The Governor Comes To Town

GOVERNOR'S VISIT - Gov. William Winter was in Booneville last Friday to announce the awarding of a grant for $852,049 to the Northeast Mississippi Junior College for its fiscal year 1981 classroom training program. In the photo at right, Winter makes the announcement of the grant to college board members and area legislators at a luncheon on the college campus. Following the meeting, the group adjourned to tour construction taking place on the campus. In the upper left

Location Not Determined

New Post Office Planned For City

Plans are now underway for the construction of a new, modern post office in the city of Booneville.

The new building is expected to have approximately 7,550 sq. ft. of space, more than twice the size of the present facility with 3,200 sq. ft. of workroom space, according to Booneville Postmaster Jack Wright.

The new facility will be completely modern and larger than post office facilities in surrounding towns of similar size.

"There's nothing in North Mississippi to compare it to," Wright said. The nearest facility of similar size and design is in Brownsville, Tenn., he said.

The projected cost of the site and building is $787,975, Wright said. The projected completion date is October 1982.

Funding for the facility will come from the U.S. Postal Service.

A building site has not been selected as of now, the Booneville Postmaster said. But it does not appear that it will be located in the downtown area.

"We would like to locate as near downtown as possible," Wright said, "but there is no suitable property available."

The projected site size is 41,500 sq. ft. The U.S. Postal Service real estate office in Memphis will make the final determination of the location, but Postmaster Wright feels a site along Highway 45 would be ideal if a downtown location is not possible.

There has already been some opposition to moving the post office from the downtown area, but Wright says city and county officials have been encouraging.

Census Count Shows Little Increase

Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb is urging all city residents who feel they were not counted in the 1980 census to get in touch with his office.

The mayor said the Census Bureau office in Dallas, Texas, informed him last week that the 1980 count shows only a very small increase in population for Booneville over the 1970 count.

"The count shows us with a population of about 6,140," the mayor said. "We had 5,895 last time. That's an increase of just a little over 200."

The mayor said the Census Bureau indicated the local percent of increase in population was in line with what is being shown nationally by the Census count.

It is in the best interest of local residents to be included in the count, the mayor said, because so much federal and state funding is allocated on the basis of the population count. If a small number of people are indicated by the count, less money is allocated for the area than if a larger number of people are shown.

"The Census count means dollars and cents to the city," Crabb said. He indicated a larger count means better services and better and more programs for the city.

"Anyone who feels they were not counted—did not fill out a form and mail it in or were not contacted by an enumerator—should call the city hall and give us your name, address and phone number," the mayor said.

He said this information would then be passed on to the Census Bureau. The Census Bureau will contact these persons to get the information needed to include them in the count.

Booneville Alderman Dies

Booneville Alderman James Wallace (J.W.) Timbes, 55, of 302 S. Bryant St., died Wednesday, Oct. 1, at the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Memphis after an extended illness.

Mr. Timbes, lacking only eight months serving two full four-year terms on the Booneville Board of Aldermen, was utilities commissioner in charge of the city's gas and water.

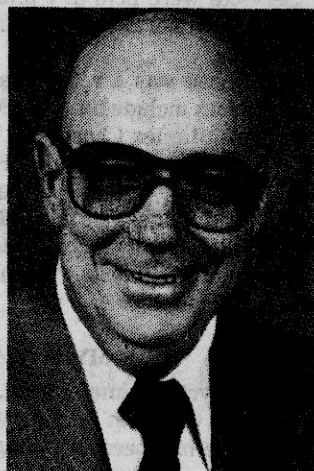

He was also a pharmacist and partner in the Cox-Blythe Drug Store in Booneville.

A member for 10 years, he was a deacon of the First Free Will Baptist Church in Booneville. He was also a Gideon.

He belonged to the Civitan Club and the Woodmen of the World.

Funeral Services were held at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3, from the First Free Will Baptist Church with Bro. Luther Gibson officiating. Burial was in the Booneville Cemetery.

For Classroom Training Program

Junior College Gets CETA Funds

Gov. William Winter was in Booneville Friday to announce that Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds totaling $852,049 have been awarded to the Northeast Mississippi Junior College for classroom training programs during the fiscal year 1981.

The governor said this funding will fill about 140 slots in the junior college's training program. However, many more than that should benefit from the program because many will find jobs after a short period of training and leave the program. Others can then be recruited to fill the vacancy left in the program by that participant's departure.

Gov. Winter placed great emphasis on the importance of the training program.

"There are too many unemployed," he said. "In order to develop the maximum potential, a training program is needed to acquire the jobs required in our society."

The courses funded through the CETA funds will include production machine operator, clerical, welder, plumber, career development and individual referral courses.

"We are trying to remove political abuse from the CETA program," Gov. Winter told area legislators and Northeast Junior College board members at a luncheon Friday. "We want to help people who got left out of a training program."

These are going to be the people available to industry coming into this area," he said. "We have so much going in this state now. We are just now beginning to realize the potential."

"With a few exceptions, the junior colleges have done a good job training personnel," Bob Robinson, state director of the classroom training program, said at the luncheon.

The CETA funds for this program were allocated on a county by county basis, based on such factors as population and unemployment, he said.

For Some Residents

Taxes Still Delinquent

Some Prentiss Countians have still not paid their taxes for 1977 and 1978, according to Phillip Cole, Chancery Court Clerk, and further action is imminent if they are not paid.

"We still have a large list of delinquent taxes for 1977 and 1978," Cole said this week. "It is impossible to contact each and everyone."

"It is not our desire to certify anybody's land to the state," he added, "but if these taxes are not paid soon, we have no other choice."

"If you are not sure all your 1977 and 1978 taxes have been paid, please come in to see us very soon," he said. "We will be glad to help you any way we can. Your immediate attention will be appreciated."

"We would appreciate you telling your friends and neighbors about this in case they haven't read the paper," he said.

Jan Hawthorne walks to work each day—just she and her friend Tim.

Jan is blind. Tim is a beautiful black Labrador retriever who serves as her eyes.

Jan is also the cornerstone for the Northeast Regional Program for the Visually Impaired.

This program, housed in Room 8 of Wright Hall on the Northeast Mississippi Junior College campus, is designed to give visually handicapped students a head start on learning to live as normal a life as possible.

This program is not an official part of the junior college. The college provides space for the program which is funded and operated by the school systems of the five counties involved—Prentiss, Alcorn, Union, Tippah and Tishomingo.

The Prentiss County School System is the fiscal agent—handles the funding—for the program, even though funding comes from each of the school systems involved.

The program now serves students aged 6-18, but Miss Hawthorne hopes the program will eventually expand to include ages 3-21.

Being blind herself gives Jan a unique insight into the problems faced by the students she teaches.

New Arrangement For 'Cat Scan' Tests

By CARL BARKER
Administrator
Northeast Mississippi
Hospital

Patients of Northeast Mississippi Hospital may stay in Booneville and still have the opportunity to have access to much of the sophisticated exams that have not been available in the past.

Rather than transfer a patient to the hospital in Tupelo, members of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital Medical Staff may order one of the available exams and, through an arrangement with the Tupelo hospital, local patients can be transported by ambulance for the exam and returned during the same day.

One of the exams ordered most is the "Cat Scan," which is done on a piece of equipment which, installed, costs close to one million dollars. Consequently, government regulatory agencies will allow such equipment only in selected areas, even if the equipment could be afforded.

After the local physician writes the order on the patient's chart, Miss Nancy Kelly, administrative secretary, contacts the appropriate department at the Tupelo hospital. After she gets an appointment time, Miss Kelly contacts the North Mississippi Ambulance Service who makes arrangements to transport the patient for the exam, wait while the exam is being done and return the patient to NEM Hospital when the exam is complete.

The Tupelo physician that directed the exam will call the preliminary results to the NEM Hospital medical records department using a direct call-in dictation system. Medical Records personnel will immediately transcribe the preliminary report and deliver it to the patient's attending physician. The official signed report will be received through the mail in a few days.

NEM Hospital has made arrangements to pay the Tupelo hospital, the specialist involved and the ambulance service for the provided services. The total charge will be added to the patient's bill as a "contracted service."

While providing our patients with new services, the patient's family will not have to travel back and forth on the road to the Tupelo hospital as if the patient had to be transferred, and NEM Hospital's daily patient load will be helped.

In a later column, we will describe some of the exams that are available to our patients. We also plan to highlight the services available in our own hospital. Should anyone have any questions regarding our service, please contact us. We will attempt to provide an answer.

'Just An Inconvenience' and her blindness is a result of oxygen poison while in the incubator. She has only light perception—meaning she can distinguish the brightness of light but cannot see shapes of objects. For example, on a sunny day she can tell in which direction the windows of the classroom are located.

