Foundation Established For School Funds

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The Prentiss County Education Committee has established an agency designed to give financial support to the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, according to a letter the Committee is sending out this week to local parents.

The Booneville Municipal Separate School District Foundation has been established as an agency for collecting memberships and contributions, and for disbursing funds to the Booneville system, the Committee said.

The Foundation is currently seeking a non-profit corporation charter from the state and is also seeking tax-exempt status from the Internal Revenue Service. This would permit contributions to the foundation to be tax-deductible, the Committee said.

"We are now receiving memberships in the parent organization in the amount of $10 per family to permit one vote in the election of Foundation officers and the conduct of other business of the Foundation," the Committee states. "Thus, the Foundation becomes a permanent supportive arm of the Booneville School System with memberships and contributions received from people inside or outside the Booneville City limits."

"However," it continues, "only parents with children in school would be permitted to have a voting membership in the Foundation or to serve as officers."

Plans are for an organizational constitution and by-laws to be drafted by the temporary officers elected by the Committee. These plans will be presented to the membership at a meeting to be scheduled in the near future.

Officers and a board of directors are also to be chosen at that meeting, and would include parents from inside or outside the city

Local Cable System Sold

The Booneville cable television system has been purchased by a Des Moines, Iowa, communications firm, it was announced this week.

Heritage Communications Inc. has acquired 15 cable television systems located in Mississippi from E.O. Roden of Booneville, it was announced.

The systems purchased are located primarily in northern Mississippi, with the largest being in Oxford, Booneville and Amory. These systems presently serve more than 12,000 subscribers, with 20,000 homes having access to the cable. Several other small neighboring franchises are under construction.

In exchange for the systems, Roden and his several partners will receive a combination of Heritage stock, cash and debt, it was announced. No purchase price has been disclosed.

"We are pleased to be joining our systems with Heritage," Roden said. "We talked to a number of cable television companies and we are convinced that Heritage will serve our communities in the best way and provide our subscribers with the highest quality service."

James Hoak, president of Heritage, said, "This is a fine opportunity for Heritage to grow in a fast developing part of the country. The previous owners have done a fine job, and we look forward to working with them to continue their service."

Easter Specials Offered By Uptown Merchants

Uptown merchants in Booneville are offering special savings this week through their Easter Parade of Values, which is being sponsored by the Uptown Association.

There will be two free showings Saturday of the movie "Star Trek" at the Carmon theatre to keep the kiddies entertained while mom and dad shop.

The movie will be shown at 10 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. Tickets are available at all participating merchants.

Advertisements throughout today's paper give details of the special values being offered by the local uptown merchants for Easter.

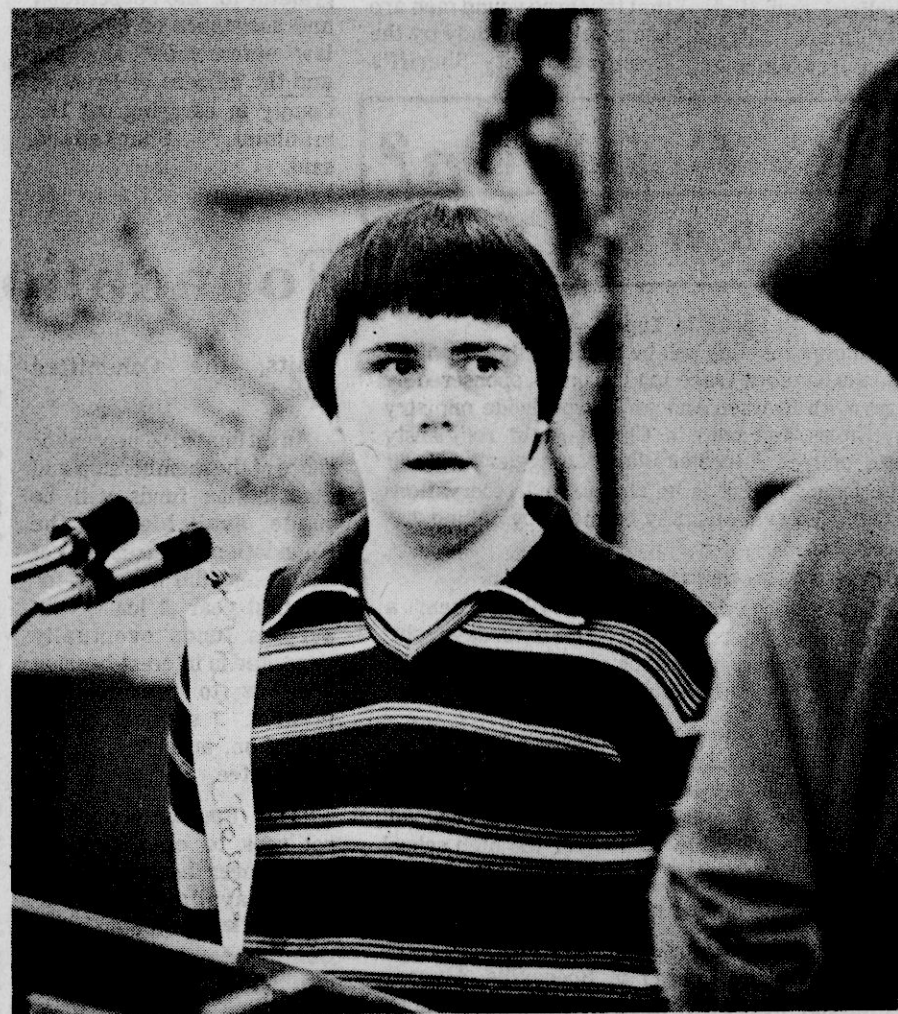

Easter Sunrise Service Set At Northeast

The Prentiss County Ministerial Association will present a sunrise service Easter Sunday at 6:30 a.m. in the Northeast Junior College's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

Tom Rayburn, pastor of the First Baptist Church will speak on "The Prophecy of Christ's Birth;" Charles Potts, pastor, First United Methodist Church, will speak on "The Life of Christ;" and Larry Hill, pastor, First United Pentecostal Church, will speak on "The Return of Christ."

Hymns will be directed by Johnny Eubanks, music director of the East Booneville Baptist Church. Special choir arrangements will be directed by Larry Wimberly, associate director of the Northeast Baptist Student Union. The organist will be Bud Davis, organist at the Wheeler Baptist Church, and the pianist will be Dyann Hannon, pianist at the East Booneville Baptist Church.

COUNTY CHAMPION - Jimmy Torrence, 13-year-old Anderson Junior High student, keeps his eyes on Dr. Anne Gaddis (back to camera) for some sign that his spelling is correct in the Prentiss County Spelling Bee held Saturday in the courthouse. Jimmy won the contest by spelling the word "strudel" correctly. He will represent Prentiss County in the Mid-South Spelling Bee in Memphis Friday, April 25. Torrence Wins Spelling Championship

Jimmy Torrence, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Torrence, 105 Massey St., Booneville, became the 1979-80 spelling champion of Prentiss County Saturday by out-spelling the other 23 contestants in the annual county spelling bee. This was his first time to participate in the spelling bee.

Tammy McGaughey, the 13-year-old daughter of Dean McGaughey, Route 3, Rienzi, placed second. Tammy participated in the spelling bee last year.

After the contest had gotten down to the final two contestants, both of them misspelled "rambunctious." Tammy then misspelled "strudel," giving Jimmy a chance to win. Not only did he spell it correctly, but he also spelled the next word, "spareribs," giving him the championship.

Jimmy will represent Prentiss County in the Mid-South Spelling Bee to be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday, April 25, at the University Center of Memphis State University.

Eddie Jumper, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jumper, 101 Oak St., Booneville, placed third and Joey Hughes, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tunney Hughes, Route 7, Booneville, placed fourth.

Jimmy, who is in an accelerated class at Anderson Junior High, was sponsored in the spelling contest by Mrs. Bennie Sue Williams. He is a member of the Pentecostal church and plans to become a botanist when he finishes school. He lists baseball, having an aquarium and growing plants among his hobbies.

Tammy, who attends Thrasher school, has been a junior high beauty and is a pledge leader in the 4-H club. Her sponsor was Mrs. Margaret Goddard. She hopes to become an archeologist and lists drawing, reading, swimming and playing basketball as her hobbies.

Eddie, also a student at Anderson Junior High, was sponsored by Mrs. Marie Spain. Eddie is an honor student and has won several athletic awards at school.

He is a member of the Methodist church, but says that he has not decided what his future occupation will be. He lists sports, putting together scrapbooks and collecting sports cards as his hobbies.

Three Arrested For Theft

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department has arrested three juveniles in connection with the theft of a new 1980 Ford Thunderbird from a dealership in Raymond, Miss., according to Deputy Joe Shackelford.

The deputy said that five youths escaped Friday night, March 30, from the Oakley Training Center, a juvenile home in Raymond. The boys are believed to have broken into the Raymond Ford dealership's office to get the keys to the Thunderbird which was taken from the dealer's lot, Shackelford said.

One of the youths was dropped off in Jackson, he said, and another was left on the Natchez Trace. The other three continued on to Prentiss County, he said, apparently trying to reach Nashville. One of the youths was from Prentiss County, Shackelford said.

Two of the young men were captured with the car in Prentiss County near the Burton community, Shackelford said. The third escaped into the woods, causing a manhunt to be organized.

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department, the Mississippi Highway Patrol, the Tishomingo Sheriff's Department, the Department of Fish and Wildlife, and several private citizens participated in the manhunt. (Continued on Page 2)

Thrasher first grade students will not attend school that day, April 11.

LEGISLATORS GREETED - More than 100 Mississippi lawmakers and their spouses arrived for lunch at the Northeast Junior College shortly after noon Saturday. This was one of the stops on the "Northeast Focus '80" trip which was sponsored by community organizations from several Northeast Mississippi counties. Local officials and dignitaries were on hand to greet the lawmakers when the five chartered buses arrived. The tour was termed a complete success by the organizers and by local legislators who participated. It was designed to give state legislators who are not familiar with the area a first-hand view of the progress and the needs of Northeast Mississippi.

Local Cable

systems to Heritage should be completed in mid-April, subject to final closing.

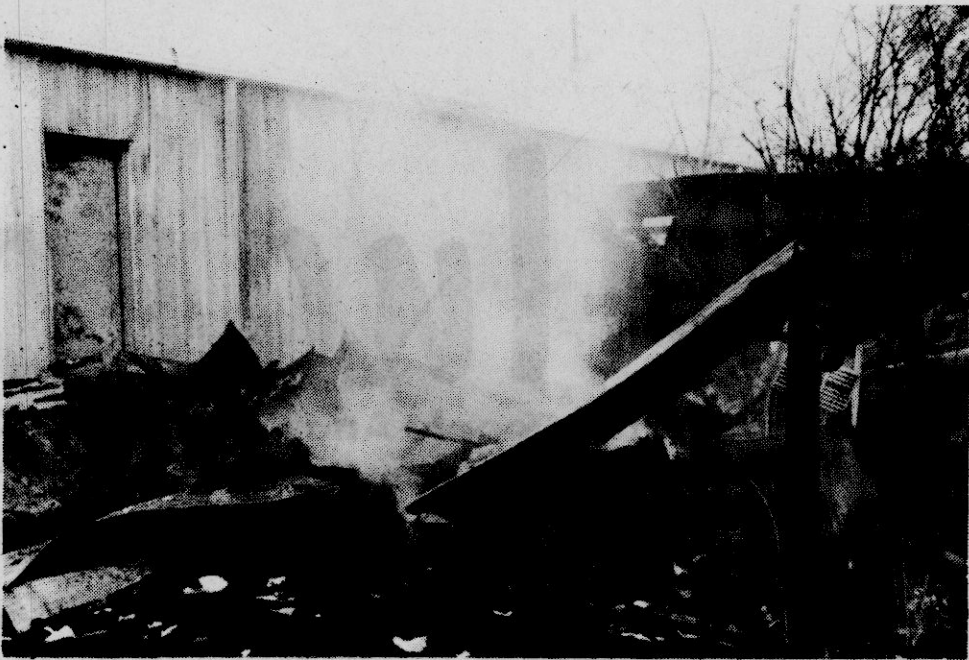

In separate transactions, Heritage Communications announced that it has purchased the cable system in Iuka, Miss., which serves approximately 1,000 subscribers. This system will be operated as a part of the other Mississippi cable systems being purchased, a company spokesman said.

No changes in the personnel of the various cable systems are planned and subscribers will continue to receive their services as in the past, according to Mr. Hoak.

Rowden, who is a long-time resident of Booneville, has also been active in broadcasting and banking, in addition to his cable television interests.

Heritage Communications, based in Des Moines, Iowa, has cable television systems in 75 communities in six states, serving approximately 80,000 subscribers. In addition, Heritage owns and operates three display communications firms and two radio stations.

PRINT SHOP DAMAGED—Gerald Hodges' Commercial Printing, located south of Booneville on Highway 45, suffered heavy smoke and water damage Sunday afternoon when a grass fire apparently spread to the building. Hodges said this week that the print shop is still in operation, with the Corinth office handling the printing until the local shop can get back into production. Firemen from Booneville, Baldwyn and Wheeler worked to quench the fire. (Photo courtesy of David Horn and Randy Moore.)

Shackelford said.

The deputy said that the suspect managed to get out of the woods, but, acting on a tip, Shackelford and Highway Patrolman Alfred Michaels captured him in an automobile on highway 30 with his aunt and another woman.

Shackelford said Monday that the three young men are being held in custody by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department for Oakley authorities.

"The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department is grateful for the cooperation and assistance of the other law enforcement agencies and the citizens of Prentiss County in carrying out the manhunt," Shackelford said.

Foundation

limits, the Committee stated.

An estimated 90 percent or more of the membership and contribution funds will be made available by the Foundation for direct use of the Booneville Schools, for the first year at least, with surplus funds eventually deposited in interest-bearing accounts to provide permanent support for education, according to the Committee.

"The Foundation would not seek to exercise total control over the use of funds made available to the Booneville schools," the Committee stated, "but would reserve the right to ask for an accounting of their use to preserve permanent parental interest and support."

One purpose behind the establishment of this Foundation is to help offset the loss of tuition to the Booneville school system due to the acceptance of county students without tuition by the city system, the Committee said. This would also help "to avoid city taxpayers carrying an unfair share of the burden of the loss of tax money from our released children."

Following the agreement by the city school board to accept county students without tuition, the Committee pledged to make an effort to raise a significant amount of money through memberships and contributions to assist in the operation of the city schools, for next year.

The letter from the Parents' Committee also says that, since the release of the children is for one year only, decisions need to be made about permanent affiliation with the Booneville system.

