cautioned him not to disturb the others watching the show. Gracie is the daughter of Mrs. Larry Ozburn and Larry Roberts, both of Booneville. The puppet show was sponsored by the Booneville Junior Auxiliary. (Photos by Ken Christian.)

Community Works Together At New Site School

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Principal Larry Morgan is optimistic about the 1980-81 school year at New Site High School.

"We plan to offer the students a good basic education, whether they plan to continue their education or go the vocational route," Morgan said Monday as he worked to prepare for the open house which will be held at each of the county schools tonight (Thursday).

The coming school year will be a first for both the school and the principal—it will be the first time Morgan, who served as assistant principal at Booneville High School for several years, will be a principal with his own school and it will be the first time New Site has not had an elementary and junior high school.

Since accepting the position on July 7, Morgan and many of the parents of the community have been working diligently at the school to get it ready for the coming term. However, during the past week the parents have really begun to work.

Working night and day, the parents have renovated the school auditorium—including adding new paneling to the walls and painting other areas.

"The school furnished the paneling and the paint," Morgan said, "and the parents did the work."

The office space has been reworked and the parents are also working toward air-conditioning the classrooms.

The parents have been asking for donations to pay for the air-conditioning—no county funds will be used for that purpose, Morgan said. Much of the ductwork for a central cooling system already exists from the installation of a central heating system sometime back, thus making the cooling project somewhat more reasonable in price—an estimated $7,500.

"If the ductwork was not already there, we would have to go with window units," Morgan said.

The new principal said he hopes the air-conditioning will be in by the time school begins on a full-day schedule Monday, Aug. 25. He hopes all classrooms, offices, the library, and the auditorium, which will also serve as a study hall, will all be air-conditioned—"everything except the gym."

However, as important as the physical aspects of the school are, Morgan is placing more emphasis on the curriculum.

"People are concerned about what advanced courses will be offered," he said. "I can say for sure that Advanced Math will be offered."

Chemistry will also be on the curriculum, he said. Kay Crowe will teach the Advanced Math Class and Karen Miller the Chemistry class. Morgan, himself a Math teacher before becoming principal, will teach Algebra II.

The school also plans to offer several science courses in addition to the Chemistry class. Students can choose from General Science, Physical Science, Biology and—hopefully—Physics. But, for the time being, the Physics class is not a certainty.

"If there are enough students interested in taking Physics and we can find a teacher, we will offer Physics," Morgan said. However, he added that "Physics teachers are scarce."

But, Morgan feels a little

Only First Graders, Seniors Require Blue Certificates

A report in last week's Banner-Independent that all students in grades 1-12 must have the blue Certificate of Compliance before they start the new school term was not entirely accurate, according to Stan Furr, Health Programs Representative with the immunization program of the State Health Department.

While the rule has changed from previous years, Furr said only first graders, seniors and students transferring to a school in Mississippi from a school in another state will be required to present the blue certificates at registration.

Except for seniors and out of state transfer students, "Students who previously had the certificates are not required to update them at this time," Furr said. "The bottom line," the health official added, "is that if they have never gotten one (the blue certificate), get one."

The information in last week's article was based on a news release received by the Banner-Independent earlier this summer. Furr said the release was inaccurate and a correction was to have been mailed.

Local Officers Arrest Four In County Theft Ring

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department has "made a break through on several thefts involving a theft ring," according to Deputy Joe Shackelford.

Sheriff John McCauley added, "It is going to wind up involving a pretty good circle, too."

Four arrests have already been made, with others expected, Deputy Shackelford said. Four stolen riding lawn mowers have also been recovered and officers are still looking for a Model 3000 Ford Tractor stolen from Hal Story.

"The ring is still under investigation," the deputy said, "and we have some hopes of recovering the Ford tractor."

Arrested and charged in connection with the theft ring were Johnnie Key, 18, 104 Meadowview Subdivision; Bobby Griffin, 22, Route 5, Booneville; Larry Gene Lambert, 27, Route 6, Booneville; and Timmy Elrod, 22, Saltillo.

The investigation involved, in addition to the local sheriff's department, the Mississippi Highway Patrol, Special Investigator David Huggins and Rienzi Town Marshall Milton Bishop.

Shackelford said the ring covered several counties in North Mississippi and also parts of Tennessee. One of the four mowers was

Festival Termed 'A Success'

It didn't outdraw the World Series, but everyone connected with Booneville's first Boone Hill Festival termed it a real success.

That was the report given to the steering committee in its post-festival meeting Monday at the Bank of Mississippi. Keith Shackelford, chairman of the committee, said he had talked to almost everyone who was involved and they reported they are very pleased with the results.

The Prentiss County Mini-Fair, an annual event sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, was made a part of the first Boone Hill Festival. It had more than 700 exhibits and drew a crowd of spectators.

The Junior Auxiliary's puppet and pet shows, which have also become annual events, were popular with grown-ups as well as the children.

The Boone Hill Beauty Pageant, sponsored by the Organization for Handicapped Mississippians (OHM), had 65 contestants and OHM reported it was pleased with the spectator turnout.

Other events, including the art show at the George

Total Of 350 Ask To Transfer

Prentiss County Superintendent of Education Lex Cain said Wednesday morning that only a few more students have asked for transfers to the Booneville Municipal Separate School District in the past week.

Wednesday was the deadline set by the county school board for students to request transfers.

Cain said that, as of yet, the city has not turned over to the county school board any requests for transfers from the city system to the county system.

Meal Price Rate Policy Announced

The Prentiss County School District this week announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk programs.

Local school officials have adopted the family size criteria shown in the tables on Page 2 of today's paper for determining eligibility for these programs.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for a signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and federal criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy school principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis.

If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Lex Cain, county superintendent, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the families eligible for reduced price meals or for additional benefits such as free meals if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, or national origin. Each school and the office of the county superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Physical Exams Necessary

BHS Cheerleader Applicants Must Fulfill Requirements

Due to the uncertainty of the status of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and of the eligibility of transfer students to participate in extracurricular activities, cheerleaders were not elected before the end of school last year at Booneville High School as they have been in the past.

Mrs. Linda Caldwell, cheerleader sponsor, said Monday that tryouts for the 1980-81 BHS cheerleaders will be held as soon as school gets underway. All participants in the tryouts must meet all eligibility requirements and rules, she stressed.

Cheerleader workshops are now underway at the high school to help the students prepare for the upcoming tryouts. Requirements and rules can be obtained at these workshops, Mrs. Caldwell said.

She also stressed that all participants must have a complete physical examination by their family doctor before they can try out for a position on the cheering squad.

"Written notice of such an exam must be given to the sponsor before tryouts," Mrs. Caldwell said.

As soon as the student body at Booneville High School elects their nine cheerleaders, the Universal Cheerleading Association plans to send an instructor for a one day workshop.

