Despite Sales Slump, 1980 Topped 1979

By KEN CHRISTIAN
and ANGELA SMITH

Comparing each month with the same month one year ago, the sales tax collections for the city of Booneville indicate that for the past several months sales have been declining. However, a look at 1980 as a whole does not look quite so bad when compared with 1979.

The gross sales tax collections for Booneville were up in 1980 as compared to 1979, figures from the State Tax Commissioner's office indicate.

In 1979, the gross sales tax collections for Booneville were $2,282,124 as compared to $2,385,452 in 1980. The retail sales tax collections for Booneville picked up from $2,270,533 in 1979 to $2,375,500 in 1980.

Figures for this December's sales tax collections show Booneville sales were down by about 4.4 percent when compared to December 1979. The city's collections fell from $41,504 to $39,671.

However, the month of December was a much better month for Booneville's neighbor to the south. When compared with December 1979 figures, sales tax collections for Baldwin were up more than 41.6 percent, from $15,703 in 1979 to $22,242 in 1980.

Also, retail sales tax collections for Baldwin rose from $1,049,759 for the year in 1979 to $1,052,995 in 1980.

On the other hand, Baldwin's gross sales tax collections fell from $1,082,112 for the year in 1979 to $1,076,294 in 1980.

Baldwin mayor Merle Rowan attributes the huge increase in sales tax collections for his city in December to the oil situation.

"We feel the increase of sales tax collections is due to the price of fuel," he said. "People aren't traveling as much and they are trading at home."

Mayor Rowan said gasoline is three cents a gallon higher in Baldwin than it is in Booneville.

No new major businesses have opened recently in Baldwin that may have accounted for the increase in December's sales tax collections, the mayor said.

Booneville mayor Charles Crabb cites the high interest rates as being a cause of the slack in Booneville sales.

"People just aren't spending as much," he said. "There's less home building and purchases of automobiles due to the high interest rates."

He also cited Prentiss County's 8.6 percent unemployment ratio as another reason for the decrease in sales tax collections.

"We try to compare Booneville's sales tax collections with Aberdeen's sales tax collections...and we're

Tenn-Tom Topic Of PCDA Banquet

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

Practically a full house turned out last Thursday night for the Prentiss County Development Association's fifth annual membership banquet in the Mississippi Room of the Frank Haney Union at Northeast Junior College.

Guest speaker Col. Lee Tucker, District Engineer, Nashville Office, U.S. Corps of Engineers, took the banquet guests on a pictorial trip down the still under construction Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, via a slide presentation.

Tucker, whose office is responsible for construction of the northern portion of the project, said the waterway is scheduled for operation from one end to the other by the fall of 1985. Some southern sections of the waterway are already open for traffic, he said.

Total construction on the project is scheduled for completion in 1986, he added.

In pointing out the economic advantages of shipping on the waterway, Tucker said one gallon of fuel will move 259 tons by truck, or 202 tons by rail, but 514 tons on the waterway.

The army colonel said the first cargo shipped on the southern section of the waterway now open near Demopolis, Ala., was a load of soybeans.

The waterway, when completed, will be 232 miles long, extending from Pickwick Lake south to Demopolis, and from there through existing waterways to Mobile, Ala., and the Gulf of Mexico.

The channel itself will be 300 feet wide and will have a nine-foot navigational channel, he said.

There will be 10 locks on the waterway, and they will lift traffic a total of 341 feet from Demopolis to Pickwick.

Tucker said that parts of the northern and the southern sections of the waterway are already complete. He said the largest contract ever let by the Corps—a $271 million contract let in 1978—is in the still-to-be-completed center section.

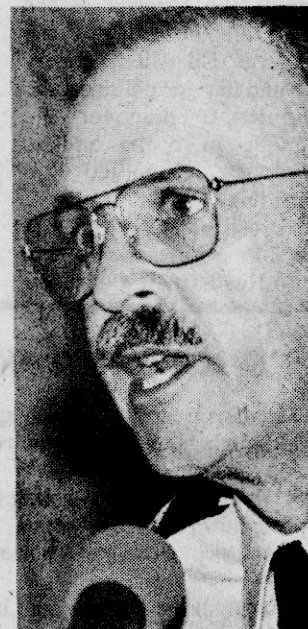

One of the major problems the Corps has encountered in the project, the colonel said, was getting grass to grow in the acidic soil being removed from the divide cut. The growth of grass is necessary on the disposal areas to prevent erosion and damage to the environment, he said.

"We've solved the problem," he said, "but it wasn't easy."

The most acidic soil had a pH of 3.5 and it took 22 tons of lime per acre to get grass to grow there. "That's a lot of lime," he said.

The largest disposal area, he said, is 500 acres near where the Illinois Central (Gulf) Railroad crosses the waterway.

Citizens Protest Changes

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

Approximately 60 people attended a Jumpertown Water Association meeting Tuesday night in the Jumpertown Town Hall as a result of a controversy over recent changes in the town's water association.

Originally this meeting was planned to include only Jumpertown Mayor Bobby Smart and the five Jumpertown aldermen, who also compose the Board of Trustees for the Jumpertown Water Association, plus the men who supposedly had a petition drawn up to protest the newly established minimum water usage amount and the new rates. Attorneys for both sides were also to be present.

People in the audience immediately began asking why the water bills were raised from the minimum $6.83 to $8 and why the minimum 3,000 gallons were lowered to 2,000 gallons.

Eddie Mauney, spokesman for the board of aldermen, explained that Article XI, Section 6 of the By-Laws of the Jumpertown

Water Association says, "The Board of Trustees shall determine the flat minimum monthly rate to be charged each member for a specified quantity of water, such flat minimum monthly rate to be payable irrespective of whether any water is used by a member during any month."

Mauney began explaining the rates were raised in order to help the elderly, but the audience argued back so loudly he did not finish his statement.

The question was asked why the water association was now being "run by the city of Jumpertown instead of the government, as it used to be."

"Members of the water association ratified this in

ARC Grant Awarded To Water Association

A $50,000 grant has been approved for the Prentiss-Alcorn Water Association, a spokesman for Congressman Jamie Whitten's office said Monday.

The grant will be used to help eliminate health hazards associated with contaminated wells, the spokesman said.

The $50,000 in Appalachian Regional Commission funds will be matched with $60,000 in local funds and with $20,000 from the Farmers Home Administration, he said. The total cost of the project will be $130,000.

The project will extend service to 58 additional customers. The system currently serves 410 users in Prentiss and Alcorn Counties.

Sales Tax Collections Down For December

Although Mississippi tax collections, apparently boosted by December Christmas sales, were up more than $19 million statewide compared to December 1979, city sales tax collections for Booneville continued the trend of the last several months by falling below the amount collected during the same period a year ago.

According to State Tax Commission Chairman A.C. "Butch" Lambert, Booneville took in a total of $39,671 in sales taxes during December 1980, compared to $41,504 in December 1979. This is a decrease of slightly more than 4.4 percent, or $1,833.

Lambert said total revenue collections from all sources for the state last month amounted to more than $102.7 million. This compared with $83.3 million during December 1979.

As usual, the state sales tax provided the largest amount of December revenue for the state, totaling $56.3 million. This compared with $49.4 million collected during the same month a year ago.

The following are December 1980 sales tax collections from selected municipalities, with 1979 figures in parenthesis:

Aberdeen $38,260 ($39,037); Amory $45,646 ($49,171); Baldwin $22,242 ($15,703); Calhoun City $12,617 ($11,796); Columbus $208,691 ($186,615); Corinth $114,290 ($98,030); Fulton $24,536 ($165,35); Grenada

Residents Meet With Boards Over Mobile Home Permit

A controversy from this past summer resurfaced Tuesday night when a group of citizens from west Booneville attended the city's regular board meeting Tuesday night, seeking to have a review of a permit which allowed a mobile home to be located on Summer Lane.

Bill Murphy, an unofficial spokesman for the group of citizens, told Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb and the board of aldermen that the citizens from the community who had protested the issuance of that trailer permit this summer had been told it could be reviewed in six months.

He said the six months period is now up and the citizens would like to know what can be done. He said some of the citizens had met with the city planning commission last week and had been told that the planning commission could do nothing about the permit.

In putting the problem in perspective by giving a brief review of the situation, Mayor Crabb pointed out that sometime between 1970 and 1972 the planning commission gave building inspector Nolan Wheeler the authority to issue permits for mobile homes and established a list of 13

New Head Coach Named

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

Booneville High School principal Mac Curlee said Wednesday that Charles Gullett has been named the new Booneville High School head football coach for the 1981 season.

Coach Gullett, a veteran of some 20 years in the coaching ranks, replaces former coach Curlee who recently resigned as head mentor.

Curlee had said that he would remain as BHS principal, but now says his plans are incomplete.

Coach Gullett is no new comer to the coaching profession. A native of Prentiss County, he is a graduate of Booneville High School, The Northeast Mississippi Junior College and The University of Mississippi.

He has been involved with the Booneville sports program for some 13 years, working as assistant coach at the high school and in the Middle School programs, working with the younger athletes.

Coach Gullett, better known to his friends as "Doc" started his coaching tenure at Shelby High School in 1961-62. He then returned to Booneville in 1962 and served four years as assistant coach under head coaches Doug Herbert and James Drewry.

In the fall of 1966 he went to the southern part of the state where he was head coach at Thames Junior High School and then advanced to the high school ranks in 1968 when he became head coach at Walnut High School.

He spent three successful seasons, there, including one 9-2 campaign and one 7-2 record, and in 1970 was runnerup in the Tippamingo Conference.

He then went to Coffeeville, Miss., in 1971 where he served one year as head

Counterfeit Bills Discovered

Several counterfeit $50 bills have been reported circulating in Booneville within the last few weeks.

The Peoples Bank & Trust Co. found several of the counterfeit bills in their bank deposits, according to vice-president Thurston Davis.

"The bills were very badly printed and should be easily spotted," Davis said.

The serial number on the counterfeit bills is I 95200431 A, he said.

For February

'Everybody Read Month' Set

February has been designated Everybody Read Month by the Friends of the Library in conjunction with a month-long winter reading program to encourage people to utilize the library during the slower winter season.

"The purpose of the program is to encourage readers to expand their world through pleasure reading," Dr. Neola Cleveland, president of Friends of the Library said. The Friends' Board and all the staff at the George Ed Allen Library would like for children and adults to discover the magic in books and to become involved in reading.

Preschoolers, ages 3 to 6, and their parents may join the Read-To-Me-Club. The parent and child should visit the library and select children's books to be read at home during the month of February.

Each child who participates should have his or her name and the name of the book completed registered on the list kept at the library at the time of the completion of the book.

Children in grades 1 through 6 should register each book completed during the four weeks of the month on the list kept by a library staff member.

Students in grades 7 through 12 should also register the name of each book completed on the list kept by the library.

Adults are also invited to participate in the month of reading. Each adult should also register his or her name and the name of each book completed during the month.

Everybody is invited to participate, Dr. Cleveland said. A reading winner in each of the four categories will be announced in early March.

While at the library to make book selections, everybody is invited to view the display at the George Ed Allen Library, she added.

