Local Residents Protest Trailer Permits

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Some 62 local residents met with the city planning commission Monday night, May 19, in an attempt to insure that a trailer park is not established in their community.

The residents, mostly from the Washington-Ninth streets area in East Booneville, were concerned about the recent issuance of permits to allow trailers into the neighborhood.

One trailer has already been moved onto property in the community and a permit issued for another one to be located on the same property.

The city zoning ordinance was originally passed in 1967 and stated that mobile homes inside the city limits could be located only in areas designated as trailer courts. However, in 1971 the city set up 11 guidelines for trailer permits, taking the issuance of the permits from the hands of the planning commission and turning it over to the building inspector, Nolan Wheeler. In 1975 two more amendments were added to the trailer permit guidelines.

Concerning the Monday night meeting, Charles Garrett, chairman of the city planning commission, said, "There really wasn't anything our board could do for them (the citizens), but just answer what questions we could. One trailer has already been moved in and a permit issued for one more."

However, Garrett says that he does not understand why the permits were issued. The property in question is zoned RB, which is for single family dwellings, "same uses permitted as RA zoning." RA zoning is for single family dwellings, "no mobile homes."

"I read RB similar to RA," Garrett said. "It just doesn't state 'no mobile homes.'"

The only exceptions to these zoning codes is in case of emergency or hardship. Neither of the trailer permits in question were hardship or emergency cases, Garrett said.

Garrett said that trailers have been moved around all over the city, but usually there were no people protesting.

"We had about 62 people that protested this," he said, "about as orderly a group as I've ever met with. The people are just concerned about their community."

Garrett admitted that, at the present, he doesn't know what can be done about the situation. However, he has taken it before the city board of aldermen and he said the city attorney is supposed to be looking into it.

Tuesday following the meeting with the residents, planning commission members met with the board of aldermen.

Garrett said that he asked four things of the aldermen: that all trailer permits be stopped in Booneville until the issuance of permits has been voted back into the power of the planning commission; that the trailer in question be removed as the people wanted; that the one for which the permit had been issued not be allowed; and that all trailers to be moved through Booneville be required to buy a $10 permit at the city hall.

In Barnes Case

Mistrial Declared Last Week

CORINTH—A mistrial was declared last week in the trial of a 75-year-old Booneville man charged with murder and aggravated assault in the Sept. 14, 1979, shooting death of a Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agent in Corinth. Circuit Judge Neal Biggers Jr., declared the mistrial shortly after 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 21, after Chester A. Barnes, the defendant, could not be present for the second day of testimony.

Barnes was on trial on charges of murder in connection with the death of narcotics agent Harold Lane Caldwell of Corinth. Caldwell was shot at close range at a Corinth service station late last year.

Judge Biggers told the jury Wednesday that Barnes had been taken to Magnolia Hospital in Corinth earlier in the day, complaining of chest pains. He was admitted to the coronary care

Democratic, Republican Primaries Set Tuesday

Both the Democratic and Republican parties will hold primary elections next Tuesday, June 3, in Mississippi. Prentiss Countians will be voting at their usual polling places.

Voters will not have many choices to make in the election, as most candidates are running unopposed. The only real race is between Democrats Billy Shelton and Tommy Gardner for the position of Circuit Judge of the First Judicial District, which includes Alcorn, Itawamba, Lee, Monroe, Pontotoc, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties.

Shelton and Gardner are seeking the post vacated by Judge Tommy Senter of Aberdeen who has been appointed to a Federal Judgeship. The winner of that race will serve the two years remaining on Senter's term before having to seek re-election. There is no Republican candidate for that post.

Other candidates on the Democratic ticket are running unopposed in the Democratic primary. They include incumbents Jamie Whitten, running for House of Representatives, First Congressional District, and Arnis E. Hawkins, running for Supreme Court Judge.

In the Republican primary, T.K. Moffett is also running unopposed for the Republican nomination to the House of Representatives, First Congressional District.

The Republicans will also be holding the first Presidential Preference Primary ever held in Mississippi by either party. Republicans will be asked Tuesday to select three delegates and three alternates to support either George Bush or Ronald Reagan for President.

Although Bush has announced that he is withdrawing from the campaign, his name will still appear on the ballot Tuesday.

The two primaries, the Democratic and the Republican, will be treated as separate elections.

City Sales Tax

Collections

Up Slightly

Sales tax collections for Booneville rose slightly over 3.5 percent during April of this year compared to the same period a year ago, according to state Tax Commission Chairman Charles Brady Jr. in his monthly report. This figure is somewhat lower than the state's average increase during that period of approximately 14 percent.

Brady said in his monthly report that tax collections for the year total $984,772,598 through April. This compares with revenue of $780,012,162 during the same period one year ago.

For the month of April, total tax collections for the state were $94,215,040, an increase of some $21 million. During April 1979, collections totaled $72,752,882.

As usual, the state's sales tax provided the largest amount of revenue during April, totaling $48.7 million. This compared with $39.4 million during the same month in 1979.

Zero Plus Dialing

Takes Affect June 6

Booneville telephone customers will soon be able to dial direct all their long distance calls, according to local South Central Bell Manager Bob Bartley.

Bartley said the exchange will be connected to the Zero-Plus Long Distance dialing network 'on the evening of June 6. At the same time, the local Directory Assistance number will be changed, he said.

Zero-Plus service allows telephone users to dial their own operator-handled calls, such as collect or person-to-person calls. With the service, a caller simply dials "0" plus the long distance telephone number. While the equipment is connecting the call an operator will come on the line to obtain billing and handling information. Once that information is obtained the call will be completed automatically.

All telephones in the Booneville exchange, including coin stations, will be equipped for Zero-Plus dialing during the June 6 conversion.

"Zero-Plus is a convenience to long distance callers, speeding and simplifying the completion of operator-handled calls," Bartley said. "At the same time it helps an operator handle more calls and concentrate more on the customers rather than the mechanics of dialing and timing a call."

Modern electronic equipment will handle the switching, timing, and billing of the calls. These local equipment and service additions will also bring a change of the local Directory Assistance number.

Beginning June 7, Booneville telephone users who need a number that isn't listed in their telephone directory will dial 1-411 to

Parents' Committee To Assess Position On Issues

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Following the latest developments in the local school situation, members of the Prentiss County Concerned Parents' Education Committee have decided to assess their position before taking further action.

"For the next two weeks we are going to assess where we stand and try to get a firm position from both the city and the county," Booneville attorney Thomas Keenum told the Banner-Independent Tuesday.

Keenum has been hired to represent the Parents' Committee and has been authorized by them to file any lawsuits he feels necessary to achieve the goals of the committee.

"At the end of that two weeks," he continued, "we will probably seek an audience with the committee (the Mississippi High School Activities Association's executive committee) in Jackson on eligibility. That will be our immediate plan."

The Parents' Committee last week declined to lend their support to a plan proposed by Donald Franks, attorney for the Prentiss County School Board, in which the county would not be split into two school districts, but would remain as one district with only two high schools—one located adjacent to the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School and the other located in the Big V. community.

"The parents would support any agreement between the county and city that would be for the betterment of the schools over the county," Keenum said. "No question about that."

However, he added, "We can't support something that doesn't exist. In other words, that agreement has to exist before we can say, 'Yes, we support it.'"

The board of trustees of the newly formed Booneville Municipal Separate School District had rejected Franks' proposal earlier, saying that they did not feel they could legally abolish the separate school district.

"We would support any agreement that they made that would be for the betterment of the schools," Keenum continued. "If no such agreement is reached, then obviously, we are back to the task that we started out with. Our purpose really was to see that the children who were attending Booneville schools continue this next year to attend Booneville schools and be

SS Numbers Needed For Food Stamps

The United States Department of Agriculture has issued regulations requiring that households applying for or receiving food stamps provide social security numbers for all household members 18 or older and for those under 18 with countable income. Social security numbers will be used in the administration of the food stamp program to check the identity of household members, prevent duplicate participation, and in computer matching and program review or audits. Newly applying households will be asked to provide or apply for social security numbers at the time of application. Currently certified households will be asked to comply with this provision at the time of recertification or at the time of contact with the county office for any other reason.

raised questions as to whether the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, which is to take effect July 1, was formed legally. The question of eligibility stems from the fact that after July 1 students attending the city school but residing outside the city limits will not be attending school in the school district in which their parents are bona fide residents. Thus, according to the rules set forth in the MHSAA handbook, these students would not be eligible to participate in sports, band and other activities under the jurisdiction of the MHSAA. Both school boards have agreed to request the MHSAA to grant a waiver for one year of this rule concerning residency, and the Parents' Committee has said that if such a waiver is not granted, they will file a lawsuit asking for the waiver.

