PARADISE—The partially hidden sign of the now defunct Paradise Mobile Homes proved prophetic to many area youngsters (and young at heart) last week when the carnival came to town. To many whirling around on the numerous rides, playing the games, and eating the various carnival concoctions seemed like paradise. The carnival, which was located adjacent to Highway 45, is sponsored each year by the Booneville Jaycees as one of their fund raising projects. (Photo by Ken Christian.)

Local Judge Assaulted Monday At City Grocery

Two men assaulted Justice Court Judge Leon Lauderdale in his grocery store in Booneville Monday in an apparent attempt to influence his ruling in a case scheduled to come before him in court Saturday morning.

Lauderdale said he has several cases scheduled for Saturday but the men did not name a specific case. He said they told him, "You will know."

The First District judge said he was alone in the store when the two men entered. One of the men attacked him while the other stood with his hand inside his shirt as if he might have a gun, Lauderdale said.

Although the judge was not seriously injured, he received numerous scrapes and scratches over his hands, arms, back and face from what he thought might have been an "Afro pic or comb." He said he also received a "karate chop" to his right shoulder and injured his right leg, apparently when he fell to the floor.

Lauderdale was not hospitalized, but was in some pain Tuesday.

The judge described the two men as being white, one a little over six feet tall and stocky and the other not as tall. Both men had beards he said. A green car of unknown make was seen parked behind the store at the approximate time of the beating, he said.

Lauderdale said that sometime after the assault the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department received an anonymous phone call from Wisconsin asking if the judge "has been taken care of yet."

No arrests have been made in connection with the attack, but an investigation is underway by the sheriff's department and the Booneville Police Department. It was reported that a sizable reward may be offered for information in the case.

For City Schools

Registration Begins Monday

Registration for students attending Booneville city schools will be held next Monday and Tuesday, with full day classes beginning Wednesday.

A child must be six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1980, in order to enter school for the first time this year. A certified birth certificiate is required before the child can be enrolled.

Registration for first graders will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. Monday at Booneville Elementary School. During those same hours, the fourth grade will register at the Boonevillle Middle School; the eighth grade at Anderson Junior High School; and the 11th and 12th grades at Booneville High School.

During the same hours on Tuesday, the second and third grades will register at the elementary school; the fifth and sixth grades at the middle school; the seventh grade at the junior high school; and the ninth and 10th grades at the high school.

For those students transfering into the separate school district, the $100 tuition fee is to be paid at the time of registration on Monday or Tuesday. Those wishing to pay the tuition in installments must make the first payment at the time of registration.

All students in grades 1-12 will be required to have on file an immunization certificate of compliance. Only first graders, seniors and students transfering from out of state will be required to present the blue certificate at registration. These forms may be obtained from the Prentiss County Health Department or from a private physician.

At Rotary Meeting

Outlook Said Good For City School System

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

"We think we will have one of the best systems in the state," Dr. William Preston told the Booneville Rotary Club Tuesday of the new Booneville Municipal Separate School District. "Our goal is to compete with the top 10 schools in the state within 10 years--probably sooner."

Booneville city schools' superintendent Troy Henderson, the principals of the city schools, the coaches and the band director met with the Rotary Club Tuesday to give an outlook for the separate school district's 1980-81 term. City schools begin registration Monday and classes start Wednesday.

Dr. Preston, chairman of the separate school district's board of trustees, introduced Supt. Henderson after giving a brief history of the events that led to the establishment of the separate school district.

In introducing Henderson, Preston said, "He came to Booneville knowing full well what the situation was." When the board of trustees hired Henderson, "we were delighted at the time, and have been even more delighted since," Preston said.

Henderson introduced the principals from three of the city's public schools. A principal for Booneville High School has not yet been hired, he said.

Lee Stewart, who has been named new principal at the elementary school, praised the work of the parents and teachers in getting the school ready for the new term. "The faculty has been tremendous, working most nights until after midnight," he said.

David Bolen, who will remain principal at the middle school, said, "We've always felt we had a good school. We're shooting for an excellent school."

County Officers Recover More Stolen Property

Another stolen riding lawn mower has been recovered by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department.

Chief Deputy Joe Shackelford said he was coming to Booneville from Baldwyn on Highway 45 when he got behind a van pulling a trailer containing a John Deere mower. He said there was no tag on the trailer, so he stopped the vehicle on a traffic violation.

A subsequent check revealed the mower had been stolen in Monroe County from around Amory. The driver signed a consent to search, the deputy said, and the officers found beer in the van.

Clinton D. Shelby, 24, of Route 2, Shannon, was charged in Prentiss County with possession of beer and no tag on the trailer. His wife, Faye C. Shelby, 42, was a passenger in the van. She was not charged.

Since the mower was stolen in Monroe County, "we couldn't charge them with it in Prentiss County,"

Alcorn Asks For New Ruling

Officials from the Alcorn County School System were to meet with the executive committee of the Mississippi High School Activities Association yesterday morning (Wednesday) seeking to overturn a Jan. 14 ruling on the eligibility of students in an area newly annexed to the Corinth Municipal Separate School District.

The hearing was requested in the wake of a recent ruling by the association allowing out-of-district students to participate in sports and other extracurricular activities at Booneville High School through the remainder of their high school careers.

Alcorn County School Superintendent Tony Parker said last week that the request for the special hearing is being made on behalf of 14 athletes in grades eight through 12. The homes of these athletes are included in a recent annexation to the Corinth school system, making them ineligible for interscholastic activities if they attend school at county schools as they have in the past.

"We are making this appeal to the activities association on behalf of our youngsters who have had a great injustice done to them," Parker said last week. "We feel this tears down the American system of equal treatment for all."

A ruling by the activities association on Jan. 14 disqualified students in the

County Towns Receive Radio Grants

The mayors of three Prentiss County municipalities were notified last week that grants totaling $5,984 had been approved by the Criminal Justice Planning Commission in Jackson.

The grants, consisting of federal and state matching funds, will be used to purchase mobile radio units for the town's police vehicles.

Baldwyn and Jumpertown each received $1,496 for one radio. Booneville's grant was for $2,992 and will be used to purchase two radios. Local matching funds of $374 are required for each unit.

These funds are in addition to a grant of $2,992 announced earlier by the commission to purchase two mobile radios for the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department.

HOME DESTROYED—The E.E. Salts home, 202 Cherokee Road, was destroyed by fire shortly before noon Saturday. Although not confirmed, the fire was thought to have started from an electrical short, possibly around the water heater. After quenching the blaze Saturday, the Booneville Fire Department was called back to the house about 3:50 a.m. when the remains blazed up again, apparently from smoldering embers. Fire Chief Frank Fleming said the house was already on the ground when the fire department arrived the second time. The house was a total loss even after the first blaze.

Yellow Creek Construction To Go 'Full Speed Ahead'

TVA plans to "go full speed ahead" with the construction of the massiive Yellow Creek Nuclear power facility, S. David Freeman, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority board, told a joint meeting of about 230 Corinth Kiwanis, Rotary and Civitan club members last week.

Freeman said the decision to go ahead with the power plant was made "solidly and unanimously" after full consideration of the future power needs of this region.

"We need this power on the western end of our system because we are betting on a prosperous future for this valley," the TVA chairman said. "If TVA ever turned its back on economic growth and prosperity in this region, it would be a sad day indeed."

Freeman's speech came only about a week after TVA announced that the Yellow Creek Nuclear Power Plant project would not be postponed as had been previously speculated. The reason cited earlier for the possible postponement was that the area's power demands were not increasing at the rate anticipated.

Freeman told the gathered businessmen and a small group of anti-nuclear proponents who were also present that TVA brought the nuclear option into their array of energy "in the interest of economy and in the interest of an adequate power supply."

He stressed that the Yellow Creek plant will "firm up" the reliability of the overall TVA system and, when combined with the other six nuclear facilities

The TVA official admitted being frightened by nuclear energy, but he added the fear is an advantage to the utility.

"Nuclear power is inherently dangerous," he said. "We knew we were dealing with something very dangerous when we started. The issue is whether it can be managed by responsible, competent operations in a manner where the risks are reduced to a point where they are acceptable."

"We do believe TVA can keep these risks to a low level," he said. "The alternative is to just give up-to say we just can't handle it and shut down this high energy civilization. I don't believe that."

annexed areas of Corinth from county sports participation. A ruling by the association on Aug. 14 allowed Prentiss County students to participate at Booneville High School, if they had been attending the school prior to the establishment of the separate school district.

A letter to the activities association from Wendal Trapp, attorney for the county school board, cites the similarities in the two cases.

"In both cases the affected students have not changed their residence," the letter states. "In both cases geographical boundaries around the affected students have changed and the affected students have found themselves within a new school district although they have previously participated in athletics in another school district."

Trapp said, "affected students (in Prentiss County) have been allowed to continue to participate at their 'old' school district even though they no longer reside in the 'old' school district. In Alcorn County, the affected students are not allowed to continue to participate at the 'old' school."

The county school's attorney said "there exists no rational and logical basis for the disparate treatment which has resulted in application of the MHSAA regulations in Prentiss County and Alcorn County."

The outcome of the meeting between the Alcorn officials and the MHSAA was not known at presstime Wednesday.

Deputy Shackelford And Stolen Mower

County Officers

Shackelford said. "No law was violated concerning the mower in Prentiss County."

The deputy said Monroe authorities were notified and he said that, if requested, he would go to Monroe County to testify, "if they choose to pursue the matter."

The mower was seized by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department and returned to its rightful owner, Shackelford said.

A Model 5000 Ford tractor stolen from a construction sight on Highway 364 near Altitude was also recovered last week north of Ripley in Tippah County.

Assisting Prentiss County officers with the investigation were state investigators Charlie Goforth and David Huggins; Carl Sartin, investigator for the Booneville Police Department; and the Tippah County Sheriff's Department.

Larry Gene Lambert, 27, of Route 6, Booneville, was charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft. he is currently out on $10,000 bond on the charge.

Correction

In a photo which appeared on the front page of last week's paper, the young lady feeding ice to a pet duck at the pet show was incorrectly identified as Lori Smart.

Although the duck belonged to Lori, it was Lara Mansell shown feeding the ice to the duck.

For City Schools

Free, Reduced Meal Scales Given

The Booneville Municipal Separate School has announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk Programs. Local school officials have adopted the following family size income criteria for determining eligbility:

SCALE FOR FREE MEALS

Family Size	INCOME Yearly	Monthly	Weekly
1	$5,230	$436	$101
2	$6,900	$575	$133
3	$8,580	$715	$165
4	$10,250	$854	$197
5	$11,930	$994	$229
6	$13,600	$1,133	$262
7	$15,280	$1,273	$294
8	$16,950	$1,413	$326
For each additional family member, add	$1,680	$140	$32

SCALE FOR REDUCED PRICE MEALS

Family Size	INCOME Yearly	Monthly	Weekly
1	$8,150	$679	$157
2	$10,760	$897	$207
3	$13,380	$1,115	$257
4	$15,990	$1,333	$308
5	$18,600	$1,550	$358
6	$21,220	$1,768	$408
7	$23,830	$1,986	$458
8	$26,440	$2,203	$508
For each additional family member, add	$2,610	$218	$50

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting these criteria, but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty loses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for a signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of Federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable State and Federal criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, it should contact the school.

Under the provisions for the policy principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis.

