County Transfers Granted Eligibility By MHSAA

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

For the most part, the long drawn out process of determining eligibility of Booneville High School athletes is over.

The Mississippi High School Activities Association (MHSAA) Executive Committee Monday officially waived a rule allowing BHS students, who live outside the newly formed city school district to participate in the school's athletic programs and other activities, such as band, clubs, and cheerleaders.

According to Dr. Woodrow Marsh, executive Director of the MHSAA who talked briefly with the Banner-Independent Monday, all BHS students who live outside the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and who were bona fide students in grades 9-12 during the 1979-80 school year will be considered eligible for the remainder of their enrollment at the school.

However, the Prentiss County School Board has released the students for only a one-year period, with transfer requests to be reviewed again next year.

Dr. Marsh also pointed out that should a student leave Booneville High School to attend a County school and then return to BHS, he or she will no longer be eligible under the current rule.

Troy Henderson, superintendent of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District, said Monday that he hoped the current ruling would ease some of the tension and parents and added that he felt the ruling was done in the best interest of everyone concerned.

When asked why the MHSAA wavered the rule, Dr. Marsh said, "A rule of this nature is subject to change when a group of students are concerned and no recruiting situations were involved." "Let me point out that this is a rare rule change under our executive committee," Marsh added. "However, since a formation of a new school district occurs only seldom, then we felt like the rule change was only fair."

Booneville High School head football coach Mac Curlee said he, as everyone else, was relieved that the rule was waived. "Its time now to start preparing our football players for the upcoming season and now we know what we'll have to work with," he said.

The current ruling allows the Blue Devil squad to use its full force which is now 37 players. The old rule would allow only some 20 players on the grid squad, all of whom live inside the district.

Most area resident, teachers, students and of course the athletes breathed a sigh of relief Monday when the MHSAA Executive Committee made the official announcement. Here is what some had to say:

BILL SMITH, ATTORNEY for the Separate school district: "I feel like the MHSAA made a just ruling and did so with the children in mind. The situation was unique in many ways, but the solution in my opinion was done for

343 Students Released To Attend City Schools

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Immediately following the ruling of Chancellor George Adams last week that the Booneville Municipal Separate School District is legal, both the city school district and the Prentiss County School District began making final plans for the beginning of the coming school term, even though the county school board is in the process of appealing the chancellor's ruling.

Responding to the requests of a large number of parents who met with them Wednesday night of last week, the county school board began hearing individual requests from parents for the release of

Wednesday Is Deadline To Ask For Transfer

The Prentiss County Board of Education has established a deadline of 4:15 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 13, for parents to request the release of students who live in the Prentiss County School District to attend school in any other school district.

Supt. Lex Cain said this deadline is necessary so that the county schools can finalize bus routes, hire teachers, and take care of other matters necessary for the beginning of the 1980-81 school term.

Students Can Pay Tuition In Installments

Each student who lives outside the city limits of Booneville and attends school in the Booneville Municipal Separate School District next term will be required to pay tuition, city school superintendent Troy Henderson said this week.

The tuition for the 1980-81 school year is $100, he said. All students, grades 1-12, who do not live in the city must pay this tuition in order to attend one of the Booneville schools.

The tuition is being charged to offset the local tax money the separate school district will not receive from the county residents but will receive from city residents. Those students who live within the city limits will not have to pay tuition to attend the city schools.

Three methods of payments of the tuition have been established. The full $100 per student transferred

Later This Month

City, County Schools Prepare To Open

Prentiss County schools will be the first to get underway this fall, according to schedules released by both the city and the county, but city schools will begin just a few days later.

County school superintendent Lex Cain and city school superintendent Troy Henderson this week released schedules for the beginning of the school term.

Before reporting to school this fall, all students in grades 1-12, whether they attend city or county schools, must comply with the state's immunization program.

Dr. Charles Holliday, state superintendent of education, announced earlier this summer that every student will be required to have the blue Certificate of Compliance before he or she will be allowed to attend class. This is a new ruling from the State Department of Education.

The certificates can be obtained from the Prentiss County Health Department or from a private physician.

Prentiss County Schools

All students planning to attend Hill's Chapel, Jumpertown, Marietta, New Site, Thrasher or Wheeler schools this fall are to report to their individual schools at 8 a.m. Friday, Aug. 15. Supt. Cain said that it is very important that all students report that day in order for the schools to get a total on the actual number of students who will be attending each school.

Buses will run that day. The students will be dismissed at 10 a.m. No students are to report Monday, Aug. 18, which has been set aside as a workday for teachers.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 19-21, students in specific grades will report to the individual schools. (All students report at Hills Chapel, Jumpertown, Marietta, and New Site.)

343 Students

county students to attend the new Booneville school system.

County school superintendent Lex Cain told parents at the Wednesday meeting that the county would not grant a group release for the students, but would consider individual requests. He also told the parents the forms they had previously filled out requesting a release for their children would no longer be any good—because changes have been made in the form—and the parents would have to complete a new one.

Specifically, the changes mentioned concerned transportation and tuition. The county said they would no longer furnish transportation for the transferred students as they had previously said they would. Likewise, the city school system had previously said they would not charge tuition for the transferred students, but now say they must charge $100 tuition per child transferred. These changes had to be included in the new forms requesting the release of students, Cain said.

Supt. Cain said Tuesday that the county school board has set 4:15 of next Wednesday as the deadline for parents to request the release of county students to attend another school district. Some 343 students had been granted releases by Tuesday. None who requested a release were refused by the county school board, Cain said.

Supt. Cain also said the Booneville Municipal Separate School District has agreed to release, on an individual basis, any student living within the separate school district desiring to attend the Prentiss County School System for the 1980-81 school year.

The county superintendent pointed out that, by law, one district cannot transport students from another district into its schools. Therefore, any students wishing to transfer from the city system to the county system would "have to meet us outside the city." There will be no tuition charged for students transferring from the city to the county, he said.

Supt. Cain said he has had a number of city residents call concerning transferring to the county and he has referred them to city school superintendent Troy Henderson. Those students transferring from the city to the county must get a release from the city before the county can accept them, he said.

The reason for the fast action on the part of the parents and the school board last week on the question of transfers was so that the Mississippi High School Activities Association could consider at their meeting Saturday, Aug. 2, whether or not these transferred students would be eligible to participate in sports, band and other school activities.

To the surprise of many, the MHSAA Saturday reversed an earlier stance on the situation and granted students transferring from the county system to the city system a waiver of the Activities Association rule that says a student must reside in the school district in which he attends school in order to be eligible to participate in the activities governed by the MHSAA. (For further details of the eligibility ruling, see the story on Page 1 by Sports Editor Lee Gentry.)

In other matters, city school superintendent Henderson said this week he does not know when the city school system will begin hiring teachers, but indicated it should be soon.

"At this point some positions have been filled," Henderson said, "but we are now waiting on the final transfer of students."

Since next Wednesday is the deadline set by the county for transfer requests, the city is expected to begin hiring teachers shortly thereafter. Both school districts have also released schedules for the beginning of the 1980-81 school term. All county students will report to their individual schools Friday, Aug. 15, and city students will register Aug. 25 and 26. (For further details, see story on Page 1 and chart on Page 2.)

Unemployed

employed dropped to 10,150, down some from the May estimate but over the figure for one year ago.

Overall establishment based employment declined with manufacturing industries reporting 3,020 workers and non-manufacturing reporting 3,580. Again mass layoffs and seasonal layoffs such as school related service workers account for this decline in workers.

The civilian labor force for the four-county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tippah, and Tishomingo climbed to 46,950, according to Smith. This shows a marked increase of 1,220 over the May estimate and 2,170 over the figure for June 1979. There were 40,350 workers employed at mid-June, a loss of 1,850 from May and 1,990 from one year ago.

An estimated 6,600 persons were unemployed during June, 3,070 more than last month and 4,160 more than the June 1979 estimate. The rate of unemployment for June was estimated to be 14.1 percent of the civilian labor force, as compared to 7.7 percent in May and 5.5 percent one year ago.

A total of 13,760 workers were employed in manufacturing industries at mid-June, plunging some 1,190 below the previous estimate and 2,830 below the June 1979 figure with several industries contributing to these losses. Non-manufacturing, with 18,980 workers employed, experienced a substantial decrease of 1,010 from May but rose 510 above the estimate for June 1979.

Public education, a part of government, had its usual seasonal layoff of school related service workers. The gain from last year was led by Construction and Government, the result of new job opportunities.

NOTICE TO PARENTS OF ALL STUDENTS OF THE PRENTISS COUNTY SCHOOLS

This year, students in ALL grades (1-12) MUST HAVE the blue card showing they have had all required immunizations to attend school. PLEASE BE SURE that your child has these required shots completed before school begins.

"BILLY" GOAT

Letter To The Editor Results Will Be Better Education

Dear Editor,

The "hot" issue in Prentiss County is the issue of the Booneville Separate School District. The Prentiss County Board of Education is fighting the separate district "tooth and toenail" to keep it from becoming a reality.

The "hot" surface reasons are not quite clear, except that they feel the separate district is illegal and not necessary. I am sure that the county Board feels justified in their fight and feels they are working for the good of the community, but I want to propose a new light on the issue and the purpose the county Board's fight against the separate school district.

I want to begin by saying that the members of the county Board are friends of mine and I respect them deeply. They are fine people and always look to do what is best for the people of the county. Many other people must feel the same way considering the board member is an elected official. But even the best of people can be lead astray of the issue.

The controversy of the Booneville separate school district is not of its legality, but of its consequences to the county educational system. The County School Board realizes that if Booneville goes separate the county will lose better than 50 percent of its educational money. Considering the county school system has been operating in the red, this loss of funds could cause major problems, compounded with the fact that the Mississippi Educational Finance Commission is not going to give Prentiss County any more funds until a workable consolidation plan is put into action.

The County School Board realizes with the loss of funds from Booneville and no hope of any money from the EFC, the county will be forced to consolidate, unless, of course, the citizens of the county wish to have more taxes levied on them to support the schools, which I don't feel is wanted.

Then the argument is being made that Booneville separate school district is going to ruin the county school system because of its taking money from the Educational Fund, thus causing a decrease in the quality of education in the county schools. This argument holds some merit in the short run, but does not hold water for the long run.

The separate school district will increase the quality of education in Prentiss County in the future for two basic reasons:

(1) Booneville will have more money to operate and be able to receive money from the EFC to eventually (in 5 or 10 years) build new school buildings and supply these buildings with the educational equipment necessary to prepare the students to cope with today's complex world and compete with students from the surrounding areas which already have much better educational facilities than we do.

(2) Prentiss County will be forced to consolidate some of our county schools and build new and better equipped facilities which will also better prepare the students for the competition of college and/or the job market.

I want to say that I am not an advocate of consolidation or of a separate school district, but the reality has come that we as Prentiss County cannot continue to slight our educational responsibilities of our children.

