A Trip To Remember

A VALENTINE FOR 'THE BIG APPLE' - Sharon Gifford, a senior at Thrasher High School, posed for this picture in front of the World Trade Center in New York City when she was there recently competing with four other girls for the title of All-American Girl of the Year. The contest was sponsored by 'TEEN Magazine and the Noxell Corporation.

In 'TEEN Magazine Contest

Prentiss County Girl One Of Five Finalists

Seventeen-year-old Sharon Gifford of Rienzi has recently returned from a "dream" trip to New York City.

Sharon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gifford and a senior at Thrasher High School, was one of five teens from all over the country to be selected to compete for the title of "All-American Girl of the Year."

Now in its third year, the contest is jointly sponsored by "TEEN Magazine and the Noxell Corporation, makers of Noxema Skin Cream. Grand prize was a $2,500 scholarship award and a trip for the winner and her mother to Los Angeles.

"This competition was initiated to focus the nation's attention on teenage achievers from 12 to 18 whose outstanding talents are worthy of public acclaim," a spokesman for the contest said.

Sharon and the other four girls were chosen from entries submitted to "TEEN. All five are top students and school leaders and have excelled in at least one field of endeavor.

"Each has a special achievement which sets her apart and makes her unique," the spokesman said.

Sharon and the other four All-American Girl finalists were awarded all-expense paid trips to New York city and a supply of Noxema Skin Care products.

The trip held several "firsts" for Sharon. Not only was it her first trip to New York, but it was also her first airplane ride.

The girls and their chaperons—Sharon's mother, Betty Gifford, accompanied her—stayed at the famous Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and spent three days seeing the city's cultural and entertainment attractions, meeting celebrities, and being photographed for the pages of "TEEN magazine.

All five of the girls will be featured in the June issue of "TEEN which will go on sale during May. Separate features on each of the girls will appear in following months in the magazine.

Judges for the contest were Gwen

Former Sheriff Ralph Martin Wins Suit

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

After deliberating for about an hour Wednesday, jurors found former Prentiss County Sheriff Ralph Martin innocent of civil charges of negligence stemming from the burning of the Rev. Thomas L. Parker's residence on Sept. 5, 1978.

The seven women and five men jury voted 11-1 in favor of the defendant.

Martin testified Tuesday in the Prentiss County Circuit Court that he thought using tear gas would be the safest method in apprehending a man in Parker's house who was wanted for robbery.

The lawsuit was brought against Martin, who served as sheriff for one term after being elected in 1976, and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company by Parker, a former resident of Booneville.

In the suit, filed June 13, 1979, Parker, who now resides in Tishomingo County, asked for $60,000 in compensatory and punitive damages, all costs of the case and $15,000 from the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, the bonding company for Ralph Martin while he was sheriff.

Parker accused Martin of negligence, stemming from the burning of Parker's home in 1978.

On Sept. 5, 1978, Parker (the plaintiff) testified, he and his wife were visiting his sister in Arkansas when Ralph Martin and his agents attempted to serve an arrest warrant to Harold Elliott, who was in Parker's residence in Lake City.

Parker testified that although Elliott had spent the night with the Parkers before they left for Arkansas, he did not know

Elliott was in the house on Sept. 5.

Parker, who served as a security guard in Jackson, Miss., for the last eight years and said he kept a .38 caliber pistol in his house, testified that Elliott had worked with him on his farm since Elliott was a boy.

"I helped raise him," Parker said. He also said he was "trying to get him (Elliott) off his drinking

Grand Jury Indictments Returned In Six Cases

The February Term of the Prentiss County Grand Jury was in active session last week, examining 10 witnesses and returned indictments in six criminal cases.

Indictments in four of the cases have been released by the Prentiss County Circuit Clerk's office, but two are still being withheld until the persons named have been located.

David Ellis Young, 18, of Route 3, Baldwyn, and Marty Hendrix, 19, of 520 North Second Street, Baldwyn, were indicted and charged with three counts of burglary and larceny.

Harold Roach, 51, of 150

Elvis Presley Drive, Tupelo, was indicted and charged with one count of burglary and larceny and one count of possession of burglary tools.

Lee Curtis Gamble, 30, of Route 6, Booneville, was indicted and charged with one count of burglary.

Darrell Wilkerson, 26, P.O. Box 26, Booneville, and Eddie Hester, 38, and Harold Hester, 26, both of Route 1, Booneville, were indicted and charged with stealing a Holstein calf, valued at $100 or more, from the property of Chris Fulper.

In other action, the Grand Jury examined the Prentiss County Courthouse and the Prentiss County Jail and made recommendations as to improvements.

The Grand Jury found that the jail is in much better condition than it has been in quite a period of time. A representative of the Board of Supervisors reported that the fire extinguishers are being regularly inspected by the City Fire Marshal and are in working order.

It was also reported that the jail has been completely rewired and that mattresses, sheets and blankets have been provided.

Four Qualify For Marietta Election

Four candidates have qualified to run in the May 12 municipal election for the town of Marietta.

Mayor James C. Pharr has qualified to seek reelection to his post. Aldermen Holis Pharr, C.T. Moore and Kenneth Moreland have also qualified to seek re-election.

The deadline for candidates to qualify to run in the municipal election is April 10. This is also the last date residents of Marietta who have not registered to vote can do so and still be eligible to vote in the May 12 election.

Former Legislator Dies In Tupelo Hospital

Charley Elvis McCoy, 64, of Wheeler died Sunday morning, Feb. 8, at the North Mississippi Medical Center in Tupelo after a short illness.

Mr. McCoy served as a member of the House of Representatives for four years and as a state Senator for four years. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the First Baptist Church of Wheeler.

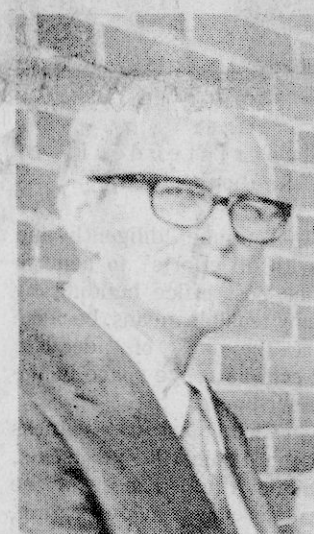

Services were held at 1 p.m. Monday, Feb. 9, at the McMillan Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Robert McCoy and the Rev. Glen Brown officiating. Burial was in the Prentiss Memorial Gardens.

Pallbearers were Terry McCoy, Jerry McCoy, Dennis McCoy, Mike Sanders, George Cook and Homer Lancaster. Honorary pallbearers were all the members of the Sunday School class Mr. McCoy taught and the members of Carl Greenhaw's Sunday School class.

Mr. McCoy is survived by his wife, Mrs. Surue Bennett McCoy of Wheeler; three daughters, Mrs. Nelson

Two Women Arrested On Larceny Charges

Two Prentiss County women have been charged with two counts each of breaking and entering and grand larceny in Prentiss County, it was reported last week.

Sheila Ann Flurry, 22, and Barbara D. Weaver, 24, were charged in connection with a break-in on Jan. 26 at the home of Herschel Wayne Dodd in the Thrasher community and in connection with the theft of two guns from the home of Edwin Davis of the Pisgah community.

The Prentiss County Sheriff's Department reported that four women's coats, several guns, a watch and a television were taken from the Dodd residence.

It was reported that some of the jackets and the watch from the Dodd residence and the two guns from the Davis residence have been recovered.

The two women have also been charged with burglary and larceny in Alcorn County in connection with a recent house burglary in the Wheeler Grove Community, it was reported.

Three guns, two watches and a bracelet valued at $800 or $900 were said to have been taken from the house.

Bond for the two women was set at $2,000 each in Prentiss County.

Local Opinions Mixed On Oil Decontrol

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

Local oil distributors and service station owners have mixed emotions concerning President Ronald Reagan's recent decontrol of oil prices.

"I think the control of oil should have remained under the control of the government," Earl Williams of Union Oil Distributors said.

"The price of gasoline went up three cents Saturday morning. It's hard to predict if the cost of gasoline will continue to go up because we don't know if the consumer will buy that much gasoline now," he said.

An Energy Department study forecasts that the effect of decontrol alone, assuming no increase in the world price of crude oil, would add 15.1 cents to the average pump price of a gallon of regular leaded gasoline during 1981. The study projects retail prices will range from a low of $1.48 to a high of $2.23 by year's end.

A check with five Booneville gas stations Monday showed that the price of regular gasoline ranged from $1.31 to $1.51 a gallon.

Guy Robertson, owner of Guy's 45 Standard Service Station, said his gasoline prices have increased 11½ cents since the first of the year. Six cents of that increase occurred after the decontrol of oil prices, he said.

For Heart Sunday

Memorial Service Set

In honor of "heart month" (February), the Prentiss County Chapter of the American Heart Association is sponsoring the First Heart Sunday Memorial Service at 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 15, at the First Baptist Church.

Bro. Tom Rayburn will deliver the message.

"This service is to remember our friends and loved ones who have lost their lives to cardiovascular disease," said Helen Jones, president of the local Heart Association chapter.

Heart disease is the number one killer of family and friends, she said.

The local chapter is also making a "memorial plaque" to be placed in the Northeast Mississippi Hospital.

"We would like to list your loved one on our first plaque," Mrs. Jones said.