"This decision would need to be made by the parents involved," the Committee said. "This could be accomplished by moving within the Booneville district, or seeking to expand the Booneville district to include their road or community, thereby paying the same taxes for schools purposes as the people who reside inside the city limits."

Although the county school board has agreed to release those county students who are currently attending city schools and the city school board has agreed to accept them for next year, the Committee pointed out that it is the responsibility of each family to request a release.

Those parents who signed a petition requesting a release will also have to file an official release form with the county school system. These forms are available at all Booneville city schools and at the office of the county superintendent.

The letter, which is to be mailed to all those parents who signed the petitions requesting the release and acceptance of their children to attend the city schools, also attempts to bring the parents up to date on what has occurred since the formation of the Committee in January. It also points out that the Committee is working on the problem of the released students' eligibility to participate in activities governed by the Mississippi High School Activities Association Inc.

"It is not the intention of this Committee or of the Foundation to hinder the development of sound programs and plans by the county school board," the letter states, "for some of our children will doubtless eventually attend schools other than those in Booneville. We simply feel that the right to choose where our child will go to school next year is basic and is practical, and we appreciate the decisions made by both boards that now will allow both systems to make plans for next year, and to begin to make plans for the future."

Many Cases of Jake's Disease

"According to rumors, there are many cases of the so-called 'Jakeitis' in and around Booneville. It is known that several are confined to rooms and beds and are under treatment for the paralysis.

"There is a conflict of opinion as to the ingredient in the jake that has wrought this havoc with the legs of those who drank the stuff, and also as to the final outcome; as to whether the disease is curable, or whether it will gradually grow worse until it ends fatally. It seems as if the disease sets up not less than two weeks after the drinking..

"A patient in the local hospital from Corinth seems to have made but little improvement."

BIBLE
BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I read your question box in the paper and have a question: Some churches immerse for baptism and others give a choice, such as sprinkling or pouring, does the Bible speak out on this question?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Thanks for the question, yes, the Bible speaks loud and clear on this subject. In its most basic and fundamental sense, the act of baptism "consists of the processes of immersion, submersion, and emergence" (W.E. Vine, expository Dictionary of New Testament words, Vol. 1 Page 96). Standard Greek lexicons such as Arndt, and Gingrich define baptism in this way: "dip, immerse" and they point out in non-Christian literature it means to "plunge, sink, drench, overwhelm etc." The word "baptize" does not adequately translate the idea of the action contained in the original, but rather is a transliteration, that is it merely transposes Greek letters into English words. The Greek word for sprinkle is "rantizo" and is entirely different from baptizo. The real meaning for baptism is given in Rom. 6:3-4, where Paul calls it a burial. In Bible times they did not sprinkle or pour water on people but rather immersed because the Bible says they used much water (see Jno. 3:23). Acts 8:35-39, tells us one must come to water, go down into the water and come up out of the water.

Police Arrest 34 Persons, Two On Drug Charges

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy reported Tuesday that the police department made a total of 34 arrests during the period March 24-31.

Charges filed include: possession of beer, 2; public drunkenness, 13; switched tags, 2; expired tags, 3; reckless driving, 4; false driver's license, 1; obstructing traffic, 1; no tags, 5; improper inspection sticker, 1; possession of less than one ounce of marijuana, 1;

Possession of three ounces of marijuana, 1; family disturbance, 1; failure to maintain control of a vehicle, 1; public disturbance, 1; possession of stolen property, 1; no inspection sticker, 3; driving under the influence, 2; driving while intoxicated, 1; assault and battery on a minor, 1; improper lights, 1; no driver's license, 2; and improper lane usage, 1.

Danny Strickland, 19, of 305 Parkwood Grove, was charged with possession of three ounces of marijuana and turned over to the county for the action of the Grand Jury, Stacy said. He is currently out on $5,000 bond set by Justice Court Judge Billy Sartin awaiting a preliminary hearing, the chief said.

Strickland was arrested Tuesday, March 25, he said.

Blane Pharr, 19, of Route 1, Marietta, has been charged with possession of stolen property, Stacy said. He was arrested Saturday, March 29, while driving a motorcycle which had been stolen from Illinois, the chief said.

He was stopped for not having a tag on the motorcycle, Stacy said, and further investigation revealed that it was a stolen vehicle.

Pharr said he bought the motorcycle from another subject, Stacy said. The case has been turned over to the county for a preliminary hearing to see if he will be bound over to the Grand Jury, the police chief said.

MS Auction Produces $948.50

Tommy Walden, chairman of the Prentiss County Chapter of Multiple Sclerosis, said this week that the recent "silent" auction held at the Bank of Mississippi to raise money for the fight against the disease raised a total of $948.50.

"We would like to thank all those who donated items and those who bid on them," Walden said. "We plan to make this an annual event." All money raised will remain in the state of Mississippi for patient care, he said.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the brain and spinal cord that interferes with the brain's ability to control such functions as seeing, walking, talking, eating, tying a shoe lace, and opening a door.

It is not a mental illness, is not contagious, is not hereditary and, unfortunately, is not preventable or curable at the present time.

MS is the most common crippling central nervous system disease of young adults in the United States. Several hundred thousand Americans have Multiple Sclerosis and related disorders, which usually begin between the ages of 20 and 40. MS is very rare before the age of 15 and after the age of 55.

Three out of four MS patients are still active and can take care of daily needs many years after a firm diagnosis. One of three MS patients has a mild form of the disease and nine out of 10 have few or no symptoms for months or even years.

For the most part, the MS patient's life span is usually near normal.

County Unemployment Reaches 8.4 Percent

Unemployment continued an upward trend in Prentiss County to reach 8.4 percent of the civilian labor force at Mid-February according to Charles Smith, Corinth Area Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service. This compares to 6.9 percent in January and 7.5 percent for February 1979.

The civilian labor force for the county also experienced increases of 140 and 220 for the month and year, respectively. The number of Prentiss County residents employed dropped slightly from last month but rose some 110 from one year ago.

Manufacturing employment in the county at 3,070 was estimated to be 50 jobs below the estimate from last month and 70 below that for one year ago. Non-manufacturing employment, estimated to be 3,700, remained relatively the same as last month's figure but gained a slight 60 over the year.

Smith also stated that the unemployment rate for the four-county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah and Tishomingo climbed at mid-February to reach 9.1

percent, compared to 8.1 percent in January and 8.2 percent in February one year ago.

There were 45,230 persons in the civilian labor force for the four-county area, which represents a rise of 590 from January.

In County

Sheriff's Department

Stages Three Raids

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department staged two drug raids Saturday night, March 29, according to Deputy Joe Shackelford.

Ten arrests were made at the Cindy Price home near Baldwin on the Baldwin-Ripley Road, he said. Those arrested were charged with possession of controlled substances, possession of drug paraphernalia, and possession of alcoholic beverages.

Some of those arrested were still in the county jail Monday and others had been released on bond, the deputy said. All charges will be handled in justice court, he said.

The other raid occurred at a former church parsonage which was being rented near Wheeler. One or two arrests were made on charges of possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, Deputy Shackelford said.

In another raid Saturday, one man was arrested and a quantity of beer was taken, Shackelford said.

A search was conducted at the residence of Louise Burress near the Booneville-Baldwyn airport, he said, and Murray Miller, 50, of Route 2, Booneville was arrested in the woods near the house on charges of possession of beer.

He is out on bond pending a hearing on the charges.

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III

Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

This article is being written at the completion of the Legislative tour of Northeast Mississippi. There are not enough adjectives to describe the tremendous success of this mammoth undertaking which was carried out under the able leadership of John Stanley of Corinth.

Also serving with Mr. Stanley as members of the Steering Committee from my district were Ken Miller of Alcorn County and Doug Mansel of Prentiss County. These men went above and beyond the call of duty with leadership and hard work to make the 1980 Legislative Tour of Northeast Mississippi a most memorable occasion for all.

In the short time I have served in the House of Representatives, I have made a special effort to become personally acquainted with other Representatives from all areas of our state and if possible to turn these acquaintances into lasting friendships filled with mutual understanding and respect. Many of these Representatives accepted our invitation to take part in the tour of our great Northeast Mississippi area and as the tour ended each and everyone of them expressed personally their sincere appreciation for the hospitality, for the entertainment, and for the educational and worthwhile experience of seeing firsthand the very heart of Northeast Mississippi.

They asked that I express to each and every citizen their favorable impression with the beauty of our land, with our opportunities for growth and development, and with the progressive spirit of our people.

During the event packed two-day visit, the Legislators were never lobbied or pressured concerning the special need of our area. However, they could not help but see the great potential as well as the obvious needs of our area.

In years to come as Legislation is presented for the purpose of better utilization of our potential and to meet these obvious needs, these visiting Legislators will be more prepared to make decisions for the good of Northeast Mississippi and the state as a whole.

Scores of citizens and groups joined hands in an effort to make this tour the success it was. Each should be commended for their special effort. The steering committee, the chambers of commerce, development associations, county officials, mayors and boards of aldermen, TVA officials, the Corp of Engineers, junior college officials, business and industrial leaders, and law enforcement officers.

A special word of thanks to the many citizens, with no special title, who worked long and hard with their assigned task to impress our guests.

If Mississippi is ever to reach its full potential, we must be a united state, not given to jealous regional differences. Much has been done toward this end. The 1980 Legislative tour will do even more.

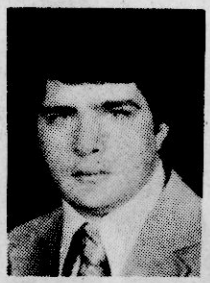

I have always tried to be an ambassador of good will for my counties and for Northeast Mississippi. I was never prouder than this weekend, as Alcorn and Prentiss Counties were presented at their best.

Senate Report

By Bill May

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

The week of March 24th was mostly dedicated to committee work. We did, however, pass 26 Appropriations bills, one of which I shall discuss prior to revealing to you my personal observations of the new Senate.

On Wednesday, March 26, the Senate considered and passed S.B. No. 2926 which was a bill concerning a pay raise for all state employees. The bill, which was supposedly a compromise bill worked out between the leaders of the Senate and the leaders of the House Appropriations Committee, called for an 8 percent mandatory pay increase with a 5 percent discretionary variance. This bill was contrary to my approach of a fixed amount straight across the board.

Being a freshman Senator and not on the Appropriations Committee, I have no input on appropriations bills until they reach the Senate floor. Once an appropriations bill, like any other bill, reaches the Senate floor, any other Senator, whether a committee member or not, may submit an amendment to the bill. This procedure often is fruitless when a bill is reported out of one of the largest and most powerful committees (Appropriations Committee) in either House.

On Tuesday prior to this bill being brought up, I was approached by some veteran lawmakers in the Senate detailing the elements of the bill in an attempt to gain my support. After stating my desire for a fixed amount raise, I was assured by these veteran lawmakers that a bill of this nature could not be passed in either Chamber.

Knowing that I did not have enough support nor votes to try to amend this particular bill on the floor and not wanting to jeopardize the possibility of state employees acquiring a pay increase this year, I conceded my position. It was pointed out to me that, even if my position had prevailed, when the bill went to Conference Committee it would have possibly been looked upon with disfavor and would have jeopardized the possibility of a pay increase.

The bill, as passed, does, however, have a great merit. It is a type of increase that awards one for a meritorious job. It is the type of raise that encourages quality productivity and enhances the possibilities of career and professional state employment.

There have been many news articles written in the larger newspapers across this state concerning the new Senate. The Mississippi Senate is comprised of 52 members. The membership of the present session includes 27 veteran Senators, 8 former Representatives elected to the Senate, and 17 true freshmen such as myself.

According to many political observers the political philosophy of this Chamber has to some degree been changed. The Chamber, according to these political observers, has apparently gone from a somewhat liberal approach to a more conservative approach to state government.

In several of these articles there has been a reference made to the lack of leadership in the Senate. I think that leadership is probably not the word that these professional writers were intending to use, but were reflecting more on the lack of a dictatorship. Since there has been substantial change in the composition of this body, it apparently has resulted in more independent thinking. I feel that competent leadership will evolve in this Chamber, but I honestly doubt that this leadership will ever return to the dictatorship mentioned by many in previous years.

Several articles appearing in the larger newspapers have made indirect reference to me personally. In these particular articles I have been referred to as a "feisty" Senator and in another as a "filibustering" Senator. I might add that I view both of these supposedly detrimental accusations as complimentary observations.

Now if being feisty means one that is not afraid of standing up for what is right and standing up for what one believes, then I am very guilty as charged. If being a filibustering Senator is one that tries to use the rules and procedures in an effective and advantageous manner to achieve wellmeaning objectives, then I am likewise guilty.

One of the main problems that I have observed as a freshman Legislator is the impact that some lobbying and self-serving interest groups have on various Legislators. I view my position as a State Senator as a position of trust.

Acting in this fiduciary relationship, I view it as my duty, my responsibility and my obligation to represent each of you in the most effective and advantageous manner. If the day ever comes that I am fearful to stand up in the Senate Chamber and fight for what is right, and if the day ever comes that I cannot speak out in the best interests of my district, these various self-serving groups will not have to try to vote me out of

Eyes On Mississippi

Mississippians Satisfied With Winter

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Mississippians, at the moment, seem to be satisfied with their choice of William Winter as governor, and are taking some pride in the degree of intellectualism that has been introduced into the upper reaches of state government.

Almost daily there is an opportunity to contrast the style of the patrician Winter with that of his erratic, flamboyant predecessor. Since Cliff Finch is still parading his rear side around the country as a presidential candidate, much to the embarrassment of most Mississippians, Winter looks all the better.

Sometimes even longtime admirers of Winter have to slap themselves in the face to make sure they are not dreaming that Mississippi has actually elected such a genteel, scholarly man to be their governor.

When one considers the Barnetts, the Williams and the Finches who have occupied the office in recent history, the cultural level of the governorship now is almost incomprehensible.

Take for instance, the other night when two brilliant Southern authors, William Styron and Willie Morris, came to town to reflect upon our region as the great source material and training ground for writers. Who was chosen to round out the panel? Not a literary figure or a university professor. It was Gov. William Winter.

The significant thing is that Winter was not put there as a prop or to prove to anybody we had a nice new pin-stripe governor whose taste did not run to bouffant hairdos. Winter was there as a serious student of Southern literature and history, whose comments and questions were often more incisive than those of the guest literary figures.

Having a governor who can travel at this intellectual level may not really be what the average Mississippians had in mind, however, when they elected Winter governor. He was honest, sincere and apparently highly qualified as a governmental technician, and after Finch, that was good enough to finally make him governor.

