In Second Day Of Trial

Morrow Says Shooting Accidental

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

The murder trial of Bobby Ray Morrow entered its second day Wednesday, with witnesses for the defense giving testimony that directly conflicted with testimony of witnesses for the prosecution on Tuesday.

Morrow, 34, was indicted in October on murder charges in connection with the March 22, 1980, shooting death of Junior Reece "Buddy" Baggett, 30, of Booneville.

At the end of the first day of the trial (Tuesday), District Attorney John R. Young had rested the state's case. However, after Morrow's attorneys presented his defense

Wednesday morning, Young said he would call additional witnesses for the state that afternoon.

Testimony given Tuesday indicated the shooting occurred at the house trailer residence of Hubert Morrow, the defendant's father, about four miles northeast of Jumpertown.

The State's first witness, Prentiss County Coroner and Ranger James H. Horn, testified Baggett was shot in the chest by a shotgun blast and that Baggett had a wound on his right knee and a pellet wound on his right chin. Horn said Baggett was found lying dead by the front door of the trailer.

The defendant's attorney, Joe Ray Langston, elected not to cross-examine Horn. Assistant District Attorney Richard Bowen then called Doug Hendrix, deputy sheriff, to the witness stand.

Hendrix testified Bobby Morrow was not in the trailer when he arrived. Hendrix testified he and deputy Jeff Jackson then went to Guy Morrow's trailer. Hendrix said he asked the defendant's uncle if Bobby Morrow brought a gun with him to his trailer. Guy Morrow then handed a 12 gauge single barrel shotgun to Hendrix, testimony indicated.

Hendrix said Bobby Morrow was then taken into custody.

The third witness the State called was Baggett's widow, Wilma.

Mrs. Baggett told District Attorney John R. Young she and Buddy Baggett had been married about one year and three months.

She said Baggett and Morrow were cousins.

Mrs. Baggett testified that on March 22 she and her husband went with Bobby Morrow to his (Morrow's) residence to "get Bobby's clothes." Mrs. Baggett said Morrow and his wife had separated and she told her husband "we shouldn't get involved" in their problems. However, she said, Bobby Morrow promised there wouldn't be any trouble.

GRANT APPROVED—On hand last Thursday at the Booneville City Hall for the announcement of the approval of a $3,500 federal grant to be used in the purchase of a "Jaws of Life" emergency extraction unit are (from left) Fire Chief Frank Fleming, Mayor Charles Crabb, Roy Thigpen of the Governor's Highway Safety Program, and Charlie Spearman and R.C. Anderson of the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District. They are standing in front of the city's quick response rescue unit which will house the Jaws of Life when it is received sometime within the next month.

Grant Approved

City To Get 'Jaws Of Life'

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The city of Booneville was notified last week that its application has been approved for a $3,500 federal grant to be used in the purchase of a device that officials say should reduce traffic accident deaths by 10 percent during 1981.

It may not be much to look at, but the device, called the "Jaws of Life," is considered the most important piece of equipment in a rescue unit's inventory.

It is used to free trapped victims in the shortest possible time, assuring them emergency medical treatment much faster than has often been possible in the past.

Using its hydraulic-powered muscles, the portable device can be used to lift objects that are on top of people. It can be used to cut away the roof of a wrecked vehicle, open jammed doors or push a dashboard out of the way.

It can also be used with chains to either pull, an object inward or outward, depending on the situation. The Jaws of Life is designed to work on an object when there is little time to extricate a victim, especially when the victim has life threatening injuries.

THE FEDERAL funds which make the purchase of the device possible were disbursed through Gov. William Winter's Highway Safety Program.

Roy Thigpen, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Program, was in Booneville Thursday of last week to announce the approval of the grant.

"This grant contributes to the highway safety program's goal of reducing accidents statewide," Thigpen said.

The $3,500 grant will be matched with an equal amount of local funds to make up the total $7,000 cost of the Hurst Jaws of Life.

Also on hand for the announcement were Charlie Spearman and R.C. Anderson of the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District, which helped in securing the federal funds.

"It was a pleasure, the small part we played," Spearman said. "We were delighted to be able to assist," Anderson added. "We will continue to do that."