Dr. Woodrow Marsh, executive director of the MHSAA, has been quoted as saying that the association will not be intimidated by threats of a lawsuit. In response to that statement by Marsh, Keenum said Tuesday, "I think most everyone has been getting the cart before the horse. We are not ready to file a lawsuit right now." "There has been so much quoted in the paper and on television that maybe Dr. Marsh felt that he was being threatened by a lawsuit," he continued. "That has never been our intention and it is not our intention now." Keenum said that the parents would try to comply with whatever information the MHSAA requested and would also try to show them that this is a situation where they can issue a waiver for one year. "We're not demanding anything," he emphasized. "I think that's been taken out of context." "I don't want it to continue to appear that we are threatening Dr. Marsh with a lawsuit," Keenum said. From The Governor's Office

Energy, Transportation Board Created

JACKSON—Gov. William Winter Monday signed into law legislation creating the state Board of Energy and Transportation, the first step in establishment of a coordinated energy policy for the state.

Winter recommended the bill to lawmakers in his 1980 legislative package and hailed its passage as "the most significant act of this legislature."

He said the new law may become a model for the rest of the nation, "because it combines for the first time in a single agency, the responsibility for planning, development, and coordination in the areas of both energy and transportation."

Last week Winter made an unannounced inspection of the State Penitentiary at Parchman. State law requires the governor to make at least two unannounced visits to the prison each year. Following a tour of the prison Winter said he was pleased with its operation.

The governor toured the prison industries section, inmate housing facilities, including the maximum security section, and alcohol and drug center. He inspected new housing units under construction, the present infirmary and a new prison hospital which is yet to open. He also talked with acting warden Eddie Lucas and prison employees as well as inmates.

"I was pleased with the overall administration and operation of the penitentiary," Winter said following the tour. "I realize that there are some problems which exist at the prison and I intend to do what I can to see that they are resolved."

Winter said he was concerned that prisoners eligible for work release or parole must remain at the prison because of a lack of jobs in the public sector. Winter said he intends to work with prison officials to see that inmates eligible for work release or parole are provided with proper assistance in job placement. "Keeping inmates on the prison grounds who are eligible for work release or parole helps contribute to the backlog of prisoners in our county jails," he said.

The governor also said he wants prisoners to be provided with additional reading materials and wants the prison industries program expanded and improved.

"I want to see the inmates rehabilitated, not merely incarcerated," Winter said. "While I am pleased with the work the prison industries program is doing, I want to see greater emphasis placed on providing inmates with skills that will be marketable in the public sector. When we return these people to society, I want them to be prepared to function in society."

Winter also said he wants to beef up prison programs for dealing with inmate drug problems. He expressed particular concern that the new prison infirmary has not been opened because of mechanical and other problems.

About Mental Illness

Americans Said Not Well Informed

"The majority of Americans feel they are not well informed about mental illness," says Ms. Gordon Crowe, president of the Mental Health Association of Prentiss County, "and stress is a major cause of mental illness today."

During Mental Health Month in May the Mental Health Association in Mississippi has embarked on a nationwide ongoing campaign designed to help the American public understand and manage stress.

"We don't want to eliminate all stress," Ms. Crowe said, "we need a certain amount of stress in our lives to motivate us to accomplish daily tasks and to protect us from dangerous situations. This helpful stress helps us to be more creative so we can face challenging problems."

"Extreme stress however can lead to physical and mental illness," she said. It is this stress that we hope to help people recognize, understand and manage."

The Mental Health Association of Prentiss County is affiliated with the Mental Health Association in Mississippi and the National Mental Health Association. The NMHA is a nationwide, voluntary, non-governmental organization dedicated to the promotion of mental health, the prevention of mental illness and the improved care and treatment of the mentally ill.

Its 850 chapters and divisions and more than one million citizen volunteers work toward these goals through a wide range of activities in social action, education, advocacy and information.

Local 4-H'ers To Attend Conference

The seven Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) states of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia will send some 250 senior 4-H'ers to the vacation resort of Fontana, N.C., June 2-6 to participate in the 25th annual regional Resource Development Conference.

Eighteen 4-H'ers from the four northeastern Mississippi are expected to participate, including five from Prentiss County.

Lynn Thompson, Sharon Coats, Billy Baygents and Scott Floyd, as well as returnee delegate Kathy Ballard, are expected to attend the conference from Prentiss County.

Attending from surrounding counties will be Teresa Dozier, Billy Garrison, Randy Wall and Micky Gaddy of Itawamba County; Lee Hinton, Cindy Ashcraft, Sylvia Bragg and Tina Goggans of Alcorn County; and Mary Ann Skinner, Cleveland Southward, Tonda Martin, Tommy Wilemon and returnee Greg Caveness, all of Tishomingo County.

"The purpose of the conference is for 4-H members to learn about the natural resources of the Tennessee Valley area and to learn the role they play in solving problems affecting natural resources," explained Leon Perry, special watershed agent, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Delegates will have an opportunity also to share ideas with 4-H'ers from other states and to study career opportunities in the natural resource fields," Perry said.

Workshops will be led by Extension specialists and professors from each TVA state in water, soils, atmosphere, minerals, forestry, wildlife and human resources. A leadership workshop will be held for 13 returnee delegates chosen for their outstanding participation at last year's conference.

Dr. Betty Siegel, dean of the School of Education and Psychology at Western Carolina University, will deliver the key note address.

Dr. William R. Van Dresser, dean of the Extension Division at Virginia Tech, will present the welcome. The state of Virginia is serving as host of this year's conference.

Letter To The Editor

Hello From Costa Rica

Dear Editor:

Several years ago, I wrote you about Costa Rica and our planned retirement there (my husband is retired Navy). You asked that I write again, when settled, but I have been so busy living I haven't had the time!

However, today, listening to the news...gloom, wars, energy crises, the shrinking dollar and poor Jimmy Carter...it occurred to me your readers might enjoy the second episode in the "Saga of the Birds."

We moved, bag, baggage, grandmother, teenagers and all, to Costa Rica three years ago and have been happily settled in Rancho Maricosta. Our experiences deserve a book. They have not only been exciting but, at times, hilarious.

The only flaw was our inability to find easily-accessible, registered beach property. Probably a blessing in disguise. It made us look to Colombia (another democratic republic, where, it turned out, it cost even less to live than Costa Rica).

There we found Palmas de Oro, a lovely, old coconut plantation on the Caribbean. And, to complete its unique setting, when we looked away from the sea, we saw, towering over everything, 19,000 feet high, and snow-capped, majestic Mount Colomus of the Sierra Nevadas.

It may be hard to believe...hundreds of green palms, blue sky and ocean, pounding surf and golden sand, snow-capped mountains...but it is all there in Palmas de Oro; on the Pan American Highway near Santa Marta, oldest and most fascinating city in all of the Americas.

So, now we have two loves: our ranch in Costa Rica and beach in Colombia. We feel we have discovered a new, exciting American frontier and are eager to share our find with others. (If you think you are too old for adventure, we are 59 and 63 and both of us have battled and, so far, conquered cancer!)

Write us at P.O. Box 157, Liberia, Guanacaste, Costa Rica, and send your letters by international air mail (25 cents per half-ounce). We promise to answer.

Now, from Latin America, we wish you salud (health), dinero (wealth) and amor (love)!

(Mrs. Lewis M. Bird)

Thanks From Senior Citizens

Dear Editor:

The Marietta Senior Citizens really enjoyed the fishing trip they had at Mills Creek. They spent two days and a night.

They enjoyed the fellowship they had with each other. They appreciated the use of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Massey's and Myrtle Estes' cabins.

They told me someone fell out of the boat at the dock and lost some of the bait.