The educational system is fine as is, if students have the ambition to make it on their own without much help, but what about the ones who just need a little help to achieve? They can not receive this help from our current system.

I will agree the system was fine 20 years ago because the world was not quite so complex as today with nuclear power and the call for more highly trained professionals in many fields.

The separate school system was brought about out of the frustrations of many parents to provide a better education for their children, to prepare them adequately for college, which is not being done under the current system.

I really wish we could keep the small community schools because they provide a community strength which the South is known for, but the current world of finance will not allow these schools to continue and to provide an adequate education. Therefore, for our children's sakes, consolidation is necessary, but not relished. If away can be found to provide a good education without consolidation I will be the first one to vote for it, but one has not been proposed and our children cannot wait forever.

I want the best education possible for my sister now, and for the children, hopefully, I will have in the future. I feel that the separate school district will be the first step in this educational improvement process which will take several years to complete, but will be worth the effort and the suffering of the few in the short run.

Sincerely,
Lamar Jackson Jr.

Winter Wants Fortune Out?

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—It could become one of the most delicate issues of his administration, but Gov. William Winter wants Dr. Porter Fortune replaced as chancellor of the University of Mississippi, Winter's old alma mater.

Very quietly, but firmly, Winter is letting his feelings about getting a new chancellor at Ole Miss be known to members of the State College Board, the constitutional body which must decide if any changes are made at state institutions of higher learning.

Winter's reasons for wanting Fortune out have nothing to do with politics or personal dislike, sources close to the situation say. But Winter, who has long been intimately connected with the scholarly community in Mississippi, and even nationally, is said to have strong misgivings about Fortune's capacity to restore the University academically and administratively to its finest days.

There is a feeling among some keen observers of the state's higher education, apparently Winter among them, that Ole Miss has never fully recovered from the trauma and disruption it suffered in the Ross Barnett handling of the James Meredith episode in the '60s.

As a result of the Barnett's heavy-handed interference in the affairs of the University, it barely escaped academic discreditation, and lost numbers of valuable faculty members. Eventually, Dr. J.D. Williams, the highly-regarded chancellor of Ole Miss gave up after his courage was spent during the crisis.

This is the atmosphere in which Fortune arrived in 1968 as the replacement for Chancellor Williams. From the start, Fortune was suspect by many in the academic community because he was selected by a board dominated by Ross Barnett appointees, chiefly M.M. Roberts, the old Hattiesburg attorney who championed the hardline segregationist policies of the board.

What also bothered academicians was that Fortune, who once had been a professor and later dean at what was then Mississippi Southern, had spent the seven years before being named Ole Miss' chancellor as a national executive of the Exchange Clubs, of America, essentially a public relations job.

At Ole Miss, Fortune's PR talents became useful in getting along with the state's political establishment, and the legislature and pulling in some foundation money, including the highly publicized Sen. Jim Eastland chair at the Law School, the latter an apparent hedge against moving law from the Oxford campus to Jackson.

But Fortune has never built a reputation for attracting academic talent to the University or providing the institution with firm administrative direction. Meanwhile, three years ago, Fortune developed severe health problems which put him on the sidelines for long periods of time, and for a time, appeared to make it impossible for him to continue to head the University.

The 60-year old Fortune, however, declined to step aside. More recently, his health apparently has improved and he has for all intents and purposes resumed his normal functions, but at a reduced pace.

The College Board last December renewed Fortune's contract for four years, effective July 1, 1980, apparently anticipating no change being made at Ole Miss.

However, the board took what seems to be a significant action at its March meeting in Oxford. It created what it called a "distinguished professorship" to which any president of an institution with 10 years or more service could be named if he decided to relinquish his executive duties. He would be paid 75 percent of the salary he was making as president.

Even though the board put a caveat in the new policy that it was not intended to "get rid of any executive," the action is being viewed by some as tailor-made to provide an "honorable alternative" for Fortune to step out if the board begins to provide pressure.

Winter, interestingly, served as president of the Ole Miss Alumni Association last year, and evidently obtained some close hand observations in how the leadership of state's oldest institution of higher learning stands in meeting the challenge of the 1980's.

What he saw apparently didn't please him.

Speaking Out

Who Pays?

"Booneville has a separate school system, but the county is appealing the judge's decision. Who is going to pay the cost for this appeal, the taxpayer or the school board?"

Prayer In School

"Concerning the school situation: Let us get more concerned about the children and put prayer back in school. And teach the children how to teach one another. If they learn to love one another, then as adults they can get along and do better. Love God as Christ loved us and we should love one another."

Against Sin

"I am concerned about our churches who have preached against all sin in general and have been looked down on by other faiths because of their standards to compromise on things of the world, such as face makeup, eye shadow, flush and so forth, swimming pools, cutting or trimming hair and other forms of worldliness. This is the prophecy of the Bible being fulfilled. I think everyone should be getting ready for the coming of the Lord. Thank you."

Support Team

"To the people of Booneville: As you know the 13-14 year old Dizzy Dean All Stars of Booneville went to the state tournament this year and finished in fifth place out of about 15 teams, which I think is very good. This team at the first of the season did not have a field to play on, did not have your support from Booneville, but now, once the team does win, Booneville starts to support them. Next year, I think Booneville should start supporting their teams before they find out the teams will be going to the state tournament."

Catfish Farming Is Bright Spot In State's Economy

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

At one time or another almost every Mississippian has stopped at a roadside food emporium to order the plate lunch of the day and munch it down to the tune of whatever jukebox selection somebody made.

Sometimes this makes us better appreciate the privilege of naming the tune.

American grew up with a 'name the tune' philosophy, partially born at the popular barn dances that spanned this young nation, where it was common for the one who paid the fiddler to name the tune.

This philosophy has followed American through many walks of life. Probably its most indelible impressions are those made in the field of finance where the banker, or any other financial agency, has an unmistakable say about his client invests the funds he borrows. The collateral required screws the principle down tightly.

Most Mississippi catfish are grown in the delta where the clay soil makes an impervious pond liner, and where water can be tapped easily with a shallow well because of the high water table. The climate and cultural conditions there favor production of channel catfish, and Mississippi leads the nation in the production of these pond raised fish.

Success, however, does not happen automatically. Growers have to be extremely attentive to their ponds every day, carefully monitoring the daily condition of the water with respect to oxygen and other factors. Fish diseases can set in quickly if optimum cultural conditions are not maintained constantly. And an investment of thousands of dollars per acre can vaporize in thin air if the operator is negligent.

But assuming the best of cultural practices are followed, that alone has only pointed the operator toward a profitable operation.

Probably the most significant, collective factor in the success of this rising young agricultural industry is the wisdom of the beginning growers of this state to keep the lure of 'contract growing' options to their back, and maintaining maximum personal control over their investments.

Contract growing is a compromise or joint operation with a larger partner such as a feed manufacturing firm who, as in the poultry industry, may furnish the baby chicks, feed, medication, some supervision, perhaps a few other items, and a market for the entire production on the larger partner's terms. Many broiler growers have found this arrangement enabled them to get into business with less than total investment, and with a guaranteed market, but for returns that many have felt were disappointing.

The catfish producers went into business with their eyes wide open, and integrated the operation with many of the growers investing in local feedmills in order to provide their fish the best protein feed available at the best price.

Also serving delta area catfish growers are three local catfish processing plants. Another, a farmer-owned cooperative, is under construction.

Though the production of catfish is expanding rapidly, Mississippi growers still are enjoying a seller's market, thanks to their system, and have a voice in the tune played at the marketplace.

On State's Schools

MEC Recommends One System With Professional Administrator

"The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future life."

That quote from the ancient Greek philosopher Plato sums up the value and necessity of a quality educational system.

Income levels of Mississippians and the availability of productive jobs are closely tied to the state's educational system. The business concerns in this nation which provide jobs are looking for plant sites where the labor force's educational level can assure efficient, productive operation.

In order to provide an attractive, training labor force, the Legislature needs to examine Mississippi's four-district school system. Each of the four types of districts—county unit, consolidated, municipal separate, and special municipal separate—operate under different laws governing school finance, selection of superintendents, and even selection of board members.

The Mississippi Economic Council recommends a single school district form with uniform administrative and financial prerogatives. Districts should have fiscal independence. And, the best administration can be achieved through a competent, professional administrator appointed—rather than elected—and operating under the policy directions of a well-qualified lay board of education.

The MEC also believes that appointed boards can provide greater service and better leadership than elected boards having undue concerns over political consequences of their decisions and actions.

Miss Cindy Crabb Weds Mr. John Simmons Jr.

Cindy Crabb, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Charles Crabb, became the bride of John Simmons Jr. of Memphis in a 6 p.m. ceremony at the Calvary Baptist Church in Booneville on June 21. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons Sr. of Memphis.

Bro. Ray Bostick officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of many relatives and friends of the couple.

The wedding vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a circular candelabra entwined with greenery. Candle trees were placed on each side and baskets of gladiolas with apricot ribbons completed the setting.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a formal gown of white silk organza over peau. The lifted bodice featured an overlay of silk Venice lace appliques in a daisy pattern.

The Queen Anne neckline and camelot sleeves were designed with lace appliques embroidered in pearls. A vertical double row of lace trailed down the front skirt and circled the hemline which extended into a Cathedral train. The aisle-length matilla of imported illusion was trimmed in lace to match her gown and fell from a carpet of Venice lace.

The bride carried a bouquet of apricot roses with baby's breath and streamers of matching ribbon.

Miss Crabb was attended by her only sister, Mrs. Cathy Johnson of Roseland, La., as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Evelyn Ward of Memphis, sister of the groom; Judy Long and Rhonda Inman, both of Booneville; and Mrs. Sharon McCully of Fort Worth, Texas.

The bride's attendants wore identical long dresses of apricot Quiana featuring blouson bodices and full skirts. Each carried a bouquet of white mums and baby's breath with streamers of apricot ribbons.

Amy Ward, niece of the groom, was flower girl and Chip Johnson, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

John Simmons Sr. served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Mike Johnson of Roseland, La.; David Grisham of Booneville; and Steve and Allen Simmons of Memphis, brothers of the groom.

Mr. And Mrs. John Simmons Jr.

Mrs. Diane Guin, cousin of the bride, directed the wedding. Another cousin of the bride, Miss Barbara Goddard, registered the guests as they entered the vestibule. Larry Wimberly was soloist, accompanied by Bud Davis as organist.

The mother of the bride wore a formal gown of royal blue silk organza over tulle. The mother of the groom wore a pale blue formal gown of crepe. Each wore a white rose corsage.

The Reception

Following the church ceremony, the bride's parents honored the couple with a reception in the Baptist Student Union building on the Northeast Junior College Campus.

Barbara Goddard registered the guests. The register table was covered with a white floor-length cloth over satin and contained an arrangement of spring flowers.

The bride's table was covered with a silk organza cloth over satin and was trimmed with seed pearls and lace. The four-tiered wedding cake, entwined with wedding rings and love birds, served as the focal point. Mrs. Lavelle McCreary of Tupelo, and Mrs. Virginia Goddard, aunt of the bride, served the cake.