"He will instruct the girls on new cheers, techniques and stunts they would have learned at the UCA camp at Ole Miss," Mrs. Caldwell said.

Mrs. Caldwell urges all students interested in trying out for cheerleader to come to the workshops being held each Tuesday and Thursday from 5 to 7 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon.

Eyes On Mississippi

Carter Could Still Win State

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

NEW YORK—Up until now, the presidential race in Mississippi has been awfully one-sided. Ronald Regan, it has appeared, is a shoo-in to carry the state. But you get the feeling here at the Democratic National Convention that things could start changing.

Jimmy Carter, nor William Winter and his 32 Carter delegates from Mississippi aren't about to concede the state to Regan and the Republicans.

As one Carter delegate, Mayor Sidney Runnels of Canton, puts it: "Jimmy Carter against anybody, I'll put my money on Carter. He's tough when the chips are down."

This presidential race in Mississippi, despite the early signs of a Regan runaway, very well could turn into more of a cliff-hanger than the one in 1976 when Carter nipped Gerald Ford at the wire to capture seven pivotal electoral votes. In that race, Carter had started out with a big lead in Mississippi, then fell behind a couple of weeks before the election, then finally pulled it out on the day the votes were counted.

It had taken the biggest turnout of black voters before or since in Mississippi to give Carter his edge. And the black vote then was a great surprise, demonstrating black Mississippians shared with white Mississippians the regional pride of electing a man from the South, albeit a white man, president of the United States.

One reason why Carter is said to be in such deep trouble in Mississippi now is the speculation that blacks have lost their enthusiasm for Carter in four years and this time, they will simply stay home.

That forecast that the black vote will be a no-show this time is in error, we are told by some very knowledgeable black leaders who are closest to the rural blacks—the ones who turned out surprisingly strong in 1976. They will do it again, say these black observers, despite the dissatisfaction some national black leaders have expressed about Carter, and despite the unhappiness of some black pols in Mississippi with the patronage that has come from the Carter administration.

In trying to win Mississippi for President Carter, William Winter will be facing one of the toughest challenges of his public career, certainly a tougher one than he had last year in winning the governor's office.

He will be putting his popularity on the line with a lot of Mississippians who voted for him last year, but now strongly favor the conservative Reagan for president. Some of these are reportedly disappointed that Winter has come on so strong for Carter, and may become the major obstacle in the way of Reagan carrying Mississippi in November.

Whether or not Winter can convert enough Mississippians who are now either skeptical of Carter's leadership or turned off by the Democratic Party's social and economic doctrines, is highly doubtful.

Winter is the only Mississippi governor outside of J.P. Coleman this century who has had a deep feeling for the Democratic Party, its philosophy and its value as an institution for serving the needs of a have-not state like Mississippi.

Out of the National Democratic Convention, Winter may emerge as one of Carter's most valued leaders among state governors not only in the South, but around the country. Winter has given little public notice to it, but he is serving as coordinator for Carter convention forces in eight Southern states.

Winter is convinced that Carter represents the movement of the Democratic Party toward the center, pulling it back from the near-disaster in the abortive years of George McGovern. Even Winter in 1972 had reluctantly said he was going to vote for Richard Nixon because he could not abide McGovern. Some perhaps will remind him of that in 1980.

Despite the resurgence of Sen. Edward Kennedy into the dump Carter movement and the outward appearance that the Democratic Party is suffering from searing philosophical differences because of the Carter leadership, Winter doesn't see any permanent damage to the party resulting from it.

This is the way with the Democrats, they have their divisions, but Winter believes they are mainly differences in the execution of positions for which the Democratic Party basically stands.

"It's the oldest political institution in the world, and it will still be here when this is over," muses Winter.

But will it run the country the next four years?

Speaking Out

Let's Unite

"I'd just like to say that I wish the Prentiss County people would unite, instead of falling apart. We need to make Prentiss County a better place in which to live. So, people, pull together, not apart. Thank you."

Next Year

"Now that another baseball season is just about over, let us organize for next year and have either a league for the players who can't play very well or organize a league in such a way that every team member has to bat once and play two or three endings."

Hope In Heart

"Churches and preachers are preaching against sin, makeup, eyeshadow, swimming pools, cutting hair or trimming hair. I am glad my hope is not in my hair, it is in my heart."

Letters To The Editor

Well-Behaved Youngsters

Dear Editor,

I'd like to take this means of complimenting the baseball players and coaches from Booneville who participated in the recent Dizzy Dean Sophomore State Tour-namment held here in Winona. The team, coaches, and parents ate their meals with us, and I have never been around a group of youngsters who were better behaved than these young men were. They reflected good home training, and everyone in Booneville should be proud of the way they represented the whole community!

Sincerely,

Water Shipping Increasing

A 1979 study by the U.S. Department of Commerce reveals that Mississippi is on the verge of a dramatic increase in waterborne commerce.

Shipments through Mississippi ports, according to the study, are expected to increase to 47.9 million tons by the year 2000, almost four times the 1976 level of 12.6 million tons.

But, is Mississippi ready to capitalize on this potential windfall? Can our present port facilities handle such dramatic increases in commerce?

According to the Commerce Department report, Mississippi's facilities are inadequate for these increases. Of the 17 states examined in the study, Mississippi ranked third in the number of new port facilities needed.

Mississippians need to look closely at this potential waterway boom and con-

Cattle Is Focal Point Of State's 'Hard Times' Crimes

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Harder than usual times and high prices have caused a sharp increase in rural crime in Mississippi in 1980, according to the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Cattle were scored as highest priority on the hit list with the result that during the first three months of this year a sharp 46 percent increase in cattle thefts was reported—while over a six-month period from September to March cattle thefts showed a 25 percent increase over the same period a year earlier.

Don Bray, director of the livestock theft bureau of the Mississippi Highway Patrol, said the sharp rise in cattle thefts can be attributed to the slump in the overall economy, rising food cost, and rising prices of live cattle.

These conditions, Bray said, should serve as a signal to cattlemen to take extra precautions to protect their herds from theft.

The law enforcement agency official added that recorded statistics on thefts fall short of telling the entire story since for every ten cases that are reported to law enforcement authorities, about three to four others, on an average, go unreported.

Bray cautioned that if the general economy continues to worsen, cattlemen should be alert to protect themselves against an even greater toll from their herds, including the slaughtering and butchering of animals right in the pastures.

There are effective preventive measures that cattlemen should take to reduce their theft losses and set in motion the possible arrest and conviction of these criminals. They include branding of animals with properly registered brands, posting signs warning thieves that the animals are permanently branded, and trying to maintain a daily count of cattle herds so thefts will be detected quickly to make it easier to investigate the disappearance.

Cattlemen who are away from their stock for any period of time should arrange for someone else to regularly check the property and stock, keeping in mind that about 80 percent of cattle thefts occur in isolated pastures and feedlots.