THE NEW rescue device will be used in conjunction with the city's quick response rescue unit, a vehicle purchased in 1979 with funds from the Highway Safety Program.

This rescue vehicle was designed to aid in the prevention and reduction of death, injury and property damage resulting from traffic accidents in

Local Woman Dies In House Fire

A 54-year-old Prentiss County woman is dead as a result of a house fire in the northwest section of the county.

Mrs. Elenora Warren of Route 3, Booneville, died in the fire Monday afternoon from third degree burns over her entire body, according to Prentiss County Coroner James Horn.

The fire occurred at her home near Jumpertown.

Officials said Mrs. Warren had been released from the hospital only about two or three hours before the fire occurred. Her husband, Connie Warren, had taken her home, but had left on an errand when the house burned.

Horn said the death has been ruled accidental.

Although both the Booneville and Jumpertown fire departments answered the call to the residence, there was little they could do.

"The house was already down when we received the call," Booneville Fire Chief Frank Fleming said.

Because the house was burned to the ground, the exact cause of the fire cannot be determined, Fleming said.

Mrs. Warren's body was found lying near a fireplace in the house. There was some speculation that the fire could have started there.

Funeral services for Mrs. Warren will be held at 1 p.m. today at the Wolf Creek Baptist Church with burial in the church cemetery.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Warren is survived by four sons, Terry, Carol, W.L.

and Anthony Warren, all of Booneville; two daughters, Evelyn C. Agnew and Brenda F. Simmons, both of Booneville; four brothers, John Betts of Cleveland, Ohio, Chester Betts of Corinth, and Dave Betts and Baster Betts, both of Booneville; three sisters, Elura Miller and Lizzie Frair, both of Booneville, and Evelyn B. Simmons of Calden, Texas; and 19 grandchildren.

Grayson Funeral Home of Corinth was in charge of arrangements.

FATAL FIRE—Mrs. Elenora Warren, 54, of Route 3, Booneville, died Monday in the fire that destroyed this frame house near Jumpertown. Mrs. Warren had only shortly before returned home from the hospital, officials reported. The exact cause of the fire has not been determined. Mrs. Warren's death has been ruled accidental.

Local Judges Agree

Citizens Will Burden Of Ruling

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

Although most Prentiss County Justice Court Judges say they hear more criminal cases than civil cases, they all agreed this week that the recent Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling which declared Mississippi's Justice Court system unconstitutional as it operates in civil cases will make the consumers and creditors bear the burden imposed by the ruling.

"I rarely deal with civil cases, only occasionally," said Second District Justice Court Judge Dexter C. Cadle. "I can't tell a bit of difference in the day-to-day business because I hear criminal cases just as I did before the ruling."

However, Cadle said he disagrees with the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling issued Feb. 6.

"This ruling was unnecessary," he said. "I think this ruling is a disservice to the public and will put an extra burden on the public."

"I can't think of a better system than the way it was. The system was fair. If a merchant wanted to collect a debt from a person (up to $500) the merchant would have to pay $26 for court costs and the $26 would be added to the debt the person owed. Now the cases will have to be heard in the Circuit Court which is more expensive. And the Circuit Court is already overloaded with cases," Cadle said.

Fourth District Justice Court Judge Billy Sartin said his day-to-day business has not changed since the ruling. "I've had the same amount of cases as I've been having," he said.

Third District Justice Court Judge Dalton E. (Gene) Prentice said his number of cases is down some.

"This ruling isn't hurting Prentiss County Justice Court Judges like it would if we were living in a big city like Tupelo or Jackson," he said. "Most of the cases I hear are criminal cases. This ruling is hurting the public more than it is me."

Prentice said he does not agree with the ruling, either.

"I think it is the worst thing that ever happened as far as the Justice Court Judge is concerned. We have got to have some way to help people collect debts. It costs too much for civil cases to go through the Circuit Court. And the Circuit Court has more cases than it can handle as it is," Prentice said.

Fifth District Justice Court Judge William Anderson said the ruling is not hurting his day-to-day business. "I hear more criminal cases than civil cases," Anderson said.

On the other hand, First District Justice Court Judge Leon Lauderdale said he hears more civil cases than criminal cases. Lauderdale also said he did not agree with the decision made by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

"It's a bad situation for the people. It's going to hurt business people terribly in there."

