At His Home

Rienzi Man Found Dead From Shotgun Blast

A 62-year-old Rienzi man was found dead on the kitchen floor of his home Friday afternoon of last week, apparently the victim of burglars who broke into his house while no one was at home.

Alcorn County officers speculate he surprised the burglars in the house which is located just across the Alcorn-Prentiss county line.

Alcorn County Deputy Coroner Harold Jones pronounced Bryan "Jack" Yancey, 62, Route 2, Rienzi, dead at the scene. He had been hit once in the chest by a single blast from a shotgun.

Yancey had apparently arrived at his house from work about 3:30 or 4 p.m. when the shooting occurred, according to Alcorn County Chief Deputy Sheriff Terry Doles. He was found lying dead on the kitchen floor by his wife about 5 p.m. when she came home from work, the deputy said.

Mrs. Yancey apparently called the Alcorn County Sheriff's Department from a neighbor's house shortly after 5 p.m.

The burglars reportedly fled the scene of the shooting in a 1970 Ford pickup that belonged to Yancey. The pickup was found abandoned two or three miles south of Yancey's house in a soybean field, officials said.

A quantity of ammunition—.22 caliber and shotgun shells which was believed to have been taken from the Yancey home was found in the truck.

Deputy Doles told the Banner-Independent Wednesday morning that the investigation into the matter is continuing, but at the present time no arrests have been made and none are imminent.

Funeral services for Mr. Yancey were held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 19, from the McMillan Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. J.A. Blunt and Larry Taylor officiating. Burial was in the Hinkle Cemetery.

Mr. Yancey was employed as a carpenter and belonged to the Wheeler Grove Baptist Church. He was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Audine Moss Yancey; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Turner of Corinth; one brother, Burl Yancey of Corinth; four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Lovell and Mrs. Lula Lang of Rienzi, Mrs. Vada Burnside of Memphis and Mrs. Frances Clenney of Los Angeles; and two grandchildren.

McMillan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

From Grand Jury

County Receives Favorable Report

In their final report, issued Monday of this week, the Prentiss County Grand Jury for the October 1980 term of Circuit Court reports that there has been much improvement in the condition of the Prentiss County Courthouse and of the Prentiss County Jail since the last report in February.

As recommended by the previous Grand Jury, a representative of the Board of Supervisors appeared and presented a progress report on the steps taken by the Supervisors and other county officials in meeting the recommendations made by the previous Grand Jury concerning the courthouse, the report said.

"A lot of work has been done since last February and the Prentiss County Courthouse is presently in a much better state of repair," the report says.

The Grand Jury also noted that the building is much cleaner and more orderly and that the bathrooms have been remodeled. Also the previously unused space in the attic above the courtroom is now being used for storage.

Fire extinguishers have also been installed throughout the building.

The Grand Jury reports it was told that the Supervisors are considering the acquisition of the present Post Office building for use as a Chancery Court Building in an attempt to solve the problem of a lack of space in the courthouse. It was announced about two weeks ago that the U.S. Postal Service is in the planning stage of building a new and larger Post Office for the city and should vacate the present building sometime in 1982.

The Grand Jury recommended that the Board of Supervisors continue with all efforts to acquire the Post Office building "by any feasible means since a lack of space is the greatest problem of officials and staff who have their offices in the Prentiss County Courthouse."

Recommendations by the Grand Jury concerning the Courthouse are: More handrails should be installed on the stairways; the areas around the drink machines and trash cans should be kept cleaner; the restrooms need to be kept cleaner and doors should be installed on the stalls in the ladies restroom; and a water fountain is needed upstairs. The Grand Jury also found the condition of the Prentiss County Jail improved from the last report in February. The Board of Supervisors reported that $24,000 has been spent since that time on improving and repairing the jail and the sheriff's office.

However, the Grand Jury made the following recommendations for the jail: The fire extinguishers need servicing as they are now incapable of operation; new mattresses should be installed in the cells; the light bulbs in the cell area need replacing; and the exposed wiring throughout the building should be removed.

While in session, the Grand Jury also returned 13 True Bills into open court after examining 16 witnesses.

The Grand Jury was in active session for two days.

Deputy Sheriff Terry Doles.

The jury returned a sentence of life in prison for the 76-year-old defendant.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Barnes claimed he could not remember any events surrounding the shooting. He testified that he thought

Barnes Sentenced To Life

A 76-year-old Booneville man was convicted of capital murder Wednesday of last week in Alcorn County Circuit Court in connection with the shooting death of a state narcotics agent.

The 11-man, one-woman jury deliberated 20 minutes before finding Chester A.

Barnes guilty of murder in the death of 25-year-old Harold Lane Caldwell, Caldwell, a Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics agent, died after being shot twice in the chest at a Corinth service station on Sept. 14, 1979.

Barnes was also found guilty of aggravated assault against Alcorn County Chief

For Manslaughter

Berryhill Gets 20 Years

In Benton county Circuit Court last week, Circuit Judge W.W. Brown sentenced David L. Berryhill, 24, of Prentiss County to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

A 10-man, two-woman jury had previously found Berryhill guilty of manslaughter in connection with the shooting death of Ricky Padgett, 27, of the Dry Creek Community. The conviction came on Sept. 25 following two days of testimony.

During the trial, Ray Shelton, 19, testified that he saw the shotgun blast that killed Padgett. He said he and three others visitors in Padgett's home had hidden behind the refrigerator, but Shelton said he stepped out from behind it in time to see the blast.

Prior to the shooting, Padgett had reportedly asked Berryhill to leave his home. No one testified to hearing an argument between the two, however.

During the trial, Berryhill testified that he left the house with a date, Teresa Pettis, before Padgett was shot. He said he saw two people "high on dope" fighting in the doorway as he drove away.

TVA Rate Increase Now In Effect

A 13 percent increase in the cost of electric power became effective with all meter readings taken on and after Oct. 2, according to J.W. Abernethy, manager of the Prentiss County Electric Power Association. This rate increase was announced by the Tennessee Valley Authority on Sept. 3.

The effective date of this increase, as well as the amount of the increase, is the same for every consumer within the areas served by TVA.

In the case of Prentiss County Electric Power Association members, the increase will be included in electric bills received on or about Nov. 1 and thereafter, Abernethy said.

"This latest in a series of rate increases which have become effective in recent years is designed to increase TVA's revenues by $401 million in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, 1980," Abernethy said.

"In addition, the TVA board is considering another 13 percent increase to become effective in April of 1981," he said. "Most power distributors and many Congressmen and Senators question whether or not it is necessary to increase the cost of electricity this rapidly."

Under the new rate, members of the PCEPA receiving residential electric service will pay $16.89 for the first 500 kilowatt-hours and $38.11 per thousand kilowatt-hours for all over 500 kwh. A complete rate schedule is included elsewhere in today's Banner-Independent.

For Local Farmers

FmHA Emergency Loans Designated

Prentiss County has been designated for emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) due to damage to many county crops and livestock operations caused by excessive rainfall this past spring followed by drought and extremely high temperatures, according to Mark Hazard, state director of FmHA.

The heavy rainfall occurred during the period of April 1 through May 31, with the drought and high temperatures beginning about June 1 and lasting through Sept. 20.

Prentiss County farmers may apply for emergency loan assistance to recover losses caused by the natural disaster. Applications should be filed in the Prentiss County FmHA office located in the North Mississippi Savings and Loan building, telephone number 728-3542.

Applications for physical and production losses will not be accepted after June 29, 1981. In order to qualify, a farmer must have suffered a 20 percent loss in production.

Hazzard pointed out that actual losses cannot be determined until harvest has been completed. Farmers may file a loan application which may be partially or totally completed; however, they must understand that the application cannot be processed for an actual loss loan until after the harvest has been completed.

FmHA emergency loans are made to qualifying farmers who lack other sources of credit for loans to cover qualifying damages and -or losses to livestock, crops, etc., caused by the natural disaster.

Actual loss loans to farmers are at 5 percent interest. Amounts in excess of the actual losses needed to restore production or to make major adjustments in farming operations are also available at higher interest rates, Hazard said.

If the ballots are returned to the Circuit Clerk's Office, Cox said he could get them out of the Post Office until noon on Monday, Nov. 3. Those wishing to vote in persons at the Circuit Clerk's Office on an absentee ballot must do so by noon Saturday, Nov. 1.

Those wishing to vote on an absentee ballot in the Prentiss County Presidential election must currently be a resident of Mississippi or must have moved from the state within 30 days of the Presidential election.

'Respiratory Therapy Has Come A Long Way Since 1969'

By JIMMY MCANALLY
Director of Respiratory Therapy

Respiratory therapy is a relatively new allied health specialty, having only been established at Northeast Mississippi Hospital in January 1969, and we were one of the first in North Mississippi.

From that modest beginning we are proud of the fact that we can now offer a wide range of services to the community—from simple oxygen administration for patients who are short of breath to pulmonary function testing to determine the extent of the patient's lung disease, and continuous mechanical ventilation for patients who are unable to breathe without assistance.

Respiratory therapy evolved in great part because of the dramatic increase in cardiopulmonary diseases during the 1950's, 1960's and 1970's. These diseases, such as Emphysema, Bronchitis, Asthma, complications of Influenza and others, are still very much prevalent but advances in respiratory therapy and diagnostic procedures are allowing us to combat them in a much more effective manner.