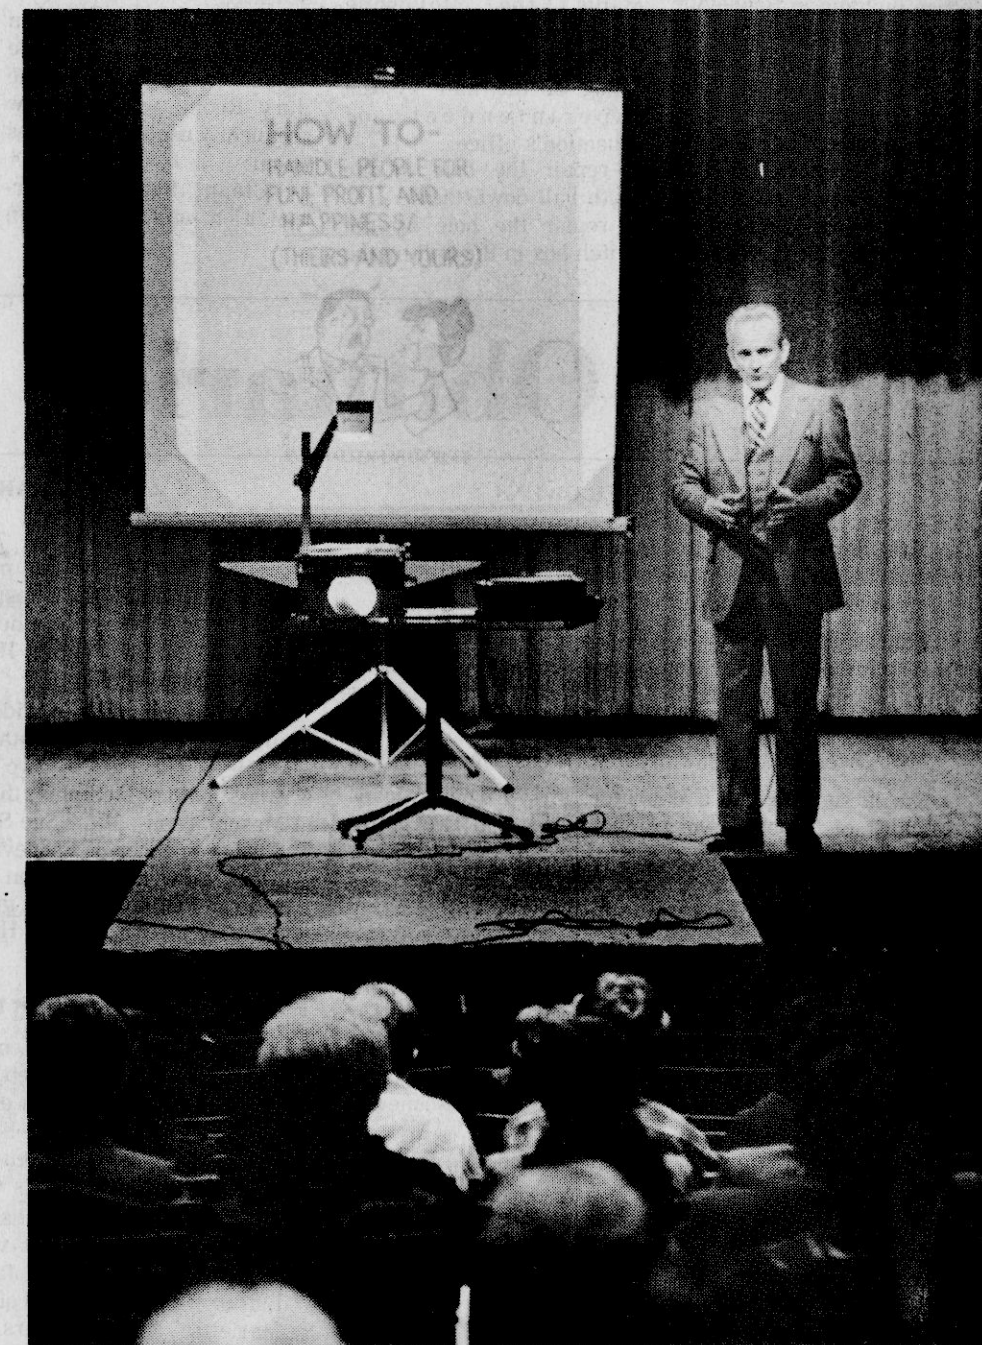

Several people have already been contacted and have contributed to the plaque, she said, and more will be contacted during this month.

For more information, contact Eloise Maddox, memorial chairman, or Bobby Hodge, campaign chairman.

The Heart Association's motto is: "We are fighting for your life."

"Who knows?" Mrs. Jones said. "One of us may be the next victim!"

IN-SERVICE PROGRAM—Teachers from the Booneville and Baldwyn school systems met in the Seth Pounds Auditorium at Northeast Junior College Friday afternoon for a joint in-service training program. Roy Hatten (on stage) of Roy Hatten Enterprises, Jackson, Miss., presented a program on "human relations." The program was sponsored through the Northeast Regional Education Service Agency.

Although Sharon did not win the contest, it was an experience neither she nor her mother will ever forget.

In listing some of the achievements which helped Sharon become a finalist, a spokesman for the event said Sharon, who has donated some 3,100 hours to school, church and community betterment projects, has set what may be a record for teen volunteer hours.

In addition to chairing numerous fund-raising drives, Sharon has also helped establish a "crisis closet" of clothing for disaster victims, helped set up a church library, tutored a child with learning disabilities, assisted in state and local political campaigns, and entertained for the sick and elderly.

Winner of the All-American Girl title was 14-year-old Stacey Teas of Cape Elizabeth, Maine. Among her achievements, Stacey designed and installed one of the few live museum exhibits of fish and wildlife in the country and "probably the only one to be set up by someone of her age." She also initiated the Animal of the Week program, through which she takes animals into local first grade classrooms for children to see and discuss.

Other finalists were Tammy Johnson, 16, of Belvidere, Ill., who earned a black belt in karate at the age of 11; Karen Hurd, 15, of Springfield, Ohio, who won her first art contest at the age of five; and Janine Gutknecht, 18, of Morris Plains, N.J., who is possibly the youngest professional cat breeder on record.

The winner was announced Jan. 28 at a contest lunch held at the Waldorf. Sharon, her mother, and Mrs. Charles (Dot) Garner, who accompanied them, left New York enroute to Prentiss County just as the "Big Apple" was preparing to hold a ticker-tape parade in honor of the freed hostages from Iran.

Local Opinions

"I don't know which way the control of oil will work the best...it might have been best to leave things alone," Robertson said.

A spokesman for Salts Oil Company Inc., an Amoco distributor said, "Our prices were sky-rocketing before the oil decontrol."

Within the last seven weeks diesel fuel increased 20 cents and gasoline increased 17 cents. There was a six cent increase on gasoline since the decontrol, the spokesman said.

One local oil distributor felt that competition would have more effect on oil prices rather than decontrol.

"Competition between the major refineries will keep prices lower than government controls," Danny Jumper of Jumper Oil Company Inc. said.

"Prior to Jan. 29, the price of gasoline increased six times. Since the decontrol, there has been a three cent increase," Jumper said.

Consumer gas is approximately $1.28 plus five percent sales tax, Jumper said Monday. Mississippi is one of the few states that has sales tax on gasoline, he said.

Vernon Shouse of the Kerr-McGee Service Station said it was evident people were not buying as much gasoline since prices were rising.

Shouse said he did not agree with the decontrol of oil prices. "I thought the country was in bad enough shape."

R.J. Rone at the Eastside Amoco Service Station said his prices had risen 11 cents since the beginning of January.

Ken Ashmore at Ashmore and Reed Union 76 Station, said their gasoline prices had risen seven cents after the decontrol.

Norman Young, owner of Young's Exxon Service Station, said there had been an eight cent price increase at his station since the decontrol. He also said there was a "slack" in gasoline buying before the decontrol.

"I think maybe in the long run the decontrol will be all right...but right now it's not helping too much," Young said.

Grants Theme Of Small Towns Workshop

The economic outlook for small towns and rural areas—including getting and using federal grants—will be the theme of a workshop planned by the Small Towns-Minority Economic Development Office of the Mississippi Research and Development Center and the Mississippi Institute of Small Towns.

Gov. William Winter will be a speaker at the meeting in Jackson on Feb. 18, along with Jeffrey Schiff, director of the Advisory Council of Government Information Services of Washington, D.C., and Eric C. Brown.

Grand Jury

The Grand Jury recommended that a shower curtain be installed on the shower lacking one, and that means for providing more training in criminal investigations for the support staff of the law enforcement offices of Prentiss County be found.

Concerning the courthouse, the representative from the Supervisors reported that they are continuing with efforts to obtain the existing post office building in Booneville for a Chancery Building, but that the U.S. Postal Service has not yet secured a site for the new post office.

He reported that handrails have not been installed on the stairways nor doors installed on the stalls of the ladies' restroom because of a lack of funds. The water fountain downstairs has been repaired and painted, he said, but no plans have been made for the installation of one upstairs due to lack of space for it there.

It was further reported that, with the new tax increases, it is assumed that sufficient funds will be available to complete the recommendations of the previous Grand Jury.

In its inspection of the courthouse, the Grand Jury made the following recommendations:

- Repair the hole in the ceiling of the hall by the superintendent of education's office;
- repair the hole in the south hall downstairs;
- repair the hole by the switch box in the hall by the Superintendent of Education's office;

--Continue "diligently and with all efforts" to acquire the post office building by any feasible means, because of the lack of adequate record storage space in the courthouse;

--Clean out the witness room behind the jury seats, remove and dispose of the piano, and provide heating, air-conditioning and adequate and comfortable seating;

--Clean, heat, air-condition and provide with adequate and comfortable seating the Jury Room, which is now frequently used as a witness room;

--Clean, heat and air-condition, and provide with adequate and comfortable seating for witnesses the room formerly used as an office for the First District Justice Court Judge;

--The Chancery Clerk should gather up the newspapers presently in the former justice court judge's office and have them suitably bound and maintained as an official county record, as the law requires;

--Satisfy the previous recommendations of the Grand Jury as to providing more handrails on stairways, installing the doors on the stalls of the ladies' restroom and providing a water fountain upstairs ("but this Grand Jury feels that there are more important priorities for the Board of Supervisors to consider.")

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, do you think parents should force their children to go to church? I have been told this will make them hate church later in life and therefore refuse to attend.

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: Most parents force (if necessary) their children to attend school, brush their teeth, take baths and even take medicine. Parents do this with little fear that their children will grow up and hate them. A person would have a warped mind who would hate his parents because he tried to take care of him during his adolescent years. The most important part of a child's life is his spiritual welfare. Some children enjoy going to the services of the church, others do not. We have some who do not want to attend school, but parents usually force them to go. Now, may I say that no adult ever quit attending church because he was forced to go when he was a child. The only reason anyone quits is because of a lack of faith. People will always try to find an excuse for sin. Adam and Eve both had their excuse, but God did not accept either. When one says he is not attending church because he was forced to go when he was a child; that person is hiding behind a subterfuge. Parents are to bring their children up in the nurture of the Lord (Eph. 6:4).

$100 A Year From One Sow: Or, A Pig Tale

"About a year ago, Clint Walker, a prominent merchant of the Martin Hill Community, bought a year-old sow for $19. Since then she has raised two fine litters of pigs, the first of which sold for $30."

"In the second litter were 13 pigs, but five of them were killed and the balance brought $24. Monday of this week Clint butchered the sow which dressed 506 pounds. He had spent approximately $13 in fattening her, but the balance of the time the cost of her feed had been scarcely nothing."

"If the rest of the meat is as appetizing as the fine sausage, of which he brought us a generous portion, he should easily sell her for $75, which would make a pretty nice year's income from a little $19 investment."

Four Fires Reported During Past Week

The Booneville Fire Department answered four calls last week.

A mattress fire was reported at the home of Evelyn Tynes at 100 Handy Street on Feb. 3.

Wednesday, Feb. 4, firemen worked 45 minutes to free Oral Groves from a car in which she was pinned after her car and a gas truck collided on Sunflower-Highway 30 by-pass. Fire officials said Groves was taken to the Northeast Mississippi Hospital and then transferred to the Tupelo hospital.

Thursday morning, Feb. 5, firemen responded to a truck fire at John Arnold's residence on Highway 45 North. The pick-up truck engine received minor damage.

On Sunday, Feb. 8, 14 firemen responded to a house fire at North Lake Street. The brick home, belonging to William Roland, was a near total loss. Firechief Frank Fleming said. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Corps To Plant Trees

The Mobile District of the Army Corps of Engineers has awarded a $20,475 contract to the Batchelor Nursery of Newnan, Ga., for a pilot program to plant willow trees and maidencane in two areas on Twenty Mile Creek in Prentiss and Lee counties to determine their effect on bank erosion.

Congressman Jamie Whitten obtained funding for the project and asked the Corps to undertake remedial measures because severe bank erosion and other problems were occurring along Twenty Mile Creek, a corps spokesman said.

For Prentiss County

Heart Campaign Goal $4,900

Volunteers for the Heart Association will soon be canvassing Prentiss County distributing life-saving educational information and collecting money. This year's campaign goal has been set at $4,900.

"The money raised during our February campaign goes to educational and community programs in Prentiss County, and to research," said Bobby Hodge, chairman of the Heart Association campaign this year. "With costs rising everywhere and the tremendous toll in lives and money cardiovascular diseases take each year, it is absolutely essential that we reach our goal," he said.