Fence maintenance prevents straying cattle which are more vulnerable to theft, Bray pointed out, while cautioning that fences, gates, chains and locks should be on the regular check list as well as the herds. He advocates double locks on gates for better security.

Cattle loading chutes should not be built near roads, he added, suggesting that cattlemen should be very alert to strangers on or near the property who may be checking the property out with a theft in mind. Also, if a strange vehicle is spotted several times, the description and tag number should be written down for possible future reference.

The livestock theft bureau director concluded by pointing out that cattle rustlers usually are experienced in handling cattle. They often have a good knowledge of cattle markets and have equipment needed to carry out their illicit deeds.

Bray urges the public to cooperate with cattlemen and law enforcement personnel by being alert to suspicious circumstances in rural areas and quickly reporting their suspicions or observations to proper authorities.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

The Libyan Case

Controversy is developing over the Senate's investigation of the facts surrounding Billy Carter's relationship with Libya and the U.S. Department of Justice.

Like most Americans, I thought at first that this could not amount to much and that the media people were probably overdoing the coverage of it. Now, I am not so sure.

That is the reason for the investigation. If we were sure that the entire story had been told, then there would be no need for the Senate to conduct its inquiry.

Another problem that is involved is whether or not the Attorney General and the Department of Justice have acted in accordance with the law. The Judiciary Committee has jurisdiction over the Department and has a duty to see that it carries out the law fairly and diligently.

I am completely satisfied that the Senate has done the right thing in directing, unanimously, that the investigation be undertaken. It has been turned over to a committee of competent members who seem dedicated to pursuing the truth wherever that effort may lead.

What we do not want to happen is for the investigation to be turned into a political witch hunt or be conducted in a circus atmosphere.

Another concern of mine as this process unfolds is the possibility of dragging the matter out too long and spending large sums of money unnecessarily.

I think that is why the order creating the committee requires a report to be made to the Senate by October 4. This will give all of us an opportunity to review the findings and decide if anything further needs to be done.

It is important to know all the facts when serious allegations of obstruction of justice, failure to comply with foreign agent registration laws, and questionable payments of money are made that could involve White House officials and the Department of Justice.

The sensitive and complicated nature of the inquiry requires the appointment of a skilled and experienced counsel who the public will recognize as being well-qualified for the job. I am confident that requirement of a successful investigation has been met.

The committee should also realize that the interests of the American people will be served only if the truth is pursued without regard to partisan or selfish political considerations.

Senator Charles Mac Mathias of Maryland said it well the day the committee was organized when he observed that the investigation could alter the course of history; it could affect the outcome of the national elections this November. If the committee was too aggressive it could create undesired sympathy for those who were targets of the investigation and if it was not aggressive enough it could be considered a whitewash that did not clear anyone's name.

My strong hope is that when all of this is over the American people will conclude that this challenge has been met and that justice has been done.

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

S.B. No. 2542: This bill abolishes the office of Motor Vehicle Comptroller and transfers all of its duties to the State Tax Commission. It also makes some substantive alternations with respect to the operation of the Tax Commission.

The Chairman of the Tax Commission is designated the Commissioner of Revenue and is given primary responsibility for the control of all divisions of the commission except for the Alcoholic Beverage Control Division. The chairman is given sole authority over the hiring, firing and compensation of ABC employees, but the full Tax Commission retains authority over all else within the division, including the determination of what brands are purchased.

The two associate commissioners who are presently designated the Excise Commissioner and the Ad Valorem Commissioner will no longer be known as such, and their duties no longer exercised by each separately, but assigned to the full commission.

Miss Lollar, Mr Prichard Exchange Vows

Miss Caren DeLyn Lollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lollar, and David Louis Prichard, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Prichard, were married June 15 at the Shiloh United Methodist Church in Mantachie.

The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Hawkins of Fulton and Mr. E.F. Lollar and the late Mrs. Pearl Lollar of Mantachie. The groom's grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Prichard of Booneville and the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Clyde Thomason of Columbus, Ga.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bobby Hankins of Greenville and the Rev. Dee Brown, uncle of the bride.

The sanctuary was decorated with rainbow candelabra decorated with peach and white gladiolas and carnations, offset by spirals and ferns, with a unity candle to the side. Arrangements of peach and white carnations and baby's breath and silver candelabras decorated the piano and organ. The mother's pews were marked with Hurricane lamps and candles. Ivy decorated the prayer rail.

A program of nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Johnnie Kelso at the organ. Jeff Butler, soloist, sang "A Time For Us" as the mothers entered the church. Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Butler sang "I Pledge My Love to You" after the couple's vows. Jeff Butler also sang "The Wedding Song" as the couple lighted the United Candle.

The Rev. Dee Brown introduced the couple for the first time as Mr. and Mrs. David L. Prichard and they left the sanctuary as Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Butler sang "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white silk illusion over taffeta, featuring a Renaissance neckline and bodice with bishop sleeves, trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. The Chapel-length, tiered veil was edged in lace and seed pearls and attached to a crown cap, adorned with pearls.

She carried a nose gay of Sonya roses and stephanotis, edged in lace with ribbon streamers. For something old she carried a handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Pearl Lollar.

The bride was attended by Wanda Kay Smith as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Charla Lindsey, Miss Cim Lollar and Miss Gay Lollar, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kathy Lollar. The flower girl was the groom's neice, Emily Cartwright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Cartwright of Booneville.

The attendants wore formal gowns of peach quina with capes of flocked peach twinkle cloth. They wore baby's breath in their hair and carried lace fans with silk flowers. The flower girl wore a long Cinderella dress of peach twinkle cloth and carried a lace basket with silk flowers. She wore silk flowers and ribbons in her hair.

David H. Prichard served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Spain and Bill Ward of Booneville, Dennis Smith of Baldwin and Ken Goodwin of Jackson. Ushers were Randy Michael of Booneville and Steve McLaurin of Soso. Ring bearer was the groom's nephew, Daniel Spain, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spain of Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Lollar wore a gown of blue chiffon with blouson top and orchid corsage. Mrs. Richard wore a formal gown of turquoise polyester crepe and an orchid corsage.

Miss Glenda Justice presided at the registry table in the church foyer. The table was covered in peach overlaid with an antique crocheted lace cloth. It featured a white memory candle in a silk arrangement.

The Reception

The parents of the bride entertained with a reception in the fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. Guests entered thru an archway covered in ivy and white wedding bells, where they were greeted by the bride and groom and their parents.

Hostesses at the reception were: Mrs. Shirley Wooldridge, Mrs. Nell Lollar, Mrs. Johnnie Kelso, and Mrs. Betty Hawkins.

The fellowship hall was decorated with arrangement of gladiolas, pom poms and carnations. A rice bag tree was placed on a corner table covered with peach and overlaid with antique cloth. The bride's cousin, Melissa Jarrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jarrell of Fulton, passed around a silver tray holding rice bags.