I learned how to get my hook out of the brush without losing my hook and bait. These clients sure are sharp when it comes to fishing. We all caught 110.

We would like to thank Sandy West and Nell White for going with us, also.

Mississippi Economic Council

The People's Business

An Editorial

Popular, Not Probable

On June 30 the Mississippi Judicial Council, the agency created by the Legislature to study and make recommendations concerning the state's court system, will cease to exist.

The Legislature could have reauthorized its existence during the 1980 session, but the Council has made some unpopular recommendations--unpopular to a powerful organization, the Justice Court Association.

The Legislature apparently bowed to political pressure despite the fact that reform of the state's lower court system seems generally supported by the public.

Perhaps it is time for the public to be heard...for concerned citizens to express themselves over a system which has changed little during the last 100 years.

When established, the lower court system had its advantages. Mississippi was a rural state with a small, widely scattered population with horse-and-buggy transportation. It was important, at that time, that disputes between neighbors involving small matters of property or minor crimes be handled without delay and inconvenience.

But those advantages have largely vanished along with the horse and buggy. It is time to upgrade or replace the lower court system with another system of lower courts; and now it is left to the citizens of Mississippi to demand a modernized lower court system, fiscally responsible, accessible to the people, and guaranteeing justice for all.

Eyes On Mississippi

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON--Gubernatorial politics is a never-ending game in Mississippi. A new governor is hardly installed before there is speculation about the 1983 governor's race, and about who will be the Winter Administration candidate.

Mainly, the political talk has centered about the probable candidacy of former State Rep. Charles Deaton of Greenwood, the veteran legislative fiscal leader who took a trial run for governor in 1979, and is now an assistant to Gov. William Winter.

Some of those looking ahead to 1983 say Deaton is being groomed as Winter's logical successor, to continue the low-key, business-like governance instituted by Winter.

The talk of a Deaton candidacy does not emanate from Winter's office, however. It apparently stems more from the same forces centered in the legislature who were behind Deaton's 1979 gubernatorial ousting.

House Speaker C.B. "Buddie" Newman, whom higher ups in the Mississippi House say will remain Speaker as long as he wants, is believed in political circles to be the key in the early movement to make Deaton the next governor.

While Winter is not necessarily a part of the movement, observers say he may have given it credibility by making Deaton a part of his administration and maintaining an apparent detente with Newman.

When Winter back in early January announced that Deaton would come into his office to head up a division of transportation and natural resources, the move was puzzling because of Deaton's close ties to the House Old Guard.

But the rationale ascribed to it was that Deaton was being given the administration post as a facade so Deaton could lobby for the Winter administration in the legislature.

As it turned out some of Winter's success in getting his governmental reorganization bills past the Old Guard leadership in the recently ended legislative session is attributed to Deaton's help. His biggest contribution, however, was in shepherding a bill through the legislature handing the governor broad authority in the fields of energy and transportation.

All of the speculation about Deaton being put in line as the next governor presupposes that Winter will not be able to succeed himself, which looms as a possibility.

Winter made no move in the 1980 session for gubernatorial succession, but it is evident he stands the best chance at this juncture of any governor in recent years to get succession through the legislature, if he chooses to do so. He would have to take a shot at it in the 1981 session, however, because after that it would be too late.

Should Winter seek the right to serve another term, it would bring on a critical test of where Deaton's loyalty lies between Winter and Newman. Traditionally, Newman has opposed gubernatorial succession and there is no reason to believe he would change his position, even for Winter.

One tipoff to Newman's position in all this undercurrent for Deaton is a report that the House Speaker is dissatisfied with Secretary of State Ed Pittman's refusal to give him an absolute pledge that he (Pittman) will not run for governor in 1983.

Whether or not this is so, it is a fact that Pittman, in the midst of a reorganization of the Secretary of State's office and widening of its scope of services, was turned down by the House on his request for additional personnel to fill several important job slots.

Sources close to Pittman say he felt the "word" to keep the Secretary of State in check came down from the Speaker.

There is no assurance that the Mississippi voters, after four years of a sophisticated governmental technician in William Winter will not go back to the populist, bandwagon style of politics which has been successful in Mississippi before.

Should that be the case, then the well-laid plans to continue the Winter style of government with Deaton could very well go awry.

Besides, Deaton still has some strong enemies among school teachers and state employees who remember how he tried to keep them on slim rations when he was chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

But, there's still a lot of water to pass under (or was that over) the political bridges before the 1983 governor's race rolls around.

Loud Exhaust

"I would like to know if there isn't something that can be done about the automobiles that have extremely loud exhaust pipes on them. A person cannot sit on his porch in the evenings without at least five or six of these 'sound barrier breakers' zooming by. It is especially bad on my street because there's a stop sign on the corner. For some strange reason, the 747 cars just love to 'floor it' when they take off after stopping. I live in an older section of town with neighbors, most of whom are older citizens. They are sometimes awakened during the night by one of these cars. It is especially bad on weekends when all of the funsters are out. It is not fair that anyone should suffer such an invasion of privacy as this. Something needs to be done."

Liked Article

"About our law enforcement: I liked the article last week about the sheriff letting the trustee prisoners go to worship in the church. I would like to commend the sheriff and all of our law officials for doing a good job. Hey Christians, let's continue to encourage and back them for these Christian acts. Law enforcement is never better than the sentiment that backs it up. So we can pray for them to have a better Booneville, a better Prentiss County and a better nation under God."

Support Team

"What I would like to know is why aren't the people of Booneville supporting the 13-14 year old Dizzy Dean League baseball team? If you will note, the field that was supposed to be built for the 13-14 year old Dizzy Dean League has been built too short and now they cannot play a home game all year. They will have to play at Baldwin. All Booneville is going softball and nobody is standing behind the Little League or the Dizzy Dean League. Nobody is really supporting them. I would like to urge people to get behind the Dizzy Dean League and support them."

Wants Answers

"Concerning abolishing the separate school district: If anyone can answer 'yes' to these questions, I might support Mr. Cain's proposal. Number one: In order to consolidate, there must be new buildings built in central locations. Will the county residents ever vote for a bond issue to build schools outside their own community? Number two: If we abolish the new school district, could we expect any drastic improvement within the next five to ten years? Number three: If we abolish the new system, can we expect the present system to be run and operated by professionals? Number four: Can anyone promise that my share of taxes and support of schools will be matched equally by residents in the county? The city residents' share of the school support is double the amount of the county residents. Will Mr. Cain make public the findings of the school board studies that have been made that will support this statement? Thank you."

Agree, But...

"To the person in Speaking Out who commented about the sheriff letting the trustee prisoners go to church: I think that's fine too, but I don't think it is a good idea for the sheriff to be letting a convicted murderer be running around loose, going home at night, and all that. I believe he should be locked up."

Can't Wait

"I just wanted to tell you how I appreciate the Banner-Independent. I can hardly wait for it to get here every Thursday. I do appreciate the job that you folks are doing to make it a good paper for us."

Treat All Alike

"A word about our sheriff's office. It's a little strange to me the difference our sheriff makes in the trustees in our jail. Some are allowed to go to church and go home several times a week, and have their wives come to the jail and cook dinner for them and deputies, and other prisoners are given two meals a day. And when sandwiches are brought to jail for them, they are sent back, saying they are not

Traffic Lights

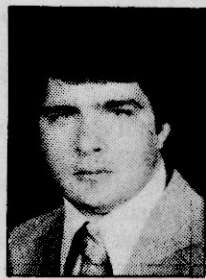

"It burns me at our traffic lights. In our town there are lights, three, four and five-way stop signs all over town. It seems to me that most of them could be taken down for the main streets and the most used roads. The traffic could get out of town a lot quicker, people would save gas, and wouldn't have to wait for the traffic build-up during rush hours. There might be a few people have to wait on the side streets, but the most used roads will let the traffic empty through town and there wouldn't be such a hassle with the red lights."