The quality of leadership which Winter is bringing, or intends to bring, to state government is certainly different than anything Mississippians have gotten out of any governor they have had in office in modern history. Winter is going to try to make state government run on all cylinders, something it hasn't ever done.

Having gotten so used to governors who were little more than glad-handers, ribbon-cutters or saviors of what used to be called "our way of life," are Mississippians ready for leadership than will make government work? Perhaps the question should be: Will they understand or appreciate the difference?

Already some apparently think Winter can come in and begin producing miracles right way. With the backlog of years of governmental inertia and malfunctioning he has inherited, it should be difficult for anyone to bring about changes in the services rendered by the state that can be noticed in the short haul.

True to his promise, Winter has been intensely seeking persons of the highest quality to take positions in his administration. Sometimes, he apparently can't get the ones he wants because of the lower salary and short term job prospects offered in state government.

Many of his appointees fit the bright young man, buttoned down collar type that Winter seems to want as the administration image.

But he has obviously reached out in picking such appointees as William Hackett to head the new Board of Economic Development and Rep. A.C. "Butch" Lambert to become Commissioner of Revenue in the reorganized State Tax Commission, decided that likeable, good-ole-boys with special talents can be valuable in keeping the legislature from breathing down his neck.

While the folks seem to love Winter in the spring, that's no guarantee, however, they'll still love Winter in the fall.

Legislative Letter

By Tim Ford

Representative District 18

Lee and Prentiss Counties

This past weekend was a real plus for Northeast Mississippi. The "Northeast Focus '80" trip that was put on for the State legislators by the local cities, counties and agencies through private donations and contributions was a big hit.

Over one hundred legislators were brought up for us to show off our section of the State. We toured the proposed TVA nuclear power plants, various sites on the Tenn-Tom Waterway, industrial parks, the two junior colleges in our area, and other local points of interest. I want to say a personal thank you to all those involved with the organization and implementation of the trip.

This will certainly help our endeavor in Jackson, because legislators from other parts of the State who have never been up here, will now appreciate our area more when something comes up concerning it. They've traveled our highways now and know the condition of them. But more important than what was seen, was the attitude and enthusiasm shown by our folks. It was really appreciated.

Much of the legislation this past week was conducted in the various committee rooms, working on Senate bills that survived last week's deadline. In Ways and Means Committee, we approved a bill authorizing additional bonding for Tennessee-Tombigbee bridges.

Right now the bridge contract on State Highway 4 between New Site and Dennis is scheduled to be let this May. The contract for U.S. Highway 78 has been delayed by environmentalist who are trying to get an injunction against bridge construction as proposed.

Another major bill that passed the House floor was a Senate bill abolishing the office of Motor Vehicle Comptroller and transferring most of the duties of that office to the present State Tax Commission.

The state employees' salary increase was of major concern as the week closed. The controversy was between an 8 percent raise, as passed by the Senate, or a $75 per month across the board raise. I supported the 8 percent raise because I believe a person should be rewarded for his or her efforts and advancements.

I realize the $75 across the board raise means more take home pay for the employee on the lower end of the pay scale, but I don't think it fair to give a person who has been working only two weeks at a job the same raise as a person who has been working at the job for twenty years. It destroys incentive to better oneself in a particular area.

The $75 across the board raise prevailed but will be back again this week on a motion to reconsider.

I appreciate your concern and consideration as I work each day for you in Jackson. My vote is your voice in state government. Thanks for your continued support.

Letter To The Editor

Resident Unhappy

Dear Sir:

I have lived inside the Booneville City limits for the past 23 years and have paid city of Booneville city taxes for those 23 years. I have also been aware of one fact—during these years I was not registered with the "political machine."

I have begged for the last six months for the street ditch in front of my home to be cleaned out and it has not been done as of writing this letter.

One reason that I know positive that I am not in the political arena, when I have called by phone the street commissioner and the mayor's office. I would leave my name and phone number with the secretary of each office for these men to return my call. I know when they saw who it was calling, they, the mayor and the street commissioner, did not return the call. That proved to me that I was not in the "political machine."

I can truly say that the city now receives from me $120 a year in city tax, but gives nothing in return. So from this day I will remove my spending dollars to some other town. I am forced to pay the city $120 each year, but I am not forced to spend my hard earned money here with the merchants of Booneville.

Also, Mr. Editor, I am aware that you reserve the right not to print this letter, but there are other papers that do print letters to the editors and I will try and get my letter printed if I have to pay for it being printed.

If you refuse to print this letter, that will be your right as an editor.

A city taxpayer
Ernest Hopkins

Many people of Booneville came to appreciate the talents of Mrs. Ida Wallace when she and her husband, the Rev. Bill Wallace, served this area from 1961 until 1965. The George E. Allen Library is now exhibiting some of her photography in the Marion W. Smith Room.

The 47 framed pictures show in color scenes from nature—flowers, animals and insects—and nostalgic scenery of older times near Booneville.

Mrs. Wallace's artist's eye pinpoints the beauty in common and uncommon sights extending our own appreciation of the near-by by her sensitivity and skill.

In February she was the featured artist of the Tallahatchie Art Council's monthly exhibit in the First National Bank at New Albany where the Wallaces now live. You are invited to spend as much time as you wish in the Smith Room enjoying this display.

April 13-19 is National Library Week and several special activities have been planned for you at the George E. Allen Library. On Monday, April 14, First Lady of Mississippi, Mrs. William Forrest Winter, will be guest of honor at an afternoon tea. Everyone is invited to come to the Smith Room between 1 and 3 p.m. to meet her. Senior Citizens groups have been extended special invitations.

On Tuesday, April 15, at 7 p.m. a workshop-type of meeting, centered around genealogical research sources, materials, and methods, will be open to everyone. Conducting it will be Miss Emma Inman Williams, genealogist at the Jackson-Madison County Library in Jackson, Tenn.

She is a former resident of Tupelo.

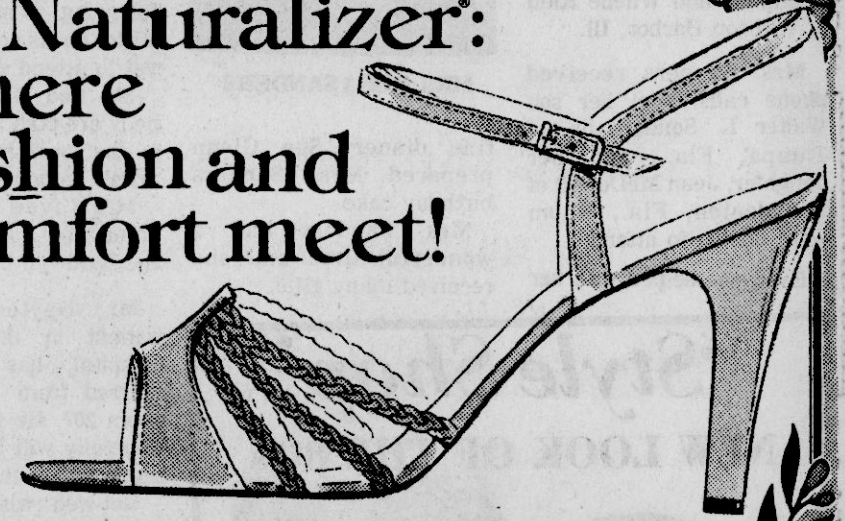

The Akrusa Club selected Miss Williams as Jackson's 1979 Woman of the Year. She has served her community as a history teacher, as an author, and as an editor, as well as a librarian.

She has indicated that she would like to bring those things in which you have greatest interest. We would appreciate your letting us know what these are.

Next week's article will bring you other plans for the following week.

Who ever said that March would be better than normal made a very good prediction. We have really had the rain.

Mrs. Zana Floyd is home following a stay in Belle Vista. She is not well enough yet to attend services.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennedy are both in room 217 D of the local hospital. They aren't feeling well at all.

Mr. Clyde Gardner is home after a lengthy stay in the Baldwin hospital.

Mr. Dayton Ward, a patient in the Northeast Hospital, has been transferred from room 115 to room 207. He is better and hopefully will be able to go home before this is printed.

Get-well wishes are extended to Zana, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Clyde Gardner, to Dayton Ward, to Aunt Myrtle Harris and all others who are sick.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes who celebrated their 55th Wedding Anniversary on March 30.

A special greeting to Steve Mann of Sheffield, Ala., Sherry Kennedy and Philip Coats who had birthdays the latter part of March. Steve's birthday was March 29 and Sherry's and Philip's was on March 30.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Etta Rae Wilson, the other children and other relatives who mourn the passing of Mrs. Lena Crow whose funeral was conducted on Thursday, March 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Nonan Harris were absent on Sunday, March 23. They visited friends in Fulton, and worshipped with the church there.

Visitors at Oak Ridge the past two weeks included Wayne Coats of Mt. Juliet, Tenn., Mrs. Vivian Green from Tupelo, Terry Ryan, Michael and Teresa from Hughes, Ark., and the Paul Henry family from Morrilton, Ark. Visitors are always welcome.

Aunt Bama Henry entered the North Mississippi Medical Center Sunday, March 30, for possible surgery.

Betty Coats will enter the Tupelo Hospital Wednesday, April 2, for surgery. Let's hope the surgery will be successful and her post-operative condition will be better.

Our prayers are for all these who have been mentioned. Also for Mrs. J.W. Green who had surgery in the Booneville hospital recently. Mrs. Green is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Calvin Barber.

The Terry Ryan family were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Coats, while he was here Terry visited his grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Ryan who is in the Daniel Nursing Home in Fulton. A card or letter would cheer her up.

Here's a quote from the New Albany Informer: "Swallowing one's pride is not fattening."

Booneville Happenings

By JESSIE PRESLEY
Correspondent

Visiting with Mrs. Verna Mason, James and J.D. recently were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mason of West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Spencer visited in the homes of Mrs. Mattie Nichols and Mrs. Roy Smith of Corinth Wednesday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Trent Grubbs of Crenshaw were Friday's luncheon guest of Jessie Presley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Essary and children of Enville, Tenn., spent the weekend with Mrs. Ruby Lee Moore and Mrs. Jim Wright.

Mrs. Marshall Shields has returned from a week's visit with relatives in Memphis.

Mrs. Jim (Dot) Jones of Oklahoma City spent a few days recently with her mother, Mrs. Alice Spain, of the Care Inn in Grenada.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Loveless joined them for the day on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Robinson, Mrs. Kathy Watson and daughter, Cindy, of Pontotoc visited with Mrs. Jewel Robinson last Sunday.

Phil Inman of Memphis was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Inman during the weekend.

We need to remember these people in our prayers: Ellis Carnal, Mabel Haywood, Ruby Lee Moore, Edd Keeton, Mrs. Carrie Lee Oswalt, Mrs. Faye Presley.

Among the out of town visitors attending the funeral of Mrs. Jim (Pearl) James were Roger Dale Morgan and Hazel Rogers of Memphis; Mrs. Joyce Gross and Robert Morgan of Ripley; Mrs. Louise Nanny of Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald James of Berwyn, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Faltick of Oak Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Ingram, Herman James, Luther Colburn and Marie Weathers, all of Tupelo; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griggs all of Kirkville; also Loriane Ingram of Kirkville, Lonnie James, Richard Aycock and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes all of Guin, Ala.; Vivian Surratt, Baldwin, Otis and Lula Speck of Baldwin; Terry Fraiser of Wheeler, Bobby Colburn, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Ravius Whitehead, Fulton;

Mr. and Mrs. Donny Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Whitehead, all of Corinth; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wroten of Rienzi; Grace James of Tupelo and Charles and Maxine Hamilton and Eulee Sanders of Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Robinson spent the weekend in Memphis with their children Mr. and Mrs. Edd Arnold and Tony accompanied them on the trip.

The "Friends" Sunday School class of Calvary Church enjoyed a social Thursday night in the fellowship hall of the church. Twenty-four women came dressed "tacky as could be." There was good fellowship, prizes given, pictures taken, delicious food enjoyed and a whole lot of laughter going on. Mrs. Roy Bostick is the teacher.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Bobby Burress is improving after a heart attack a few days ago. Visiting her Saturday was her sister, Mrs. Joe Presley of Aberdeen, and Mrs. Buddy Craig of Prairie.

Mrs. Althea Morgan is now home from North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo and recuperating from surgery a few weeks ago. We wish for her a complete recovery.

We regret to report that Gerald Hodges Printery Shop was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon.

Don't forget the East Sunrise Service at the Junior College, Easter morning at 6 a.m.

Mrs. Mabel Haygood is a patient at Belle Vista in Tupelo her room number is 1004. Get-well wishes go to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Fugitt, Mrs. Eda Williams and Mrs. Modenia Chittom are among those in our local hospital.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the family of Mr. "Goob" Hughes of the Gaston Community.

This week I have chosen a poem written by our own Hellen Sutherland Pippin. Easter is a time of renewal, a new beginning and a time of Thanksgiving, let's always remind ourselves of this thought. We would not have this wonderful Easter Day if our Saviour had not died on that cross at Calvary. May God bless you, my lovely readers of this column.

CALVARY
The dawn that day was radiant, glowing.

Soft winds wafted through the trees; Snowy dogwood's blossoms nodding As I walked in the balmy breeze.

The path I trod to Calvary's hill Was rough and rugged strewn with stones.

Storm clouds arose with rumbling thunder- Then I felt so all alone.

But I was going I had to see Him And ask Him something, O, for me

Before the people crucified Him Causing misery-agonies! The world turned dark and gray the valley,

The moaning winds uttered pain Deriding me as I groped in sorrow Toward Golgatha's source in vain.

I climbed and clutched the rocky ledges Until I reached His merciless cross.

I saw His mother, Mary near it; I paused and mourned her great loss.

I could not murmur when I saw Him O, the pallid suffering face!

As I retreated, He said, "Follow." My soul was touched with healing grace.

The road was dark that I returned to Where lightning glittered and thunder rolled;

There was no fear for night or morrow- There was no terror for my soul.

Thanks Helen for writing this beautiful poem.

Mrs. Mabel Hill has had one of her granddaughters, Mary Clair Hill, visiting her the past week. She will graduate from Yale University in June as a Medical Doctor.

TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS—Jesse James and Lenovia Miles celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a reception on March 23. Their anniversary was March 19. Many friends and relatives attended the celebration.

Congratulations to "Bald Eagle" and "Lady Eagle," of the Red Bay Club on the arrival of a baby girl born March 25 weighing 7 lb. 3 oz.

Twelve club members and seven junior members attended the coffeebreak Sunday, March 30, in Alamo, Tenn.

"Lame Duck," you are gonna have to perk up. It seems too quiet without you jabbering.