The bride's table was covered in white linen with a deep lace ruffle. A four-tiered diamond-shaped, all white cake decorated with sugar roses and bells and topped with a white dove was set off by greenery and Sonya roses. The table was balanced by a silver candelabra with an arrangement of Sonya roses and baby's breath. Miss Pam Harbor and Miss Debbie Albert served the cake.

The groom's table was covered in brown burlap and featured the traditional three layer german chocolate cake with chocolate icing and decorated with frosted grapes. The table decorations were two wooden candle sticks and a polled hereford bull. Mrs. Charlotte Lollar of Mooreville and Mrs. Patty Graham served the cake.

Two similarly decorated companion tables offset the bride's table. At the first table Miss Glenda Justice served an assortment of hors d'oeuvres and mints from silver trays. At the second table Miss Julie Wilson served punch from a silver punch bowl and Mrs. Carolyn Davis served coffee from a silver coffee service.

For travel the bride wore a gauze dress with ruffle neckline. After the wedding the couple left for their new home in Gainesville, Fla., where both are enrolled in graduate school at the University of Florida.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS Librarian

The George E. Allen Library was made more attractive by the exhibit of 80 paintings, the works of 10 artists of our locality, during the Boone Hill Festival. Many people enjoyed the display and we are very grateful to the artists who made it possible and gave us this lift. Art enlarges our perspective and enriches our lives.

The library will continue our half hour of stories and filmstrips each Tuesday at 10:30 if there is enough interest among those not in school to bring a group of children together at that time. We invite you for next Tuesday morning.

A subscription to "Time" Magazine, the gift of a patron, is now arriving weekly. Including it the library now offers regularly six news periodicals along with occasional gift copies of others.

Besides the local paper we receive "The New York Times," "The Tupelo Journal," "The Capitol Reporter," and "U.S. News and World Report." News commentaries made up a large part of others.

Topics of public interest are features of recently acquired books such as "Cold Storage" by Wendell Rawls Jr. on treatment of the criminally insane;

"Anatomy of an Illness" by Norman Cousins on the capacity of the human mind and body to regenerate; "The Brethren" by Woodward and Armstrong on behind-the-scenes actions of the Supreme Court; "Free to Choose" by Milton Friedman and his wife, Rose, in which they attempt to unravel the mysteries of economics, pointing out errors in national spending and proposals for change; and "The Third Wave" by Alvin Taffler in which he explores the nature of a third wave of change that seems to be creating a new civilization of life-styles, jobs, and political philosophies.

She carried a nose gay of Sonya roses and stephanotis, edged in lace with ribbon streamers. For something old she carried a handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Pearl Lollar.

July Weather Report

The month of July was undoubtedly the hottest month most Prentiss Countians have ever experienced. Beginning on Friday, July 11, there were nine straight days of temperatures registering 100 degrees or above, with the highest reading on Monday, July 14, at 106 degrees.

During July 1979, the temperatures in Prentiss County did not even reach 100 degrees. The highest reading for that month last year, was 92 on July 31.

In fact, William Dallison Jr., the official weather observer in Prentiss County for the National Weather Service, said that in the three years that he has been keeping the records, July 1980 was the first time the 100 degree mark has been broken.

One weather statistic that may be hard to believe is that the county actually received more rain this July than it did during July 1979--and even more than the area's average normal rainfall for the month of July.

During July 1980 the county received a total of 4.55 inches of rain. Unfortunately, 3.91 inches came on one day, July 23, but at least it did break the hot spell.

During the month of July 1979, the county received a total of 4.11 inches of rain, with the greatest amount in one day, 2.37 inches, coming on July 12, 1979.

The following chart of temperatures and precipitation was prepared from information furnished by the county's official weather observer, William Dallison Jr. The figures for the same period during July 1979 are listed in parenthesis following the figures for 1980. The temperatures are given in degrees Fahrenheit.

Prisoner Training Program Told

JACKSON—Governor William Winter last week announced implementation of a program allowing over 400 state prison inmates to receive job training and job placement assistance.

Sponsored jointly by the Governor's Office of Job Development and Training and the Mississippi State Employment Security Commission, the $650,000 program is designed to train inmates for skilled employment and to eliminate overcrowding at the 3,200-inmate Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman. According to Winter, after careful screening, prisoners will receive training and then be placed in private sector jobs at the rate of about 40 prisoners per week.

"This program will provide some people with the opportunity for the first time in their lives to have gainful employment," the governor said. Winter, who after touring the prison in May expressed the desire to beef up training programs, cited figures which showed that of the 1,200 inmates eligible for work release annually, more than 25 percent have no job counseling or developmental assistance.

Winter said the average inmate at the state penitentiary has an eighth grade education or less and most have never held a permanent job more than six months.

"These are people who are desperately in need of some assistance in getting them installed in a meaningful work situation," Winter said. "I think this program will help provide meaningful work for inmates and in this way allow them to make a living, gain self respect, and take care of their families."

Prisoners eligible for parole or work release will be considered for placement. In most instances, employers who hire the inmates may receive federal tax credits.

Winter also announced last week the receipt of $457,000 in federal funds for use in renovation of local jails. The funds are available immediately subject to approval of local grant applications by the Criminal Justice Planning Commission.

The program is designed to provide assistance to county and municipal governments for renovation of existing jail structures and allows for expansion and renovation to reduce overcrowding, provide increased safety and sanitation, or allow sufficient space for development of diagnostic and rehabilitative services.

Funds may be used for such things as exercise yards, enlarging cells, replacing bathroom and shower facilities, new beds and fire proof mattresses, new electrical wiring systems, new security and fire prevention systems, or other necessary improvements.

Mayor Says Census Count Not Totally Accurate

The preliminary results of the 1980 census count shows the population of Booneville has increased about 12.5 percent, from 5,895 in 1970 to 6,631 in 1980.

Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb told the Banner-Independent he does not think the count for the city is totally accurate. He said he feels the city's population should be in excess of 7,000 and he has supplied the Census Bureau with additional data and asked that the totals be reviewed.

The mayor said the results of the census is extremely important for the city, because federal and state funding is based on the figures determined by the count. Revenue sharing funds, discretionary funds and other allocations are based on the census, he said.

The city will have to live with those figures for the next 10 years, he added. "I would be happy with 7,000," he said.

The preliminary results of the census count are sent to the mayor and board of supervisors of each city and county. If these officials have reason to believe the count is not accurate, the Census Bureau asks that they request a review of the data within 10 days of receiving it.

The original preliminary total population of the county was listed at 24,143, an increase of 19.9 percent from the 20,133 figure of 10 years ago. However, J.P. Davis, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, said he talked to the district Census Bureau last week and they gave him an updated figure of 24,562 in the county, with an additional 419 persons belonging to the county, but listed at state institutions or other group housing facilities. This would make the county total at almost 25,000 in the preliminary count.

