Local Officer Killed Wednesday

"BUTCH" NANNEY

A one car accident between Baldwyn and Marietta claimed the life of an off-duty Booneville Police officer Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5.

Glen Steven "Butch" Nanney, 35, a lieutenant with the Booneville Police Department was apparently killed instantly when the vehicle he was driving flipped over, throwing him from the car. The automobile rolled over Nanney and came to rest upside down, according to the investigating officer.

Another passenger in the car, Roger Henderson, also of Booneville, was taken to the Booneville hospital by Prentiss County Sheriff's Deputy Joey Cobb. Henderson was checked and treated for minor injuries and released, according to Mississippi Highway Patrolman Mansell Pruitt, who investigated the accident.

However, Henderson's wife reported to the Banner-Independent that he continued to hurt from the accident the next day and went to Tupelo for X-rays. There it was discovered that his breastbone was broken in two places and he was admitted to the Tupelo hospital.

Pruitt said that the wreck, which occurred at approximately 5:50 p.m., happened in a hairpin curve on the Baldwyn-Marietta Road (Highway 366) near the South Prentiss Church.

The 1978 Lincoln which Nanney was driving was westbound on the highway when the accident occurred, Pruitt said. "The car ran off

Cain Recommends Removing Separate Districts From Voting

In a meeting last Monday, Dec. 3, Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain recommended to the Prentiss County School board that efforts be taken to remove persons living in the Baldwyn and the Booneville separate school districts from eligibility in voting for the Prentiss County Superintendent of Education and any other matters pertaining to the Prentiss County School District in future elections.

The Prentiss County School Board itself does not have the authority to remove those districts from eligibility to vote on these matters. However, Cain recommended that the board ask a member of the state Legislature to introduce a bill to that effect.

If such a bill were to be passed, persons living within the boundaries of the Booneville and the Baldwyn separate school districts would not be eligible to vote for future county Superintendent of Education candidates, nor would they be eligible to vote on matters pertaining to the county schools.

Cain said that it is not unusual for separate school districts not to be included in the voting on such matters.

Persons living in the Baldwyn Separate School District on the Lee County side have not voted on such issues in that county for a number of years, Cain said. The Corinth separate school district was taken out of voting in the Alcorn County school system last year, he continued. Also, the city of Tupelo does not vote in Lee County elections pertaining to the school system, he added.

Last Chance Friday For Letters To Santa

Today and tomorrow are the last two days left for boys and girls to get their letters to Santa to the Banner-Independent if they want them published in our annual Christmas edition.

All letters to appear in this special edition, which will be published next Thursday, Dec. 20, must be in by tomorrow, Dec. 14. Any letters received after that date will not appear in the paper, but will be forwarded to Ole Saint Nick at the North Pole so that no one will get left out.

Boys and girls sending their letters to the Banner-Independent should include their full name, age and address. The letters should be addressed to Santa Claus, c/o The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, Miss. 38829. Or the letters may be hand delivered to the newspaper office at 210 Main Street, across from the city hall.

More Benefits To Some

According to the Prentiss County Food Stamp office, certain local households may be entitled to increased food stamp benefits, effective Jan. 1, 1980.

Only those households with at least one member who is 60 or older, a recipient of SSI, or a recipient of disability social security benefits can be eligible for the new deductions.

If a household member meets one of these requirements and has medical expenses in excess of $35 or the household has: high shelter costs, the local welfare or food stamp office will, upon request, recompute benefits for that household in order to determine whether or not the household is eligible for increased food stamp benefits.

EFC Hearing Set Monday For County School Plan

Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain said Tuesday that Dr. Frank Lovell Jr., Executive Secretary of the State Education Finance Commission (EFC) has told him that the Prentiss County School Board's latest long-range consolidation plan has been placed on the agenda for the Commission's meeting next Monday, Dec. 17.

This latest plan was submitted to the EFC following the approval of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District by the EFC on Nov. 19. It is a revised version of an earlier plan that became no longer applicable when the city schools were removed from the county school system by the EFC's approval of the separate school district.

The plan to be considered by the EFC next week calls for the consolidation of all the county high schools into two centrally located high schools. Other items were to remain the same as the previous plan submitted, except for the elimination of any reference to the four Booneville schools.

This would mean that the New Site attendance center would be closed, but centers for grades 1-8 would continue to be located at Hills Chapel, Jumpertown, Marietta, Thrasher and Wheeler, if the plan is approved.

Want To Be Heard? Call 728-6215!

Something bugging you? Something you want to let steam off about? Someone you want to praise? Or a condition you want to criticize?

Well, now there is somewhere you can do just that. Beginning this week, the Banner-Independent is starting a new column called "Speaking Out" which will give local residents a place to voice their opinions.

"Speaking Out" is a recording device connected to one of our telephone lines. Anyone who has something to say, may call in and leave their message on the tape recorder for publication on our editorial page. Callers do not have to leave their names.

In the beginning, the recorder will shut off after about 30 seconds, so if you call in about something that is on your mind, have your thoughts prepared so that you can keep it brief. We hope to increase the time on the recorder soon.

If you would like to voice your opinion on something, you can call any night after 6 p.m. to leave your message. The phone number is 728-6215.

The Banner-Independent reserves the right to edit copy for correct language usage. We also reserve the right to reject any calls which we feel are not in good taste, or which are unsubstantiated personal attacks on an individual.

All comments which are of a legitimate nature will be published.

We're looking forward to hearing from you.

To Lose 'A Lot'

It Only Takes 'A Few'

She left her car unattended for "only a few minutes" while she ran to a near by store to purchase one more gift. When she returned 20 minutes later, all her packages were gone from the back seat.

This incident did not happen in Booneville, but it probably will between now and Christmas. Booneville Police Chief Windell Stacy reports that, while the practice is not yet widespread, there have been several reports of packages being taken from parked cars. And he says the incidence of this crime, like shoplifting, always increases as Christmas approaches.

Stacy cautions all shoppers to lock their cars even though they only plan to leave it unattended for a few minutes.

"But remember this," Stacy added. "Visible packages are an invitation to thieves. The safest way is to put all packages, purses and other valuables in your locked trunk.

Most thieves would be happy to break a car window or lock to get to valuables that are in plain view.

Stacy added that a prime target for thieves is guns.

Recommended For County

Single Number Reporting System

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles dealing with an Emergency Response Plan developed by the Yellow Creek Watershed Authority for Prentiss County.

The purpose of the plan is to increase the effectiveness of the county's emergency services, allowing units to respond to emergency situations in the least amount of time possible.

This plan has been submitted to the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and the Prentiss County Emergency Response

Committee for study. These officials will then decide if it is economically feasible to implement some, or all, of the suggestions made in the plan.

Today's article deals with the recommendations for a countywide emergency communications system.

An effective communications system is the backbone of any emergency response system. In rural areas, the factors of time and distance become even more critical in life threatening situations where minutes often mean the difference between life and death.

The need for rapid response is dramatically illustrated by two simple facts: the brain begins to suffer permanent damage if it is deprived of oxygen for six minutes and house fires are virtually uncontrollable after ten minutes.

The communications system recommended by R. Edward Hunley and Louis C. Bohor-fous, who prepared the Prentiss County Emergency Response Plan, has four major functional requirements: (1) a single telephone number reporting system, (2) 24 hour-per-day staffing by trained information gatherers, (3) timely and effective notification or alerting of all responders (both paid and volunteer), and (4) the establishment of an interagency communications network.

New Site Association Receives FmHA Grant

Congressman Jamie Whitten's office notified the Banner-Independent this week that Federal funds totaling $71,000 have been approved to help in the financing of the New Site Water Association in Prentiss County.

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) funds, made up of a $38,200 grant and a $32,800 loan, will be used to complete a water treatment plant to serve some 242 rural users, according to Whitten's office.

"Most of the places where they have separate school districts, they do not vote in the county elections (pertaining to schools)," Cain said. "Some places do," he added.

If the state legislature passes on Cain's recommendation, "that will also get me," he said. "I live in the city, so I'm not showing any partiality whatsoever."

"If we are going to have to operate on county money," Cain continued, "the county people do not need the people from the city voting on the different issues and electing the man that they want."

Cain pointed out that if the city should change its mind and not go with the separate school district, his recommendation on voting would be "null and void."

