Local Grocery Vandalized

Sometime between the closing of the store Wednesday night, Dec. 19, and the reopening the next day, vandals broke into a Booneville grocery store, doing damage estimated at more than $1,000.

Thomas Henderson, an employee at Leon's Grocery on East Church Street, said that the vandals cut a chain on a rear door of the store to gain entry.

They turned over a rack containing bread and pastries and then poured a liquid cleaner over the bakery goods and the floor, Henderson said. They also cut into some cartons of milk in the dairy department and poured liquid cleaner into the dairy case.

The vandals turned over a rack containing potatoe chips and scattered cigarettes on the floor, the store employee said. They also poured the liquid cleaner over the meat on display in the meat market, he said.

Henderson said it took the entire next day to clean up the mess made by the vandals.

Store owner Leon Lauderdale said that only a small amount of cash was missing from the store following the robbery. They got some rolled coins, he said.

Lauderdale, who was recently elected Justice of the Peace for the First District, said that this makes the eleventh time the store has been robbed or vandalized in the three years that he has owned it. Although more money was taken in some of the other break-ins, Lauderdale said that this was the worst mess.

Lauderdale said that it would be difficult to estimate the extent of the damage to the store. Only some of the damaged items were replaced or exchanged by dealers, and it took a lot of labor and time just to clean up the mess.

Two Charged In Theft Of Christmas Presents

Two Prentiss County women were arrested and charged last week in connection with the theft of Christmas presents and some jewelry of a local minister's home.

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy said that Cathy Rogers and Geneva King, both in their early 20s, were charged with breaking and entering in connection with the theft of all the presents from under the tree and some jewelry from the home of the Rev. Charles Potts, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Booneville.

Stacy said that the burglars entered the house by cutting through a screen door and breaking a glass on the back door to unlock it.

He said that someone saw two blond haired girls in a pickup backing out of the driveway, and reported it to

Memphis Hospital Board

The Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., announced last week that a Booneville physician has been elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of the hospital.

Dr. William H. Preston Jr., a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology from Booneville, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Memphis hospital for the year 1980. He has been a member of the hospital's Board of Trustees for eleven years and has served as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board during 1979.

The Baptist Memorial Hospital is owned by the Baptist state conventions of Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee. Each state convention appoints nine members to serve on the hospital's Board of Trustees. The Executive Committee of the Board is made up of three members from each state.

Downed Line Blacks Out Area On Christmas Eve

A broken crossarm on TVA's Burnsville to Tupelo 161,000 volt transmission line Christmas Eve dropped one phase of the high voltage line causing a power interruption to all the area served by the Prentiss County Electric Power Association and a large area served by the Tombigbee Electric Power Association.

The interruption occurred Dec. 24 at 1:15 p.m. and shut off power to substations in Booneville, Baldwyn, Turner Park, Kirkville and Guntown, according to Whit Abernethy of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association.

Service was restored to the Booneville station at 1:27 Abernethy said by the switching to an alternate TVA feed line by the Prentiss County Electric Power Association crew.

The other substations could not be energized from other sources, Abernethy said, until TVA emergency crews performed the necessary switching in the Guntown area.

Service was returned to Baldwyn at 2:26 p.m., to Turner Park at 2:04 p.m., and to Kirkville and Guntown at 2:15 p.m., he said.

Effective Training Crucial To County Emergency Plan

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final article in a series dealing with an Emergency Response Plan developed by the Yellow Creek Watershed Authority for Prentiss County.

The purpose of the plan is to increase the effectiveness of the county's emergency services, allowing units to respond to emergency situations in the least amount of time possible.

The plan has been submitted to the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and the Prentiss County Emergency Response Committee for study. These officials will then decide if it is economically feasible to implement some, or all, of the suggestions made in the plan.

Today's article deals with the training personnel and the public need to be prepared for an emergency situation.

GETTING THE PERSONNEL to the scene as fast as possible is of critical importance in an emergency situation. However, once that emergency responder has arrived at the scene, he must know what to do.

A person can bleed to death in 5-10 minutes and he can die or suffer irreversible brain damage if he stops breathing for 6-10 minutes. In rural areas, up to twenty minutes may elapse before an ambulance can reach the scene.

Thus, it is of extreme importance that not only should the emergency personnel have a high degree of training, but ordinary citizens in each community need to acquire a working knowledge of some of the basic life sustaining techniques in order to keep the victim or patient alive until better trained and better equipped personnel can arrive.

Every emergency responder should be able to perform basis CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation). The basic needs of life support involve breathing and heart functioning. A person trained in CPR techniques can perform mouth-to-mouth breathing and/or external cardiac compression to a victim who has stopped breathing and/or whose heart has stopped functioning. These valuable life saving techniques can be learned in an eight hour course.

The YCWA plan recommends that all fire-rescue personnel and police department personnel receive this training in addition to one person in twenty in places where large numbers of people accumulate (for example, in factories, etc.); and one person in fifty in the general population, who would normally be disbursed throughout the county. It is also recommended that all high school students be instructed in CPR.

'Twas The Night After Christmas!

TIME FOR A REST—After delivering toys and presents to good little boys and girls all over the world, Santa takes a little snooze in front of the fire and soaks his tired feet in a tub of hot water. The tired, but jolly old man will only have a short time to rest before he will have to start looking in on children again to see who is being good and who will deserve a gift next Christmas. Before he dozed off, Santa said 'thanks' to all the children who left a snack out for him to eat as he visited their homes on Christmas Eve night. (Photo by Kenneth Christian.)

Have A Happy, Happy New Year!

OPEN TO TRAFFIC—After several months of construction, Third Street was opened for traffic Saturday. John Burcham (right photo) takes down the detour sign as the workmen complete the job. The only work remaining is the painting of the center stripe and the sodding of the grass on the right-of-way, both of which will be done this fall according to contractor Jim Strange. Motorists are cautioned to take note that a new three-way stop has been placed on the street where it intersects with Adams Street (left photo). Previously only those vehicles traveling on Adams had to stop. Plans are currently underway to begin work on another section of the street, hopefully by spring.

Parkway Accidents Up 27 Percent

Superintendent C.W. Ogle of the Natchez Trace Parkway announced recently that motor vehicle accidents for 1979 are 27 percent above 1978.

From Jan. 1, 1979, to Dec. 15, 1979, there were 195 accidents compared to 153 during the same period in 1978. Two major causes of these accidents were driver fatigue and deer kills.

To avoid these dangers, Superintendent Ogle said drivers should be constantly alert for wildlife along the road shoulders and slow down when deer are spotted. Hunting season calls for extra caution since the deer have been disturbed and are on the move.

Driver fatigue is a constant problem when people are traveling long distances and at night. Mr. Ogle suggests drivers be rested before they start and take a 5-minute break every hour.

If a driver becomes drowsy, he should pull safely off the road and rest. No one who is under the influence of drugs or alcohol should be behind the wheel. The traveling public should be more cautious during the holiday season when people are attending late parties or commuting long distances home.

Superintendent Ogle stated that the parkway will have its Ranger staff on extended hours during the holiday season to provide for visitor safety and protection, and to assist visitors with emergencies.

Ripley Man Arrested For Theft Of Van

A Ripley man spent the Christmas holidays in the Prentiss County jail after being charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of an automobile from a church parking lot in Baldwin.

Charles Ross, 23, of Route 3, Ripley, was charged in connection with the taking of a van from the church Friday night, Baldwin Chief of Police John Conlee said.

After the van was taken, it was driven to Tippah county, Conlee said. Walnut police apprehended and detained Ross following a radio alert issued by the Baldwin police department, he said. Baldwin Police officers then arrested Ross and returned him to Prentiss county, Conlee said.

As of Christmas Eve, Ross was still in the Prentiss County jail and bond had not been set. Chief Conlee said that a juvenile was also arrested Saturday in connection with the theft of an automobile last week from B&R Motors in Baldwin.

The juvenile was released into the custody of his mother, Conlee said. An investigation into the case is still under way, he added.

Producers To Vote On Program

WASHINGTON—Beef producers will vote early in 1980 on whether they want a nationally coordinated beef research and information program.

The upcoming referendum was announced recently by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture P.R. Smith. He said beef producers will be asked to register for the referendum between Jan. 28 and Feb. 6.

They will vote by secret ballot Feb. 19-22.

The order issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture authorizing the program provides for a beef board of up to 68 producers to administer the program. There would be as many as five non-voting consumer advisors to the board.

Each state or geographic area would be represented on the board in proportion to its share of the U.S. cattle industry.

The program would be funded by assessments based on the value of cattle sold. During the first two years of the program, assessments could be up to two-tenths of one percent of the value of cattle sold (20 cents per $100).

After two years, the board could recommend an increase up to five-tenths of one percent.

All sellers in the marketing chain would be assessed. The buyer at the point of slaughter would deduct the total assessment and forward it to the board. Any producer could request and receive a refund of the assessment paid.

Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the department's Agricultural and Conservation Service, said his agency will conduct the referendum. The department's Agricultural Marketing Service would monitor the program.

Rules for registering and voting in referendums have changed, noted Fitzgerald. He said the department determined that 10 days (8 working days) would be sufficient for all producers to register and that the four-day voting period would result in a more efficient voting procedure and reduce administrative costs.

Producers may register and vote at local ASCS offices. Registration and voting can be completed by mail if information and ballots are requested in advance.

The order and notice of referendum was scheduled for publication in the Federal Register Dec. 14.

Copies of the order can be obtained from the Livestock,

Ms. Rogers and another Prentiss County woman, Mitzi Miller, 18, were also arrested and charged in connection with the theft of Saturday morning of some packages from a truck parked in the Wal-Mart parking lot, Chief Stacy said. Stacy said the truck was not

All items taken from the truck were recovered except for a pair of pants and a shirt, Stacy said. He said the Police Department received a tip which led to the arrests.

Ms. Rogers and Ms. King are presently out on $1,000 bond each on the charges of breaking and entering. Ms. Rogers and Ms. Miller are out on a $500 bond each on the larceny charges.

Effective Training

In Alabama, demonstrated capacity in CPR has been made a requirement for graduation from high school.

It is also recommended that fire-rescue personnel and key people in the public and private sector should receive "multi-media first aid" training, in addition to CPR training.