Davis pointed out this figure is still not final, and will probably be revised upward again.

"We should pick up about 1,000 more in the followup," Davis predicted.

The preliminary results of the census for other Prentiss County towns show Marietta with an increase of 36.3 percent, from 204 in 1970 to 278 in 1980. The section of Baldwin in Prentiss County showed a population of 1,770 for 1980, compared to 1,193 for 1970. The population of Jumpertown is shown at 442 in the 1980 preliminary results. Since Jumpertown was not incorporated during the 1970 census, this is its first city count and there are no old figures with which to compare the present ones.

Although Mayor Crabb has asked that some of the city's figures be reviewed, he did not place any blame for what he believes could be low totals. In fact, he commended the local census workers on the job they have done in obtaining the count. He also commended the local citizens for being so cooperative in completing and returning the census forms.

Engineering Course Offered

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College, in cooperation with the Appalachian Community Service Network, will offer an eight-weeks course in the fundamentals of engineering, beginning Thursday, Aug. 21, at 6 p.m. in Room 58 of Hines Hall. Registration fee is $20. This same course will be made available to Booneville Video Subscribers via Channel 2.

Designed as a review for the first part of the Professional Engineers' Examination, the class will meet one night per week for three hours each night.

Because the class is structured as a review for degreed or equivalently experienced engineers, all participants should have an adequate engineering background.

Each class session will consist of two 30-minute videotaped presentations, made by a licensed engineering professional in his area of specialty. Additional time will be given to discussion of concepts covered in readings and video programs for expansion and clarification of ideas and problem-solving techniques.

Course topics include mathematics, nucleonics and wave phenomena, chemistry, statics, dynamics, mechanics of materials, fluid mechanics, thermodynamics and heat transfer, electrical theory, materials science and engineering economics, all of which are covered in the Professional Engineers' Examination.

John Wells Visits Romania

Navy Machinist's Mate 2nd Class John E. Wells, whose wife, Margie, is the daughter of Thomas L. and Ivy M. Killough of Route 3, Box 292, Rienzi, Miss., recently visited Romania.

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Dale, homeported in Mayport, Fla., and currently operating as a unit of the U.S. 6th Fleet.

His ship, along with the frigate USS Donald B. Peary, spent three days in the busy sea port of Constanta, located on the Black Sea. Crewmembers had the opportunity to visit nearby beaches, museums, ancient battlegrounds and ruins of cities dating to Greco-Roman times.

This is the 6th year that

U.S. 6th Fleet ships have called at Constanta on goodwill visits, and marks the 100th anniversary of diplomatic relations between the U.S. and Romania.

The Dale is 533 feet long with a crew of 360. It is outfitted with guns, missiles, torpedoes and anti-submarine rockets.

Wells joined the Navy in August 1971.

Upon completion of the course, participants will be awarded Continuing Education Units and a certificate for 30 contact hours from Northeast Junior College.

more optimistic about offering Speech, saying Speech teachers are easier to come by.

"Down the road," the new principal looks for a gifted student program. "We'll first have to see how many qualify," he said. "If we have the students, the state will fund the program."

And, of course, there are the basic courses offered by all county schools—including the vocational training through the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School.

With the elementary and junior high gone from the school this year—those students will be divided between Hill's Chapel and Marietta-Morgan says he feels the school can handle any influx of students.

"With the elementary gone, we now have four more complete classrooms," he said. The eighth grade shared some classrooms with upperclassmen last year.

The school now has a total of 10 classrooms, plus the home economics rooms, agricultural education rooms, and special education rooms. Thus, the school can handle a total of 380 students without an overload, Morgan said.

"I feel we can handle anything that comes our way," the principal said about the classroom situation.

recovered from Bolivar, Tenn.

"The investigation is continuing," the deputy said. "More arrests are expected and hopefully more property will be recovered." He said the investigation has been going on for some time.

All four arrested are currently out on bond, $20,000 each for Griffin and Lambert, $10,000 for Key, and $10,000 plus $1,000 bond for another charge on Elrod.

In other action last week, the sheriff's office arrested two men and a woman on charges of possession of marijuana.

Timmy Elrod, 22, Saltillo; Tony Smith, 26, Route 6, Booneville; and Debbie Barrett, 21, 112 Terry Street, were arrested Aug. 7 and charged with possession of marijuana.

Deputies said about 9 3/4 oz. of marijuana in 10 bags were discovered at Barrett's residence on Terry Street. Some of it was found in a freezer, they said.

Deputies said the current street price for marijuana is about $35 per "lid" or bag, making the amount recovered worth about $350.

The sheriff's department had been informed that marijuana was being sold at the residence, deputies said.

and had been watching the house for some time.

Involved in the investigation were deputies Shackelford, Hubert Kit-chens and Doug Hendrix, Sheriff McCauley, and MHP State Investigator David Huggins, and Third District Constable Bob Glover.

Smith, Barrett and Elrod are all currently out of jail on $1,000 bond each for the possession charges.

The sheriff's department has also recovered part of a 1979 green Cougar stolen July 4 in Chicago.

The vehicle was discovered while searching a shop in Jumpertown belonging to Howard Padgett. Deputies said they had been given information that a stolen vehicle might be in that area. Padgett gave the deputies permission to search his shop, they said.

Gary "Chub" Ross, 25, Route 3, Rienzi, was arrested and charged with grand larceny, Sheriff McCauley said. Ross admitted that the cougar was his car and that he had put it in the garage, deputies said.

Ross is currently out of jail under $20,000 bond.

MHP investigators David Huggins and Charlie Goforth assisted in the investigation.

Office Renovated

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Office has recently undergone an almost complete renovation. A $16,000 grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Agency, secured with the help of the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District, helped make this renovation possible.

Chief Deputy Joe Shackelford this week expressed the department's appreciation for donations from local businesses in helping decorate the reworked lobby of the sheriff's office.

"We would like to thank Wal-Mart, Win-Way, Dickerson Furniture, Fred's Dollar Stores, Western Auto, Schweiger Industries, Dobbins Florist, Wallis-Saylors Florist and Christians Florist for their donations," Shackelford said.

E. Allen Library, and the crafts exhibits uptown, also enjoyed brisk traffic.

Shackelford said the committee has started planning for another festival next year with the hope it will become an annual event

"Generally, everybody was pleased with the festival," he said. "We learned a lot and feel sure we will be able to make it an annual affair. Next year we plan to have it in cooler

Arlington Burial Now Available

Arlington National Cemetery, restricted for burials for the past several years because of lack of space, is now available to honorably discharged veterans whose remains have been cremated.

The more liberal use of the nation's most prestigious national cemetery is possible because of the recent opening of the first section of what will eventually be a 50,000-niche columbarium.

Located in the southeast section of the cemetery, the columbarium has a 5,000-niche section available now for the urns of veterans and certain members of their immediate families.

