

City Teachers Meet, Organize, Refuse County's Offer

Approximately 70 teachers from the four Booneville school met Sunday night, June 1, at the George E. Allen Library, forming the Booneville Unemployed Teachers' Association.

Three of the teachers, Mrs. Shirley Cole, Mrs. Janeil Stutts and Mrs. Wilda Fugitt, told the Banner-Independent Monday that the teachers met due to their concern over the students and the Prentiss County schools.

Like the students themselves, the teachers have been caught in the middle of the controversy sparked by the formation of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, which is to become effective July 1.

Although neither the teachers nor the students had anything to do with the development of the current situation, they are both affected. Currently teachers do not know whether they will have a job next year and students do not know where they will attend school.

"A lot of people do not realize it," one of the teachers said Monday, "but the county has not released the students as they previously indicated they would. The city cannot employ or issue a letter of intent to employ until the city knows exactly the number of students that will be enrolled this fall."

"Therefore, the Booneville Unemployed Teachers, with the interest of the children as our first consideration, have, one, organized; two, elected a steering committee consisting of two teachers from each of the city schools; and, three, agreed to stand and act as one body," the teachers said.

Elected unanimously to the steering committee by the teachers at the meeting were Mac Curlee, chairman, and Willie T. Jackson, both of Booneville High School; Marie Spain and Kenneth Shackelford, Anderson

TO:

FROM: Prentiss County School Board.

SUBJECT: Contract of Employment.

You are hereby offered for the ensuing 1980-81 school term the same position held by you with this Board for the 1979-80 school term of the Prentiss County School District subject to the express condition that in the event the county school district should be ordered by the courts to surrender control and possession of the school facilities where you work prior to the end of the 1980-81 school term to the proposed Booneville Municipal School District, your contract of employment would also terminate at such time.

Your duties will be the same as for 1979-80 and your salary will be the same plus any and all increases authorized by the 1980 Legislative Session.

Sincerely,

Lex Cain
County Superintendent of Education

I hereby accept the foregoing offer of employment upon the terms therein stipulated.

This _____ day of _____ 1980.

Supt. Lex Cain Responds To Teachers' Meeting

Teachers from the schools of the city of Booneville met Sunday, organized and voted not to sign a letter of intent to employ from the Prentiss County School District (see story, this page).

In response to that meeting and its outcome, County Superintendent Lex Cain issued the following statement Tuesday:

"If any Booneville teachers are unemployed, as far as the Prentiss County Board of Education is concerned it will be of their own choice. I have stated publicly many times and to many individual teachers that we are not going to bring new people in from out of the county and hire them, until we see what happens to the teachers now employed in Booneville.

"I cannot speak for others, but I feel, and the Prentiss County board members have expressed their agreement with me, that we have, if not a legal, a moral, obligation to place the teachers now in the system before we begin bringing new people in.

"When we hired county teachers in April, we did not know at that time that the separate school district was formed illegally. Now that we have that information, we are offering all Booneville teachers their jobs back with the stipulation only that if the courts should give their school buildings to the city, we would no longer have jurisdiction over whether or not they have their job.

"I feel this is the best our board can do at this time. We are and have been all along, concerned about these teachers, and have expressed this concern.

"On the unemployment question: I do not believe the school district should pay unemployment to people who have reasonable assurance they will be employed for next school year.

"The leaders of the movement to collect this money from school district

Ends In Failure

State Officials Meet With School Boards

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Another attempt at a meeting between the Booneville Municipal Separate School District's Board of Trustees and the Prentiss County School District's Board of Education to work out problems for the next school term ended in failure Tuesday night.

Saying that the separate school district does not legally exist, the county school board brought the meeting involving the two school boards and

'Until such time as we are recognized as a legal entity by the county school board, it appears there is nothing else to be said.'

-- Attorney William Smith

representatives from the State Department of Education in Jackson to a rapid end Tuesday night.

The meeting, held at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School, was called by the separate school district's board of trustees to give the state education officials an opportunity to share information with the two school boards and answer questions concerning the operation of the schools next school term.

Dr. Bob McCord, Assistant State Superintendent of Education, and four representatives from the finance, transportation and vocational education departments of the State Department of Education traveled from Jackson to meet with the two school boards at the request of the county school board.

After introductions were made, the meeting began with each of the state education officials making a short statement concerning his particular field in the Department of Education. The floor was then opened to questions.

At that point, Donald Franks, attorney for the county school board, asked to make a statement.

Saying the meeting on how to operate the two school systems during the coming year was premature, Franks said the county school board does not consider separate school district to exist, "now or after July 1, since it was formed illegally."

The county school board's attorney said that the trustees of the separate school district had attempted to take over county property in order to operate a separate school district. "The County School Board says that take over would be illegal," he said.

Franks indicated to the state representatives that,

County School Board Refuses To Release Property, Students

Even though the trustees of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District rejected a recent proposal from the Prentiss County School District to abandon the newly formed system and consolidate all five of the county's high schools into two, it appears the county school board intends to try to implement this plan on their own.

The county school board last week adopted a policy taking a firm stand against the newly formed separate school district. They are now refusing to release county students to attend city schools as they had previously said they would, and they are refusing to turn over to the separate school district school property within the city limits of Booneville.

These and other points were included in a resolution, termed a Delineation of Policy, passed by the county school board last week. In this resolution, the county school board has refused to recognize the separate school district as being legally formed.

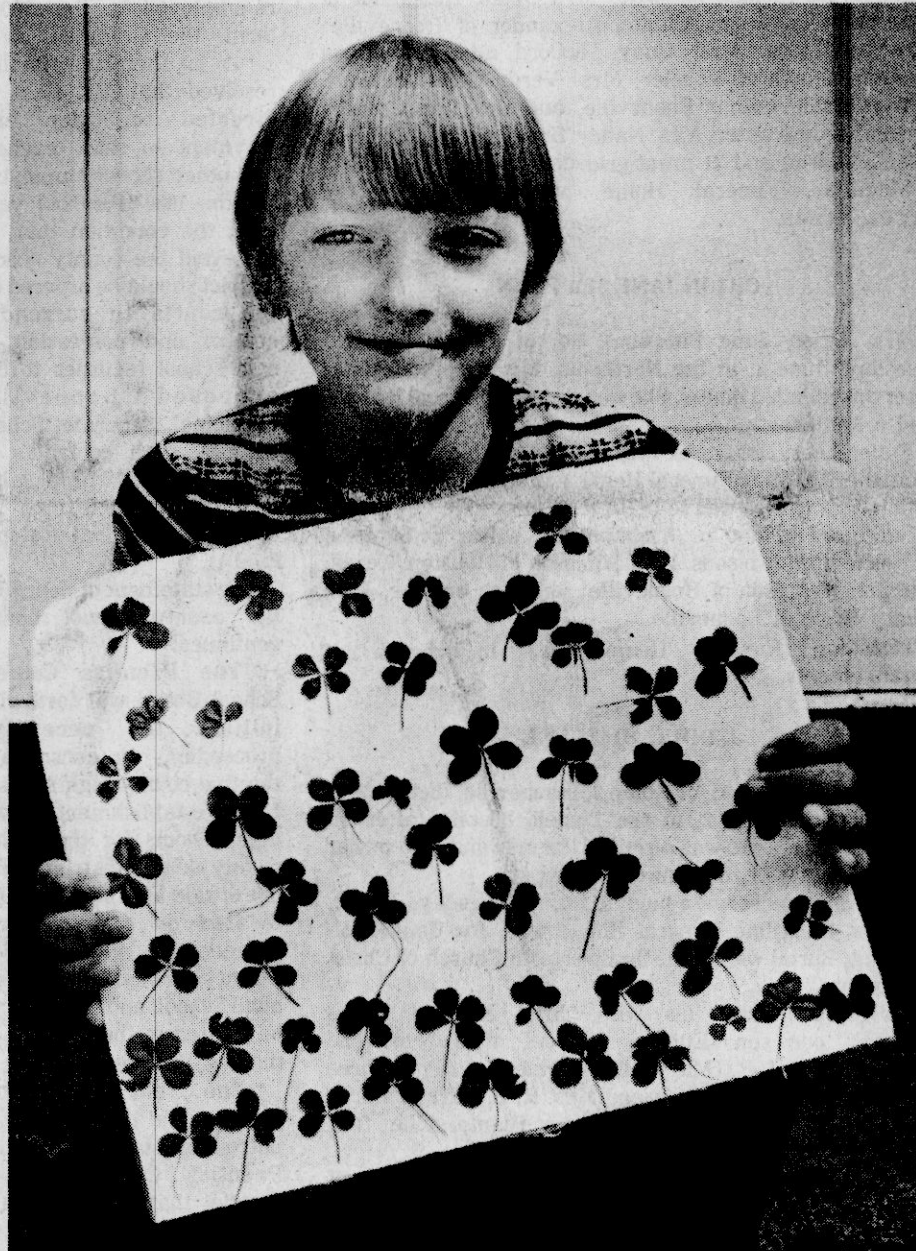

"The Prentiss County School District will continue to operate, maintain, control and exercise jurisdiction over all the schools, students, and transportation services, including those situated within the corporate limits of the city of Booneville; and the board is presently engaged in planning and implementing for the 1980-81 school year a complete and improved school program for all the educable children residing in the present district," the board's resolution states.

The policy statement also says, "The Prentiss County School Board hereby makes known that it will not voluntarily surrender or deliver to the proposed Booneville Municipal Separate School District any of the school buildings, land, related school facilities, furniture, fixtures, school

Driver's License, Helmet Laws To Be Inforced By Local Officers

Sheriff John McCauley said Monday that the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department will strictly enforce the state's laws pertaining to driver's licenses and motorcycle crash helmets.

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy has endorsed the action being taken by Sheriff McCauley, saying the police department will do likewise.

The laws to which McCauley and Stacy were referring appear in the Mississippi Code of 1972, Motor Vehicle and Traffic Regulations.

Section 63-1-5 of those regulations states that a license is required to operate vehicles on the roads of the state of Mississippi:

"No person shall drive a vehicle, propelled other than by muscular power, upon the public streets or highways in the State of Mississippi without first securing an operator's license to drive on the streets or highways in the state, except those persons and especially exempted by section 63-1-7."

The exceptions listed under Section 63-1-7 include (a) any person operating a vehicle of the armed forces of the United States; (b) any nonresident over the age of 15 years who has a valid operator's license to drive a motor vehicle on the highways of his home state or country; (c) any person operating a road roller, road machinery, or any farm tractor or implement of husbandry temporarily drawn, moved or propelled on the highways; and (d) any engineer or motorman using tracks for road or street, though used in the streets.

Section 63-7-64 of the Code pertains to motorcycle crash helmets. It states:

"No person shall operate or ride any motor-cycle or motor scooter upon the public roads or highways of the state unless such person is wearing on his or her head a crash helmet of the type and design inspected and approved by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators. Violation of this section shall be deemed a violation of the traffic regulations and rules of the road and punishable as provided by section 63-9-11."

