CONCERNED PARENTS—There was standing-room-only Tuesday night when some 300-400 parents attended a meeting at the Booneville Community Center in an attempt to resolve some of the problems faced by the county and city school systems. Here, Charles Walden (center) passes out petitions to the parents while other parents place their children's names on other petitions. Approximately 275 names were listed on the petitions Tuesday night.

Parents Ask School Boards To Work Together On Problems

More than 300 concerned Prentiss County parents, meeting at the Booneville Community Center Tuesday night, passed a resolution asking that the Booneville Municipal Separate School Board and the Prentiss County School Board get together and "work out, in a cooperative manner, the best arrangement for our children."

At the meeting, the parents divided into five caucuses, or groups, one from each of the five county districts, and elected two parents from each group to serve as the official representatives for the concerned parents of that district.

This 10-member representative committee, called the Concerned Parents Education Committee, formulated the wording of the resolution, which states: "Be it resolved that the Concerned Parents Education Committee requests the Booneville Municipal Separate School Board and the Prentiss County School Board to release a joint statement of cooperation on behalf of all children in Prentiss County by March 1, 1980."

Copies of this resolution were to be sent to Dr. William Preston, president of the Booneville Municipal Separate School Board, and Lex Cain, Prentiss County Superintendent of Education.

This resolution is just the first step of action planned by the parents at the meeting.

Charles Walden, who served as spokesman of the steering committee which organized the meeting, said, "We will ask the two boards to work together. If they do not, after tonight we will be organized to take steps."

"We are not against the city board or the county board," Walden said, "we are just for our children."

"When we are satisfied that they are doing what's best for our children," he said, "we will stop meddling in their business."

Walden said that both the city school board members and the county school board members had been invited to attend the public meeting, "but they felt there was such a lack of information that they could not answer the questions they were sure would be asked of them, so they decided not to attend."

Three Arrested In Break-In

OXFORD—The Oxford Police Department arrested two Booneville men and one Oxford man last week in connection with the break-in Thursday night, Jan. 17, of an Oxford drugstore, according to Oxford Chief of Police Billy White.

Fabian Dwight Harris, 20, 101 Ledbetter St., Booneville; Carl A. Wright, 18, Route 1, Box 47B, Booneville; and Billy McDaniel Jr., 24, Apt. 52, College Hill Duplex, Oxford, were arrested and charged in connection with the break-in at the drug store, White said.

The police chief said that Harris and Wright were arrested at approximately 9:15 Thursday night on the roof of the Oxford drugstore.

McDaniel was arrested at about 5:15 the next morning at his apartment, White said. All three men were

Home Improvement Funds Available

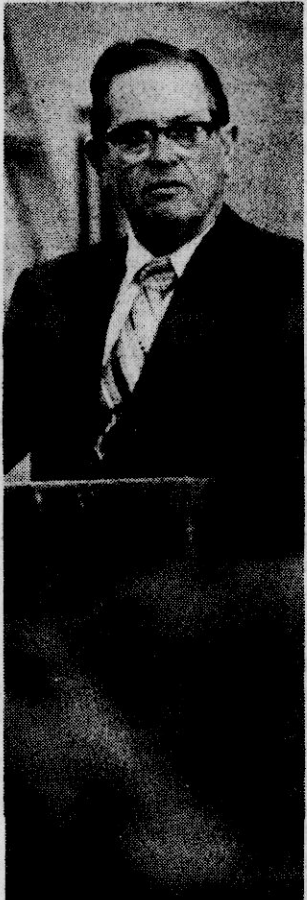

Rural homeowners in Prentiss County who need to upgrade their homes may be eligible for financing from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), according to Bobby L. Garrett, FmHA County Supervisor.

Garrett said that in addition to financing the purchase of homes, the Agency also has funds charged with burglary in the incident, the Oxford police chief said. They are presently out on $20,000 bond each, he said.

available to families who already own homes that need insulation-weatherization improvements.

FmHA will offer loans for energy conservation improvements to all rural families of low or moderate incomes who cannot obtain adequate commercial credit and are otherwise eligible for FmHA loan assistance. (Continued on Page 2)

JAMIE WHITTEN

At PCDA Banquet

Whitten To Speak Tuesday

Congressman Jamie L. Whitten is scheduled to be the featured speaker at the Prentiss County Development Association's fourth annual Banquet and Membership Drive to be held Tuesday, Jan. 29, according to PCDA Executive Director Doug Mansell.

Also scheduled for the program, which is to begin at 7 p.m. in the Haney Union on the Northeast Junior College campus, is a 35-minute fashion show sponsored by the state Travel and Tourism Department, Mansell said. Members of the Northeast Junior College's Modeling Squad will participate in the show he said.

Mansell said that three PCDA members will be elected at the meeting to replace three members of the Board of Directors whose terms are expiring. New officers will also be elected, he said.

Whitten, the guest speaker, is the elected representative in the U.S. Congress of the people of the 20 counties (including Prentiss) of the First District of Mississippi.

Born in Cascilla, Miss., Whitten is married to the former Rebecca Thompson of Saltillo. They have two children, Jamie Lloyd Whitten Jr. of Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Beverly Merritt of Arlington, Texas. As a youngster, Whitten attended Cascilla and Charleston public schools, graduating from Charleston High School in 1927. He attended the University of Mississippi and the University of Mississippi School of Law. He was admitted to the Mississippi State Bar with the highest average in 1932.

In 1930-31, at the age of 20, Whitten served as principal of the Cowart Consolidated School, Tallahatchie County. He was elected to the Mississippi House of Representatives at age 21.

At the age of 23, he was elected District Attorney of the 17th District of Mississippi and was re-elected twice before resigning in 1941 after being elected to the 77th Congress in a special election. He has been re-elected thereafter.

Whitten holds membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity and Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He is a member of the Lions' Club, a Rotarian and a Mason. He is also a member of the Charleston Presbyterian Church.

Water Now Meets Standards

Greg Geno, District Sanitarian with the State Board of Health, told the Banner-Independent Tuesday that the Wheeler-Franktown Water Association is presently meeting the bacteriological standards of the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act, and has been for the past three months.

Winfred Caldwell, president of the water association, reported last week that the association did not meet the standards of the Safe Drinking Water Act for the periods of July-September 1978, April-June 1979 and July-September 1979.

Geno said the system was not meeting the standards for those periods, because the Wheeler-Franktown Water Association "failed to do a couple of things during the grading period."

"They failed to take the minimum number of samples that we require (two per month)," he said. "They only took one during August and they should have taken two."

"In another grading period, I believe July-September 1979," he said, "they had a high coliform average."

"This doesn't necessarily mean that the water is bad," he continued. "Coliform is an indicator organism...it shows that there might be some contamination there."

"What they have to do is go back and re-sample at the same sampling point," he continued. "This is what they did and they got some negative results."

"This doesn't necessarily mean the water is bad," he repeated. "It (the coliform bacteria) was just higher than it should have been, higher than what we require."

Dr. Johnson Appointed To Hospital Board

Booneville physician Dr. Dwight Johnson, by appointment of the Board of Supervisors, became an official member of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital's Board of Trustees effective Jan. 1, 1980, according to a spokesman for the hospital.

