For Wheeler-Frankstown Area

One-Call Emergency Number Established

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Fire protection for Prentiss County residents living in the Wheeler and Frankstown areas has just taken a giant step forward due to recent improvements in communications for the volunteer fire department at Wheeler.

At the heart of this improved communications system is a recently established emergency telephone number which, when dialed by a resident to report a fire, simultaneously rings telephones at six different locations.

According to Wheeler fireman Randy Moore, before this new emergency telephone number was established, contacting the fire department in time to effectively fight a fire was one of the major problems.

In the past, if a fire occurred and the home owner or resident did not know one of the firemen, he did not know how to report the fire, Moore said. Even if the resident did know who the volunteer firemen are, if he tried to call one of them and did not get an answer, he would not have time to go through the phone book calling others while his house is on fire, he said.

It has been reported that most house fires are virtually uncontrollable after 10 minutes. This does not leave much time for indecision as to who to call.

The new emergency telephone number for the Wheeler Fire Department is 365-8135. When this number is dialed, telephones at six different locations ring at the same time, Moore said. One of these phones is located at the G and S Grocery, he said, and the other five are located at the residences of Fire Chief Charles Duncan, Assistant Fire Chief Phil Fraser, and firemen Randy Moore, Lewis LaFrane and Larry Duncan.

Someone should be home at one of these places at any time," Moore said.

He emphasized that this number is to be used for fires and emergencies only. For other purposes, he said residents should call one of the Wheeler firemen.

The new emergency telephone system is basically just a private line with extensions at six locations, Moore said. When the number is dialed, all six phones ring. The firemen are instructed to wait until the second ring before answering so that other firemen on the line will have time to pick up and hear the instructions at the same time.

It took the phone company about two months to run all the lines necessary to establish the emergency phone system, Moore said.

The Wheeler Fire Department has two fire trucks—a 250-gallon quick response truck and a 1,200-gallon tanker, Moore said. There are about 10 active

For Special Election

Absentee Ballots Available

Absentee ballots are now available for the city's special election to fill the alderman-at-large post held by the late J.W. Timbes.

City Clerk June Hutcheson said Wednesday that anyone wishing to vote by absentee ballot should contact her office. The deadline for completing the absentee ballots is noon Wednesday, Dec. 24, she said.

As of yesterday morning, no new candidates had qualified to run for the post. The deadline to qualify was 5 p.m. yesterday.

Five candidates did qualify to run in previous weeks. They are Willie D. Jumper, Keith Shackelford, Bluford Allen, Robert Floyd and Harold Wigginton.

The special election will be held Saturday, Dec. 27. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast, a runoff election will be held one week later.

Jumpertown Parade Plans Finalized

Final plans have been made for the annual Jumpertown Christmas Parade to be held this Saturday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m. All floats will organize at Custom Furniture on Highway 4 no later than 1 p.m.

The parade route will begin at the furniture store and follow Highway 4 through Jumpertown.

There will be three float trophy winners.

Floats, children, pretty girls and Ole Saint Nick himself will participate in the Jumpertown Christmas Parade this Saturday.

severe burns and high risk infants," Benton said during a public demonstration of the service Thursday of last week in Iuka.

Benton said the heliport in Birmingham, the only one in Alabama, is an extension of the emergency room facilities from Carraway.

"Our facilities in the helicopter place the patient in a hospital-type atmosphere. The patient is placed in a high level of care in this heliport," he said.

Not only will the helicopter pick up patients at designated areas such as the one in Iuka, but it can also stop at roadside to aid a car wreck victim, for example.

"We will take the patient where ever he wishes if we possibly can," Benton said. "But, if the patient is not conscious and we have time to take the patient to Carraway, we will do so."

Census Changes Confirmed

Mayor Charles Crabb said this week that he has received written confirmation from the Regional Census Center in Dallas that the city's population count has been revised to 6,142.

A report from the center earlier this month indicated that the city's population had fallen from the 1970 figure of 5,895 to 5,600 in 1980. A phone call from Mayor Crabb to John Reader at the center in Dallas prompted an investigation and an error was discovered.

Reader informed Crabb of a mistake by telephone last week and told him written confirmation would be sent showing the revised figures.

Clement To Answer Calls

TVA Director Bob Clement will answer telephone calls from the public on the agency's toll-free Citizen Action Line today, Dec. 18, from noon to 1 p.m. instead of last Thursday as previously announced.

A TVA spokesman said the date was changed when the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Energy and Water Development scheduled a hearing involving the TVA Board for last Thursday.

Mississippians wishing to call the Action Line should dial 1-800-362-9250.

TVA opened the Citizen Action Line in October 1978 so that the public could obtain answers to questions about TVA activities and offer comments and suggestions on agency programs.

calls are normally answered by seven specially trained information coordinators, but TVA management personnel frequently take calls as one of several ways they keep in contact with public comments and concerns about TVA.

volunteer firemen.

The two trucks are both equipped with two-way radios and have contact with a base station located at Moore's home, the same location as one of the six emergency phones. Three of the firemen also have mobile radios in the their automobiles so that they can be contacted by the base station.

Although the trucks and the base station have their own assigned radio frequency, the department can also communicate via radio with the Booneville Fire Department and the North Mississippi Ambulance Service.

A beeper system has also been established so that if the Booneville Fire Department receives a report of a fire or emergency in the area served by the Wheeler Fire Department, beepers carried by three of the Wheeler firemen can be activated. These firemen then call the Booneville Fire Department for instructions.

Moore said the Wheeler unit also has good relations with the ambulance service.

"We work close with the ambulance service," he said. "They have responded ambulances on our request several times. They have also assisted us with fires."

Moore said that stickers with the emergency telephone number printed on them are being prepared so that residents can stick them on their phones and have the number handy if they ever need to call for help from the fire department.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland what does the word "Quicken" mean in Eph. 2:1, 5?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Your question has troubled many. The text says, "And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins...even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, by grace are ye saved." Here the process of quickening is that of salvation by grace. But Paul said to Titus that the grace of God which brings us salvation TEACHES us. The good words grace and gospel are used synonymously in the New Testament. David declared: "Thy word hath quickened me..I will never forget thy precepts: for with them thou hath quickened me." (Psa. 119:50, 93) David's ardent declaration is consonant with Paul's argument of Col. 2:12-13: "Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead." The Spirit quickens when the seed of the Word gets into the moral nature of man as the rudiment from which life springs.

Whitten Honored

U.S. Congressman Jamie Whitten has been awarded the U.S. Forest Service's 75th Anniversary Award for "special recognition in appreciation of his significant contributions to forestry and conservation," according to Max Peterson, Chief of the Forestry Service. In making the award, Peterson pointed out that the 75th anniversary was a time to "recognize the efforts of those who have helped to conserve and protect, for this and future generations, our nation's natural resources." Whitten, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has long headed the Subcommittee for Agriculture and Related Agencies, and has worked to protect and develop the country's natural resources for present and future generations, a spokesman for Whitten's office said.

Winter Pushes Education

"There is a fundamental relationship between the quality of education we offer in this state and our ability to attract high-paying jobs to Mississippi," Gov. William Winter said last week after a tour of Lee County schools. "Education is the backbone of our economy," he said. Winter made the remarks after teaching a senior American Government class at Tupelo High School and reading a vocabulary lessons to first and second graders at Saltillo Elementary School. "I was in New York for two days recently, meeting with the heads of several major high-technology corporations," Winter said. "The fundamental concern they have about Mississippi is the quality of education in this state and our ability to provide vocational and technical training which will meet their needs." "For this reason," he continued, "it is essential that we take the initiative and enact a phased-in kindergarten program, a compulsory school attendance law with teeth, and work to establish more equitable school financing." "By upgrading the quality of education in Mississippi," Winter said, "we will be much better able to attract investment capital for job creation into Mississippi."

For Food Stamp Recipients

Cost-Of-Food Increase Planned

Prentiss County households receiving food stamps will get a "cost-of-food" increase starting Jan. 1, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This will be the first adjustment in food stamp benefits in a year. The 11.5 percent increase reflects the rise in the cost of the USDA's "Thrifty Food Plan" between September 1979 and September 1980. The Thrifty Food Plan is the lowest cost food plan the Department has, a USDA spokesman said, and it serves as the basis for the program's benefit levels. Because of the 1980 legislation designed to reduce program costs, the USDA says food stamp allotments are now adjusted for cost-of-food increases only once a year on Jan. 1. In past years, allotments were adjusted twice a year, in January and July. The switch to annual rather than semi-annual adjustments in food stamp benefits cut food stamp costs by $133 million in fiscal year 1980 and is expected to save an additional $300 million in fiscal year 1981, the USDA said. On Jan. 1, the maximum monthly food stamp benefit for a family of four with no net income will increase from $209 to $233.

Controversial Judge May Retire

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Cantankerous old federal district judge Harold Cox, whose outrageous outbursts from the bench have bruised blacks, women, and assorted others over the years, has confided to associates he is finally going to step down next July when he is 80, this column has learned.

His retirement from active service on the bench will coincide with his completion of 20 years as a federal district judge, covering a span of years when he became nationally known as the scourge of the civil rights movement.

Despite health problems that necessitate his being assisted by aides in and out of the federal building here, the aging Cox has declined to take senior status, a move which would have opened the way for appointment of a new federal district judge for the Southern district of Mississippi.

Some have said that one reason he refused to step out was the apparent determination of President Carter to appoint the state's first black federal judge in his place.

In his most recent tirade from the bench, Cox let his feelings about Jimmy Carter be known, expressing pleasure that Carter had been defeated for re-election in a national swing toward conservatism. Cox described Carter as an "Eastern liberal" and called the Carter family "pretty badly confused."

During the same explosive comments in front of a federal grand jury, the 79-year-old judge said he was pleased also that the election results "got rid of Kennedy and his crowd...I approve of all that."

It is bitterly ironic that Cox was the first appointee to the federal bench named by President John F. Kennedy in 1961, even though Cox's staunchly pro-segregationist views were well known in advance. But the Cox appointment was pushed through by Sen. James O. Eastland, then the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, in an apparent deal to prevent the blocking of Kennedy's appointees in the expanded federal judiciary.

A widely circulated story which has been published in several books holds that in a conversation with then Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Eastland remarked: "tell your brother if he gives me Cox, I'll give him the nigger." The latter reference was apparently to Thurgood Marshall, longtime counsel for the NAACP, who was nominated by Kennedy to an appeals court post.

The stories of how Cox treated civil rights workers and their attorneys who came before his court in the 1960's are legend, including the famed incident in 1963 (at which this reporter was present) when he told Justice Department Attorney John Doar that blacks from Madison County who were seeking to register to vote were acting like "a bunch of chimpanzees."

