School District Declared Legal, County Hands Over Property

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Monday afternoon in Prentiss County Chancery Court, the Booneville Municipal Separate School District was declared to have been formed legally and a permanent court injunction was issued against the Prentiss County School Board, ordering them not to interfere with the city school board's operation of the city schools.

The county school board has since turned over the keys to the city school property and Tuesday city school superintendent Troy Henderson began moving from his temporary office located in the rear of the law offices of city school board attorney William Smith. Henderson is currently setting up his office in the small building known as the "hut," located behind the Booneville High School gym.

County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain told the Banner-Independent Wednesday morning that the county school board definitely plans to appeal the court decision "after we get the judge's decree in writing so we can study it."

After the judge files his decree with the Chancery Clerk's office, the county school board has 10 days in which to appeal the decision. The judge's decree had not been filed as of Wednesday morning.

Chancellor George Adams

handed down his decision shortly after 1 p.m. Monday in the courtroom of the Prentiss County Courthouse. His ruling comes as the result of a two-day hearing last week in which the city school board asked for the injunction against the county school board members and Supt. Cain.

The city asked the court for the injunction after the county school board refused to turn over city school property to the newly formed separate school district on July 1, the date set by the State Educational Finance Commission (EFC) for implementation of the separate school district. The separate school district was approved by the EFC in November 1979.

The county school board's attorney Donald Franks had contended during the trial that the separate school district had not been formed legally, saying the law requires the approval of the county school board before the city can create a separate school district.

In his ruling, chancellor Adams said the particular section of law to which Franks referred "has no application to the creation of a new separate school district as we have in this case." He said that section is "limited to any separate school district existing as of 1953."

"It is the opinion of the court that the Booneville Municipal Separate School District has been properly created," the Chancellor said.

Chancellor Adams did not award the city school system a pro-rata share of the school buses owned by the schools nor a pro-rata share of the excess funds held by the Prentiss County Board of Education. In the suit, Smith had asked for those shares for the city school system.

Although he said he could not "at this time" order that it be done, the Chancellor urged that both school boards abide by an earlier agreement concerning the Prentiss County Vo-Tech Center. He said he had read the agreement and thought it was a good plan.

He also urged that the two boards work out an agreement on the use of the school buses. "I think they can do that if they want," he said.

Following the judge's decision, county attorney Franks asked that the judge grant a supersedeas—or a stay or delay of the injunction—until the case can be appealed to the State Supreme Court. He indicated that if the schools are handed over to the city and then the supreme court reverses the decision, there will have to be two transitions of the school property.

However city attorney Smith argued that the Supreme Court would uphold Adams' decision and there would only be one transition. He also cited case histories where the supersedeas had not been granted.

The judge denied the supersedeas, and the injunction was to take immediate effect.

The court did not consider the question of transfers of county students to the city school system.

In order for a child living outside the city limits of Booneville to attend school at one of the city schools, the Prentiss County Board of Education must give that child a release from the county system and the city school board must accept that child. Before the county school board decided to contest the legality of the separate school district, they had agreed to release any county children who had previously attended city schools to continue doing so,

New Administrator Arrives

Carl G. Barker, a 50-year-old Memphis native, has been named as the new hospital administrator for the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville.

He and his family arrived in Booneville about midnight Friday from Lamar, Mo., and Barker assumed the duties of his position Saturday morning.

Prior to accepting the job in Booneville, he had served as administrator for two years at the Barton County

Memorial Hospital located in Lamar.

He and his wife, Jackie, and two of their children are presently in the process of moving into their new residence at 303 Cherry Street. They have three other children who are no longer living at home—Bruce, their only son, is stationed in the Navy at Charleston, S.C.; daughter, Nancy will be a senior at the University of Arkansas this fall; and daughter Mary Katherine remained in Lamar.

The two daughters who accompanied the Barkers to Booneville are Carla, who will be in the sixth grade, and Becky, who will be in the fourth grade.

Barker graduated from high school at Whitehaven in 1948, received his bachelor's degree from Memphis State University in 1956 and his master's degree from the same college in

In Accountability Tests

County Students Rank At National Level

Students in grades 4, 6 and 8 in the Prentiss County School System are ranked at or near the national average in reading, math, language and reference skills, according to the accountability test results of the Mississippi Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) released this week by Prentiss County Superintendent of Education

This evaluation program is coordinated by the State Department of Education and is mandated by the Legislature.

During April 1980, Mississippi public school students in grades 4, 6 and 8 were given the California Achievement Test and the Short Form Test of Academic Aptitude. The results of these tests give the school systems pertinent information about individual students and their educational progress, as well as district-wide data beneficial to those who evaluate and plan local curriculum and instructional programs.

The instructional areas evaluated were reading, math, language and reference skills.

When compared with previous years' results, the April 1980 evaluation provides educators a developmental analysis of curriculum and instruction from the primary grades through secondary school. In the Prentiss County School System (including Booneville), seven schools and 948 students were evaluated. Scores were converted locally to grade equivalents and percentile ranks for interpretation.

In Washington, D.C.

Local Miss Attends Program

Prentiss County will have representation in Washington, D.C., this summer. Sharon Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Gifford Jr., will attend Citizenship-Washington Focus, July 26-August

2. She will be among 94 Mississippi 4-Hers, volunteer leaders and 4-H

Agents to attend this special program at the National 4-H Center.

The 4-Hers were chosen for outstanding contributions to their club and community through good citizenship activities. Ten states will be represented during the same week, providing the opportunity for youth to share with 4-

Hers from across the nation.

The program focuses on what being a citizen means, on how 4-H member practice citizenship in different states and towns, and on how our government works. The delegation will tour such historic sites as Capitol Hill, the Kennedy Center, Mount Vernon, the Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, Arlington Cemetery, Washington Cathedral, and the Smithsonian Institution.

The specific objectives are for 4-Hers to develop a greater understanding and appreciation of American Heritage. Special emphasis will be on "Community Citizenship."

They will also learn the basic functions of national government, gain an appreciation of the international aspects of citizenship, and affirm their commitment to democracy. It is hoped that they will return with a more practical attitude and desire to practice and teach citizenship in day-to-day living.

Citizens Meet With Planning Commission

The Booneville Planning Commission said Monday night that city zoning officer Nolan Wheeler was acting under guidelines 4, 11 and 13 of the city's house trailer permit guidelines when he issued a permit to E.B. Timbes to place a trailer on his property in the city.

The guidelines to which the commission referred were established by the city in 1975.

The trailer located on Timbes property has resulted in a controversy in his neighborhood over whether or not a permit should have been issued for that trailer. Members of the community have met with the city Board of Aldermen and the Planning Commission asking that the trailer be removed.

Guideline 4 sites the sanction of neighbors (in writing) as a criteria for issuing the permit. It defines neighbors as "adjoining property owned or within 100 lineal feet."

Bill Murphy, one of the community residents in opposition to the house trailer, said Wheeler told the approximately 40 community residents who attended Monday night's meeting that Timbes owns enough property that he can be considered his own neighbor.

Guideline 11 says that

WELL IN HAND—Mike Hester, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hester of Williams Street, feeds a mixture of milk and bread to a young brown thrush he has raised practically since it was first hatched. A friend found the baby bird after it had fallen out of its nest and, knowing Mike's love of animals, brought it to him. The bird was so young it had no feathers and could not even support itself. By the time the photo was taken (last Thursday), Mike had been caring for it for 15 days. His mother said they have tried to raise other baby birds, but this is the first to live so long. ### In Boone Hill Festival

Activities Begin Next Week

With the inclusion of several already popular events on the schedule, the first Boone Hill Festival is all but assured of being a huge success.

The festival starts at 8 a.m. next Thursday, Aug. 7, when local craftsmen start registering to display and sell their wares at booths in the uptown area. And from that point the pace quickens to include three days of sales, an antique auto show, beauty pageant, art show, puppet shows, pet show and parade, mini-fair, and various other events expected to make the festival something Prentiss Countians will look forward to year after year.

