Carter Carries County

Reagan Carries State, Nation

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

If Prentiss Countians were to have their way, President Jimmy Carter would get to keep his job for four more years. But the rest of the country—or at least most of it—did not agree Tuesday at the polls and former California governor Ronald Reagan will take over the office of President of the United States in January 1981.

According to the unofficial results of the election in Prentiss County, Carter received a total of 4,830 votes to Reagan's 3,260. Carter received almost 60 percent of the vote cast in Prentiss County while Reagan received slightly less than 40 percent. The other three presidential candidates combined received less than 2 percent of the vote.

Independent John Anderson received a total of 45 votes in the county, while other Independents fared even poorer. Ed Clark received 24 votes; Deirdre Griswold received 2 votes; and Andrew Pulley received 4 votes in Prentiss County.

Four years ago Carter carried the county with about 65 percent of the vote, while incumbent Gerald Ford received about 34 percent of the vote in Prentiss County.

Tuesday's turnout in Prentiss County was described as "moderate" with slightly more than 50 percent of the county's voters going to the polls. Almost 8,000 Prentiss Countians voted this year, as compared to about 6,700 four years ago.

Apparently, Reagan's base in the southern counties gave him the state, with many of the northeastern counties choosing Carter.

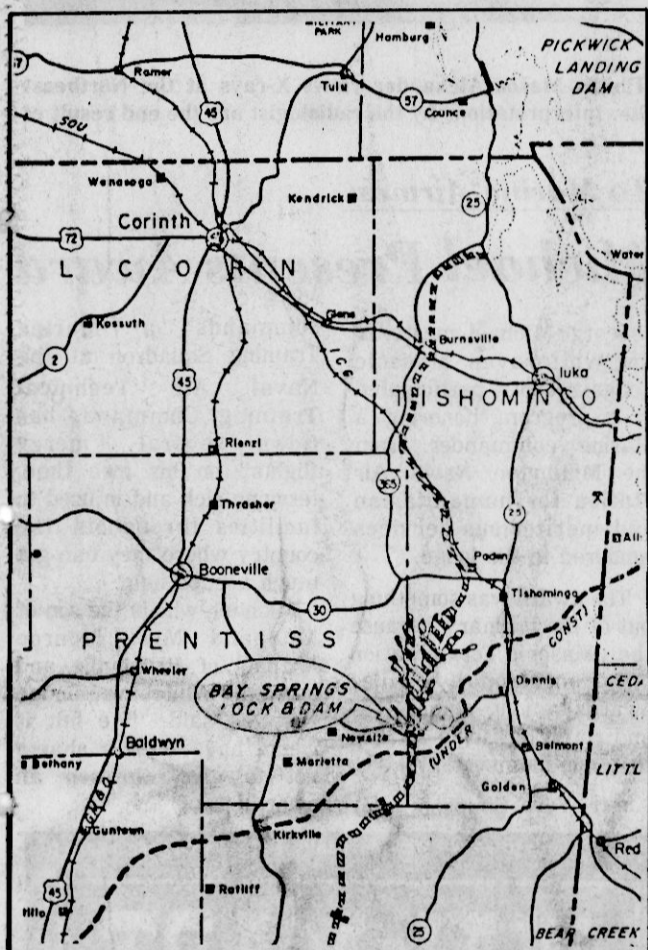

In the election of local officials, the closest race was between incumbent First District county school board member Leonard Huddleston and challenger Larry Joe Crosby. Tuesday night's count, which is still unofficial, showed Cosby winning by three votes with 648 votes to Huddleston's 645.

It is not unusual for a candidate to ask for a recount in such a close race, but as of press time Wednesday no candidate had filed for a recount.

In the race for Second District county school board member, William W. (Bill) Wimberley was unopposed and was elected with 1,476

Bay Springs Lake Project Let To Memphis Group

A group of Memphis firms — known as the Recreational Resources Group — has been selected by the Nashville District Corps of Engineers to plan and design four recreational areas bordering Bay Springs Lake, it was announced this week.

Bay Springs Lake is a reservoir to be created in Prentiss and Tishomingo counties by the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Project.

The joint venture of the Recreational Resources Group is comprised of three Memphis firms — Pickering-Wooten-Smith-Weiss Inc., engineers; Gassner-Nathan & Partners, architects; and Thompson-Miller Architects — and the Knoxville landscape architectural firm of Bill Oliphant & Associates Inc.

Bay Springs Lake will be man-made by a lock and dam on the Tenn-Tom Waterway and will contain approximately 6600 acres. It will be located between Mississippi State Highway 4 and Mississippi State Highway 30, about 15 miles west of the Mississippi-Alabama state line and 25 miles south of Iuka.

The Bay Springs Recreational and Operational Project will provide regional recreational facilities and will enhance the economic development of surrounding communities, a group spokesman said.

The four recreational areas to be designed by the Recreational Resources

Group will contain a visitor center with a theatre, picnic pavilions, a beach, bathhouse and marina, camp sites, boat ramps, fishing piers, a camp store, comfort stations, washhouses, water treatment and wastewater treatment facilities and maintenance facilities. The maintenance facilities will serve the lake recreation areas, lock and dam.

A contract between the Nashville District Corps of Engineers and The Recreational Resources Group was signed July 24, 1980.

Construction on the project is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 1983. Estimated construction cost is $9.3 million.

During September

Prentiss County Unemployment Remains Stable

Prentiss County's unemployment rate remained stable during September with the latest Mississippi State Employment Service figures indicating an 8.0 percent unemployment rate.

Charles Smith, manager of the Employment Service, said the latest figures show a 4.3 percent increase from one year ago.

The number of Prentiss

County residents employed climbed to 10,790, increases from one month ago and one year ago. The total labor force for the county, estimated to be 11,730, also experienced increases from both comparison periods.

Manufacturing employment in the county stood at 3,140 in September, a slight increase from the August estimate, but slightly below that of September 1979.

Nonmanufacturing estimates show employment of 3,970, which represents increases from August and September one year ago.

The four county area of Alcorn, Prentiss, Tishomingo, and Tishomingo experienced an unemployment rate of 8.8 percent, as compared to 8.4 percent last month and 4.5 percent one year ago. Statewide, unemployment was at 6.8 percent for September 1980.

Smith estimated 46,960 persons in the four-county area were available for work last month, a rise of 490 persons from August and 2,560 from the September 1979 estimate. Of that figure, 42,830 were employed and 4,130 unemployed.

Manufacturing employment, estimated to be 15,030, reflected only a minimal change from August but experienced a substantial decrease of 1,200 from the year ago estimate. Non-manufacturing industries, employed 20,180 workers in September, a rise of 670 from August and 450 more than the number reported for September 1979.

The return to work of school related service workers and other service workers contributed a major portion of these increases, Smith said.

'Radar' Glasses Provide Independence

Andrew Downie

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Andrew Downie is from Australia. Andrew Downie is traveling across the United States—alone. Andrew Downie is blind. The 32-year-old native of Sydney, Australia, spent a few days in Booneville last week visiting an old friend—Marshall Dickerson.

Dickerson lived and worked in Australia for several years during the early to mid 1970's. He met Downie while attending church in Sydney.

Although totally blind all of his life, Downie manages to maintain quite an independent lifestyle.

He is employed in Sydney as a legal secretary at one of the city's larger firms of lawyers. Prior to that, he worked for some time as a typist.

However, not all his time is spent working. For example, he just recently finished a university degree with a psychology major.

He also enjoys other outside interests, such as traveling—and even bicycle riding.

Shortly before coming to the United States for his first visit (he arrived Oct. 9), he participated in an organized bicycle ride—a 200-kilometer (125-mile) bicycle ride.

Downie, who served as the "stoker" on the tandem (two-man) bicycle, said he and his partner were able to stay with the leading bunch of cyclists during the first part of the ride, but dropped back some toward the end.

Upon meeting Downie on the street, the thing that most people notice first is the unusual pair of glasses that he wears.

On the front of the glasses, located on the bridge between the two lenses, are three openings arranged in a triangular configuration. Tubes run from the glasses into each of Downie's ears and a wire connects the glasses to a pack attached to his belt.

Sounding like something out of a science fiction story, these "radar" glasses enable Downie to get around virtually unassisted. He doesn't even use a guide dog as many blind Americans do—he manages very well with just the glasses and a cane.

Developed and manufactured in New Zealand, the glasses contain a sonar device that sends out ultrasonic signals. When these signals hit an object, the sound waves are reflected back

Keeping On Your Toes!

AT THE POLLS — Voting keeps you on your toes, especially if you are the size of Renia McKinney, a fifth grade student at the Booneville Middle School. Renia and other fifth grade students at the school participated in a mock election Monday, complete with their own Democrat and Republican candidates and electors. There was one unforeseen problem in their election that rarely occurs in a national Presidential election — the Democratic nominee (Julie Thompson) came down with the Chicken Pox and was unable to attend the election! MAKING THE X-RAY—Mrs. Velma Spencer, X-ray technician at the Northeast Mississippi Hospital, positions the remote control X-ray unit for a chest X-ray.

At NEM Hospital

‘One Of The Most Advanced Radiology Departments’

By IYANDA HORTON
Director of Radiology, Nuclear Medicine,
and Ultra Sound

The Northeast Mississippi Hospital has one of the most advanced radiology departments in north Mississippi. There are three divisions: X-ray, Nuclear Medicine and Diagnostic Ultrasound.

There are two board certified radiologists serving NEMH, Dr. Roger T. Swanson and Dr. Phyllis Mason Alexander. Both have many years experience in interpreting radiologic films and procedures.

The X-ray Department has a remote control unit that can perform all exams in the X-ray spectrum—angiography, tomography, fluoroscopy, as well as routine X-ray examinations.

Angiography is the administration of a liquid contrast material (usually iodine or meglumine) which is radiopaque into an artery. This is done to see if any of the blood vessels in a specific area are occluded or blocked by foreign material.

Tomography is sectional pictures of different planes of the body. An example of this would be the slicing of some material in several sections.

Fluoroscopy is the administration of a contrast material such as air or barium sulfate into the digestive system to outline the system. The digestive system cannot be visualized without a contrast material. The patient swallows this contrast material which acts as food and can be traced throughout the complete digestive system. This procedure is useful in finding ulcers of the stomach, hiatus hernia, lesion in the small bowel and colon.

Routine X-rays are bone and chest radiograph. There are no external contrast materials required. They are provided by the body, air in the lungs for the chest X-ray and bones in the muscle tissue.

The Nuclear Medicine Department has a new Pho-Gamma V Angular Camera. This piece of equipment is designed to detect small amounts of radioactive nuclide injected into the patient. These nuclides are mixed into combination with other materials, depending on which area of the body the doctor is interested in.

These materials have no adverse reaction on the patient. The areas that can be studied are the brain, bones, lungs and liver. These studies can detect cancer, tumors, abnormal blood flow, trauma to the bones, brain, liver and spleen also blood clots in lungs (embolization). These tests can be performed without further trauma to the patient.

The administration of these nuclear materials are under the authority of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC).

All of the procedures above utilize ionizing radiation and should not be performed on pregnant women, especially during the first trimester of the pregnancy.

Diagnostic ultrasound procedures do not use ionizing radiation in any form. Ultrasound utilizes high frequency sound waves in the diagnostic process and picture production and must work through a fluid medium—that is, the skin must have some type of oil or transmitting gel in contact with the skin of the patient and transducer of the machine.

This principle was adopted from the use of sonar in World War II in ships and submarines where a high frequency sound wave was sent out through water (fluid medium). The sound struck an object and sounded back indicating a different object was ahead.

The same principle was adopted for medical use by using the different tissue densities of the body, such as the skin layer, fat layer, muscles and specific organ of the body. This test is not useful in organs or systems that contain air. Air attenuates or lessens the sound waves. These tests require no patient preparation.

Areas that can be evaluated by ultrasound are the liver, kidneys, gallbladder, bladder and pelvis. Also, doctors find it useful in determining fetal growth and development from five weeks after conception until birth and such tests are not harmful to pregnant women in any stage of their pregnancy.

EXAMINING X-RAYS—Dr. Phyllis Mason Alexander views X-rays at the Northeast Mississippi Hospital in Booneville. Interpretations by the radiologist are the end result of the X-ray procedure.

‘Radar’ Glasses

to the glasses and are transformed into audible tones through the tubes which run to Downie's ears.

He said that a quality change in the sound produced in his ears indicates an object.

The sonic device helps him determine distance, direction and texture of objects, he said. He is able to determine the distance of the object by the pitch of the signal produced in his ears. Direction is determined by the relative strength of the signals in each ear.

However, the sonar sensing device does have its drawbacks. For one thing, "It takes quite a bit of practice, because the signals are so complex," Downie said.

He compared the process of learning to use the glasses to that of a baby learning to use its eyes. "It takes several years for a child to fully develop his vision," he said.

Downie has been using the glasses now for about nine years.

Possibly because of the length of time required to learn to interpret the complex audio signals relayed to the user by the glasses, these sonar devices do not have widespread use in the United States. They are much more common in Australia, Downie said.

The glasses have served Downie well in his visit to the United States. Before coming to Booneville, he spent some time in San Fancisco and came away totally enamored with the city. He said he loved walking around Fisherman's Wharf and he said he was very interested in the city's rapid transit system.

"The trolley buses are excellent," he said. "The cable cars are fun, but inefficient," he added.

Downie planned to leave Booneville Wednesday (yesterday) on the last leg of his trip to the states. He plans final stopovers in New York and Boston before returning to Sydney on Nov. 13.

Michael Presents Award

George Michael, master of the Whitehaven Masonic Lodge, recently participated in a program honoring a Marine commander from the Millington Naval Air Station for humanitarian and meritorious services rendered to the lodge.