Born in the Mississippi Delta, she attended the Mississippi School for the Blind in Jackson for 12 years. She received her masters degree from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Her first job was in Ripley in a program which was the forerunner of the present program at the junior college.

By law, each school system must provide adequate schooling for the handicapped in the school district. Because such a program would be too expensive for each district to maintain, the five county districts have pooled their resources to set up the special classes at Northeast.

In addition to providing the space for the classes, Northeast also provides transportation for the program's students on its buses which run in the five county area served by the college.

Although at one time in Ripley she had as many as six students, Miss Hawthorne presently has only two—one 9 years old and the other 11.

Since the students are at different levels, she and her assistant, Mrs. Edith McCoy, have to teach them mostly on an individual basis. The school is conducted like the old one-room school houses, Miss Hawthorne says.

In addition to the regular school subjects, specialized subjects—such as Braille—must also be taught.

The law says the children in the program must have a certain amount of contact with normal children each day, so they go to Anderson Junior High School each day for lunch.

The students eligible for Miss Hawthorne's class are not all blind—some are just severely visually handicapped. Those with vision of 2200 to total blindness are eligible to participate.

Although the students participating in the program are taught standard subjects, the goal of the program is to get them functioning well enough to go back to a regular classroom.

So far Miss Hawthorne's former students have had a good reception upon entering a regular classroom.

"They do well if you can keep them from becoming class pets," she said.

Miss Hawthorne knows from first hand experience the problems faced by these students who enter regular classes.

"I was not in an ordinary classroom until college," she said. "I was scared to death the first time I was in a classroom with 50 people."

In addition to the cost, one of the advantages of this program over sending a visually handicapped child to a special school such as the School for the Blind is that the child can remain at home. Miss Hawthorne said the most often a child can go home from the School for the Blind in Jackson is once a week.

Miss Hawthorne sets a shining example for her students, showing them a normal life is possible.

For Thrasher High School

Japanese Student Is 13th Exchange Student

Miki Nishimoto, 18, of Sapporo City, Japan, is the 13th foreign exchange student to attend Thrasher High School since the school began participating in the exchange program in 1976.

Of the previous exchange students, two were boys and the rest were girls. Five were from Columbia, five from Japan, one from Mexico and one from Brazil.

This is Miki's first trip to the United States and it is different than she expected. "It is hotter here than Sapporo," she said. In Sapporo it stays cold all year.

While in the U.S., Miki is living with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McNally of Thrasher and their children, Debbie, Mark and David, all students at Thrasher. Miki shares a room with 16-year-old Debbie.

Miki has one brother, Kazuto, who attends Kitami University in Japan. Her father is a local public servant in her home town and her mother is a housewife.

Although she says she has on occasion regretted her decision to become an exchange student, overall she is glad she came. She says she has not been homesick yet.

Miki competed in her first beauty pageant at Thrasher High School a couple of weeks ago and was named third alternate in her division. She says they do not have beauty pageants in Japan.

Her hobbies include playing the guitar, listening to music (rock is her favorite), playing ping pong and softball.

Miki said her favorite subject here is typing—she takes courses in it at both Thrasher High School and the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School. Her least favorite subject here is driver's education, she said.

In Japan her favorite subject was English—she studied it for six years.

Debbie says that Miki fits in well at the McNally home—she even helps with the chores.

However, some of the American customs surprise her. For example, Miki was surprised with the way

American students treat their parents.

"We joke with ours," Debbie said, "she treats hers with more respect."

On the other hand, one Japanese custom that surprised Debbie was that students in Japan do not call their older classmates by name. Instead they call them by the title of "Senpai." Also, when a younger student meets an older student in the hallway, they bow to them.

Miki admits it may be a little difficult to return to some of the Japanese customs after living in the U.S. for nine months.

As for the classes here, she said they are of about the same difficulty as those in Japan. But, because of the language, it takes her a long time to do her homework.

Of the 12 previous exchange students who attended Thrasher High School, Principal Harold Padgett said one of the girls married a young man from Corinth and another is engaged to marry another local boy.

Although Miki's future is uncertain, she said she plans to attend a business school when she returns to Japan after this school year. She hopes to eventually become a travel agent in Japan, she said.

For Hospital, College

DOE Grants Approved

Two Department of Energy grants, totaling almost $111,000, have been awarded to two Booneville facilities, according to Congressman Jamie Whitten's office in Washington.

A DOE grant in the amount of $72,658 has been awarded to the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville and another in the amount of $38,301 has been awarded to the Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

George McGreger, Director of Educational Media at Northeast, said the DOE grant for the junior college will be used to provide insulation, storm windows and other energy saving measures in four buildings on the campus—the Eula Dees Library, Estes Hall, the Frank Haney Union and Stringer. The grant to the junior college is a 50-50 matching grant, McGreger said.

The grant to the NEM Hospital is also to be used for energy saving measures.

"The grant is the result of an application following an energy audit by TVA personnel to determine ways the hospital can renovate or install equipment and fixtures that will help us lower our energy usage," Carl Barker, hospital administrator, said.

"We will be following the plan as outlined by TVA," he said, "modifying the present system, making some changes, some additions."

Since the facility involved was a hospital, the DOE grant was awarded on a 75-25 matching fund basis—DOE provides 75 percent of the funding and the hospital the additional 25 percent. The full project will involve more than $96,000.

At Northeast Junior College, McGreger said, electrical usage has dropped in the past four years from 4,209,682 kilowatt hours in 1976-77 to 3,948,794 kilowatt hours in 1979-80—even with the addition of two new buildings.

However, during that period the cost of the electricity increased from a total of $98,000 to $153,332, even with the decrease in electrical usage.

"At those costs it won't take us long to get our money back," McGreger said.

The application for the Northeast Junior College grant was also filed following a TVA energy audit, he said.

'After School' School Begins

In an effort to reduce tardiness among Booneville High School students, effective this past Monday, the school began an "after school" school.

Supervised by the faculty and administration of BHS, the special school is for students who are tardy to homeroom each morning.

The "after school" school was instituted to replace the method of removing points from the students' grades for being tardy to homeroom, according to Principal Mac Curlee.

"Upon the discretion of the administration, the

"after school" school will also be used as a disciplinary measure for students," the administration said in a note to parents, "but its primary objective is to encourage students to get to school on time."

"Booneville High School recognizes that the 'after school' school may be an inconvenience on occasions, but students arriving at school at the correct time is of the utmost importance to both the faculty and administration," the note continues.

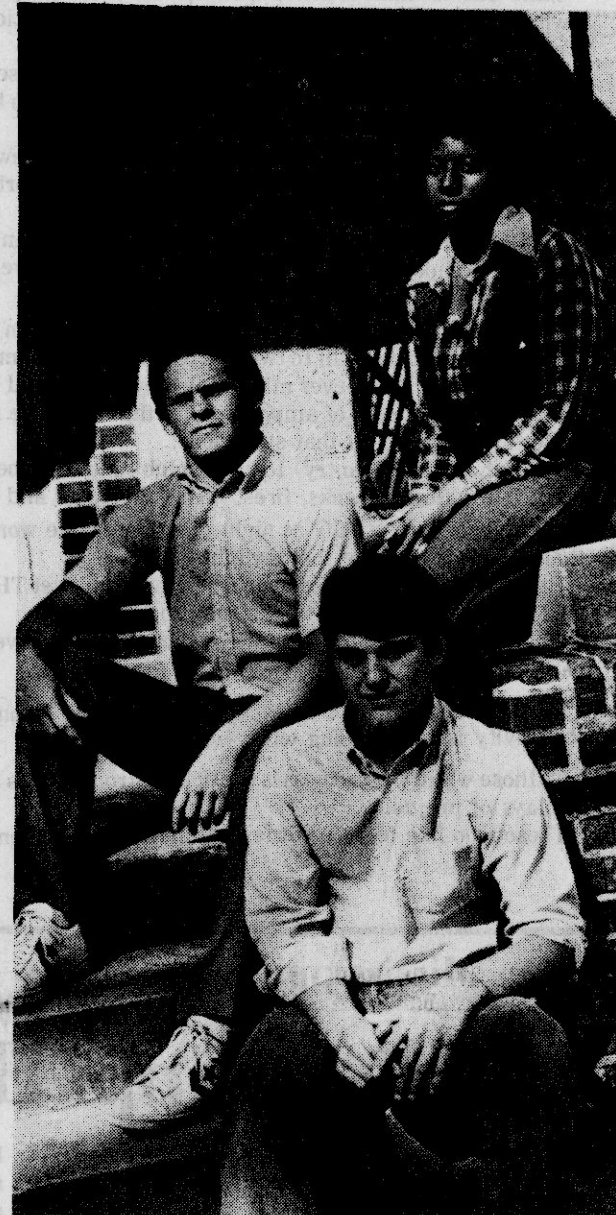

Any student who has been told to report to the "after school" school and who fails to do so, will be subject to a one-day suspension. A suspension from school is an unexcused absence, Curlee said.