"Heart and blood vessel diseases have afflicted over 29 million Americans and are responsible for one of every two deaths from all causes in this country,"

Hodges said. "It will cost U.S. consumers $46.2 billion in 1981 for lost output due to disability, medical care, drugs, hospitalization and rehabilitation connected with cardiovascular disease. Against these odds, we need all the volunteers and money we can get. We're fighting for your life and we ask that you give generously when a Heart volunteer calls on you on Heart Sunday, Feb. 22."

Other key campaign committee chairmen serving the Prentiss County Heart Association are Helen Jones, president; Ann Floyd, secretary-treasurer; Eloise Maddox, memorial chairman; and Norma Michael, publicity chairman.

Arrest Report

The Booneville Police Department reports a total of 26 arrests during the period of Feb. 2-8. The following charges were filed in connection with those arrests:

'State Skate' Set For This Sunday

The Mississippi Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation has appointed Annie Ruth Martin as volunteer coordinator for the 1981 "Skate Skate," which will be held Sunday, Feb. 15, at the Dixieland Skate Center in Booneville.

Twenty-three skating centers across the state are participating to help Cystic Fibrosis reach its goal of $35,000, according to Chris Carmichael, executive director of the Mississippi Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Proceeds from the event will go toward the foundation's life-saving programs of research, patient care and education, Carmichael said.

"Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of the young people in Mississippi," the director said. "It's inherited and affects the lungs and digestive system. There is no cure and only half of it's victims live to the age of 20."

Sponsor forms are available at Dixieland Skating Center and most schools in the community, Carmichael said.

Prizes to be awarded to participants who raise the most money for Cystic Fibrosis in the State Skate include a Quasar portable television and a "One-Step" camera. T-shirts will also be given away.

Eyes On Mississippi

Hinson Is Appealing But Complicated

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—The book should be terrific. Maybe the movie will be even better.

What's it going to be about? How Jon Hinson skunked the folks in Mississippi's Fourth Congressional District, of course. Starring, natch, Jon Hinson, boy congressman from Mississippi who ran amuck in the wilds of the Nation's Capital.

The story goes that this young guy who looked like an oversized Boy Scout, talked real nice, and knew what those Mississippi conservatives liked to hear, was yanked up from nowhere, put on TV and elected to Congress.

Only thing, a couple of years later, it comes out that the boyish-looking hero has been accused of playing around with boys, rather than girls. This is considered anti-social, and to say the least, not in keeping with the norms of conduct back in the Piney Woods of Mississippi.

But our hero comes back home, declares with Nixonesque candor that he is straight, always has been, and always will be, and almost everybody believes him. Enough believe him, in fact, that he is sent back to Washington to represent the Fourth District once again.

Washington is a wicked place, however, and apparently our Congressman is tempted to go back to playing with boys. So, one day, while the rest of his colleagues are having the bean soup in the House dining room, our hero is accused of taking his lunch break in the rest room of the House office building engaging in kinky sex with another male.

While his constituents may applaud him for staying close to the job to have his little fun, they do not approve of the kind of fun they say he is having, especially since he said this wasn't his thing.

And when the cops crash the scene and allegedly discover the Congressman in the little aberrant love nest, it gets in all the papers and on TV, and the boy Congressman is really in deep trouble back home this time. Everybody, especially those who put up the dough for him to run, is after his hide.

Will he quit, as they demand? Or will he stiffen his resolve, and refuse to quit? This gripping story has all the earmarks of being the biggest thing since "Dallas." One can just see it reeking with residuals and going into summer re-runs.

The unfunny thing about the scenario above is that it is true, and involves real live people, especially those who are the butt of the joke: citizens of Mississippi who elected Congressman Jon Hinson.

There are several culprits in how and why an unknown quantity like Hinson could be brought on the scene suddenly, and bought, sight unseen, by a Mississippi electorate. The first is the naivete of the average Mississippi voter. While Mississippians indulge in politics with the same enthusiasm as the game of football, they are still very unsophisticated, politically.

Rather than buying the steak, they buy the sizzle. Consequently, it was no wonder that Hinson, an ideal prop for the visual medium could be created, packaged and sold via television.

Another culprit, however, is the small group of political types who were so hungry for power and to retain control of a congressional seat that they would provide the money and wherewithal to get him elected. Even after strong doubts had been raised about Hinson, they quickly resolved these doubts in his favor because it was politically expedient.

This writer, in three decades of viewing Mississippi politics, must admit that Hinson was one of the most appealing, yet extremely complicated personalities ever to appear on the state political scene. He had what a good many very able persons in political life don't have: a mild, convincing manner.

One thing that struck me about him in several lengthy philosophical conversations was that he was not the knee-jerk conservative many of his strong right-wing supporters wished to paint him. Somehow, I get the feeling his shocking disclosure last summer of his possible homosexual inclinations was done to see how far he could push his arch-conservative backers and get away with it.

Hinson discussed with a reporter a day or so after the election in November something that could really be the leading clue to what now seems his suicidal behavior. Hinson mused that he had made "the most spectacular confession ever made by a political figure in Mississippi history" and that he might well write a book about it.

But before he could start his book, Hinson said he needed to "get in touch with my personal feelings."

Now that he has gotten in touch with his personal feelings, we know how it came out.

Letter To The Editor

Wants To Contact Friend

Dear Editor:

I was reading your paper this week and noticed an article in the Cairo News that I am very interested in.

It stated Christine Floyd from Napoleon, Ohio, also receives your paper weekly. I am wanting to get the address of her daughter, Barbara. If you would print this, maybe she would see it and drop me a line.

Since being raised in Booneville, I look to getting my Banner-Independent

As Soil Goes, So Goes The Nation

By ED BLAKE

This Land Is Whose?

A popular American tune to the contrary, this land no longer is for you and me in singular senses. Modern times and politics have substituted a plurality to the beleaguered concept of private ownership and control.

Just as Adam and Eve lost their handle on the Garden of Eden in a bad trade, so has the American's rigid claim to his "back forty" eroded in the face of a growing population and politically inspired proprietary concepts toward the land.

History records that our present system of fee simple ownership evolved from a feudal concept of rights in land acquired by force, kept by force, and indeed relinquished more often than not in the face of a stronger opposing force rather than price arbitration.

European feudalism is dramatically demonstrated even today to those traveling the course of the Rhine River by a small ancient castle still standing on a small island in the middle of the river where tariffs were imposed by the feudal lord on all whose vessels passed by. In those days no one challenged the right of the owner of the land to collect his tariffs.

Yet today even in Mississippi the rights of boaters versus landowners is a sensitive topic that has erupted into disputes. Generally speaking, the interpretation of navigable streams defines the fine line between boaters' and landowners' rights.

Boaters see navigable streams of all sizes as waterways for public use and avail themselves of them for fishing, canoeing, floating, etc. Some of these are as conscientious as the landowners themselves of proper care and behavior while passing through private property—yet some are not, and have constituted nuisances with their behavior, litter, and noise.

This bill has been approved by the House Judiciary A Committee and will be considered by the entire House this week.

I will continue to place good law enforcement and the protection of your family and your property as top priority items in the expenditure of state funds

Legislative Letter

By Tim Ford

Representative District 18
Lee and Prentiss Counties

Long meetings and pleadings marked the fourth week of the legislative session. A large number of bills died in Committee as a major deadline on Thursday drew Committee action, either yea or nay, on bills originating in their own House.

At the midnight deadline, 136 general bills, not counting revenue bills, were reported in the House and were placed on the House Calendar for floor action this week. The Senate reported a similar list.

The deadline for original floor action on appropriation and revenue bills originating in their own House is March 5.

In the House Ways and Means Committee, we approved a bill to spread the in-lieu tax receipts from T.V.A. over the area counties that receive T.V.A. service based on electricity consumption and percentage of T.V.A.'s Mississippi property. As it stands now, since 1976, this money is going to build the bridges over the Tennessee Tombigbee Waterway.

After the bridges are completed, present law designates one-third of the in-lieu tax money to go to the State General Fund. Passage of the division measure Thursday will mean millions coming into our northeast area after the completion of the 10 bridges speculated in 1987.

Many area legislators, including myself, propose using the money to build four-lane highways in our area of the state, as well as to help the local counties in their budget situation. The bill still lacks floor approval and Senate passage.

Many of you have contacted me concerning the classification of real property for reappraisal purposes. This will give property owners and home owners a lower classification on ad valorem tax tables.

I am definitely in favor of such a proposal as long as each individual tax payer is treated as equally and fairly as the other under the same set of circumstances. I will not favor a classification that will put a homeowner's taxes so much lower than a corporation or utility that the homeowner will not have a voice in the spending of the tax revenues.

Legislation is responsive to the concerned and responsible taxpayer. A concerned taxpayer is one who wants to know where the good-earned money is paid in taxes is spent.

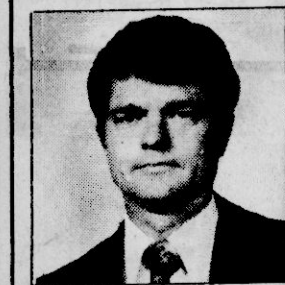

There are a number of classification bills being studied and reviewed. Reappraisal of property must be completed by 1983. I feel by that time, we will pass appropriate legislation to deal with the problem.

Thank you for your concern and consideration as I work for you each day in Jackson. My vote is your voice in state government. I appreciate your continued support.

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III
Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

As your representative, one of my special endeavors is to keep in touch with the people who really make government work for you in Mississippi—those elected and appointed officials from the local to the state level who carry on the day to day chores assigned to them.

By getting to know these officials personally I am able to learn more of their responsibilities and I am able to learn how our laws affect them in the performance of their duties.

Recently I have spent considerable time with some of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics officials in my effort to determine what, if any, changes need to be made in our laws to aid them in their efforts to curb the flow and distribution of illegal drugs within our state.

The Bureau of Narcotics exists not only to stop the illicit traffic and distribution of narcotics and other dangerous drugs, but the smuggling activities as well.

Smugglers choose Mississippi as a point of entry for their drugs mainly because of the shoreline and its geographic proximity to South America, an abundance of airstrips in isolated areas, and relatively weak lines on criminal prosecutions.

More than $100 million dollars worth of drugs were seized by local, state, and federal officials in Mississippi last year. Bureau of Narcotics intelligence indicates this is only a portion in comparison to the amount of drugs being channeled through the state.

Because of the social effects of drug abuse and the corruption, violence, and economic impact that drug trafficking causes, we must do even more to aid the Bureau of Narcotics dedicated effort to stop the flow of drugs in the state.

At present, there are only 50 agents to cover the entire state. They often have to work continuously for days in order to cover one operation. I support legislation that will increase the number of agents and provide adequate equipment for them.

The maximum a smuggler can be fined in Mississippi is $30,000 plus a prison sentence. Thirty thousand dollars in possible fines will not prevent a professional smuggler from attempting to enter our state with drugs worth many times this amount. Only last April, Mississippi officials joined in an effort that seized about 33,000 pounds of marijuana worth $20 million dollars south of Gulfport on a pleasure boat.

Several bills have been introduced in the House and Senate that, if passed, will cause those wishing to handle drugs in this state to think twice.

I and Representative Pat Presley of Jackson county have introduced House Bill 608 which calls for mandatory sentences of imprisonment upon conviction of certain offenses and increases by a large amount the maximum fines and prison sentences. For the most serious offenses this bill would call for up to 30 years imprisonment and a $1 million dollar maximum fine.

This bill has been approved by the House Judiciary A Committee and will be considered by the entire House this week.