Steen Qualifies For City Election

Booneville Alderman Charles Steen has qualified to seek re-election in the municipal election to be held this summer, according to City Clerk June Hutcheson. Steen, who has also served one term as mayor of Booneville, currently serves as the city's police commissioner.

He is the second candidate to qualify to run for one of the city's five aldermen posts, and the first incumbent alderman to do so.

Willie D. "Dicey" Jumper qualified earlier to seek one of the alderman-at-large posts.

Other candidates who have qualified to run in the May 12 election include incumbent mayor Charles Crabb and incumbent police chief Wendell W. Stacy.

R.C. Calton has qualified to challenge Stacy for his post.

The deadline for candidates to qualify for the city election is April 10.

Citizens Urged Not To Park In Alleys

Booneville Police Chief W.W. Stacy this week urged workers and shoppers in downtown Booneville not to park their cars in the alleys.

Pointing out the dangers, Stacy said, "In case there was a fire, it would be hard for the fire trucks to get in there."

"We are asking everybody to quit parking in the alleys," he said.

Parking in an alley is a violation of a city ordinance, Stacy said, and tickets will be issued for any vehicle found parked in a city alley after today (Thursday).

Legislative Coffee To Be Held Saturday

The Prentiss County Development Association and the Peoples Bank and Trust Company are sponsoring a legislative coffee in the Peoples Bank at 9:30 a.m. this Saturday, Feb. 21.

Representatives Billy McCoy and Tim Ford and Senator Bill May are expected to be present and will be available to answer and discuss any questions concerning current legislation, said Doug Mansell, PCDA executive director.

"The public is invited and encouraged to attend," Mansell said.

Cochran's Staff To Be At Courthouse

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran's mobile office staff will be in Prentiss County Wednesday, Feb. 25.

The senator's staff will be in the county board room on the first floor of the Prentiss County Courthouse from 2 until 3

Local business activity for the first month of 1981 with the Secretary of State's office showed that 38 documents were filed from Prentiss County giving notice that a creditor has filed a security interest in property of the debtor.

During this same period, one new business corporation was chartered, Secretary of State Ed Pittman reported.

Pittman said that four Prentiss Countians received their Notary Public Commissions during January. One out-of-state defendant was served through the Secretary of State's office with court process of law suits which originated in Prentiss County, he said.

In other activities, Pittman said his office is supporting reformatory legislation in a number of the areas of law which it is responsible for administering.

Recommendations concerning the proper rental of 16th section lands rented for residential and farm residential purposes have been proposed by the Land Division. The Uniform Securities Act with some modifications has been introduced for passage by the State Legislature with the support of the Securities Division.

A series of bills requiring that a notary be able to read and write English and providing for a duty of reasonable care and for statewide jurisdiction has also been advocated by the Secretary of State's office.

The State Election Commission and the Secretary of State's office are also recommending amendments to Mississippi laws which will allow voters to vote directly for the president instead of for presidential electors.

For Sheriff's Association

Membership Campaign To Begin

Prentiss County Sheriff John McCauley said last week that the Mississippi Sheriff's Association will conduct another membership campaign across the state in the very near future.

The broad purpose of the association is to increase the awareness of citizens in Mississippi in the work, needs and problems of the sheriffs and deputies, McCauley said.

The program is also expected to generate funds for the association. These funds will be used solely for the support of the Mississippi Sheriff's Boys and Girls Ranch program, which is dedicated to giving a home to neglected and needy children of Mississippi, McCauley said.

McCauley said.

The campaign will take the form of a letter from the sheriff inviting citizens in Prentiss County to become honorary members of the state association. Citizens who join the association will receive membership credentials consisting of a membership card, decal and two bumper stickers.

In addition, all members will receive periodic information from the association concerning the Mississippi Sheriff's Boys and Girls Ranches.

Sheriff McCauley is urging everyone to support this membership effort by joining the Mississippi Sheriff's Association when the membership letter is received.

However, the sheriff stresses that this is not "influence peddling." The honorary members will not be entitled to any special privilege or law enforcement powers, he said.

"Their membership card will only show that they support good law enforcement and are concerned citizens," McCauley said.