News From Oak Ridge

By Beryl Coats
Correspondent

Many people probably watched the special movie "The Thirteen Great Disasters That Shocked the World" last Thursday night. I well remember about the tragedy in Texas City—this one caused by a man's ignoring safety rules and throwing a lighted cigarette on the floor where chemicals were. The disasters caused by natural forces can't be avoided but those caused by man can be. We should all obey safety rules in the home and on the highways. About the sick: Mrs. Pearl Green was reported to be still in the Booneville Hospital and very eager to go home. Mrs. Gladys Kennedy remains in room 217 of the local hospital following her surgery on May 20. We hope she will soon be able to go home and her recovery be good. Mrs. Ola Glover, mother of Mary Alice Coats, was a patient in the Baldwin Hospital a few days last week. Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Green, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Glover and to all the shut-ins. Also to Winnie Harris in the North Mississippi Medical Center. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Jack attended the homecoming and decoration at Pleasant Valley last Sunday. They worshipped with the church there Sunday morning and heard Bro. Jimmy Allen preach the first sermon in the gospel meeting. W.D. Wilson is their regular minister and encourages every one to attend their services. Mr. and Mrs. Nonan Harris had visitors Sunday, May 18, from Tusculum, Ala. Actually they were relatives—Mrs. Annie Lee Huggins and Mrs. Ellen Dobbs. Visitors continue to meet with the congregation at Oak Ridge. David White from Blackland was present last Sunday night. Here's a saying from Password Plus—"Tact is taking the sting out of the bee without getting stung." Sean Polk and his mother Cathy visited the Kenneth Wilson family in Decatur, Ala., last week. Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. Mae Eldridge of Booneville and to the small son of my nephew in Corinth. Milton David Sandy was all of two years old on May 21. Mrs. Eldridge's birthday is May 29. Mrs. Zana has been visiting relatives in Tupelo. Her sister, Mrs. Mae Collier, lives there, as does her brother, Herbert Guin. Their brother from Indiana came down and they all got together for a Guin reunion. Mrs. Elsie Putt was able to be there, too. Let's pray that the long Memorial Day weekend will have been safer than last year.

News From Sunflower

By BETTYE BRANDON
Correspondent

I wish to offer my sincere apology for the absence of last weeks article. I am sorry that I let you down and promise that it will not happen again.

There are no words to express the deep feelings of gratitude and appreciation to you for your phone calls and personal confrontations regarding the article and my well being. I truly thought that the article would not be missed. But I was proven wrong and will not fail you again.

You are beautiful people and I love you all. Thank you for your concern, your help and for all the encouragement given me over the past months. God Bless you all.

Mrs. Melinda Young and her two children are home again from Spring Lake, North Carolina, where she has been living for the past year. We are very happy to welcome her back into the community and to see her once again take an active part in the activities here. We've missed you, Melinda, especially in the Junior Choir.

Miss Gail Grove left the city Wednesday, May 14, for Detroit, Mich., to attend the funeral of a friend. While there she became ill and had to be hospitalized. Her condition has improved to the extent that she will be allowed to return home.

Her sister, Mrs. Ruby Nell Rogers, left for Detroit Sunday, May 25, to accompany Gail on the return trip home. We pray for a safe journey and complete recovery for Gail.

Mrs. Mattie Rogers left the city Sunday, May 25, for an extended stay in New Orleans, La., with her daughter, Mrs. Verline Guy, who has been visiting here with her for the past week.

Mrs. Mary Hastings was transferred from the local hospital to the Aletha Lodge Nursing Home Tuesday, May 20. We are very happy that room was available for her here at home.

The Rev. Louis Ragin was the speaker for the morning worship services at Spring Hill M. B. Church Sunday, May 25. His message, "A Brighter Future, The Light-Jesus Christ," was dedicated to the recent graduates.

Visitors to the services were Mr. Clemmons Keith of Corinth, Miss., a guest of Mrs. Ruby Grove; Mr. Robert Gates, also of Corinth, and Miss Shelia Wilson of West Point, Miss.

Little Lemar Williams, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Williams, came forward to proclaim his faith and seek membership with the Spring Hill M.B. Church during the invitation hymn Sunday morning. This added to an already highly spiritual and soul filling service.

Mrs. Sallie Gardner was unable to attend the services Sunday morning, May 25, as she is recovering from a bilateral McBride bunionectomy. The surgery was performed Tuesday, May 13, at the Tupelo Medical Center. She is recovering nicely, but will be inactive in outside activities for a while yet.

Sallie, your presence was greatly missed.

The presence of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Humphrey was also greatly felt during the services Sunday. They were out of the city attending the funeral of a family member.

Mrs. Genie Tyes was the guest speaker for the annual woman's day program Sunday evening at Spring Hill. Representatives from Beckley Chaple, Oak Hill and Wolf Creek were also present for the event.

Mrs. Ruby Grove spent the week of May 18-23 in the cities of Jackson, Miss., and Tupelo, Miss., with her daughter Jane. Ruby states that this was her first trip to Jackson and she was very much impressed by the places she visited but that she was very much ready to return home.

William (Bo) Rowland, the 10-year-old son of Mr.

and Mrs. William Rowland Sr., and Jerry Christian, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Christian Sr., both came forward Sunday morning, May 4, during the worship services of Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church seeking membership and baptism. There is a very inspiring story behind Bo's conversion as related by the pastor of Beckley Chaple, the Rev. Willie Powell, Sunday morning May 18, when Joseph Cummings, the 10-year-old son of Mrs. Betty Jo Cummings, also sought membership and baptism during the invitation hymn.

During the week of the Crusade that was recently held here, Bo was given a booklet on "How to be Saved," which he studied nightly together with his Bible. His mother noticed his constant study and decided to test his sincerity by hiding his books from him. Bo became so upset when he discovered his books missing that she had to return them immediately and Bo continued to study until he was satisfied and immediately afterwards came forward to accept Christ for himself.

Bo is an exceptional 10-year-old in the sense that he is an extremely courteous and well behaved young man and highly intelligent. This is noticeable as soon as you meet him. Believe it or not, there is truly something about a child of God.

If you are seeking employment, do so on the merit of job qualification, your ability to perform and, most of all, because you are an intelligent human being. It is a wonderful feeling to know that you are accepted because you're you and judged according to your capability. The satisfaction gained from this feeling is much more rewarding than the salary collected at the end of a work period, for the feeling remains when the money is spent.

Many on the job problem arise because of the lack of this feeling, for in its place there is a strong inferior feeling that will not allow you to be your best nor give your best. If you are lucky enough to gain employment, guard it well, but remember that you are not indispensable. You can be replaced.

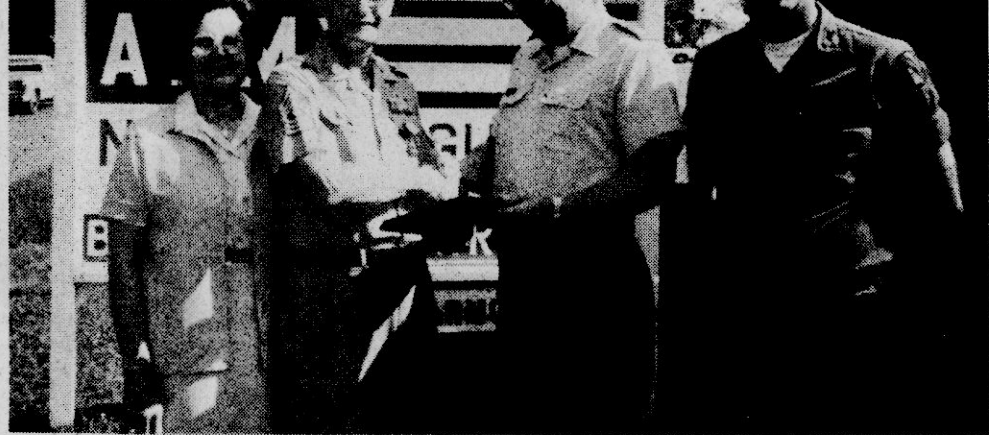

Be alert, courteous, respectful, considerate and willing to do the little extra if the need arises, for in all jobs, work demands, often alter schedules and regulations. The conscientious worker is always willing to meet the demands for the satisfaction of a job completed and done well.

Remember this also: If a task is once begun, never leave it til it's done; be it great or be it small, do it well or not at all.

I love you and want to see you succeed in all your endeavors. God bless you, and in all of your ways acknowledge him and he will direct your paths.