Senate Report

By Bill May

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

With Thursday, Feb. 5, being the deadline for committee reports on general bills, most of the committee work was concentrated on committee assignments.

There have been approximately 900 bills introduced with approximately 175 bills being reported out of the various committees. Once these bills are reported out of committee, they are then placed on the Calendar for the full Senate's consideration.

One bill of major importance on the Calendar concerning my district is S.B. No. 2793. This bill would change the present state aid formula based on three different criteria. The criteria established under this bill would be one-third equally to the counties, one-third population, and one-third area.

Prentiss County's present statutory percentage is 1.14 percent which yields $448,807. This bill would reduce Prentiss County's percentage to 1.01 percent and a yield of $397,029.

Itawamba County's present statutory percentage is 1.36 percent which yields $533,489. This bill would reduce the percentage to 1.06 percent and a statutory amount of $416,705.

Tishomingo County's present statutory percentage is .98 percent which yields $387,220. This bill would reduce Tishomingo County's percentage to .96 percent and a yield of $377,393.

The money received by the counties through the state aid road formula goes to the construction of state aid roads. Before a county receives any district funding, money goes to retire any outstanding bond indebtedness previously established.

Itawamba County has a present bond indebtedness totaling $2,554,614. Prentiss County has a total bond indebtedness of $2,469,122 and my records show that Tishomingo County does not have any outstanding indebtedness under this fund.

As one can see under the above described formula and its effect on my district, this vote will materialize as big counties versus small counties. Thirty-four counties stand to gain revenue by this reallocation and forty-eight counties will lose revenue.

Even though we that represent small counties are in the minority, this bill would require a three-fifths vote for passage. Hopefully, we shall be able to obtain the votes to defeat this measure. I can assure you that I am doing all I can in opposition of this bill in hopes that we will be able to retain the present state aid road allocation.

Mr. And Mrs. Freddie Corbin

Miss Smart, Mr. Corbin Are Wed

In a candlelight setting on Nov. 14, Miss Lynn Smart, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. H.C. Smart, was married to Freddie Corbin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Corbin.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized at the Concord Baptist Church with the bride's father officiating.

Teddy Ledbetter directed the wedding. Guests were registered by Janet Taylor of Booneville.

The ceremony was performed before an altar of three seven-branch candleabras and a background of greenery.

A selection of nuptial music was presented by Ricky Hannon, pianist, and Mrs. Barbara Eaton and Danny Murphy, vocalists. Selections included "If," "There is Love," "I Honestly Love You," and, as the unity candle was lit, "Savor Like A Shepherd Lead Us."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Gilford Smart, who gave her in marriage on behalf of their parents. The bride paused at her mother's pew to present her with a rose and, at the closing of the ceremony, at her new mother-in-law's pew for the same.

Gowned in white, the bride's dress featured lace appliques which outlined the sheer yoke and empire waistline. It had long bishop sleeves and a full skirt with chapel-length train. Her veil of illusion fell to create a train.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of silk flowers of rust and burgandy, enfolded with a white orchid in the center.

The bride's sister, Anita Smart, was chosen as maid of honor. Her gown was of coral quiana crepe, featuring a draped boat neckline with fitted sleeves and a full skirt.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mary Sue Perrigo and Mrs. Martha Prather, sisters of the bride; Miss Kathy Corbin, sister of the groom; and Mrs. Patti Ward. They wore gowns in rust quiana similar to that of the maid of honor. Each carried a nosegay of silk flowers.

Brandi Smart, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Tommy Corbin served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Bobby Jones, Buddy Lindsey, Steve Eaton, and Charlie Smith. They wore white tuxedos trimmed in brown.

Lonnie Smart, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smart wore a street-length dress of cocoa. Mrs. Corbin, mother of the groom, wore a dress of rosewood quiana. Mrs. Henry Smart, grandmother of the bride, wore a beige suit. Each wore a corsage of white silk flowers.

Reception
Following the ceremony, the bride's parents honored the couple with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table, draped in a white linen cloth edged in lace, held the three-tiered wedding cake. Topped with the traditional bride and groom, it was accented with pink roses and set atop a flowing fountain.

Mrs. Bobby Smart, Mrs. Jerry Smart, and Mrs. Billy Smart, sisters-in-law of the bride, served.

The groom's table held the traditional chocolate cake topped with frosted grapes. Mrs. Gilford Smart, sister-in-law of the bride, served.

After a short honeymoon, the couple is at home in Tupelo. The groom is employed with his father and the bride is employed as a computer operator at Central Services in Tupelo.

Rehearsal Dinner
The groom's parents honored their son and his bride-elect with a rehearsal dinner in the fellowship hall of the church on the eve of the wedding.

The couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants.

Friends of former Booneville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kizer, will be especially interested in seeing Nancy's paintings now on display in the Smith Room of the Allen Library. Everyone is invited to enjoy the exhibit.

Mrs. Kizer, librarian of the high school at Corinth, says that art is a hobby of only recent years, yet she has captured the essence of many Mississippi scenes in several mediums. Some of these 30 canvases inspire nostalgia and others appreciation for the here and now.

The organization, The Friends of the Library, have designated February "Everybody Read Month." For those who wish to keep a list of what they have read, library personnel will make such a record.

In each of four age groups, adult down to preschoolers, a gift book for the reader with the longest list will be awarded at the end of this month-long period. This is extra encouragement to participate in an activity with high gains in knowledge and know-how, in increasing understandings, and especially in pure pleasure.

Miss Bullock Is Engaged

Mrs. Eunice Benton of Burton announces the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Shanda Mae Bullock, to Billy Joe Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Robinson of Booneville.

Miss Bullock is the daughter of the late Quinton R. Bullock of Kenosha, Wis. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Delphis Bullock, and the late Walter Bullock, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Millard Fillmore Holland.

The bride-elect is a 1980 graduate of New Site High School and is employed with Irwin B. Schwalre Company of Paden.

Mr. Robinson is the grandson of Mrs. Hazel Bolt of Booneville and the late John R. Bolt, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Robinson of Eupora.

The prospective groom is a 1980 graduate of Booneville High School and is employed at the East Side Tire Store in Booneville.

The wedding will be at 7 p.m. Feb. 27 at the Tishomingo Pentecostal Church. Bro. W.H. Burcham will officiate.

All friends and relatives are invited.

Guitar Classes To Start At Northeast

Registration for a leisure learning class in beginning guitar will be at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 19, in Patterson Hall, according to James Williams with the Northeast Junior College Division of Continuing Education.

Designed to be informative as well as entertaining, the class is open to all ages. Registration fee for the class which meets one night per week is $30.

Barrell Marecle, instructor for the class, is a graduate of Corinth High School. He attended the Northeast Junior College, Mississippi State University and the University of North Alabama, where he received a BS degree with emphasis in commercial music and business administration.

CORINTH—Miss Anita Lynn Deaton and Jackie Howard French were married in a mid-afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Corinth on Dec. 27.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie W. Deaton of Corinth and Mr. and Mrs. Willie H. French of Union.

The Rev. John M. Causey officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which was directed by Mrs. Buford Jones.

A program of nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Ricky Stockton and Miss Meta Nichols. Miss Maria Tsagarakis was featured in the vocal selections and was accompanied at the guitar by Scotty Perkins, who sang with her on one of the selections.

As the couple knelt on the prayer bench, the Rev. Causey sang "The Lord's Prayer." Before leaving the altar, the couple paused to light the Unity candle.

Vows were exchanged before an altar of tiered candelabra entwined with greenery and mums. Arrangements of gladiolus, mums and pompons reflected the bride's colors used throughout the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown made by her mother of white organza over satin. The empire bodice was lace and featured a Queen Ann neckline, decorated with tiny pearl buttons down the center front, and long fitted sleeves.

The flowing skirt extended into a chapel train and was circled with a deep ruffle of organza. The organza over skirt was edged with scalloped lace which was repeated at the neckline, the lower edge of the bodice and the sleeves. The full length veil of illusion, edged with lace, fell from a crown overlaid in lace and seed pearls and was also created by the bride's mother.

The bride carried a silk cascade bouquet of burgundy and pink roses, stephanotis and baby's breath with strands of pink satin ribbon.

Miss Jeanie Deaton of Memphis attended her sister as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs.

Vickie Parker, sister of the groom of Gulfport, and Miss Maria Tsagarakis of Corinth.

The attendants wore burgundy floor-length gowns of polyester knit with slim skirts and spaghetti straps. They carried bouquets of daisies, baby's breath and greenery.

The groom was attended by his father, Willie H. French, as best man. Groomsmen were Marty Weaver of Starkville and Dennis Young of Louisville. Ushers were Dexter Gordon and Steve Hansford of Starkville and Wayne Parker, brother-in-law of the groom, of Gulfport.

Mrs. Deaton wore a street-length dress of navy, cranberry and gray print. Mrs. French wore a street length dress of plum. Both mothers wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

Reception

Following the marriage ceremony, a reception was held in the chapel of the church. The room was lit only with candlelight. Miss Holly Harris presided over the registry table.

The groom's table, containing the chocolate groom's cake in the shape of two wedding bells, was presided over by Miss Kim Weaver and Miss Pam Taylor. Mrs. Wayne Vandiver presided over the bride's table. Punch was served by Mrs. A.B. Isbell. Others who assisted with the reception were Mrs. James C. Harris, Mrs.

Mr. And Mrs. Jackie French

Hubbard King, Mrs. Don Glisson and Miss Robin Glisson.

Tiny rice bells were distributed to the guests by Miss Jennifer Anderson and Master Andy Anderson, cousins of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the couple are making their home in Starkville, while they finish their education at Mississippi State University.

Rehearsal Dinner

On the eve of the wedding, the groom's parents honored the couple and wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at the Holiday Inn in Corinth. The couple chose this occasion to honor their attendants with mementoes of the event.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

On Nov. 28, the bride-elect was honored with a shower in the home of Mrs. Margie Welch of Union, Miss.

On Dec. 6, Mrs. Don Glisson, Mrs. A.B. Isbell, Mrs. Dexter Bumpas and Mrs. Harrison Dean honored the bride-elect with a bridal tea shower in the chapel of First Baptist Church, Corinth.

The Rev. and Mrs. James H. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bishop were in Bethel Springs, Tenn., Thursday to visit with the Rev. and Mrs. Artie Goodrum.
To correct an error in last week's column: the White Bible service at the Rienzi Baptist Church was for Linda Isbell and Kenny Monroe and not for Linda Bishop. Sorry about the error. The family name of Linda's mother must have entered my mind.

Vicki Lynn Downs

Vicki Downs To Wed Mark White

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Downs of Booneville announce the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Lynn, to Mark D. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy White of Booneville.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late

Mr. and Mrs. E.M. Morris and the late Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Downs of Booneville.

The prospective groom is the grandson of Mrs. Willie White of Booneville and the late Dee White of Booneville, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dodds.

Miss Downs is a graduate of Booneville High School. She is an employee of Brown Shoe Company in Booneville.

Mr. White attended New Site High School and is employed with Harris Logging in Booneville.

The wedding will be solemnized at 7 p.m. on March 27 at the Gaston Baptist Church.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Dental Aptitude Test Set

Students who are planning to enter the dental hygiene program at Northeast Junior College, Meridian Junior College or the University of Mississippi Medical Center this fall, are reminded that the American Dental Hygiene Aptitude Test, a pre-requisite to the program at all of the above mentioned facilities, will be given Saturday, Feb. 21 in Estes Hall on the Northeast campus beginning at 8 a.m.