Parents were requested to sign and return the note which was given to students to take home last Friday.

The signature of the parents on the letter does not mean they are giving their permission for the "after school" school, Curlee said; it just means they have read the statement.

"The purpose of the note is to inform the parents," he said.

Booneville Chiropractor Attends Seminar

Dr. Michael J. Ream, a Booneville chiropractor, flew to Washington, D.C., over the weekend for an intensive study in Biomagnetics.

The seminar was conducted by Dr. Richard Broeringmeyer D.C., M.D., Ph.D., a well known author, lecturer and researcher, and his associate Dr. Robert Yowell of Winchester, Va. Both doctors are pioneering the field of Biomagnetics and, with the assistance of the University of Illinois, are documenting the validity and effectiveness of this science, Dr. Ream said.

"Biomagnetic analysis, simply stated, is a method by which the health practitioner can determine the functional state of an organ, nerve or any other tissue," he said, "whether the organ is in a state of hyper or hypo function."

"These two states will enable the health practitioner to arrive at a functional diagnosis and to work out a successful treatment program," the Booneville chiropractor said.

post office in the downtown area if possible. However, if it is not possible to do so, he is still in favor of the new building, provided it is located in the best possible area for service to the citizens of Booneville and Prentiss County.

Postmaster Wright emphasized, "We're not building the new building to cut service to the downtown area, but to give better service to all our customers. We'd like to stay where we are, but we just don't have enough space."

The new facility will mean better service to the customers of the post office, Wright said. For example, there are currently no lock boxes available at the post office. All 468 are currently rented and if someone wants one, they must wait until one becomes available. In the new building, there will be more than twice as many lock boxes available, about 1,000 to 1,200.

There will be more parking spaces—off street parking—for post office customers and also ample parking area for employees. There will be ample dock space for the loading and unloading of mail trucks—a serious problem with the present facility.

The loading facility will also be covered so that employees can load and unload their vehicles in a dry area when it is raining.

For the customers, there will be better services at the window, Wright said. For example, now only one clerk can sell money orders at a time because the post office only has one machine. In the new facility, there will be two such machines which means waiting time should be reduced.

"The new building will definitely be constructed to aid handicapped persons," Wright said. Doors, boxes and vending machines will be accessible to them.

Mayor Crabb fully supports this phase of the design. He has had an ongoing program to improve handicapped facilities in the city.

The projected cost of adding just a handicapped ramp to the existing post office building was more than $50,000.

Wright said it is his understanding the present building will be sold for market value. Chancery Clerk Phillip Cole has expressed an interest in having the county purchase the building for office space, he said.

"The new facility will be built on the projection of what we will need some 15 to 20 years from now," Wright said. "The new building will have good growing room."

The Postmaster said that within the next 10 years the post office expects to have to add two additional routes in Booneville.

The projected construction period for the new building is October 1981 through October 1982.

The present building was constructed in 1939.

Light Needed

"If there was ever a need in the city of Booneville for a traffic light, it is needed at Smith and East Church streets."

Pretty Good, But

"The Family Album of Old Prentiss County (in last week's paper) was pretty good, but there's enough old ones around that it could have been researched a little better. Thank you very much."

Thanks To WBIP

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Judicial Discipline

A competent federal judiciary is essential if the three branches of our national government are to function in an effective and democratic fashion.

The qualifications of federal judges and their capacity to function honorably and capably are of special interest to the Senate Judiciary Committee which has the responsibility of reviewing and recommending to the Senate whether nominees to the federal bench should be confirmed.

Once a federal judge has been confirmed by the Senate, he serves for life, or as provided in the Constitution, during "good behavior."

The law has been well settled that to enforce the good behavior condition of service, a federal judge would have to be impeached by the House of Representatives. To complicate matters further, a public official is subject to impeachment only for "treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors," according to the Constitution.

In the entire history of the Republic, only nine federal judges have been impeached, and only four of those actually removed from the bench. The last such impeachment of a federal judge was 44 years ago—in 1936.

Faced with the need for a more appropriate procedure for handling cases of misconduct of federal judges, the Senate has passed a bill to establish a new system within the judiciary itself to permit imposition of disciplinary sanctions in cases involving federal judges.

Under our legislation a complaint may be filed against a federal judge who "has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the court, or is unable to discharge all the duties of office by reason of mental or physical disability."

A Judicial Council, made up of other judges, will then investigate the complaint, and if necessary conduct a hearing and take sworn testimony for the record. The Council may then reprimand or censure a judge, certify disability, request retirement, or temporarily suspend future assignment of cases to a particular judge.

An appeal of the Judicial Council action may be taken, by either the complaining party or the affected judge, to the Judicial Conference of the United States, if either is not satisfied with the decision.

This bill will provide a way to discipline federal judges, when necessary, short of impeachment and help assure public accountability of judges who enjoy life tenure.

Although on the whole the caliber of person serving in the federal judiciary has been extremely high, the problem of an unfit judge is very serious. It could undermine respect for law as well as for the federal courts.

At present, there are about 850 federal judges in the country. Most of them have demonstrated they possess the professional competence, judicial temperament, and the personal integrity demanded by this very important job.

But there are cases from time to time which require action, usually less drastic than impeachment. Our bill is a remedy for this gap in the law.

The separation of powers principle in the U.S. Constitution makes the judiciary branch independent and equal to the legislative and executive branches of government.

Therefore, any system for the discipline of federal judges must be consistent with the Constitutional independence of the judiciary.

I believe our legislation on judicial discipline meets this Constitutional burden and could be a significant step in the effort to improve the confidence of our citizens in the administration of justice in the federal courts.

What Is It?

The Community Newspaper

Just what is the function of a community newspaper? Every single reader has his or her own opinion of what a community newspaper is supposed to do.

But the fact is, even among themselves, they disagree on the very basic issues of what a small weekly paper is supposed to do. Some believe it serves a church function. It should bring the community together and guide its citizens to good thoughts and actions.

Others think it should be a paper arm of the community—a billboard and calendar and newsletter to inform every towns-person of the goings-on of every other towns-person.

Some think the community paper serves as a school—it should instruct, explaining the news and telling what can be done about it.

Some think it should be a policeman for all, guarding the community and any politicians in the vicinity from pleasantly ripping out each other's throats—or having someone else rip their throats.

Some like to think a newspaper has the same purpose as the town cinema—to provide (well, at least to find) action-packed drama and larger-than-life thrills.

Still others think the paper is primarily a shopping service—a mini-mall of advertisements and classified ads that run the gamut from junk to jewelry.

And, in every town, there are those who think the newspaper is primarily a sports arena, sports announcer and sports booster club rolled up into one.

Finally, one must never forget that wonderful—and large—group who think a newspaper should be all of the above. And to a certain extent they are right.

But never mind that many weekly newspapers are in a position to afford one and one-half to two and one-half staff members to do all these things. And never mind that they aren't paid enough to afford the large doses of amphetamines that would be necessary to get even half of all that stuff done.

They should (and do try) to cover club meetings, beauty contests, ball games, wrecks, fires, board meetings and dozens of other things. And usually at night after they have worked more than a full day during the daylight hours.

But they still get pounced upon when they don't get THE picture or THE story somebody thinks they should.

You know the only problem with trying to please everyone? It can't be done.

To those who think a newspaper should take strong stands, objectivity is really being wishy-washy.

To those who think fairness is the ticket, strong stands are really displays of prejudice.

Those who like feature stories find hard news pretentious and boring. And those who like hard news find features silly and boring.

If a paper prints lots of pictures—or big pictures—it's because they're too lazy to get the news. If it doesn't, it's because the photographer is lazy—or lousy.

When a newspaper makes an error, they are careless, sloppy and not devoted to their jobs. Never mind that there are more than 800 (that's eight hundred) opportunities to make an error in each column inch (that's one inch) of news space. And never mind that the person who made that error may have been up until 2 a.m. the night before trying to get the paper ready to go to the printer.

Way in the background you may occasionally hear a voice (usually sobbing). He knows what a paper really is. You'll hear him whisper it once in a while: "It's a business."

He is the publisher. He pays the bills.

But he doesn't expect anyone to believe him. After all, if it were a real business, it couldn't afford to be church, school, policeman and billboard, could it?