If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Troy Henderson, Superintendent, P.O. Box 387, Booneville, MS 38829, or phone 728-6863 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline fo the hearing procedure.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the families eligible for reduced price meals or for additional benefits such as free meals if the family income fall at or below the levels shown above.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, or national origin. Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

School Bonds Purchased By Baldwyn Bank

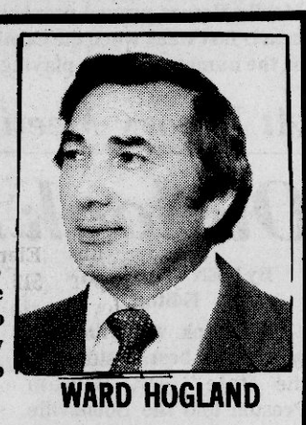

BALDWYN—Baldwyn State Bank has submitted the lowest bid to the Baldwyn Municipal Separate School District for $397,000 in bonds for construction and renovation of the Baldwyn Public Schools.

The total cost of the project will be $592,000. Baldwyn Schools will receive $195,608 from the Educational Finance Commission to supplement the $397,000 bonds purchased by Baldwyn State Bank.

Part of the money – $410,600–will be used for new construction at the elementary and high schools. Building repairs at the high school and the old elementary building total 91,400, with architects fees, attorney fees and furnishings estimated at 90,000.

The Baldwyn bank bid 7.8738 percent. The other bidder, First Tennessee Bank of Memphis, bid 7.9058 percent for the bonds.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

WARD HOGLAND

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I don't understand the Sabbath. Some say we are to keep it today and others say we are not commanded to do so, could you help?

ANSWER: The sabbath is first mentioned in Exo. 16, in connection with the giving of manna. Some will argue that it was given as a command in Gen. 2:1-3. This text tells us that God rested on the seventh day and at some later date he sanctified and blessed it "Because that in it, he HAD rested from all his work." It must be observed that past tense is used which means he could not have rested and sanctified the sabbath at the same time. The sabbath was commanded in Exo. 20. after the Israelites had been delivered from bondage Deut. 5:15. The fact that Moses had to ask God how to punish one for picking up sticks on the sabbath shows that the Jews were not accustomed to keeping the sabbath Num. 15:32-36. Had the Israelites been keeping the Sabbath as some teach, they would have known how to punish a man who violated it. Col. 2:14 teaches us that the Law of Moses has been nailed to the cross. We are to keep the first day of the week. Acts 20:7, 1 Cor. 16:1,2. We are now under the Last Will and Testament of Jesus Christ. The old Law, including the Sabbath has been nailed to the cross.

Help For Deaf TTY Users

A new toll-free number (1-800-855-1155) to help deaf persons with their long distance calling is now in effect according to South Central Bell manager Bob Bartley.

Four operator service centers for deaf customers who communicate by using teletypewriters (TTY) or the newer telecommunication device for the deaf (TDD) are now operating. If deaf persons dial the special number, trained attendants can assist the caller 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"This service is for the many hearing and speech impaired persons who use teletypewriters and other keyboard devices to communicate over the telephone," Bartley said.

"Previously, many deaf callers had to seek assistance from a third party to interface with the long distance operator. Now, they can complete the call themselves."

The toll-free number also will provide directory assistance service as well as helping callers complete person-to-person, collect, credit card and third-number billed calls.

There are at least 50,000 persons with portable TDD"s and the new service will benefit them in making calls from hotel and motel rooms and from public coin telephones," Bartley said.

"Addressing the telecommunications needs of disabled customers is a tradition for telephone people that began with the personal concern of the inventor of the telephone. Alexander Graham Bell stated that he would prefer to be remembered as a teacher of the deaf," Bartley said.

Men's Quarters

At Extension Building

Extension Program Tuesday

The Extension Program meeting next Tuesday, Aug. 26, will be presented by Mrs. Jeanine Martin, Extension Home Economist from Alcorn County with her program on the Well-Seasoned Cuisine.

The program will begin promptly at 2 p.m. in the Extension building on East Church Street. Though this program was planned for Extension club members, the general public is cordially invited to hear Mrs. Martin, according to Claire T. Ross, local Home Economist.

Mrs. Ross adds that you need not be afraid to experiment. While some herbs and spices seem traditionally to go with certain foods, there's no "right" herb or spice for any food. It's right if you like it. When trying a new herb, crush some in the palm of your hand, let it warm there for a few moments, then sniff and taste it. You can get a fairly good idea of what it'll taste like when used in cooking.

While there are no rules, there are a few general hints for using herbs and spices that Mrs. Martin will bring the group.

Northeast Jr. College

Receives Art Grant

The Mississippi Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts have provided program assistance in the amount of $300 to the Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

The funds are granted on a 50-50 matching basis for support and encouragement in the initiation of projects which increase the availability and quality of arts education in Mississippi.

The funds granted to Northeast were to be used by the Department of Speech in coordinating "A Children's Playhouse" in which children write and produce puppet shows and plays.

Water, Sewer Program

Receives Funding

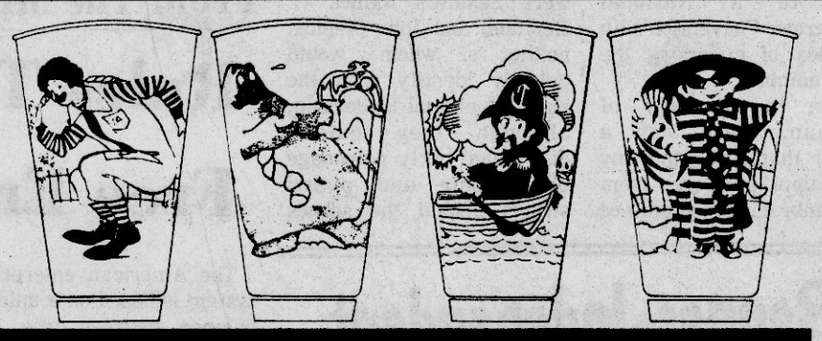

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Jamie Whitten said last week that the appropriations for rural water and sewer loans and grants for the next fiscal year, beginning October 1, provides for 30 percent of the $200,000,000 to be spent for "expansion of existing water systems"--which means enlargement of facilities as well as geographic expansion.

Congressman Whitten, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said, "As we make every effort to balance the budget, we must not neglect the development of our own country and service to its people."

"With increasingly strict standards for drinking water and increasing demand from a growing population on existing systems, enlargement is a must," Whitten added.

"I think our water program is probably the greatest thing that has happened since rural electricity, funds for which our Committee also provided. There, too, we had to insist on area coverage," he said.

Letter To The Editor

'Moses Striking The Rock'

Dear Editor,

I have just listened to the "Today Show" on television –the "evaluation of Kennedy and Carter speeches." I would like to express my views.

There are those who enjoy a speech that does not sound like a preacher on revival night.

My wise, old grandfather minister who is deceased (W.O. Miller of Wheeler) once told me to avoid too much drama when speaking or giving your convictions because it was a "spoiler of the truth." He went on to say that it failed to convey the real message as it would be akiin to an actor reading his lines in a play and practicing in front of a mirror, interested only in his own selfish reflection as opposed to saying something real to a hungry people, who craved to see his need met. And, if a speech is to find a lodging place in the hearts of people, it has to have weight, not a "show" that is for entertainment only.

Yes, I feel I can be objective because part of our family will vote the Republican way. I see the Kennedy speech for what it really was--"a Moses striking the rock." It will accomplish nothing when the fire has gone out and nothing is left but the cold ashes. People are not that gullible.

Thank you,
Eloise Webb

P.S. –Besides, I always thought it was Jimmy Carter who is the Sunday School teacher.

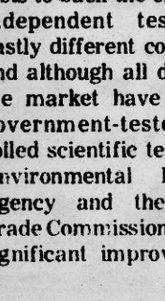

Senate Report

By Bill May

S.B. No. 2426: This bill amends the parole statute to permit the parole of persons convicted of the offense of robbery through the display of a firearm. Under present law, those convicted of this offense are not eligible for parole.

This bill permits eligibility for parole after ten years if an offender is sentenced to a term or terms of more than ten years or to a term of life imprisonment; however, those who are sentenced to a term or terms of ten years or less are still not eligible for parole.

S.B. No. 2624: This bill extends the authorization for the confinement in the county jail of offenders placed in the custody of the Department of Corrections if space is not available at the facilities of the department. This authorization will stand repealed on March 1, 1981.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General

Energy Saving Devices Cause Problems

"Reasonable people become naive when the thoughts of huge profits or savings beckon," Attorney General Bill Allain said recently in a warning to consumers interested in gas or energy saving devices.

During the past several years, numerous energy saving products and devices have been introduced and Allain warns Mississippians of serious problems or money losses in connection with such "investments." Promotions for many products claim improved engine performance, increased fuel economy, reduction of emissions and lower total vehicle operating costs.

According to Allain, promoters cite their own tests to back the claims, but independent tests show vastly different conclusions, and although all devices on the market have not been government-tested, controlled scientific tests by the Environmental Protection Agency and the Federal Trade Commission reveal no significant improvement in performance or fuel economy for cars on which they were installed.

Neither the EPA nor the government generally has endorsed any of these devices, and consumers should be wary if claims are made that a device is EPA or government approved.

Consumers should look for a reference in the ad to dynamometer testing of the device according to EPA procedures, which is the critical test. If claims are linked to user testimonials or not specifically linked to anything, the device should be viewed with caution. Consumers should be aware that just because these devices are patented does not mean they have been tested scientifically or that they actually improve mileage or performance.

"Warranties and guarantees on these devices (new engines, new motors, etc.) are not worth the paper they are written on if a company goes bankrupt or out-of-business. These devices are many times the promotions of con artists who have captured the attention of the consumer during [illegible] economic times," Allain said.

Many ads on such devices are in the business opportunity and sports sections of the local newspapers, and in examining advertising claims, consumers should be wary of: (1) claims that are not substantiated, (2) products that claim endorsement or approval by EPA, California Air Resource Board, or any other government agency (such agencies do not endorse or give their approval to any particular product) (3) Consumer testimonials-the variable are many which make the results many times questionable.

Consumers should know that the most common devices on the market include air-bleed devices, vapor injectors or vapor air bleeds, gasoline and oil additives, and electronic engines designed to replace the conventional fuel powered engine.

Anyone thinking seriously about investing in such devices should first make a thorough investigation of the promoters and the devices they are promoting. The investment of a little time may save the investor a lot of money.

The Easy Way Out?

An incident happended last week in Union County which brings up an important issue in small community journalism.

The incident–concerning the county newspaper, the New Albany Gazette, and officials of the Union County Fair--developed as the result of a photo taken Wednesday night, Aug. 6, of a "bump dice" game at one of the booths on the midway.

The photo showed a group of young men crowded around the table. According to an editorial in last Thursday's Gazette, "The intense looks on the faces of those crowded around the table with dollar bills in hand made it a very good news photo."

Friday when Gazette news editor Hank Wiesner, who had taken the photo, called fair board president Johnny Davis for information to use in a caption for the picture, Davis asked him not to run the picture. Davis reportedly argued that not only would the picture create a poor image of the fair, but fair officials had already received complaints about the booth and that running the photo would cause more trouble.

Wiesner--who, incidently, is a former editor of the Banner-Independent --said it was not his decision to make and referred the fair official to Gazette managing editor Mike Anders who said the photo would run. Anders said the photo was not intended to give the readers the impression that such games are the fair's only attraction and that numerous other photos from the fair would also be in the paper.

The fair official also reportedly told Gazette publisher Harold Odom that if the photo ran, the fair board would cancel any advertisements it had scheduled to run in the newspaper and that the newspaper should not send any photograpers to the fair.

Friday morning when a Gazette photographer arrived at the fair, he was not permitted–reportedly at Davis' instruction–to take pictures of the swine show winners, women's division winners and some 4-H division winners. He was also told not to come back to the fair.