The award was something out of the ordinary because the Masonic organization only occasionally gives awards among themselves; and rarely presents awards to non-members.

Maj. Vern Simpson, who commands a Marine Training Squadron at the Naval Air Technical Training Command, has flown several "mercy flights" on his own time, ferrying sick and injured to facilities throughout the country where they can get much needed help.

Michael, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Michael of Booneville and master of Whitehaven Lodge No. 599, said, "We felt it would have been a shame not to give Simpson an award."

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I have had trouble with 1 Thes. 5:19, where it says "Quench not the Spirit." Since I read your articles I would like to hear this explained?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: In answering your question, I would like to give one other passage in addition to "Quench not the Spirit" and that is Matt. 25:8, which says, "And the foolish said unto the wise, give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out." It is interesting that the words "Gone out" are translated from the original word "Shennami" which is exactly the same word from which we get the word "Quench" in the other test. The word conveys the idea of a flame, when it is put out or allowed to go out it means it is quenched. Jeremiah said that the word of God is a fire: "Is not my word like as fire?" said the Lord—Jer. 23:29. David said, "My heart was hot within me; while I was musing the fire burned; then spake I with my tongue."—Psa. 93:3. We quench the spirit when we restrain the word of God within us. We must accept the teaching of the Bible because the Spirit revealed all the Bible.

votes. In the race for Congressman of the First District of the United States House of Representatives, incumbent Democrat Jamie Whitten defeated his Republican opponent T.K. Moffett. In Prentiss County, Whitten received almost 64 percent of the vote, with 4,930 votes to Moffett's 2,832. For Supreme Court Judge of the Third (Northern) District, Position No. 3, Democrat Armis E. Hawkins was elected. In Prentiss County, Hawkins won by a wide margin with 3,507 votes to Independent candidate Jack N. Tucker's 1,064. Thomas J. Gardner III was unopposed for the post of First District Circuit Court Judge, Place Two, and won with 2,793 votes in Prentiss County. In the local races for Election Commissioners, James F. Gargus was unopposed in the First District and was elected with 1,148 votes. The race for Election Commissioner in the second District had the most number of candidates running of any of the local offices. Democrat Woodrow W. English won with 825 votes over two Democrat opponents--Mrs. Cliff (Quay) Michael with 441 votes and George Martin Via with 428 votes--and one Republican, Frederick I. Rienbold with 190 votes. In the Third District, Mrs. Sale Martin took the Election Commissioner post with 781 votes to 676 for her opponent, Johnnie J.R. Arnold. Cayce DePoyster (938 votes) was chosen Election Commissioner in the Fourth District over Robert L. Lindsey (649 votes). In the First District, Larry W. Lambert (853 votes) defeated Charles George (367 votes) for the Election Commissioner post.

Sewing Program Planned

Do you have trouble fitting yourself? "Sewing and Fitting Short Cuts" demonstration will solve many of your problems. Nancy Zieman will be presenting the Sew-Fit Method at 9:30 Thursday morning, Nov. 13, at Patterson Hall Auditorium on the NEMJC campus. Ms. Zieman will be demonstrating a fascinating way to sew and fit; also, she will show how to alter patterns using wax paper and a tracing wheel. Ms. Zieman tells how to cut and sew without pins. This will be a 2-hour program with no charge, according to Claire T. Ross, Prentiss County Extension Home Economist. "This program will be well worth your time and gas," Mrs. Ross said, "so, come and learn a new and exciting sewing and fitting method."

Dr. Cartwright Is Certified

Dr. Clifton C. Cartwright of Booneville is now board certified in the medical specialty of family practice, according to an announcement this week from the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP). Dr. Cartwright has been named a diplomate of the ABFP as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the board. A Booneville native, Cartwright returned to the city and set up his medical practice in January of this year. Although board certification is not required in the practice of family medicine, the intensive two-day written examination is designed to prove the candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine, an ABFP spokesman said. To qualify for the examination, a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice. Cartwright served in the University of Tennessee Residency Program at the Madison County General Hospital in Jackson, Tenn., one of some 382 such training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the nation. ABFP diplomates must also continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being re-certified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis, a board spokesman said. The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to more than 24,000, most of whom are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. Dr. Cartwright is the son of Merrill T. and Laura Cartwright of Booneville. He is married to the former Carolyn Stevens, also a Booneville native, and they have on son, Clifton Wesley, who will be one-year-old in December.

Scientific Advances Are Necessary

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau

Rejection of Science

The world of science is the world of testing and proving things—to see if something works satisfactorily or not.

Science lifted humanity from superstition to faith in knowledge, and led man into an era of enlightenment that is the most distinctive and constructive feature of civilization.

Yet, it is strange that the last years of this twentieth century are dimly beset by multitudes of moderns who reject science today as strongly suspect or untrustworthy to support continued progress.

Hacked by those who today impede further scientific advancement, a contemporary American scientist recently published a paper dealing with recent triumphs of superstition over science.

Dr. Robert H. White-Stevens expressed concern that without technology and a scientific approach to the resolution of natural problems that always accompany mankind through all ages, our modern civilization may well fade into oblivion as did those of Egypt, Greece, Rome and other prominent cultures of the past.

Sharing a common concern, Sir Peter Medawar, a former president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, points to a perverse willingness to believe that any damage done to the environment by technology is an inevitable and irreversible process—a very trampling down of nature by some big, heartless, inexorable machine.

These two scientists believe that answers to some of the world's foremost problems should be viewed in the context of being technological problems for which the answers are either available right now or usually can be readily found.

Most complaints about the deterioration of the environment are overdone, these scientists believe, since modern science has the capacity to develop needed remedies for unwanted side effects from whatever.

Rejection of science through ignorance or prejudice is nothing new—having occurred too often in world history with tragic consequences. As far back as 2,500 years ago Thucydides noted that if man fails to learn by the lessons of history he is doomed to live it over again.

In modern times this is an ill omen—just as it was during the Golden Age of Pericles after which Rome declined and fell and man again sank into the Dark Ages for almost 2,000 years before once again emerging into the Age of Reason and the Renaissance.

In his paper Dr. Stevens-White points out warningly that distrust of science and technology among the young has generated massive doubt and suspicion within the educational and political systems of this country. And he points to certain modernists who have deemed themselves as saviors and prophets who will lead mankind out of the slough of scientific despondency back into the pure radiance of nature itself. The problem hits sorely home when these regressors create enough public confusion that government leaders waiver and curb scientific progress in such pressing fields as energy, genetics, pest control, livestock production, etc., excusing themselves with contention that man must slow down and catch up socially and politically with the enormous advances science already has achieved in our time.

Proof of wavering position despite solid scientific evidence is well illustrated in the current actions being taken against the herbicide 2,4,5-T or pesticide DDT which have served agriculture and public health well and greatly benefitted humankind throughout the world.

Yet the detractors grow in influence and scientific enlightenment still strangely falls prey to ignorance and superstition.

If America really wants to stay at the top of the pile, her people would do well to reacquaint history and science with the seriousness both deserve.

Government Spending Is Cause Of Inflation

Soaring inflation has eroded the buying power of American families, causing most to alter their standards of living.

As the cost of living increases, many American consumers think that inflation results from businesses raising prices and pulling in higher profits, or workers demanding increased wages, or banks demanding higher interest rates.

These are result of inflation, however, not causes.

The public generally fails to recognize that the root of the current inflationary crisis is the soaring price of government. Simply stated, growth of government programs has exceeded the growth of business, whose taxes finance such programs.

Inflation is a decline in the value of money, and only the government has the power to debase the currency by creating too much of it. Between 1975 and 1979 the federal tax bill necessary to support government programs increased more than eight times greater than the average American's fuel bill increased.

As a step toward balancing the federal budget and controlling inflation, the Mississippi Economic Council recommends that the President should be required to submit budgets to Congress in which proposed expenditures shall not exceed his estimate of revenue.

Also, the MEC urges Mississippians—as residents of the nation's poorest state and, thus, the hardest hit by inflationary government policies—to contact their elected officials in Washington and recommend they deal with the cause of inflation, demanding an end to inflationary deficit spending.

Beware Of Free Vacation

Attorney General Bill Allain is warning consumers to be careful when signing up for "Free vacation" offers being solicited throughout the state.

According to Allain, these "Free vacations" are promotional schemes to sell real estate or schemes to defraud the consumer from his money.

Promoters of "free vacations" usually contact consumers through mail or telephone solicitation.

The consumer is told that he or she has won an exciting fun-filled holiday with deluxe room accommodations for several days and nights.

Sometimes it's Las Vegas, Reno, or Florida.

However, the files of the Consumer Protection Division contain complaints from unhappy people who took the promoter up on the "free vacation" offer. Allain tells of people who traveled to Las Vegas or other vacation spots only to find out that—even though they had "confirmed" reservations—the hotel staff had never heard of them.

Listed below are other problems consumers may face:

—Promoters may request credit card number for registration fee.

—$20-$90 registration fee.

—Consumer must provide own transportation to and from destination.

—Also, "bonus coupons" for free meals, drinks, discount gambling, show tickets, or golf may not be a bargain at all. For example, an offer of free meals may be limited to the house of 2-5 a.m., and free tickets for gambling might be available only from certain casinos at odd hours.

Allain says that some vacation offers may be completely above board and plainly disclose any limitations they may have. But before you fly off to your free vacation, he suggests that you invest some time checking the reputation of the company.

For additional information contact your Attorney General Bill Allain, Consumer Protection Division, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, MS 39205, (601)961-4244.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General

Rising food prices—particularly rising meat costs—have caused consumers to seek out the least expensive outlets for food.

This quest for savings often leads consumers to bulk meat sellers where, by buying meat in large quantities, they sometimes can save money. However, not all bulk meat sellers offer a saving; very often if consumers are not open-eyed they can find themselves victimized by deceptive advertising and fraudulent sales practices. Here are some of the practices to beware of:

—Don't be caught in "Bait and Switch"—some bulk meat dealers lure consumers in by advertising meat at what seems to be outrageously low prices. When, however, the consumer asks for the advertised meat, they try to discourage its purchase by refusing to sell it or by pointing out its poor quality. Sometimes consumers are even shown meat that is molding and offensive smelling. The object is, of course, to switch consumers to more expensive meats.

—Don't be misled by the prizes of meat sold by hanging weight—that is, untrimmed and uncut. Find out what the cost-per-pound is for take-home meat. After the loss caused by trimming and boning, the "low cost-per-pound" could turn out to be higher than the ordinary retail price.

Edible meat might in some cases amount to only half the hanging weight, doubling the actual price per pound the consumer pays for what he eats. You will be paying for what is being raked into the garbage bags.

—Watch carefully when meat is trimmed, cut, and packaged to make sure what you bought is what you take home. Some disreputable dealers switch orders on customers.

In addition, you should know something about meat labeling before you make a bulk meat purchase.

—Look for the USDA (United States Department of Agriculture) grade stamped on the beef. The top three grades—and those most often sold at retail—are Prime, Choice, and Good. The other five are Standard, Commercial, Utility, Cutter, and Canner.

The grades are a guide to how tender, juicy, and flavorful the meat will be. The lowest grade sold as fresh beef, USDA Commercial, is often used as "bait" beef with which to "switch" consumers to higher priced beef.

—Be wary of meat advertised as "Heavy Western Beef," "U.S. Fancy Beef," "U.S. Grade A Beef," or similar phrases. These labels are fictitious and have no relationship to quality, flavor or tenderness.

Consumers need to be alert and informed about consumer issues and problems in the marketplace. For additional information, contact your Attorney General, Bill Allain, Consumer Protection Division, P.O. Box 220, Jackson, Miss. 39205, (601) 961-4244.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

A while back you did a piece on utility advertising, which I misplaced. Could you review the points? I'll keep them this time.

Dear IKTTT: I'll gladly cover it again because the necessity for repetition of a message was a major theme of the response.

As I recall, the piece was in defense of the practice of utility company advertising, especially their promotion of energy conservation.

The person who wrote was complaining that such advertising expenditure further increased the cost of his utilities.

We pointed out that the role of advertising is usually to increase volume, which should ultimately result in a savings to consumers.

But this is only true when increased production results in a lower unit cost, allowing retailers to charge less for high volume items. In most retailing situations turnover regulates profits to a greater extent than markup.

In the case of energy, however, the market has exactly the opposite complexion, and the volume principle works in reverse.

Regardless of your position on energy production, it must now be recognized that resources are in short supply. Deregulation and removal of bureaucratic barriers to development of new supplies and alternative sources would ultimately change the market, but for now the unarguable fact is "shortage."

Power companies in particular usually have several energy sources, which range in cost—hydroelectric (water driven turbines in dams) is very low cost, nuclear is relatively inexpensive when compared to coal and fuel oil, which are the highest in cost.

So as demand increases to the point where the next most expensive option is put into service to meet the need, rates for the service must go up.

Conservation, therefore, is the only answer for now. It may be temporary should more, or alternative, sources be developed. It will be permanent should there be no further development.

But conservation is not something you do or don't do. It's an attitude. Abundant power with promotional rates to increase usage took several decades of advertising to establish in the public mind.

An energy conservation attitude cannot be established by bureaucratic directive. It, too, will require an all-out barrage of publicity and advertising.

Higher utility rates will not be effective in curtailing usage—inflationary, but not effective. Rationing might work, but advertising designed to replace the prevailing attitude will work. But it will take time. And it will save you money.

SPECIAL REPORT:

Lame-Duck Session

Congress reconvenes in mid-November for the first lame-duck session in six years, and only the fifth since the end of World War II.

During the first century and a half of our nation's existence, lame-duck sessions of Congress were the rule rather than the exception. But the Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution, ratified in 1933, was aimed at strengthening our representative branch of government and eliminating the need for lame-duck sessions except in rare cases.