We will be looking forward to seeing all our C.B. friends and friends at our annual dance and coffeebreak. You don't need to own a C.B. or even know anything about them to visit with us on these occasions.

Happy birthday to "King II," and "Little Bedsprings Man." Hope both of you have a nice day and have many, many more to enjoy.

Everybody don't forget our dance and coffeebreak Saturday, April 12, and Sunday, April 13, at West-side Community center from 7 p.m. until midnight and at the Northeast Junior College gym from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. A grocery basket will be given away at each and a handmade quilt will be given every hour on Sunday along with many other gifts. Anyone is welcome. Whether you are a C.B. or not, you are encouraged to join us.

Saturday night, April 5, is our regular social. It will be pot luck. Everyone come and enjoy the fellowship, because we've got a long weekend ahead.

Happy Easter to everyone. Hope all of you celebrate it in the way we should. Attend the church of your choice.

Facts and Fallacies
About Fitness

Everyone can benefit from some form of exercise.

An isolated case may be found where exercise may be contradicted, but for the vast majority, exercise is a positive force for a fuller, more enjoyable life. Man was designed to move.

Moderate, sustained activities are better than heavy, forceful exercise.

In general, the need to increase stamina is greater than the need for more strength or explosive power. The ability to take in, transport, and use oxygen is the main concern in developing fitness.

If your breath doesn't return to normal within 10 minutes after you exercise, you've done too much.

The exercise does not have to be strenuous to be good for you. In fact, if it's too difficult, it can be harmful. A good rule of thumb is that your breathing should return to normal within 10 minutes. Other guidelines are that 10 minutes after you finish you shouldn't feel your heart pounding in your chest. You shouldn't be "popped out." You should experience a "come-back" sensation. Too much exercise may make sleeping difficult and make you feel tired the next day.

Studies seem to indicate that lack of physical activity is more often the cause of overweight than overeating.

Several age levels have been studied—teenage, adult, and elderly. In each instance the findings showed obese people did not eat any more calories than normal-weighted people their same age, but they were much less active.

Yet many in their attempt to lose excess fat have concentrated on counting calories but have neglected the role of exercise. You can lose weight with only moderate changes in diet and exercise habits.

A standard exercise program will work for most people.

It is true that some types of exercise are better all-around conditioners, but no one exercise program is for everyone. Each individual must determine where he is before selecting an exercise program. Fitness requires the greatest development of strength, muscular endurance, and stamina. Since a person's lifestyle may put him at different levels in each of these areas, the program should be designed to meet his own needs.

The tougher the program, the better.

Working relatively hard may not be the best approach. The best motto is "Train, not strain." A person out of shape often attempts too much too soon and simply ends up very sore and tired. Then he decides against exercise. The key to improving fitness is "overload." That means just slightly more than normal, not a seven-fold increase.

Keep Weight Off Wisely—
Would you like to?

A weigh-in exercise class may be organized if there is sufficient interest. A prospective class with a limited number would possibly be from 12:05-12:50 (noon hour), Monday, Wednesday and Friday; or from 5 to 6 p.m., Monday and Wednesday. Gary Bridges will be conducting.

Marge Thrasher Speaks At Northeast

Memphis TV personality Marge Thrasher, best known for her morning show "Straight Talk with Marge Thrasher" on WHBQ-TV in Memphis, was one of the featured speakers at a seminar on "Women in the 80's" at the Northeast Junior College Tuesday, March 25.

Other speakers were Mrs. Elise Varner Winter, Mississippi's First Lady, and Ms. Rose Jackson, assistant director of Student Activities for Minority Affairs at the University of Mississippi.

Ms. Thrasher, who also co-anchors the noon news at WHBQ, spoke on communications. She said that her formula for success is a combination of communications skills and management.

"Eighty-five percent is your ability to communicate through your voice and body," she said. "The other 15 percent is your technical skills."

Ms. Thrasher said women must distinguish between "fact and what has been fed into you because you are a woman." Women have to picture themselves on the board of directors, Ms. Thrasher said. She was the first woman member of the Memphis Transit authority.

Ms. Thrasher divided communications skills into articulation, listening abilities and effective body language.

Being a good listener is the greatest asset any person can have, she said. Mrs. Winter spoke prior to Ms. Thrasher's remarks.

The state's First Lady said that, although it appears women's positions in state government have slumped with the decreasing number of women state legislators, the situation is only temporary. She said several positions on state boards and commissions have recently been filled by women.

ROSE JACKSON

Miss Jackson, who also preceded Ms. Thrasher, told of achievements by women at Ole Miss. She said that the number of women students at the university has increased 150 percent since 1965, while the male population has risen only by four percent.

The number of women in law and engineering schools have increased five fold, she said.

The News From Rienzi

By VIOLA PRESLEY
Correspondent

Visiting here this week with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bullard were Mrs. Doris Reed of Liberty, Miss., and Mrs. Montez Dunaway of Baton Rouge, La.

Mrs. Lewis Earl Perry of Booneville has been a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Perry and sons, Mrs. Perry has joined with the family as they welcomed the arrival of a baby daughter.

Mrs. Ruby Cooper of Gaston Community in Prentiss County was a guest Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Baggett and attended services Sunday night at the Rienzi Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith have been in Memphis and other places in Tennessee due to the illness of a number of Mrs. Smith's relatives.

Plans are in the making for an up-coming pancake breakfast sponsored by the Rienzi Lions Club. The project is being directed by the Lion president, the Rev. James H. Moore, and will be at the Masonic Hall in Rienzi on Saturday morning, April 5, from 6 to 11.

A family supper was given this week by Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bishop. Invited to share in the fun of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop and Johnny; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Bishop and Belinda. Mrs. Frank Eldridge accompanied Mrs. John McDonough of Fulton to Athens, Ala., over the weekend where they visited with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Mack LeCroix.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bishop were dinner guests on Thursday night of Mr. and Mrs. Trenton Turbeville in Booneville.

Mrs. James H. Moore is recovering from an attack of bronchitis which has kept her at home for several weeks.

Mrs. Claud Morgan continues to be a patient in the Booneville Hospital; and Mrs. Zack Parker and Mrs. Marcus Rinehart in the Magnolia Hospital, Corinth. Miss Vicky Potts and Travis Potts have been kept out of school this week because of illness. Chad Potts has suffered a painful injury to his hand. Alice Bridges had the misfortune to break a toe which makes it necessary for her to be on crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yancey of Kenosha, Wisc., have been visiting with the Yancey and Reed families in this area. On Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. James Reed entertained with a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Yancey and for all the brothers and sisters living near enough to attend.

Mrs. Curlee Receives Gold Key Award

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Curlee of Aberdeen, formerly of Booneville, was recently honored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association with their annual Gold Key Award.

Mrs. Curlee is the only recipient from the state of Mississippi to ever have received a Gold Key from the association. She was honored by the association in a banquet at the Biltmore Hotel in New York.

Twenty-three others from around the nation were cited for the prestigious award at the association's 56th annual ceremonies.

Mrs. Curlee received a citation and medal in recognition of her devotion to the cause of scholastic press, encouragement to the student editors, service, leadership in the field and support of association ideals.

The wife of Aberdeen School Superintendent John Curlee who also a former resident of Booneville, she has been adviser to the school newspaper, yearbook and literary magazine since 1966.

Prior to that she was teacher and adviser to student newspapers in Burdette and DeVails Bluff, Ark., and Marks, Miss. She began her teaching career in 1953.

She is a graduate of Booneville High School and received her BA degree in Business Education and English from Blue Mountain College. She also earned an MA degree at Ole Miss in journalism.

In addition, she studied at the University of Missouri, Mississippi State, and Mississippi University for Women.

Mrs. Curlee has achieved much in the field of journalism during her tenure at Aberdeen. She secured a charter for Quill and Schroll, and she still serves as an adviser to the organization.

She put journalism into the Aberdeen High School curriculum in 1967 and instituted a Publications course, which was designed to be a laboratory period for newspaper and yearbook staffs.

With the help of talented students each year, Mrs. Curlee is responsible for transforming the school newspaper, the Highlander, into a consistent award winner in state and national high school-college press competition.

Her sponsored newspapers have won 150 awards in the past 13 years. One year, five of the state's college public publications were edited by her former students.

Under her leadership, the Mississippi Association of Journalism Educators was organized and it increased membership by 300 percent when she was president.

She has also been a contributing editor to several weekly newspapers and several newsletters with Mississippi.

In addition to this latest honor, Mrs. Curlee was named one of the three top journalism teachers in the nation in 1966 by the Newspaper Fund Inc.

The Columbia Scholastic Press Association is the largest school and college press organization. It was founded by Columbia University to train young editors through educational seminars, critical evaluations and annual national competitions.

Since establishment of the awards program in 1929, 613 persons have been honored by the association.

"Sermons We See"
I'd rather see a sermon

than hear one any day.

I'd rather one should walk with me than merely show the way.

The eye's a better pupil and more willing than the ear;

Fine counsel is confusing but example's always clear; And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds.

For to see the good in action is what everybody needs,

I can soon learn how to do it if you'll let me see it done.

I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fast may run.

And the lectures you deliver may be very wise and true;

But I'd rather get my lesson by observing what you do.

For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give

But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.

Teachers of four of the students are (second row): Patty Heard, Joann Potts, Brenda Presley, Anne Marie Ford.

Local Men Complete Training

FORT KNOX, Ky.—Three Booneville area members of the National Guard recently completed training as armor crewmen at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

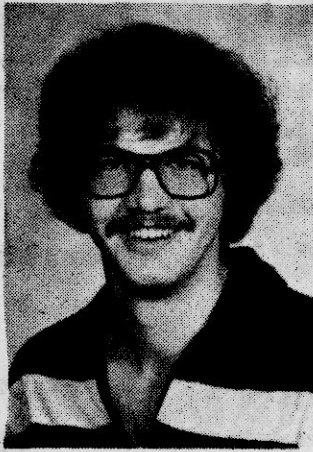

National Guard Pvt. James K. Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Perrin, Route 3, Booneville; National Guard Pvt. Samuel R. Calvary of New Albany, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Calvary, Route 1, Rienzi; and National Guard Pvt. Garry K. Weathers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leona L. Weathers, Route 4, Booneville, have completed the training.

The training was conducted under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program, which combines basic combat training with advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction was also given in field radio operations, map reading, and tank maintenance and repair.

EDWIN GARRETT
Coy Garrett Presents Paper

Coy Edwin Garrett Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Coy Garrett of Murray, Ky., presented a professional paper before the annual meeting of the Kentucky Speech and Hearing Association in Louisville, Ky., on March 21-22.

His paper, entitled "The Use of Phonological Analysis in Diagnosis of the Speech of Adult Mentally Retarded Individuals: A Case Study," dealt with the application of recent techniques in analyzing speech sound production with the mentally retarded population.

Garrett is presently a graduate student at Murray State University, working toward his Master's Degree in Speech Pathology.

He is the grandson of Roy and Ruth McElyea of Marietta and Curtis Garrett of Belmont.

THE REJECTED CHRIST

According to John 12:48 those who reject Christ and receive not his sayings will be lost eternally. There are many ways that one may reject Christ. It is the aim of this article to specifically point out some ways in which Christ may be rejected by men. Of extreme importance are the facts that whether one rejects the Christ in one of these ways or all of them the consequence is the same, and that each one who has any desire at all to be saved should make certain that he is in no way, whatsoever, rejecting the Son of the Living God.

Although they make the claim of believing the Bible Modernist reject Christ by rejecting his virgin birth. Actually, they believe some of the Bible but reject those teachings of the Bible which their scientific philosophies, so-called, deny. Yes, the Bible does teach that Christ was born of a virgin. (Matt. 1:18-25.) When the Lord's virgin birth is rejected his divinity is rejected. However, God's word contains enough proof of Christ's divinity to make believers of those who honestly investigate the proof. (John 20-30, 31.) These same people who reject the divinity of Jesus and his virgin birth reject also the divine inspiration of the Bible. Even so, it makes the claim for itself that it is all "inspired of God." (II Tim. 3:16, 17.) This same passage affirms not only the inspiration of the scriptures but also their all-sufficiency. They furnish us completely unto every good work. Along with the rejection of Christ's divinity, virgin birth, and the inspiration and all-sufficiency of the Bible, is the rejection of the atoning power of Christ's blood. Jesus said that his blood was shed "for the remission of sins." (Matt. 26:28.) Paul says that we are justified by Christ's blood. (Rom. 5:9.) In the same class with all of these rejections is the rejection of his resurrection from the grave. Isn't it strange that those who claim to believe the Bible will deny its most basic and fundamental doctrines? Yet, Paul affirms in I Corinthians 15:20, "But now is Christ risen from the dead."

Many reject Christ by rejecting his church. They don't deny that the Bible tells us about the church, but they deny its identity. The church we read about in the New Testament was given identity. Therefore, when one makes the often stated claim that "one church is as good as another," he is saying in consequence that the identity of the church is not important. The Lord's church is identified by where it began, when it began, and who started it. (Acts, chapter two, and Matt. 16:18.) It can be identified by what people did to become members of it, by its organizational structure, by its worship (what is done in workshop and the attitude of the worshippers), by its rule of faith and practice and by its mission. If identity is important these things are important. Do you reject the singularity of the church? Many do. To reject the singularity of the church is to reject every passage that teaches it, such as Matthew 16:18, Acts 2:47, Colossians 1:18 and Ephesians 5:22-32.

One may also reject Christ by rejecting his name in preference to some human and religiously devised name. Those who accept and belong to Christ wear his name. They are called "Christians" in the Bible. (Acts 11:26, I Pet. 4:16.) The word "Christian" means "Of Christ" or "belonging to Christ." There are no hyphenated Christians. Paul almost persuaded King Agrippa to be a Christian. (Acts 26:28.) My neighbor and friend, don't cast this aside as being inconsequential.

Please don't reject his plan for the salvation of the soul, nor his invitation to come to him. Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38; Matt. 11:28-30. Don't reject Christ. To reject him is to reject the way, the truth, and the life. (John 14:6.) To reject him is to reject God, the Father, and to put oneself in the same class with those who killed him. No one can do this without being rejected at heaven's door. All of us must some day stand before the tribunal where Christ is Judge, and where every deed will be made known. All will be weighed in the balances of true justice and those who have rejected him will be found wanting. Those who have accepted him and have allowed him to live in their hearts and lives will be accepted. (Acts 10:34, 35.)

Let me urge each reader to consider seriously whether he is in a state of rejection, or acceptance. Have you done as did those of whom we read in Luke 7:30? The paramount aim in the heart of each one should be that stated by Paul in II Corinthians 5:9. The reason is given in verse ten and our closing words are those of verse eleven.