No other business in the world is expected to stick out its economic neck and jeopardize its very existence by taking sides on even the thorniest of issues. And even if it doesn't take sides, it's accused of doing so.

In trying to be all things to all people, a newspaper must exercise great care in what it does and says. It must be careful not to praise the "courage, valor, intelligence or guts" of a fullback bucking a line while we have brothers—such as the Iranian hostages—who know the real meaning of these words.

Community newspapers don't kid themselves. They are not in a position to influence world opinion, elect a president, or rid the country of cancerous growth in federal government. Only rarely does a community newspaper, such as the small weekly in California in 1979, win a Pulitzer prize. Such prizes are almost always reserved for the New York Times and the Washington Post.

But a community newspaper can have a lasting effect—good or bad—on its community. It must exercise discretion in the way it wields the 26 sharp-edged tools of its trade called the alphabet. It must always realize that a good newspaper can make a better community. And a good community can make a better newspaper.

So what is a community newspaper?

It is usually cursed, sometimes praised, and always expected to include in its columns everything that could be of interest to any one of its readers—yet never print anything that a single reader might object to.

It is a man-made product, subject to the frailties and foibles of human hands and minds. Plus the demanding pressures of deadlines.

And hard as it tries, it can never be everything it is expected to be.

Eyes On Mississippi

Mississippi Has Its Own 'Gipper'

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—You haven't heard the last of Leon Bramlett, the handsome, square-jawed Delta plantation owner who very nearly snatched the Republican gubernatorial nomination from Gil Carmichael after making a last-minute entry in the 1979 race.

Bramlett, who came on very quickly as a highly attractive new ace for Main Street conservatives in Mississippi, evidently liked his first taste of running for political office and he is keeping in training for another race, very likely a shot at governor in 1983.

Of course, the tall, steel-grey haired Clarksdale businessman-planter is not yet making any firm plans about another gubernatorial bid, but he modestly admits that "many people are urging me" to become a candidate in the next race for governor. So far, says Bramlett, "I haven't decided on it."

A one-time All-American lineman at the Naval Academy, Bramlett somewhat reminds one of the helmet-less movie version of the Gipper, played by another prominent political figure of our times named Ronald Reagan, who is at the moment Bramlett's chief political interest.

Bramlett admits that the outcome of the presidential race this fall, both in Mississippi and nationally, will probably have a lot to do with his deciding to take another stab at being the first Republican governor of this Deep South state in more than a 100 years or go back to his comfortable life as a Delta planter.

Meantime, Bramlett is doing what any probable candidate for governor would be doing, increasing his visibility at public gatherings around the state. He is very much in demand at county Reagan campaign headquarters openings and as the main attraction for county fund-raising dinners and functions to get money for the Reagan campaign in Mississippi.

These affairs are being attended by a good many crossover Democrats who are supporting Reagan rather than Jimmy Carter, and the exposure for Bramlett should not in the least harm his chances of keeping those same Democrats on his side should he run for governor three years hence. Significantly, Bramlett is a prime example of a Mississippi Democrat converting to Republicanism, since he was once state chairman of the Democratic Party, in the days of Dixiecrat Gov. John Bell Williams.

Aside from helping Reagan's chances of carrying Mississippi in November, Bramlett's round of Reagan meetings is helping him build an organization for future use, something he didn't have when he made his surprise entry in the GOP primary last year against the seasoned Carmichael. Only Carmichael's organization barely saved him from being upset by the Bramlett challenge, many observers believe.

Some of Bramlett's backers are urging him to take a first look at running for the United States Senate in 1982 as the GOP standard-bearer should Congressman Trent Lott decide not to make that race if he becomes Minority Whip in the U.S. House. Evidently the 57-year-old Bramlett has not rejected the idea of a Senate race completely, but he is disinclined to seek the post because he favors starting a young man in the job.

There's even a chance that should Reagan win the presidency Bramlett would be called into the Reagan Administration in some sub-cabinet post either in national defense because of his Naval Academy background, or in agriculture where he has built a very successful career both as a cotton planter and gin operator. That sort of service wouldn't impede his chances of coming back to run for governor of Mississippi in 1983.

Bramlett is the personification of fundamental conservatism which appeals to a great many Mississippians and delights the GOP Old Guard. Some political observers speculated that if Bramlett had been Gov. William Winter's opponent in the 1979 general election, Winter would have had a far more difficult time winning that he did, because Bramlett would have changed the perspective into a perceived struggle between conservatism and liberalism. As a media candidate on television, Bramlett proved to be ideal, because he had the face, the appearance of strength and conviction, together with a good, rich voice that is a publicist's dream. The fact that Bramlett is wealthy (his reported net worth in 1979 was $3.2 million) doesn't seem to hurt anymore in Mississippi, because the popular belief is he would not have to steal once he got into public office.

Should a 69-year-old Reagan spin old-time conservatism into a formula for political success in 1980, you can bet that a former Navy football star turned Delta planter will be a hot prospect to also do it in Mississippi in 1983.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

The library needs to keep its books in circulation in order to offer the best possible service of which it is capable to you. Your use is its purpose!

However keeping a piece of material out indefinitely hampers these efforts more than many users realize. Except for children's books, long overdue materials are usually those that are in demand and often among the more costly items.

It is an easily understood happening but one which should be attended to because caring more, not being "careless," is our aim.

Some users may be unaware that an overdue fine can be avoided by calling the library at the proper time and that an opening on the parking lot side of the building marked "book depository," makes it possible to return materials, except recordings, at any time. Should a fine exist on such materials, it can be taken care of the next visit.

A library can never have too many good users.

If you have never requested a user's card at the George E. Allen Library, we welcome you to do so and become one of them.

Poetry Society Elects Officers

Emory D. Jones of Iuka and the Northeast Mississippi Junior College was elected secretary of the North Mississippi Branch of the Mississippi Poetry Society Inc. at an organizational meeting in Aberdeen Sunday, Sept. 28.

Elected president was Sarah Peugh of Aberdeen, who hosted the meeting. Patsy Clark Pace of Aberdeen, co-hostess of the meeting, was elected vice-president and the Rev. Jim Dollar of Amory was elected treasurer.

Mrs. Peugh appointed Dr. Charles Treas from the University of Mississippi as historian of the northern branch of the poetry society and Erin Pitner of Tupelo as by-laws chairman.

The purpose of the new organization is to perpetuate the Mississippi Poetry Society Inc.; to further North Mississippi poets and their works; to give public awareness of the beauty and value of poetry; and to organize high school poetry societies, according to Mrs. Peugh.

Scheduled meetings dates for the North Mississippi Branch of the Mississippi Poetry Society include a branch meeting Dec. 7 with Dr. Louis Dollarhede at the University of Mississippi; a branch meeting March 1, 1981, at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College with Emory D. The presence of E.J. Knight of Greenville, Miss., added greatly to the spiritual atmosphere of worship at Beckley Chapel M.E. Church on Sunday morning, as he gave a very interesting and spiritual account of his acceptance of Christ and his religious belief and convictions in a personal testimony. He is presently living in this community while an employee of the Tombigbee waterway.

The pastor, the Rev. Powell, stated before the message of the morning that positive signs of spiritual growth are evident among the congregation as new faces are beginning to appear in the Sunday School and worship service.

Joseph Charles Fields is doing a superb job of training and directing in his position as Sunday School superintendent at Spring Hill M.B. Church. In recent weeks the attendance of both young people and adults has increased tremendously. We are thankful for this renewed interest and participation in both churches and pray that it will continue.

A program sponsored by the Usher Board of Beckley Chapel, held Sunday afternoon, is reported to have been a big success and the desired results obtained. The members expressed their appreciation to the public for their attendance and cooperation.

Mrs. Annie B. Shinault, Mrs. Josephine Fields and Mrs. Gwendolyn Burress accompanied me to the pastor's anniversary program held at the New Lebanon Baptist Church of Tupelo on Sunday afternoon. Afterwards, we visited the sick of this community that are patients in the Tupelo hospital.

Mrs. Myrtle Crockett appeared greatly improved in her condition. William (Cassie) Roland stated that he was feeling much better, although tests would continue on Monday to determine his condition.

Mrs. Alice Maisie was resting quietly after a very severe attack earlier that morning. She expressed a strong desire to come home and solicits the prayers of all concerned.

We later went to Plantersville to visit with Mrs. Mattie Jennings who was discharged from the hospital on Saturday morning. Her condition was much improved. For those who wish to send a card of cheer, her address is: Route 1, Box 43C, Plantersville, Miss. 38862. She will greatly appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Those in the local hospital are Mrs. Annie Shack and little Michael Betts. Michael was hospitalized on Saturday morning following a serious bicycle accident. Our prayers continue for all of the sick and shutin of the community and the hospital.