The chimpanzee remark triggered a sharp reaction among pro-civil rights leaders in Congress, spearheaded by Sen. Jacob Javits and Cong. Peter Rodino of New York, to launch an impeachment movement to get Cox removed from the bench.

Although the impeachment drive failed to materialize, the upshot of it was to bring about a noticeable moderation in Cox's remarks and attitude towards Justice Department representatives the next several years.

Cox's grandest hour perhaps came in 1967 when he presided (or virtually dominated) the trial in which eight Mississippi white men were convicted in a Meridian federal courtroom for the 1964 Neshoba County slaying of three civil rights workers. When the jury appeared deadlocked over a decision after a couple of days, Cox delivered a celebrated "dynamite charge" to the jury to bring back a verdict. In the entire episode, Cox emerged as an arch-foe of the Ku Klux Klan, bringing praise for a change from some of his former civil rights critics.

But over the years, his remarks demeaning blacks (often referring to them as "coloreds," and stating, as he did in 1978 that blacks "are hard to please...they don't have any responsibilities"), and showing obvious disdain for the 1964 Civil Rights Act ("I don't know anybody down here who don't oppose it.") have long made him something of a household devil to the black community in Mississippi.

So much so, many blacks held it against Democratic congressional candidate Britt Singletary recently that he had once been a law clerk under Cox.

Even women have been lashed with Cox's sharp tongue. In 1977, when a woman juror questioned him about some procedure in the courtroom, Cox said "you ladies better get rid of your feminine curiosity before you get on the jury."

No Cox memorabilia was more ludicrous than the episode over the WPA-era mural painted behind the bench in the main courtroom of the federal court here. Back in 1971 when civil rights lawyer Frank Parker complained that its depiction of blacks as servants of whites had an effect of compromising justice, Cox retorted: "It will remain in this court whether you like it or not."

P.S. It has long been covered over.

Letter To The Editor

Wants Reunion For Class Of '41

Dear Editor,
My mother recently sent to me a copy of your paper, and, while I will admit that it has been a while since I left Booneville, I was a little disturbed when I looked at your advertisers. I didn't recognize any of them!

What happened to Milton Motors, Cook Chevrolet, Brown's Feed Store, Duckworth, Robertson's and Cox's drug stores? Also missing were Price's Jewelry, Walden's Service Station, Perry's Clothing, Booneville Hardware, Down's Shoe Store, Hodges

Lumber, the Princess Theater and a lot more.

You have even combined The Banner and The Independent!

When the truth finally dawned on me, I knew that it was time to go back. Time to go back to the place I left when I went off to win World War II (The Big One).

Now to the crux of this letter—I think the Class of 41, Booneville High School, should celebrate its graduation with a 40th anniversary reunion next spring.

I am enclosing a list of the graduates and maybe some of them are still around and would be willing to organize such a reunion. How about it Class of 1941?

Sincerely,
J.P. Smith

Gun Control Laws Are Not Necessary

Dear Editor,

While contemplating the sad death of musician John Lennon, Americans should realize that no "gun control" law, no amount of restrictive firearms legislation, could have prevented this tragic act.

Gun laws simply cannot stop someone who is intent upon committing murder. The suspect charged with Mr. Lennon's murder purchased the murder weapon in Hawaii, a state which requires that all firearms and ammunition be registered with local and state authorities. The crime took place in New York City which has perhaps the most stringent gun laws in the country. New York not only requires registration and permits for handguns, but also requires the licensing of firearms owners. These restrictive gun laws did not stop Mr. Lennon's murder. Additional gun laws would not have stopped it, either.

The act, for whatever reason it was committed, was premeditated. Once he is bent upon such a crime, a person cannot be thwarted by an existing gun law, nor by the passage of any additional legislation. Murder is already against the law.

There will be those who call for more "gun control" laws. Such laws, however, only restrict the law-abiding citizen's use of firearms and will not affect the criminal or reduce crime. Such laws merely open the door for civil rights violations which have occurred many times under the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968. These violations have already resulted in 63 United States Senators calling for reform of that gun law.

To stop crime, laws must be directed at the violent criminal. The National Rifle Association has long been in favor of prompt and adequate punishment for anyone convicted of a crime of violence. Take the criminal off the streets. Force the criminal justice system to be as severe as necessary to compel the criminal to realize that he will suffer the consequences of his actions. This is the way to stop such deplorable tragedies.

Sincerely yours,
Harlon B. Carter
Executive Vice President
National Rifle Association of America

MEC Report

Profit Makes System Work

Purchasing almost any type of food product in the United States is a simple matter. Markets throughout the country offer fully stocked shelves and an almost endless variety of items making a purchase a simple task.

In Moscow, the Russian citizen may have to stand in line for hours to purchase a supply of basic staples Americans take for granted. Shortages of meat, milk, eggs, and flour—basic food stuffs—are a way of life for these people.

What is missing in their system that we take for granted in ours is a basic ingredient called the "profit system."

The freedom and motivation to make a profit keeps America's free market place working, providing the highest standards of living the world has known.

But profits, a necessary part of the free enterprise system, are misunderstood and the Mississippi Economic Council's American Enterprise Center is seeking to re-educate Mississippians to provide an understanding and appreciation of the free enterprise system.

From business profits comes workers' salaries, taxes for government to provide services to its citizens, and money for business expansion and improvements. Without profits the system does not work.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT: Committee Posts

One of the most important aspects of our work in Congress involves the committees on which members serve and the process by which these committees make decisions on legislative proposals.

Floor debate and parliamentary maneuvering traditionally command the attention of the public and news media, and they are important, but the drafting of a bill is done in committee. That is the essential first step in the process. Unless the committee work is done properly, the risk is great for defeat or failure on the floor before the full Senate.

With that in mind, I want to discuss with you my new committee assignments and responsibilities, which become effective when the 97th Congress convenes on January 5th.

I have retained my membership on the Senate Agriculture Committee and the Ethics Committee. Also, I have been appointed to serve on the Senate Appropriations Committee. Due to the turnover caused by the November elections, I will be the fifth-ranking member of the Agriculture Committee and eighth-ranking on Appropriations.

On the Agriculture Committee, I will be serving as chairman of the Production, Marketing and Price Stabilization Subcommittee and on two other subcommittees, probably Foreign Agriculture Policy and either the Soil Conservation or the Forestry panels.

There is a great deal of work to be done in Agriculture next year, since the 1977 Farm Act expires in September and Congress must enact new farm legislation covering a wide range of agricultural programs. Our production subcommittee, for example, has jurisdiction over major commodity crops such as cotton, rice, wheat and soybeans as well as the ASCS.

I have been assigned to five different subcommittees on the Senate Appropriations Committee. During 1981 and 1982 I will act as chairman of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee, which has the responsibility for funding all U.S. Department of Agriculture programs and operations except the Forest Service. Other subcommittee assignments are: Energy and Water Development; Transportation; State, Justice and Commerce; and Interior.

The Energy and Water Development panel recommends funding for public works projects such as those under the Army Corps of Engineers. The Transportation Subcommittee handles appropriations for federal highways, railroad rehabilitation, and airport development. The State, Justice and Commerce Subcommittee funds all programs in those important Cabinet-level departments, as well as the federal judiciary. Included in the Commerce Department are such key agencies as the Small Business Administration and the Economic Development Administration.

The fifth subcommittee has responsibility for funding Interior, the Forest Service and the National Park Service, which operates the Natchez Trace Parkway.

Six Senators serve on the Ethics Committee, three from each party, and we must formulate standards of conduct for the Senate and consider any violations that are brought to our attention.

We are going to be faced with serious decisions of major consequence on these committees next year. The new administration taking office in January has clearly stated it wants to tighten up on federal spending and attempt to bring inflation under control.

The legislation our committees will consider in the 97th Congress will have considerable impact on agriculture, farm exports and world trade, economic stability and development, public works, transportation, national defense and foreign policy.

It will be incumbent on us in the Senate and Congress to act in a responsible manner, to address the issues and problems confronting our nation in a fair-minded way, and to enact sound legislation for our national government.

The people of this country have given Congress and the new administration a mandate for constructive change. It is our responsibility in Washington now to translate that into effective and responsible government at the federal level.

Local UDC Club Meets At Home Of Mrs. Richard Kemp

Mrs. Richard Kemp opened her home on Washington Street to the members of the D.T. Beall Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for the Dec. 10 meeting. Mrs. Ralph Johnson and Mrs. Lewis Perry were co-hostesses.

The Kemp home was decorated in the Christmas theme. A Christmas dessert and cinnamon-flavored cider was served during the social hour.

Mrs. Kemp presided at the meeting and the usual order of business was followed. Announcements relative to the chapter's work on local and state levels were made. One of these announcements was that the chapter will be represented at a reception in the home of Mrs. Clifford Kizer in Corinth on Dec. 14 when Mrs. Frank Milton, state UDC president, will be honored.

Mrs. Lon Stutts gave the program and chose as her topic, "The Children of Bladenfield" by Evelyn D. Ward. This book review had been prepared by Mrs. A.L. Hammer, state historian of the UDC.

Mrs. Stutts said that Evelyn Ward, the author of the book, lived at Bladenfield, one of the oldest homes in Virginia, as a child during the war between the states. She was one of 12 children of the Rev. and Mrs. Norvell Ward and, with them, she enjoyed the quiet peace and beauty of farm life before the war.

In "The Children of Bladenfield" she recounts the events of life during that time and intends for her memoirs to speak to "all thoughtful people who know what a mighty help history, heart learned, is to the present."

There was quite a transition to be made from the happy, peaceful life of this home when war was declared. The Rev. Ward was too old for active duty and accepted a post as Major to train a regiment.

The Wards also had a son who was a Confederate officer. He was injured in the fighting around Richmond. Both parents were with him when he died at the age of 23.

Life was very difficult and the Wards, just as others dear to the cause, sacrificed and substituted many of the common place things which had been taken for granted until this period presented itself in our country.

Mrs. Ward was gifted in making the Confederate soldiers feel welcome in her home. It was often filled to overflowing with those involved in the conflict.

The Ward name made a permanent imprint on the generation when this conflict occurred and has been and will be passed on to future posterity, Mrs. Stutts said.

Miss Rinehart And Mr. Miller Wed

Miss Carol Ann Rinehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K.V. Rinehart of Tupelo, and Arthur O'Hara Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Miller of Marietta, were married in a 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the chapel of the Jacinto Community Center. The Rev. C.P. Rinehart officiated.

Ricky Hannan presented the wedding music, including the selections "The Rose," "If," "Color My World," and "The Wedding March."

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a sheer gown of tiny rosebud imprinted cotton. The comesole-style bodice of lace with tiny pearl buttons was covered with a sheer long sleeve jacket matching the gown. It was trimmed in lace and tied in the front.