Multi-media training involves learning skills dealing with major injuries including fractures, dislocations, shock, heart attack, and the control of bleeding.

FURTHER UP THE SCALE of training, it is recommended that all fire-rescue personnel receive "First Responder" training which, in addition to CPR and Multi-media training provides an in depth curriculum called crash injury management.

Only those people employed to transport people for ambulance services need take the next step up the training ladder to become Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs). This training includes all that listed plus another 40 hour course in the proper transportation of the injured or sick.

The top level of training for emergency responders is paramedic training which consists of the EMT level plus training in the administration of certain intravenous fluids and drugs and other advance life support techniques.

With the exception of the Booneville Fire Department, no volunteer fire or rescue unit in Prentiss County is trained to the levels recommended by the YCWA plan. Although some individuals have received formal training, the volunteer units are manned mostly by dedicated individuals who have developed skills through experience and informal instruction from fellow volunteers.

In the Booneville Fire Department, there are 21 paid firemen, eleven of whom are trained as first responders (multi-media first aid and CPR). All 21 members have received basic fire fighting training, eight rescue-extrication training, four advanced fire fighting and four hazardous materials training.

THE YCWA PLAN recommends that all members of both the volunteer fire companies and rescue squads receive training in basic fire and rescue techniques (including extrication of a victim from a vehicle) and emergency medical training at the first responder level. A total of 173 members of emergency response companies in Prentiss County would thus be trained.

In addition, at least two members from each company should receive advanced training in dealing with fires or accidents involving hazardous substances.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland exactly what scripture tells us we will recognize our loved ones in heaven?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: To answer your question, I do not know of any scripture which says we will specifically know our loved ones in heaven. However, Luke 16, does show that we will have some awareness of our surroundings. The story of Lazarus and the rich man indicates that the rich man knew he was in torment, and that he had five ungodly brethren back on earth. It also tells us that he knew of both Abraham and Lazarus and could call them by name. Again, may I say I know of no scripture which says we will know all of our loved ones in heaven. However, I do not know of any scripture which says we will not know them. God, in his perfection is able to decide on such matters much better than we as frail mortals. Let us live in such a manner that God will say, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

Deaf Action Line Set

Deaf and hearing-impaired citizens can now dial Jackson's Action Line direct. For the first time in the history of Mississippi the hearing-impaired have a pipeline to city government and community participation. The direct dial ability has been made possible through the cooperation of Action, the Community Services Program at the Mississippi School for the Deaf, and Mayor Dale Danks who expressed his interest in helping more deaf citizens participate in Jackson's Community Life.

Communication via phone with the deaf is provided by a TTY, a tele-communication device which is similar to a typewriter.

Art Solomon, Director of Action Line emphasizes "I can't promise everything will be solved but at least the deaf will be heard from and explanations of actions will be available. I wish other communities would initiate the same service."

Tele-communication Services (TTY) and other community services for the deaf can be made available in most communities of Mississippi. For more information about these services contact Gil Magee, Coordinator, Community Services Program, Mississippi School for the Deaf, 1253 Eastover Drive, Jackson, Mississippi 39211, Voice TTY 366-7154.

SPEAKING TO THE DEAF—Cecil Davis, president of the Mississippi Association for the Deaf places the first call by special tele-communications services (TTY) to Jackson's Action Line. This is the first such communication established in a community in Mississippi. Contact the Community Services Office at the Mississippi School for the Deaf for further information.

Savings Bonds Now On Sale

On Jan. 2, 1980, U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, first go on sale at banks and through payroll savings plans. Series E Savings Bonds will no longer be sold over the counter at banks and similar institutions after Dec. 31, 1979. Between January and June, some organizations will continue to offer their employees Series E bonds on payroll savings programs, but by June 30, 1980, all payroll savings programs will be converted to the new U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE.

Of course, all Savings Bonds—old and new—earn interest for their owners throughout the year.

U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, retain the safety, convenience and security features of Series E Savings Bonds, but there are several changes.

1) U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, have a guaranteed life of 11 years.

2) The interest rate on U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, will be increased from 6.5 percent to 7 percent for bonds held the full 11 years to maturity. Series E bonds that have not finally matured and U.S. Savings Notes ("Freedom Shares") will also receive the 1/2 percent "energy bonus" if they are held for 11 years from the date of the first semiannual interest period that begins on or after January 1, 1980. Bonds and notes redeemed earlier will not receive the bonus.

3) U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, will be available in denominations of $50, $75, $100, $200, $500, $1,000,

$5,000 and $10,000. The purchase price is one-half of this; e.g. a $50 U.S. Energy Savings Bond costs $25 to purchase, a $100 Bond cost $50, and so on.

4) U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, must be held for at least 6 months after issue versus 2 months for E bonds. This will improve the cost effectiveness of the program.

5) Individuals can buy $15,000 yearly in U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, series EE (purchase price) compared to only $7,500 (purchase price) for the earlier Series E Bonds.

6) Savings Bonds continue to have unique tax-deferral advantages. Owners never pay state or local income tax on the interest and they can postpone reporting the interest for federal income taxes until their bond is redeemed or reaches final maturity.

This means that bondholders often can choose their best time to report interest, e.g. when they are retired or otherwise in a lower tax bracket.

THE DECEPTION OF SIN

Our society is plagued with drinking, cursing, drug addiction, selfishness, cursing, abortion, divorce, covetousness, venereal disease, jealousy, hatred and so many other destructive characteristics. These harmful vices are described by one word and that word is SIN. These acts of the sinful nature often reflect failures within the home or family. The home must become a bulwark of strength against sin.

The following statistical summary presents the great tragedy of sin:

- (1) In America, we have over one million divorces annually.
- (2) Each year one million young people run away from home.
- (3) Suicide is the second leading cause of death among young people between fifteen and twenty-four.
- (4) Over half of 56,000 death annually on the highways attributed to alcohol. (Eight out of ten men over twenty-one drink!)
- (5) Forty percent of wives approve of extra-marital affairs for themselves.

WHY?

Why are we all so easily led down the primrose path of sin and destruction! Those who walk in sin were described as "ruin and misery mark their ways and the way of peace they do not know." (Romans 3:16-17) However, while engaging in sin we see only the "pleasures of sin" (Hebrews 11:25) because man's old Deceiver - The Devil - has carefully hidden the ruin and misery which is sure to come! We sin because we are deceived. Someone has written, "Sin promises what it can never deliver and always delivers what it never promises." The Bible says, "The Devil deceives the whole world." (Revelation 12:9) Even Paul with his great faith and most genuine character confessed, "Sin deceived me." (Romans 7:11) Inspiration warns us of the "deceitfulness of sin." (Hebrews 3:13) The bright lights of sin invite us to a feast of joy and pleasure but the end result is destruction and misery.

SOLUTION

Since some "lie in wait to deceive," (Ephesians 4:14) we must constantly be alert and on guard. But, no man is adequate alone! We need the help of God in prayer, thus Jesus encouraged, "Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing but the flesh is weak." (Matthew 26:41) Protection for the moment does not mean cleansing in the past. Let us remember that "the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." (1 John 1:7) The penitent believer when "baptized into his death" receives the benefit of the blood shed on Calvary! Your home and your personal life will be beautifully favored when you WALK WITH GOD. In order to find victory over sin, husbands, wives, sons, daughters and the church must present a united front against the deceitfulness of sin.

NEMJC Beauties Chosen

"Miss Betty Gordon McGee of Booneville was chosen most beautiful girl on the Northeast Miss. Junior College campus in the recent Student Night presentation at NEMJC. Four other co-eds were chosen to be featured in the beauty section of 'The Torch.' They were Shirley Sue Breedlove of Booneville, Virginia Ann North of Corinth, Jane Rowna of Baldwin, and Dorothy Stevens of Ripley."

"Lloyd Royal, Mac McAllister and Sam Keller of Panoramic Pictures, Inc., were special guests and acted as judges for the event."

Police Called To Aid Poison Victim

"Chief of Police Nonan Chaffin and Policeman Wendell Stacy were called to a home Tuesday afternoon to aid a subject who had been poisoned from drinking 'bootleg whiskey.'"

"They said other subjects had been reported to have been poisoned recently from drinking the 'wildcat' whiskey."

The police department is making a close check on this and hope to prevent repeated occurrences, if the people will cooperate as they have in the past."

"Leading scorers for Wheeler were Billy Lindsey with 26, Bill Ward with 17 and Kerry Saylor with 10."

Speaking Out

728-6215

"Speaking Out" is a telephone line for you to speak out on issues that are important to you. You may call "Speaking Out" by dialing 728-6215 each evening after 6 p.m. You do not have to give your name when you call. Your calls should be kept as brief as possible. Our recorder will shut off after approximately 30 seconds. We do reserve the right to edit comments, if necessary. We also reserve the right to reject comments we deem inappropriate. We will print as many comments as possible.

Eyesore ...

"I think the ugliest sight in Prentiss County is that across from the Peoples Bank and Trust Company where the Old Bank of Mississippi was. I think there should be a fountain there with benches for the people of Prentiss County to make Booneville a more beautiful place to live and a more beautiful sight in which to come to town. Thank you very much."

County Roads

Need Work ...

"Notice. This is a statement from a First District resident. There needs to be something done about our roads. I have better roads going to my corn patch than we have to drive over...plus we pay the highest taxes in the Union. I know all the money in the First District has been spent and wasted somehow, but maybe we can borrow some. I thank you. A first District Resident."

About Schools ...

"Why have our county Superintendent of Education and esteemed County Board of Education suddenly become so interested in trying to consolidate our schools? Whose best interests are they looking out for—their political ambitions, their community, or for a quality education for all the county children for which they were elected? Why have state funds been withheld from our county school system? Why have obviously unqualified teachers and administrators been retained for many years? Why should they be so upset and apparently surprised that some people in the county want the best education and the other opportunities for their children?"

It's A Clean Show ..

"If all programs were as decent and clean as the Buddy and Kay Bain show, we would have a better world to live in. Thank you."

Sports On Six ...

"Channel 6 is supposed to be Booneville. I was wondering...I thought they were supposed to have country music and movies on there, but they never have anything but sports. Could you please give some kind of comment on this? Thank you."

One High School ...