Happy birthday wishes are extended to all of the October people, especially to the four members of the Fields family, Uncle Dick, Aunt Jo, Joyce and David, to Mrs. Lillian Childers, the Rev. Powell and myself. We will all be thankful for the day that God has given us and look forward to many more.

Mrs. Marsha Ragins and Mrs. Gertrude Brooks will honor the senior citizens of the community in a special service on Sunday morning during the workshop hour at Spring Hill M.B. Church. Those in need of transportation to the services, may call either Mrs. Ragins or Mrs. Brooks.

Miss Sally Gardner will sponsor a program on Sunday afternoon featuring the young people of the Sunday School and B.T.U. of Spring Hill. Youth from area churches will also participate in this program beginning at 3 p.m. The public is invited.

An Ill Wind Is Blowing

A double minded man is unstable in all his ways. (Ja. 1:8)

There are some things that you have to speak for and there are many things that speak for themselves; in this case both sayings apply.

I do not feel that our community leaders are so unstable in their beliefs that they can be swayed by every ill wind that blows, but it does not hurt to double-check and be sure all is secure before the storm. For there is a very strong unsavory wind blowing within the community, blowing distrust and hate before it. If there are no precautions taken beforehand, when the storm is over there is nothing left but despair, sorrow and destruction.

I know that you, our responsible leaders, are on solid ground and, in a sense, safe from harm. But what about those within the community who are uneducated, unprotected, the sick and elderly who are insecure and easy prey for any good sounding doctrine, and especially our children? How do we protect them, our most prized possessions, from the hatefilled propaganda of a corrupt and warped mind that preaches the love of God and his righteousness in one breath and in that same breath preaches hate and destruction for our fellowman?

Certainly not by playing the ostrich and hiding our heads in the sand hoping that if I see no evil, hear no evil, and speak no evil it will all blow over.

Now is the time to exercise that great Christian responsibility and duty to ensure that same safety for all our people. Be strong and help those who are weak in any way needed. Guard your children well and know at all times where they are, what they are being taught and who is doing the teaching lest your joy in them turn to sorrow and heartache.

Tonight I have had to face the harsh reality of man's inconsistency and watch faith, trust, admiration and respect crumble and die. Disillusionment is a bitter pill to swallow, but it is far better that your eyes are open to see clearly the truth for yourself than to blindly continue to follow the blind and you both fall in the ditch.

I know that for every disappointment in life God gives us compensations and the strength to accept with humility whatever our lot may be. But when disappointment comes and brings with it the desire to lash out, we need to stop and examine ourselves, for it may be God's way of testing you for the purpose of reproving, approving, or improving and at all times all of us stand in need of one or the other.

Let us strive to be content with what we have and live at peace with our fellow man, for this is God's will.

Thought for today: God offers to every mind its choice between truth and repose. Take which you please, you can never have both. (Emerson)

Belated greetings to the following who celebrated birthdays last week: Cherry Coats, Oct. 1; Sherry Owens, Oct. 2; and William Thomas Coats, Oct. 3. Lester Coats will celebrate on October 7.

I had a check-up on my eyes last Friday, Oct. 3. The report was that the vision in my left is perfect, but I must continue the three kinds of drops in the right eye and go back to Dr. Shipp Dec. 5.

In Amblyopia Program

JA Tests 450 Children

Since September was proclaimed as Amblyopia Month by Mayor Crabb of Booneville, the Booneville Junior Auxiliary has tested over 450 children for the disease.

All six Head Start Centers in Prentiss County, all first grade classrooms at Booneville Elementary School and the Booneville Kindergartens were visited and tested.

All classrooms will be revisited to retest those found with some deficiency, before referral to a doctor for treatment.

The Amblyopia screening is just one of the many ways the Booneville Junior Auxiliary serves the community. All Booneville Junior Auxiliary projects are funded by donations given through the Booneville Junior Auxiliary Annual Charity Ball.

Your Health Insurance NOW Covers Chiropractic Health Care... Mississippi Insurance Law Information

A Bill passed by the Mississippi legislature upheld by the insurance commissioner of the state of Mississippi, now makes the inclusion of Chiropractic care in all of Mississippi Issued Insurance policies mandatory.

No policy issued in the State of Mississippi can any longer draw distinction between a Medical Doctor and a Doctor of Chiropractic in the payment of claims.

The bill, House Bill 393, went into effect April 24, 1980. It is a historic and significant achievement, an acknowledgement of the rights of each individual to seek out the doctor and method of health care which he has found to be, in his own experience, most effective.

It is possible, however, that not all insurance companies or their agents are yet aware of the full implications of this bill. Your doctor will make every effort to expedite any claims you may have.

The woodland colors comes quietly and spreads, leaf to leaf, branch to branch, and tree to tree. Yellow, golds, scarlet, ruby, crimson, maroon, purple and brown are the colors of the woodlands new fall wardrobe.

Frost comes and puts an end to growing things. So put away the hoe, and close the garden gate. After six months of garden work, it's time for a rest.

Autumn's messages are written in many ways. A frosted spider web, hibernation of the frogs, morning mist, and squirrels hoarding nuts are all signs of the time. Now come the quiet chilly days of Indian summer.

The plants send their seeds through the air to take root another year. The time of leaf fall brings scuffling, but the leaves mulch the earth, and the seeds fall among them. To us, it seems the end of the growing season, but Nature is already preparing another green season.

On Wednesday, Oct. 1, grades 2A and 2B of Hill's Chapel Attendance Center enjoyed a field trip. It had been planned in Social Studies and Health.

Accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Mauveline Wilemon, Mrs. Ann Bridges, and Mrs. Linda Denson, and bus driver Bob Wiginton, the group toured the dairy barns of Mr. and Mrs. Gearld Tennison, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Moss in the Burton community. Then on to the sorghum mill of William L. McKinney in the New Hope area.

The following day, the children were asked to write about their experience. The following are what some of them had to say about it. Nothing has been corrected. Words and spelling are that of the child.

Mary Hoffman
I got on a muddy bus. I sat in a muddy seat. I saw a lot of cows. I saw the cows get milked. I petted the horse. I went to the sorghum mill.

Angela Dawn Cleveland
The Trip: I liked that trip. It was a very good trip. The trip was fun. I rode a bus. My teacher was very good to me and I had a good time.

Shawn Weaver
Today we ate Sogrum malasses I liked it. And when I was at the Dairy. There was a black bull. That started at me.

Jennifer Dunaway
We went on a tip on a bus. We had fun. The dairy barns Do you know where mik come frau? We went to the sorghum mill. We eat sorg.

Kristy Hutchens
Yesterday 1A and 2B went on a trip to 2 dairy farms.

And then we went to a sorghum mill. When we went to the dairy barns we got to see people milking the cows. went to the sorghum mill. We got to eat some mulass.

Jennifer White
I went to some dairy barns the first of October and a sorghum mill. It was fun seeing all the animals cows pig ponys and at the sorghum mill I ate some mollsis and and it was good.

Special thanks to Mrs. Wilemon for sending these to me. I enjoyed them and I know that all our readers will, too.

My special feelings for Mrs. Mauveline Wilemon run much deeper. Some years back, 1961-62, Mrs. Wilemon was my second grade teacher. I am not one with a very good memory, but through the years a few select things have stayed with me and I have no doubt that they will always be there.

Not only does Mrs. Wilemon teach the basics of education, she cares for the children. I remember her kind and gentle, but sometimes firm manner.

Once a classmate and I turned up with identical new coloring books on the same day. Whether by accident or an act of jealousy I don't recall, but for some reason I tore a page from Kay's book. Mrs. Wilemon made me give her my new book.

At the time, she was just a mean teacher, a real monster in the mind of a 7 year old. But it didn't last long, because the next day my friend returned my book.

Today, I thank Mrs. Wilemon for a lesson in life that could never be taught from a book.

I still see her from time to time, but have not kept as close as I would have liked. Fond memories of her, as an outstanding teacher and wonderful person are always near.

Tracy Burns, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burns, recently had surgery for a hernia at the hospital in Tupelo. I'm sure it was a frightening experience for a 10 year old. He has had a speedy recovery so far and here's hoping that it will continue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Armstrong of Altitude and friends Mr. and Mrs. Don Dowdy of Memphis have just returned from a six day vacation. They visited Niagara Falls in New York and Canada. On the way, they stopped by in Pittsburgh, Pa. to visit with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Newborn and Michael of Jasper, Alabama were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ides Rutherford.

