Equalization Plan Formulated

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and the Prentiss County Tax Assessor have launched a dual operation that, when completed, is expected to result in a more equitable distribution of the county's tax burden.

"It is not a tax increase," Tax Assessor Danny Childers said. "It is an equalization plan designed to fill big holes we have discovered in the county's tax rolls."

As an example, Childers cited a case of two houses in the county built at about the same time and of similar construction.

"These houses are of about equal value and within one-half mile of each other," he said. "Yet one is on the tax rolls for $1,500 and the other at $3,000. This means one of these homeowners is paying far too much taxes, or the other is paying too little. The equalization program we are working on is designed to eliminate these inequities."

Board of Supervisors Chairman J.P. Davis said there are cases of new homes being built as replacements for older homes on the same property. Often the old house is torn down or abandoned, yet no change is ever made on the tax rolls.

"This is one of the ways it is possible for houses worth many thousands of dollars to be taxed a total of five or six dollars," he said. "There is even one case in the past of a homeowner paying as little as seventy cents in taxes on a home worth quite a bit of money."

He pointed out that there are numerous cases of additions being made—sometimes more than one addition over a period of years—without any changes ever being made in the tax rolls.

Both officials, as well as the other four board members, agree that after a complete and painstaking search of the tax rolls, they are unable to determine any formula ever having been used or pattern followed in determining the value of real property for tax purposes. But, they say they hope the new plan will be an acceptable system that will permit all taxpayers to pay equal taxes on property of equal value.

Childers emphasized that the plan would not involve any changes in homestead exemptions.

"It will, however, mean the county could get a larger reimbursement from the state," he said. "The state reimburses each county for the tax it loses because of

Six Arrested By Police

For Theft Of Copper Wire

Three juveniles and three adults have been arrested by the Booneville Police Department and charged in connection with the theft of a quantity of copper wire from Burcham and Sons Contractors on Jacinto Road.

The break-in occurred Friday, May 2, after the business had closed for the day, Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy said. Two of the suspects were apprehended on the scene, he said, and the others were picked up later.

The three adults—Michael Lee Chase, 18, of 512 Rose Street, Corinth; Robert Alston Way, 18, of Old Marietta Road, Booneville; and Marshall E. Chase, 18, of Route 4, Booneville—all pleaded guilty before city judge John Ferrell, Stacy said. The charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny were reduced to misdemeanors, he added.

The three juveniles were handed over to the juvenile authorities.

One of the suspects, Michael Chase, was AWOL from the army at the time of his arrest, Stacy said, and he was turned over to military MP's.

One juvenile and one adult were also arrested in connection with another break-in Saturday, May 10, at the A & A Freeze in Booneville.

The juvenile has been turned over to juvenile court, Stacy said, and the adult, William Earl Cooper, 18, of East Church Street, will be bound over to the action of the Grand Jury.

Stacy said approximately $300 worth of food, including ham, cheese, and ice cream, were taken during the break-in.

Acting on a tip, police officers discovered some of the stolen goods while searching a house on Section Line Road. This led to the arrest of the two suspects, Chief Stacy said.

Two men and one woman from Memphis were arrested Thursday, May 16, on charges of possession of drugs, Stacy said.

Patricia Peel, Robert P. Parker and Frnak R. Holmes, all of Memphis, were arrested by Booneville police officers after some 60

Festival Committee Meets

The Boone Hill Festival committee met with representatives of local organizations Monday night to discuss additional events for the festival to be held Aug. 7-9.

Definite commitments have been received for an arts exhibit at the George E. Allen Library, go-cart races, crafts displays, a 3.1 mile run, and an antique auto show to be held in the up-town area.

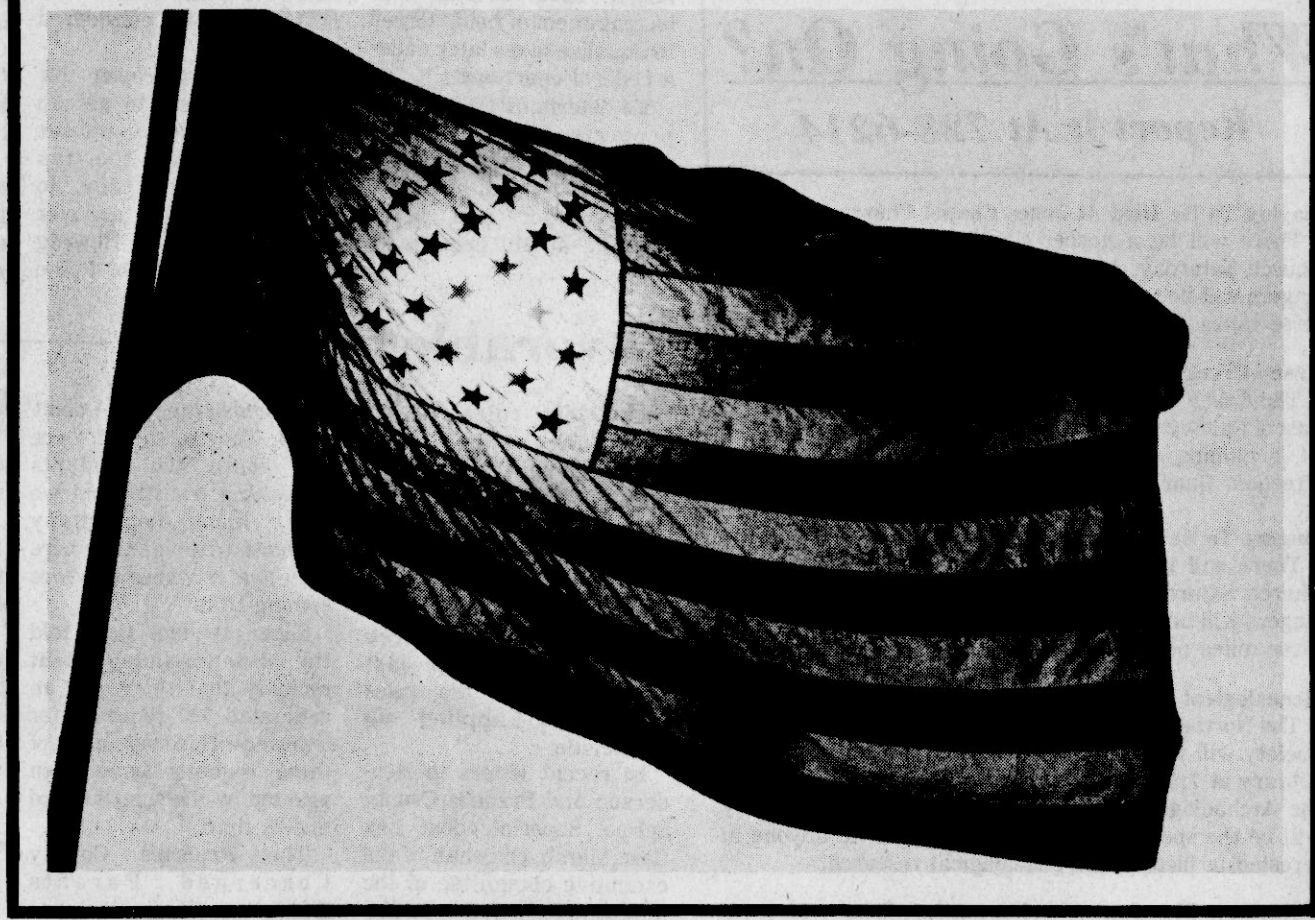

The Junior Auxiliary has also scheduled its annual pet show and a puppet show for the three-day event.

These events are in addition to the Cooperative Extension Service's mini-fair already announced.

Many other organizations, including the Organization for Handicapped Mississippians, indicated they will definitely participate but are not ready to announce the events they will sponsor at this time.

Keith Shackelford, chairman of the festival committee, said a steering committee has been selected to coordinate the scheduling of events. The committee, composed of Shackelford, John Smith, Marshall Dickerson, Mrs. Lee Davis, and Tommy Walden, will hold frequent meetings to discuss scheduling of these and other events to be added.

City Trustees Reject Proposal

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Saying they do not feel they can legally abolish the separate school district, the board of trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District have turned down a proposal presented to them by Donald Franks, attorney for the Prentiss County School Board, at a meeting last week.

Franks' proposal on behalf of the Prentiss County School Board asked that the county not be divided into two school districts, but that there be only one county-wide district. He said that the terminology was not important—it could be called a Prentiss County school district or a municipal separate school district, as long as it encompasses the entire county.

He further proposed that there be two high schools established for the district, one located adjacent to the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School and the other located in the Big V Community southwest of Booneville.

The proposal provided that all teachers under contract for the 1979-80 year be employed for next term, including Troy Henderson, who has been named as superintendent of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, and that all students presently attending school in Booneville continue to do so.

Under this plan, the separate school district, which is to take effect July 1, would either be abolished or would encompass the entire county.

Franks said the proposal would remove the uncertainty of where the students who live outside the city limits will attend school, and let the teachers know whether or not they have jobs for next year and would solve the problem of students' eligibility to participate in extracurricular activities since there would only be one school district.

Franks said that if the city accepted this plan, a proposal calling for two high schools for the county would be submitted to the State

Eligibility

Favorable Ruling Not Expected By MHSAA

Despite the fact that the Mississippi High School Activities Association (MHSAA) has postponed until August 2 making a final decision, the association apparently does not intend to relax its rules to allow Prentiss County students to participate in extracurricular school activities this fall.

Dr. Woodrow Marsh, executive director of the MHSAA, has indicated that the association will not be intimidated by threats of a lawsuit.