One of the events that has already proved to be a local success is the Prentiss County mini-fair. The fair, sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, has built a following over a period of several years. It gives all local 4-H age youngsters, homemakers and craftsmen a chance to display their wares and compete for prizes and ribbons.

The Junior Auxiliary's pet and puppet shows have also proved to be crowd pleasers over the years, and will be repeated this year as a part of the Boone Hill Festival. The Hill Country run will also be a part of the festival following a successful inaugural sprint in 1979. Last year's 15 kilometer run drew entrants from five states, and inquiries indicate this year's field will be larger.

The Boone Hill Beauty

Pageant, sponsored by the Organization for Handicapped Mississippians, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 8, in the Seth Pounds Auditorium on the Northeast Junior College Campus. Those wishing to enter in one of the four categories, for ages 3

INDIAN WALL HANGINGS—John Larsen of Booneville displays some of the original design indian wall hangings he will display during the Boone Hill Festival Aug. 7-9.

For Local Scoutmaster

Indian Crafts Are Hobby

He learned how to make them from the Navajo and Apache Indians when he was a missionary for the Mormon church in California. And now he enjoys teaching the craft to Boy Scouts in Booneville.

He is John Larsen, printer, scoutmaster and craftsman of considerable skill who makes Indian wall hangings from knitting yarns and wooden dowels. He has a collection of many different designs, all of which he plans to display at a booth in uptown Booneville during the first Boone Hill Festival next week.

The Indian name for the hangings is ajo de dios, which means "the eye of God."

"Indian legend has it that one should hang in a room as a reminder that God is watching," Larsen said. "And when the eye of God is upon you, you shouldn't fuss and disagree with your friends."

Larsen designed all the hangings himself, and then made them in a variety of vibrant colors. Included in his collection is one in the Mexican national colors, one call "Desert Sunrise," and one in the blue and gold of Booneville High School.

He makes them in a variety of sizes ranging from about six inches in diameter to the larger ones which measure some 2 1/2 feet across. Some of the boy scouts in his troop have made the smaller ones, but Larsen said he does not know anyone else locally who makes the larger sizes,

He has also completed some 24 additional hours in Psychological Testing after completing his master's—12 at the University of Arkansas and 12 at the University of North Carolina.

He also served two years in the Navy and four years in the Reserve.

Barker received his formal education in hospital work in a certification course specifically designed for hospital administration certification at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas.

Prior to his hospital administrative roles, he served in many capacities, such as coach, principal, teacher and counselor in Joiner, Ark. For a period of time he served as a rehabilitation counselor for the state of Arkansas at Forrest City.

His first exposure to hospital administration was in the hospital at Helena, Ark., where he began in a supervisory position over the Housekeeping Department. From this experience and training, he accepted the administrator's position at Heber Springs, Ark., where he helped finish construction, get Joint Commission accreditation and build an expansion.

Since that time, he has served as administrator in Siloam, Springs, Ark., and in

However, in the light of the recent proceedings, it is not known whether the county school board will honor that agreement. Supt. Cain said Wednesday the board has not discussed that matter since the hearing.

Booneville attorney Thomas Keenum, spokesman for the Prentiss County Concerned Parents Education Committee, said Tuesday some of the parents planned to meet with the county school board during their regular meeting Wednesday to ask for a group transfer of those students. However, Supt. Cain said Wednesday morning that he had not been contacted by the group concerning the meeting.

He indicated the school board would not consider the matter of student transfers until they have studied Chancellor Adams' ruling.

assessment with language results in all three grades equal to or above the national norm.

In math, computational skills (adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing) appeared to be superior to the grasp of math concepts and applications (numeration, symbols, number theory, number properties, etc.). "This is commensurate with previous results and merits additional analysis," the test evaluators said.

While students in grade 4 were near the national average in total reading (4.6), students in grade 8 were seven months (8.0) below the national norms.

"This may be a result of remedial reading being offered in grades 1-6 and not in junior high school," the evaluators said, "because of the necessity of taking the available funds and resources and concentrating them where the greatest remedial need exists. If this trend in reading continues and is substantiated in future evaluations, appropriate measures will be taken to alleviate this condition."

Results of the Short Form Test of Academic Aptitude showed an average intelligence quotient of 99 for fourth grade students, 98 for sixth grade students and 96 for eighth grade students.

"These results suggest that the mean or average mental ability score for students in grades 4, 6 and 8 in Prentiss County are within average or normal limits," the evaluators said.

In summary, the test evaluators said, "Achievement results suggest that students overall are being provided an appropriate curriculum and instructional program which enables them to compete successfully with their peers on a national level. While overall results are favorable in comparison to the national norm, trends in junior high reading and math (concepts and applications) may warrant more intensified analysis and monitoring to ascertain the need for curriculum and instructional changes in these areas."

Counselors will have information on individual students available this fall and parents are being encouraged to discuss their children's academic progress with their school counselor.

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I believe in prayer but I am confused about the difference in divine providence and a miracle. If miracles are over how does God answer my prayers?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Your question confuses many people. God does hear the prayers of christian people. He answers through divine providence not miracles. That is, he works through his established laws and ordinary channels. We pray for doors to be opened through which we may preach the gospel (Col. 4:3; 1 Cor. 16:9), and God opens these doors through his providence. We pray for food (Mat. 6:11) we labor with our hands (Eph. 4:8) and God through his providence will provide the food. We pray for the sick and God will providentially heal (James 5:14-18). A Miracle is an act of God suspending a natural law. A miracle is something which happens out of the ordinary affairs separated from the known laws of nature for which there is no logical explanation. Miracles were for the purpose of confirming the word (Mk. 16:17-20). Remember God promises to take care of his people, "Take no thought of your life (or be not anxious) "—God will take care..(See Matt. 6:25-27).

As Baptist Missionary

Booneville Nurse To Practice In Middle East

How would you like to spend a couple of years working in the exotic country known as the home of the Queen of Sheba?

Janet Dickerson of Booneville will be doing just that beginning next month. She has been commissioned by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board in Richmond, Va., to serve as a medical missionary (nurse) in Jibla, North Yemen, for two years.

The Booneville native has just completed a five-week generalized training course in Raleigh, N.C., and is currently in Booneville visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dickerson. She will leave August 4 for North Yemen.

Janet was one of a record 130 missionary journeymen commissioned by the Foreign Mission Board July 18. Three other young women from that group will be going to the same missionary hospital as Janet. Other journeymen will be assigned to various jobs throughout the world.

All missionary journeymen are recent college graduates under 26 years old who do not wish to become career missionaries, but who do wish to give two years working alongside career missionaries overseas before pursuing a career in the United States.

A graduate of Booneville High School, Janet received her B.S. degree in nursing from the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson in 1977. She applied to become a journeyman in November of last year and was notified in April that she had been accepted.

Janet said she is "really happy" about going to Yemen. She said she was more interested in being able to do the type of work she wanted, rather than picking out a particular country to go to.

Prior to applying for the Baptist Missionary work, Janet was working at the North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill, N.C. She said most of her work there had been in pediatrics. Once she gets to North Yemen, she will not be working in such a specific area.

The hospital in Yemen has 80 beds and a staff of two surgeons, two midwives and one family practice doctor, as well as some journeymen and several nurses already there.

After she arrives at the hospital, Janet will receive training in how to be a midwife. She says she will be doing deliveries, floor nursing, supervision and "a little bit of everything."

The medical staff at the hospital see a lot of typhoid cases, burns, delivery complications and gunshot wounds, Janet said she has been told.

One area which may take a little getting used to will be the clothes she will have to wear. The country is about 99 percent Moslem, she said, and the journeymen will have to dress according to local customs.

"We (the women) will have to wear dresses with pants underneath," she said. "We must always wear long sleeves. And when we go out, we must cover our heads with scarves."

Jibla, the town where the hospital is located, is roughly the size of Booneville, Janet said, with a population of about 6,000. "It is an old country," she added. "Its architecture dates back several centuries."

She said the area has a moderate climate. There is no snow and the temperature ranges from 30 to 90 degrees.

"It has really been an isolated area," she said.

There is no missionary church there. "All that's allowed in is the medical facility," she said.