One of the most common pieces of equipment used in respiratory therapy is the Intermittant Positive Pressure Breathing machine, or I.P.P.B. For short. Many may be more familiar with the term "bird machine" or "Bird treatment." "Bird" is the brand name of the particular I.P.P.B machine that we use at N.E.M.H.

Incentive spirometry is another form of therapy that is commonly used on patients before and after surgery to insure deep, prolonged breathing pattern to guard against problems developing following surgery. This procedure can be administered with or without an aerosolized medication being given.

Continuous mechanical ventilation is a less commonly used procedure, but perhaps the most important, and certainly the most sophisticated piece of equipment in the Respiratory Therapy Department at N.E.M.H. We currently have two Bennett MA-1 ventilators at N.E.M.H.

This machine mechanically breathes for the patient who cannot adequately breathe on his own. It has controls for number of breaths per minute, volume of air during each breath, percentage of oxygen, and numerous other controls and alarms.

The Pulmonary Function Machine is a diagnostic tool that allows us to measure our patients' lung volumes and capacities to determine if they have lung disease and to what extent it may have progressed. Some feel it is very helpful before surgery to determine the risk involved with patients about to undergo general anesthesia.

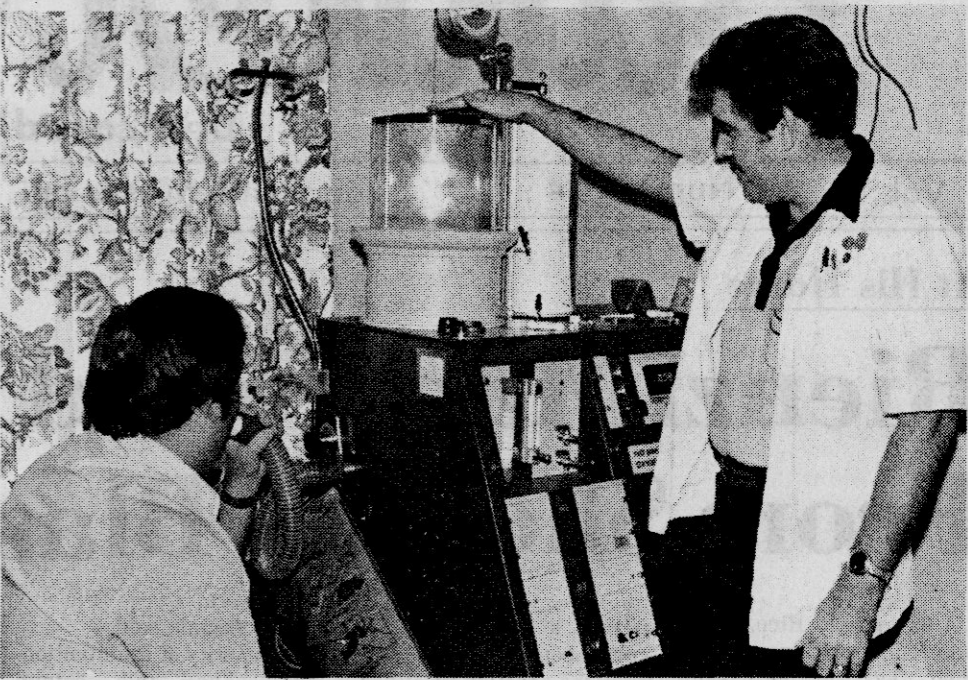

There are several other procedures and pieces of equipment, such as the ultrasonic nebulizers, croup tents, chest physiotherapy, continuous aerosol and intermittent aerosol therapy, that space does not allow us to go into in detail, but that are very important in combatting lung disease.

The Respiratory Therapy Department is also in charge of electrocardiology and electroencephalography. Electrocardiology includes electrocardiograms—EKG for short--and Holter monitoring, whereby the patient wears a small EKG recorder that measures heart activity over a 24-hour period while the patient goes about his normal activity.

Electroencephalography, EEG for short, measures the electrical activity of the brain through 21 electrodes placed at precise locations on the scalp. EEG's are used to evaluate the extent of seizure activity, patients with migraine headaches, stroke victims and other dysfunctions.

Respiratory Therapy has come a long way since 1969. It still has a long way to go, but with the help of the medical staff, other departments in our hospital and the community we serve, we will strive to render quality care to that most important person of all--our patient.

Claims Discrimination

Former City Teacher Files Complaint

Eddie Jumper, a black school teacher who was employed at a Booneville school last year and was not hired by the new Booneville Municipal Separate School District this year, has filed a complaint with the Department of Health and Human Services' Office of Civil Rights, claiming racial discrimination, according to published reports this week.

Jumper, who is also a minister in the black community, was a science and mathematics teacher at Anderson Junior High School last year. He was one of about eight teachers who taught in Booneville schools last year who have not received employment this year.

City school officials have said that not as many teachers were needed this year due to a drop in student enrollment caused by the separation this summer of the city schools from the Prentiss County School system.

An estimated 30 teachers who were employed in schools inside the city last year, were not hired by the city school system this year. The Prentiss County School System absorbed some of these teachers, and others found jobs in other school systems.

Only about eight teachers have not received employment with some school system. Of these eight, seven are white.

City school officials have pointed out that they did not refuse to "rehire" any teachers. Since the Booneville Municipal Separate School District did not exist last year, the city school system did not employ any teachers last year. All teachers in the city schools last year were employed by the Prentiss County School System.

At a meeting last week, the city school board adopted an affirmative action plan, setting goals for hiring minorities in school posts. The plan is designed to increase the number of black teachers to a level at least equal to the percentage of black students in the city school system.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, are people speaking in tongues today as they did in New Testament times?

ANSWER: The tongues of New Testament days or during the first century were not mumbojumbo gibberish but languages that could be understood by those born native to that tongue. Those who were speaking in those tongues, but who had not learned them, were doing so by the power of the Holy Ghost. This was one of the gifts mentioned in 1 Cor. 12:10. This chapter lists nine spiritual gifts. Chapter 14, tell the proper use of them and chapter 13 tell how long they would last. The little expression "When that which is perfect is come" tell us how long the tongues and other miraculous gifts would last. It must be noted that Paul did not say, "He who is perfect" but "That which is perfect." The word "perfect" is from to-teleion, neuter singular adjective, used as a noun and cannot refer to Jesus as a PERSON. People today cannot speak in tongues or raise the dead.

Vail Named To Committee

TIME To Promote State Highways

Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors J.P. Davis, businessman Stewart Vail, and local Representatives Tim Ford and Billy McCoy recently traveled to Jackson to participate in a new committee that has been formed to foster a unified effort among all areas of the state in seeking to solve the state's highway problems. TIME, Transportation Is Mississippi's Emergency, was established at the meeting held Thursday, Oct. 16, in Jackson. It is the culmination of efforts begun Aug. 29 by the East Mississippi Council, a 17-county development organization based in Columbus. Sixty-three community and area leaders, among them representatives from almost every major state, local and area development organization in Mississippi, attended the meeting to discuss Mississippi's Highway Dilemma. The group elected Douise Gordon of Waynesboro as chairman; David Houston III, Aberdeen, vice-chairman; and Warner Wells, Jr., Greenwood, secretary-treasurer. Gordon is the East Mississippi Council's president-elect. An executive committee was also formed with members Tony Bryne, Niatchez; Thomas Ginn, Columbia; Edwin Hardin, Leakesville; John Burns, Jackson; J.M. Cole, Meridian; Anse Dees, Greenville; Stewart Vail, Booneville; Bill Mallery, Aberdeen; and Gene Pierson, Columbus. "We have brought together leaders from every area of our state," Douise Gordon said. "We plan to meet during the first week in November to get going," he added. "This newly formed committee has a goal of getting as many people as possible involved in working together to help solve our highway problems," Gordon said. Recommendations made by B.F. Smith of the Delta Council were considered by the committee and adopted as a base from which to build a highway plan for the state. Included in these recommendations to be considered by the Executive Committee are: (1) Continue to support the use of proceeds from the sales tax on motor fuel sales to finance highway development. (2) Urge that the "repealer clause" be eliminated so that the sales tax on motor fuel sales can be used for highway construction on a permanent basis. Without this action, the authority to use these funds for highway purposes will expire in 1981. (3) Urge that the $42 million cap imposed by the 1980 session of the Legislature be removed so that the entire 78 percent can be devoted to highway development. (4) Recommend that an adequate bonding authority be provided. (5) Urge that existing two lane highways be upgraded and used as a part of the four lane system wherever practical and feasible. (6) Urge that every effort be made to increase efficiency and eliminate waste so that use of available funds can be maximized. "We intend to take up these proposals at the November meeting, and we will call on any interested citizen or group to join with us to help develop a plan for Mississippi's Roads," Gordon said.

Rep. Whitten Speaks To Local Supporters

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.) told a gathering of about 200 supporters Wednesday of last week in Booneville that he holds the best place to serve the people of his district, the chairmanship of the House Appropriations Committee. "This year when the Senate had failed to act on 10 of the 12 appropriations bills, with the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, I put all 12 of the House appropriations bills together, including the funds of many essential activities of agencies and administrations into H.J. Res. 610," Whitten said. He said, "Because of my position, I got this resolution through the House. It was accepted, with some changes, in the Senate and I got House approval Oct. 1, just barely in time to save funds for revenue sharing, Appalachia, and EDA." Whitten said the resolution "keeps us in business providing for food programs, our aid to the elderly, hospitals, Social Security, medical research, water systems, vocational and other educational programs." He noted that his measure did not allow using federal funds for abortion, to prevent voluntary prayer in public schools or to remove the tax exemption on private schools. He said his Chairmanship is a "position of tremendous value to our district and state. We cannot afford to let this position go to Massachusetts as did Jim Eastland's Judiciary Committee Chairmanship."