The groom's table, covered with a tan burlap cloth trimmed in brown, held a chocolate cake decorated with fruit. Miss Janet Burcham of Baldwin presided at the groom's table.

Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl by Miss Debbie Ashmore of Booneville. Hors d'oeuvres, canapes, dips and fresh fruit were served by Miss Debbie Walden of Booneville. Elisha Whisenant and Susan Melton served as tea girls.

After a wedding trip to Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons are now at home at 5258 Shelborne Circle, Memphis.

Miss Lindsey Weds Mr. Holley

Miss Mary Ann Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbie B. Lindsey Sr., and Roy Neal Holley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Grady Holley of Booneville, were married in a candle-light ceremony May 9 at the Crestwood Baptist Church in Booneville.

Bro. Hulon Chaney, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Kirkville, Miss., and Bro. Jerry Mitchell, pastor of the Crestwood Baptist Church in Booneville, performed the double-ring ceremony.

A spiral candlabra was the focal point of the church's decoration. On each side was an arched candlabra filled with pastel, rainbow-colored candles. Two sunbursts of gladiolas completed the background, carrying out the theme of rainbow colors. The white kneeling benches and a candlabra containing the unity candles completed the setting.

Miss Julie Cox provided the wedding music, including "Annie's Song," "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Wedding Song." Miss Jane Cox accompanied her sister as pianist and Dan Huggins accompanied on guitar.

The bride's oldest brother, H.B. Lindsey Jr., escorted her down the aisle and her parents gave her in marriage.

The bride's formal gown of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie ha da molded bodice, touched with sequins and enhanced by a ruffled yoke and fitted sleeves with ruffled cuffs. Petite bows accounted the yoke and sleeves.

A princess waistline fell to a full skirt of scalloped tiers of lace into a chapel train. For her headpiece, the bride wore a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace in a rose-and-leaf pattern, outlined in tiny seed pearls. A double cascade of silk illusion fell to a walking length veil, edged in Chantilly lace.

The bride's bouquet was on a Chantilly lace Bible covering over a small personal Bride's Bible, given by the Crestwood Baptist Church. The bouquet consisted of a white orchid nestled in rainbow-colored carnations and yellow roses. Streamers of white, pink, blue, yellow and green ribbons with love knots fell to the floor.

Miss Martha Botts served as maid of honor. She wore a formal-length dress of pink qiana, accented with a chiffon cape and gathered by a self-tie belt. She carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet and wore a miniature pink carnation and baby's breath in her hair.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Betty Shook, served as matron of honor. She and bridesmaids Lafonda Lindsey of Booneville, sister-in-law of the bride, and Shelia Wallis of Tupelo wore dresses similar to the maid of honor, but in yellow, green and blue. They carried identical bouquets of rainbow-colored carnations with ribbon streamers color coordinated to their dresses. Each wore a miniature hair ornament.

Miss Misty Inman of Booneville, the flower girl, carried a white basket of rainbow-colored carnations. Brad Holley, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. He wore a nosegay of lily of the valley on the lapel of his pastel suit.

The groom's brother, Jamie Holley, served as best man. Groomsmen were Don Holley, brother of the groom, and Mac and Jobie Lindsey, brothers of the bride. Each wore black tuxedos, identical to the groom's, and a ruffled shirt color-coordinated with the maid they were to escort.

Ushers were Jackie Lindsey, Hobert Lindsey and E.G. Lindsey, brothers of the bride.

Guests were registered by Miss Cindy Chaney of Kirkville, Miss. The registry table was covered with a white lace cloth and held the couple's white memory candle, glistening with silver sparkles.

Miss Becky Lindsey, sister-in-law of the bride, coordinated and directed the wedding and the reception.

The Reception

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a pink base cloth and a white lace overlay and trimmed with pink roses and greenery. A five-globed candlabra intertwined with rainbow-colored carnations formed the centerpiece.

The bride's three-tiered cake was decorated with rainbow-colored roses. The bride and groom wedding ornament was encircled in a heart and nestled within wedding bells.

The groom's table held two single candlesticks surrounded with rainbow-colored carnations and covered with crystal globes. The groom's cake was chocolate, bordered in tan, with a cluster of frosted grapes on top. The table cloth was brown with a tan overlay.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. H.B. Lindsey Jr., Mrs. Sue Lindsey, Mrs. Martha Lindsey and Mrs. Becky Lindsey, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Loyce Holley, sister-in-law of the groom.

Tea girls were Misses Tracey Lindsey, Tammy Shook, Jennifer Nix and Angela Wilemon, nieces of the bride. Miss Cindy Nix, niece of the bride, and Misses Shannon and Kim Holley, nieces of the groom from Charleston, Miss., served as rice girls.

After the reception, the couple took a wedding trip to the Great Smokey Mountains. They are now making their home in Booneville.

The Rehearsal Supper

The family of the groom provided a meal for the wedding party in the Crestwood Baptist Church fellowship hall. The bride and groom presented gifts to their wedding attendants at this time.

Mrs. Loyce Holley was hostess and served the meal.

Showers

The bride and groom were honored March 29 with a miscellaneous shower at the Crestwood Baptist Church.

On April 19, they were honored with a dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill T. Cartwright of Booneville. The employees of the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School presented the couple an upright vacuum cleaner and an ironing board.

Mrs. Lafonda Lindsey, Mrs. Sue Lindsey, Mrs. Martha Lindsey, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Miss Jane Cox honored the couple April 26 with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Lafonda Lindsey.

On May 4, Miss Lindsey was given a rice bag party in the home of Mrs. Peggy Cleveland. Friends and wedding attendants of the bride gathered to make rice bags of pastel rainbow netting. The bride was presented a complete lingerie ensemble of white silk.

Sunflower News

By BETTYE BRANDON Correspondent

On Thursday night, July 31, members of the senior choir of Spring Hill M.B. Church were invited to conduct the inspirational service for that night's revival meeting at the New Lebanon M.B. Church of Tupelo, Miss. For many of us this was a first visit, but apprehensive feelings were quickly relieved by a very warm and friendly reception in which we all were made to feel as one with the entire congregation.

A very spiritual message and fellowship was thoroughly enjoyed. My sincere appreciation is extended to the choir members for their cooperation and for an excellent performance in both the chosen songs and the special requests.

Elder Eddie L. Jumper delivered a powerful message filled with encouragement and inspiration, entitled "Do Your Work," to a very receptive congregation Sunday morning, Aug. 3, at Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church. The service was dedicated to and in appreciation of the pastor, the Rev. W.L. Powell.

After the message, Mrs. Earlene Betts gave a beautiful solo rendition of "Lord I've Tried." This was followed by a tribute to the pastor by Mrs. Ada Christian, in which she highly praised the Rev. Powell for his accomplished works, loyalty, devotion and dedication. The speech was concluded with a firm pledge of her continued support and loyalty.

Words of appreciation was also expressed by Luther McGee, a steward of the church. The service was a deeply, moving spiritual event and the congregational response was highly commendable.

Sincere expressions of sympathy are extended to Mrs. Jewell Pardue in the loss of her father, A.F. Ozbirn, and to Harlon Johnson in the loss of his brother, E.V. Johnson. We all share your sadness and pray for comfort and strength for you during this time of bereavement. Both Mrs. Pardue and Mr. Johnson are fellow-employees at the local hospital.

Our prayers and hopes for complete recovery for the sick and the shutin of the community and town also continue. Mrs. Addie Mae Jones is a patient in the coronary care unit of the local hospital as of Sunday morning, Aug. 3. She is the wife of R.B. Jones and one of the most influential and exemplary mothers of the church and the community. We hope that she is soon fully recovered and able to resume her normal activities.

As we did not get the chance to greet him on Sunday morning, we take this opportunity to say welcome home to Orpus Triplett. His presence has been greatly missed in this community and we're very happy he is back. He is at home with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. James L. Triplett.

Tom and Gwen are visiting this week in St. Louis, Mo., with his mother, Mrs. Versie Brakeen. James (Pookie) is with his grandmother Victoria in Memphis. Both Mickey and I are eagerly looking forward to their return home.

Thought for today: Each new day is an opportunity to start all over again...to cleanse our minds and hearts anew and to clarify our vision. And let us not clutter up today with the leavings of other days.

Till Next Week.

The eighth month of the year 1980 is well underway, indicating that it will slip by just as swiftly as the previous seventh have.

The lawns and gardens seem to have fully recovered from the drought we experienced a few weeks ago. The ugly brown patches have been replaced by lavish growth of green. Special care must be taken to prevent an overgrowth of weeds.

August is the last full month of summer. Children are taking advantage of the last few days before the new school year begins. Everyone heads for beaches, parks and recreational area every chance they get.

August is the time to explore the world of nature and discover the many wonders of summer's last days.

The buzzing and humming of the crickets, Katyids, locusts and grasshoppers sound like a concert in full swing. The insect world is very much alive, loudly proclaiming their existence.

The threat of changing weather lurks behind all the splendor of summer's displays as the hurricane season draws near. August with it's own beauty, is just as unique as the other months.

Happy birthday wishes for Janet Stacy, Annie Marshall, Darlene Tennison, Michele Stockton, Sonya Duncan, Bobby Armstrong, Sarah Cole and Tracy Burns. These people have birthdays, August 3 thru August 14.

Miss Cammie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmon King received a broken arm as a result of a motorcycle accident last week. Other young and old cycle riders might take this example to remember safety rules and to be more careful.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gann and children Brad and Kenny entertained family members with a cookout Saturday evening. Joining them were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gann and Lori and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rhoads and Tamri of New Site.

Gald to hear that Mrs. Cleo Cole is home from the local hospital. May she continue to improve.

Mrs. Bernice Chase has returned from Huntsville, Ala., where she had a nice visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McLaughlin, Tatia and Lora.

Among those from Rienzi going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Key for a birthday dinner honoring Mr. Key were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry, Ken and Keith Nash and their guest, Miss Tammy Marshall of Kossuth. The gathering of this large family proved, as always, to be a delightful day of feasting at the noon hour, giving of gifts, fun and fellowship.

Whoever said that we will have a long hot summer seems to have made a good prediction. However, some rain has fallen in nearby areas.

Mrs. Pearl Green seems to be doing well; she spent most of last week in the home of her son Carl in the Snowdown Community. She's now at her home on Bryant Street.

Clyde Gardner isn't improving-seems to be getting weaker.

Cherry Coats was ill for several days last week but is much better at the time of this report.

Mrs. Arthur Barnes has improved enough to be attending services now.

Get-well wishes are extended to those just mentioned; also to Mrs. Henrietta Oakley, Mrs. Bertice Daws of Booneville, to the shut-ins and others who may be sick.

Sympathy goes to the relatives of Charlie Brady who died last week and was buried at Jumpertown. He was an uncle of Senita Coats.