Since the Twentieth Amendment went into effect on January 3, 1935, there have been eight lame-duck sessions, three before and during the Second World War, and sessions in 1948, 1950, 1954, 1970 and the one in 1974, when the major focus of the lame-duck session was confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller to be Vice President.

Students of history may be interested to note that all five of the lame-duck sessions since World War II have been during election years, the even-years when Congress is up for election—all 435 House seats and one-third of the hundred-member Senate.

This year, the necessity for a lame-duck session was created by the majority's unwillingness to act before the Congressional elections on the appropriations and budget legislation essential to keep the government running during the 1981 fiscal year.

When Congress recessed in early October, only three of 13 major appropriations bills had been passed by both houses, and the 1981 budget resolution, setting a ceiling on federal expenditures, was left unfinished.

The government is able to function until December 15 through the convenient device known as a continuing resolution, which allows various federal agencies and programs to continue operating at their 1980 level of funding.

I am opposed to this lame-duck session, for the simple reason that I believe Congress could have finished its business and passed the budget and appropriations legislation still pending.

When we reconvene in a few days, about one-fifth of the membership of Congress, or more, will be lame-ducks, either defeated at the polls or headed into retirement.

This is precisely the reason the Twentieth amendment was adopted nearly 50 years ago, to eliminate a Congress riddled with members who have already been rejected by their constituents or retiring from their responsibilities from acting on important matters affecting the future of our country.

The very foundation of representative democracy, with our legislative branch of government, is congressmen and senators who have the public backing and confidence of their constituents. Lame-duck sessions defeat this sound Constitutional principle.

The upcoming lame-duck session will be particularly uncertain, with great potential for chaotic action and partisan bickering. The prospect of lame-duck administrators and a lame-duck Congress trying to act in a responsible and rational manner in the waning days of 1980 is going to tax the abilities and patience of Congressional leaders and members.

It will be incumbent on all of us who serve in the Congress, and who will continue to serve when the 97th Congress takes office next January, to conclude the necessary business of the lame-duck session as soon as possible, with a minimum of confusion and partisan infighting.

An Evening with Mississippi Authors

(Of course you are a writer!)

Almost everyone wants to keep thoughts and plans that the years dim or wants to communicate a feeling or a belief. A small percent of us actually reach publication.

For those in our area who have achieved seeing their work in print, the Friends of the Library are planning recognition on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 7 p.m. at the George E. Allen Library.

In addition to meeting local authors and talking with them, seeing their books, perhaps discussing avenues of publication—any interest you and they may have in common—you will have the opportunity of browsing through the works of many Mississippi authors.

Many things from our own collection will be brought together in one place for you, and other Mississippi writings will be borrowed for this occasion.

Ten local authors—poets, short story writers, biographers, and historians—have planned to spend this evening with you. You, the public, are cordially invited to be their guests and ours at the George E. Allen Library next Tuesday evening.

Extension Council Secretary

A combination of meetings to save gasoline filled the afternoon for representative Extension Club leaders Oct. 28 at the Extension Conference Room.

The nominating committee offered names for the 1981 council officers, and these names were approved by a vote of those present.

Those elected were Mrs. Ida Lee McCutchen, president; Mrs. Corrine

Mitchell, vice-president; Mrs. G. Louise Kernell, secretary; and Mrs. Rubye Davis, treasurer.

Discussions for approval of the yearbook and new events and activities were decided upon.

Home Economist Mrs. Claire T. Ross brought us a preview of our November program of "Christmas in Germany," an international study of the year called "O' Tannebaum" pretty, edible miniature confections, Marzipans, fruits, vegetables, etc., handmade to create joy for the young and young of heart. Club members used available ingredients with amazing results for decorating a cake almost too pretty to eat.

The Extension Office personnel served fancy cookies and a refreshing cup of hot punch to each member of the group.

Mark Killough and his friend, Nick Brown, have returned to their Naval Air Force base in Florida after a visit here with Mark's father, Earl Killough, and other relatives. Nick's home is in Indiana and this was his first visit to Mississippi.

Mrs. John Weatherbee of Route 3, Rienzi, was in town Friday for a visit with Mrs. David Potts.

Ken Nash accompanied Miss Tammy Marsh of Kossuth, together with her parents, to Arkansas over the weekend to attend the wedding of Tammy's cousin. Mrs. Melvin Johnsey Jr. and Mrs. Cecil Weatherbee visited during the week with Mrs. Johnsey's mother, Mrs. Erma McKinney in Booneville and with Mrs. Weatherbee's mother, Mrs. Ford in Red Bay, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palmer visited recently with their daughters, Mrs. R.L. Pounders, and her family and Mrs. Bobby Harold Cooksey in Scottsboro, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Moore of Selmer, Tenn., were Thursday guests of Bro. and Mrs. James H. Moore.

Zack Parker entered the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth Thursday. Friends join with Mrs. Billy Crow in wishing for him a return home very soon.

The little witches and ghosts were out in abundance Friday night, calling out "Trick or Treat." All who came to my door were sweet and well-mannered and it was a delightful pleasure to hand out treats.

The joy in sharing greetings and treats was worth while. A number of Rienzians were in Kossuth Friday night for the Biggersville-Kossuth football game.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cude are spending this weekend in Starkville with John, Lissa and Emilie Cude.

Howard Lareg is at home after spending a few days in the hospital in Corinth where he underwent surgery. Friends are hopeful he will soon be quite well again and able to be about his regular routine of work.

Mrs. Howard Lang and Mrs. Buddy Robinson are both confined to their home with attacks of flu. Best wishes go to all of these and to Fred Benjamin and any others who are sick at this time. Jack Bishop hopes to be at home with his family within the next few days after a lengthy stay in the Medical Center in Tupelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates' granddaughter, Amanda Roselee, will be three weeks old Monday. She is doing fine since her parents brought her home from the hospital. Her name was misprinted in last weeks news.

The stork is planning to visit Bobby and Diana

Johnson, soon, Mrs. Pat Cox, Bobby's sister, is planning a baby shower for Mrs. Johnson to be given Friday evening.

Mrs. Opal Holder's niece, Sherron, visited with her Saturday. They spent the evening shopping in Corinth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Cairo spent Sunday afternoon visiting with his brother, Noonan Johnson of Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims of Florence, Ala., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Wright and Mrs. Letha Bryant visited Alta Wright Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Sanders were guest of Mrs. Meg Bryant Sunday. She recently celebrated her 90th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. H.T. Holder's son, Gary, and his friend, Dorothy Taylor, stopped by for a short visit Saturday on their way to celebrate her birthday. The same evening Mrs. Georgia Depoyster, and Bro. Herman Clark with his family were over for supper. The meal was delicious and the evening was delightful.

Hazel Osborn and Helen Durrance stopped in for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. S.R. Engle as they were leaving Mississippi to return to Florida.

We are sorry to hear that Chris Clark is going into Magnolia Hospital Monday. We hope his stay will be brief.

We are all proud that Geneva Parker has decided to build back her store. In addition to the store she will also have a small cafe. Several neighbors have been donating labor to help Ms. Parker get back in business. She hopes to be able to open within three weeks. All help she receives is greatly appreciated.

Choir Surprised With Party

The choir for the West Prentiss Charge was surprised with a Halloween treat Sunday night, Oct. 26, when Mr. and Mrs. Murray Davis entertained them in their Oak-Gail Home in Jumpertown.

Upon arriving, a smiling jack-o-lantern welcomed the guests to patio. The table holding the jack-o-lantern was surrounded with "trick-or-treat" candy, marshmallows and wieners for the young ones to roast on the bonfire that brisk fall night.

The atmosphere was completed with corn shucks, pumpkins and gourds scattered around the patio area. Huge black pots and urns held fall arrangements of colorful leaves, wildflowers and cattails.

The carport was lined with bales of hay that made ideal seats for the guests to use while enjoying the meal prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

The T-shaped tables were laden with baked turkey, ham, dressing, dumplings, green beans, corn, potato salad, butter beans, cole slaw, tossed salad, hamburger casserole, baked beans, sweet potatoes, sourkraut and back bones, congealed salad, pickled peaches, tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, onions, watermelons, hot corn bread, banana cake, coconut cake, fruit cakes or sweet potato pie, cokes, coffee and tea.

After the meal, the group sang as Jean Blassingame and Bobby Cox played their guitars.

Attending from Carolina Church were Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Green and Bo; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Martin, Nancy and Grant; Mrs. Christine Burress, Reba and David; Terry Cartwright and Bob Cox.

Attending from Cross Roads Church were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Geno; Ms. Louise Robinson and Cindy; Ms. Jolene McCoy and Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Wooley and Jeff Prentiss.

From Jumpertown Church there were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blassingame, Scott and Jackie; Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Norman English and Lori; Betty Phillips and Karen; Wendy Windham; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Michael; Mr. and Mrs. Mae Dean Lambert, Shea and Trey; Mrs. Bill T. Cox and the Rev. and Mrs. Perk Perry and Pam.

Shower Honors Miss Ellzey

Miss Marla Ellzey, bride-elect of Gary Childers of Ripley, was honored with a lingerie shower on Oct. 18 from 2 until 4 p.m. in the new home of Mrs. Butch Stephens in Wheeler.

The guests were welcomed by the honoree and Miss Terri Kendrick and Mrs. Stephens, hostesses. The refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen tablecloth edged with white lace and was adorned with an arrangement of pink daisy mums and baby's breath. The guests were served refreshments consisting of mints, nuts, petit fours, crackers and cheese spread, and punch while reminiscing about school days and other past events.

The honoree was then presented gifts of lingerie by the guests. She received many items of lingerie to be added to her trousseau.

Special guests for the occasion were the honoree's sister and niece, Mrs. Elta White and Heather.

Susan Echols And James Pounds Exchange Vows

Miss Susan Gail Echols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Echols of Booneville, and James Seth Andrew Pounds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Pounds of Booneville, were married at 6 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 16, in a candlelight ceremony at the First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Charles Potts, pastor of the church, and the Rev. E.S. Furr of Grenada, a former pastor of the church, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. S.C. Galloway registered the guests in the vestibule and presented each with a miniature scroll from the bridal couple.

Nuptial music was presented by Sam Galloway, organist, and Douglas Holland, soloist.

Jerry Echols, brother of the bride, and Stan Pounds, brother of the bridegroom, served as attendants. Mrs. L.W. Peeler directed the wedding.

Vows were pledged before an altar centered with a brass, arched candelabra holding white tapers. Slightly to one side stood the Trinity candles which became the Unity candle.

On either side were graduated arrangements of spiral candelabra, candle trees, jade fern trees, and baskets holding spreading arrangements of white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silesta chiffon in traditional styling. The bodice, with Queen Ann neckline, was appliqued with handclipped French Alencon lace motifs, embroidered with pearl clusters which were repeated on the long, fitted sleeves.

The skirt, enhanced with lace medallions, was completed with a deep ruffle under a band of cut and scalloped lace and flowed to a full cathedral train.

The bride wore a cathedral mantilla, bordered with scalloped Alencon lace and appliqued with Alencon medallions and silk venise lace daisies. The veil was secured to a raised lace caplet that framed her face.

The bride carried a portrait bouquet of white silk roses and gypsophyllia. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace that was a gift from the groom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Ronnie Burrage of Bartlett, Tenn., attended as matron of honor. Mrs. Lou Ann Horton of Tupelo was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Debbie Russell; Norma Kay Young, cousin of the groom; Lisa Prichard; and Terri Kendrick, all of Booneville; and Miss Mary Dean Pounds, cousin of the groom, of Jackson, Miss.

Little Miss Wendy Burrage, niece of the bride, of Bartlett, Tenn., served as flower girl.

The groom was attended by his father as best man. Ushers were Jerry Echols, brother of the bride; and Stan Pounds, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Bob Galloway and Jeff Wright, both of Booneville; Tony Presley of Jackson, Miss.; Randy Jenkins of Silas, Miss.; Bill White of New Orleans; and Ronnie Burrage, brother-in-law of the bride, of Bartlett, Tenn. Jason Walden, nephew of the groom, of Booneville served as ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore a formal gown of seafoam lustre-glo knit. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

The mother of the groom wore a formal gown of gray chiffon with an empire waist. She also wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

Assisting with corsages and boutonnières before the wedding were Mrs. W.B. White, Mrs. Marvin Smitherman, Mrs. Tom Stephens, Mrs. L.C. Wright and Mrs. James Goddard.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bridal couple entertained with a poolside reception on the patio of the Booneville

Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Clifford Long of Booneville registered the guests.

The bride's table, covered with a white stain cloth, overlaid with white lace, was centered with the sculptured, tiered cake, ornamented with white suppgarspun doves. The anniversary tier was topped with an arrangement of roses.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Billy Orval Spain and Mrs. Jerry Harber, cousins of the groom, and Mrs. Ralph Goodman and Mrs. Leamon Sanders, all of Booneville.

The groom's table, overlaid with a beige burlap cloth, edged with brown, was centered with a three-tiered chocolate cake. Presiding were Mrs. Billy Pounds of Columbus and Mrs. Oswald Pounds of Booneville, aunts of the groom, Ms. Barbara Yarbrough of Booneville and Mrs. Patti Westbrooke of Tupelo.

Hor d'oeuvres and canapes were served by Mrs. Stan Pounds, sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Percy White, aunt of the groom; Mrs. George Via, cousin of the groom, all of Booneville; and Miss Kay Bradley of Tupelo.

Mrs. Guy Robertson, aunt of the groom; Mrs. W.M. Murphy; Miss Carolyn Miller, all of Booneville; and Miss Angie Pannell of Tupelo served punch. Miss Jan Floyd presided over the champagne fountain.