During a meeting of the MHSAA executive committee in Jackson Friday, May 9, the situation in Prentiss County was discussed. Troy Henderson, superintendent of the new Booneville Municipal Separate School District, attended that meeting and the Prentiss County Concerned Parents Education Committee sent a letter to be considered, requesting a one-year waiver of the eligibility rule for county students who wish to attend city schools next year.

The eligibility problem developed as the result of the breaking of Prentiss County into two school districts—the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and the Prentiss County School District. The separate school district was originally formed several years ago by action of the Booneville Board of Aldermen, but was not approved by the State Education Finance Committee until late last year. It becomes effective in a little over a month, on July 1.

Marsh said that the request to grant a waiver to the residency rule would violate MHSAA rules which state that students are only eligible to participate in the activities if they attend school in the same district in which their parents live. The rule is designed to eliminate the recruiting of students for the various activities.

The problem centers on the fact that Booneville is the only school in the county that has a football team and a high school band.

Marsh indicated that the MHSAA became involved in the controversy before the problems were worked out, saying the association was asked to waive the rules before problems were ironed out by the two systems.

"This is a running fight between the city and the county and we ought not be in it at all," Marsh said. "They still haven't settled whether they are actually going to release these kids or not."

Marsh said there is nothing about the transfer on the minutes of the board of trustees' meeting and he noted the city board of trustees is not an official body until July 1.

"They are asking us to

homestead exemptions. The average reimbursement statewide is $50 to $75, but Prentiss County averages only $33.25. That means that out of 82 counties we are number 81."

The county officials pointed out that while many people will be paying more property taxes, it will be because their taxes are disproportionately low now.

But is also possible that some taxpayers will be paying less because of the equalization.

"What it really means," a board member said, "is that for the first time in history, as far as we can determine, the amount paid by everyone will be based on what their property is worth."

"Again we want to emphasize that this is not a tax increase or re-appraisal," Davis said. "Sure, we expect it to produce more tax revenue which the county desperately needs to provide necessary services that cost more every year due to inflation."

"And one thing we should all remember," he added, "is that it is quite possible that implementing this plan might save us the embarrassment of being forced to equalize taxes later under a federal court order."

To determine the value of property for assessment purposes, frame buildings will be computed at $7 per square foot and brick building at $10 per square foot.

Land, up to five acres, will be computed at $100 for the first acre, plus $50 for each additional acre or fraction of an acre. For all plots of land over five acres, a different formula is used based on whether or not the land is under cultivation.

Uncultivated land will be computed at $10 per acre and cultivated land at $20 per acre. Cultivated land is only that which is actually tilled. Forest lands and pastures are not considered cultivated.

To make it easier for property owners to get an equitable assessment for their property, the tax assessor's office plans to mail a card to each taxpayer requesting the following information: type of home (brick or frame), number of square feet in home, number of other houses, square feet in other houses, acreage cultivated and uncultivated, total acreage, owner of property and owner's address. The card is self-addressed and the postage prepaid.

If you should lose your card or fail to receive one, they will be available at the tax assessor's office, or you may call and request that one be mailed to you. Childers also said he hopes to make the cards available at other convenient locations throughout the county.

As provided by state law, the new tax rolls will be open to all taxpayers for inspection during the month of August.

Favorable Ruling

relax our rules before something actually happens," he said. "It may be they don't have a problem once they get it worked out, or it may be they do have a problem."

Marsh said the MHSAA executive committee warned the group last December that the rules would be applied to Booneville.

In recent letters to Henderson and Prentiss County School Superintendent Lex Cain, Marsh, on behalf of the executive committee of the MHSAA, requested additional information from the county and city school systems, saying a final decision would be made at a meeting on August 2.

"They have asked us to give them a year to try to work it out," Marsh said. "What they are going to do be underway by August 2. "You can't organize a team on that amount of time," he said.

However, Marsh said the MHSAA would not be swayed by the threat of a lawsuit.

"We don't feel uncomfortable with a lawsuit," Marsh said. "If they are going to file suit to do what they want, then we'll meet them at the courthouse door."

Marsh said that the courts have ruled that participation in activities is not a right, but a privilege that has to be earned.

"They (the courts) have also found in many cases that federal courts will not step into a membership that regulated themselves and voted upon themselves rules and regulations," Marsh said.

City Trustees

Education Finance Commission and immediate steps would be taken to implement the plan.

However, at a meeting the following night, Tuesday, May 13, the Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District rejected the proposal.

In a letter to Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb and the Booneville Board of Aldermen, William W. Smith, attorney for the separate school district's board of trustees, said that, following exhaustive research, it is the position of the separate school district board of trustees that they have no legal authority to abolish the district.

Smith also said that, based on the advice of counsel, the trustees feel that they cannot temporarily suspend the separate school district and are legally required to begin operation of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District on July 1, 1980.

In his letter, Smith also stated that the separate school district's board of trustees feel the "educable children of this community and Prentiss County can best be served through the municipal separate school district."

"The Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District are vitally interested in providing the best education possible for all of the children in our community, both within the compounds of the city of Booneville as well as Prentiss County and are striving to reach a settlement with the Prentiss County School Board of those problems that have arisen in regard to the operation of the separate school district," Smith's letter states.

According to the letter, a formal written proposal concerning these problems and possible solutions was presented to Prentiss County School Superintendent Lex Cain on May 1, and the separate school district board of trustees is "anxiously awaiting the decision of the Prentiss County Board of Education in regard to that proposal."

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I find it very difficult to harmonize Grace and obedience on the part of man. Eph. 2:8 says, "By grace are ye saved." How do you handle this?

ANSWER: This seems to be a problem of many people. The text you used also says, "through faith." This means man must have the faith and God provides the grace. I will try to give you some examples out of the Bible which should help. 1. The salvation of Noah and his family in the ark was a matter of grace (Gen. 6:8), but Noah was saved by faith in the command of God (Heb. 11:7). 2. When the Israelites crossed the Red Sea, God gave Moses a plan for the crossing—God's grace intervened, and the people were admonished to "Stand still and see the salvation of God" that day (Exo. 14:13). However, it was by faith they crossed the Red Sea as by dry land (Heb. 11:29). 3. God's grace devised a means by which the children of Israel could be healed from snakebite which had come about as a result of their rebellion against him; but he required faith that would require them to "Look and live" (Num. 21:4-9). 4. Jesus reminded Nicodemus of the above incident as being typical of His being lifted up on the cross. This was God's grace, but he told Nicodemus that he had to demonstrate his faith by being born again (No. 3:5). I hope these examples will help you.

Barnes Found Competent To Stand Trial

CORINTH--A seven woman-five man Alcorn County Circuit Court jury declared a 75-year-old Booneville man sane and competent to stand trial last week for the murder of a Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agent.

Chester A. Barnes, accused of the murder of Harold Lane Caldwell, was found competent to stand trial in a unanimous decision of the jury after deliberation for less than 20 minutes.

Barnes is under indictment for murder and aggravated assault in connection with the Sept. 4, 1979, shooting death at a Corinth service station of Caldwell, a state narcotics agent.

Barnes was originally scheduled to stand trial on these charges during the January 1980 term of Circuit court, but the case was held over because Barnes was ruled physically unable to stand trial.

Complaining of chest pains, Barnes was taken to Corinth physician Dr. R.C. Wigginton on January 30 by Alcorn County deputies. He was later admitted to Magnolia Hospital in Corinth for a series of diagnostic tests. He spent a total of five days in the medical facility and was prescribed medication.

Court-appointed defense attorney Earl Skelton sought to have the case continued to another term Wednesday, May 7, by presenting a motion alleging Barnes was mentally incapable of contributing to his own defense.

Judge Neal Biggers Jr. denied the motion on the grounds that mental competency is a jury issue under state law and set Tuesday, May 13--the rescheduled trial date--as the date for the competency hearing.

Dr. Rex Patrick Haire, a clinical psychologist with the Timber Hills Mental Health Services, testified at the competency hearing that "In my opinion, he (Barnes) is not competent to contribute to his own defense in a rational manner."

Haire told the court that Barnes had said he had turned his defense over to God. "He is not trying to defend himself," the psychologist said.

He also told the court that Barnes is "intellectually so limited that even if he did his best, he could not help" in his defense. Haire said that Barnes was listed as "borderline mentally retarded," having scored 78 and 81 on two intelligence tests.

However, under questioning by Judge Fred Wicker, Haire said that a person with an IQ of 80 was "not necessarily incompetent to assist in his own defense."

The state presented three witnesses--jailor C.M. Parvin and two inmates from the county jail--all of whom testified they felt Barnes was sane and competent to stand trial.

Parvin told the court Barnes "makes a change in his attitude when doctors come to talk to him or lawyers come to talk to him."

The jailor and the two inmates told the court they talked to Barnes almost daily. "He can carry on a good conversation," inmate Leon Sisk testified.

Dr. Haire had testified earlier that, in conversation, "Barnes may appear to be an average old man. Only when you set down with him at length, his superficial appearance breaks down."

Defense attorney Skelton testified before the court that Barnes acted in a hostile manner on many of the more than 33 times he had visited the prisoner while he was in jail. Skelton said Barnes had not assisted in any way in the preparation of his defense.

Following the reading by Judge Wicker of the jury's verdict that Barnes was competent to stand trial, Skelton moved to have the verdict set aside, "because it is contrary to the weight of evidence presented in the case." The judge denied that motion.

Following the competency hearing last week, District Attorney John R. Young said the state is prepared to try the case this term if the court docket will allow the trial to be re-scheduled. Circuit court officials said the trial would be set for the final session of the May term of the circuit court this week.