"Students all over Prentiss County need a good education. Many of us believe that this could best come about by having one county high school located where the Booneville Middle School is now. Cooperation between the county and separate school board could bring this about."

Christmas Poem ...

"I just want to compliment the person or persons who wrote 'The night Before Christmas' which appeared in last week's paper. It couldn't have better described it if the situation had actually taken place."

Time For Action ...

"I am for the best quality education and leadership we can afford for all our children in Prentiss County. If our elected officials can see fit to eliminate all emotionalism, politicalism and-or prejudices, it seems to me that one high school in the county with an unlimited number of students should suffice to provide the desired educational goal. The location of this school should be of minor concern, whether centrally located or in the Booneville area, for those of us truly interested in the welfare of our children. If this is not possible, then full steam ahead with the Booneville separate school system. Actionis much more effective than words and now is the time for action for our children."

Please Release Me ..

"I believe the county school board should release the county children to go to the separate school district."

IM-PAC Has Winning Record In State Elections

By BILL MINOR

JACKSON, Miss.—Without any fanfare, business and industry folks became deeply involved in backing legislative candidates of their choosing this year, and by their count, helped elect 63 pro-business lawmakers around the state.

It was done through a new political action group formed earlier this year called IM-PAC, which stands for Mississippi Political Action Committee. IM-PAC, it has been learned by this column, spent $40,000 in behalf of 101 legislative candidates it had screened according to a "private enterprise" litmus test.

IM-PAC put money into campaigns of 67 candidates for House seats, winning 41 of them. The business-industry political group backed 34 candidates in the Senate, cornding off a winner in 22 races. That gives IM-PAC a 62 percent batting average, and supposedly 36 percent of the entire legislative membership.

According to sources in IM-PAC, contributions to candidates ranged from $50 up to $700, and in a couple of instances, $1000.

A few industrialists and businessmen had set up the Mississippi political action group, modeling it after LAPAC (Louisiana Political Action Committee) which has been operating in the neighboring state since 1969, with a reported high success rate in a state where organized labor has always carried considerable clout in the state legislature.

Business and industry here doesn't face the kind of threat it does in Louisiana, where repeal of the "Right to Work" law has always been a key issue. Nobody here in his wildest dream would believe that the Mississippi Right to Work law is in any danger.

But IM-PAC apparently is the result of a demand among the business community in Mississippi to put up an opposition political action organization to the AFL-CIO, which has long dabbled in legislative races, and staged its biggest push ever this year.

Ironically, organized labor in Mississippi claims it elected an even bigger percentage of legislators sympathetic to its cause than did the business-industry forces.

The AFL-CIO count shows that labor endorsed 39 candidates in the Senate, 29 of whom won, and 86 in the House, 68 of whom won. Labor's version would give it 55 percent of the incoming legislature.

However, it's obvious that some legislators are on both lists, and accepted either money or help from both labor and business.

State AFL-CIO president Claude Ramsay doesn't see this as incompatible. "I'm sure there are a few who overlap both lists," he said. "We'll find out down the line how they stand."

Industrialist Jim Carraway of Monticello, who has been the main force in IM-PAC, agrees. Carraway and Ramsay have been relatively friendly, anyway, and on several issues, such as statewide reappraisal of property and job training programs, have been on the same side.

Labor didn't have the money to put into campaigns that IM-PAC has, but it contributed bodies, doing voter registration and get-out-the vote work in behalf of candidates.

IM-PAC had started out as sort of an adjunct to the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, but it has since become independent of the MMA, aiming its pitch to all businessmen, many of whom are associated with the Mississippi Economic Council.

What helped trigger the PAC movement was the passage by the legislature of a new campaign contribution law two years ago permitting corporations to make political donations up to $1000 to candidates. Then, back in February, Atty Gen. A.F. Summer ruled that corporations could contribute any amount of funds to a political action committee such as IM-PAC, as long as it was distributed so no single candidate would get more than $10000 of the corporation funds.

A next step which could make IM-PAC even more politically effective in the legislature is now in process. An "educational" arm of the political action group has been formed, headed by talented political consultant John Davis, the former Columbia schoolteacher, who has worked in several Mississippi political campaigns and was a regional field man for Gerald Ford in 1976.

This new group, called IM-PED, will go into the polling business, finding attitudes toward business issues back in legislator's counties and bringing the information to the lawmaker as a convincer of how to vote.

IM-PAC and IM-PED will also go into recruiting legislative candidates, particularly in areas where business has been getting a trouncing in the legislature.

WHOSE DEMOCRACY?

Don't be misled by the "Corporate Democracy Act" reportedly ready for introduction in Congress in 1980.

If you're not up to date on it, you'll want to know the act is proposed by a coalition of labor, consumer groups, and so-called "public interest" groups. One of the founders of the coalition is consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

The coalition group says it plans a decade-long attack on business and reports it has a few Congressmen lined up to introduce the proposal. They even plan to sponsor a "Big Business Day" next April 17, so early reports indicate, to emphasize their war on business.

In the name of "democracy," the proposed act will include these provisions:

...independent boards of directors for corporations.

...independent audits of corporations.

...independent committees to determine whether businesses comply with the law.

...banning of any person from serving on more than one corporate board of directors.

...public notification two years in advance of any corporate plan to close or relocate facilities.

...more corporate reports to government on employment, environmental protection, health and safety, foreign production, management performance, ownership and tax rates.

Seems some folks have their own definition of "democracy" and seems they intend to force that definition on the rest of us.

Could there be a better time in Mississippi—and in America—for a free enterprise education effort like that being offered by the Mississippi Economic Council?

The annual Christmas programs held at Beckley Chapel C.M.E. Church on Dec. 16, and Spring Hill M.B. Church on Dec. 23 brought to a close the outside activities of the Christmas holidays for the Sunflower community. Families are settling down and looking forward to the new year.

Plans formulated for future activities will be reported in the next article.

Congratulations to Mrs. Brenda G. Moment on winning the cash prize from ITT where she is an employee on the first shift.

Best wishes for the new year is extended to all of you, together with my sincere appreciation for the support, help and encouragement given in regards to this column. God bless each of you with health, peace, and happiness throughout the new year.

Once again I find myself at a loss for words to express the depths of my feelings to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lauderdale in their great despair due to the recent vandalism of their business. They are personal friends and I know them to be a generous, kind and hard working people who have many times suffered loss because of their generosity. Malicious destruction is unforgivable at any time but at this time of year it is almost unbearable. Yet in spite of his trouble, Mr. Lauderdale is still thinking of others by placing salvaged goods in the homes of people in the community who he feels will appreciate and use them.

God bless and strengthen both of you to continue and be even more prosperous in the new year.

CECIL

Cecil Brandon is an exceptional and unique individual. He is 54 years of age and a member of the Baptist Church, where he is teacher of the Adult Sunday School class and member of the deacon board. He attended the local high school and became an employee of the local newspaper during his first year of high school and has remained in this capacity for 33 years.

In the year of 1948 he was married to Bettye and together they agreed to set the world on fire. A period of six years elapsed and during this time three children were born and never ceased to be a source of pride and joy to both parents.

Cecil is a devoted husband and father, loyal and faithful in all things. His home, church and his job takes top priority in his life although he is actively involved in other activities.

He was a victim of polio when he was very young and after an operation at a Memphis hospital was able to walk with the aid of braces and after a time was able to walk without any artificial aid. He has suffered great physical and mental pain yet he is always happy. He has tremendous faith in God and relies on him completely for daily strength and guidance.

In the year of 1973, after many months of agonizing pain he agreed to undergo surgery in which the doctors gave only a very slim chance for recovery. The week that surgery was scheduled, Bettye received the news that a baby was on the way. For her, it was the end of the world, but the reaction of the family, and especially Cecil proved it otherwise.

The other children, now all grown up with families of their own were overjoyed. Cecil forgot his pain, put away his crutch and began to smile and sing off key again, the operation completely forgotten.

Bettye came out of her depression and self pity and realized that God was once again solving the Brandons' problems.

In January of 1974, Michael Lemois Brandon was born and Cecil grew a few more inches.

Mickey is a constant source of wonder and amazement to the family and the community but to Bettye he will always be the miracle child.

This year of 1979 has been a good year for the Brandons', though there is heartache because of problems in the life of one son. But with the knowledge that God is aware of this heartache, they know that soon, this too will pass.

Cecil and Bettye never set the world on fire, but together they have found happiness and a lasting love based on mutual respect, admiration and faith in God.

May He grant to you peace, happiness and love throughout the holiday season and the new year.

Till next week.

Roberts Participates In Navy Exercises

CHARLESTON, S.C.—Navy Radioman Seaman Apprentice Terry L. Roberts, whose wife, Billie, is the daughter of Paul J. and Corral D. Hatfield of Route 2, Booneville, has returned from a deployment in the North Atlantic.

He is a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Brumby, homeported in Charleston.

During the two-month patrol, the Brumby participated in two major NATO exercises "United Effort" and "Ocean Safari 79", as part of a NATO strike Fleet. These exercises were designed to demonstrate and improve NATO's capability to provide maritime support to Europe in time of crisis or war. Ships of his task group visited 25 different cities in eight countries during the deployment.

A 415 foot long "Garcia" class frigate, Brumby is equipped with guns, missiles and rockets and can operate independently or as part of a naval task force. She is also outfitted with a landing platform and normally carries a light helicopter for long range detection and attack of submarines.

Roberts joined the Navy in December 1977.

News From Your County Agent

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent
Soybean Seed Quality
Good

Farmers should have high quality soybean seed for planting in 1980. Recent tests by the State Seed Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University and other private labs show that germination of Mississippi-grown soybeans seed is exceptionally high. Accelerated aging tests also indicate quality is good. Samples should be adequate.

Yellowed Leaves

If your houseplants have yellowed leaves, they may be the result of overwatering, poorly drained potting soil or insufficient light.

To help prevent this problem, provide plants plenty of light. Don't overwater them in low light areas. For better drainage, use a light, loose soil mixture of equal parts of builder's sand, sphagnum moss and loamy soil.

Following these procedures will increase your chances of growing green, healthy plants.

Farmweek

Updates on the Mississippi catfish industry and weed control in 1980 will highlight the January 7 edition of Farmweek at 7:30 p.m. on Mississippi Educational Television.