Here's a saying which was sent to the "Mornin'" show by a student from I.J.C. and is attributed to Herbert Hoover: "Ole men declare war, but the young men have to fight and die."

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy recently spent a few days in the home of her son Houston in the Marietta community and attended a gospel meeting.

The Larry Kennedy family, the Bryan Harris family and the Philip Coatses were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Johnson on Sunday, July 27. This was a surprise to Virgie; she received some nice birthday gifts. That night Ronnie, Becky and children Chris, Brad, and Rebecca Ann were at services here.

Other visitors were Mrs. Jodie Barnes and children, Sherry and Kenny from West Memphis, Ark., and Jim Barber from Saltillo but here now with his parent's. Several from here went to Zion's Rest to hear Bro. John Mays of Corinth speak in a series of gospel meetings.

Cathy and Sean Polk accompanied by Gary Coats drove to Decatur, Ala., last week to be of assistance to the Ken Wilson family. Gary was occupied in helping to mow the large expanse of lawn and cutting some tall pines which were too close to the house.

Kenneth is able to work half-days at his office as manager of Banker's Life and Casualty Insurance Co. Let's hope he will not overdo.

I'm looking forward to the Boone Hill Festival which is to be Aug. 7, 8, 9. The exhibits will be fine and I can just imagine the bands playing and marching with great panache. By the time the Banner is available the festival will have started.

Keith Shackelford and his helpers are to be commended for their efforts in making this event successful.

Recently an opportunity was afforded me to spend an afternoon with an aunt Mrs. Myrtie Harris and daughter Cleo Ward. We all enjoyed talking of the "good ole days." It is amazing how good a memory Aunt Myrtie has to be well into her 95th year.

Bro. Calvin Barber continues to preach lessons to stir his hearers. On July 27, his text was taken from Matthew; he read where Christ was called Prince of Peace and emphasized that everyone should be peace makers--

"Let me tonight look across the span

"Twixt dawn and dark and to my conscience say

"Because of some good act to beast or man

"The world is better that I lived today."

Vets Receive

Larger Checks

More than 300,000 veterans and their survivors got larger Veterans Administration pension checks on July 1—the result of a 14.3 percent increase in the government's cost of living index.

Some 2.4 million VA pensioners are affected in some way by the cost of living index.

Pensions are paid to veterans totally and permanently disabled from circumstances unrelated to their military service. They are paid also to survivors of veterans who are in need. Unlike compensation paid to those disabled because of military service, pensions are affected by income from other sources.

The 300,000 who got increases this month (payable July 1) are those who have switched to the "improved" VA pension rates to adjustments in social security payments. Before the change, an individual's pension was subject to reduction each time social security increased.

Those pensioners who chose to stay under the pension rules in effect before 1979 will not receive the July increase. They will, however, avoid the reduction in pension that the social security increase would have triggered before the legislation went into effect. For these pensioners, the 14.3 percent social security increase triggered a similar increase in the maximum amount of income they could receive from other sources and still remain eligible for VA pension.

Pensions for veterans and survivors under the "old plan" remain fixed and payable at the rates in effect in 1979. But those rates are protected against reduction that would otherwise result from cost of living increases in their income from other sources.

"Old plan" recipients may request transfer to the "improved" plan at any time, VA officials point out. The agency will carefully review each application to advise applicants to choose the plan which works to their personal advantage.

With the June increase (payable in July 1 checks), a veteran with one dependent and no other income will receive $5,844. For each additional dependent, the added amount is $755 per year.

Forecasts Save

TVA Customers Money

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala.—Accurate forecasts from TVA's in-house weather service helped the agency save an estimated $520,000 during the hottest week of the July heat wave, TVA said last week.

The TVA Meteorological Forecast Center at Muscle Shoals routinely provides power planners in Chattanooga, Tenn., with day-to-day forecasts of hourly temperatures for the seven-state area serviced by TVA. Forecasts, for a week ahead, more difficult to calculate accurately, also are given.

It was the longer range forecast for the week ending July 19 that tipped off power planners several days in advance about the hottest day of the heat wave, Wednesday, July 16.

Power planners were able to figure their capacity deficiency and contract well ahead of time for 200 megawatts of power from neighboring systems. The cost was $27 per megawatt hour, considerably less than the $45 TVA would have had to pay on a spot basis.

The 11-member weather station at Muscle Shoals operates around the clock seven days a week. In addition to providing power planners the temperature forecasts they need to schedule power production, it provides rainfall data that is crucial to TVA's reservoir operations for the production of hydroelectric power and for flood control.

Employment

Office Has

New Service

Job seekers in the professions and those who are technically trained tend to share two characteristics: specialization and mobility, according to Charles Smith, Corinth Area Manager of the Mississippi State Employment Service.

Employers needing such workers often require specific qualifications not to be found in their immediate labor market. To serve both these groups, a Professional Resource Office (PRO) is now operating in the Mississippi State Job Service.

Smith stated that PRO is a clearinghouse for resumes. It gives maximum statewide exposure to professional applicants and to employers seeking them. This is accomplished through Job Service local offices.

Professionals and technicians who apply for work at a Job Service office and who are willing to relocate are given a PRO informational package and asked to prepare a resume. The resumes go to PRO where: (1) they are classified; (2) they are screened against open job orders statewide; (3) copies are sent to likely employers; and (4) thumbnail descriptions are mailed on fliers to prospective employers.

PRO maintains resumes from many sources in addition to those filed at Job Service Offices. Smith urges employers interested in an applicant to make contact through a Job Service Office.

Job orders for professionals and technicians reach PRO through the computerized Job Bank. These are screened against resumes of that specialty.

Association

Colonel Gains B. Hawkins of West Point has joined the staff of the North Mississippi Industrial Development Association as director of development, replacing Mark S. Bounds. The announcement was made this week by J.M. Allen, Tupelo, president of the association.

Hawkins is a native of Flora, Mississippi, a graduate of Delta State University at Cleveland, and has a masters degree in English literature from the University of Mississippi. He has taught school at Greenwood and Greenville, Miss. He served in the U.S. Army intelligence branch during World War II, the Korean conflict, and the Vietnam War. Hawkins is a specialist on the Far East and also speaks Japanese. After retirement from the army, he served for five years as director of transportation and buildings for the West Point school system.

In West Point, Col. Hawkins has been active in the Presbyterian Church, the men's fifth Sunday Bible class, and the American Cancer Society. He is married to the former Bettye Foreman, and they have five children.

Bounds is leaving to pursue a Masters Degree in Business Administration at Mississippi State University. He will specialize in corporate management.

William B. Barrett, executive director of the NMIDA, praised Bounds as "The outstanding young man in industrial development in Mississippi." He stated, "We regret losing Mark Bounds, as he has done an exceptional job for North Mississippi, but we are confident that Gains Hawkins will be a very, valuable addition to our staff, and we welcome him to our association."

The association represents over 100 communities in 29 counties in North Mississippi, and is supported by the TVA power distributors of the area.

Unemployment Report

JACKSON, Miss.—Although unemployment in Prentiss County is now near the record high, Prentiss is not included in some 36 Mississippi counties designated by the U.S.

Department of Labor as labor surplus areas eligible for federal procurement preference, according to Edgar C. Lloyd Jr., executive director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

The Mississippi counties classified as labor surplus areas are Adams, Alcorn, Attala, Benton, Bolivar, Coahoma, George, Greens, Grenada, Holmes, Humphreys, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Jeff Davis, Kemper, Leflore, Madison, Marshall, Montgomery, Noxubee, Panola, Pearl River, Quitman, Sharkey, Stone, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Tate, Tunica, Walthall, Warren, Washington, Wilkinson, Winston and Yazoo.

Lloyd said employers in these counties are eligible for preference in bidding on federal procurement contracts through May 31, 1981. The purpose of the preference is to funnel more of the federal government's procurement dollars into areas where people are in the most severe economic need—where unemployment is the highest, he said.

To be included in the annual list of labor surplus areas, a county must have had an unemployment rate of 1.2 times the national average during the specific reference period. Because the national unemployment rate was 6 percent during the reference period, the qualifying unemployment rate used in classing labor surplus areas for the current list was 7.2 percent.

Emergency Workshop Set At NEMJC

A special 90-minute workshop designed to help communities deal with hazardous materials emergencies is scheduled Tuesday, Aug. 12, at 6:30 p.m. in room 58 of Hines Hall on the Northeast Junior College Campus.

All communities, regardless of size or location, are potential sites for hazardous materials incidents. The thousands of accidents involving rail and truck tankers and disposal dumps point up the need for all communities to preplan actions to handle such incidents.

Local firefighters, police officers, emergency medical personnel and city officials should be involved in developing such a plan.

The live television workshop, "Hazardous Materials--Emergency Management," will allow viewers to call in their questions to a panel of hazardous materials authorities: U.S. Coast Guard; Bruce Piring, Supervisor of Kentucky Fire Service Training Program; and James B. Stevens, Safety and Health Coordinator of REACT (Ryckman's Emergency Action and Consulting Team.)

Dennis Smith, editor-in-chief of "Firehouse Magazine" and author of the current best-seller, "Glitter and Ash," will host the program.

Segments from the films, "Hazardous Materials--

Emergency Response" and "Vital First Minutes," as well as news footage from a recent chemical dump explosion, focus on the actions taken to control emergencies.

Print materials which will provide assistance in coping with a hazardous materials incident will be available to on campus participants as well as at-home viewers who write for the information. The cost of the workshop and materials is $5 per person.

"Hazardous Materials

special program call Mrs. coordinator, at 728-7751, or (Opal B. Melvin, ACSN site toll-free 1-728-7759, ext. 231.

Emergency Management" is presented cooperatively by the Appalachian Community Service Network and Northeast Mississippi Junior College. For additional information on this

NMCAA Strives To Aid Poor And Elderly People

In most communities there is an agency or a number of agencies whose purpose is to aid the poor and elderly people of that community. One such agency is the Northeast Mississippi Community Action Agency Inc. (NMCAA), directed by Nolen U. Embry. The agency serves Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo Counties.

A unique program implemented by NMCAA is the Energy Crisis Intervention Program through which firewood is being stockpiled to be delivered this winter to the eligible elderly, handicapped, poor and near poor families and individuals.

The Corps of Engineers, which is responsible for constructing the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, is providing NMCAA with surplus timber. County supervisors have made their trucks available to haul the firewood to the stock piles.

The firewood will be delivered this winter to the needy in crisis situations. Labor is being provided by the Satellite Prison in Corinth.

The purpose of the Wood Project is to assist low-income households, dependent on firewood, who experience large increases in energy costs; and or households, dependent on firewood, which face a life or health threatening condition caused by winter heating and/or cooking emergencies.

Applications for assistance will be taken at the following Community Action Agency Community Centers: Alcorn County, Corinth City Hall, telephone 287-5546; Prentiss County, Prentiss County Court House, telephone 728-8141; Tishomingo County, Tishomingo County Court House, telephone 423-3842.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRES T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Blue, red and white, ribbons will be flashing all over the Community Center today. And, each blue winning exhibit also brings the exhibitor in adult division one dollar.

