth Keeton and children who are mourning the loss of their husband and father, Mr. Lindsey Keeton.

Mr. and Mrs. Nonan Harris of Kenosha, Wis., were here last week visiting and checking on their new home which is nearing completion. They attended services at Oak Ridge Sunday night Nov. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Coats drove to Birmingham, Ala., last Tuesday to attend a musical concert by a famous group, "The Eagles." They enjoyed the performance immensely. Welcome to Oak Ridge Community, Mr. R.C. Prather and family!

Myron Coats drove to Senatobia, Miss., last Tuesday to do welding for the town. He was about exhausted from driving there and back with that heavy cast on his leg. He will probably float right up when he gets that thing off the day after Thanksgiving.

Some lady sent this saying to Alan Luddin, master of ceremonies on Password-plus: "The best thing to give your children is time." Think about it.

The UMW of Christ United Methodist Church were elated over the number of people who purchased items at their annual bazaar Saturday.

Chuck and Debbie Hampton of Fort Worth, Texas will arrive early Thanksgiving Day to enjoy the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and Jim.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Hill accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinard and Beth of Memphis to Ocean Springs for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Max Wilson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Biloxi.

Mrs. Eugene Rowland and Tim visited last weekend with her mother in Memphis.

Danny Joe McAlpin was a Wednesday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McAlpin and family of Tupelo.

Our community was well represented Friday evening in Wheeler for the Garrison-Willard wedding at the Methodist Church.

Sunday afternoon guests of Mrs. Leonard Graham were Mr. and Mrs. James Vandervander of Booneville.

Pat Rowland and her sister, Phyllis Hill of Faulkner, were shopping in Tupelo Monday.

Amy Kelly was an overnight guest Saturday of Jodie McKinney of Booneville.

Mr. and Mrs. Flake Eaton were in Memphis Monday through Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hampton and family and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Eaton.

Little friends of Mark Lothore are wishing him a speedy recovery. Mark fell and cut his leg which took several stitches and a few days in bed.

Mrs. Brewer Crawford of Memphis will spend Wednesday night with Mrs. Ethel Tucker. They will attend the McCutchens Reunion on Thanksgiving Day at the West Side Booneville Community Center.

Greg and Peggy Geno were in Atlanta, Ga., Friday and Saturday.

Melissa Mauney of Corinth spent the weekend with Lenice Mauney and other relatives.

Kerry Saylor of Amory enjoyed the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A.R. Saylor.

Mrs. Lana Richardson of Ripley was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Davis, and attended services at Christ United Methodist Church Sunday.

Get well wishes are extended to Robert Kelly at the local hospital and to Mrs. Johnnie Clare Breeland who had major

Thrasher Class Of '36 Holds Reunion

The Thrasher High School graduating class of 1936 held a class reunion Saturday night, Nov. 10, at the Campus Country Inn.

Six of the original 12 graduates were present. Three of the remaining members were unable to attend and three others are now deceased.

Attending the reunion were Mrs. W.H. Yarber (Louise Thompson) of Memphis; Mrs. John Caveness (Irene Thompson), Mrs. Homer Huddleston and Omar Jones, all of Booneville; Robert Moore of Jonesboro, Ark.; and Harold McGee of Gainesville, Fla.

Class members who were unable to attend are Mrs. Grover Smith (Flora Cosby) of Ellisville, Samuel Downs of Corinth and J.V. Downs of Southaven.

Several of the class' former teachers were also in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. McCoy of Booneville; former boys' basketball coach. Cecil Graham of Sallito; former girls' basketball coach Prentiss Crabb of Booneville; and Mr. and Mrs. Minor R. Nixon (Evelyn Parker) of Tuka, were all present.

Mrs. John L. Cain (Katherine

Ivy) of Marianna, Fla., was unable to attend, but sent an arrangement of flowers for the table.

Following the meal, the group reminisced about their past experiences and talked about their individual families. They also discussed plans for their next reunion.

Miss Shelia Hastings will sponsor a program Thursday, Nov. 22, at 6 a.m. at Spring Hill M.B. Church. The program theme is "There Is A Message In Giving." The Rev. Bill Ragin will be the speaker. The public is invited to attend.

There will be a meeting of the District Planning Council at Beckley Chapel C.M.E. Church, Nov. 24. The meeting is open to the public and all are urged to attend.

During the month of October, the following churches were each recipients of a gift of $100, donated by the East Side Boosters Club. The club's members and its president, Mr. Luther McGee, caters to any need that is evident within the community and has been very effective in their efforts for good.

A meeting of the Literary Club, of which Mrs. Versie Jones is director, will be held Tuesday night, Nov. 28, in the fellowship hall of Spring Hill M.B. Church, at 7 p.m. Mrs. Jones will present material for the month of December during this meeting. The public is invited to attend as the meetings will prove to be beneficial to all participants.

Meetings of the Workshop, held each Monday night in the fellowship hall, and conducted by Mr. Louis Ragin, are very interesting, informative, and productive. At present, plans are being formulated for the annual Christmas program which will include the entire community.

I was recently informed by Mr. McDuffy Agnew, a very energetic and spiritual young man, that he is now the proud possessor of his minister's licenses. He is a member of the Mt. Olive M.B. Church and is much involved in all the functions of the church. We offer him our congratulations in this achievement and pray that he will be successful in all future endeavors.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burress, James Jr. and Mickey, Mrs. Martha (Cookie) Bennett and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Christian and son Jerry Jr. will all spend the Thanksgiving Holiday and weekend with relatives in Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Bennett will afterwards motor on to Youngstown, Ohio, where she will remain as a permanent resident. We are sorry to lose her from our community but hope that her move will be a happy and prosperous one.

Our heartfelt and deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Henry Hurd of the Rienzi community at the loss of his brother who was buried Nov. 16. Also, to the family of Mrs. Faye McGee who was buried on Nov. 17 and to the wife and son of Mr. Clifford Long.

At the time of Mr. Long's tragic accident, my mother, Henrietta Bush, was in their employ as maid-cook, and continued in this position for several years later. Through this association I came to know of his great strength, cheerfulness, courage and determination which grew through the years and enabled him to help so many from his bed. He shall long be remembered for his goodness and the help that he gave both directly and indirectly. Also our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Jeanette Hands, who expired Sunday morning, Nov. 18, in the Tupelo hospital.

At the time of this writing, Mrs. Lillian Childers is a patient in the local hospital, but will soon be transferred to a Memphis hospital. Our prayers go with her for a speedy recovery and hope that she will soon be back home and on the job.

She is an L.P.N. employed by the local hospital on the 11-7 shift. If you have ever been a patient on D-1 you know her as the lovely little lady who comes into your room hourly at night, bringing assurance and comfort when your anxieties and fears are at their peak. She is D-1 and her very presence exudes confidence and security to all.

Mr. Myree Betts and Mr. Leonard Foster were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Betts. They are from Joliet, Ill.

Mrs. Flora Lee Betts, also from Joliet, Ill., visited with her mother, Mrs. Annie B. Boothe.

Mr. Edd Spencer and a friend from Tuskegee, Ala., visited over the weekend with his family, including his father, Mr. John Spencer, who is a patient in the local hospital.

The annual Woman's Day program of the Synagogue M.B. Church will be held Sunday Nov. 26, at 2 p.m. Mrs. Bessie Sorrell will be the guest speaker. Many choirs from various communities will also be present. The public is invited.

Mr. Ralph Jumper's visit from Germany with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie D. Jumper, coincided with his father's 65th birthday. Regarding his birthday, Mr. Jumper says he may be 65, but he's still going strong. With respect and admiration, we wish for him many, many more and good health to enjoy them. His birthday was Nov. 16.