'Festival Of The Arts' Set At NEMJC

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College, in keeping with its tradition of celebrating the arts, will have as special guest Lida Rogers, who was recently appointed to the National Council on the Arts, Sunday, Nov. 2, when they begin their fifth annual "Festival of the Arts" week. Mrs. Rogers' appointment, made by President Carter and awaiting Congressional approval, will place her on a board of 26 artists and administrators appointed to advise the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA) on policymaking and the awarding of grants from the NEA budget of $154.4 million. She has served as executive director of the Mississippi Arts Commission since its establishment in 1966 as the Mississippi State Council on the Arts. Mrs. Rogers is now serving as national chairman of the NEA Partnership Panel and from 1973-75 was a member of the NEA Advisory Panel on Music. She is a member of the board of directors and former chairman of the National Assembly of State Arts Agencies (NASAA). She has also held the posts of chairman and vice chairman of the Southern Arts Federation. "Northeast is especially pleased to have Mrs. Rogers become involved in our effort to promote the arts," William T. Rutledge, chairman of the week-long festival said. "Each year we attempt to present programs of cultural interest in art, music, dance and drama, using both professional talents as well as the talents of our own students. Having a woman of Mrs. Rogers' stature present for the activities will surely add to the excitement and involvement of our area supporters." Activities for the week begin Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m., in Hines Hall, with an art exhibit by Mac Clark, instructor of art at Mobile College. Clark works with several media including watercolor, oil, acrylic, pencil, and pastels. A dual piano performance by Dr. John Paul and Charles Phillips, of Jackson State University, will follow at 4 p.m., in Hines Hall Auditorium. They have chosen to present selections from Beethoven, Schubert, Ravel and Poulenc. The public is invited to attend a joint reception for the performing artists and Mrs. Rogers immediately following the piano performance in the lobby of Hines Hall. Other programs planned for the festival include a performance by the Jackson Ballet, three dinner theater presentations of the mellow drama "Pure As The Driven Snow," by the Speech Department, films on art and art techniques, readings by Dr. John Crews, a published poet from the University of Mississippi, a piano concert by Ruth and Raymond Liebaw, and student performances by Lisa Tolar, Booneville; Peter Cowell, Iuka; Melissa McGee, Booneville; Regina Daniels, Baldwin; and the Northeast Junior College Jazz Band. All of the programs, which are open to the general public, are free, with the exception of the dinner theater performances. Ticket information may be obtained through the Department of Speech by calling 728-7751, ext. 248 or the Northeast Business Office at ext. 280.

Eyes On Mississippi

Final Two Weeks Are Critical

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Two weeks away from the presidential election, the race in Mississippi between President Carter and Ronald Reagan has evidently closed down to the point that the state is now a tossup...at least that is what tightly guarded polling information shows.

This column has learned that a poll run the first week in October by the highly regarded Democratic pollster Peter Hart showed Carter surprisingly leading Reagan in Mississippi by one percentage point. Carter, according to the Hart poll had 38 percent and Reagan, 37 per cent, with Independent John Anderson 5 percent. This left 20 percent undecided, a significant figure which means Mississippi could go either way.

Meantime, the Republicans have just completed their own statewide poll in the presidential race, but the early results were being kept under wraps, because, as one GOP official said, "we don't want to give away any information to the opposition."

Reportedly, however, the Reagan forces believe that while they have lost some ground from the big lead which they apparently had in Mississippi six weeks ago, they are still ahead.

Sources told this column that Jimmy Carter's own pollster, Pat Caudell, has backed up the Hart finding that the president is now running head-to-head with Reagan in Mississippi, with less than 20 percent undecided.

These Democratic polls give Carter a stronger chance of taking Mississippi again than does the empirical evidence which indicates Reagan's strength among white voters is still too deep for Carter to overcome.

Even staunch Democrats concede that Southeast Mississippi is a "disaster area" for Carter, Southwest Mississippi isn't much better, and Central Mississippi is gloomy. Northeast Mississippi, which traditionally has the largest percentage of loyal white Democrats is nip and tuck and possibly Carter can carry the Delta with a heavy black turnout.

Only Gov. William Winter among high-level state Democratic officials has any optimism that Carter is going to be able to pull it out. Other elected state officials have their fingers crossed when they say they "think" the state is going to stay in the Democratic column.

The Hart poll results, for some significant reason, have been held very close to the vest by Democratic leaders even though they were the first indication that Carter had made what is apparently a remarkable recovery here from a 20 point-plus deficit.

While some may tend to discount the Hart poll as not being truly representative of how Mississippians will vote in the presidential race, others can recall that the Peter Hart polls last year in the state's gubernatorial race proved remarkably accurate. In fact, it was the Hart poll in early 1979 which lured William Winter into making a third try for the governor's office when all precedents were against it.

Jimmy Carter, many observers concede, wouldn't even have a chance of winning Mississippi now if it weren't for Governor Winter placing his personal popularity on the line in Carter's behalf.

By contrast, Alabama, which had initially been regarded as a more likely Carter state than Mississippi, is now in doubt because Gov. Fob James has not given Carter the kind of support Winter has in Mississippi.

Reagan, who came to the Neshoba County fair in a campaign opener back in August, now is making this second appearance in the state this week in Columbus, and is to make still a third wing into Mississippi unless the long-debated presidential debates are finally worked out for the last two weeks of the campaign.

The Reagan visit to Columbus, up in Northeast Mississippi, is not just an accidental location for the GOP candidate, according to Republican insiders. It's evidently calculated to put the icing on the cake for Reagan in Mississippi by pulling in the most doubtful part of the state.

Meantime, the state's Democratic leadership is virtually assured that President Carter will come to Mississippi before the election, with only the date to be worked out. Some key political observers say that it is essential Carter make an appearance in the state to have any real hope of carrying Mississippi.

In the final two weeks of the campaign, the tempo is expected to pick up, especially on the Democratic side, where an effort will be made to motivate local and county Democratic elected officials to throw off another onslaught by the Republicans to lure Mississippians permanently into the GOP camp.

Indian Problems Still Unsolved

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau
Federation

After four centuries American farmers find their government still hasn't quite come up with the right answers of what to do with, for, or about the American Indians. And some farmers, particularly in the southwestern United States, find themselves still in a competitive hassle with the Indians' legal situation, and wish the government would come around to the position that both Indians and non-Indians have equal rights and responsibilities under the laws of this nation.

It has not happened yet—and despite the much touted equality provisions under law of the United States Constitution, the 'nation unto a nation' treatment of Indians continues as an unending epilogue to the dramatizations of the transplantation of Indian tribes from America at large to designated reservations or special case, legal life-styles.

And while we're beating no drums designed to stir human emotions, we are concerned that territorial, water, and legal rights of both Indians and non-Indians remain in a vague area of special treatment.

Through their policy statements, American farmers have asked the Great White Father, or Fathers as the case may be, to come to grips with the problem for once and for all. The agrarian group favors abolition of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and termination of special Indian treaty rights by purchase or negotiation for fair compensation. They suggest that the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971 might serve as a model.

Jointly, these steps will end special treatment of Indians and bring them to full equality under the law. But in the meantime farmers are urging Congress to clarify the conflict between Indians and non-Indians and to remove any historical liens or encumbrances in mineral, property and water rights.

Specifically, farmers feel that the federal government should not financially support Indians in proceedings to establish property rights. Moreover, in the case of disputed water rights in the Southwest, farmers oppose any legislative approach similar to the Central Arizona Indian Tribal Water Rights Settlement Act of 1976. And philosophically the farm group also is opposed to any proposal that would establish a special adjudication agency or procedures for the administration of Indian water claims.

In short, it is time for a treaty to end treaties that will put American Indians into the mainstream of American life with neither

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Nomination 'Sacked'

A major breakdown in leadership has occurred this year with the failure of the Administration to appoint and have confirmed a commissioner to head the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Although this Commissioner's post became vacant over a year ago, the White House did not nominate anyone for this important job until the middle of the summer.

With refugee and immigration problems growing in seriousness, the White House allowed this administratively-critical position to drift aimlessly unfilled.

Finally, a San Antonio, Texas, attorney and state representative named Matt Garcia was appointed to head the Service.

As a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, I was assigned the responsibility of helping conduct hearings before our committee on the nomination.

It soon became apparent to me, based on his testimony before our committee, in answers to our questions, and examining his background and experience that Mr. Garcia was simply not qualified to head such a vast agency with such an important mission. This is particularly so given our current problems and turmoil over the Cuban refugees and a growing concern that our immigration laws be tightened and more firmly enforced.

Mr. Garcia conceded to us under questioning that he had very little knowledge of the illegal alien situation in our country, or of the complex immigration policies and laws now in existence.

This might be forgivable if this nominee was an experienced administrator who had developed skill and leadership in his previous employment experiences to enable him to handle an agency as important as the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The Service has about 11,000 employees and an annual budget of $335 million. At the time of his nomination this summer, Mr. Garcia admitted he had no prior administrative experience of any kind, and practiced law in a small law firm with only two associates and three other employees.