The Mississippi Art Colony display in the Conference Program is made possible through joint efforts of the Mississippi Art Commission and National Endowment for the Arts, and will be on display the rest of the week only.

usually in the same neighborhood, although Aberdeen has more people," Mayor Crabb said.

An unofficial survey of several local merchants found them reporting business picked up in 1980 compared to 1979.

"Our business was up in 1980 as compared to 1979," Jim Harris, manager of Wal-Mart, said. "There was a flurry of buying activity, probably because people had forebodings about the interest rates and the tightening of budgets."

The new Fred's Dollar Store opened here in April 1979, and manager Clyde Drewry said the new store had a good increase in business in 1980.

"This was probably because we were a new store and offered a wide range of merchandise," Drewry said.

At the downtown Fred's Dollar Store, it is difficult to determine if business in 1980 was up from 1979, because of the opening of the new Fred's store on the highway, Steve Roberts, manager of the downtown store, said.

"Our sales really didn't fluctuate much," Roberts said. "In 1980 compared to 1979, if not for the opening of the new store, our business would have been the same. I think our business will pick up, but nothing drastic."

However, at M. Gordon's Department Store in Baldwin, Gordon said his business was down approximately seven percent in 1980 as compared to 1979. He said he felt this was due to the overall state of the economy.

John McElroy, manager of Buster McElroy & Co. of Baldwin, said, "Our store had an increase in business—not on any one item, just overall sales."

McElroy said sales were up in 1980 over 1979 "enough to take care of inflation."

Apparently the slump in automobile sales, felt nationwide, also had a major influence on sales tax collections in Booneville during 1980. Local automobile dealers report they did not do as well in 1980 as some of the other businesses.

Terry Cartwright of Cartwright Ford said their automobile business was down 30 percent in 1980 as compared to 1979.

Howard Davidson at Davidson Chevrolet said business was down approximately 5.8 percent in 1980 as compared to 1979. In 1979 Davidson Chevrolet's net sales were $2,981,028 and in 1980 the net sales were $2,808,552.

"Our profit was down 50 percent in 1980 as compared to 1979," Davidson said.

However, giving an indication that better times may be coming, Davidson added that Davidson Chevrolet had the best January (1981) in four or five years for car sales.

Col. Tucker pointed out that the Bay Springs Lock and Dam, to be located near the Prentiss-Tishomingo county line, will provide significant recreational opportunities to Prentiss County. A 110-foot wide, 7,500-acre lake will be located there, he said.

The 2,750-foot dam there will take a total of about 400,000 cubic yards of concrete to complete, he said. About 30,000 cubic yards have already been poured.

Another source of possible recreational opportunities is Lock E, located near Prentiss County, Col. Tucker said. Lock E offers the best opportunity for port development, he said.

"Hopefully the waterway is going to be done ahead of schedule," Tucker said. "However," he added, "government contracts usually don't work that way."

Immediately preceding Tucker's presentation, PCDA president John Smith announced that he would "not be a candidate again immediately for president" of the association. He went on to report "some successes, some failures" of PCDA during the past year, all of which he termed "learning experiences."

One of the programs since the beginning of PCDA has been the awarding of seven scholarships to Prentiss County students to attend Northeast Junior College, he said. One scholarship went to the valedictorian of each high school in the city and the county.

Beginning in 1980, PCDA provided seven full scholarships (of $160 each) to one semester at Northeast.

In the area of promoting the location or expansion of industry in Prentiss County to boost employment, Smith said the PCDA has talked with seven to 10 prospects, but "have not been successful yet." However, he said the association has learned from these discussions.

One major project of PCDA during 1980, Smith reported, was to work with other development associations and chambers of commerce in northeast Mississippi to invite more than 200 state legislators to spend a weekend in the area.

"As a result, legislators can now relate to the problems of this area," he said. "I have been told the atmosphere in Jackson (toward this area) is now totally different."

Smith said PCDA hopes to raise $7,500 in the membership drive this year, $8,500 from the business sector.

He pointed out that during 1980, PCDA received a return of $3.67 for every dollar spent on its various projects throughout the county.

At the conclusion of the meeting, PCDA executive director Doug Mansell announced the results of the evening's vote for members to the board of directors for the association.

Those elected to three-year terms (expiring in January 1984) were John Smith, Harold T. White, Charles Walden, Eugene Gifford and Larry Morgan.

Elected to two-year terms (expiring in January 1983) were James L. Triplett, Dalton Garner, Bill Murphy, Melvin Putt, and Charles "Red" Garner.

Elected to one-year terms (expiring in January 1982) were John Haynes, Don Carpenter, Richard Coggin, David Hill, and Thurston Davis.

In addition, permanent positions are now held by the mayors of all Prentiss County municipalities: Charles Crabb, Booneville; Bobby Smart, Jumpertown; Jimmy Pharr, Marietta; and M.B. Rowan, Baldwin. Two county supervisors—J.P. Davis and W.L. McKinney—also hold permanent positions on the PCDA board of directors.

The new board of directors will elect officers at a meeting this coming Monday night, Mansell said this week.

Holland Granted Change Of Venure

Last week McNairy County Circuit Judge Herman Reviere approved a change of venure that will allow James Holland, an escaped Parchman prisoner to be transferred to Fayette County, Tenn., to stand trial for aggravated rape charges.

Reviere said the change of venure was approved by the state because of the large amount of pre-trial publicity on the case. Also it was taken into consideration that Holland was arrested in Fayette County and most of the witnesses in the case were from there.

The trial, which is docketed for late March, will be held at the Somerville court house in Fayette County.

Holland is accused of raping an 18-year-old Corinth woman in rural McNairy County on Dec. 20 while her 19-year-old boyfriend was handcuffed to a tree.

He is charged with kidnapping the couple in Corinth after releasing an elderly couple he had held hostage for most of the day at their home on Dec. 19.

Holland allegedly forced the Corinth couple to drive him on an excursion that covered six states.

Holland had escaped from Parchman on Dec. 17, where he was a trustee, by taking hostage a security officer's wife and 8-year-old son.

He took a pistol that belonged to Roger Vanlandingham and left Vanlandingham's wife and son handcuffed to the steering wheel of the truck used in the escape. They were found unharmed in Geeville in Prentiss County.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, I gather from some of your articles you do not believe conscience is a safe guide, is this correct?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: That would depend on whether one's conscience is following divine truth. When one is doing what he has been taught to be right, his conscience is clear and is spoken of in the Bible as good (Acts 23:1), Pure (2 Tim. 1:3), and void of offence (Acts 24:16). If one violates what he has been taught, his conscience is said to be defiled (Titus 1:15) or seared (1 Tim 4:2). Conscience should not be violated (Rom. 14:14). However, to think a thing is right does not make it right because the apostle Paul persecuted Christians with a good conscience (Gal. 1:13). What then is the guide? In religion it is the Bible. "Through thy precepts I get understanding..." (Psa. 119:104). Christ has all authority (Matt. 28:18, 19). We must not go beyond his word (2 Jno. 9). Reject his word and you will be rejected (Jno. 12:48). We will also be judged by his word (Rev. 20:12).

Bell Presents Checks

T.H. Bailey, District Manager for South Central Bell, has presented checks totaling $155,934.59 to Prentiss County and the City of Booneville for payment of 1980 ad valorem taxes.

The $126,209.44 check for Prentiss County showed an increase of about $14,000 over last year's payment and the City of Booneville's $29,725.15 check was approximately $12,200 more than 1979.

"The tax payment helps support schools, police and fire protection and other services that Prentiss County provides," Bailey said.

It's expected South Central Bell will pay $21.8 million to Mississippi municipalities and counties for 1980 ad valorem taxes.

These payments are part of an estimated $48.9 million tax bill that will be paid by the telephone company to Mississippi and its counties and municipalities for 1980 and do not include income, social security and excise taxes paid to the Federal government, Bailey said.

CHASE VICTIM—Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy examines the damage caused to a 1974 GMC pickup last Thursday night when it collided with a tree while being pursued by Booneville police officers. The three occupants of the truck received slight injuries in the incident. They were subsequently charged with cattle theft when a slaughtered calf, allegedly stolen from a barn just off Highway 45 South, was discovered in the rear of the pickup.

Three Local Men Charged With Cattle Theft After Chase

Three Prentiss County men, injured in an automobile accident following a chase by Booneville police officers, have been charged with cattle theft by the Prentiss County Sheriff's Department.

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy said Monday that the driver of the vehicle, identified as Harold Hester, 27, of Route 1, Booneville, was also charged by the city with speeding, reckless driving, and driving under the influence.

Other occupants of the vehicle, Eddie Hester, 28, of Route 1, Booneville, and David Wilkerson, 27, of 209 Jacinto Rd., were both charged with public drunkenness by the city, Stacy said.

The incident occurred between 10 and 11 p.m. last Thursday night while Booneville officers Jim Stevenson and David Wesson were patrolling East College Street near the Walker Creme Castle, the police chief said.

The two officers spotted a 1974 GMC pickup as it came off East Lake Street. According to Stevenson, it appeared, due to the behavior of the pickup, as if the driver may have been drinking and, as the pickup came by the officers, they noticed it had no tail lights.

"When we turned on our (blue) lights to stop him, he ran," Stevenson said.

The pickup, with the patrol car in pursuit, turned onto Jacinto Road, the policemen reported, and then turned down McClamrock Drive.

The driver lost control of the pickup in a sharp curve on McClamrock and crashed into a tree, the officers said. All three occupants of the pickup were injured and were taken by ambulance to the Northeast Mississippi Hospital for treatment, Stacy said.

None of the three men were seriously injured, Stacy said; they only received cuts and bruises.

Wilkerson was treated and released that night, he said. Harold Hester was released Tuesday morning, but Eddie Hester remained in the hospital.

After the three had been taken from the vehicle, officers discovered a slaughtered calf in the back of the truck, Stacy said. The calf had been shot with a .22 caliber pistol and its throat had been cut, he said.

It was later determined that the calf belonged to Chris Fulper, Stacy said, and it had allegedly been stolen from Fulper's barn just off Highway 45 South.

After the police department had placed charges of public drunkenness against the two passengers and charges of speeding, reckless driving, and DUI against the driver, the three men were turned over to the county for charges in connection with the theft of the calf. Cattle theft is a felony, Stacy said.

He pointed out that the theft of the calf took place outside the city limits.

He said the Sheriff's Department had placed charges of cattle theft against all three men in connection with the incident and that the case would be turned over for action by the Prentiss County Grand Jury, which is in session this week.

Justice Court System Ruled Unconstitutional

Mississippi's justice court system, as it operates in all civil cases and some criminal cases, has been ruled unconstitutional by a federal appeals court.

The combined effect of the fee system and "forum shopping" in civil cases violates the due process clause of the Constitution, a three-judge panel of the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said.

The system is unconstitutional in districts where two justice court judges have concurrent jurisdiction, the appeals court also said. Currently Hinds County is the only such district in the state.

Although the ruling was issued Friday, it was not made public until Monday.