Cain's recommendation to the school board that it seek legislation to restrict the voting on county school issues to those residents who live outside the separate school districts was approved by a vote of four in favor of the recommendation and one abstaining from voting.

Offices at the junior college will remain open all next week, Dec. 17-21, but will close the following week, Dec. 24-28. They will open Monday, Dec. 31, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and will be closed all day Tuesday, Jan. 1.

The offices will open for normal hours again, beginning Wednesday, Jan. 2.

Single Number

THERE ARE PRESENTLY at least 10 telephone numbers in Prentiss County through which people can request emergency assistance: Miss. Corps Ambulance Service, Civil Defense, Booneville City Fire Department, Booneville Police Department, Baldwin Police Department, Baldwin Fire Department and Prentiss County Sheriff's Department (some of these agencies have more than one listing).

With so many numbers, people are often confused as to which one to call. Often the person answering the telephone doesn't get the proper information and, as a result, the proper responders are not notified or dispatched to the scene or are at least delayed unnecessarily.

The YCWA plan recommends that a single telephone number be listed for all emergency calls within the county. The telephone would be manned 24 hours-per-day with a professional staff trained in getting the proper information from the person requesting help. The information gatherer would then be responsible for notifying the appropriate responding agency or organization and require verification that a responder has been dispatched.

The beginnings for such a system have already been established in that the city of Booneville has agreed to take calls for emergencies from the various districts in the county provided that the county install and pay the monthly service charge for the telephone. The county telephone is to be located in the city fire department which is staffed around the clock. However, the duty firemen are not specifically trained to gather pertinent information.

IN ORDER FOR THE single number reporting system to be effective, it must be manned around the clock by people trained specifically for this purpose.

The need for specifically trained information gatherers has been demonstrated through radio traffic in the three county area of Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo being monitored by the Yellow Creek Watershed authority. Recent incidents have shown that often insufficient information on the nature of the emergency was collected from the caller.

On several occasions it was noted that delays of up to 30 minutes were involved before fire or ambulance units were dispatched to the scene in requests for assistance given to law enforcement agencies. In other instances, directions to an accident were not understood by the receiver.

In each instance, unnecessary delays could have been avoided if a trained staff person had answered the call and notified appropriate responders in accordance with proper procedures.

ONE OF THE MOST critical parts of the emergency response process is the procedure and methods for alerting volunteer responders that their assistance is needed. With the exception of the Baldwin Volunteer Fire Company, all other volunteer companies are alerted by telephone.

Usually a call comes into the Booneville City Fire Department. If the fire is in one of the surrounding rural communities, the fire chief of the volunteer fire company in that district is called. The chief then calls other volunteers who respond. This method is ineffective and unreliable.

The YCWA plan recommends that each volunteer fire-rescue unit be equipped with pocket pagers as the primary alerting method. The chief and up to four volunteers in each unit would be equipped with tone alerting pagers. They could then all be alerted at the same time from the central communications post.

The chief's pager would be a two-way radio which would also allow him to give instructions to his men over their pagers. The response vehicle for the unit would also be equipped with a two-way radio for communications between the men and the communications center.

THE INTERAGENCY COMMUNICATIONS network recommended by the YCWA is to allow for coordination between the agencies involved the road into the ditch," Pruitt said. "It hit the ditch and overturned, throwing him (Nanney) out and pinning him."

The highway Patrol officer said that there was no indication at the scene that Nanney had been speeding excessively. There was no evidence of speeding from the tire marks at the scene, nor from the condition of the vehicle, he said. "The car was not torn up enough for it to have been traveling at an excessive speed," Pruitt said.

There have been several serious accidents in this particular curve over the years, according to residents in the area.

"It looked like he was thrown out the back glass," Pruitt said. "The doors were still closed. If he had had his seat belt fastened, he probably would not have received more than minor injuries." Henderson was not thrown from the vehicle.

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy said that Nanney had been with the Booneville Police Department for about six years. "He was a good officer," the chief said. "He was always interested in his work; always on time."

Nanney also worked for a short time as a radio operator-dispatcher with the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department. Sheriff Ralph Martin echoed Chief Stacy's statement that he was a "good officer."

Funeral services for Nanney was conducted at 1 p.m. Friday, Dec. 7, from the chapel of E.E. Salts and Son Funeral Home. Brother Bill Huggins officiated, with burial in the Booneville Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Bobby Nell Nanney of Booneville; one daughter, Miss Robbie Nanney; one son, Steve Nanney; his mother, Mrs.

Evelyn Nanney of Booneville; and four brothers, David Nanney of Baltimore, Md., and Jack Nanney, Jimmy Nanney and Dexter Nanney, all of Booneville.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, what did Jesus mean when he said, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me?"

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: This passage (Matt. 16:24-25) is frequently misunderstood. Most of us see a burden but the Lord sees a release and joy. While we speak of freedoms and cherish them, it is ironic that most of life's real joys come from the burdens of life. For example, Children are expensive, difficult to train, and often a source of fear and frustration. But in the long run, these so called burdens are a great joy to us. The church is time-consuming, expensive, demanding, and sometimes a source of anger or disappointment, but most of us can attest to the strength and guidance and joy we have received from christian fellowship in the church. When Jesus tells us to take up our cross and follow him, it is not a somber calling to be burdened but one of opportunity and joy. In the end you will find that the burden of the Lord is indeed light, and his yoke is easy.

Fire Department Responds To Four Fires

The Booneville Fire Department has been busy this week.

Early Thursday morning Dec. 6, members of the fire department used dry chemicals to put out a fire under the hood of a 1968 Ford driven by Debra Robinson. The car only sustained minor damages, the firemen reported.

Friday, Dec. 7, the fire department responded to a call at H&W Industries in the Booneville Industrial Park. The factory manufactures plastic pipe.

Apparently one of the machines that mixes the dry powder to form the plastic overheated and ignited the powder. Fire Chief Frank Fleming said that the powder does not burn with a flame, but smolders, giving off a poisonous gas.

It was necessary for firemen to don air tanks and masks before entering the building to extinguish the fire. Employees of the factory used a fork-lift to force open a door for the firemen to gain entrance. The plant was in operation at the time.

Fleming said that there was very little damage from the fire and the factory was back in operation Monday.

window of a pickup truck are a tempting target. If you normally carry guns in your pickup, take them out until after Christmas. That's the best insurance you can have that they will still be yours after the holidays."

Stacy said he has increased patrols, particularly foot patrols in the business district, for the holiday season. But with the manpower limitations of the department, it is impossible to always have a policeman where he will be needed.

"Our patrolmen are making every effort to make themselves more visible as a deterrent to all crimes, particularly shoplifting and thefts from cars," he said. "But the safest bet is to eliminate temptation by keeping cars locked and all valuables out of sight."

Chief Stacy also advised people who have neighbors who are away from home to keep a lookout for strange cars in the neighborhood, or anything strange going on around the vacant houses.

Stacy said if anyone should notice something suspicious, they should try to get the tag number and description of the car involved, if there is one, and call the police. Stacy said that such calls would be kept in confidence and emphasized that all such calls would be checked out.

Stacy also stressed the importance of city residents always locking their doors when they are away from home, even for a short time.

"A lock will not stop thieves if they are determined to get in," he said, "but it will make it a whole lot harder for them to break in than if all they had to do was just walk in an unlocked house."

Some of the firemen did receive very minor skin burns from contact with the chemicals in the building. The affected skin areas were flushed with water, but none of the firemen required further treatment.

The fire occurred at about 5:35 p.m.

On Saturday, Dec. 8, the fire department responded to a fire around 8:15 p.m. at the Gary Parks residence, Route 3, Rienzi.

The fire at the Parks' residence reportedly started in the bedroom, with extensive damage throughout the interior of the house. The bedroom was totally gutted by the fire, with other rooms in the house receiving heavy smoke and water damage, according to the firemen. The Jumpertown Volunteer Fire Department assisted in battling the blaze.

On Sunday, Dec. 9, a brick house in Marietta owned by Brooks Barnes was totally destroyed by fire. The cause of the fire has not been determined, Fleming said.

Both the Booneville Fire Department and the Marietta Volunteer Fire Department responded to the house fire.