He also admitted that 41 complaints had been filed against him as a lawyer in a ten-year period with the Texas Bar Association's grievance committee for his district of the state. He also admitted that he had filed his federal income tax returns late for nine years in a row, 1970-78.

This sort of haphazard and questionable performance in his legal and business affairs was rewarded by the Carter administration by nomination to one of the most sensitive positions in the executive branch — Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the number one post in that agency.

I immediately notified the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee that if the majority leadership or the administration wanted to go forward with the confirmation process, I was officially requesting additional hearings to examine Mr. Garcia's fitness before the full Senate was asked to consent to his nomination. A committee investigator was dispatched to Texas to check further into Garcia's record.

The Senate recessed in early October without further indication from the leadership or White House that they would push for Garcia's confirmation. Frankly, I believe they are now embarrassed and will allow this nomination, which obviously had not been checked out very thoroughly in advance, to die quietly when the lame-duck session begins in mid-November.

I am convinced now that Mr. Garcia's most prominent qualifications centered around his alliance with certain Texas political figures and voting blocs, and that ability to administer programs and laws affecting refugees and other immigrants was subordinated to these political considerations.

During the 96th Congress, the Judiciary Committee has considered a total of 251 nominations. A total of 198 judges were confirmed for the federal bench, 11 were not after hearings by our committee. A total of 41 non-judicial nominees won confirmation by the committee. The only one who has not been confirmed after hearings were held has been Matt Garcia.

One must wonder if after the election it will make any difference to the Carter administration if Garcia is confirmed or not.

MISSISSIPPI
CONSUMER REPORT
Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General

Attorney General Bill Allain is warning citizens to be wary of any persons who approaches them claiming they wish to share a large sum of money. According to Allain, pigeon drop schemes have been surfacing throughout the state, more recently in the northeast and east central section of the state.

The pigeon drop swindle, which is sometimes termed the "switch game," is carried out by two or more con artists working together. Black and white, male and female con artists often work together and use disguises.

The swindle works in the following manner:

(1) He or she gets your attention. The swindle begins when a con artist, acting as a helpless stranger, approaches the victim and utilizes some technique to obtain the victim's attention. The con artist may be a man asking how to get to a hotel, a woman crying pitifully, or simply a con artist asking the victim to talk "just for a moment." Pigeon droppers select their victim by exploring the victim's background and activities. Persons who are commonly chosen as victims are elderly, possible retired and receiving Social Security or welfare.

(2) He tells you he has a large sum of money. The pigeon dropper may show the victim an envelope which contains a neatly tied roll (sheets of paper), on the outside of which is a large denomination bill, $20 or more. The pigeon dropper will tell the victim why he has the money. Some of the reasons may be that the pigeon dropper has just arrived from a foreign country and it's his life's savings; that the money is an inheritance; that he has found the money on the sidewalk, in a crowded store, or on the floor of a phone booth (this is the most commonly used story).

(3) He asks for your help. The pigeon dropper, playing the role of an illiterate, may ask advice about a safe place to put the money and may ask whether the victim will keep it while he looks for a hotel or a reliable bank. If the pigeon dropper has approached the victim from the standpoint of having found the money, he may offer to share it with the victim on the condition that he help him in some way, perhaps to hold the money while he talks to a lawyer.

(4) Another stranger appears. At this point, a second pigeon dropper approaches the two and asks if he can help in any way. Pigeon dropper No. 1 will explain the problem in the presence of the victim and will tell pigeon dropper No. 2 that the victim looks honest and can be trusted with the money. Pigeon dropper No. 2, playing the role of an impartial stranger, agrees that the victim looks honest but suggests that the victim provide some "earnest money" to show good faith in exchange for part of the found money.

(5) Victim withdraws earnest money from the bank. Since the victim, under most circumstances, does not have sufficient cash, he usually agrees to withdraw a sufficient amount of money. Pigeon dropper No. 2 is sometimes given the alleged "found money" by pigeon dropper No. 1 to hold while the victim withdraws the earnest money.

(6) Victim's money is switched. After the victim has withdrawn his earnest money, the victim gives the money to one of the pigeon droppers, where-upon a switch is made.

An example of this is a 75-year old lady in Mississippi who lost $2,000 in a pigeon drop swindle involving two women con artists. The

Dr. Morris Addresses BPW Club

"Stress is a killer," Dr. Joe Edd Morris, counselor at the Timber Hills Mental Health Center, told Booneville BPW members at their October meeting.

"Great number of people in our society have a problem with stress. They don't necessarily have mental or emotional problems. Their problem is stress," he continued.

"Stress contributes to high blood pressure, migraine headaches and anxiety attacks. Recent medical research overwhelmingly suggests stress contributes to cancer. For most people stress has become a learned habit. They are unable to tell whether they are becoming relaxed. They may think they are relaxing when they really aren't," he said.

"Most people could teach themselves to relax without coming to the mental health center," Dr. Morris told the group. "All one needs is a quiet place, a relaxed, comfortable body position, practice in concentrating on one thing and a positive attitude"

"Many times at Timber Hills we introduce persons to biofeedback training, a relaxation technique that can be taught," Morris said.

Equipment used includes an EMG (electromyograph), which measures muscle tension, and a machine which measures skin temperature.

"Skin temperature can indicate stress. The higher the temperature in a person's hand, the more evenly the blood is circulating and the more relaxed he is," he said.

There are no needles involved in the use of the equipment. Nothing penetrates the skin. Electrodes which are attached to the body don't do anything to the body. They obtain some information from the body (biofeedback) and reflect what the body is doing. Tape recordings give persons instructions in obtaining a relaxed state.

"The machines help people to relax as successful feedback from the machines gives them increased incentive to continue trying," Morris said.

Persons using the biofeedback equipment at Timber Hills spend 30-45 minutes per week working with the machines. In between sessions, the person is encouraged to continue to practice relaxing daily while at home. Tape recorded instructions for home use can be provided to the trainee.

"The total amount of time spent in biofeedback training varies greatly depending on the goals a person has set for himself and his motivation in reaching those goals," Morris said.

BPW members were

A Bill passed by the Mississippi legislature upheld by the insurance commissioner of the state of Mississippi, now makes the inclusion of Chiropractic care in all of Mississippi Issued Insurance policies mandatory.

No policy issued in the State of Mississippi can any longer draw distinction between a Medical Doctor and a Doctor of Chiropractic in the payment of claims.

The bill, House Bill 393, went into effect April 24, 1980. It is a historic and significant achievement, an acknowledgement of the rights of each individual to seek out the doctor and method of health care which he has found to be, in his own experience, most effective.

It is possible, however, that not all insurance companies or their agents are yet aware of the full implications of this bill. Your doctor will make every effort to expedite any claims you may have.

I have a lot of respect for the Book of Proverbs. In it we find wisdom unlimited. These are a few of my favorites verses from Proverbs:

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding."

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

"The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise."

"When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him."

"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver or gold."

"Train up a child in the way he should go: And when he is old, he will not depart from it."

"Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

"Boast not thyself of to-morrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."

"Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall."

"A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger."

"Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love covereth all sins."

Home Economist's Notes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Popcorn, a fun to eat food, is an all-American favorite snack. Besides providing eating pleasure for everyone from youngsters to the young in heart, popcorn is wholesome and economical—a budget buy that costs only pennies per generous serving.

With Halloween right around the corner, popcorn is a natural treat and its also great for holiday ideas.

But, it's big on many a person's snack guide. A low-calorie snack, containing only 23 calories per cup, plain popcorn is considered an acceptable "nibbler's food" by the American Dental Association, in place of sweets.

It's economical, too. Only a half cup of unpopped corn will fill a four quart popper. That means, you'll have enough popcorn to satisfy the whole family for just pennies, including the price of oil and salt.

Another tip: For variety—especially at Halloween—try popcorn balls. Remember that the looser they are, the easier they are to eat. Press the balls just enough so the shapes hold together. Gently reshape them several times as they cool.

Then, before you know it, the neighborhood ghosts and goblins will pop out of nowhere (and everywhere) for their Halloween treat.

The question often comes up—"What's the difference between white and yellow kernels? And what in the world are those multicolored kernels? Yellow varieties of popcorn generally pop to a larger size than the white, but many popcorn lovers think the white kernels are more tender. As for the multi-colored kernels, they're just white or yellow ones that have been dyed for more eye appeal. Once they've popped, they're the same color inside as they would have been otherwise, since the hulls bend backwards and no longer show.

Popcorn Balls

Popcorn balls and parites are perfect go-togethers. The popcorn confections may be made ahead of time and set out in a large wooden bowl or napkin-lined wicker basket, or, for real party fun, guests may help with the popping, glaze making and shaping. Recipe for light glaze is given below.

Light Popcorn Glaze

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 cup water
1/2 cup butter

Cook to 260 degrees (hard ball stage). Pour over 2 quarts unsalted, popped corn and mix thoroughly.

The above recipe may be used in an infinite variety of combinations: with food coloring and food flavoring (lemon, maple, cinnamon, wintergreen, etc.), with nuts and candy, chocolate squares, fruits—all added after the syrup is cooked.

Popcorn Treats

Start with 2 quarts of popped popcorn and add:
Parmesan cheese: Melt 1/2 cup butter and 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese over low heat. Mix well. Coat popcorn with cheese-butter mixture. Add salt to taste.