The responsibility for the operation and function of the hospital is delegated to the five-member Board of Trustees—a governing body whose purpose is to formulate plans and policies that will insure the people of the city of Booneville and Prentiss County the highest possible standard of health care, the spokesman said.

Dr. Johnson began his general practice of medicine in Booneville in January 1976. He received his medical degree from the University of Mississippi Medical Center and interned at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Before entering medical school, Dr. Johnson received his Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Mississippi and later taught Electronic Technology at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Dr. Johnson is very active on various Medical Staff Committees, the hospital spokesman said. He also served as the 1979 Chief of Staff.

stressing the need to conserve energy and help families combat today's higher cost of home energy, he added. If for further information, contact Garrett at 728-3542.

Parents

Executive Secretary of the Education Finance Commission (EFC) in Jackson, told him Tuesday morning in a telephone conversation that the Attorney General had ruled that the Prentiss County School Board is the final authority (short of a lawsuit) in deciding the transfer of students from the county system. There had been some speculation that the EFC could hear appeals from parents on the subject of transfers, but this ruling nullifies that avenue of action for the parents. If the two school boards do not get together and work out a solution as requested in the resolution from the parents, Walden said that "it is within the power of the Separate School District to accept those students who previously attended Booneville schools if the county will release them." "They (the city board) have said they will accept the students (if the county releases them)," he said. "The authority to release the students is solely in the hands of the county school board." If the city school board accepts children from outside the city limits into the city schools without an official release from the county school board, the city system could lose all its state funds, Walden said. He told the group that Dr.

Lovell said if the county school board is petitioned to release the students and they fail to do so, the next step is a suit in Circuit Court (not Chancery Court as had been previously stated). Two petitions were circulated at the Tuesday night meeting—one requesting that the Separate School Board accept the students and the other that the County School Board release the students. Approximately 275 children's names were listed on the petitions circulated at the meeting. Walden said that about 300 names had already been obtained on petitions prior to the meeting, but that those people would need to re-sign the new petitions. "We have taken some time to carefully word these petitions," he said. "We also feel that it is necessary to have the parents sign two petitions—one to the county school board and one to the city school board—so that we can present each board with an original, not just a copy." "We are asking that the petitions be signed on a one year basis," Walden said. "It would give both systems a one year period to plan a long-range program and work out the problems." Walden stressed the importance of signing the petitions, by citing a similar case in Arkansas that went

Unemployment Up Again For December

JACKSON, Miss.—The State's unemployment rate rose to 6.2 percent in December, an increase of three-tenths percent compared to November's 5.9 percent jobless rate, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Edgar C. Lloyd, Jr.

The 6.2 percent for the month of December was lower than last year's rate of 6.9 for December. Mississippi's rate of 6.2 percent was higher than the national rate of 5.6 percent. MESC figures showed 912,700 employed and 60,300 unemployed out of a civilian labor force of 973,000. The initial unemployed insurance claims totaled 16,832 for December.

The counties having the highest rate of unemployment were Jefferson with a rate of 12.9, Winston with a rate of 12.1 and Sharkey with a rate of 11.5. Lafayette, Oktibbeha, and Rankin had the lowest rate of unemployed. Lafayette had a rate of 3.6. Oktibbeha had a rate of 3.4 and Rankin had an unemployment rate of 2.5.

Forty-eight counties showed an increase in the unemployment rate for December while eight counties remained the same. Twenty-six counties had decreases in the unemployment rate for December.

association publish the fact that the coliform bacteria was higher during the grading period than it should have been, Geno said. It must be published in the paper, put on the radio and put on the bills from the association, he said.

The officials of the water association just did not get around to fulfilling these three requirements, Geno said, until last week.

"They finally got around to doing what they were supposed to have done back in September," he said. "The Jackson office had written them several notices to go ahead and do this."

The announcement in the paper came at a bad time, Geno added. The water association had a break last week in their water lines near Wheeler due to some construction in the area.

"About the time they had the break," Geno said, "this article appeared in the paper."

There was no connection "what-so-ever" between the break and the fact that the system did not meet the bacteriological standards, he said.

"We have been monitoring the system ourselves," Geno said. "We do this periodically, just in case the associations fail to do so. They (Wheeler-Frankston) have not had a bad sample since sometime around November."

"I think a lot of associations throughout the state have been out of compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act at one time or another," he said.

"As of right now," Geno added, "the Wheeler-Frankston Water Association is in good standing with us, except for the paper work."

The Miracles of Baddour Center

Miracles To Perform At 1st Methodist

The Miracles of Baddour Memorial Center will present a musical program for the 11 a.m. worship service at the First United Methodist Church in Booneville Sunday, Feb. 3.

Members of this talented singing group are residents of the Center, which is a residential village for mildly or moderately retarded persons, eighteen years of age or over. The Center, which has been operation since December 1978, is located on 100 acres of lovely countryside about one mile south of Senatobia.

The Miracles, organized in June of 1979, had made at least one hundred public appearances by the end of the year. In addition to their singing talent, several members of the group play various musical instruments, such as the melodica, tambourine, guitar, and drums.

Accompanying the singers will be staff members Richard Hollie and Thornton and Audry Chisom. Hollie, a unique pianist, has performed in the White House East Room, and was previously associated with the Sunshine Singers of Mexia State School, Mexia, Texas. Mr. Chisom, an excellent soloist, also joins his wife, Audry in accompanying the group on guitar.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

WARD HOGLAND

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read in the Bible question box that one must be in the church in order to be saved. What about babies, children or even lunatics will they reach heaven?

ANSWER: Again, may I say thanks for your response to our question box. When I said one must be in the church of the Lord in order to be saved I assumed that everyone understood I meant responsible people. Obviously, by the question some did not. I do not believe babies or lunatics will be lost. They are SAFE! the word "Safe" means not in danger. The word "Saved" means, to deliver from danger. (See any good dictionary). Babies are not lost so they do not need to be saved. Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God" (Mk. 10:14). The bible does not teach that little children are totally depraved. So in answering your question, may I say that babies and people who are not responsible are not lost in the first place! Sin is a transgression of the law (1 Jno. 3:4). They have not transgressed the law, therefore, they are not sinners. These people do not have to be in the body of Christ, which is his church (Eph. 1:23). All responsible people must be in the body of Christ to be saved.

Jane Cook

Some Jobs Tough, Dirty, But

Lady Cobbler Likes Her Work

The sign over the door says Jane's Shoe Repair, but folks from another era may recall buying tickets there for a trip on an Illinois-Central passenger train.

But time changes customs, and automobiles and airplanes have replaced trains as the major transporter of people. The man with the green-billed cap has been replaced by a cobbler nailing rubber taps on the heels of cowboy boots.

That in itself isn't unusual. Cobbling is an older profession than railroading, and cobblers can still be found in almost any community of any size. But the person driving the nails here is a woman.

Jane Cook got in the shoe repair business by accident. She was working in a factory in Tupelo when Ralph Williams called to ask if she would like to work for him in his shoe repair shop.

Her first job was sewing zippers in jackets and purses, but as her skills developed she started using all the machines and doing all types of shoe repair.

When Williams retired in March 1979, Jane bought her own equipment and set up shop in the old passenger depot. Thus the only known female cobbler in Prentiss County--and probably the only one within several hundred miles--came into existence. A shop in Corinth is owned by a lady, but she has male employees who do the work.