A registration fee of $16 per person is required upon arrival to the testing center.

Similar to the American College Test (ACT), the Dental Hygiene Aptitude test examines proficiency in reading comprehension, mathematics, verbal, and science. This does in no way, however, eliminate the need for taking the ACT, a Northeast spokesman said.

Students who plan to enter the two-year dental hygiene program must make application for admission to the college and to the program, itself. This is not a pre-requisite to writing the Dental Hygiene Aptitude Test.

A combination of classroom study, as well as on-hands clinical training, are included in the program. The required curriculum includes the study of English, speech, social problems, anatomy and physiology, and organic and inorganic chemistry.

Langston On Dean's List

A total of 274 students were named to the Dean's List at Millsaps College in Jackson for the 1980 fall semester.

Students receiving the distinction are those who have earned at least a 3.2 grade point average in 12 or more semester hours of work.

The clinic at Northeast Junior College currently houses approximately 15 stations for this on-hands training. Patient care is available to the public four days a week by appointment only.

A Booneville student included on the list was Shane Frederick Langston, 100 Downing Drive.

Mrs. K.E. Smith of Corinth has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnsey Sr. during the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Williams visited in Memphis over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. T.O. Cox are now at home from the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth. Mr. Cox is able to be out in town some. Friends and family are happy to know they are improving so nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts, Greg and Alicia Roberts of Covington, Tenn., were in Rienzi Friday night for the Isbell-Monroe wedding.

Miss Carol Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sparks, all of Corinth, were dinner guests Sunday of their grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. James H. Moore.

Among our people who have been kept indoors this week due to illness have been Mrs. Bobby Connor and Mark Connor, Chad and Travis Potts, Tim Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lawson and Josh Lawson.

Get well wishes go to all our area people who are not well.

Mr. Marvin Hearn is also very sick, having just returned home from the hospital.

Insurance cards now accepted for payment

Insurance Companies pay for Chiropractic care and other services in our clinic. This offers distinct, important advantages to our patients in comparison to other offices.

As all the services performed in our office are recognized by major medical insurance companies, many patients in our area are suffering needlessly when their insurance (either through work or private policies) would cover a major portion, if not all of their treatment. With verified coverage, most services are billed directly to the insurance company, making little or no payment necessary from the patient! If you would like for us to find out what your individual policy would cover, please call us at the office; 728-8456.

Booneville Happenings

By JESSIE PRESLEY
Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fugitt of West Memphis, Ark., were guests of Mrs. Hollis White and other relatives last weekend.

Mrs. Ruth Keeton and Mrs. Dewey Martin were in Starkville recently to attend a tea for Beverly Kim Keeton, bride elect of Donald Greg Buffum of Redmond, Wash., and Jackson, Miss.

Former State Senator Charley McCoy of Wheeler passed away early Sunday morning in the North Mississippi Medical Center, Tupelo. Mr. McCoy suffered a heart attack a few days ago. We extend our deepest sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith of Laurel, Miss., are the proud parents of a big 9½ lb. boy, born Feb. 4. Jerry is the son of Julius Smith of Bridge Street. We congratulate this family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Kelso of Mantachie were recent guests of Mrs. Evie Holly, of Mimosa Drive.

The Town Motel was the setting for a Sweetheart Banquet for the Youth of Calvary Church, Monday night, Feb. 2. The tables were beautifully arranged using a St. Valentine Theme. The speaker for the occasion was Tony Wilkerson of New Albany.

Twenty people enjoyed the event. Riley and Brenda Presley are directors for this age in the Youth Department.

This week we welcome a new (or maybe it is a renewal) subscriber. They are, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Green, 201 Edison Ave., Muscle Shoals, Ala. Thank you folks, your paper will be on its way this week. We always appreciate our out of state readers as well as our home folks.

Spending the weekend

DEREK TIMBES

Derek Jerome Timbes, son of Ronnie and Debbie Timbes, celebrated his second birthday Jan. 27.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ivey of Booneville and Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Timbes of Burnsville.

ROBBY MICHAEL

Robby Cleveland Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Lee Michael of Booneville, celebrates his first birthday today, Feb. 12.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hayden of Booneville and Myrtle Michael and the late Cleveland Michael of Booneville.

with Mr. and Mrs. John Ratliff were Mrs. Myra Wray and Chad of Memphis. While here, the family celebrated Myra's birthday.

Mrs. Jewell Owens of Wheeler was buried Sunday. We wish to expressed our sincere sympathy to her family.

Jim Tice is a patient in our local hospital. We wish Jim an early recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crow of Tupelo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N.B. Murphy on Sunday.

Mrs. Raymond Spencer was a weekend guest of Mrs. Nona Tate.

Miss Mary Browning was buried last Wednesday afternoon. We extend sympathy to this family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Moss and granddaughter Leslie Moss of Birmingham, Ala., visited with Mrs. Kate Wren and other relatives during the weekend.

Mrs. Elsie Butler and Mrs. Hula Strange of Iuka visited with friends and relatives in Booneville Sunday. They attended the Worship service of Calvary Baptist Church in the morning.

Mrs. Jean Downs is a patient in our local hospital. We wish Jean a complete recovery.

I had a nice visit (telephone) with our former correspondent Lila Fulghum last Saturday. Lila says she keeps busy going to the center, but does miss her association with friends at the Banner-Independent and readers of this column. She spent several weeks recently with relatives in Pascagoula.

Mrs. Margurite Moore recently went back to Memphis for a checkup. She has improved some, but still needs our prayers.

Mrs. Bessie Carter is a patient in our local hospital. We send her get well wishes and assurance of our prayers.

Miss Clara Killough of Jackson, Miss., passed away on the weekend and was buried at Antioch Church Monday afternoon. We extend our deepest sympathy to her family.

St. Valentine Day is Saturday, Feb. 14. There will be many excited boys and girls on that day. Little ones, big ones, young and old will be involved, for, you see, love is meant for all (God so loved the world...). Our thought this week is centered on love for "Mother & Fathers." So parents this poem is for you especially.

"What are Parents?"

Nothing on earth is more precious and dear

Than the love of a father and mother,
They care for their children and teach them the value

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on March 19, 1975, J.L. Chisholm and wife, Mrs. Ora Chisholm and Charles W. Chisholm and wife, Elizabeth Chisholm, executed a Deed of Trust to Northeast Mississippi Production Credit Association of Tupelo, Mississippi, which Deed of Trust is of record in Deed of Trust Book 104, Pages 228-230, Chancery Clerk's Office, Prentiss County, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, Northeast Mississippi Production Credit Association has heretofore substituted Eugene B. Gifford, Jr. in the place and stead of the late O.T. Duncan, with said substitution of Trustee appearing of record in Trust Deed Book 129, Page 327, Chancery Clerk's Office, Prentiss County, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, default having been made in the terms and conditions of said Deed of Trust and the entire debt secured thereby having been declared to be due and payable in accordance with the terms of said Deed of Trust, and the legal holder of said Deed of Trust, Northeast Mississippi Production Credit Association, having requested the undersigned Substitute Trustee to execute this trust and sell said land for the purpose of raising the sums due thereunder, together with attorney fees, Trustee's fees and expenses of sale.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Eugene B. Former Sheriff problem."

Testimony showed that in the late afternoon of Sept. 5, 1978, Billy Hughes came to the Booneville Police Department and a few officers he had been robbed at gunpoint by Harold Elliott. It was not determined if the robbery happened in the city or county, so Justice of the Peace in the 4th district, Billy Sartin, came and talked to Hughes.

"I issued an affidavit that stated 'On 5 Sept. Harold Elliott did take $35 or $40 at gunpoint from Billy R. Hughes.' I issued a warrant for the arrest of Harold Elliott after Hughes signed the affidavit. Then I gave the warrant to the sheriff a few minutes later," Sartin testified.

Ed Jenkins, attorney for the plaintiff, then pointed out that on the arrest warrant Elliott was charged with "robbery" not "armed robbery."

Martin testified that he, along with 5th district constable, John O. (Bobby) Lambert, then went to Parker's residence because he had information that Elliott was "holding up" there.

Upon arriving at Parker's residence, Martin said they saw a "brown '71 or '72 Monte Carlo" in Parker's carport. Martin said he ran a check on the tag and found the car belonged to Elliott.

Martin said Lambert went to the front door and knocked while he went to the carport door and knocked. "I told him (Elliott) I was the sheriff and I had a warrant for his arrest. But there was no response from inside," Martin said.

Then Martin said he and Lambert looked in the car and saw "a can or two of beer in the floorboard."

"I hollered and beat on the carport door, but there was still no response," Martin testified.

Meanwhile as Lambert looked through a window, Lambert said he saw two persons run from the front of the house to the back of the house, Martin testified.

"I got on the PA system and begged Elliott to come out. I said 'This is the sheriff of Prentiss County and I have a warrant for your arrest...come on out,'" Martin said.

Lambert later testified it appeared someone had pried open a door to the house with a lug wrench.

Martin said other law enforcement officials began arriving at Parker's residence and that from "30 to 50 people" gathered. Martin said he "tried to keep the crowd back."

Meanwhile, Martin said, he sent for Elliott's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Foy Elliott asked their son to come out, but they received no response, Martin said.

Joe Ray, Langston, attorney for the defendant, then asked Martin when he decided to use tear gas.

"This was the last thing I was going to do. I'd considered storming the house but I thought tear gas would be safer," Martin testified.

Martin said he requested the police department send tear gas to the Parker residence.

"I considered Elliott dangerous. I had a warrant for him for armed robbery," Martin said.

"After the tear gas arrived," Martin testified, "I told Elliott I'd give him five minutes to come out with his hands up or the tear gas would be thrown. I might have waited longer than five minutes."

He said two canisters of tear gas were thrown. A fire started shortly after the second canister was thrown but Martin said he did not know how the fire started.

Tommy Comer, attorney for the plaintiff, asked Martin if he knew anything about tear gas. "No," replied Martin.

Comer asked Martin if he read the tear gas canister that said the tear gas was to be replaced before August 1967.

"I didn't have time to check the dates," Martin said. "I didn't see the canisters. I wanted to get the man out safe with nobody hurt or nothing. I thought using tear gas was the safe thing to do," Martin testified.

Testimony showed that shortly after the second tear gas canister was thrown in the house, a fire started and Elliott ran out of the house, followed by a woman. Before the fire department arrived, the house burned.

Parker testified damage to the house amounted to $30,444.00.

Elliott, who had previously served on the police force for three months, testified he had a key to Parker's home for "five or six years." He said on Sept. 5, he went in Parker's residence with "a key. I always went there when I wanted to."

Elliott testified he went to the Parker residence at 9 a.m. on Sept. 5 to take the Parker's dachshund dog to his mother's house while the Parkers were away.

The Parkers had already left for Arkansas when he returned, Elliott said.

On cross-examination by attorney Langston, Elliott was asked why he returned to the Parker residence. "I was just sitting around the house. I stayed with him (Parker) a lot," Elliott said.

Elliott then testified he went to the Lake City Grocery store about 1 p.m. He said he saw Billy Hughes standing with a woman on the side of the road in the curve by the store.

"Something happened to Hughes' car," he said, and Hughes flagged him down.

Elliott testified he took Hughes and the woman to Baldwin to buy whiskey.

"We got to Baldwin about 2 p.m. We stopped to do drinking on the way. We all three were drunk. On the way back, Hughes and the girl had a fight. I let Hughes out of the car close to Underwood Store in Lee County about 5:30 p.m. We got to Parker's house about 6:30 p.m.," Elliott testified.