New Project At VoTech

FBLA Studies Money Management

The Prentiss County FBLA at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School has had a Money Management project underway.

Heida Tollison, the committee chairman, and her committee worked with the instructors and guidance counselor to coordinate the student-centered Money Management unit. She then talked to the executive vice-president of a local bank, Mr. John Smith, to obtain speakers for the banking procedures part of the unit.

She worked with her teacher in organizing a project to help the students both in FBLA and in other areas to learn how to keep up with their own money. This project would be on individual Money Management.

The project was designed to be one that would follow one of FBLA's goals: "to encourage and practice money management." The committee knew that through the Future Business Leaders of America organization they had learned more about the free enterprise system.

Many of the members had either heard on public television or read in the information from National Headquarters the series, FREE TO CHOOSE. This realization brought home the fact that so few people really knew what individual money management was all about.

Therefore, the project would help students realize the need of money; provide students with information about banking and banking procedures; and help students know how to keep up with their own money.

The vocational guidance counselor had film strips on "Living with Others," "Marriage: Why? Whom? How?" and "Budgets and Reality." These were shown to the class members to help them see what it would be like when students were no longer totally dependent on their parents. A free exchange among students occurred as these filmstrips were shown.

A buzz session occurred next. Preparation for this class was made by students asking their parents or two-member family friends the price tag on family necessities and liability insurance.

The students compared what two people could earn and what it would take to live from the figures they had obtained. They were amazed: The amount that it would take to live was put on the blackboard for class scrutiny. The "spent" amounts were subtracted from what a couple would earn.

It was the first time that most of the students had thought of such things. Darrell Grimes said, "We've gone $200 in expenses over what we could earn in a month." Cindy Hill wondered out loud, if this "could be the reason for so much divorce among young people." Most students agreed they couldn't go crying to their parents, but they didn't know what they would do.

Pam Bearden Wallis, FBLA reporter and married for three months, talked to the students about the problems that she as a newly married person has had.

She stressed the need for planning, and admitted that she and her husband had had a lot of help. She said that she and her husband had made plans, saved money, and made preparations for their marriage. She had been working-full-time through the summer and part-time during the school year in the Cooperative Vocational Office training program.

Three officers from the Peoples Bank talked to the students about checks and check-writing, savings accounts and their importance, and loans and the cost of interest. They were Mrs. Marve Gullet, vice president; Miss Doreen Elder, vice president; and Mr. C.J. Roper, loan officer.

To really understand banking, the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter was invited to tour the Booneville Branch of the Peoples Bank and Trust Company.

The shower that was held for the Winston family on Saturday, March 22, was a great success, thanks to you. The president of the Friendship Club expressed her appreciation to the public for the tremendous response.

Members of the Winston family also expressed grateful appreciation to all who came to their aid before and during the shower and added a special prayer for God's blessings in your lives always.

On Sunday morning, March 30, the Rev. McDuffy Agnew delivered a highly spiritual and inspirational message entitled, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," to a very receptive, waiting congregation at the Spring Hill M.B. Church. Gathered for a benefit program for the Pastor and his family were visitors from the Mt. Olive M.B. Church, Synagogue, Wolf Creek, and Oak Hill M.B. churches.

The program was sponsored by the pastor's Aid Club. Mrs. Gretrude Humphrey is the president. Mrs. Zera M. Hastings, Mrs. Debra Williams and Mr. Robert Lewis Swinney were in charge of program arrangements. The Rev. Lewis Ragin acted as host for the event. All expressed sincere appreciation for your response.

On Thursday, April 3, at 6:30 p.m. the program entitled "The Seven Last Words" will be held at Beckley Chapel C.M.E. Church. The Rev. Lewis Ragin will be one of the area ministers to speak from the title. The public is invited.

On Friday, April 4, the Rev. Otis Shumpart will speak at the Oak Hill M.B. Church at 7 p.m. The senior choir will also accompany him in this program. The public is invited.

Miss Annie F. Justice and Miss Betty Jo Cummings spent the day Sunday, March 30, in worship at the Mt. Nebo C.M.E. Church of Baldwin, Miss., for the youth fellowship meeting.

Mr. Dwight Johnson, en route home to Erie, Pa., from Florida where he is attending school, spent the past week as a guest in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Gwyndell Thompson, and visiting other relatives and friends of the community.

Mrs. Joan Boyd and children from Dayton, Ohio, are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burrell, for a two week period. Welcome home Joan.

Mr. Jimmy Christian is also back home from a three week training period at the police academy of Jackson.

Bishop Lovell Wooden and Mrs. Ethel Hubbard of Romulus, Mich., were house guests for several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Jones. They were in the city for the funeral services of Mrs. Mary M. Wooden. I was delighted to learn of a very close kinship to them that stems from the Ballard side of the family, (my father's) although the two families have never met. It was a very emotional meeting for me and one I hope is soon repeated.

We are happy to report that there has been a great improvement in the physical condition of Mr. Lawrence Pierce who is a patient in the V.A. Hospital of Memphis, Tenn. His wife, Eva, states that due to this improvement he should be home later this week.

Our concern and prayers continue for the sick of the community. At this time in the local hospital are Mrs. Mattie Rogers, Mrs. Ruthie L. Lasley, Mr. Hazel Hooper, Mr. Thomas People and Mr. David Williams. The latter two have been moved from the coronary care unit to separate wings.

Miss Regina Pierce is a patient in the Tupelo hospital and Mr. Virgus Gardner has been transferred to a Memphis hospital. His condition is reported as critical. The family has the prayers and the willing assistance of the entire community during this trying time.

We wish to extend a sincere wish for health, peace and happiness to Mrs. Magdeline Bennett who will at this time be enjoying her first days of retirement. She has been an employee of the local hospital for a period of 21 years, the last 11 years in the department of Central Supply.

She is always cheerful, courteous and kind and is also known for the beautiful and creative work she does in the art of crochet. We shall miss you. Enjoy your retirement and God bless you always.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jonnie Perry on the birth of a beautiful 7 lb. 3 oz. baby girl March 25 at the local hospital. Mrs. Perry is a very capable R.N. and part-time supervisor on staff at the hospital.

Happy birthday wishes are extended to Mrs. Zera M. Hastings who will celebrate her birthday on April 5, and to the Thompson sisters. Theirs happens to be one of those strange but true facts. They were all born in the month of April, different years.

Mrs. Marsha E. Ragin will celebrate her birthday on April 27. Mrs. Cheryl L. Christian and her sister, Margo will celebrate on April 29. Tangi will celebrate with her aunt, Mrs. Hastings on April 5. Happy birthday to you all.

Remember the annual Easter Egg Hunt will be held on Saturday, April 5, at 1 p.m. All children are asked to assemble at Spring Hill M.B. Church at 3 p.m. for this event.

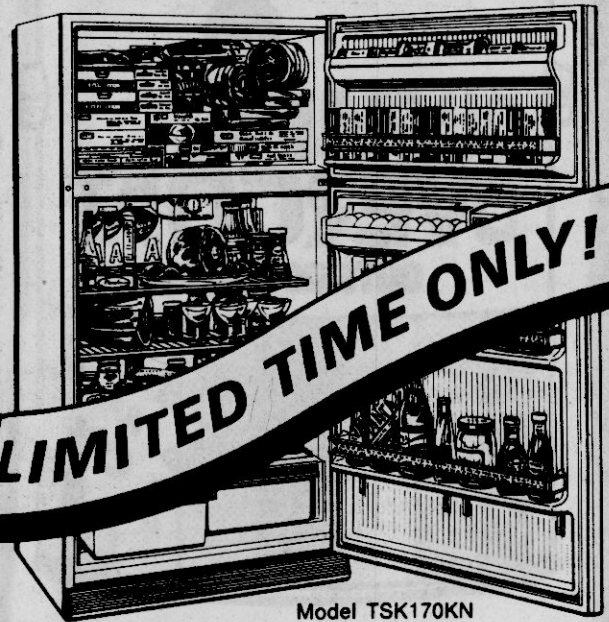

Easter morning Sunrise Service at Beckley Chapel C.M.E. Church at 6 a.m. Mr. Jerry Christian will be the guest speaker.

Annual Choir Day will be observed at Oak Hill M.B. Church on Sunday, April 13, at 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The News From Altitude

By BLINDA DUNAWAY
Correspondent

We are all happy to welcome the month of April. And with it comes hopes of more sunshine and warmer temperatures, putting an end to the last remaining chill of winter. Although Spring officially began on March 20, we are counting on April to usher in the season with all its glory.

Now is the time for growth of all nature. Plants begin to appear and the grass is becoming a beautiful green. Animals that have slept all winter come out dressed for Spring.

Birds are returning from warmer climates to build nests and lay eggs, while in the woods newborn animals are taking their first wobbly steps.

April is a time for planting, spring-cleaning, April Fool's Day and preparing for baseball season.

It is a season for Easter, the celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. New clothes and Easter bonnets are worn as a symbol of new life. The children all enjoy the game of hunting Easter eggs.

April is a time of celebration, work and play. Man and nature alike are getting ready for a new season.

Hill's Chapel School will hold their first beauty review on Friday April 4, at 7 p.m. We are all looking forward to this event and hope that it will become an annual affair. Everyone try to come out and support our school and have a real treat when you see what beauties we have there.

The report last week on the new classrooms being built at Hills Chapel was that most of the work has been completed. Incomplete work is the wiring, heating and cooling system and the ceiling. Support of Hills Chapel patrons have been good on this project with the building fund totaling some $8,852. at last report.

But the rooms still have to be equipped and furnished when the building is completed. So, if you haven't made a donation or can give more than you already have, please do so.

When there is a need and no funds, the generosity, and support of concerned community members and parents have always come through for our community. This makes us proud of our community and we want to have the best facilities available for our children.

Mrs. Kay Johnson and daughter, Amy, of the Cairo area were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Jesse Henson.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Inez Hale on the death of her brother, Mr. Robert Bishop of Corinth.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy Lee and Margie Barthelemy of Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillip of Florida recently visited with friends and family in our area.

Mrs. Myrtle Cole enjoyed spending a few days in the home of her son, Lee Cole, and his wife last week. Then on Sunday, Mrs. Elvia Moorman spent the afternoon with Mrs. Cole.

Deborah and Dwana Smith, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Smith, enjoyed spending the Spring Holidays with their grandmother, Martha Hunt in Louisiana.

Brownie Troop No. 308 is planning an Easter party at Alethea Lodge on Saturday. The girls spent their time last week, making baskets and preparing for the trip. Troop leaders are Mrs. Carolyn Smith and Miss Nadara Lambert.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Burns and family of Illinois were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burns, Pat, Steve and Bryan Burns enjoyed a cookout Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dunaway, Jennifer and Brock.

Supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Foster on Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Puckett and children of Iuka and Mr. and Mrs. Larry George and Desiree of Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holder and boys came up from Baldwin on Sunday to see Mr. and Mrs. Noel Holder.

Omer Lambert, Jimmy Hutchens and Vivian Holder have been under the weather for a few days. We hope they are feeling better.

Vivian Holder's sister, Ophelia Waddell visited with her on Sunday.

Glad to report that Cleo Cole, Bertha Hare, Nancy Bryant, and Leona Carpenter have all been released from area hospitals.

Ricky Holloway has been released from a Memphis hospital where he was confined following a car accident. He is staying at the home of his mother, Mrs. Wilodene Horn.

Mary Lee Young and Myrtle Cole enjoyed a meal with Lenora Slack on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Taylor and Paul Ray of Tishomingo visited our community on Saturday. They were residents here about 19 years ago.

Gargus Family Has Reunion

On Thursday, March 27, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Gargus were surprised by a visit from Mrs. Gargus' sister, Lula Cheek and her husband, Clarence Cheek Sr. from Deland, Fla. The Cheek's daughter, Juanita, and her husband Larry Laurine, from Datona, Fla., also came along.

This was the first time in 12 years that Mr. and Mrs. Cheek had visited in Mississippi.

Other family members gathered at the Gargus home on Saturday afternoon for a family dinner. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Gargus and Billy and Bryant; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gargus, Wesley and Patrick; Mr. and Mrs. Smith Brackeen and Kenneth;

Ray; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cheek Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Laurine; Mr. and Mrs. James Gargus, Amy

Energy Course At Northeast

The sun has been a major energy source for hundreds of years, new technological advances have made it possible to accelerate the use of solar energy.

The Appalachian Community Service Network (ACSN) and Northeast Junior College will bring these new discoveries by offering "Solar Energy: Fundamentals and Applications," a ten-week short course beginning Tuesday, April 8. Registration will be conducted at 6 p.m., in Room 58 of Hines Hall on the Northeast campus.

The same course will also be made available to Booneville Video Subscribers via Channel 6. Registration fee is $20 per student plus texts. Each student who completes the course will be awarded Continuing Education Units and a certificate for 30 contact hours (3 CEU's) from Northeast Junior College.

Instructed by Jerry Taylor, registered engineer, architect, and specialist in energy conscious design, the programs combine video-instructional activities with some actual solar home site visitation and live seminars which allow the student to question a panel of experts in the design field.

These video programs are keyed to a study guide and the two course textbooks supplement video segments of the telecourse.

"Solar Energy: Fundamentals and Applications" is directed toward persons with engineering and architectural backgrounds as well as the contractor, planner and consultant. The lay person may wish to audit the course for personal enrichment but may encounter some difficulty with the technical aspects.

Some topics covered include Solar Energy Overview, Passive Solar Design, Design and Installation of Solar Heating and Cooling, Thermal Storage and Solar Demonstration Projects.

For more information or to preregister for the class, contact Northeast ACSN site coordinator, Opal Melvin, at 728-7751, or toll free 728-7759, ext. 231.

Dr. Davis Addresses Chiropractors

Dr. Jim Davis, a chiropractor with offices located in Frankstown on Highway 45, recently traveled to Atlanta, Ga., to address an association of chiropractors from the Southeastern states.

Dr. Davis' presentation was an in-depth study of low back pain and disc problems. He discussed several methods of effective treatment.

Dr. Davis was selected to be a speaker at this symposium of chiropractors as a result of his accomplishments as a member of practice consultants.

This was an educational meeting at which all aspects of chiropractic care for the whole family was studied, and the latest methods of treatment were discussed.

As Insecticide Specialist

Moore Has Respect Of Farmers

Few men seem to enjoy their work as much as Bobby Moore.

As an insecticide specialist for Monsanto, Moore, the son of Mrs. Blanche Moore and the late Carl Moore of Marietta, spends his days doing what he likes best—scouting cotton fields and discussing his findings with farmers.