Tea girls were misses Rhonda White of Germantown, Tenn.; Julie and Susan Long of Booneville, cousins of the groom; and Susan Yarbrough of Booneville.

Little Misses Jennifer and April Echols, nieces of the bride, and Stephanie West and Penny Caldwell, all of Booneville, distributed rice bags.

Hosts and hostesses throughout the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Emmons Turner, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Price and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Thomason.

After a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla., the couple will be at home in Jackson, Miss., where Mr. Pounds is a senior law student at Mississippi College and is employed with the Mississippi Tax Commission's Legal Department. Mrs. Pounds is employed at Woman's Hospital as a Registered Nurse in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Pounds honored their son and his fiancée with a rehearsal dinner at th the Terrace Restaurant in Tupelo on the eve of the wedding.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Charles Potts. The father of the groom proposed a toast of happiness to the honored couple. The groom expressed his appreciation to the parents and welcomed the bride-elect into the Pounds family.

Bridesmaids' Luncheon

Miss Echols and her attendants were honored with a bridesmaids' luncheon on the day of the wedding in the home of Mrs. Percy White.

Hostesses were Mrs. White, Mrs. Clifford Long and Mrs. James Stanley Long.

Special guests included the mothers of the bridal couple.

Bachelor's Brunch

The colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. George Via was the setting for a bachelor's brunch honoring Jim Pounds on the day of the wedding.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Via and Dr. and Mrs. Billy Pounds of Columbus. Special guests were the fathers of the bridal couple.

Mr. Pounds presented his attendants with lucite paperweights filled with copper pennies.

Ricebag Party

Mrs. Emmons Turner and Mrs. John Henry Price

entertained the bride-elect with a rice bag party in the home of Mrs. Turner on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 10. They presented Miss Echols with a piece of china. Special guests were the mothers of the couple.

Kitchen Shower

Miss Echols was honored with a kitchen shower given in the home of Mrs. Billy Orval Spain. Mrs. Jerry Harber, Mrs. Danny Mincy and Miss Terri Kendrick were co-hostesses with Mrs. Spain.

Miscellaneous Shower

Prior to her marriage, Miss Echols was honored with a miscellaneous shower given by Misses Lou Ann Horton Angie Pannell, Kay Bradley and Marjorie Byars in the home of Leona Poole in Tupelo.

Eaton Addresses Rotary Club

"Arson in Mississippi and the Arson Reward Program" was the topic of a program delivered to the Booneville Rotary Club during their regular meeting held Oct. 28. The featured speaker was Bonnard F. Eaton.

In his speech Eaton spoke on the alarming rise of arson in the state and outlined the arson reward program currently in effect which is funded by the Mississippi Insurance Council and administered by the State Fire Marshall's office. The program provides for rewards up to $1,000 to informants who provide authorities with information leading to the indictment or conviction of persons engaged in arson.

The Mississippi Insurance Council is a non-profit organization madeup of insurance agents and companies throughout the State.

The program is being given by local members of the Insurance Council Speakers Bureau to interested groups statewide.

Your Health Insurance NOW Covers Chiropractic Health Care...
Mississippi Insurance Law Information

A Bill passed by the Mississippi legislature upheld by the insurance commissioner of the state of Mississippi, now makes the inclusion of Chiropractic care in all of Mississippi Issued Insurance policies mandatory.

No policy issued in the State of Mississippi can any longer draw distinction between a Medical Doctor and a Doctor of Chiropractic in the payment of claims.

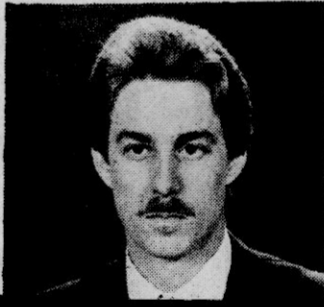

The bill, House Bill 393, went into effect April 24, 1980. It is a historic and significant achievement, an acknowledgement of the rights of each individual to seek out the doctor and method of health care which he has found to be, in his own experience, most effective.

It is possible, however, that not all insurance companies or their agents are yet aware of the full implications of this bill. Your doctor will make every effort to expedite any claims you may have.

Ms. Hong Guest Of DKG

Kyung-Ja Hong of Korea, a Delta Kappa Gamma World Fellowship recipient, was a special guest at the meeting of the Upsilon

Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society on Nov. 11 at the Frank Haney Union at Northeast Junior College. Ms. Hong is presently working on her doctorate program in educational psychology at the University of Mississippi. She has been studying in the United States for two years.

The Korean visitor said she is impressed with the specialized programs offered in the American schools and hopes to introduce many of the ideas into the Korean educational system.

A wife and mother of three, she said she would like to bring her family to the United States so that they too can get a better understanding of the American way of life.

We begin this week by expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to all of the witches, goblins, spooks and monsters who made the rounds on Halloween night in such a calm and orderly manner. You were just great in every way. Keep up the good work, we love you.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 9, immediately following the morning worship services, the senior citizens of the community will once again be honored in a special service and luncheon in the fellowship hall of Spring Hill M.B. Church. Those needing transportation to this event may contact Mrs. Marsha Ragins, Mrs. Gertrude Brooks and Robert Lewis Swinney.

Our payers continue for the sick and shut-in of the community this week. We are happy to report that both Mrs. Myrtle Crockett and Mrs. Addie Mae Jones received good reports following a recent checkup. Mrs. Jones is able to be up and about some now with the aid of a walker. We are thankful for this improvement in their condition and that of Mrs. Maisie and Mrs. Fields.

Mrs. Mattie Moment and Youlanda Shinault are both patients in the local hospital. Youlanda and baby son are both doing fine. Mrs. Moment is reported to be in good condition.

To all those having birthdays in this month, we wish for you a very special happy birthday and hope that all your wishes are granted on that day.

TO LILLIAN
Lillian Williams is a special friend and has been since early childhood. She is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Annie B. Boothe and a member of Spring Hill M.B. Church.

Thanks to Lillian's persistence in what I considered to be a joke, I have come to realize that there are some who think that special accomplishments have to be made by one to get mentioned in the Sunflower News. Not so, all people are important.

Your character and personality are always on public display and a good reputation is much more valuable than praise, written or otherwise, that only last for a time.

Many people work hard all of their lives to achieve just such a goal and once this is accomplished, they've had their moment of glory and in many cases the deed is soon forgotten. While at the same time there are those who have rendered some unselfish service whose names remain imprinted in the memory and hearts forever simply because these deeds were motivated by love.

Aside from the fact that she is a loyal and trustworthy friend, Lillian is also a fine upstanding Christian person. Her devotion and love for her mother alone would merit the praise of all who know her. She has left this community many times for the big city and each time concern for the welfare of her mother has brought her back, she says this time to shall not be room enough to receive." The fact that you are a member of this community makes you a very important part of it and whatever you do contributes one way or the other. "Today is your day and mine, the only day we have, the day in which we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole, we may not understand; but we are here to play it, and now is our time. This we know: It is a part of action not of whining. It is a part of love, not cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness."—David Starr Jordan.

Mal. 3:10, says, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in mine house, and try me now herewith or see if I will not open you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there

Oak Ridge News

By BETTYE BRANDON
Correspondent

On this last day of October the sun is shining brightly. Perhaps some field work can be done.

About the sick: Mam-ma Coats isn't doing any better. Dr. Vernon Chase will check her today Friday or tonight. It is hoped he can help her.

Mrs. Pearl Green has been ailing but hopefully she has improved.

Clyde Gardner isn't any better. He has lost a lot of weight.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy says she is better.

Renea Pannell was carried to the emergency room of the Booneville hospital on Wednesday, Oct. 29. Her injury wasn't serious and she is back in school. Charlene Church is at home and slowly improving. Mrs. Clara Lee Rutherford remains in unchanged condition at the last report.

Aunt Myrtie Harris doesn't seem as well lately. We're thankful that she can be no part of the time and still reads the "Grit" and watches TV.

Mrs. Winnie Harris is home from the North Mississippi Medical Center and feels fairly well.

Get-well wishes go to all of these and any others who are ill.

Visitors at Oak Ridge last week were Mrs. B.B. Hill of Memphis; Jim Barber of Safford and Joy Page of Mt. Juliet, Tenn.

Visiting Mam-ma Coats last week were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Scott of Corinth, Delma Shouse of Madisonville, Ky., and Joy Page from Mt. Juliet, Tenn.

Oathy and Sean Polk and Vester Coats spent a few days recently with the Ken Wilsons of Decatur, Ala.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy enjoyed a visit last week of a relative, Mrs. Peachie Parlin, who lives in the Rietzi area.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes had company last Saturday, Oct. 25, from Florence, Ala.

Belated birthday greetings to George Coats whose day was Oct. 27.

Sean Polk was all of two on Oct. 30. Oct. 30 was also an anniversary of a dear cousin, Myra Cotton, of Corinth.

Another cousin, Randal Harris, celebrated his birthday on Oct. 31.

Happy birthday to Bryan Harris whose day was Nov. 1. Also, greetings to Myron Coats and Karon Coats whose day is Nov. 8.

Some from Oak Ridge attended the singing at the Church of Christ in Booneville on Thursday night of last week.

A three-day gospel meeting was conducted by the Chapman Church of Christ.

Happy Home

Happy the home when God is there,
and love fills every breast;
When one their wish, and one their prayer,
And one their heavenly rest.

Happy the home where Jesus' name is Sweet to every ear;
Where children early list
His name

and parents hold him dear.

Happy the home where prayer is heard and praise is wont to rise
Where parents love the sacred word
And live but for the skies.

For the ones of us who missed the social Saturday night. We missed a good time and plenty of good food. The ones that were there had a wonderful time.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to D.Q. "Donna Carter," she had surgery on her shoulder last week in Tupelo. Was to come home Monday. Hope you are back in school.

"Hauler," had an accident with his chain saw Saturday. He cut his leg in two places, had quite a few stitches. All off you please be careful with those saws in cutting wood, we hate to have these accidents.

The "Brass Monkey," "Fig Leaf," her mother Mrs. Tension, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Tension and the David Lacey's have returned from a beautiful vacation in the Smokies.

Sunday night was a bad night for Roll Call. Some tried to check in early at 8:45 and others didn't know of the change in time to 8:30. Others got excited when it became 9:15 and no roll call. Some of our members even got so upset that not wanting their record broken, they drove all the way to Burton to get "checked in." After all of the horn blowing, and turning lights on and off, "White Girl" finally opened the door, but to keep their records they finally got checked in around 10:00.

Everybody notice the change in time for roll call—8:30.

The Columbus Trojans Coffee Break is this weekend, The Dance is Saturday night. And Coffee Break Sunday. Some have tickets if anyone wants some. Some of the members will be going down. Call the "White Girl" or "Upholstry Man" for more information.

Hope everyone has a nice week. Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Corpus Christi, Texas, treasurer; Emily Harrison of Tupelo, pledge trainer; Donna Derson of Booneville, vice president; and Ilene Dillard of Meadville, historian. Kappa Epsilon is an honorary society for professional pharmacy students.

LENGTHY FLIGHT—Eight-year-old Junior Moore (above), a third grade student at Hill's Chapel School, and his father, Bill Moore, found this balloon in a pasture near their house Sunday, Oct. 26. The balloon had been released on Oct. 24 by Eldon Walters, a sixth grade student at Catoosa Middle School in Catoosa, Okla., as part of a social studies project. Junior has written to the Oklahoma student to let him know how far his balloon traveled before coming to earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ellis of Columbus, Ohio, spent last week with his mother, Mrs. Lora Ellis.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Carl (Quay) Spencer, is back in Booneville. On Sept. 10 Quay had open heart surgery at the Mont Clair Hospital in Birmingham, Ala. She was a patient there for three weeks.

After coming home she has had some complications and spent some time in our local hospital. We send get-well wishes to her for an early recovery and assurance of our prayers.

We regret the death of Mrs. Mabel Haygood. She passed away Saturday at the North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo, and was buried in the Gaston Cemetery. Mabel was an employee of Blue Bell Inc. and the Prentiss Manufacturing Company for many years. She will be greatly missed by loved ones and friends.

Mrs. Bernice Carroll, Miss Lula Cartwright and Jessie Presley spent last Wednesday in Jackson, Tenn., visiting with Mrs. Carroll's son Billy Joe Carroll, a patient in the hospital there. At the time of this writing he is at home in Selmer, Tenn., and doing well.

Junior Henson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox are patients in our local hospital. We wish them a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bennett have returned from a two weeks visit with their children, the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Shanks and Richard Lee of Hollis, Okla.

Visiting with Miss Elizabeth Garner Saturday night and Sunday were Mrs. Junie Hill of the Blackland Community and Mrs. Jessie Strange of the Osborne Creek Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woods visited with the Senior Citizens of East Circle Center last Thursday.

Mrs. Billy (Marilyn) Kelton is a patient at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis. Marilyn will be there for tests and treatments for a few weeks. We send her our love and assurance of our prayers.

Bro. and Mrs. Mike Johnson and Chip spent the weekend in Memphis with Mr. and Mrs. John Simmons.

Dinner guests Sunday with Mrs. Theota Barnett were Mr. and Mrs. James Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Barnett and J.T. all of Memphis; Becky Scott and children, Kim and Kevin, Jan Whitley and Jerry Taylor Presley.

The First Methodist's Art, Musical Festival was a delightful event. A good crowd was present. Activities for the day-long festival included presentations by the church choirs and church musicians during the morning worship service; an art exhibition, featuring the works of both children and adults, on display in the church fellowship hall; and an organ recital by Edward Ludlow at 2 p.m. in the church sanctuary. Recital selections included "The Emperor's Fanfare," "See that ye love one another," "Prelude and Fugue in G Major," "American Folk Hymn" and "Te Deum."