Elliott testified he and the woman were still drinking at Parker's residence. Elliott, who said he had his own bedroom in the house, said he went to sleep about 7 p.m. "I was in my bedroom. I'm not sure where she was. Smoke woke me up. I don't know how long I was asleep."

Elliott told attorney Langston he did not hear the megaphones used by law officers, or his parents, or see the lights of the patrol cars.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were Thomas Comer, Leroy Long, and Ed Jenkins.

Attorneys for the defendants were Joe Ray, Langston, Duncan (Bubba) Lott, and George Via.

Circuit Judge Thomas Gardner presided over the trial.

Eligibility Criteria Changed

The Prentiss County School District has announced that, due to the passage of Public Law 96-499, the family size and income eligibility criteria for free and reduced price meals for children served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and Special Milk Programs have changed for the remainder of the school year.

The accompanying income scale will be used for determining eligibility.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. However, the four special hardship conditions (usually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses) have been eliminated. A standard deduction for each household has been incorporated into the income scale instead.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the office in each school.

The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. A simple statement of income and family size is required, plus a signed certification by an adult household member that the information provided is correct.

Families who have applications on file and do not wish to reapply will have their children's eligibility redetermined and will be notified of any change.

Families of children whose benefits are reduced or terminated will receive written notice of the change at least 10 days before the effective date of the change.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

County school principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the decision of the determining official, he or she may wish to discuss it with the official on an informal basis.

If a parent wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Lex Cain, County Supt. of Education, P.O. Box 147, Booneville, MS 38829, phone number 728-4911, for a hearing to appeal the decision.

"Belated" is a word befitting me of late. I am behind with mailing cards, keeping up with daily Bible reading, etc., all because of infection in my eyes and arthritis. Hopefully I can stay on track henceforth.

Many people have been ill due to colds, viruses, and flu.

Mrs. Nelda Green had surgery in Tupelo on Jan. 30. She is home now and improving.

Clyde Gardner remains in an unchanged condition.

Mrs. Virgie Harris had a check-up last Friday with Dr. Fleming. She seems to be feeling a little better.

It was good to learn that my brother, M.L. Sandy Sr., is able to be at work again following surgery. He is steadily losing weight as his doctor had recommended.

Mrs. Pauline Jones and Mrs. Ruthie Inman were in Henderson, Tenn., Feb. 1-6 attending the annual lectureship at Freed-Hardeman College.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Barber attended the day sessions of the lectureship. They commuted each day and were accompanied once by Arthur Barnes.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the relatives of Mrs. Jewel Owens and Mrs. Clara Rutherford. Mrs. Owens' funeral was Feb. 8, and Mrs. Rutherford was laid to rest in the Lebanon cemetery on Feb. 1.

More about the sick: Mrs. Ola Glover is a patient in the Baldwin hospital, room 63. Aunt Myrtle Harris has good days and bad.

Get well wishes go to all these people, to those in nursing homes and to shut-ins.

Belated birthday greetings to my sister, Ruby Wilson and to Jimmy Dale Harris. They celebrated Feb. 5.

BETH HODGES

Beth Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D. Hodges of Booneville, celebrated her second birthday on Jan. 7.

Her grandparents are Mrs. Mary Lence of Ripley and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hodges of Booneville.

BRANDON STEVENS

Brandon Gerald Stevens, son of Gerald and Belinda Stevens of Booneville, celebrated his first birthday Feb. 3.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Beck and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Downs, all of Booneville. His great-grandmother is Mrs. Lessie Richardson.

their golden wedding anniversary on Feb. 8. Many friends and relatives came to the reception, bringing varied gifts.

It is wonderful to see couples who have shared joys, labors, and sorrows for that many years; especially when you look around and see what's going on—so much permissiveness and loose morals. Parents should wake up and teach their children God's plan for relationships.

Eunice and Nora Barber and Mike Coats along with other 4-Hers enjoyed a skating party Saturday night at the Dixieland Center.

What Would Jesus Do?

When heart is heavy and body is weary, too. When you're discouraged and no hope in view.

Just cheer up and say, "What would Jesus do?"

When friends ridicule with taunts and jeers,

When your soul is dismayed by doubts and fears

Always say over and over, "What would Jesus do?"

If on Lord's Day you're inclined in bed to stay,

Or you have a desire to sport and play,

Ask yourself if that would please Him, What would Jesus do?

Gail Groves, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Nell Rogers, was seriously injured in a car accident last Wednesday morning here in the city. As of Sunday morning, she was still a patient of the Tupelo hospital and reported to be in good condition. We are praying for her complete recovery and hope that she will be home soon.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rowland was badly damaged by fire on Sunday evening. We are thankful that they were able to escape un-injured. A fire in the home of Willie Lee Tynes Wednesday night caused a few hours of apprehension, but no serious damage was done.

A number of fires within the community recently has been the cause for great concern and home owners are urged to be on guard and caution family members to always be on the alert for possible fire hazards, to map out a possible escape route and acquaint each member with it in case they become trapped within a burning house.

Our prayers continue for the sick and shut-in of the community, always. Our failure to mention them last week does not mean that they were forgotten, for they are seldom out of our thoughts and never out of our hearts and prayers. This week, as always, we pray for their continued improvement.

Rev. E. Page of Shannon, Miss., delivered the morning message at Spring Hill on Sunday morning. His message entitled "A New Covenant," was delivered calmly, with spirit and authority as only age, experience and wisdom can produce. The result was a message received with a clear understanding and complete soul satisfaction which made for a very enjoyable and rewarding service.

A grandson accompanied him for the service. The Rev. Nathan Triplett of this city was pulpit guest.

We were, as always, happy to have students from the junior college to worship with us. To those who could not attend because of a heavy work load, good luck in your upcoming exams and we look forward to your return.

Unwanted Pets

This is an appeal to the better side of nature those who would drive through the community and leave their unwanted puppies and kittens along the roadside and in front of homes. Because of their unwanted generosity in this respect, the community is once again being over-run with stray dogs and cats who eventually find their way to some home and take up permanent residence there, much to the dismay of the home owner.

Maybe you do not realize that in ridding yourselves of unwanted pets you are also helping to create a situation that contributes to, or in itself causes, many of our health problems, such as unexplained sores, rashes, allergies and such. Because of circumstances, these problems will not longer be confined to just the Sunflower community, they will also become your problems as well. Think about it.

By the time a stray animal is old enough and strong enough to wander into some yard or the heart of some youngster, it is sickly, half starved, its body diseased and filled with sores. A child is not aware of this hazard and can only see a prospective pet to love and care for and before it can be prevented, the damage is already done.

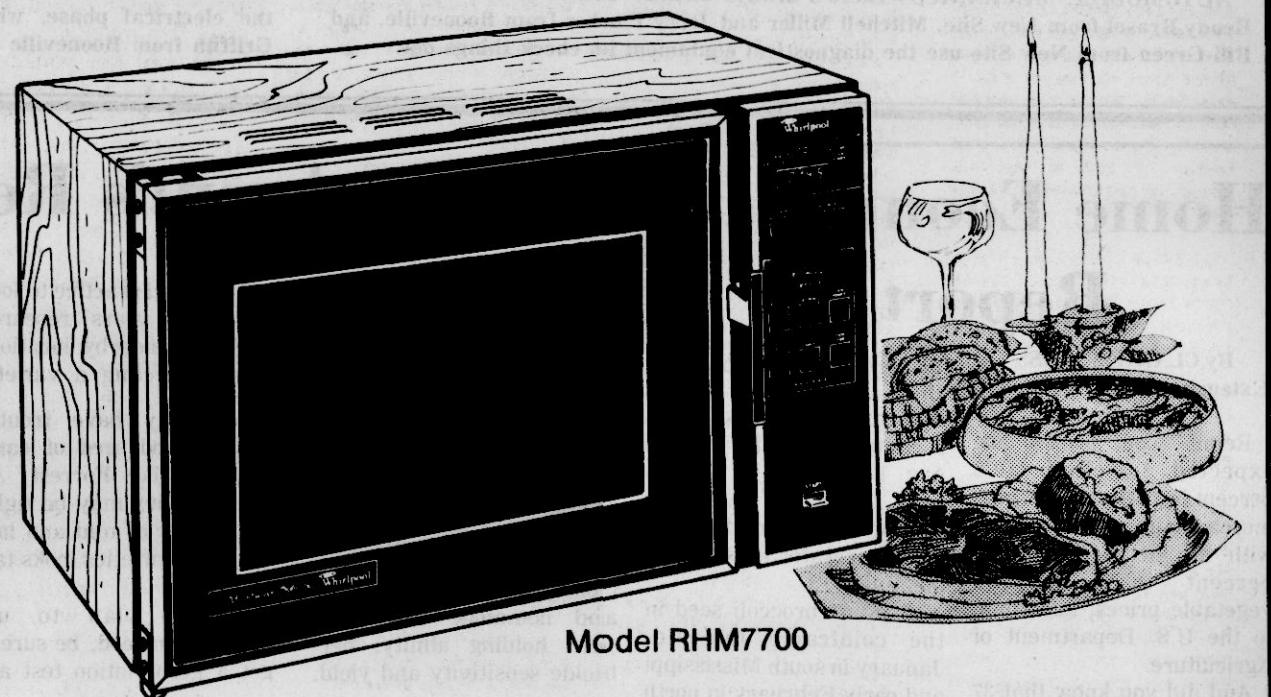

There is also the problem of waste and garbage distributed into yards by stray dogs and the dead carcass of a dog or cat left for days to decay on the roadside. For, as you know, any waste or thing that is not properly bagged will not be picked up by the garbage collectors and is left to breed germs and create problems.

There must be a better, more humane way to dispose of unwanted pets and, for the sake of better health for all of us, let's try to find it. I think we owe ourselves that right, don't you?

Thought for today: Most of us have no real loves and no real hatreds. Blessed is love, less blessed is hatred, but thrice accursed is the indifference which is neither one nor the other.

Till Next Week.

BUSINESS AND OFFICE DEPARTMENT—Coop VOT and IBT students work hand-in-hand and side-by-side. At the same time, individualized instruction is given on typewriters, calculators, transcription, and dictation. Working in the classroom are Sonja Bullard, Thrasher; Janet Brown, Booneville; Donna Roberts, Wheeler; Sherry Deaton and Monte Hare, Thrasher; Lee Mitchell and Dennis Horn, Booneville; Beverly Ivey, New Site; and Ronnie Whisenant, Booneville.

AUTOMOBILE MECHANICS—There's always another car for real "live" work. Benny Brasel from New Site, Mitchell Miller and Jerry Parker from Booneville, and Bill Green from New Site use the diagnostical equipment to check things out.

BUILDING TRADES, ELECTRICAL TRADES—Learning house building, Kerry Cummings from Thrasher and Melvin Lambert from New Site take care of the electrical phase, while Randy Barron and Andy Griffith from Booneville keep on with the construction.

INDUSTRIAL DRAFTING AND ELECTRICAL TRADES—Metal Trades students Andy Perry and Andy Duncan from Booneville look over blueprints needed for tools they will build from the drawings made by Industrial Drafting students Dee Anna McCoy from Thrasher and George Cole from Booneville.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE, DIESEL MECHANICS—Working together in the shop are Johnny Burress from Booneville and John Ray from Thrasher, both in Diesel Mechanics, and Michael Young from Thrasher and Morgan Blassingame from Booneville, both in Vocational Agriculture.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Retail food prices are expected to climb 12.2 percent in 1981, the sharpest increase in seven years, with an increase of eight percent in fruit and vegetable prices, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

And did you know that 37 percent of a grocery store's net profit comes from the produce counter? These facts should convince you that your garden in going to be more important in 1981 than in any previous year.