Should anyone who is already a member of the association receive one of the letters, McCauley asked that they "please accept our apologies for this mistake and disregard the notice."

City To Get

Booneville and the surrounding area.

For some time now, the city has had the quick response unit manned by trained personnel. However, until now it has lacked the necessary equipment (Jaws of Life) to operate at this maximum potential.

Thanks to this latest grant, the Jaws of Life should be in operation within the next 30 days, Booneville Mayor Charles Crabb said last week. Both the Jaws of Life and the quick response rescue unit will be stationed at the Booneville Fire Department.

The city plans to use this emergency equipment over a 30 to 40-mile radius, serving not only Prentiss County, but Alcorn, Tippah, Tishomingo and Union counties.

A GRAPHIC example of the usefulness of the Jaws of Life occurred recently in Booneville.

On Wednesday morning, Feb. 4, Gail Groves was trapped in her automobile after it collided with a gas truck on the Highway 30 Bypass.

It took rescue personnel 30 to 45 minutes to free Ms. Groves from the vehicle.

James Horn of the North Mississippi Ambulance Service said pry bars were used but they did not do any good. "Finally, we used two wreckers to pull the door apart," he said.

Fortunately, Ms. Groves had not received any serious injuries requiring immediate medical attention. She sustained a broken bone in her left shoulder and a small laceration on the back of her head, Horn said.

If the Jaws of Life had been available, Ms. Groves could have been removed from the vehicle in a fraction of the time it took otherwise, officials pointed out. This could mean the difference between life and death in some situations. What if gasoline from one of the vehicles had ignited before she could be extracted from the vehicle?

MAYOR CRABB said a training session on the use of the Jaws of Life should be held within the next 10 days or so. Rescue workers will practice with the device on some junked vehicles, he said.

He also expressed his appreciation to "all agencies who had a part in providing better equipment and safety to the people in our county."

Campus Cutie

Rhonda Vanderford

This week's campus cutie is Rhonda Vanderford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Vanderford of Corinth. Rhonda has auburn hair and green eyes and is a freshman at The Northeast Mississippi Junior College. She says she plans to attend Ole Miss later majoring in accounting. Her hobbies are, swimming, walking and ceramics and when asked about her pet peeves she said, "I hate taking pop tests." (Photo by Lee Gentry.)

Morrow

Morrow's residence in Corinth, she said, no one was there. Then Bobby's wife Jean Morrow and members of her family arrived, Mrs. Baggett testified.

Mrs. Baggett said Morrow gathered up his clothes. She then testified, "Buddy (her husband) grabbed my arm and told me to come on. He hit me once on the face. Buddy pushed me in the car. My face hit on the outside of the car."

Mrs. Baggett testified once she, Buddy, and Bobby were in the car, Buddy told Bobby, "If you ever get me in family problems again, I'm gonna stomp you."

She testified both Baggett and Morrow had been drinking.

After arriving at Hubert Morrow's residence, she testified, Baggett helped Morrow carry his clothes in the trailer. She said her husband asked Morrow for some cigarettes but that Morrow couldn't find any.

Baggett then asked her to leave, she said. Mrs. Baggett said she suggested she make her husband some coffee, he told her he was going home, she said, and he then went outside. In two or three minutes, she said, he came back in with Hubert Morrow.

After they came inside, she testified, her husband sat in a chair by the door, she sat in a chair and Hubert sat in another chair. "Then in a few seconds Hubert jumped up and hollered, 'Oh, God no...Bobby don't!'" she said.

Mrs. Baggett testified she could not see because Hubert came and stood by her chair. "I didn't know what was going on," she said.

After she heard the shot, she said, she saw her husband try to stand up. She said before he fell on the floor he said "Oh, God help me." She testified Hubert ran past her after Buddy was shot.

District Attorney Young asked Mrs. Baggett, "Did you actually see Bobby?" She answered, "I looked up and saw Bobby (Morrow) when I ran over to Buddy."

District Attorney Young asked Mrs. Baggett, "Did you see Bobby Morrow with a gun?"

She testified, "Yes. It was a big, long gun."

After District Attorney Young said there were no further witnesses for the State, Judge Thomas Gardner sequestered the jury of six women and six men for Tuesday night.