"I didn't even like to sew at home, and now I use two different sewing machines," Jane said.

"When I first opened," she added, "I didn't even know what all the different materials were called. But the salesmen who called on me were very helpful. When I explained what I needed the materials for they told me what it was called."

Her business has grown in the eleven months since she opened. In addition to shoes, she repairs such things as tarpaulins, trampolines and leather harnesses.

"The local policemen are very good customers," she said. "They bring their holsters and harnesses for repairs and alterations. When they get a new gun the holster needs to be altered to fit."

"Probably the toughest and dirtiest job I've had was repairing a truck tarpaulin," she said. "But the only job I have ever turned down was repairing a saddle horn. I couldn't get it into my sewing machine."

Marketing experts might not consider the location of Jane's Shoe Repair a prime spot, but it does have its advantages. Sometimes when a freight train stops nearby, one of the crew will run in to have a boot stitched up. And where else can you find a shoe shop that offers drive-in service for trains?

Although it is not really a family business, the family does offer encouragement and helps out from time to time. Her retired husband T.A. and son, Tom, come in quite often to help out. And daughter, Karen has her own sideline embossing and painting names on leather belts. "This is my first business venture and I love it," Jane said. "Some days I don't make much money, but I enjoy the freedom that goes with being my own boss, and spending more time with my family. And it's nice not having to drive to Tupelo to work everyday."

As for the future Jane is optimistic. She feels the trade area will grow and she expects to grow with it.

"Gas shortage? It should help my business," she said. "It means people will walk more, and walking wears out shoe soles. And when they need new soles, I'll be here to help them."

Fashion Show At PCDA Banquet

The importance of cotton to Mississippi's economy and the role it has played in the state's history will be highlighted Tuesday night, Jan. 29, when the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board's Salute to Cotton fashion show is presented at the fourth annual banquet and Membership Drive of the Prentiss County Development Association (PCDA).

The fashion collection, consisting of 20 garments, has been booked for showings at conventions, civic club meetings, and other events throughout the state and nation, according to Margie Tyler, special projects coordinator for the A&I Board.

Members of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College's modeling squad will be modeling some of the garments, Tuesday night, Doug Mansell, executive director of the PCDA, said Monday.

All fashions in the show are duplicates of garments worn by former first ladies of Mississippi with the exception of an 1860 child's dress and a Victorian bathing costume, Tyler said. Garments are made of cotton and date from 1830 to the present.

Research spanned a period of two years, she said, and involved study at the Metropolitan Museum of Art Costume Institute in New York. Additional information was provided by the Mississippi Department of Archives and History.

Shane Pittman, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality, is also scheduled to model a cotton antebellum gown designed especially for use during her reign. She also provides a commentary explaining the history of cotton and its introduction to Mississippi and the United States.

In conjunction with the A&I Board, funds and fabric were contributed by the state's Federated Women's Clubs and Cotton Inc.

The 35-minute show is rich in historical fashion with commentary emphasizing the vital role cotton has played in Mississippi's history as well as the nation's economy, according to Ms. Tyler.

The PCDA meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Haney

Union on the Northeast Junior College campus, Mansell said. Congressman Jamie Whitten will be the featured speaker.

Tickets are available from any PCDA board member, from any of the banks or from the PCDA office (phone 728-3505).

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III
Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

The week of January 14-18 was a busy one for legislators and all state officials. Although very little work was done on meaningful legislation, much time was spent on committee organization and attention to official ceremonial functions.

Three joint sessions of the House and Senate were held. The first was to honor long-time Secretary of State Heber Ladner, who is retiring after 44 years of service to the State. The second was for the swearing in ceremony of Lt. Governor Brad Dye and other state officials.

This was a very impressive occasion held in the Old Capital Building and was attended by several hundred people. The third was held to allow out-going Gov. Cliff Finch an opportunity to deliver his final State of the State message.

Two very informative trips were taken by state legislators. The first was to Port Gibson for a tour of the Gulf State Nuclear Plant.

I was especially interested in this tour and learning as much as possible about a nuclear generating plant, because much of my district is affected by the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant.

The second trip was to Mississippi State University where each member of the legislature was welcomed by a group of students from his home area. We were much impressed by the diversity of educational opportunities offered and the great progress being made by the University.

However, we were most impressed by the student body itself. The students are to be commended for their outstanding appearance, attitude and behavior. Parents and friends can well be proud of this tremendous group of young people.

Speaker Buddy Newman made committee assignments this week and I am completely satisfied with my particular assignments. My committees are: (1) Agriculture (2) Education (3) Apportionment and Elections (4) Penitentiary. These are all very important committees to our area and the state as a whole.

I have much experience in the areas of Education and Agriculture and feel most fortunate to serve on both these committees. I am the only House member from extreme Northeast Mississippi to serve on the committee of apportionment and elections and also the only member from our area to serve on the Penitentiary Committee.

The apportionment and election committee will have much to do after the 1980 census is completed. No doubt some alteration will be made in legislative districts due to the 1980 census. This committee will make recommendations concerning these changes.

The Penitentiary Committee has legislative oversight on the entire Department of Corrections which includes the Parole Board, the State Penitentiary at Parchman, and the new and smaller correctional institutions now being established around the state.

Next week I will discuss several pending bills that will affect Prentiss and Alcorn Counties, as well as the entire state. Your response will always be welcome.

Speaking Out

"Speaking Out" is a telephone line for you to speak out on issues that are important to you. You may call "Speaking Out" by dialing 728-6215 each evening after 6 p.m. You do not have to give your name when you call. Your calls should be kept as brief as possible. Our recorder will shut off after approximately 30 seconds. We do reserve the right to edit comments, if necessary. We also reserve the right to reject comments we deem inappropriate. We will print as many comments as possible.

Roads Improved...

"I'm a tax payer in the first district. It's a shame that for four years my road had never been touched until the new supervisor came in. Thank you."

More On Roads...

"I am a tax payer in the first district on the Old Marietta Road. This is the first time that I have been able to get down the road without my battery falling out!"

Water In Gas...

"Why hasn't the state gasoline inspector of this area seen that the water is gotten out of the tanks? Squirting a little out of a nozzle isn't an inspection. We are tired of pulling truck tanks and automobile tanks to get water out. Vehicles are taking out all along the roadside and all of this is very expensive."

Tell Us Why...

"I think the Booneville Separate School District board should explain to the county why they want a separate school district if they can't run it without the county children and county money. The county is only asking what is right for their children and what belongs to them. We don't need the Booneville city children."

Water Standards...

"According to your paper, standards are not being met at the Wheeler-Franktown Water Association. Many people are worried about this. Could the Banner act like 'Action Please' and find out from someone what could be done? There's a lot of people drinking water in the Wheeler-Franktown area that don't want to feel they are drinking unsafe water. Thank you."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Please see related story on page 1.

Congratulations...

"I would like to congratulate Happy Harold on his 12th anniversary at WBIP radio station and I would like to ask him, would he give the Christian people and the other people maybe an hour of gospel music everyday. We'd appreciate it very much."

Money For Schools

"May I tell your caller that the city plans to finance the schools in the same manner as we financed the county schools in the past—our tax money. My city tax money has been spent for years keeping up county schools with less than 200 students, and schools where two elementary grades were too small and one teacher had to teach both classes in one room—while the Booneville schools were bursting at the seams. Some parents value education more than a dollar."