Farmweek Reporter Tyson Gair will interview Extension Wildlife Specialist Dr. Tom Wellborn about the catfish situation. Reporter John Winfield will talk with Extension Agronomist Dr. Wayne Houston about changes in weed control recommendations in Mississippi for 1980.

There will be no Farmweek program on December 31.

Notes From Your Home Economist

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Then clean with an acid mixture such as one quart water with one teaspoon white vinegar, or use club soda.

Nail Polish or Rubber Cement: Wipe up as much as possible. Then use regular nail polish remover, without lanolin, applying with an eye dropper. Wait a few seconds, then blot with a cloth. Repeat until all material is removed.

Cigarette burns: If burn area is small and damaged only at top of pile, snip off charred ends with manicure scissors, and then brush.

In addition to these tips: You must: remove excess cleaning solution by blotting with a sponge or cloth clamped in water and repeating until all residue is removed; dry carpet by placing a half-inch white pad of absorbent tissues or cloth to absorb the moisture; brush pile up after carpet is dry.

(3) Has anyone thought of a way to make vacuuming easier?

-Use a rotating rug cleaner brush attachment.

-Set vacuum cleaner for a height that gives slight resistance to pushing and pulling over carpet.

-Do heavily trafficked areas daily; other areas weekly, going over those areas two or three times.

NOTE: Reference to commercial products or trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended of other products which may also be suitable.

CARPET CARE: QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Here are three that keep getting asked:

(1) A professional carpet cleaner says he can give my carpeting a treatment of "Scotchgard" Protector in my home. I thought that could only be done at the carpet mill.

You're both right. Many carpets are treated at the mill. And now there is a professional maintenance program that lets you have carpeting cleaned in your home, and then given an application of "Scotchgard" Brand Carpet Protector.

This finish helps make the carpet soil resistant and also enables stains and spills to be spot-cleaned more easily by conventional cleaning techniques. Make sure the professional is authorized to apply the 3M finish.

(2) Help! There is this spill...

Clean it up immediately! As a rule of thumb the spot should be blotted with cold water and a mild detergent, rinsed with a sponge, and then blotted dry. For special problems:

Animal accidents: Blot up as much as possible. Dilute the stain by cleaning with a cloth dampened with plain water.

Farm Wrapup

Year's Soybean Harvest Is Good

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Soybean harvest is complete. "The weather has been excellent, which is an indication that seed quality should be good also," says Dr. Charles Baskin, Mississippi Cooperative Extension agronomist. "Of soybeans tested so far, germination appears to be quite good, indicating that seed quality of this year's soybean crop will be good."

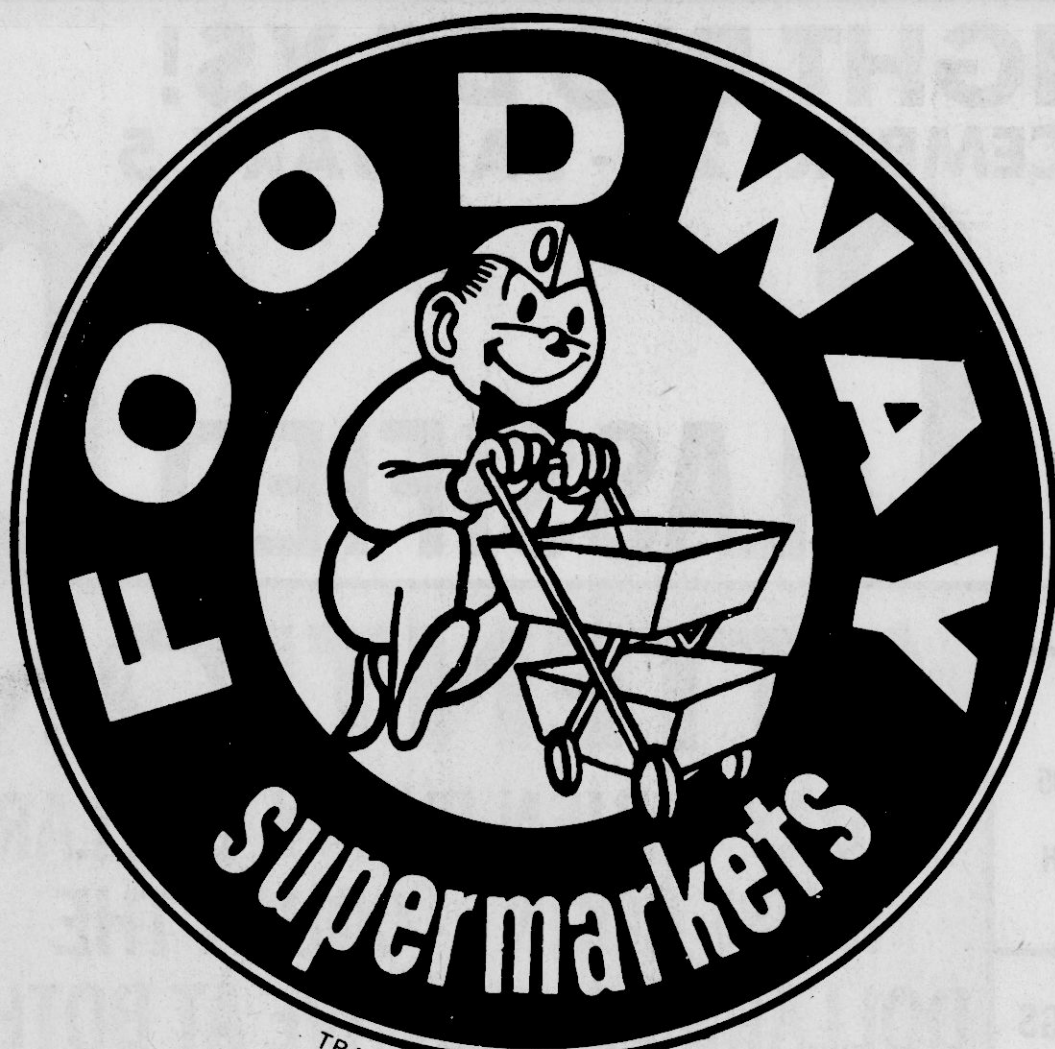

on actual seed count, it would be higher.

The immature seed appear to be somewhat lighter than usual and should clean out easily when seed are acid delinted or flame delinted. Because of the immature seed situation, seedsmen and farmers should expect a higher cleaning loss than usual if seed are upgraded as much as possible in the cleaning process.

As much of the immature seed should be cleaned out as possible, because the quality of these seed is poor. Many will germinate now but will fail to germinate by planting time. They are also more likely to be damaged in processing. This results in low quality or dead seed after processing. A 20 percent or higher cleaning loss may be profitable.

"The seed remaining after immatures are removed appear to be reasonably good quality seed," says Dr. Baskin. "Have your seed tested before they are processed to know what you have and how it should be processed," he adds.

Cottonseed apparently have quite a few immature seed. This is not a surprise to experienced seedsmen. The cool weather in September, combined with the late crop in many instances, and some early defoliation, added up to immature seed. Immaturity is running somewhere between 10 and 20 percent by weight in most lots of cottonseed. Based

New Section Of Natchez Trace Now Open

Four miles of additional Natchez Trace Parkway in northeast Mississippi between U.S. Hwy 45 north of Tupelo and Miss. Hwy 361 at Saltillo were scheduled to open Tuesday, Dec. 18, according to Superintendent C.W. "Jack" Ogle.

Ogle explained that the new section of the parkway is centerline striped and most of the slopes have been graded and temporarily seeded. However, some final seeding and shoulder work cannot be completed until next spring in warmer weather. This will require a brief closing of the section to allow the contractor to complete the work.

"Opening the new section of the parkway will save a lot of time for people traveling between Mississippi and Alabama," said Ogle. He explained that the 54-mile detour between Kirkville and the parkway in Alabama at U.S. Hwy 72 is signed along the way and at every intersection.

Mississippi Highways 371, 4, and 25 and U.S. Hwy 72 serve as the connecting routes.

Because the design speed on the new parkway north of Tupelo is lower and wildlife frequently crosses the road, Ogle cautioned motorists to be alert while driving it. Rangers will patrol this new road regularly in order to assist visitors.

Ogle mentioned that considerable progress is being made in closing the gap between Mississippi and Alabama. Ten more miles in Mississippi and eight miles in Alabama are under contract and the remaining 10 miles in northeast Mississippi and four miles in Alabama are funded.

Completing these 34 miles would provide continuous parkway over 300 miles in length between Jackson, Miss., and Jackson Falls, Tenn.

Security Advice

By Robert L. Bigsby
Certified Locksmith

Why Don't You Like Key-In-The-Knob locks?

Because they are so easy to defeat! The insides can be pulled out the front of the lock in seconds in at least four very popular home locks. Almost all can be wrenched or twisted off, again in seconds. Believe it or not plastic parts are used in some very well known brands.

Locks using latches or improperly installed dead-latches (not to be confused with dead Bolts) can be opened by forcing the latch back with a credit card or like material.

I have already mentioned the possibility of a lock-out with a key-in-the-knob lock. If that were not enough, most latches extend 1/2-inch or 3/4-inch from the door. If the frame is loose, as little as one quarter inch may be securing your door—not much resistance to a swift kick!

I could go on, but if you're not convinced, you won't be until you or your neighbors learn the hard way. You can learn by your own experience or someone else's, best of luck either way.

What is a Closed-Circuit Alarm System?

A closed-circuit system sounds an alarm if a wire, switch or contact breaks, opens or fails to make contact. An open-circuit system, on the other hand, sounds an alarm when a switch is closed, similar to a door bell system.

Although each is widely used and has certain advantages, the closed-circuit system is said to be 'supervised' because if a wire is cut, or a switch fails to make contact, the system cannot be armed until repairs are made.

A similar malfunction in an open-circuit system would not be as readily detected.

Magnetic switches used on doors, are almost exclusively designed for close-circuit operation. Mat switches, used under carpets, are used in open-circuit systems.

Most modern alarm control panels, have provisions for using both type of circuits at the same time, allowing greater flexibility.

What is a Local Alarm?