Peanut Butter & Jelly: Melt 1 tablespoon each butter, peanut butter and jelly together over low heat. Drizzle over popcorn. Mix well to coat all pieces thoroughly.

Oak Ridge News

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

"October's bright blue weather" is here again and let's hope it stays; however the rain was good.

Several people mentioned that they missed seeing news from this community last week. I hardly know what happened, but I did write as usual except I was in Decatur, Ala., visiting our daughter. I sent the report by relatives Monday morning, Oct. 13. Just guess it was lost in transit.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy spent a few days in Memphis recently visiting a couple of her nieces.

Mam-Ma Coats is back at home with the Bryan Harris' after a 12-day stay in the Baldwin hospital. It appears that she is not much improved. Some relatives were here last weekend to see her. From Tusculum, Ala., came Sam Coats and from Memphis was Mrs. Eldred Hill.

Absent on Sunday night were Delbert, Mary, and Jerry Dees who had gone to Alabama to visit Mary's brother who had suffered a heart attack.

Get-well wishes go to Mam-ma, Mary's brother, Mrs. Nolan Wheeler, Mrs. Nina Pounds, Mrs. Dora Moore, Mrs. Annie Fay Howell who is a patient in the Aletha Lodge, to Tom Garner, Mrs. Lorena Phillips of Tishomingo, to Aunt Myrtle Harris and any others who may be sick.

Mrs. Arthur Barnes was able to attend both services on Sunday, Oct. 19. She had been sick at home for a short time.

Pauline Jones has been feeling better and has gone back to the Clyde Gardner home to help her sister Gladys care for Clyde.

Sympathy is in our hearts for the children and other relatives of Mrs. Mattie McCreary whose funeral was conducted Saturday, Oct. 10, at McMillan's with burial in the East Prentiss Cemetery.

Bro. Barber's lessons last Sunday were extremely good. His subject Sunday morning was "Marriage and Divorce." Sunday night he read from Ecclesiastes and discussed the topic "The whole duty of man."

Many people are genuinely concerned about Mrs. Charlene Church who was seriously injured in a wreck. She has shown a little improvement and has been transferred from ICU to room 464 in the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo. Let's send her cards and do what we can to help her and her family.

I think O-Henry said "The world is so full of a number of things, I'm sure we should all be happy as kings." Some kings weren't happy according to history.

Here's a saying by 'Lil Podna as given in the New Albany Informer:

"The toe is a device for finding furniture in the dark."

The M.B.C. associates of Prentiss County had a fund-raising spaghetti supper on Friday night, the 17th, in Booneville. The supper was well-attended and the proceeds go to Magnolia Bible College.

The Freed-Hardeman Associates of Blackland will have a Bake Sale Saturday, Oct. 25, on the lawn of the Prentiss County Courthouse. Why not go by and purchase a tasty pie, a delicious cake or cup cakes? The money raised will go to F.H.C. in Henderson, Tenn.

Mrs. Lela Wheatley underwent surgery in the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo recently. Get well wishes go to her, to David Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawford.

SCHOLARSHIP GIRL—Tammie Wimberly (left), daughter of James and Lavell Wimberly, was recently named the Pilot Club Scholarship Girl. Making the presentation is Earline Woods, Education Area Leader, Project Division. Tammie is a sophomore at Northeast Junior College, where she is also a President's List scholar.

Wetter Weather Is Expected For Area

Mississippi farmers should anticipate unusual amounts of rainfall from now until mid-November, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Farmers in the north and central sections of the state can expect more rain than usual during the next 30 days, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts. Less rain than usual, however, is forecast for the southern third of the state.

The weather specialists says the first 10 days may be wet and cool. Rainfall usually ranges from around two inches near the coast to 2.6 inches near the Tennessee border. Drying rates will drop during the next four weeks. Normal evaporation in the central Delta in mid-October is about .15 inch per day, but drops to around .09 inch per day by mid-November. Temperatures are expected to average near normal. The mean temperature normally varies from the upper 50s in the north to the upper 60s near the Gulf. Daytime highs are normally in the high 70s around Oct. 15, but fall to the 60s by mid-November. Night lows are normally around 50 degrees in mid-October, except on the coast where temperatures hover near 60 degrees. Low temperatures are near 40 degrees, except on the coast. Most of the northern and central counties of the state can expect freezing temperatures at least once

NATHAN WILBURN

Nathan Mitchell Wilburn, son of Mitch and Karen Wilburn of Marietta, will celebrate his fourth birthday on Oct. 25. A birthday party is planned for Nathan and his friends on Sunday afternoon.

Nathan's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George T. Massey Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilburn, all of Marietta. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Massey Sr. of Marietta, Mrs. Verna Sparks of New Site, and Mrs. T.C. Wilburn of the Ozark Community.

Shelby James Moorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Moorman of Booneville, celebrated his third birthday on Sept. 20.

Shelby and his birthday guests played games and received candy and balloons from Bozo the clown. After eating ice cream and a clown cake, the guests presented presents to Shelby.

His grandparents are Mrs. Elvia Moorman and the late L.B. Moorman, and the late Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Wallis.

Soil Conservation Report

By TONY THOMPSON
District Conservationist
Soil Conservation Service, USDA

If you farm, you have residue left after a crop harvest. Prentiss County Farmers can manage crop residue and benefit in two major ways.

Let's talk first in terms of dollars and cents that we all understand.

We all know that the cost of commercial fertilizer-nitrogen, phosphate, and potash—is a major production expense. But what you may not know is that large amounts of these nutrients are stored in crop residue. And residue, properly managed, can do much more than return what the plant took out of the soil to make the crop.

Since soybeans are grown on about 60,000 acres (80 percent) of our county's farmland, let's take a close look at the value of their residue. According to estimates of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, an average crop of soybeans will produce about one and one-half tons of residue per acre. This residue contains about 30 pounds of nitrogen, 10 pounds of phosphate, and 25 pounds of potash.

With nitrogen costing 26 cents per pound, phosphate—25 cents per pound, and potash—12 cents per pound, an average of $13.30 worth of plant nutrients per acre can be returned to the soil. In addition to improving fertility, the residues will add organic matter to the soil and improve soil tilth and moisture holding capacity—all of which point to higher yields.

Now let's take a look at another major benefit of crop residue—erosion control. If a dump truck went into your best crop producing field and hauled away 5 to 10 tons of topsoil from every acre, you'd be plenty mad to say the least. This kind of loss is actually happening—not from dump trucks—but from soil erosion when crop residue is plowed under or baled off the field.

Many people feel that plowing under residues will help it decay faster. Actually, residue rots quicker when left on or near the surface since that's where most of the soil bacteria is. Also, the humus in the organic matter is liquid, and it seeps into the soil. Of course there's also the savings of fuel and labor by eliminating one or two trips over the field when fall plowing is stopped.

The hot, droughty summer has reduced the county's hay crop this year and many people will be tempted to bale crop residues for livestock feed. Before doing this, remember that crop stubble is a very low quality feed that can actually cost you money through animal weight and calving losses. Also by baling residues, you completely eliminate the benefits of improved soil fertility and erosion control.

Before you bale or bury crop stubble this fall, consider crop residue management—it makes a lot of "cents."

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

Is your farm among the 2.6 million acres of Mississippi cropland that needs lime? The only way to be sure is to run a soil test.

Last year, Mississippi farmers used about 900,000 tons of lime. More than twice that amount is needed annually for top production potential, however. Lime is the one blue-chip investment that gives the greatest return for each dollar spent.

Fall is the best time to apply lime for row cropland. This will give the liming material plenty of time to react with the soil and benefit next spring's crops.

Soil testing is a free service of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. For details, contact the county Extension office.

Evaluate Fields

During harvest, make a note of fields with obvious problem areas. These may include special weed problems, drainage problems and other situations that may require follow-up soil testing, fertilization or tillage treatments.

From your notes, you can develop maps for field-by-field evaluations. Of production problems, causes and solutions. You'll have all winter to plan and correct problems.

October and November are excellent times to establish wild winter peas, vetch or cereals for winter cover and a green manure crop to turn under next spring. Peas or vetch will add organic matter plus 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Cereal crops like wheat and rye provide organic matter only.

These green manure crops build organic matter only temporarily, but they may be of great value in improving herbicide performance and soil tilth in the following growing season.

4H Club News

By EDWARD L. MCWHIRTER
Extension 4-H
Youth Agent

It's the end of the fall livestock show season and the beginning of the preparation for the spring season.

Congratulations to Delbert Morgan for his Grand Champion in the Jersey Futurity, and Grand Champion and Reserve Grand in the 4-H show at the Mississippi State Fair.

We have several dates which to keep in mind for ownership of livestock projects: steers-September 15; beef breeding-November 10; hogs-December 1; market lambs-November 1; and dairy-December 1.

One of the important things about the livestock project is learning how to select animals.

After learning you need to learn how to tell why you select one animal over another.

The following are some tips on oral reasons.

The main objectives of giving reasons are: (1) to tell the judge how you placed the class, and (2) to tell the judge why you placed the class as you did.

Good livestock judges must be able to explain their reasons for placing the class as they did. Reasons should be: (1) accurate, (2) complete, (3) interesting, (4) sincere, and (5) presented in a pleasing and confident manner.

Oral reasons will help you to: (1) think clearly on your feet, (2) state your thoughts, (3) improve your memory, and (4) improve your speaking poise and voice.