What Happened...

"I can remember some years ago when I was in school, the city decided it needed the country kids and it didn't seem to make any difference how many schoolhouses had to close their doors, just so they could build their school to a certain number. Their argument was that some of the country kids could get a better quality education. I want to know what happened."

Stop Sign...

"Why was that ridiculous stop sign put up on Third Street close to the park? I have run it three times."

Discipline...

"As a concerned parent, I would like to know what discipline is used at the high school, and, if any, is it ever enforced?"

Don't Forget...

"Where were our local Senators and Representatives when Brad Dye and Buddy Newman raided our state treasury? How long will the people stand for such shenanigans? I hope the voters will remember this when Brad and Buddy run again."

Proud Of Schools.

"Why is it the people from the city of Booneville keep downgrading county schools? Have they ever stopped to think that a larger percentage of the teachers who teach their children graduated from county schools? The size of the school and the number of subjects taught does not determine the outcome of the individual. Many successful doctors, lawyers, teachers, ministers, businessmen and other outstanding citizens have graduated from county schools. I, for one, am very proud to have graduated from a county school."

Eyes On Mississippi

Cochran Takes Leadership Role

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Now a year in office, United States Sen. Thad Cochran stands as Mississippi's only statewide elected Republican official, despite tendencies the state has shown since the Dixiecrat rebellion 32 years ago of finding a new philosophical home in the GOP.

While Cochran handily beat a Democrat for the Senate in November, 1978, a year later there was no transferral of those votes for Republican Cochran to Republican Gil Carmichael. Mississippians once more rallied around the old Democratic flag, indicating again they were not ready to shelve the Democratic label in statewide politics, even though many have more in common with Republican ideology nationally than they do with the Democratic Party.

How Cochran views his role, both vis-a-vis his own party as well as the considerable body of Mississippi Democrats who obviously voted for him in 1978, is one of the most fascinating aspects of the present political spectrum in this Deep South state.

Cochran is quite aware that he is the Republican's highest ranking elected official in what must be regarded as a Democratic state, and as such he feels entitled to exercise a leadership role in the destiny of the Mississippi Republican Party.

That, incidentally, contrasts sharply with the attitude assumed for years by James O. Eastland, his Democratic predecessor, as well as his present Democratic colleague, John Stennis. Neither Eastland nor Stennis would lift a hand to help build up the state's Democratic Party, even when the party was crying out for leadership.

Unlike Stennis who declined recently to declare his preference in the Democratic presidential race despite his support of Jimmy Carter in 1976, Cochran has not only made public his choice of John Connally in the GOP presidential derby, but has assumed the leadership of Connally's campaign in Mississippi.

That is a position which carries some political risks, since even Cochran will admit that Ronald Reagan, the darling of both conservative Republicans and conservative Mississippi Democrats, is the front-runner in Mississippi.

But Cochran feels strongly that if he is going to be a leader in the party, he must take a position in presidential politics, even if that position is not popular with all segments of the party.

His role as a leader for Connally will also place him in opposition to his two Republican colleagues in the Congress, Reps. Trent Lott and Jon Hinson, both of whom are openly supporting Reagan. Since Mississippi's GOP will be staging the state's first presidential preference primary in June, this could produce a rather heated campaign over the state that would factionalize the Republicans somewhat along the bitter Reagan-Ford lines in 1976.

Cochran doesn't see that happening because of Connally's high degree of acceptability among those who support Reagan. The pitch against Reagan apparently will center upon the age of the former California governor and his questionable ability to win over independents and Democrats nationally.

Cochran will try to convince Mississippians that Connally is the most powerful personality the United States can put up against the Soviets in protecting American interests around the world.

Despite his admiration for Connally, insiders say that Cochran's real favorite among Republican presidential potentials is Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, his close friend in the Senate. But Cochran contends that he is publicly supporting Connally rather than Baker in the presidential race because Baker is needed more in the Senate as a mediator between the opposite wings of the party.

Some believe that Cochran holds an outside hope that if a deadlock occurs between Reagan and Connally in the Republican National Convention, Baker could come in as the compromise.

At any rate, Cochran doesn't see Mississippi's very late preference primary in June having any real effect on the presidential race unless Connally does well in the South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida primaries which will have been held much earlier. Should Connally win in South Carolina, where he has the backing of Sen. Strom Thurmond, he would be in the running in Mississippi, Cochran believes.

Meantime, Cochran is drawing on his own forces around Mississippi to make sure his friends win key committee spots in the State Republican party organization this year in order to protect his flanks if his presidential candidate doesn't fare too well in the party primary.

Special Olmpics Draws 300 At Northeast

Approximately 300 persons participated in the Area 13 Special Olympics Meet held last Thursday at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The students of Area 13 is composed of the counties of Prentiss, Alcorn, Benton, Tippah, and Tishomingo.

Local Prentiss County Coordinator Barbara Shackelford said she was well pleased with the overall meet and said she would like to isay a special thank you to the Northeast for their facilities and especially to Miss Emma Braddock for her help.

The Need is Great

The mentally retarded need Special Olympics. For them, sports is the quickest, surest road to health, growth and self-confidence. Yet, despite the amazing success of Special Olympics, there are still more than 2 million mentally retarded children and adults in the United States alone who are denied the chance to develop their physical abilities and to experience this new kind of joy.

In America, Special Olympics is reaching only about 25 percent of the mentally retarded individuals who need the program. 20" of the nation's counties have no Special Olympics organization or program. 60 percent of the school systems are still to be reached.

There are still thousands of communities and school systems which have never opened their gymnasiums, pools or athletic fields to the mentally retarded for recreation, sports training or simply for fun. There are many places which have not yet learned to accept those who are different.

These boys and girls, men and women, will continue to stand on the sidelines unless this program is brought to them by people like you who care. That's why Special Olympics is primarily a local program. It is in towns and cities like yours that the mentally retarded are waiting to become Special Olympians.

Fortunately, an increasing number of people and organizations every year are proving that they do care. Both locally and nationally, many organizations such as National Association for Retarded Citizens, Jaycees, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Office Education Association, Non-Commissioned Officers Association, Civitan, Kiwanis, Rotary, Caritas, Youth ARC, Compfire Girls, YMCA, YWCA, and many more have adopted Special Olympics as their special group project. In your community, these groups are ready to help you.

The National Basketball Association and the American Basketball Association have joined to sponsor Special Olympics basketball. The National Hockey League co-sponsors the Speical Olympics floor hockey program.