The gathered waistline was defined with a thin satin bow in the front, cascading down the length of the gown. A lace-trimmed petticoat bordered the skirt. The bride's veil of silk illusion was bordered in lace and fell from a beaded lace caplet into a chapel train.

Mr. And Mrs. Arthur Miller

The bride carried a bouquet of blue and white wildflowers, carnations, baby's breath and ice mint foliage, centered with a white lily. Cydney Sutton served as maid of honor. She wore a formal length gown of baby blue chiffon. The neckline, sleeves and skirt were trimmed in white lace. She carried a bouquet of blue, lavender and white carnations, accented with baby's breath and ice mint foliage. The groom was attended by Ricky Miller, his brother, as best man. They wore brown suits with white boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rinehart wore a formal-length gown of lavender chiffon. Mrs. Miller, the groom's mother, wore a formal-length gown of blue polyester knit.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the community center fellowship hall. Guests were registered by Miss Mary Ruth Enis.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, was centered with a brass candelabra featuring pastel blue candles.

Mrs. Ollie Nicholson served the two-tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with roses and wedding bells. Mrs. Gay Hall served the punch from a cut glass bowl.

After a honeymoon trip to J.P. Coleman State Park, the couple is residing in Tupelo. The bride is a student at Itawamba Junior College and the groom is an employee at Rinehart Gulf Service Station.

Cairo News

By ESSIE ENGLE and FRANKIE BATES Correspondents

We want to apologize to all who read the Cairo news. Both, mother and I have been sick. My sister, Margaret Engle, wrote the news the week I was in the hospital. Thanks, Sis.

She was feeling sick last week and both mother and I was too sick to write. The cold bug has been finding its way into so many homes. Junior and Virginia and their son Billy Jones were all sick last week. They took turns going to the doctor.

Aunt Meg Bryant left the hospital Tuesday. She is at her son's, Haroldene and Letha Bryants. She is feeling much better. She has had lots of visitors, both friends and relatives. Continue improving, aunt Meg. We all love you.

Larry and Pat Cox were sick last week, but were able to go shopping Saturday night with Bobby and Diane Johnson in Corinth.

Syble McDougal is able to get around with out crutches now. She recently had surgery on a foot. She spent the day Thursday in Booneville with her mother, Alma Cole.

I want to thank my niece and nephew, Eddie and Annette Holder, of Padecuh, Ky., for letting us know they enjoy the Cairo News every week. Also Aunt Alma Garrett of near Oxford enjoys the Cairo news.

Thanks, Aunt Alma, for sending it on to Uncle Jack and Aunt Lydia Burcham in Mercedes, Texas. We got a letter from them and they really enjoyed it. If you people of Cairo, enjoy reading it, please let me know.

Vicki Engle arrived home safe from New York last week she enjoyed the plane ride and really enjoyed visiting with Scott Williams' people. She is working long hours on a house plan and now a model of the house. This is a project for school. This his her second year at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

Dank and Essie Engle had company two days last week. Her brother Jess Burcham and wife Vivion spend a day with them. Their sister-in-law, Novie Engle, her brother, Lonnie Tidwell of Louisiana, and her grandson, Steve Hendrix of Burnsville, spent several hours with them.

Christmas is just around the corner. I hope everyone will remember why we celebrate Christmas. Everyone should go back to the old tradition of making something for their love ones. A gift made is much more precious than one bought.

Essie Engle will celebrate her 75th birthday Thursday

Dec. 18. I hope you enjoy 25 or more years ahead.

To all the readers of the Banner-Independent who don't know me as Frankie Bates, I am a daughter of Dank and Essie Engle, a twin sister to Ann Lowrey. I've lived in Indianapolis, Ind., for 15 years. We moved back here last fall. I love living back here at home where I grew up, near my family and friends.

Geneva Parker is really making that place of hers look like a business. As you remember, her store burned a few months ago. She hopes to have it ready to open soon. She has spent lots of long hours working to help get it re-built. We, the people of Cairo, wish her the best of success in her new business.

John Cushman spent the afternoon with Paul Carpenter. They had lost of fun. The boys are 8 years old.

Need some ideas for nutritious snacks for children while they are home for the holidays? Try these economical, nutritious snacks.

Cheesy Popcorn
3 tablespoons oil
1/2 cup unpopped corn salt
1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese.

Heat oil in a heavy saucepan. Add popcorn and cover tightly. Shake over medium heat until all kernels have popped. Immediately sprinkle on cheese and salt and shake. Makes 2 quarts.

Fruit pieces—apple, pear, orange, banana, grapes, pineapple
Place cheese and fruit pieces alternately on a toothpick.

Applewiches
Core and thinly slice apples, but do not pare them. Put two slices together with peanut butter.

Color It Cranberry... For Christmas

Looking for some way to brighten those traditional family gatherings during the holiday season? Cranberries can add appealing color at holiday time: in decorations, in the mealtime goodies or in gifts from your kitchen.

For decorating, fill a compote with fresh cranberries and use as a centerpiece for the table. String the red berries with a needle and thread for indoor or outdoor tree decorations. Birds will love this choice.

In Christmas goodies, cranberries bring added flavor and bright bits of color to a variety of baked goods and meal accompaniments. Substitute an equal amount of cranberries in your favorite fruit muffin recipe or prepare this relish to serve with meat or fowl:

Berry-Fruitful Relish
4 cups of fresh cranberries
2 small oranges quartered, remove seeds
1-1/2 cups sugar
1-1/2 cups chopped pitted dates

Grind cranberries and oranges through the coarse blade of a meat grinder into a bowl, or grind in a blender. Stir in sugar and dates. Chill until ready to serve. Makes about 3 cups.

For those on your Christmas list, consider something made in your own kitchen to enjoy during and after the holiday season. Try homemade cranberry jelly. To make six half-pint jars of cranberry jelly, mix 3-1/2 cups cranberry juice cocktail with one 2-1/4 ounce package of powdered fruit pectin in a large kettle.

Begin to cook, and stir until boiling. Stir in four cups of sugar. Then bring the mixture to a full rolling boil, and boil it hard for two minutes, stirring constantly. Remove the mixture from the heat and stir in 1/4 cup of lemon juice. Skim off the foam as the jelly begins to cool, pour into hot sterilized jars and seal with a two piece metal lid.

Put a towel under the jars as you pour to avoid possible breakage caused by sudden temperature change. Allow to stand undisturbed overnight. Your homemade jelly is now ready for gifts or your holiday table.

Thought for the week: "You Tell On Yourself."

You tell on yourself by the friends you seek, By the very manner in which you speak, By the way you employ your leisure time, By the use you make of dollars and dimes.

Nobody gave, and nobody shared; No one was willing to help those in need, No one seemed anxious to do a good deed.

What would become of the children who roam, Hungry and lonely, and having no home; If there was nobody willing to give, How would the homeless and hungry ones live?

There are some with hearts of pure gold, Who will respond when they're properly told; Helping to care for the hungry and cold, Leading them into the Shepherd's safe fold.

There must be somebody willing to share Part of their wealth, so that these may have care; If you have sympathy deep in your heart, You should be willing to do your own part.

Selected Belated birthday greetings to Edith Coats whose day was Dec. 15.

A dear aunt, Mrs. Belvie McRae of Tishomingo, will have a birth anniversary on Dec. 22. Let's hope she will have many more.

I just learned via telephone that Mrs. Marie Lindley is home from the Baldwin hospital. She's a little better, but too weak to sit up long at a time.

A saying from Lel Podna: "A lot of people rush to a 10 percent off sale and accept carrying charges of 18 percent."

Oak Ridge News

By BERYL COATS
Correspondent

Let's all be enjoying this nice weather! There was quite a frost this morning, Dec. 14, and we can expect more and be dreaming of a white Christmas.

Mrs. Arthur Barnes has been ailing, but never fails to attend the worship services.

Absent last Sunday due to illness were Myron Coats, Louise Pannell, and Edith Coats.

Mrs. Gladys Kennedy was missed last Wednesday night. She isn't well, but is able to be staying with Mrs.

Winnie Harris in the Burton Community.

Clyde Gardner is not the least improved, as was reported by Mrs. Ruthie Inman.

Aunt Myrtle Harris remains in room 203 of the Northeast Hospital. She has shown a slight improvement and is receiving physical therapy several times a day.

Sorry to hear that little Anna Harris was injured in an automobile accident on Saturday, Dec. 13.

Get-well wishes are extended to all these people; also to Charlene Church and Clara Lee Rutherford.

Sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Brady in the death of their premature infant baby girl. Dexter is a brother of Senita Coats.

I was unable to attend the pot luck supper sponsored by the M.B.C. Associates of Prentiss. (A sprained knee and arthritis have me rather handicapped), but I learned that several attended. The Associates this year have contributed $5,300 to Magnolia Bible College. The school is doing a good work and need funds for the library and for scholarships.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

The Allen Library has a few recordings of Christmas music, both classical and popular styles, that can be checked out for an addition to your Christmas festivities. Books on decorating, gift making and holiday cookery are seasonal favorites that you may find furnishing that idea you've been seeking. Don't forget to keep that restful light reading nearby for busy days.

If your vacation gives you time for some deep thinking, digging into materials on an interest you've always wanted to research, let the staff help you find them or get them for you if they are not in our collection.

Students working on assignments are reminded that the library will be open except for Dec. 24, 25, and 26 and New Years Day.

This Saturday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m., Junior Auxiliary members will present a holiday program for boys and girls in the Marion W. Smith Room. There will be stories of how Christmas is celebrated in other lands, an ornament for you to make and take with you, a small gift, Christmas candy and, of course, Christmas music. Kindergarten and elementary school aged young people are urged to join the fun.

Merry Christmas!

CB Club News

By THRASHER STAR Correspondent

To the ones who missed our "social" Christmas party Saturday night, you really missed the best of the year. The highlight of the night was when Santa came and brought gifts to each of the children and the group from Timber Hills. It was really great to see them have a good time. Our appreciation is given to the faculty at Timber Hills for the great job they do.

Happy birthday to "Little White Girl," and "Lady Walking Cane" on Monday the 15th. Hope each of you had a nice day.

Congratulations are in order for "Buffalo I," for his football award. He received a trophy for the most improved player at Booneville High.

A get-well wish to the ones still on the sick list, "Little Red," "Texas Ruby," "The Hilltoppers' Daddy," Mr. Livingston and others. Hope each of them a speedy recovery.

The "Termite," and "Lady Termite's," son in Texas had surgery on Friday. Hope he is up and around soon.

I heard from that "Long tall Texan," in El Paso over the weekend. They are looking forward to a furlow by Bracky who is stationed in Hawaii. Maybe we will get to say Merry Christmas to each of them.