Mrs. Mary Glem Rutherford and Mrs. Charylene Strange are two examples of the people in our town and communities who devote most of their spare time to deeds of kindness, sometimes in the form of personal visits, telephone calls, and always with the cards expressing a beautiful message regarding what ever the occasion may be. They are both employees of the local hospital's 11-7 shift, Mrs. Rutherford, as floating ward clerk and Mrs. Strange as an aide on A-wing. During their working hours, they are constantly finding way to make the patient and family members more comfortable.

During the illness and death of my mother, these ladies were a constant source of comfort and strength to me. A very interesting, and informative book was placed in the public library in memory of my mother by Mrs. Strange. Their acts of kindness shall always be remembered by me and my family and our prayers are for God's special blessings in their lives always.

Tribute To A Great Lady
Mrs. Jobie Welch is a 73-year-old housewife. Married to the Rev. A.C. Welch, who is a Methodist minister, she is the mother of three children. Mmes. Versie Bracken of St. Louis, Mo., Ada Christian, of this city, and Mr. Robert Welch also of St. Louis, Mo. She has 20 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

She was a very young woman at the time of her marriage and her husband was just beginning his ministry. She states that a simple statement of advice from her father, "If you can't help him, don't hinder him," has helped her through many a difficult situation and has enabled her to devote her life to give him her total support and help.

An illness when her first child was six months of age resulted in the amputation of her left leg. She recovered but was left with paralysis of the left arm. Still later, two more children were born and times were very hard for her during those years because her husband, through necessity, was away from the home most of the time.

In addition to maintaining the home, she took in washings and ironings to help with their support. In spite of her disability and numerous duties, she has been actively involved in many community activities, especially those of church and school. In the home she is the perfect hostess and is always busy with some household task. She is never idle. She says that this is due to the fact that she was trained that way.

In 1969 she learned that she had cancer and was given a five year period to determine the outcome. During that time, she traveled to Memphis for a yearly checkup. She has been hospitalized in the local hospital several times during this period and has always recovered.

It has now been 10 years and she says that she has never felt better. Her first and only pleasure trip was made three years ago when she spent the Christmas holidays with her children in St. Louis, Mo.

With the help of her husband, she has for the last four years taken care of a sister-in-law, who is blind. A granddaughter, Martha Bennett, speaking for all the family, says, there is none like her.

Her life has been an inspiration to all of us. She has helped in our upbringing and is now doing the same for our children. When we were small most of the Sunflower kids found necessary correction softened with tea cakes and milk, in her home and she is still doing it today.

Mrs. Welch's motto for living is very simple. She says just take each day as the good Lord gives it and live it to the fullest, doing as much good as you can. Her greatness lies in the fact that she has met and conquered every hardship that life has imposed upon her with strength, courage and a faith in God that is unlimited.

Her life has been inspirational to the entire community as well as to her family and we pray that God will continue to bless and keep her. Till next week.

Nursing Class At Northeast

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College is now accepting applications for the Practical Nursing class to begin Jan. 2, according to Quitman Wigginton, assistant director of Vocational Education.

An applicant for the program must be at least 18 years of age, be a high school graduate or have scored the high school equivalency on the General Education Development test. In addition, applicants must also make general application to Northeast and take the General Aptitude Test Battery at the local office of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

A graduate of the Practical Nursing program will be eligible to write the State Board Examination to become a Licensed Practical Nurse.

speaker for the program on "Service Records For the Confederate Marine Corps" by Ralph W. Donnelly.

Mrs. Curlee, in her account on this subject, gave the following facts:

Existing records show that the first men enlisted were James A. Baxter, Jacob E. Scholls and R.E. Smyly who enlisted at Montgomery, Ala., on March 25, 1861. The officer who recruited them was Captain Reuben T. Thom, the first officer appointed to the Marine Corps.

A review of the records show that many men who enlisted in the Corps had no intention of becoming Marines or of fighting in the war. A large number deserted immediately after enlistment, usually after collecting their bounty for enlisting. They were called "Bounty Jumpers."

At the outbreak of the war, recruits were expected to be at least 21 years of age. Persons under that age were required to have the approved signature of a parent before being enlisted. Later in the war, more and more 18 year olds were taken into the armed forces.

The youngest marines were those recruited as musicians (drummers). Some were around the ages of 15, 13 and even 12 years of age. One who was 12 years and 10 months old, deserted. He had been in approximately 9 months. Because of his youthfulness his leaving was officially recorded as a discharge. Other "boys" enlisted but exact ages were not determined.

At the other end of the age scale, while most enlisted Confederate Marines were in their 20's and 30's there were a few who were in their 40's and even a few in their 50's.

A unique sidelight of this study was the discovery and identification of two blacks who were honorably associated with the Confederate Marine Corps.

Here in the United States we tend to think that we are the only ones interested in "Our War" but the fact is that a significant number of Europeans share that interest. In recent years an Irish

Historian Dr. J. de Courcy of Ireland made a special trip to U.S. for the sole purpose of researching the Irish born and Irish descendants in the Confederate States Navy (including the Marine Corp). Records show that 1,200 men belonged to or did service with the Confederate States Marine Corps. Mrs. O.C. Robinson, chapter president, adjourned the meeting following this account given by Mrs. Curlee.

PREVIEW DAY—Prospective students from throughout the state were invited to visit on the campus of Mississippi College recently to take part in Preview Day activities. Among those who attended were, left to right, Betsey Davis, Picayune; Carla Bonds, Booneville; Rhonda Hutson, Summit; Melanie Rayburn, Booneville; and Mitzy Boyte, Clinton.

Notes From The Library

A day filled with good friends, good food and thankful hearts is our wish to you from the George E. Allen Library for the Thanksgiving holiday. The library will close on Thanksgiving Day, but will be open Friday.

New reference materials now in the library should be helpful to students working on term papers.

Several books have also been added to the young children's collection and we invite all youngsters to come in and browse. Our next story hour for them will be Saturday morning, Dec. 1, from 10 to 10:30.

New copies of old favorites have also been added for our elementary school age patrons.

The New York Times will shortly be available to patrons through the generosity of the Theodore Rubenstein family. This service is being given to the library's memory.

This outstanding newspaper covers almost every interest and publishes materials by our country's best known writers. It is a gift that we appreciate very much and we invite everyone to use it and enjoy it fully.

LeBonheur, Memphis.

Mrs. William Perry, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnsey and Mrs. Trumon Smith attended the associational and District WMU meeting at Oakland Baptist Church, Corinth Thursday.

Mrs. K.E. Smith of Corinth visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnsey, Sr.

A number of our people are very happily making plans for family gatherings, Turkey dinners and the usual season of counting our blessings and enjoying all the traditions of the Thanksgiving Holidays.

Mrs. Fred McCord has shown much work in featuring the window display appropriate to the Thanksgiving season. It is a lovely window and you will surely enjoy stopping by.

Mrs. Mitchell Palmer is in California where she will spend a month visiting with her sister and other relatives.

Brad Johnson is completely happy to be back in church and school after being kept at home for several weeks with a broken leg. Brad seems to make excellent progress walking with the aid of crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lorick have had the pleasure of entertaining the following guests in their home recently: Mrs. Jack Watson, Montebella, California; Mrs. Jeal B. Rowan, Oceanside, California; Mrs. W.T. Lorick, Monroe, Louisiana; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hodge of Corinth.

Mrs. John Lusk and Mrs. Jimmy McCord were in Corinth Monday to attend the funeral service for Mr. Tom H. Morris.

Misses Rita and Brenda Johnson were in Jackson, Miss., over the weekend to be with their sister, Mrs. Carolyn Ingraham.

Friends of Mrs. Hubert Doty have been concerned over her illness. She has been a patient in the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth.

Also confined to the Magnolia Hospital is Mrs. Zack Parker who suffered a fall early this week, causing a broken hip.

Mr. Melvin Johnsey, Sr., came home Saturday from the Baptist Hospital in Memphis as did Mitch Isbell from

Disaster Program Covers
Low Yields

Producers who have suffered severe crop losses this year because of natural disasters may be eligible for disaster payments.