Following the recital there was a reception in the church fellowship hall for Ludlow at 3 p.m. We are glad to know that Malone Cartwright is now home from the Tupelo hospital and recovering from an accident that occurred a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Loyse Crowder of Huntington Beach, Calif., is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hechel Thomason. On Sept. 12 Mrs. Crowder's husband, Bob Crowder, passed away. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Crowder and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carter of Starkville spent the weekend with Mrs. Cliff Michael and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spradlin of Vardaman, were up last week to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spencer.

Mrs. Jewell Robinson spent a few days last week in the North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo. She is now home and improved. Mrs. Elizabeth Ford of Tupelo was a guest of her father, Bob Cappleman, Sunday.

Mrs. Susie Edgeworth of Memphis visited her sister, Miss Annie Lee Bolt, and other relatives last week. Among those in the hospital are Mrs. S.L. Hunkerpillar, Booneville; Charlene Church, Booneville, and Mrs. Nina Pounds, Booneville, Larry Carroll is at home now.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Neil Griffin and children, Karen Griffin all of Dyer, Tenn; Mr. and Mrs. Julian Keas and Karen, Rachel Keas all of Newburn, Tenn., have been the Herchel

Thomasons and Mrs. Loyse Crowder.

Alfred Harp is now home from the Nashville hospital and doing well.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Jerry Hisaw in the loss of their daughter, Anissa Hisaw. She was the granddaughter of Mrs. Zera Duggar.

Extension 4-H Youth Agent

It is again that time of year. The time to start thinking about livestock projects for the spring.

Dates of ownership are: beef breeding, Nov. 15; steers, Sept. 10; hogs, Dec. 1; lambs, Nov. 1; and dairy, Dec. 1.

This means that animals must be owned and in the possession of the 4-H exhibitor by these dates.

One way to learn how to select livestock projects is to attend livestock judging practice.

Four-H'ers learning to judge learn how to give oral reasons.

The main objectives of giving reasons are to tell the judge how you placed the class, and to tell the judge why you placed the class as you did.

Good livestock judges must be able to explain their reasons for placing the class as they did. Reasons should be accurate, complete, interesting, sincere, and presented in a pleasing and confident manner.

Oral reasons will help you to think clearly on your feet, state your thoughts, improve your memory, and improve your speaking pose and voice.

Important Points In Giving Reasons

Accuracy

Accuracy is by far the most important part of giving reasons. An accurate set of reasons, telling exactly what you saw, will certainly pick up points. Do not tell anything that is not the truth. Do not use a "canned set" of reasons (one that doesn't fit the class).

Organization

Bring out the major and general points first. Certain points logically fit best at the end of a comparison. For example, the last points generally mentioned in comparing animals in a market class are references to the carcass traits.

Delivery

Reasons should be given in a clear, confident voice. Speak slowly and clearly in a conventional tone, yet loud enough to be heard. Stand several feet from the judge with your feet slightly spread and with your hands behind your back.

Look the judge squarely in the eye and act with confidence. Speak with sincerity, using correct grammar and avoid any mannerisms that will distract from your reasons.

Completeness

Bring out all major points (good and bad) in your reasons. Omit small points that may be controversial or close.

Length—Never speak over 1½ to 2 minutes. Reasons that are well organized and properly given will never be over 1½ to 2 minutes in length.

Terms—Knowledge of correct terminology is essential. You must know the meaning of the terms used.

MEC: Expand School Board

The Governor's Special Committee on Public School Finance and Administration last week recommended expanding the three-member ex officio State Board of Education to a twelve-member board including lay members. This is a step in the right direction for education in Mississippi.

The Mississippi Economic Council and other groups have long supported change in the board as necessary for proper administration of the state's public education system.

actively administer a public education system which now involves more than a half million students and expenses of over $650 million.

Everyone enjoyed the Halloween Carnival held at Hill's Chapel Attendance Center on Friday night.

Robert Davis Named Employer Of Week

This week the Business and Office Department at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School spotlights Robert Davis and Davis. Realty and his student-employee, Charlotte Jones of Thrasher High School and Booneville and Prentiss County's Cooperative Vocational Office Training program.

Davis is a native of Baldwin, and attended Jericho High School. He is a former dairy farmer, is married, and has a son,

Receiving the honors of being crowned Halloween

King and Queen were Chasity Cole and Jonathan Lambert of the Head Start Division, and Tammy

Chip. He is a Shriner and attends Jericho Baptist Church.

Davis is a graduate of the Real Estate Institute, and has been in the real estate business since November 1978.

Charlotte is the daughter of Mrs. Peggy Rampley and Charles Jones, a senior at Thrasher High School. She is a member of the FHA, Library Club, Beta, Pep Club, Annual Staff, and the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter.

Holland and Jamie Hutchens of the second division (grades 1 thru 4). Winners of the third division (grades 5-8) were Chris Scroggins and Rhonda Crowe.

A costume contest was held with the participants parading in everything from Dracula to the good fairy. Trophies were given for the spookiest costume and the most original costume. Winners in this event were Casey Jackson, Spookiest, and Derrick Murphy, most original, of the first division, Matthew George, spookiest, and Tim Stolz, most original, of the second group. Third Division winners were Lisa Benegan, spookiest, and Jennifer Morgan, most original.

At the time of this writing a total was not available on the amount of proceeds taken in from the carnival. But the money will be used on the building fund and a project to cover the walks from the trailers to the school building.

A very special thanks to all who donated their time, money, merchandise and special talents that made this year's event another success. You are greatly appreciated.

Wishes for a happy birthday go out this week for Glenda Hatley, Coolidge Young, Judy George, Ricky Taylor, Dennis Moreland, Nelodene Wroten, Lori Nicholson, Emily Suzanne Hearn, Eudell Phillips and Rickey Cole.

Mrs. Myrtie Cole, Mrs. Edith Foster and Mrs. Marie Burns made a trip to Duck Hill, Miss., on Saturday. There they visited with Jess Cole who has been ill. Mr. Cole is resting at home now after being hospitalized for a while.

Chester Lee from Conroe, Texas, spent the weekend with his sister Myrtie Cole.

Larry Carroll was released from the local hospital on Sunday after being there a few days. May he continue with a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Pat Cooper, Andy and Randy of Burnsville were Sunday visitors of Mary Young and family.

HANDMADE BEDSPREAD—Mrs. Tresser Gahagan of East Lake St. in Booneville brought this bedspread she has made by the Banner-Independent this week. She said she worked in her spare time on the spread for about three months. It is composed of about 1,200 puffs of vari-colored fabric attached to a white background. Although this is the first spread of this type she has made, Mrs. Gahagan said she had seen a similar design and decided she wanted one so she "just made it." However, she said she would not make another "for $100!"

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Patten are welcomed into the community. They visited Sunday at Carter's Chapel. They were cordially welcomed and encouraged to come again.

Jamie Hutchens spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Sonny King, Nicky and Neil.

Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. Vivian Holder was her grandson, Client Carroll.

Lori and Brad Nicholson celebrated their birthdays together with a party on Saturday. Among their guests were Tammy Breedlove, Kacy Huddleston, Tina, Gregg and Scotty White, Michelle Stockton and Deborah and Dwana Smith. Everyone had a good time.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Clarence Jones, who passed away recently. He was living in Pascagoula at the time of his death. He is the uncle of Billy Moorman of our community.

Mrs. Ernestine Trimble is reported still on the sick list.

We all wish a speedy recovery for her.

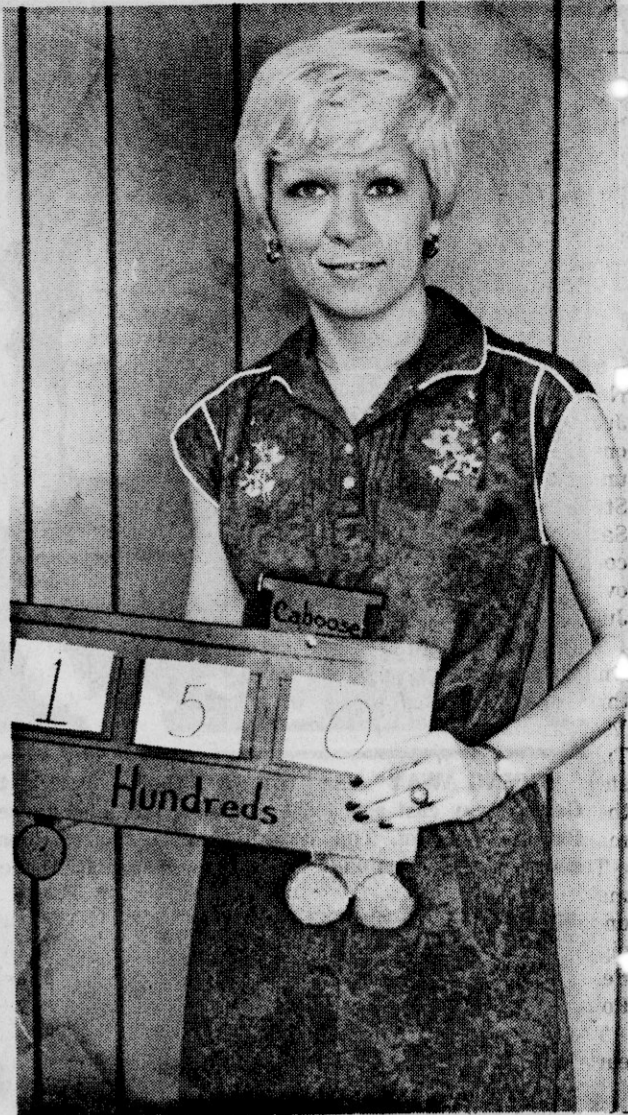

Saturday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beard were Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Coker, Virion Garrett and Edith Barron.

With the election just over, many people are feeling good about having exercised their right to vote which is one of the greatest of American privileges. The basic test of freedom is perhaps less in what we are free to do than what we are free not to do. The strength of a nation is derived from the integrity of it's homes. Exercise your American freedoms. It has often been said that what you don't use, you will surely lose.

Cranberries

Cranberries are available all year in various forms, but most of the fresh crop comes to market during November and December, just in time for holidays.

You can grind cranberries for many more uses. Try adding a half cup of cranberries to cake batter, bread, or muffin mix.

One favorite way of using ground cranberries is to mix about four cups of berries with two oranges which have been quartered and seeded, then ground. (You grind the whole orange, including peel). Blend in approximately two cups of sugar. Let the flavors "mingle" for several hours before serving your delicious cranberry-orange relish. This relish, atop the whipped cream, adds the finishing touch to that Thanksgiving pumpkin pie.

Cranberry sauces have endless uses. They are delicious hot or cold, any time of day. For breakfast, try warm cranberry sauce over pancaes or waffles. For lunch or dinner, this sauce is a scrumptious partner with meat, either as a side garnish or sauce, or as a basting sauce for that turkey or ham. At dessert time, cranberry sauce easily adds sparkle to ice cream, pudding, or a piece of creamy cheese cake.

Now is definitely the time for buying cranberries. They are available in varying supply and form throughout the year, but more are available in the stores during November than any other month of the year. December also brings a fair amount of the berries.

Checking Accounts

When you look for a checking account bank, consider cost, service and convenience. Ideally, you are looking for a bank that does not charge for each check or require a minimum balance or a maintenance fee. In choosing a checking account bank, consider these points:

--Minimum balance or maintenance fee. To figure the annual cost of using a minimum amount in your account, consider the balance required by the bank minus the amount you normally maintain in your account multiplied by the interest rate you can earn on your savings.

--Printing charges for checks.

--Overdraft and return check charges. Find out how these payments are handled.

--Stop payment and other special services provided by the bank.

Pecan Nut Bread

Sift together 2-1/2 cups sifted flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Combine 2 well-beaten eggs with 1 cup milk, and stir egg-mixture into dry ingredients--mixing just until smooth. Stir in 1/4 cup salad oil, and 1 cup coarsely ground pecans. Pour into greased loaf pan. Let stand 20 minutes before baking 1 hour in a 350 degree oven.

Pecan Pie: Preheat oven to 400 degrees and prepare 1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell. Spread 1 cup broken pecan meats evenly in bottom of shell. To make filling, beat 3 eggs, combine with 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup dark corn syrup, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, and 1/4 cup melted butter. Pour filling over nut meats. Bake 25 to 30 minutes in hot 400 degree oven. Serve hot or chilled. Recipes from Ann O. Rushing, Extension Marketing Specialist.

THE EASILY INSTALLED, ENERGY SAVING FIREPLACE INSERT.

Makes your fireplace an effective and dependable heating appliance!

With a King Fireplace Insert installed in your masonry fireplace, you'll have a heat source you can count on in all conditions...including power failures, brownouts, and fossil fuel shortages!

Since it requires no special pipes or flue work, installation is easy. Just lock open or remove your existing fireplace damper, slide the unit into the fireplace opening, attach the easy-slide-on surround panels, and you're ready to build a fire. For use as a fireplace, open or lift off the decorative, cast-iron doors. For efficient heating, close the doors and the insert becomes a heat circulator, drawing room air in through bottom louvers, heating it in a special chamber surrounding the firebox, and returning it to the room through top and side outlets.

Options include a blower to enhance heat distribution, firescreen, and special grate to permit coal as well as wood fueling.

Let us show you the King Fireplace Insert today.

Norman Runs Wild: Tigers Stop Rangers 26-0

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

SENATOBIA—The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers moved one step closer to a possible undefeated season and the State Championship here Saturday night with a commanding 26-0 shutout over arch-rival Northwest Junior College at Senatobia.