James, jellies, pickles, preserves are just one division of all the many exhibits you will find at Prentiss County Mini-Fair.

There is something besides just looking, oohing and aahing over exhibits for you. When you register you set yourself up as a possible winner of a "Mississippi Cookbook" (Donated by Extension Home Economics Council).

So come, see and envy! And, then vow you will be right there exhibiting next year.

Incidentally, "Mississippi Cookbooks" are offered for sale by Extension Homemakers Clubs and are available at the Extension office on E. Church St. Like everything else, the price has jumped...to $9.95.

August is sandwich time, whether for a meal in a hurry or just a snack. Sandwiches, like other main dishes, can be as economical or expensive as you wish to make them. They can be the basis for a well-balanced meal or consist mostly of empty calories.

You can make them from specific recipes or piece them together from odds-and-ends in the refrigerator. In their most delicate forms, sandwiches add glamour to the fanciest tea table; yet sandwiches are more likely to be the plan-as-you-go Dagwood type.

There's no need to apologize for offering your family a well-planned sandwich meal. A single sandwich easily provides two of the four servings needed daily from the bread and cereal group plus one of the two servings of meat, poultry or fish needed daily. Green or yellow vegetables add food value, color and taste appeal when served on the sandwich or as a separate salad.

To complete a full one-third of the day's food needs in a single sandwich meal, serve a glass of milk or milk beverage. If you hold rich salad dressings, French friend potatoes and prepared vegetable chips to a minimum, sandwich meals can be long on nutrition without adding excess calories.

To prepare sandwiches for freezing, spread inside of each piece of day-old bread from edge to edge with soft butter or margarine. This helps to keep bread from absorbing moisture from the filling. Fill the sandwiches and wrap (one or two to a package) in a moisture-vapor resistant material. Seal and label as to kind of filling and freeze immediately.

Thaw frozen sandwiches in their sealed wrappings to keep them from absorbing moisture from the air. A package of two frozen sandwiches thaws at normal room temperature in three to four hours; in hot weather thawing time is shorter.

When you take frozen sandwiches on a long trip, you may need to pack them in an insulated bag; but if they won't be out of the freezer more than two or three hours before mealtime, a cardboard box makes an acceptable carrying case.

Carry lettuce and mayonnaise separately and add them to frozen sandwiches at serving time. They may be packed in the same container with the frozen sandwiches, where they will stay cold until sandwiches thaw.

Cheese-Pimiento Sandwich Spread

1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup cream or whole milk

1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound processed American cheese, cut in small cubes
2 hard-cooked eggs, grated
1 small can pimientos, drained and chopped
1 tablespoon grated onion (opt.)

Mix sugar, flour, butter, vinegar, milk, egg, and salt in top of double boiler. Stir well and cook until thick. Mixture will curdle, but will not be harmed. Stir in cheese, eggs, pimientos, and onion. Yield: enough for 12 sandwiches.

Open House Monday At Community Action Agency

The Northeast Mississippi Community Action Agency will hold an open house Monday, August 11, to celebrate the opening of the newly completed Community Cannery in Burnsville.

The Burnsville facility is said to be the first cannery to be in operation in this area for many years.

The cannery facilities are available for use free of charge by low income citizens of Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties. The cannery can be used for canning, blanching and preparing string beans, broccoli, corn, tomatoes, figs, peaches, peas, pickles, lima beans and soup mixtures, and for preparing other fruits and vegetables.

Jars and lids will be furnished free to those who qualify under poverty guidelines. Residents who do not qualify under the guidelines will be charged a small fee on a sliding scale, a spokesman for the agency said.

"The Community Cannery participants will be billed on a sliding scale, based on their ability to pay," the spokesman said. "Money collected through the billing system will be placed back into the program."

The agency spokesman also said, "Donations of a portion of the canned goods for the Emergency Crisis Food Bank to distribute to persons in dire need will be appreciated."

The facilities of the cannery were funded by the Community Services Administration.

To schedule a time to use the cannery, call 728-8141 in Prentiss County, 287-5546 in Alcorn County or 423-3842 in Tishomingo County. No appointments will be scheduled after 2 p.m.

Northeast Graduate Featured At Faulkner Conference

A graduate of Northeast Mississippi Junior College was among the featured lecturers at the seventh annual Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference at Ole Miss, August 3-8.

Dr. Robert W. Hamblin, formerly of Booneville and now Professor of English at Southeast Missouri State University, Cape Girardeau, delivered the opening lecture at the conference and participated in several small-group discussions throughout the week-long program.

Dr. Hamblin's lecture, entitled "Saying No to Death: Toward William Faulkner's Theory of Fiction," examined the Nobel laureate's anxiety toward death and demonstrated that Faulkner utilized memory and imagination as means of negating "the sorry, shabby world" of time and death.

Other speakers at the conference will include Leslie Fiedler, noted author and critic who teaches at the University of New York, Buffalo; Ellen Douglas, novelist from Greenville; Francois Pitavy, associate professor of American Studies at the University of Dijon, France; Louis Brodsky, Faulkner collector from Farmington, Missouri; and English professors James Carothers of the University of Kansas, Panetha Reid Broughton of Louisiana State University, and Charles Nilon of the University of Colorado.

Dr. Hamblin, a member of the SMO State faculty since 1965, wrote his doctoral dissertation at Ole Miss under the direction of Dr. John Pilkington, Professor of English. Dr.

Hamblin has recently authored Faulkner articles appearing in "The Southern Review," "Studies in Bibliography," and other scholarly journals, and he is co-editor of "Selections from the William Faulkner Collection of Louis Daniel Brodsky," a book published last year by the University Press of Virginia.

Last fall Dr. Hamblin coordinated an exhibit of the Brodsky collection and a series of interpretive lectures on the SMO campus. That program brought public attention to the private collection of Faulkner materials owned by Missouri businessman Louis Brodsky.

A portion of the Brodsky collection was exhibited at Ole Miss throughout the Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha conference.

"Lady Termite's" mother is in Bella Vista room 2030. "Termite's" mother is in room 138 Booneville; "Sidekick" is in room 212 here. "Mississippi Shorty" is going to enter the hospital in Big M Monday. "Lady Q" has to go to hospital August 12. "Sunshine" and "Texas Ruby" have been on the sick list also.

Hope everyone is feeling better and soon be about again.

Saturday night was our annual fish fry at the community center. Linda Ables and The Southern Edition band from Belden entertained after everyone ate. Everyone from 1 to 90 enjoyed themselves. If you couldn't dance you could sure stomp your feet to that good ole music.

Happy anniversary to "Woody Woodpecker," and "Puppy Dog." Hope you have a nice day and enjoy many more together.

Friday night August 8 at 7:00 at Martin Hill Church will be a big event for "White Dove," will gain another daughter. "Little Bear," will exchange his vows then. Everyone is invited to attend.

Happy birthday to

Farm Receipts Expected To Increase

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Uncertainty over dry weather effects on current crops along with a slowdown in beef, pork and poultry marketing is fueling farmer expectations for higher cash receipts during the final six months of 1980.

Dr. David Trammell, a Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service marketing leader, said those two main factors are expected to increase farm cash receipts from the first-half levels. He cautions, however, that higher production costs will continue to hold net farm income below 1979 highs.

"Record second-quarter meat supplies coupled with declines in real consumer income pushed down livestock and meat prices," Dr. Trammell said. "Producers are trimming output in the second half, and prices are expected to average well above the depressed levels of the first half."

Dr. Trammell said the facts of fewer cattle on feed, reduced egg sets for both broilers and layers, and market hog numbers more in line with last year's levels suggest higher prices in coming months.

"U.S. farm exports for the first eight months of fiscal 1980 stood at a record $28 billion—33 percent higher than a year ago," he said.

"Retail food prices are expected to rise sharply in the second half, led by increases for beef, pork and poultry."

The marketing specialist said higher marketing costs, which promoted food price increases in the first half of the year, will contribute to price increases but will not be the leading cause.

"Falling retail prices of beef, pork and poultry moderated the overall rate of increase in food prices earlier this year," Dr. Trammell said. "Prices for all of 1980 are still expected to average 7 to 11 percent over 1979."

Dr. Trammell said consumers this year are expected to spend $21 billion or about 9 percent more in food stores and eating places than they did in 1979.

"More than 95 percent of this increase will be caused by a larger marketing bill, reflecting higher costs for labor, packaging, transportation and energy," he said.

Local Marine Wins Medal

Marine Capt. Aloysius Synpiowski, son of Kazimerz and Leokadia Synpiowski of 109 Oak Drive, Booneville, Miss., has been awarded the Navy Achievement Medal.

He was cited for superior performance of duty during October 1979 while serving as the assistant operations officer for the 1st Battalion, 8th Marines, based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Synpiowski was responsible for preparing and coordinating a landing plan responsive to the battalion's assigned mission during the NATO exercise "Display Determination." He prepared a thorough plan for controlling, organizing and displacing all the battalion's assets during the landing, and while ashore, supervised the combat operations center.

Upon completion of the exercise, he also coordinated a static display which was the highlight of a cross-training evolution.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Maine, Orono, Maine, with a bachelor of science degree, Synpiowski joined the Marine Corps in July 1970. His wife, Peggy, is the daughter of Lee R. and Louise Sherrill of 109 Colonial Drive, Booneville.

State's Motorists Are Driving Slower

Speed monitoring analysis indicates a reduction in speed trends on Mississippi highways, according to the Mississippi State Highway Department.

The percent of motorists exceeding 55 m.p.h. on the state's highways increased slightly from 53.6 percent in the first quarter of FY-80, to 56.2 percent during the second quarter.

However, a dramatic increase in enforcement activity by the Mississippi Highway Patrol has resulted in a reduction in the number of motorists exceeding 55 m.p.h. to 48.1 percent during the third quarter of FY-80, according to the State Highway Department.

Loretta Lynn Donates Soil Conservation Spots

Loretta Lynn has publicly given her support to soil and water conservation by recently recording 12 public service announcements for USDA's Soil Conservation Service.

Willie Hatfield, chairman of the Board of Commissioners for the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District, said, "Because of the help Loretta and her husband Mooney have received from their local soil and water conservation district on their ranch at Hurricane Mills, Tenn., Loretta agreed to record the messages without charge."

Tony Thompson, district conservationist for the SCS in Booneville said, "These are the first public service announcements Loretta has ever consented to make. Here in Booneville, radio station WBIP, has received a copy of the unique messages."

"The Coal Miner's Daughter," Loretta's life story, is showing in movie theatres throughout the country and she was recently selected as "Country Music Entertainer of the Decade."

For Horse Owners

Swamp Fever Causes Problems

"Anyone owning a horse, mule, or other equine animal should be seriously concerned about a viral disease called Equine Infectious Anemia," says Dr. Harvey F. McCrory, state veterinarian of Mississippi.