Veterans discharged under less than honorable conditions are not eligible for burial in the columbarium, according to U.S. Army officials who operate the cemetery.

Use of the columbarium is free and the usual VA burial expense allowances are available for veterans electing this method of burial.

Full information concerning the use of the columbarium is available by telephone at (202) 695-3250, or by writing the Director, Casualty and Memorial Affairs, TAGO, 1000 Independence Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20314.

The Veterans Administration will pay for transportation of the remains of veterans who die in a VA hospital from the place of death to final destination. Also available through VA is a burial allowance. The person making arrangement for burial should apply for VA burial allowance through the nearest VA regional office.

Eye Neglect Can Lead To Poor Learning

It seems only yesterday that school was ending. Yet, in just a few weeks, many schools will be re-opening for the fall term.

The Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness reminds all parents of preschool and school age children that this is the time to have children's eyes examined.

Most children's eye problems can be corrected if found early enough and treatment started. Neglect of these problems can lead to poor learning, stress, and emotional upsets, and even to permanent vision impairment or blindness.

One of the most serious eye problems found in one of every 20 youngsters is amblyopia or lazy-eye blindness. This is a condition wherein the two eyes do not see the same thing with equal clarity. The image from the weaker eye is suppressed by the brain. Continued suppression leads to low vision or blindness. Treatment can consist of merely patching the stronger eye to force the weak one to function.

Every child should have a professional eye examination before leaving the hospital at birth and another before age four. While this is not always possible, it is desirable, the society said.

The Mississippi Society reminds all parents that children have no way of knowing how they are supposed to see. They have no basis for comparison. It is up to adults to have them tested for problems that can affect their entire future.

At Hill Country Run

By Lee Gentry Sports Editor

Kriebler Sprints To Victory

Todd Kriebler, a sprinter from out of state visiting in Tupelo, burned the 5000 meter course here last Saturday with a 16:23 clocking to take first place honors in the Second Annual Booneville Hill Country Run which drew some 100 runners.

The Tupelo runner paced the field from the start to finish and said after the race that he felt good throughout the run and really paced himself through the final mile where he turned on the steam.

The run, which benefited the American Cancer Society, was sponsored by Shackelford's Shoes and The Banner-Independent.

The event, a 5000 meter run (3.1 miles) got underway at the Booneville City Hall and the newspaper in front of a host of spectators that turned out for the highly acclaimed running event.

Registration started at 7:30 a.m., and a number of runners from across the mid-south turned out by the carloads for the run.

Carolyn Fowler, from Tuscumbia, Ala., earned the best time for the overall ladies title with a 23:19 time.

For a run to be successful, it has to have organization. The Booneville Hill Country certainly had that. Everyone from the National Guard to the Booneville Police Department to the fire department turned out to help with the event and help make the run successful.

Tony Childers, a policeman for the local force, started the race with a gun shot while Booneville Police chief Wendall Stacy led the runners with a police escort throughout the three mile race.

The local National Guard helped with the race also with a traffic watch while the Booneville Fire Department set up a sprinkler system to cool off the runners during the race.

Ray Cozart, race director; Keith Shackelford, sponsor, and Paul Miller, sponsor; all agreed that this year's run was even better than last and plans are already in the making for next year's run.

Several runners in the race stated that the Booneville showing was one of the better organized events in the area and all stated that they would indeed be back again next year.

BHS Grid Practice Underway

A host of some 35-40 footballers turned out here Monday for the opening days of grid practice at Booneville High School.

The local gridsters will workout for the first five days in shorts and head gear before returning in full gear after the expired five day period.

Booneville High School head football coach Mac Curlee said he was finally glad to get started and added that he had quite a bit of work to do to prepare the Devils for the September 4th outing against Saltillo's Tigers in road action.

Coach Curlee said he still had several positions open for grabs what with the young and inexperienced squad. He said his first priority was to find a quarterback.

He also said he was looking for some good folks for his defensive squad. "We are inexperienced here also," Curlee said. "We have an all sophomore secondary plus a young defensive front and linebackers."

One of the main problems that Curlee and assistants Charles Gullett and Riley Presley will face will be to replace some eight positions lost to graduation last year. All eight lost were starters.

Curlee added that the first few days of this week is being devoted to conditioning, some playmaking and a lot of work is being done on the kicking game.