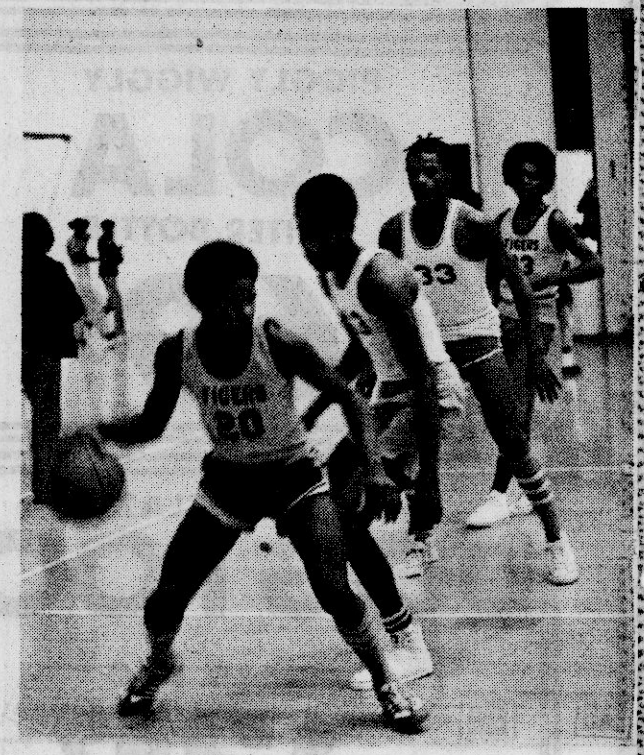

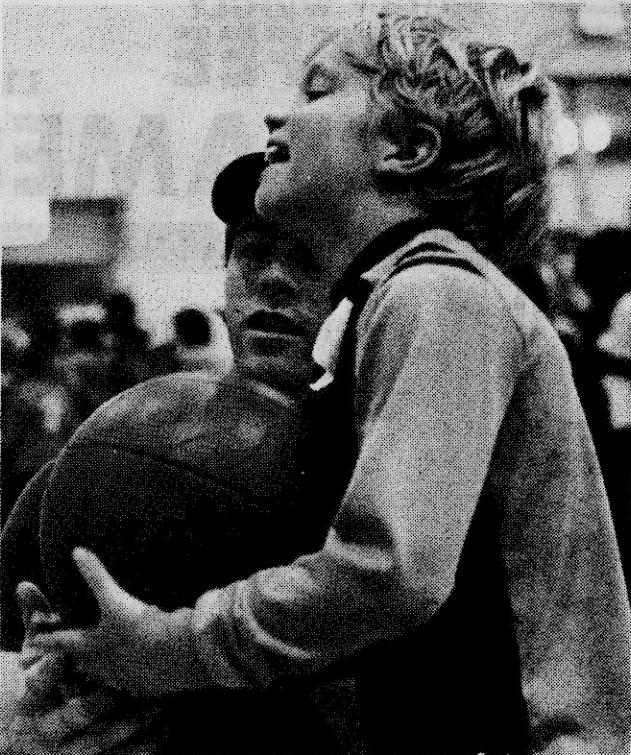

The Ice Skating Institute of America has opened ice rinks throughout the country and offers training classes to the mentally retarded. And the U.S. Olympic Committee has granted the program one of its rare authorizations to use the term Olympic.

At the community level, professional and amateur athletes serve as coaches and officials. High school and college students work with mentally retarded youth throughout the year. School and community teams and sport clubs adopt Special Olympics teams and help them train.

National and local media have come to recognize the high quality of sportsmanship, skill and courage displayed at Special Olympics games. ABC Wide World of Sports, CBS Sports Spectacular and NBC's Today Show have covered the games nationally. Each year more than 15,000 newspaper stories are published and hundreds of local and network television and radio stations provide literally millions of dollars in free advertising and public service time.

The unit number for our new club members, the "Skunk" and "Lady Skunk," will be 6. We are very proud to welcome them to our club.

Tuesday night we held our regular business meeting. Plans were discussed for our coffeebreak. Each unit is to bring a gift to donate and also a child's gift. Turn your gifts into "King."

Anyone having quality stamp books may donate those to the break for extra gifts-the books should be turned into "Upholstery Man." The break will be from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. April 12 and 13.

We had several folks absent from our meeting Tuesday night due to sickness. The viruses and colds are still raging among our club members. We hope everyone is feeling lots better and will be able to be out again real soon.

Did any of you copy the mail the other morning when "Hilltopper" said he and "Pouncewheel," were gonna work? Would someone take a camera and make us a picture of those two so we may put it in the scrapbook!

Happy birthday to "Wilaway," "Little Bear," and "Lady Pouncewheel." Hope each of you have a nice day and have many more to look forward too.

The club would like to thank "Lame Duck" and "Grannie" for the frog they made and gave to "Ole Blue" while he was in the hospital. "Ole Blue" made a speech about it at the meeting-said he sure was enjoying it.

Happy anniversary to "Pouncewheel," and "Lady Pouncewheel." Hope you have a nice day and have many more wonderful years together.

Until next week, stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

Everyone really enjoyed the beautiful spring-like weather on Saturday. It only lasted for one day, but for that we are thankful. The winter has been mild so far this year and Spring will be here before you know it.

a story I thought my readers would like:

A man tragically lost his hearing during service in World War I. He hung between life and death and emerged in life-long silence.

After that experience he wrote: "I sometimes wonder what I would have become if I had not lost my hearing. It is the greatest thing that ever happened to me."

"It made me find my self, and it has taught me many things. I lost the sounds of the world and heard the message of God; I lived with death and found its true meaning. I suffered myself and learned not to cause others to suffer; through physical agony, I found peace within my soul."—Copied.

The News From Oak Ridge

The gloomy, dark, foggy weather may have been somewhat depressing, but let's remember the sun is there and always comes through.

The Kenneth Wilson family of Decatur, Ala., arrived last Tuesday at noon. Ken and the boys are fine but Karen is a patient in the Baldwin Hospital undergoing extensive tests there and in North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. The only results we know at present is that she is very deficient in vitamins.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy was able to leave the local hospital Thursday, Jan. 17. Mrs. Rue Robinson is at home, having left the local hospital Jan. 14.

Aunt Myrtle Harris hasn't been feeling as well as formerly.

Get-well wishes are extended to all those mentioned and all others who are ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Harris attended the funeral service for Marsha Pace on Monday afternoon, Jan. 14. It was conducted by Bro. Don Reel of the Hillcrest Congregation in Waters Funeral Home. The host of people, the beautiful floral arrangements and the lovely songs all gave evidence of the great esteem in which Marsha was held.

The Sunday School teachers from Oak Ridge drove to Henderson, Tenn., Saturday morning to select class materials from the Freed-Hardeman Bookstore.

The Magnolia Bible College Associates of Prentiss County held their monthly meeting last Monday night. The newly elected officers were in charge and all members are asked to help make 1980 as successful a year as was 1979.

Jaycee Week Is Proclaimed

January 20-26 has been proclaimed National Jaycee Week, according to Betty Lauderdale, president of the Jumpertown Jaycees.

The purpose of the week is to focus attention on the young men who are members and the work they are doing in the community, she said.

"The Jumpertown Jaycees would like to salute the Jumpertown Jaycees during their special week," Mrs. Lauderdale said. "This is a very fine group of young men. They are a very vital service organization in the Jumpertown community and the Jaycees are proud to be affiliated with them."

Last year the Jumpertown Jaycees donated money to help purchase land for a city park which, through their hard work, has become a reality, Mrs. Lauderdale said. They also helped the local school with the installation of a sewage system, she said.

"The community has taken much pride in the erection of a sign welcoming visitors to our city," she said. "This was funded by the Jaycees."

"The Jaycees have sponsored numerous other community projects and continue to be a forceful and energetic organization," she continued. "Jaycees of Jumpertown, Job well done! Keep up the good work!"

Mr. Lewis Ragin will bring his first message to the public on Sunday evening, Jan. 27, at 5 p.m. Instead of Sunday, Feb. 10, as stated in last week's article. We are sorry for this error.