Important points in giving reasons:

(1) Accuracy: By far the most important part of giving reasons. An accurate set of reasons, telling exactly what you saw, will certainly pick up points. Do not tell anything that is not the truth. Do not use a "canned set" of reasons (one that doesn't fit the class).

(2) Organization: Bring out the major and general points first. Certain points logically fit best at the end of a comparison, i.e., the last points generally mentioned in comparing animals in a market class would be references to the carcass traits.

(3) Delivery: Reasons should be given in a clear, confident voice. Speak slowly and clearly in a conventional tone, yet loud enough to be heard. Assume a stance several feet from the judge with your feet slightly spread and with your hands behind your back. Look the judge squarely in the eye and act confident. Speak with sincerity, using correct grammar and avoid any mannerisms which will distract from your reasons.

(4) Completeness: Bring out all major points (good and bad) in your reasons. Omit small points that may be controversial or close.

(5) Length: Never over 1½ to 2 minutes long. Reasons that are well organized and properly given will never be over 1½ to 2 minutes in length.

Tigers Remain Unbeaten: Scalp IJC Indians 25-7

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Measuring smiles might be a little difficult to do but Northeast head coach Bill Ward would have registered a perfect "10" Saturday night after he watched the National Ranked Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers whip arch-rival Itawamba 25-7 before some 25,00 fans at Tiger Stadium.

The win assured the seventh ranked Tigers at least a spot in the 1980 State playoffs and a notch up on a possible North Championship with an undefeated record.

The Northeast troop will host Delta tonight at Tiger Stadium in yet another crucial North matchup on their bid for the 1980 title.

The stands were packed here: last Saturday night in what some observers called the greatest Northeast win in the history of not only the series but the history of the college as well.

The Indians battled the Tigers tooth and nail through the first two frames and the State's top team could muster only a single safety through the first half and led 2-0 at the intermission. (Sounds like a baseball score at this point.)

One would have thought the game pattern had been set and it was going to be a slow drawn out process til the final buzzer.

Well what Coach Ward and his coaching associates told the Tigers at the intermission is unknown but whatever it was, it worked. The Northeast 11 came roaring back in the final two quarters to scalp the Indians and completely dominate the game.

Booneville's Buddy Hall, starting at quarterback in Mike Steenson's absence, took charge of the Northeast offensive attack like he owned it and directed the Tigers to score after score with both his feet and his passing arm as well.

Leading 2-0 on a first half safety tackle by three Tigers Clay Younce, Robert Walker and Mike Triplett, Booneville's Hall led the offense to their first six pointer.

After the second half kickoff, Northeast hopped on a fumble by IJC's David Carter and took possession at 20 yard line.

One play later, Hall handed off to Anthony Norman, the nation's number one rusher, who scampered 20 yards for the score. Mathis' kick gave the Tigers the lead to stay at 9-0.

The Tigers' next score came on the foot on Kossuth's Kenny Mathis. After the Tigers recovered yet another fumble at the 25 yard line, after the drive stalled, the Tiger kicker booted a 35 yard field goal to give the Tigers a 12-0 margin with 12:37 left in the third period.

Following the Northeast

TRIPLETT-HEADS DOWNFIELD—Northeast's Mike Triplett (20) carries the pigskin here as an IJC defenseman tries to bring him down. Mike aided the Tigers in a 25-7 win.

HALL CARRIES—Northeast's Buddy Hall (11) turns on the steam here on a quarterback sweep in last Saturday's battle against IJC at Tiger Stadium. The Tigers took a 25-7 victory to remain undefeated for the season at 7-0 and take sole possession of first place in the state.

DISCUSSION—Northeast head coach Bill Ward talks things over with the referee here in last Saturday's battle with IJC. Now they could be telling jokes but it appears they are discussing a play on the field.

Following the Northeast

IJC then got into the action when, two plays following the kickoff that spotted the Indians at the 21 yard line, Scott hit receiver Jesse Foote on a 63 yard bomb to trim the margin to 19-7.

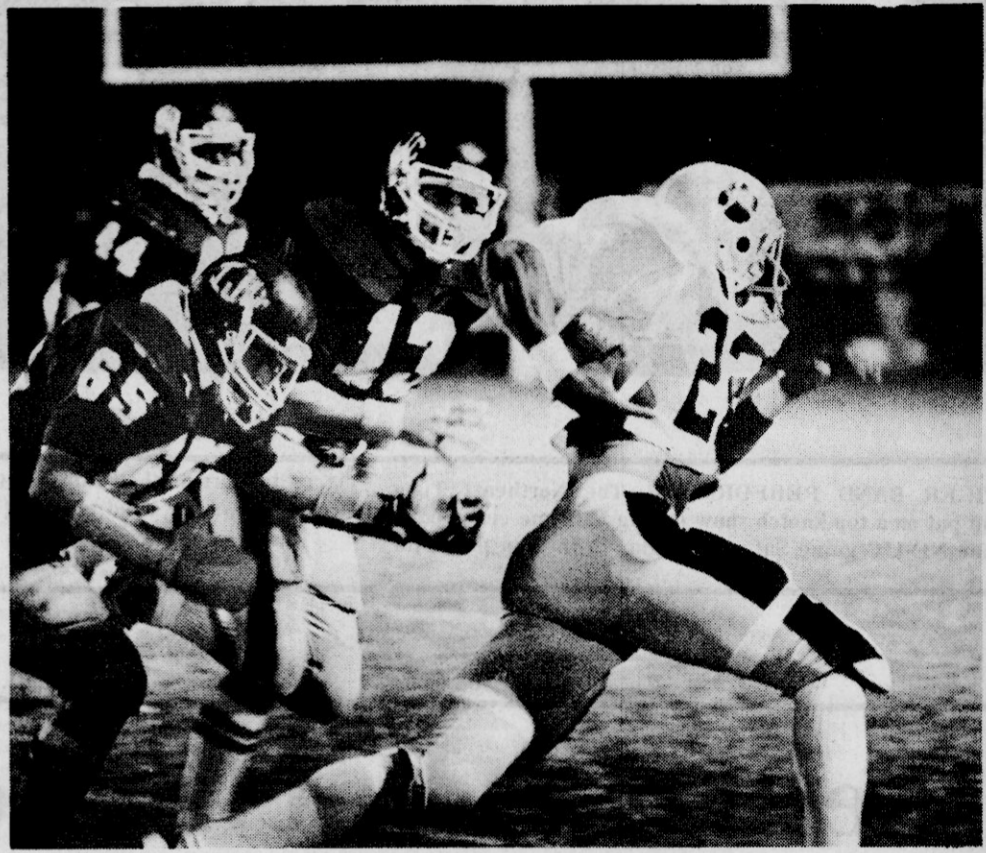

Hall made sure this would hange when he cranked up his passing arm and directed the Tigers on a 73 yard scoring drive. The final score came when Hall, who was a former Bigbee signal caller at Booneville, hit end Al Coffee on a 39 yard scoring touchdown pass for the nights final score.

Coach Ward said it was difficult to describe just how well his team performed. "I think our kicking game helped us tremendously and our defense played just great."

Ward said to describe a player of the game would be hard to do. "We had several folks that played extremely well," he said. "I thought Buddy Hall, under pressure in a rivalry game, did an outstanding job. He kept getting better as the game got older."

Coach War said he was indeed worried about the Delta game. "Don't let their record fool you (2-5)," he said. "They have a great defensive ballclub and are coming off a win over Northwest...so they'll be tough."

The Delta game will be a big one in all respect. If the Tigers win they will be assured a North Division Championship and a chance to host the State Tournament.

ON THE MOVE—Northeast's Mike Williams sweeps around the IJC performers in Saturday's battle at Tiger Stadium. Indian performers George Shirley (65) Brett Whiteside (13) and Fernandez Greer (44) turn on the chase.

With 7-0 Record

Tigers Rank First In State

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers took over sole possession of first place in the North Division of the Mississippi JUCO standings with a 25-7 win over IJC.

Northeast took the top spot all to themselves by virtue of their win combined with a Northwest 7-3 loss to Delta.

In other action, East Mississippi dropped winless Coahoma 58-7. Hinds defeated East Central 20-7. Holmes tagged Pearl River 7-0; and Southwest tripped Co-Lin 17-10.

Northeast remains the top spot in the State with their undefeated 7-0 mark and holds the top North spot with a 4-0 record.

Fieldgoal Fred's Fearless Forecasts

By FIELD GOAL FRED

I'm sorry, Lee. I just didn't realize such accurate picking on my part could make you so gun-shy you would be afraid to even try. But I don't blame you. It's hard to compete with bullseye picks like I had last week.

I hit the Alabama score right on the nose, missed the Booneville score by one point, and the Baldwin score by only two points. And that's hard to beat.

(Editor's note: He did hit the Alabama score on the nose, but he neglected to say he predicted Tennessee would score 17 points against Alabama. He also missed Booneville's score by only one point and the Baldwin score by two points, but he didn't mention that he came nowhere close on their opponents' scores.)

And I could go on and on (like Northeast missed by three, etc.) but I can already see your red cap turning green with envy. So I will just tell you who is going to win and what the scores will be this week.

Northeast 24, Delta 13. Keep it up, Tigers. The end of the rainbow is in sight!

Booneville 14, Iuka 7. It's time for the Devils to put it all together again.

Baldwyn 19, Walnut 7. Baldwin returns to their winning ways.