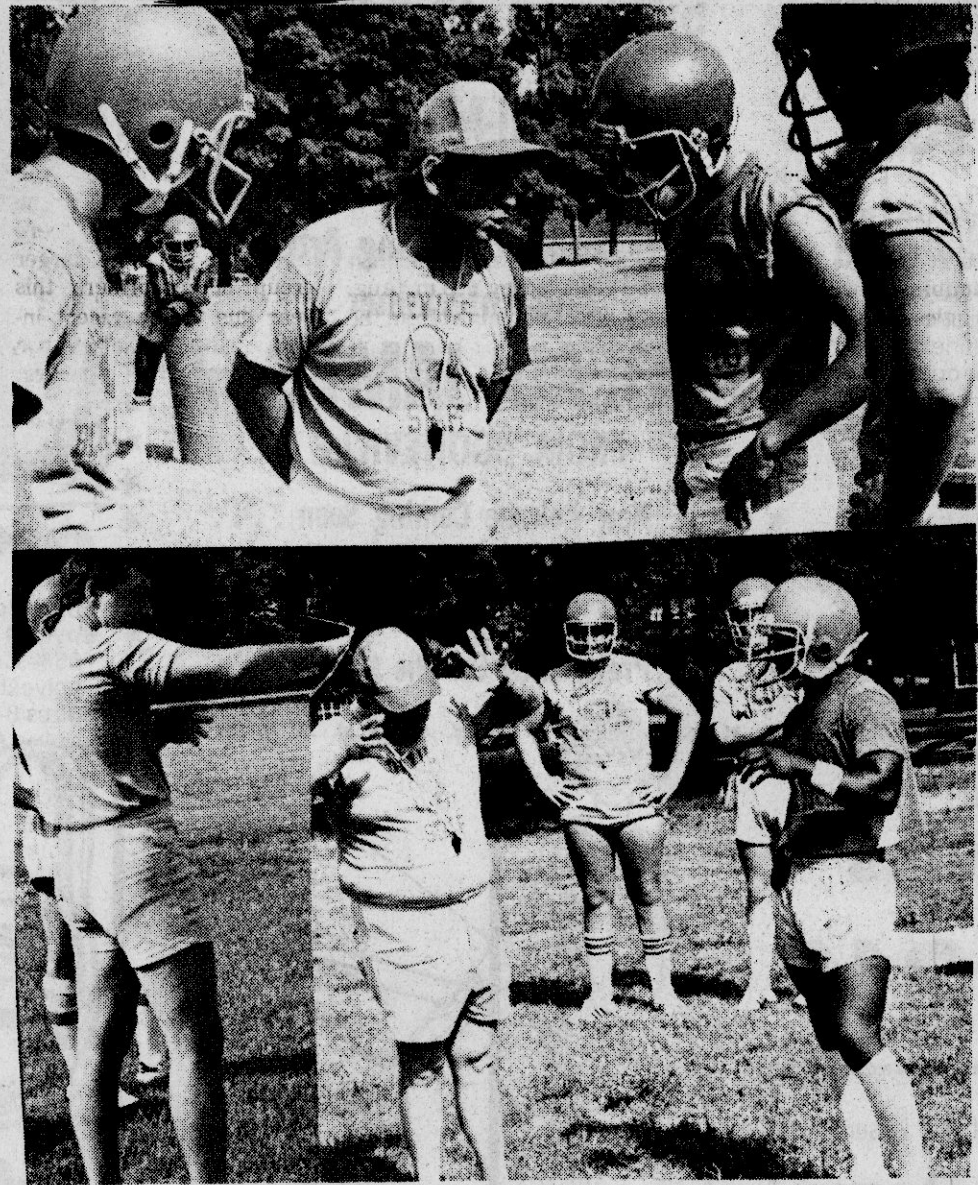

Curlee said there were some strong points on the 1980 roster. One he said would be in the backfield with his sprintsters. He added that he would be depending on several folks back there to put points on the board.

He also said his receivers looked good for this season. "We've got some experience in this position and we're looking for them to help out also."

In taking a brief look at the 1980 campaign, Curlee stated that some three or four teams would be at the top in the Tombigbee Conference and added that the two top would have to Ripley and the first game foes Saltillo Tigers.

The Booneville mentor said he planned to work this week on conditioning and other forms and hoped to have the team ready for the Sept. 4 outing against the Tigers.

Davis Defends Junior Golf Honors

Wally Davis successfully defended his title from a year ago here last Thursday firing an eight over par 44 to claim first place in the Championship Flight of the Second Annual Booneville Junior Golf Tournament held at the local club.

Chris Hughes shot an equaled 44 from the short tees to claim the top spot in the first flight while Donnie Carpenter shot a 49 to win second flight honors.

Rod Coggin and John Ivey fired identical 53's to earn second place in the championship flight while David Jenkins fired a 48 to take the second place spot in the first flight.

Other first flight finishers were, John Lindsey with a 51; Jim Lindsey with a 58; and Patrick Weatherford with a 62.

Paul Saylor took the second place tilt in the second flight shooting a 52 on the day while others in that flight include Jenny Weatherford with a 55; Walter Davis with a 64 and Brad Walden with a 76.

The Tournament was a nine hole event and following the Thursday golf event, all participants were given a luncheon in the club house.

Tigers Ranked 1st In Pre-Season Poll

A pre season coaches junior college poll from Jackson Mississippi has ranked the 1980 Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tiger football squad first in the North Division.

The Tigers, under head coach Bill Ward and assistants Billy Southward, will have a host of returning lettermen back from a year ago, and the area junior college coaches has given them the number one slot.

The Tigers finished second last year and made the State JUCO playoffs for the first time in the history of the football tenure there.

Coach Ward said he also felt like the Tigers would be a team to reckon with this season but said anytime you play the caliber of teams they play in the JUCO ranks then a pre season poll doesn't really mean that much.

"We still have a lot of work to do to prepare for that opening game Sept. 4 against Copiah Lincoln at home," Ward said. "Anytime you talk about junior college football then one team can't beat another on any given night."

Ward went on to say that he was pleased with the number one ranking but said he just wanted to get started with the program.

The Tiger Players report next Sunday for workouts.

Club Tennis Tourney Set

Plans are now being made for the Annual Booneville Country Club Member Tennis Tourney scheduled for August 25-28 for club members only.

This marks the third tennis event this year at the local club. A member-guest event started the summer off followed by an invitation tennis event and the summer season concludes with this club event.

The tournament, scheduled Monday through Thursday, will be an afternoon event with matches starting at 5 p.m. in the afternoon till late at night.

A number of categories will be held including mens open singles, boys 18 singles, boys 14 singles, mens open doubles, womens open singles, girls 18 singles, girls 14 singles, womens open doubles, and mixed doubles.

Entry fee has been set at $5.00 per person per event and applicants will be allowed only three events each.

Bill White has been named tournament chairman and his committee members are Richard Coggin, Garry Lindsey, Tommy Comer, Ray Cozort, Bubba Lott, and Tommy Comer.

Entry forms, which must be received by 5 p.m. Aug. 23, may be obtained from the pro shop or by any committee member.

Brackets, when drawn, will be posted on the glass door by the pool at the clubhouse by 5 p.m. Aug. 24th.

The member tournament will be a best of three sets with the nine point tie breaker governing sets reaching a tie at 6 games all.

A spokesman for the tournament said they were expecting an even larger group of performers this year due to the recent interest shown in the past two tournaments this summer.

Coon Trophy Hunt Held

The N.E.M. Coon Hunters Association held a five trophy hunt last Friday night, August 8.

The winners were as follows: Larry Rhodes won first place with his walker dog with 325 points; Ricky Taylor second place with his red-bone dog with 162 points; third place was Spider Newman with his blue tick dog with 125 points; fourth place was Jeff Hastings with his blue tick dog with 120 points; fifth place was Danny Aldridge with his blue tick dog with 75 points.

There were three cast with ten dogs hunted. There will be a special hunt Friday night, August 15, for a .22 caliber automatic rifle. All hunters are invited.

Corinth Golf Tourney Set

The Second Annual Corinth Two Man Scramble has officially been set for August 23-24th at the Hillandale Country Club.

Country Club pro Billy Wayne Mills said he was looking for a large turnout for this year's scramble and added that he hoped several players from the Booneville area would turn out for this affair.

The Tournament, which will be for Hillandale members and their guest, will tee off at 10 a.m. both days of the event.

Entry fee will be $60 per team and there will be prizes awarded for first and second place finishes in each flight.

Deadline for entries is 6 p.m. Aug. 22 and application forms may be picked up at the Booneville Country Club and additional information may be obtained from Billy Wayne Mills at the Hillandale Country Club at 728-8020.

Conservation Contest

Breedlove Wins Awards

Ronnie Breedlove, Route 7, Booneville, has been named both county and area winner in the 1980 Mississippi Cropland Conservation Award Contest. He received the $100 first place award in each category.

The Mississippi Cropland Conservation Award Program is sponsored locally by the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District. Area and state-wide sponsorship is provided by the Midland Manufacturing Company and the Mississippi Association of Conservation Districts Inc. The contest is open to any bona fide farmer in Mississippi and all cropland owned by the farmer must be included in the judging.

Criteria for selecting winners includes factors such as being an active SCD cooperator, having a conservation plan on all cropland that is being carried out, and the extent of various conservation practices that have been planned and are being applied on the farm.