Some "musts" for a successful garden are:

(1) Locate the garden where it will receive full sun, yet close to a source of water. Remember what happened last year?

(2) Take a soil sample for testing as soon as possible.

(3) Add lime if the test results call for it. Almost 60 percent of last year's garden soil samples called for lime.

(4) Plan your garden size according to your needs. A garden of 40 x 50 feet (2,000 square feet) is large enough for a family of four.

(5) Start early to locate seed of recommended varieties. Order what won't be available locally. See "The Garden Tabloid" for recommended varieties.

(6) Order seed for your fall garden along with spring and summer seed. Remember, there are 90 to 115 gardening days after Aug. 1.

(7) Buy extra seed Irish potatoes and store them in the refrigerator for summer planting.

(8) Start broccoli seed in the coldframe by mid-January in south Mississippi and early February in north Mississippi.

(9) Plant according to recommended planting dates as listed in "The Garden Tabloid;" too early is as bad as too late.

Early vegetables for planting are broccoli-hybrid Green Duke; English peas—Green Arrow, Thomas Laxton; onion—Crystal Wax; cabbage—Round Dutch.

Begin to gather materials and equipment for growing your own vegetable transplants: eggplant, pepper, and tomatoes. Use sterile potting soil or mix your own using two quarts peat moss, two quarts vermiculite, and one tablespoon limestone. Fertilize using half strength water-soluble plant food. Fluorescent lights 8 to 12 inches above the seedlings for 16 hours a day will prevent spindly growth.

When selecting new varieties for trial, try hybrids and those with disease resistance. Seed prices are higher this year, so buy only what you can use. See "The Garden Tabloid" for recommended amounts of seed.

County Agent's Report

By W.H. HADEN
County Agent

Check Soybean Variety, Supply

You'll want to look at several factors before deciding on soybean varieties for planting. Consider maturity, disease and nematode resistance, seed holding ability, herbicide sensitivity and yield.

It's a good practice to look at several years' research data from nearby locations before selecting a variety.

You may have trouble finding good seed of early varieties like Forrest. All seed supplies may be tight, but quality of mid and late maturity varieties looks fair to good.

If you plan to use homegrown seed, be sure to get a germination test and have seed cleaned properly.

A vigor test will give you more information on seed quality.

Fertilizer—Use It

Don't skimp on fertilizer. It's one of your really good buys, even though prices are up 10 to 15 percent. Not too many inputs give $3 to $6 for each $1 invested, as fertilizer does when used ac-ording to soil test recommendations.

Arrange now, to get the analysis needed to meet your specific soil requirements as based on soil test.

Beware of Grass Tetany

Since many of our cattlemen will have cattle on forested or other low quality pasture this season, we might expect some problems with grass tetany.

The disease can catch us off guard, especially in periods of nutritional stress. If you are in a situation where you will be moving cattle from low quality of frosted pastures onto winter pastures, be on the alert for grass tetany symptoms.

Grass tetany symptoms closely resemble milk fever of ketosis. They include nervousness, lack of coordination, muscular spasms, staggering and death.

This can happen in our area later when ryegrass or wheat starts to grow fast and especially when weather is cloudy for three or more days.

Farmweek

On Feb. 16, Farmweek look at the importance of having soil analyzed before planting and visits the Extension Soil Testing Service at MSU for details on how a sample is tested.

There also will be a report on the pros and cons of the different kinds of cookware on the market.

Tune in Channel 2 or the ETV channel in your area at 7:30 p.m. on Monday nights.

Tigers Drop Holmes In Last Home Game

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers behind a strong second half surge topped Holmes of Goodman 81-77 at NE's Bonner Arnold Coliseum last Thursday night to clinch a sure second place spot for next week's playoffs which get underway at home.

The win gave the powerful Tigers a 14-7 overall record and an 8-4 record in the conference and the Northeast are now preparing for that all important North Playoff opener Monday night at 7 p.m. at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

In other Thursday night action against Holmes, Northeast's Lady Tigers went down to defeat to the Lady Bulldogs 63-57 in the opener for the night.

In nightcap action, Biggersville's Maurice Stafford, Northeast's All-

State showman poured in 22 points on the night followed by Booneville's solid performer Dale Groves with 19 points while Ingomar's Mark Buskirk netted 16 points on the night.

In ladies action, Booneville's Debbie Brooks paced the Tigerette scoring brigade with 15 points followed by Kossuth's Ramona Patton who was next in line with 13.

Northeast Drops Two In Double Overtime Games

The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers and Tigerettes dropped two games to Mississippi Delta both in double overtime Monday night in North Conference action.

Coach Noel Akins' Tigers, who post an 8-5 conference record and a since to finish second in the standings, dropped a squaker to the Trojans 82-76 in two overtimes that ended at 11:30 p.m. while the Lady Tigers also fell in two extra periods 68-64.

"We made every conceivable error possible and did everything wrong we could," Coach Akins said. "We just didn't get after them like we should have."

Northeast's Maurice Stafford and Ralph Griffin paced the Tiger scoring brigade with 17 points a piece followed by Dale Groves with 14, Mark Buskirk with 12, Frank Durrough, Jackie Leach and Mark Hastings with four each and Stanley Carter and Willie Robinson with two each to round out the scoring.

Delta's David Palmer netted 22 and Pat Hare had 14.

The Tigers will open playoff action Monday night at 7 p.m. in opening round action of the North Playoffs.

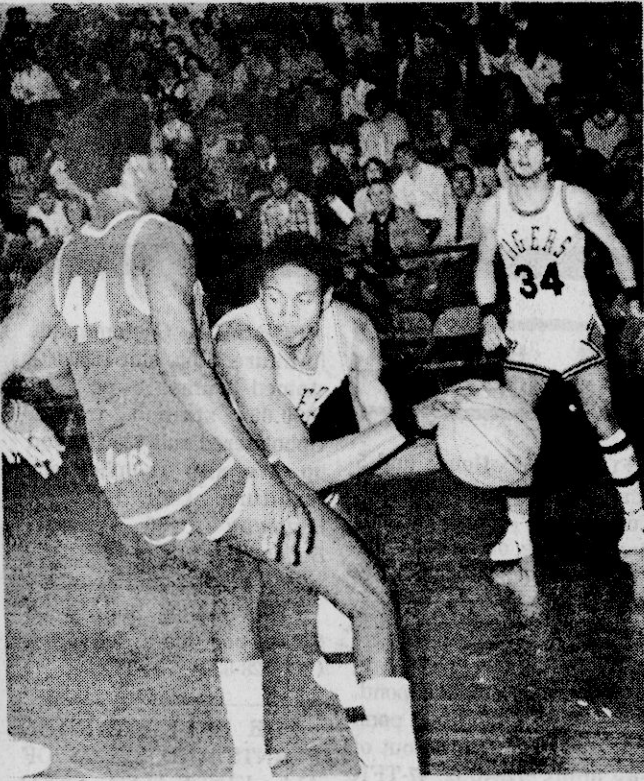

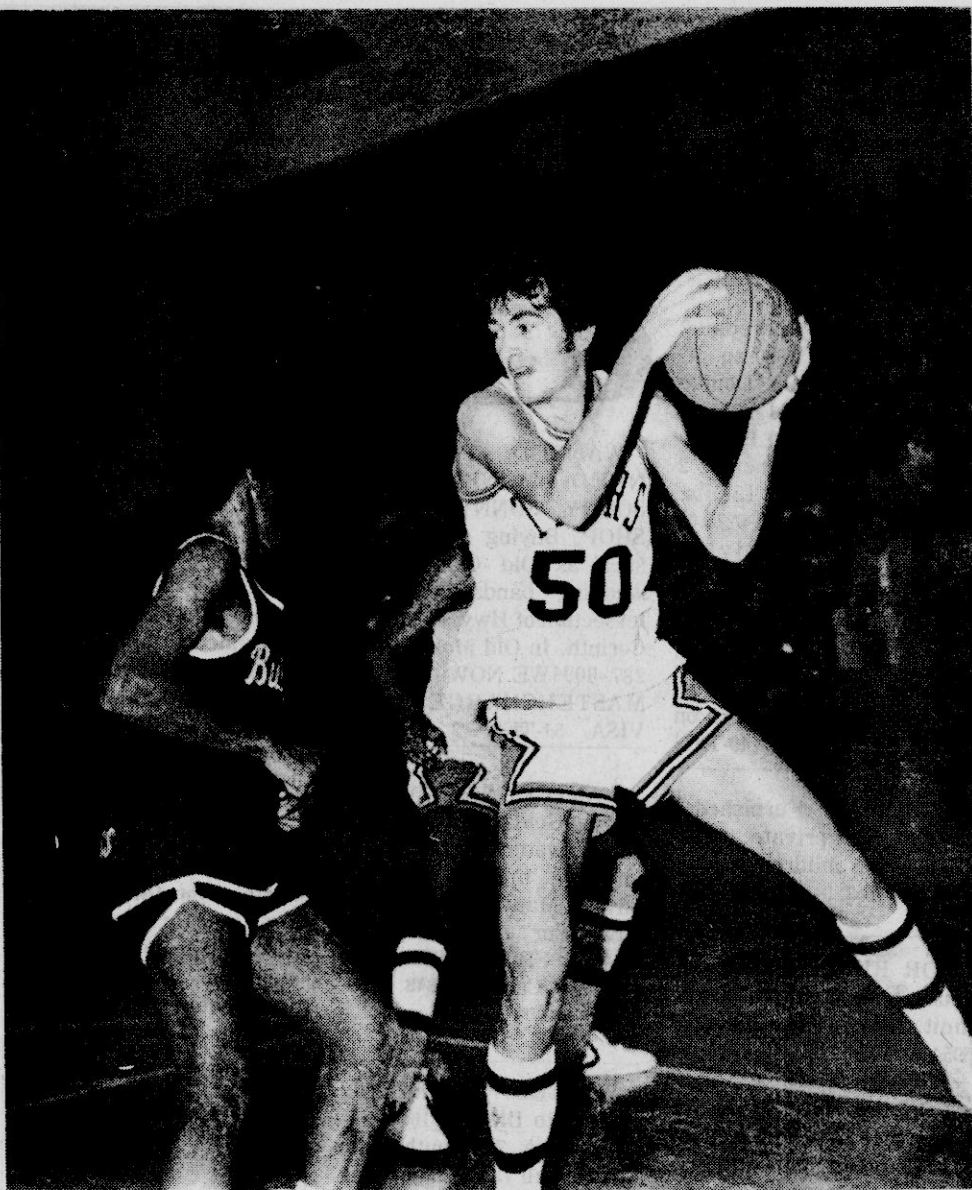

In Lady action against

Delta, The Lady Tigers hit only 36 percent from the floor against the Trojanettes and hit on 66 percent from the line in the loss.

Martha Ashmore paced the Northeast scoring brigade with 17 points on the night followed by Karen Davis with 15, Ramona Patton and Debbie Brooks with 11 points each and Kim Coker with eight points on the night.

The Lady Tigers should open their Northhalf action Tuesday night in a probable game against Holmes at Goodman. The Lady Tigers are currently fifth in the North standings.

County Teams Roll On

At presstime, several Prentiss County teams were still in competition in their respected brackets while others have bit the dust.