Like many of the mid-east countries, Yemen is a divided nation. South Yemen is Marxist and North Yemen is a republic, Janet said.

The country is located just below Saudi Arabia on the Arabian Peninsula—not far from Iran where American hostages are still being held.

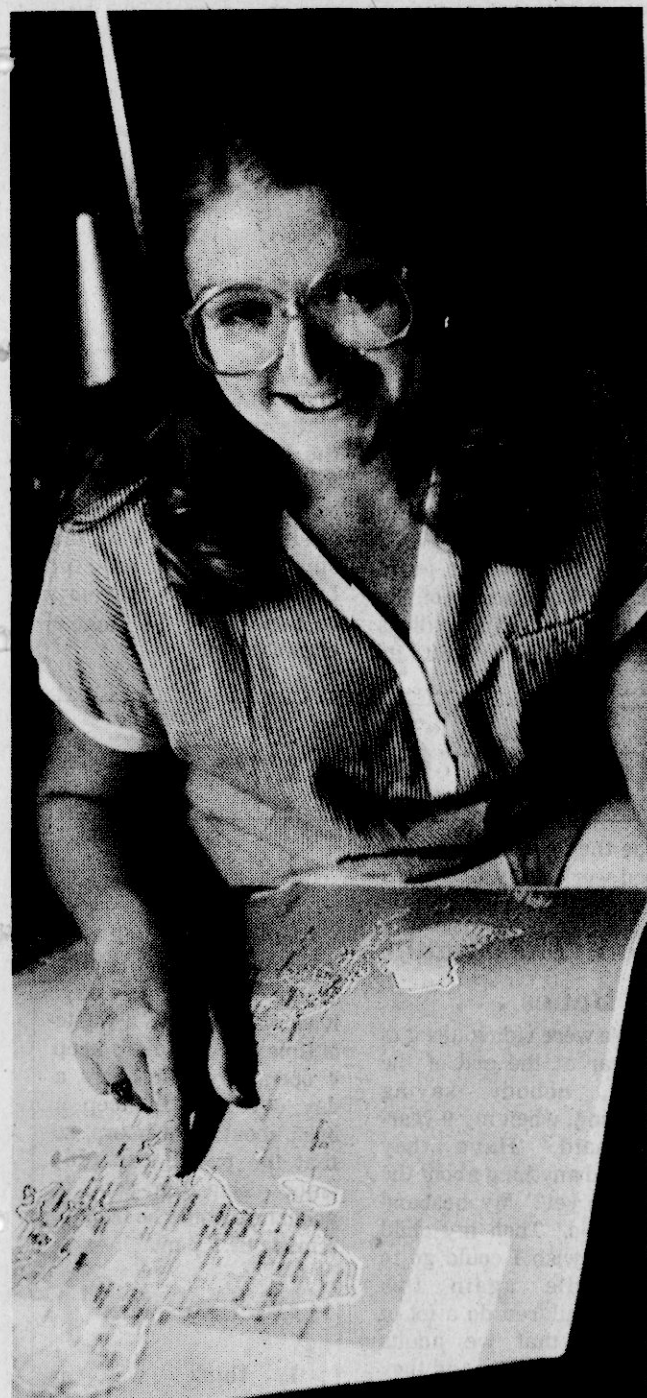

In order to get to the hospital, Janet will fly from New York to Paris, then to Sana, the capital of Yemen. She will then travel by land to the mission hospital.

After she gets there, if she should ever become homesick for a familiar hometown face, she may not have to go as far as she might have thought. She said she has just learned that another Booneville native, Luther Livingston, is stationed in the capital city, where he trains pilots!

Janet's parents seem to approve heartily of their daughter's decision to undertake the missionary work. "I feel it is something she was called to do," Mrs. Dickerson said.

Concerned Parents To Meet

The Concerned Parents and Citizens Committee of New Site School will hold a public meeting at the school Friday night, Aug. 1, at 7:30.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss what the committee has done concerning the elementary and the high school and their future plans, according to Mrs. Sandra Harris, spokesman for the group. "Everyone who is interested in New Site School is invited to attend," Mrs. Harris said. "Parents of New Site High School students and parents who have students considering New Site High School for this school year have a special invitation to attend."

Mrs. Harris said Larry

Morgan, who was recently named principal at New Site High School, will be at the meeting to give an outline of the new school program for the coming year.

For further information, contact Mrs. Sandra Harris at 728-6352, Mrs. Carolyn Taylor at 728-3725, or Larry Morgan at 728-6921.

Personal Property, Trailer Taxes Due

Prentiss County Tax Assessor-Collector Danny Childers again this week asked that taxes on mobile homes and personal property be paid.

He said if the taxes are not paid, it is the duty of the sheriff to serve papers on the owner and the property could then be sold at auction to raise money to pay the taxes.

All taxes must be paid no later than September, he said.

Senator District 5

S.B. No. 2260: This bill attempts to correct the attachment procedure which has been declared unconstitutional by both the Northern and Southern district federal courts of Mississippi because the procedure does not provide for adequate pre-seizure protection.

This bill adds a new section to the procedure which provides that the bill of attachment must be presented to the chancellor (instead of the clerk) and must be accompanied by a satisfactory bond and an affidavit which must contain, among other things, a detailed statement of the facts and grounds which entitle the complainant to an order of attachment, a statement of the amount the plaintiff seeks to recover, and a statement of the specific reasons why the complainant's ability to recover the amount of his claim may be endangered or impeded if the order of attachment is not issued.

Mississippi July

By JO CARLOYN ANDERSON BEEBE

Lightenin' bugs and a whippoorwill song,
Kathydids fiddlin' all the night long,
Down in the creek the bullfrogs croak,
Screech owl shriekin' in the big live-oak;

Catfish jumpin' down in the pond,
Terrapin sleepin' just beyond,
Up on the hill in the blackberry patch,
Waits an old fox lookin' for a catch;

Out on the porch rest the gentlefolk,
Sippin' iced tea or maybe a Coke,
Thinkin' about tomorrow and the work it'll bring,
Wonderin' why they planted so much in the spring;

Cucumber pickles and purple-hull peas,
Corn stalks growin' as high as the trees,
Tomatoes need cannin' and so do the beans,
Gotta fix the hole in the little boy's jeans;

Over 'cross the highway the teen folks play,
Sittin' at McDonald's in a dusty Chevrolet,
Listenin' to the radio and drinkin' RC,
Laughin' and flirtin' and squeezin' a knee;

Back at the house gettin' ready for bed,
First a glass of buttermilk and a bit of cornbread,
Clean overalls lyin' in the chair,
Bow your heads now for a word of prayer;

Cucumber pickles and purple-hull peas,
Thank you, good Lord, for all of these,
Lightenin' bugs and a whippoorwill song,
Mississippi July, this is where I belong.

Eyes On Mississippi

Education Alliance On Shaky Grounds

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—When the school teachers used to come to town every spring for their convention in their silly little hats and white gloves, adopt the usual resolutions and have the politicians fawn over them, the school administrators looked on approvingly.

But when, in more recent times, the teachers started talking about such things as collective bargaining and shared governance and stopped acting like docile little school marmes, that became a different story.

Now there is pretty good indication a lot of School administrators, no longer able to control the teachers organizations as they did back in the days of the MEA and MTA, are systematically trying to scuttle the MAE—the Mississippi Association of Educators, the successor to the old teacher organizations.

Four years ago, MEA, the white Mississippi Education Association, and MTA, the black Mississippi Teachers Association, after several agonizing attempts, had finally merged into MAE and became full-fledged members of the somewhat militant National Education Association—NEA.

Incidentally, Mississippi teachers were able to eliminate their racially separate organizations before some other states, especially neighboring Louisiana.

As expected, the merger of the black and white teacher groups in Mississippi, plus a closer alliance with NEA caused MAE to lose some teachers initially.

Out of the 18,000 members MEA had formerly and the 5,500 members MTA had, MAE wound up with around 18,000 teachers, a number that remained constant for the next three years.