A local alarm sounds a bell or siren on the premises where the break-in occurs. The element of surprise is lost for police answering the call, but the noise is usually disturbing enough to drive intruders off before they have a chance to steal.

Other options might include, a wireless 'buddy-system' that would silently alert your neighbor, a central alarm system, where an alarm is sent over leased telephone lines that are continually monitored by an alarm company for a monthly fee, or a digital dialer that sends a silent alarm over normal telephone lines to numbers you program into the dialer's memory.

For greater effect, local and silent alarms are frequently used together.

My key is worn and doesn't work very well. Will a new duplicate help?

Probably not if the key is badly worn. The lock will have to be re-keyed, replaced or a new key will have to be made to the manufacturer's dimensions.

The cheapest, is the latter, if the lock is in good shape. The cost is about double the cost of a regular duplicate. Normally a good duplicate is an exact copy of the first key, if it's useless your new duplicate can't be much better.

Try lubricating your lock with WD-40 first and see if that helps.

Earl Padgett, left, and Don Jones, SCS Conservation Technician, look over the terrace system with pipe outlets that Earl installed on his farm in the spring of 1979. Like all other farmers who have used the new system, Earl says he's pleased with the results. During the year a total of 31,787 feet of terraces and 5,849 feet of underground pipe outlets was installed to help prevent soil erosion on sloping cropland. A total of 2,355 acres of cropland was adequately protected through the application of conservation measures in 1979.

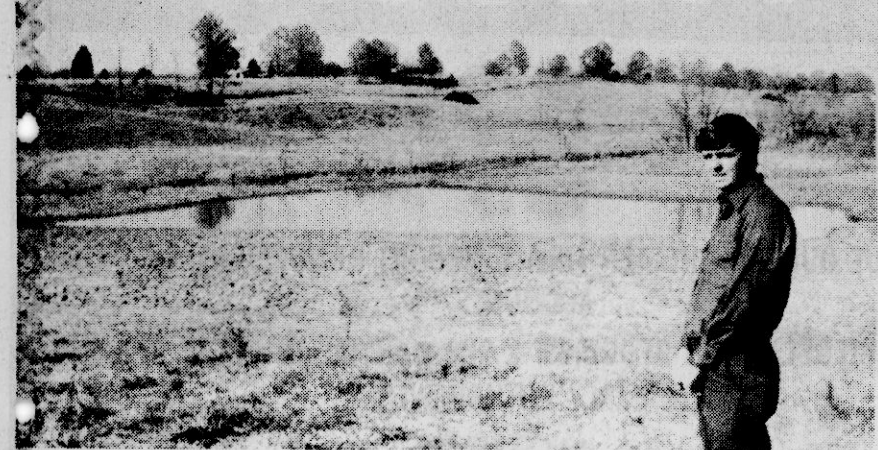

Wayne Breedlove, of the Hills Chapel Community, is shown above examining a stand of wheat that was planted this fall on a sloping cropland field. Wayne, like many other Prentiss County farmers, is taking advantage of a stronger wheat market and double-cropping many of their fields. Cooperators are encouraged to use minimum tillage crops such as winter wheat or drilled soybeans to reduce erosion on our sloping croplands. Winter wheat is especially helpful as a soil conserving crop since it protects the soil during winter and spring when heavy rainfall is a severe erosion hazard.

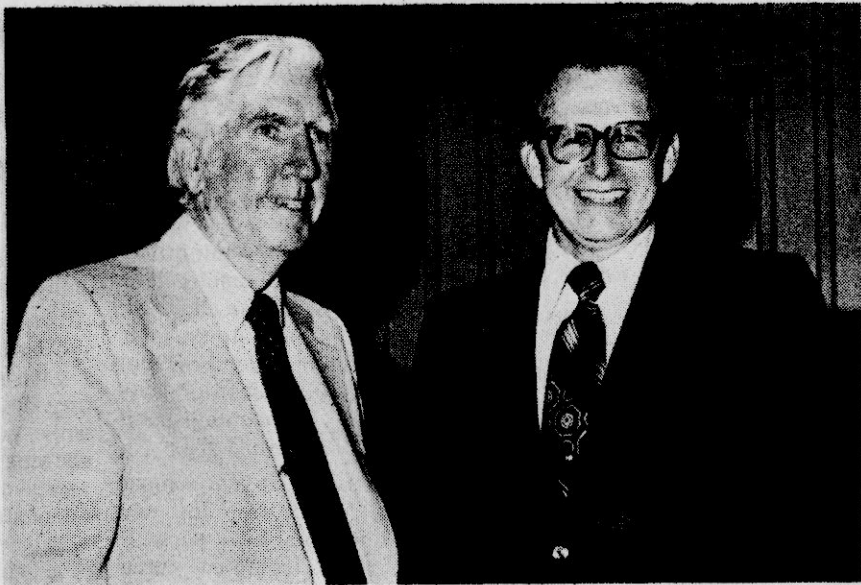

Frank Davis checks the stand of tall fescue grass and white clover on a pasture he established this year in the Blackland community. Tall fescue and clover combinations are well adapted to the heavy clay soils found in this part of the county and offer an excellent source of cool season grazing. Prentiss County farmers established 37 acres of new pasture with financial assistance through the ACP and RC&D programs in 1979. District cooperators also took advantage of technical help available in planning complete forage management systems and carried out management practices on 1,044 acres of pasture and hayland during the year.

Billy O. Spain, right, and son, Bill, inspect a bale of common bermudagrass hay produced on a formerly steep cropland field that was converted to grass in the spring of 1979. Approximately 4000 acres of Class VI and VII sloping land needs converting to permanent vegetative cover to prevent severe soil erosion and maintain productivity of the soil. In 1979, district cooperators planted 211 acres of severely eroding land to adapted grasses and legumes.

Ronny Rowland constructed the pond seen behind him to provide livestock water and allow him to rotate grazing between pastures. Ronny carries out an intensive management system on his fescue, bermudagrass, and clover pastures, and an adequate, dependable source of water is very important. County landowners constructed 25 farm ponds during 1979 with technical help from the District and financial assistance through the Agricultural Conservation Program, administered by ASCS.

Jim Buck Ross, left, Mississippi Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce, was welcomed to Prentiss County by Eugene Gifford, 1979 Chairman of SWCD Commissioners, at the first annual meeting of District Cooperators. Commissioner Ross delivered the keynote address and talked about his concern over the large acreage of pastureland being converted to rowcrops and the resulting damage from soil erosion.

A Word Of Thanks

The Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners want to express thanks and offer recognition to the Soil Conservation Service, USDA, who provided the technical assistance which made many of our accomplishments possible; to the Prentiss County ASCS office and County Committee for administering cost-share programs that permitted our farmers to put conservation on the ground; to the Farmers Home Administration for providing low-interest rate disaster loans and soil and water conservation loans to district cooperators; to the Mississippi Forestry Commission for the fine job of forestry management, tree planting, and fire protection that they are doing; to the Cooperative Extension Service for conducting an effective information campaign that keeps our farmers abreast of current farming technology; to the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors whose financial support make our program possible; and most of all to those landowners of Prentiss County who are concerned enough about the welfare of our county to apply the many conservation measures that are included in this report.

Respectfully submitted by the Board of Commissioners, Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Charlie Rowland, left, of the Blackland Community, and Duane Rinehart, Prentiss County Conservation Officer, inspect a sawtooth oak seedling that was planted by Charlie in March, 1979, to improve wildlife habitat on the farm he operates. Sawtooth oak is a heavy acorn producer that benefits squirrels, deer, turkey, and quail. District cooperators applied wildlife management practices to 849 acres during 1979.

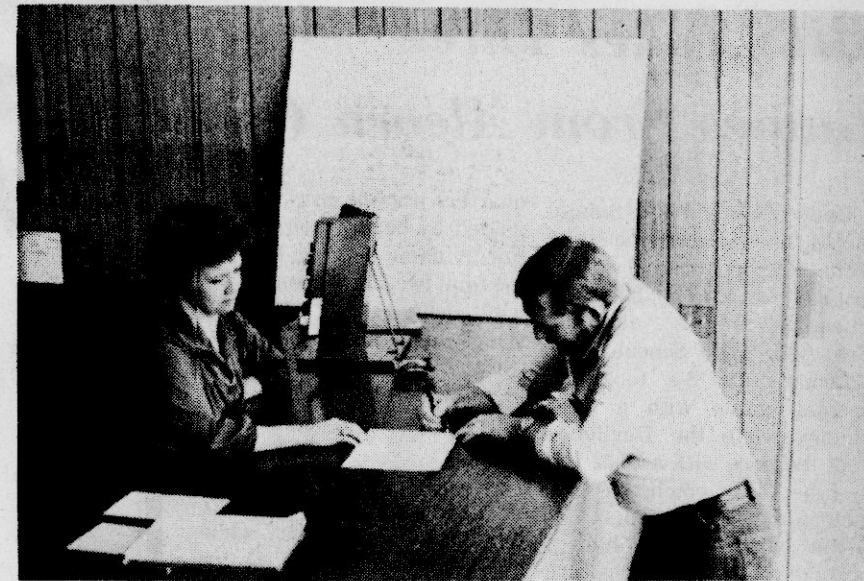

L.C. Wright looks over the stand of young hardwood trees remaining in an area recently harvested for sawlogs. Proper woodland harvesting practices are very important to insure the regeneration of a new stand of trees of desirable species. The District urges all woodland owners to take advantage of harvesting and marketing assistance available from the Mississippi Forestry Commission, the Northeast Mississippi Timber Development Organization, and other professional foresters. In 1979, district cooperators applied management practices to 809 acres of woodland.