For Last Minute Mailers

Priority Mail Speeds Delivery

There is a fast way to mail Christmas packages that many last-minute shoppers may have overlooked, according to Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright.

Priority Mail affords First-Class handling for packages weighing over 12 ounces and up to 70 pounds. It's fast and consistent, offering next-day delivery up to 150 miles from the originating post office and delivery in three days anywhere in the United States, during the Christmas season.

"It's the ideal service for people who want prompt package delivery yet avoid the higher cost of Express Mail," Wright said.

Priority Mail can be sent from any post office, station or branch or through rural carriers to any address in the United States and even to foreign countries. The service is available with insurance, return receipts, COD, certificates of mailing and special delivery.

Customers interested in Priority Mail should contact the Booneville Post Office for details.

Receives Grant For Assessment

The eleven school districts within the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District have received a grant, awarded by the Appalachian Regional Commission, to be used in assessing the basic educational needs of the schools. The findings of this assessment will then be used in designing a Regional Educational Services Agency (RESA) within the six county area.

The advisory board, comprised of school superintendents from Alcorn, Benton, Marshall, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo counties, will work with the state Department of Education for the next several months in this planning effort. "Objectives of the study," according to Dr. Jerry Stone, President of the Advisory Committee, are to (1) determine the teacher's definition of a desirable school program; (2) to locate the strengths and weaknesses of the current school program; and, (3) to define the desired end result so that the proposed RESA can focus directly on the specific elements of the educational experience, thus improving the school system."

"Information compiled from questionnaires distributed to superintendent, principals, teachers, students and parents in target areas are expected to promote community support of the program through awareness and involvement," Stone added.

CB Club Helps Handicapped

Break, nineteen, for a message straight from the heart.

Maybe they put the pedal to the metal, keep an eye peeled for smokies taking pictures and giving Green Stamps, and all those other things they gab about on their CB radios. And they get together once a month for a "social" where everybody has a good time. But that's only half the story.

They also have a monthly meeting at which they conduct the business of the club. And one part of the club's business is projects to do good things for the people of Prentiss County who are less fortunate than most of us.

For instance...

The club buys mechanized wheel chairs for those who would otherwise be restricted by the limited mobility of a hand-powered chair.

They have a Christmas party every year. And they have a great time. But most of their pleasure comes from seeing the sparkle in the eyes of the Timber Hills clients and other handicapped persons when Santa Claus walks into pass out Christmas gifts.

Maybe the reason they love to do good things for people is that some of the club members are handicapped themselves. Maybe the reason is that every single member has a great big heart that gets bigger when they help others.

But whatever the reason, they do it. And they deserve the encouragement, help, respect and gratitude of every one of us.

So when you are listening to your CB and hear vulgar language, or somebody clattering up the waves with loud music from a commercial radio station, don't blame the CB Club. They're not those kind of folks.

They get their thrills from helping less fortunate folks. And if you haven't seen them in action you just can't believe so many people could have so much fun helping others.

So when you get a chance to help the CB Club, do it. You can be sure your help will be passed along and used where it is needed most. Not just part of it. Every single dime!

Mississippi Economic Council
The People's Business
An Editorial

Mississippi's county government system—which provides a multitude of needed services—is largely funded by property taxes. But while services rendered by county governments remain largely the same from one county to another, the method of assessing property for tax purposes is as varied as the number of counties in the state.

Assessments of property for tax purposes range from a low average of 7 percent in one county to a high average of 30 percent in other counties. This situation exists despite the fact that the Constitution stipulates that "Taxation shall be uniform and equal throughout the state."

This situation has been called the most important weakness in the tax structure of the state. This weakness affects some tax-supported activities such as junior colleges and other multi-county activities which are undergirded by local millage levies which cannot be equalized if property assessment procedures vary from county to county. Schools are financed through a combination of state aid and local property taxes, which also involves the state in property tax administration. And, investors from outside the state often hesitate to come into Mississippi when they find property taxation so loosely administered and unpredictable from one local government to another. These businesses question the tax treatment they might receive in future years.

It is for these reasons the Mississippi Economic Council believes the Legislature should take the following steps in 1980:

State Pay, Personnel Policies

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Even before they get settled in, the incoming State Legislature, heavily peopled with newcomers, will be deeply involved in what could become the hottest issue of the 1980 legislative session—how much of a pay raise state employees will get, and who will control hiring or firing, policies.

Right off the bat when they arrive here Jan. 8, the lawmakers, greenhorns and all, will have to decide if they are going to override outgoing

Gov. Cliff Finch's veto of a major bill passed at the 1979 session creating a statewide personnel system, which would give state workers greater job security against political turnovers.

Finch had vetoed the measure after the lawmakers went home last April, nullifying what is regarded as the most significant step Mississippi has ever made toward creating a statewide merit system for state jobholders.

It would have merged the controversial State Classification Commission and the Merit System council and put employment of state employees under a State Personnel Board. But the underlying issue is whether or not the Personnel Board will be controlled by legislators or the governor.

That's the issue which brought the veto of the Personnel System by Finch, who contended the legislative branch, rather than the executive branch, would run the show. In fact, the State Personnel board would include four legislators and only two appointees by the governor. Incoming Gov. William Winter could have a major say so on how the veto override comes out, even though the decision will have to come before he takes office Jan. 22.

Winter will have to decide quickly if he will try to bring back to the governor's authority some of the key executive powers which the legislature has appropriated, and the State Personnel Board will be one of them where he will have to take a stand. Because many of the new, impressionable legislators are eager to follow the governor, Winter could pretty well decide the fate of the veto, to wait on what he will offer in its place.

What is uppermost in the minds of state employees at the moment, however, is how much raise they are going to get to fight the battle of inflation. Most are still suffering from the 7 percent overall raise which they got out of the 1979 Legislature that in reality was only a 2 percent hedge against inflation, considering 5 per cent is their annual step increase.

The State Employees Association of Mississippi (SEAM) has already launched its move with the lawmakers to get raises which are geared to the Consumer Price Index, now predicted to show a 13.5 per cent cost of living rise for this year.

To some extent, SEAM has gotten a boost from the State Classification Commission which recently came out with a projection that state salaries would be 15 percent below the CPI by fiscal year 1981 based on current estimates.

That 15 percent figure has become the battle cry for many state employees, and it is one that has frightened the daylight out of oldline fiscal leaders in the legislature.

In fact, this column has learned, prospective members for the House Appropriations Committee, which will have a new chairman and a number of new members, are being screened on their attitude toward a 15 percent pay raise for state employees.

Outgoing House Appropriations Chairman Charles Deaton of Greenwood, who made an unsuccessful race for governor last summer, still has considerable influence with House Speaker Buddie Newman in picking members for the committee which will handle the state employee pay raises. Deaton has already told some newcomers they won't make the committee if they won't sit on the 15 per cent pay raise.

The realities of the state's financial picture will govern in the end how much of a raise state employees will get, and that picture is now in a bleak. Unless some new revenue is turned up, it'll mean that state employees, the school teachers and the college folks will all be fighting over only $46 million in uncommitted money.

What the colleges are asking for would wipe out that $46 million in one fell swoop. So would the raises asked by the school teachers. And both those groups have a lot of clout.

But the state employees don't aim to just get the leavin's.

Lung Association Has Birthday

An open letter to all Mississippians....

The Mississippi Lung Association is joining the American Lung Association in celebration of a Diamond Jubilee—marking seventy-five years of the Christmas Seal crusade—for healthy lungs.

The Mississippi Christmas Seal voluntary health organization is recognized as being the only organization in the state solely devoted to the prevention and control of all lung diseases. This is a reputation earned through years of concerned involvement in the fight for better breathing.

Formerly known as the Mississippi TB Association and the TB-Respiratory Disease Association, the Mississippi Lung Association was chartered in 1914, ten years after the national organization.

The purpose was the same—to fight tuberculosis—a job still being done today, but with current involvement expanded to include all lung and respiratory illnesses such as emphysema, asthma, tuberculosis, bronchitis, lung cancer, pneumonia, occupational lung diseases and lung diseases of the newborn.

There is a place for all Mississippians—old and young alike—to get involved with the crusade of the Mississippi

Lung Association. Services of "life and breath" are made possible to every citizen through programs of education, patient services and medical research.