It sure was nice to have

"Lady Songster" out Saturday night. She and "Songster" had a good time after she is off of the sick list, we missed "Mama Clutch" and others in the family who were unable to attend.

"Fuss Butt," you and

"Rusty," pull Daddy and Mama's nose for not bringing you Saturday night to see Santa Claus. We sure missed you.

"Big Q," you sure are lucky. Hope you and the other Q's enjoy your Ham. Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Timber Hills Clients Honored

Belmont Furniture Company in Booneville was the setting for a Christmas party given for clients of the Timber Hills Day Care Center on Tuesday morning, Dec. 16.

Jack and Clarence Haley, owners, conducted a tour of the plant, served refreshments and gave each person a stocking filled with goodies.

Clients at Timber Hills are a part of the operation of the furniture company. They string the necessary buttons for the furniture made there. The Haleys says they are very pleased with the quality and quantity of work performed by the day care clients, as well as with their eagerness and energy.

The Timber Hills Day Care Program, operated by the Timber Hills Mental Health Services, is funded in part by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare.

COUNTY WINNERS in the 1980 Conservation Poster Contest were (left to right) Pam Wheeler, first place, Booneville Middle School; Brad Strickland, third place, Jumpertown School; and Keith Beene, second place, Thrasher School. Looking on is Ed Honeycutt, deputy commissioner, who helped conduct the contest.

WILLIE HATFIELD of the Thrasher Community is shown above planting no-till soybeans in standing wheat stubble. This project was sponsored by the Prentiss County SWCD with assistance from ASCS and SCS. Cooperators are encouraged to use conservation practices such as no-till and minimum-till to reduce soil erosion on sloping cropland.

RONNIE BREEDLOVE looks over the parallel terrace system with pipe outlets he installed on his farm in the spring of 1980. Ronnie, like all other Prentiss county farmers who have installed the new terrace system, says he is well pleased with the results. During the year a total of 52,800 feet of terraces and 4,690 feet of underground pipe outlets was installed to help reduce soil erosion on sloping cropland. A total of 1,372 acres of cropland was adequately protected through the application of conservation measures in 1980.

DON JONES, SCS Conservation Technician, is shown above examining a stand of winter wheat planted this fall on a sloping cropland field. Many Prentiss County farmers are taking advantage of a strong wheat market and planting winter wheat on their sloping cropland. Winter wheat is especially helpful as a soil conserving crop since it protects the soil during winter and spring when heavy rainfall is a severe erosion hazard. Winter wheat will produce excellent yields on most sloping cropland under good management.

WHEN DOES a burned out tract of timberland look good? When the burn was done under controlled conditions to prepare a planting site for young pine seedlings, according to John Stuart, County Forester, right, and Sam Saxon, Assistant District Forester, left. Burning is one of the least expensive ways to do site preparation but is used only where it can be accomplished safely with proper supervision. During 1980, over 525,000 loblolly pine seedlings were planted on 700 acres by Prentiss County landowners with assistance through the Mississippi Forestry Commission and ASCS cost-share programs. District cooperators adequately treated 340 acres of woodland.

Prentiss County Soil And Water Conservation District ANNUAL REPORT FISCAL YEAR 1980

J.W. TIMBES

The 1980 Annual Report is dedicated to the memory of J.W. Timbes.

Mr. Timbes served six years as a deputy commissioner with the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District. He was appointed to the Board in 1974, and served as chairman of the District's Wildlife Resource Development Committee until his resignation on June 30, 1980, due to health reasons.

While serving as Wildlife Committee chairman, Mr. Timbes provided leadership in several District projects that have contributed greatly to the overall development of Wildlife resources in the county.

In 1975, he directed a project aimed at increased the wood duck population through the placement of artificial nesting boxes in wetland areas throughout the county. As a result of this project 200 boxes were constructed, erected and are being used by wood ducks.

Other major projects completed under his leadership include the development of a "Wildlife Habitat Inventory of Prentiss County" and a "Master Plan for Development of the John Bell Williams Game Management Area."

Because of his efforts to improve the condition of our county's wildlife and wildlife habitat, the Board of Commissioners named Mr. Timbes "1979 Wildlife Conservationist of the Year."

Mr. Timbes' unselfish service to his community will be missed by all, but the fruits of his labor will be with us for years to come.

Progress Through Cooperation

The accomplishments included in this report were made possible not by any one individual, group, or agency, but by a cooperative effort of the entire agricultural community in Prentiss County.

The Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District Commissioners wish to express thanks to our district cooperators-the farmers and landowners of the county, and our agricultural agencies - the Soil Conservation Service, the Prentiss County ASCS Office and County Committee, the Farmers Home Administration, the Cooperative Extension Service, and the Mississippi Forestry Commission, for the contributions each have made to another successful year of conservation accomplishments.

We also offer a special thanks to the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors and taxpayers of Prentiss County whose financial support allows us to have an active program of soil and water conservation that is aimed at improving the quality of our resources, the quality of our environment, and the quality of life for our citizens.

Respectfully Submitted by the Board of Commissioners

Davis, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, as supervisors (left to right) William L. McKinney, Jimmy Moore, H.B. Lindsey and Larry Barron look on. The document lists the major objectives and goals necessary to carry out a comprehensive program of soil and water conservation over the next ten years. Copies will soon be distributed to landowners throughout the county.

A GROUP of farmers are shown above on the Grassland-Cropland Tour sponsored by the Prentiss County SWCD. They are discussing the new Tifton-44 hybrid bermudagrass which was established on the Dalton Garner farm in the Blackland Community this spring. Cooperators are encouraged to utilize hybrid bermudagrass to protect the soil from erosion while producing large quantities of high quality forage.

ED HONEYCUTT, right, and Millard Lothenore, left, are shown above standing in front of a Pasture Improvement Demonstration which was done on Millard's farm in the Blackland Community. This demonstration was sponsored by the Prentiss County SWCD with assistance from ASCS and SCS. Cooperators are encouraged to improve pastures by adding desirable grasses and legumes along with fertilizer and lime. During 1980, pasture planting and proper management was applied to 1244 acres.

TONY THOMPSON, District Conservationist, examines a wild reseeded soybean plant in a wildlife food plot on Bill Belamy's farm near Marietta. Belamy cooperated with the district in an evaluation study of two different varieties of the wild reseeded soybean for use as wildlife food. During 1980, district cooperators developed 103 acres of habitat strictly for use by wildlife.

New Standards Hit Growers

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau
Federation

Cotton Growers Hit
The nation's cotton growers may be hit by an extra cost of $100 million annually as a result of new cotton dust standards imposed on the cotton industry by a regulatory agency of the United States government.

The cost estimate was contained in a brief filed with the U.S. Supreme Court by the American Farm Bureau Federation in support of a lawsuit brought against the government agency by the National Cotton Council of America and the American Textile Manufacturers Institute.

Creator of the expensive new standards is a non-elective agency of the U.S. government—the Occupational Safety and Health Act, known as OSHA.

The farm Bureau organization has taken on the federal rule-making group as detrimental to the American farmer and the American public, and moreover is a federal usurpation of state, local and individual rights. The farm group has taken the position that the Act itself which created the regulatory agency does not fall within the responsibilities assigned by the Constitution to the federal government and should be repealed. And pending appeal, the farm organization is seeking to exempt places of employment with ten or fewer full-time employees from regulations of OSHA.

The U.S. Supreme Court is expected to rule early next year on the case which was appealed from the Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C. The original suit was filed against the secretary of the U.S. Labor Department and OSHA.

Dust standards were imposed by OSHA without weighing costs versus benefits as intended by Congress when OSHA was created, cotton industry representatives contend. The total cost to implement OSHA's standards pertaining to cotton dust would be more than $2.6 billion, according to textile and nontextile cotton processing industries. The reduced consumption of raw cotton by cotton mills would cost U.S. cotton farmers more than $100 million annually, according to the industry estimates.

"If the Secretary (of Labor) persists in issuing regulations 'at will'...he will effectively be exercising his authority to make important choices of social policy in violation of the non-delegation doctrine," the Farm Bureau brief says in its summation.

The farm group pointed out that cotton is one of the most expensive crops to produce and that cotton growers with their substantial investment in their production operations simply cannot readily absorb an annual $100 million loss.

Already inflation has hit cotton worse than most other rowcrops since cotton traditionally has required extensive land preparation before planting, a long growing season, and comparatively greater use of high cost inputs such as fertilizer, herbicides and pesticides.

Mississippi farmers meeting in Jackson earlier this month during the 57th annual meeting of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation urged Congress to amend existing laws governing the power and authority of regulatory agencies to provide that in every instance a person accused of a violation shall be deemed innocent until proven guilty.

The state farmers recommended further that when charges against any person or organization are dropped or not proven, the agency responsible for the charges shall be required to reimburse the accused for the expenses incurred in his defense.

All U.S. businesses currently come under OSHA surveillance.

Shoppers Beware

There are only five shopping days left until Christmas, but shoppers are not the only ones out and about this time of year. Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy is urging local shoppers not to leave packages out in the open in their automobiles when they go into stores. "We had quite a few thefts of Christmas presents from parked cars in the city last year," Stacy said. The police chief recommends that shoppers place their purchases in the trunks of their cars when they must leave them unattended. This way, the packages are out of site and are not as much of a temptation to a would-be thief, he said.

For Summer Tour

Scholarships To Japan Offered

Youth for Understanding (YFU) is offering scholarship opportunities for American high school students interested in spending next summer in Japan.

Youth for Understanding, one of the largest teenage student exchange organizations in the world, will award more than $60,000 in partial scholarships to qualified high school students between the ages of 14 and 18. A total of 315 American high school students will be going to Japan through the YFU program, leaving home in mid June and returning in mid August. Youth for Understanding has exchanged more than 80,000 high school students since its establishment in 1951.

The scholarships will be awarded primarily on the basis of merit, although need may be taken into account. Among those providing funding for the scholarships are the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and many well-known Japanese companies including Toyota, Datsun, Mitsubishi Motors, Seiko, Hitachi, Nippon Steel, Toshiba, SONY, Sanyo, Honda, Pioneer, Kikkoman and Minolta.

According to YFU President John Richardson Jr., former U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for Educational and Cultural Affairs, the sponsors of the scholarships believe that greater understanding between Japan and the U.S. will result from affording young Americans the unique opportunity to live with Japanese host families and to experience Japanese culture firsthand.

Before leaving for Japan, the students will attend a three day orientation which will introduce them to Japanese culture and tradition. The program also includes expense-paid Fall seminars for most participants for three years following the summer exchange experience. This enables students to continue to develop their understanding and appreciation of Japanese life. Youth for Understanding is a non-profit educational organization dedicated to promoting greater international understanding by making it possible for young people to have an overseas family-living experience. Each year the organization exchanges about 7,500 students with 25 countries.