According to section 63-9-11 of the Code, driving or riding a motorcycle without a helmet is a misdemeanor. For a first conviction, a person shall be punished by

Citizens Meet With Aldermen On House Trailer Permits

A group of more than 100 concerned citizens were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Booneville Board of Aldermen Tuesday night to protest the location of mobile homes in the Washington-Ninth Street area of West Booneville.

Bill Murphy, spokesman for the group, presented a statement to the board outlining the activities of the group thus far.

"We carried our petition to Mr. Nolan Wheeler, the Planning Commission, the mayor, and now, tonight, we are here to ask your help in solving a problem that should have been no problem," he said.

"A trailer park, or intentions of establishing an area, for parking trailers, immediately decreases the property value of this immediate area," he continued.

Murphy then quoted a portion of the 1967 zoning ordinance which defines its purpose as "a comprehensive city plan and is enacted to preserve and promote the public health, safety, and general welfare of the inhabitants of the City of Booneville and of the public generally, and to encourage and facilitate the orderly growth and expansion of Booneville."

The property in question is zoned RB, which is for single family dwellings with the "same uses permitted as RA zoning." Mobile homes are not permitted in RA zones.

Murphy said the position of the area residents was to "petition you, our mayor and board of aldermen to conscientiously study our present situation and pray you will act, without haste and in the best interest of those involved for the future interests of the city of Booneville."

Murphy then asked permission to recognize the group, allow them to "correct any incorrect statements" he had made, and allow them to ask questions of the board.

Tommy Comer, a resident of the area asked what the exact provisions of the zoning ordinance are.

"Does the ordinance allow

Correction

In a story on Page 1 of last week's paper, it was incorrectly reported that the residents in an area of East Booneville were protesting the issuance of mobile home permits in their neighborhood.

The story should have stated that the residents were in West Booneville. The community involved is in the Horse Shoe Acres area.

City Teachers

Junior High; Shirley Cole and Daniel Stutts, Booneville Middle School; and Martha Murphy and Wilda Fugitt, Booneville Elementary School.

The teachers at the meeting were also concerned over a letter they had learned the county school board intended to mail to the city teachers, offering them employment with the county school system next school term if the courts do not order the county school system to turn over the city school to the Booneville Municipal Separate School District (see story, this page).

Because the teachers from the city schools have not been given contracts for next school year, they have all been unemployed since the end of school. Teachers are hired for 180 days by the school board, and that is all they get paid for.

However, some teachers have their pay spread out over a 12-month period so that they will receive a pay check each month. Those that get paid on a 12-month basis do not receive more money; they get more pay checks, but each is smaller than if they were paid on a 9-month basis. The method of payment is left to the teacher.

"Because of our unemployment status, we have applied for unemployment compensation," a spokesperson from the steering committee told the Banner-Independent. "In doing this, we learned that the county school system is self-insured and thus liable for the teachers' unemployment."

This means that if the teachers' applications for unemployment compensation are approved, the state Employment Security Commission will pay their unemployment compensation, but the Prentiss County School District will have to reimburse that agency.

County Superintendent Lex Cain said Tuesday that the county school system has a fund set aside for that purpose, but that there is not enough money in it to pay compensation to all the teachers. The rest would have to be paid out of county school operations funds.

J.M. Hallmark of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission in Corinth told the Banner-Independent Tuesday that it is not only the teachers who have signed up for unemployment compensation, but also maintenance personnel, lunchroom workers, and other school personnel. He estimated that roughly about 100 former employees of the city schools had signed up.

"As a result of our application for unemployment," Curlee said, "through informed sources we have learned that the Booneville teachers will receive from the county school board an offer of employment, not a contract of employment as the teachers outside the city have."

"We feel this is not an actual intent to employ, but just a step to block our receiving unemployment benefits," one of the teachers said.

A representative of the Mississippi Association of Educators (MAE) and a lawyer met with the teachers Sunday.

"They advised the teachers of the city of Booneville not to sign any document other than a legal contract of employment," one of the teachers said. "They also advised teachers to do nothing individually without legal counsel."

The teachers at the meeting voted unanimously to continue to seek unemployment compensation.

Hallmark, of the Employment Security Commission, said Tuesday that, due to the number of applicants expected to be signing up for compensation, he had requested extra personnel from the Tupelo office be in Booneville Wednesday to help. He also said he would be there himself.

County Superintendent Lex Cain has also recommended to the board that all teachers and other school employees working for the county schools within the city limits of Booneville for the 1979-80 school year to be re-employed for the 1980-81 term, the statement said.

"It is therefore further resolved that Mr. Cain be directed to offer employment to said teachers and other school employees for the 1980-81 school year upon the condition that, in the event the county school district should be ordered by the courts to surrender control and possession of said school facilities to the proposed Booneville Municipal Separate School district, such contracts of employment would also terminate at such time," it continues (See related story, Page 1).

The statement of policy by the county school board continues:

"The Prentiss County School Board will forthwith initiate the necessary proceedings to consolidate the five county high schools by the establishment of two high schools for the entire county school district, with one of said high schools to be located on district land adjacent to the Prentiss County Vocational-Technical School, and the other to be located in the vicinity of the Big V Community."

"The board hereby pledges to the students, patrons and taxpayers of the Prentiss County School District that it will remain steadfast in this proposal to consolidate the five county high schools into two schools as stated above, and that the board will not abandon,

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, Could you tell me something about angels, where they came from and what they do?

ANSWER: I can only tell you what the Bible says. Angels are created beings (Col. 1:6; Psa 148:1-5). Only God is from everlasting to everlasting (Psa 90:2). God created angels with a free will (2 Pet 2:4). They do not marry or reproduce (Lk. 20:34,35). Only man, of all the spirit beings, has been given the power to reproduce himself. The Godhead does not reproduce itself, neither do angels reproduce themselves. God's law is that reproduction take place in marriage (Gen. 2:24; Heb. 13:4). It seems that God created an innumerable company of angels (Heb. 12:22). Angels are a higher order of rational creatures than man. Jesus took on himself the nature of man, not the nature of angels (Heb 2:16). Angels have been used as messengers of God to carry out his bidding (Gen 19:13). God sent two angels to Sodom to destroy it. He sent an angel to Moses (Ex. 3:2). The angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream (Matt. 1:20). The Bible also says angels have a great interest in the salvation of man. There seems to be rank among angels because Michael is called the archangel (Jude 9). This term means "Chief" or "Captain" of angels.

Beauty Pageants Set For Friday, Saturday

Two beauty pageants are slated this week and some 20 girls have applied for both the Miss Hospitality Pageant set for Friday afternoon at Northeast and the Miss Prentiss County Pageant slated Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Building north of Booneville.

The Miss Hospitality pageant is an annual affair sponsored by local civic clubs of Booneville and, according to pageant director Mrs. Louise Peeler, some 16 girls are applicants for royalty.

The pageant will begin Friday afternoon with a luncheon for the contestants. It will be followed later with a reception at 3 p.m. in Northeast Junior College's Black and Gold Lounge in the Frank Haney Student Union where, at the conclusion, the new Miss Hospitality and her alternate will be named.

Melody Strange, the reigning Miss Hospitality, will be on hand to talk about her previous year of royalty and will congratulate the newly elected winner. At presstime applicant information was incomplete for the Miss Prentiss County pageant but several area girls are expected to enter.

Pageant co-directors are Doug Holland and Cindy Lott. The pageant will feature the girls in evening gowns, swimsuits, and talent competition along with judges' interviews.

The girls will be judged on a percentage system and the winner and two alternates will be crowned.

Additional information may be obtained from either Doug Holland or Cindy Lott concerning this pageant.

Unemployment Drops

County Employment Increases By 180

The number of Prentiss County residents employed has edged up some 180 individuals, while the number of individuals unemployed has dropped by 100.

These changes caused the overall labor force to rise slightly. However, compared to one year ago, both unemployment and employment are up as well as the civilian labor force.

According to the latest figures prepared by the Mississippi State Employment Service, there were 690 Prentiss County residents unemployed at mid-April, or 6.3 percent of the civilian labor force. This compares with 7.3 percent last month and 4.5 percent one year ago.

Establishment based employment in the county, which is composed of manufacturing and non-manufacturing employment, climbed slightly over the month and year to reach 6,900. Both manufacturing and nonmanufacturing contributed to these increases.

Statistics also reveal that the total civilian labor force for the four-county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, and Tishomingo dropped to 45,090 at mid-April, reflecting a loss of 700 from the previous month. However, from the same reporting one year ago, there was a significant increase of 2,180. The number of individuals unemployed declined from 3,850 in March to 3,220 in April, compared to 2,300 one year ago.

The area rate of unemployment stood at 7.1 percent, compared to 8.4 percent last month and 5.4 percent one year ago. The number of residents employed was estimated to be 41,870, down slightly from the March figure but up some 1,260 from April 1979. Establishment based employment for the four-county area declined at mid-April to 35,440, a decline of 490 from the last reporting period. However, an increase of 690 was noted over the year. There were 15,380 workers employed in manufacturing industries at mid-April. This number represents decreases from the previous month and one year ago.

Non-manufacturing industries, with a total employment of 20,060 in April, dipped slightly from the March estimate but experienced a significant increase of 1,530 from April 1979.

Jobs For Youths

County Included In State Job Program

Prentiss is one of 33 counties in the state to be included in a summer youth job program, according to the Governor's Office in Jackson.

The State Employment Security Commission (ES) has entered into contract with the Governor's Office of Job Development and Training (GOJDT) to operate the FY'80 Summer Youth Program (SYEP) in the counties.

Other counties included in the program are Alcorn, Attala, Calhoun, Carroll, Chickasaw, Copiah, DeSoto, George, Greene, Grenada, Itawamba, Jasper, Jones, Lafayette, Lawrence, Leake, Lincoln, Lowndes, Marshall, Montgomery, Perry, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Tate, Tippah, Tishomingo, Union, Warren, Wayne, Wilkinson and Yalobushia.

"ES has been awarded $2,749,629 to provide eligible youths with useful work experience during the summer months, Gov.

William Winter said. "Participants will be paid minimum wage during the nine-week project. The program which is being sponsored by GOJDT will also be operated in an additional 44 counties through community based organizations."

"The major goal of SYEP," says Dr. Robert L. Robinson, GOJDT Executive Director, "is to assist eligible youth, to develop their maximum occupational potential. Hopefully, through their participation, youths will be able to obtain unsubsidized jobs. As an added feature, the program is designed to encourage youths to remain in school and complete their education."

Recruiting has already begun for the program. Eligible participants who live in this 33 county area who are interested in the program should go to their local ES Office (201 N. Main St. in Booneville, across from the county jail).

'Were You Counted?'

Census Program In Final Phase

Were you counted in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing?

If you think you or your family might have been missed, fill out the form printed on Page 1B in this week's Banner Independent as a public service.

Cut it out and mail it to the address shown on the form. It will be checked against the master address list for your area so there is no chance of an individual or household being counted twice.

Steve Guyton, manager of the Regional Census Center, says the "Were You Counted?" campaign is the final phase of the 1980 census. It is being conducted in an effort to insure that no one is overlooked.

A few days before April 1, Census Day, questionnaires were mailed to all residential addresses in this area. They were to be filled out and mailed back on April 1.