The volunteer force includes 86 county and bi-county lung chapters with over 5,000 adult and 2,500 youth volunteers, assisted by various civic clubs, fraternal organizations and youth groups who conduct education, service, SUPERKIDS field day events and other fund raising programs.

Also serving as a volunteer Board of Directors are twenty-eight Mississippians who are physicians, business men and women, health professionals, educators, nurses, retirees and housewives with one commitment, the continuance and expansion of programs and services for better pulmonary health.

Seventy-five years of service is only the beginning, in the goal of a future free from lung diseases. With Mississippians helping, conducting lung programs and contribution to Christmas Seals and other MLA projects, health history can be made before the 21st century begins. It truly is a matter of "life and breath."

Security Advice

Do Burglars Pick Locks?

By ROBERT L. BIGSBY
Certified Locksmith

Do Burglars "Pick" Locks? Generally no, because it is so much easier to bypass a lock or use force.

Statistically, about one percent of all break-ins nationwide are reportedly accomplished by lock picking. I feel this may be misleading for several reasons.

First, a forced entry can occur, that leaves very little visible evidence. In such cases, police may mistakenly assume, the lock was picked. Or when a break-in occurs because a door was never even locked, a homeowner might, for insurance purposes, insist that the lock was picked. Also, when a secretly duplicated key is used to gain entry. Lock picking is often assumed.

Because of TV, many people believe it is easier to pick a lock than use a key. Actually locksmiths pick locks, not because it is faster, but because it is cheaper for the customer. A burglar on the other hand, doesn't care if you have to replace a damaged lock. Force is faster, and he is in a hurry.

Although very slight, the possibility does exist, that your locks might be picked. The knowledge and equipment necessary, is readily available, not only to licensed and bonded locksmiths, but to auto repossessioners, debt collectors, private investigators, security, police and military personnel. Freedom of the press, makes the knowledge available to anyone determined to learn.

Warded locks and disc tumbler locks are particularly vulnerable to picking. A home type pin tumbler lock can be picked because of tolerances used in their manufacture, generally, the "tighter" the lock, the harder to pick. Old, worn locks, or locks poorly made, can usually be opened by an experienced person, in mere seconds.

If your only concern is simple theft, the average home lock, will successfully frustrate most would-be CHARLIE'S ANGELS. On the other hand, if you are concerned about confidential information being stolen, your office being bugged or the threat of sabotage, locks are available to protect against surreptitious entry.

These "pick-proof" and key duplication resistant locks will not stop a determined forced entry, but do guard against surprises, by alerting you to the fact that your security has been breached, thereby allowing you to take countermeasures.

What is a Surreptitious Entry?

A "Watergate" style break-in would be a good example of this type of illegal entry, where the intent is to get into and out of a building or home, without leaving evidence, presumed, to obtain information or to sabotage the owners. This could be accomplished by "picking" a lock, or much more likely, by using a secretly duplicated key.

To prevent a key from being secretly duplicated, it is a good idea never to leave home and office keys with, say, a mechanic, while the car is being serviced—leave only those keys that are necessary and remember who you left them with. If you lose your keys, even temporarily, consider re-keying your locks. If you buy a new business or have an important change in employees, re-key your locks. Never attach address tags to your keys, if they become lost, a thief knows right where to go.

There is no effective time-limit either, a key secretly made today, could be used a year from now. When was the last time you had your locks changed?

Apartment dwellers should insist on having their locks changed when they move in—do you know the last tenant didn't keep a key?

Security may seem silly to some, but it is by no means impossible for a determined person to cause considerable damage with the aid of a key. A vengeful ex-employee could poison a restaurant's food; a hospital employee could substitute dangerous medicine; a jealous lover could eliminate the competition with a secretly placed booby-trap. The possibilities are endless. (To think, YOU were only worried about your TV being stolen.)

As you can see, locks guard more than just your property. Regardless of possibilities, plausibilities or probabilities, your keys guard your life, so GUARD YOUR KEYS WITH YOUR LIFE!

Questions for Mr. Bigsby should be addressed to Security Advice, c/o The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, MS 38829.

ENERGY UPDATE

This Land Is Your Land?

The federal government is both the nation's largest landowner and landlord. Not only does it own one-third of the country's land, but it also owns 85 per cent of the United States oil resources and 45 per cent of its timber. In 1978, more than 50 per cent of the nation's oil came from land leased from the federal government.

Synthetic Fuels to Get Go-ahead

In one form or another, President Carter's desire to get some sort of synthetic legislation through Congress will be achieved. All the committees that need to work on the proposals have done their jobs and all that remains is for the various groups to decide on final dollar figures. The Senate Energy Committee approved a measure that would authorize $20 billion in initial federal assistance for synthetic fuel plants. The Senate Banking Committee's version calls for spending only $3 billion. These plans must be melded, and then mixed in with the House version. In all, the synthetic fuels bill will only be one part of a larger energy bill which, although not yet written in final form, will include gasohol, solar energy and conservation.

UDC Holds Monthly Meet

Mrs. O.C. Robinson, president of the D.T. Beall chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, opened the December 6th meeting at 3:30 p.m. by expressing her thanks and appreciation to the hostesses, Mrs. Eudora Kemp and Mrs. Patsy Johnson, for the hospitality extended to the chapter at this time.

The Christmas setting in the Hospitality room of the Frank Haney building on the NEMJC campus was a scene of Christmas beauty. Lovely table decorations placed on snow white table linens and a beautiful Christmas tree with gift exchange packages placed beneath it made for a joyous holiday occasion.

During the social hour members enjoyed red velvet cake and coffee. A spirit of congeniality and good will prevailed amidst the chapter members.

Mrs. W.V. Kemp was the guest speaker for the Christmas program. She impressed upon the group the joys and patterns of Christmas customs and traditions that entered into the Old South's celebration of Christmas in the era of 1861-1865, with special emphasis on the children's observance in this happy time. It provided a joy for all the children and in many cases a sad time for the adults as they thought of their loved ones in the front lines and the anxiety that went along with the concern of their return home.

Southerners were a hardy lot and they managed the disappointments and inconveniences of a time over which they had no control. With love, understanding and forgiveness and in spite of hardships, they still made

Mrs. Kemp closed her program by stating that America today has clouds which appear dismal as far as our nation goes but she urged that we have strength and courage to work for a world of reason and understanding and that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified; that men will come to see more clearly, not that which divides them, but that which unites, and that each hour many bring us to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses; that the true spirit of this Christmas season reflect joy, beauty, hope and an abiding faith to build and grow in harmony and to plan for the future with confidence.

There is a great place in our society today for the common tasks. I believe you will agree when you have read the poem below, written by Grace Nell Crowell.

The Common Tasks--
The Common tasks are beautiful if we have eyes to see their shining ministry.

The plowman with his share deep in the loam;

The carpenter whose skilled hands build a home;

The gardener working with reluctant sod,

Faithful to his partnership with God--

These are the artisans of life. And, Oh,

A woman with her eyes and cheeks aglow,

Watching a kettle, tending a scarlet flame,

Guarding a little child--there is no name

For this great ministry. But eyes are dull

That do not see that it is beautiful;

That do not see within the common tasks

The simple answer to the things God asks

Of any child, a pride within His breast:

That at our given work we do our best--

Miss Maxcy To Retire
From Northeast

Members of the Associate Degree Nursing Department at Northeast Junior College will honor Miss Christine Maxcy, instructor of Nursing at Northeast since 1958, with a coffee in the Alumni Room of Frank Haney Union Thursday, Dec. 13, between the hours of 9:30 and 11 a.m. All former students, as well as fellow associates in the health profession are invited to attend.

Miss Maxcy, who plans to retire at the end of this semester, received her Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from the University of Georgia. She went on to receive her Masters in Education from Mississippi State University and has completed 18 hours toward her Masters in Nursing from the University of Mississippi.

Prior to her affiliation with Northeast, Miss Maxcy taught at the University of Tennessee, the Methodist Hospital in Memphis and the University of Southwestern Louisiana. She has also done both general and private nursing.

During her tenure at Northeast, she has seen over 500 students complete the Associate Degree Program. "Many of these," Miss Maxcy said, "have gone on to complete both their Bachelors and Masters in Nursing."