Donnita G. Caldwell, widow of the slain narcotics agent, has also filed a civil suit against Barnes in which over $250,000 in repayments and damages are being sought. This suit was continued until the July term of circuit court by the mutual agreement of both attorneys.

Presently enrolled at Northeast Junior College in Building Trades, he competed against 11 other Employees of the Month. He was elected to the honor by his co-workers. The announcement of the Employee of the Year is the highlight of National Hospital Week at NEMH.

Baldwyn Native Employed As NEMH Therapist

The Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville has a new physical therapist.

It was announced last week that Mrs. Marie Savoy of Baldwyn was recently hired to fill the vacant position of Chief Physical Therapist at the hospital.

Originally from Baldwyn, Mrs. Savoy graduated from Mississippi State University in 1976 with a B.S. degree in Biology and Chemistry Education. In 1978 she received her B.S. in Physical Therapy from the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

She has one and one-half years of experience working at the Mississippi Crippled Children's Center in Jackson, and seven months experience at the Mississippi Methodist Rehabilitation Center, also in Jackson.

Married for two years, she lives with her husband, John Savoy of Jennings, La., in Baldwyn. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.C. McMillan Jr. also live in

The field of physical therapy in which Mrs. Savoy is employed has been defined as the branch of medicine that uses physical agents such as light, heat, water, sound, electricity and mechanical agents in the management of disease. Rehabilitation involves treatment and training of the patient so that he may attain his maximum potential for normal living physically, psychologically, socially and vocationally.

Not too many years ago, physical therapy was utilized almost entirely for orthopedic problems, but it has now become a rapidly expanding medical service and an integral part of the medical team.

It has been proven to be a tremendous value to physicians in treating arthritis and related disorders, neurological disorders, pulmonary conditions, psychiatric illnesses, geriatric patients, obstetric patients, patients with amputations, cardiovascular accidents, birth defects, cerebral palsy and various other disorders that require prolonged hospitalization.

The use of physical therapy in other fields is still expanding rapidly.

Concerned Parents Meet At New Site High School

A group of concerned citizens at New Site High School have organized to try to "bring the people together on the issues."

Mrs. Sandra Harris, who was elected chairman of the committee organized by the group, said they first met Thursday night, May 1, at the New Site High School auditorium. The purpose of that meeting was to organize the committee for the concerned parents and patrons of New Site High School, she said.

At that meeting, Mrs. Harris was elected chairman of the committee, Ray Johnson, vice-chairman; Mrs. Carolyn Taylor, secretary; and Mrs. Cheryl Sparks, reporter. J. Q. Weaver, Dorothy Bailey and Qthol Cunningham were elected to serve on an advisory board.

Another meeting was held Thursday, May 14, to discuss the future plans of the concerned citizens committee. At that time, plans were made to meet with the local trustees, Dan Crabb, W. D. Wilson, Edward Moreland and Bobby Whitehead, Mrs. Harris said. Plans were also made to meet with County Superintendent Lex Cain and the Prentiss County School Board.

"The concerned citizens group is trying to bring the people together on the issues," Mrs. Harris said, "and are interested in keeping a high school on the east side."

"We feel it is time to get together, work together and stay together on the issues that concern Marietta, Hill's Chapel and New Site schools," she said. "United we feel we can have the best school in the state."

Mrs. Harris said that on Wednesday, May 14, the Prentiss County School Board approved the local trustees' recommendation of Larry Morgan as principal of New Site High School.

"We, as a committee, would like for county high school students in districts four and five to consider New Site High School for the next school year," she said. "Together we can improve and update our present school if we work together."

For further information on the New Site concerned citizens committee, Mrs. Harris said that any of the committee members should be contacted.

Girl Scouting Provides Leadership

The Booneville Neighborhood of Girl Scouts is a part of the Prairie Girl Scout Council which is made up of 19 counties. Any registered Girl Scout is a member of Girl Scouts of America.

Girl Scouting in Booneville became reactivated (after a lapse of several years) in the early 1960's. Since that time many girls have had the opportunity to participate in the Scouting program--learning the foundations of good citizenship; learning the basics of camping and outdoor activities; learning crafts and skills; meeting girls from other parts of the world; and in general broadening their knowledge and learning the basics of leadership.

The Prairie Council provides a professional field worker who meets with local leaders on a regular basis; training for volunteer workers (all Girl Scout leaders are volunteer workers); special events for each age group of Scouts; established camping sessions during the summer at Camp Tik-a-witha, which is owned by Prairie Council; literature, office services, etc.

These services, with the exception of established camping sessions, are funded by the Prentiss Community Fund. The month of May is Community Fund Drive Month.

The Good Neighbor

Everyone's heard of the Red Cross. That's because they do many helpful things, such as providing aid in time of disasters, teaching CPR and First Aid classes, and offering courses in water safety, and counseling service to people and veterans with needs.

Eyes On Mississippi

Lambert Pragmatic Choice For Commissioner

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

Jackson, Miss.—Gov. William Winter has made the most pragmatic, and consequently, political, move of his young administration in picking State Rep. A. C. "Butch" Lambert, the likeable House Ways & Means chairman, to become the state's first Commissioner of Revenue.

Lambert will be stepping into a job which could make him Mississippi's tax czar, something the state legislature has traditionally shied away from by maintaining a three-member State Tax Commission and a separate Motor Vehicle Comptroller, both involved in collecting excise taxes.

With rather remarkable ease, Winter got through his bill merging the MVC into the Tax Commission, creating the new Commissioner or Revenue post, and giving him broad control over tax-collecting as well as the Alcoholic Beverage Control division.

As revenue commissioner, Lambert will still carry the title of Chairman of the State Tax Commission. Winter wanted to get rid of the two other members of the Commission, both Finch holdovers, but he didn't succeed on that score. While the two Finches will serve out their terms, their authority and power have been greatly reduced.

Winter, it is now known, helped clear the way for the Revenue Commissioner—Tax Commission reorganization bill by sending out signals he would give the new post to Lambert, a favorite of House Speaker C. B. Buddie Newman and generally liked throughout the legislature as the "Old Coach" and long-time football and basketball official in the Southeastern Conference.

Certainly, whatever reluctance Newman and some other Old Guardsmen have had in the past to the creation of a potentially very powerful single revenue agency disappeared when Winter began pushing for the bill.

While some believe Winter, in picking Lambert, did it as a sop to Newman, the decision could very well turn out to be extremely advantageous to Winter's administration in the long run.

Nobody ever accused Butch Lambert of being a technician or an authority in tax matters when he headed the tax-writing Ways & Means Committee. But nobody ever underestimated the ability of Lambert to pick the people who were technicians to handle the details of any intricate tax matter, while he handled the selling job.

Butch is one of those rare kind of yarn-spinning, cracker-barrel politicians who can run with the Rednecks and banter with the Bourbons at the opposite sides of the Mississippi philosophical spectrum, and get both to agree he's a Good Ole Boy.

In a technical sense, Lambert will give Winter something he has very little of in his administration of bright, pin-stripe young men—the art of effective public relations. In the wide field of taxation in which the new revenue department will operate, perhaps it will be more important for Winter to have somebody who can keep the troops happy than to be some kind of a tax genius.

Lambert will be inheriting one of the perennial political sore-spots, the Motor Vehicle Comptroller's office, long a catchall for political patronage by the governor, and a standing joke in enforcement of truck weight laws.

Since the 1980 legislature refused to increase the weight limits to 80,000 pounds, and with Winter's commitment to enforce the existing 73,200 pound limits, the Winter administration will be under extreme pressure and constant badgering from the irate trucking industry. Lambert, who favored the higher load limits, could insulate Winter from the trucker's ire.

Little public attention has been focused on one of the key functions of the present State Tax Commission—the setting of property tax assessments for the electric, gas, telephone, rail, and other utility companies. Lambert won't get complete authority over the utility assessments—the other two commissioners will still have some say-so—but he will have strong influence in how much taxes utilities pay. For instance, he will be a key figure in determining the assessment of Mississippi Power & Light Company's $2.5 billion Grand Gulf Nuclear generating plant which is slated for operation next year. Some say the Tax Commission's partial assessment of the plant while it is under construction has been significantly lower than expected as a result of negotiation between the Commission and the company.

In the behind-the-scenes by play which took place to finalize the Tax Commission reorganization bill, Sen. Ellis Bodron won his point to keep Finch appointees, Robert Baggett and Latrelle Ashley, in place, although they'll have little to do. One area in which they will still have some say-so is in the buying of liquor and wine for the ABC. But Lambert will get complete control of the ABC personnel.

For the serious, no-foolishness Winter style of running state government, the down-home but shrewd techniques of "Old Coach" could be downright helpful.

Senate Report

By Bill May

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

S.B. No. 2672 sets: guidelines for counties to use in reappraising property. It defines "true value" essentially as: market value but requires the appraisal of all land and improvements thereon according to current use regardless of locations. Criteria are established for determining the use value of agricultural land. Appraisers are also required to determine the market value of property for statistical purposes.

The Tax Commission is to promulgate rules which will permit the certification of county officials or employees as appraisers, and counties are required to have one or two such certified appraisers based on the number of homestead exemption applications in the county.

The amount of growth which a county may experience in its tax receipts after the passage of this act, with respect to both "mandatory" millage, and "discretionary" millage, is limited to 10 percent above that received for the previous year. Any revenue collected in excess of that 10 percent limitation must be used to reduce the next year's budget.