But suddenly last year, MAE lost 2,400 members, and a closer look revealed that the dropoff was mostly due to pressure being exerted by school administrators around the state, discouraging teachers from being affiliated with MAE.

It also seemed to coincide with the initial demand by the MAE for local collective bargaining agreements with school boards to recognize MAE affiliates as the representatives of all teachers within the district.

In an anti-labor state like Mississippi, collective bargaining was immediately interpreted as another name for strikes, and there was a quick chill between local school officials and the teachers organization, even though the MAE was insistent that strikes were the furthest thing from their minds.

Meantime last summer, the officials of the state's 16 or so municipal school districts got together for a meeting and brought in a fire-and-brimstone speaker who once had been connected with the NEA to tell them what he would do if he had a bargaining agreement with a school district.

Apparently the speaker was palmed off as being still connected with NEA, and as MAE sources see it, he "literally scared the pants off" the gathered school officials. The incident, say MAE officials, was "totally unfair and damaging to our organization."

The upshot of all this, believe MAE leaders, has been an effort to undercut the teacher association reaching, they fear, all the way to State Supt. of Education Charles Holladay. Many administrators, MAE is quick to add, still are supportive.

Meanwhile, a new conservative teacher organization called Mississippi Professional Educators or MAPE, has appeared on the scene, strongly criticizing the MAE ties to NEA and opposing the idea of collective bargaining. So far, however, MAPE has attracted only a few hundred teachers, but apparently it is getting undercover encouragement from some school administrators.

MAE underwent a shakeup in its top leadership right after the 1980 Legislature ended when Executive Director John Ashley resigned in what he said were policy differences with his board members. Ashley was somewhat cool toward pressing for collective bargaining, but sources say his real problems lay in his failure to follow democratic, self-determination process in dealing with teacher members.

His departure has left the job unfilled, but in the interim, NEA has sent in its ace trouble-shooter, Dr. Arnold Wolpert, from Colorado, the man who had brought off the merger of the MEA and MTA in 1976.

Wolpert is said by MAE insiders to have regenerated the teacher organization and made it stronger internally than it has ever been. Evidently Wolpert found, to his dismay, that the MAE leadership in recent years had sold off some of its valuable property holdings and badly managed its finances.

The concern now is that the hard-driving Wolpert will retire early next year as he has planned, and won't be around to help the MAE take on the Mississippi Legislature, still the major obstacle for the teacher organization.

Speaking Out!

Unemployment

"I would like to inform the people of Prentiss County that the Booneville teachers drawing unemployment are also receiving their monthly teachers' salaries, which will not expire until Sept. 1. Many people do not realize that their salary is paid on a 12-month basis. Are they interested in the children or themselves?"

Editor's Note: When they sign their contracts, teachers decide whether to receive their salary in nine monthly payments, or to have it spread out into 12 smaller monthly payments. Regardless of which method of payment they choose, they receive the same amount of total pay. If a teacher chooses to be paid on a 12-month basis, it is similar to putting part of the paycheck in a savings account and drawing out a certain amount each month. If a teacher has not received a contract for the next term by the end of the school year, that teacher is technically unemployed.

Thanks, Ladies

"I think the ladies who volunteer at the hospital should be recognized for all the kind deeds they perform. They make it much easier for the people who have sick folks and I just hope they can keep up the good work. May God bless each of them. Thank you."

From The Mouths Of Babes . . .

"We were riding along in the car at the end of the week, nobody saying anything, when my 9-year-old said, 'Have they decided anything about the schools yet?' My husband said, 'No.' Then my child said, 'I wish I could go to Booneville again this year.' Children do a lot of thinking that we adults never know about and they are sensitive to the things that upset their little minds. I just wish all of this could have been worked out differently."

Plant Closing

"I think all the merchants and the concerned citizens of Prentiss County ought to get together and write their Congressman about the possibl closing of the nuclear power plant at Iuka. Environmentalists are on the verge of shutting down the Waterway already, and if they close the power plant, this will have a devastating blow to the economy of Northeast Mississippi. The facts speak for themselves. Just check the sales records that have been boosted since the Waterway and the nuclear power plant have come into effect. Thank you."

Pool Hours

"Could you find out why the swimming pool is only kept open four hours a day. It seems to me it's a waste of time and money to keep it open only four hours a day. We need to keep it open about eight hours, so that the people can fully enjoy using the pool. A good time would be from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m."

Declare War

"I think we as Americans ought to band together and demand that the President declare war against Iran. The taking of the hostages was supposed to be a leverage point to get the Shah of Iran back. And now that he is dead, they still refuse to release the hostages. That just goes to show you that wasn't the general principle behind it to start with. I think we ought to band together and demand that the President declare war, because if he had any backbone, he would have already done it. I think this is the feeling of most Americans and if a poll was taken in Prentiss County, I think this is what it would show."

Editor's Note: We think it should be pointed out that the President does not have the authority to declare war—only the Congress has that power.

SPECIAL REPORT:
Recession Hits Hard

Disastrous economic news continues to dominate the national scene as productivity slumps and unemployment continues to rise.

The Department of Commerce has now revealed that our economic output suffered the worst decline since World War II in the second quarter of this year, plunging 9.1 percent.

And, spokesmen for the Carter administration conceded that unemployment is expected to be 8.5 or 9 percent by the end of the year. That means nearly 10 million Americans will be out of work and forced to rely on unemployment compensation or welfare to make ends meet.

For those fortunate enough to have jobs, the administration had more bad news. Real take-home pay dropped during the second quarter by five and a half percent. One administration spokesman admitted that, and I quote, "Until this decline can be reversed—through some combination of reduced inflation, employment growth, and tax reduction—economic growth is likely to be weak, with little or no reduction in unemployment."

That statement amounts to an admission of poor performance in solving economic problems. It also confirms that we really are having to contend with the effects of a major recession.

Particularly hard-hit by the recession are the automotive, steel and housing industries, and the agricultural sector of our economy. Three hundred thousand automobile workers have been laid off, employment in the steel industry is at the lowest ebb since the 1930s, and the housing industry has hit rock bottom. Nationwide, farmers are facing a 40 percent drop in real income this year, and their debt to income ratio is the heaviest, or worst, in history.

In Mississippi, the unemployment rate jumped about 25 percent from May to June, with almost 90,000 people in our state out of work. The 8.6 percent unemployment rate last month is the highest in five years.

Manufacturing jobs were down 10 percent below 1979 figures, and the transportation equipment and timber-related sectors have suffered the biggest losses, reflecting the nationwide slump in the automotive and housing industries.

In spite of the desperate need to help stimulate the economy and assure greater productivity in the private sector, the administration refuses to support a tax cut. Secretary of the Treasury G. William Miller insists in his statements to House and Senate committees that next year will be the appropriate time to act.

Meanwhile, new taxes are added to the already heavy burden, so that next year's federal tax take will be almost $100 billion more than it was this year.

Those of us in the Senate who have tried twice in recent weeks to cut taxes by a modest $35 billion have been outvoted by the majority at the urging of the White House.

I don't believe the American people can wait until next year for economic relief from this deepening recession. Those already out of work are literally in a depression, with the administration conceding that millions more may join them before Christmas.

The administration's tax and spend policies have brought our nation to the brink of economic disaster. The time to cut back and cut taxes is now.

Miss Janis Poole Weds Mr. Charles Honey

The garden at the Curlee House in Corinth, was the setting Sunday, June 22 at 2:30 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Janis Quay Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Poole of Booneville, and Charles Wayne Honey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alton Honey of Tusculum, Ala.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of yellow silk organza. Designed with an off-the-shoulder sheer bodice and accented with a matching caplet with a band of tiny white and yellow daisies at the neckline, the full-length gown was tied in back with a long sash. She wore a matching rippled brimmed hat accented by white silk daisies cascading to one side.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white silk daisies with white picot ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Honey wore a matching dress and jacket in sheer peach floral. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Reception

The reception was held in the Curlee House.

Presiding at the guest register in the entrance hall was Mrs. Kenneth Teeter of Memphis, Tn. She presented the guests with tiny schrolls holding a message from the bride and groom.