The disaster provisions authorize payments to program participants whose wheat and feed grain crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest.

This payment is based only on the deficiency in production below 60 percent. For rice and upland cotton, the payment is based on production losses below 75 percent. Applications for low yield payments must be filed within 15 days after harvest, while evidence of the crop is present.

The ASCS disaster program provides protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the producer.

Farmers should keep an accurate record of 1979 crop production in case they decide to prove their yields this spring, after receiving their notice of established yields, allotments and normal crop acreage.

No Set-Aside For
1980 Feed Grain
Program

There are no set-aside or diversion requirements for 1980 feed grain crops. The 1980 feed grain and soybean loan levels will be at least as high as those in effect in 1979.

Those rates were: $2.00 per bushel for corn, $1.90 for sorghum, $1.63 for barley, $1.03 for oats, $1.70 for rye and $4.50 for soybeans.

Preliminary target price ranges will be announced by March 15. Based on the formula in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977, the 1980 target prices are currently estimated at $2.08 per bushel for corn, $2.46 for sorghum and $2.35 for barley.

All producers of barley, corn and sorghum will be eligible for target price protection and price support loans. However, to qualify for full target price protection and deficiency payments, farmers cannot plant more corn, sorghum or barley in 1980 than was considered planted and set aside from these crops in 1979.

Farmers who exceed this acreage will be subject to an allocation factor that can reduce any target price payment by up to 20 percent.

Ballots For ASC
Committee Elections

The slates of nominees for the upcoming ASC committee election have been developed.

The candidates for each ASC community in Prentiss County are as follows:

Community A (Jumpertown and Pisgah): Jack Blassingame, Miles Cox, Terry Davis, James Benny Eaton, Tommy Garner and Max Lauderdale.

Community B (Blackland and Baldwin): Jack Greenhill, Moie Lamb, Phillip McCarley, Charlie Rowland, Athel Smith and William L. Spain.

Community C (Marietta and Wheeler): James Barron, Joe Wayne Garner, Ted Ryan, Robert Sanders, Waymon Slack and Edward Stacy.

Community D (Cairo and Thrasher): Harding Burcham, Horace Lambert, L.B. McKinney, Carey Pike, Keith Stevens and Leon Tidwell.

Community E (New Site and Burton): Dan Crabb, John Harris, Frank Holley, Kent Nicholson, Buddy Smith and Clyde Wilemon.

Ballots have been mailed to all eligible voters of record by the county ASCS office to Prentiss County farmers. To be eligible to receive a ballot and vote in the committee elections, a person must be engaged in agriculture or be eligible to participate in the farm programs as a landowner, tenant or sharecropper.

Any person that did not receive a ballot and thinks that he or she is entitled to vote should contact the county office immediately so that their name may be entered on the list of eligible voters and a ballot can be issued.

The election will be held by mail ballot. Instructions for voting are included with the ballot. You may vote for up to three names on the ballot or write in three names of your choice.

The ballot should be placed in the plain envelope that is included and then sealed in the franked envelope that requires no postage. It should then be signed and returned to the county ASCS office no later than December 3, 1979.

Ballots will be tabulated at the county ASCS office Dec. 6.

1979, at 9:30 a.m. This meeting is open to the public, as space will allow, for ballot tabulating.

The County Convention to elect a county committee will be Dec. 13, 1979, at 9:30 a.m. in the county ASCS office. Delegates only will be allowed to vote at this meeting. These delegates will be the community committeemen elected by the farmers during the balloting period that ends December 3, 1979.

THANK YOU

MAY WE EXPRESS OUR SINCERE AND DEEP APPRECIATION FOR YOUR LOVE AND CONCERN FOR OUR HUSBAND AND FATHER, CLIFFORD LONG. FOR THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS HE WAS COMPLETELY PARALYZED BUT YOUR MANY ACTS OF KINDNESS DURING THOSE YEARS MADE LIFE A JOY FOR HIM.

HE LOVED PEOPLE AND THOUGH YOU MAY NOT HAVE KNOWN HIM PERSONALLY; IF YOU WERE IN TROUBLE HE LIFTED YOU BY NAME IN PRAYER.

FOR THE LOVELY FLOWERS, FOOD, CARDS, AND EVERY EXPRESSION OF LOVE FOR HIM, HIS FAMILY WILL ALWAYS BE GRATEFUL.

MAY GOD BLESS EACH OF YOU IS OUR PRAYER.

Hoyt Stringer Is Promoted

Hoyt Stringer, a former resident of Booneville, has been promoted to vice-president of Avco Financial Services' Southwest area. He will be in charge of 27 branches in Hawaii and 75 in southern California. Stringer's area office is located in the Avco World Headquarters' building in Newport Beach, Calif. Since joining Avco in February, 1965, he has been transferred eight times and has become one of the youngest men ever promoted to vice-president. Stringer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Stringer of Booneville. His wife, Joyce, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Ashmore, also of Booneville.

Firemen's Clinic At Northeast

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the Appalachian Community Service Network are sponsoring a workshop for firemen and other personnel entitled "Hazardous Liquid Spills: Evacuate or Attack?" on Thursday, Nov. 29, from 6:30-8 p.m. in Room 58 of Hines Hall. This video-taped workshop will examine basic guidelines, procedures, and safety precautions involved when confronted with the dangers of hazardous materials accidents. The workshop will combine the film "Bleve," film footage from the 49th Kentucky Fire School, and a panel of guests knowledgeable in the various areas of hazardous materials and transportation. The films are intended to impress upon firemen and others involved in these accidents the seriousness of the problem and the consequences of poor judgment and improper actions. As a result of participating in this workshop, firemen should be able to demonstrate an awareness of the importance of preplanning in minimizing the dangers of hazardous materials accidents; recognize potentially dangerous situations; identify the means used to distinguish potentially hazardous materials, and react appropriately to emergency situations. The fee for the workshop is $3.00. For more information or to pre-register, call Mrs. Opal B. Melvin at 728-7751 Ext. 231.

Rogers Is Chancelor's Trust Member

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—New Albany businessman Herbert G. Rogers III is a member of the Chancellors Trust at The University of Mississippi, major giving program of the University's Foundation.

Named for the 21 chancellors of Ole Miss, the Chancellors Trust was established in 1975 to honor benefactors who give $10,000 or more in unrestricted funds to the University. The Chancellors Trust now has a membership of 45.

"Gifts from alumni such as Mr. Rogers, who have had the opportunity of an education at The University of Mississippi, are especially gratifying," said Chancellor Porter L. Fortune Jr. "His generosity is an example of why Ole Miss has been able to carry on its tradition of excellence for more than 130 years."

Herbert G. Rogers

Rogers, a 1964 banking and finance graduate of Ole Miss, is president of Rogers Agency Inc., Mississippi Realty of New Albany Inc. and Roell Realty Corp., all in New Albany, and of Guyton Insurance Agency in Blue Mountain. He is a director of National General Insurance Co., in Jackson and of Morris Scrap Metal Inc. of New Albany and Sherman, and also secretary and director of the Rogers LP Gas Companies, located in New Albany, Ripley, Booneville and Iuka.

He is active in the Independent Insurance Agents of Mississippi chapter, having served as a member of the executive, conference, and public relations and advertising committees of the group. He was chairman of the latter committee and is past president of the Northeast Mississippi Association of Independent Insurance Agents. He is also a director of the New Albany Rotary Club, the Union County Little Theatre and the Mississippi Mental Health Association.

He is a member of the Inter-Alumni Council, a group which supports higher education in the state; of the Ole Miss Loyalty Foundation; and a director of the UM Alumni Association. He is listed in the 1975-76 edition of "Personalities of the South."

Rogers graduated from W.P. Daniel High School in New Albany. At Ole Miss he was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa leadership honorary and president of the Financiers Club. He received the 1964 Wall Street Journal award and was an officer of various clubs and honoraries.