Sometimes referred to as swamp fever, or EIA, this is not a new disease. It is one which can, and does, cause huge losses to horse owners in the United States and other countries as well. The acute form of the disease is often fatal. The chronic form is less severe from a fatality standpoint, but still inflicts enough damage to make it a serious problem.

most common means by which EIA is spread. But bridles, saddles, harnesses, and other tack used on an infected animal can transmit the disease to another. Semen from an infected stallion can infect mares in breeding."

One of the greatest problems with EIA is that once an animal becomes infected there is no cure. Neither is there a preventive vaccine nor any effective treatment. There are, however, some methods by which the disease can be prevented through careful handling and reducing exposure from the different means of transmittal.

"The disease can be transmitted from an infected animal to another in a number of ways," McCrory said. "Horseflies and other blood feeding insects are the

"The first move that all horse owners should make is to have all of the animals tested to determine if they are infected with EIA. This includes horses, mules, donkeys, jacks, or any type of equine animal," McCrory explained.

The Coggins test is the most dependable means of diagnosing EIA. The test involves drawing a blood sample and having it analyzed by an approved laboratory. If the test results are positive, it means the animal is a reactor and has the disease. It also means the animal will be a carrier of EIA as long as it lives.

McCrory emphasized that, "Whether a person owns work animals, pleasure horses, or a breeding operation, he will surely want to give the Coggins test and follow every regulation and recommendation to try and prevent the spread of IEIA."

Rules and regulations, both state and federal, which apply to EIA, are presented here as information to persons owning equine animals. According to state regulations:

(1) Horses moving into the State of Mississippi for any purpose other than slaughter or research must be accompanied by a record of a negative test for EIA conducted within the past six months. A copy of the laboratory report must accompany the health certificate.

(2) Horses moving within the state to fairs, livestock shows, sales or other concentration points must be accompanied by a record of a negative test within the past six months. Horses reacting to the Coggins test within the state will be identified by regulatory personnel by a freeze brand on the neck. Positive horses will be re-bled upon request by the owner's private veterinarian or state personnel and samples then submitted to the laboratory for confirmation.

(3) All horses offered for sale at Mississippi auction markets must be accompanied by a record of a negative test for EIA within six months of sale except horses consigned for immediate slaughter. Untested horses for other than slaughter will be blood sampled at the market and quarantined to the new owner until test results are received from the state lab. The markets will not be financially reported for any loss related to positive horses.

Federal regulations state: Any reactor to an official test shall be classified as affected with Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA) and shall not be moved interstate unless (1) it is officially identified by lip tattoo or neck brand and accompanied by permit, (2) it is moved interstate for immediate slaughter or to a diagnostic or research facility, or (3) the reactor disclosed on an official test may be moved interstate with approval of state and federal officials of both states.

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent
Soybean Weed Control

Dry weather has produced smaller-than-normal soybean plants in much of the county. This means there will be less shading of weeds which will probably require more attention to late season weed control.

Weed competition has just about peaked in 8 to 10 weeks following emergence. While salvaging crops after this time won't do much to increase yields, it may help with harvest and reduce weed seed production.

Where there has been good early season weed control, watch for another flush of weeds after the rain. A directed spray of Lexone, Sencor or Lorox combined with 2,4-DB as a layby type treatment will do a good job on these late emerging weeds. It will particularly

Local Tree Farmer Named Outstanding

Rosalie Holley of Booneville, who has been selected as Northeast Mississippi's Outstanding Tree Farmer, will be one of five district winners competing for Mississippi's Outstanding Tree Farmer award for 1980.

Ms. Holley has several tree farms in four different counties, and her well-managed acres have been the site for many forestry field days in the districts.

The other four district winners are Dr. Terry S. Ozier of Brandon, the South Central Mississippi nominee; T.M. Lacy of Meridian, East Central Mississippi; E.L. Hooker of Oxford, Northwest Mississippi; and Albert E. Lehman of Fayette, Southwest Mississippi.

The winner of the state Tree Farmer Award for 1980 will be announced at Mississippi Forestry Association's annual meeting to be held at the Coliseum Ramada Inn in Jackson on Oct. 28-30.

help where beans are too small to shade middles.

Armyworm Count Up
High bollworm egg numbers indicate continued moth activity in cotton. Scouting reports show 10 to 30 percent newly hatched worms and freshly deposited eggs in many fields. I encourage producers to wait for egg hatch and worms before treating.

Fall armyworms are reported high on grain, pastures, and lawn in some areas. These pests likely will move to cotton. Armyworms must be detected early for best control. Examine the whole plant, including the underside of leaves.

Use Lannate Nudrin, Orthene or 1/2 pound of Lorsban mixed with either EPN plus methyl parathion or Toxaphene methyl parathion. Good coverage is essential. On forage crops and pastures use only materials that are cleared for use.

Sell-Rite's Ledges and Johnny Johnson, high school first place winners here last weekend in the finals of the Jaycee-Jayette Softball Tournament held at the Booneville West Side City Park.

Sell-Rite's girls squad, who earlier won the league ladies championship, took their first place win with a 12-1 victory over Eatons. For stars while Johnny Johnson took the coveted mens title with a 32-15 victory over Sell-Rite's men.

In women's action, Sell-Rite's Charla Huddleston, Donna Rinehart, and Kathy Trimble each scored two runs each to aid in the victory.

The local girls, coached by Frank Rinehart and Harry Allen, picked up three overall victories to win the event.

Their first win came over

Eatons 8-0 then the troops defeated Johnny Johnsons girls 6-3. Then came their first loss, a 7-2 decision by Eatons. Sell-Rite then came back with the finals victory over Eatons to take the coveted title.

In the mens championship, a host of Johnny Johnson hitters round the bases as some 47 runners crossed the plate between the two teams.

The local Johnny Johnson squad, who have ranked at or near the top of the softball standings all season long, earned the championship with four wins in the tournament.

Johnny Johnsons started the tourney action with a 13-6 win over McKennun and Windham then followed with a 7-0 forfeit win over The Mississippi Outdoorsman and then a 13-12 decision over Sell-Rite Furniture.

Hill Country Run Set Saturday

Runners to your mark...Get Ready...Get Set...Go...

The 1980 Second Annual Hill Country Run gets underway here this Saturday morning at 9 a.m. August 9th, with a host of area runners expected to participate in the three mile event.

Keith Shackelford of Shackelford Shoes and Paul Miller, Banner-Independent publisher, state that their hoping for an even bigger run this year in the event, which will benefit the American Cancer Society.

Some 85 runners participated in the event last year, and according to both Shackelford and Miller, even more is expected this time around.

"It's just hard to tell just how many will actually show up," Shackelford said. "Runners sometimes wait till the day of the race to enter so it's really hard to tell just how many will be here."

"We had several inquiries from out of town clubs," Shackelford added. "This indicates to us that we're going to have a large turnout."

The official racetime has been set at 9 a.m. while pre registration will start at 7:30 a.m. and last till the actual racetime.

The Hill Country Event which is a 5000 meter run (3.1 miles) will get underway in front of the Banner-Independent and the City Hall and will end there also.

Rodney Pearson, from Oxford, is the defending champion of the tourney and no word has been given as to where he will be on hand this year to defend his title.

The fast footed Oxford sprinter burned the course last year with a 16:39 clocking, well ahead of his nearest competitor who was clocked with a 18:50 time.

Several area runners are expected to field strong finishes in this year's race including among those are, Bill Deaton, Brit Hill, and Tim Wright. These are just a few of the local runners who are expected for the annual event.

Several divisions will be held in the run including both mens and womens ages 15 and under, 16-23, 24-30, 31-39 and 40 and over.

This year, T-Shirts will be given to all entrants while trophies will be awarded to division winners.

Anyone wishing to enter the race may do so by contacting the Banner-Independent or Shackelford's Shoes.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head football coach and athletic director Bill Ward said here Monday that final preparations are being made for the start of the 1980 football season.

"We have ordered some new equipment and we're now checking our supply list," Ward said. "We have several incoming freshmen that we'll have to fit this year."

Ward said all players are asked to report for the fall practice August 17.

The Northeast Tiger football team is expected to report to the fall camp some 30 of those will be returning for their second seasons while Ward said he expects some 25 incoming freshmen to report for duty.

Coach Ward said the players would have quite a bit of work to do preparing for the season opener September 4 at home against Copiah Lincoln.

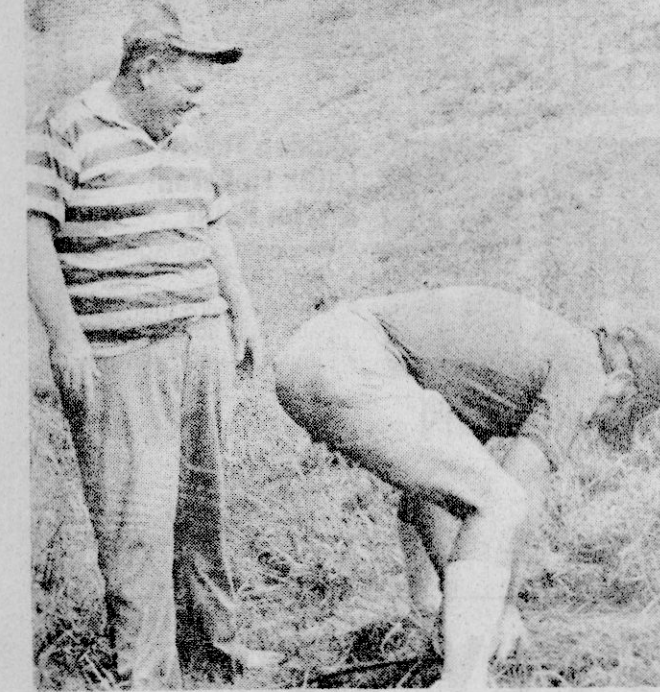

The Tiger head coach said several of the returning players would help with the freshmen recruits but Ward added that he hoped all his players had worked out during the summer so the Northeast coaching staff could start right in with game plans, etc.

The junior college football player is own his own so to speak in the summer months, Ward said. "We usually tell them to work with weight, run some, etc., during the summer and hope that they're ready when we start the fall practice sessions."

The coaching staff states they will run the players through two times per day workouts and on some occasions three times per day. Morning sessions will be in shorts and head gear while the afternoon sessions will be in full gear. Some special sessions will be devoted to the kicking game.

GREG OAKLEY, BHS FOOTBALL PLAYER: “I was real glad that the rule allows me to play. I want to play at Booneville High School and I would have been disappointed if I couldn’t have.”

TOMMY BURRESS, BHS FOOTBALL PLAYER: “I’m glad the ruling was made. It would have been bad if we didn’t get to play, especially for the seniors playing their last year.”

BILL MORGAN, PARENT: “I was proud of the ruling. I think if a child has the ability to play sports or play in the band or any school function he or she should have the right to do so.”

CHARLES GULLETT, ASSISTANT COACH AND PARENT: “It really saved our necks. We just couldn’t have competed with teams like Saltillo, Baldwin, Ripley with a 21 member squad.”