Tom Chase passed away early Saturday morning. Our sympathy for his many friends and loved ones. He will be greatly missed. Funeral services were held Sunday at McMillian's Funeral Home with burial at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Garland Green, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Henry Green, celebrated his first birthday Tuesday night. Enjoying cake and ice cream with him were his parents and brothers Bradley and Bill, Travis Riddle, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Cromeans, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Riddle, Glenn & Tracy, Al Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Duncan, Sonya, Misty and Tiffany. Garland's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Riddle and Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Green.

Also, Miss Tracy Riddle had her eight birthday on Saturday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Riddle.

Happy birthday wishes for Brenda Wiginton on Oct. 5, Shirley Nicholson, Oct. 7; Pat McKinney, Oct. 8; Gary Morgan, and Hershel Chase, Oct. 9; Pauline Henderson Oct. 10; and Lucille Phillips on Oct. 11.

Supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dunaway and family on Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dunaway and Jason, and Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Dunaway and April, all of Saltillo.

Mrs. Lucille Moorman, Junior Moorman and Carla Moorman were in our area over the weekend. They were here from Gautier to attend the Jones family reunion which was held on Sunday. They stayed overnight in the home of Mrs. Moorman's son, Billy Moorman.

Fourteen members of the Booneville Junior Auxiliary attended the workshops.

Next year the Region II meeting will be held in Ocoola, Arkansas.

SCHOOL LUNCH PLANNING—Representatives from the ten counties of the Seventh District, Mississippi School Food Service, met last week at the Booneville Middle School. Among those present were (l to r): J.H. Walker, Assistant State Director of Administration and Finance; Willie Via, Supervisor Booneville City Schools; Earline Walker, Supervisor Ripley Schools; Martha Kelly, Supervisor Aberdeen Schools; and Dorothy Scheuer, Area Supervisor for the State Department of Education.

Lunch Rooms

To Served

Mexican Meals

In honor of the 1980 National School Lunch Week, Oct. 12-18, the lunchroom staff of the Booneville City Schools plan a Mexican feast next week for students in the city schools.

The special meal will be served at each of the schools on separate days. It consists of ground beef tacos, lettuce and tomatoes, Spanish rice, Mexicali corn, pineapple wedges and milk.

"Mexico, our neighbor to the south, has a reputation for friendliness and hospitality," according to Willie Via, supervisor of cafeterias for the city system.

"Their culture combines fun, food and family in celebrations known as fiestas," she said. "That enjoyment is just what we had in mind when planning a Mexican fiesta for our 1980 National School Lunch Week."

"The lunchroom staff invites parents and teachers to come out and enjoy the Mexican food," Ms. Via said.

Cotton Program Comments Due

Oct. 28, is the final day for sending comments concerning the 1981 Upland Cotton Program. On Aug. 28 the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced the comment period for the 1981 Cotton Program.

The department is seeking comments on such provisions as (1) the loan rate for upland cotton; (2) whether a seed cotton loan program should be offered, and if so, what the loan level should be; and (3) the specifications for bale packaging materials. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is required to announce the upland cotton price support rate for 1981 by Nov. 1, 1980.

Written comments on the 1981 Cotton Program should be sent to Director, Production Adjustment Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Post Office Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013 by October 28, 1980.

USDA To Terminate Beekeeper Indemnity Payment Program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's beekeeper indemnity payment program is being terminated Oct. 9, 1980. This action was taken because of the limited scope of the program and its lower budgetary priority contributing to its relatively ineffectiveness.

The program, which had been in effect since June 1971, provided for federal indemnity payments to beekeepers whose bees were killed by insecticides approved for use by the government.

Announcement of the proposal to terminate the program was made by April 4. Interested parties had until June 12 to submit comments. Notice of termination appeared in the Sept. 9 Federal Register.

USDA Calls For Comments On 1981 Feed Grains, Soybean Programs

Deputy Secretary of

Marietta Honor Roll Announced

Bernell Smith, principal of the Marietta Attendance Center, has announced the school's honor roll for the First Six Weeks.

The Honor Students are: Fourth Grade: Melissa Fitzsimmons, Renae Glenn, Laura Hall, Tracy Lindsey, Chris McCreary and Brandie White.

Fifth Grade: Kim Barnes, Shelia Chaffin, Sam DeVaugh, Michelle Maxcy, Gregg Moore and Mary Taylor.

Sixth Grade: Karen Cavness, Laura Slack, Lori Wildmon, Michael Clahoun, Shelia Fowler, Glen Johnson and Amy Mayo.

Seventh Grade: Jeff Barnes, Michelle Cockrell, Angela Harris, Julie McCombs, An Thai Nguyen, Sonya Pharr and Sonja Shirley.

Eighth Grade: Vickie Barron and Kip Loden.

Agriculture Jim Williams asked the public to comment by Oct. 27 on proposals for the 1981 feed grain and soybean programs.

By Nov. 15, a decision must be made on whether to offer a set-aside program or to permit farmers to be eligible for program benefits—including the reserve program—without setting aside acreage, Williams said.

In particular, Williams said, USDA is seeking comments on reserve releases and call prices which are based on production costs and adjusted either by increasing the national average loan price or increasing the gap between loan and reserve prices.

Because of these new authorities, Williams said, USDA is asking for comments on how 1981 target prices should be adjusted from 1980 levels and whether producers should be required to comply with established farm normal crop acreages to be eligible for full program benefits.

Williams said USDA also is asking whether barley and oats should be included in the 1981 feed grain program, and appropriate loan and purchase prices for corn, sorghum, barley oats and rye.

In addition, public comment is requested on whether there should be a land diversion program, and if so, the size of the diversion and level of payment. Comments are also requested on limitations on planted acreage, Williams said.

"Because of the relationship between soybeans and feed gain, we are also seeking public comments on appropriate loan price and purchase price levels for 1981 crop soybeans. Other determinations affecting soybeans include commodity eligibility, storage requirements and premiums and discounts," Williams said.

Written comments will be received until Oct. 27 by the Director, Production Adjustment Division, ASCS, USDA room 3630-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013. All comments will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the director's office.

County Agent's Report

Soybeans Seed Short

It looks like high quality soybean seed for 1981 crops are going to be scarce and rather expensive. Hot, dry weather this summer has resulted in both poor yields and small, lightweight seed in many of our fields.

If you do have a field or two that has received water and is maturing normally, it might not be a bad idea to harvest these for next year's seed. Top quality seed will come at a premium next spring.

On all crops, make sure the combine is adjusted properly to avoid loss of smaller, lighter seed

Subsoil For Profits

Could you use an extra 130 pounds of lint per acre in the 1981 cotton crop? That's the amount subsoiling increased yields in good cotton soils, a study shows.

After harvest is a perfect time to subsoil croplands with traffic pans. A good job of subsoiling will reduce erosion and often nematode problems, in addition to increasing yields. Subsoiling this fall should be particularly effective because dry soils permit greater shattering of hardened layers.

Cotton Notes

Our early, short cotton crop will make it extremely important that we defoliate at the right time. Cotton without leaves means production has stopped. At least 60 percent of the bolls expected to be harvested should be open, or too hard to cut with a sharp knife.

I'm also recommending a disperse control program this fall for boll weevils. Our Extension entomologists and agronomists are encouraging it, too.

Farmweek

If you find our inheritance laws confusing, you'll want to tune in Farmweek on Monday, October 13, at 7:30 p.m. on your local Mississippi ETV station. Dr. Bob Martin, Extension economist, will discuss effective ways of passing land from one generation to another where inheritance taxes and other tariffs are minimized.

Devil Turnover Costly In Fulton Victory

FULTON—A fumble inside the five yard line proved to be the difference here Friday night when Fulton's Indians took advantage of this and went on to notch a 7-6 victory over winless Booneville's Blue Devils in a grid matchup at the Indian Field.

The men in Blue put together yet another top notch defensive effort against the Indians but another costly error proved to be their downfall and led to the one point victory.

The very valuable error came in the second half when Booneville, after jumping out to a 6-0 lead at the intermission, coiffed up the pigskin inside the five yard line.

This indeed was the turning point in the game. The Devil defense, who we just can't say enough about, tried their dead-level best to pull together a goalline defense and did so for three downs but on a fourth and goal situation runningback Randy Rogers swept around left tackle on a sweep for the touchdown that notted the game at 6 all.

Then Mark Green added the very important extra point to give the Indians the 7-6 win.

In the early going, Booneville had things going their way. Quarterback Greg Oakley took charge of the signal calling duties and led the Devils up and down the field and put the first point on the board in the second period.

Oakley, after capping off a 40 plus yard drive, went wide on a quarterback keeper and raced 10 yards to paydirt for the Devils first score of the night

Then, Fulton's Brian Moore blocked the extra point which proved to be the deciding factor in the outcome of the game.