The New Albany resident was Distinguished Military graduate at Ole Miss and an honor graduate of the U.S. Army Air Defense Company School at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He was stationed in Germany.

Rogers is the son of Herbert G. Rogers Jr. and Mrs. Catherine Robbins Rogers of New Albany and is married to the former Mary Swift Chandler of Greenwood. They have a son, Herbert G. Rogers IV.

'W' Day Set December 1

COLUMBUS—High School senior girls from throughout the South and several outlying states are invited to the fall "W" Day Saturday, Dec. 1, at Mississippi University for Women.

A variety of activities, including academic department open houses, a luncheon and a talent show, have been scheduled for the annual fall event.

Registration for "W" Day guests will begin at 8 a.m. in the "W" room of the Hogarth Student Center Saturday, Dec. 1.

A multi-media presentation and welcoming remarks by M.U.W. President James Strobel at 9:15 a.m. in the auditorium of the Student Center will kick off Saturday's activities.

A question-and-answer session for parents and a brief "get acquainted" assembly for "W" Day guests, faculty and administrative leaders are other events planned. Activities will conclude at 4 p.m. Saturday.

The W will provide chartered buses at a minimal charge from Memphis, Tenn., and vicinity; from the Jackson area; from Mobile, Ala., and north Alabama; from the Mississippi Gulf Coast area and from New Orleans, La.

Visiting "W" Day guests will be provided with free meals and dormitory rooms. In addition, "W" Day visitors will be admitted free to the Nov. 30 basketball game between The W and Valdosta State University Friday evening.

Students wishing more information about "W" Day should contact the Office of Admissions, Mississippi University for Women, Columbus, Miss. 39701 or call 328-5891.

Fall Land Prep

With harvest late this year, many producers may be pushed to carry out fall land preparation. As soon as stalks are cut, this important job should be started.

Subsoiling and or chiseling plowing, depending on the soil type, usually give the best results when done in the fall and under dry conditions. Sandy soils should be subsoiled deep enough to shatter hardpans and left rough until spring.

Lime, phosphate and potash also can be applied in the fall, if needed. Apply the fertilizer before disturbing the soil for more even distribution and increased effectiveness of the materials.

(Controlled grazing by crossfencing can give cattle up to one-third more potential forage. On permanent pastures, tests show controlled grazing will give up to 30 percent more digestible nutrients than where rotational grazing is not practiced.

Crossfencing allows concentration of animals on a smaller area for more uniform grazing. While one pasture is grazed, the others grow. Rotate cattle every 10 to 14 days to allow regrowth and increase quality and quantity of forage.

Farmweek

On November 26, Farmweek will give an update on the brucellosis situation in Mississippi. Interviews include those with Jack Minter, president, Cattle Marketing Association; and Mr. Ted Kindall, president of the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association.

They will discuss problems with the new brucellosis standards and make suggestions for correcting them. The program will air Monday night, Nov. 26, at 7:30 and the following Tuesday morning at 7:30 on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

Supply Of Seedlings Dwindling

With tree planting season just several weeks away, The Mississippi Forestry Commission reports that its supply of pine and hardwood seedlings is dwindling fast.

The Commission's October inventory shows the following species and amounts still available: 15 million Loblolly

Pine; 3 million Slash Pine; 242,000 Sycamore and 400,000 Cottonwood.

On October 31, the Commission also had approximately 300 pounds of Longleaf Pine and 243 pounds of Shortleaf Pine seed to sell. Landowners wishing to purchase seedlings or tree seed should contact the local Area Forester's office for application forms and current price information. The seedlings will be sold on a first come, first served basis.

Delivery will be made later this winter during the planting season.

Tigers Fall To Jones

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

LAUREL—The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers gave up 15 points in the second half here Saturday night and dropped a 23-0 decision to Jones Junior College in the opening game of the 1979 JUCO Playoffs.

The Tigers, who had one of the better seasons this year with a 6-4 record and a second place finish, held the powerful Jones squad to just a single touchdown in the opening two frames.

Tiger head coach Bill said before Saturday's game that his '79 pawmen would have to play their best game of the year to stay with these South chargers, who in most fans opinions, had to be considered one of, if not the, best JUCO teams in the state.

Jones jumped on the Tigers early in the second quarter after the Tigers held the Bobcats intact in the opening frame. Jones quarterback Chris Ford fired a 68 yard touchdown pass to his receiver (also named Jones) to give the Bobcats a 7-0 lead.

The lead stood until the intermission and little did the Tigers know that the Bobcats would come out fired up in the third period.

The Tigers had their famed moments early in the third quarter. Northeast took ball possession at their own 17 yard line and appeared to be moving from there. Tiger runningback Randy Cochran, who played an outstanding ballgame, burst off right tackle for 19 yards and a first down at the 36.

Quarterback Al Graves then fired a pass to Eddie Norman and Cochran then carried again for another first down at the 41. The Tigers appeared to have it going here but a penalty and a stopped draw play forced the Tigers to punt.

Norman sent a booming punt to the Jones 15 yard line and put the Bobcats deep inside their own territory. But one play later, runningback David Heene received a key block at the line of scrimmage and raced 84 yards to paydirt for Jones' second score. The extra point followed and the Bobcats held at 14-0 lead with 25 seconds left in the third period.

The Tigers wouldn't die however. They took ball possession at the 30 yard line following the Jones kickoff.

Graves went to work from there. He fired a 113 yard pass to Norman again at the 43 but a flag was thrown and it brought the ball back on an offensive face mask penalty.

The penalty brought the ball back to 15 yard line as the third quarter ended.

At the start of the fourth and final frame, Northeast fumbled the football (which proved to be the turning point of the game) and the Bobcats jumped on it at the 33 yard line.

Jones then moved the football to the 16 yard line where the Tiger s topped them when John Floyd broke up the third down play. Jones then boosted their lead to 17-0 on a field goal.

The Tigers came back at em again. On the kickoff the Northeast squad brought it back to the 50 yard line on the run back but again a clipping penalty nullified the play and spotted the ball at the Northeast 15 yard line.

Northeast then had the jitters and fumbled the football at the 15 where Jones recovered. The Bobcats scored on the next play for their third score of the night. The extra point failed but the Bobcats held a 23-0 lead with 11:17 left in the game.

The Tigers got the ball back deep in their own territory but just couldn't handle the situation. The Northeast squad, playing with Robert Codgill as the signal caller at this point, moved the ball just seven yards in three plays. The Tigers tried a fake punt but a penalty stopped that drive and Jones took the ball over at the midfield stripe.

The Tigers could do little or nothing from that point on with the powerful Jones squad and the Bobcats held on for the 23 point victory and a chance to play Gulfcoast for the State Championship.

Tiger head mentor Bill Ward said he was well pleased with the efforts of his Tigers this season and added that next year's outlook looks promising.

Looking back on this year's season, one would have to say that the Tigers played remarkable considering the fact that out of some 70 players, some 50 of those were freshman which makes next year's squad even more promising.

The Tigers picked up wins this year over, Holmes, Hinds, Coahoma, East Mississippi, Miss. Delta and Northwest and lost to Pearl River, Gulf Coast, Itawamba and Jones twice.

Northeast Takes Double Header From NWA

Both the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes picked up victories here last Thursday night wins a double header victory over Northwest Alabama in roundball action at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Northeast's Tigerettes thrilled the crowd in attendance with a commanding 99-30 victory over the Northwest Alabama ladies while the Tigers checked Northwest 82-74 in men's action.

The Tigerettes, led by Helen McDonald with 14 points Charman Coley with 11 and Amy Bradley with 10, hit at a 48 percent clip from the floor and chipped in with a 60 percent mark from the free throw line.

The Tigerettes pulled down a remarkable 63 rebounds for the night's work compared to just 32 for their opposition. Karen Davis led the rebounding department with 10.

Shelia Edgeston and Charman Coley led the individual shooting stats with 75 and 63 percent respectively while Sabrina Williams led in assists with three.