Two mills in new taxes are authorized to be expended in executing reappraisal plans approved by the Tax Commission.

After Jan. 1, 1982, the state's four mil ad valorem tax levy is repealed and three mills of the levy may be made by the counties, first to pay pledges already outstanding under the state tax levy. The fourth mill is mandated to be levied and deposited in an interest-bearing account where it will remain unexpended until a county has Tax Commission-approved reappraisal, maintenance records, mapping system and certified appraisers.

Until Dec. 31, 1983, all counties are authorized to levy up to four mills, the revenue from which may be expended for any lawful county purposes.

If the taxes of utilities are lower following reappraisal, a formula is included in the bill which is intended to spread any reduction of such taxes over a five-year period.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

A Balanced Budget?

Recently, the Senate and House have been embroiled in marathon floor debates over the 1981 budget, with both chambers agreeing to balance the federal budget for the first time in 12 years.

As one who has been working for a more fiscally responsible federal government since I have been in Congress, I am pleased to report that sentiment has changed drastically on Capitol Hill the past several months. A majority of Congress is now committed to the principle of a balanced budget, and more and more members are finally realizing it is in our economic best interests to live within our means.

Unfortunately, there are sharp differences of opinion over how to balance the budget.

One school of thought, which I oppose, is to continue high levels of funding for government spending programs, and to raise taxes to bring in new revenue to balance the budget. Examples of these efforts are the windfall profits tax and the oil import fee, which is expected to raise the price of gasoline at the pump by about 10 cents per gallon. Experts estimate that new revenues will amount to about $100 billion dollars next year.

With these new dollars coming into the federal treasury, the total take in taxes next year is expected to be more than $600 billion dollars.

In my opinion, a much better way of balancing the budget is by reducing wasteful and unnecessary federal spending. This not only would help bring the budget in balance, but it would also alleviate one of the major causes of inflation. There is no doubt that reckless federal spending in recent years has contributed in a substantial way to the 20 percent inflation we are now suffering.

Those of us in the U.S. Senate who adhere to this philosophy of fiscal responsibility made an intensive effort to win over our colleagues in the battle of the budget. However, the majority in control, with the backing of the administration, chose the route of higher taxes.

And, one of the favorite new taxes of the administration's revenue sharing program is now in trouble—the oil import fee which is expected to add about 10 cents per gallon to the price of gasoline. It has been held by one court to be an unconstitutional tax, and there is growing support in Congress for legislative action to repeal the tax. With inflation such a major economic problem, it just doesn't make sense to be imposing new taxes or fees which further burden the consumer. There is a limit to what people can pay, and many believe they have already been pushed beyond that limit.

While most responsible Americans do not mind paying their fair share of taxes for worthwhile or necessary programs, there is a growing disenchantment over the continued waste and inefficiency in many government programs and agencies.

I don't think any program or federal agency ought to be immune from very careful scrutiny to see where reductions could be made without doing away with essential services.

I will continue working toward the objective of bringing the budget in balance in a manner which will cool inflation and restore the buying power of the dollar, while protecting necessary and essential programs and functions of our national government.

Mississippi Economic Council

The People's Business

An Editorial

The Mississippi Legislature took a step forward in the cause of better education this past session when it made public school kindergartens available to every school district.

The value of a kindergarten program is recognized nationally as providing the fullest possible development of the child through early learning situations involving manipulation of objects, sensory stimulation, language development, and interaction with people. Educators agree that since about 17 percent of growth takes place between ages four and six that the kindergarten experience could have far-reaching consequences on a child's learning pattern.

Mississippians should consider the option the Legislature has provided.

The establishment of kindergartens in local school districts is an avenue well worth exploring.

The Mississippi Economic Council supports the creation of public kindergarten programs and recognizes that a well-educated citizenry is a giant step forward in efforts to move the state off the bottom of the economic ladder.

As a sage once said, "If you think education is expensive, try ignorance."

Consumer Report

Office of Bill Allain

Attorney General Bill Allain is alerting recipients of mail solicitation from a Texas marketing firm about coupons that appear to be $200 checks.

"These coupons are valid only toward the purchase of luggage or a sewing machine from the company and are non-negotiable. Our Consumer Protection Division has been inundated with calls from parents concerning students who have innocently tried to cash the coupons," Allain said.

"We have contacted the Attorney General's Office in Texas and the Better Business Bureau in Dallas and have found schemes such as this to be the subject of a number of complaints alleging misrepresentation," Allain said.

The coupons are being sent to high school graduates inferring they are graduation gifts.

As general information, Allain suggests that anyone considering these offers should do comparison shopping in their own area for similar merchandise. Consumers purchasing these items through this company should have a clear understanding of the purchase terms, cost, and terms of guarantee or warranty.

For additional information contact the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office in Jackson.

UDC Selects Officers

Mrs. John Curlee welcomed the members of the D.T. Beall Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to her home on Washington Street Wednesday, May 7, for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Mabel Hill and Mrs. Allie Miller Isbell were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Clarence Chase, chairman, presented the 1980-82 nominees for chapter officers. They were approved by the chapter membership.

The new officers are Mrs. Richard Kemp, president; Mrs. Patsy Johnson, first vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Chase, second vice-president; Mrs. W.V. Kemp, third vice-president; Mrs. L.E. Perry, recording and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lou Stutts, treasurer; Mrs. Doug Holland, historian; Mrs.

Milton Waters, registrar; and Mrs. Eleanor Tidwell, recorder of Crosses.

Mrs. Milton Waters presented a program about a Confederate leader, Jubal A. Early.

Born in Franklin county, Va., in 1816, Early came from an unrenowned region of the Blue Ridge Mountains. He had no powerful family connections, and his profession was law.

A member of the Virginia Convention of 1861, he opposed secession, but when his state left the Union, he offered his services. He was appointed a Colonel in the Confederate forces and was sent to Lynchburg.

There he organized three regiments, one of which—the "Twenty-fourth Virginian"—was assigned to him. He won fame in ensuring battles and earned Robert E. Lee's faith and trust.

Early, by then 44 years of age, was at heart a lonely man. With his bitter tongue and rasping wit, he isolated himself and his personality kept him from becoming a popular hero. He was called "Old Jube," or "Jubilee."

He was loyal and generous, stern in discipline and coldly brave. He was promoted to Major General in 1864.

After Lee's surrender, Early returned to his law practice in Lynchburg and died 25 years later on March 2, 1894. He never took the oath of allegiance to the United States.

Although unpopular during the war, he regained public favor later and, by some military authorities, is ranked high in the list of Confederate officers.

During the social hours, Mrs. Curlee and the other hostesses served a dessert with coffee.

Couple Honored At Bridal Tea

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams was the setting Sunday afternoon, May 4, for a bridal tea honoring Terry McCoy and his future bride, Debbie Jordan.

Hostesses were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Charles Calvert, Mrs. Herschel Morgan, Mrs. Joseph Hurst, Mrs. Kimit Jones, Mrs. J.B. Gault, Mrs. Bill Deaton, Mrs. Ed Huneycutt and Mrs. Quitman Loden.

The guests were met by Mr. Williams on the front lawn and by Miss Melba McCoy, sister of the groom at the guest register. They were then greeted inside by Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Jones and presented to the honorees and their mothers.

Guests were introduced to Alton Jordan and Miss Lori Jordan, father and sister of the bride-elect, by Mr. J.G. McCoy, father of the prospective groom. They were then directed to the dining area where punch and a large assortment of finger sandwiches, party cakes, candies and a variety of other delicacies were served by Misses Judy Long, Cissy Galloway and Cindy Crabb.

Miss Teri Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, served as a tea girl. One of the tables was covered with a white lace table cloth, handmade by the prospective groom's grandmother, Mrs. W.E. Shite, to whom the guests were also introduced.

Each room was colorfully decorated with plants and arrangements of azaleas and irises. Many of the guests took advantage of the beautiful spring day to sit on the back lawn amid an array of potted plants and ivy.

May Proclaimed Better Hearing Month

In order to acknowledge the need for greater public awareness and understanding about the problems of people with hearing and speech disorders, Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb signed a proclamation this week declaring May "Better Hearing and Speech Month" in the city.

In the proclamation, Mayor Crabb complimented the continuing efforts of the Prentiss County schools to inform the public about hearing and speech disorders.

He also stated that this public awareness campaign encourages prevention, early detection, proper treatment and greater understanding of hearing and speech impairment.

The Mayor called attention to the fact that 10 percent of the people of Booneville have some communication problem, part of the 20-plus million Americans nationally with a speech language or hearing handicap.

Representing Northeast Mississippi Speech and Hearing Association at the proclamation signing were Angela Via and Camille Galloway, speech pathologists with Prentiss County Schools.

Better Hearing and Speech Month is a cooperative effort of many organizations involved in communicative disorders, including the Sertoma Clubs of America, the American Speech and Hearing Association, the American Council on Otolaryngology, the Better Hearing Institute, the Alexander Graham Bell Association, and the Association of Service Programs in Communicative Disorders.

Ms. Galloway said that, "Parents who observe delayed speech in their youngsters or who find it difficult to understand what their children are saying can take positive action to help by contacting James Gooze at 728-4632."

"Immediate professional

Camille Galloway, Mayor Charles Crabb And Angie Via

attention is essential, especially with children," said Ms. Via. "Also, adults should seek medical and professional assistance if voice problems occur, or if speech or hearing is diminished by another disease or accident.

During May the Northeast Mississippi Speech and Hearing Association will sponsor other events to call the attention of the public to the importance of effective communication and the needs of people with communication disorders.