Atty. Gen. Bill Allain said he will decide within two weeks whether to appeal the decision to either the full Fifth Circuit Court or the U.S. Supreme Court. Allain said in the meantime he would advise justice court judges to "freeze everything."

Mississippi's justice court system is authorized to handle civil cases involving up to $500 and misdemeanors in criminal cases. Plaintiffs pay a fee of $15 in civil cases and $10 in criminal cases which covers the operation of the system and the compensation of the judges, most of whom do not have law degrees.

"In considering the Mississippi fee system the relevant constitutional fact is that a judge's bread and butter depend on the number of cases filed in his court," the appeals court said.

"The temptation exists to take a biased view that will find favor in the minds of arresting officers and litigating creditors" who file the bulk of justice court suits, the opinion said.

The court said it found that more suits are filed in areas where the plaintiffs think they will get a favorable ruling—the practice of "forum shopping."

The court cited one example where, during a six-month period, one judge in District II in Hinds County had 421 traffic tickets referred to him while the other judge in the district had only two. There were similarly lopsided divisions in other districts.

"Because of the relation between the judge's volume of cases and the amount of his judicial income, the fee system creates a possible temptation for judges to be biased against defendants," the opinion said.

The appeals court decision overturns a 1978 lower court ruling by Judge Walter Nixon of the Southern District Court in Jackson. That ruling stemmed from three separate lawsuits filed in 1972 by attorneys for Community Legal Services attacking the state's justice court system.

Membership Drive Successful

Dear Editor,

To The People
Of Prentiss County:

The officers of American Legion Post 123, Booneville, take this means of expressing their appreciation for the way veterans responded to their plea for membership renewal and new sign-ups over the past two weeks.

We asked for 40 members by Jan. 23, and you gave us 46. We are most grateful for this number.

Now, we need to sign up 54 members by March 15, the Legion's birthday. This will end this particular drive for membership and will complete the 100 that we are seeking.

Your response to this last segment of the drive, we hope, will be as favorable as the first and we look forward to welcoming you into our organization.

Many veterans and dependents of veterans are losing their pensions right now and others are being barred from benefits because of very restrictive qualifying regulations and income regulations.

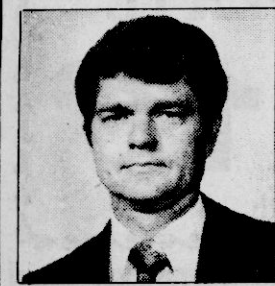

It will take a very strong

Legion membership to ease or eliminate these restrictions and it behooves each and every veteran to do his part by paying his dues and being counted in this ever running battle to preserve the rights and benefits for the sick, the disabled, the widows and orphans.

Remember, without your help all can be lost.

Please pay your renewal and-or join the American Legion. We need each other.

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III
Prentiss and Alcorn Counties

This past week I was one of the members of an Educational Sub Committee that passed out a bill providing for the abolishment of the present Mississippi Textbook Purchasing Board and the creation of a new board to take its place. The bill has provisions to eliminate apparent improper practices of members of the Mississippi Textbook Purchasing Board during many past years.

The Board is the final authority in the selection process for books to be used in Mississippi's public schools. Millions of dollars are spent each year for the purchase of textbooks. Quite naturally, the competition is keen among publishers who wish to have their books put on the official State Adoption List, for it is from this list that our schools must select their books.

Recent audits have shown that publishers have been able to exert undue influence on some board members and that some board members have apparently made improper demands on publishers who expect their books to be adopted.

The most widely abused practice centered around the publishers furnishing board members with many copies of "sample" textbooks. The audits show that the books were not returned but were in fact sold by the board members and the proceeds kept for their private use. The audits reveal thousands of dollars of such sales in the past few months alone.

Naturally, this extra expense is passed on by the publisher, and the local school district and ultimately the individual taxpayer must bear the burden.

The Attorney General has moved swiftly to demand repayment of such funds secured by present board members and also some past members. Certainly, it is my desire that the 1981 legislature adopt laws that will prohibit such questionable activity in the future.

Representative McInvale of Panola County and I have introduced House Bill 41 which provides for the Informal Administration of Estates. In short this bill provides for the probating of Estates with minimum of court action and a very limited use of attorneys in many cases.

In cases where the deceased has left a very clean will and in cases where the heirs have no conflict there should be a more informal and less costly way to settle the estate than now exists.

I cannot accept the fact that every facet of our life from birth to death must be complicated and costly.

House Bill 41 is another of my efforts to make our lives a bit simpler and our dollars go a bit further.

Dantin Warming Up For Two Races

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—We caught Maurice Dantin the other day at his home in Columbia making preparations to run in the Mardi Gras marathon in New Orleans. Significantly, the marathon is not the only race the one-time district attorney is contemplating.

Now at 51, Dantin, the hard-luck guy of state politics the past few years, is warming up to the idea of again seeking the governor's office in 1983. At the moment, Dantin has a good law practice going, and he seems to feel no compulsion to decide now to run for governor. In the jargon of politics, he is keeping his options open.

But Dantin is known to have made some soundings with his biggest financial backers from the 1975 gubernatorial race to determine if he would still have a source of campaign funding should he try for governor two years from now.

Evidently, the signs have been favorable enough to encourage him to put some of his followers on notice that they may be cranking up before long for the 1983 governor's race.

There's a Senatorial race in the meantime and Dantin expects to get a good reading from that as to how the land lies in the gubernatorial arena. One thing he is certain of, Dantin says, he is not interested in running for the Senate even if Sen. John Stennis does step down as expected.

But several other leading Democratic figures who could be among the chief challengers for governor in 1983 very likely will be attracted into the 1982 Senatorial race as Stennis' successor despite the prospect of facing a tough Republican foe.

The Senate race could weed out several major foes Dantin would otherwise have to contend with in the gubernatorial scramble, among them Lt. Gov. Brad Dye, Secretary of State Ed Pittman and Jim Herring, the ex-District attorney from Canton who still has good statewide appeal.

Dantin's reasons for passing up a Senate bid don't have anything to do directly with the fact he was burned by the trouncing at the hands of Sen. Thad Cochran in the 1978 General Election. He still has a small campaign deficit left from that race, plus some residue from the $35,000 he owed after the 1975 governor's race, both of which Dantin says he wants to clear up before another run.

His main reason, however, for not getting involved in a campaign in 1982 is his need to devote more time to his law practice this year and next because of the death of a key member of his firm several months ago.

Dantin has many prerequisites for becoming a successful statewide political figure, a bright mind, a strong, pleasant face, a good speaking voice, and a high degree of personal integrity. But he, much like Gov. William Winter, has no flair for generating enthusiasm as a politician.

In the 1975 governor's race, political observers expected Dantin to emerge as a run-off candidate from the Democratic first primary and conceded him a good chance of winning the nomination. But he surprisingly finished third behind then Lt. Gov. William Winter and the eventual winner, Cliff Finch, after altering his campaign strategy in the last two weeks of the campaign.

The decision to begin attacking Winter in those final two weeks, is one which Dantin insists was urged on him against his better judgment by his professional campaign consultant, Deloss Walker. It will never be debated in Mississippi politics as a crucial move that changed state political history and sent Finch to the governor's mansion.

Dantin no longer agonizes over the strategic switch that changed him from Mr. Nice Guy to a slasher in the dying days of the 1975 campaign, and he takes full responsibility for the decision. The result, however, has been that Walker, the Memphis political wizard, has never been hired by any candidate in Mississippi since.

In his bid for the United States Senate in 1978, Dantin proved he still had a substantial following, by grabbing off the Democratic nomination over such political heavyweights as Finch, Bill Waller and Charlie Sullivan.

But Dantin virtually had no chance of beating Cochran, who had congressional experience, in the general election because the traditional black Democratic vote was stripped away from him by the independent candidacy of Charles Evers. Worse still, when some black Democratic loyalists who had supported Finch came into Dantin's campaign, he began to lose some of the conservative whites who previously supported him.

Although Dantin is closer to the style and intellectual level of Winter than any other prospective gubernatorial candidate on the scene, there is still a distinct coolness between the two as a result of the 1975 campaign, and little likelihood Winter would give Dantin his tacit endorsement to succeed him.

Besides, there is no assurance Mississippians, after four bland years of Winter, may not go back to the colorful demagogues of the past, in which event the times could still be wrong for Dantin.

Tax Classification System Needed

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Home Taxes To Rise

All Mississippi homeowners have a stake in what transpires in the days ahead in the Mississippi legislature with respect to a proposed constitutional amendment to classify all real estate for ad valorem tax purpose.

Some stakes admittedly are larger than others, but recent court rulings have decreed changes in Mississippi's tax methodology, and mandatory legal forces already are at work. And if home and homestead owners assert themselves within the next week or so, and this

November, in a referendum, citizens still may be able to avoid a programmed switch of a heavy tax burden from the earnings of corporations and utilities to the earnings, or savings, of home and land owners.

Farmers, in counties which recently have reappraised real estate, found a small measure of relief a year ago when the legislature passed a law which provided for tax assessment according to land use instead of market value which is at speculative levels in many areas.

A year later there seems to be a growing consensus both within and without the legislature that in addition to past laws and their interpretations by the judicial system, hard times will beset all home, homestead and land owners to a sharp degree—whether in town, the suburbs, or country, unless a method of classification is added to the Mississippi constitution.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 527 is the proposal to bring all of this about, and seems assured of being moved from the Senate Constitution Committee with appropriate public hearings commencing on or about Feb. 2.

For the first time a sizeable coalition is forming over the state favoring land classification for tax purposes. Farmers were the first group calling for a system of reapplication of real estate taxation that would place tax assessment in relation to productive capacity of the property as the only way to establish a system sound enough to stand the test of time.

Actually Mississippi has enjoyed a "de facto" classification for generations, or an informal method now legally challenged which has matched up tax sources with local monetary needs.

County boards of supervisors have played a major role in fine tuning tax assessments to do this job with little backlash. But now under a recent court ruling, the responsibility falls on the legislature to act on any new system that may be followed.

The Mississippi Association of Supervisors also is on record favoring tax assessments according to classification. And many legislators who a year ago voted against the concept now are openly favoring classification due to the admonishments of hindsight and the folks back home.

Counties which jumped quickest to reappraise have felt the most pain, and helped the legislature move last year to endorse a land-use concept rather than market values at whatever level. But many counties still have not reappraised, and instead determine diverse assessment values to lands, skipping an important step needed to make them stick.

Through this all Mississippi homeowners as a group have had no organization to guide them, nor a catalyst to spur them on to support or deny the need for a constitutional amendment until now. Still void of an organization, they do however have simple arithmetic today as a catalyst.

As an example, assuming millage is constant, a $50,000 home under a typical 30 percent of value assessment would be assessed at $15,000. Homestead exemption for those qualified to file for same would knock off $5,000 leaving full millage to be charged against $10,000. Millage in Mississippi usually runs from a low of 40 to a high of 90. At an average millage of 60, that would mean the home owner would pay $700 annually in county taxes on the home. City taxes would be extra.