After about two weeks, the Census Bureau hired and trained local residents as census takers and sent them out to call at homes from which no questionnaires had been received. They also had to contact, usually by phone, households that had returned inadequately filled-out questionnaires.

"A check is now being made to ascertain that a questionnaire for every household has been completed," Guyton said, "and shortly we will be able to turn over to local officials the population counts for their communities."

Known as the Local Review Program of the census, its purpose is to give local government officials an opportunity to spot errors while census workers are still in the field; thus, contributing significantly to the accuracy and success of the census.

"Officials will see only totals for their communities," Guyton said, "not the census questionnaires containing personal information, which is confidential."

New Number Established For Directory Assistance

Beginning this weekend, Booneville telephone customers will dial a new number to reach Directory Assistance, according to South Central Bell Manager, Bob Bartley.

"Booneville customers needing a telephone number that isn't listed in their directory will dial 1 plus 411 to reach Directory Assistance," Bartley said. "This number change is being made to provide a more uniform Directory Assistance number throughout Mississippi."

Bartley said that after the change is made those customers who today report their telephone number to the operator on direct dialed calls will be asked to give this same information on Directory Assistance calls.

"This calling information is being collected for record purposes only and does not mean that our customers will be charged for the Directory Assistance call," he emphasized.

The Directory Assistance number change will be made Friday afternoon. Later in the day Friday, the Booneville exchange will also be connected to the Zero-Plus long distance dialing network.

Zero-Plus service will enable telephone users to dial direct all their long distance calls. Customers can continue to place their One-Plus long distance calls just as in the past. Zero-Plus service will now make it possible to also dial operator-handled calls, such as collect or person-to-person calls.

To place an operator-assisted call with Zero-Plus, a caller simply dials "0", plus the long distance number he's calling. While the equipment is connecting the call an operator will come on the line to obtain billing and handling information. Once that information is obtained the call is completed automatically.

All telephones, including coin phones, will be equipped for Zero-Plus dialing during the June 6 conversion.

"Zero-Plus is a convenience to long-distance callers, speeding and simplifying the completion of operator-handled calls," Bartley said. "At the same time, it helps an operator handle more calls and concentrate more on the customers rather than the mechanics of dialing, and timing, the calls. Modern, electronic equipment will handle the switching, timing and billing of the calls."

Public Hearing Set On Funds For Marietta Health Center

A public hearing on applications for funds of $93,151 for the Marietta Health Center will take place at the Tippah County Courthouse in Ripley June 10 at 7 p.m.

The Northeast Subarea Advisory Council of the Mississippi Health Systems Agency Inc. (MHSA) will conduct the public hearing to review the applications for the health center.

The health center is described as a primary care health clinic, Nurse Practitioner staffed, to serve the residents of southeastern Prentiss County and northeastern Itawamba County, using an existing clinic building.

Other applications to be reviewed at the June 10 hearing include the application for $363,300 from Marshall County Hospital in Holly Springs for a new emergency room and remodeling of present space to provide medical records, laboratory and combination room for a conference medical library and inservice education.

An application for $19,775 from the North Tippah Health Clinic in Walnut to update equipment will also be reviewed.

Copies of the applications to be reviewed are on display at the MHSA office in the Chamber of Commerce Building, 601 Second Ave. North, Amory, and at the main office at 510 George St., Suite 400, Jackson.

Summer Feeding Program Set

Mississippi Action For Progress Inc. will sponsor a summer feeding program Monday through Friday of each week from June 9 through August 1, it was announced last week.

The program will provide two free meals each day to persons 18 years and younger and to mentally and-or physically handicapped persons who are enrolled and participating in a school established for that purpose, without discrimination of race, color or national origin.

Breakfast will be served from 8 to 9 a.m. and lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Eastside Community Center in Booneville.

Mississippi Economic Council The People's Business

An Editorial

Editor's Note: The following editorial from the Mississippi Economic Council follows the announcement two weeks ago by the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and the Tax Assessor-Collector that they have formulated a plan designed to equalize property appraisals in Prentiss County. From the comments made by the MEC, it appears our local officials may be paving the way for such actions in other counties throughout the state.

Some county government officials are responding to the Legislature's property reappraisal action, initiating moves toward more equitable property taxation in their counties.

With the Governor's signature barely dry on the optional reappraisal bill passed during the 1980 session and the Supreme Court hearing on a Hinds County Chancery Court decision mandating statewide reappraisal by 1983 scheduled soon, one North Mississippi county in particular is taking a close look at its tax rolls—and finding wide discrepancies.

A county official is reported to have said that after a search of the tax rolls, they are unable to determine that any formula has ever been used or pattern followed in determining the value of real property for tax purposes.

Other findings include:

- Houses of equal value located within a short distance of each other valued at different amounts for tax purposes.
- New homes built to replace older ones without changes made on the rolls.
- Additions made to buildings without tax roll changes.

That same county is taking steps to correct the situation. But what of others in the state?

The state's system of property taxation has been described as the weakest part of the tax system despite the fact that the State Constitution provides that "taxation shall be uniform and equal throughout the state. Property shall be taxed in proportion to its value."

State statutes also require the Tax Commission to examine tax rolls from all counties to assure that assessments are equalized among the counties on the various types of property.

But the Constitution and Tax Commission review requirements have largely been ignored.

Statewide reappraisal and equalization of taxes is necessary for the economic advancement of the state. Investors from outside often hesitate to come into the state when they find property taxation so loosely administered from one local government to another.

The Mississippi Economic Council has for many years recognized that the state's property tax system is a serious weakness with undesirable effects on capital investments. Also, tax-supported activities such as junior colleges and other multi-county activities are undergirded by local millage levies which cannot be equalized if property assessment procedures vary from county to county.

Reappraisal is necessary to equalize tax rolls, induce greater capital investment in the state, and guarantee that school systems will be adequately funded.

Eyes On Mississippi

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON—The legislature may have come up with a new device to keep its hand in the affairs of boards and agencies in the executive branch of government, despite Gov. William Winter's moratorium on allowing lawmakers to serve on any new state boards.

It's called the legislative "oversight committee," the first of which was attached by the lawmakers to Winter's new Housing Finance Corporation, the state agency which will oversee a $150 million residential mortgage loan program for middle and lower income Mississippians.

Legislative leaders apparently decided that if there was going to be a broad new state service, they were going to get in on the act somehow.

But they evidently wanted to avoid a confrontation with the governor by putting legislators on the board which will administer the housing program.

So, they created the appendage of the Housing Corporation Act Oversight Committee made up of five Senators and five members of the House, who will not be voting members of the board, but supposedly would look over the shoulder of the board.

The legislation creating the legislative oversight committee, it now appears, went much further than giving the lawmakers mere review authority.

Strictly interpreted, the legislative committee could hold an absolute veto power over the new Housing Corporation, at least in its vital initial stages of underwriting the $150 million in housing bonds and employing a financial advisor and fiscal agent.

In the language of the new statute, the Housing Corporation would have to get the "approval" of the legislators on the Oversight Committee before it could do any of those things.

There's no doubt from the initial exploratory meetings between the Housing Corporation board and the legislative committee that the legislators aim to exercise to the fullest whatever control they can over the Housing Board.

Winter's legislative liaison people evidently raised no objection to the idea of having a legislative oversight committee in the bill, as a palliative to make the whole idea of the state getting into the housing business digestible to some oldtime legislative foes.

But the concept of the Winter people and the concept of the legislature as to the functions of legislative oversight committee apparently were somewhat different. The Winter forces thought the legislative oversight mainly would serve to give the Housing Board guidance on setting interest rates and allocating funds to various areas of the state.

In the legislative process, however, the powers of the legislative oversight committee underwent a broadening to the point that the lawmakers now may have given themselves the final say-so over the biggest decisions the Housing Board has to make in order to get the $150 million home building program launched.

Winter has named a blue-ribbon group of banking and business leaders to the board of the Housing Corporation, among them some of the best financial brains in the state.

What could have been an ideal citizen board to step in and help government function for the benefit of Mississippians greatly in need of better housing now may find itself with a legislative albatross around its neck.

Meantime, the Winter Administration which had pushed the housing bill as a centerpiece of its people-oriented programs, is holding its breath on the sidelines hoping that the citizen board and legislative oversight committee will not become at loggerheads and cause the whole program to be stymied.

But, as banker Robert Kennington, of Grenada, the board's chairman said at week's end, "there are some serious questions yet to be resolved."

City Park

"I'm a concerned parent that has a child playing at the park, and I'm concerned over the way the park is being run in general. It is not right for our park commissioner to hire a man from out of the county who teaches at Ripley High School in the morning and then comes to work in the afternoon on the day he comes. Half of the time when you go out there, he is not out there. In fact, there is a person who wanted the job, a retired man, who lives in Prentiss County and would have all the time in the world to work at the park."

Taxes

For the past four or five years I have paid about $100 in county taxes on my brick home here in the city. Under the new guidelines established by the board of supervisors and the tax assessor-collector, I'll pay about $480. If this is not a reappraisal, I would like for them to explain exactly what it is."

Thanks

"I want to thank the Banner-Independent for their Speaking Out column. I think the truth is a good thing to put in the paper. After all, the truth is the Christian way."

Tag Laws

"When our new sheriff first took office, he had a big piece in the paper about how he was going to straighten out the tags. Last Saturday morning on the Wal Mart and Foodway parking lot, I counted 15 vehicles that had dealer tags or no tags at all. Is this what he calls straightening out the tag situation?"

Support Sheriff

"I would like to say something about the articles in last week's paper concerning how the sheriff's office is being run. Here are some simple facts: None of the prisoners are going home several times a week as someone said, who apparently doesn't know anything about what's going on. No one goes home. None of the wives go to the jail and cook for anyone. There is not even a kitchen in the whole place, nor a stove. The prisoners are not allowed food in the cells that people bring in off the streets, because people sneak in dope, marijuana and alcohol. My husband is a prisoner in the jail and he has been treated with respect and common decency, as he has every right to be. I think we have one of the finest men in the sheriff's office in the county. Since we elected him, I believe we should let him run the jail and the sheriff's office as he sees fit. If he needs help, I'm quite sure he'll ask for it. And I believe he'll ask a man not too many of us know well enough. People, let's stop trying to make trouble and pray for him to do what he thinks is right. Thank you."

Wants To Know

"I would like for the tax assessor-collector to explain if this new equalization that he and the board of supervisors are doing only pertains to home owners, or does that also include businesses? No mention has been made of personal property, such as factories, equipment, and that kind of thing. Is it just picking on home owners, property owners, or are they going to get businesses in a higher tax bracket also?"

Enforcement

"I would just like to say something about our law here in Prentiss County. I don't think they are doing their job. They don't patrol the road over around Meadowview Subdivision. Somebody called in one time about people driving so fast—if the people would keep their children out of the road and in other people's yards they wouldn't be any trouble like that going on."

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT: Refugee Problems

One issue that has been on everyone's mind recently is the influx of refugees into the United States from areas such as Southeast Asia, Cuba, and Haiti.