When the trial resumed on Wednesday morning, witnesses for the defense gave testimony which conflicted with that given the day before by prosecution witnesses.

The defendant, Morrow, testified that the gun he was holding discharged and killed Baggett when his father, Hubert Morrow, rushed into the trailer and the two men struggled over the gun.

Morrow testified that Baggett had told him he was going to "stomp" his brains out. He testified that Baggett then took a step toward him.

The defendant said he looked for a club and saw the shotgun belonging to his father.

Attorney Langston asked Morrow if he knew the gun was loaded. "No," Morrow said.

Morrow testified he did not point the gun at Baggett, but that he held the gun pointed toward the side of the trailer wall.

Then his father rushed into the trailer and grabbed the gun, Morrow said.

He testified that during the struggle over the gun, it discharged. He said he did not realize that Baggett had been shot until "Wilma Baggett said, 'O, God.'"

Morrow said he then told his father to call the ambulance and the sheriff's department and that he would be at Guy Morrow's residence when they came.

As of press time Wednesday, the court was recessed for lunch. Testimony was to resume Wednesday afternoon.

Attorneys for the State of Mississippi were John R. Young, DA; Richard Bowen, Assistant DA; and John Hatcher, county attorney.

Attorneys for the defendant were Joe Ray Langston and Duncan (Bubba) Lott.

collecting debts," he said. "People need someone they can go to for settling disputes where it doesn't cost them an arm and leg."

"People can come to the Justice Court Judge anytime. Now that civil cases will be tried in Circuit Court, people will have to pay an attorney's fee. Small cases now could cost a person from $150-$1,000. The Justice Court Judge might have gotten $10 out of a civil case."

"The people that need help are the ones this decision will hurt," Lauderdale said.

Forestry Bill Signed

A bill to reorganize the state Forestry Commission was signed this week by Gov. William Winter.

The governor, who was a strong advocate of the measure, said, "This change should bring stability to commission operations, help insulate the agency against politics, and insure that it operates on a highly professional basis."

Since assuming office a little more than one year ago, Winter has taken steps to professionalize the operations of several important state agencies and departments, one of Winter's aides said.

Winter praised the current state forester, Dick Allen, for his leadership and professional management of the Commission.

Applications Taken For Energy Assistance

The Northeast Mississippi Community Action Agency is now accepting applications for its Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP).

The program is an energy assistance program to help the low-income households pay their high heating costs this winter.

An applicant does not have to be on the Welfare rolls to be eligible. Eligible groups are the unemployed, aged, handicapped and low-income households who are affected by energy cost increases.

Operators of public or subsidized housing may be eligible on behalf of their tenants. Benefits to recipients will vary from $50 to $200 depending on income, region of the state, type of heating used, and category of eligibility.

Nolen U. Embry, executive director of NMCAA, said that approximately $120,000 of the $330,000 allocated to the three county area of Alcorn, Prentiss and Tishomingo counties has been issued to low-income families of the area. Applications will be taken until March 31, he said.

Persons desiring financial assistance should contact the Prentiss County Outreach Center located on the second floor of the Prentiss County Courthouse, in Booneville, or call 728-8141 for an appointment.

When applying, applicants should bring proof of household income and their energy bill. An applicant must be the one who is directly responsible for paying the household energy bill.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland I hear people talk about getting into Christ and getting out of Christ, what do they mean?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: I am not sure what they have in mind but I can give you some scripture which mentions "into" and "out." For example: 1. Baptized into Christ "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ (Gal. 3:27). 2. Baptized into his Death. "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? (Rom. 6:3). He shed his blood in his death (Jno. 19:34). 3. Baptized into one body. "For by one spirit are we all baptized into one body (1 Cor. 12:13). Now for some scriptures which mentions "out." 1. Blotted out of the book of life. "He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life" (Rev. 3:5). 2. Gathered out of the kingdom. "The son of man shall send forth his angels and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity" (Matt. 13:41). 3. Spued out of God's mouth. "So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth" (Rev. 3:15). We can see from these scriptures that the word "into" and "out" are both used with reference to Christ.

"As we now recall Prentiss County has had only one case of typhoid fever reported in more than a year. This is a mighty good record. This has been due to education and vaccination. The medical profession has been on the job."