News From Oak Ridge

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

I'm sure many people in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, and parts of Mississippi last week were saying "Rain, rain, go away and come again some other day."

Let's hope for brighter, clear weather to continue. It was good to see Kathy Ballard at services Sunday, May 18, following surgery in Tupelo the preceding Monday. Everyone wishes for her continuing improvement.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy remains in the local hospital, room 217. She will have had surgery before this report is printed. We hope and pray that her post-operative condition will be good and better health will follow.

Last week I misunderstood information and reported that Winnie Harris was in the Tupelo Hospital. She is there now and had surgery Monday, April 19.

Mrs. Sherry Stewart, niece of Gerald Green, underwent surgery in the local hospital last week.

Get-well wishes go to Mrs. Kennedy Winnie, Sherry, to Mrs. Nora Rinehart, Mrs. Virginia Hill, and to all the shut-ins.

Mam-ma Coats' condition seems to be the same except for a minor skin problem. Our deepest sympathy, belated but very sincere, is extended to Mrs. Elta Tines, her children, grandchildren and other relatives of Bro. A.G. Tines. His funeral was conducted May 12 at Mayfield Church of Christ by Bro. L.D. Willis of Cherokee, Ala.

Bro. Tines was formerly a minister here. He and his dear wife were loved by all who knew them. He died one day before his 78th birthday—also one day before their 56th wedding anniversary.

Deep sympathy is also extended to Mrs. Jewel Hatfield and all others who mourn the passing of Bro. Clyde whose funeral was held last week at McMillan's Funeral Home. He was a kind, jolly Christian and will be missed by many people.

Recent visitors at services were Mrs. Annie Pearl Barbour of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barnes and children of West Memphis, Ark.

Jerry Wayne and family were dinner guests on Mother's Day in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes.

Here's a quote from Paul Harvey who often tells what is written on bumper stickers he has seen. This one said, "This America, she isn't perfect—but we ain't done yet."

Some film-clips of Paul Harvey's speech to Tupeloans were shown on Channel 9 in which he gave good advice on how to meet the slump in our economy—get up off your cotton-picking posteriors and use your imaginations—in other words go to work.

The Calvin Barber family were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Coats.

This late news—Bro. J.W. Archer's father, Birce Archer of Mathiston, Miss., has died. Heartfelt sympathy goes to Bro. Jim and all other members of the Bruce Archer family.

The following is via the New Albany Informer: "If the world is a better place for your having lived in it, you're a success; if not, you're a failure."

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

Through the thoughtful generosity of the Rotary Club of Booneville the George E. Allen Library has in service a new card catalog. Locating the material one needs more quickly and more easily is a bonus to having the expanded capacity.

The new filing case is a handsome piece of furniture matching the other purchases made when the library was built. The smaller, older one now gives the young people a catalog of their own in their own section of the library.

For several years a traveling library has been furnished the public interested in genealogy and local history by the Mississippi Society DAR. Booneville has been on their waiting list and feels especially fortunate to have received 153 of their books just in time for the Genealogy Workday to be conducted Friday, May 23.

by Mrs. Ruby Brown and members of the Northeast Genealogical Society. They, too, will be bringing a large number of books which you may use during the hours from nine until five.

With them will be people to instruct any beginners whom we urge to come at 9 a.m. if they can do so conveniently. Bring or plan your own lunch, but beverages will be furnished.

Plans for the library summer fun program are well under way and boys and girls will be reminded of times and activities regularly. The theme is "Adventures in Space".

Young people between the ages of seven and 14 will be under the direction of Miss Mary Ann Rodman, Extension Librarian of the Northeast Region. Younger adventurers will have their own program and both groups will have their first meeting at 10:30 on June 5.

More about our Thursday mornings together will be coming to you as June draws nearer.

"Sidekick" is still a patient in room 212. "White Dove" is now a patient in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, room 1957. Also, "Little Red" is a patient in Le Bonheur in Big M. At this writing we don't have any details.

Miss Riddle At Nursing Workshop

Nola June Riddle of Booneville participated in a recent two-day nursing workshop held in Tupelo by the University of Southern Mississippi School of Nursing.

The workshop on "Documentation: Problem-Oriented Nursing Records" was offered to area nurses because they are having to spend more and more time on record keeping, the university stated.

Miss Riddle is a staff nurse at the VAMCH in Memphis and was a member of the first graduating class of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College School of Nursing. She has been employed with Northeast Mississippi Hospital, Dr. W.H. Anderson, and served as director of nursing at the Aletha Lodge Extended Care Facility, with Golden Gatte Hospital in San Francisco and as a private duty nurse prior to joining the VAMCH staff in 1979.

Mary Ann Neeley, assistant professor of continuing education for nurses, and Kisha May, assistant professor in the baccalaureate nursing program at USM, directed the workshop and served as faculty.

The USM School of Nursing is fully accredited as a provider of continuing education for nurses and workshop participants earn continuing education credits. The workshop method of teaching is ideal for members of the nursing profession since it limits the amount of time nurses are required to spend away from their job yet helps keep them up to date on latest developments in nursing.

Massengill Is Finalist

Thomas Massengill of New Albany, a Marketing and Distributive Education student at Northeast Junior College, at Booneville, was named a finalist from 45 other state entries in the Sales Representative event at the 20th Annual National DECA Career Development Conference of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, in Orlando, Fla.

The purpose of the Sales Representative competitive event is to demonstrate the student's ability to organize and present a sales presentation.

Massengill was one of several selected during state competition in 10 categories, to participate in the conference, which is designed to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution.

DECA is the only national student organization operating through the nation's school to attract young people to careers in marketing, merchandising and management. Its purposes are (1) to develop respect for education which will contribute to occupational competence, and (2) to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system.

The purpose of the National DECA Career Development Conference is to provide worthwhile activities to assist students in career development as they prepare to be marketing and distribution leaders of tomorrow. There are almost 200 activities throughout the conference, all planned and designed for this development.

Many of these sessions are prepared and conducted by the National Officers of DECA, who are assisted by outstanding student leaders from DECA's State Associations. Over 1,500 members, representing over 30 states, registered for the Conference.

Massengill is employed at Southern Hi-Fi in Tupelo. He is majoring in Distribution and Marketing Technology at Northeast under the tutelage of Mr. Fred Blalack.

4-H Club News

By WANDA L. ROBINSON 4-H Program Assistant

Exhibits are a means of learning and competing. People look and learn. Good exhibits arouse interest and stimulate a desire or determination to adopt new practices. Exhibits help to develop interest, influence attitudes, increase knowledge, stimulate action, recognize, and tell a story.

4-H members have an opportunity to exhibit animals, clothes, dolls, pictures or insects. Just name it, and you will find it on exhibit at a fair or county 4-H exhibit day.

4-H members' records are another means of learning. The record gives a summary of 4-H projects and activities. Keeping a record of work done throughout the year teaches the 4-H'er many valuable things that are helpful in later life.

Research tells us that through competition youngsters test their own limits. The opponent is merely a useful gauge.

Through competition, a 4-H'er learns to make decisions and weigh the facts.

If you are interested in participating in some of the county 4-H competition, contact your local Extension 4-H youth agent.

Selected To Phi Kappa Phi

UNIVERSITY--Charles W. Deaton Jr. of Booneville has been selected for membership in Phi Kappa Phi honorary at the University of Mississippi. Phi Kappa Phi national honorary fraternity is the highest scholastic honor that may be attained at Ole Miss.

Deaton, a zoology major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Deaton. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta premedicine honorary and Phi Theta Kappa Alumni Association at Ole Miss.

Webster defines competition as an effort to obtain something wanted by others or a trial of skill.

Competition is not new. God gave man the instinct to compete. John and James both wanted to be number one. They both wanted to sit on the right hand side of Jesus. Jesus rebuked them because this was unhealthy competition. Paul compared Christian life to a race.

Competition is a part of life in the United States. We like to win and are willing to expend a great deal of time, money, effort, study, or whatever it takes to be tops. (Our free enterprise system is based on fair competition for business.)

Competition is one teaching method used in the 4-H program. This teaching method is made up of judging, visual presentations, exhibits, and record keeping.

The objectives of judging are to:

- (1) Teach an individual to think for himself when making decisions;
- (2) Learn to compare one object with another to determine which one most nearly approaches the ideal;
- (3) Develop the ability to recognize objects that meet tested standards;
- (4) Develop within the individual the ability to organize thoughts and to express decisions orally;
- (5) Be able to apply in every day living what was learned through judging.

Another type of competition used as a teaching method in 4-H is visual presentation.

A visual presentation communicates an idea with the aid of visuals, such as charts, flannel boards, flash cards, slides, models, photography, chalk boards, etc. This type of competition increases the 4-H'er's self-confidence and ability to express himself.

Six Arrested

"preludes," and an amount of marijuana, needles and other drug paraphernalia were found in their automobile, Chief Stacy said.

Preludes, uppers, are from the drug "preludin," an amphetamine which is one of the drugs currently being abused on the drug scene.

Stacy said the three were arrested when officers stopped their car because the brake lights were not working. The drugs and paraphernalia were spotted in the vehicle and an arrest was made. Stacy said the car has also been confiscated.

Holmes was still in the city jail as of Monday, but Peel and Parker, through a Holly Springs bonding company, had posted the $5,000 bond set on each of the suspects.

Stacy said.

Action in the case has been waived to the Grand Jury, Stacy said.