SHERRY SANDIDGE, NEWLY ELECTED BOONEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL BAND DIRECTOR: “I’m extremely happy with the new ruling. This gives us a chance to be competitive during state contest. If we lost any of our good band members then we just wouldn’t be competitive.”

These quotes are just a few opinions of those represented in the eligibility issue. Most all those contacted were in unanimous agreement concerning the matter and most added they were glad it was finally ended.

Coach Curlee, who faces the most urgent problem with football season just around the corner, was indeed pleased to hear the news. He, along with assistants Riley Presley and Charles Gullett were busy this week preparing for the upcoming season.

They plan to remodel the athletic facilities slightly, painting, refinishing and just generally cleaning, before the athletes report for fall practice.

Also, the BHS band department and the Booneville High School cheerleading committee will prepare for the upcoming seasons.

The Tourney, which will get underway at Thursday morning, will be a nine hole event with three flights (first, second, and third) to be held.

Trophies will be awarded to winners of each flight along with second place finishers.

A spokesman for the tournament said they’re looking forward for an outstanding event this time around and added that they were especially pleased with enthusiasm of the young golfers and added that these tournaments are like building for the future.

The tournament this year is again limited to 16 year olds and under while some say that the age limit will be extended next year.

Physicals Set

Yellow Creek Components Arrive

IUKA, Miss.—They came in under a hazy, late afternoon sky. They were unlike anything typical family boat riders are accustomed to seeing on a summer day at Pickwick Lake.

However, in one sense, they were a family. All bore basically the same characteristics, including color and outer markings. Some were larger than others and had different shapes. This group brought along an aura of admiration among pleasure riders, skiers, and swimmers in the Yellow Creek embayment of the Tennessee River.

Minutes later, the group arrived at the barge slip of the Tennessee Valley Authority's Yellow Creek Nuclear Plant. A small greeting party waited for the barge to dock with the same respect reminiscent of the great ocean liners of the past.

Milam Smallwood was in charge of the welcoming committee that was to provide a temporary "vacation spot" for the group until early 1982. That's when the "family" members, which include a 140-ton pressurizer, two 775-ton steam generators, a 500-ton reactor pressure vessel, and a 100-ton reactor closure head, leave an interim storage site for their final destination—the unit 1 reactor building.

Since unloading of the major components began June 25, Smallwood has been in charge of the delicate handling, lifting, and transporting operations. The estimated $35 million barge shipment completed its 255-mile journey from Chattanooga's Combustion Engineering factory June 21, but "Dag's" work began before then. Smallwood, who was nicknamed after the comic strip character

Dagwood, has been working with TVA since 1940.

"I began working in the chemical plant at Muscle Shoals as a laborer making 47.5 cents per hour," said Smallwood, a resident of Tusculumbia, Ala., about his first TVA position. "I then got a job as a mailman making $1,060 a year."

Smallwood, 60, who is an assistant construction superintendent under Superintendent Bill Roper, is responsible for ironworkers, boilermakers, sheet metal workers, and machinists at Yellow Creek. "Dag" is a classic example of a man moving up in an organization.

He became an apprentice ironworker at the ammonia plant in Muscle Shoals, next a journeyman structural ironworker, and after several years at Colbert Steam Plant, Wilson Lock, Wheeler Lock, and Browns Ferry Nuclear Plant, moved up from ironworker superintendent to his present job position at Hartsville Nuclear Plant. Smallwood then came to Yellow Creek two years ago.

"He's always been dependable and conscientious," notes fellow

Yellow Creek Assistant Construction Superintendent Red Hayes. "Milam is the type of fellow who thinks things through before answering you. I've never known him to do a bad job."

Hayes, who is assisting Smallwood with the barge unloading operations, says this is the third job he has worked with him.

Hayes remarked, "He has worked his way up on his ability and doesn't mind giving advice when asked. I trust his judgment and have confidence in his decisions."

News From The ASCS

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director
Forestry Program
Improves Woodland Acres

Landowners in Prentiss County have improved or reforested over 1,041 acres of woodlands through the Forestry Incentives Program administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The program cost shares with eligible landowners the planting of new trees or improving established woodlands.

Tree planting is not only a good investment, it also helps increase the nation's supply of timber. Thinning overstocked woodlands increases the growth rate of desirable trees resulting in a higher quality stand of timber. Technical help, provided through State Foresters, assures that forests are managed professionally and efficiently.

Many private non-industrial landowners do not have the funds to make necessary long-term investments to develop and improve their forest areas. Landowners who own at least 10 acres of eligible forest land may receive cost-share assistance under this program to raise marketable timber.

The program offers agreements in designated counties where a landowner can plan tree planting and timber stand improvement measures for up to 10 years. There is a payment limitation of $10,000 to any one person during any year of the agreement.

Landowners who wish to apply or obtain additional information on the Forestry Incentives Program should contact the local ASCS office.

Loans Available For Storage, ASCS Says
Farmers who may be faced with storage problems for this year's grain crops can obtain funds to build additional facilities or to expand their present storage structures.

The farm facility loan program authorized ASCS to loan up to $100,000 to produce needing farm facilities for storing dry or high moisture grain, soybeans, rice, peanuts, flaxseed, dry beans, sunflower seed and high moisture forage and silage.

Loans are also available for drying and handling equipment.

Eligible storage structures include conventional bins, flat, multi-purpose structures and silo-type facilities. The drying equipment includes continuous-flow dryers, batch or in-storage drying systems as well as systems that dry by aerating or circulating the crop.

Farmers who have suitable storage can exercise greater independence in their marketing operations and help strengthen market prices. They can also take full advantage of commodity loan programs, and realize higher total income from their farm operations in years of excess production.

A minimum down payment of 15 per cent of the cost is required in cash before the loan is disbursed. The loans may be repaid in seven equal annual installments over a period of eight years. The ASCS official said farm facility loans are secured and borrowers are required to provide adequate security to protect the Commodity Credit Corporation's interest.

HAY FEVER

Millions of people throughout the nation are annual sufferers of hay fever which brings irritation to and copious watering of the nose, accompanied sometimes by watering and burning of the eyes.

In cases where a person has hay fever through several seasons, running over a course of years, chiropractic care should be started some weeks before usual time for appearance of marked symptoms so as to have the affected parts in proper condition to resist the irritants bringing on acute stages of this disease.

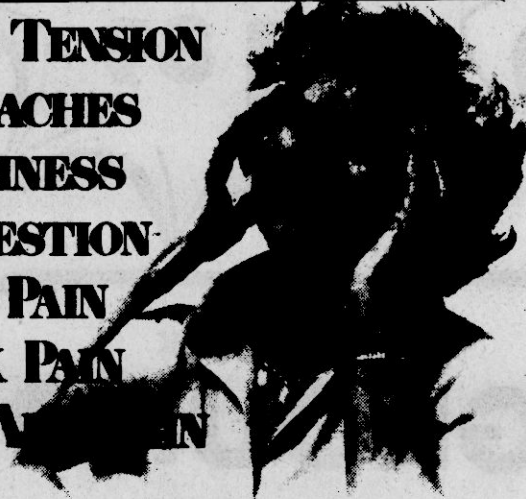

The length of time required for the correction of this condition varies with different individuals. In cases of a short period of existence, the sufferer will generally experience an early restoration to normal. If, however, the condition is of long standing, more time will be required to make the correction.

Resistance in local areas, such as the nose, throat, or chest, depends upon proper circulation to these areas. Chiropractic deals with changing the hypersensitiveness of the body in these areas by making corrections in the nervous system.

Perhaps you are one of those sufferers who asks, "Why did you have to remind me of my coming miseries in advance of the season?" The answer is that resistance is not renewed in a day or week. Let your chiropractor start your resistance-building program NOW so that when your usual time for hay fever discomfort arrives, the discomfort, if not entirely abolished, will be lessened to an appreciable degree.

State's Gas Prices Not Decreasing

Price decreases of three to five cents a gallon, predicted by energy and oil company officials, are not yet showing up in Louisiana and Mississippi, according to the American Automobile Association's July Fuel Gauge Survey.

The latest survey, which gathered statistics on fuel price and availability from more than 250 service stations, shows that since last month the price of gasoline increased by .61 cents in Louisiana and remained the same in Mississippi. The average price in Louisiana in July is $1.249 and in Mississippi it is $1.311.

"While individual grades of fuel did show slight decreases," explained Joe Puglia, public affairs director for AAA, "generally no substantial decreases in price averages were spotted. This month's prices do, though, continue a trend of stabilization which has been evident during the past few months."

The only area in the two-state survey showing a significant increase was the Gulf Coast of Mississippi, where the average per gallon cost rose by 2.7 cents since last month. The average cost of gas on the coast is $1.338.

Availability in the two-state area remained good, with Louisiana stations reporting 26 per cent of the stations contacted remaining open on a 24-hour basis; 41 per cent closed by 8 p.m. on weekdays; 29 per cent closed by 6 p.m. on Saturday and 35 per cent closed Sunday. No stations reported being out of fuel or limiting sales.

In Mississippi, 12 per cent will remain open on a 24-hour basis; 67 per cent will be closed by 8 p.m. on weekdays; 53 per cent will be closed by 6 p.m. on Saturday, and 57 per cent closed Sunday. No stations were out of fuel and none were limiting sales.

Gasoline is approximately 33.5 cents a gallon more in Louisiana this year than last year when the cost-per-gallon was 91.4 cents. In Mississippi, motorists are paying 35.3 cents a gallon more than last year when fuel cost 95.8 cents a gallon.

Teachers Tour NASA Lab

Ten members of the Northeast Junior College faculty and staff recently participated in a three-day symposium at the NASA National Space Technology Laboratories on the Gulf Coast in an effort to further enhance their teaching skills via hands-on experience.

Especially designed to suit the needs of Northeast and its students, this was the first such meeting to involve a Mississippi junior college.

Participating in the endeavor, which was co-sponsored by NASA and the North Mississippi Environmental Education Consortium, were Hilda L. Hill, Consortium director; Virginia Wilson, counselor; Phillip Beaird, data processing; Dan Warmbrod, science; Susan Dalton, drafting and design; Jimmy Crane, assistant director of vocational education; Virgil Heard, science; Thomas Carter, forestry technology; W.D. Clifton, agriculture; and Jim Lamb, science.

The bulk of the symposium included a one and one-half day training course in the technology transfer of remote sensing data obtained through Landsat satellites, the first of which was placed in orbit in 1972.

Since that time a complex and sophisticated technology has developed around analysis and applications of this data.

It was through classroom instruction and workshop familiarization that Northeast faculty members saw the Landsat Data Analysis System capabilities and learned new techniques for processing and analyzing Landsat MSS Data.

According to Buddy Atwell, manager of the University Programs, "The program objectives were simply stated: to provide support to universities and colleges which would enable professors to include appropriate discussions of Landsat technology in their lectures and to encourage the use of Landsat data in research activities."