There has been a failure by our government to implement an effective policy that recognizes both our concern for these unfortunate refugees and other foreigners who want to come to the U.S. as well as our own national economic and social interests.

We want to be a good neighbor, but there has to be a limit to our hospitality.

There are two separate aspects of the overall problem of formulating and then enforcing U.S. policy. One involves setting the quotas for entry into our country of immigrants who intend to become citizens or who want to work either on a temporary or permanent basis. The other involves refugees who are fleeing from their own homelands for political reasons.

The refugee problem has been particularly troublesome. Most Americans are sympathetic to the plight of those fleeing Communist dictatorships in Cuba and Vietnam, for example, or oppressive regimes such as Haiti, but they feel that our present economic recession and some of the social tension already existing in some parts of the country make for an explosive situation. A large influx of refugees will obviously strain the job market, as well as housing, health and education services of our communities.

Already, we are being advised the price tag for the American taxpayer in handling the 80,000 or more Cuban refugees could reach $300 million.

It is my contention the refugee problem is a world problem, and that other nations have a responsibility to help absorb the tide of people fleeing hostile conditions in their home countries. Our government should work within existing international organizations, including the United Nations, to encourage other nations to shoulder more responsibility for these homeless people.

Current law establishes a worldwide ceiling allowing people from foreign countries to immigrate into the United States each year. This numerical system has allowed nearly six million foreigners to come into our country since 1965, when this immigration control system was established by Congress.

There is legislation pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee, on which I serve, to liberalize our immigration laws and allow 61,000 aliens over and above the 270,000 statutory limit for 1980 to enter the U.S. this year. This is in addition to all the refugees who are entering the country on an emergency basis. I intend to make every effort to kill this provision of the bill.

U.S. immigration is already at the highest level in fifty years, with over 600,000 aliens admitted in 1978, the last year for which we have complete figures.

The Judiciary Committee also will have the opportunity, presumably in the near future, to consider the nomination of a new commissioner to head the Immigration and Naturalization Service, a post which has been vacant for nine months.

I plan to use these confirmation hearings as a forum to seek a commitment from the administration to formulate and carry out a more reasonable and effective policy in dealing with immigration and refugee problems. This has been sadly lacking in recent years.

Two years ago Congress mandated a special commission to study our immigration and refugee policy and to recommend modifications.

While we are awaiting this study commission's report, which is due in about one year, I am advocating that the United States declare a moratorium on any immigration increases allowable under existing law.

The American people have always been humane and compassionate throughout our history to those seeking refuge for political, religious, economic or other compelling reasons. But we should not have the sole responsibility within the community of nations for bearing the burden for all the refugee and immigration problems of the world.

Senate Report

Senator District 5
Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

H.B. No. 838: The bill repeals the existing procedure which allows for the termination of parental rights "whenever the parent or parents of a child have abandoned or deserted a child, or are mentally, morally or otherwise unfit to rear and train such child..."

Miss. Code Ann. Section 93-15-1 (1972). In lieu of the repealed procedure, the bill establishes the following specific standards for the Welfare Department and the courts to follow in making the determination by a preponderance of the evidence to terminate parental rights:

(a) A parent has deserted a child under the age of 3 years old for at least six months or has deserted a child 3 years of age or older for at least one year. During this time, the parent also must have left no means of identification with the proper authorities or family.

(b) A parent has been responsible for "a series of abusive incidents" to a child.

(c) A parent practices continuous behavior which makes it "impossible" for the child to be returned to his or her custody. Such "impossible" situations posed by parents include the diagnosable condition of long-term alcoholism or drug addiction, severe mental deficiencies or mental illness, or extreme physical handicaps which would make a parent unable to administer minimal care to a child. These behavior problems, however, constitute grounds for revoking a parent's rights only if the child care agency makes diligent efforts to help the parent overcome these problems the behavior continues.

(d) When there is a "deep-seated antipathy" by the child toward the parent or a

We have several club members working with various companies on the waterway. You all better not listen too much on 14 or 17 when around their working areas. These are the channels they stand by on and "Elmer Fudpucker" tells me these can be classified sometimes as HBO.

Saturday night we had our June and July social. There was lots of good food and then we sat back and enjoyed listening to the Singing Echoes Quartet. "White Girl," "Lady Buffalo," and "Thrasher Star" sang happy birthday to "Big Q" who was celebrating his birthday. No one could get him to say how old he was other than 39 and holding.

We appreciate the quartet coming and singing for us and hope they can come again. Remember there will not be another social until August.

Happy birthday to "Little Hangman," "Letterman," "Lady Termite," and "Apple Jack." Hope each of you have a nice day and have many more to enjoy.

How about that lucky "King"? He won $100 at Foodway. Wonder when we are all gonna celebrate, huh?

Saturday and Sunday, June 7-8, there will be a fish fry, dance, and jamboree at the National Guard Armory, Hwy. 61 South in Blytheville, Ark. Door prizes will be given away all day.

Happy anniversary to "Bedsprings" and "Lady Bedsprings." Hope you have a nice day and have many more to enjoy.

"Lady Termite," did you have any dressing for dinner Sunday? If you don't want that bowl, "Twitty Bird" or I will claim it.

Hope all our sick folks are still improving. Until next week stay well, be happy, and attend the church of your choice.

Still Time

For Census

It's not too late to be counted in the 1980 census, according to the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Questionnaires were mailed to every household on March 28, and most people were instructed to mail back a completed questionnaire on Census Day, April 1. Millions did so, but the Bureau reports that a number of households have not yet been heard from.

Bilbo many more happy birthdays.

Mr. Andrew Carpenter, former native of Jumpertown, died at his home in McComb, Miss., May 22. Mrs. Lee McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lacey of Jumpertown, Mrs. Marie Smith and son Rickey of Memphis attended Mr. Carpenter's funeral Friday and came home Saturday. Mr. Carpenter is the brother of Mrs. Ollie Windham and Mrs. Dollie Lee McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hughey of Raymond, Miss., spent the weekend Memorial Day with Miss Ora Hughey, Mrs. Clifton Hughey, Mr. and Mrs. G.A. English and Dean, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo Baggett and Becky Michael were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Garrett recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo Baggett, Mr. and Mrs.

Kenneth Michael, Sam and Becky, Mrs. Wade Lambert and Trey attended graduation exercises of Miss Lisa Carnal at Alcorn Central High on May 15. Lisa is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo Baggett.

Mrs. Marie Green and Mrs. Lloyd Green were supper guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo Baggett.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Loveless of Booneville were dinner guests of Mrs. Birdie Loveless recently.

Mrs. Luna Crofford, Mrs. Francis Robinson and Mrs. Pauline Dixon of Ripley, Miss., attended memorial services and homecoming at Jumpertown and were luncheon guests of Mrs. Birdie Loveless last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Michael were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Woodruff recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brady and children were here for the homecoming day and their vacation with his parents and brothers and sisters. They are here from up North.

News From Oak Ridge

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

Such beautiful weather we're having! Many people will be benefitted by the warm, dry days and when rain is needed again, it will come.

Let's look backward just a little to Memorial Day and think of our debt to all the soldiers who fell in defense of our country, and pray that greater efforts be made for a peaceful negotiation with Iran--thus avoiding more sacrifice of human life. We should remember the hostages, too.

Last Monday was a special day for me, as it was designated for the descendants of W.H. Sandy, my father, to meet. They came from Corinth, Baldwin, Booneville, Tishomingo, and Aberdeen. Twenty-three of us met at the Natchez Trace Inn Restaurant to have lunch and fellowship together. Those from Aberdeen met us at the cemetery near Sherman where the graves of our parents and one sister were to be decorated. Then pictures were made and much reminiscing was done.

One sister, Mrs. Fay Mann of Sheffield, Ala., was unable to attend. Visitors still meet with us in the services. On May 25, these were present: Lori Stoop of Booneville, E.Q. Weeks from near Osborn Creek, and the Tommy Stoop family from Tunnel Hill, Ga.

On June 1, Mrs. Frances Hughes from the Stutts Chapel community was present. Visitors are cordially welcome at any of the assemblies.

The Myron Coats family was in Jackson, Miss., for three days, May 27-29. Myron was there attending a Municipal Safety Conference and workshop. Betty and Mike took advantage of the trip to have a short vacation.

While Myron was in school, they went to the zoo and toured the Metro-Mall. They had rooms at the Jackson Hilton. On Wednesday night they worshipped with the Church of Christ in Clinton, Miss.

Mrs. Bea Lawrence and Mrs. May Holliday of Booneville were guests of Mrs. Pauline Jones on Friday of last week.

The Calvin Barbers' are now completely domiciled in the preacher's home; he says they want to be of service in any way and every way possible to the congregation and the community.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy is recuperating in the home of her son, Houston, in Marietta.

Mrs. May Eldridge is a patient in N.E. Hospital, room 211.

Clyde Gardner remains in the Baldwin Hospital room 46. His condition is still serious.

Mrs. Edna Mayo was absent June 1 due to illness.

Get-well wishes are extended to Mrs. Kennedy, "Ma" Green, Mr. Gardner, and Mrs. Mayo; also to May Eldridge.

Cathy Polk was in Memphis Saturday, May 24, to attend the Stegall-Dupre wedding. After the wedding and reception she spent the night in the home of an aunt, Mrs. B.B. Hill.

Here's a saying from the New Albany Informer: "Some people are dog tired at night because they growled all day."

News From Sunflower

By BETTYE BRANDON
Correspondent

We are happy to report that Miss Gail Grove has returned safely to the city and is completely recovered from her illness. She expresses her appreciation to all for the assistance given to her and her family during this ordeal. Mrs. Ruby Nell Rogers is the mother of Gail, not her sister as was stated in last week's article. I am sorry for this error.

We enjoyed a very enlightening and spiritual sermon Sunday morning at Beckley Chapel C. M. E. Church on the different aspects of love. The message was given by the pastor, the Rev. Willie Powell. God bless you, Rev. Powell, and we pray that the message will prove beneficial to all who were fortunate to hear it.

Homecoming was observed at Beckley Chapel Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Lewis Ragin was the guest speaker for the event.

Choir Day was observed at Wolf Creek M. B. Church Sunday afternoon, sponsored by the Number two choir. The Holiness Deliverance Church Choir was the participating guest in a very enjoyable song service.

Mrs. Gail Swinney and Miss Cassandra Gardner will be holding rehearsals for the Children's Day program at Spring Hill M. B. Church each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings at 5:30 p.m. All children are urged to attend.

A Father's Day program will be held at Spring Hill M. B. Church Sunday afternoon, June 15, Mr. Robert Lewis Swinney is in charge of program arrangements.

A Men's Day program will be held at Beckley Chapel C. M. E. Church Sunday evening, June 15. Mr. Jerry Christian is the sponsor. The public is invited to attend both events.

Summer revival will begin at Spring Hill M. B. Church Monday night, June 16. The Rev. Prentiss Harris will be the speaker for the week.