But, if the home were classified according to the intent of many, the assessment rate would be reduced to 10 percent for a value assessment of $5,000. After homestead exemption's waiver of $5,000 that would leave only non-exempt millage to be paid by a homeowner under age 65. Homestead reimbursements by the state to the county would be approximately $200. Assuming 40 mills were exempt, the homeowner in this case would pay $100, or save a difference of $600 with classification.

Hearing testimony prepared for the Senate Committee early this week indicated that unless a Constitutional Amendment is enabled by the legislature and approved by the voters of Mississippi on the first Tuesday of November, home and land owners may expect to see their ad valorem taxes soar from 133 to 600 percent, while those for public utilities are reduced.

Senate Report

By Bill May

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

The hottest thing on the Senate hit parade this week was the so-called truck weight bill (Senate Bill No. 2287). Basically, the bill would do the following:

(1) Increase the maximum weight limit on the interstate and primary systems from 73,280 pounds to 80,000 pounds with authority to governing bodies such as counties, cities and the State Highway Department to post those roads and highways which, in their judgement, cannot safely carry the increased weight.

(2) Increase the privilege tax for tags so as to bring $6 million of additional revenue to the state to be used for maintenance purposes.

(3) Provide the money, personnel and equipment to have what is called absolute law enforcement for weight laws.

(4) The increase in privilege tax will start on weights over 16,000 pounds and most of which will be on the higher weights of 50,000 pounds or more.

(6) The bill also increases the amount of fines imposed on those who are caught hauling excessive weights.

About $3 million of the additional revenue collected is said to be imposed on trucks crossing the state from other states.

There was a significant amount of testimony regarding the detrimental effect that the present weight system has on industry. This adverse effect supposedly is, and has been, discouraging the expansion of Mississippi industry and/or the relocation of industry in the state.

The strongest testimony in this regard came from the Port of Gulfport. One may deduce from this adverse effect on the Port of Gulfport that if the state remains at the present level, it could well have a detrimental effect on ports locating on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway.

The chairman of the Highways and Transportation Committee, Senator John Lee, has graciously given me the opportunity to chair a subcommittee in reference to the creation of a (North Mississippi Highway Improvement Fund) which would be funded by the TVA in lieu tax payment. You have probably read articles concerning this particular legislation.

When a bill is introduced it is authored by a particular member of the Senate, this bill may also be co-sponsored by other Senators as well. It has been my observation that the co-sponsors normally are afforded the opportunity to be placed on a subcommittee which studies and hears a bill. Since this bill has such a tremendous impact upon my particular district, I felt it imperative to do everything in my power to be placed on this subcommittee.

After deliberating with the lieutenant governor and the chairman, I was not only placed on the subcommittee, but was made chairman. It is my feeling that Tishomingo County has been unjustly treated in regard to the present system of TVA in lieu tax payment.

I support the principle of needing a Northeast Mississippi road program. However, I feel that in the interest of justice and fair play that all concerned be treated fairly.

It is my position that Tishomingo County be enabled to retain the TVA in lieu payment. It is not fair for the residents of the County of Tishomingo to be financing construction projects which the State of Mississippi should be financing.

If a system can be established where the counties within the Northeast Mississippi area could make an equal payment to this fund, then I feel that it would be fair. However, I think everyone will readily agree with me that it is unfair for Tishomingo County to be subjected to paying approximately 98 percent of the monies spent by this particular highway program.

Miss Cox And Mr. Meek Are Wed

The Christmas wedding of Miss Pam Cox and Dennis Meek Jr. was solemnized Dec. 19 at the Jumpertown United Methodist Church with the Rev. Perk Perry officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cox. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Meek Sr. Mrs. Mae Dean Lambert directed the candlelit, double-ring wedding.

Guests were registered in the vestibule by Miss Lori Curtis of Iuka and Miss Anita Arnold of Memphis.

Decorations for the ceremony included a spiral white candelabra intertwined with greenery and white bows. Green palm trees flanked with white poinsettias formed the background. A Christmas tree completed the setting. Pianist Tammie Wimberley and vocalists Mark Garrett and Paula Phifer presented the nuptial music.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Joann Cox, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Cox, cousin of the bride; Paula Morris, sister of the groom; and Lisa Cox.

The bride's attendants wore similar floor-length dresses of burgundy quiana. Each carried a nosegay of white mums with love knot streamers.

Little Miss Brandi Cox, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She preceded the bride to the altar, dropping rose petals from a white wicker basket.

Tracy Cox, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace featuring a victorian neckline with an organza yoke that draped in an off shoulder flounce of lace. The long, straight sleeves of chantilly lace ended with fitted cuffs fastened with tiny covered buttons.

The veil featured a lace caplet matching her dress and flowed to cathedral-length. The bridal bouquet was of red rose buds and baby's breath.

The groom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Bobby Cox, brother of the bride; Andy Morris, brother-in-law of the groom, and Tommy Green.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cox wore a formal gown of soft slamon pink, featuring a high neckline with a gathered bodice.

The groom's mother wore a formal aqua organza gown featuring a V-neckline with appliques and pearls accenting the shoulders. Both mothers wore rose bud corsages.

Mrs. Era Cox, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore a soft gray-and-burgundy dress and a white carnation corsage.

Reception

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the church's social hall.

The bride's table was overlaid in white linen and held an arrangement of cranberry silk flowers and a lighted candlebra. The three-tiered wedding cake was accented with wedding bells and topped with white doves.

Mrs. Jimmy Tollison and Mrs. Travis Cox, aunts of the bride, served the cake. Miss Robin Childers and Mrs. Ben Arnold served the cranberry punch.

The groom's table was draped with beige linen and held a fruit cake topped with frosted grapes. Mrs. Sue Gambil and Mrs. Gail Blythe served.

Tea girls were Rose Ann Green and Jackie Blassingame. Little Misses Courtney and Cassy Fulghum distributed rice bags.

After a short honeymoon, the couple is residing at the Bridgeside Apartments and attending Northeast Junior College.

Rehearsal Dinner

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Northeast Junior College Cafeteria on the eve of the wedding. A three-course meal was served to the wedding party and guests.

Bridesmaids Luncheon

Mrs. Laura Cartwright, aunt of the bride, hosted the bridesmaids' luncheon at the Chris-Cliff Farm with Mrs. Carolyn Jackson and Mrs. Neola Cleveland serving as co-hostesses.

Special guests, along with

Mr. And Mrs. Dennis Meek Jr.

the bride's attendants, included the couples mothers, and Miss Candy Cleveland.

Showers

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower at Jericho Baptist Church with the ladies of the Adult Sunday School Class serving as hostesses.

Another miscellaneous shower was given in the home of Mrs. Sue Gambil.

Susan Brinkley hosted a lingerie shower in the home of Mrs. Katie Henson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Reece and Chris and Mrs. Arlis Reece attending the Golden (50th) wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reece of Memphis on Jan. 25.

Mrs. Leola Winsett is a patient in the North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo. We send her get well wishes.

Mrs. Ruth Koon Wilson enjoyed a birthday celebration Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Koon of Tupelo and Mrs. Jeanie Ballard of Blackland were among the guests joining in on the joyous occasion. We wish Ruth many more happy birthdays.

Charles Cole of West Franks Road spent a few days last week in our local hospital. He is now home and improving.

Lloyd McClain of Jasper, Ala., passed away Friday. Services and burial were conducted there. Lloyd was a former Prentiss Countian and a brother of Mrs. Jack (Ruth) Frost. We extend our deepest sympathy to this family.

Attention all WMU and Brotherhood members! Dr. Foy Rogers, director of the cooperative Missions Department in Jackson, Miss., will teach the book "Mission Possible" at Crestwood Baptist Church on Feb. 12 at 7 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Brotherhood and WMU of Prentiss County. Please put this date on your calendar.

Mrs. E.C. Wroten is a patient in Tupelo, North Mississippi Medical Center. Mrs. Wroten had the misfortune of breaking a hip recently. Let's pray for her recovery.

Thought for the week:

"At Eventide"

I want to know, when day is done,
That life has been worth living.

That I have brought somebody joy
Through kind, unselfish giving.

I want to feel, when evening falls
And shadows quickly lengthen,
That I have made somebody glad,
Some weakness I have strengthened.

I want to know, that come what may,
I've left some cheer and gladness;
I want to know, that on my way,
I've banished someone's sadness.

I want to feel, at the close of day,

That someone's cares were lighter;
Because of kindness I have done,
May someone's life be brighter--Copied

Blackland News

By MRS. L.L. McALPIN Correspondent

Mrs. Ruby Mims of Virginia will arrive this week via plane to spend three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Saylor and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Prather of Booneville.

Mrs. Russell Hill, Mrs. Bessie Arnold, and Mrs. Vance Garner were in Tupelo Saturday for the day with Mrs. Emmet McCarley.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. James George and Sherry were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson English, Amy and Robbie of Biggersville.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Saylor have been notified their granddaughter, DeAnna Saylor, has been selected to Who's Who of American High School. DeAnna was a popular student of Wheeler High School last year and now attends school in Manchester Mo. She is the daughter of Mrs. Tommie Sue Ward and the late Dean Saylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tucker of Corinth were visiting Sunday with Mrs. Ethel Tucker.

Miss Jodie Owens of Geeville spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Stan Morris and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Eaton of Memphis were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Flake Eaton Sunday and Monday. Family members gathered Sunday to enjoy a birthday luncheon honoring Mrs. Flake Eaton and John K. Eaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill had an enjoyable weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kinard and Beth of Memphis last weekend.

Nelson Koon and Laura of Booneville were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Mae Smith.

Mrs. Geraldine Muse of Atlanta, Ga., was a welcome guest of the Oak Hill Baptist Church Sunday.

Karen Hare of Hills Chapel spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelly and family.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Garrison and granddaughter Crystal Willard of New Albany had a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Saylor and Deryl Saylor. Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and Jim spent Friday and Saturday nights in Memphis with relatives.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the families of Mrs. Ira Floyd, Mrs. Lindsey Rutherford, and Milton English who died the past week.

Robert Rutherford of Huntsville, Ala. visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Dewey Rutherford Sunday. Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Gerald Green of the Tupelo hospital, Mrs. Louise Stone of the Baldwin hospital, and Mrs. Jewel Robinson and Amon Trantham of the local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill attended Alan Wilson's birthday dinner Monday evening in Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clement visited Sunday with Mrs. Jessie Clement of Saltillo. Mrs. Melvin Geno, Charles and Greg Geno were among those who attended Milton English's funeral at Jumpertown Saturday.

Mrs. Johnny Clara Breland of New Site visited several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cartwright.

Mrs. Bernie Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Red Shelton, Jerry Owen and Becky Palmer all of Geeville were among those attending Chris Morris' birthday dinner Monday evening. Chris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Morris.

Mrs. Bud Freeman of Greenville, Texas, is here due to the illness of her father, Amon Trantham.

Friends were grieved over the death of Miss Ruth Lakey of Ripley. Her conscientious service as a nurse will be remembered. Miss Lakey made frequent visits in the home of Mrs. R.H. Kelly and Miss Ann Kelly. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jackson have moved to Meridian.

Guests Saturday of Mrs. R.H. Kelly and Miss Ann Kelly were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kelly and family of Wheeler Grove. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kelly and Mathew of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hare and Karen of Hills Chapel.