In men's action, Gary Hill paced the NE scoring chart with 19 points followed by Mike Cartwright with 15 and Troy McWilliams and Charles Conrad had 10 each.

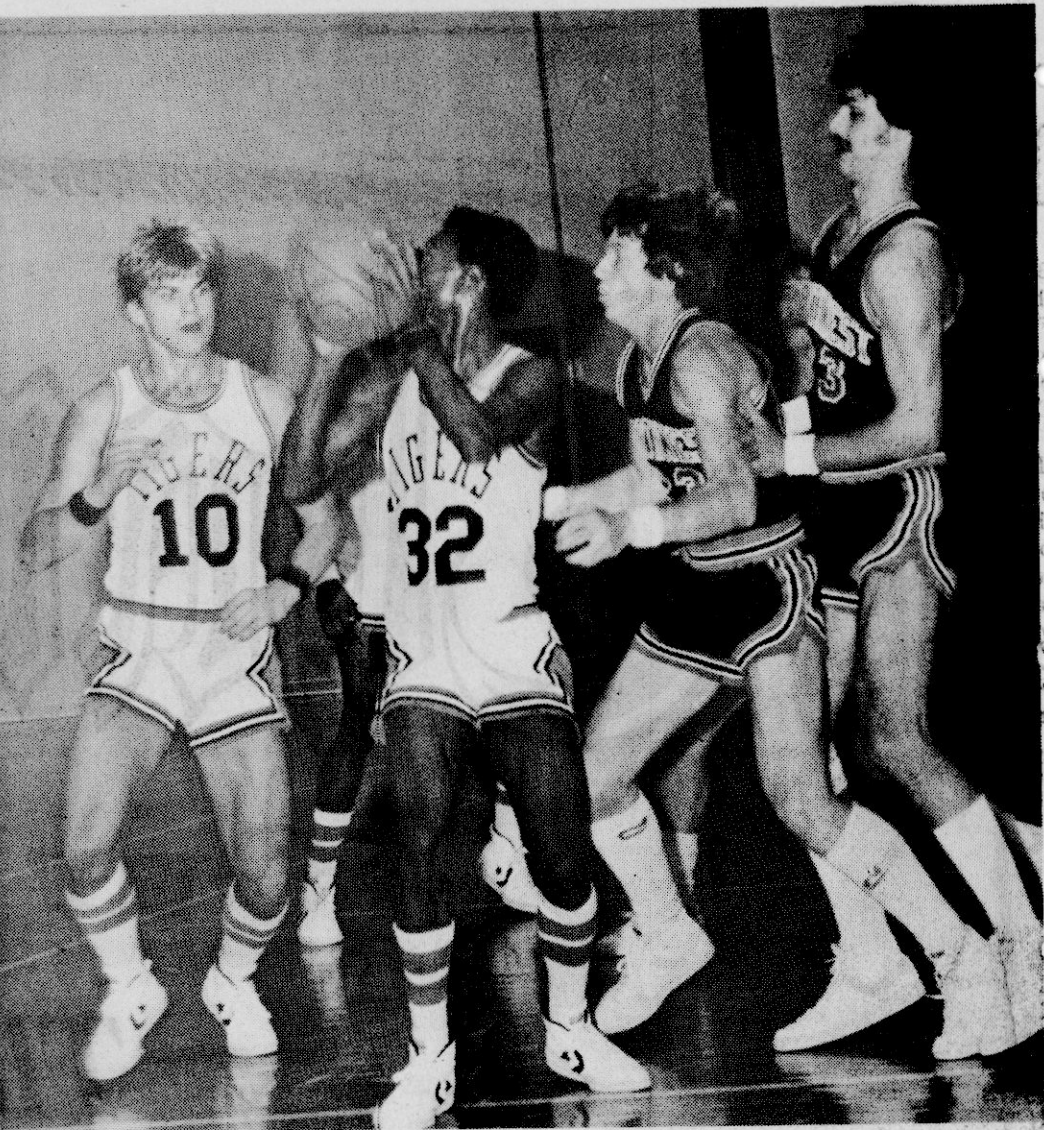

The Tigers connected on 37 of 75 from the floor for a 49.3 percent average and hit eight of 17 free throws for a 47 percent average. Northeast continued to lead their opponents in rebounding with 50 overall rebounds.

Charles Conrad and Gary Hill pulled down 13 rebounds each while in assists Mark Buskirk and Troy McWilliams had eight each followed by Dale Groves with six.

The Tigers have played in the Itawamba series earlier this week but due to an early press date, the games were not available at press time.

Northeast's next outing will be a road encounter with Itawamba next Tuesday night and then they will return home against Northwest the following Thursday night.

TIGERS ON OFFENSE—Northeast's Dale Groves (32) and Troy McWilliams (10) moved the ball on offense here against Northwest Alabama in last Thursday's basketball action. The Tigers took an 82-74 victory.

NICE SAVE—Northeast's Troy McWilliams (10) saves the ball from going out of bounds here as teammate Charles Conrad (14) aids in the play.

For Local Schools

Little Seven Conference Set

A new conference has been formed for area junior high sports programs.

The Little Seven Conference was recently formed by area coaches and officials for not football schools (so to speak).

Schools included in the conference are, Marietta, Rienti, Hills Chapel, Wheeler,

New Site, Thrasher and Jumpertown.

Non football schools will compete in this conference in basketball and hopefully a track and volleyball program will be added to the list.

Schools with football programs will remain in the Little Tombigbee Conference.

LOOSE BALL—New Site's David Miles (20) battles with Booneville's Ricky Leach (32) and Clarence Taylor (23) in recent action of the New Site Basketball Tournament. The Tourney, which was filled with fans each night, was termed successful.

Rebels Win Three Games

Thrasher's Rebels made a clean sweep of tournament competition here last week in the first annual New Site Basketball Tournament.

The Rebels, playing in round robin competition, defeated Alcorn Central on Thursday night and came back with victories over both Booneville and New Site on Friday and Saturday night.

Alcorn Central's Lady Bears took the coveted girls' title since they were playing in an elimination competition.

Boys events was a round robin event with teams continuing even though they were eliminated.

In Saturday's final games, Alcorn Central's girls took the title with a 33-31 squeaker over Booneville's Devilettes while in boys competition Saturday Thrasher dropped New Site's Royals 53-42 and Booneville's Blue Devils got the best of Alcorn Central's Golden Bears 58-53. Roland led Alcorn Central with 14 points while Diane Harris led the Devilettes with 12.

James Swinney had 16 to pace Thrasher's Rebels while Anthony Webb and Eddie Roberts had 16 each for New Site.

Clarence Taylor netted 16 points to lead Booneville while Kirk Pettigrew netted 16 for Alcorn Central.

Huge crowds attended the tournament all three nights with four area teams competing. The Tournament has drawn attention from area sports fans and has already been tabbed as one of the top events in the area.

UP FOR THE BALL—Northeast's Troy McWilliams goes up for the Ball here against these Northwest Alabamians in last Thursday's battle at Tiger Stadium.

Anderson Drops Baldwin

Anderson Junior High School took a triple-header from Baldwin last Thursday night in local basketball action.

Anderson's seventh grade boys took a 23-13 victory in the opening game while the eighth grade girls dropped Baldwin's girls 34-17 and Anderson's eighth grade boys checked the Baby Bearcats 50-33 in the night cap.

Eddie Jumper bagged eight points to lead the seventh grade boys while Kushing Sorrell paced the eighth grade girls scoring chart with 21 points while in the boys action, Jeff Harrington, Carlos Hastings and Craig Brooks all paced the scoring attack.

Anderson's chargers will play at Kossuth next Monday night and will also be competing in the Marietta Junior High Tourney scheduled for Nov. 26-Dec. 1.

Bearcats Drop Carrollton For Civitan Bowl Victory

OXFORD—Baldwyn's Bearcats scored 20 points in the second half here last Friday night to take a commanding 30-6 victory over North Carrollton in the Annual Civitan Bowl in Oxford.