Before Friday's game head Coach Mac Curlee had stated that he had changed the Blue Devil offensive attack somewhat. He used the splitbackfield most of the night and on several occasions runningbacks Brad Miller and Ray Holloway who shared running assignments with Oakley turned in some lengthy runs.

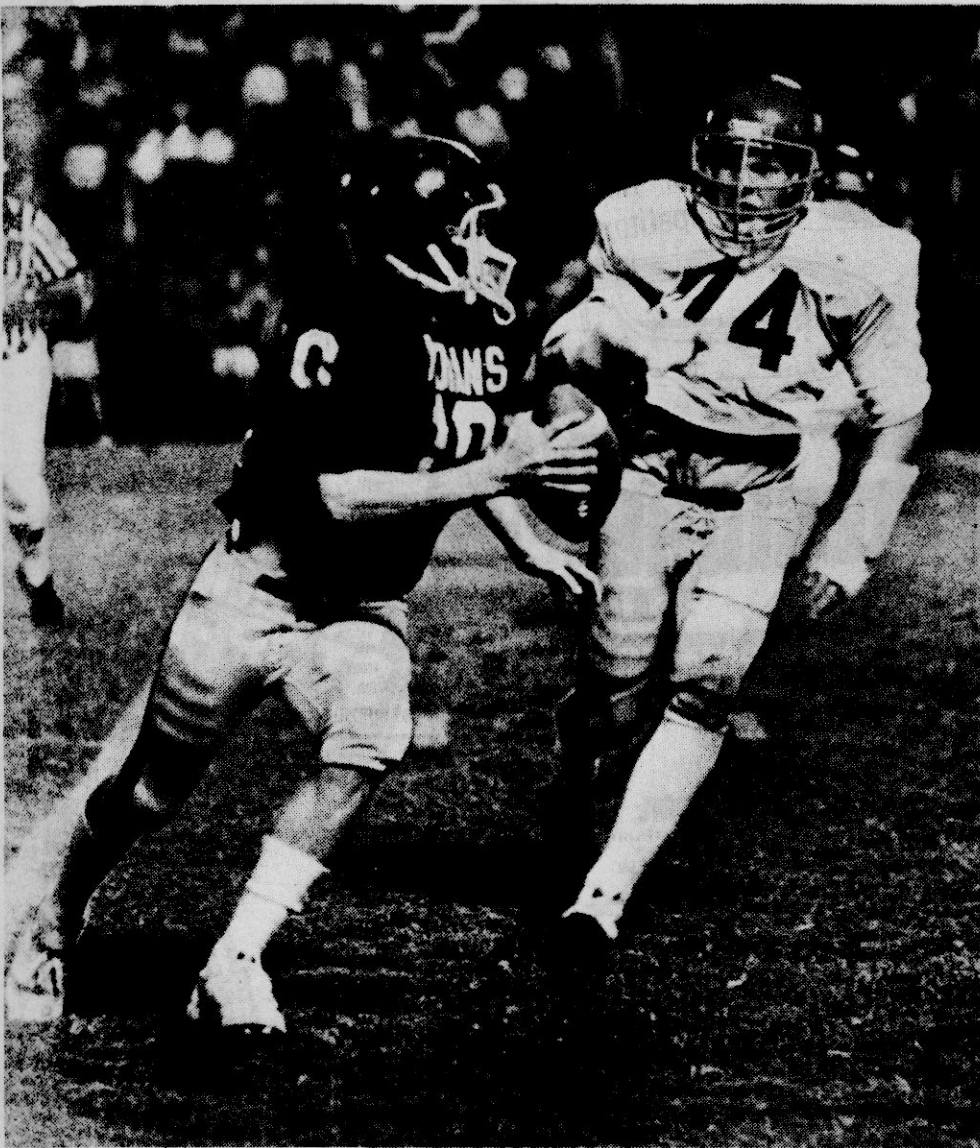

But again it appeared that when the Devils reached scoring range that all important turnover came into the picture.

The win for the Indians was their third of the year against two defeats while the loss dropped the Devils to 0-5 for the '80 campaign.

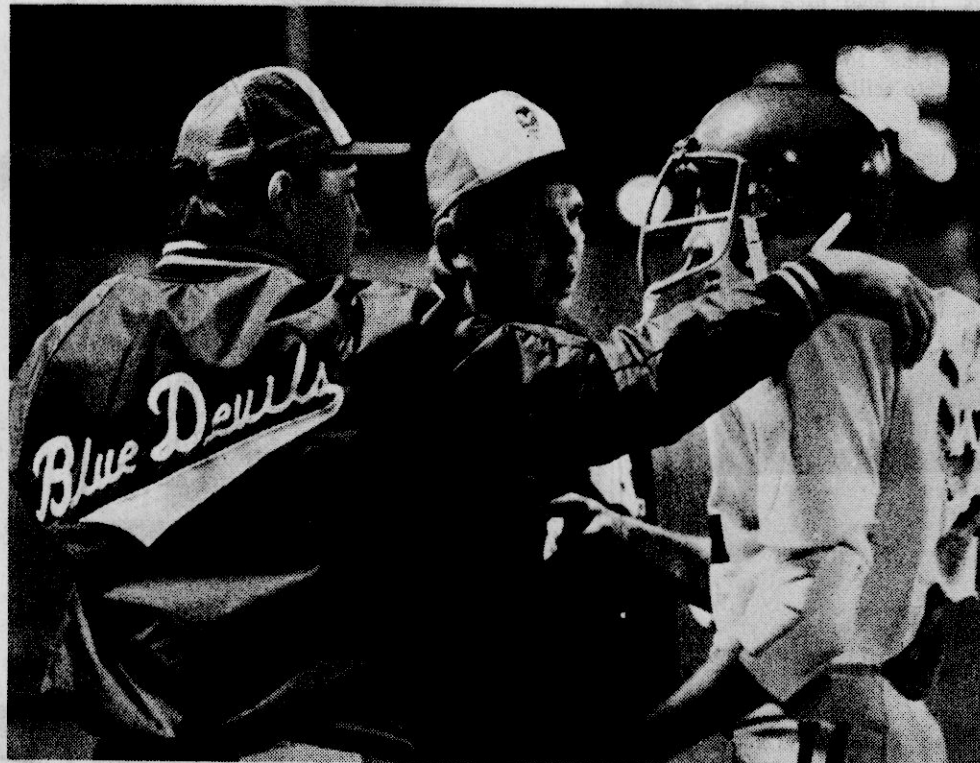

Booneville will host Alcorn Central also winless, tomorrow (Friday) night for Homecoming at 7:30.

AFTER THE INDIAN—Booneville's Nelson Cole (74) chases the Fulton Indian quarterback here in last Friday night's battle at the Indian Stadium. The Indians scored late and took a 7-6 decision over Booneville in the grid matchup.

Busy Weekend

BUSY WEEKEND FOR BRONZIE—Bronzie Morgan of Booneville, NEMJC co-ed, has a busy weekend planned on the gridiron scene. Bronzie will attend the BHS Homecoming Game: Friday night where she will be one of the special guest. She is last year's BHS Homecoming Queen and will crown this year's queen Beverly Goddard during the homecoming ceremonies. Then Saturday, she plans to travel down to Columbus to watch the 1980 NE Tigers in action against East Mississippi. Bronzie is a supporter of both BHS and Northeast and will be busy this weekend. Conference

Roundup

Things went pretty much as expected last week in the Tombigbee Conference Grid race with the two top teams Saltillo's Tigers and Ripley's Tigers picking up easy wins.

Saltillo had an easy time of it against Baldwin's Bearcats winning 28-0 while Ripley handled Kossuth's Aggies 27-7.

In the Saltillo contest, Lockeridge ran wild with some help from quarterback Randy Webb and runningback Harold McGlaun to post their fourth victory of the season without a loss. Saltillo has one tie.

In the Ripley-Kossuth contest, Vince Jourdan ran for one tally and threw for another and Phillip McDonald scored two on the ground to lead the Tigers in their fourth win of the 1980 campaign. Ripley scored two six pointers in each half to post the win. The Aggies scored when Barry Drewry caught a four yard touchdown pass from Teddy Hinton.

In other games Booneville's Blue Devils dropped a 7-6 decision to Fulton's Indians of the Little Ten Conference while Nettleton's Tigers got the best of Okolona's Chieftans 21-14 while another set of Chieftans, Iuka, dropped winless Alcorn Central 21-12.

Strict 'Lee' Speaking

By LEE GEN'TRY
Sports Editor

You just can't say enough about what an outstanding coaching job coach Bill Ward and his assistants are doing this year with the National ranked and unbeaten Tigers. This marks the first time in quite sometime that North Mississippi is so well represented in the junior college ranks.