Interested students should apply immediately in order to be considered for this special scholarship opportunity prior to the February 15, 1981 deadline.

For more information on this or other YFU exchange opportunities, including programs in Europe, Australia, South America and the Far East, write to the following address: Youth for Understanding Student Exchange Program, Japan Scholarship Program, 3501 Newark Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20016. # Sunflower News

By BETTYE BRANDON
Correspondent

On Sunday morning at Spring Hill during the worship hour, the Rev. John Pounds, guest minister and speaker, completely captivated the congregation, both young and old, as he delivered the morning message. It was one that will be long remembered for the wealth of blessings that it contained, as much as for the manner in which it was delivered.

From the very beginning of his sermon, his manner was so dramatic and compelling that all attention was immediately captured and held throughout the message. The youth choir members who were active during this particular service were so intimately involved in his message they were kept enthralled by his manner and the language he used, for he spoke to them on their level and in the language accepted by them as their own.

The message text began in the book of Revelations, but I believe that the entire Bible was covered before he finished. He stated that his advent into the ministry has only been for a period of eight months and that the message delivered to this assembly was one that he felt compelled to give at this time.

The Rev. Pounds is a student at the local junior college and has very recently moved to this community with his wife. He has visited the services many times before, together with other college students, several of whom were present for this service. His sermon was effectively delivered and just as effectively received by everyone attending and we eagerly look forward to his return.

In celebration of the Christmas holidays, the members of Circle No. 2 held their annual Christmas dinner Wednesday night, Dec. 17, in the fellowship hall at Spring Hill M.B. Church for a wonderful time of spiritual enjoyment and fellowship.

The primary, elementary and junior departments of the Sunday School will present a program and play on Sunday evening, Dec. 21, at Spring Hill. Gifts will be exchanged immediately following the program.

Those in charge are Mrs. Artisha McDonald, Sally Gardner, Cassandra Gardner and Joseph Fields. The public is invited.

On Sunday morning we were very happy to welcome back home Mrs. Barbara Horton and baby daughter. They were here visiting with relatives and friends.

Our prayers continue for the sick and shutin this week. We are happy to report that at this time there is no known sick in the hospital, and those at home continues to improve. We are thankful and pray for complete recovery.

Robert and Gail

We share with you this week some events in the life of the Swinney family as told to me in part by Robert himself because we feel that it is very fitting for this time of the year and because we are deeply impressed by and extremely proud of this young couple. He says "He changed my life complete, and now I sit at his feet. To do what must be done, I'm going to work, and work until my Saviour comes, for a wonderful change has come over me."

Robert and Gail Swinney

are one among the community's most outstanding young married couples. They are recognized and accepted as much because of their effort to build a good respectable life for themselves and their children, for their contributions, individually and jointly, through works within the church and other areas, and for their determination to maintain a Christian attitude in all their ways in spite of the many wordly demands.

Robert is a 27-year-old shy, earnest, hardworking, honest young man. He is completely devoted to his family and their well being. Gail is 25 years of age, has a very pleasant and unassuming personality, and performs most times to remain in the background. But she will not hesitate to extol her husband and at all times put him first.

They have been married for seven years and have two children, Chadwick, age 5, and Tanika, age 2. Both Robert and Gail are members of the Baptist Church, joint directors of the Youth Auxiliary, and members of the Senior Choir. Robert is presently serving as Senior Choir president and is doing a very effective job that extends beyond his duties in this position.

Shortly after their marriage seven years ago, Robert left his position as a member of the Methodist Church to be with his wife at Spring Hill. Two years later he became our youngest deacon. His most effective work in this position and as a church member began this year, when, after many months of mental anguish and emotional turmoil, he states that he turned loose the worldly things that he was so determined to hold on to and allowed Jesus complete control of his life and a wonderful change took place.

He learned to trust completely God's promise and to depend on the holy Spirit for guidance and the shy, hesitant young man has become a bold, fearless, outspoken servant for God. These are not just words to impress, spoken by Robert, they are true. The change is visible and his works within the church and elsewhere bears witness to this fact.

Robert gave to me one of his favorite scriptures. We share it with you as our thought for today and for the remainder of this holiday season, together with his statement that "Jesus came to this earth to be the saviour of the world, that we through him might have everlasting life. If we accept him we have this assurance." Jesus said, "I am the bread of life: He that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst, but I said unto you, that ye also have seen me and believe not. All that the father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out, for I came down from Heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of Him that sent Me. And this is the Father's will which hath sent Me, that of all which He hath given Me I shall lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. And this is the will of Him that sent Me, that every one that seeth the Son, and believeth on Him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day. (St. John 6:35-40). Till Next week..

Vision Info Available

While macular degeneration—resulting in loss of central vision—can strike at any age, it's the leading cause of new cases of blindness for persons over 65, and the second major cause of blindness in the U.S.

The best defense against macular degeneration, says the Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness, is a regular eye examination.

Some cases diagnosed early do respond to treatment. Those affected by this disease may also find optical devices, known as low-vision aids helpful.

For more information, send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope to Macular Degeneration, Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness, 115 Broadmoor Drive, Jackson, MS 39206.

Eagles, Lady Bearcats Victors

BALDWIN—Wheeler's Eagles continue to dominate North Mississippi basketball play and last Saturday night kept their unbeaten mark intact (22-0 through Saturday) with a commanding 60-47 victory over a very tough Hickory Flatt team in the finals of the Baldwin Tournament. The powerful Eagles trailed 24-18 at the intermission but came out pumping and blew the Hickory Flatt squad a part in the final two frames.

In Saturday's girls finals Baldwin's Lady Bearcats had one more time of it but held on to defeat a very stubborn Booneville Devilette squad 35-32 to capture first place honors.

Booneville's girls, guided by head mentor Rickey

Ford, gave the Lady Bearcats all they wanted through the four quarters and the game could have went either way in the final minute of play.

Ann McBrayer led the Baldwin girls in scoring with 12 points while Dianne Harris led the Devilette attack with 12.

Bubba Miller, who has had a hot hand recently, pumped in 19 points to lead the Wheeler attack while Kennedy Gamble followed with 14 and Tim Keesler added 13.

All four championship teams reached Saturday's finals with semi-final wins earlier in the week.

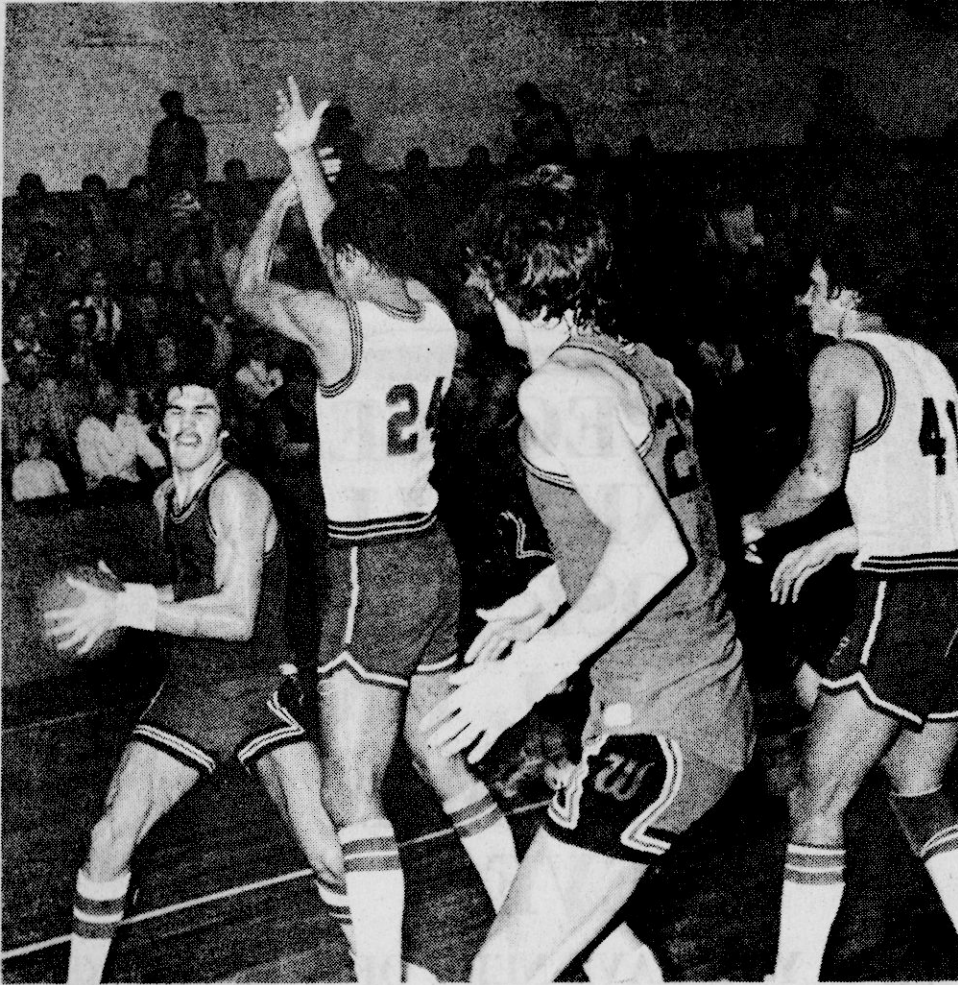

Wheeler's Eagles had little trouble with Biggersville's Lions on Friday night winning 87-57 while Baldwin's Lady Bearcats dropped Shannon's Lady Red Raiderettes 52-36 and Booneville's Lady Blue Devils advanced to the finals with a 60-54 win over Hickory Flatt's girls in Thursday's action.

In The Wheeler-Biggersville game, Bubba

Miller again led the scoring attack with a 28 point performance followed by Tim Keesler with 21 and Kennedy Gamble with 12. Biggersville's Tony Harris netted 21 and Jerry Mitchell 21 on the night.

In The Booneville-Hickory Flatt contest, Vanessa Groves paced the Booneville scoring brigade with 21 points on the night followed by Dianne Harris with 18 and Tina Gardner with 13. Mary Isom netted 26 points to lead Hickory Flatt.

In the Baldwin-Shannon contest, Pam McBrayer led the Lady Bearcatte attack with 12 points followed by Peggy Grass with 10.

LOOKS FOR TEAMMATE—Wheeler's Terry Ballard (35) looks for teammate Tim Keesler (22) in Saturday's action against Hickory Flatt. Ballard and Keesler aided the Eagles in a 60-47 win.