The groom's table was covered in a floor length cloth of yellow overlaid in white lace cloth and held the groom's milk chocolate cake which was topped with green grapes, strawberries and cherries and the run-away groom. The cake was surrounded with fruit. Beside the cake was a large arrangement of yellow and white daisies.

Serving the groom's cake was Miss Jane Clark of Corinth.

A companion round table held the silver punch bowl from which fresh fruit punch tinted yellow was served by Ms. Mary Hopkins of Corinth.

The bride's table was in the formal dining room and covered in a floor-length white cloth. The brides' round based two tiered wedding cake was decorated in tiny yellow rose and sweet peas with green leaves. The cake was topped with a small arrangement of yellow and white daisies, baby's breath & greenery. Yellow daisies and greenery encircled the base. White mints decorated with a sweet pea and nuts were also served from silver trays.

Serving the bride's cake

Mr. And Mrs. Charles Honey

was Mrs. Dwight Farris of Corinth.

For traveling, the bride wore a cream pleated bodice crepe dress with accessories of cream and fushia. She wore a corsage of white daisies.

After honeymooning on Hilton Head Island, S.C., and Jekyll Island, Ga., the couple are now living in Corinth.

Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Wildsmith, Steve and Mike of Powell, Tenn., Nancy Fowler and Scott of Verona spent the week with Mrs. Beth Tidwell. Mr. Wildsmith is employed with the City of Nashville's KUB.

We wish to express our sincere sympathy to the family of Baxter Gilley. Baxter was buried at Gaston Cemetery July 24.

Pennington of Germantown, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Aurthur Southern, Shane and Belenda of Horn Lake, Miss., Greg, Genia, and Mabelle Southern of Rienzi, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCord of Wheeler and R.C. Robinson of Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hodges and Betty were in Ripley last weekend visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Lence, who is a patient in the hospital.

Mrs. Rhonda Todd of Memphis, Miss Sherry Boren and Jessie Presley spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Quinn Johnson of Jackson, Tenn.

Mrs. Zera Duggar and Mrs. Genevieve Kernell were delighted Thursday with a short visit from Mr. and Mrs. John Beebe of Tuscon, Ariz. Zera and Genevieve met the minister and wife, John and Mae, at different places a number of years before.

Zera met them in Ogden, Utah, about 1947, this was before her return to Booneville to live and Genevieve met them while living in Rio Vista, Calif.

After that time the Beebes moved to Antioch, Calif., where he served. These two have kept in touch with many of their church members at Christmas times and Zera and Genevieve were on that list. This time of getting together was a very special and happy occasion.

After this visit in Booneville, Mr. and Mrs. Beebe made their way to Florida to attend the graduation of their daughter who is in Nurse's training there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons of Memphis were guests of Mayor and Mrs. Charles Crabb Friday night and Saturday.

One day recently I met up with one of my favorite people. Rebekah Browning Barber, daughter of Thomas and Mildred Browning. This family was a close neighbor of ours at Wheeler. We talked of old times, especially our church activities. Very soon I learned that Rebekah had retained her friendliness. There was still that good attitude toward everyone. She loved her church in Clinton; she loved her family and most of all she was till a radiant Christian.

Rebekah lives in Clinton, Miss. She is married to Jerry Barber and they have two lovely daughters. I can tell the world Rebekah's family will go far in making this world a better place to live. She also told me she looked forward to reading the Banner-Independent each week. Thank you, Rebekah and may God bless you and your family always.

The Rev. McKenzie, pastor of the City Road C.M.E. Church of Corinth, Miss., was the evangelist for revival services this past week at Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church. As was promised, the services each night were highly spiritual and each soul was truly fed with the word of God as it was delivered by this great and effective speaker.

Inspirational services were beautifully rendered by the general church on Monday night; the Pleasant Grove M.B. Church on Tuesday night, the youth of Beckley Chaple on Wednesday night, and City Road C.M.E. Church of Corinth and Ruben Chaple C.M.E. Church of Frankstown, Miss., on Thursday night, Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church and Spring Hill M.B. Church combined their choirs Friday night for songs of inspiration and worship. Visitors on Friday night were the Rev. and Mrs. E.L. Siggers of Tupelo, Mrs. Lela Betts of Cleveland, Ohio, Sue Ellen Tucker of Plantersville, Miss., and Debra McKenzie of Corinth, Miss.

Those visiting back home over the week and weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Betts of Cleveland, Ohio, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Betts; Mr. and Mrs. Elvester Bennett of Seattle, Wash.; and Mr. and Mrs. William (Joe) Christian of Atlanta, Ga.

The Rev. McDuffy Aghew has returned from camp and is once more in action. His enthusiasm and interest in this column has been greatly missed. He will be speaking at the Tabernacle M.B. Church Sunday evening, Aug. 10, at 7 p.m. He is also sponsoring a trip to the Memphis Zoo Saturday morning, Aug. 9, for the youngsters of the Mt. Olive M.B. Church Sunday school.

They plan to leave from the church that morning at 7 a.m.

There is still available space for those who wish to accompany the group on this trip. Any interested parents with children, ages 1-12 may contact the Rev. Agnew, Mrs. Estelle Miller, or Shelia Young for further information.

Revival services are now in progress at the Mt. Olive M.B. Church and the Ruben Chaple C.M.E. Church. If possible, plan to attend one or the other of these services.

On Saturday, Aug. 2, another in the series of Sunday School seminars will be held at the Pleasant Grove M.B. Church of Rienzi. The Rev. Jimmy Pounds is the pastor. The Rev. R.L. Owens will be the instructor. The public is urged to attend.

The Family Day program held at Spring Hill Sunday afternoon was a great success. Although the gathering was small, the spiritual atmosphere was of the highest. The Rev. Lewis Ragins brought a very spiritual message entitled, "Together We Stand, Divided We Fall." His text was taken from Eph. 5:22-23. The morning worship, and afternoon program made for a day of wonderful fellowship and gratifying services.

Mrs. Marsha Ragins was the guest speaker at the Antioch M.B. Church of Corinth Sunday night. She spoke from the subject, "Almost Persuaded." It is reported that the message was very effectively delivered and thoroughly enjoyed by all attending.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Eleanor McGaha has been discharged from the local hospital. Her condition is still serious but she is thankful that her life and that of her three children were spared. They were involved in an accident Tuesday morning as she was enroute to her job.

Mrs. Aliene Jones is also home from the hospital and is much improved in her condition. We too are thankful for this improvement and pray that they will both soon be completely recovered.

Those in the hospital this week and for whom we continue to pray are Mrs. Fannie Winston, Mrs. Mary Warren, Mrs. Myrtle Crockett, Mrs. Caroline Copeland and Mrs. Betty Nunn.

Danny Michael Grove will be the guest speaker for the Youth Day program August 24 at Spring Hill M.B. Church. Area Churches are also invited to participate in this program. The public is invited.

Pastor's Appreciation Day will be observed Sunday morning, Aug. 3, at Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church. Members are urged to respond to their duty and visitors at will. The entire community is invited to attend this program and show your appreciation (at my instigation) for we have all benefited from the efforts of his labor since he has been with us.

The Rev.
Willie Powell

The Rev. Powell was sent to this area one year ago from the annual conference as pastor of the Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church and Ruben Chaple C.M.E. Church. To many of us, he came as a complete stranger—a situation he did not allow to remain for very long.

He did not limit his ministry to just Beckley Chaple nor did his ministry end with the Sunday service.

He did then, and still does, visit throughout the community, making himself known with a cheerful smile, a friendly handshake and an offer of his assistance in any way. His friendly and caring attitude has endeared him to the majority of the people of this community as his visits take him to the hospital, nursing home, the sick and shut-in of the community, and, many times, just a casual visit that always ends with words of encouragement, comfort and an invitation to attend the services of your choice.

He is a highly educated and intelligent man whose integrity and moral character is beyond question. His loving concern for all is exemplified each

Sunday morning as he involves the congregation in the messages he delivers. His method of calling by name those that he has come to know on a more personal level to ensure their complete understanding of the truths he is trying to convey, indicates to me the depths of his love and concern for them.