Extension Club Meets

Mrs. E.L. Hatfield was hostess to the Thrasher Home Extension Club on Jan. 20. Only a small number were able to attend due to sickness and inclement weather.

The interest of the afternoon was focused on the presidential inaugural affairs and the release of the embassy personnel from 14 months of captivity in Iran.

The devotion was read from Romans 5:1-8 by Mrs. Parker ("Death came by Adam, Life by Jesus Christ").

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was repeated by the members present.

Yearbooks were ready to be filled in for the months ahead. Stiches, crafts and pattern books were passed around for discussion in the absence of the program leader, who was recuperating from the flu.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served in the kitchen.

Mrs. J.W. Maness is scheduled as the February hostess in corporation with a 4-H program.

For Hospital Volunteers

Membership Drive Underway

Now that the hostages are home, the Oakland Raiders are the No. 1 football team, Reagan is in the White House, and we know Bum Phillips will be coaching in New Orleans next year and who shot J.R., Prentiss Countians can get out in their own community and be a part of helping their own friends.

One way of helping, is to join the Volunteer Service of the Northeast Mississippi Hospital.

The Volunteer Service is having a membership drive during the month of February. A spokesman for the organization said everyone is invited to join. A membership tea will be given Wednesday, Feb. 11, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the building across the street from the hospital emergency entrance. It is open to all interested persons.

The Volunteer program is looking for both men and women participants.

"We especially need couples to work evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., but will welcome your work any time during the day," the organization spokesman said.

Congenial was Pam Para of Corinth. Elesa Phillips of Iuka was chosen winner of the Evening Wear Award. Lane Williams of Columbus was selected winner of the Western Wear Award. Miss Quinn was chosen Most Photogenic.

At the present time there are some 45 members working six days a week from 9 a.m. until 3:15 p.m.

"Our primary aim is to increase our hours of coverage to at least 7:30 p.m. and eventually to 9 p.m.," the spokesman said. "To accomplish these goals, we will need to double our present membership. So, you see, we need you to join us."

The success of these expanded programs for the hospital depend on the volunteers who will join and become a vital part of the organization.

Anyone interested in becoming a Volunteer should attend the membership tea Wednesday, or visit the Hospital Volunteer Service's desk in the lobby of the hospital for further information.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—The children of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Wilson will honor their parents on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Feb. 8, at the Tishomingo Church of Christ annex, from 2 to 4 p.m. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Home Economist

Fun, fellowship and finding an awful lot of good information and practices for a good life style-- this is what Extension Homemakers' Clubs are all about. This is their goal.

Do not underestimate the impact or the importance of homemakers, whether club members or individuals. You are a homemaker, too, you know.

Homemakers are singles, bachelors and career girls with their own apartments and homes. Homemakers are couples with no children. But, often homemakers are thought of only as women of families. No so; homemakers are people who are working toward making their own private niche a satisfying way of living. They are establishing their life style.

In Prentiss County, there are six Extension Homemaker Clubs, fairly well reaching the four corners: Baldwin Zion, with treasurer.

The six groups of homemakers in Prentiss County find meeting together a good way to expand themselves.

Together, they have delved into microwave cooking; looked into Landscaping on a Budget; made silk flowers, learned about New Fashions and New Fabrics, picked up new ideas for growing and cooking with herbs, made harvest wreaths and door brooms of nature's materials and learned to make and shape Marzipan confection in their study of Germany.

They had fun making that gross of miniature cottonball stickpins for the annual National Extension Homeamkers Council in Biloxi last September. They topped their creative side in making silk flowers. Marzipan fruit confections, they found, were "something else," and they were delighted with the resulting Della Robba cake decorated with this miniature fruit.

Extension Club homemakers were right in there with a helping hand when the Prentiss County Mini-Fair was held. With 785 exhibits for adults to be catalogued and displayed, they were on hand for all of this event. They were responsible for much of the fair's success by entering their own crafts and wares.

When the first time event of Holiday Fair was held in Baldwin this year, Extension Homeamkers were right on hand to explain the how-to's of wreath making, package wrapping and all the other fun things.

Every fourth Tuesday, the members in charge of the following month's program convene at the Extension Conference Room to gather program ideas, see a demonstration, hear a discussion, or view a slide set or other visual demonstrations. They receive a kit of materials and a program leader's guide for that month.

To organize your own group with your own circle of friends and neighbors, contact your local Extension office at 728-5631.

Miss Criswell

Honored At

Bridal Shower

Miss Jo Criswell, bride-elect of Jerry Young, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower on Jan. 23 at the home of Mrs. Edna Young.

Serving as co-hostesses were Sis Koon, Betty Jane Young, Betty Young, and Edna Young.

Attending with Miss Criswell were her mother, her two sisters, and her two young nieces. The groom's family was represented by his mother, his sisters, and his grandmother.

After the opening of the gifts, the approximately 40 guests present were served punch, cake, potato chips, and nuts.

MEC Urges

Appointed

Commission

The Mississippi Economic Council has urged the State legislature to carefully consider proposed legislation which would replace the current elected state highway commission with an appointed commission.

"Mississippi, the only state which elects its highway system's governing body, is heavily dependent on an adequate highway system for transportation," said MEC chairman Lewis F. Mallory Jr., a Starkville bank executive. "But, the system is in dire need of reorganization."

Mallory said that a measure introduced in the state Senate would eliminate much of the conflict and inefficiency within the present system. The measure calls for appointment of four additional highway commissioners by the governor, lieutenant governor, and speaker of the house to serve with the current three-member elected commission.

The measure provides that, beginning in 1984, all seven commissioners would be appointed on a staggered basis by the governor.

"One of the more important sections of the proposal reestablishes the highway commissioner as a policy-making body divested of administrative functions, which would be the responsibility of the highway department director," said Mallory.

"One of the main drawbacks to the present system is that highway commissioners have occasionally become directly involved in personnel matters and in contract supervision, which were never intended as functions of the commission," he said. "The commission's involvement in the day-to-day affairs of the department at times has resulted in a lack of coordinated highway planning throughout the state, construction in locations where greatest needs might not exist, and unrealized expectations of progress among the professional staff of the highway department."

Mallory said MEC has long advocated an appointed highway commission with staggered terms whose authority should be limited to policy making and approving bids and contracts.

MISSISSIPPI

CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Allain, Attorney General

False Billing Is Illegal!

Don't become a victim, says Attorney General Bill Allain.

Mississippi businesses are cheated out of thousands of dollars annually by swindlers who use the mails to send false bills for goods and services not received.

While there are many variations of this scheme, Allain points out that the majority of them fall into three categories:

-Solicitation of contributions for nonexistent minority causes or organizations.

-Solicitation of payments on previously mailed bills for nonexistent or useless business directories.

-Enforcement of payments for previously mailed invoices for office supplies or services that were never ordered by the company and never supplied.

What all these schemes have in common is that companies will receive a professionally printed invoice which appears to be a legitimate bill for goods and services normally purchased by the firm.

In setting up an operation, the promoter will recent space in a building, install a bank of telephones and contract with a mail receiving service to receive the actual payments from the false bills. The mail receiving agent is used to hide the actual location of the operation and is sometimes located several hundred miles away.

At least weekly, the payments are picked up by a runner for the operation, or the mail receiving agent is instructed to send the payments to another mail drop address; a stragem which serves to further disguise the location of the phony operation.

Initially, these con-artists telephone the unsuspecting businesses to sell advertising space, or goods and services. The telephone solicitor operates from a script and, depending on the victim, uses soft or hard sell techniques, phony ethnic accents, and plays on sympathies, social concerns and threats to credit ratings of legitimate organizations.

The successfulness of these schemes results from a firm's desire to support worthwhile causes, and second, many firms failed to verify the existence of a bona fide obligation, especially if the amount was considered small. But the submission of a small amount from enough companies and organizations adds up to big money for these fraudulent operators.

Despite an increased awareness within the business community of the tactics employed by false billing promoters, a portion of these invoices continues to frustrate and defeat the accounting safeguards of victimized firms.

These schemes can be prevented if businesses are alert and follow a few simple rules:

-Don't pay until all invoices are verified against goods and services received.

-Don't pay for a listing in an unheard of directory.

-Don't pay if a caller solicits placement of an advertisement in an unknown publication and

Language Of Encouragement Is Important For Youth
Parents and volunteers want to encourage young people, but often get "put down" in their efforts. Our intentions are good, but the words said are often taken wrong.

When comments about a young person's efforts are in order, we must be careful not to place value judgements on what he has done. Too often, we make positive comments in a praising manner. Such comments express our values and opinions, rather than help youth believe in themselves.

Youth specialists urge us to eliminate value-loaded words from our vocabulary at these moments (for example, good, great, excellent, etc.) Substitute words of praise with phrases which express the special meaning of encouragement:

Phrases That Demonstrate Acceptance:
"I like the way you handled that."
"I like the way you tackle a problem."
"I'm glad you enjoy learning."
"I'm glad you're pleased with it."
"Since you're not satisfied, what do you think you can do so that you will be pleased with it?"
"It looks as if you enjoy that."
"How do you feel about it?"

Phrases That Show Confidence:
"Knowing you, I'm sure you'll do fine."
"You'll make it."
"I have a confidence in your judgement."
"That's a rough one, but I'm sure you'll work it out."
"You'll figure it out."

Feb. 9-13 Is Tree Planting Week

Mississippians will again have an opportunity to express their appreciation for trees and what they mean to the state's economy and environment during the week of Feb. 9-13.

That's the special week set aside for Mississippi's seventh annual Tree Planting Week, sponsored each year by local Conservation District Commissioners with help from garden clubs and other county agencies, organizations, and businesses interested in forest conservation.

State Forester Dick Allen, chairman of the Mississippi Tree Planting and Forest Development Committee, which annually kicks off preparations for the special week at the state level, says he is enthusiastic about the upcoming 1981 tree planting events. He sees them as "tremendously appropriate opportunities to not only beautify our local communities, but to remind us all about how much we benefit from our forest resources."

Allen points out that "forestry is the real backbone of our state's economy and excellent outdoor environment," and says, "we haven't even begun to realize its real potential for the betterment of Mississippi and its people."

He notes also that forestry is the number one agricultural crop in 35 counties and statewide is second only to soybeans in the production of agricultural income.

Since 1975, when the first statewide Tree Planting Week was held, a total of over 25 million trees have been planted during the week-long "Celebration of Trees" events.

Locally tree planting week committees have made plans to provide all county and city students (grades 1-6) a package of two loblolly pine seedlings to plant around their home. Simple tree planting demonstrations will be shown at each county and city school.

Packaging materials and seedlings are sponsored by the Prentiss County Soil and Water Conservation District, Tennessee River Pulp and Paper, and Westvaco.

There will also be a limited amount of loblolly pine seedlings given to homeowners to plant for beautification purposes. These will be given away during the week of Feb. 9-13 at the Mississippi Forestry Commission office, located in the back of the First Mississippi Bank of Commerce Building on Highway 45. The hours will be from 8:00-5:00 with an hour for lunch- 12:00-1:00.