An active member of the Business and Professional

Women's Club, she also holds membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary society at Mississippi State.

"Looking back on the years, I must say that I find the greatest satisfaction in the growth of the program. Originally designed for 45 students, we now boast well over 150," Miss Maxcy said.

"Miss Maxcy will be greatly missed at Northeast," said Harold T. White, President. "She has made many lasting contributions to the nursing program as well as to the school. The loyalties she has for her profession are to be greatly admired."

Holiday Entertaining

The holidays are a perfect time for entertaining. Guests are in a festive mood and holiday foods are fun to prepare.

What could be nicer than homemade gifts from the oven. Perhaps some of these recipes can be a part of your holiday planning.

Yuletide Brownies

1/2 cup butter or margarine
two 1 oz. squares unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
3/4 cup ready-to-use mincemeat
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Melt butter and chocolate together in heavy 3 qt. saucepan over low heat. Remove from heat. Add sugar and eggs; mix well. Stir in mincemeat and vanilla. Add combined oats, 1/4 cup nuts, flour, baking powder and salt, mixing well. Spread into greased 13 x 9-inch baking pan; sprinkle remaining nuts evenly over batter. Bake at 350 degrees F. about 18 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center come out clean. Cool, cut into bars.

Divinity

2 cups water
1/2 cup water
pinch salt
7 ounce jar marshmallow creme
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup chopped pecans

Boil sugar, water and salt in covered pan until it forms a hard ball or reaches 245 degrees F. on candy thermometer. (This takes about 20 minutes.) Spoon marshmallow creme into large mixing bowl. Beat cooked mixture into marshmallow creme at slow speed of electric mixer. Then beat at high speed until medium stiff, about 7 minutes. Stir in vanilla and then mix in pecans. Drop by teaspoon on waxed paper. Yield: 3 dozen small candies.

Millionaire Candy

30 light caramels
1 tablespoon water
1 cup chopped pecans
1/4 block paraffin, chipped
5 (1-1/2 oz.) plain milk chocolate

OR 1-1/2 (7.25 oz.) plain milk chocolate candy bar

Melt caramels with 1 tablespoon water in top of a double boiler over simmering water in bottom of double boiler. Stir in nuts and mix well. Drop by teaspoon on well-buttered cookie sheet. Work fast while candy is soft and easy to dip. If it hardens, place back over pan of simmering water. Chill 1 to 2 hours in refrigerator or place in freezer until firm.

Melt chocolate bars and paraffin in double boiler top pan over simmering water in bottom pan. Leave pan over hot water. Then use teaspoon to coat caramel pieces in chocolate. Place on waxed paper. Let stand 30 minutes to 1 hour. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: 30 small candies.

Swedish Rosettes

1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon sugar

Heat 2 inches of shortening in electric fry pan to 425 degrees F. or 450 degrees F. Combine all liquid ingredients in mixing bowl. Mix in flour and sugar with fork or small wire beater. Dip rosette iron in shortening until very hot. Blot on paper towel. Dip in batter only to top edge of iron. Don't let batter lap over top of iron. Quickly transfer the coated iron to hot paper towel. Sometimes the rosettes will slip off iron when done; if not use fork to loosen edge and remove carefully. Repeat process keeping the shortening and dry until crisp and slightly brown. Remove rosette from shortening to iron hot. Sprinkle lightly with sifted powdered sugar, if desired. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: About 6 dozen rosettes.

keeping you in touch

By Bob Bartley
Corinth Manager

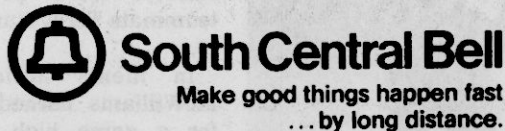

The holiday season is a great time to renew old friendships and visit with relatives by long distance. Reach out and share your holiday happenings with faraway loved ones with a long distance call.

This year, don't wait until Christmas Day to call. Call early—at least a day ahead—and you'll avoid the possibility of calling delays which might be caused by the tremendous number of calls made on holidays.

Here are some more tips that will save you time and money on long distance calls:

- Dial long distance calls yourself, the One-Plus* way, and save money. One-Plus calls cost less than operator-assisted calls.
- Organize your calls. Make a list of things you want to discuss before you call.
- If you're cut off during a long distance call or have a poor connection, both parties should hang up. Then, the party who originated the call should notify the operator who will re-establish the call and adjust the charge for the interrupted time.
- If members of your family are away from home, set a specific time to call them or have them call you. Then you can gather the whole family at the scheduled time for a nice visit by long distance.
- Keep a list of those numbers you frequently call—both in town and far away. List the numbers in a personal directory or on the Quick List on your directory cover, and you'll have them when and where you need them.
- To get the phone number of someone living in a distant city, dial 1, plus the area code (if different from your own), plus 555-1212.

*One-Plus rates do not apply to Zero-Plus dialed calls, operator-handled calls, coin telephone calls, or calls from a hotel or motel.

Congratulations to "Little Woody Woodpecker," who was chosen second alternate to the winner in the Tiny Mr. Wonderland contest. We know "Woody," and "Puppy Dog," aren't proud of him. Now we know why "Hilltopper," and "Lady Hilltopper," and "Treeclimber," and "Lady Treeclimber," wear such big smiles when his name is mentioned.

"Lady Termite's," mother continues to be a patient in Baldwin hospital in serious condition. "Texas Ruby," "Treeclimber," "Blue Surf," "Granny," "Lady Bed-springs," "Backwoods Annie," and "Lady Blue," have all had a touch of sore throats, colds, and some laryngitis. We hope everyone is feeling better and soon able to enjoy all festivity during the holidays.

All of our hearts were saddened at the tragic death of our policeman and C.B. friend Glen Nanney, better known to most of us as "Butch Cassidy." Our sympathy goes out to his family.

"Plowboy," and his better half have a new addition to their family. She weighed in at five pounds and eleven ounces and her name is Amanda Faye. They are all doing fine now.

It's been a very eventful week for the "Yo Yo" and "Thrasher Star." Along with becoming proud first time grandparents—"Hippie," gave them another daughter-in-law Saturday. Congratulations to all and best wishes.

Saturday night, Dec. 8, was a big event for the Northeast C.B. Club. It was our annual Christmas social entertaining as our guests the members and employees of the Timber Hills Mental Health Center. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crockett were in attendance. Mr. Crockett is their four county adviser. Mr. Gene Gann and the country sounds band entertained.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Pharr of Marietta, Mr. and Mrs. Red Rasberry, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Spignor of Tupelo, Mr. and Mrs. Travis McCarin, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of Booneville.

It was "Baby Princess," first appearance at the age of 2½ weeks. She didn't care if Santa Claus saw her or not. "Miss. Shorty" and "Mr. Songster," were just as young as the least ones on the dance floor. It was good to see "Hilltopper," and "Lady Hilltopper," and "Hangman," "Lady R," and "Snowflake."

Everyone had plenty to eat, enjoyed the good music and the gifts exchanged. "White Dove," received a doll that was almost as big as she is. There were several new faces in the group including a companion for "Little Bear," and "Little Birdhunter." Our kids are making us feel old.

Happy Anniversary to "Sidekick," and "Lady Sidekick." Hope you two have a nice day and have many more to enjoy together. It was great to hear you all on roll call and glad you'll be able to get out again.

The officers meeting will be Thursday night at 7 at "Upholstery Man's." All the officers are asked to please be present.

Happy birthday to "Chippmunk," "Little White Girl," and "Lady Walking Cane." Hope you have a nice day and have many more to enjoy.

The C.B. Club will have a yard sale Saturday December 15 at the Upholstery shop, Hwy. 4 East. Everyone is invited to come by and browse. Pictures are to be picked up also.

Until next week stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice. Your reporter Chester!

It may not be winter officially, but weather wise it certainly is. There's always some good derived from whatever the degree of temperature.

Some of the sick of our number have improved.

Ma Green was able to attend services on Sunday, Dec. 1. Also Louise and Renea Pannell.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy is home now after a ten-day stay in the local hospital. She had phlebitis and will have to take good care of herself for awhile.

Get-well wishes are extended to her and her husband, to Gordon Harris, to Milton Floyd, our shut-ins and others who aren't well.