He has brought together the young people of the church and given them responsible positions in a manner that has never been done before and has gained their respect and trust to the extent that they are always willing and ready to serve at any time. The Rev. Powell has worked faithfully, long and hard while in this community and his efforts are greatly appreciated. As he goes to the annual conference in August, we sincerely hope that he will be returned to the Sunflower

Community, but whatever the outcome, we feel certain that it will be according to God's will and purpose for him.

We can never repay the kindness, love and concern shown by him for this community, but we can, to a great extent, show our love

Mr. Leroy Burnham and Mr. Gordon R. Burrows toured Morgan Moving and Storage Inc. recently and were guest of owner Bill Morgan.

Mr. Burnham, who is chairman of the board of Burnham Van Service, one of the nations largest moving and storage companies, toured the new Morgan facilities and warehouse located in their new location on Highway 45 South of Booneville.

Morgan Moving and Storage has been an agent for Burnham Van Service since Dec. 6, 1967. At that time Morgan was Burnham's smallest agent. Since then Morgan Moving and Storage has grown to one of the largest companys in the chain.

Out of 300 agents, Morgan is now in the top five which is quite a feat for any company.

The Morgans state that the people in North Mississippi are the main reason they have grown to this size in the 13 year period.

Bill Morgan said he was extremely pleased to be associated with the Burnham cain and added that he was especially pleased with the people in North Mississippi that has helped his growth.

He added that he was also pleased that Mr. Burnham and Mr. Burrows stopped by for the visit.

The intermittent showers, have made the weather more pleasant; let's hope that more rain will come in the areas where needed to help farmers.

Perhaps we should feel a little guilty to be enjoying better conditions when people in the western states have had little relief from the intense heat and dry weather.

A correction: In last week's report I stated that we spent a few days in Celina, Tenn., with our son Jerry. That did not take place as we again had trouble trying to contact him by telephone. Some of the circuits were closed. Our plans like those "of mice and men" went astray.

Get-well wishes go to the following:

--Mrs. Maye Smith of Blackland who is home following surgery in Tupelo.

--Dr. Webster Cleveland of Booneville who is a patient in the North Mississippi Medical Center. We do hope and pray that his condition is not so severe and he can soon be back to his family and his work.

--Mr. V.E. Lindley of the Blackland area who hasn't felt as well lately.

--Mrs. Pearl Green, Mam-Ma Coats, and other shut-ins.

Congratulations to these people who have reached another milestone in their lives:

--To Cleo Ward of Booneville who's birthday was July 21.

--To Mrs. Pearl Brady of the Chapman Community who celebrated July 26.

--To Mrs. Virgie Harris whose big day was Sun. July 27.

--To Little Tanya Coats who was all of three on July 30.

--To Bro. Marvin Rainey of Corinth whose anniversary was July 27.

Mrs. Pauline Jones was able to attend services on July 27 after being ill at home for more than a week.

It was good to see Sherman Estis at worship Sunday morning, July 27. He has been a shut-in for a long time.

Mrs. Bea Lawrence spent the weekend with the Myron Coats family and attended worship services at Oak Ridge.

The 4-Hers of Blackland deserve to be praised for their sponsoring of the Senior Citizens Day at the Community Center. They spent much time and labor in planning the games, gettin prizes and decorating the tables. A delicious lunch was served and later homemade ice cream.

It was my first time to be there and I enjoyed it thoroughly--the fellowship with so many nice people and reminiscing with some I had known longer, especially chatting with Mrs. Marie Lindley. Also, meeting Mrs. Jessie Strange and Ken Christian was a pleasure.

Our deep heartfelt sympathy goes to Mrs. Gladys Kennedy, her children, grandchildren and other relatives of Mr. Earl who died July 17. Mrs. Gladys is one of my dearest friends and a kind sweet person who has given so much in caring for her family even when not physically able.

Philip Coats is home after spending about 10 days in Birmingham, Ala., to attend a teletype school. South Central Bell (the whole system) demands their employees keep up to date on the new equipment and the use of it. Philip's young son David accompanied him on this trip.

The Ken Wilson family were here last weekend to be with his mother, Mrs. Irene, and sister Gail. Others of Mrs. Irene's family were in Memphis while her daughter, Mrs. Lorene Stokes, had open heart surgery in the Baptist Hospital. This was Lorene's third time to have this type of surgery and her folks feared for her life.

Several calls came Friday and the doctors said she was doing well. Calls Saturday and Sunday revealed that she is doing fine but will be in intensive care for several more days. We rejoice with her and the relatives.

Mrs. Pearl Barnes was absent Sunday morning due to illness. Hopefully she will soon be much better.

Vester Coats was absent Sunday because of working a double shift at the Baldwin Hospital--there were so many patients and one attendant was injured and unable to work.

Williams, Mills Claim Two Man Scramble Honors

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Booneville's Greg Williams and Tupelo's Chris Mills blistered the Booneville Country Club course with a 20 under par

124 to nab top honors in the Booneville Golf and Country Club Two Man Scramble Golf Tourney held last weekend at the local club. The local duo, both members of the Ole Miss golf team and members of the Southeastern Conference tour, were heavy favorites in the tournament and held up to their top billing with their outstanding two-day showing winning by a clean eight stroke margin over their nearest competitors

Bill Tanner and Bud Spain of Tupelo who teamed for a two day 130 total.

Both Greg and Chris, two of the top young golfers in the entire South, thrilled the tourney onlookers with remarkable shots throughout the 36 hole event.

The Ole Miss duo connected on 19 birdies, one eagle, 15 pars and one bogie for the two day classic.

The highlight of the tournament was indeed the Eagle which occurred on the number one green in Saturday's opening round. Chris, who used his driver to perfection all day, drove the fringe of the green and then Greg chipped in a 70 foot shot for the two stroke Eagle on the 340 plus yard hole.

The tandem shot a 12 under par 60 on Saturday and followed with an eight under par 64 Sunday to win the tourney by eight strokes.

Sunday's winners replaces Fulton's Ken Hogue and Jerry Stubblefield as champions of the tourney.

Joe Kingsley and Bill Holcomb of Tupelo, winners of the first flight shooting a 129, had some heroics of their own in Sunday's round. The duo shot the best round of the afternoon and at one point were 10 under par during the final 18 holes.

Cook and Anderson finished second in the first flight.

Booneville's George Oakley and Bob Castle of Ripley led the field in the second flight shooting a 134 while Bill Prather Jr. of Booneville and Larry Jobe of Corinth fired a 135 for second place honors.

Gholson and Vance of Holly Springs finished first in the flight shooting a 137 while Owens and Thompson were second.

Booneville's Dr. Paul Ellzey and Mark Hatfield took home the top trophy in the fourth flight shooting a four under par 140 while Davis and Bumpus were next in line with a 141.

Garrett and Doles won the fifth flight honors while King and Long won sixth and White and Grissom took the top prize in the seventh flight.

All golfing observers that attended Sunday's final round stated that they really enjoyed watching Williams and Mills' performance. Several fans of the two followed the duo throughout their final round and were thrilled with the two's remarkable accuracy.

Dove Hunting Changes Made

JACKSON—Mississippi dove hunters will find a major change in their sport when it opens statewide on Sept. 6. Hunters will be able to shoot mourning doves from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, according to the Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Considered a major change in dove hunting, the new regulation replaces dove shooting hours of noon until sunset. Not since 1948 have hunters been able to dove hunt all day.

All-Stars Return From State Tourney

WINONA—Booneville's 13 and 14 year old All-Stars lost a 6-1 decision to Starkville here last week and were eliminated from the further competition of the State Tournament.

The loss was their second in the double elimination event after dropping an earlier loss to Eupora on Wednesday of last week.

In the final outing, the local squad had four hits on the day with Gary King and Dwight Wright providing the only heroics of the afternoon.

Dwight was the losing pitcher on the day.

In Wednesday's 5-4 loss to Eupora, Gary King went three for three in the afternoon to pace the Booneville squad.