"Work is play," Moore says, "and I look forward to having a lot of fun. I love walking through the fields and truly sympathize with a farmer who has a bad insect problem. But I also celebrate with him when he produces a good crop."

Moore works with chemical dealers and consultants as well as growers, covering the Mississippi Delta and four counties in southeast Arkansas.

Moore has earned the respect of the farmers he calls on, many of whom have known him since childhood. Born in Marietta, Moore grew up on a cotton, corn and dairy farm. He pursued his interest in agriculture through high school and into college.

He now holds a B.S. degree in Biology from Delta State University, and an M.S. in entomology from Mississippi State University.

He now holds a B.S. degree in Biology from Delta State University, and an M.S. in entomology from Mississippi State University. He also taught botany and zoology from two years at East Mississippi Junior College while completing course work for his doctorate.

Moore began his career as an entomologist while he was in the Army, stationed at Fort Detrick, Md.

Assigned to biological warfare, Moore conducted research on various arthropods. He said that the work was very interesting, but has agreed not to reveal anything more about it.

Following his stint with the Army, Moore joined the U.S.D.A. at Kerrville, Texas, as a professional entomologist working on insects affecting cattle, such as screwworm flies, lice, ticks, and cattle grubs.

After a brief period as regional sales manager for an implement company in Evansville, Ind., Moore returned to Mississippi.

On the recommendation of the county extension agent in Bolivar County, he was offered the position of entomologist at Delta and Pine Land Farms, reported to be the largest farm east of the Mississippi River. For Moore, this was a dream come true: 37,700 acres, 23,000 of which were in row crops.

He developed a good understanding of farmers and their problems. One year in particular, 1977, taught him more than any farmer would want to know about insect problems.

"We had the worst infestation of beet armyworm and tobacco budworm I have ever seen," Moore said. "They appeared in heavy density the first week of June. We had to start applying hard insecticides and immediately lost all our beneficial insects."

"The worms were eating the tops off the plants and leaving just the vegetation," he continued. "It was a tough decision to make. I didn't want to delay the maturity of the crop, but I just couldn't stand by and watch the bugs eat it, either."

Moore began applying a 6 lb. toxaphene plus 3 lb. methyl parathion, per gallon formulation on a 4- to 6-day schedule, making 20 applications over the season. The total cost was $860,000 for 10,000 acres, but it paid off.

"We yielded 550 lbs. of lint per acre that year," Moore said. "And while that isn't outstanding, it wasn't a failure either, considering the pressure and inclement weather we were up against."

During less hectic years, Moore was able to experiment with various insect control techniques at Delta and Pine Land.

"It was one of the most productive and progressive farms in the country," he said. "I was able to test 15 pest control products each year to insure that we were using the best material available."

When Delta and Pine Lands was bought by the Prudential Insurance Company, they instituted a policy of renting the land to individual farmers on a crop-rent basis. Consequently, Moore left, joining Monsanto.

"Instead of working with only 12 farm managers like I did at Delta Pine Land," Moore said, "I now call on hundreds of farmers. Every day brings new challenges and I just love it."

A spokesman for Monsanto said that the company is also benefiting from Moore's association.

"Bobby's knowledge and keen eye provide the company with an invaluable link between the farmers and Monsanto research personnel," the spokesman said. "His awareness of the farmers' needs and concerns provides valuable input to many key areas of Monsanto's insecticide program, and his reputation among the growers lends a great deal of credibility to Monsanto and its products."

Married with three children, Moore is out of the house by 6 a.m. every day. By the end of 1979, he says he will have called on almost 400 farmers, 60 consultants and 70 retailers, many of them more than once.

And he will also have had a lot of fun.

CROP INSPECTION—Bobby Moore, formerly of Marietta, is shown inspecting a crop for infestation. Moore, who has recently joined the Monsanto company, served as supervisor of row crops for fourteen years at the 37,700 acre Delta and Pine Land Farms. He now serves as an insecticide specialist in the Mississippi Delta.

GREETING THE LEGISLATORS—John Smith (right), president of the Prentiss County Development Association, was on hand Saturday to welcome state legislators to the city when they stopped for lunch at Northeast Junior College. Doug Mansell, (not shown) executive director of PCDA and a member of the steering committee which organized the tour by the lawmakers, was also there.

Services Available For Migrants

Charles Smith, Corinth Area Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service, said recently that migrants and other seasonal farmworkers and their families are provided a wide range of services by the Employment Service to help them find alternative job opportunities in year-round employment, or to improve their well-being if they remain in seasonal agricultural work. These services include education, training, job referral, emergency services, etc. Smith noted that the agencies providing these services may vary from area to area, but generally are private nonprofit organizations, state and local governments and universities.

'Devil Netters Fall In Tourney

Booneville High School's tennis squad dropped consecutive matches during the weekend and on Monday here in the Corinth Round Robin Tennis Tournament.

In Saturday's action, the local netters dropped five matches to Corinth and four to Tupelo but managed two wins out of five against West Point while on Monday the locals dropped five more against Corinth.

Action on Monday saw, in boys singles, Frank Howell beat Booneville's Mark Chaffin 6-3, 6-2 while in girls singles, Corinth's Artrice Kay whalloped Booneville's Susan Sims 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles action, Aaron Parsons and David Green beat Booneville's Chris Shackelford and Ronald Burns 6-0, 6-0 while in girls doubles Lisa McFall and Mary Pierce dropped Kathy and Tracy Arnold 6-3, 6-3.

In mixed doubles, Corinth's Steve Hickman and Lisa Mills dropped

Booneville's Bo Burress and Donna Rinehart in straight sets also.

Also on Monday Corinth's B Team beat Booneville 2-0. Vivian Spears beat Wendy Williams 6-2, 6-3 while Nicole Meeks and Rebecca Stone tripped Betty Carter and Linda Howell 6-0, 6-0.

Action on Saturday against Corinth, Howell beat Chaffin 6-1, 6-0; Kay beat Sims 6-0, 6-0; Parsons and Green beat Shackelford and Burns 6-2, 6-1; McFall and Pierce beat the Arnolds 6-4, 6-2; and in a tie breaker match Hickman and Mills beat Rinehart and Burress 7-5, 6-4.

The victories Saturday came when Kathy and Tracy Arnold won their matches over both West Point and Tupelo and Rinehart and Burress won over West Point. (Results of those games not available.)

Booneville's next outing will be April 11 when they host New Albany.

Aggie Sixth Stops 'Devils Monday Night

CORINTH—Kossuth's Aggies scored four runs in the bottom of the sixth inning here Monday night to nip Booneville's Blue Devils 5-4 in high school baseball action held at the Corinth City Park.

The Devils, now 0-4 on the year, held the game in doubt throughout the contest but the decisive sixth inning did the men with the horns in.

The Devils banged out nine hits on the afternoon compared to six hits for the winners.

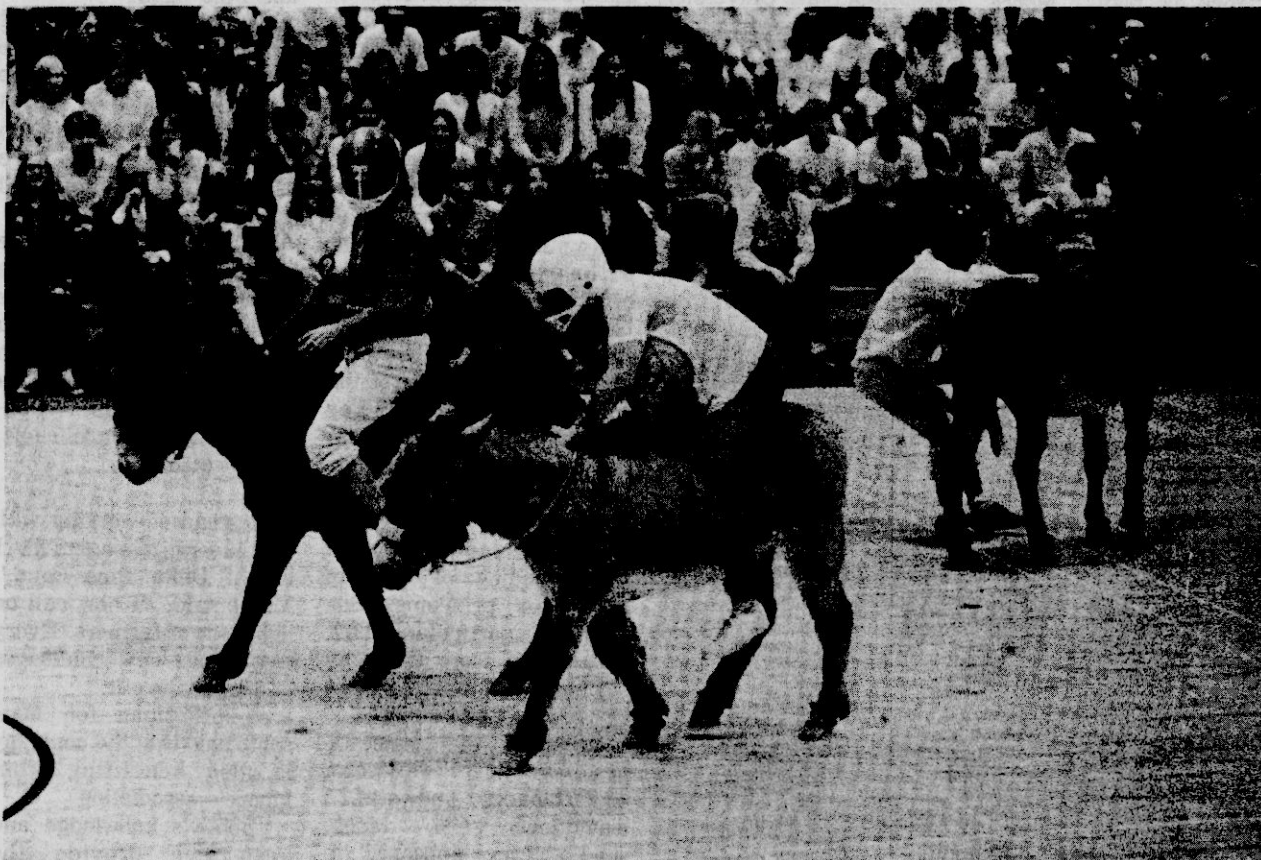

Greg Oakley led the Booneville hitting brigade with three hits on the afternoon followed by Buddy Hall and Victor Gardner with a pair of safeties each and Randy Cobb and John Purvis had one hit each.

Bernard Anderson, Buddy Hall and Victor Gardner scored three of the Devils' four runs in the top of the fifth inning while Victor Gardner scored the final Booneville tally in the top of the seventh.

The loss dropped the Devils to 0-4 on the year and the local troop will battle Iuka today at the Chieftan field.

Baldwyn Gym To Host Donkey Court Action

BALDWIN—Plenty of hilarious action and a good crowd are expected to keep the Baldwyn gym buzzing Monday, April 14, when a donkey basketball tournament is scheduled at Baldwyn High School, according to BHS band director Jerome Larkin.

Three games have been scheduled among four teams with action getting underway at 7 p.m. Advance tickets are now on sale from Baldwyn band students. There will be slightly higher price for tickets purchased at the door. All proceeds will go to the Baldwyn Band Boosters.

The first game of the single elimination tournament will feature the Baldwyn High School juniors against the seniors. In the next game the faculty will play the band members.

The winners of the first two games will play in the championship game.

Donkey basketball is played with four donkeys and four riders on each team. The following are a list of the rules of play:

1- Players lead their own donkey onto the court and line up under the opposition's basket.

2- Players must stay dismounted until they and the donkeys are introduced and the referee blows the whistle and throws out the ball to start the game. Players may then ride or lead their donkey to the ball (whichever works the best).

3- When passing the ball between players, one or the other must be mounted.

4- Players must be mounted to shoot, steal the ball or block passes and shots.

5- The ball cannot be held more than 15 seconds.

6- There are no fouls, out-of-bounds, or time-outs, except for emergencies. Rule infractions may invoke a "loss of ball" penalty.

7- Players must not pull hair, ears or tails of donkeys or each other. Players are urged to use caution when catching a donkey and please stay off his rear end at all times.

8- Players can substitute for a teammate or trade donkeys with him at any time. No one can keep the same donkey for more than one period.

9- Players are asked not to push or pull anyone from their donkey.

10- Teams must trade sets of donkeys and baskets at the half.

11- Players are advised to wear football helmets and any other available padding that isn't already built in.

12- Unless a sanitation crew is pre-arranged, each player is responsible for his own donkey. A broom and shovel will be handy at all times.

Greg Williams Plays In Stillwater Tourney

Greg Williams of Booneville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams recently qualified for the Junior-Senior Invitational Golf Tournament and played last weekend at the Stillwater Resort in Dadeville, Alabama.

Greg, competing with four other golfers from Ole Miss, shot one of the highest rounds in Alabama Tourney with both a 72 and 73 to advance to further competition.

The Booneville lad has been one of Mississippi's top young golfers during the past few years and has won a number of junior and senior Invitational events including the local Booneville Country Club Tourney among others.

Greg qualified for the last weekend's event with a pre qualifying 119 in four rounds to qualify and then shot his 72-73 in the Dadeville event to advance.

Greg was recently initiated in the M Club at Ole Miss, a club for lettering varsity athletes.

NE Camps Start In May

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward has announced the official dates for the Annual Summer Camp program on campus this year.

The camps are well respected throughout the entire five county area and are well staffed throughout their respected sports programs.

Northeast will again this year offer a host of camps for area youth including junior and senior boys football, junior and senior girls basketball, senior high boys basketball, junior high boys basketball and tennis.

The 1980 Summer Camp sessions kickoffs May 25-30 with both the Jr. High Boys Basketball Camp and the Jr. Sr. Boys Football Camp.

The camps return June 1-6 with the Jr. Sr. Girls Basketball Camp and the Annual Tennis Camps.

The Senior High Boys Basketball Camp has been set for June 8-13 which ends the summer major sports session.

The primary purpose of the summer camp programs are to teach skills in the fundamentals of the particular sport and to improve abilities in the finer points of the sport.

Instruction of the camps will be provided by the Northeast athletic department staff along with several outstanding special guest coaches and sports personalities such as former basketball star Bailey Howell, etc.,

Tuition of the camps has been set at $90 for overnight campers and $70 for day campers. The overnight price includes meals, room, instruction, insurance, awards, camp T Shirt, etc. Day camp includes noon meals, instruction, insurance, awards, etc.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Northeast athletic department by calling 728-7751.

Tigers Drop Double Header

JACKSON, TENN.—The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tiger baseball squad dropped a double header with Jackson State here Monday afternoon in JUCU action on the road.