The win moves the Tiger in streak to 11 games (9 this year and the last 2 of the '79 season) and keeps the Tigers atop the State JUCO standings and also first in the North with a 6-0 league mark.

The Northeast troop will make their bid for that undefeated season Saturday night when they take on Pearl River on the road at Poplarville.

The Tigers took command early in the game against the Rangers and never looked back against a very "Powerful" Ranger Team according to Tiger head mentor Bill Ward.

Ward said before Saturday's outing that Northwest just might have the best talent of anyone the Tigers had played. And to think how the Northeast pawmen played against this squad was almost astonishing.

In the opening period of play with a minute and a half remaining Northeast charged some 65 yards for their first touchdown of the night. Tailback Anthony Norman rushed some four times in the drive picking for some 48 yards most of that coming on a 37 yard burst off right tackle. Alabama runner Mike Williams, who wears the number 22, scored the final three yards of the drive to score the first six pointer. Kossuth's Kenny Mathis added the point after to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

In the second period, Anthony Norman (you've heard that name alot this year) put the Tigers on the board again taking a handoff and 63 yards for the 2nd touchdown. Norman's run was one of the highlights of this performers season. The fastfooted star leads the entire nation in rushing and this one just goes to show what he can do. Mathis again added the extra point to up the count to 14-0 at the intermission.

The Tigers got back in the scoring column again in the third period when Norman, again put his feet to work. Norman capped off a 73 yard drive when he aluded three Northwest tacklers and raced 24 yards for the touchdown.

Quarterback Buddy Hall of Booneville came in to direct this drive relieving Mike Steenson who had returned this week after a hand injury.

Hall took charged of the Norman scoring drive and then followed with yet another march that ended the game in a very impressive fashion.

On the last drive of the game with less than a minute remaining Hall found receiver Stanley Pratchett all alone at the 13 yard line. With time running out and Northeast needing another six points to possibly Move up in the polls, Hall called time out. After discussing strategy, the Booneville signal caller found end Al Coffee with a 13 yard scoring toss to give the Tigers the 26-0 shutout.

Coach Ward said after the game that the Tigers played like the champions they were. "Our athletes played with a lot of pressure out there," Ward said. "Anytime you're number one someone's trying to knock you off and they didn't let this happen."

"We can let down now,"

Ward added. "This Saturday's game against Pearl River is just like any other game and we have to play it that way." Gametime for the Saturday kickoff at Poplarville is 7:30 p.m.

NORMAN MOVES—Northeast Tiger runningback Anthony Norman (34) sweeps around this Northwest performer in last Saturday night's rivalry matchup at Senatobia. The speedster ran for two touchdowns to pace Northeast in a 26-0 shutout over the Rangers.

Northeast Holds 4th Ranking

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers held on to their fourth place National Ranking by the NJCAA this week with a commanding 26-0 shutout over Northwest Saturday night at Senatobia.

Northeast was hoping to move up in the polls but all three teams ahead of the Tigers remained unbeaten as well.

The fourth ranked Tigers have won all nine of this year's outings without a defeat and currently post an unblemished 6-0 mark in North Division Play.

Kilgore Texas holds the Nation's top spot with also a 9-0 record followed Northeast Oklahoma, 8-0; Coffeerville Kansas 7-0 and then Northeast 9-0.

NE mentor Bill Ward said he was hoping to move up in this week's poll and said as well.

maybe they could move with a victory over Pearl River Saturday night.

Ripley, Saltillo Could Share 'Bigbee Title

With one week remaining in the Tombigbee League Race, both Saltillo's Tigers and Ripley's Tigers appear to be headed for co-owners of the Conference Title.

Both teams, having tied during their matchup in the regular season, are still undefeated with only a single week left on this year's schedule.

In last week's action, Saltillo romped over Net-tleton's Tigers 42-6 while Ripley had an easy time of it against Iuka winning 34-6.

Arlanders McKinney, Allen McKinney and Ricky Webb accounted for most of the Saltillo scoring while Ripley ace Phillip McDonald scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the Tigers over Iuka.

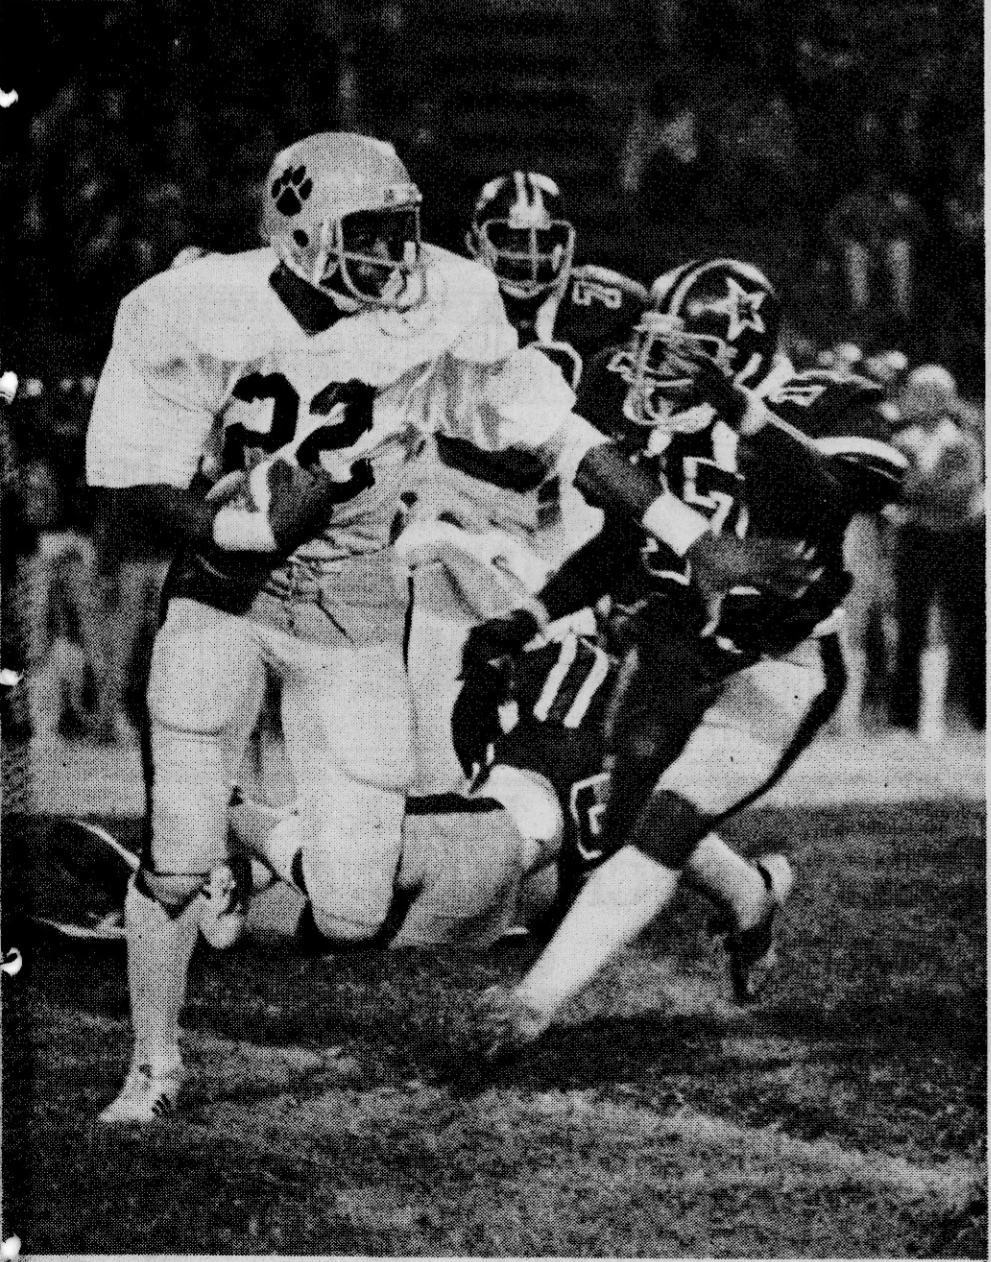

In other games in the conference, Booneville's Blue Devils won their second outing of the campaign with a 13-6 win over Okolona's Chieftans and in an out of conference matchup, Kossuth's Aggies clawed Biggersville's Lions 58-20.

This weeks action sees, Ripley hosting Booneville, Okolona hosting Alcorn Central, Saltillo hosting Iuka, Baldwin hosting Nettleton and in yet another out of conference matchup Kossuth will be at McNairy Central.

COCHRAN SPRINT—Northeast's Randy Cochran (32) sprints downfield here against the Ranger defense in last Saturday's confrontation with Northwest at Senatobia. Cochran has been one of the top State JUCO runningbacks for the past two years.

WILLIAMS WINS—Northeast's Mike Williams (22) turns on the steam here against Northwest in last Saturday's battle at Rangertown. Williams scored a touchdown to aid in the 26-0 Northeast victory.

'Devils Drop Chieftans For 2nd 'Bigbee Win

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Blue Devil quarterback Greg Oakley scored two touchdowns here last Friday night to aid Booneville's Blue Devils in a 13-6 victory over Okolona's Chieftans in a Tombigbee Conference matchup at Northeast's Tiger Stadium.

The win for the horned men was their second of the 1980 campaign after coming close to the winner's circle on several occasions.

The victory gave the Devils a 2-7 overall record and gave them a little confidence going into this Friday night's game with Ripley's Tigers on the road.

Booneville's first touchdown came on a well executed 75 yard scoring drive that covered some nine plays. Led by the running of Brad Miller among others, Booneville signal caller Greg Oakley scored the first of his two touchdowns when he scampered off right tackle with a four yard quarterback sneak to cap off the long drive. Oakley then added the point after to give the Devils a 7-0 lead.

The lead held through the intermission before Okolona trimmed the margin in the third period on their first and only score.

Chieftan ace Charles Presley caught a 15 yard touchdown pass but the extra point failed and the Tigers held a 7-6 lead.

The final Booneville tally came in the fourth quarter when Booneville punter and receiver Larry Mackin went to work. Mackin delivered a booming 75 yard punt down to the Okolona seven yard line. The punt carried some 50 plus yards in the air.

Mackin then recovered a fumble and gave the Devils ball possession inside the Okolona 10 yard line. Oakley then scored his second touchdown of the night on almost the same identical play as he did the first, on a quarterback keeper from seven yards out. The extra point failed but the Devils held on for the victory.

Booneville head coach Mac Curlee said he was pleased with the Blue Devil win and said the Devils had a big week preparing for Friday's matchup with the co-leader of the Bigbee Conference Ripley's Tigers.

Curlee said Booneville would have to play exceptionally well on defense to hold back the powerful Tigers. "They have a strong front line and a strong tailback," Curlee said. "We have to keep the ball away from them."

"They're not necessarily a quick scoring team," Curlee added. "They run traps and just come at you off tackle and they have one of the best backs around that can get loose in a hurry."

Ripley has scored some 244 points on the 1980 campaign in nine ballgames for a 27 point per game average while allowing opponents just 55 points for a 6 point per game average.

Curlee said Ripley would run the I formation with two tightends.

Gametime for Friday's matchup at Ripley is 7:30 p.m.

MILLER CARRIES—Booneville's Brad Miller (9) gets around these Okolona defenders in last Friday night's grid matchup. Miller had a busy night and paced the 13-6 Blue Devil win.

Tigers Look For Bowl Bid

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Tiger Fever is still around at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College and the way it looks now is that the Nationally Ranked pawmen are headed for a perfect season.

There's still one week remaining in the season of course Pearl River isn't a pushover, in fact quite the opposite, but with just a little luck the Tigers will end the 1980 season with an undefeated record, a bowl bid, and if the cards have it, maybe a chance to play for the National Title.

Here's the way things stand right now. Regardless of what happens this week, Northeast will be the top North team and will host the State JUCO Tourney beginning either Nov. 14 or 15.

Now to the Bowl situation. The Tigers have their eye on the Texas Bowl at Garland and a chance to play Killgorough, Tx., for the National Title. Northeast will have to move up some more in the polls for this to happen.

In talking with Billy McCoy, one of the Garland Bowl directors, he said the Texas committee would like to have the number one and two teams playing each other for the National Title if possible and also said that the decision would have to be made maybe even as early as this week. So unless the Tigers jump to the number two spot, it's doubtful they will get a shot at it.

McCoy also said Killgorough had already been chosen and said the committee had contacted Northeast Oklahoma and Coffeerville Kansas as possible opponents but no official word had been given.

Coach Ward said the Tigers would indeed like to play in the Garland Bowl but said they would accept other bowl invitations if they couldn't play in the Texas Bowl.

Other bowl games available at presstime along with the Garland are, The Junior College Wool Bowl scheduled Nov. 27th at Roswell New Mexico; and The Eastern Bowl scheduled Nov. 29th at Banner North Carolina.