In succeeding developments, publisher Odom was asked not only by fair officials, but also by members of the county supervisors not to run the photo. However, in a meeting Friday afternoon with fair officials and three of the county supervisors, Odom was assured by supervisor president Sam Blakely that the Gazette would be allowed to take pictures and would be given a list of winners, even after the publisher said the bump dice game photo would run.

The Gazette was allowed to take photographs at the fair Saturday, including the staging of many of those photos they missed Friday. The controversal bump dice photo did appear in the weekend edition of the Gazette.

The question that arises from this incident is should or should not the Gazette have taken the easy way out and agreed not to run the photo?

While it is true that the photo was a very good news photo, it was no world stopper–Union county could have survived without seeing it. But, that is not the issue here.

The real question is should public officials and advertisers be allowed to tell the newspaper--any newspaper--what is news and what is not–what they can run and what they cannot. According to the Constitution, they cannot legally do so.

And the Gazette did not allow them to do so in this case. According to an editoral in the Gazette, "This newspaper will not be bribed or bullied into making editorial decisions which go against the judgment of those running the Gazette. Neither advertisers nor persons in positions of power will dictate what to put into the newspaper, what to leave out or how to treat certain subjects."

This same type of incident has occurred here at the Banner-Independent on more than one occasion–however, thankfully not so dramatically.

For example, we have had two local businesses cancel their advertisements on our church page because we refused to discontinue our Speaking Out column.

All of this is not meant to put newspapers in general–or the Banner-Independent in particular-on a pedestal. All newspapers make mistakes--both editorally and factually. Most have staffs that are too small and overworked, making mistakes come easier. But, if a newspaper is to keep any credibility at all, it must make editorial decisions based on what the staff believes is right--not on what advertisers, politicians or others want them to do.

Also, this does not mean that newspapers--the Banner-Independent in particular–should not take advice from advertisers, politicians or anyone else. But, that advice should be weighed and judged on its merits, not on its source.

The New Albany Gazette is to be commended for their decision. They didn't take the easy way out, they did what they felt was right.

Eyes On Mississippi

State Democrats Back In Fold

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—The other night at Madison Square Garden when President Carter took the cheers of the Democratic National Convention after accepting its renomination, slender-faced, bespectacled Gov. William Winter of Mississippi was one of those near his side on the podium.

Perhaps it didn't mean much to millions watching on television when Mississippi's Winter exchanged handshakes and pats on the back with Carter on the podium and instinctively Winter raised his arm and waved to the hall chockeful of Democrats.

But to the Mississippians in the convention arena and those at home in Mississippi who witnessed it on TV, the moment held historical significance, whether or not they realized it.

No Mississippi Democratie state official, certainly not since the advent of television coverage of the national party conventions, has stood or been asked to stand, with the party's presidential nominee at the podium. The main reason being that no Mississippi governor since J.P. Coleman in 1956 has been to a National Democratic Convention with the idea of endorsing the party nominee.

Even in the day of Coleman, there was a barrier that separated any Mississippi politician from fully embracing the nominee or the nominee embracing the Mississippian in full view of the rest of the country. It was called civil rights–the issue over which the Democratic Party almost severed itself as it had done in the 1860's.

Now there are no walk outs by the Mississippi delegation in the national convention over civil rights, or a threatened walk out, or any issue raised over a civil rights plank in the Democratic Party platform. That issue is settled, Mississippi and the South lost, and the point of view of the rest of the country prevailed.

What the presence of Winter on the platform with Jimmy Carter the other night, and Winter's invitation to address the convention a little earlier, says is that Mississippi Democrats are now finally back into the top councils of the Democratic Party, realistically for the first time since the middle 1940's when Sen. Pat Harrison was close to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Since that time, no Democratic public official from Mississippi has risen to a leadership role in the National Party. The two top elected Democrats from Mississippi in all those years were Senators James O. Eastland and John Stennis, neither of whom would publicly identify with the party's national leadership, although they quietly distributed party patronage back home and pulled strings behind the scenes using high Democratic connections.

Because Eastland and Stennis renounced any responsibility for keeping a viable National Democratic Party base in Mississippi during the latter 1950's, through the '60s and much of the '70s, the state became an ugly step-child of the Democratic Party. Such spokespersons as Aaron Henry, Hodding Carter III and Patt Derian who emerged in those years lacked any broad constituency.

Bill Waller in 1972 broke the ice for bringing the state party machinery back into the fold of the national party by declaring himself a National Democrat and trying, unsuccessfully, to effect a merger of the two racially oriented wings of the state party. What Waller did, however, paved the way for the merger in 1976 with the aid of Cliff Finch. Finch, however, never achieved recognition as a serious leader of the party in Mississippi and his reluctance to endorse Jimmy Carter in 1976 cost him having any influential role in the national party.

Winter has come, therefore, into a strategic spot as both the Democratic governor from Mississippi to put the state party solidly back into the national party ranks, but also a muchly appreciated figure by the Carter forces for holding 32 delegate votes consistently on the side of the president in the National Democratic Convention.

Political tradition in Mississippi has held that an incumbent governor is a decisive factor in determining who will get the state's electoral votes, if he takes a strong stand in a presidential race. That was true in 1952 and 1956, when Mississippi incredibly gave its votes to Adlai Stevenson, again in 1960 with Ross Barnett and his unpledgeds, then in 1968 with John Bell Williams backing George Wallace. Cliff Finch was hardly a major force in 1976, but Jimmy Carter did carry the state, with Finch's mild support.

Now in 1980, William Winter, who has inherited a Democratic Party beset with years of defections and fragmented leadership, must test anew the tradition that the state will go with its governor in a presidential race.

From The MEC:

Rules To Preserve Free Enterprise

The American enterprise system is based on a unique balance between free enterprise and the central national government.

While free enterprise has provided the freedom and quality of life that Americans enjoy, the central national government also has a role in the marketplace that must be understood and appreciated by the American public.

Economic freedom is the opposite of a government-planned or -operated economy. It is the opposite of government--controlled labor markets and nationalized industries. It is the opposite of unnecessary or unreasonable government controls, rules, or regulations which place unrealistic restrictions on business.

Yet, government plays a vital role in our economic system. Government provides the necessary framework for operation of the system. Without certain basic governmental institutions and practices, our system of production and exchange would not operate.

The president of a large southern corporation recently encouraged American businessmen to:

--Make a commitment to work for the preservation of the free enterprise system;

--Review business policies and actions concerning the free enterprise system;

--Take a public stand at every opportunity to speak in support of the free enterprise system;

--Promote teaching the

Speaking Out

Going To The Dogs

"I'm calling in reference to the dogs running loose in Booneville. I wonder what has happened to our city dog catcher. We have dogs running loose all over our town which are dangerous to our safety. They tear up our lawns, our gardens, carry off our possessions and when they gang up and have a party, they are dangerous to the people who walk or jog or run. What do dog catchers do if not catch dogs? The city has some responsibility in this matter. Thank you."

Likes Ann Landers

"I would like to make a suggestion to the Banner-Independent. I think you should have columns like Ann Landers and have pro football scores in there. Thank you and goodbye."

Editor's Note: Sorry, but since we only print one paper per week, we often don't have room to get all the local news in as it is. If we ran columns like Ann Landers, that would give us even less room for local stories. As for pro football, if we covered those games we would have less space for our own local teams, both football and basketball. Both Ann Landers' column and pro football results appear in several daily newspapers distributed in the area, but no daily gives heavy coverage of Prentiss County sports and news.

Thanks

"I would like to use this method to say thanks to Don Fair, manager of the Chevron Service Center in Booneville, for allowing the youth in our church to have a carwash at his station. He was so courteous and helpful and we really appreciate both he and Chevron. Thank you."

Good Neighbors

"There are still good neighbors in this town. Me and my husband are old and sick. My neighbors mowed my lawn and took a weed trimmer and trimmed all around my rose bushes. Thanks for my neighbors."

Miss Truelove And Mr. Tatum Exchange Vows

RIPLEY—Miss Edith Truelove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Truelove of Walnut, and William H. Tatum III, son of William H. Tatum II of Ripley and Ms. Carolyne Key Tatum of Booneville, were married Saturday, May 31, at the Ripley Presbyterian Church.

Bro. Reginald V. Parsons of Ripley performed the double-ring ceremony. Wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Margaret Duncan, organist. Danny Tatum, uncle of the groom, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "More."

The bride wore an ivory gown embossed with bridal satin and overlayed with Alencon lace, featuring an empire bodice accented with a satin ribbon. The neckline was overlaid with sheer Alencon lace.

The gown also featured a knife-pleated skirt of matching lace which extended from the waistline. she wore a wide-brimmed hat adorned with lace and pearls. The floor-length veil flowed from a chiffon bow and was centered with a silk ivory rose.

The bride carried a nosegay of roses in pastel colors with pastel satin ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Serving as maid of honor was the groom's cousin, Miss Abby Childers, who wore a formal-length, sleeveless gown of lavender quiana, fashioned with a draping cowl neckline. She carried a nosegay identical to the bride's bouquet.

Joe Tatum, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Jim Warren and Walter Warren of Ripley, Colt Shappley, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Truelove, the bride's mother, wore a brown and beige quiana dress with a matching jacket. Ms. Tatum, the groom's mother, chose a bright rose accordian pleated dress. Both mothers wore yellow daisy corsages.

Mr. And Mrs. William H. Tatum III

Miss Cathy Martindale, of Germantown, Tenn., cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. Serving for the bride at the reception were Ms. Tracey Miles and Miss Abby Childers, both of Ripley, and Miss Cathy Martindale of Germantown, Tenn.

Johnsons Host Dinner Party

Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnson entertained several friends at their home in Wickwood with a dinner party Saturday night, Aug. 16.

Guests were greeted at the front entrance of the home which was flanked with yellow potted chrysanthemums, and then guided to the garden room where a table containing hors d'oeures was placed. The table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a fresh head of cabbage which held chunks of Wisconsin Munster cheese and sharp cheddar cheese, ripe pitted olives, and stuffed Spanish olives, all skewered with colored wooden picks.

Also on the hors d'oeure table were a molded shrimp pate served with triscuit wafers, and a platter of chilled raw vegetables served with ranch dip.

Dinner was served buffet style in the formal dining room. The Queen Ann table was covered with a white linen cloth with a lace edge and centered with a basket of lovely yellow daisies and baby's breath and a pair of silver hurricane lamps holding white tapered candles.

The menu consisted of baked ham, Swedish meatballs, a casserole of chicken, broccoli, rice and cheese, marinated carrots, marinated four bean salad, asparagus and English pea casserole, fruit salad, deviled eggs, a relish tray, angel biscuits served with fig preserves and Mrs. Johnson's homemade pear marmalade, and a fresh garden salad. For dessert there were petite pecan pies, molded sugar mints, and a rich creamy Philippine custard prepared by Mrs. Jose Madara.

Guests dined on the patio where individual tables were arranged. Each table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a colorful arrangement of zinnias from Mrs. Johnson's garden.

Following dinner, Dr. Johnson entertained his guests with several contemporary selections on the piano.

Those attending the dinner party were Dr. and Mrs. "Bill" Jackson of Corinth, Dr. and Mrs. O.L. Hamblin of Calhoun City, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Folse of Jackson, Tenn., Dr. George Waddell of Columbus, Dr. and Mrs. Jose Madara of Booneville, Dr. and Mrs. David Irwin, Dr. and Mrs. Roland ("Butch") Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Staton, all of Tupelo.

The Rev. Lewis Ragin was the speaker for the entire week of Aug. 11-15 for the Youth Revival held at the Macedonia M.B. Church of Corinth. His wife Marsha and his father the Rev. Bill Ragin were his constant supporters.