Vocational Ed Week Proclaimed

Gov. William Winter has proclaimed Feb. 8-14 Vocational Education Week in Mississippi.

"Vocational Education: Know How for the Eighties" is the theme for the 13th annual Vocational Educational Week which is being sponsored by the Vocational and Technical Division of the State Department of Education.

Vocational education provides the "know how" and trains people to either get a job or prepare for a better one. Last year over 168,000 Mississippians were enrolled in some type of vocational education course.

These courses provide young people and adults with knowledge and skills; upgrade the skills of an employee whose job has become more complex; and retrain workers who have lost their jobs due to technological changes or physical impairment.

With each passing year, vocational education in Mississippi reaches more students with more programs from more centers. Vocational education strives to provide up-to-date training for every interested individual in the skill of his or her choice.

According to Elwyn Wheat, state vocational director, "Vocational education must continue to meet the ever-changing employment opportunities and challenges of the 1980's in order to help maintain a healthy Mississippi economy."

Some suggestions for anyone who wants to earn over 13% on a CD.

The interest rate on 26-week $10,000 money market certificates is at the almost unprecedented level of 13.985 percent. If you'd like to lock up that rate, but can't because you've already tied up a CD or you don't quite have the funds right now, Fidelity Federal would like to offer some suggestions:

Suggestion 1: If you have an existing money market certificate which matures within the next ninety days, Fidelity Federal will finance your purchase of a new 26-week certificate, using it as collateral on the loan. The loan will be made at one percent over the new certificate's rate, and will be paid off, with no prepayment penalties, when your current CD matures. This means you can act now, and avoid early withdrawal penalties involved in cashing your existing CD.

SUGGESTION 2: If you're a little shy of $10,000 right now, Fidelity Federal will loan you the rest. If you have at least $3,000, you can borrow the remaining principal at one percent over the CD rate, for the term of the CD. This will enable you to invest your funds at a high rate and not be penalized for not meeting the minimum requirements.

Today's inflationary climate has created some extraordinary investment opportunities, and the current CD rate is one. Call or stop by any of Fidelity Federal's three branch offices to find out how you can take advantage of it.

guidelines for him to follow.

This past year, Wheeler issued two such permits to E.B. Timbes, the mayor said. Timbes, who reside at 310 Ninth St., subsequently moved one trailer onto his property adjacent to Summer Lane.

However, before the second trailer was moved onto the property, a group of citizens from the community filed a protest, he said. The city board then gave the mayor the authority to refund approximately $300 in city fees to Timbes and retrieve the permit for the second trailer which had not been moved onto the property.

"The board of aldermen backed Mr. Wheeler in this," the mayor said. "It is my understanding the planning commission met, studied and concurred with what the board of aldermen did."

However, the board of aldermen felt they were having so much trouble with trailer permits in the city that they voted on May 27, 1980, to do away with the 13 guidelines and go back to the original ordinance used before Wheeler was given the authority to issue trailer permits, Crabb said. That ordinance said that there will be no mobile homes come into the city except in RD zones, i.e., zones specifically for that purpose.

"We feel we have acted in good faith," the Mayor said.

At this time Murphy pointed out again that, according to the 13 guidelines under which Wheeler issued the permit to Timbes, after six months the permit could be reviewed.

"Would not now be the time to review that, if in fact a mistake has been made by the city?" Murphy asked.

City attorney Eugene Gifford then pointed out that section 503 of the city zoning ordinance adopted in March 1967 "provides that the duties of the board of aldermen will not include hearing or interpretation" of the issuance of permits.

Gifford told the citizens that if they are not satisfied with the action of the planning commission, "the next step is taking it to court."

Murphy then asked if the board of aldermen were not the highest authority in the city of Booneville.

"The board of aldermen cannot hear questions of interpretation (of the zoning ordinance)," Gifford said. "The planning commission has the final say."

He said that a protest could be filed with the planning commission within 60 days of the issuance of a permit by Wheeler. The planning commission could then either overrule Wheeler or let his decision stand, Gifford said.

Three members of the planning commission--James Hannon, Quay Michael and Doc Loveless--also attended the Tuesday night meeting.

In connection with the stipulation by the 13 guidelines that a review of the permit could be held after a six-month period, Hannon said that when the board of aldermen voted to strike the 13 guidelines, the review provisions were also struck and there is now no review process for that permit.

It was pointed out at the meeting that, the way the law now stands, no further mobile homes can be moved into the area in question, without a rezoning process.

Another citizen at the meeting, George Houston, asked, if the trailer is going to remain, can the city make Summer Lane a through street? It presently is a dead end.

At that point, Timbes spoke up, saying, "That trailer is going to stay there. I own land on both sides of Summer Lane."

Apparently Timbes' trailer would have to be moved for the street to be extended onto Ninth Street.

Street commissioner Waide Lambert said that there are several streets in Booneville that need to be "opened up," but he said that the city does not have the money to do so. He said Timbes himself paid for the opening up of Penny Lane, a street on the other side of his property.

"We have not been interested in opening up any street," Lambert said. "We do not have the money."

Murphy and Houston then pointed out that there are no "dead end" signs or even "children playing" signs on that street.

"Automobiles that go in there have to turn around and come back out," it was pointed out, and people not familiar with the area do not know it is not a through street.

Mayor Crabb said that there should be no problem in getting the proper street signs erected in the area, and board members agreed with him.

DEBRA CHILCOAT
Miss Chilcoat Named To Deans List

Debra Chilcoat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Chilcoat of Booneville, has been notified that she made the Dean's List for the fall semester of 1980 at The University of Alabama.

Acting president Howard B. Gundy said this distinction reflects Miss Chilcoat's "commitment to excellence" in her academic work.

three loans from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) for three wells, only two of the wells are in use. The first well was closed by the Health Department for not meeting health standards.

All three loans were 40-year loans, Keenum said.

The FmHA made the first loan in 1966; the second loan, for the second well, was made in 1975 and the last loan, for the third well, was made in May 1980. Minimum rates increased $1 in 1975 and minimum rates have now increased $1.17, Keenum said.

Keenum, who is a customer on the Jumptown water line, said although only two wells were in use now, all three wells had to be paid for and that the payments on the FmHA loans would have been the same whether the city took over the water association or not.

"Before the rates were raised we broke even last year but then we had to start payments on the new well," Mauney said.

"The water association owed Sept. 30, 1980, $291,706. Monthly payment on the old well was $1,646. After the new well, we owed $378,706. Payment on the new well and the old well will be $2,234.36 monthly--an increase of $588.36 monthly," Mauney said.

A member of the audience then asked Mauney how much the water bill would drop when the loans were paid off. "I don't know," Mauney said.

Some people in the audience voiced the opinion that perhaps they were paying for the new park with water fund money. Mauney quickly pointed out that the water funds are separate and have nothing to do with the town money or the park money.

As the meeting continued, some people expressed the opinion that they would be satisfied if the minimum gallons were 3,000 at the new rate of $8.

Keenum stressed that the FmHA has a policy that all minimum rates must begin at 2,000 gallons and the least amount that can be charged for 2,000 gallons is $7.50.

The Marietta Water Association operates on the same basis as the Jumptown Water Association, Keenum said.

As members of the audience discussed the fact that the more water used, the cheaper the water was, someone spoke up and suggested that everyone on the Jumptown water line should open a carwash.

Members of the Jumptown Board of Aldermen are Eddie Mauney, Jimmy Sims, J.M. Green, Earnest Burns and Charlie Geno.

Mauney told the people if they still had questions they should make an appointment with Talmadge Finch of the FmHA in Booneville and let him explain the situation to them.

PRENTISS COUNTY REP--Matthew Vassar of Booneville, a member of the Spirit of America Day Board of Awards, represented Prentiss County during his recent meeting in Jackson to count ballots. coach and then returned to his old stomping grounds in the Booneville area where he has been coaching since.

For the past few years, Coach Gullett has also been involved with both the high school and the Middle School and in the teaching ranks.

Coach Gullett said his first priority was to try to start the program on an upspring.

"We have some good football players and we have to show those players that they can win," he said. "We have to learn to be young men and we have to learn how to play like men."

When asked about the tough schedule for next season (some say the toughest ever) Coach Gullett said, "I'm well aware of the 1981 schedule. Buddy, we're playing some folks now that can beat you. This is what I'll tell our youngsters and we feel like we can indeed compete with them if we get up to play."

"You had better bet that I'm going to try my dead level best to prepare our players for these conquests," Gullett added. "We've whipped these teams before and we can do it again and I think with this bunch of boys we will be competitive."

Coach Gullett said the Devils' strong points next season will be the depth and speed in the backfield, and added that, overall, the team should be deeper.

"We're still not seasoned," he said. "I heard some say we should be a seasoned ballclub now, but we just won two games last season and it's hard to be seasoned with just two wins."

Gullett went on to say that the Devils would have some top-notch athletes and added that he would know more about next year's ballclub when he sees them in spring practice which gets underway Feb. 16.

What is the Booneville native's goal for his first season at Booneville High School?

"We have some kids that won't want to play football. We have some athletes that know how to play football. And if we stick to it you can bet that we'll have a good football team," he said.

Coach Gullett said the squad would probably participate in some type of spring game, but added that his team would not play in any pre-season jamboree.

"I'm proud to be Booneville High School's new football coach," Coach Gullett said. "I'm very anxious to get started with the program."

For County Chairmen

State Demos Form Association

Mississippi Saturday became the second state to organize a County Chairmen's Association for leaders of county Democratic Executive Committees.

"The Democratic National Committee has nothing of this nature," said Robert Krebs of Pascagoula, who was elected president. "Florida is the only state that has a County Chairmen's Association, and we are trying to stress with the DNC to push this across the country."

State Democratic Chairman Danny Cupit of Jackson, in remarks to the association membership, said the group is part of an increasing effort to develop a strong Democratic Party organization.

"The Democratic Party offers the best hope for the government of the state of Mississippi and this country," Cupit said. "But there's never been any sort of strong Democratic Party organization. It's incumbent upon us when we leave office (as party leaders) that we have in place an organization that can assist candidates in winning elections."

Krebs, who is also chairman of the Jackson County Democratic Executive Committee, said the recent loss in the presidential election will "provide the Democratic Party a good time to sit back and reevaluate itself."

Other officers elected Saturday are Dr. Joseph Curtis of Leflore County vice-president; Dr. W.C. Boykin of Claiborne County, secretary; and Curtis McMillen of Simpson County, treasurer.

Chosen for the board of directors, representing each congressional district, were Walter Utley of Marshall County, District I; Henry Jordan Jr. of Attala County, District II; Nancy Owen of Lauderdale County, District III; Ben Piazza of Hinds County, District IV; and Mack McInnis of Greene County, District V.

Four Coahoma Technicals Aids Tiger Win Monday Night

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

One time you're lucky, two times you'd better be careful, third time is charm and the fourth time, forget it. Some helpful advice that the Coahoma head basketball coach could have used here Monday night when he received four technical fouls and forfeited Monday night's game to Northeast's Tigers 81-79.