Those visiting at home this week are Mr. and Mrs. William (Joe) Christian from Atlanta, Ga., visiting his father, Mr. Utha Christian; Miss Sylvia Pierce, her daughter Rena, and her sister Sandra from Houston, Texas; and Mrs. Tisha Burrell and her son from Oklahoma, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Burrell. We are happy to welcome all of you home and hope your visit is a pleasant one.

Our prayers for a complete recovery continues for the sick and shut-ins of the community. Those in the hospital this week are Mr. Utha Christian, Mr. Jim Bell Oneal, Mrs. Mary Warren, Mrs. Mattie Garner and Cecil.

I am happy to report that Cecil's condition is greatly improved. Our sincere thanks and appreciation is extended to the doctors, nurses and aides for the care and attention given him. I am sorry that I was not more explicit in last week's article, as many of you thought I referred to Cecil Jr. We are sincerely grateful to you for your concern and thank you for the calls, visits and flowers. You are wonderful people. God bless you all.

HEDY GEVENA GROVE

We recognize Mrs. Hedy Grove this week for the many admirable qualities of character she possesses. She is the daughter of the late Mrs. Mellie Chambers, a young divorcee and the mother of three sons, who in every manner does justice to her devotion, training and care of them.

Hedy was married and divorced while still very young and moved back into the home of her mother. There she shared in the responsibility of that home in every conceivable way. With three small children to care for, she held two and three jobs to maintain their support, yet they were never neglected nor did she ever complain.

The hardship was great and the obstacles were many but she was always cheerful, helpful to others and considerate. Throughout the illness and death of her mother, she was greatly helped by other family members but she assumed the greater responsibility in addition to holding an outside job. This she did with seemingly untiring effort and energy.

She has proudly watched two of her sons graduate from high school with high regards from both instructors and fellow students for their ability in studies and in sports. Danny Michael, the eldest finished high school in 1975, and continued for two years at Northeast. Dale finished high school this year and Bill is to follow.

Hedy is a very active member of the Baptist church. She is also a talented singer but rarely exhibits this talent as she prefers to remain in the background. As a cook, she is among the greatest.

Her accomplishments and contributions may not seem very much to most people, but in addition to giving to the community three remarkable young men who constantly portray the discipline of Christian training, her example as a daughter, mother and Christian young lady, I feel that this rates among the greatest contributions that any individual can make in this lifetime. God bless you Hedy.

Homer Aids Kellwood Win

Little League Season Opens

Patrick Hunkapillar belted a two run homer in the bottom of the fifth inning here last Monday night to give Kellwood a 6-5 win over Sonic in a time delayed game called after five innings of play.

Hunkapillar's shot soared over the center field fence and hit the Community Center Building. Sonic exploded for four runs in the first inning to take an opening lead but Kellwood came roaring back to take the win in the first official night of the 1980 Little League season.

Along with Patrick Hunkapillar, Kenny Floyd,

Anthony Hunkapillar, and Bruce Brinkley all led in the hitting department.

Sonic's Tod Swinney, Clay Johnson, Mike Johnson and Chris Hughes all led their team.

In other action Monday night, Baldwin's Gene McKay's Used Cars dropped Peoples Bank of Booneville

14-1 in the opening game of the night.

Leading hitters for the local Peoples Bank squad were Jimbo Goddard, Jim Arnold and Frank Williams.

A host of action was set for Tuesday night but due to an early press schedule results were not available.

Winners Announced At Local Tennis Tourney

Finals action was held at 10 p.m. here Sunday night at the Annual Member-Guest Tennis Tournament held this weekend at the Booneville Country Club Courts.

Some 48 players participated in the event which included guests from Birmingham, Columbus, Starkville, Tupelo, Corinth, Tishomingo, Baldwin, along with several players from the Booneville area.

In men's doubles, Tommy Comer and Mike Gratz defeated Ray Cozort and Dan McClung 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 while in women's doubles it turned out to be a battle of the Arnolds with Kathleen Arnold and her partner Julie Burress defeating Kathy and Tracy Arnold in two straight sets 7-5, 6-3.

In other action, Kathy Arnold and her partner Eddie Smith defeated Tracy Arnold and her partner Mike Gratz 2-6, 6-4, 6-2 to take the mixed doubles title.

Tournament director Richard Coggin said he was real pleased with this year's tournament and added that it was the best ever for the local club.

Guests were allowed in this year's event and Mr. Coggin said this created more interest in the event.

Plans are still in the making for the regular club Tournament while yet another member guest event is also planned for the latter part of this summer.

The weekend tournament started last Friday night and ended at near 10 p.m. Sunday night. A full slate was held Sat. with action starting at 8:00 and ending at 10:00 Sat. night.

Colleague Falls To Alpine In Road Action Saturday

Colleague of Booneville dropped a 7-6 loss to Alpine here Saturday afternoon in 13-14 age action held on the road.

The game was suspended after five innings due to rain.

Dwight Wright and Trent

Huddleston led the Colleague hitting attack who collected nine hits on the afternoon.

Local Golf Tourney Slated June 14-15

Final plans are now being made for the First Annual Member-Guest Golf Tournament to be held June 14-15 at the local club course. The Member-Guest event replaces the former Booneville Invitational Tournament which was cancelled this year.

A field of some 36 teams will play in this partner event which gets underway both days with a 1:00 shotgun start.

A number of outstanding golfers are expected for this first Annual Event including some top notch players from the Booneville area along with several out-of-town guests.

Prizes will be awarded to both the first and second place finishers in each of the four flights and the entry fee has been set at $30 per team.

Several players from the local area have already picked their partners for the event while some are still looking.

Some top contenders for the championship flight crown of the local area are, George Oakley, John Ferrell, Don Carpenter among others along with their partners.

Any interested members may sign up now at the pro shop and any additional information may be obtained from Harold Hatfield at the pro shop.

Hill Country Run Set For August 5th

August 9th is the date to mark on your calendar for the Second Annual Hill Country Run co-sponsored by Shackelford Shoes and the Banner Independent and benefiting the American Cancer Society.

The second annual event, termed very successful last year, will this year be a part of the First Annual Boone Hill Festival slated for downtown during early August.

Officials for the Hill Country Run were very pleased with last year's event and have stated that this year's running appears to be even stronger with the added publicity of Boone Hill Festival and the added exposure of other runs of this type in the area.

The run this year will have a slight track change. The run, scheduled as a 5,000 meter event (3.1 miles), change in the course. The run this year will begin at the Court House as part of the Boone Hill Festival.

Several divisions will be held in the run. Divisions for both men and women include ages 15 and under, 16-23, 24-30, 31-39 and 40 and over.

This year T-shirts, displaying the Hill Country Run emblem will be awarded to all entrants while trophies will be presented to division winners.

Dr. Ray Cozort will serve as race director this year and is expected to lineup some top notch runners from the Mississippi area.

Starting time has tentatively been set for 9 a.m. with registration to be held from 7:30 til 8:30 a.m.

Schweiger, Brown Shoe Drop Road Encounters

Both Schweiger and Brown Shoe lost road games Monday night in opening night action of the 1980 Little League season.