The Tigers dropped a 10-0 loss the first game and fell 11-0 in the nightcap.

In opening game action, Jackson scored runs in all five innings to post the 10-0 margin while in nightcap action the Jackson State squad exploded for five runs in the opening inning and never looked back from there.

Jerry Wigginton took the loss for Northeast in the opening game and Robert Codgill lost the nightcap.

The Northeast squad had only six hits in both games including three in each game.

The Tigers will play this afternoon when they battle John C. Calhoun at Decatur

Bulldog Rally Stops 'Devils'

New Albany's Bulldogs exploded for four runs in the opening inning here last Thursday afternoon and went on to take a 10-3 victory over Booneville's Blue Devils in a North Mississippi baseball contest held at Ecu.

The Union County squad scored the four run burst in the first and followed with three runs in both the second and third innings to waltz to the seven run victory.

The Devils only burst came in the third inning when they scored their only two runs.

Tim Hill took the loss for the Devils while New Albany's Terry Hatch and Clyde Butler combined for the Bulldog victory.

Wally Davis led the Blue Devil hitting attack with a pair of hits on the afternoon while teammates Victor Gardner and Rusty White chipped in with one hit each.

Randy Dunn and Adam Martin had two for three to lead the hitting chores for the Bulldogs while teammate Terry Pernell aided the win with a homerun.

The Devils next outing will be this afternoon when they travel to Iuka in a road battle against the Chieftans.

The Devils will then play Ripley at home Monday (if field is ready).

Rebels' Johnson Ranks

Second In SEC Stats

BIRMINGHAM, AL—Tennessee's Chuck Barcliff, hits at a .489 clip, 23 hits in 47 at bats, to lead the Southeastern Conference in hitting. He is followed by Ole Miss right fielder Mark Johnson, who has 18 hits in 41 trips, a .439 average. Vandy's Scotti Madison tops the league in home runs with 6, and adds to his SEC career record of 40, with each home run. Florida's Tony Stevens has driven in the most runs, 25, and Madison and Florida's Mike Henley lead in hits with 28.

Ole Miss lefthander, Jeff Calhoun, and LSU righthander Don Schneider top SEC pitchers with 4-0 marks. Calhoun has the best ERA, 0.40, he has given up only one earned run in 22 one-third inning and has struck out 30 batters.

Northeast Tennis Team Plays Host Of Action

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College tennis squad played a host of action last week in action both at home and on the road.

Ninth Inning Rally Aids Bearcat Victory

BALDWIN—Baldwin's Bearcats sent across the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning here last Thursday afternoon to take a 2-1 victory over Mantachie's Mustangs in a baseball outing held at Latimer Park.

Terry Tyes had the game winning hit when he singled in Ronnie Grice in the bottom of the last inning (7th) to take the win.

Grice had led off the inning with a bunt single, stolen second and advanced to third on an error before

Tyes brought him in.

The Bearcats had jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the second when Anthony McGaughy scored on a passed ball. McGaughy had reached base on a single.

Mantachie's only run came in the fifth on a run-scoring basehit by losing pitcher Brian Long.

Dennis Anderson picked up the win with three innings of relief work after Mark McCrary had worked the

Crime Increasing In Mississippi

Over the last decade, crime has increased in Mississippi to proportions we can no longer ignore.

It is essential, therefore, that citizens, citizen organizations, elected officials and law enforcement officials take collective action to prevent and control crime. Private citizens can reduce their chances of being victimized by taking simple crime prevention steps.

To this end, Mississippi Action for Community Education Inc. (MACE) Anti-Crime Program will present a state-wide crime prevention conference Monday, April 14, and Tuesday, April 15, at the Holiday Inn Downtown, Jackson, Miss. The conference is being cosponsored by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency as part of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration's National Crime Prevention Campaign.

At the conference, participants will learn how crime prevention works, how to develop effective crime prevention programs, and how crime prevention will benefit them. Workshops will be held to pinpoint specific crime problems affecting the community and how to set up responsive community crime prevention programs.

Registration will begin promptly at 8 a.m. each day. A registration fee ($6.50-first day, $8-second day) will be charged to cover the expenses of lunch only. There is no charge for the conference.

The programs will start at 9 a.m. and run until 5 p.m. Participants may register by contacting Ms. Marilyn Newson at (601) 335-3523.

POPSICLE ART—Trelby Twitty (right) and his wife, Gretchen, of East Lake Street, show some of the many items Mr. Twitty has made from popsicle sticks. Shown are a night light, a fruit basket and a lamp. Mr. Twitty said that he learned to work with popsicles while a patient in the sanatorium at McGee for tuberculosis. Also shown are some place mats he made at the Timber Hills Day Care Center. He said that he doesn't have to eat all those popsicles, he orders the sticks by the thousand.

Drug Awareness Week Set

By gubernatorial proclamation, the week of March 30-April 6 is Alcohol and Drug Awareness Week in Mississippi.

In the past two years, Mississippi has greatly expanded the treatment services for alcohol and drug abusers. With the passage of the 3 percent tax legislation in 1977, the 15 mental health regions received money to develop half-way houses for residential treatment for substance abusers.

Timber Hills Region IV Mental Health Services opened Haven House in September 1978. The 15-bed facility for males with severe alcohol abuse problems is available to the residents of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo Counties.

The agency recently opened a "three-quarter-way" house, a 12-bed facility located adjacent to Haven House. This house is available to rehabilitated alcohol abusers 18 years old and older who are having difficulty in securing housing after being released from Haven House or some other residential treatment facility.

The house allows men to live in a protective environment until they are ready to re-enter the community. Residents must be employed while living in the house.

Both facilities are located at the corner of Fourth and Breckinridge Streets in Corinth. Haven House is funded in part by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare, the state alcohol tax money and monies from the State Department of Mental Health.

The "three-quarter-way" house funds were made available from the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse of the State Department of Mental Health for rent and utilities for the first year of operation only. It is anticipated that the house will be self-supporting in a very short time.

Alcohol and drug services are available on an outpatient basis to individuals experiencing abuse problems. Informational and educational programs relative to alcohol and drug abuse are also available.

Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield recently opened an alcohol unit which provides comprehensive treatment services to the substance abuser. East Mississippi State Hospital at Meridian adds to the services available in Mississippi with a residential drug treatment program and day care.

Services of the Timber Hills Mental Health Services are available to all residents of Mental Health Region IV which includes Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo and Tishomingo Counties.

For additional information about alcohol and drug abuse or the services available call 286-6908 in Corinth or contact T.D. Rummage Prentiss County Alcohol-Drug Counselor at 728-3174.

IRS Report

JACKSON, Mississippi—Special dependency deductions apply to separated and divorced parents who plan to claim children as dependents on their tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Each child can be claimed on only one parents' Federal Tax Return. Generally, the parent with custody of the child for the greater part of the year is allowed the dependency deduction.

There are exceptions to this rule, however. Circumstances including the terms of the divorce or custody decree or another written agreement, and the amount contributed to the child's support by the parent without custody may affect who can claim the deduction.

NOTICE
The Board of Supervisors
Prentiss County,
Mississippi

I have reviewed the internal accounting control procedures, including the accounting records and supporting documentations, of the Purchase Clerk of Prentiss County, Mississippi, that I considered relevant to the Criteria established by House Bill Number 975, Laws of 1974, and House Bill Number 470, Laws of 1975, of the Mississippi Legislature. My review included tests of compliance with such procedures during the period from October 1, 1978 through September 30, 1979.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by responsible officials. There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by individuals. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

I understand that procedures in conformity with the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report are considered by the Board of Supervisors to be adequate for its purpose in accordance with the provisions of House Bill Number 975, Laws of 1974, and House Bill 470, Laws of 1975, and that procedures not in conformity therewith indicate inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on my review, in my opinion, the purchasing records and internal accounting control procedures of the Purchase Clerk of Prentiss County, Mississippi, during the period October 1, 1978 through September 30, 1979, were adequate for the purposes of the Board of Supervisors and were in general compliance in all material respects with the requirements of House Bill 975, Laws of 1974, and House Bill 470, Laws of 1975, except for the conditions described below which I believe are material weaknesses in relation to the criteria referred to in the first paragraph of this report.

(1) Receiving reports are not being timely filed with the Purchase Clerk.

I recommend the Board of Supervisors to advise all county officials, department heads and authorized employees that a receiving report must be prepared in triplicate and filed with the Purchase Clerk not later than the twelfth hour of the third regular business day after receipt of any equipment, heavy equipment, machinery, supplies, materials or services.

(2) Vendor's invoices covering purchase of exempt items do not have the required signed vendor's certificate that reads as follows:

"THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT THE CHARGE MADE DOES NOT EXCEED THE COST TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC OF SUCH ITEM OR ITEMS IN THE SAME QUALITY AND QUANTITIES."

I recommend in the future, the Clerk of the Board notify the individual supplier that his claim cannot be allowed for payment until the required signed vendor's certificate is affixed to his invoice.

(3) In test checking the paid invoices during the audit period, I found the required copy of the purchase requisition, copy of the purchase order and the original copy of the receiving report were not attached to some of the paid invoices examined during the test periods. I recommend that the required documents be attached to an invoice before it is paid.

Trucking Deregulation Could Harm Small Cities And Towns

Trucking deregulation, currently being considered by Congress, could chase industry from small towns and cities in the South, according to a Memphis, Tenn., trucking executive. Without regulation, truckers will no longer be required to serve small towns, and they probably won't, and that, McClain Gordon, president of Gordons Transports, Inc., predicts, could reverse economic development in the South.

That was one of the warnings Gordon made in remarks prepared for delivery to the North Mississippi Traffic Club in Tupelo in discussing the inherent risks of pending trucking deregulation proposals.

"Southern industry depends on predictable highway service. It is the lifeblood of new industrial centers that many small towns have come to depend on for payrolls," Gordon said.

"You take a manufacturer in a small town, if deregulation raises his shipping costs, that's going to shrink his market radius. It'll be the beginning of the flight of industry from the rural South."

Gordons Transports is one of the country's largest common carriers with 2,500 employees and 53 truck terminals.

Noting that not just rural communities but metropolitan areas as well could feel a ripple effect if trucking deregulation becomes law, Gordon said, "Our study of Memphis found that if anything shrinks job opportunities within a 150-mile radius, it will be bad news in a big way for retail trading centers, too."

Most consumer goods move from place to place by truck. Transport is as vital to the small town as to the big city. But in many cases, truck transport is the town's only link with the outside economy.

Nearly 65 percent of all U.S. communities don't have rail service. They are completely dependent upon truck transportation. In Mississippi, the figure is 47 percent, while 73 percent of Tennessee's communities lack any kind of rail service.

But, under present regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission, interstate motor carriers are required to serve small towns whether it's profitable or not, more often they are not because of a the low volume of freight moving in and out coupled with high fuel costs to serve outlying areas.

That is one reason the trucking industry is regulated, Gordon said. The federal government views trucking as a vital service industry—similar to a utility—and regulation insures that the interests of the entire public will be served without discrimination or prejudice.

Under deregulation, service would be endangered, he said, probably quickly eliminated to all unprofitable shipping points or would be severely curtailed with truck service costing much more. It is simple economics.

"If trucking is deregulated, the main beneficiaries will be large shippers and major cities. The losers will be small shippers and small communities, both of which exist in large numbers in the South," Gordon added.

THE HOT DOG VENDOR

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs.

He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?"

There's a big depression.

The foreign situation is terrible.

The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Cards Of Thanks

May we take this opportunity to thank our many friends and neighbors for the cards, visits, food and many prayers given in behalf of our wife and mother, Pearl James. We would like to extend a special thank you to the Medical Clinic doctors and the staff of the Coronary Care Unit who worked so tirelessly with her, to Bro. Sharp for the kind and comforting words spoken and to Salts Funeral Home for the courtesy shown our family. Our prayer is that God will richly bless each of you and that we may gain strength through Him as days go by.

The Pearl James Family

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives, who have been so kind to us and for all the nice things we have received. Since fire struck and destroyed our home on March 20. We sincerely appreciate each one of you. May God richly bless and keep you is our prayers.

Lloyd & Carolyn Knight and family

FASHION SHOW HELD—Mrs. Donna Vaughn's fashion merchandizing class at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College held a spring and summer fashion show at Wal-Mart in Booneville last Thursday night before a large crowd at the local store. This is the first year for this program at Northeast and some 20 students have enrolled in the class. Shown in the top picture at left are the students that served as models for Thursday's show while the bottom photo shows a sequence of pictures of the girls on the walkway. To identify the girls who were models Thursday, check the group shot at left. Front row left to right, Edie Truelove, Sherry Lambert, Liz Pittman, Phyllis Smith, and Tammy Parr. Standing from left, Lee Ann McClemore, Vickie Palmer, Sandra Tucker, and Paula Pulse. Other girls who helped backstage and are enrolled in the class are, Deanne Arnold, Margie Caldwell, Laurie Dobbins, Angelina Kay, Rhonda Mann, Linda Miller, Tammy Swords, Myra Walker, Rosie Wilder, and Tammy Akers.

MNA Holds Meeting

The Mississippi Nurses' Association (MNA), the professional organization for Registered Nurses (RN's), held a special, called meeting of the 1979 House of Delegates to make a decision on the MNA task force on Entry Levels Into Nursing Practice Position Paper, which calls for only two levels of nursing practice in the state of Mississippi.

The special meeting was held at the Coliseum Ramada Inn in Jackson on March 20-21.

The American Nurses' Association (ANA) adopted the position of two nursing level entries in 1965, it was reported—the two year associate degree-technical nurse, and the four-year baccalaureate degree-professional nurse. There are presently four levels of nursing in the state—the licensed practical nurse, the associate degree nurse, the diploma degree nurse and the baccalaureate degree nurse.

Since 1965, 24 other state nurses' association have taken various positions on the entry level issue, it was reported. However, the MNA's House of Delegates decided to refer the position paper back to committee and take no position at this time.

Other items addressed during the convention were the restructuring of ANA and the election of 10 delegates to represent MNA at the June national convention in Houston, Texas.

Delegates from District 26 (Prentiss and Tippah counties) were Brenda Davis and Margie Hurt.

NE Training Programs Set

The Northeast Junior College, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and the Mississippi State Department of Vocational Education will start training programs in Construction Carpentry and Heavy Equipment Mechanics in April at the Yellow Creek Training Facility near Iuka.

Both programs will operate from 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, for 12 months. No tuition will be charged, but students will be required to furnish their personal safety equipment.