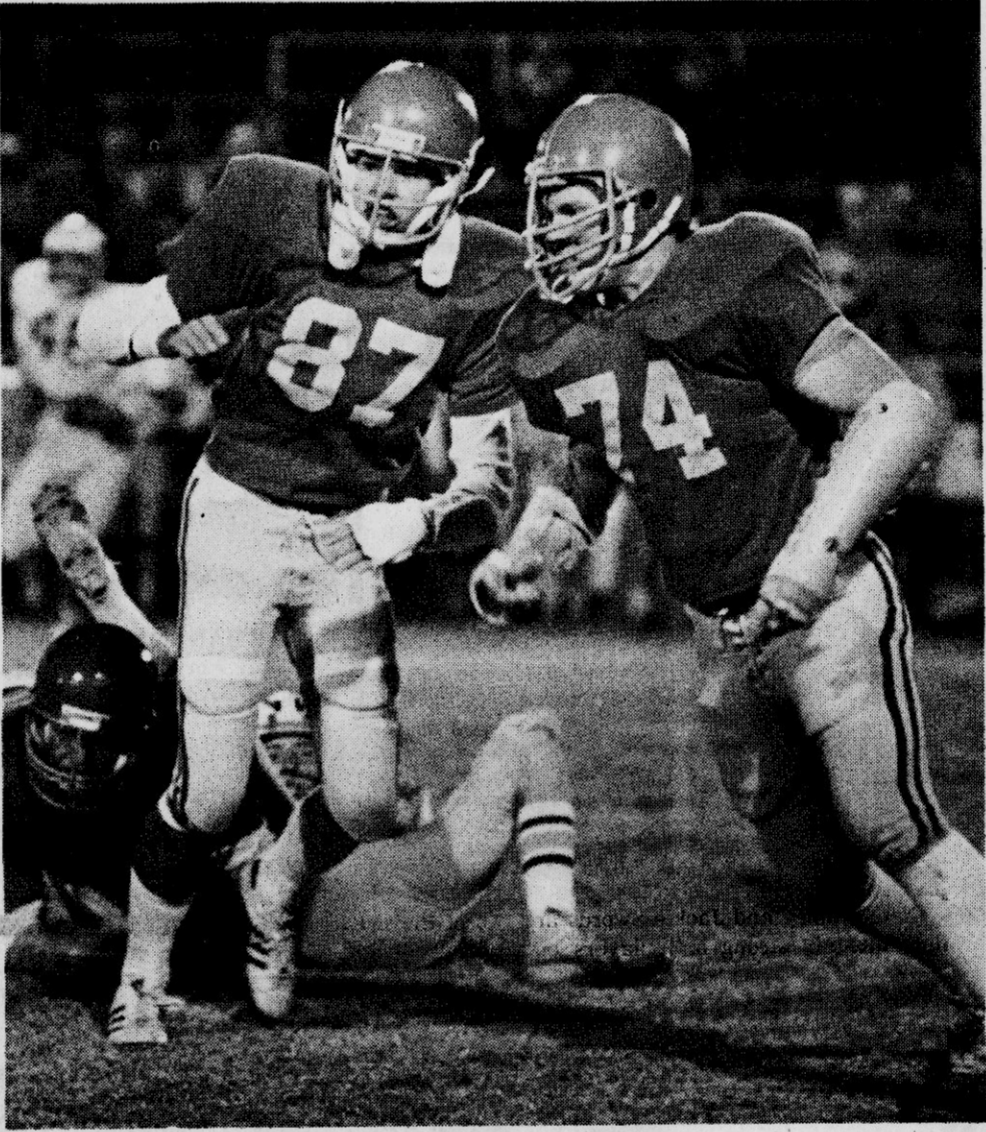

"We're certainly looking for a bowl game," Coach Ward said. "This is something that will have to be discussed with both the players and with the administrative staff at Northeast but we feel like we would certainly like to participate in one of the JUCO Bowls."

"We have to concentrate on the State Championship as well," Ward said. "We have to face Jones Junior College for the second time this year and from past experience, we know what they can do."

Ward said what pleased him the most was that his players had taken their top billing well. "We have a group of youngsters that want to play ball and definitely do what they have to do to win."

"They know everytime they walk on the field as the number one team in the state that their opponent is trying to knock them off," Ward said. "But they play like the champions they are and win."

Word is expected sometime this week concerning Northeast's Bowl appearance and Ward indicated that his preference was the Texas Bowl in Garland but would play in others if asked.

DEVIL DUO—Booneville's Steve Morgan (87) and Nelson Cole (74) head where the action is against the Okolona Chieftans last Friday night. The Duo led the Devils to a 13-6 victory.

SEC Title Up For Grabs

BIRMINGHAM, AL (Sp)—The aftermath of Mississippi State's 6-3 defeat of Alabama Saturday reveals a modern-day rarity, a five-team race for the Southeastern Conference championship.

Georgia and LSU have perfect 4-0 records in SEC play, with Florida, Miss. State and Alabama 3-1. Victories by 3-1 teams over 4-0 teams would tie the top half of the league in a knot. That very possibility exists for this Saturday. Florida and Georgia meet at Jacksonville while Alabama and LSU tangle at Tuscaloosa.

The last time a five-team race in SEC football lasted until the second Saturday of November was 1968, when Auburn, Georgia, Ole Miss, Tennessee and LSU had lost only one, or less, at that point. Georgia won the title that year with a 5-0-1 SEC mark over the 4-1-1 of Tennessee and the 4-2-0 of LSU, Auburn and Alabama.

Besides Miss. State standing off Alabama in that gigantic defensive struggle, two field goals to one, Florida trimmed Auburn 21-10 and LSU ripped Ole Miss 38-16 in league play. Outside, Georgia edged South Carolina 13-10 and Vanderbilt nipped Memphis State 14-10, while Tennessee lost 13-16 to Virginia and Kentucky 22-24 to Tulane. This makes the record of SEC teams with schools outside the league 26-14 to date, a winning mark of 65 percent.

This best-in-the-nation 65 percent record of SEC teams with others is 17-7 with other conferences and 9-7 with independents. By conference it is now: 6-2 with the ACC, 3-2 with the SWC, 2-1 with the Big-8 and the Pac-10, 1-1 with the Big-10 and 1-0 with the MAC, the Southland and the PCAA.

This Saturday, besides the Georgia-Florida and LSU-Alabama games, Vanderbilt meets Kentucky at Lexington and Auburn hosts Southern Mississippi. Tennessee, Ole Miss and Miss. State all take the week off.

The NCAA television program, produced by ABC-TV, is carrying the Georgia-Florida game regionally at noon Eastern time (11:00 Central), with kickoff at 12:35. Al Michaels will do play-by-play and Frank Broyles analysis.

NE Roundballers Start 80-81 Campaigns

By ROCKY MISKELLY

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes will open their 1980-81 Roundball campaigns against Dyersburg State on November 10th at NE's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The Tigers are looking to improve on last years 12-13 record. The Tigers had a 12-12 slate during the regular season and this was good enough to gain them a berth in the North Division playoffs.

Coach Noel Akins is excited about having six sophomores on hand to form a Nucleus for his seven freshmen to revolve around. This positively charged team has more depth than any Tiger team in recent years.

DUCKS UNLIMITED GUN—F.L. King of the Bank of Mississippi displays this shotgun that will be auctioned off Tuesday night at the First Annual Ducks Unlimited Banquet set at NE's Frank Haney Union Building. The gun is a collector's item and has the Duck's Unlimited design and a beautiful wood grain finish.

NE Ranks

1st In State

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers continues to hold the State's top spot with a perfect 9-0 overall record and a 6-0 division record in North play.

In other games concerning Mississippi Junior Colleges, Itawamba dropped Coahoma 35-0; Pearl River beat Co-Lin 33-16; Gulf Coast defeated Holmes 27-7; Jones beat Hinds 14-10; Delta defeated East Mississippi 27-14 and Southwest beat East Central 21-13.

Mark Buskirk, Dale Groves, Jackie Leach, Mark Hastings, Jim Kwasinski and Frank Dorrough are returning from last years squad. Akins plans to build the core of his squad around his freshmen and their leadership but stresses that freshmen will see much playing time as well.

Buskirk is a 6'0" guard from Ingomar. Buskirk is an extremely talented athlete who's passing seems to be the strongest phase of his game. Akins expects Buskirk to run the club on the floor.

Groves is the other signal caller for the Tigers. Groves at 6'2" from Booneville, has quickness that he couples with a deadly shot from 12-17 feet.

Booneville's Jackie Leach, who is able to play either the center or forward positions, will see most of his playing time at the latter.

Mark Hastings a 6'6" standout from Thrasher is an odds-on-choice as the most improved sophomore. Hastings will handle the dutes of center.

Two Union County players round out the Tiger's list of sophomores. Jim Kwasinski played at New Albany while Frank Dorrough thrilled the fans in Ingomar. Kwasinski at 6'-4" will see action as a forward while Dorrough at a scrappy 5'10" will play guard.

Tiger boss Akins sees a lot of potential help from freshmen Maurice Stafford, Stanley Carter and Ralph Griffin. Biggersville's 6'3" Stafford has the ability to shoot well from the outside or drive to the hoop. Tiger fans will be seeing a lot of Stafford as a power forward.

6'-4" Stanley Carter from Middelton, Tn. teams with Ralph Carter for a 1-2 out-of-state punch. Ralph comes south from St. Francis Ill. Both Carter and Griffin can play any position of the floor.

Glen Mauney and Jackie Swords are two of the most fundamentally strong ball players on the Tiger team. Mauney at 6'-1" comes from Pine Grove while Swords at 6'2" hails from Ingomar. Mauney may very well be the best shooter on the Northeast club this time.

6'1" Willie Robinson and 6'5" Randy Johnson round out the Tiger squad. Robinson is a never-say-die player from Tishomingo and Johnson is an all-stater from Ripley.

Lady Tigers

The Northeast Lady Tigers are coming off a 9-13 won-loss record from a year ago, in search of a winning season. The Lady Tigers have not had a winning season in the last four years.

In talking with head coach Millard Lothenore, he seemed pleased. "We are short, but we have a very determined group of young ladies who have the desire to win. We have had good practices and have done as well as I expected so far."

The Lady Tigers will be depending on the experience of three sophomores, Karen Davis, Martha Ashmore and Sabrina Williams. Williams is a 5'7" guard who can shoot very well from 10-14 feet. Ashmore is also a very good outside shooter and she may be the work horse for the Tigers this year. Davis at 5'10" will handle the inside play for the Tigers.

Romona Patton, a freshmen at 5'10" is extremely quick and has the ability to help the Lady Tigers on the inside. The ball handling chores will be in the hands of Kim Coker.

The Lady Tigers have good size in Carol Blakney at 5'9", Pam Johnson at 5'8" and Debbie Brooks should all be able to step in and play when and where needed.

DU Banquet Plans Finalized

Fun, food, prizes galore and an enjoyable time for all...

All systems are go for the First Annual Ducks Unlimited Banquet scheduled for August 11th at Northeast's Frank Haney Union Building.

Prentiss County DU chairman Doug Mansell said anyone who hasn't got a ticket yet is urged to do so and added that tickets will be sold at the door.

Several items of interest will highlight the First Annual event including several door prizes plus special booths set up and several items will be auctioned off to make this event one of the best in the area.

Included among the special events will be a duck calling contest, featured speaker Bill Joe Cross, regional supervisor of DU will be guest speaker, National Taxidermist champion Martin Kind from Corinth will have a wildlife display, plus a host of special events to make the evening enjoyable.

Additional information about the banquet may be obtained by contacting the Peoples Bank and Trust Company, The Bank of Mississippi and The Prentiss County Development Association.

The DU program beings at 6 p.m. with the dinner to be followed at 7.

Help Offered In Coping With Loss Of Loved Ones

Loss is universal. We all face loss many times throughout our lives with the death of loved ones and are often left unprepared to deal with or accept our feelings. This problem will be addressed in a special 90-minute televised workshop, "Loss: The End or the Beginning?" to be presented live Thursday, Nov. 13, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in Room 207 of Patterson Hall on the Northeast Junior College campus. Subscribers on the Booneville Video System may also register for home viewing via Channel 6. It is co-sponsored by the Appalachian Community Service Network and the Northeast Junior College's Division of Continuing Education. The workshop will focus on understanding the grief process as a first step in accepting loss as a normal life process. The program is designed for members of the medical, religious and helping professions as well as the general public. It will provide an opportunity for all participants to explore their own feelings concerning death and loss. Through a toll-free call-in system, participants will be able to question a panel of nationally recognized experts in the field during the interactive portion. Members of the panel include: the Rev. William A. Wendt, S.T.D., executive director of the St. Francis Center, an organization devoted to death education and grief counseling in Washington, DC; Alice Demi, R.M., D.N.

Sc., associate professor in the School of Nursing at the University of Colorado and member of the Board of Hospice for Metro-Denver; and William J. Kane, M.D., Chief of Family Practice at the Burlington County Memorial Hospital, and director of the Geriatric Medical Center, Mt. Holly, New Jersey. Barbara Mullens-Moorman, Ph.D., a noted clinical psychologist from the Washington, DC area, will act as host-moderator. A registration fee of $5 per person will include the cost of a comprehensive packet of materials, which include Elizabeth Kubler-Ross' "Death: The Final Stage of Growth." formation, or to pre-register, interested persons should contact Mrs. Opal Melvin, ACSN coordinator, by calling 728-7751 or toll-free 1-728-7759, ext. 303. Participants will receive

Continuing Education Units and a certificate for three contact hours from Northeast Junior College. For additional in-

Special Programs At Mt. Olive

Several special programs are planned during the month of November at the Mount Olive M.B. Church of Baldwin. A Harvest Program and Harvest Supper will be held at the church Sunday, Nov. 16, beginning at 6 p.m. and sponsored by the Elementary Sunday School Choir, the Junior Choir and the Senior Choir. Bro. McDuffey Agnew will coordinate the program.

On Thanksgiving night, the church plans a special Thanksgiving program, with Bro. McKinney as the speaker. On Sunday, Nov. 30, the members will have their church dedication. Guests will be the Rev. Sims and his choir from Piney Grove, Dorsey, Miss. The program will begin at 2 p.m. The Rev. Rogers is the pastor of Mount Olive Church.

RECOVERED LOOT—Prentiss County Deputies Hubert Kitchens (left) and Carl Sartin are shown with two projectors and several hand tools which were taken during one of the recent break-ins at New Site High School. The loot was discovered in a wooded area by a resident who called the sheriff's department to report it.