For the two and one-half week period of May 1 to May 19, the Booneville Police Department made a total of 83 arrests, Chief Stacy said. Charges filed in those arrests include: running stop sign, 4, no drivers' license, 10; no tag, 7; driving under the influence of alcohol, 7; possession of beer, 7; reckless driving, 12; improper equipment, 7; failure to yield right of way, 3; expired tags, 4; no helmet, 7;

No inspection sticker, 2; public drunkenness, 11; picked up on warrants, 4; breaking and entering, 3; grand larceny, 2; failure to yield right of way to an emergency vehicle, 1;

public disturbance, 4; public profanity, 1; interfering with police officers, 2; family disturbance, 3; speeding in excess of 100 mph, 1;

Failure to maintain control, 1; improper right turn, 1; speeding, 5; trespassing, 1; improper driving, 1; improper tail lights, 1; possession of marijuana, 2; possession of paraphernalia, 3; petty larceny, 1; possession of whiskey, 1; transporting whiskey, 1;

Improper starting, 2; parole violation, 1; possession of a controlled substance, 1; driving while intoxicated, 1; destroying city property, 1; discharging firearms in the city limits, 1; crossing double yellow line, 1; failure to obey officers, 1; assault on an officer, 1; resisting arrest, 1; and AWOL, 1.

In an effort to cut down on burglaries and break-ins, Chief Stacy Monday asked for the help of the citizens of Booneville.

"Anyone seeing any strange vehicles prowling their neighborhood or any unusual activity, should report it to the police department at once," he said.

"All calls will be kept confidential and will be checked out immediately," he said.

Farm Facility Loan
Maximum Increased
Secretary of Agriculture
Bob Bergland announced
May 13 that the amount a farmer may borrow under the farm storage facility loan program has been increased from $50,000 to $100,000. The loan increase is being authorized to reflect higher costs of construction and materials, Bergland said.

Under this program, loans are offered by the U.S.
Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to help farmers buy, build or remodel on-farm storage facilities and to obtain needed drying and handling equipment.

The maximum loan is 85 percent of the cost of the structures and equipment.
Under the new maximum,
the aggregate outstanding loan balance maximum is also increased to $100,000, Bergland said. A minimum down payment of 15 percent of the cost must be paid in cash by the farmer before the loan is disbursed.

Loan repayment terms allow for a maximum of seven equal annual installments over a period of eight years. Prepayment may be made at any time without penalty. Farmers must apply for loans at their county ASCS office within 30 days of the time the items to be financed are delivered to the farm. The higher loan amounts are available on applications filed beginning today, May 22.

No change is being made in the current method of determining storage needs or in the loan levels requiring Agricultural Stabilization state committee approval or real estate liens. Farmers have built approximately 4.2
billion bushels of storage under the farm storage facility loan program since the program began in 1949.
About 43 percent of this construction has occurred since April 1977 when Bergland authorized major program changes.

Prevented Planting Credit
For Cotton and Other Crops

Cotton farmers may qualify for cotton prevented planting payments under disaster provisions of the current cotton program
under certain conditions.
Following are guides for determining eligibility:

(1) The producer intended to plant the area to that particular crop.

(2) The crop could not be planted by the end planting date. The crops and dates are: cotton, May 25; corn and rice, May 31; grain
sorghum and soybeans,
June 30; and wheat,
November 30.

(3) In all cases when a crop is prevented from being planted and a later non-conserving crop could have been planted, but wasn't, it will eliminate the prevented planting eligibility for the intended crop.

For example, cotton was intended to be planted but the water did not recede until June 10. The land was planted, or could have been planted, to grain sorghum or soybeans. In such case there is no disaster prevented planting payment credit allowed for cotton.

(4) In cases where farms have no 1979 cotton acreage credit, there can be no prevented planting disaster payment. This is in the Agricultural Act itself.
There could be planted and considered planted credit (not payment) if the county committee approves the producer's request based on his 1980 planting intentions.

(5) The producer must file his request for disaster
prevented planting credit
for cotton within five days after the ending planting date of May 25. This date for cotton disaster credit is May 30.

STORE CLEAN CLOTHES, ACCESSORIES

Simplify the seasonal switch of clothing and accessories. Go through closets and drawers room by room. Use a box to collect garments to be discarded and another to hold items that need cleaning and repairing.

Put everything away absolutely clean and dry. Soil weakens fibers. Launder washables. Have non-washables dry cleaned. Hang garments. Place in garment or plastic bags. Or, fold items to be boxed; pack with tissue in between to reduce wrinkling. Sprinkle moth crystals or use moth balls when storing woolens. Label boxes with contents for easy access. Keep sweaters and jackets handy for the first chill of fall. Keep gloves, scarves and hats together.

Wash boots, shoes and handbags made of man-made materials with a sudsy sponge. Rinse and dry. Use a special leather cleaner and polish on leather. Stuff boots, shoes and bags with paper to retain their shape. Store in boxes. old socks make good protective shoebags.

With closets and drawers empty, freshen them. Wash and paint if necessary; devise new space dividers or shelf storage. Reline drawers with paper or vinyl.

color-fast garments from bright and dark shades. Also, separate the heavily soiled from the lightly soiled and the sturdy cottons from loosely woven knits.

Treat spots and stains before laundering. The method will depend on the stain. Use a regular wash setting for sturdy fabrics. Choose the delicate cycle for loosely woven knits. The water temperature will depend on the degree of soil and colorfastness of the items. Add enough detergent or soap to take care of the soil on clothes.

Cottons can be bleached safely. When using a chlorine bleach, be sure the garment is colorfast. If in doubt, test on an inconspicuous part of the clothing. An oxygen bleach is safe on all fabric. A fabric softener helps improve the softness and comfort of cotton and reduce wrinkling.

Tumble drying maintains the softness of cotton. Remove cottons while still moist to avoid wrinkling and possible shrinkage of knits. Most cottons can be ironed on a high temperature setting. Those treated for wrinkle-resistance may only need light ironing on a medium setting.

LAUNDRY BASICS FOR COTTON

Cotton has surfaced as the season's favorite fabric in lightweight and feminine dresses, easy-going pants, soft and sporty terries and sturdy jeans.

Cotton absorbs moisture and feels cool-a natural for the year's comfortable spring attire. It is also durable, versatile, launders readily and does not pill or cling.

But cotton picks up spots and stains because of its absorbency. It has little resiliency or elasticity and wrinkles easily. Special treatments on many cotton garments help them resist wrinkles and spots.

The first step in laundering cottons is to read the care instructions on the label. Separate white and

ASCS Uses Aerial Plotting

The aerial observation method of determining compliance with farm program regulations is apparently here to stay, according to C.E. Calvert, executive director of the Prentiss County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

This program began in Northeast Mississippi in 1979 in a few counties and has now been expanded for 1980 for all counties.

This year Janis Curtis and Kay Ghiglieri, employees of the Lee County ASCS office, will spend a good part of the summer and early fall making slides of fields on which acreage determinations are needed. This is a relatively simple process in that a 35mm photograph is taken at an altitude of 5,000 to 7,000 feet.

The slides are then developed and projected on the aerial photograph utilized for other program determinations. The field is plotted to scale and acreage determined by planimetry if an acreage is not already determined.

"The expression has often been made that the camera does not lie," Calvert said. "We believe this to be true in making compliance determinations by the aerial observation method."

"Since the camera does not lie, it is most important that each farmer take the necessary time to accurately report crops planted on his farm, since failure to report accurately could deprive a farmer of program benefits."

In 1980 farmers are requested to report spring seeded crops including soybeans as soon as planting is completed, and before July 15, 1980, Calvert said.

An accurate report must be filed to insure program participation, thereby making the farm eligible for deficiency payments, disaster payments, and price support loans on all commodities including soybeans.

Farmers who have planted crops in prior years that do not plant in 1980 are urged to report this fact also to the county ASCS office, Calvert said. "Your cooperation in reporting early will prevent you having to wait for an extended time at the county office," he added.

WHEAT HARVESTING

With time to harvest just around the corner, you need to check combines, clean storage areas and have everything in proper working order before harvest.

It's especially important to clean dirty storage bins. They may contain insects which can damage stored grain. Either sweep and vacuum or spray the interior with an insecticide such as malathion or methoxychlor. Check labels for rates.

If you have drying facilities or are willing to take a high moisture discount at the grain elevator, you can begin harvest when grain is 16 to 18 percent moisture. This will allow harvest to begin about 10 days earlier, which can be important if you plan to follow wheat with soybeans or sorghum.

Wheat harvested at this moisture content must be dried to 12 to 13 percent for safe storage. Once in storage, inspect and aerate wheat regularly to maintain grain quality.

PLANT SORGHUM FOR CORN

If you missed out on planting corn this spring because of wet weather, there is still time to plant sorghum as a substitute.

For silage, the high starch, low sugar varieties like DeKalb FS-LA, FS-1B and Funks G-6505 are much better quality than high-sugar sorghums. Tonnage may be lower on these varieties, but I think you'll find this is more than offset by high quality.

Plant sorghum for grain as early as possible. Plantings after about June 10 will not yield as high as earlier plantings. July plantings of grain sorghum are seldom profitable in Mississippi.

SOYBEANS

Speeding Rates—Soybeans can give maximum yields over a wide range of population; therefore, seeding rates can vary widely and give the same final yield. It is best to plant an adequate seed rate to insure a final stand of about 100,000 to 110,000 plants per acre in rows 20 to 40 inches wide.

Grain drilled plantings can tolerate up to 150,000 to 175,000 plants per acre because of more uniform distribution. The pounds of seed required will vary depending on germination and seed size.

Generally, using 80 percent germination seed, it will require 11 seed per row foot in 40-inch rows, eight seed per foot in 30-inch rows and three seed per foot in six inch rows.