Atwell pointed out that each university presents a unique situation and the cornerstone of the program is that "we try to treat each university uniquely and each short course is tailored to each university because we want to build on what's there."

Of special interest to the science instructors was the work of Dr. Billy Wolverton, who is presently engaged in converting vascular aquatic plants to methane gas. He also uses the plant in sewage waste disposal treatment for the up-take of heavy metal in other dangerous compounds.

The group also met with Dr. Hon Tai of the Environmental Protection Agency, who is director of the only EPA Pesticides Monitoring Program in the nation. Dr. Hai is responsible for the postmortem testing of animals, vegetation, water, etc., to determine and recognize their pesticide content.

Other points of interest included tours of the USGS Gulf Coast Hydro Science Center, where the assessment of the effects of natural and manmade conditions on water resources are made; the NSTL Energy Office, whose concern is energy conservation as well as determining alternate methods of supplying energy; the U.S. Marine Fisheries; and, the Office of Marien Pollution Assessment.

Mrs. Hill, in describing the success of the trip, summed it up when she said, "We came away a 'new people' because now we know 'why'."

More Agriculture Grads Needed

Food and agricultural professions, including farming and ranching, will need more graduates—especially those with advanced degrees—than are expected to graduate during the next five years, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture study.

Educators, scientists and others have been concerned that higher education was not producing enough graduates with food and agricultural expertise for future growth of agricultural productivity and efficiency, according to Anson R. Bertrand, USDA director of science and education.

"The overall estimate is an annual shortage of 8,500 individuals with associate, baccalaureate, master's, doctoral and doctor of veterinary medicine degrees in agriculture and agriculture-related subjects," Bertrand said.

The study, done by the USDA's Science and Education Administration, projects the most severe shortages for graduates with doctoral degrees.

Bertrand said the study was undertaken in response to the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977, which directs USDA to keep informed of the need for research, extension, teaching and professional development in the food and agricultural sciences.

Educational backgrounds especially needed at the doctoral level are agricultural business and management, agricultural and forest engineering, animal and food sciences, forest products use, plant and soil sciences and selected specialties in veterinary medicine.

Information on the supply of higher education graduates came principally from higher education general information surveys of the National Center for Education Statistics, Department of Education.

Statistics on occupational demand came from the occupational employment statistics program of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor. Panel of College and university experts aided the Science and Education

Administration in reconciling data from these two sources and other data bases so that the estimates could be made.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

'The Value Of Testing'

By Paul R. Van Gorder
Adapted From 'Our Daily Bread'

We live in a day of "instant" success. For example, in less than 30 minutes on a quiz show a person can walk away with thousands of dollars or be loaded with expensive merchandise. A similar "can't wait" philosophy is also being preached in some Christian circles. Believers are promised an "easy to come by" maturity, if they will just follow a simple, little formula. But God does not work with us in that way. He takes His time, and through various trials He develops patience and stability within us so that we "May be perfect and entire, lacking nothing" (Jas. 1:4).

F.B. Meyer explained it this way: "A bar of iron worth $2.50, when wrought into horseshoes is worth $5. If made into needles it is worth $175. If into penknife blades it is worth $1,625. If made into springs for watches it is worth $125,000. What a 'trial by fire' that bar must undergo to be worth this! But the more it is manipulated, and the more it is hammered and passed through the heat, beaten, pounded, and polished, the greater its value."

Christian, are you wondering about the trials through which you are passing? With impatient heart are you saying, "How long, O Lord?" The heat of the flame and the blows of the hammer are necessary if you are to be more than an unpolished, rough bar of iron. God's all-wise plan, though it calls for the fire, produces the valuable watch spring of maturity. His very best for your life has behind it His perfect timing.

Let's always remember that God is not in a hurry. "Let patience have her perfect work" (Jas. 1:4).

Among Women

Jogging Is Becoming Popular

By DR. FRANK ROSATO
Associate professor of Health, Physical Education and Recreation
Memphis State University

The latest estimate reveals that there are 30 million joggers in the United States, and several million of these are women of all ages.

Women respond to jogging in much the same way as men. Men and women are, after all, biologically more similar than dissimilar, but there are some differences between the sexes.

Women are less equipped for endurance running for a number of reasons, not all of which are biological. Until recent years, our culture has not offered any encouragement for women to pursue strenuous exercise primarily because it was undylike. But as women seek for equality in all areas of life, they began participating in fitness and sports activities in unprecedented numbers.

At this point no one is quite sure about the potential aerobic (endurance) capacity of women, because they have not had the opportunity to participate for a long enough period of time. However, there are some physical drawbacks which mitigate against high level endurance activities for women.

When compared to the average man, the average woman has less blood volume, less hemoglobin, a smaller heart, smaller cardiac output, less lung volume, and more body fat. These factors result in an aerobic capacity which is 15 to 20 percent less than men.

Just a few short years ago, women were not allowed to compete in foot races which were longer than a mile. This is still true in the Olympic Games. The rationale for this was that the longer distances would be physically harmful due to the fact that women were not "built" for strenuous activity. We now know differently, and the myopic view of the Olympic Committee is outdated.

Women are successfully running marathon races (26 miles, 385 yards) as well as ultra-marathons (30,40,50,62.5 and 100 mile races). In 1979 the New York marathon attracted more than 1100 women participants. This year's Boston marathon had more than 500 women who met the qualifying standards.

The record for men in the marathon is 2:08:33, for women is 2:27:33. The men's record was established a few years ago. In contrast, the women's record is broken every year. Just how fast can women cover the distance? Will a woman ever win a major marathon? The next few years will be very interesting.

There is already some opinion indicating that women are better equipped to run the ultra-marathons due to a more efficient cooling system and a greater supply of fat for energy. Once again, the next few years will be very revealing.

Church Plans Homecoming

KEOWNVILLE—Plans are currently underway for a memorial day and homecoming to be held Aug. 10 at the Mt. Olive United Methodist Church in Keownville on Highway 30 East of New Albany.

The Mt. Olive Church was originally in the Brush Arbor which was in existence a number of years before Feb. 16, 1854, when the church was officially organized and given the new name, Mt. Olive.

The first church building was a small one-room log house with a dirt floor, stick and dirt chimney, split log seats, one shuttered window opening and one door. The building was also used for a schoolroom. It was damaged by invaders during the Civil War.

Pastor Luter promoted the erection of the second building a few years after the war. It was a larger, weatherboarded structure. W.A. Robertson, Lum Wade and Dick Spencer put up the present building about 1886 with the square altar replacing the mourner's bench.

The Amen corners, square altar and altar table made by Mr. Wade and the original handmade seats put together with pegs are still in use.

A number of preachers, teachers, church workers, doctors and civic leaders have been sent forth from the church during its 126 years of existence. The church has been the focal point of many different activities over the years.

The present pastor, the Rev. J.S. Johnson, is urging everyone—"friends, relatives, neighbors from far and near, former members and members of other churches"—to attend the memorial day and homecoming on the second Sunday in August (Aug. 10), the regular meeting day for many years.

A program is being planned in memory of loved ones and friends of the church. Old Bibles, pictures, and keepsakes relative to family and church are being requested for a special display. Those attending are also asked to bring a covered dish for lunch at noon.

"Please come one and all for a day of worship and fellowship at the little country church with a nation-wide recognition," the pastor asked.

Bills Could Cost Farmers

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau
Federation

In the backward flow or ebbtide of current agricultural fortunes, American farmers see economic shoals ahead in the mainstream of both domestic and international shipping channels, and are asking the U.S. Congress to delay new legislation which could scuttle this nation's chief source of trade.

Agriculture is the only remaining bright spot in the fading limelight of American economic productivity—yet this lone glimmer may be eclipsed by escalating costs beyond competitive market levels.

Several threats lie ahead for agricultural shipping that could well upset the thin balance between profit and loss, involving both overseas carriers and domestic vessels.

One of these already grating against the thin competitive edge between nations in international trade is a proposal now before the U.S. Congress that interferes with the free selection of shippers for farm commodities moving both out and into this country.

Known in agricultural and industrial circles as the "Cargo Preference Act", this law now up for possible modification already requires U.S. shippers to consign a high percentage of their cargoes abroad American flag vessels at higher than market rates. This act, P.L. 664, is part of the Omnibus Maritime Bill, H.R. 6899, which, if modified in accordance with recent recommendations, would encourage and authorize the Secretary of Commerce to make bilateral shipping agreements with foreign countries in excess of provisions already enforced through the Cargo Preference Act.

Under the current act, half of P.L. 480 and Export-Import Bank financed cargoes must be transported on American flag vessels at rates that usually are higher than those of foreign flag vessels.

And while such favoritism of U.S. carriers may seem on the surface to be idealistically good, the ring through the economy is a discordant one in view of the added cost to subsidize American shipping. The padded wage philosophy and trend fits the debilitating mold which went a long way toward casting the financial downfall of American railroads.

American farmers believe that such bilateral shipping agreements imposed on trans-ocean shipping could soon put U.S. farmers at a competitive disadvantage that would be ruinous—especially if new agreements were to extend the cargo preference requirements to commercial sales of farm commodities.

Farmers hope the proposal will self-destruct after an emasculatation of the original bill by the House Ways and Means Committee and the House Judiciary Committee. It was changed to a degree that the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, which developed the bill, will now reconsider whether or not to send the proposal to the House floor. It may well abort with strong economic sanctions against it.

Meanwhile, the nation's domestic barge fleet has a case of the worries over a proposed regulation by the U.S. Coast Guard supposedly to help the environment as far as oil spills are concerned.

This idea would require that by 1985 all tank barges carrying petroleum-based products must have double hulls or be outlawed from the nation's waterways. To pay for the double hulling, shippers would be forced to raise rates to all clients to ante up an estimated $2.8 billion to finance the hull conversions.

Today the U.S. barge industry serves 87 percent of U.S. cities with 24,937 dry cargo barges and 3,770 tank barges. These vessels move more than 640 tons of freight annually. Of this tonnage 39 percent is petroleum-based and 30 percent is agricultural.

The barge folks are squawking too because in addition to the time, trouble and expense of conversion to double hulled vessels, the barge business would lose some of its operators more disposed toward shutting up than putting up in view of other channel blocks ahead.

If the double hull proponents win out, it will likely require tens of millions of additional gallons of fuel annually to push the heavier vessels.

The barge industry, which in the past has afforded the cheapest transportation rate for agricultural products, also faces in October the imposition of a four cents per gallon fuel tax on all fuel used by the propelling engines of its vessels. This tax is set to go up two cents per year for the next five years. Then, for the next five years the fees will be assessed on the cost of construction projects to service the barge shipping industry on the waterways.

Unless a valve is turned on these latest monetary spills proposed to flow toward Washington, modern writers may yet paraphrase a rhyme to contemporary mariners whose albatross encircled necks are overweighted with newly imposed subsidies and taxes.

For the average American this likely would mean that a good bit of this nation's cheap food tradition is headed down the drain rather than the waterways.