As I conclude this article, Cecil has called to inform me that he is to be admitted to the hospital. Remember us in your prayers as I am pretty shaky at the moment.

Questions on the Church

Can one be a Christian without being a Member of the Lord's Church?

1. IF SO, he can be a christian without any relationship to Christ. Christ is the Head of the body which is the church. (1 Col. 1:18,24)
2. IF SO, he can be a christian without having his sins forgiven. The reason is this: The same means by which the church was purchased is the same by which sins are forgiven. (Acts 20:28; Matt. 26:28)
3. IF SO, he can be a christian without being saved. The process by which one is saved is the same by which he is added to the church. (Acts 2:37-47)
4. IF SO, he can be saved without having his name in the Book of life. (Rev. 20:15; Heb. 12:23)
5. IF SO, he can be saved out of what the church is. It is God's house or family. (1 Timothy 3:15) It is God's Kingdom (Col. 1:13), and it is Christ's body. (1 Cor. 12:12,27)
6. IF SO, he not only can be saved out of what the church is, but he can be saved without what is in the church. (Eph. 1:3-7; 2 Timothy 2:10)
7. IF SO, he can be a christian without obeying the gospel of Christ. (Romans 1:16; 1 Peter 4:16-18; 1 Thess. 1:7-9)

Is the Church Important?

1. IF NOT, then the foundation upon which it stands is not important. (Matt. 16:13-19; 1 Cor. 3:11)
2. IF NOT, then that which it supports is not important. (1 Timothy 3:15)
3. IF NOT, then its mission is not important. (Matt. 28:19,20; Eph. 3:10; Gal. 6:10)
4. IF NOT, then that which was paid for the church is not important. (Acts 20:28)
5. IF NOT, then why did Jesus love it and give himself for it? (Eph. 5:25)
6. IF NOT, then why did Paul care for local congregations of it? (1 Cor. 11:28)
7. IF NOT, then why is Jesus coming back for it? (1 Cor. 15:23,24)

Does the Church of the New Testament Consist of Different Denominations, Wearing Different Names, Teaching and Practicing Different Doctrines?

1. IF SO, and Jesus knew it would be this way, he was a hypocrite. (John 17:20,21)
2. IF SO, the church Jesus promised to build, and did build, will fall. (Matt. 16:18; Acts 2:47; Matt. 12:22-25)

Is one Church as Good as Another?

1. NOT UNLESS one foundation is as good as another. Jesus promised to build His church on the foundation of truth (And the church either stands or falls on this) that He is the Christ, the Son of the Living God. (Matt. 16:18; 1 Cor. 3:11)
2. NOT UNLESS one plan of salvation is as good as another. The New Testament tells us what plan was followed by those who were saved. (Acts 2:37-41). The saved were added to the church. (Acts 2:47)
3. NOT UNLESS those started by men are as good as the one started by Christ. (Psa. 127:1; Matt. 15:13; 16:18)
4. NOT UNLESS being among the lost is as good as being among the saved. (Eph. 5:23) The body of which Christ is the Savior is the church. (Eph. 1:22,23)
5. NOT UNLESS one husband is as good as another or one head as good as another. (Eph. 5:23-28)
6. NOT UNLESS one price is as good as another. (Acts 20:28)
7. NOT UNLESS one way is as good as another. (Acts 9:1,2,4; John 14: 1-6; Acts 8:3; Matt. 7:13,14)

News From Your ASCS

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

FARM EXPORTS CONTINUE STRONG

U. S. agricultural exports totaled $17.6 billion during the first five months of fiscal year 1980, and are expected to reach a record $37 billion by the end of the current fiscal year. The five-month total was up 36 percent from the same period a year ago and the year-end estimate represents a 15 percent increase.

Agricultural exports are expected to remain sufficiently strong to offset most losses stemming from the recent decision to curtail grain and soybean exports to the Soviet Union. A recent report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) indicates that increased shipments to Mexico, Brazil, China, and Spain will help keep total agricultural exports at record-high levels.

Export values were above those of fiscal year 1979 in all commodity categories except tobacco, according to the report. Corn export values increased 76 percent to $3.3 billion, soybean shipments were up 16 percent to $3.2 billion, and wheat and flour were up 63 percent to $2.7 billion. Cotton shipments for the five-month period were valued at $1.3 billion, an increase of 75 percent from a year earlier. Soybean meal exports totaled $1.3 billion, a gain of 31 percent.

Farmers depend on foreign markets as an outlet for much of their production and the extra income increases their buying power in the domestic economy.

FARMERS INCREASE GRAIN STORAGE SPACE

Farmers who may be faced with storage problems for this year's crop can still obtain funds to build additional facilities or to expand present storage structures. The program covers drying and handling equipment as well as concrete and electrical wiring. ASCS also makes loans for solar grain drying systems and high-moisture storage and silage storage facilities.

The program authorizes ASCS to loan farmers up to $100,000 with 15 percent down and 13 percent interest. The previous maximum loan amount was $50,000 and prior to April 16, the interest rate on farm facility loans was 10.5 percent. The new rate is based on the cost of borrowing money from the U. S. Treasury. Farm storage facilities help the Nation's economy and to stabilize food and feed supplies by making possible more effective marketing of farm crops. Producers who have suitable storage can exercise greater independence in their marketing operations and aid in strengthening market prices.

They can also take full advantage of commodity loan programs and realize higher total income from their farm operations in years of excess production. Additional details on the farm facility loan program are available from the local ASCS office.

FORESTRY INCENTIVES PROGRAM

The forestry incentives program is designed to increase the nation's supply of timber products and to enhance other forest resources. The demand for saw timber, plywood logs, and quality hardwood logs in this county is expected to exceed the supply within 25 years unless many more trees are planted each year and much more forest land is placed under good forest management.

The forestry incentives program is available only to privately owned land. Many private non-industrial landowners do not have the funds to make long term investments to improve forest land; therefore, the program is designed to assist those landowners.

Seventy four counties in Mississippi are designated for FIP and are eligible to participate in the program. The COC's in most of these counties have approved cost-sharing for practices to be carried out by producers throughout the remainder of this year.

Mississippi has benefited by receiving funds totaling $5,893,750 to improve the productive capacity of our private forest lands since the origin of the forestry incentives program in 1975.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

The sight of a basket heaped high with big, beautiful, ripe strawberries can start your mouth to watering.

Strawberries may be frozen whole, sliced or crushed in sugar syrup, in dry sugar, or without sugar. Sweetened berries keep quality better than unsweetened ones, but unsweetened packs are best for those who want to use no-calorie sweeteners when berries are served.

For the sugar pack, mix ½ to ¾ cup of sugar with each quart of clean, ripe, crushed, sliced or whole berries. Place in moisture-vapor resistant containers, leaving ½ to 1 inch head space. Label with date and type of pack; seal and freeze.

At most any price you ever find fresh berries, it's economical to freeze or preserve them for diets in which sugar must be limited or omitted. Special diet jams and jellies are frightfully expensive, and unsweetened frozen berries cost more than the more common sweetened pack.

However, added sugar enhances flavor as no substitute can and also preserves color. So whether you're freezing or preserving berries without sugar, you'll be disappointed if you expect the quality of the finished product to compete with products that contain sugar.

Whole berries may be frozen in moisture-vapor resistant containers, or they may be covered with water to which ascorbic acid has been added. Crushed or sliced berries keep quality fairly well without addition of either sugar or ascorbic acid, but either one helps to retain flavor and color. If frozen berries are to be sweetened with a sugar substitute, this should be added at serving time.

To make the frozen jam without added sugar, wash and cap one quart of ripe strawberries. Crush the berries in a heavy saucepan. Stir in three to four teaspoons of liquid sweetener (½ teaspoon equals one teaspoon of sugar), a 1¼ ounce package of powdered fruit pectin, one teaspoon of lemon juice, and as much red food coloring as desired.

Boil mixture for one minute, stirring as needed. Remove from heat and continue to stir for two minutes. Pour into freezer containers, seal, label, and freeze. Thaw before serving and refrigerate after opening.

Completes Program

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio—Danny Nave, 111 Terry St., Booneville, assistant superintendent, Brown Shoe Company, completed the Unit II course Friday, May 9, in Wittenberg University's Management Development Program.