The Rev. Willie L. Powell, pastor of the Beckley Chapel C.M.E. Church, left the city immediately following the services on Sunday, Jan. 20, for Port-au-Prince, Haiti, where he will represent the church in the conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church. The conference will convene on Jan. 21 and end on Jan. 25. We wish for him a safe journey.

The pastor and choir members of Spring Hill Church will appear as the guests of the Hope Well M.B. Church of Rienzi in a program in which the Rev. Shumpart will be the guest speaker. The public is invited to attend. This event will take place on Sunday, Feb. 10, at 3 p.m.

Mr. McDuffy Agnew is home from the hospital and completely recovered from his recent illness. He expressed his appreciation for all the visits and calls while in the hospital and a special thanks to the doctor and the nursing staff of B-wing.

Mrs. Zera M. Hastings is still a patient of the local hospital. Her condition is reported to be somewhat improved.

Mrs. Pinkie Loftis is also a patient on C-wing of the local hospital. She is reported to be in fair condition. Our prayers are for her complete recovery.

While trying to cope with the pressure and demands of unexpected job situations many times we fail to see as individuals the people who are in superior and supervisory positions, and we fail to appreciate their efforts to promote satisfaction, harmony and top quality productive work among the employees.

Most of these people are loyal, dedicated and conscientious. They are possessed of a fierce love and pride in their work and the positions they hold. One such person is Mrs. Bulah Tennyson. A registered nurse at the local hospital in the capacity of O.B.-nurse, Unit Coordinator of D-I and part time supervisor, she has been associated with the hospital since the year of 1951 and states that the hospital is like a second home to her.

She is constantly striving for the welfare of the employee as well as the patient. On first impression she gives the appearance of a stern, no-nonsense individual, but beneath that firm exterior lies a very warm, compassionate, kind and extremely generous person, with a lovely personality. She has done much to make D-I what it is today in regards to efficiency and courteous service, for she gives her best and expects no less from those under supervision. We have the highest respect for Mrs. Tennyson as a nurse and as an individual and pray for God's blessings in her life always.

May Faye Simmons

Mrs. May Faye Simmons is the daughter of Mrs. Jennie M. Spain. She is 27 years of age, divorced, the mother of two children and an L.P.N. presently employed at the local hospital. She began her school years at the local high school and later transferred to Jumpertown, where she graduated in 1970. Encouraged by her mother, she entered the Northeast Junior College School of nursing for L.P.N. training. After completing the requirements, she began her nursing career at the local hospital as a G.P.N.

During the course of five years she was employed by the Magnolia Hospital of Corinth, the Tupelo Medical Center, and the Aletha Lodge Nursing Home, gaining experience and knowledge on the job. She was married to Mr. Marcus Simmons in the year of 1977.

Crime Prevention

Stop Burglary! By Larry Finger

Q: Could you suggest some trap to fix for a burglar?

A: My advice is to call the Police and let them trap him.

Should you be serious about the "trap," reconsider. Traps are illegal because they do not care who they catch—burglars, pets, neighbors, family or children. Don't take the risk of flirting with tragedy.

Q: Are there any confidence schemes currently operating in this area?

A: Not to my knowledge. It is not necessary—folks are still leaving the keys in their cars.

This is not to say that it could not happen. The most adaptable to this area would be the "bank examiner" routine: First contact is by telephone. The most likely victim is the elderly female, located by the telephone listing.

The caller identifies himself or herself as a bank employee and states that withdrawals have been made on the victims account and that they suspect dishonest employees. Cooperation is then requested to rap the thief.

The "examiner" asks you to go to a certain teller at your bank and withdraw money. You are instructed to put the money in a plain envelope and hand it to the "examiner" or his partner when they approach you. They tell you that the money will be redeposited by them and that you can return the next day and have your account book readjusted. You return to find that you have given your money away.

There are no circumstances in which a bank examiner, police officer or any other legitimate agency will ask you to withdraw your money or surrender your valuables. While the likelihood of it happening is not great, one should notify authorities at the slightest suspicion.

Q: I am thinking about buying a gun. What type pistol would you recommend for home protection?

A: None! You obviously do not own a gun and are not trained in the use of such a deadly weapon. The citizen that is not trained in the proper use, care and function of handguns poses more of a threat to his or her security than any burglar.

First, the handgun is easily mishandled and, is dangerous even under normal circumstances. Compound the situation with one of fright, uncertainty or the approach of physical danger and you have the elements necessary for a fatal accident—to you or someone else.

If you must secure a firearm, get a shotgun. Don't overstate the burglary problem—it is not that bad.

We are fortunate in the amount of security that we have in our homes. Should a burglar enter your home, he will probably be looking for something to steal, rather than do you harm. If surprised, he will probably attempt to flee. Let him and call authorities.

An "ABC" dry chemical fire extinguisher makes an excellent defensive weapon against almost any kind of animal for about ten dollars.

Q: Is it necessary to record serial numbers of personal property?

A: Yes! If an item does not have a serial number, put one on it and then record it.

Library Notes

"Super Puppets" are what boys and girls will be making this coming "Super Saturday" at the George E. Allen Library. It will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Marion W. Smith room at the library.

Mrs. Elaine Hatfield will be your leader and you will be the stars.

Materials will be furnished for you to make sock puppets that you will use during the program and then take home. Instructions will be furnished for adding your choice of ears and other features to your own puppet to express your own creativity. Sounds like fun!

Among the books recently added to the collection at the Allen Library are three large print editions: John Mac Donald's "Nightmare in Pink," Arlene Hale's "A Glimpse of Paradise," and Emilie Loring's "Thrown Wide the Door."

Users will recognize these as popular writers and will agree that our demand for large print books exceeds our supply.

Recently added non-fiction includes "Clementine Churchill," the Biography of a Marriage by Mary Soames, "Arnold's Bodyshaping for Women," by Arnold Schwarzenegger, "Helping Children Overcome Learning Difficulties," by Jerome Rosner, and "The Encyclopedia of U.S. Government Benefits," edited by Roy A. Grisham, Jr. and Paul D. McConaughy.

M.M. Kaye's "Shadow of the Moon," on our request list of best sellers for some time, has arrived. As was her "The Far Pavilions," this is a long novel set in India, again enthralling enough to keep the reader's interest throughout its many pages. Mollie Kaye writes of what she knows, the life of a Britisher in India, with great skill and a great love of both countries.

On Grain Embargo

Holley Says Farmers Are 'Goat'

By ED BALKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

A seemingly large majority of farmers in the state and nation have opposed the President's recently announced grain embargo of the Soviet Union and have raised some pertinent questions concerning same.

Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation president Hugh M. Arant of Ruleville presented a resolution in the final session of the American Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., nearly two weeks ago which asked the President to explain to the American people why the actions of the Soviet Union constitute a threat to U.S. national security at this time, and furthermore how the embargo of grain sales will further American interests and protect our national security.

The resolution was soundly endorsed by the delegates from all 50 states and Puerto Rico in a loud voice vote and became the official position of the American Farm Bureau Federation pertaining to the embargo.

Arant's position statement went on to point out that "American farmers should not be required to endure economic hardship primarily to evidence this Administration's willingness to confront the Soviet Union." The statement said that American farmers will support combined efforts by all segments of our society as well as our allies to resist Soviet aggression in Afghanistan and throughout the world.