Some of those attending the meeting from Booneville were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Swinney, Miss Sallie Gardner and her family and Harry Brandon.

On Tuesday night the Adult Choir of Danville C.M.E. Church rendered a beautiful and enjoyable inspirational song service followed with the message by the Rev. Ragin entitled, "Choose Ye This Day Whom Ye Will Serve." The message was highly forcible and inspirational due to his increased confidience and knowledge. Mr. and Mrs. David Fields who are now living in Corinth, were also present at Tuesday night's service.

Sunday morning at Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church in a final message before the annual conference, the pastor, the Rev. Powell delivered a message to the congregation of instruction, correction and reproof in which the kev words were, come, wait and go. He concluded his message with a request that members pray with him that God's will be done at the conference. The conference is in session this week at the City Road C.M.E. Church of Corinth.

Members of Spring Hill M.B. Church left immediately following Sunday school on Sunday morning to attend the services at the New Lebanon M.B. Church of Tupelo, where the five new converts were baptised, together with those of that church. A spiritual service, ceremony and fellowship was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Homecoming was observed at the Wolf Creek M.B. Church Sunday afternoon with the Rev. McKinzie of Corinth bringing the message. The program leading up to the message was beautifully conducted, consisting of expressions from members and former members the highlight of the program for me was a solo rendered by Mrs. Ozella Nunn. The entire service was one of enjoyment and inspiration.

Our prayers continue for the sick and the shutin of the community and in the hospital and especially for Mrs. Paulin Crockett who is a patient in the hospital at Tupelo.

Those visiting home this past week and arrivals over the weekend are: Mr. and Mrs. Leanord Young of Cleveland, Ohio, Jacob Copeland of Gary, Ind., Marvin Jones of Madison, Ohio, Charles M. Betts of Aurora, Ill., Mrs. Joan James, Mrs. Dorothy Joan Smith and children and George Shinault, all of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Ada Christians, Mrs. Zelphia McGee and Jerry Christian attended the worship services at a church in Memphis Sunday morning. Mrs. Christians appeared as the guest speaker.

On Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24, at 3 p.m. Danny M. Grove will appear as the guest speaker for the Youth Day program at Spring Hill M.B. Church. He is the son of Mrs. Hedy Grove and a deeply religious and respectable young man. As a member of Spring Hill he is actively involved in many of the church activitiies and one of the leading singers of the senior choir. He will be speaking on the theme, 'Temptations, Negative and Positive." The public is urged to attend.

Ever Learning And Never Able To Come To The Knowledge Of The Truth

The church is the mainspring of the Sunflower community. All activity, whether social or otherwise, is a product motivated by some thought or plan originating or connected with the church. The purpose and goal of any event is for the betterment of the community through assisting those in need, for a more productive individual spiritual growth, and for appreciation and encouragement for any and all achievements and accomplishments, whether they be personal or group related.

Yet in many instances when we are chosen as leaders and given positions of office within these activities we tend to immediately forget that we are chosen to serve. A record of long standing and regular attendance does not entitle a member when chosen for a position to ignore the ordinances of the church that are set up as guidelines to keep one within the boundaries of the church and in good standing, nor does it entitle one to assume and act on a knowledge of what is right and ignore or refuse to acquaint themselves with the rules and guidelines that governs the position in which they hold.

This is happening and the result is complete discord, ineffective work and a goal defeated.

In regard to man, we cannot change what the Bible states will be the condition of many in the last days, but we can with a prayerful heart as true followers of Christ exercise a greater spirit of humility, love and consideration for those whom we serve and remember this as our thought for not only today, but for all the days to come.

"I may be able to speak the language of men and even angels, but if I have not love, my speech is no more than a noisy gong or a clanging bell. I may have the gift of inspired preaching; I may have all knowledge and understand all secrets; I may have all the faith to move mountains--but if I have not love, I am nothing. I may give away everything I have, and even give up my body to be burned--but if I have not love, it does me no good. Love is patient and kind; love is not ill-mannered, or selfish, or irritable. Love does not keep a record of wrongs; love is not happy with evil, but is happy with the truth. Love never gives up. Its faith, hope and patience never fail.

"Love is eternal. There are inspired messages, but they are temporary; there are gifts of speaking, but they will cease; there is knowledge, but it will pass. For our gifts of knowledge and of inspired messages are only partial; but when what is perfect comes, then what is partial will dissappear.

"When I was a child, my speech, feelings, and thinking were all those of a child. Now that I am a man, I have no more use for childish ways. What we see now is like the dimimage in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. What I know now is only partial; then it will be complete, as complete as God's knowledge of me. Meanwhile these three remain: faith, hope, and love; and the greatest of these is love. (I Corinthians 13:)

Till Next Week.

Happy Birthday

HEATHER MASSEY

Heather Kay Massey will celebrate her first birthday Friday, Aug. 22. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Massey of Marietta.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Rutherford of Baldwyn and Mr. and Mrs. George Massey of Marietta.

MICHELLE STOCKTON

Michelle Dawn Stockton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stockton, celebrated her fifth birthday, Aug. 13.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Castleberry, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stockton all of Booneville. Her great grandmother is Mrs. Kylie Moreland also of Booneville.

Friends who helped Michelle celebrate were Angela Moorman, Jennifer and Brock Dunaway, Shane Johnson, Lori and Brad Nicholson, Tonya Cunningham, Pam Mooney and Deborah and Dwana Smith.

CLAY LINDSEY

Clay Lindsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lindsey, celebrated his second birthday, July 23. His grandparents are Mrs. J.C. Vandevander and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lindsey, all of Booneville.

ELIZABETH LINDSEY

Alma Elizabeth Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Lindsey of Booneville, will celebrate her seventh birthday Aug. 27.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richey of Booneville and Milton Lindsey of Corinth.

Her brother Greg also had a birthday Aug. 9. He was 18.

JENNIFER CUMMINGS

Jennifer Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cummings of Rienzi, was one year old Aug. 19.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Cummings of Rienzi, Mrs. Burt Calosky of Tyler, Texas, and Aubrey Hearn of Booneville.

Son For Galloways

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Galloway of Booneville announce the birth of a son, Robert Barkley Galloway Jr. He was born Aug. 7 and weighed 8 lbs. 7½ oz.

Grandparents are Mrs. James A. Cunningham and Dr. and Mrs. S.C. Galloway. Mrs. O.L. Waddle is the new arrival's great-grandmother.

News From Oak Ridge

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

Some of the people we know to be sick have improved. For example, Lila Prentiss was released from the Northeast Hospital last week. Also, Roy Crawford came home on Friday the 15th from the North Mississippi Medical Center.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy had surgery on her arm last week and is at home at 200 Mimosa in Booneville. She wasn't at all well on Friday and Saturday. We hope she improves.

Clyde Gardner remains in serious condition at his home near Frankstown.

Mam-Ma Coats remains the same; Mr. Sherman Estis is better.

Betty Coats is still in the Baldwyn Unit but is better and hopefully will be home when this is printed.

Congratulations to George and Senita Coats who are entertaining another little daughter. Amanda Jane was born Aug. 10 at the Northeast Hospital and weighed 9 lbs. 1 oz.

Mrs. Flossie Corbin was in Dyes, Ark., recently visiting her mother and other relatives. She was missed while away.

It was good to see Billy and Shirley Eaton at services last Sunday. Their small sons, Nonan, Bill and Shane always accompany them.

Nonan and Rachel Harris enjoyed visiting the Smith's in Fulton for a couple of days. They met while they all lived in Kenosha, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Looney Huggins and daughter, Ellen Dobbs, from Tuscumbia, Ala., visited the Nonan Harris family a few weeks ago.

Belated greetings to Vester Coats and Jerry Dees who celebrated birthdays on Aug. 17.

Six of our children and their families and I surprised Vester with a birthday dinner. Each family brought food and all enjoyed consuming the fried chicken, barbecued chicken, baked ham, deviled eggs, several casseroles, a green salad, rolls, peanut butter frosts, and there was a large beautiful cake baked by Jenny Ballard. Some nice gifts were brought to him; he saw them before leaving for work at the Baldwyn Hospital.

Kurt Ballard and Dennis Basden have returned to Chicago having enjoyed a month's vacation with the Truman Ballards. They needed to go home to enter school. They are being missed by their relatives and by the people at Oak Ridge who will look forward to their coming back sometime.

The bus has been used again. Bro. Barber carried teenagers to a youth forum sponsored by the West Main Church in Tupelo. Attending from here were Nora and Eunice Barber, Karon Coats, Robbie Copeland, Selina Nanney, Lee Jones and Mike Coats.

Bro. J.A. Thornton of New Albany will be the speaker in a meeting with the Jumpertown Church of Christ and Myron Coats will be the song director.

Correction: It was Larry Coats instead of Larry Kennedy who spoke Sunday morning, Aug. 10, in Bro. Barber's stead. Larry Kennedy preached for the Hill Crest Congregation Sunday morning and night.

Our gospel meeting begins the first Sunday in September. All should be preparing for this and begin inviting friends and neighbors to attend. Speaking will be W.W. Heflin.

Glad to know Mrs. Nora Rinehart is feeling better. Let's hope her eye problem can be solved.

I enjoyed talking with Mrs. Gladys Ryan a few days. She had surgery at N.M.M.C. about three weeks ago and seems to be doing okay. Her sister-in-law is not doing well in a Tupelo nursing home-Mrs. Nettie Ryan was transferred there from the Fulton Nursing Home.

There was no report given today, Aug. 17, on the condition of Charley (Dock) Brumley.

Mrs. Alta Walker has gone home from the Baldwyn Hospital. We hope she continues to feel better.

On Aug. 10, 13 from here went to Ozark to hear Bro. Barber speak in a gospel meeting. We enjoyed this final worship service.

Ken, Kay, Steve and Doug Wilson of Decatur visited a few days with her parents.

Sympathy is extended to Delbert Dees and others who mourn the passing of Jimmy Dees who was accidentally killed in Georgia.

Mrs. Ann Young and little daughters have moved to a nearby area and will be worshipping here. We remember her father, G.T. Pharr who once preached here.

A saying from Password-Plus: "You will never stumble on something good as long as you are sitting down."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dukes and Bobby were welcome at Jumpertown Methodist Church Sunday. We wish to invite them to come again.

Mrs. Bertha Kennedy and Mrs. Quay Trellis of Corinth were Thursday, afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow English and Mr. and Mrs. Bilbo Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Cox are the proud parents of a baby son, named Michael Jamison Cox, born Aug. 12. Weighing 10 lbs. 6 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sloan of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackwell of Hinkle Creek, Mr. Worth McCord of Memphis, Clyde McCord of Corinth. Jeffrey Grisham, Sam Grisham, Ann Grisham and Mitch Ryan of Wheeler were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G.A. English and Dean.

Mr. Ernest Yates of Booneville was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Keenum Wednesday.

Sheriff John McCauley took a group of his Junior Deputies to Parchman Prison last Wednesday on a tour to show the group of about 30 boys what prison life is like and is all about.

We visited death row and saw the electric chair and the solitary confinement cells. Those attending from Jumpertown were Mark English, Michael Wimberley, Terry Lauderdale. We want to give special thanks to Sheriff McCauley, the six adults and Glen Honeycutt, who drove the bus.

Mrs. Annie Michael had the misfortune of falling and breaking her hip Friday, and is a patient in the Tupelo hospital. Friend's wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Grady Eaton and Mrs. Bud Eaton visited Mrs. Collin Dixon in Ripley Friday.

C.W. (Dock) Brumley iis seriously ill in the intensive care in the Tupelo hospitall. Friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Unemployment Rate Drops In July

JACKSON, Miss.—Mississippi's unemployment rate dropped to 8.0 percent in July, a decrease of six-tenths percent compared to June's 8.6 percent jobless rate, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Acting Executive Director O.H. Simmons. Last year's July unemployment rate was 6.0 percent.