The series of five-day on-campus courses are designed to strengthen the management competency and provide new insights into the management functions of supervisory personnel in industry. The courses concentrate in four areas—behavioral studies and motivation, communications and leadership, management functions and methods, and economics and personnel relations.

During the past 28 years more than 1,000 different companies representing a wide variety of industrial, commercial and medical concerns have released over 19,950 supervisors from their normal responsibilities and sponsored their participation in the management program.

Rhodes Named Assistant Director

Naz Rhodes, a native of Mendenhall, Miss., has been named assistant band director at Northeast Junior College, according to President Harold T. White.

Rhodes will be joining Ricky Bishop, who has served as Northeast band director for the past year. A graduate of Mendenhall High School, he studied music at the University of Southern Mississippi, where he received his B.M.E. degree in 1968. In addition, he received the M.M.E. degree from Mississippi State University and has completed all course requirements for the Doctor of Arts in Music Education from the University of Mississippi.

Prior to coming to Northeast, Rhodes served as band director at Eupora High School and at Pearl Junior High School. An accomplished classical guitarist and brass specialist, he also owned and operated the Rankin County Guitar Lab and later served as an instructor at the Bandwagon in Tupelo.

Rhodes was complimentary of Northeast, saying, "Located in one of the most progressive areas of the state, Northeast Mississippi Junior College should, and I am sure does, attract some of the finest students in Mississippi. Due to the rising costs of room and board and travel away from home, I believe students, in increasing numbers, will take advantage of the educational opportunities at their area junior colleges."

"Rhodes, who is noted for his arrangement of music, also has expertise in stage band direction," President White said. "These accomplishments, coupled with his outstanding educational background, are expected to result in definite assets to the already fine program, we now have."

Rhodes is married to the former Sarah Bradshaw, who is a vocational counselor from Oxford City School. They are members of the Baptist church.

Jana Henry Wins Chemistry Achievement Award

Jana Reina Henry, a pre-med student from Rienzi at Northeast Junior College, is the 1980 winner of the CRC Press Freshmen Chemistry Achievement Award. The award is presented each year to the student with the highest grade average in general chemistry. Jana's 96 percent raw score outdistanced her closest competitors by more than two percentage points.

"I am very happy that Jana's academic efforts have been rewarded in this way," said Northeast chemistry instructor Dr.

Ray Cozort. "In addition to being an outstanding chemistry student, Jana was also a valuable aid to me as a laboratory assistant, and I look forward to many more accomplishments from her as she continues her academic career."

In addition to her pre-medicine studies, Jana is active in Phi Theta Kappa, the national honor society for junior colleges, and is a part-time model for a Memphis fashion agency. Jana is a graduate of Booneville High School, where she was a Beta Club member. In her senior year, her science fair project, involving extraction of nut oils, won honorable mention at the state science fair.

"I'm glad I came to Northeast," Jana said. "I've enjoyed this year very much and am very happy the way things turned out (referring to the award). I'm looking forward to next year."

Jana is the daughter of Edward M. and Pauline S. Henry of Rienzi.

The CRC Press Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award is presented annually by the CRC Press Inc., publisher of scientific data books and tables, to honor and encourage students in scientific fields as they begin their academic careers. Northeast has participated in the program for five years.

Enrichment Program Will Begin June 2

COLUMBUS—Mississippi University for Women's Pre-College Enrichment Program, which offers academically superior young women the opportunity to earn advance college credit, will begin June 2.

The program, open to students who scored 23 or above on the American College Test, will allow participants to earn from 12-14 semester hours of college credit before they graduate from high school.

Cost of the program is $28 for each semester hour of credit. Living expenses for each of the two terms will be $207 which includes room, board and post office box rental.

The first term will begin June 2 and continue until July 3, while the second session will begin July 7. Second semester will end Aug. 9.

Regular college courses will be selected from offerings in the M.U.W. summer school bulletin. In addition, special offerings will include seminar-type classes such as discussions, lectures, films and readings dealing with contemporary issues and problems.

In addition to six hours of academic work PEP students may take each semester, participants may also enroll in activity courses in physical education.

To register, interested students should contact Dr. Billy D. Pounds, PEP director, M.U.W., Columbus, Miss. 39701 or telephone (601) 328-8582.

"Our PEP program is an excellent opportunity for highly capable young women to get a glimpse of college life a year before graduation from high school. The enrichment program is designed to further encourage the students' intellectual development, develop leadership and enable the student to be better adjusted for college later," Dr. Pounds said.

Mormon Transcripts Discovered By Student

A student at Utah State University in Logan has discovered a handwritten transcript believed to have been made by Joseph Smith, prophet of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. The transcript is believed by some to contain characters from the gold plates from which Smith is said to have translated the Book of Mormon.

Mark William Hofmann, a pre-medical student at USU and a collector of historical documents and antiques which relate to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, has displayed the transcript to the First Presidency of the Church and left it in custody of the Church Historical Department for further studies to determine its authenticity.

One side of the transcript is said to contain vertical columns of characters. The other side, stating that he had personally copied the characters from the gold plates, is signed "Joseph Smith Jr."

The transcript is apparently one made for Martin Harris, an early associate of Smith, in February 1828 to take to Prof. Charles Anthon and Dr. Samuel L. Mitchell in New York City.

It is possible the manuscript is the oldest known Mormon document, as well as the oldest still in existence in Joseph Smith's handwriting.

The newly discovered document, Hofmann said, was found folded between the pages of the Book of Proverbs in a King James version of the Bible acquired some time ago by Hofmann.

The Bible, published in Cambridge, England, in 1668 was apparently in the hands of the Smith family of Topsfield, Mass., from the late seventeenth century on.

Dean C. Jesse, senior historical associate in the Historical Department of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and an expert on Mormon holographs, says he is convinced the handwriting on the document is that of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

While leafing through the Bible, Hofmann said, he found the transcript between two pages of the Bible, held by some adhesive. It had been folded in three places and fastened along the edge to the center gutter between pages.

Hofmann said the Bible in which the transcript was found had passed to the possession of Catherine Smith, a sister of Joseph Smith and from her to a granddaughter who in the 1950's was living in Carthage, Ill. Joseph Smith died in Carthage on June 27, 1844.

According to the belief of the church, on Sept. 22, 1827, Joseph Smith obtained from Moroni, a heavenly messenger, the plates of gold from which he translated the Book of Mormon. Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints believe the Book of Mormon and the Holy Bible both contain the word of God.

The Book of Mormon is essentially a condensed history of ancient American civilizations with emphasis on the teachings of Jesus Christ and his prophets.

The first copies of the Book of Mormon came off the presses in Palmyra, N.Y., on March 26, 1830. Since then, some 21 million copies have been printed and distributed worldwide.

County Agent's Notes

By W.H. HADEN

CULTIVATE CROPS EARLY

Cotton and soybeans coming to a stand will have a better chance to produce highest yields if they are cultivated early. Early cultivation aerates the soil, breaks crusts, controls weeds and promotes early growth to get crops off to a good start.

Where cotton is large enough, use post-directed sprays along with cultivation to control grass and weeds. Make the first cultivation deep enough to kill grass and weeds but leave the row in good condition for effective application of chemicals.

Use of a rotary hoe to break soil crusts will help get stands that may have to replanted without it.

REPLACE SHIELDS NOW

Unguarded PTO shafts and other fast-moving equipment can be a merciless crippler. Absence of protective shields and guards on equipment causes many serious injuries every year. To prevent accidents on your farm, make sure all protective guards and shields are securely in place.

SEED AND GRAIN

Sorghum for Silage. There is an increased interest in sorghum for silage because of the unseasonable weather for corn. Some corn didn't get planted, some poor stands exist, and it's too late to replant.

Varieties for silage are very important. The high starch, low sugar sorghums make a better quality silage than the high-sugar sorghums.

Varieties such as DeKalb FS-1A, FS-1B and Funks G-650S are some of the better varieties for silage. Tonnage may be lower on these varieties than some high sugar varieties, but what is lost in tonnage is more than compensated in quality.