Hughes as Substituted Trustee in the place of Mauveline Fugitt by instrument recorded in Book 127 at Page 398 of the aforesaid records.

WHEREAS, default having been made in the terms and conditions of said deed of trust and the entire outstanding debt secured thereby having been declared to be due and payable in accordance with the terms and conditions of said deed of trust and the legal owners and holders of said indebtedness and deed of trust having requested the undersigned Substituted Trustee to execute the trust and sell said land and property in accordance with the terms and conditions of said deed of trust and for the purpose of raising the sums due thereunder, together with attorney's fees, Trustee's fees, and expenses of sale,
NOW, THEREFORE, I, Charles E. Hughes, Substituted Trustee, will on the 21st day of November, 1980, offer for sale at public outcry and sell within legal hours, being between the hours of 11:00 o'clock A.M. and 4:00 o'clock P.M. at the front door of the County Courthouse of Prentiss County at Booneville, Mississippi to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described property, situated in Prentiss County, Mississippi, to-wit:

Part of the Southwest Quarter of Section 2, Township 5 South, Range 7 East, described as follows: Beginning at the Southwest Corner of said Quarter and run thence East with the South Boundary thereof 744 feet to the Southeast Corner of the D. Horton property, thence North 175 feet, thence East 185 feet, thence North 190 feet, thence East 325 feet to the true point of beginning; run thence North 150 feet; thence East 205 feet to a point on the West line of the Jacinto Road; thence in a South-westerly direction with the said West line of the said Jacinto Road 183 feet, more or less, to a point that is 98 feet due East of the true point of beginning; thence West 98 feet to the true point of beginning.

I will convey only such title as is vested in me as Substituted Trustee under said deed of trust, and the sale will be made subject to any liens of record.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE, this, the 23rd day of October, 1980.

CHARLES E. HUGHES,
Substituted Trustee

Cards Of Thanks

May this message be an expression of our sincere love and gratitude to everyone for their kindness and help shown to us in the illness and death of our dear loved one, Mr. Erskin Riddle. May God richly bless each of you for your prayer. May we say a special thanks to Dr. Madara, Dr. Johnson, and the nursing staff at Northeast Mississippi Hospital; to McMillan Funeral Home staff and Bro. Exall Burleson and Bro. C.P. Rinehart; and to those who sent flowers, food, gifts and cards. Most of all, thank you for being there when we needed you. We know that our loss was Heaven's gain. We will never forget you. May God bless you always.

The Family of Erskin Riddle

County Agent's Report

Soybeans For Seed

Good quality soybean seed for next spring starts with good seed this fall. That's why it's important to take the correct steps now to insure highest quality and yield of seed beans for 1981.

The first thing to consider is moisture. It's best to harvest seed beans when they reach 13 to 14 percent moisture content. Harvesting at this moisture level won't prevent mechanical damage, but it is the stage where damage from machinery is minimized. It'll also mean you will get beans out of the field with the least amount of deterioration.

Harvest seed fields first, even if it means you have to stop combining an earlier maturing variety and clean up the combine. There really is no substitute for getting seed beans out of the field as soon as possible after the moisture content reaches the point where beans can be stored safely.

To keep mechanical damage lowest, keep combines and handling equipment properly adjusted and operate at correct speeds. Adjust cylinder speeds and concave at just enough clearance to thresh beans. Change the settings as field conditions change. Check the grain tank occasionally. If beans are cracked, adjust the combine.

Operate augers as near as possible to full capacity to allow a minimum number of seed to contact metal surfaces and reduce mechanical damage. Avoid operating at high speeds and handle seed as few times as possible.

Stay out of weedy areas at harvest. Weeds will mean more green material in beans that will increase seed moisture content and also may cause heating in storage. Combining weedy spots produces weed seed in beans which often are difficult to remove completely during cleaning.

Fall Fertilizer

Soybeans respond well to fall applied fertilizer. This practice is especially appropriate for double crop systems where the total amount of phosphate and potash for both the winter crop and soybeans can be plowed down during fall seedbed preparation.

Be sure to add enough for both crops. With the possible exception of some deep, sandy soils, there is no significant leaching losses on most soils.

Put Leaves To Work

Are leaves and pine straw a problem in your lawn? They won't be if you collect them and use as mulch around houseplants.

Mulch will protect shrubs, flowers and trees from winter injury and root damage from extreme soil temperature changes. Mulch also prevents soils from drying and compacting by allowing water to trickle into the soil.

At Fulton Bank

Smith Named President

J.W. "Junior" Smith, a Prentiss County native, has been elected president of the Fulton-based Tombigbee Bank and Trust Company, according to Jimmy Crane, chairman of the board.

After graduating from Mississippi State University with his Master's degree, Smith worked with the Prentiss County School system until 1964 when he became associated with the Prentiss County Home Bank in Booneville. Joining the Peoples Bank and Trust Company in 1969 as an assistant vice-president, he has been promoted to his present title of senior vice-president.

He was manager of the Clay County Bank and Trust Company in West Point when he assumed the presidency of Tombigbee Bank and Trust and was manager of the East Main Branch in Tupelo.

A graduate of the Louisiana School of Banking of the South, he has served as president, vice-president and treasurer of the Bank Administration Institute.

He is presently a member of the Tupelo Luncheon Civitan Club and a past member of the West Point Rotary Club and the Booneville Civitan Club.

He and his wife Peggy have three children, Jeff, 16, of the home, Janet Alexander and Julie Duke.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK :

Five Things God Has Never Seen God

By Bro. Bobby Stacy, Pastor, Booneville Revival Center

"We know that God made the Heavens and Earth and every creeping thing. There is nothing that exists except God made it. St. John chapter 1 verse 3 All things were made by Him; and without Him was not anything made that was made. No. 1 God has never seen a sinner that he would not forgive. Because John 3 and 16 said for God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have every lasting life. No. 2 God has never seen a sickness He won't heal. Isaiah 53 verse 5 said But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities: The chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed. No. 3 God has never seen a need He won't supply. Philippians 4 verse 19. But My God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus. No. 4. God has never seen a substitute for the blood. Hebrews 9 verse 22. And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission. No 5. God has never seen a substitute for holiness. Hebrews 12 verse 14. Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord: You see you can have what you want. Just delight yourself in the Lord and He will give you your hearts desire. Turn to Jesus He will forgive, heal, meet your needs, and clean you by His word. May God bless and keep you is our prayer at the Booneville Revival Center.

MCBRYDE SPEAKS TO VO-TECH STUDENTS—R.G. "Gerry" McBryde (center), director of Industrial Relations with the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, in Jackson, spoke to the vocational-technical faculty and students at Northeast Junior College recently about industrial relations, employee work attitudes, and training responsibilities. Welcoming him to the Northeast campus were Dennis Meek (left), instructor of building trades, and Jimmy Crane, assistant director of vocational education at Northeast.

State College Enrollment Shows Slight Decline

Preliminary figures released by the State College Board indicate that the on- and off-campus enrollment for the eight public universities is down less than one percent (.7 percent) for the fall term 1980-81 as opposed to 1979-80.

Total enrollment for the eight universities is 53,640, with 53,861 posted for the same time a year ago. These figures are for on-campus, degree-granting off-campus centers, resident centers and extension classes.

On-campus enrollment decreased 4 percent, while degree-granting, off-campus enrollment increased 10 percent. Resident centers have a 16 percent decrease, while extension classes posted only a two percent decrease.

Individual university on-campus figures for the comprehensive universities, with percent of change from previous year in parentheses, are: Mississippi State, 11,409 (.3 percent); Ole Miss, 9,607 (-.3 percent); and Southern, 10,222 (1.3 percent). The urban university, Jackson State, recorded an enrollment of 7,359, a six percent decrease over last fall.

Regional universities reveal Alcorn State 2,340 (9 percent); Delta State 3,011 (6 percent); Mississippi University for Women 2,070 (-10 percent); and Mississippi Valley State 2,574 (-5.8 percent).

Degree-granting off-campus centers were up statewide by 10 percent. The University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park recorded the largest enrollment increase with 195 over the same period a year ago, accounting for a 17 percent increase.

Other center enrollments with number of student changes shown in parentheses are: Mississippi State-Meridian 626 (-1), Vicksburg 62 (10); University of Mississippi-Tupelo 423 (36); University of Southern Mississippi - Natchez 251 (-31); Universities Center - Jackson: MSU 221 (21); UM 88 (-21); USM 83 (63).

Total enrollment for degree-granting off-campus centers is 3,099, an increase of 272 students over 1979-80.

Accounting for the enrollment increases and decreases at this time is somewhat difficult because all the data are not in, according to Dr. Tom Meredith, academic programs officer for the College Board.

"All our figures are preliminary at this time, particularly regarding degree-granting off-campus centers, extension and resident centers due to their different types of registration," Meredith said.

Some trends appear to be developing as existing data are compiled.

According to the various institutions posting increases in enrollment, there is a significant increase in freshman and women student enrollment. According to Meredith, women make up 52 percent of enrollment for the eight public universities.

"Increased admission standards at the universities are having only a minor effect on the total enrollment. We feel the positive effect of offering true university-level work to students capable of achieving such a level is being realized by the taxpayers and the citizens of the state," Meredith said.

New Legislation To Aid State Forestry

Landmark forestry legislation signed into law recently by President Carter has been hailed by Mississippi's State Forester, Dick Allen, as "one of the best things that has happened for forestry in many years."

Allen said the legislation, originally known as Senate Bill 100 and subsequently piggybacked through the Congressional process as part of H.R. 4310, most importantly provides tax incentives for reforestation of privately owned timber. "H.R. 4310 is a real bonanza for tree growers, and it's going to provide a tremendous boost to the forest economy of this State in years to come if landowners will just take advantage of it," Allen said.

He said the law provides landowners a flat 10 percent tax credit for an annual expenditure of up to $10,000 for tree planting and related forestry work. In addition it allows the tree grower to take a tax deduction on his gross income for reforestation costs (up to the annual $10,000 limit) in equal amounts over a seven year period.

Allen said the Forestry Commission is currently preparing a comprehensive publication outlining benefits and provisions of H.R. 4310 which should be available at all Commission offices "within a week or two." He said this would be just one of several methods the Commission will utilize in coming weeks to get information on this law into the hands of people who can use it to their great advantage.

"We've got more than eight million acres of privately owned timberland in Mississippi needing some degree of reforestation and related improvement work to make it ideally productive," said Allen. "The owners of this land are now in a position to recover a good portion of their costs for such forestry work beginning in this (1980) taxable year."

One of the really great aspects of this legislation," he said, "is the fact that there's no limit on the total amount of expenditure a landowner can claim as a basis for the tax break except the annual $10,000 ceiling."

Telephones On Sale By Phone Company

South Central Bell Telephone Company has announced that, effective Oct. 15, it plans to sell selected home telephone equipment in Mississippi.

Rates have been approved for a new Design Line (trademark of AT&T Company) telephone, the Americana Edition Circa 1882, a solid oak replica of the first telephone manufactured by Western Electric for the Bell System in 1882. It is the first phone to be sold outright by the Bell System.

The Americana Edition will be a limited offering of only 100,000 sets nationwide, commemorating the first Bell System telephone commissioned from Western Electric in 1882. It has been certified as an antique replica by the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Michigan, and purchasers will receive a certificate attesting to its authenticity. The telephone also includes a plaque describing it as a commemorative edition of the 1882 magneto telephone.

Bartley pointed out that the tariff filing calls for a single, uniform price for the produce nation-wide. "We think this is the true meaning of retailing, an arena we're entering for the first time."

A price of $429 has been approved for the Americana Edition.

The Americana Edition telephone will be available through some 31 Phone Center Stores and Bell business offices throughout Mississippi.

All of Bell's Design Line telephone product line is expected to be included in the sale program in November.

According to South Central Bell spokesman Bob Bartley, "Research into the home communications market shows a significant number of people want to own their own telephone equipment. This move on our part indicates our desire to be responsive to customer needs."

Historically, South Center Bell has retained ownership of communications products, providing them to their customers at a monthly rate.

Bell Design Line telephones were formerly offered under a format in which the customer purchased only the housing or shell of the telephone, with the telephone company retaining ownership of the working parts and responsibility for continuous maintenance.

"With the Americana Edition now and other Design Line phones later," Bartley said, "the customer will purchase the entire instrument, both housing and working parts. We'll also be offering a maintenance agreement for the working parts which will go into effect upon expiration of the warranty period."

"Obviously, we will be considering further additions to the sale line in the future," Bartley said.

Other Bell equipment will continue to be offered under the existing monthly payment arrangement.

Nursing Home Seminar Nov. 6

Mississippi nursing home administrators and staff members can learn more about human factors in personnel management in a University of Mississippi seminar on Nov. 6 in Oxford and Nov. 11 in Jackson.

The program is one in a series of four seminars, developed by the Ole Miss Division of Continuing Education, to provide training for Mississippi nursing home administrators and personnel.

Dr. R.J. Eicke and Dr. Philip G. Cooker, associate professors of counseling and educational psychology at the University, will be the instructors for the first seminar.

The other programs scheduled for 1980-81 are Legal Aspects of Labor Relations on Feb. 5 in Jackson, Patient-Resident Rights on March 10 in Jackson and on March 12 in Biloxi, and Managing the Total Nutritional Care System on June 4 in Jackson.

The Nov. 6 and 11 seminar will provide supervisors with an opportunity to assess their personal characteristics as they relate to their management skills. Emphasis will be placed on management of person and task dimensions in the supervisor-supervisee relationship.

All of the Ole Miss seminars have been approved for six hours of licensure credit by the Mississippi State Board of Nursing Home Administrators.

For additional information or registration, contact the Division of Continuing Education, University, Miss. 38677, or telephone 232-7282.