The 8.0 percent for the state was higher than the national rate of 7.9 for July. MESC figures showed 83,400 unemployed and 961,200 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,044,600. The initial Unemployment Insurance Claims totaled 28,670 for July.

The counties having the highest rate of unemployment were Jefferson with a rate of 18.0, Wayne with a rate of 16.6 and Neshoba with a rate of 15.0. Jones, Forrest, Yalobusha, and Rankin counties had the lowest jobless rates for July. Jones had a rate of 4.9, both Forrest and Yalobusha had a rate of 4.8 and Rankin had an unemployment rate of 3.5.

Twenty-one counties showed an increase in the unemployment rate for July while four remained the same. Fifty-seven counties had decreases in the unemployment rate for July.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Correspondent

New arrivals at the George E. Allen Library include books of many types. For those who appreciate the whimsical there's John Ciardi's "For Instance," this one for adults, though his children's books show this quality, too.

We have received a number of young people's books and books to be used with their problems, such as "Helping Your Teenage Student" by Marvin Cahn and "The Classroom Survival Book" by Margaret Maggs.

"Ride into Danger" by Henry Treece is just one of the new suspense thrillers. "Odyssey of Terror," by Captain William Haas, is just as suspenseful and he had just given us a new copy when all the plane hijackings of last week occurred.

Biographies of those now living and of the long ago past include Susan Strasberg's "Bittersweet," which has received favorable reviews and praise for this young actress's turnabout; "Alexander Hamilton; a Biography" by Forrest McDonald; "The Intricate Music, a Biography of John Steinbeck" by Thomas Kiernan; and "Anne Boleyn" by Nora Lofts a writer many of you enjoy.

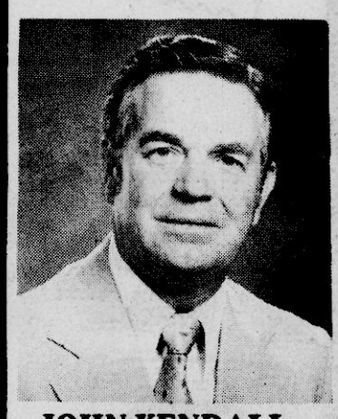

"Free to Be Single" by Elsa McAllaster, and "Family Day Care" by Betsy Squibb discuss social concerns, and in a way that's also Friedrich Heer's purpose in "Great Documents of the World."

Light romances and easy-to-read mysteries, especially in paperback, continue to be favorite recreational material. Several people have added their gifts to our supply of these and we appreciate their helping to make this service possible.

Vacancies in our holdings of "Time" Magazine have been reduced through the thoughtfulness of patrons.

Thank you for making your library more able to meet your needs.

nsurance

Info Can Be

Misleading

Commissioner of surance George Dale has sued a warning to the ublic against misleading formation that some gents are giving when eplacing existing life in-rance.

Commissioner Dale says s office has been receiving large number of calls from e public about dropping eir existing life insurance nd buying a type of term surance with investment, hich is usually in the form an annuity.

"There is nothing illegal out talking a consumer to buying a new life in-rance policy and per-ading them to drop their isting policy," Dale said. t is the option of the in-red to buy whatever otection from whomever e or she desires."

But, Dale warns that some gents may not tell the olicyholder all the facts, nd this could result in the ss of a substantial amount benefits to the consumer.

"We have seen a large mber of part-time life surance agents get into the siness of planning nancial futures and ser-ng as 'investment coun-lors'," Dale stated. "This o is legal; however, I rsonally want to deal with 'professional' agent who ill still be in the life in-rance business when I ed him in the future."

"In most cases the stomer who has just ught one of these ograms is urged to come a part-time lesman," he said. "He is couraged to sell the oduct and recruit friends relatives with the ssibility of high com-issions for his efforts."

The commissioner noted s office has enacted a placement regulation signed to protect the nsumer. The regulation quires the replacing agent inform the consumer out the advantages of ntinuing his present ogram.

The Mississippi Insurance epartment cannot advise nsumers which company buy their insurance from or what type product to rchase; however, the epartment does urge those rsons who are thinking out dropping their current surance to purchase a new ogram to do the following:

(1) Read the Depart-ent's Replacement Form nd understand what nefits may be lost in placing existing coverage.

(2) Contact your present gent or company and make re those benefits of your isting policy that were presented by the replacing mpany are true and ac-rate before cancelling the isting coverage.

(3) Ask the replacing gent to leave you all sales roposals and advertising aterial prior to making pplication so that you may ake sure they are accurate nd true.

(4) Make sure the in-rmation on future in-estments made by the placing agent are true. sk what interest rate is uaranteed by the contract; ny other interest rate if not eclared by the company's ard of directors for this olicy year is pure peculation for the future.

(5) Ask the agent for roper identification, such s his privilege license sued to him by the ississippi Insurance epartment.

(6) Decide whether you eally want the new verage if you buy it. The eplacement regulation llows the consumer 20 days om the time you receive e new policy within which ou may cancel the new surance coverage and eceive a full refund of all remiums paid.

(7) If you pay in cash, ther get a receipt from the gent or a statement owing the premium paid.

(8) Call or write the ississippi Insurance epartment if you need eir help.

Children Need Eye Check-Ups

Because one out of four American youngsters entering school has some sort of eye disorder, the Mississippi Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Association urges parents to schedule their young children now for pre-school medical eye examinations.

Older children, too, often need check-ups prior to resumption of classes, particularly those approaching junior high school who are at an age when rapid growth occurs and vision can change, according to these physicians who specialize in medical eye care.

"Many children are not aware that they are not seeing as they should, either because certain conditions show no apparent symptoms or because the child has no reference point and doesn't realize his vision is impaired," advises John L. Pendergrass, M.D., a Hattiesburg ophthalmologist and vice-president of the Mississippi EENT Association.

Dr. Pendergrass, the father of three, points out, "There are certain stages in a child's development when a medical eye examination is particularly important, even critical, to stem conditions which often can lead to severe vision damage or even blindness in one or both eyes."

Dr. Pendergrass explains, "Two major eye problems affect children–amblyopia or "lazy eye," where one eye is favored over the other, and misaligned eyes (turning in or out). In many cases, unless treatment is initiated at an early age, correction of these problems is not medically possible."

"Most ophthalmologists feel children should have a medical eye examination by age three and one-half, provided post-natal examinations by their pediatricians show no abnormalities," says Dr. Pendergrass. "Tragically, many parents feel that conditions of crossed eyes or eyes not aligned will correct themselves in time. Sometimes this does happen, but the child remains handicapped for life to one degree or another, usually with amblyopia, even though the eyes look straight."

Many eye problems which go undetected show up when school begins, he adds, because of new demands placed upon the child and his eyes.

"Most of a pre-schooler's effort is with games, books and toys within arm's length, requirng the child to concentrate on objects relatively close to the eye.

"In school, these youngsters must focus on audio-visual material and blackboards at great distances--conditions which sometimes bring indications of eye problems."

Dr. Pendergrass also notes that nearsightedness (myopia) may develop at any age but is often first discovered in children in the third to sixth grades, and glasses are needed to see the blackboard.

Adolescence, too, is a time of often rapid changes in the eye which require a medical eye examination. It is also a good idea to have a complete medical eye examination before leaving for college.

Handicapped Teaching

New Course On TV

A must for today's classroom teacher is a working knowledge of how best to mainstream young handicapped children into a regular educational setting. Now there is a telecourse, "Teaching the Young Handicapped Child: An Overview," which presents and illustrates workable concepts through demonstrations at exemplary schools.

Registration for the graduate level course will be Thursday, Aug. 28, from 4 to 7 p.m. in Room 103 of Patterson Hall at Northeast Junior College.

Offered cooperatively by the Appalachian Community Service Network and Northeast Mississippi Junior College, graduate credit will awarded to successful participants from the University of Mississippi. Registration fee is $116 per person. Classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 11.

The 14-week course is intended to demonstrate teaching techniques which are practical and easily adapted to the classroom. Administrators, upper level elementary and special education teachers, as well as parents of handicapped children would also benefit from the course.

For additional information, or to preregister, contact Mrs. Opal B. Melvin, ACSN site coordinator, at 728-7751, or toll-free 1-728-7759, ext. 231.

Bell Invests Millions In State's Economy

South Central Bell, Western Electric and American Telephone & Telegraph's Long Lines department-the three Bell System units which operate in Mississippi-contributed some $87.7 million to the state's economy via purchases last year, and employed over 8700 Mississippians, according to South Central Bell manager Bob Bartley.

South Central Bell is one of 23 Bell System operating telephone companies. Serving 741,000 customers, the company employs 8,300 in Mississippi. The phone company purchased $62.5 million in equipment, supplies and services from large and small businesses in Mississippi last year, Bartley said.

Western Electric--the Bell System's manufacturing and supply division employed 267 Mississippians in 1979. The company's 1979 purchases in Mississippi totaled almost $24 million.

As the Bell System's main "purchasing agent," Western Electric makes nationwide bulk purchases for other Bell units, realizing substantial cost savings. Such savings help keep down the price of telephone service, Bartley said.

Wal-Mart Head Named To Hall Of Fame

Sam Walton, founder and Chairman of the Board of Wal-Mart, has been named to the Discounting Hall of Fame by the trade publication, Discount Store News.

Walton and Carl Bennett of the Caldor discount chain, were honored recently at a banquet in Chicago. Bennett was named discounter of the year for 1980 by Discount Store News.

This is the second consecutive year for Walton to be honored by the publication. He was named discounter of the year in 1979.

Conservation Is For Everyone

A Los Angeles woman turns on a faucet and gets better water because farmers in Colorado's Grand Valley reduce runoff of salt into the Colorado River, a waiter source for 29 million people from Colorado to Callifornia.

Across the continent, near Norfolk, Va., hog farmers buiild lagoons to remove polllution from rivers and resstore the local oyster indlustry.

In Mississippi, farmers hawe found a special project to curb the appetite of a river, aptly named the Wolf, for soil and sand. The sand-choked Wolf has flooded areas where 650,000 people live and left sand deposits that ruin fields, bury streets and roads and undermine bridges.

Conservation action by the nation's farmers improves the quality of rivers and assures better farmland for future generations. Last year, about 340,000 farmers put up their part of the money to join the government in a partnership aimed at solving water pollution and quality problems, preventing soil loss, saving wildlife and insuring more timber in the future.

recently closed the Summer Avenue bridge, one of Memphis' main arteries. The Wolf also reduced crop yields by from 10 to 40 percent in parts of Tennessee and Mississippi.

Last year, local farmers wrote a plan to tame the Wolf in Benton and Marshall counties. Byron Hurdle, a Benton County farmer, shared in a pooling agreement with other farmers to build a "gully plug with a pipe in it," a sediment retention structure. "These conservation practices are saving valuable topsoil which has been washing away for years," said Hurdle.

Farmers here in Prentiss County are also working at the task of saving the soil. One hundred eighty three farmers have participatec in the agricultural con servation program this year. This program, whicl is known as ACP, share: with farmers the cost o doing needed conservatio work.

Some of the majo practices which ar available in the count program are: Permaner Vegetative Cover Establisl ment, Terrace System: Diversions, Permaner Vegetative Cover on Critic Areas, Water Impoundme Reservoirs, and Forest Tr Plantations.

Any farmer or landowner who is interested in getting more information on the agricultural conservation program should contact the local ASCS office.