The fouls started when the Coahoma head coach Authur Fielder objected to a call issued by referee Danny Hooker and stood up protesting the call. After some reasonable time elapsed, the referees asked the Coahoma coach to be seated and he neglected to do so and the first technical foul was called.

After this came another technical and then another (the third) forcing the referees to eject the Coahoma Coach. He then refused to leave the court and thus a fourth technical foul was called which calls for an immediate forfeit of the game.

The game clock had some two minutes of playing time left when the forfeiture was called.

The Coahoma squad, who currently ranks fourth in the North JUCO standings, battled the second place Tigers tooth and nail through the entire ballgame.

Northeast's biggest lead was only seven points, that coming in the opening minutes of the second half.

The Tigers, now 7-4 in the North Conference and 13-6 overall, led early in the ballgame and held the lead somewhat (although the lead changed hands several times) til just before the first half ended when the Coahoma squad took a two point lead into the dressingroom.

The game again went nip and tuck til the final two minutes of play when the game was called.

The win was indeed a big one for the coach Noel Akins squadron. The win locked up second place for the Tigers all to themselves at the present and moved Northeast one stop closer to the North Division playoffs.

In the scoring department, Jackie Leach led the Tigers with 26 points followed by Maurice Stafford with 18 and Dale Groves with 11.

The key man for Coahoma (as expected by scouts) was All-Stater Fredrick Walker who poured in 35 points on the night.

Tigerettes Make It A Clean Sweep

The Northeast's Tigerettes made it a clean sweep for the night by holding on by the skin of their teeth to post an 81-78 victory after earlier leading by as much as 20 points.

The Northeast ladies led throughout the entire contest and led handily throughout the game but Coahoma rallied in the final 10 minutes to trim the lead down to a single point.

The Tigerettes did hold on however and preserved the three point victory.

Karen Davis led the Tigerettes with 27 points on the night followed by Ramona Patton and Debbie Brooks with 15 points each and Baldwin's Martha Ashmore netted 14.

Northeast will be at home again tonight when they host Holmes Junior College of Goodman Mississippi

Tigers Second In North

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers currently rank second in the North Division of The Mississippi Junior College Conference and have three more North games remaining.

The Tigers are currently 7-4 in the conference and hold second place all to themselves behind league leading Northwest who heads the North Division with a perfect 11-0 record.

The Tigers should host a playoff birth here in the North after the regular season is over. The top four teams will serve as host for the Northhalf Playoffs which get underway Monday Feb. 16.

The Tigers, if they win second place, will play seventh place team in the division in opening round action and if victorious, will play the second game again at home.

Northeast head boys coach Noel Akins said he was looking ahead slightly but added that the Tigers had to concentrate on the three remaining games left on the '80-81 schedule.

Akins said he had his preferences as to which team he would like to play in the playoffs but said that when the playoffs get started it could be an entirely different story.

Winners will advance to State Tournament play following the North Half event and then six Mississippi teams will advance to Region Seven Competition at Paducah Ky. slated for March.

District Tournaments Start For Area Teams

The 1981 basketball regular season is coming to a close and this weekend will officially kickoff the District playoff scene with our six Prentiss County Schools vining for a chance to advance to that all important North Half Tournament a week later.

The District 1 Class A Tournament will start things off beginning Friday night Feb. 6th to continue through Saturday night Feb. 14th.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College will again serve as host for the A tournament which will see Booneville's Blue Devils and Devilettes competing for top tourney honors.

The Devils will play Houston Tuesday night to kickoff their first night of action while Booneville's girls will play Monday night to start their tourney games.

Ripley's Tigers and Pontotoc's Lady Warriors are the defending champions of the Class A event with Booneville's Devilettes placing second last year.

Officials for the tournament are Willie Bender and Bobby McCreight with admission set at $1.50 for all.

BB Tourney Action

Baldwyn High School will serve as host for the District Class B Tournament with Wheeler's Eagles and Hamilton's Lady Lions tabbed as defending champions.

The Eagles took top honors last year with a win over Thrasher's Rebels in the finals.

Four Prentiss County Schools will compete for top honors in both the girls and boys brackets. Teams competing from Prentiss County are, Wheeler's Eagles and Eaglettes, Thrasher's Rebels and Rebelettes, Jumpertown's Cardinals and Cardinalettes, and New Site Royals and Royalletes.

Tournament action is scheduled to start next Monday night Feb. 9th to continue through Saturday night Feb. 14th.

Admission for the tournament is $1.50 for all.

District BB Tournament

Baldwyn's Bearcats and Lady Bearcats will represent Prentiss County in this event to be held at Itawamba Junior College.

Biggersville's Lions and Belmont's Cardinalettes are the defending BB District champs while Baldwin's Lady Bearcats advanced from this tourney a year ago as the number two team.

Cards Of Thanks

Our gratitude could never be expressed adequately in words, nor our appreciation shown with ample feelings during the illness and death of our Mother, Mrs. Nettie Stokes.

To our relatives, and to the host of friends that each of our individual families hold dear, we can only say we love you for each gesture you rendered. Your sympathy and concern made our burden lighter. We shall always be grateful to the Northeast Mississippi Hospital Staff, Dr. Ellzey, and McMillan Funeral Home for your professional services. To Bro. Perk Perry, Bro. Hughey Woods, and Millard Yates we thank you for the comforting service and inspiring music.

Each of you shall always hold a special place in the hearts of our families for the love you have shown for our "Mama Lou." May God strengthen you with Blessings is our prayer.

WHO'S WHO OF HISTORY—Mrs. Linda Sweeney's seventh grade history class at Hill's Chapel School recently dressed as famous characters for a history project. With characters ranging from Adolph Hitler to Gen. McArthur, the students not only dressed the parts, but tried to act as they thought that person would. Participating were (front,

Benny Norris And Charles Walden

Walden Honored By VoTech

The Business and Office Department at the Prentiss County Vocational Technical School this week spotlights Charles Walden and Builders Supply and their student-employee, Benny Norris from New Site High School and Booneville and Prentiss County's Cooperative Vocational Office Training program.

Charles Walden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Walden, and is a native Prentiss Countian. He is a graduate of Booneville High School, Northeast Mississippi Junior College, and has a B.S. and M.S. Degree from Mississippi State University.

He is married to the former Barbara Wigginton, and they have three children, Deborah Barnes of Memphis, Jackie Cunningham of Cleveland, Miss., and Mark Walden, a freshman at Booneville High School. They attend Martin Hill Baptist Church.

Prior to going into business, Walden taught science at Sallito High School and Booneville High School. He became manager and part owner of Builders Supply Inc. in 1972. In 1978, he and his brother, Leonard, purchased all the stock of the business and built a new modern facility on East Church Street.

Benny Norris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Norris and a senior at New Site High School. He is a member of the Science Club, Math Club, Annual Staff, and the Prentiss County FBLA Chapter.

Anderson Teams Win

Anderson Junior High School notched several wins over the past paper week in local junior high action.

On Tuesday night Jan. 27th Anderson won in seventh grade action over Baldwin in an afternoon contest winning 33-32 in boys action.

Tim Crayton netted 11 points to lead the Anderson attack followed by Clay Johnson with eight points.

On Thursday night Jan. 29th Anderson took a three game sweep from Bigger-ville. The seventh grade girls won 8-5 in local action while the seventh grade boys won 26-11 and the eighth grade girls won but results were not available.

In girls action, Marla Cartwright scored four points for Anderson followed by Lora Pams and Rhonda Robinson with two points each to round out the scoring.

In boys action, Buddy Bartlett led the Anderson charge with 11 points followed by Clay Johnson with six points.

We are very sorry to report that the "Dead Man" is still not doing very good. Hope by the first of the week he will be out of intensive care into a private room. Hope for his quick recovery.

"Ole Blue," "Fury III" and others around Baldwin sure did sound good Sunday night. Must have been a good night for talking. Some of us that had not been talking showed up.

We have really got someone special in our club. Have you heard that the "Buffalo," was recently selected honor agent of the quarter from the Corinth office of Liberty National Life Insurance Co. We are very proud of you, "Buffalo."

Some of the members went to Fayette, Ala., to the Coffee break Sunday and brought back some gifts especially the "Upholstrey Man." Boy are you lucky.

Happy birthday to "Little Wrecker II" on Tuesday and "Lady Songster" on Saturday. Hope both of you have a good day.

We will have our social Saturday night. Everybody bring well filled baskets of food. We will have as our special guest the Messengers Quartet from Corinth. Come out and enjoy a wonderful evening with us at 6:30.

We sure hope the flu bug is about to have run his course. A lot of us are still on the sick list. Sure hope everybody feels better soon.

"Lady Q," it sure is good to know you got a good report in the Big M last week. We will be glad to know when you will be able to be out with us again.

She would like to Thank everyone for all of their prayers and kindness shown her and her family during this time. She will still love to hear from us. So don't forget her with your phone calls etc.

For the ones of you who were up and saw that beautiful snow fall Monday morning. Only wish it had snowed enough to have got to play out for a day or so.

Hope each of you have a nice week, go to the church of your choice, but go.

Bonds Family Collecting Cans For Cerebral Palsy

If you have trouble disposing of your old aluminum cans, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bonds of 502 South Lake St., will help you—and in the process help more than 100 physically and mentally handicapped people of Prentiss County.

The Bonds are collecting scrap aluminum which they will sell and then donate all proceeds to the Regional Rehabilitation Center in Tupelo.

The center serves an eight-county area of northeast Mississippi and provides all types of therapy for the mentally and physically handicapped. There is never a charge for the services.

The only financing available to the center, in addition to the allotted government funds, is the money raised in the annual cerebral palsy radio-thon held on the first Sunday in December. The radio-thon is carried on a regional network of stations in the eight county area, which includes WBIP in Booneville.

The only financing available to the center, in addition to the allotted government funds, is the money raised in the annual cerebral palsy radio-thon held on the first Sunday in December. The radio-thon is carried on a regional network of stations in the eight county area, which includes WBIP in Booneville.

The Bonds plan to collect the cans and store them in their garage until they have collected enough to take to a scrap dealer in Tupelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonds are conducting the drive to collect funds and donate them to the radio-thon in memory of their daughter, Kathy. Kathy, a cerebral palsy victim, was 23 when she died in December 1980.

"We wanted to do something to fight CP and to show our appreciation for their fine efforts in rehabilitation work among the handicapped of our area," Mrs. Bonds said. "This is the only way the center has of raising funds to supplement their governmental appropriations and we don't want their fine work to suffer because of a shortage of funds."

More than 100 Prentiss Countians are now being served by the center.

"We will be collecting the cans until the radio-thon in December," Mrs. Bonds said, "and would like for everyone to bring their old cans to our home at 502 South Lake St. Or if they wish, they can call us at 728-7860 and we will be glad to pick up the cans."

Rienzi News

The Lioness Club of Rienzi held its January meeting Monday night, Jan. 26, at Marie's Sandwich Shop. Those present were Mary Ann Lowrey, president, Sandi Benjamin, Cordelia Calvary, Kathryn Crow, Beth Curlee, Barbara Furtick, Ruby Lockhart, and Sarah Parker.