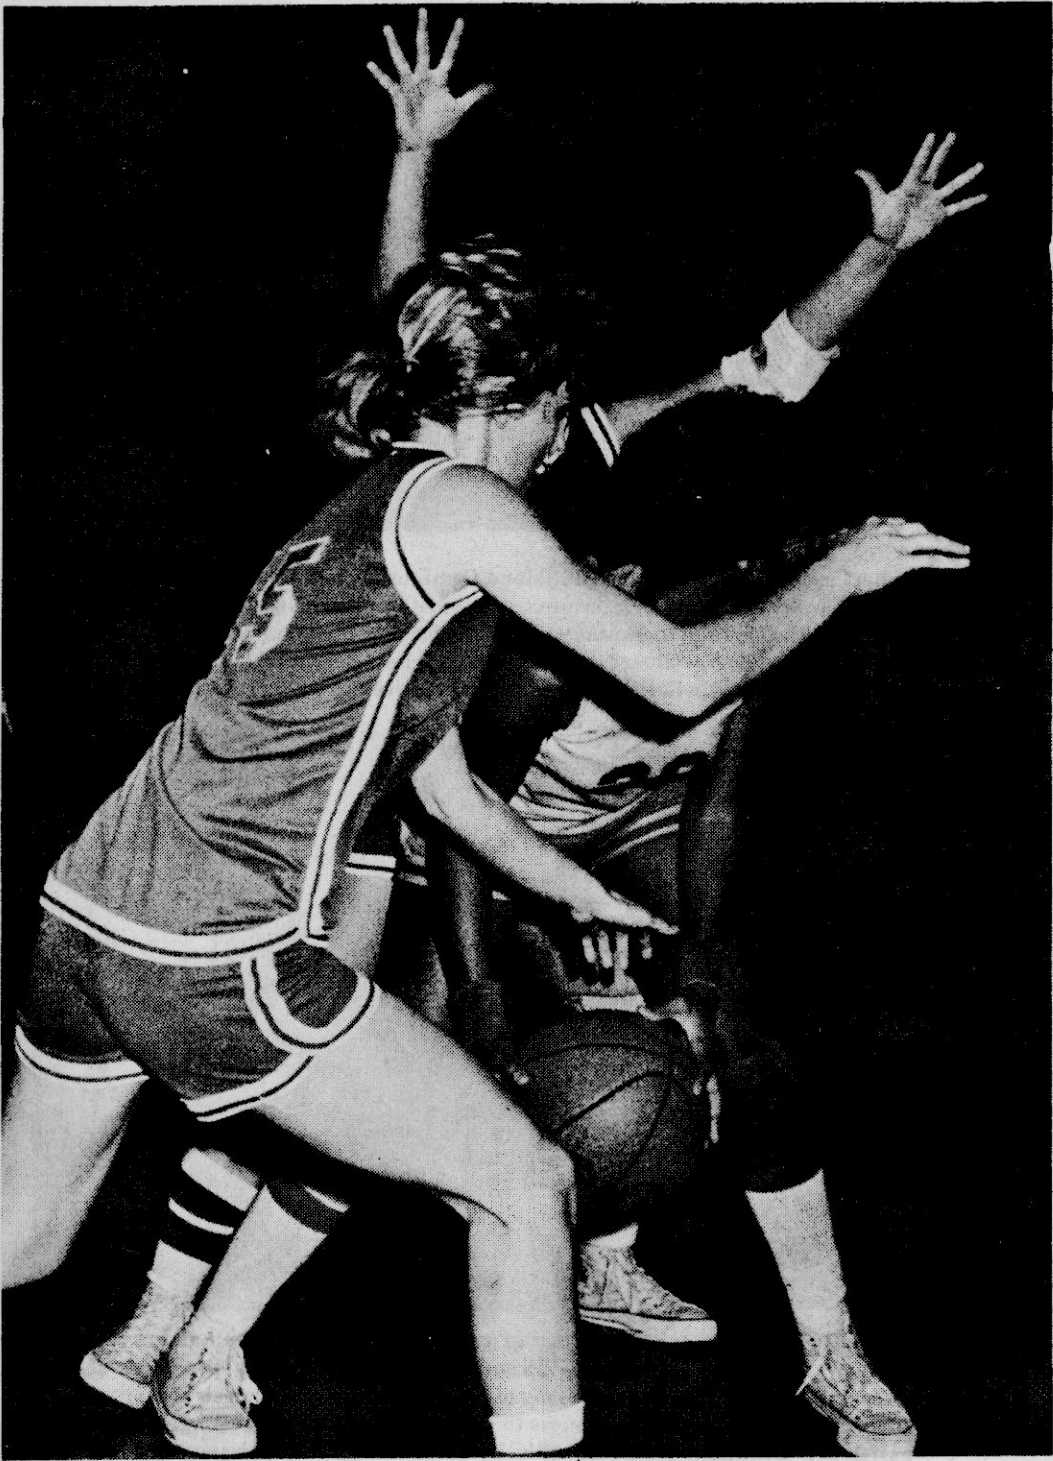

Bobby Hodge, Deputy Commissioner, right, presents conservation education packets to Harold Padgett, Thrasher School principal, and Gloria Smith, school librarian. The District provided packets containing thirty copies each of the ten subject "Better Environment" booklet series to school libraries throughout the county. The District Commissioners believe that our youth who will be the landowners and users of tomorrow need as much knowledge as possible on conservation and how it relates to the proper and wise use of our natural resources.

Roy Green, right, and David Summers, SCS Soil Conservationist, look over the soil and water conservation farm plan developed for Roy's farming operation near Marietta this year. Conservation planning is a free service offered to district cooperators who desire professional help in planning ways to solve conservation problems and develop resource management systems. During 1979, SCS personnel assisted district cooperators plan conservation treatment on a total of 3,276 acres of Prentiss County farmland.

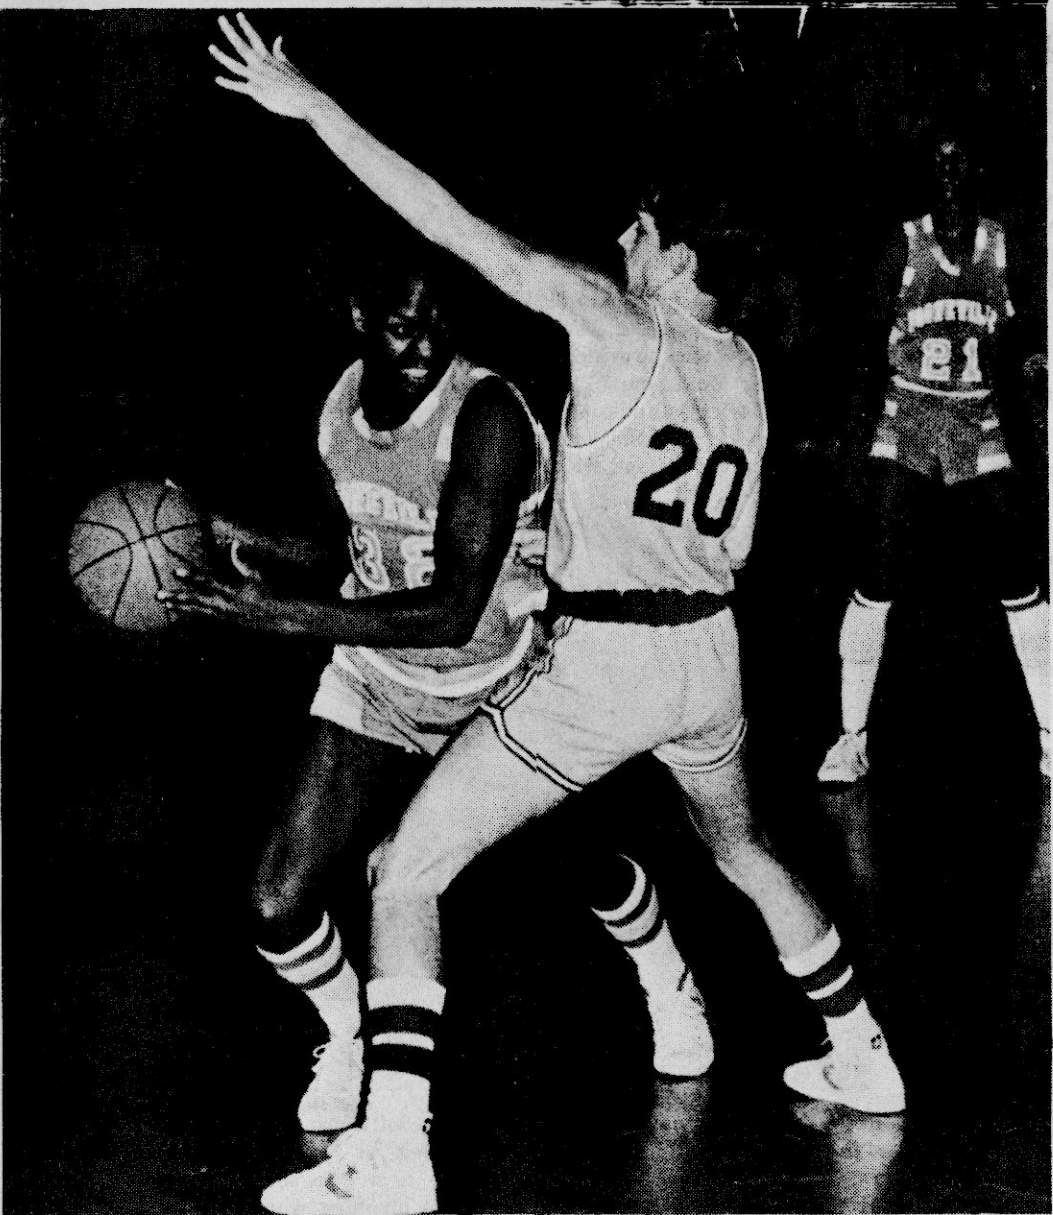

Bobby Michael, right, certifies that he has completed his 1979 Agricultural Conservation Program practice as Linda Ledbetter, ASCS Program Assistant, looks on. Bobby received cost-share assistance to smooth-up a gullied area on his farm near Blackland and establish the area to bermudagrass and white clover. District Commissioners meet annually with the ASCS County Committee to help develop the agricultural conservation cost-share program, which is administered by ASCS. The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) cooperates in the ACP program by providing technical assistance to landowners who sign-up for practices such as farm ponds, terraces, and diversions. In 1979, SCS serviced referrals for 99 practices.

LOOKS FOR HELP—Booneville's Debbie Brooks (with ball) looks for some help from one of her teammates as the Alcorn Central defense swarms around her. Brooks aided Booneville's Devilettes in a 36-32 win over the Bearettes last Tuesday night.

BHS Takes Three Games From Alcorn C.