The farm convention added that "steps must also be taken by the government to equitably compensate American farmers who suffer economic hardship as a result of the President's actions."

"In the event a national emergency exists," the farmers said, "all segments of our nation must join in making sacrifices necessary to deal with the crisis. All necessary steps must be taken to end cultural and economic contacts with the USSR."

Mississippi farmers attending the convention voiced unanimous concern over the President's actions.

Arant commented at a convention breakfast of Mississippians that the denial of farmers to grain sales in the export market and the closure of the commodity futures markets on January 7 and 8 was going to create chaos in the farming community.

Concerning the effects on prices he added, "Even though the government might plan to put into reserve these grains that normally would enter the export market, there is no way for farmers not to find this embargo as a depressant on the international market."

Charles Fioranelli of Cleveland, the federation's Young Farmer of the Year for 1979, expressed disappointment that the President would single out farmers at their personal loss without consulting the U.S. Congress or farm leaders. The soybean and rice grower said that rice prices in Mississippi tumbled as soon as the Iranian embargo was announced. He added, "we had the best crop we ever had and prices were real promising until this thing came up. It seems like everytime we, the farmers, get back up on one leg somebody kicks it out from under us!"

William Holley of Marietta indicated that he thinks the farmers have been the goat again. Said Holley, "I question the legality of the President ordering the Russian grain embargo without declaring a state of emergency. And then, if he did so, I would think farmers should be entitled to the 1977 provisions for 90 percent price supports on our crops."

J.R. Carter of Rolling Fork said, "No other segment of the national population is more patriotic than American farmers—but this boycott unduly punishes us. I doubt that it will do any good anyway because other sources of grain supply are available to Russia."

TO LEAD SEEDSMEN'S ASSOCIATION—New officers and directors of the Mississippi Seedsmen's Association were elected at the organization's annual meeting in Biloxi Jan. 13-15. They are, from left, Ted Cheshire, Jackson, secretary-treasurer; Bobby Horton, Cleveland, director;

Seedsmen Told

U. S. Farmer Provider For World

BILOXI—The president of the Southern Seedsmen's Association told seedsmen here last week (Jan. 13-15) that the 1980s will bring about a major revolution in agriculture in the United States.

Speaking at the 35th annual convention of the Mississippi Seedsmen's Association, Ed Welch, Montgomery, Ala., Southern Seedsmen's president, said genetic engineering through molecular biology will be at the forefront of developments in the decade ahead.

"This technique involves the planting of a gene of one organism into another organism," Welch said. "This will result in accomplishments of 30 years of growth in the wood fiber industry in a five-year period. Food products will be produced from seeds requiring less sunlight, less soil and few nutrients.

"Cloning will reduce plant science research requirements from 7 to 10 years to about 3 years," Welch continued. "Male sterility in soybeans can be improved by examining millions of seeds in the laboratory rather than thousands in the field."

He added that the seed industry must remain vitally aware of new developments and bring in new people, new ideas and new excitement.

Pressley Coker Jr., president of the American Seed Trade Association, told the group the seed trade must fight to preserve the free enterprise system that has made this country a land of plenty.

"The poverty level income in this country is 10 times greater than the average income in all the rest of the world," he said. "Agricultural productivity in this country is not just the envy of the world, but the provider of food and fiber for the world."

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran congratulated the seedsmen for their role in helping the economy of Mississippi. He said Mississippi is the number two state in the number of certified seed produced.

Cochran told the group the Federal Seed Act of 1939 is presently under review, chaired by Dr. Roy Creech of the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station.

He also discussed the importance of expanding agricultural exports, especially in view of the recent embargo and its effect on agricultural prices.

"We must work together to overcome the negative aspects of our current problems," he said.

Walker Guerry, Artesia, executive secretary of the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, said the state had a good crop of soybeans in 1979, with the best germination in years.

"Rice looks good on germination and quality, and cottonseed is the best we have had lately," he said. "Of more than 16,000 tons of cottonseed sampled, 80 percent meets certification standards. I don't see any problem with any seed crop as far as quality and germination are concerned."

About 250 people from Mississippi and surrounding states attended the annual event.

program was conducted by the Mississippi Judicial College of The University of Mississippi Law Center, sponsored by the Mississippi Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General, and funded by the Criminal Justice Planning Commission, Office of the Governor.

If Erosion Steals From You

Conservation Plan Will Save Soil

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist

The decision to develop a conservation farm plan on your farm may be one of the most important decisions you will ever make. This service is provided to farmers and land owners free of charge through the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District with the help of the Soil Conservation Service.

The purpose of the conservation plan is to help you reduce your soil loss by wise land use. Your conservation plan will provide you with orderly steps in carrying out the necessary practices to reduce soil loss.

Now that you have made the decision to have a conservation plan developed for your farm you may ask the question, how do I get the plan?

First, you must be interested in conserving your soil, then come by the Soil Conservation office in Booneville. We will be more than happy to make you a cooperator with the Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD). After you become a cooperator, we will go over your farm with you. We will discuss ways to reduce your erosion and improve your yields.

After a visit to your farm and discussing your plans with you, we will develop a conservation plan that will fit your farming operation. After the plan is developed, you will implement the plan.

In implementing the plan, you should take it one step at a time. Do not try to do everything in one year. It may take two or three years to complete. The important thing is to work toward completing the whole plan.

Erosion is like a thief in the night, you never know he is there until he is gone. This thief is stealing from us our most valuable resource, our land. Let's take a hard look at erosion—then, develop and implement a conservation farm plan.

ASCS Conducts Registration For Beef Producers

Beef producers who wish to vote in an upcoming referendum should register between Jan. 28 and Feb. 6 at the local office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The producers will vote by secret ballot Feb. 19-22 on whether they want a nationally coordinated beef research and information program. A similar referendum, conducted in 1977, did not receive the required two-thirds approval, although it was favored nationally by 56.4 percent of voting producers.

Since that time, the Beef Research and Information Act has been amended so that a majority of producers will be sufficient for approval. Rules for registering and voting have changed.

It was determined that 10 days would be sufficient for all producers to register and that the four-day voting period would result in a more efficient voting procedure and reduce administrative costs. Copies of referendum rules can be obtained from the ASCS office.

Registration and voting can be completed by mail if information and ballots are requested in advance.

The Beef Research and Information program would be administered by a board of up to 68 producers and five non-voting consumer advisors. Each state would be represented on the board in proportion to its share of the cattle industry. The program would be funded by assessments based on the value of cattle sold.

All sellers in the marketing chain would be assessed and the buyer at the point of slaughter would deduct the total assessment and forward it to the board. Any producer could request and receive a refund of the assessment paid.

For more information on the beef referendum contact the ASCS office.

Fertilizer Prices Higher

Farmers will pay 16 to 20 percent more for fertilizer this spring than they did last year. Nitrogen prices are expected to be 10 percent higher; phosphate, 12 to 15 percent; and potash, 8 to 10 percent.

Higher costs for labor, transportation and energy are mainly responsible. Because prices are expected to rise again before planting season, farmers should arrange for their fertilizer early to insure getting the analysis they need, a better delivery date and a lower price.