A refreshing enthusiasm was manifested as plans were discussed for spring activities. All members are urged to attend the next meeting to be held on Monday night, Feb. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bishop have recently purchased the Curlee Holloway house and, after doing some repair and redecorating, have moved in to their new home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T.O. Cox have returned home from the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth and are now improving.

Also at home is April Johnson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Johnson. The Johnsons came home Sunday morning from the Medical Center in Tupelo, where April was placed after swallowing an object in an accident at home.

Mrs. Katie Gann has been confined to her home this week. Best wishes go to these, and to all our other people who are not well.

Mrs. Eva Richardson was in Selmer, Tenn., Saturday and Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rinehart and Mrs. John Childers.

Mrs. David Potts and Mrs. John Weatherbee have been with Mrs. Gerald Lancaster while she was a patient in the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth. Mrs. Lancaster is now at home, much to the delight of family and friends.

Mrs. Frank Eldridge was a guest Friday night of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough in Fulton.

Wednesday night at the Rienzi Baptist Church, Linda Bishop and Kenny Monroe were honored in a white Bible ceremony. The college and career age Sunday School class, under the leadership of Mrs. Bruce Furtick and Mrs. Nadine Walker, gave the very impressive and spiritual presentation and presented the white Bible. At the conclusion those present were invited to the fellowship hall for a reception, given by the WMU ladies of the church.

Directing this event for Linda and Kenny was Mrs. Jolene Perry, director, assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Bishop. From a beautifully appointed refreshment table, carrying out the wedding colors together with a valentine motif, Mrs. Eutha Quay Switcher and

The Rev. Lewis Ragains was ordained into the ministry on Sunday night at Spring Hill M.B. Church.

In spite of the inclement weather, the service was well attended. The ceremony was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Otis Shumpart, with the Rev. McDuffy Agnew as Secretary of the committee.

The devotional song service was led by Mrs. Ruby Grove and Mrs. Annie Boothe. During the intervals of preparation, members of the Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church and the Oak Hill M.B. Church Choir, together with members of Spring Hill Choir, rendered a service of songs interspersed with personal expressions and remarks from the congregation.

A solo, "The Lord Is Blessing Me Right Now," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Viola Shumpart as a special request of the Rev. and Mrs. Ragains. The ceremony of ordination itself consisted of the sermon by the Rev. Loyd Carter of the Macedonia M.B. Church of Corinth. His message, entitled, "Ready For Service," was highly spiritual and informative.

The Charge was given by the Rev. Nathan Triplett and was followed by the presentation by the pastor, the Rev. Shumpart.

The service in its entirety was highly spiritual and sacred. The Rev. and Mrs. Henry Pollard of Corinth were among the visiting ministers. Officers and members of Hope Well M.B. Church and the Pleasant Grove M.B. Church of New Albany were also present in large numbers.

The Rev. Ragains will begin his duties as pastor of the Pleasant Grove Church on Sunday morning, Feb. 8. Our prayers go with him for a successful and fruitful ministry there.

Although we are happy for him in this appointment, his going leaves a great void and a deep sadness, for we lose not only just one, but four. We pray Gods blessings upon their lives always.

On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 8, at Beckley Chaple C.M.E. Church, members of the usher board will render a program in which Mrs. Marsha Ragins will appear as the guest speaker. The Spring Hill M.B. Church Choir will appear as guest choir. To this event the public is invited.

Annual Choir Day for the senior choir will be held at the Mt. Olive M.B. Church on March 8. The Rev. McDuffy Agnew asks that:

you keep this date in mind and plan to attend this event. More information will be given at a later date.

Thought for today: You are writing a gospel, a chapter each day, by the deeds that you do, by the words that you say. Men read what you write, whether faithless or true. Say, what is the gospel according to you?...

Insurance Companies pay for Chiropractic care and other services in our clinic. This offers distinct, important advantages to our patients in comparison to other offices.

As all the services performed in our office are recognized by major medical insurance companies, many patients in our area are suffering needlessly when their insurance (either through work or private policies) would cover a major portion, if not all of their treatment. With verified coverage, most services are billed directly to the insurance company, making little or no payment necessary from the patient! If you would like for us to find out what your individual policy would cover, please call us at the office; 728-8456.

For State Highway Patrol Applications Now Being Accepted

Applications are now being accepted for the position of Patrol Officer with the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol. A 14 week training school for successful candidates is scheduled to begin in September at the Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Training Academy in Rankin County. Successful applicants must be in excellent physical condition, free of deformities, at least 23 years old and must have not reached their 36th birthday, and must have lived in the state for the past five years. Absence while in national service or attending school out of state does not disqualify applicants. Applicants who have a college degree from an accredited four year college or university in Mississippi will be considered for employment if they are 21 years old. Applications for the position of Patrol Officer may be secured from the Personnel Officer, Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, P.O. Box 958, Jackson, Mississippi 39205, or from Patrol district stations in Greenwood, Batesville, New Albany, Starkville, Meridian, Hattiesburg, Gulfport, and Brookhaven.

Tired of the same old plain green beans? Here are a couple of recipes that are quick and easy to prepare and add a special touch to your food.

Green Beans Deluxe

- 1 large can green beans including liquid
- 1 chopped onion
- 1 can sliced mushrooms
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 2 Tbls margarine

Mix all ingredients in a large skillet and cook until the liquid is absorbed.

Green Bean Casserole

- 2 cans french style green beans (drained)
 - 1 can cream of chicken soup
 - 1 can sliced mushrooms
 - 1 onion chopped
 - 4 Tbls margarine
 - 4 slices American cheese.
- Saute onions in margarine. Add soup, undeluted and stir until creamy. Add mushrooms and onions and mix well. Bake in oven (400 degrees) about 30 minutes. Add cheese. Return to oven about 15 minutes stirring often to mix in cheese.

I would like to start including a recipe now and then in my column that you might like to try. So if you readers of Altitude news have a recipe that's quick, easy and good please, send it to me at Route 6, Booneville, MS 38829. Please do not send these to the newspaper.

New natural gas is coming from the Texas Panhandle, Oklahoma, and Rocky Mountains

When the federal government approves and work is completed, natural gas will be coming into the Gulf South from distant new sources. With one or more pipeline companies we plan to construct a large diameter gas transmission pipeline from the Texas Panhandle through Oklahoma to a North Louisiana junction with our 9000-mile system. It's called the Trans-Anadarko Pipeline System.

This $400 million, 635-mile line will connect new gas reserves along its route across Oklahoma and Texas, and through arrangements with others, will tap rich reserves in the Rocky Mountains. This venture once again demonstrates the strength of our commitment to meet Gulf South energy requirements.

That's the way we do things at United Gas—where the search for new energy never stops.

Maintaining Your Mental Health

Climbing Out Of A Rut

From Timber Hills
Mental Health Services

A lot of new, complicated phrases have appeared in psychological jargon in the last few years, terms like "self-actualization" and "authenticity."

What is usually meant when such a term appears in a textbook or a popular magazine article is simply freedom to be oneself. Many people are looking for this elusive quality and few feel that they are attaining it.

Of course our freedom is limited by any number of factors and influences. For one, the law limits what we may and may not do. Someone who wishes to be very rich, for instance, cannot "actualize his potential" by going out and robbing a few banks, without facing all kinds of dire legal consequences.

A 40 year old mother of five cannot hope to become a ballerina. An overweight six-footer won't make it as a jockey.

But many of us have more options than we think we have to move in the direction in which we want. In other words, we may be more free than we suspect.

People who feel stuck in a rut and think there are few options left to them sometimes come to Timber Hills to try to find whether there is any way in which they can change their lives. Often they have overlooked or ignored some fairly obvious assets and possibilities.

Obviously, some people have more options than others. Those with a good education, some financial security and not too many family responsibilities are more free than those who stop school in the 8th grade, are in a serious financial bind and have a family of eight young children to consider. But, if life is truly unsatisfactory, there are frequently ways out of the rut that one has not previously considered.

Let's take the case of Dan Jones, for instance. He works as a head ground-keeper in a local park, making an adequate salary which supports him, his wife and three children.

But, according to Dan, under that department uniform beats the heart of a frustrated writer. Dan thinks he has all kinds of wonderful ideas for short stories and novels, but nobody has given him a chance to do something about these ideas.

When he comes to see a counselor he has already given up the dream of being a writer. What he does not realize is that dissatisfaction with his marriage, his job, and his life in general doesn't stem from outside situations and other people. It stems from the fact that he is living a life that he finds uninteresting and that he sees no way out of his situation.

All of this becomes clear to him in a very few counseling sessions. But the chances are that his unhappiness will not be relieved until he at least tries to do something about fulfilling his early ambitions.

In his case, the solution is as simple as buying a second hand typewriter and giving up some of his social activities to free up time for writing. If he is as good as he thinks he is, chances are that a publisher will at least look at his work, if he submits it in the proper form.

Attempts at doing what one really wants to do rather than just what is expected often involve some sacrifices. Certainly in Dan's case he had to give up some activities he enjoyed (watching ball games on TV and attending the weekly meeting of his bowling league) in order to sit, alone in his room, at the typewriter.

Frequently people who feel they are in a rut, are hopelessly caught up in a life situation that bores, irritates and frustrates them, don't want to face the sacrifices, insecurity, and possibly the criticism from family and friends that pursuing their goals might bring.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

The Need Of Compassion

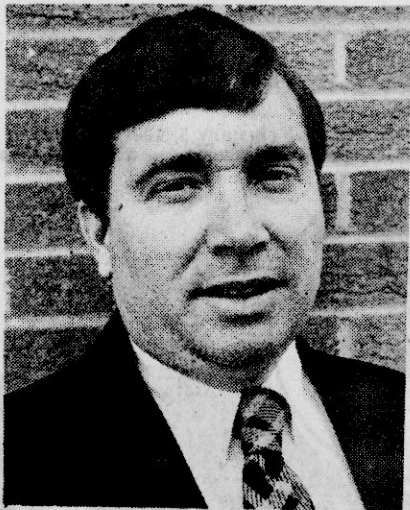

By Rev. Johnny Sexton

When Jesus saw the multitude He was moved with compassion. "Compassion" literally means "suffering together with." Jesus actually suffered in His compassion for people. His compassion stirred the depths of His soul and moved Him to action. He never shut His heart to any appeal for help.

In Matthew 9:36 we see the compassion of Jesus. He had compassion "because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd." This is a pathetic picture, for sheep are helpless, with no weapon of defense, no instinct of right direction. They must have a shepherd. The lost people of this world are in the same boat. This is true in America or in heathen lands.

It is this picture on which the eyes of Jesus looked. He had compassion for these people in the days of His ministry. He still looks down from Heaven with a heart of compassion. Should we not as believers share that compassion? Many Christians seem to not even care about lost souls.

The poor souls under their sway have for bread been given a stone, and for an egg been offered a scorpion. Jesus alone is the Bread of Life, and the Gospel is the only remedy for sin. This is true whether in Mississippi, America or Africa. We have this Bread, this remedy, and our Master is repeating to us those same words He spoke to His disciples of old: "They need not depart; give ye them to eat."