Early Weed Control—Four to six weeks after soybeans emerge we should have weeds under control. Otherwise yields will begin to drop because of competition, and weeds will have reached a size difficult to control.

Small weeds are easier to kill, do not reduce yields, and require less expensive treatments. Therefore, follow preemergence and preplant herbicide treatments with early postemergence treatments for the greatest return on dollars invested.

Good Management Improves Yield

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist

On the average, Mississippi calf producers are producing only 89 pounds of beef per acre of pasture. The potential beef production per acre of pasture in Mississippi is 350 to 400 pounds.

One of the major causes of this low production is poor pasture management. Let's look at a few management practices that could improve our production.

The proper selection of forage species and the soils on which these species are planted can help to increase production. For example, Bahiagrass will perform well on sandy and silt loam soils. Bermudagrass will perform well on most all soils. Tall fescue will perform well on slightly sloping to gently sloping soil, but will not perform well on thin droughty soils or soil that remain wet most of the winter.

Fertilizer and lime should be applied on the basis of a soil test. If a soil test has not been made, a good rule of thumb, is to apply 120 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre in two split applications and 60 pounds of phosphate and potassium per acre. If the forage stand consist of at least 40 clover the spring application of nitrogen may be omitted.

Lime should also be applied on most pastures at the rate of one ton per acre every 3 years. Proper liming will provide an adequate PH and make other plant nutrients more available to the plants.

Weed control will also help improve forage yields. Cattle will not graze weeds yet, the weeds will use as much or more moisture and nutrients as will the forage plants. Weeds should be controlled as early as possible by the use of the proper herbicide or by clipping.

Rotational grazing will also provide more and better forage by forcing cattle to graze evenly and not leave forage growing around manure piles. Rotationally grazing also permits grazing of the forage when it is in its most nutritional state.

Four management practices—proper species and site selection, fertilization and liming, weed control, and rotational grazing—will more than double your forage production, allowing you to double your stocking rates, while at the same time provide better ground cover and soil protection.

For more information on forage management systems please contact the soil conservation service at 728-3544 or come by our office in Booneville. We will be glad to work with you.

College Carpool Program Planned

The Northeast Junior College is currently working on a carpool system for those students who are hesitant about attending summer school five days a week because of the high cost of gasoline.

"A first in the history of Northeast, we are attempting to alleviate the student of any undue stress concerning transportation during the summer terms," said Bobby D. Cox, Director of Student Activities at Northeast.

The plan, according to Cox, is to identify those students who need transportation to the college and those students who need riders to share in the expense of operating their car. "Once the students have been identified our job will be to put them in contact with carpools in their particular area," he said.

"Response to the effort has been quite high and we expect it to continue increasing within the next two weeks," he said. Registration for the first term of summer school is May 30, with classes beginning June 2.

Students who are interested in getting into a carpool for either the day or evening classes should contact Bobby D. Cox at 728-7751, or toll free 1-728-7759, ext. 274.

Jobless Rate Unchanged

JACKSON—The state's unemployment rate for April remained the same as March's 6.4 percent jobless rate, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Edgar C. Lloyd Jr.

The 6.4 percent for the state was lower than the national rate of 6.6 for April. MESC figures showed 65,000 unemployed and 944,100 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,009,100. The initial Unemployed Insurance Claims totaled 21,632 for April.

The counties having the highest rate of unemployment were Jefferson with a rate of 17.5, Sharkey with a rate of 13.7 and Noxubee with a rate of 12.6. Lafayette, Oktibbeha, and Rankin had the lowest rate of unemployed. Lafayette had a rate of 3.7, Oktibbeha had a rate of 3.4 and Rankin had an unemployment rate of 2.6.

Food Refunds Offered

MISSISSIPPI STATE—If you work at it, you may be able to collect as much as $1,000 a year in food purchase refunds.

Manufacturers have offered special coupons and other saving devices for years, but until recently consumers may not have been diligent about using them, says Barbara McLaurin, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

A study by the Nielsen Clearing House found that while 74 percent of U.S. households were aware of refund offers in 1977, only 27 percent had taken advantage of them, but this was substantially more than the reported 17 percent of a year earlier.

The average refund was worth about 30 cents in the 1960s, then about 80 cents by 1977. The current estimate is $1.25. Manufacturers offered 7,000 different refunds in 1979. Most, about 62 percent, were for cash. Another 22 percent were good for further food purchases, and the rest for checks.

Manufacturers advertise refund offers in four ways, says Mr. McLaurin. About 41 percent appear in print (newspapers, magazines, supplements); 26 percent on air-off pads in grocery stores; 16 percent in or on food packages; and 17 percent in a combination of these methods.

The print medium, although handling the most refund ads, get the lowest level of consumer response. Advertising in or on the package gets seven times as much.

Internal Affairs Office Opened

An Internal Affairs Office has been created in the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, Public Safety Commissioner Sidney B. Berry announced last week.

General Berry said that the new office would operate directly under the Chief of Patrol, Donald Butler.

Investigators assigned to the newly created office "will investigate, assess and report on allegations, complaints, grievances, and other sensitive matters concerning members of the Department of Public Safety," Berry said.

"These investigators will be guided in their work by law, interest of the department, interest of the individual, thoroughness, objectivity, and sensitivity, impartiality, discretion, and fairness," the Commissioner said.

The investigators assigned to Internal Affairs will not initiate cases, Berry said, but "will conduct investigations as directed by the Patrol Chief.

Commissioner Berry said, "Investigations of allegations will be conducted more quickly and professionally than in the past and without diverting criminal investigators from their normal investigative duties."

The Commissioner said that faster, more professional investigations "will increase protection to individuals falsely or unjustly accused of wrongdoing and increase the effectiveness of the Department in identifying and dealing with unprofessional conduct, practices, and standards."

4-H Congress Meeting Set

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Mississippi 4-H'ers will assemble June 11-12 at Mississippi State University for one of the largest State 4-H Congress meetings ever held in our state, according to Kenneth Cook, 4-H youth development specialist, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

This event offers delegates an opportunity to share ideas, participate in contests and experience many learning opportunities. Delegates to the State 4-H Congress will represent 153,000 4-H members in Mississippi.

These 4-H'ers, among the most outstanding youth in the state, will have an opportunity to demonstrate the results of their practical learning experiences by participating in more than 50 different contests held at Congress.

The State 4-H Council officers will be nominated at Congress, and the election will be held in July at the 180 State 4-H Convention. These youth leaders will represent Mississippi 4-H'ers at various 4-H and other events," said Cook. "They also help the State 4-H Youth Development Department design programs to meet the educational needs of youth." In addition to the regular State 4-H Congress, the annual State 4-H Adult Volunteer Leaders Conference will be held June 11-12.

The theme for 4-H in Mississippi this year is "Expanding Horizons."

VA Expenditures High

Expenditures by the Veterans Administration in Mississippi during fiscal 1979 topped $272,352,758, the highest in state history.

Jackson VA Center Director J.L. Warnock said that funding for agency programs in the state last year was about $19,372,076 over the previous year, even though spending for GI Bill enrollments was down $5,479,400.

Warnock said the increase in VA compensation and pension payments of more than $161,603,472 to eligibles in the state more than offset that drop.

Other VA money goes directly to state residents for insurance benefits and medical care Warnock said.

"Readjustment benefits under the GI Bill are following a national pattern that is due simply to fewer remaining Vietnam Era veterans who have not used the program or who are no longer eligible," Warnock said.

Still, overall agency spending is expected to increase again this year due to expanded medical service and increased benefit payments.

Stafford Signs

Akins Signs Three Roundball Signees

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head men's basketball coach Noel Atkins announced this week the signing of three new basketball players to scholarships for the 1980-81 season.

Bringing the recruiting list to four for the year are, Mississippi standout Maurice Stafford, Biggersville, and two out of state players, Stanley Carter, Middleton, Tennessee, and Rickey Griggs, Bolivar, Tennessee.

Coach Akins said he was extremely pleased to have signed Stafford and added that he might just be the biggest signee he has ever nabbed.

The Biggersville star is a 6'3" 190 pound forward who averaged 25 points per game last season along with 18 rebounds and five blocked shots per game.

Stafford, who had originally signed with a senior college in Mississippi and later declined the offer, was named to this year's All-

State squad in every poll in the state except one.

He was one of the top five best players in the State and has earned All-Conference for the past two years, All-District for the past two years, All-North Half along with the All-State recognition.

One of Stafford's highlights this season came during the North Half BB Tournament where the local standout poured in a 41 point performance.

Carter is a 6'3" forward from Middleton, Tennessee who averaged 13 points per game and 11 rebounds. He was named All-State and played on a State Championship Team his senior year.

Griggs is a 6'2" performer from Bolivar who averaged 12 points per game along with seven rebounds. He was named to the All-Western Tennessee Team and played all three championships teams: A, AA, & AAA.

Coach Akins said he was well pleased with the two out

Vandy Wins SEC Baseball Crown

BIRMINGHAM, AL--- Vanderbilt won its first Southeastern Conference baseball tournament, hosted by the University of Florida, and will represent the SEC in the NCAA South Regional Tourney at Tallahassee Thru Fri-Sat, May 22-23-24. Auburn, the runnerup, is being considered for an "At-large" berth in another region. That decision will come from the NCAA office Monday.

The Commodores face Western Kentucky, champion of the Ohio Valley Conference, May 22 at 3:00 EDT on the Florida State campus, with the Seminoles playing at 7:30 against an "at-large" team to be named Monday. It is a double-elimination tournament of four teams, with two games scheduled at those times each day. If a seventh game is necessary, it will be played Sunday.