OUTSTANDING CONSERVATIONIST—Tony Thompson (left), district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Booneville, was presented the 1980 "Outstanding District Conservationist-Area IV" award at the summer meeting of the Area IV Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners held recently at Verona. Pictured with Thompson is Willie Hatfield, chairman of the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District. Thompson has served as district conservationist in Prentiss County since 1974.

4-H DELEGATES—Scott Floyd (left) and Kathy Ballard (center) were the Prentiss County delegates to the State 4-H Convention in Jackson July 21-23. The convention was composed of 4-H youth from through out the state, made up of nominees for council officers, 4-H awareness team nominees, delegates to the National 4-H Conference, State Judging, and Visual and Record winners. Also shown is Dr. Ronnie Hartness, Northeast District 4-H Program Leader.

Airman Day Promoted

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C.—Kathryn D. Day, daughter of Lucille M. Knight of 606 Hatchie St., Booneville, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of senior airman.

Airman Day is an inventory management specialist at Pope Air Force Base, Fayetteville.

Local Pasture Lands Need Improving

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist

Prentiss County has 34,000 acres of pasture, most of which needs to be improved. September has been designated as pasture improvement month by Gov. Winter. Let us look at some ways to improve your pasture.

There are three major things you can do during September to greatly improve your pasture. The first is to apply needed fertilizer and lime. Grass, like any other crop, must have a well balanced fertilization and liming program to produce at its maximum.

The second thing you can do to improve your pasture is interseed clovers into grass stands. Clovers will reduce the amount of nitrogen needed and increase the quality of the forage.

The third practice that you should consider in improving your pasture is cross fences to facilitate rotational grazing. Rotational grazing will permit grazing when the grass is at its most nutritional stage while permitting the other pastures to regrow.

Through good pasture management you can increase both your forage yields and quality while improving your profits and protecting your soils from erosion.

Come by the Soil Conservation Service Office in Booneville or call us at 728-3544. We will be glad to help you develope or improve your pasture program.

Normal Temperatures, Less Rain Expected

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Most of Mississippi will have less rain than usual for the next 30 days, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The dry weather comes at a critical time for soybeans and cotton, with most of the acreage podding and setting bolls. Unless the rains that do fall are timely and heavy enough, pod filling and boll development will be hurt.

The expected return to normal temperatures is about the only good news for cotton and bean farmers for the next 30 days, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts. Rainfall usually varies from 2.5 to 3.5 inches in this period, except on the Coast where it nears six inches. Producers should monitor fields closely for insects.

Rice harvest is gaining momentum in the Delta. DD 50 accumulations show that most of the LaBelle and LeeBonnet acreages should be ripe by the end of August. The Starbonnet variety will be ripe for most farmers by mid-September.

Expected dry weather will hit cattlemen hard. The hay crop is inadequate this year, and fall grazing will get off to a poor start. Cattlemen should size up feed requirements for winter and act appropriately. Hay prices should increase.

Poultrymen can expect a slow fall in temperatures. Highs are usually between 85 and 90 degrees by mid-September, but there may be several days of severe heat stress in late August. Keep fans in top shape, especially for broilers in the five-to eight-week range.

SISTERS WIN—Traci and Sharon Gifford won sweepstakes awards at the annual 4-H Exhibit Day Aug. 8. Thirty five 4-H'ers exhibited different types of articles. Traci and Sharon are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gifford.

Tiger Gridsters Start Fall Campaign

A host of some 65 footballers turned out here Monday morning for the opening of the 1980 gridiron season at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Northeast head coach Bill Ward and assistants Billy Southward, David Carnell and newcomer this year James Williams of Corinth, are currently working the squad on twice per day workouts.

Morning sessions are devoted mainly to shorts, head and shoulder gear, while the afternoon sessions are in full pads.

The Tigers, who were recently picked number one in the North Mississippi Junior College Conference, will be strong in several positions according to head coach Ward and should have a strong nucleus of folks to work with in almost every position.

The Northeast coaching staff stated that right now one of the weakest points would be in the receiving department but added that the troop plans to work on that with in the next couple of weeks.

The Tigers have been busy for the first three days of the fall practice sessions in preparing for the opening game of the 1980 season Thursday night Sept. 4 against Copiah Lincoln at Tiger Stadium.

The Northeast coaching staff seems very well organized on the practice field. Starting with a series of exercises, the staff runs the players through drills designed to prevent cramps. From that, they go to the cliche drills, running ropes, dummies etc., and then the troup divides in groups with their respected coaches.

Following another set of drills, the team then returns to the center of the field for play exercises where they're divided into groups such as number one offense, number one defense, number two offense, etc.

These drills are designed to learn the basic play formations to be used by the Tigers this fall. These are basic plays with different additions to be added as the season progresses.

This consist of the morning practices while the evening is devoted to full workouts mainly focusing on play formations.

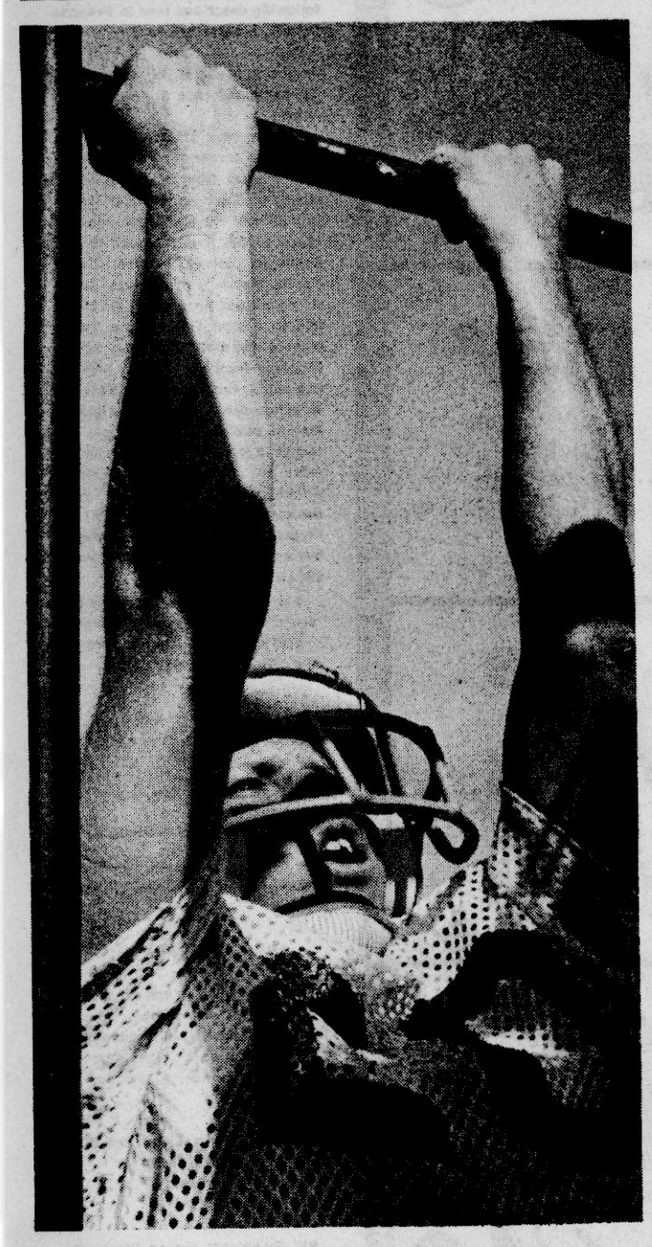

Ward said most of the players were in fairly good shape and added that this gives the coaching staff more time to work on play formations and other designed functions of the grid program.

"This is why we tell our men to work out during the summer months," Ward said. "We want them in some sort of shape so we can stress more time on the game plan."

Ward went on to say that with the type drills they're using that the players would indeed be in shape.

Six SEC Schools Chosen

Birmingham, AL (Sp)—The pre-season magazine polls are hitting the stands and the "experts" are predicting the teams which will rue the world of college football for 1980. The Southeastern Conference is well represented, with six of the ten schools being chosen for the top twenty by the football magazines and 12 players picked as All-Americans.

In a survey of five of the top pre-season magazines, Street & Smith, Game Plan, Playboy, Athlon, and Popular Sports College Preview, six SEC teams are in the top twenty in at least one poll and four were selected in the top ten. Alabama placed in all five, Auburn in four, Georgia in two and Tennessee, Kentucky and Florida in one.

Game Plan has Alabama 3rd, Auburn 8th and Kentucky 20th. Athlon picks Ala. 2nd, Georgia 10th, and Tennessee 12th. Street & Smith has Ala. 3rd and Aub. 12th. Playboy picks Ga. 6th, Ala. 9th and Aub. 20th while Popular Sports tabs Ala. 1st, Aub. 12th and Florida 20th.

Picked on the all-american teams of these magazines were 12 SEC players. Game Plan has Auburn RB James Brooks and OG George Stephenson, Alabama DE E.J. Junior and DT Byron Braggs. Street and Smith picks Junior, Georgia PK Rex Robinson and DB Scott Woerner and Alabama LB Thomas Boyd. Playboy tabbed Junior, Brooks, Robinson and Florida WR Cris Collinsworth. Athlon chose Junior, Collinsworth, Boyd, Tennessee PK Alan Duncan and OT Tim Irwin and Alabama DB Jim Bob Harris. Popular Sports has Collinsworth, Junior and LSU DB Chris Williams.

Net Tourney Starts Monday

Several applicants have submitted applications for the Annual Booneville County Club Member Tennis Tournament scheduled beginning Monday, August 25th through Thursday Feb. 28th.

Other members had indicated they will perform in the Tournament which will begin at 5 p.m. each afternoon til late evening.

Leading contenders this year who are past winners of the tournament are, Tommy Comer, last year's men's champion; Ray Cozort and Garry Lindsey, doubles champions; Tommy Comer and Kathy Arnold, last year's mixed doubles winners and Kathleen Arnold, last year's overall womens champion.

Tournament director Bill White said Monday that he hoped for an outstanding tournament this year and added that he especially hoped all the youngsters of the club would turnout for this year's event.

"We want our young people to play in all our tournaments," White said. "This helps them build for the future."

Competition in next week's event will include, mens open singles, boys 18 singles, boys 14 singles, mens open doubles, womens open singles, girls 18 singles, girls 14 singles, womens open doubles and mixed doubles.

The tournament will be a best of three set event with the nine point tie breaker rule governing sets reaching a tie at 6 games all.

Entry forms must be received by 5 p.m. Saturday August 23 and brackets will be posted on the glass door by the pool at the clubhouse by 5 p.m. August 24th.

Local Golfers Place Well In Corinth Tourney

Several local youngsters were recent winners in the Corinth Junior Two Man Scramble held at the Hillandale Country Club.

The youngsters, all from the local club, placed well in the event with two first place finishes along with two runnerup spots.