Sympathy goes to the relatives of Mrs. William Arnold and to the Darwin family.

Philip Coats, an employee of South Central Bell is spending a couple of weeks going to school in Louisville, Ky. It was a little too far to come home for the weekend so he went to Celina, Tenn., for a visit with his oldest brother, William Jerry.

The guest speaker at Oak

Ridge on Dec. 1, was Bro. Calvin Barber. His lessons were very good. That day was also the time for the afternoon singing. There were visitors from several places and song leaders—all of which made for a good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Coats were in Decatur, Ala., for two days and nights last week to visit the Ken Wilson family, Mrs. Cathy Polk and Nathan Sean. The Wilsons were fine and so was Sean who goes to Nursery school, but Cathy had been sick for a few days. A visit to the doctor, and IV, medicine and a strict liquid diet had helped.

It was good to see Beal and June Coats at the singing. They brought a load of young people to the singing. There should be more encouragement to young people to attend services of a spiritual nature and to associate with those who will help them to be better.

John Chancellor, well-known news commentator, said that when they made a mistake, they admitted being wrong. I want to admit a mistake I made in my report last week-I misspelled a word-Senatobia. I'll try to do better-do a little reference work.

This report was intended for last week so it is very much belated.

BALDWIN—Tupelo's Golden Wave and Biggersville's Lady Lions took the coveted first place honors here Saturday night in the finals of the Baldwin Tournament of Champions held at the Baldwin Gym.

appears to be the best team in North Mississippi.

Booneville cut the lead to two points on several occasions in the first half but in the third quarter Tupelo took command of the game on some 10 turnovers by the Devils along with the inside game of the Wave.

Tupelo successfully defended their title from a year ago in boy's competition while Biggersville takes over for Baldwin's Lady Bearcats who were last year's champs.

Good Sportsmanship Is Alive And Well

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Good sportsmanship is a word that's used a lot in all phases of a sports program. The word can mean a number of things but the basics of the word still means the same.

A true example came alive Monday night during the professional football game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and The Houston Oilers.

The Oilers had command of the game throughout the entire contest and proved, beyond any shadow of a doubt, that they could at least stay with the powerful World Champion Steelers.

Pittsburgh came back at the Houston squad time and time again and almost won at the close of the game.

But getting to my point. Late in the fourth quarter Houston scored their final touchdown with just over a minute remaining in the game, but Pittsburgh still wouldn't die.

The Steelers came back to score yet another touchdown and then tried an onside kick which failed (according to the referee) and Houston came up with the ball on an interception.

Now picture this. Here's two teams that have respect for each other and they were out there to do just one thing. And that's to play football.

After Houston took ball possession at the Pittsburgh 4 yard line, they had some intentions of scoring again instead of just running out the clock. But there was a reason for this. Houston quarterback Dan Pasterini thought, since the win tied the two for the league title, that with some more points the score would give them the title.

Houston tried a running play after they recovered the ball and a crowd in attendance at Houston couldn't believe what their Oilers were doing. Some thought they were trying to rub it in on the Steelers by scoring another touchdown.

The running play carried to the one foot line and stopped and Pasterini, not knowing what to do, called time out with one second remaining.

The camera quickly flashed on Oiler head coach Bum Phillips (without a doubt one of the best coaches in pro football) and he couldn't believe what Pasterini was doing himself. He looked at the Houston signal caller and pointed to the ground. This meant to get the game over without another score.

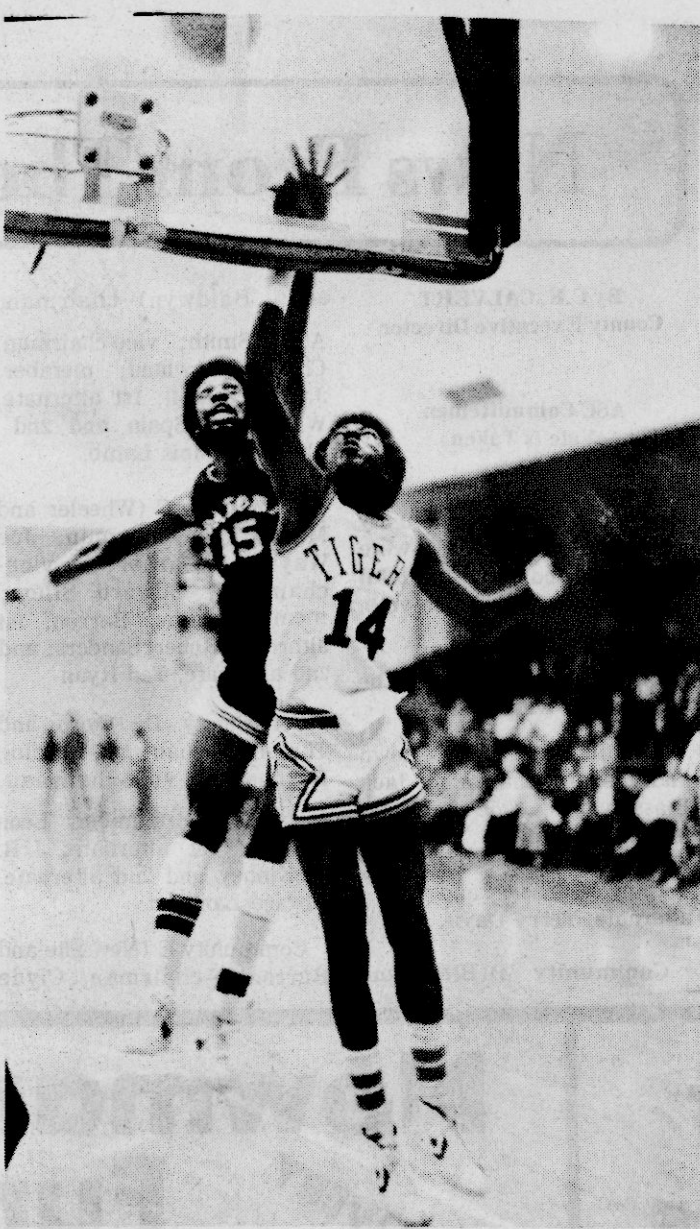

Pasterini, with a second on the clock, took the snap and fell backward to end the game.

This situation actually made goose bumps on me and had to be one of the most heart warming experiences in the game of football.

After the game was over, almost the entire Pittsburgh team went over to shake the hand of the Houston coach and tell him how much they admired him.

This goes to show that sportsmanship still exists and not only that, but makes up for the ugly situations that do occur from time to time in the game.

The topic here reflects on the entire league. Phillips is just an example of the true reflection of the game. He is just one of many coaches and players that makes the game what it is today...

UP FOR THE BALL—Northeast's Charles Conrad (14) goes up against this Coahoma performer here in Thursday night action at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

NE Splits Games

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes split action here last Thursday night against Coahoma Junior College in local action held at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Coahoma's ladies dropped Northeast's Tigerettes 100-79 in opening game action while the Tigers, who evened their record to 5-5 (after Thursday's game) with a 106-92 victory over Coahoma's men in the Thursday nightcap.

Millard Lothenore's ladies with 23 points followed by Sabrina Williams with 12.

Susie Fudge led the Cohoma ladies with 23 points followed by Alice White with 22.

In men's action, Troy McWilliams led the Tiger scoring brigade with 23 points. Next in line was Booneville's Jackie Leach with 21 followed by Mike Cartwright, also of Booneville, with 19 and Booneville's Dale Groves with 11. Mark Buskirk and Gary Hill had 10 each.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College free safety Maury Hill of Ripley has signed a football scholarship with the Mississippi College Choctaws at Clinton.

Northeast head football coach Bill Ward made the official announcement Monday.

Hill was one of the top football recruits on this year's Tiger squad and aided the '79 Tigers to a 6-4 overall record and a second place finish in the North Mississippi Junior College Conference. The Ripley performer recently received one of the highest awards given to a junior college athlete when he was named to the Second Team All-American Squad which stands to be one of the highlights of his junior college career.

Maury was also named to the Mississippi Junior College All-State team this season and was considered one of the top defensive performers in state competition.

When asked why he chose to play at Mississippi College, Maury said, "I felt like I'd be playing sooner if I signed with them. I was also impressed with the Choctaw coaching staff," he added.