Ole Miss 28, Vandy 10. If Fourcade & Co. hit one of their streaks, the spread could be much greater.

Auburn 28, Miss. State 27. Both teams have suffered some disappointing losses this year and want this one bad enough to make it a real barn burner.

Alabama 31, USM 10. The Golden Eagles are a fine football team and deserve their No. 20 national ranking, but the only way they can win this one is to catch Alabama looking Arkansas 17, Houston 7. Lou Holtz knows how to hawg tie a cougar.

Tennessee 44, Pittsburgh 17. Don't believe for a minute that Tennessee's poor offensive showing against the Tide last week was typical. They'll prove this week that they do have an offense.

Georgia 14, Kentucky 7. Georgia is the better team but the home field advantage could create an upset.

UCLA 28, California 13. The difference could be greater since the Uclans want to show the world they should be No. 1.

Purdue 33, Michigan St. 14. Herrmann might be out of the running for the Heisman, but he is still a great passer.

Slippery Rock 96, Clarion 0. But except for the alumni, who cares? Next week let's try Okefenokee State Teachers vs Tetons Tech.

Tigers Hold 7TH National Spot

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers remains the seventh ranked junior college team in the Nation this week by the latest poll of the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

The Tigers earned the 7th spot last week and remained undefeated with a 25-7 victory over Itawamba last Saturday night.

The Northeast troop holds the top spot in the State and still holds a number one national ranking by the Gridwire poll from Santa Ana California.

Nettleton Backs Aid 35-7 Romp Over Devils

NETTLETON—Tiger ace John Pierce ran wild here Saturday night scoring three touchdowns and led Nettleton's Tigers to a 35-7 romp over Booneville's Blue Devils in a Tombigbee Conference matchup at the Tiger Field.

The Devils, now 1-6 on the year, could muster only a single six pointer against the Nettleton squad while the Tigers used their ground game and blew the men with the horns away.

Nettleton started as early as second period after both teams played to a scoreless deadlock through the first quarter of action.

James Fields was one of Saturday's hero as well scoring two six points and his first came on a 10 yard run. In the second quarter.

Field's first score capped off long drive. The extra point but Nettleton took the lead to stay at 6-0.

Pierce then upped the county even more when he scored the first of his three touchdowns on the night when he took a Rickey Finley handoff and raced 78 yards to paydirt.

Fields added the two point conversion on a run off right tackle to give the Tigers a 14-0 lead.

Booneville then cut the lead slightly when quarterback Greg Oakley hit All-Star receiver Carlton Calvert on a 60 pass for the six pointer. A conversion followed to cut the lead to 14-7.

The lead was short-lived however as the Nettleton squad came roaring back to score again. Fields did it again. He scampered 45 yards on a dive play up the middle for the touchdown.

Pierce added the two pointer to give the Tigers a 22-7 margin.

Just before the half ended the Tigers scored again. This time Pierce burst off right tackle from 25 yards out for the paydirt score. The conversion failed and Nettleton went into the dressingroom at the intermission with a 28-7 halftime lead.

Only one score was registered in the final two frames when Pierce (heard that name before haven't you) score on again a 78 yard sprint for the final tally of the night. Pate converted to give the Tigers the 35-7 victory.

Booneville High School head football Coach Mac Curlee said Coach David Crocker's squad came prepared to win the football game. "They beat us in every phase of the game," Curlee said. "I do think there were some distractions due to the cancellation of Friday's game, but they are a good football team as their record indicates and they're going to beat some more folks before the season is over."

Curlee said the Devils executed poorly and added that Devil turnovers played a vital part in the outcome of Saturday's game. "We turned the ball over on a number of occasions," Curlee added. "We were fortunate they didn't cash in on more than they did."

The Devil loss dropped the Booneville troop to 1-6 on the 1980 campaign with three games left on the schedule.

Booneville will host Iuka Friday night and then a week later will play host to Okolona before ending the season Nov. 7 at Ripley.

Nettleton's win gave them a very impressive 5-2 record with games left with Ripley, Saltillo and Baldwin.

Spencer Named All State

Kenny Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Dean Spencer of Birmingham and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Spencer of Booneville, has been selected to the First Annual Alabama Living Magazine All-State Football Squad.

Members were selected by polling high school coaches across the state. The names submitted to our experts picked the top stars of high school football this year. He was player of the week as lineman racking up 12 assists and led his team in the second half to allow their opponents only 27 yds. rushing.

His coach says he has played outstanding football all year. He had 20 tackles and is really good against the pass rush. He also doubles on the offensive line as a pass receiver and tight end. He attends W.A. Beny High School. He is a junior and has already played 2 years on the varsity team.

GLENN, MS—Anderson football double header from Junior High School took a Alcorn Central here

Strict 'Lee' Speaking

By Lee Gentry Sports Editor

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers have things going their way right now and with just a few breaks along the way could serve as host for the 1980 State Junior College playoffs.

The Tigers, now 7-0 on the season, will host Delta tonight at 7:30 and if victorious, will move one step closer to that all important North Division title.

The Tigers have the top spot all to themselves now after previously unbeaten Northwest lost to Delta last week and left the Tigers at the top of the helm.

Here's the way the situation stands. If Northeast beats Delta tonight and IJC knocks off Northwest, then the Tigers would win the North Division and host the playoffs.

The Northeast squad will indeed have to be on their P's and Q's tonight with Delta but will be favored in the game.

Tiger fever is alive and kicking at Northeast and you can bet the Northeast squad will have us all behind them 100 percent. If you don't already have "Tiger Fever," then go out and catch it...

Pat On The Back

Well, I suppose I should do what a nice guy (like I am ) should do and congratulate Fred on his 10-12 performance last week. Pigskin Pete couldn't have done it better Oh boy...Fred will be hard to live with though this week and if he ever gets em all I'll have to leave. But I will be a nice guy and say congratulations Turkey.

THE PICKING POST

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Delta at Northeast—Tiger Beat...Northeast can't let down and I don't think they will. They have too much pride for that. Delta will play 'em a good game but the Tigers will roll. Northeast by 10

Iuka at BHS—The Devils will chaulk this one up for their ego. Booneville by 12

Baldwyn at Walnut—Bears lost a tough one last week and Walnut will give them all they want. Close all the way but I'm going with coach Tucker and the Bears. Baldwin by 3.

Ole Miss at Vandy—Rebels going downhill. It won't mean much but they should handle Vandy. Ole Miss by 14.

Auburn at State—Bulldogs pulled a big one off last week at Orange Country. The Dogs have the ability to beat Auburn but I just don't think they're quite ready. Auburn by 7.

Southern at Alabama—The Golden Eagles have soured this year and indeed have an outstanding football squad. If it was anyone else I'd pick Southern but I think Bama showed everyone on T.V. what they can do. Southern can't beat em at Bear Country though. Alabama by 10.

Arkansas at Houston—Cougars won't handle these hogs. The Razorbacks have gone week after week winning in the previous years and even though sometimes they receive a high ranking they're not properly rewarded for what they do. They are good and they beat the Cougars. Arkansas by 12...

Pittsburg at Tennessee—Vols are down and they should bounce back. Pittsburg is rated 11th in the Country but I don't think they are near that good. Look at their schedule. Tennessee by 10...

Georgia at Kentucky—Wildcats have been known to be upset minded but not this time. Georgia will roll and roll and roll. Georgia by 16.

UCLA at California—Bruins are good this year and they'll prove it here. UCLA by 20.

Michigan State at Purdue—Beats me but I'll take a stab at Purdue by 9.

Clarion State at Slippery Rock—Big game of the week. Two powerhouses going at each other. "Ha" If their boy scout meeting breaks up in time then Slipper Rock should win. Slippery Rock by a dozen.

Tuesday night. The Seventh grade chargers dropped the Baby Golden Bears 14-6 while the Eighth Grade Baby Devils bombed Central 41-8.

In seventh grade action, Buddy Bartlet scored two touchdowns to pace the win while Jimbo Goddard added one as well.

Ben Leach scored four touchdowns to lead in the eighth grade win while Rod Coggin added two touchdowns and kicked an extra point.

The seventh grade squad posted their first victory of the year against three losses while for the eighth grade, it was their fourth victory of the year without a setback.

Norman First In National Rushing

Northeast Mississippi Junior College runningback Anthony Norman has been ranked first in the nation in junior college rushing according to a press release from the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA).

Norman heads the list of JUCO rushers with some 600 yards gained in some 95 carries in the seven games to date.

Norman also ranks fourth in the individual scoring leaders and ranks third in individual total offense.

Randy Cochran of Northeast holds the number four spot nationally in rushing and ranks eighth in individual total offense.

Kenny Mathis, Northeast's placekicker from Kossuth, ranks fourth in individual scoring by kicking with over 30 points scored on both extra points and field goals on the season.

All three Tiger performers has had outstanding performances since this release was issued and should move up in their ratings or at least hold their places.

Blasingame In Co-op Program

Jimmy G. Blasingame of Booneville is participating in the Cooperative Education program at Mississippi State University.

The civil engineering major is working toward a bachelor's degree and at the same time is working as a Co-op student with the Federal Highway Administration in Sevierville, Tenn., alternating semesters of work with semesters of school.

The Cooperative Education program is a five-year educational program which allows a student in various fields of accountancy, agriculture and home economics, arts and sciences, business and industrial, education, engineering, and forestry to work with a business or industrial firm while enrolled at Mississippi State University.