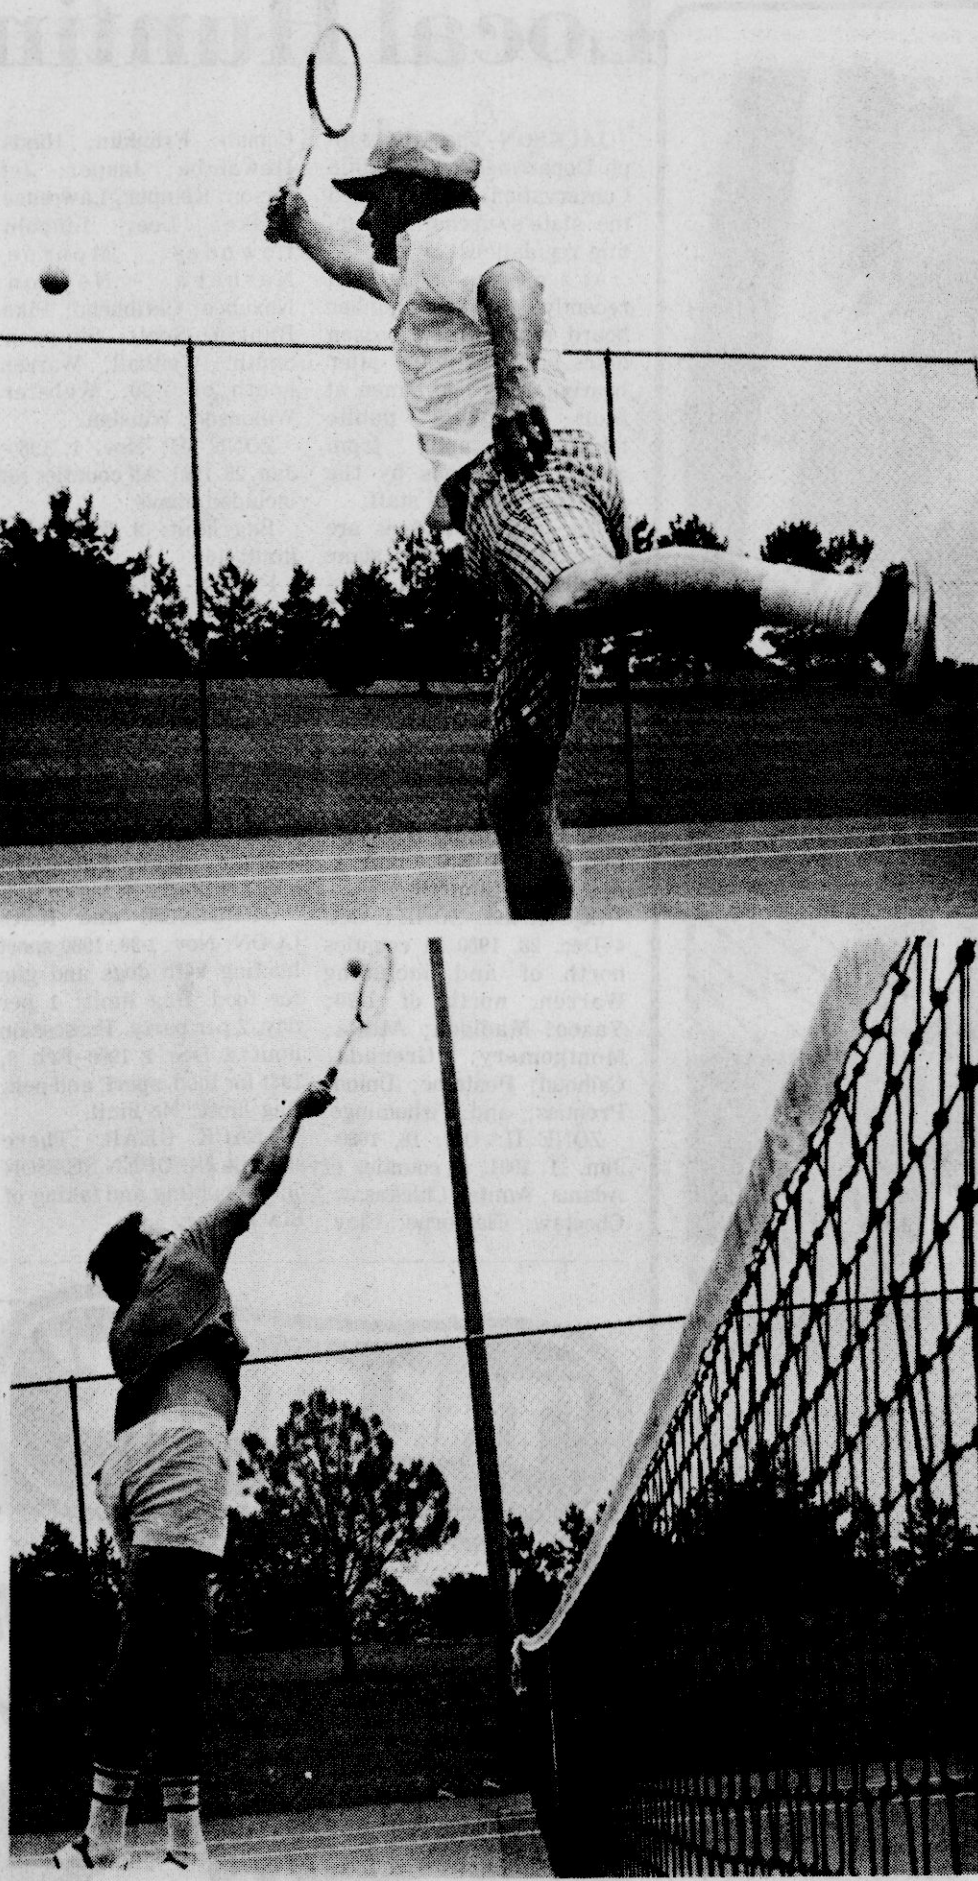

Schweiger lost a 2-1 squeaker to Chesterville while Brown Shoe dropped a 15-4 decision to Nettleton. In the Chesterville game

James McAnally was the hitting star for the local Schweiger team while Waylon Michael followed with a two for three day at the plate. Chesterville belted a homer in the fourth inning which proved to be the deciding run.

Schweiger scored their only run in the third inning.

In the Brown Shoe-Nettleton contest, Matt Latch and David Jenkins had three hits a piece while Ricky Nanney was charged as the losing pitcher.

A host of action was scheduled for Tuesday night with results not available at press time.

Dilworth Scores Hole-In-One

Raymond Dilworth of Rienzi did what only a few golfers do in an entire lifetime here recently when he scored a hole in one at the Booneville Golf and Country Club Course.

Dilworth sank his ace on the 148 yard par three number six hole using a five iron and a top flight number "0" ball.

As stated earlier some golfers go a lifetime without achieving this feat while for Dilworth, it was his second ace in the past few years. He scored his other a few Years back.

Raymond's golfing partners when he scored the hole in one were Joe Kingsley, Ben Lunetto, and Herb Laughlin playing during a foursome.

Dilworth said he didn't know he made the hole in one til he walked up and saw it in the hole. "The sun was in my eyes and I couldn't see, but I can tell ya, it sure felt nice when I walked up and saw it glaring back at me," he said.

85 Girls Enroll In Northeast Roundball Camp

Some 85 girls from across the five county North Mississippi area turned out here this week for the Junior-Senior Girls Basketball Camp held at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Several of the girls in attendance were varsity starters last year while others are learning basketball fundamentals for the first time.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head coaches Noel Akins and Millard Lothenore are head instructors and sponsors for the camp while being aided by a host of area girls coaches from the five county area.

Several stations have been set up in Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum and each coach runs some eight to ten girls through different drills at each station.

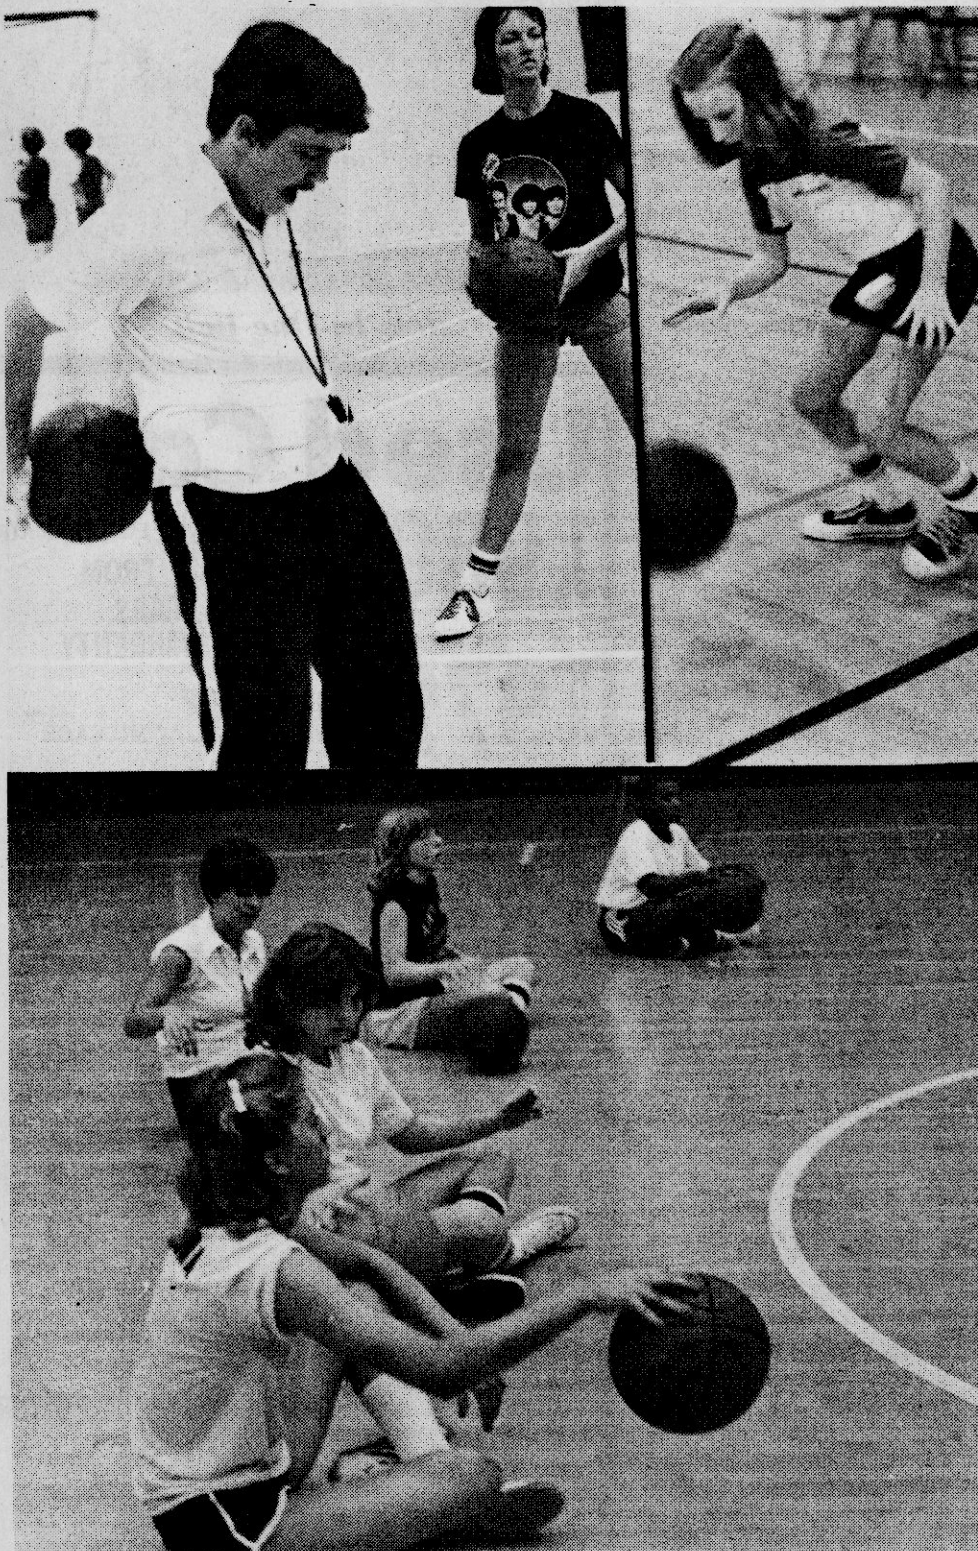

Girls engage in one on one techniques through the entire week's camp and play scrimmage games during the evenings with officials and scorekeepers.

During the week long camp girls are taught a variety of basketball topics including the basic fundamentals of the game along with new and unique plays established within the last few years.

The first part of the week consists of the basics of the game while the latter part of the week goes to improving their overall basketball skills.

Both Coach Akins and Coach Lothenore agree that they were well pleased with this year's turnout and added that some top notch girl athletes will come from this camp.

State Officials

in coming to the meeting, they might not have been aware of the recent action of the county school board in adopting a policy of not voluntarily surrendering to the separate school district any of the county school district's property, including the property within the city limits.

He then read the Delineation of Policy statement issued last week by the county school board (see story, Page 1).

Franks also indicated to the State Department of Education representatives that he hoped they were not at the meeting Tuesday night "to espouse the cause of the separate school district board or to pressure the county school board."

It is not right for the city to be able to pass an ordinance to obtain the school property in the city limits which belongs to the county school system, Franks said.

"There is more property in dollars in the city limits than in the rest of the county," he said.

Saying "the fight should be between the school boards and the teachers should not be involved," Franks also addressed the recent decision of the Booneville Unemployed Teachers Association not to sign the letters sent to them by the county school board in which they were offered employment with the county school system next term.

This offer of employment was subject to termination if the county school system were to be ordered by the courts to surrender control of the school facilities inside the city limits to the separate school district (see story, this Page 1).

Franks said that the meeting of the teachers last Sunday night was an effort by the Mississippi Association of Educators (MAE) "to intimidate teachers not to sign" the letter.

He said the teachers had raised the question of why the letter to the city teachers was delayed. The county school board hired teachers for schools outside the city in April.

"The school board had different advice and a different attorney at that time," he said. "My opinion is different."

The county school board attorney also said that some teachers had questioned why the letter was sent, instead of a contract like the county teachers had signed.

"A contract was to follow the letter," he said. The letter was to determine if the teachers wanted employment with the county school system, he added.

The contract would be identical to the ones the teachers signed last year, Franks said, except for the dates and the stipulation that the contract would terminate if the separate school district is declared illegal.

Franks said he had heard that a representative of the MAE had told the teachers in the Sunday meeting that if they signed the letter of intent from the county school board they would not be employed by the city school board.

"It was an attempt to intimidate the teachers," he repeated.

Franks indicated that the county school board was going to run the schools until a court ordered differently.

Following Franks' statement to the group, Dr. McCoy said that the state officials were "not here to coerce anyone, our sole purpose is to share information."

"We want to do what we can to offer guidelines," he continued. "We are not here to interpret the social problems of Prentiss County."

The meeting, which had only lasted for little over 30 minutes was then brought to an end by William Smith, attorney for the city school board.

"Until such time as we are recognized as a legal entity by the county school board," he said, "it appears there is nothing else to be said."