The local squad, coached by Ronnie Wheeler and Mike Cartwright, did earn two wins for the Tournament. The local diamond squad charged a 5-1 win over Corinth on Thursday night and followed with a 3-2 victory over Amory Friday morning at 1 a.m.

In the Corinth outing, Gary King, Dwight Wright and Rod Coggin all chipped in for the cause but the big blow of the day came when Scott McKinney, who had a pair of hits on the day, connected with a triple in the fourth inning that proved to be the winning blow.

In the Amory contest, Jeff Howell took the win for Booneville while Gary King took charge at the plate with a pair of hits.

Booneville coach Ronnie Wheeler said the tournament was the best event his team had every played in. "The tournament was carried out the way one should be," he said.

Coach Wheeler also said he was real pleased with his team's performance. "I was proud of our boys," he said.

"They had some hitting trouble along the way but we all know we could have beaten any team there and this always helps your feelings."

Booneville High School head football coach Mac Curlee has asked that all prospective BHS football players report August 7th for their team physicals at the dressing room. Team physician Dr. Paul Ellzey will give the physicals which is a standard procedure for all players who participate.

Coach Curlee also stated that any player who hasn't had their preliminary physical needs to do so before the August 7th meeting.

Some 37 players are expected for the fall practice session including a host of incoming freshman along with some of last years players.

All high schools are set to start the fall practice session beginning Sunday August 10th and Monday, August 11th.

Players will workout the first five days in shorts and helmets as required by State law and then after the five day period will return to full gear, pants, shoulder gear, head gear, etc.

Handy Pak Places Second

Sell-Rite Wins Ladies Crown

Sell Rite Furniture has won the 1980 ladies softball championship after a full state of action this summer.

The local ladies led the standings and finished at the top of the heap with a 13-1 overall record edging out Handy Pak who finished second in the standings with a 11-3 mark on the year.

Johnny Johnson took the third spot in the league with a 10-4 campaign on the circuit.

Prentiss MFG.

If Pizza Hut wins the game, both Pizza and Johnny Johnsons would have identical 10-1 records and would faceoff for the championship. Should Pizza lose Johnny Johnson would claim league honors.

The ladies league has finished their campaigns for this summer with the exception of the tournament action to follow while two nights of action was held in the mens league.

On Thursday night, Johnny Johnsons beat Schweiger 30-1, Sell-Rite beat Farm Bureau 7-0 in a forfeit game, Pizza Hut beat Booneville Paper 12-4, and the Civitans beat WPW 7-6.

In Monday nights action, WOW beat Western Auto 7-0 in a forfeit game; Johnny Johnsons beat the Civitans 9-

1. Farm Bureau beat Prentiss MFG 12-11; and Sell-Rite beat Schweiger 23-5.

Men's Champions Still Undecided

The men's league championship remains undecided and appears to be headed for a faceoff between Johnny Johnsons and Pizza Hut. At presstime Johnny Johnsons leads the league with a 10-1 record, however, an important game remains tonight when Pizza Hut, who currently holds the second spot with a 9-1 record, plays

Tiger Players To Report August 17th

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward announced Monday that some 60 to 65 players should report to fall football practice when it begins August 17th.

The Northeast head mentor said he was looking forward to getting started for the 1980 campaign and added that a lot of work had to be done before the Tigers opening game of the '80 particular in that he hoped all the players were in some sort of shape so he could start right with the game plan.

Ward said he was looking to find some quarterbackes and interior lineman to start with the JUCO program.

"This is something we tell our players when we sign them," he said. "We tell them to work out in the summer so they are ready to start with our program although we do spend some time each day with exercises, etc., etc."

season Sept. 4 against Copiah Lincoln at Tiger Stadium.

Coach Ward said he expected some 38 players from last year's roster to return for the fall practice sessions while some 25 incoming freshmen will make their way to the junior college ranks.

Ward stressed one point in Coach Ward along with assistants Billy Southward and David Carnell will run the players through twice per day workouts and sometimes three times per day.

Morning sessions will be held in shorts and head gear while the afternoon sessions will start in full gear.

BASKETBALL CAMP WINNERS—Admiring the awards they received at the close of the Junior and Senior High School Girls' Basketball Camp, sponsored by the Athletic Department at Northeast Junior College, are (l-r) Cinthia Sorrell, One-on-One Award; Pat Floyd, Sportsmanship Award; Susan Downs, Most Improved; and Kunshinge Sorrell, One-on-One Award. ## Football Rules Clinic Set

The Mississippi High School Activities Association will conduct eleven (11) football rules clinics at different locations throughout the state. The clinics are provided free of charge by the MHSAA and are open not only to officials but coaches and the general public. The clinics will be conducted by the Supervisor of Officials for the MHSAA, Larry Thomas.

The primary objectives of the clinics are to give the coaches as well as the officials a better understanding of the rules and rule changes. There are three basic reasons for the rules of football: (1) fair play, (2) a balance between the offense and defense, and (3) player safety.

Player safety has made tremendous strides in the last 10 years. For example, many restrictions have been placed on the use of the head as the primary point of contact. In 1971, a rule on spearing was introduced into the rule book and in 1974 butt blocking and but tackling (blocking and tackling using the head to ram the opponent) were made illegal. As a result of these and other safety rule changes, the nation wide death rate in high school football has been reduced from a high in 1968 (26) to a low in 1979 of only 3. The incidence per 100,000 participants for 1979 was 0.23. This is the lowest since the study began in 1931.

Thomas said, "The Mississippi High School Activities Association will continue to conduct rules clinics to make football and the many other sports a safer and more enjoyable activity for our high school students."

The football rules clinics which is mandatory for all football officials will begin at 6:30 p.m., and the locations and dates are as follows:

August 11 Ewing Hall, DSU, Cleveland
12 Coliseum, NWJC, Senatobia
13 Tupelo High School, Tupelo

Area Couple Wins First Prize

Disco Fever recently hit Patricia Patterson of Corinth and Bernard Rogers of Booneville, as the couple danced away with first prize honors this weekend in the

Player's Palace of Jackson, Tn.'s First Annual $1,000.00 "Do What You Wanna Dance Contest."

Dancing to the music of Corinth Deejay Dr. Honeyboy Hill and Jackson, Tn. Deejay James "Super" Wolf. The couple was selected as semi-finalists on Saturday night and on the following night, Pat and Bernard returned and again captured the hearts of the audience and the judges with their skillful performance and co-ordinated dress.

"We just seemed to naturally complement each other, as if we had danced together all our lives!" exclaimed Pat Patterson. Although they just met for the first time on Saturday night, their victory quickly established them as a dancing couple and they are looking forward to future performances in Memphis, Tn. and Atlanta, Ga. later this summer.

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

Don't Be A Headline

This is the time of year, unfortunately, that some Mississippi farmers run the risk of getting in the headlines because of hay baling accidents. Our Farm Safety Specialist Dannie Reed tells us this is the prime period for farmers to be killed or injured in hay baling, forage cutter and power take-off entanglements.

Tractor upsets during hay cutting on rough terrain, coupled with trying to haul too heavy loads, also can be killers. We just want to remind our farmers that the loss of life or limb is too high a price to pay for a few chances taken in the hay field. Be careful!

If you're unsure what's safe, we can provide some safety information.

To Fruit Or Not To Fruit

We are approaching the maximum fruiting period for cotton in most areas of the state. Our Cotton Agronomist Dr. George Mullendore says water is essential during this time to set a good crop.

Hopefully, most of our folks have received much needed moisture by the time this is published.

Insect Picture

Our entomologists tell us we have a mixed situation as far as insects go at the present time. On cotton, Dr. Robert Head says insect damage is varying from very serious to insignificant.

"Some fields have serious problems and control is essential," he said. "At this time, there are probably more trouble-free fields than fields with damaging populations."

He still warns us, however, of the potential for problems with bollworms, boll weevils, spider mites, fall armyworms, cabbage loopers and plant bugs.

The story is similar from Dr. Jim Hamer, our soybean entomologist. The recent rain might change the situation, but right now soybean fields infested with damaging levels of soybean insects appear to be spotty.