At The Bonner Arnold Coliseum

Tupelo, Wheeler To Faceoff

Grab your coat and hat and get an early start. Some good advice for Saturday night when Wheeler's Eagles play Tupelo's Golden Wave at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum at 8 p.m.

The two teams are two of the top teams in the state and at the last press release to the Banner-Independent, The Wave was tabbed as number one in the state while Wheeler's Eagles were number three.

Officials at Northeast are expecting one of the largest crowds ever in the Bonner Arnold Coliseum when these two high school powerhouses lock horns.

The Eagles have the best record of the two. The local troop, under head coach Sam Richey, currently post an undefeated 23-0 record while the Golden Wave, under Randy Hodges have an unblemished 12-0 record.

The Eagles have claimed four tournament trophies, winning top honors in the Thrasher, Wheeler, Jumpertown and Baldwin Tournaments while Tupelo has been in the tourney winner's circle twice winning the Pontotoc and New Albany events.

Northeast athletic director Bill Ward said he was pleased to have the game at Northeast and said he would do everything in his power to extend accommodations to the schools.

A preliminary game between Hamilton and Tupelo's girls will begin at 6:30 Saturday with the big grudge battle to begin at 8 p.m.

If you haven't seen these two powerhouses play don't miss the action Saturday night.

Rebels Fall

At New Albany

NEW ALBANY—Thrasher's Rebels gave one more gigantic try but fell three points short of upsetting unbeaten Tupelo in semi-final action of the New Albany Invitational Tournament held last weekend. The wave rallied to win 77-74 and went on to win the tourney.

The Rebels, coached by Jacky Rowsey, proved to indeed be tough enough to match talents with the powerful Wave but it appeared that it wasn't in the cards for Thrasher to come away with the victory.

The Golden Wave, now 12-0 on the season, scored in the final seconds to take the three point win. The Wave then went on Saturday night to claim top honors with a 47-35 victory over Ingomar in the finals.

In Friday's rough and tough action, high pointman James Swinney led the Thrasher attack with 30 points followed by George Leslie and Darryl Hatfield with 12 each and Keith Trimble with 10.

Jeff Noorwood led the Golden Wave attack with 26 points followed by George Kohlem with 18 and Eddie Wells with 11.

Coach Noal Akins Says...

Tigers Impressive: But Still Need Work

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Northeast Mississippi Junior College head basketball coach Noal Akins said he was pleased with the play of the Tigers through the first part of the season but said there had to be some changes made after Christmas.

The Tigers, now 8-2 overall, are tabbed as one of the top teams in the region seven and are currently ranked fourth in the Region.

Coach Akins said the Tigers play a rough and tough schedule and added that although the Tigers are indeed winning they need to be doing a little better.

"We've got to put some muscle into our lineup," Akins said. "We're not playing aggressive enough and we're just not getting out there and getting the job done."

"I can tell you one thing, Akins added. "We're not going to loaf like we did Monday night against Paducah." This is one thing we have to work on."

The Northeast roundball boss did say he was pleased with several topics of the Tigers game plan. One, he said, was the team's overall balance and experience.

Coach Akins said he felt like the teams overall stats would improve greatly after the holidays are over. "The talent we have will indeed improve in the latter stages and we hope we can make our chart sheet a little more impressive for the fans."

As a team, the Northeast chargers are currently hitting on a 52.8 percent clip from the floor hitting on 301-569 attempts while from the free throw line the Tigers have a 63 percent mark with 155-246.

Coach Akins said he was somewhat concerned with the Northeast rebounding corpe (the balance in it). "We have some big folks out there that should be coming down with the ball more," he said. At presstime the Tigers are averaging some 33 rebounds per game.

On the offensive side of the season's first few week's, key leaders in fieldgoal percentage include, Jim Kwasinski 14-22, 64 percent; Maurice Stafford, 70-119, 59 percent; and Jackie Leach, 63-111, 57 percent. On the freethrow side, Mark Buskirk has hit 13-15 for a 87 percent average and Dale Groves, has connected on 33-41 for 80 percent mark.

On the rebounding side, Northeast's Maurice Stafford is the team's leader with 79 for an 8.7 per game average followed by Mark Hastings with 59 rebounds for a 6.5 per game average.

If you haven't seen the Tigers in action this year, you've missed a treat. The Northeast troop, under coach Akins guidance, are indeed a flashy ballclub.

Complete with slam dunks (I'm talking "Slam") and fast aggressive play etc., etc., the Tigers do put on a show. How does Coach Akins feel about the flashy play. "Oh, I'm all for it when it works. It looks good. But I tell the players, if you're going to dunk you better make it good or you're coming out for a while."

Coach Akins said he felt like the fans played a vital part in the team's overall program. "We hope our students really get behind us during the latter stages of the season. We really need their help."

How would you describe the 1980 Tigers. This was a question put to the Northeast coach. "Well I feel like we have a team that can play with the best of them. We do several things well, we have overall experience, our kids know how to play under pressure and we have talent."

"We do have some things we have to work on after the break. One thing I noticed looking over the charts is our like of aggressiveness through fouls. I don't usually get on to the players for fouling unless of course it's uncalled for. I think you have to commit several fouls to really be aggressive. Because when you're playing contact basketball and aggressive basketball, you're going to commit fouls."

Coach Akins said he was looking ahead slightly but wasn't really thinking about the playoffs yet. "We have a tough road schedule following the Christmas break and we want to concentrate on this first."

Northeast returns to action January 8th when they start their rugged road campaign against Coahoma at Clarksdale.

Tigers Drop Paducah In Monday Night Action

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers returned to their winning ways here Monday night with an 88-83 victory over the always tough Paducah Kentucky team in a home encounter at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The Northeast troop, now 8-2 on the year and 2-1 in the conference, connected on 37-67 from the floor for a 66.7 percent average for the 83 point total and hit on 14-21 free throws for a 66 percent average.

Three Tigers shared scoring honors on the night. NE's Dale Groves, Maurice Stafford and Mark Hastings each hit for 19 points a piece while Jackie Leach and Mark Buskirk sacked 12 points each.

The Northeast troop pulled down 33 overall rebounds with Stanley Carter and Stafford leading the way with six each.

Two topics NE head coach Noal Akins was extremely proud of in Monday's game was the lack of turnovers. NE troop had only 14 turnovers the entire night and another key point was in assist. The Tigers 31 overall assist with Mark Buskirk leading the way with 11 followed by Groves with 8.

didn't fare quite as well Monday losing a heart-breaker to the Paducah squad 60-58.

The lead changed hands a number of times in the contest but the Paducah troop came on in the latter stages to notch the win.

Ramona Patton led the Tigerettes in scoring with 14 points followed by Karen Davis and Martha Ashmore with 12 each while Debbie Brooks had 10 points on the night.

Both the Tigers and Tigerettes will now break for the Christmas Holidays and will return to action Jan. 8 when they face Coahoma on the road.

Royals Fall

In Finals

IUKA—It took the entire four quarters to do but Alcorn Central's Golden Bears held on to nip a very tough New Site Royal team 52-48 here Saturday night in the finals of the Iuka Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Royals, coached by Mackie Don Smith, have been one of the better teams in the North this year and proved to be just as tough as their record indicated Saturday night battling till the final buzzer.

The Royals led by four 22-18 at the intermission but the Golden Bears came on to trim the Royals in the final frame.

Gary Caveness and Gary Odle netted 14 points each to lead the Central attack while Anthony Webb netted 14 points to pace the Royal Brigade followed by Bob Whitley with 13.

Royals Win In Semi-Finals

The New Site Royals came away with a win in Friday's semi-final action. The local troop waltzed with ease to an impressive 70-48 victory over Tishomingo to advance to Saturday's finals.

For Holiday Parties

Rules For The Good Host

(Editor's note: The following information was provided by Timber Hills Mental Health Services. The information was developed cooperatively between the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism and the U.S. Jaycees.)

Holiday Party
Etiquette

If you're planning a party during the holidays, and will be serving liquor, there are some things you should remember for keeping things under control.

—Offer Soft Drinks. One third of the adult population chooses not to drink at all. And many others who drink socially sometimes prefer not to. So offer a choice. And when someone says, "no thanks," don't push it. There are nine million Americans for whom even one drink is too many.

—Give More Than A Drink. Introduce two people who don't know each other. Get a conversation started. Give someone a compliment...or a laugh. You have more to give than just drinks. A host or hostess is not just a bartender. Remember, it is up to the host or hostess to establish the atmosphere they wish to prevail at their party.

—Don't Rush Refills. Wait until the glass is empty before you offer another drink. And then don't be in a hurry—especially if someone seems to be coming up empty too fast.

—Don't Double Up. A lot of people count their drinks. But if you serve doubles, they'll be drinking twice as much as they can handle. Doubling up isn't generous. It's rude.

—Dinner Is Served. If you're going to serve dinner or an evening snack, do it before it's too late. If the "cocktail hour" goes on for hours, nobody will know what they had for dinner.

—Keep 'Em Nibbling. Not just later on, but while your guests are drinking. That's important, because it slows down the rate at which people drink.

—If...someone drinks too much at your house, you are responsible. That's what it means to be a host. See that he gets home safely, but don't let him drive. And don't think you can sober someone up in a short time with a cold shower or black coffee. Only time can sober him up. It will take about one hour for every drink he's had. So sometimes it's best to let the guest "sleep it off" instead of going home.

—Closing The Bar. Decide in advance when you want your party to end. Then give appropriate cues by word and action that it's time to leave. A considerate way to close the drinking phase is to serve a substantial snack. It also provides some non-drinking time before your guests start to drive home.

Is A Safe Toy

Santa Claus is coming soon. Children everywhere are waiting with eager anticipation to see the toys old St. Nick will leave under the tree.

Chances are that youngsters will open their gifts Christmas morning and have a great time getting acquainted with their new toys. But in all too many households the toys themselves will dim the happy Christmas season by causing accidents and injuries.

The Mississippi State Medical Association offers some simple tips for selecting toys that will help insure a completely happy Christmas.

—Beware of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys, and toys with rough or sharp edges.

—All electric toys should be safe. Look for the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label on the cord and on the toy itself.

—Avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints. You're unlikely to encounter these today, as the dangers of lead poisoning are now well known. But it's wise to be sure.

—Baby's toys should be too large to put in the mouth and they should be washable, lightweight and non-brittle.

—Eye injuries are a particular hazard from some Christmas toys. Sling shots, air rifles, archery sets and even the spring-action toy pistols that propel sticks capped with rubber cups have caused injuries.

County Agent's Report

Soybean Seed

While we can expect an overall shortage of soybean seed next spring, this may not hold true for all varieties. Of our most widely planted varieties, Forrest and Bedford are in the most trouble. A shortage of seed beans in other southern states complicates matters. Some of our widely popular varieties like Bragg may be shipped out of state.