Citizens Meet

mobile homes in RB zones?" Comer asked.

Mayor Charles Crabb said that when a shortage of housing developed in about 1970, "the planning commission asked Nolan Wheeler to handle the trailer situation and he has done so since that time. And to my knowledge, a problem has never come before the board."

Murphy then said members of his group had researched the situation and could find no ordinance on the books and no evidence in the minutes of the board's meetings giving Wheeler the authority to issue permits for mobile homes.

"We want to know what is right and where the buck stops," Murphy said. "We went to the Planning Commission and they said talk to Mr. Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler handed us a copy of the guidelines for parking trailers and said they must follow the guidelines. But the trailers in question do not meet the guidelines."

"Although there were different Planning Commission members at the time Mr. Wheeler was given the responsibility for handling these matters, they have continued to rely on Mr. Wheeler," Mayor Crabb said. "Mr. Wheeler may have made a mistake, but he has done a good job over the years and I do not doubt his sincerity in the actions he took. We will get together, study the situation and get legal advice before making our decision."

Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Timbes, owners of the property in question, were also present at the meeting. Mrs. Timbes asked what they had done to the people of the area to make them mad.

"Why was the petition signed by people who do not even live in the area," she said. "Why did some of them sign the petition twice?"

Timbes then told the Mayor and Aldermen that they, the Planning Commission and other officials were hired to run the city and they do not need a crowd of people to help them.

He also invited the board to go look at the property in question and note the improvements that had been made.

"We are trying to help Booneville, not hurt it," he said.

In answer to questions from the floor, Mayor Crabb and City Attorney Gene Gifford told the group no more permits would be issued except for RD zones, and they would study the current situation thoroughly before making a decision.

When asked for a specific time the board's decision could be expected, Mayor Crabb said they would have their answer in time for the next regularly scheduled meeting July 1.

"We feel this situation has made better citizens of us," Murphy said. "It has made us aware of what can happen if we don't make sure the rules are being followed."

Following the board meeting the citizens' group met on the City Hall steps and voted to take no further action until they hear the board's decision at the July meeting.

Bill May

alienation must be caused by the parent through such conduct as: serious neglect, abuse, prolonged absence without just cause, unreasonable failure to communicate or visit the child, or prolonged imprisonment of the parent.

The bill points out that parental rights should not be terminated if an alternative more advantageous to the child is available. For instance, it says legal guardianship or custody of a child could be granted to new parents, but the actual parents still could be allowed visitation rights if it's in the best interest of the child.

The bill also establishes procedures by which an individual, agency or institution may legally file to terminate any parent's rights, based on any one or more of the above violations. It also spells out the manner in which a parent, as a defendant, must respond to a suit in an attempt to retain parental rights.

The court also must observe prescribed procedures, according to the bill. For instance, the court must "diligently search" for parents at least 30 days after publication of the suit. After that, even if the parents cannot be located, court proceedings may continue.

The final ruling is the decision of the court. Rights of one parent may be terminated while the other parent's rights are retained.

Cards Of Thanks

We would like to express our appreciation to everyone for their kind deeds and words of comfort in our time of sorrow. We especially wish to thank Brother Huggins and Brother Gooch for their fine eulogies. We also wish to thank the people at E.E. Salts Funeral Home for the kind assistance they gave us. May God bless you all.

SOYBEANS BEHIND WHEAT?

Soybeans planted behind wheat yield less and may not give you much opportunity for profit, especially at current soybean prices. Research and farmer experience show that even with the best of management, soybean yields are reduced several bushels per acre when planted after wheat. With doublecropped beans yielding ten to 20 bushels per acre, and prices at or below $6 per bushel, it will be hard to show a profit this year.

Under these conditions, it might be better to leave some of the more risky land fallow and use the summer to clean it up, improve drainage and get it in better condition for the next crop.

If you do decide to plant soybeans behind wheat, plant as early as possible and conserve seedbed moisture. Chances for top soybean yields are better if you: harvest wheat at high moisture and dry it; plant no-till after burning straw; use a mid to late variety if it is later than June 10; and plant in 30-inch or narrower rows.

Use herbicides for burn-down and preemergence weed control, and cultivate and direct spray as needed.

STOP SOYBEAN WEEDS

Weeds in soybeans will reduce yields if they are not controlled at an early stage with cultivation and herbicides. Four to six weeks after soybeans emerge, begin herbicide treatments where needed to prevent a cut in yield. Weeds should be no more than four inches tall for best results.

The herbicide Blazer is now available for soybeans. Applied over the top early, it gives good control of hemp sesbania, pigweed and many varieties of morningglory.

FARMWEEK

Viewers can learn more about growing peaches and boat and water safety by watching the Farmweek program June 9 on the Mississippi Educational Television network. These features as well as the latest agricultural news, weather and market reports will air Monday, June 9, at 7:30 p.m., and Tuesday, June 10, at 7:30 a.m. on Farmweek. Watch for it.

News From The ASCS

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

CERTIFICATION BY FARMERS HAS BEGUN

Farmers across the state have begun reporting and certifying to the county ASCS office acreages of various crops and other land uses on the farm.

Certification is the procedure by which farmers report their acreage planted to crops and other land uses on the farm. Farmers are encouraged to visit the county ASCS office and certify as soon as all plantings on the farm are completed or if no plantings are done for 1980, report of land use should be done now.

Acreage certification is very important. In order to be eligible for program benefits, farmers participating in the farm programs and planting cotton, wheat, corn, rice and/or grain sorghum, and who want to be eligible for price support loans and/or disaster or deficiency payments, must report all acreages planted on the farm. Disaster provisions are not applicable to soybeans but farmers must certify planted acreages of all crops on the farm in order to be eligible for price support loans on soybeans.

ASCS personnel make spot checks on farms selected at random. Crops reported and measured are compared with certification made by the farmer. July 15 is the final date for reporting acreages planted to all other crops.

FARM PROGRAM COVERS CROP DAMAGE

Farmers who accurately report crop acreages and sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payments, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection.

The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions.

Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA.

Wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent. For rice and upland cotton producers, this payment is based on production losses below 75 percent.

Prentiss County farmers should notify our office if they expect low yields on their wheat or barley crops due to severe weather conditions.

Farmers will also be eligible for disaster payments when they are prevented from planting a program crop for harvest because of a natural disaster. However, planting of other later non-conserving crops must also have been prevented due to disaster.

Farmers should notify the county office before harvesting or destroying acreages, or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes. Accurate acreage and production reports must be maintained to assure full program benefits.

The program offers crop protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer.

Further details on payment provisions may be obtained from the local ASCS office.

Right-Of-Way Mowing To Be Reduced

TUPELO—Mowing grass along the right-of-way of the state's highways will be cut back this year, according to Northern District Highway Commissioner Bobby G. Richardson, due to the current fuel situation.

"Grass cutting along the state's highways this year will be reduced to conserve fuel," he said in making the announcement.

Community Center To Sponsor Summer Classes

The Booneville Community Center at the West Side City Park is sponsoring a series of classes this summer for local residents, according to Mrs. Donald Bigsby, director of the community center.

Included in the program of summer, classes will be Aerobic Dance and Exercise, taught by Sue Howell; Macrame and Crafts, taught by Barbara Kelly; and tole painting, taught by Mrs. Nina Kizer.

The dance and exercise classes will register Friday, June 6, from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Classes will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 on Wednesday nights and also on Thursday mornings from 10 to 11:30. The macrame and craft classes will register from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday. Classes will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. and again from 6 to 8 p.m. each Tuesday.

The tole painting classes will also register from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, with classes held during the same hour on Tuesdays.

"We hope to have a little theatre and other classes to offer soon," Mrs. Bigsby said.

This is the first time such classes have been offered by the park, she said. There will be a small fee for the classes to pay the instructors.

Mrs. Bigsby asked that anyone having a request for classes of any kind call the community center. She also asked that anyone having a talent who wishes to teach a class to also phone the community center, 728-9976.

Yellow Creek Construction

'Looks Like A Giant Skateboard Track'

YUKA, Miss.—They call it "the dish" at the Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant.

Actually it looks more like a California skateboard course or a roller derby track with an approximately 45-degree angle slant. The dish area is the base for the unit 1 reactor building primary containment vessel. Erection of the containment vessel sections began last month after final concrete placement for the dish and elevation 497.0 slab surrounding the dish.

"The overall project is approximately one month behind the original schedule," remarked Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant Construction Engineer Lonnie Cox. "With good weather and good luck, we plan to catch up within the next 18 months."

Chicago Bridge and Iron Company, the containment vessel contractor, will weld the lower portion of the vessel before TVA forces begin interior concrete work. The next goal will then be to set the 446.5-ton reactor pressure vessel and two 72-ton steam generators which will be housed in the spherical-shaped structure. This goal is scheduled for Jan. 15, 1982.

Prior to concrete placement in the dish, the area resembled a spider's web with its layers of steel reinforcing rods overlapping each other and with workers resembling flies tangled in a cobweb. About 11,926 square feet of formwork and 280 tons of reinforcing steel were required to complete the dish area. Total concrete placement in the area totaled 1,978 cubic yards.

Erection of the unit 1 reactor building containment vessel lower portion is scheduled to be complete in four months. When completed, the steel vessel will be spherical and will rise to a height of 202 feet.

"Completion of the dish concreting is two to three weeks ahead of our last projected finish date," Cox added. "This will allow the containment contractor to begin early and, hopefully, complete the work early."

Other emphasis in the powerhouse area has been placed on formwork, reinforcing steel placement, and installation of miscellaneous embedments for the unit 1 fuel building base slab and walls; the unit 1 turbine building pedestal and demineralizer walls; erection of the unit 1 turbine building main steam condenser hot well sections, tube supports, and structural steel column base plates; and the unit 2 reactor building base slab and walls above the slab.

Earth excavation is also underway for project access roads from Highway 25 to Coleman Park Road, for the intake pumping station, and for the Division of Nuclear Power parking lot.

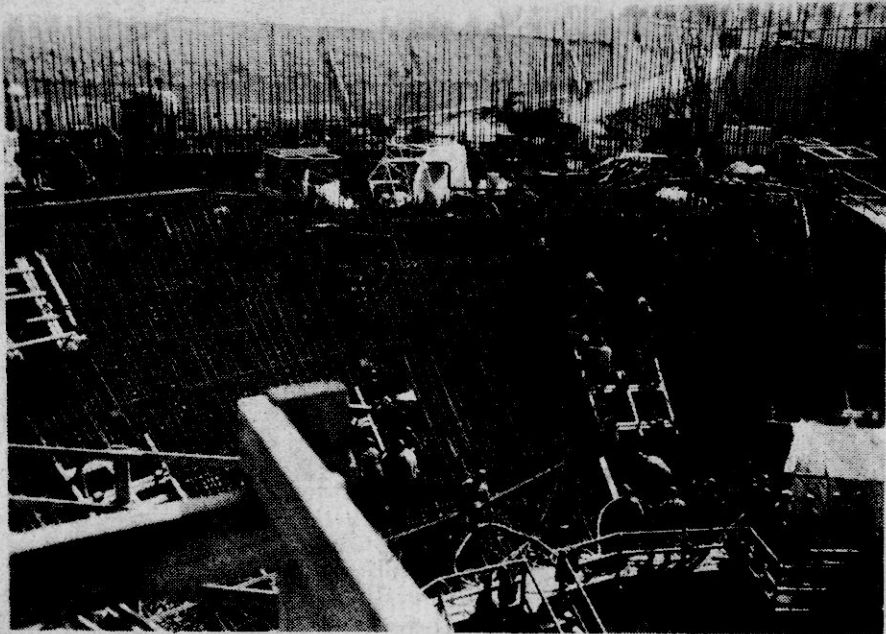

Drilling operations began April 8 for unit 1 cooling tower reinforced concrete drilled pier foundations. Erection of the cooling towers is scheduled to start Dec. 1. The two towers will rise to a height of approximately 547 feet above ground level.