Persons desiring to make application for either program should go to the Employment Office at the Yellow Creek Nuclear Power Plant between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. and ask for Laura Wimberly or contact Ronnie Walker at The Northeast Junior College at 601-728-7751 (local) or 601-728-7759 (toll free).

Local Band Competes

The Northeast Mississippi Junior High Band Directors Association sponsored the Solo & Ensemble Festival on March 22, at Lawhon Junior High in Tupelo. This was the first year Anderson band students participated in the annual event.

The festival provides an opportunity for junior high band students to demonstrate their musical ability on their particular band instrument to an adjudicator in either the Solo class or the Ensemble Class. The student is graded on a scale of I to IV, with a I being superior, II excellent, III good, and IV poor. Those students getting a 'I' rating receive a medal. Anderson students began preparing for the Festival Solo Competition in late February and put in many hours of practice on their individual solos. Their work paid off, as the band students walked away with 15 superior ratings and 10 excellent ratings.

County Forester's Report

By JOHN STUART
Area Forester

Trees fill a need in cities and towns. They provide shade and screening, soften harsh and stark lines of buildings, add beauty and graciousness and a feeling of welcome to a street. They improve the environmental quality.

The need trees fill remain after the tree is lost. Every year more and more shade trees are lost—lost to insects, disease, population growth, urban expansion and natural disasters.

American elm has been a favorite shade tree, more widely planted, perhaps than any other single kind of shade tree. Then, Dutch elm disease invaded this country. So through many areas of the United States, American elms came down.

The number of motor vehicles on American roads has more than tripled in the last 30 years. Avenues that once were adequate for automobile traffic no longer are wide enough. So they are widened and more shade trees came down.

Populations have shifted from tree-lined residential streets with the city limits to the suburbs. Streets that once were residential have turned commercial or industrial and more shade trees came down.

Nature, too, has played its part: Hurricanes, tornadoes and ice storms have taken their toll, and more shade trees came down.

As a homeowner, you recognize that trees enhance the value of your property, you carefully tend them, and if they die you replace them. But what about trees on public space? How do the losses of trees along streets and parks effect you? What is your responsibility in replacing these trees? What can you do to insure that the trees are replaced?

Community beautification yields economic as well as aesthetic returns. Residential property located in an attractive area has a higher value than residential property in an unattractive area.

Tree lined streets add dollars to the value of your home. Conversely, your property loses value every time a tree comes down and is not replaced. You have an obligation as a citizen to see that your community is well kept; you have a right as a property owner to insure that your property does not lose value.

If you live in an incorporated city or town, let city authorities know how you feel about replacement of trees along streets and in parks. Voters' associations, garden clubs, service clubs, parent-teacher groups—all can express their interest in having these trees properly cared for and if necessary, replaced. They can also express their appreciation to city authorities who do a good job of street-tree maintenance and replacement.

If you live in an unincorporated community, replacement of lost street trees will likely be more of a do-it-yourself job. But you, together with other interested citizens in your community, can insure that lost trees are replaced satisfactorily.

Help is available to citizens' groups through your Mississippi Forestry Commission. Area Forester, John Stuart can be located in the back left-hand side of the First Mississippi Bank of Commerce Building or by calling 728-6835.

McGill Earns Honors

Douglas A. McGill of Baldwyn was elected president of the Mid South Angus Association at their recent annual meeting in Memphis, according to Reeves Hughes, who was elected secretary-treasurer of the association.

John S. Smith of Jackson, Tenn., was elected vice-president.

Directors' posts went to Paul S. Ladd, Millington, Tenn.; Roy T. Coombs, Blue Mountain; D.A. McGill, Baldwyn; Boyce Lamb, Horn Lake; John S. Smith, Jackson, Tenn.; Harold Lewis, Carlisle, Ark.; Reggie Caviness, Blue Mountain; Joe F. Lauderdale, Hernando; and David Rhea, Somerville, Tenn.

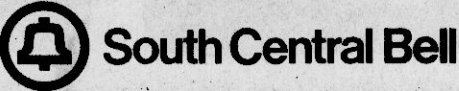

Call Before You Dig

Why risk cutting underground telephone cables? Call South Central Bell's Buried Cable Information Service 48 hours before you plan to dig. Let us know and we'll mark our underground cables in your digging area.

Buried cable information service is available, at no charge, to anyone who digs. So, whether you're planning a spring garden or building roads, take advantage of the service.

Cutting underground cables can be dangerous. It can interrupt a whole community's service and cost you time and money. So before you dig, call our Buried Cable Information Service. You'll find the number in your phone book's Call Guide pages.

County Agent's Report

Granular Systemic Insecticides on Pecans

There have been several inquiries concerning the use of systemic insecticides for pecan insect control. Di-Syston 15G and Temik 15G are the materials that most of the callers have mentioned. These are not for homeowner use, and the 2 percent Di-Syston granular products are labeled for use on ornamentals.

Some facts that you should know:

Di-Syston and Temik are both extremely toxic materials. For example, the oral LD 50 values indicate that Di-Syston is about twice and Temik is about 17 times as toxic as methyl parathion. Absorption through the skin has Temik 22 times and Di-Syston about four times as toxic as methyl parathion.

This toxicity makes it very important that label safety rules in handling and applying are followed. Incorporation in the soil is very important to get these materials into the place that they can be effective while preventing the chance for contact.

Soils and Fertilizer

Liquid Mixed Fertilizers. Liquid fertilizers are used satisfactorily and are equal to solid mixed fertilizers when applied at the same rate in the same manner.

Liquid fertilizer manufacturers sometimes claim special yields because of high water solubility of phosphates in liquid fertilizers. Phosphates in high analysis granular mixed fertilizers are also 90 to 100 percent water soluble. Small amounts of liquid fertilizer will not replace large amounts of a dry fertilizer.

Using Animal Waste As Fertilizers. Animal waste, such as poultry litter and livestock manure, can be valuable substitutes for or supplements to commercial fertilizers. With current fertilizer prices, built-up poultry litter may have a fertilizer value of $20 per ton.

The wastes are satisfactory for pasture or row crops; however, since they vary in nutrient content, the user needs to know the nutrient content of each batch of waste. Suggested use includes 4 to 6 tons per acre on grass or grain crops such as corn or sorghum and 2 to 4 tons on cotton.

In addition, farmers should use a starter fertilizer such as 13-13-13 at a rate of 100 to 200 pounds per acre on row crops. Animal waste should be applied to row crops and worked into the soil during seedbed preparation. It's also best to incorporate animal waste applied to pastures to reduce nutrient loss.

Fuel Monitoring

This year, more than ever before, fuel conserving methods need to be practiced by farmers. Recently a number of fact sheets pertaining to fuel saving techniques were mailed to all county offices.

Many farmers are searching for ways to eliminate some of the trips across the field with tractors and equipment.

How many farmers know how many gallons of fuel they normally use to grow an acre of soybeans or an acre of cotton? A fuel record might be valuable for future planning.

Farmers cannot always farm the best they know because of weather, machinery, and capital limitations.

Here are some ways to reduce energy consumption in row crop production:

- 1-Eliminate unnecessary trips across the field.
- 2-Operate the tractor in a manner which uses the fuel to the best advantage. Select a gear which gives the desired travel speed at the most economical engine speed.

3-Keep air filters clean on diesel engine. Watch out for an excess amount of black smoke. This is an indication of dirty filter, and unburned fuel is going out the exhaust.

4-Store fuel to eliminate moisture, dirt, and evaporation as best you can.

5-Minimize wheel slippage by correct use of weights. Check operators manual for your tractor.

6-Excess tire pressure causes slippage. Too little air pressure causes rolling resistance. Check tire pressure regularly.

7-A well maintained tractor used less fuel. Use the recommended oil and grease.

8-Worn implements, improperly adjusted implements, and poorly designed implements waste fuel.

VEGETABLE GROWERS TALK ABOUT VIKING SHIP® CALCIUM NITRATE

"Calcium Nitrate is an essential part of our vegetable farming operation."

Bill Burch Burch Farms
Faison, North Carolina

The Burch brothers (Bill, Jimmy, Ted, and Barry) farm 175 acres. Their crops include cukes, peppers, egg plant, squash, okra, sweet potatoes, and corn. They had heard about Calcium Nitrate at grower meetings and when faced with the cold, wet Spring of 1978, they decided to try it. "We wanted the fast action of nitrate nitrogen, and an increased availability of calcium. We also felt there was less chance of injury to the root system with Calcium Nitrate as a first sidedressing, versus ammonium nitrate. Our crops came through that stress period and we're satisfied Calcium Nitrate is what did it. Now it's an essential part of our vegetable farming operation."

Rodgers In Army's Missile Program In Germany

By JOHN WEST
U.S. Army Hometown News Center

STUTT GART, West Germany—A Baldwin, Miss., soldier is part of the Army's most powerful answer to any Soviet assault on Western Europe.

Specialist Four James H. Rodgers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rodgers of Route 3, Box 32, Baldwin, is a communications supervisor in a Pershing Missile Battalion in Germany.

The Pershing is the Army's longest range and most powerful guided missile system. It is a nuclear capable missile and it is located in positions which allow it to respond to any massive invasion of West Germany.

Rodgers finds his job rewarding.

"I like teaching the new men under me. When they do well, it makes me feel good inside," he said.

The Pershing system that Rodgers works on, travels on wheeled transporters and is designed to hit enemy transportation or communication systems, hampering their ability to support the front line soldier in combat.

The missile has four basic components. There are two motor stages, a guidance and control stage, and a warhead. Ready-to-fire, the system weighs more than 10,000 pounds.

The 20-year-old soldier feels the job he does is important.

"The communication systems there must work at all times. Without them, you couldn't fire a missile," Rodgers said.

The Pershing has been an object of international attention in recent months. An improved version now in production, the Pershing II, has more than double the range, and can reach deeper targets in the Warsaw Pact. The Russians have objected strongly to its deployment in Europe.

Rodgers' unit recently participated in a field exercise to test readiness. Temperatures during the exercise ranged from a cool 15 degrees Fahrenheit in the daytime to near zero at night.

As for the future, Rodgers said his plans are uncertain.

"I have four months left in the Army and I do like it but I might get out and join the National Guard in my hometown," Rodgers said.

Rodgers is a 1977 graduate of Saltillo High School.

For State's Industries

Growth Exceeds National Rate

JACKSON—Manufacturing job growth has been the single most important factor in raising Mississippi's per capita income during the last 15 years, according to a report released today by the Mississippi Research and Development Center.

The latest issue of the "R & D Economic Comment" notes that manufacturing comprised 30 percent of the increase in labor and proprietors' income from 1962 to 1977. Per capita income in the state increased from $1,518 in 1962 to $5,030 in 1977.

"During this 15-year period we've exceeded the U.S. growth rate in manufacturing jobs," said Carol Mead, an economic analyst at the R&D Center who authored the report. "Mississippi has made a steady effort to stimulate manufacturing growth."

Manufacturing employment in the state grew at a rate of 5.5 percent during the 1962-1967 period but dropped to 4.4 percent per year for 1967-1972 and 2.1 percent per annum from 1972-1978.

"These declines reflect the national economic recessions of 1968, 1974, and 1975," Ms. Mead noted, "which meant bad years for starting new businesses and employees being laid off. During a recession the manufacturing employees are often the first to be laid off as the demand for durable goods declines."

During the same 15-year time span the percentage of manufacturing employment in low-wage industries declined and employment in high-wage industries increased. Nevertheless, three of the five largest industries in the state in 1978 were among the lowest-paying industries.

Among the low-wage industries that decreased in percentage of employment were apparel, lumber and wood products, food and kindred products, and textiles. High-paying industries in the state showing increases in employment percentage were transportation equipment, electrical and electronic machinery, primary and fabricated metals, and nonelectrical machinery.

"The state is making progress toward getting more high-wage industry," Ms. Mead said.

"Historically, the increase in manufacturing jobs in the state has been in low-wage industries. To correct the low-income problem we need more jobs and higher-paying jobs."

The average hourly manufacturing wage in the state rose from 69 percent of the U.S. average in 1962 to 74 percent in 1978, the report noted. The hourly wage rate was still the second lowest in the nation, ahead of only North Carolina.

Copies of this "Economic Comment" are available from the Mississippi R & D Center, Public Information Office, Post Office Drawer 2470, Jackson, Mississippi 39205.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Hope “. . . And Now Abideth Hope”

By Charles L. Potts

The early Christians lived such radiant lives that someone was always asking why. Why were they so hopeful? Why, in the midst of poverty and persecution...were they so joyous? They were not foolhardy...they were realists. They did not hope for the automatic development and spiritual progress of man. Indeed they had concrete reasons for each of their hopes.

First, they hoped for changes in people...in others and in themselves. They had faced the fact that it is the evil within people that brings defeat. It is out of this context and conviction that our Prentiss County Ministerial Association has planned the J.E. Daniels Evangelistic "Crusade For Christ"...Bonner Arnold Auditorium- April 20-27 . the Bible talks about this change...this hope. Drastic changes in Mary...in Simon Peter... in Paul...in others. It is a basic tenet of the Christian faith that people can be changed by the power of God in their lives. This is a primary hope. I can change. I will not forever be dominated by evil thoughts, depressions, anxieties, hates and weaknesses. You too can be changed. You will not always be tyrannized by sorrow or irresponsibility. She can be changed. She will not eternally be cruel and twisted, vengeful and petty. Recently this writer heard a Christian lady say of another lady who seemed loaded down with problems related to family and alcohol..."I hope to help with large amounts of concern and Christian compassion." People can change...this is a vital hope.

Second, the early Christians...and hopefully present day Christians, believe and hope for the defeat of evil. They had witnessed God's intervening love in the form of His Son. Jesus Christ had won the victory over the most devastating and overwhelming evils. When things looked blackest and defeat most certain. He emerged in glory. Sometimes it seems that "good guys finish last." We read the statistics on suicide, the growing crime rates, view with horror the news from the wars, see our next door neighbor crippled by arthritis, hear that an earthquake has killed hundreds. But Jesus said, "Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world." Like the early Christians, we can hope for the final destruction of evil.

Third, they hoped for life after death. They believed Jesus had risen and said "As I live, you shall live also." They considered this both promise and proof of life to come. The effect on the disciples of this hope was indeed startling...they considered themselves immune from death. Their eternal lives had already begun and they had absolutely nothing to lose. So they dared. Eternal life is the only hope of justice for many people. A boy born in a tenement, maimed physically and mentally by the very Mother who should protect him...what chance has he in this world? To the parents standing at the grave of a beloved child, what hope without Jesus' claim of life? Hope is a soldierly word...and we Christians have Hope for life after death. This confidence in God...and Jesus' resurrection is what EASTER is all about.