Booneville High School took a three game home stand from Alcorn Central in a grudge cage match held last Tuesday night at the Booneville High School Gym. Booneville's B's took the opening game with a 35-27 victory while the Devilettes kept the pace with a 36-32 win and the Devils notched a 45-42 victory in the nightcap. The varsity game had a particular interesting nature about it since it brought a return engagement from former BHS head roundball coach Gerald Caveness, now coaching at Central.

The Golden Bears jumped on the Devils early in the contest and chaulked up an eight point lead at the end of the first two quarters. But the BHS quintet, guided by head coach Rickey Ford, came roaring back in the final two frames to post the win, their second over the Bears this season. Ronnie Elam led the Devils in scoring with 15 points while Barry Mills had 12 for Central.

In girls action, Debbie Brooks pace the Devilette attack with 13 points while Rhonda Rowland had 11 for Central.

In B team action, Hendrix had 11 for BHS while Patterson and Rencher had eight each for Central.

Both Booneville's Blue Devils and Dewilettes are on the Christmas break but will resume action after the holidays.

Ward To Sign 30 Players

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach Bill Ward said Friday that he, along with assistants Billy Southward and David Carnell, was ready to start the 1980 recruiting for next year's football season.

The Tiger mentor said he planned to sign some 30 players from the five county area to scholarships for next season.

A new rule has been passed by the Mississippi Junior College rules committee enabling a state junior college institution to sign an additional six full out-of-state scholarships to their roster providing the school doesn't have returning out-of-state freshman on their squad.

Ward said next year's squad couldn't benefit from the new rule since they have some 18 out-of-state freshmen returning from last season.

"This still is a good rule," Ward said. "This will allow equal recruiting to all junior colleges in the state. We'll just have to wait a year before we can take advantage of this."

In the past, a state junior college team that finished with a good record wasn't allowed any out-of-state recruiting while a team with a poor showing (record wise) could recruit several players from the out-of-state ranks.

The new rule is set up equal to all colleges in that a team is allowed six full scholarships from out of state competition. Now a school, if they wish, can either divide these scholarships, giving 12 halves or six full. But teams this season, such as Northeast with 18 already tabbed for next year, won't be allowed to sign any new ones till next season, but will be allowed to keep the ones already on the squad.

Ward said the only way the Tigers could sign new out-of-state players is if they fall below the allotted number (six full or 12 halves), then they could add to their roster.

The Northeast head coach, who will start his 27th year as grid leader next year, said he had talked with all of the schools in the five County area and had spotted some outstanding performers he is hoping to sign.

Ward has talked to several players from the local area in both Booneville and Baldwyn. He said he plans to sign some four performers from Booneville and some from Baldwyn as well.

Names mentioned as possible signees from Booneville are, Buddy Hall, Kenny Garrett, Bill Morris and Toy Pharr while Ward said he had also talked with quarterback Ray Scott from Baldwyn.

"We plan to start recruiting just as soon as the Holidays are over," Ward said. "We're anxious to get started since we have some top notch players back from last year and we want to see what we have to go along with this."

Ward said all new recruits would be given the normal half scholarship which pays half the cost of the entire package (dorm, books, food, etc. etc.)

The Tiger mentor added that he has some 40 players returning from last season and the additional 30 signees would move to overall list to near 70.

The Tigers finished last season with a 6-4 overall record and a second place finish in the North Mississippi Junior College Conference.

DRIVES—This Alcorn Central performers moves to the basket here as Booneville's Bill Groves (34) and David Miller (21) arrive on the scene.

Thrasher Wins Twice

Thrasher's Rebels and Rebelettes picked up wins against Kossuth here last Thursday night in local action held at the Thrasher High School Gym.

Thrasher's Rebelettes took the opening game with a 53-44 count while the Rebels moved their unbeaten mark to 23-0 with a 63-50 victory in the Thursday nightcap.

Debbie Oswalt paced the Rebelette attack with 15 points followed by Robin Hopkins with 12.

Donna Walls led the Kossuth attack with 14 points followed by Sue Derry and Ramona Patton with 10 each.

In boy's action, James Swinney led the Rebel scoring column with 18 points followed by Keith Bullard with 16.

Don Prince had 13 and Ken Gurley netted 12.

Both Thrasher's Rebels and Rebelettes are on a Christmas break but will resume action after the Holidays.

BHS Drops Tishomingo

Booneville's Blue Devils and Devilettes took a basketball double header from Tishomingo last Thursday night in local cage action held at the Booneville High School Gym.

Booneville's Lady Blue Devils took the opening encounter with a 54-16 win while the men with the horns checked Tishomingo 68-34 in the nightcap.

Dianne Harris, Tina Gardner and Debbie Brooks all collected 10 points a piece to pace the Devilette attack while Regina Trussel netted six points to lead the Bulldog attack.

In nightcap action, Bill Groves paced the Blue Devil scoring brigade with a game high 28 points while Ronnie Elam followed with 14 and Cris Williams had 13.

Whitson had eight points to lead the Tishomingo attack.

In girls action Booneville held a 28-10 lead at the half while in boy's action the Devils held a 33-6 lead at the intermission.

Both the Devils and Devilettes are now on a Christmas break but will resume action after the Holidays.

Younger Players Are Helpful

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Basketball continues to be dominated by the younger folks more and more each year instead of the senior leadership that used to be very important in the cage game.

A few year's back, a team without an entire group of juniors and seniors wouldn't even be considered a mediocre team by those standards.

Things have changed quite a bit over the past few years. If you'll notice, teams now are loaded with young guys (freshman, sophomores) and the difference from now as in the past is that the young players all have experience when they advance to the high school ranks.

This is due to the junior high school coaches that do an outstanding job with the young kids. After a youngster has played several years of junior high ball, he is well qualified to advance to the high school program.

The reason for this is due to the hard work the junior high coaches put into their work. They base their programs on the same type form that the high schools do. Some even run the same plays.

Another reason for this is, that in some cases, a junior high player who is above average and would be considered very athletic, is held back a year to improve his or her athletic skills.

Now don't get me wrong, a team without senior leadership would go about as far as a car with four flats. You have to have that depth on the team to make it tick.

But if you'll notice, several of the teams have a number of young players on the squad that do a great job. Some of these are in the high scores bracket also.

A state championship team consist of several things. Dedication, desire, depth and a balance of young personnel and senior quality performers to get the job done.

COLLEGE BOWL GAMES AND PRO PLAYOFFS

Yes its that time again. When the Holiday season rolls around, so do the football playoffs.

College bowl games are already cranked into gear as well as the pro playoffs, which leads to the Super Bowl.

Most area fans have already picked their favorite team in both the college and pro ranks and the press polls have their choices marked also.

From the sports desk, I like Southern Cal and Alabama in the college games and I'll go with Pittsburgh to take the Super Bowl.

As in almost any other game, football can go just about any way but I'll have to go with the favorites here. Both Bama and Cal have their hands full with Arkansas and Ohio State respectively but should win.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

A truck driver was sitting in a restaurant minding his own business when a group of motorcycle gangsters came riding up and parked their bikes in front of the place. The leader of the group walked up to the man eating and turned over his plate, slapped the man, kicked him and then turned the table over on him. The man calmly left the restaurant without saying or doing anything. After the man left, the bike leader said to the waitress, "That guy isn't much of a man is he? He didn't do a thing when I treated him like that." "No, the waitress said. "He isn't much of a truck driver either, he just ran over four motorcycles out front."

DEER KILLED—Scott Bane, left, displays this nine point deer he killed near Mt. Olive Church recently. Bane killed the buck with a 30-30 rifle. Also shown was his hunting partner Mike McKinney.

Game And Fish Report

JACKSON—The natural and scenic qualities making the state's Pascagoula River Wildlife Management Area one of the most unique areas in the southeastern U.S. received further protection Wednesday, Dec. 20 from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Meeting in Jackson, the agency's five-member commission entered into a management agreement with the state's Wildlife Heritage Committee establishing guidelines that will insure the 35,000-acre tract remains virtually a wilderness area.

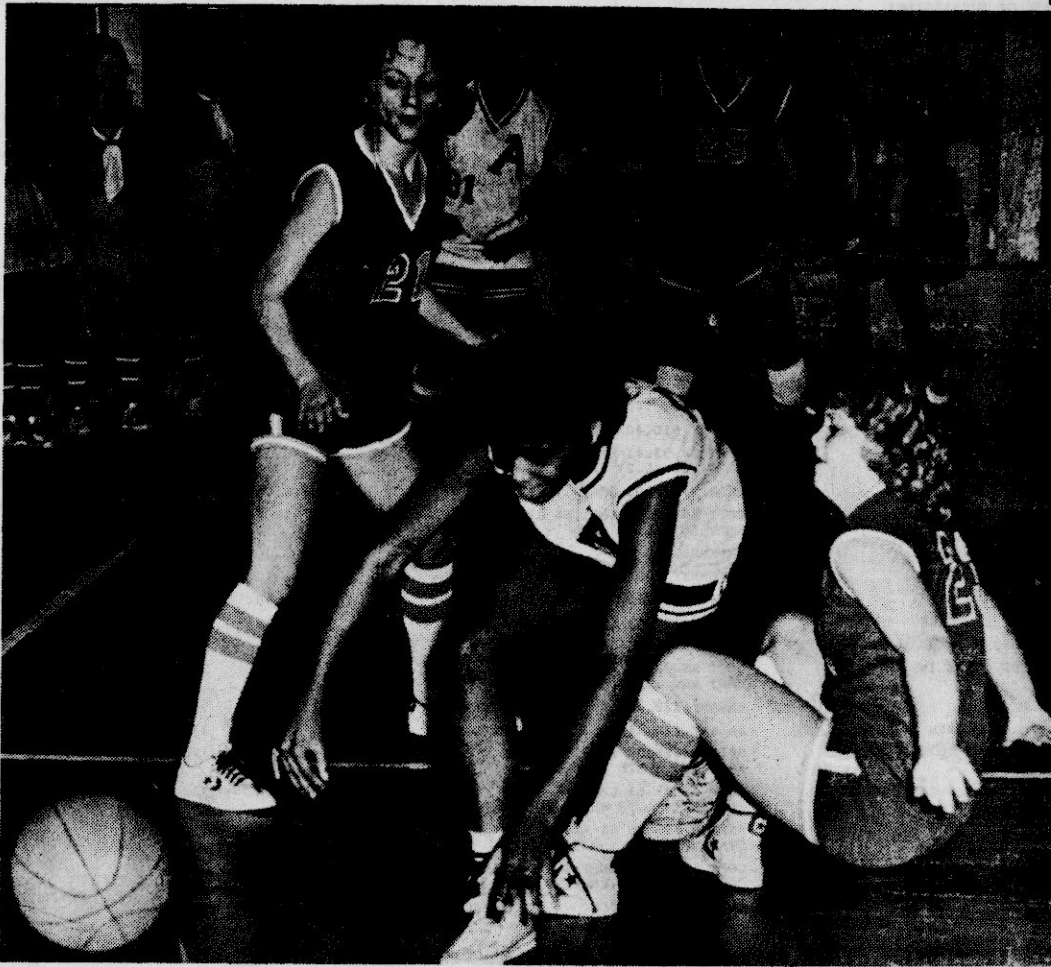

According to provisions of the Natural Heritage Act of 1978 anyone, including agencies of state government, may enter into an agreement with the Heritage Committee to insure that significant natural areas are preserved for future generations to enjoy.