1980 Vegetables

Gardeners will have a new tomato variety for 1980 gardens; Miss American Hybrid. This red tomato is resistant to tobacco mosaic virus, root knot nematodes and certain types of fusarium.

It was developed by the Mississippi State University experiment station at Crystal Springs. Miss American Hybrid is not listed in the 1980 seed catalogs, but seed should be available in small quantities across the state. Try it in your garden.

Tax Information

Be sure to take full advantage of income tax provisions when you fill out your tax return. Consider depreciation on equipment and buildings.

They qualify for regular depreciation throughout their useful lives; plus additional first-year depreciation when first put into use. Depreciation and other tax deductions can save you valuable dollars.

FARMWEEK

The use of computers on Mississippi farms will highlight the January 28 edition of Farmweek. Host Tyson Gair will interview Tunica County farmer Wes Bailey about how he uses a micro-computer on his rice and soybean farm. Extension Economist Dr. Bob Williams will discuss the potential of computers in crop production.

The program can be seen Monday night, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p.m., or the following Tuesday morning at 7:30 a.m. on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

HEADACHES & CHIROPRACTIC

Did you ever stop to think what headache pain means? There is a good reason for pain — just as there is a good reason for the red light and siren on a police emergency vehicle. Headache pain is nature's signal warning you that something is amiss somewhere in your body.

When your head aches, it does so because something is wrong — perhaps something quite serious. It is a signal, also, to do something about it — to remove the cause of the headache before more serious damage occurs.

Although few laymen are capable of diagnosing their own ills, millions will gulp pain relievers to deaden headaches. They will do this day after day, ignoring nature's danger signals. To do this is like disconnecting the warning signal at a railroad crossing, then driving across the tracks in the path of an oncoming train. Disaster could result!

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A Very Present Help In Time Of Trouble

By Florene Ables

"They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in. Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them. Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and He delivered them out of their distresses." (Psalms 107:4-6)

Why should man be so determined to try to walk through life alone? The 4th verse says that the people wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way. Solitary means single, by one's self, alone, without God. We walk through life so many times by ourself. In the wilderness of sin and all the worldly lusts and pleasures, we seek for a place of refuge from the storms of life and yet we find none. Our souls are often hungry and thirsty for the things of God. His blessings we fail to receive because we do not invite the Lord to go with us as we walk through the world. Only God can show you the peace you seek for.

In verse 6 the psalmist declared that after no place of rest or comfort could be found they cried unto the Lord. Why must mankind wait till our souls have fainted before we turn to God and cry for help. How many times could trouble have been avoided if we had only called on God before we get in such deep distress? God is so wonderful, even after we had wandered in the wilderness of sin, God delivered us out of our distresses. Surely God is a very present help in time of trouble.

Meeting-January 28 at 1:30 p.m. at the Extension Office.

EH Council Meeting and Awards Program at 2:30 p.m. on January 28 at the Extension office.

Fitness is for young, old, fat, thin, and all those in between. It's not a matter of trying to live forever but of living at your best whatever time you live. Being fit can help you live a fuller and more independent life for a longer time. And besides, fitness is fun!

You develop physical fitness through regular exercise. As a result of regular exercise you will: shape your figure or physique by burning up calories, tone and shape your muscles, release tension, improve the function of the cardiovascular system, stretch and lengthen muscles, improve your power of concentration, and aid good posture. Best of all it makes you feel good.

Your exercise program should include activities which will develop muscular, skeletal (flexibility), and cardiovascular fitness. Stretching and bending exercises, commonly referred to as calisthenics, help develop muscular fitness, flexibility, and some strength. Brisk walking, jogging, swimming, or any exercise which results in your breathing hard develops cardiovascular fitness.

We have a publication, "On Your Toes," that will help you develop a fitness plan just for you. The program is designed for you to start slowly and increase the intensity and duration of the activity as your fitness improves. To benefit, you must exercise long enough and intensely enough to tax your body.

Fifteen and twenty minutes of calisthenics and the same length of time devoted to cardiovascular activity is considered a minimum, three-times-a-week program. Every exercise period should include a warm-up, conditioning, and cool-down. The calisthenics are good warm-ups for walking (conditioning) exercise. And a slow 2-5 minute walk following the conditioning will satisfy the cool-down.

By a warm-up and cool-down, you can avoid straining your muscles and overworking your heart. Cardiovascular activities should be increased gradually to thirty-minute periods. As you advance in fitness, aim for four and five days a week. After that you reach diminishing returns. Your body needs and benefits from rest.

There are additional things you can do to help burn calories and improve the general condition of your body. Try walking more and riding less, taking the stairs instead of the elevator, parking your car at the farthest end of the parking lot, chopping by hand instead of using a food processor, carrying your golf clubs instead of riding a cart. Move with a brisk pace. All exercising adds up.

Strict 'Lee' Speaking
30 Second Clock:
Some Like It,
Some Don't

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Writing a sports column is a unique experience and it gives the writer a chance to express his or her views on any particular situation.

A person who is familiar with the game of basketball knows that the game is one of the most exciting sports going on today.

This is true on most all occasions. Sometimes it gets a little dull when a coach decides to use the stall tactics to hold the ball from the opposing team.

This tends to take some of the enthusiasm out of the game although some fans may like the approach. It does throw a little strategy into the game and adds to the overall performance of a team.

Most fans however like to go to a game to see points made, fast breaks and plenty of shooting. To most of us, it's what we like to see.

A solution to this would be the use of the 30 second clock in High School which allows a team only 30 seconds to get a shot off. This would eliminate the stall game altogether.

Again this would take away some defensive students but would add more points per game and make the game a little more exciting for the fans.

All pro teams have the 30 second clock and have used it for quite sometime.

On the other hand, a new kind of play was established a few years back called the four corner offense, which is actually a defense. This is where a team puts one man in each corner and stalls the ball for as long as it takes to get an open shot.

Should the 30 second clock be established, this would eliminate this all together.

This topic is just something to think about. I'm sure they are several fans for it, as well as against it. What's your opinion?

BIGBEE TOURNEY UNDERWAY

The 1980 Tombigbee Conference Basketball Tournament is now underway and will continue through the finals set for Saturday night at the Booneville High School Gym.

Booneville's Blue Devils and Baldwin's Lady Bearcats are the defending champions of the event and will be on hand to defend their crown.

FOOTBALL SEASON OVER

Well football season is finally over and the Pittsburgh Steelers left little doubt as to who the best team in the NFL was.

TWO 18 WHEELERS TALKING

A smokey called a while ago and asked me what my speed was, said one 18 wheeler.

Did you tell him? asked the other.

Negatory, I told him I was doing the legal 55 miles per hour. What did he say?

"He told me I'd better get out of the way because my trailer was doing 70..."

A Special Benefit Indoor Go-Cart Race will be held Saturday night February 1 in the Birmingham Ridge Community near Tupelo.

Some 15 races will be scheduled which will include drivers from Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi.

The local Birmingham Ridge Race Club will schedule several go-cart races throughout the remainder of the winter months ahead and races will be held every other week.

Frank Wright, a spokesman for the Feb. 1 event, said he urges everyone to come out and support this worthy cause.

"We're hoping for a large turnout for this benefit race," Wright said. "They should be some top competitors in this running and we hope everyone will come out for this race."

Admission for the Feb. 1 event will be $3.00 and all proceeds will go to Saint Judes.