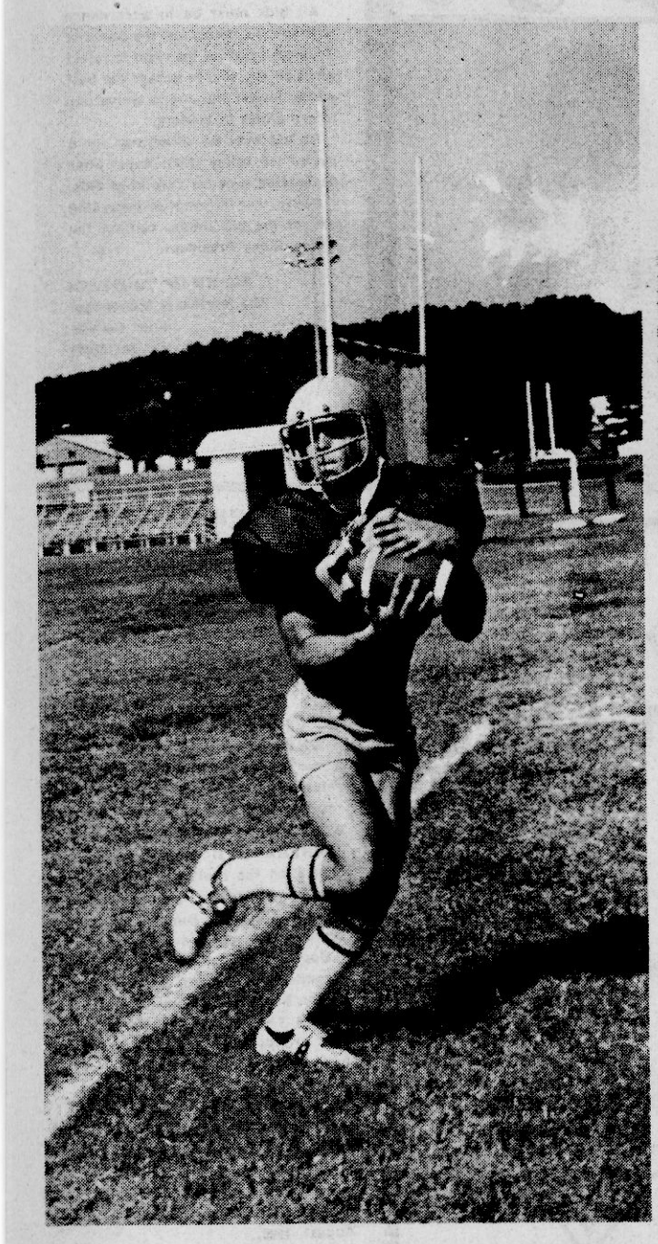

Tommy Burress and Bill Stutts took first place honors in the second flight while Wally Davis and Chris Shackelford teamed together to take the runnerup spot in the second flight.

Other winners from Booneville include, Chris Hughes and Donnie Carpenter who took the top spot in the fourth flight while John Lindsey and David Jenkins came in second in the fourth flight.

The latter flight scores were unique in that the Hughes Carpenter team shot a two 88-88 total while the runnerups Lindsey-Jenkins fell one stroke off the pace with a two day 88-89.

SEC Film Offered

Birmingham, Ala. (Sp)—All the exciting action of Southeastern Conference football is captured in the thrilling and informative film "1980 SEC Football Preview," and it is available now to SEC fans for group viewing.

The film contains spectacular game action of the 1979 season and highlights the players anticipated to lead their teams in the upcoming year. It is both a highlights film of 1979 and an outstanding preview for 1980. The best of the runners, the defenders, the blockers, the passers and receivers in the SEC are featured in special sections, plus colorful action that surrounds a weekend of football in the SEC, the cheerleaders, majorettes, bands and fans.

This film may be secured by any civic, church, youth or school group by writing the SEC Public Relations Dept., 1214 Central Bank Building, Birmingham, AL 35233; or directly to the film library which handles all the mailing, Audio-Visual Film Service, 401 S. 28th St., Birmingham, AL 35233, in care of Ms. Brenda Reno.

McWilliams Signs With Delta State

Former Northeast Tiger basketball performer Troy McWilliams has signed a roundball scholarship with East Central University in Ada, Oklahoma, it was announced here this week.

Northeast head basketball mentor Noal Akins said Monday, McWilliams, formally from Prospect, Kentucky, had agreed to terms with the Oklahoma college and will play point guard under head coach Wayne Cobb.

Troy was one of the top performers on the Tiger roster last season. He was co-captain and averaged 11.4 points per game and pulled down four assist per outing.

His best outing last season came against Paducah, Kentucky in road action where he poured in 34 points.

McWilliams will assume his duties at the roundball start this fall.

Thursday Night Opens Season

Thursday night is the night to mark on your calendar for the opening of the 1980 football season.

This year both Booneville High School and The Northeast Mississippi Junior College play their opening games of the year on Thursday night September 4th.

The Devils, under head coach Mac Curlee and assistants Riley Presley and Charles Gullett, will open the '80 campaign Thursday against Saltillo's Tigers on the road while Northeast will open the same night here at home against Copiah Lincoln.

Both squads have been busy this week and will continue through the same pace for the next two weeks before the Sept. 4th kickoff.

The Devils started a week ago while Northeast opened their fall practice sessions here Monday morning.

BHS coach Mac Curlee is working some 35 footballers and said here Tuesday that he was somewhat pleased with his workouts thus far.

"We are going through the signs of early practice injuries," Coach Curlee said. "We've mainly got some pulled groins, cramps and a lot of sore muscles. This always happens this time of the year."

On the Northeast practice circuits, some 75 men turned out this week for the grid session.

Ward and his coaching associates, Billy Southward, David Carnell and James Williams, will cut the squad to around 60 before game time Sept. 4th.

Thirty three players are returning from last year's team which finished second in the North division and advanced to the State Tournament with a 6-4 overall record.

Hunting Meeting Set Tonight

The Earl Womack Hunting Association will have a meeting tonight (Aug. 21) at 7 p.m. at the Trailer on the hunting club property.

A spokesman for the club said all members are urged to attend this meeting.

Ole Miss Football To Be Aired

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—University of Mississippi football will be available to over 3,000,000 households in 26 states this fall when the Rebels join the cable TV-satellite system Video Sports Network (VSN). Ole Miss and Auburn University are the first two southern schools to join regular programming through a satellite cable network.

The VSN will telecast replays of each Saturday's Ole Miss game the following Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., according to Bill Cooke, president of VSN. Thirty cable systems throughout Mississippi will carry the game replays. Viewers should check with local cable systems for channel information, Cooke said.

Over 4,200 cable systems in the United States including Alaska and Hawaii, will be able to receive Ole Miss football games as they are transmitted through the Satcom I satellite.

"Ole Miss is extremely excited about the prospects of our association with VSN," said Ralph Carpenter, assistant athletic director and sports information director. "This new venture will give additional exposure to the Rebel program and should bring a lot of excitement to sports fans throughout the nation."

An added feature of using the VSN system is the capability of slow motion and instant replay, according to Ty Warren, director of the Communicaton and Resource Center, which will be producing the games in association with the Ole Miss athletic department and VSN.

In addition to the game replays, each program will feature a segment on the University's academic community.

Booneville Video Co. will carry this service.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on November 18, 1976, Vester Hargett and wife, Delorise S. Hargett, executed a deed of trust to Harry F. Beacham, trustee for The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans, which deed of trust is of record in Deed of Trust Book 109, Pages 526-528, in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Prentiss County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans, on August 6, 1980, having substituted the undersigned, Eugene B. Gifford, Jr., Substitute Trustee with said substitution appearing of record in Deed of Trust Book 126, Page 741, Chancery Clerk's Office, Prentiss County, Mississippi; and

WHEREAS, default having been made in the terms and conditions of said deed of trust and the entire debt secured thereby having been declared to be due and payable in accordance with the terms of said deed of trust, and the legal holder of said deed of trust, The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans, having requested the undersigned substitute trustee to execute this trust and sell said land and property in accordance with the terms of said deed of trust for the purpose of raising the sums due thereunder, together with attorney fees, trustee's fees, and expense of sale.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Eugene B. Gifford, Jr., substitute trustee, in said deed of trust will on the 5th day of September, 1980, offer for sale at public outcry, and sell within legal hours (being between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.) at the West door of the County Courthouse in the County of Prentiss, Booneville, Mississippi, to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described property lying and being situated in Prentiss County, Mississippi, to-wit:

All that part of the North Half of the Southeast Quarter of Section 18, Township 4, Range 6 East, that lies West of the Dry Creek Public Road. Containing 35 acres, more or less, and lying and being situated in Prentiss County, Mississippi.

LESS AND EXCEPT: Part of the Southeast Quarter of Section 18, Township 4 South, Range 6 East, described as follows: Commencing at the Southeast corner of the North Half of said Quarter and run thence West 2090 feet to the center of a public road and the true point of beginning; run thence West 290.00 feet; thence North 150.00 feet; thence North 83 degrees 50 minutes East 111.20 feet; thence North 67 degrees 20 minutes East 100.00 feet; thence South 51 degrees 40 minutes East 209.60 feet to the center of a public road; thence South 47 degrees 37 minutes 20 seconds West 104.57 feet to the point of beginning. Containing 1.22 acres, more or less.

ALSO LESS AND EXCEPT: One-half interest in all minerals heretofore reserved by the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans.

Outlook Said

returning as principal of the junior high school, also praised the parents, teachers and students. "We have great parents to work with," he said. "We have some of the finest boys and girls anywhere."

Henderson also asked the football and basketball coaches and the new band director to comment on the coming school term.

Head football Coach Mac Curlee said this will be a rebuilding season for his team. However, he added, "being young and inexperienced is not going to stop us."

He said the first game of the season will see "six kids on defense and seven on offense taking their first snap."

The attitude and moral of the team members has been high, he said, and he asked the Rotarians to encourage the kids and "pat them on the back" every once in a while.

Curlee said the team of 34 youngsters began twice-a-day workouts with full gear Monday--in 98 to 100 degree heat. He said he has 9 seniors, 5 juniors, 16 sophomores and 4 freshmen on the team.

The coach said that, although picked sixth in the conference this year, the first five games are "comparable to any schedule in the area." The season will begin with Saltillo on Sept. 3, followed by Baldwyn, Amory, Kossuth and Fulton.

Assisting Curlee in coaching the team are Riley Presley and "Doc" Gullett. "We are still trying to secure another coach," Curlee said.

In basketball, Coach Ricky Ford said his program "really hasn't started yet, but we feel we will have a good season."

New band director Sherry Sandidge also indicated that there will be some inexperienced members in the band this year. "We have many who have never had am instrument in their hands before," she said.

She said the first night the band was to report, 25 members showed up. A massive recruiting effort has now resulted in 44 students attending the band camp being held this week at the high school. "We've been down the halls saying, 'Do you want to be in the band?'," she said.

"Amory is scaring us to death," she admitted. "They have 200 kids (in band) compared to our 44."

"The kids are fantastic; the parents are great," Miss Sandidge said about Booneville. "I feel at home; the students have made me feel welcome."

She said the band "is there to support the football team 150 percent, because if it wasn't for them, we wouldn't be there."

The new band director also introduced her assistant, Kevin Hutchins. Hutchins is from the coast and, having just graduated from college, this is his first job.

He said at first he was "kind of hesitant" about the job, knowing the situation here. "However, he said, "The more I'm here, the more pleased I am that I picked here to begin."

As for the band, "We may be small, but we're not sacrificing quality," he said.

In conclusion, Henderson praised the parents who have been helping out at the schools--painting (merchants donated the paint), putting together 500 new lockers, and just generally getting the buildings in shape for the beginning of school.

Supt. Henderson admitted there would be some problems. "We will have some organizational problems the first few days of school," he said, especially since the high school students could not preregister. He also said they are still working on the bus routes.

He asked that everyone "bear with us until we get things worked out."

In a question and answer period following the program, Henderson said the school would retain its class A rating and would not be reclassified as BB. He said the system estimates there will be from 1,350 to 1,400 students in grades 1-12.

He said the city and the county have worked out an agreement regarding the Prentiss County Vo-Tech Center. A six member board consisting of three members of the county school board and three members of the city school board will be put in charge of the complex.

The center "will not be operated under either the city or the county," he said. Merrill Cartwright, director of the facility, told the Rotarians he is looking forward to working with the new six-member board.

By LADY BLUE SURF
Correspondent

Happy birthday this week goes to "Blue Lady," "Telephone Kid" and "Telephone Lady." Hope each of you have a nice day and enjoy many, many more.