The Bearcats, who had to be the favorites considering the outstanding season they've had this year, led by just four points in the first half but turned on the steam in the latter stages to take the bowl victory.

The Bearcats went into Friday's contest with a very impressive 8-3 overall record and can clearly mark up 1979 as an outstanding year.

The Baldwyn troop opened the scoring early in the opening quarter when runningback Carl Hall plunged over from the one yard line for the first score of the night. Placekicker Jackie Thomas added the point after and the Bearcats held a 7-0 lead.

Carrollton came back at the powerful Bearcats and scored their first and later proved to be their only score of the night. Carrollton speedster Billy Jordan ran through the Baldwyn defense and raced 21 yards for the score. The conversion failed and the Bearcats held a slim 7-6 lead.

Baldwyn added to the one point margin late in the first half when Thomas split the uprights with a 30 yard field goal to give the Bearcats a 10-6 margin at the half.

In the third quarter Bearcat runningback Terry Tyes, who has had a top notch season, dashed four yards for the second six pointer of the night.

In the fourth and final quarter the Bearcats scored twice more. One came on a four yard burst by Mark Anderson and then Mark McCreary added the final tally of the night on a 20 yard sprint off right tackle. Thomas added one of the two extra points and the Bearcats took the 24 point victory.

With the victory, the Bearcats ended the 1979 season with a very impressive 9-3 overall record and a 5-3 record in the Tombigbee Conference. The three losses could have easily been victories.

Overall, one would have to chalk up 1979 as a very successful year for the Bearcats.

FREE BALL—These two local performers battle here in action of the New Site Basketball Tournament held last week. The girls played an elimination event with Alcorn Central taking top honors.

Wheeler Tournney Now Underway

The 37th Annual Wheeler Turkey Tournament got underway here last night (Tuesday) and will continue through the finals slated for Saturday night.

Some seven schools will vie for championship honors in both boys and girls play in the elimination event.

Booneville's Blue Devils and Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats are the defending champions of the event. A new champion is assured this year since Booneville's boys dropped out of the tournament this time around. Baldwyn's girls will be on hand though to defend their title of a year ago.

Action got underway Tuesday night at 7 p.m. with Thrasher and Baldwyn girls battling each other followed by Mooreville against Jumptown's boys at 8:15. Results of those games were not available at press time.

Tonight's action pits Houlka's girls facing the Thrasher-Baldwyn winner at 7 p.m. followed by Baldwyn's boys against Houlka in the nightcap at 8:15.

Action Thursday night pits Jumptown and Mooreville girls battling each other at 7 p.m. while Wheeler's Eagles will meet the Baldwyn-Houlka winner at 8:15.

Semi-final action gets underway Friday at 7 p.m. with the finals of the tournament slated for Saturday beginning at 7 p.m. with the girls game and the boys game at 8:15.

Make your plans to attend this great basketball tournament...

DEVILS ON DEFENSE—Booneville's Chris Williams (24) and Robin Young battle here against New Site in action of last week's tournney.

1979 College Bowl Lineup

The 1979 College Bowl lineup was given last Saturday at the end of the day's football games and this year, as in the past, it's just as confusing as ever.

Some of the bowls are already decided while others will have to wait a week to determine their representatives.

One of the most unusual occurrences in the Sugar Bowl. Should Alabama lose to Auburn Saturday, the Crimson Tide just might be left out of the bowl picture altogether. If Auburn beats the Tide, then Georgia would go to the Sugar Bowl and with most of the other bowls decided, where would that leave the number one rank Alabamians. Confusing isn't it?...

Marietta Basketball Tournney Set

The Second Annual Marietta Junior High Basketball Tournament has officially been set for Nov. 26-Dec. 1 at the Marietta School.

Marietta coach Ricky Howell announced that this year's tournament will be even bigger and better than ever and added that some outstanding schools had been scheduled for the event.

Schools participating in the tournament are, Marietta, Wheeler, New Site, Hills Chapel, Booneville, Baldwyn and New Albany.

Coach Howell also said that one additional school Man-tachie had indicated they might enter the tournament.

Competition will be held in both seventh and eighth grade boys and girls brackets.

Marietta is the defending champion of last year's first tournney event and will back this time around to defend their title with several teams vying to knock them out of the first place seat.

Coach Howell said beautiful trophies will be presented to the winners and added that he hoped for a large crowd to come out to this tournament.

Three games will be held each night with four games scheduled for the finals.

200,000 Sportsmen Hunt Deer

Some 200,000 state hunters flocked to the woods last Saturday for the opening of the 1979 deer season.

Hunters from all across the state turned out for the one of the most favorite sports on the calendar.

Several hunters were reported here in Prentiss County while most of the area hunters flocked to all parts of the state to hunt deer.

Richard Yancey, executive director of the state Department of Wildlife Conservation, indicated hunters may have a more bountiful harvest than a year ago.

Last year hunters killed just under 60,000 deer including 6,155 on 32 public hunting spots across the state. Another 51,406 were harvested from open areas in the counties.

The first season will extend through Dec. 1. The season opening Dec. 16-23 will be still hunting only. The final gun season begins Dec. 26 and ends Jan. 15.

Safety Check Can Prove Vital

Safety Check Of Heating Devices Before Lighting May Prevent Fire

The coming of cold weather heralds the advent of another holiday season; but those who hastily rush to light furnaces, space heaters, fireplaces and such may soon find themselves without a home in which to celebrate.

The Insurance Information Institute advises residents that heating devices need to be inspected before being used for the first time to prevent unsafe conditions from possibly causing a fire.

For furnaces and space heaters, it is especially important to clean the unit of trash and dust before lighting. If lit while dirty, the materials could ignite and send a ball of flame shooting out of the device.

Residents should also check for leaking gas by smelling the air around the unit. If gas is detected, have a repairman check the furnace.

The instructions for lighting the unit should be followed carefully, and the pilot light should be burning correctly before the main part of the heater is fired.

Once the heater is lit, residents should be careful to keep flammable materials, such as clothing and doors, away from the unit.

Those home owners who installed a wood-burning stove or a fireplace this past year may have altered the fire insurance coverage on their home. They should check with their insurance agent about their new unit.

The Institute also offers the following tips for the safe use of fireplaces and wood-burning stoves:

- Check the chimney to make sure that it is in good condition and that it has a flue lining. Also check that it is free of bird nests and other obstructions that could ignite or cause smoke to fill the house.

- Do not use a fireplace chimney for venting a wood stove unless the fireplace opening is sealed off to prevent toxic gases from backing up into the room.

- Avoid connecting more than one heating device to a single chimney flue because flue gases and sparks may pass from one flue opening to another, causing unsatisfactory operation.

- Use wood that has been seasoned at least six months, and preferably a year, to help prevent creosote from forming on the lining of the flue. A spark can ignite creosote, causing what can be an extremely hot and dangerous fire.

- Before starting the fire, make sure the flue is open so that the house won't fill with smoke.

- Burn wax firelogs one at a time. Using more than one can cause a fire so hot that soot accumulation will catch fire, sending sparks onto the chimney and onto the roof and trees.

- Wood-burning stoves should always sit on a fireproof pad and have at least 36 inches of clearance on each side. Protect surfaces that may be too close with a panel of fireproof material.

- Crack a window for ventilation if a house is tightly insulated.

- Never leave a wood fire burning unattended or overnight, and dispose of ashes in a closed metal container outside the house.

The Institute also suggests that residents buy a fire extinguisher for the home and keep it readily available in case a fire does break out.

Murphys Attend IH Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Murphy recently participated in the introduction of International Harvester's new and expanded line of higher horsepower lawn and garden tractors in Chicago.

The Murphys of Murphys International, Inc., attended the introduction of IH's Series 82 International Cadet tractors with 2,000 other IH dealers from the U.S. and Canada, as well as distributors and dealers from overseas.