Lets take just a minute and look at the highlight wins thus far. I can give you two for instances and prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that most of the wins required not only a well prepared job of coaching by the mentors before the game but some top notch work during the game as well.

One for instance came this past Saturday night when the Northeast defense stiffened at the goalline and stopped Hind's threat when obviously the Eagles had momentum and looked almost certain to score the tying touchdown.

I went to practice last week and the defensive coaches were working on just that goalline defense and it certainly paid off last weekend.

This is just one example, another came in the Jones game a few weeks ago when the Tigers scored a last minute touchdown to win. The drive which covered some 45 yards was one of the best executed drives that a coach could asked for and one could plainly see that the offensive Tigers were indeed well coached and knew exactly what to do with time running out.

These are just two examples of the kind of coaching ability that the Northeast staff is doing.

Homecoming Game Set

There's nothing like being at Tiger Stadium for Homecoming. Well the stage is set for the Booneville High School Annual Homecoming Game this Friday night when the Devils will host Alcorn Central.

The 1980 Blue Devils have run into some bad luck this season and could easily have a respectable record rather than their present status of 0-5.

It was a very sad sight last Friday night when the Blue Devil players, coaches, cheerleaders and fans walked off the Fulton field with their heads down. It was a heart-breaking loss and those kind are almost too hard to take. But it's time for the men in Blue to bounce back and forget about those one point losses and get into the win column. So lets all support the Devils for Homecoming Friday night.

Picking and Grinning

If Fieldgoal Fred can brag, so can I. It was a good week for me last week on the prog chart. Picking nine correct games out of 12, I can certainly boast over Fred who had only a mere 4-11 correct and the reason he got those right was that he copied off mine.

Predictions From The Sports Desk

Central at Booneville-Devils will blow them away. Booneville by 18...

Okolona at Baldwyn-Bearcats will seek revenge after last week's loss to Salltillo. The Chieftans are away and the 'Cats will play. Baldwyn by 20.

Northeast at East Mississippi-There all tough for the Tigers now. This one is no exception. In yet another close one, the Tigers will win. NE by 3.

Auburn at LSU-Here's the first of some barn burners. This one could be close but I think that LSU got lucky last week and I'm going with Auburn. Auburn by 10.

Ole Miss at Georgia-Just can't hardly pick the Rebels even though I know they are capable of winning. Georgia by 12.

USM at State-The Golden Eagles will fall this week. Believe me, State will indeed be the underdog but they need this win and the homefield advantage will be enough. State by 7.

Pittsburg at Florida State-This is another close one but the Seminoles will let down after last week's win over the Huskers. Pittsburg by 3.

Texas A&M at Houston-The Aggies are fired up again. They are playing in Houston but it'll go with the Aggies. A&M by 10.

Miami (Fla.) at Notre Dame-It don't think Miami can handle the Irish at Home. Notre Dame by 6.

Oklahoma-Texas-Sooners were upset a few weeks back and they haven't got over that yet. Traditional battle at Dallas I'm going with the Sooners. Who shot J.R.? Oklahoma by 7.

Stanford at UCLA-The Bruins are one tough team... just ask the Buckeyes...UCLA by 14.

Missouri at Oklahoma State-Gotta go with Mo. Missouri by 18.

Till next week...

Tigers Rank First In Gridwire Poll

In a poll released Monday of this week from Santa Ana, California, The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tiger Football squad has been ranked first in the Nation by a poll called "Gridwire," a poll conducted by sportscasters, sports writers, and coaches.

According to the press release, this is the third week in a row for the Tigers from Booneville to earn the top billing. Meanwhile, from the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) poll, the Tigers remained at the number eight national position which they held last week.

The Northeast squad, also ranked first in the state, remained undefeated this week with a 35-28 victory over Hinds of Raymond Saturday night.

NEMJC head coach Bill Ward said he again was pleased with the Tigers top billing. "Our men have played well thus far but we still have a long way to go."

Fieldgoal Fred's Fearless Forecast

(Editor's note: Field Goal Fred is obviously peeved about what we considered good natured kidding about his ludicrous picks on some of the football games. We found the following predictions in an envelope stuffed under the front door of the Banner-Independent with no comments--just these picks over his signature. Good luck, Fred. To Offset Losses

Farmers Look To Planting Wheat

By DAVID SUMMERS
Soil Conservationist

Low soybean yields on hill land has caused several Prentiss County farmers to look at planting wheat behind soybeans to offset their loss of revenue.

Wheat, when properly managed, will produce good yields following soybeans. Let us take a look at two planting methods that can be used to establish wheat behind soybeans.

The first planting method is, after harvesting soybeans, disk and drill 90 pounds of wheat seed per acre. This can be done only when the soybeans will be harvested early enough to allow planting by early November.

The second planting method is to aerial seed 120 pounds of wheat seed per acre into standing soybeans. This practice must be done with caution.

In order to get germination and establishment the standing soybeans must provide good ground cover and the wheat seed must be flown on before the soybeans have lost one-half of their leaves.

If you plan to utilize the grazing provided by wheat and still harvest it for grain increase the seeding rates by one-half.

If your hill soybeans produced low yields this year consider taking up the slack by planting wheat on these fields. You can increase your profits while protecting your soil from erosion.

For more information on wheat production come by the SCS Office in Booneville or call 728-3544

NEW STIMULATOR
Cattle Block

Helps you with the "Big Ifs" of cattle nutrition!

No. 1...IF you can stimulate your cattle's appetite you start the chain reaction that leads to improved nutrition and lower feed costs. New Stimulator cattle block improves appetite because it contains high levels of molasses in a unique form and a sound balance of protein, vitamins and minerals.

No. 2...IF appetite is stimulated, your cattle will eat more roughage. Stimulator's unique form and balance of nutrition enhance consumption of lower quality roughages — day after day.

No. 3...IF rumen digestion is stimulated your cattle will utilize more of what they consume. Stimulator's formula of balanced nutrition helps increase rumen activity and speeds the breakdown of roughage. Result: Better nutrition.

No. 4...IF you achieve better nutrition through better utilization of your home-grown roughages, you save out-of-pocket feed costs, improve herd health, increase conception rates and promote heavier calves at weaning.

All Good Cooks Should Know Their Apples

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Every fall Mother Nature gets out her paint brushes, splashing yellows, oranges and browns all over. Her artistic flair spills over into the grocers' produce counter, too. Here we discover more yellows and multiple shades of red on that favorite fall fruit—the apple.

It's important that you know the Mississippi varieties. One apple may be excellent for baking while another variety, if baked, would completely fall apart.

The Red Delicious is the most popular apple in the United States. It's medium to large in size and is deep bluish red in color. The bottom of the apple usually has four points on the blossom end. This apple is best for eating fresh or for making applesauce. It is not too satisfactory for pies or baking. These apples are available October through March.

Golden Delicious apples are good for pies and sauce as well as for salads and eating fresh. Careful storage is vital because they shrivel badly unless stored at a low temperature with very high humidity.

The Rome Beauty is especially good for baking. You can also use them for general cooking.

Jonathan apples are small to medium in size and have an attractive deep red color. Their tart flavor makes them good for all uses. Jonathans are usually available from September through January.

McIntosh are medium size apples. They are bright red striped with a darker red color. Besides being good for "just plain eating," you can use this apple for pies, sauce and freezing. Look for these from September through March.

Winesaps are a later apple. They're good keepers and good all purpose apples.

After you decide which variety you want, look for apples that are well colored to assure ripeness and full flavor. Best quality apples are firm, well shaped and free from blemishes or soft spots.

To keep apples crisp and tasty, good care and proper storage are necessary. Apples hold their crisp texture best when you keep them in a cool, moist place at about 30 to 35 degrees.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Faithfulness

He That Is Faithful In That Which Is Least Is Faithful Also In Much: . . . Luke 16:10

By C. D. Edge

If you were going to employ a man to do a piece of work which you considered very important, you would want a person who had done less important jobs well. In the business world many a young man has risen from office boy to a higher-up or even to partnership in the firm because of his faithfulness in little things, or his ability to follow orders without arguing the subject.

God is looking for men and women who will do faithfully the little things that come their way. When they have done this, He can trust them with greater duties. THEM THAT HONOUR ME, I WILL HONOUR--I SAMUEL 2:30.

If a child's mother would tell him to bring an armload of wood in for the stove and he would run away to play and not obey her, could she trust him to carry money to the bank for deposit? How would she know that the child would go to the bank? We are God's children and if we do not obey, or are not faithful in the least, how could we expect Him to trust us with much?