Breedlove is an active SCD cooperator with a conservation plan for his cropland. During 1979-80, he has applied contour farming to 74 acres, minimum tillage to 151 acres, and managed crop residues on 147 acres.

He has constructed 5,979 feet of terraces and laid 1396 feet of underground pipe outlets for the terraces. He has maintained 13,100 feet of drainage mains and laterals.

Ralph G. (Buddy) Smith, chairman of the Prentiss County SWCD's Cropland Committee, presented the county award to Breedlove at the district commissioner's monthly meeting on Aug. 4.

To Attract Industry

State Needs Skilled Labor

STARKVILLE—Mississippi must increase access to vocational education opportunities to compete with neighboring states in attracting industry Governor William Winter said last week.

Winter, speaking to the second annual Mississippi Vocational Education Conference said industries considering locating plants in the state are concerned about the skills of the state labor force.

"We are confronted with an economic situation which demands the highest level of skill of everyone in the work force," Winter told participants in the conference.

"The availability of the skilled labor and training facilities is where we will be competitive," he said.

Winter said Mississippi must have "facilities that will enable our workers to be trained as well as workers in any area of the country."

"I am committed to use all the resources within the governor's office to see that we maintain and improve a vocational-education program that will enable our workers to compete with those anywhere."

Low Cost Loan Requests Needed Now

Mississippi home buyers interested in a low cost 30-year first mortgage loan from the Mississippi Housing Finance Corporation should immediately contact a savings and loan, a bank, a mortgage lender, or other financial institutions in their community to discuss their loan qualifications.

Lending institutions are required to notify the MHFC by Aug. 18 as to the amount of loans they anticipate making from the $150 million revenue bond issue.

Robert Kennington, chairman of the State Housing Finance Agency said, "The various mortgage lenders around the state need to have some idea of the public interest and demand for this type of loan so that they can gauge their commitment of funds from the corporation. While formal applications for the loans are not being taken now, those persons interested in applying should give their local lending institution some notice of anticipated need."

Eligible borrowers can qualify if their adjusted gross income does not exceed $30,000 and the loan amount does not exceed $60,000. Additionally, borrowers must have adequate credit qualifications.

Each county in the state will be allocated an amount of funds for its residents to borrow. If no qualified lender exists in a county, a corresponding lending institution in another county may service the affected citizens.

The sale of the mortgage revenue bonds is scheduled to be completed by Sept. 15 and the funds should be available to the mortgage lending institutions by late October 1980.

Truck Burns

Vegetable Oil

"Can you burn vegetable oils in your diesel?" is one of hundreds of questions fuel-conscious truck and car owners are asking these days.

Vernon Miller, an editor of "Progressive Farmer" magazine, is working on the problem, and now has 9,000 miles on a 1980 diesel pick-up using 20 percent soybean oil and 80 percent No. 2 diesel fuel.

The pick-up is averaging 17.5 miles per gallon using the soybean oil-diesel mixture. Fuel cost has averaged just under 8.5 cents per mile.

"Progressive Farmer's" vegetable oil burning truck will be on display at the Mid-South Farm Machinery Show in Memphis, August 22-24.

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN

Premature Flowers, Pods

Soybeans stunted by dry weather have brought reports from some farmers that these small plants are flowering "prematurely."

Our soybean agronomist Dr. Wayne Jordan tells us this flowering is not premature. "Rather, it is flowering as a normal response to day length," Dr. Jordan said. "Even though a soybean may be small, it can be brought into bloom at about 30 to 40 days of age when days are shorter than 14 and one-half hours."

He says soybeans planted in late June or early July are ready to bloom even though they may have been stunted by the dry, hot weather.

Dr. Jordan reminds us that, in cases where the plants have not set pods, there often will be some additional vegetative growth after a rain.

"It has been an unusual year with several different kinds of stress ranging from cold to hot and dry to wet," Dr. Jordan said. "In years like this, we expect the soybean plant to respond somewhat abnormally."

We want our producers to recognize that we still have time yet to set and fill pods.

There are three sets of flower buds in each leaf axil and, when the first fall, there are two backups.

Pondering Forages

Hot, dry weather has dominated our cattle scene this year and reduced pasture growth and stored feed supplies for many cattlemen.

Forage specialist Dr. Lamar Kimbrough says that if these hot, dry conditions continue, many of our producers will be asking what steps they should take once rain comes.

He's talking about steps in possibly three directions, including summer perennial grasses, fall seeding preparation and forage legumes.

Looking at summer perennial grasses first, Dr. Kimbrough says some grasses such as common Bermudagrass, dallisgrass, bahiagrass and the hybrid Bermudagrass recover rapidly following dry weather if we've done a good job with soil fertility.

"Even though some of these grasses may remain in pastures at low levels of fertility, good plant growth and animal performance will demand commercial fertilizer," Dr. Kimbrough said.

"If phosphate and potash have been applied previously, 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre may produce needed forage for late summer pasture or hay."

Dr. Kimbrough also advises us to prepare for fall seedings now. He said the potential for summer forage shortages may mean cattlemen will need increasing amounts of winter annuals for grazing. In our area these will include such winter annuals as ryegrass, small grains or the annual legumes.

"Plan for these crops now," Dr. Kimbrough said. "Contacts for fertilizer and seed should be made to give dealers the time to have these available at planting."

Apply lime now, since equipment is more available, and applying lime now will give it time to react before seeding. Dr. Kimbrough tells us this is especially important where forage legumes are to be seeded.

Farmers Advised Not To Destroy Evidence Of Crop Damage

Disaster program eligibility for cotton, rice, feed grains, or wheat is dependent on evidence of crop damage.

Farmers who believe they may be eligible or may later become eligible for disaster payments for cotton, rice, wheat, corn, and grain sorghum crops should notify the Prentiss County ASCS Office of intentions to destroy the acreage before actual destruction takes place.

If a farmer believes that the natural disaster has caused a substantial loss to his/her program crops and chooses not to carry a portion of these crops through harvest, he/she should notify the county loss. The disaster program for cotton, rice, wheat and feed grains is authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977.

Any farmer of Prentiss County having questions about farm programs should contact the Prentiss County ASCS Office.

An ASCS farm visit will be made to determine crop

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

'Fable Of A Fall'

Dedicated To All That Fall Before They Think . . .

By C. D. Edge

In a certain pond on a farm were two ducks and a frog. Now these neighbors were the best of friends, and all day long they used to play together. But as the hot days came, the pond began to dry up and soon there was such a little bit of water that they all realized that they would have to move. Now the ducks could easily fly to another place, but what about their friend the frog?

Finally it was decided that they would put a stick in the bill of each duck, and then the frog would hang on to the stick with his mouth and they would fly him to another pond. And so they did.

As they were flying, a farmer out in his field looked up and saw them and said, "Well, isn't that a clever idea! I wonder who thought of it."

The frog said, "I did."