"Mixed populations of foliage feeding insects are present in most infested fields," Dr. Hamer said. "A slightly higher number of fields have increased insect problems, but in general, the pest situation has not changed drastically from last week."

We've Had Some Relief, But...

Our Mid-South Farm Weather Center at Stoneville is telling us to expect more hot, dry weather from now through mid-August. We usually find with this year being somewhat of an exception that the hottest part of the summer is usually mid-July to mid-August.

According to the weather station, the next 30 days will bring temperatures above 95 degrees with several more days reaching 100 degrees. They also forecast below normal rain-fall for the period.

forest land is privately owned. Most private lands are in the hands of nonindustrial owners, with farmers along owning about 4.9 million acres. Forest industry, though its ownership is up 20 percent since 1967, holds only about 3 million acres.

Meanwhile, total commercial forest area has continued to decline in Mississippi. Although still occupying 55 percent of the state's territory, some 200,000 acres of forests were diverted to pasture and crops during the past decade. Hardwoods dominate two-thirds of the state's 16.7 million forested acres.

This decline in forest land is likely to continue because of future losses to agriculture urbanization, and transportation right of ways, among other non-forest uses.

Only by stressing good management practice and improving the resource now can Mississippi forests fully provide for an expanding timber economy in the years ahead.

'Green Stuff' Improves Herd Market Value

By TONY L. THOMPSON

A cattleman who is somewhat older and wiser than I once told me that 'just a handful of green-stuff' along will make a world of difference in the way an old cow will fare during the winter.' After talking with cattlemen and dairymen over the years and from personal observation, I'm convinced he is right.

Cool season forages can make the difference in the ability of that mama cow to wean a healthy, heavy calf that will bring top dollar over the scales at market time. This is especially true in Prentiss County since most of our producers follow a late winter-early spring calving program.

If you are in the cattle business, now is the time to be thinking about establishing cool season forages or improving that cool season pasture you already have. There are a number of options open and you can select the one that best fits your particular operation and management objectives.

Permanent-type cool season grazing is really popular with cattlemen in the county, especially in the Blackland soil resource area where fescue and clover is well adapted. Its major advantage is that once established there is no additional cost except for annual maintenance.

Tall fescue in combination with either white or red clover is most commonly used. Adding clover to the tall fescue pasture not only makes a more nutritious feed, but also reduces fertilizer cost since a good stand of white clover will produce over 100 pounds of available nitrogen per acre in the soil annually.

Management is the key to maintaining a healthy, balanced stand of fescue and clover. Reducing nitrogen fertilizer is important along with proper grazing. Fescue and clover stands should never be grazed lower than three inches and should be grazed only during the period of October 1 to June 1.

Grazing during the hot summer months can destroy a stand of fescue. Fertilizer and lime should be applied according to soil test recommendations.

Temporary-type cool season grazing can also be of value in forage systems. The most common forage plants used are annual ryegrass, wheat, or wheat-ryegrass combinations. The main advantage these forages have over tall fescue is the capability of producing a greater amount of forage per acre that is higher in nutritional value. However, it is quite expensive to establish and maintain these forages annually.

This system is mostly used to carry weaning-age calves to yearling weights and in dairy operations.

Overseeding or sod-seeding ryegrass and-or wheat into permanent summer pastures offer still another alternative to obtaining cool season grazing. This system usually won't provide grazing until late winter or early spring but is economical to establish.

The cool season forage sod must be grazed or mowed down in late spring to prevent damage to the permanent summer sod from competition.

The Prentiss County cattlemen who profit from the business will be those who do a top job in management. Cool season grazing may be one of the keys to that management program.

State 4-H Convention

Kathy Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Ballard, and Scott Floyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Floyd, represented Prentiss County at the State 4-H Convention, at Jackson.

Kathy, attended the convention as a voting delegate. The responsibilities of voting delegates are to cast their ballots for the county in the election for district and state 4-H officers.

Scott attended the convention as the second place winner in the Beekeeping Contest at 4-H state Club Congress. Scott will also represent Prentiss County as a voting delegate.

The State 4-H Convention consists of assemblies with guest speakers including Gov. William Winter, campaigns for district and state 4-H officers, 4-H interviews for 4-H awareness teams, and the state awards program.

Commercial Heifer Class

Commercial beef heifer shows have been announced for the 1980 State Fair and the 1981 district and roundup shows. In our area, we have two fairs which will have commercial heifer classes: the Union County Fair at New Albany and the Tupelo Mississippi-Alabama Fair. The New Albany show is the week of August 4-9 and the Tupelo Fair is the week of September 8-12.

Rules For Commercial Beef Heifer Shows

(1) Only heifers which have their milk teeth will be eligible to show.

(2) Heifers will be mouthed and weighed prior to showing.

(3) General rules for purebred beef cattle will apply to commercial heifers.

(4) A champion and reserve of each breed classification will be chosen. There will be no overall grand champion.

(5) Exhibitors in the commercial heifer show may enter the beef breeding showmanship classes.

(6) Classification of commercial heifers will be as follows: (1) English and English Cross-Hereford, Polled Hereford, Angus, Devon, Red Poll, etc. and their crosses; (2) European & European Crosses-Simental, Limousin, Charolais, and their crosses; (3) Braham and Braham Crosses-Braham, Brangus, Santa Gertrudis, Beefmaster, etc. and their crosses.

If it is a Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn, Red Poll, Devon, or cross between any of these breeds, then it would show in the English Breed.

If it is crossed with any of the European breeds such as Simental, Charolais, Limousin, etc., then it would show in the European cross class.

If the cross has any braham influence, regardless of whether it is a Braham crossed on Simental or other European breeds, or English bred cattle, then it would go in the Braham classification.

County Forester's Report

By JOHN STUART
County Forester

Mississippi forests are growing fast, but not fast enough to support the desired expansion of forest industry, according to a published report by the U.S. Forest Service, Southern Forest Experiment Station.

"No cause for alarm is justified," says Dr. Laurence E. Lassen, director of the station, "but it should be noted that Mississippi's tremendous pine surplus of growth over cut has been reduced somewhat. This especially is true in regions of the state where industry has concentrated in activities over the past 10 years."

Over the state as a whole, timber volumes have increased 24 per cent since 1967. This represents growing stock only; dead, rough, or rotten trees are not included. Softwood volumes, almost all southern pine, made even more impressive gains showing a 30 per cent increase, but gains varied widely from region to region.

While North Mississippi has a healthy 78 per cent increase in softwoods, the south Mississippi gain was a mere 8 percent, the difference being attributed to heavy timber harvests by industry in the southern part of the state, as well as damage caused by Hurricane Camille in 1969.

Some 45 per cent of all softwood mortality is concentrated in southern Mississippi, presumably because of trees damaged or otherwise weakened by Hurricane Camille. The high concentration of wood using industries in the southern part of the state has encouraged more extensive harvesting there, which together with the high mortality rate, accounts for the small gain in softwoods compared to other parts of the state.

North Mississippi, on the other hand, had been heavily depleted of timber until the 1940's. Reduced cutting and increased fire protection, however, set the stage in subsequent decades for the upsurge in growth and volume. Too, extensive tree planting has been done there to establish protective cover on highly erodible soils.

Hardwoods have gained 17 percent over the inventory of 1967. The best news about hardwoods was that land clearing in the Delta slowed over the 10-year period, resulting in a 21 percent increase in hardwood inventory. More productive hardwood sites, however, have already been cleared to agriculture.

Another negative aspect is that more than half the hardwood inventory, statewide, is on upland sites. Hardwoods on those lands vary greatly in their capacity to produce quality sawtimber.

One of the more difficult resource problems in Mississippi is that oak-hickory stands are growing on so many lands better suited to pine. Hardwood removal is prohibitively expensive for many small landowners of such sites since little merchantable material can be harvested to effect site preparation costs.

Nevertheless, since conversion of even a portion of this type hardwood acreage could substantially increase the pine resource in Mississippi, reclamation should take precedence over sites, whose treatment costs might be lower but whose productivity potential for pine would be less.

Ninety per cent of Mississippi's commercial