Pre-emergence herbicides for silage are limited to atrazine or propazine. These will control essentially the same weeds and grasses. Ramrod-atrazine is not cleared for use where silage is to be fed to dairy animals.

Propazine should be used instead of atrazine on the sandy soils. Propazine is less soluble than atrazine, and sorghum is not as sensitive to propazine. When atrazine is used on the sandier soils, plant damage and even stand failure can result.

Postemergence herbicides available are atrazine plus oil or Lorox. Atrazine plus oil must be applied when sorghum is small, three to four leaf stage, and before weeds and grasses are more than two inches tall. This will burn existing vegetation and give control of weeds and grasses ordinarily controlled with atrazine.

Sorghum is less sensitive to atrazine after it is established and growing. Lorox can be applied as a directed spray after sorghum is 12 to 15 inches tall. Add one pint of surfactant to 25 gallons of spray mixture. Direct spray to cover weeds and grass, but spray should come no higher than three to four inches up on the sorghum stalk. Spray and drift must be kept off the lower leaves and whorl.

Broadleaf weeds can be controlled with 2, 4-D, Banvel or a 2,4-D Banvel mixture.

Insects are always a problem. Extension publication 714, "Control of Insects Attacking Sorghum and Small Grains," gives recommendations for controlling above ground insects. In many areas soil insects are a problem particularly where sorghum follows ryegrass.

Lesser corn stalk borer, southern corn root worm and wire worms destroy young sorghum plants. In some instances, stands may be reduced below acceptable plant populations.

This insect complex can be controlled with 10 pounds of 10 percent Furadan granules or five to seven pounds of 15 percent Disyston granules per acre in the row.

60 Campers Arrive For First NE Summer Session

Some 60 youngsters turned out here this week for the junior high boys basketball camp held at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum. The campers, under the instruction of Camp director Noel Akins and a number of area high school basketball coaches, will spend an entire week at Northeast learning special skills in the art of basketball techniques.

The campers arrived at Northeast Sunday afternoon and were assigned special dorm rooms for the overnight campers while some of the locals will commute to and from.

The campers were all introduced to the area coaches during their early arrival and Monday morning officially kicked off the 1980 camp session.

After going through a series of exercises, the campers all joined in a group session and were introduced to their instructors and later were divided into groups.

Several group encounters were held through the coliseum rink with techniques such as, ball handling (dribbling ect., ect)

Several group encounters were held through the coliseum rink with techniques such as ball handling (dribbling ect., ect.) shooting (both straight, hook shot, ect., ect.) defensive strategy (guarding, zones, ect., ect.) and basic play formations.

Players have engaged in one on one battles all week against youngsters from their own age group. The group will also engage in scrimmage action during the evenings and put to use the skills they have learned the entire week.

Coach Akins said he was real pleased with the turnout this week and said this year's junior high camp was even bigger than last years.

"We have a good group of kids this year," Coach Akins said. "They all seem like they are interested in the game of basketball and several of them have had quite a bit of prior experience and are somewhat knowledgeable in the game techniques."

The camps have been successful in the past and are designed to help the youngsters prepare themselves both mentally and physically for their future in the basketball ranks.

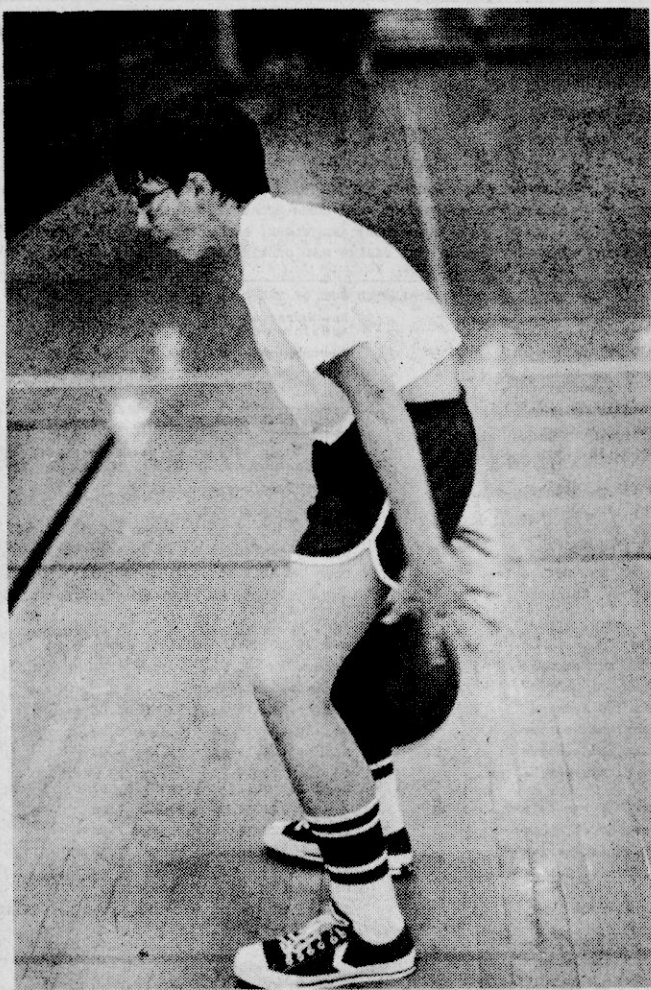

The camps will end this Friday and a special awards banquet will be held to present awards to the outstanding campers.

Substitute Trustee

Duly authorized to act in the premises by Instrument dated February 8, 1980, and recorded in Book 125, Page 87, of the records of the aforesaid County and State

Residents

In the Tuesday meeting, the board of aldermen voted to put the trailer permits back under the jurisdiction of the planning commission, just as they were prior to 1971. However, Garrett said the mayor told him that he did not know if the trailers that were already on the property could be removed.

Another meeting of the concerned residents took place at the George E. Allen Library Tuesday night, May 27. About 72 persons were reported to have attended.

One of those attending the meeting defined it as "a meeting of concerned citizens that are against any new trailers being moved into RA and RB zoning—according to the zoning laws they are not supposed to be there."

Concerning the trailers in question, he said, "We're not against what this man is doing personally, but we are saying that we are against trailers anywhere in the city other than in an approved trailer park."

"This is not saying that if someone's house catches on fire and they have to move a trailer in, or if they have an elderly mother, or something like that and they have to have a temporary permit to move a trailer in for six months or whatever is necessary," he said. "But we feel that it's wrong to move trailers in for the purpose of renting in the residential area in which we live and we should be protected under the guidelines of parking trailers in the city of Booneville."

Garrett said what got the people so upset was the rumor that a trailer park was going to be located in their community.

"That can't be done," he said, "because it would have had to go before the planning commission. They would have to re-zone it and then it would have to go before the board of aldermen to be changed."

The citizens of the community involved have planned another meeting, this time with the board of aldermen. They hope to meet with them next Tuesday night.

A large attendance is expected. "The first time we met with the planning board, we had 62 present; last night (Tuesday) we had 72; and we are anticipating maybe 150-200 at the meeting next Tuesday night," one of the community residents said.

Anderson Band Award Winners

Anderson Band Holds Awards Banquet

The Anderson Junior High Band Awards Banquet was held Thursday, May 15, at the Booneville Middle School Cafeteria.

The evening began with a buffet covered-dish banquet, prepared and served by the band boosters. Following the meal, director Ricky Brooks opened the program with recognition of special guests seated at the head table and those committees responsible for the organization of the banquet.

Graduating eighth grade bandsmen were then introduced, and they gave their "last will and testament" to the seventh grade. Ricky Bishop, director of Bands at Northeast Junior College, was presented as featured speaker at the evening's banquet.