During the two-day program, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy visited IH's Product Support Center in Hinsdale, Ill., outside of Chicago. At these facilities, located across from IH's Engineering Center where the smaller tractors as well as IH's big ones are engineered, the dealer learned firsthand about the company's tractors, 8 to 11 h.p. Equipped with more horsepower, including twin cylinder engines, and additional customer-convenience features, the new models are designed to match the look of IH's bigger agricultural tractors.

"The color change from traditional yellow and white to IH red, plus other design changes, will reinforce to the customer that IH's smaller tractors are engineered and manufactured just like the big ones, with the same quality, reliability and parts and service support," Mr. Murphy added.

Murphys International Inc. is located at Hwy. 45 North, Booneville, Ms.

Mr. R.F. Bain Receives Plaque

The deacons of the Mt. Olive Church of God recently presented an appreciation plaque to R.F. Bain in honor of his dedicated service to the church through the years.

Bain, who was also honored with an 80th birthday party on Oct. 14, has rendered his services to the church for 40 years, the deacons said.

All six of Bain's children were present for the presentation of the award. They are Mrs. Eura Lambert, Mrs. Jewel Laster, Mrs. Lonnie Morgan, and Mrs. Garvin Laster, all of Booneville, Mr. Marvin Bain of Biggersville, and Mr. James Bain of Corinth.

A number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and one great-granddaughter were also present.

Decorative Ways For Serving Butter

For holiday meals, everyone usually takes a little more effort to make foods more attractive. Since butter is always served at every meal, why not dress-it-up a bit? One way is to form softened butter into small balls and then roll in red paprika and chill. Finely chopped parsley is another idea for coating butter balls. If you have butter paddles, they make attractive balls easily. First scald the paddles, then chill. Measure firm but not too cold butter by tablespoons for uniformity. Roll lightly between paddles to form textured butter balls, dipping paddles frequently in ice water. Drop butter balls into ice water until ready for use.

A decorated butter stick is another easy way to show-off your creativity. Remove one firm stick of butter from the refrigerator and immediately draw the top of a very pointed teaspoon lengthwise down the butter stick. The butter will form a curl as you pull the top of the spoon over it. Tighten the curl with your fingertips and place on waxed paper. Repeat this process several times, dipping the spoon into ice water between forming each. Curl. Place the stick of butter, shaved side down on a chilled butter dish. Arrange butter curls on top and center with a small spring of parsley. These may be made ahead and frozen, but wait and add the parsley at serving time.

To make Butter Roses, cut a stick of butter into six equal parts. Let stand at room temperature for five to ten minutes. Place butter cubes, cut side up, on a flat surface. Press a salad fork against one corner of a cube and press up and toward the center while holding the opposite corner steady with thumb and forefinger. Repeat for each corner. Dip fork in cold water between each use. Chill Butter Roses until serving time.

Wooden butter molds are available in a variety of sizes. Before using a butter mold, rinse in very hot water, then chill in ice water completely.

Pack immediately with firm, but not too cold butter, working quickly. Make sure all air holes are eliminated. Immediately remove the butter by pushing the plunger or releasing the hinges. Keep well chilled.

Energy Independence Is Goal Of Bill

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

A move finally is being proposed by the U.S. government to try to dry up some of America's insatiable appetite for foreign oil by offering incentives for the development of domestic energy sources.

The 96th Congress has before it a Senate bill called the Agricultural, Forestry and Rural Energy Act of 1979. It is designed to enable the U.S. to achieve net energy independence for agricultural and forest production, processing, and marketing, and a 50 percent reduction in petroleum and natural gas use by rural residents and communities by the year 2000.

Under the bill, U.S. dependence on imported energy would be reduced by promoting the development of alternative energy supplies from agricultural commodities, forest products, and their wastes and residues, and by stimulating rural energy conservation practices on farms and in rural areas.

If passed with proposed funding it would create potentially powerful new research under the auspices of the department of agriculture.
Annually $50 million would be spent for research at the college and university level, while an additional $55 million would go annually to fund
Extension research projects.
About half a dozen wood energy centers would be set up in various regions with up to $30 million available annually for their operation.

The Cooperative Forestry Assistance Act of 1978 would be amended to provide that land used to produce timber for wood energy would be eligible for cost-sharing assistance under the forestry incentives program. A five-year pilot program would be set up under USDA to provide loans to owners of 5,000 acres or less of private forest land to boost timber production. Up to $5 million each would be provided for direct loans or loan guarantees to qualified landowners with a ceiling of $50,000 for any one landowner.

Up to $8.5 million would be available for providing more technical assistance in the state forestry agencies. About half a dozen regional agricultural biomass energy centers would be established with $30 million funding. These centers would be at existing ag research facilities and would conduct research and demonstration projects and would be used to train extension personnel to conduct agricultural biomass energy workshops.

USDA would loan $250

million directly and guarantee $12 billion in other loans annually for on-farm or commercial projects for the production or use of energy from ag and forestry crops or for rural energy conservation projects. The government also would award grants for demonstration projects of $100 million annually through the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The Consolidated Farm and Rural Development Act would be amended to provide farm ownership loans for nonfossil fuel energy systems used in farm operations, and farm operating loans for equipment that uses energy derived from renewable resources or which decrease energy consumption.
For the former, $50 million would be provided, and for the latter, $20 million for 1982 and 1983.

Rural industrialization loans

for commercially feasible projects for renewable resources energy production would be provided, with $20 million for direct loans and $250 million for guaranteed loans. Projects that would generate electricity for non-petroleum sources would receive a $25 million loan funding.

The Rural Electrification Administration would be authorized to make grants for alternative energy projects such as small scale
hydropower, geothermal, fuel cell, wind, solar, and biomass projects. Grants would total $10 million for 1981, $20 million for 82, $25 million for '83, and $30 million for '84.

Through the Agricultural Conservation Program, cost sharing and technical assistance would be offered farmers for energy conservation measures.

A Tot Finder fire rescue sticker could save your child's life in a fire, by guiding fire fighters and rescue personnel straight to the child's room. They also direct rescue efforts to the room of elderly persons or others who might need special help to escape a burning home.

If you're a customer with a checking or savings account or if you open a new account, you can get Tot Finder stickers from any office of the Bank. All you have to do is ask for it. Then, use it. After all, our greatest asset is you, so we want you and your family to be safe.

Get your Tot Finder stickers the next time you visit the Bank. Then, use them. They help fire fighters help your family — at a time when every second counts.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Who Will You Serve?
By Florene Ables

"Behold I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; a blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: And a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the Lord your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known." (Deut. II: 26-28).

In the first chapter of the book of Galatians we find Paul's warning to the Galatians. "I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel: which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. (Gal. I:6-8).

Friends the choice has been given and the choice is ours; only we can make the choice for ourselves. The choice we make will affect our lives to the uttermost. Who will you serve God or man? Which will you receive a blessing or a curse? Oh for the answer of every man to be the same as that of Joshua "...but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." (Joshua 24:15b).

Elderly Gain From Food Stamp Rule

WASHINGTON—The rural poor and the elderly are the chief beneficiaries of changes in the food stamp program which took effect last January, according to a study soon to be issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Testifying before the House Committee on Agriculture recently, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said dropping the requirement that people must come up with a lump sum of cash to buy their food stamps added 2.9 million people to the program. Nearly half that number, he said, are the rural poor. At the same time, he said, the number of elderly households in the program increased by 32 percent while all other increased by only 14 percent.

Citing the study, which evaluates the effect of 1977 food stamp reform legislation, Bergland said, "the gap between the poor and the rest of the country appears to be widening."

While overall incomes have increased by 31 percent between February 1976 and April 1979, he said preliminary department data suggest incomes of people using food stamps increased at less than one-third that rate. These same data indicate that the majority of food stamp households have gross incomes of less than $300 a month or $3,600 a year.