The program combines practical experience with theoretical training. Once degree requirements are complete, Jimmy may begin full-time work with the cooperating firm, or he may join another organization which requires his specialized training.

ASCS Report

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

Oct. 27 is the final date to present a nominating petition to the county ASCS office. In order to place a most important that active farmers be elected to the community committee so that their interest will reflect current needs of farm people. If six or more persons are nominated by petition, no further nominees will be placed on the ballot in each nominee on the election ballot, a petition must be signed by three eligible voters and the nominee must be willing to serve if elected. The election of community committeemen is the first step in the administration of ASCS farm programs. It is community. If less than six nominees are nominated by petition, the incumbent community committee will complete a slate of six nominees.

Farm Storage Loans Available

Having sufficient storage space for their fall crops in good business on the part of farmers and the only way to be sure they have a place for the harvest. As of June 1, available U.S. storage capacity was down 194.6 million bushels from a year earlier. Slightly more than three-fifths of this decline occurred in off-farm storage capacity. Total storage capacity increased 256.7 million bushels during 1979, but this gain was more than offset by a 451.3 million-bushel increase in grain stored, according to a USDA report.

Farmers who may be facing a tight storage situation this fall can obtain funds through the farm facility loan program to build additional facilities or to expand their present structures.

With suitable storage, farmers have greater crop handling and marketing flexibility at harvest time. In years of excess production they can store their crops in good condition until prices rise.

Under the program, farmers can borrow up to $100,000 on facilities adequate to store two years' crops, with 15 percent down and 12.5 percent interest. The loan may be repaid in seven equal annual installments over a period of eight years. To be eligible for farm facility loans, farmers must grow one or more crops of barley, corn, dry edible beans, flaxseed, grain sorghum, oats, peanuts, rice, rye, soybeans, sunflower seed, wheat and high moisture forage. More program details may be obtained from the county ASCS office.

Pine Cones and Hardwood Seed

There is still a good market for several kinds of pine cones and seed from seven species of hardwood, according to the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

In all, the commission wants to buy $60,000 worth of seed. "Purchases have been running rather slow so far," says Nursery Director W.D. McNeel. The foresters began buying seed last month.

The commission's pine cone shopping list includes about 17,000 bushels of Loblolly, 2,000 bushels of Slash, 1,400 bushels of Longleaf and 10 bushels of Spruce Pine. They are also looking to buy 400 bushels of Yellow Poplar cones, 300 bushels of Sycamore, 200 bushels of Green Ash, 60 bushels of Cypress, 25 bushels of Cherrybark Oak, 6 bushels of Sweetgum and 16 bushels of Black Locust seed.

Persons interested in cashing in on this seasonal market for tree seed should first contact the local county forester to learn what he's buying, the going price, quality and seed source restrictions, etc.

People living in areas where there is logging activity should have an extra good chance to earn some extra bucks for use during the approaching holiday season. Keep in mind, however, that the tree owner's permission is needed to harvest the seed.

Tree Seedling Sales

Homes have still not been found for more than 13 million baby trees, according to a recent Mississippi Forestry Commission status report on the tree seedling sales for the upcoming winter planting season which begins in December.

The Commission's most recent seedling accounting lists as still available (as of Oct. 3) the following species and amounts: Loblolly pine, 10,600,000; Slash pine, 2,300,000; Longleaf pine, 130,000; Shortleaf pine, 40,000; Spruce pine, 7,000; Sycamore, 48,000; Green Ash, 3,000; Sweetgum, 2,000; Cherrybark Oak, 11,000; Yellow Poplar, 127,000.

Cottonwood cuttings and Baldcypress, Black Locust and Virginia Pine seedlings have already been sold out.

Persons wishing to order seedlings may secure an application form, delivery and price information at any county or district office of the Forestry Commission, or by writing to: State Forester, Mississippi Forestry Commission, 908 Robert E. Lee Building, Jackson, MS 39201.

Order forms are also available at many County Foresters' offices.

Delivery of the trees normally starts in early December and lasts until early spring. Seedling buyers can designate the month of delivery desired, or may save the delivery charge by picking up large orders of trees at the Nursery.

For further information, contact your County Forester John Stuart by calling 728-6835 or come by the Miss. Forestry Comm. office located in the back lefthand side of the Bank of Commerce building.

Population

Down For Farms

The U.S. farm population numbered 6.2 million in 1979, about 2.8 percent of the total U.S. population, according to a report released by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Commerce. The number of farm residents was calculated to be down about 4 percent (260,000) from the 1978 figure, according to estimates produced jointly by USDA's Economics and Statistics Service and Commerce's Bureau of the Census. "However," said USDA demographer Vera Banks, "such a decline may represent a slight variation in the sample rather than a real decline in the total farm population."

Banks said the farm population has proportionally fewer women, more whites, more husband-wife families and a higher fertility level than the nonfarm population. In addition, she said, the farm population has a higher average age and a lower average income.

The number of farm residents declined more slowly in the seventies than in earlier decades. Between 1970 and 1979, the farm population lost an average of 2.8 percent of its residents per year, much less than the 4.8 percent average annual rate of loss between 1960 and 1970.

Do Your Christmas Shopping Early . . .

Shop In Booneville And Save Gas, Time And Money!

Why Christmas Shop Early?

A season as big, as deep, as rich, as generous, as fulfilling as Christmas, takes a lot of time.

Seems like one holiday pushes in on another . . . upset the way Jolly Old St. Nicholas moves in on us? Christmas carols become interspersed with Alma Mater and football scores? Every so often you hear the mild complaint, that the stores start promoting Christmas buying too early.

Consider for a moment what would happen if Christmas were really pressed behind a curtain of time and nobody could see it or feel it until the reindeers were prancing across the roof tops, the church bells were ringing and Santa was headed down the chimney.

Could you wait till then to dash off to the stores and buy presents in one big, happy, shining gulp? All twenty-five of them? Would you have time to try out every toy, touch every soft thread of a cashmere sweater, stand a half hour or so deciding which tie, which candlestick, which book? Could gather all the goodies that make this season so wonderfully warm and fragrant and delicious? Would you? And, if you did, what would those other hundreds and hundreds of people who shop in the stores be doing? And, what about the clerks? How could they possibly help you make a purchase much less show you what's available, how it works, what it does, how you use it and the many other important features. When would you hide the super surprises, bake the fruit cake, crack the nuts for the cookies, get out the red candles, tie the greenery to the door, drop a line to old friends.

The stores want you to enjoy the Christmas season. . . that's why you see early displays and early advertising for Christmas. The stores know it takes a lot of time . . . to fully enjoy a season as big, as deep, as rich, as sweet, as generous, as fulfilling as Christmas.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Be Still And Know That I Am God

Psalms 46:10

By Bro. Bobby White

We are living in the most modern time known to mankind. In this fast moving time in which we are living, we are losing the most important thing in our lives—FELLOWSHIP WITH GOD.

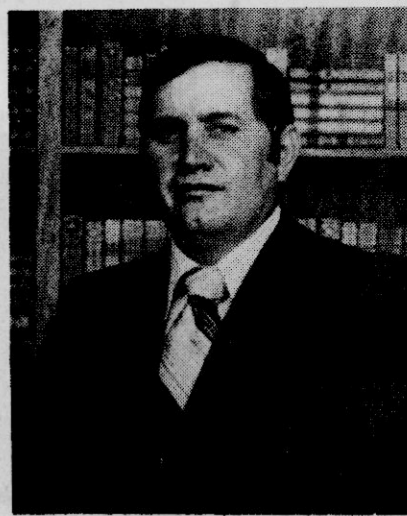

Yes friend, I believe with all our modern church buildings, fellowship halls, social activities, programs, etc. We are forgetting the one thing that is needful, Jesus in the house. Bro. Pastor, how many conversions did you see in 1980?

Yes, in this time we are living, father and mother are so busy working just to keep up with the world and make ends meet. They are missing something precious, and don't realize it—the laughter and fellowship with their children. Yes, in too many cases today, the babysitter and T.V. have taken the place of mom and dad.

The worldly things have taken the place of GOD. The results of this are plainly seen today, in our CHURCHES, HOMES, STREETS, and PRISONS.

Dear friends, don't you think it's time we stop, stand still, and know that HE IS GOD. Let God take over and lead us. We have made a mess out of things.

NO-FRILLS MARK-IT

YOU HELP US CUT OUR HANDLING COSTS...
WE HELP YOU CUT YOUR GROCERY BILL!

1. Take it out of the case.
2. Check the price on the shelf.
3. Mark the price on each item.
4. Enjoy the extra savings!

MARK IT

THE ANSWER!

Our No-Frills MARK-IT section...the answer to high food costs! It's the savings place in town. The prices on these two pages are not "specials" but low, everyday MARK-IT prices. Compare them to what you've been paying! At WAREHOUSE, we're dedicated to saving you money.

First we CUT OUT THE FRILLS and eliminate the high expense of national advertising to bring you our NO-FRILLS line of non-branded products. No fancy fragrances or patterns, no colorful labels, no extras. Just basic household products and wholesome, "everyday" quality foods labeled in plain, black-and-white. Why pay more for a brand name?

Then we CUT OUR OVERHEAD. When you take an item out of the case and mark the price yourself, our handling costs go down. And we pass the savings along to you!

Now you can CUT YOUR GROCERY BILL! Join our No-Frills savings plan. Mark it yourself...see how much you save!