Vanderbilt, who placed second in the eastern half of the SEC, won the title in competition with Eastern winner Florida, Western winner Auburn and Western runnerup Ole Miss. After dropping the tourney opener, 3-2 to Auburn, the Commodores of Coach Roy Mewbourne blasted everyone else right out of the water. They beat Florida 11-7, then Ole Miss 21-0 and Auburn 16-3, 13-0.

In 1972 and 1973, before the tournament was devised, Vanderbilt, under the tutelage of Larry Schmittou, won the SEC championship by taking the Eastern half, then beating the Western champion, Alabama, two of three games.

David Nenad, 6-0, 180 junior from Scottsdale, Ariz. was the Commodore hero and the tournament's most valuable player. In pitching two games and serving as designated hitter otherwise, Nenad permitted only 3 runs in 18 innings and hit 10 for 19 at the plate.

Vanderbilt is the first team to win the SEC tourney (started in 1977) after losing the first game. The 21 runs scored on Ole Miss is a record and the total of 63 another.

Nenad's ten hits tied the tourney record set by Mike Templeton and Mark Barnhouse of Ole Miss in 1977. Catcher Scotti Madison, batting .415 for the season, and holder of the SEC record for career home runs at 49, was voted SEC MVP for the year by the coaches. He was 7 for 23 in tourney play.

Winners of the eight regional tournaments being held around the country meet May 30-June 6 at Omaha (Creighton Univ. the host) in the "College World Series."

Dove Data Studied

JACKSON—Wildlife biologists will be out next week collecting data that should give scientists a better indication of the state's mourning dove population, one of Mississippi's most popular game birds.

Across the state in rural localities biologists will conduct some 21 routes, called "call counts." Each trip is some 20-miles with finished and tabulated, we turn over all our data to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service which combines our findings with that of other states."

The dove routes, which begin one-half hour before sunrise, provide an annual index of the breeding population of the doves and fluctuations from year to year. "It's a trend, and that's all we're after," Cliburn said.

"This whole business of looking and listening for these birds sounds complicated, but it's really a useful management tool that wildlife specialists use to better manage hunting seasons and bag limits for this game species," Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife director Benny Herring said.

Cliburn explained that each biologist begins his route just before sunrise.

From a starting place he drives approximately 25 mph for three minutes, stops the vehicle, turns off the motor, and gets out.

He then records all the distinctive dove calls and the number of birds he observes during a three minute period. In addition he notes any disturbances like heavy traffic or loud farm equipment.

At the end of three minutes, he returns to the vehicle, records his information, and proceeds to the next location. In-route he remembers the number of doves he observes along the way. In all, there are 20 stops at one mile intervals, requiring about two hours to complete.

Cliburn said it is best if the same individual runs the route in successive years. The driver is the sole observer, and anyone else along may not contribute to the data collection.

SEPARATE-DIVIDE-SPLIT

Is This The Best Solution To Our School Problems?

The very words have a negative, ugly and repulsive connotation. Who really wants to separate, divide and split the long established county-wide school district?

The sixteen thousand citizens living outside the City of Booneville do not want this division of our district and people, and it seems reasonable to believe that a majority of the six thousand citizens living within the City do not want this split.

The sixteen thousand citizens living outside the City did not initiate the effort to carve the county into two school districts. These citizens would like to continue the good relations between county and city in the operation of the Prentiss County School District and all other aspects of living, working and progressing together in one common unit. The bond of friendship, understanding and cooperation between city folks and county folks has worked well from time immemorial and has brought progress, prosperity and peace to all of our people and a disruption of this relationship is unthinkable.

Response Of County School Board To Attempt Of City To Split District

In response to the attempt by the City of Booneville to implement a Municipal Separate School District and to improve the educational opportunity for all the students of Prentiss County, and to prevent a split of the district by the City, the Prentiss County School Board submitted a proposal to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen and the Board of Trustees of the proposed Municipal Separate District on April 15, May 1, and May 12, 1980, that the county-wide School District remain intact, either as a county district, or as a municipal district comprising the entire county, and that two high schools be established for the district with one high school located on the land adjacent to the County Vocational-Technical School, and the other located in the vicinity of the Big V Community.

This proposal further provided that all teachers under contract for the school year 1979-80 be employed for the 1980-81 school year including Mr. Troy Henderson, who has apparently been employed by the Trustees of the proposed Municipal Separate School District, and that all students attending the schools located in Booneville continue to do so.

Upon acceptance of this plan, by the city, an application for approval of the two high schools would be made to the State Educational Finance Commission for their approval, and that the implementation of this plan proceed with all deliberate speed.

This proposal would remove the uncertainty of where the students living outside the city would attend school, their eligibility to represent their school in athletics and other school events, and stabilize the unfair and tenuous situation in which many teachers in the Booneville schools find themselves through no fault of their own.

City Refuses To Compromise

On May 12, in a joint meeting with the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, the Board of Trustees of the proposed Municipal Separate School District, representatives of the Concerned Parents and a representative of the Prentiss County School Board, the above proposal was thoroughly discussed and on May 14 the answer to the same was made in the following letter:

Re: Booneville Municipal Separate School District, Proposal of Attorney Donald Franks

Gentlemen:

The Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District has asked that I advise you of their decision in regard to the proposal of Attorney Donald Franks at the May 12, 1980 meeting.

It is my opinion from exhaustive research and, therefore, the position of the Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District that they have no legal authority to abolish the district and that same can only be abolished in accordance with the provisions of the Mississippi Code of 1972 as amended in Section 37-7-607. It is the further opinion of the Trustees based on advise of counsel that they cannot legally hold the operation of the Separate School District in abeyance and are legally required to begin operation of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District beginning July 1, 1980 in the absence of abolition of same in accordance with the above cited authority.

It is the opinion and position of the Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District that the educable children of this community and Prentiss County can best be served through the Municipal Separate School District.

The Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District are vitally interested in providing the best education possible for all of the children in our community both within the compounds of the City of Booneville as well as Prentiss County and are striving toward reaching a settlement with the Prentiss County School Board of those problems that have arisen in regard to the operation of the Separate School District, particularly the operation of the Vocational Technical Center, transportation of students and the release of students who desire to attend school at the Serious And Disturbing Legal Problems.

There are serious and disturbing legal questions involved in the attempt by the City of Booneville to take over land and school buildings owned by the county and situated within the city limits. The law is not plain and specific on the point, and it appears unfair and inequitable for the city to take several million dollars of land and buildings paid for by the entire county without notice, a hearing or any compensation.

The Prentiss County School Board, and other officials of the county, could find themselves in a very dangerous position if they fail and neglect to exhaust all means and remedies, including litigation through the courts, in a justified effort to determine the legal rights and ownership of the County School District land and buildings claimed by the proposed new Municipal Separate District.

The Honorable Mayor & Board of Aldermen
May 14, 1980

Booneville Municipal Separate School District for the year 1980-1981 in the designated geographic area which would allow those students to participate in activities under the auspices of the Mississippi High School Activities Association guide lines.

A formal written proposal was presented to the Superintendent of the Prentiss County Schools on May 1, 1980 and the Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District are anxiously awaiting the decision of the Prentiss County Board of Education in regard to that proposal.

The Board of Trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District greatly appreciate the interest and cooperation of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Booneville and I believe that by working together we can provide one of the best educational systems available anywhere through the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and at the same time the Prentiss County School System likewise can provide one of the best educational systems available anywhere for their students through our mutual cooperation.

Sincerely,

Booneville Municipal Separate School

We Beseech The City Not To Divide And Isolate Our People And More Especially Our Children

We need the strength and warmth of association of all our people and students in a common and unified effort to provide all our children the best education that our minds and means can afford. The schools of Prentiss County may not have been all that was desired in the past, but we should now turn our faces toward the future in a common resolve to rectify the mistakes of the past and join in a relentless effort to stay abreast of the educational needs of all of our children.

It is emotionally devastating to feel unwanted and unloved and we believe a great majority of our people want to continue to be a vital and vibrant part of the life of the City of Booneville and Prentiss County including its school, churches, civic organizations, businesses and professions.

Please do not exclude and isolate a single one of our sixteen thousand county residents from what has always been our town and our schools, and more importantly from your hearts and circle of friends.

Sincerely submitted by:

Prentiss County School Board

The Peoples Bank is more than a handy place to cash a check, or tend to your other banking business. Inside every office, you'll find people who really take an interest in helping you.

But Peoples people don't stop helping when they go home for the day. They're involved in making their community a better place to live and raise a family, not only

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Therefore Be Ye Also Ready"

By Florene Ables

Many are disturbed about the world's condition. The Bible says that in the last days men's hearts will fail for fear of the things that will come upon them. However, there is a way we can live before the Lord that will help us to understand that the Bible must and will be fulfilled. Matthew 24:35 states, "Heaven and Earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." Matthew 24:46 "And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying I am Christ; and shall deceive many. And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars; see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet." Verse 11 goes on to declare, "And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all nations; and then shall the end come." (Matt. 24:11-14). "But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark. And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left. Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come." (Matt. 24:36-42). "Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh." (Matt. 24:44). "When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: And before him shall be gathered all nations; and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them of his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:" (Matt. 25:31-34).

Yes, He went away to prepare a place for us, and when all the work is finished He will split those eastern skies, and will come for His children who make themselves ready. It will be a blessed time for all that are ready. If you are not, please take heed to His word. Awake out of sleep and prepare yourself for that meeting with the Lord.