In addition, the study showed that between 500,000 and 700,000 people were dropped from the program when income eligibility limits were lowered this year. In addition, several million people received cuts in benefits, according to Bergland.

Bergland also said each one percent increase in unemployment adds 750,000 people to food stamp rolls. Because of rising unemployment and continued inflation, he said, the cost of the food stamp program could increase from $6.9 billion in fiscal 1979 to $8.3 billion in fiscal 1980.

Bergland said increases in participation as a result of the 1977 reform legislation leveled off in March and are not a factor in the expected increase in the cost of the food stamp program in 1980.

Bergland said there were problems in precisely predicting unemployment levels and inflation rates and asked Congress to eliminate spending ceilings imposed on the food stamp program with the 1977 reform legislation.

"The experience of the past two years has shown that the specific dollar authorization ceilings are not workable," he said. He said benefits would have to be reduced if insufficient amounts are appropriated. "I do not think it is healthy to place the food stamp program in an annual crisis due to the uncertainty of economic forecasts," he said.

He said the department was forced to request a supplemental appropriation from Congress this summer to keep the program running. Increases in food costs, Bergland said, accounted for $800 million of the additional appropriation.

"If food prices had held at the levels originally predicted we would not have exceeded the cap last year," Bergland said.

Bergland said the department is continuing to try to reduce fraud and error in the food stamp program.

In January, the department will begin requiring people to pay back the value of food stamps received fraudulently before they can again be eligible for the program. As an incentive to states to pursue fraud cases, a portion of this recovered money is now returned to the state.

Also, Bergland said, the department is proposing that states pick up part of the cost of food stamps which they issue erroneously.

"This would make a major change in the program," he said, "as it would make states liable for losses due to high error rates."

To help states lower their error rates and verify the incomes of people applying for food stamps, the department is also proposing that states be given access to social security and unemployment compensation records, he said.

Public Accounting Seminar To Be Held In Jackson

Mississippi Public Accountants will have the opportunity to further their knowledge in the area of financial statement presentation and disclosures, management advisory services, and transfers of accounting practices, at a seminar to be held at the Holiday Inn North, in Jackson, Miss., on Nov. 29, 30, and Dec. 1.

Featured speaker will be Ralph H. Dakdduk of R.H. Dakdduk & Associates, Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Dakdduk is a national, regional and state lecturer, and has lectured before numerous accounting and tax practitioner groups, as well as other professional and business organizations in the United States and Canada. He is a licensed and registered public Accountant in Ohio, enrolled to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service, accredited in accountancy by the

Accreditation Council for Accountancy, and in past president and past chairman of the board of directors of the Public Accountants' Society of Ohio.

The continuing professional education seminar will focus on an in-depth presentation of financial statements and disclosure rules, along with the various reports that accompany the financial statements.

In addition, Mr. Dakdduk will devote a portion of the seminar to a discussion on the various management advisory services that public accountants offer to their clients. The program also includes an discussion on the transfer of accounting practices, by purchase and sale.

The two-and-a-half-day seminar is sponsored by the Mississippi Association of Public Accountants, and according to their president, Marshall E. Jenkins, it is expected to be the largest and best attended seminar ever sponsored by MAPA.

The Seminar will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from 8:30-10 in the morning on Saturday. It will include lectures, supplemented with examples and hand-out literature for review and future references.

The seminar is open to all MAPA members and to non-member accountants and tax practitioners. Advanced registration and information may be obtained by calling 353-1555, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday-Friday, or by mail to MAPA, P.O. Box 2334, Jackson, MS. 39205.

Telephone Service Is

Restored To Coast Fast

The final group of more than 44,000 South Central Bell Telephone lines temporarily silenced by Hurricane Frederic were returned to service within one month of the day the violent storm slammed ashore between Mobile, Alabama and Pascagoula, Mississippi.

"South Central Bell repair crews restored two-thirds of the affected telephone lines within a week after the hurricane," said Frank Edmonds, Mississippi vice president. "It was a costly restoration job for us as we sustained over eight million dollars in damages to our facilities," Edmonds said.

Skilled employees from Kentucky, Louisiana and Tennessee were brought in to assist Mississippi installation and repair forces which worked around the clock in the hurricane-devastated areas until restoration was complete.

"Since Bell equipment and procedures are standardized throughout the nation repair crews dispatched from other South Central states or Bell System companies can go to work with a minimum of delay in service interruption situations," Edmonds said.

Edmonds added that the telephone service restoration in the hurricane-damaged areas would also have been more difficult without the support and cooperation received from two other Bell System partners--AT&T's Long Lines department and Western Electric.

"For example, Long Lines' help in effectively managing the flow of calls into and out of the stricken area after the hurricane hit enabled many essential telephone calls to be completed despite congestion on the network," Edmonds pointed out. "And on a moments notice Western Electric's Materials Management Center in Montgomery shipped an emergency supply of some 250 miles of service wire and cable to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. This shipment required 136 reels and 17 tractor-trailers to transport," he said.

Edmonds added that the Western Electric Distribution Center in New Orleans also shipped about 50 miles of strand-used to support aerial telephone cable to the coast. In addition, Western Electric distribution centers in Birmingham and Jackson shipped needed material to the stricken areas.

Food Poisoning Can Spoil Your Holiday Meal

Don't let Salmonella spoil your holiday dinner.

Salmonella, bacteria frequently found in raw poultry, eggs, meat, and dairy products, can cause food poisoning if ingested. In the human gastrointestinal tract, salmonella produces irritation which can result in abdominal cramps and pain, diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, and fever. Symptoms range from only mild discomfort to life-endangering general infections.

Although salmonella contamination can take place during food production, handling, or storage in manufacturing plants, it usually stems from improper handling of food during preparation in the home. You can lessen the threat of infections from food poisoning by following some simple rules:

-Wash raw food carefully and thoroughly before preparation.

-Wash hands and utensils thoroughly after handling raw foods to lessen the possibility of contamination of cooked or ready to eat foods.

-Follow directions for storing, preparing, or serving quick-frozen foods. Storage at proper temperatures prevents salmonella growth and thorough cooking will kill it. -Do not thaw frozen raw poultry at room temperature. Thaw in the refrigerator or use cool running water.

-Do not stuff turkeys or chickens the night before cooking, as salmonella will multiply quickly under these conditions. Stuff just prior to roasting. Never store stuffing in the leftover turkey or cook the turkey partially in one place and finish cooking it later.

-Refrigerate leftovers promptly and heat thoroughly before reserving. (Gravies should be reheated to "rolling boil.")

-Refrigerate all dairy products, including mixtures made from dry base.

-Make sure perishable foods are kept cold until eaten. Foods which tend to spoil easily without refrigeration should not be exposed to room temperatures for more than one-half hour before eating.

-Avoid taste a raw food preparations containing eggs or pastry mixes. Never taste a suspected product to see if it is safe to eat; this is a potentially fatal act. Cracked eggs are often contaminated and should be discarded.

IN THE OFFSHORE GAS MARKETS WE'RE WORKING FOR YOU

Offshore in the Gulf of Mexico lie some of the nation's largest gas reserves. Only partially developed, they represent one of the nation's great hopes to increase domestic production.

And too, they represent a source of increased gas supplies for the homes, businesses and industries of the Gulf South, as United Gas continues its success in acquiring its fair share of new production.

More than a dozen major interstate gas pipelines are competing for these offshore reserves. Of these companies, only United Gas brings significant quantities of the gas production into ALL of the Gulf South states. To transport this much-needed natural gas ashore, United Gas has participated in the construction and expansion of multi-million dollar pipeline systems which extend far into the Gulf.

These long gas transmission lines, constructed in partnership with other major interstate pipeline companies, bring Gulf of Mexico gas to onshore markets in great volumes. But their significance is more than that: only because United Gas shares in this production does the five-state Gulf South get its fair share of the natural gas at its doorstep.

The more success United Gas has in acquiring offshore gas supplies, the more natural gas will be delivered to the Gulf South.