Overall project completion stands at approximately 15 percent. The unit 1 reactor building auxiliary area is 40 percent complete with over 29,000 cubic yards of concrete placed in the area to date. Project employment currently totals over 3,200 persons.

The 2-unit plant will consist of two pressurized water reactors purchased from Combustion Engineering, having a generating capacity of 1,375 megawatts each. It will be the largest dual-unit plant in the TVA system.

Unit 1 is scheduled for commercial operation in Nov. 1985.

Water Is Valuable Natural Resource

By DON JONES
Soil Conservationist
Technician

With rapidly increasing pollution, water is becoming one of our most valuable natural resources. Clear sparkling water is the aim of most landowners, but some of our ponds in Prentiss County are full of water weeds and Algae.

Excessive algae growth in fish ponds can create a lot of problems not only for the fisherman but also for the fish farmer. Besides snagging fishing lines and interfering with the commercial harvest, algae can taint the flavor of fish.

Also some fish diseases and parasitic infections are associated with algae growth. Reduced oxygen due to decaying Algae can cause fish to die off.

One of the simplest ways to control algae and weeds is by water drawdowns, especially in freezing climates. The root system of several types of algae are destroyed by ground freezing. Other types will be killed by drying out.

Fertilization of ponds to produce plankton, which shade out rooted vegetation and increase fish production, has been used successfully here in the south.

The use of chemicals is the most common and effective method for controlling nuisance weeds and algae growth. Generally chemical application are most effective when weeds are growing rapidly and have not yet gone to seed. As a rule chemicals should be applied early in the day under sunny conditions and when water temperature is above 60 degrees.

For more information on waterweeds come by your Soil Conservation Service.

Berry Defends Law Enforcement

Lieutenant General Sidney B. Berry, U.S. Army, Retired, Commissioner of Public Safety, said today, "Many citizens perceive that the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol enforces traffic speed laws against the drivers of private vehicles but not against drivers of trucks."

"We have figures that prove differently," he said. Alton Rodgers, Director of the Department's Statistical Bureau, retrieved 533 copies of tickets from the files at random and found that 28 percent of that sampling had been written to truck drivers.

After researching the "Fact Book on Statistical Information" published by the U.S. Department of Transportation, Rodgers found that 28 percent of all vehicles registered in the State of Mississippi are trucks.

"This means," Berry said, "that 72 percent of the tickets he checked were written to passenger vehicles which is the percentage of those registered in the State including motorcycles, etc. We are actually about even on the number of tickets written to truckers comparing the number of trucks registered."

He said, "I believe that the officers of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol are enforcing the law impartially, regardless of the size of vehicles. "What happens so often is that Citizen Band radio operators spread the word about where our enforcement units are located which automatically means that highway speeds decrease."

"Not all owners and operators of the Citizen Band radios do this, but quite often it is the case. On these occasions our units are at a vast disadvantage to enforce the speed laws," Berry said.

He also pointed out the fact that the size of larger trucks passing regular size vehicles on interstate or secondary roads has a "psychological impact" on motorists.

New Site Native In 'Dawn Patrol 80'

Navy Aviation Maintenance Administrationman Airman Wesley S. Goodin, son of Maggie J. Wheelington of Route 1, Box 151, New Site, Miss., recently participated in exercise "Dawn Patrol 80" in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is a member of Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 123, based at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va. During the exercise, his squadron was embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Saratoga.

More than 70 ships and 200 aircraft from Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the U.S. participated in the two-week exercise. It was designed to promote improved coordination and cooperation of multinational forces, and to demonstrate NATO's readiness to deter aggression along its southern flank.

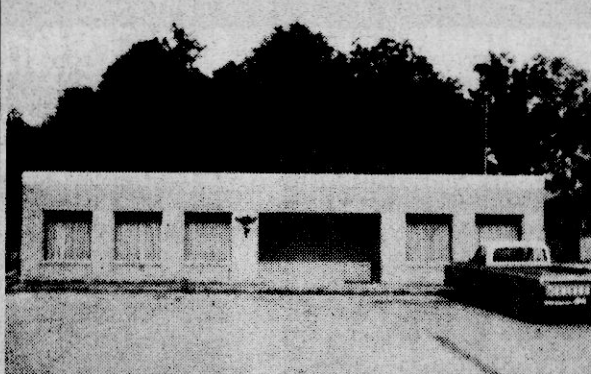

His squadron flies the E-2 "Hawkeye" early warning aircraft. The Hawkeye is outfitted with an electronically-developed radar system that is capable of long range detection and identification of airborne targets.

Goodin joined the Navy in October 1977. His wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Billy and Bonnie Franks of Route 1, Box 190-D, Marietta, Miss.

Jerry Childs of Booneville, minister of the North Rienzi Church of Christ, calls attention to revival services at the North Rienzi Church of Christ June 1-6 with lunch served at the church Sunday, June 1.

The speaker for the services will be S.W. Childs and the song director will be Mark Johnson. Everyone is cordially invited to the services. Minister Childs gives a personal invitation to the gospel meeting.

Making a delightful visit here with Mrs. Ivy Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Baker, Mrs. Opal Rutledge and a host of friends have been Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gentry of Sierra Vista, Ariz.

Mrs. Milton Bishop entertained a group of friends in her home Thursday night with a party demonstrating home products. The evening was a very pleasant one as friends visited together.

Members of the Rienzi Baptist Church surprised the pastor Bro. Wiley Gann, with a fellowship following prayer meeting and Bible Study on Wednesday night. The hostess committee, with Mrs. Jolene Perry as chairperson, had provided refreshments, a birthday cake complete with candles, and a monetary gift was presented to the Pastor. Mr. William Perry gave the prayer of grace and thanksgiving and singing the traditional "Happy Birthday, Bro. Wiley" was led by Mr. Charles Palmer.

Home Economist's Report

Of the 17 nutrients for which the Food and Nutrition Board, National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council has established Recommended Daily Dietary Allowances (RDA's), six are minerals.

Three of these minerals are needed in such small amounts that they are referred to as "trace minerals." They are iron, zinc and iodine. Although all three trace minerals are needed for good health, perhaps iron receives the most publicity because it is known to be frequently low in the diet of some groups in the population.

The normal adult body contains 3 to 5 grams (that's 3000 to 5000 milligrams) of iron. This is very little, considering that one ounce equals 28.35 grams. About 75 percent of the body's iron is a part of hemoglobin—the oxygen-carrying component of blood.

The need for iron is increased by three conditions—growth, menstruation and other blood loss. Therefore, iron requirements are highest for infants, 6 months to 3 years of age, for teenage boys, 11 to 18 years of age, as well as for women of childbearing age and pregnant and lactating women.

If there is blood loss due to surgery or because of a blood donation, there could be a temporary need for extra iron, either in the form of dietary iron or as an iron supplement.

The highest Recommended Daily Allowance

(RDA) of iron is 18 milligrams for women of childbearing age and for teenage boys, with one exception. The one exception is the even greater need for that iron during pregnancy and lactation. It is recommended that pregnant women take an iron supplement, 30 to 60 milligrams per day, and that this supplement be continued for 2 to 3 months after the birth of the baby.

Only about one-tenth of dietary iron is absorbed and utilized by the body. Two factors that may decrease this absorption rate include an excessive use of antacids or too high a fiber intake. To ensure an adequate intake of dietary iron, as well as other nutrients, include a wide variety of foods in your diet—with everything in moderation.

Good sources of dietary iron include meat, egg yolk, beans, nuts, dark-green leafy vegetables and enriched or fortified cereals and breads. Vitamin C and meat, poultry and fish improve the absorption of iron from these other foods. Therefore, it is good meal planning to combine foods that are high in iron with a good source of Vitamin C such as citrus fruits or tomatoes or with meat, poultry or fish.

Tupelo Office To Open June 4-5

Attorney General Bill Allain has announced that he will set up temporary offices in Tupelo on June 4 and 5, and in various cities and towns throughout the state during the month of June. Allain, who pledged that he would work for establishment of branch offices in north and south Mississippi during his campaign for Attorney General, is sending members of his staff from the Consumer Protection and State-Local Divisions of his office to receive complaints on consumer fraud and questions concerning state and local government.

"Government must respond to its citizens and I strongly feel that this is the most effective means of reaching the people of our state," Allain said. "I also want to encourage public officials in each area to visit with our staff to discuss any problems or concerns which they may have in their area of government."

According to the Attorney General, investigators and attorneys will comprise the traveling staff, which will headquarter from local offices and courthouses. "We are now working out the details with the local officials in regards to office space and telephones, but the locations and dates of the temporary offices have been finalized," Allain said. The staff will be in each city or town for two days from 8-5 p.m. to serve the people in that particular area.

The schedule follows: Tupelo, June 4-5; Hernando, June 10-11; Greenwood, June 12-13; Hattiesburg, June 16-17; Meridian, June 18-19; Pascagoula, June 23-24; Biloxi-Gulfport, June 25-26; and Natchez, June 26-27.

According to Allain, other cities and towns will be visited at a later date in the year.

The Consumer Protection

Division, created by legislature in 1974, mediates, litigates, and investigates complaints regarding fraudulent operations throughout the state. Allain stressed that only through the consumer public can the division ferret out con artists and fraudulent operations. "Our office is not only here for individuals who have complaints against businesses, but we also are equally concerned for the legitimate businessmen throughout the state who are directly affected by fraudulent practices," Allain said.

The State-Local Division of Allain's office handles problems that emanate from municipalities, counties, and state government. Officials and citizens will have the opportunity to discuss their questions regarding government.

MHSA Meet Considers 42 Applications

The Mississippi Health Systems Agency Inc. (MHSA) met Thursday, May 29, for its monthly meeting. Included on the agenda were 42 health care applications from around the state.

Before being presented, these applications go through various review stages from staff review and analysis to the community level in which the application is located (if a public hearing is called for) to the designated review committee. Comments and recommendations from these different review stages are presented to the Board members as part of their deliberation.

Included in these applications were seven proposed statewide services. All of these were recommended for approval: —Mississippi Venereal

Disease Control Project, $753,207;

—Screening and Referral of High Risk Hard to Reach Hypertensive Populations, $779,248;

—Primary Care Demonstration Project for School Health, $255,897;