District action will continue this week with two teams from each bracket advancing to the North Half event next week.

Wheeler's Eagles, the area's number one team, are off and running and are expected to advance along with either New Site or Thrasher in class B while Booneville's Lady Blue Devils and Baldwin's Lady Bearcats are expected to finish strong in Class A and BB respectively.

Results of all the tournaments will be published in next week's Banner-Independent.

SLAM DUNK—Northeast's Maurice Stafford (44) slams one home here against Holmes in last Thursday's action at Northeast. Stafford scored 22 points to lead the Tigers in the win.

Cards Of Thanks

We would like to express our sincere appreciation and deep gratitude to the many friends and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful to our family during the loss of our beloved mother. A special thanks to Reverend Hulen Chaney and Reverend J.C. Prather for their prayers and comforting words. Also, a special thanks to McMillan Funeral Home and their staff for the kindness shown.

May God bless each of you.

The Family of Mrs. Ira Martin Floyd

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation to my family, neighbors and all my friends for each act of kindness shown me during the illness and death of my loved one.

Your prayers, calls, food, cards, flowers and memorials were deeply appreciated.

I wish to thank Dr. Madara and Dr. Johnson and the staff at the Northeast Miss. Hospital. Also McMillan Funeral Home for their kindness and service.

May God Bless Each of You.

Mrs. Joseph Mitchell

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to show our appreciation for every kindness shown during the illness and death of our loved one. Thanks for the many flowers, prayers, and food sent. A special thanks to the doctor and nursing staffs at Booneville and Tupelo hospitals, to Rev. Kenneth Bishop, and to the staff of McMillan Funeral Home for every comforting word. You will always be remembered.

ORDER

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, meeting in regular session on the 5th day of January, 1981, and again in recessed session on the 27th day of January, 1981, finds as follows:

WHEREAS a motion was made and seconded that the 1st District of Prentiss County, Mississippi, shall purchase an Equipment Shed for the purpose of housing and maintaining District equipment. That specifications for the construction be placed in the Chancery Clerk's office for examination by prospective bidders and further that a notice be placed in the Banner Independent for a period of three (3) weeks commencing on the 29th day of January and said bids shall be opened on the 23rd day of February, 1981, at 10 o'clock A.M. in the Supervisors Board Room at the Courthouse in Booneville, Mississippi.

A vote was taken with all 5 Districts present and motion carried unanimously.

Therefore, the Board directs the placement of a notice as above set forth and further that the specifications be made available as above indicated in the office of Phillip Cole, Chancery Clerk, Booneville, Prentiss County, Mississippi, for examination by any and all interested persons.

ORDERED this 27th day of January, 1981.

ORDER

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, meeting in regular session on the 5th day of January, 1981 and again in recessed session on the 27th day of January, 1981, finds as follows:

WHEREAS a motion was made and seconded that the 4th District of Prentiss County, Mississippi, shall purchase an Equipment Shed for the purpose of housing and maintaining District equipment. That specifications for the construction be placed in the Chancery Clerk's office for examination by prospective bidders and further that a notice be placed in the Banner Independent for a period of three (3) weeks commencing on the 29th day of January and said bids shall be opened on the 23rd day of February, 1981, at 10 o'clock A.M. in the Supervisors Board Room at the Courthouse in Booneville, Mississippi.

A vote was taken with all 5 Districts present and motion carried unanimously.

Therefore, the Board directs the placement of a notice as above set forth and further that the specifications be made available as above indicated in the office of Phillip Cole, Chancery Clerk, Booneville, Prentiss County, Mississippi, for examination by any and all interested persons.

ORDERED this 27th day of January, 1981.

Maintaining Your Mental Health

Defeating Oneself —A Grave Error

From Timber Hills
Mental Health Services

Behavioral scientists and others addicted to various forms of jargon call it "counterproductive behavior." People who use more picturesque speech would probably call it "cutting off your nose to spite your face." And most of us would probably call it "ways to defeat yourself."

At any rate staff members at Timber Hills tend to see a great many people who, in order to get back at someone else, managed to make quite a hash of their own lives.

Let's take 32-year-old Joan, for instance, who came to the mental health center because she said, "nothing ever went right" in her life. (Names and other identifying details have, of course, been changed to protect everyone's privacy, but the facts are correct.)

Joan did, indeed, seem to be getting very little fun and a great deal of trouble in her day-to-day existence, but as she discovered while talking to the counselor, she frustrated herself almost as much as she frustrated her husband, friends and her colleagues at work.

For instance, Joan seemed to expect everyone around her to be a mind reader, and if her mind was read incorrectly or not at all, she seemed to resign from her own case. As an example, she told of a recent evening when her husband had suggested that a night out on the town might be good for both of them. He then tentatively suggested going to a pizza restaurant and then a movie.

"How could Harold forget that the last time I ate pizza I was sick all night and that the movie he wanted to go to was all about killer bees, and I'm afraid of crawling and flying insects?" she asked the counselor indignantly. "So what did you suggest you do instead?" the counselor asked. "I just told Harold I didn't feel like going out and we watched re-runs of the Gong Show on TV," Joan answered.

She did not add the obvious: that she spent a very dull, angry and frustrating evening. So why had she not simply told Harold that she would prefer a hamburger place to a pizza restaurant and that "Kramer vs. Krames" a movie she had been dying to see, was playing right near their home?

"Harold should know me well enough by now not to make suggestions that will upset me," she explained. Of course, she had managed to defeat not only Harold, who was looking for a nice evening away from the TV, but herself. After all, one of her complaints was that she never got out of the house.

Joan would act in similar ways in other relationships. She would take on all kinds of extra tasks at the office and, if nobody praised her or complimented her, she would quit.

Obviously a much better solution would have been not to let herself be exploited in the first place. When someone asked her what she wanted for her birthday or for an anniversary, she would refuse to give a concrete answer.

She might be longing for a special new blouse or a radio for her bedroom or almost any other affordable present. But instead of coming out and saying that she did, she would tell relatives and friends that "anything would be all right."

Then, if she didn't get what she had set her heart on, she'd be disappointed and sulk. As a result, Harold was just giving her money as a present, and that, of course, she resented more than almost any other present he might have given her.

Joan's case was a fairly simple one. After she realized what she had been doing all along, she learned to communicate what she really felt and wanted verbally, instead of hoping that those around her would somehow pick up her wishes via some form of ESP or just plain magic. There are other people, who because they cannot or refuse to talk out what's bothering them, use their hostility to "get back" at their opponents (who usually turn out to be close relatives or friends) and end up hurting themselves worst of all.

The longer such self-defeating patterns persist, the more ingrained they become and the harder they are to break. So anyone who consistently finds that he or she is literally hurting themselves more than the person for whom the hurt was intended probably needs professional help.

Breaking that kind of pattern can be one of the most constructive ways of dealing with the increasing anger and frustration that self-defeat almost invariably brings about.

For information about services available at Timber Hills Mental Health Center phone 728-3174 or come by the offices on the Highway 30 By-Pass. After hours and on weekends phone 1-286-9209 toll free for emergency counseling services.

ASCS Report

By C.E. CALVERT
County Executive Director

could average 10 to 15 percent above a year earlier. Ammonia and urea prices will be up the most,

the report stated.

The supply of fertilizer materials will range from adequate to plentiful.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is seeking public comment until Feb. 17 on its midyear adjustment of the support price for milk and the prices and terms of purchase of butter, cheese and nonfat milk by the department's Commodity Credit Corporation.

CCC supports milk prices by purchasing surplus products from the market. Congress mandates that USDA must adjust the milk support price to reflect changes in the parity index in the first half of the marketing year. The adjusted support price will be effective April 1 through Sept. 30, the second half of the marketing year.

The index of prices paid, interest, taxes and wage rates (the parity index) is projected to increase about 6.9 percent between Oct. 1, 1980, and April 1, 1981. This would result in a 6.9 percent increase in the support price on April 1.

The support price in effect since Oct. 1, 1980, the beginning of the 1980-81 marketing year, is $12.80 per hundredweight for manufacturing milk with 3.5 percent milkfat content or $13.10 per hundredweight for milk with 3.67 percent milkfat, the national average.

Written comments should be directed to the Director, Procurement and Sales Division, ASCS-USDA, Post Office Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013. All written comments will be available for inspection at the Office of the Director during regular business hours.

Increase Seen In Fertilizer Use

Improved economic conditions in the farming sector will undoubtedly mean increased fertilizer consumption, possibly boosting 1980-81 domestic fertilizer use to record levels, according to a recent report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Increased planted acreage will push nitrogen use two to four percent above the previous year's levels. Potash will likely reach a record 6.4 million tons, up one percent, while use of phosphate could reach 5.6 million tons, a three percent increase. Total nutrient consumption is anticipated to reach 24 million tons, up about four percent from last season.

Although the outlook for increased fertilizer use in 1981 appears certain, USDA officials say a larger than expected increase in farm production costs, especially for fertilizer, or lower than expected improvements in farm commodity prices, could dampen gains in fertilizer application rates or cause smaller increases in planted acreage.

Currently, farm prices for some fertilizer materials are below May 1980 levels and appear likely to remain below those levels for the rest of the year. However, supply adjustments are expected to increase prices.

Of all types of fertilizer, nitrogen could see the largest price rise between now and the spring. By May of this year, nitrogen prices

CB Club News

By THRASHER STAR
Correspondent

For the ones of you who missed our social Saturday night, you really missed a lot of good food, great singing and wonderful fellowship. The quartet was great. Everybody had a good time.

It looks as if the "ole flu bug" is still raging. We have quite a few on the sick list still.

"Bedsprings" is in the CC unit at Booneville; Mrs. Susie Cain, "Tweety Bird's" mother, is in the Baldwin unit; and "Letter Man's" mother is in the Booneville hospital.

"The Dead Man," is at home now doing real good. "Lady Q," is still improving. I do not know of anyone else in the hospital today. Hope everybody gets better soon.

The "Lady Skunk," has been in the hospital. Sorry mone of us knew about it. They were out for the social Saturday night, but had to leave early because the "Skunk" got sick. Hope he is better now.

There will be an officers meeting Thursday night at "White Girls" at 7. Hope all of the officers can attend.

Happy birthday to the "White Girl," on Monday. Happy Anniversary to the "Birdhunters" on Tuesday. "Running Bear's" birthday is on Friday and "Apple Blossom's" is on Saturday. Also, Happy anniversary to the "Early Bird" and "Mississippi Shorty" on Saturday. Hope all of you have a nice day.

Some of the neighbors carried "White Girl" out for supper Monday night for her birthday. I even heard she had a special birthday cake from "Cotton."

Hope each of you have a nice valentines. Hope everyone has a good week. Go to the church of your choice, but go.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:
Know That Your Labor Is Not In Vain In The Lord

1 Cor. 15:58

By C. D. Edge

C. D. Edge , Pastor
Grace And United Methodist Churches

Sometime ago a woman in India was converted when she heard a missionary preach the Word of God. Because of her newly found faith, she suffered persecution from her husband. After she had been a Christian for some time, the missionary asked her, "When your husband is angry and persecutes you, what do you do?" She replied, "Well, sir I cook his food better; when he complains, I sweep the floor cleaner; and when he speaks unkindly, I answer him mildly." "I try," sir, "to show him that when I became a Christian, I became a better wife and a better mother."

The husband could withstand the preaching of the missionary, but he could not withstand the practical preaching of his wife. She won him to Christ. The Book of Titus 2:3, speaking to Christians, says--BE TEACHERS OF GOOD THINGS.