Northeast head football coach Bill Ward gave the Ripley star the highest regards when he said, "I wished every player I coached was like Maury. He is an outstanding football player and a nice gentleman to go along with it."

SIGNS SCHOLARSHIP—Maury Hill, right, receives congratulations from Northeast Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward after he recently signed a scholarship grant with Mississippi College at Clinton. Mrs. Truman Smith was a very gracious hostess Monday night when the members of the Rienzi Baptist Church met in her home. The director, Mrs. William Perry held a brief business occasion. The

Those present in addition to Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Johnsey were Mrs. Milton Bishop, Mrs. Doug Johnson, Mrs. Noble Williams, Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. Walter Perry, Mrs. Roy Morgan and Viola Presley. Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

Those who enjoy Lawrence Welk's TV show will want to read his newest book, "This I Believe," which is now at the library.

In addition to Welk's book, other new non-fiction books recently added to the George E. Allen Library collection include "Broca's Brain" by Carl Sagan, "The Basement" by Kate Millett, and "The Path Between the Seas" by David McCullough.

New novels at the library include "Made in America" by Peter Haas, "Jailbird" by Kurt Vonnegut, "The Ghost Writer" by Philip Roth,

"Unholy Loves" by Joyce Carol Oates, and "Return to Thrush Green" by Miss Read. A colorful film that should put us all into a frame of mind for creating and enjoying the spirit of Christmas, entitled "Christmas at Grandfather's Farm," will be shown on Friday afternoon, Dec. 14, at 2:30. This film had originally been scheduled for later in the afternoon, but conflicts made a change necessary.

Since school will be out early that day, we hope 2:30 Friday afternoon will see the Marion W. Smith Room crowded with boys and girls, mothers and dads, and all who want to share the fun.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF CHARITY CARE SERVICES

Northeast Mississippi Hospital of Booneville, Mississippi will make available from October 1, 1979 until September 30, 1980 $45,281 of Hill-Burton charity care. Hill-Burton charity care will be available on a first request basis to eligible persons needing care who are unable to pay for hospital services in the inpatient portion of the facility. Eligibility for free care will be limited to persons whose family income is not more than the current poverty income guidelines

	Less Than or Equal to	Less Than or Greater Than	Less Than or Greater Than

6	10,400 - 12,100	12,100 - 16,020	16,020 - 17,800

Family Size

Income Range*

*Income (farm and non-farm) is determined in accordance with the Community Services Administration guidelines.

For each family member in excess of 4, $220 should be added to each income range in order to determine the applicable discount. For example, for a family of 8, $440 is added to each of the income ranges established for a family of 4. Thus, if an 8 member family has income between $9,440 and $11,120, its share of the hospital bill is 110 percent.

10 Reasons Why You Should Increase Your Advertising...

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your newspaper advertising puts you at a disadvantage.
2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from newspaper advertising. Yours—or somebody else's.
3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the consumer's dollar with every other retailer in town, no matter what he sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell, they'll spend them for something else.
4. "Slow" times ahead? Perhaps, but there are more Americans working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share—and yours.
5. You can't do much about most factors in the market place—rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.
6. Remember how long it took to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent newspaper advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.
7. Your newspaper advertising is part of your sales force. Ads help to presell the customer and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves you money.
8. You say your customers know you and for awhile at least, they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote. That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new people who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.
9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.
10. Advertising is "news" - about products and services. Most shoppers look for this kind of news in the pages of the newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

If you're afraid business is heading for a slowdown, that's the best possible reason to increase your advertising in the Banner-Independent. Give us a call: 728-6214. We'll help you plan a program that will pay dividends in more traffic and sales.

It's only good business. For both of us.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK Plans For The Future

FOR WHAT IS A MAN PROFITED, IF HE SHALL GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD, AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL? OR WHAT SHALL A MAN GIVE IN EXCHANGE FOR HIS SOUL? --Matt. 16:26.

Not too long ago I heard an advertisement on the radio that began with these words: Successful people make plans for the future. After listening to the advertisement, I began to ponder the opening statement.

It is true that most people that we would call successful do make plans for the future. From school, to business, to buying a home, to rearing a family, to retirement, and even to purchasing a lot in the cemetery for burial, people plan ahead.

Years of hard work are put forth to reach the desired results of each carefully made plan. There is nothing bad or wrong with this kind of thinking; except that so many plan and prepare right up to the place to put their body at death, but that is as far as they go. If we would be truly successful, then we should realize that there is more to life than just satisfying this body and mind for the few years that it abides here in this world.

Man has an eternal soul that will spend eternity in one of two places; either Heaven or Hell. The planning and preparation for where we spend eternity must be made during this lifetime. What a sad thing to gain success in this world and not make plans for the future. Have you included your eternal destiny in your plans and preparations for the future?

According to I John 5:13, you can know where you will spend eternity, you don't have to just hope so or think so or wait until you die to find out. Don't take my word for it, get your Bible and read and study for yourself.

An elderly man was reading his Bible one day when a seminary student came by. "What are you reading," asked the student. The Book of Revelation answered the old man. "Do you know what it means," asked the student with a knowing smile. Sure do, replied the old man. It means that Jesus is gonna win.

In the book of Joshua 1:8, it tells us that if we would meditate on the Word of God, do what is written in it, our way will be made prosperous and we shall have good success.

I am convinced that with Bible knowledge, you can successfully plan for the future. Have you made the right plans for tomorrow?

BACK TO SCHOOL—These secretaries from Northeast Junior College and the Manpower Center in Corinth have joined the ranks of students in an effort to improve their skills, techniques and knowledge through a review course offered on the Northeast campus. Participating in the program are (1st row) Sara Ren-

Secretaries Participate In Review Courses

At four o'clock every Thursday afternoon, office personnel from Northeast Junior College and the Manpower Center in Corinth leave their offices and return to the classroom, where they are participating in a review course designed to upgrade their skills, techniques and knowledge in areas essential to professional development.

Offered through the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, a department of The National Secretaries Association (International), the 25-week course includes a study of behavioral science in business, business law, economics and management, accounting, secretarial skills and decision making, and office procedures and administration.

Objectives of the course are to provide secretaries with the assurance which comes from having attained a professional educational standard, to promote the professional identity of the exceptional secretary, and to assist management in selecting qualified secretaries.

Instructor for the course is Ms. Janice Malbon, C.P.S., from Starkville. Employed as administrative assistant to Watkins, Ward and Stafford, C.P.A.'s in West Point, Ms. Malbon holds the B.S. and M.S. degrees from The University of Tennessee at Martin. Listed in Who's Who of American Women, Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans, and Personalities of America, she was recently selected International Secretary of the Year.

Upon completion of the course, the group has the option of taking the Certified examination will be administered the first Friday and Saturday in May on the Northeast campus.

Professional Secretaries Examination. The

Moisture Hurts Stored Beans

If you are storing soybeans in metal bins this year, be sure to check them periodically for high moisture areas. High moisture will damage stored seed beans and reduce germination. The problem is big changes in temperature which cause air movement in bins and result in moisture migrations. These produce high moisture areas. This problem can be prevented by aerating the beans during periods of large temperature changes.

Cattle Care

Cattlemen should use poor quality hay first and save higher quality hay for January and February. Cattle will need additional protein this winter if good quality winter grazing is not available.

They will also need plenty of water. Cattle don't drink as much in winter as they do in summer, but they will still need fresh water, especially if they have access to salt.

Fall Plowing

Plowing cotton fields after harvest will reduce weed problems, conserve moisture and provide a cleaner field next spring. Fall plowing buries stalks and other debris so they can decompose during the winter. It also allows the soil to mellow from freezing and thawing, and exposes the roots of perennial weeds to freezing weather.

Fall plowing permits shallow preplant cultivation in the spring. This helps to control weeds and conserve moisture. On fields subject to severe erosion, be sure to leave some residue on the top.

Farmweek

On December 17, Farmweek will take an in-depth look at the year in review for agriculture in Mississippi. Farmweek Reporter Tyson Gair will interview Extension Director Dr. W.M. Bost about his views of the 1979 Mississippi farm year and Extension Economist Dr.

Bob Williams about the value of farm production for 1979.