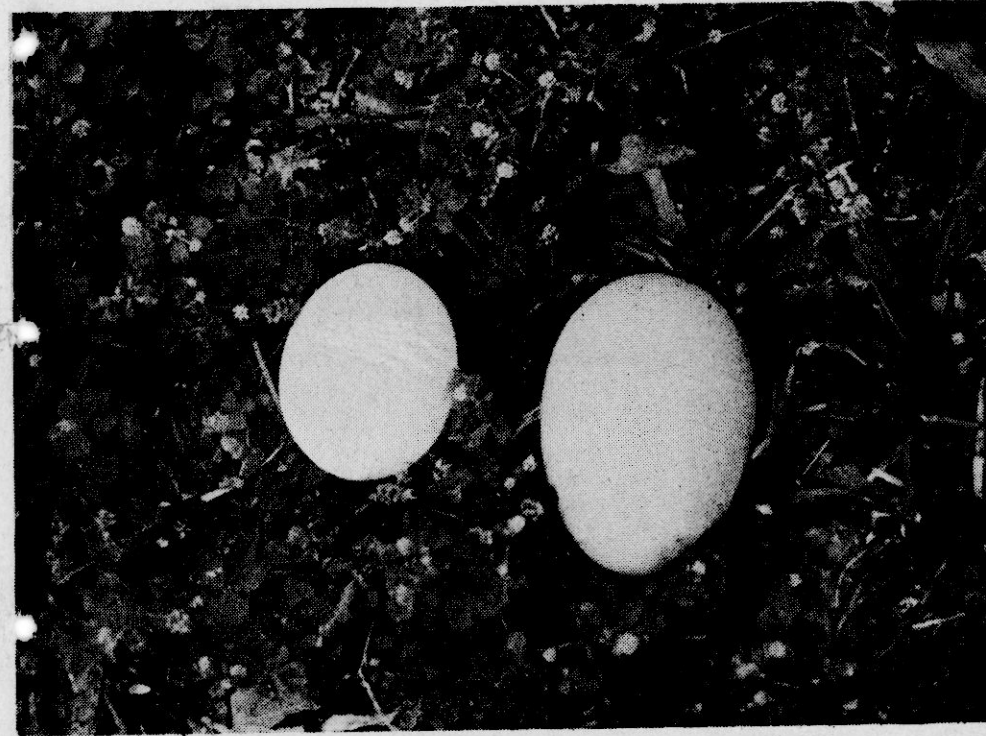

Following Bishop's speech came the highlight of the banquet—the presentation of awards to certain seventh & eighth graders in recognition of their outstanding work and dedication to band. The following trophies were presented: Most Improved, Cathy Livingston, eighth grade, and Jessica Aust, seventh grade; Best Attitude, Sandy Michael, eighth grade, and Regina Adams, seventh grade; Most Outstanding, Paul Hudson, eighth grade, and Nan Lawrence, seventh grade.

Medals were presented to Cindy George for her work and leadership with the flag corps, and to Susan Malton for earning the highest points in band for the year.

The banquet for the Anderson Junior High Band students and parents was planned and given by the Anderson Junior High Band Boosters. Serving on the head committee were Mrs. James Horn, Mrs. Billy Bennett and Mrs. Ernie McCoy. Mrs. Hale Aust was the chairman of the food committee and Mrs. William George for the decoration committee.

On Federal Tax Returns

Refunds Due By June 5

Nearly all Mississippi taxpayers with federal tax refunds due should receive them by June 5, according to the IRS.

Merlin W. Heye, IRS District Director for Mississippi, said that the more than 1.5 million taxpayers who filed refund returns with the Atlanta Service Center during the final two weeks of the filing period should receive their tax refund check by June 5.

Approximately 239,000 Mississippi taxpayers were this large group of last minute filers.

Heye said hundreds of telephone calls are received daily from Mississippi taxpayers asking about their Federal income tax refunds.

"If taxpayers who filed March 24 or later would wait until June 5, they should have their refunds and find it unnecessary to call,"

Heye said. "Taxpayers should promptly respond in order to minimize the delay," he added.

"Most taxpayers are receiving their refunds within eight weeks from the time of filing," Heye said. "I would suggest that taxpayers who filed earlier than March 24 and have not received their expected refund or an error notice call our toll-free assistance number 1-800-241-3868 or in Jackson call 948-4500 and in the Gulfport-Biloxi area call 868-2122."

Taxpayers who made errors on their tax forms can expect a longer wait before receiving their checks.

"For example, if the signature or social security number is omitted from the return, the Atlanta Service Center must write the taxpayer to get the missing information before the return can be processed,"

School Lunch Rules Changed

ATLANTA, Ga.—Based on recent surveys of children's eating habits and nutritional needs, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued rules that will change lunches served to children in schools starting next fall.

The rules encourage schools in the national school lunch program to tailor meal and portion sizes to the eating habits of children. This measure is expected to reduce plate waste among younger children and also do a better job of meeting the nutritional needs of older children.

These rules are the second and final part of a major change in school lunch meal patterns, originally proposed in 1977. The department implemented interim regulations in August 1978 to field test the proposed changes, and also solicited public comment. The final regulations reflect findings about the impact of the meal pattern changes gathered during the test phase.

The rules recommended that:

- schools serve different sized portions of food to children of different age groups. For instance, schools will have the option of providing smaller servings to younger children and offering larger portions to older students.
- schools participating in the program serve two small meals that together provide the lunch pattern requirements to pre-primary aged children. Department officials feel this is more in line with the eating habits of young children.

The new rules also require schools to:

- increase the required servings of eggs and dry beans to make them nutritionally equivalent substitutes for meat and other meat alternates.
- increase the number of bread servings required to provide children with the higher levels of iron and other nutrients specified in the 1974 RDA's.

Under the school lunch program, meal patterns are used to insure that lunches served across the nation meet nutritional requirements. The approved pattern, formerly called Type A, includes meat or a meat alternate, fruit and or vegetable, bread or bread alternate and milk. These requirements are reviewed periodically to reflect new knowledge about nutrition and children's eating habits.

The final rules appeared in the May 16 Federal Register.

Summer Jobs Can Be Dangerous

ATLANTA, Ga.—Two popular summer jobs, lawn mowing and baby sitting, will cost more than they are worth to some teenagers this year.

The novice lawn mower operator is likely to join the ranks of 60,000 Americans seriously injured each year while cutting the grass, according to the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Mower accidents tend to peak early in the season and are more apt to occur when using an unfamiliar machine.

The baby sitter faces the unpredictable behavior of a child. Children have an increased number of accidents when guests are in the home, in unfamiliar surroundings, and during any other interruption of their normal routine.

Both jobs are serious undertakings, requiring knowledge, skill and the ability to accept responsibility.

The Atlanta Regional Office of the U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission would like to aid teenagers pursuing these summer jobs. Two safety information kits, "A Cutting Machine" and "Super Sitter," are available free. To request one of these kits, write or call CPSC at 1330 West Peachtree Street, NW, Atlanta, Georgia 30309, (404) 881-2231.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

'Illness' By Charles L. Potts

Cast all your anxieties on him, for he cares about you. 1 Peter 5:7

With illness we find opportunities for meditation. We may discover that those things which matter most in life begin to make their way into first place. We also discover that God draws near to us and is very real in our moments of stress...for we really need Him and reach out for His help. If your mind is passing over these words now...remember that God is near you and seeks to be your companion. He is your friend!

Illness also reminds us that we are limited human beings...and this often prompts us to turn in prayer to God. Many rejoice to learn that God has not moved away during their recent "dry spell"...thus new discoveries and spiritual growth often is the outcome. Prayer for so many is a normal part of daily life...as normal as breathing. They think of God as their Heavenly Father...present with them through every minute. They tell him about their pain, their hopes and dreams. He hears, understands and is closer than the breath that enters your nostrils.

Man has always raised the question: "Why do I suffer?" And there are no easy answers that will make our understanding complete. It does help, however, to know that our Lord promises to stand by us in the midst of pain and suffering. Therefore, in moments of pain remember that Christ is near, and his strong, clean and tender hands reach out to comfort and heal even now.

Many people facing pain have found help in this little prayer by Harold Kohn:

O God, my Father,
Grant me faith enough to trust that
Pain plays some vital part
In Thy plan for my soul's growth toward Christ-likeness.
Thus may I accept pain without bitterness or rebellion,
With patience and with grace,

May I use it well.
If
In thy providence,
My pain does not become better,
May I become better
because of my pain.
In Christ's Name, Amen.

Do not hesitate to rely heavily upon your pastor, your doctor, your family, and your friends. Remember that we are bound to one another with our ties of friendship and love. The 23rd Psalm pictures God as a caring friend. Turn to Him...find strength and resources for your needs. "Cast all your anxieties on Him, for he cares about you."