The quality of most early varieties--Hill, Forrest, Bedford, etc.--does not look good. You can expect a lot of "substandard" seed tags issued this winter.

Fungicidal treatments can help improve germination, and we may need to consider this approach more than in a normal year. But keep in mind that fungicides can't change "bad" seed into "good" seed.

I've heard a lot of questions this year about farmers saving their soybean seed. Soybeans are self pollinated. There is a little cross pollination, even when two varieties are planted side by side. So, it is perfectly acceptable to save seed year after year as long as they are not mixed mechanically with another variety.

Cut Costs-
Limit Graze

Now that many winter pastures are ready or nearly ready to graze, it's tempting to turn cows on the grass fulltime and not bother to limit graze. But, grazing a limited period each day is the way to get the most efficient use of expensive winter pastures.

A main thought in wintering a brood cow on winter grazing is cost. A mature cow needs 1 to 1 1/4 acres to give enough forage for full-time grazing. By grazing fulltime on high quality winter pastures, she'll get nearly twice as much protein and 60 to 80 percent more energy than she really needs.

With limited grazing, a cow with a young calf can be wintered with one filling or about three hours grazing each day plus a partial feeding of fair quality hay. She won't need any additional protein supplement. By grazing three hours daily, you can put two cows with young calves on one acre of well-fertilized winter pasture under average growing conditions.

When grazing become scarce, you can graze every other day if good quality hay is available for feeding on other days. You'll have to determine alternate-day grazing according to how well your cattle hold up. Cows to be rebred quickly that produce plenty of milk for calves need a high level of nutrition.

Wait until grass is six to eight inches tall before grazing so plants can develop a good root system. Graze when three to five inches tall if clover is growing with the grass.

Mrs. Gladys Parker Calloway of Thrasher provides us with an interesting account of a recent birthday celebrated by her brother, Frank (Bud) Parker, also of Thrasher. For this happy occasion Mr. Parker had a number of his relatives to share the day with him, one special guest being a little three-year-old great-neice, Wendy Trimble. Both Mr. Parker and Mrs. Calloway have many friends in Rienzi who join in saying "Happy Birthday, Mr. Parker."

Mrs. Eva Richardson has been spending much time with her mother, Mrs. John Childers, who is a patient at the McNairy County General Hospital in Selmer, Tenn.

Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, Mrs. Sarah Eaton and Mrs. J.W. Richardson were in Memphis Saturday shopping.

Mrs. John McDonough of Fulton spent last weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eldridge.

Deepest sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Lee Rinehart whose death occurred Thursday. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon with burial in the Sardis Cemetery.

Mrs. J.W. Richardson gives a report of a happy holiday gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yancey who recently purchased the home place of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Yancey. The Yancey's have bought this for their retirement home in later years. Out of town guests were Jim Yancey of Kenosha, Wisc. and Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Thompson and Miss Cary Thompson of Union Grove, Wisc. Other guests included brothers and sisters and friends of this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lang celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary Dec. 3. Others in our community who will be observing

County 4-H Club News

By Edward L. McWhirter
Extension 4-H
Youth Agent

The holiday season is here and Christmas is just around the corner. For our 4-H Christmas program, we will have a Christmas Show and Tell at the Extension building, Dec. 18 from 4 to 6 p.m. Following the Christmas Show and Tell we will have the 4-H Junior Council meeting.

enjoy the Christmas season if you get a head start now on holiday baking.

Your freezer can be a real aid in advance preparation, but it might be wise to review a few suggestions from young people in the national 4-H bread program:

--Yeast breads and rolls freeze well. For best quality, freeze food as soon as it cools after baking.

--Wrap the baked product in moisture-vapor-resistant or moisture-vaporproof material or place it in a freezer container. Exclude as much air as possible from the package.

--Most baked good will hold quality well in a freezer at a temperature of 0 degrees F or below. Maximum storage times are three months for white bread or plain rolls and two months for cinnamon rolls. Bake plain and fancy yeast breads and freeze them for family meals and holiday parties. Remember: Home-baked products make welcome gifts.

Four-H projects and activities encourage girls and boys 9 to 19 to prepare and serve a variety of wholesome, delicious breads. 4-H members learn-by-doing how breads and cereals contribute to good health, how scientific principles are related to bread making, and how grain products reflect the cultures of people around the world.

Four-H'ers are eligible for recognition provided by Standard Brands Incorporated and are arranged by the National 4-H Council. Awards include six $1,000 scholarships at the national level; an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, for one 4-H'er per state; and four medals of honor in each county. Winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program. More information is available from county Extension agents.

Parent's Pledge To 4-H Members

Parents help 4-H members learn needed skills, knowledge and attitudes to develop as responsible adults. Parents are so important that a special Parent's 4-H Pledge has been written:

I pledge my HEAD to give my child the information I can, to help him see things clearly and to make wise decisions.

I pledge my HEART to encourage and support my child no matter whether he has successes or disappointments.

I pledge my HANDS to help my child's club; if I cannot be a leader, I can help in many equally important ways.

I pledge my HEALTH to keep my child strong and well for a better world through 4-H, for my child's club, our community, our country, and our world. - Copied, Retta Miller, 4-H "Spin Offs" (Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service).

Christmas Trees Create Fire Hazards

The holiday season is potentially a very dangerous one. Precautions against fire and adherence to general safety rules are of the utmost importance when Christmas preparations are being made, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association.

Fire is the greatest single contributor to Christmas tragedy. The dangers of fire in the home are compounded during the holidays due to the presence of trees, trimmings, lights, candles, and paper decorations which would not normally be in the home.

The primary causes of home fires during Christmas are lighted candles, fireplaces, trees which become too dry, and faulty electrical connections. Common sense and adherence to a few basic safety rules can drastically reduce the number of home fires.

The following guidelines should be used to assure a safe and merry Christmas:

- Make an emergency plan to use if fire breaks out.
- Have telephone numbers of fire and emergency squads handy.
- Keep matches, lighters, and candles out of the reach of children.
- Never burn candles near evergreens or in drafts from open windows, heating or air conditioning systems.

--Never burn candles in the middle of dried flower arrangements, cut pine, ballsa or holly.

--Never burn evergreens in a fireplace, as dry greens burn like tinder and can flare out of control, sending sparks flying about the room.

Special precautions should also be taken with the Christmas tree because chemical coatings or sprays cannot be relied upon to flame-proof it. A fresh tree will stay green longer and be less of a fire hazard than a dry one. A fresh tree is green. Its needles are hard to pull from its branches and do not break when bent between your fingers, its trunk is sticky with resin, and a shower of needles does not fall to the ground when it is shaken.

The tree should be placed away from fireplaces, radiators, and other heat sources. It should also be out of the way of traffic and not block any doorways.

The tree, after two inches of its trunk is removed, should be mounted in a sturdy, water-holding stand with wide-spread legs and fastened to the walls or ceiling with thin guy wires which will be nearly invisible. The base should be kept full of water while the tree is indoors because heated rooms dry trees out rapidly, creating fire hazards.

For Auxiliary Heating

Special Precautions Are Needed

Americans facing an energy shortage are turning to alternate sources of home heating. The local Civil Defense Office urges Prentiss Countians to use these sources, and other more conventional sources, with caution.

The old pot-bellied and Franklin Stove market is suddenly booming. Fireplaces are burning wood and man-made logs. All of these supplementary heat measures can be good, but they can also introduce the danger of fire into homes.

The U.S. Fire Administration is offering some home safety tips to help prevent these fires.

Room Heating

Space heaters and heating stoves are used throughout the nation to increase the warmth in rooms. They do the job, but can be dangerous. To use them safely, the U.S. Fire Administration recommends:

--Never use fuel burning appliances without proper vents to the outside. Burning fuel (kerosene, coal or propane, for example) produces deadly fumes.

--Be sure your heater is in good working condition. All room heaters need frequent checkups and cleaning. A dirty or neglected heater is a critical fire hazard.

--Use only the proper fuel for each heater. Never introduce a fuel into a unit not designed for that fuel.

--Never quicken a fire with kerosene or gasoline.

--Keep gasoline, or other flammable liquids, stored outside of the home at all times.

--Maintain adequate clearance in all directions around space heaters and heating stoves. Surrounding surfaces should not become too hot to touch.

--Use a screen around stoves or space heaters which have open flames. Give the heater adequate clearance from walls and combustibles, such as a clothes rack, curtains, beds, or other furniture.

--If you use an electric heater, be sure your house wiring is adequate. Avoid overloading the circuit. Avoid overloading extension cords.

--Avoid using electric space heaters in bathrooms, and certainly do not touch one when you are wet.

--When refueling an oil unit, avoid overfilling it. If cold oil is used, it will expand as it warms up inside your home and may cause burner-flooding which could cause flare-ups. And don't fill your heater while it is burning.

--Keep young children away from space heaters--particularly when they are wearing nightgowns which can be sucked in by a draft created by the heater and ignited.

--If you are using an approved, UL labeled space heater or heating stove in your bedroom, turn off your heater or turn it low before going to bed. When using a fuel burning heater in the bedroom, open the window. Ventilation prevents suffocation that can be caused by a heater consuming oxygen.

--Use only safety listed equipment. If you choose an oil heater, look for the UL label; a gas appliance, the AGA or UL label; or an electric heater, the UL label.

Fireplaces

When temperatures inside are kept down, a crackling fire in the fireplace is a cozy and cheery way to keep warm. But these fires, if not carefully tended, can cause tragedy. To use them safely:

--Do not use flammable liquids to start the fire.

--Keep a metal screen in front of your fireplace. Flying embers can start fires.

--Don't use excessive amounts of paper to build roaring fires in a fireplace. It is possible to ignite soot in the chimney by overbuilding the fire.