The agreement adopted by the Department of Wildlife Conservation provides for the formulation of a comprehensive, long-range plan for the area's management and protection by the end of 1980. The plan will provide maximum hunting and fishing opportunities for state sportsmen. It will address the protection of endangered plants and animals on the property, as well as selective timber management compatible with good wildlife management practices.

The state acquired the Pascagoula Wildlife Area in 1976 at a cost of some $13.5 million. An additional 3,000 acres was purchased for $1.5 million from International Paper Company earlier this year. In other action, the Commission added some 1,693 acres to the existing Bucatunna Wildlife Management Area in Clarke County.

Crime Prevention

By Larry Finger

Stop Burglary!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Larry Finger of Booneville, an experienced criminologist and teacher, has consented to write a column each week for the Banner-Independent on crime prevention.

Finger is a graduate of the University of Mississippi with Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Criminal Justice. He is a veteran police officer with 10 years criminal justice experience and a former educator, teaching in the junior college system.

He is also co-author of the college level textbook "Introduction to Criminal Investigation." He is a graduate of the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers Training Academy and the National Crime Prevention Institute.

Finger said that he helped pioneer the concept of crime prevention in Mississippi and has selected it as an intended doctoral dissertation topic.

GUARD AGAINST AUTO THEFT:

To a thief, there's nothing like a car. It's self-propelled and fully equipped for a fast get-away. The car and its components are items in steady demand.

And there's nothing like a car to a youngster. Many youngsters' sole reason for stealing a car is to go joyriding. Such joyrides frequently result in damage to the stolen car and serious injury to the youngsters. More important, even, is that many youngsters who thus violate the law go on to more serious crimes.

The owner or authorized driver of a vehicle should not leave the vehicle unattended without locking the ignition and removing the key. There are some additional precautions that you can take in addition to key removal.

All Family Members should know:

-To remove keys and lock doors--windows must be closed and checked.

-To guard the ignition keys--Always fully guard your ignition keys. If they have punch-out numbers these should be removed and kept at home for reference in case of loss.

-Parking--At night park in a well-lighted area.

-Do not leave valuables in sight as this tends to encourage theft.

There are several auto alarms modestly priced on the market today which are reliable and simple to operate.

You might consider a disabling device, commonly called a "kill-switch" as added protection.

If your car is stolen, the police will need specific information to identify the car, parts and accessories. Take the time to record detailed information. If a car thief has replaced your license, altered the vehicle identification number or repainted the car, other points of identification will be available. You should have a record of the following:

-Year and make; model; colors.

-State license; city, if any; any decal with a number.

-Vehicle identification (serial) number (VIN).

-Tire size, brand and serial number; battery information.

-Radio, stereo player, air conditioner and other special equipment--description, make and serial number. You might consider taking a couple of polaroid color shots of the vehicle and keeping them in a safe place.

-Dents, scratches or other accidental damage that make your car different from any other car of the same make and model.

-Secret identification. Examples: Scratch your initials inside the trunk or under the hood; slide a small card with your name alongside a window so that it will drop inside the door panel.

If you really want to give the car thief problems engrave your name, address, social security number and the vehicle identification number in multiple locations in and around and under various parts of the vehicle that are commonly removed and sold as individual parts such as engine, transmission, carburetor, stereo, CB radio, etc.

You may not desire to go to these extremes--take as many precautions as you feel you should. Any of these steps increase the likelihood for stolen property to be identified and recovered.

Chances are that your vehicle will not be stolen. If, however, you are victimized, you should immediately (1) notify the police (2) give any and all information that you have concerning the theft and (3) provide officers with any distinguishing characteristics of the vehicle such as a dented fender, broken windshield, type antenna(s), special equipment. Do this immediately because your vehicle might still be close by.

Questions concerning crime prevention should be addressed to Crime Prevention Advisor, The Banner-Independent, P.O. Box 269, Booneville, MS. 38829.

Northeast CB Club News

By LADY BLUE SURF
Correspondent

Our sympathy goes out to "Apple Blossom," in the death of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Gibson who passed away in Kenosha, Wis. Also to "Apple Jack" whose uncle passed away.

Tuesday night was our regular business meeting.

We want to welcome two new members to our club--"The Skunk," and "Lady Skunk." We are always glad to have more folks to join us and help us spread the good work. We voted to have a coffeebreak again next year. "Letterman" and "White Girl," got elected to the planning committee.

"Mississippi Shorty," is still dipping those ice cream cones at the burger shop even when the weather is in 20 degrees. She still can dance on that crippled leg too.

"Little Red," and "Little Blue Wave," both had to make a trip to T town to doctor this week. Several others club members have been under the weather. We hope everyone is feeling better and Santa Claus comes to see them.

"Little Telephone Girl," really got excited over her birthday present. She got her ears pierced for one thing and she was awfully proud.

Three certificates of appreciation were presented at the meeting to "White Girl,"

"Lady Blue Surf," and to "Twitty Bird," for special services to the Northeast Club. All the officers gave this reporter a pair of earrings for work on reports and I was sure surprised and I thank all of you. I sure liked them.

We don't have any birthdays or anniversaries listed this week. If we missed anyone we are sorry and hope you have a nice day.

Happy New Year to all our C.B. friends and readers everywhere. Hope you have a very happy and prosperous one.

"King," and "Queen," are having a New Year's Eve party at their home and want all the club members to please attend and enjoy yourselves.

Our social will be January 5. The Singing Echoes from Marietta will be there to entertain. It will be pot luck. Let's all attend and start the New Year out right.

Until next year--hope Santa Claus brought all of you what you wanted and hope you have a good year. Until next week stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice and celebrate Christmas and the New Year right.

Library Notes

Librarian

A local organization, Friends of the Library, provides many helpful services for the patrons of the George E. Allen Library.

Members contribute time, money and ideas to improve library programs and carry them out.

The last week of the year seems an appropriate time to again say "Thank You." Many friends, both within this group and in addition to it, have given equipment, microfilm and printed materials in the past year. Thank you sincerely.

Ted Rubenstein is having the New York Times daily newspaper sent to the library as a gift in memory of his father, Theodore Rubenstein.

People are enjoying it and we hope many others will read it regularly.

The newspaper is one of this country's most outstanding with a very wide news coverage, but it is also a fine place to find current information on many interests. The magazine and book review sections are very helpful.

The library will be closed on New Year's Day. May the new year enrich each of your lives with its opportunities and blessings.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

How To Make Your Church Live

By Tom F. Rayburn

Recently a religious pamphlet came to me entitled, "How to Kill Your Church." I thought, "I will share this with my congregation." Then I thought again, "No, there is too much negative preaching now. I will try and turn the negative suggestions about killing a church into positive statements on how to make a church come alive." Here's how...

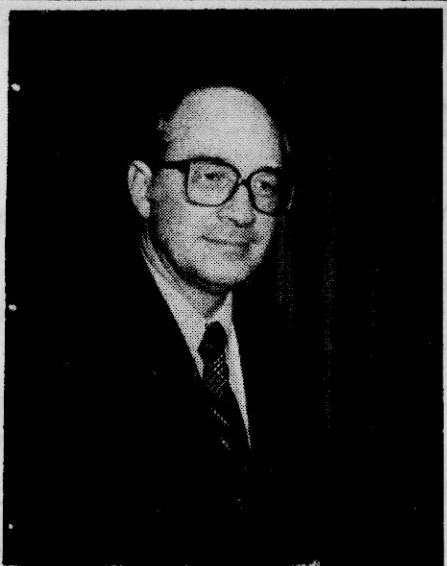

1. Come to church every Sunday.
2. As you come to church, come with a smile on your face.
3. Tell yourself, "I am going to get something out of every service." Remember that you always get out of anything what you put into it.
4. Make yourself available to serve on committees, or be a teacher. Get to know the workings of your church so that you can lend your moral and prayerful support.
5. Tell your pastor that you appreciate his sermons and that you pray for him as he preaches. Let him minister to you in your time of need.
6. Recognize your pastor as a man called of God. Pay him well, and assist him in the work in any way that you can.
7. If your church has staff members other than the pastor, recognize that they are there to assist him and the church.
8. Participate in all the services, by sitting close to the front, singing the hymns and joining in the prayers.
9. Give tithes and offerings. God loves a cheerful giver."
10. Encourage your preacher. If he doesn't preach your kind of message ask him to preach on your favorite verse or Bible Book. He may surprise you:

11. When you visit for the church say a good word. There is so much bad in the world, people like to hear something good now and then. They will join a good, happy church.
12. Be appreciative of those few who carry the load in the ministry of the church. They are there because they love God and wish to do something for Him.
13. Strive for the unity of the church. The Psalmist said, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

Here are thirteen suggestions on making your church live. If thirteen is an unlucky number to you, then sing this hymn of the church.

I love Thy church, O God!
Her walls before Thee stand,
Dear as the apple of Thine eye,
And graven on Thy hand.
For her my tears shall fall;
For her my prayers ascend;
To her my cares and toils be given,
Till toils and cares shall end.
Beyond my highest joy
I prize her heavenly ways,
Her sweet communion, solemn vows,
Her hymns of love and praise.