We all need to stay up later and find out what's going on. We were coming home the other night about 11 and channel 14 was really hopping! "Round Lady," had her base station bouncing. Our trouble is we are sleepy heads.

"Sidekick," has been dismissed from the hospital. "Miss. Shorty" had surgery Friday. She would appreciate hearing from her friends. She is in room 623 St. Frances Hospital, 5959 Park Avenue Memphis 38117. "Ole Blue" is back to his ole self again. We hope everyone is feeling better and continues to get better.

Our regular social will be at the Community Center September 6 at 6:30 p.m. It will be pot luck. Everyone come and meet your new club officers and enjoy the fellowship.

Alabama Citizens Band Association jamboree will be Saturday and Sunday Nov. 1 & 2 at Convention Hall, S. First St. Gadsden, Ala. Free dance Saturday 8:00 p.m. - 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Saturday 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Sunday. Books close at 2:00 p.m. Sunday. Adult grand prizes-1st 19" portable color television, 2nd-stereo, 3rd, Base radio. Children grand prizes-1st 12" portable B and White television, 2nd-Cassette player.

"Mad Hornet," has been enjoying the summer on her new mopad. Be careful. School is starting and everyone needs to watch for the kids.

Until next week, which will be my last reporting--everyone stay well, be happy and attend the church of your choice.

DEAR PARENTS:

The decade of the eighties will bring new opportunities, new challenges, and new problems.

The Booneville Separate School District will need your help and support in preparing our young people for a new tomorrow.

Education is the responsibility of the total community. If our children's fullest potential is to be realized, we need your commitment to support public education.

Home Economist's Notes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Why call it "buttermilk" when it usually contains less than one percent butter-fat? Probably for the same reason we call sour cream "sour" although ,when it's purchased in a carton from the dairy, it's not sour at all. The reason? That's what grandma called it.

Farmers' wives who churned their own butter were the first to discover that this laborious and tiresome task had one redeeming reward: it produced a liquid by-product with a unique, tangy flavor. They called it "buttermilk"- the liquid left in the churn when the buttermaking process was completed. It was both nourishing and refreshing and was usually saved as a special treat for deserving members of the family. But as on-the farm butter churning gave way to commercial manufacturing processes, old-fashioned buttermilk became a rarity.

The buttermilk of yesterday was both delicious and nourishing and came to be recognized as a special treat for the family.

"Cultured" best describes today's buttermilk. It is called cultured because a specially prepared culture of bacteria, developed under careful laboratory conditions, is used to produce the desirable acidity, body, flavor and aroma so characteristic of buttermilk.

The yellow flecks in some buttermilk are real butter. Butter granules are sometimes added to give cultured buttermilk additional flavor and appeal. By various methods butter granules are added, usually in an amount to produce a fimished buttermilk testing one or less than one percent milk fat.

Calories in cultured buttermilk vary depending on the milk used and the milk fat added in the form of butter granules. The calorie range for most of the buttermilk sold in the United States is 90-112 calories for 8 ounces--this is butter milk made with skim milk containing no butter granules to one testing one percent milk fat.

Buttermilk has the same food value as the milk from which it is made. Calcium, riboflavin, and protein are the key nutrients. When made from fresh fluid skim milk, which is usually used, it is lower in fat, vitamin A value, and calories than whole milk.

Fried Chicken Wings

With a cleaver or a large heavy knife chop off the wing tips of 18 chicken wings, rinsed and patted dry, and reserve them for another use. Half the wings at the second joint and in a ceramic or glass dish let them marinate in buttermilk to cover (about 1-½ cups) overnight.

In a shallow dish combine 1-½ cups each of yellow cornmeal and cornstarch, 2 tablespoons dried thyme, 1 tablespoon each of salt and dried marjoram, and 1 teaspoon white pepper. Drain the wings, strain the buttermilk into a jar, and reserve it, covered and chilled for another use.

Dredge the wings in the cornmeal mixture, shaking off the excess, and put them ½ inch apart in one layer on a baking sheet. Chill the wings, loosely covered, for 1 hour. In a deep fryer heat 3 inches vegetable oil to 375 degrees F. and in it fry the wings, 6 at a time, turning them for 8 to 10 minutes, or until they are golden.

Transfer the wings as they are done to paper towels to drain and keep them warm on a heat-proof plate in a preheated slow oven (300 degrees F.) with the door ajar. Serve the chicken wings on a heated platter. Serves 6 to 8.

Dates to Remember: Extension Clubs Program meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 26, at 2 p.m. in the Extension Conference Room. Jeanine Martin, Home Economist from Alcorn County will present a program on "Herbs & Spices."

Tonight, Thursday, Aug. 21, Extension Clubs of Prentiss County will have their annual Family picnic at 7 p.m. at the West Side Park Pavilion. Now, you talk about good things to eat, Extension club members are all good cooks. Enough said.

Former Resident Selected For Special Leadership Study

A former Prentiss County resident, currently an educator in Texas, was selected as one of the 100 teachers in the United States to participate in a special institute of Organization Leadership held in Washington, D.C., at the American University.

Mrs. Lillian Davis Young, a native of Prentiss County and the daughter of the late J.T. "Buddy" Davis, attended the institute where she was able to study in the fields of Parliamentary Law, Public Speaking, Journalism, History and Structures of Education Association, and Planning of Activities.

Two teachers from each state are selected to participate in the institute.

Mrs. Young is the wife of Rawls C. Young. They were married in December of 1935.

The Texas educator has been active in many educational organizations. She has served as president and in other offices of the Texas State Teachers Association; she is a life member of and has held several offices with Delta Kappa Gamma, an international honor society for women teachers; and she was awarded a life membership to the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, a branch of the national organization.

In addition to serving various positions with the PTA, Mrs. Young has also served as president of the local Classroom Teachers Association and has worked with the 4-H Club. She is also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Young has attended Union University in Jackson, Tenn., East Texas State University, Southern Methodist University and Stephen F. Austin University. She holds degrees with majors in English and Elementary Education and a minor in Social Studies. She holds certificates for superintendent and high school and elementary principal.

Coupon Books Are Not Always A Bargain

Coupon Book Sales Bargain or Rip-Off?

For the past year, coupon book sales have been on the increase in Mississippi. According to Attorney General Bill Allain this is an area where consumers should be extremely wary.

Contrary to popular belief most coupon book sales are not the direct results of the efforts of any local businesses or civic organization, even though a local business or organization may reap a small amount of the profit derived from the coupon book sales venture.

Most coupon book sales are initiated and conducted by professional promoters, usually from out-of-state who convince a local business or civic organization to endorse the sale of the coupon books, thereby attempting to add credibility to the venture.

Once an endorsement is obtained, the professional promoters will then set up a "boiler room" operation, where several telephone sollicitors will call almost everyone listed in the local telephone book, in an attempt to sell them a coupon book. They (the telephone sollicitors) will usually tell prospective purchasers that they are representing the local business or organization that has sponsored them.

Usually the prospective purchaser is told that the value of the coupon book is $500 to $1,000, but since this offering is for promotional purposes, the book can be purchased for $25 to $30.

Is the coupon book a bargain? To some, the book may well be worth the investment, while to others the book may be a very poor investment indeed.

For example, a senior citizen who purchases a coupon book may discover that many coupons contained in the book are of little or no value to them. Example: one free round of miniature golf, free visit to a health spa, free lesson at a karate school, one free game at a bowling alley, free visit to a figure salon, free admission to various places of entertainment located in distant cities, etc.

Many coupons offer free goods or services which are free from the merchant anyway.

Also, many coupon books contain coupons that provide a free lunch or sandwich, with the purchase of a lunch or sandwich of equal value. This is the "buy one, get one free" situation. If the restaurant is not located near your home or place of employment, you may discover that the expense involved in traveling to and from the restaurant, far exceeds the benefit of the coupon.

In many cases, the local merchants who participate in honoring the coupons, are not made aware of the large number of coupon books that will be sold. Example: a merchant who agrees to provide a free one dollar item, and allows six coupons to be placed in each book to be sold may discover that this advertisement has actually cost him $30,000. Is this advertisement really worth that much money?

Anyone interested in purchasing a coupon book should review the contents of the book very carefully before handing their hard earned money over to a stranger.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Unproductive Busybodies

. . . there are some who walk among you disorderly, working not at all but are busybodies (2 Thessalonians 3:11)

At first reading, this text seems contradictory. If people don't work at all, how can they be said to be busy? The paradox is explained when we realize that the word "Busybody" really means "a meddler," and it applies to Christians who are constantly intruding in the affairs of others. They are industrious, but only in things that are unprofitable. Their energy is expended in gossiping, criticizing, and stirring up strife.

F.W. Boreham said of such people that they reminded him of a sad-eyed pup called Towser. One day this panting canine followed Farmer Brown into the yard and fell exhausted upon the grass. "Look how worn out poor Towser is!" said a friend who had been waiting for them. "Yes, but it isn't the long walk that's done him in," said Brown. "He tired himself out by zigzagging from one side of the road to the other and getting into all kinds of mischief. He couldn't pass an open gate without running through it to nose around and see what was on the other side. If he noticed a hen anywhere along the road, he always took off after it and sent it scurrying. He would run toward every dog he saw, and bark or try to start a fight. He meddled with everything that moved. No wonder Towser's all tired out!"

Don't be like that dog who wasn't happy unless he could run hither and yon and stir up trouble. God disapproves of such futile activity, for it creates discord among believers. If you confine yourself to the narrow path of constructive Christian service, you won't be an unproductive busybody.

THOT: Trouble is usually produced by those who produce nothing else.

NO-FRILLS MARK-IT

YOU HELP US CUT OUR HANDLING COSTS... WE HELP YOU CUT YOUR GROCERY BILL!

1. Take it out of the case.
2. Check the price on the shelf.
3. Mark the price on each item.
4. Enjoy the extra savings!

THE ANSWER!

Our No-Frills MARK-IT section...the answer to high food costs! It's the savingest place in town. The prices on these two pages are not "specials" but low, everyday MARK-IT prices. Compare them to what you've been paying! At WAREHOUSE, we're dedicated to saving you money.

First we CUT OUT THE FRILLS and eliminate the high expense of national advertising to bring you our NO-FRILLS line of non-branded products. No fancy fragrances or patterns, no colorful labels, no extras. Just basic household products and wholesome, "everyday" quality foods labeled in plain black-and-white. Why pay more for a brand name?

Then we CUT OUR OVERHEAD. When you take an item out of the case and mark the price yourself, our handling costs go down. And we pass the savings along to you!

Now you can CUT YOUR GROCERY BILL! Join our No-Frills savings plan. Mark it yourself...see how much you save!

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

ON USDA CHOICE IOWA GRAIN-FED HEAVY BEEF...YOU MUST BE SATISFIED!

You must be satisfied $$

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

• ON USDA CHOICE IOWA GRAIN-FED HEAVY BEEF •

Our meat inspectors are tough...so we can

your beef will be tender!

You know our beef is good. It has to be or we wouldn't promise you DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK if you're not completely satisfied. And we know it's good. It has to be, or it wouldn't meet our exacting standards.

The beef you buy in our market is fine Top o' the Grade USDA Choice beef — the only top government grade that's consistently available in sufficient quantity to provide the superb quality we demand. It's selected on-the-spot in Iowa by our own team of hard-to-please selectors. Then every side is inspected again as it arrives at our own beef plant.

Inspected twice by the USDA, selected Top o' the Grade by our own inspectors...the highest possible quality at the lowest possible price. We believe it's the best beef buy you'll find in any store. And we put our money where our mouth is.