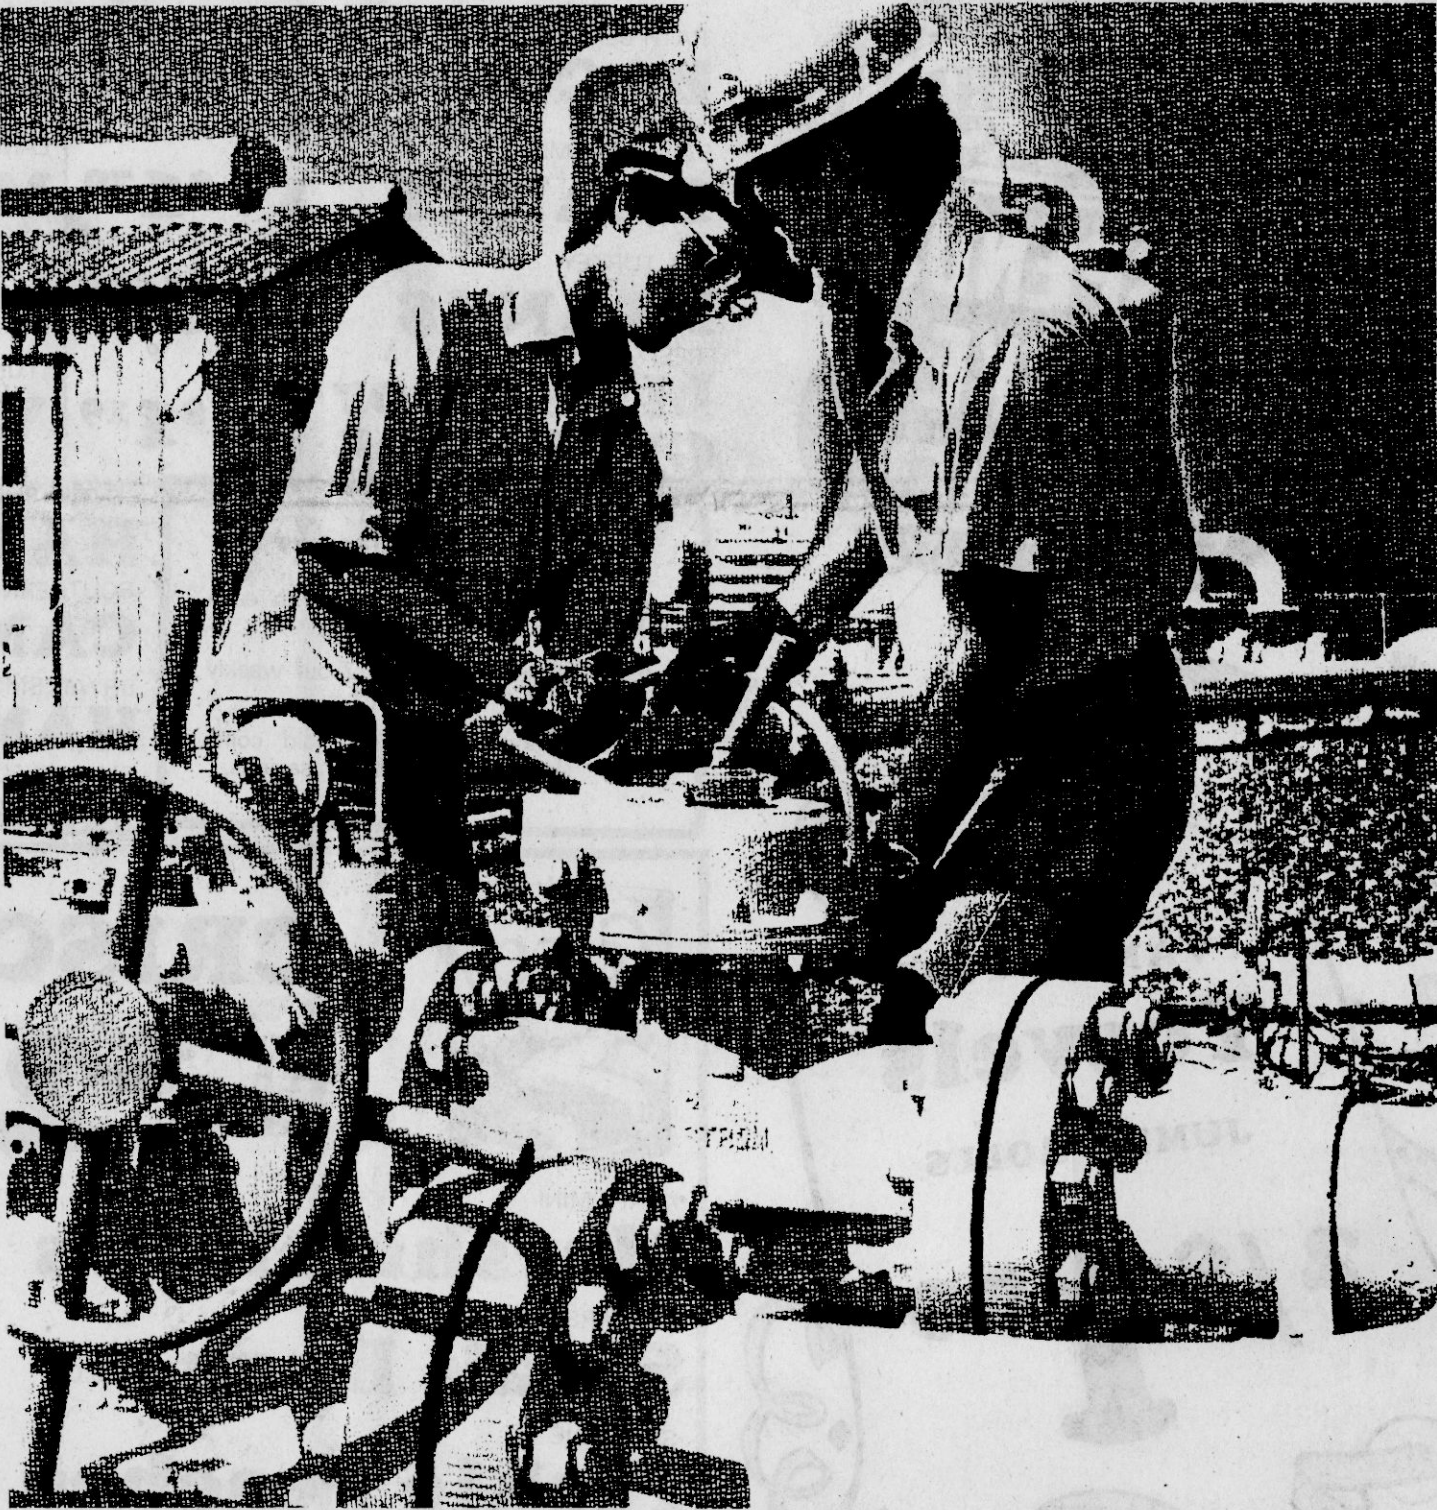

--Never burn charcoal in your fireplace, or in a charcoal broiler or hibachi unit inside. Burning charcoal gives off deadly amounts of carbon monoxide.

--Be sure no flammable materials hang down from or decorate your mantel. A spark hitting them from your fireplace could ignite these materials and cause a fire.

--When you go to bed, be sure your fireplace is out. Never close your damper with hot ashes in the fireplace. A closed damper can help hot ashes build up heat to the point where a fire could flare up and ignite the room while you are asleep.

--If your fireplace has not been used for sometime, have it and the chimney checked being using.

--Follow the directions on the package if you use man-made logs. Never break a man-made log apart to quicken the fire.

Whitten Praised For Right To Work Support

National Right to Work Committee president Reed Larson recently congratulated Mississippi's incumbent Congressman Jamie Whitten, saying "It is reassuring to know that you will remain in the increasing ranks of Right to Work supporters in Congress.

"You have been a great help in the past," Larson wrote in a letter to Whitten, "by actively supporting specific proposals in the Right to Work agenda, and we very much appreciate that."

The Congressman, in defeating challenger T.K. Moffett, affirmed his position on Survey '80, the Committee's Right to Work questionnaire for congressional candidates.

The National Right to Work Committee, which is a nonpartisan, nonpolitical organization, and endorses no candidates, conducts a candidate survey each election year. The survey serves as a massive education effort to secure information for the Committee's nationwide membership on each candidate's position on compulsory unionism. Larson said.

During the 1980 campaign, the committee surveyed some 1,600 candidates for federal office. Of the candidates who answered the survey, some 72 percent took the Committee's position on all of the nine survey questions, expressing adamant opposition to any form of compulsory unionism.

In the fall elections following the survey, Right to Work picked up a record 12 votes in the Senate and 34 in the House of Representatives.

In assessing the outcome of the 1980 election, committee president Larson said the results, "should produce some significant changes in the (Right to Work) agenda's success."

The agenda's specific proposals include an amendment to the Hobbs Act to make union officials liable for federal prosecution for acts of extortion, the Helms-Dickinson bill to end forced dues politicking, and legislation to repeal compulsory unionism provisions of the National Labor Relations Act.

Since its founding in 1955, the committee has been increasingly effective in raising the compulsory unionism issue with both elected officials and the public. In recent years, the Committee has been widely credited with leading the massive public protest that led to the defeat of a common situs picketing measure and the so-called labor law "reform" bill.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK :

The Star Of Christmas

By C. D. Edge

The Scriptures turn mans; attention toward the Heavenlies. In Psalms eight-three we are told to consider the stars that God made. Many today, to our shame forget that the stars we see at this season of the year are to remind all of the Saviour Jesus. We see stars on Christmas trees and in store windows, even on the city street decorations and every one should remind us of the real star of the Christmas season.

Someone has said that the Old Testament is a book of expectation pointing to Jesus and certainly this is true. The prophecy found in Numbers 24:17 tells us that a STAR shall come, and it's speaking of the Lord. Jesus said of Himself in Revelation 22:16-I AM THE BRIGHT AND MORNING STAR. The stars should always remind us of our Lord.

The story goes of a man and his young son walking down a city street during the days of world war II. The lad noticed the little gold stars in the windows of the homes and asked his father what they represented. He was told how the little star meant that the family had given a son to die on the battlefield for our country. It was late evening and the little boy held tight to his dads hand and as he looked up he saw in the sky that the first beautiful star had just appeared. The little fellow said, "Look dad-GOD GAVE HIS SON TOO."

I pray that you'll remember the real star of Christmas this year-JOHN 3:16 tells us--FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD, THAT HE GAVE HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON, THAT WHOSEVER BELIEVETH IN HIM SHOULD NOT PERISH, BUT HAVE EVERLASTING LIFE.

NOBODY HAS LOWER GROCERY PRICES

If you can do your weekly shopping for less, we'll
TRIPLE•THE•DIFFERENCE!

FOOD CENTER WAREHOUSE brought lower food prices to town. We promised to offer you more low prices every week than anywhere else in town. We've kept that promise. And we're determined to keep our position as THE LOW-PRICE LEADER. To convince you of our commitment to low prices, we now GUARANTEE you a lower total on your food bill. If you can do your weekly shopping for less at any other supermarket in town, we'll pay you TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE in cash. Other stores may claim to have low prices... we guarantee it.

Our TRIPLE the Difference Guarantee

After you've purchased 25 different items worth $20 or more at Food Center Warehouse (excluding free goods, retailer's coupons, and advertised specials), compare prices during that week on the same items at any other supermarket in town. If their total is lower, bring your itemized Warehouse register tape and the other supermarket's name and prices to us. We'll pay TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE in cash!