Air time is 7:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 17, and Tuesday morning at 7:30 on the Mississippi Educational Television network.

WINS WATCH—Tom Marino, president of Phi Beta Lambda, the business fraternity on the Northeast Junior College campus, presents Vicki English, a sophomore accounting major, with a watch for selling the most homecoming corsages during the club's annual sale. Vicki is married to Randy English of Jumpertown and is the daughter of Mrs. Doris Eaton.

GILLEY'S SIXTIETH—Vernon and Alice Gilley will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 23, with an open house at their home on Route 1, Booneville, near Thrasher. Hosts and hostesses for the occasion will be their three children and grandchildren. All friends and relatives are invited to attend between the hours of 2 and 4:30 p.m.

Danger Lurks At Your Home

Home sweet home is hitting some sour notes with proponents of safer living in America.

It's estimated that 20 million people are injured every year accidents involving products used in and around the home, with 110,000 suffering permanent disabilities and 30,000 dying of their injuries. The toll in medical bills is astronomical, and there is no way to measure the human suffering that is involved.

The Federal Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that stairs, ramps and ladders pose the greatest risks in the home, accounting for more than 600,000 injuries every year.

Nails, carpet tacks, screws and thumbtacks—the swallowing and other misuse thereof—send more than 260,000 Americans to hospital emergency rooms every year. The annual toll in mishaps involving floors and flooring materials—carpets, linoleum, polishes, cleaners, etc.—is more than 200,000.

Accidents involving tables and glass doors, windows and panels have injured many thousands, while cuts from broken bottles and jars injure nearly 120,000 a year. Slips with knives and other cutlery involve more than 100,000.

Concern about the booby-trapping of the American home has prompted the Department of Safety and Research of the Combined Insurance Company of America to urge every family to establish its own safety program. Combined's safety experts recommend that a household have a "safety chairman" to list all the hazards, to recommend preventive measures for everyone in the family and to monitor safe practices on a regular basis.

Toys should be picked up. Poisons should be safely stored. Skate boards and skates should be used with caution. Appliances and tools should be kept in good condition.

Those are just a few steps toward controlling the use of some of the most dangerous items in and around the home.

Combined safety educators recommend that a comprehensive home-safety program start with the kitchen, the most dangerous room in the house. Ask yourself some questions: Are electric cords frayed? Are plugs placed where little hands can reach them? Is the floor kept clean and skidless? Are poisonous substances stored safely away from where children can get to them and in containers that are clearly marked? Are knives kept sharp and used properly? Is a first-aid kit close at hand?

Now move through the rest of the house, inspecting everything closely. Note whether carpet edges are lying flat or are curled, poised to trip the next person who walks by. Does the fireplace have a firescreen? Has the chimney been cleaned recently? Are stairways well lighted and equipped with railings? Are the family smokers careful about extinguishing their pipes, cigars and cigarettes? Are medicines properly labeled and stored and are all outdated prescriptions regularly thrown out?

In the family workroom, are saws, drills and other electric tools properly stored and maintained? Are they used carefully according to manufacturers' instructions? Are children in the family forbidden to use them, as well as lawn mowers, snow blowers and other outdoor electrical equipment such as clippers and pruners? Are sidewalks kept clear of debris?

Combined safety experts recommend that every family sit down and discuss all the potential safety hazards in the house and what should be done to eliminate them. A checklist should be made and reviewed regularly. Fire drills should be conducted at least once or twice a year so that everyone knows the fastest route to safety. Emergency numbers should be posted on every telephone, with each member of the family assigned a specific duty in case of fire, flood, tornado or other disaster.

It's all pretty basic, the experts said, but it is obvious that most people do not take adequate steps to deal with safety basics; they are not equipped to deal with accidents when they happen. More important, they do not seem to be able to prevent many accidents.

"The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure is especially appropriate when it comes to safety," a Combined safety adviser declared. "And there certainly is no place like home to start an accident prevention program."

News From Sunflower

By BETTYE BRANDON
Correspondent

The Rev. Otis Shumpart was welcomed to Spring Hill M.B. Church Sunday, Dec. 9, by the former pastor, the Rev. Bill Ragin, and the church members to begin his official duties as the new pastor. With him was his wife, three sons, and his mother. We pray what that his ministry at Spring Hill will be a lasting and effective one.

On Friday night, Dec. 14, all the auxiliaries of Spring Hill will sponsor a pre-Christmas dinner beginning at 7 p.m. in the fellowship hall. The public is invited.

There will be a pre-Christmas program at the Mt. Olive M.B. Church Sunday evening at 6 p.m. The Rev. Mark Rogers will bring the message. The Junior choir of Wolk Creek M.B. Church will appear as guests. The Mt. Olive Junior choir will also participate.

Happy birthday wishes go out to Mr. Douglas Edmonds who celebrated his birthday on Dec. 5, Mrs. Gwendolyn Burrell, Dec. 6, Miss Annie F. Justice and little Oki Ragin on Dec. 9. To these lucky people, we hope you have many, many more.

The Rev. McDuffy Agnew will be the speaker in a special program Sunday, Dec. 30, at Pleasant Grove M.B. Church at 6 p.m. The public is invited.

Sunrise services will be held at the Mt. Olive M.B. Church on Dec. 25, at 6 a.m. Also regular services will be held at Mt. Olive every 1st and 3rd Sunday beginning in January.

Mrs. Versie Jones is home from the hospital and is recovering nicely from surgery. Her expressions of gratitude go out to the doctors and nurses, and to all who helped her through this period by visits, cards and flowers, phone calls, and, especially, prayers.

Congratulations to Jerry and Marie Horn. They are the proud parents of a beautiful baby girl born on Dec. 7.

Mrs. Clay Perry and all of the wonderful people who make up the staff of the Aletha Lodge Nursing Home have done a magnificent job of creating a home-like atmosphere for the residents of the home. While visiting with Mrs. Nora Fields there on Saturday afternoon I was deeply touched by the kind and gentle attitude of the employees toward the residents. The assistance given them was done with loving concern. It was a very heart warming experience for me.

I also visited with Mrs. Amanda Gibson, Miss Doris Crowe, and Mrs. Cora Harrison reliving memories of the old days. It was a very pleasant visit and one I am looking forward to repeating soon. Mrs. Harrison has been in residence there since shortly after the opening 16 years ago.

Our Former Pastor

The Rev. Bill Ragin is a man noted for his integrity, loyalty and dedication to family and duty and to the community at large. In addition to being a pastor, he is also respected for his ability as a workman in the art of plaster work.

He was born in the Osborne Creek community and came to live in this area at the age of 7. He attended school under the tutelage of Mrs. Arrill a McGaha and Prof. and Mrs. W.B. Jackson. Afterwards, he became an employee of the John McGraf Construction Co., building roads and bridges.

His work took him to the state of South Carolina, where he remained for eight years. From there he was inducted into the military service for a period of three years, two years of which he spent in overseas duty.

Two air raids that occurred while he was stationed in North Africa were experiences he hopes never to relive, he says.

After being released from the service, he returned to South Carolina for a time, but returned to Mississippi in 1945 when he met and married the former Miss Catherine Wooden of the Rienzi community. They returned to South Carolina and remained there until 1949. During this time a daughter was born to them.

through a tragic accident in 1975. Two other children, a son and a daughter, are both married with families and live here in the city.

The Rev. Ragin became associated with Spring Hill M.B. Church after recovering from a serious illness in 1976 which necessitated his resignation from two other churches, one of which he had served for a period of 15 years, the other for 13 years.

He was pastor of the Spring Hill M.B. Church for approximately three years when he once again became ill. He was hospitalized at the local hospital for a time and later transferred to the V.A. hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where he remained for several weeks.

The Rev. Ragin has made a remarkable recovery from his heart attack and stroke since 1976 and has continued to be involved in church activities and to avail himself to all members of the community who seek his advice and guidance.

Our prayers are for his continued improvement and good health.

Hostesses were (from left) Mrs. Miriam Baker, Mrs. Annie Maude Brown and Mrs. Bonnie Stowers. Mrs. Brown gave a review of the book, "Textbooks on Trial" by James C. Hefpley, before door prizes were awarded to Eloise Shirley, Patsy Johnson, Carolyn Jackson, Ruby Wesson and Retha Clifton.