Senate Report

By Bill May

Senator District 5

Itawamba, Prentiss and Tishomingo

This week the Legislature faced an important deadline on Thursday, Feb. 12. This was a deadline for original floor action (passage) of general bills reported out of committees in both the House and the Senate. This deadline will eliminate about 80 percent of all the general bills introduced from further consideration this session.

Some of the more important items which were considered by the Senate this week are as follows:

Senate Bill 2286 makes a permanent diversion of $42 million of the sales tax on motor fuels from the general fund to the Highway Department. This bill also provides for this diversion to increase for the next two years until such time as it reaches 100 percent of the sales tax collected on motor fuel sold in this state.

Senate Bill 2481 passed the Senate this week, and provides for grants to students attending private colleges and universities in the state of Mississippi of 25 percent of the state appropriation per student to public colleges and universities, making the cost paid by the student for attending private colleges and universities roughly the same as for attending public schools.

We were able to defeat a bill in the Senate this week which would have redistributed the state-aid road funds. Under this bill Itawamba County would have lost about $116,784.00; Prentiss would have lost about $51,758.00; and Tishomingo would have lost about $9,827.00. This type bill will be coming back again next year; therefore the fight is not over on this question.

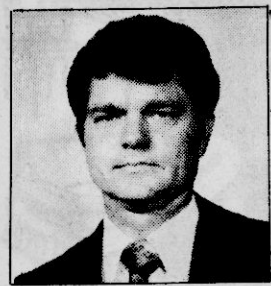

Senate Bill 2393 was passed in the Senate. This bill, it is believed, would re-establish the state garnishment law which in effect was overturned by the State Supreme Court last year.

When we returned this past Monday, we had 201 bills on the Senate calendar, and we worked into the night several nights in order to give most of these bills some consideration before the deadline Thursday night. Many of these bills have little interest to the general public, since they affect only a small segment of the people.

Next week the Senate committees will start working on general bills passed by the House of Representatives and the House begins on Senate bills. Also in the next few weeks all appropriation bills will have to be passed and trimmed to balance the budget.

I can be reached at 948-7321 in Jackson.

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy

Representative District III
Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

The week of Feb. 9 was the busiest of the year for the Mississippi Legislature.

The House of Representatives began the week with about 175 bills on its calendar to consider. Most of these bills had to be voted on favorably by Thursday or face death by this deadline day for passage of general bills in the Legislative body of their origin.

The House passed its version of the teacher pay bill. This bill provides for $800 across the board pay increase for all teachers—a $5 increase in each step for A certificate teachers—A $10 increase for AA teachers—and a $15 increase per step for AAA teachers.

In addition one step was added for A certificate holders. For most teachers, their total salary increase will range from $1,000 to $1,300.

Bills providing for public school kindergarten died in committee. The House Education Committee passed out a kindergarten bill which would have provided kindergarten for all eligible children beginning in 1982. I supported this approach rather than phasing the program in over a four year period. However, this bill died in the Appropriations Committee to which it was also referred.

Other educational proposals which are dead for this year include compulsory school attendance, appointment of county superintendents, and revisions in the State Board of Education.

However, House Bill 712 passed the House and provides that members of the county boards of education will be paid $30 per day and limits their paid meetings to 36 days per year at present they are paid $20 and can meet up to 60 days.

The House Agriculture Committee, of which I am a member, won House approval of a bill which provides that the state-owned lime pits (we now have three with the nearest being at West Point) may extend short term credit to farmers and farm supply companies for the purchase of lime.

These state-owned lime pits have done much to assure farmers of Mississippi an adequate supply of lime and have also been a factor in holding down the price of lime. These plants are operated at cost with the farmer paying the cost at no expense to the taxpayer.

While I do not want the state competing with private enterprise, I support this and other measures which help the farmer obtain lime in adequate quantities and at prices he can afford to pay. Very simply, lime controls the soil acidity and its ability to produce crops of optimum growth and production. Needless to say all of Mississippi prospers when our crop and livestock production increases.

I voted against a bill that passed which will allow liquor by the drink establishments to sell alcoholic beverages for consumption off the premises.

Very simply, if this bill becomes law, it would allow one to purchase as much as 16 ounces of any alcoholic beverage in a cup and leave the establishment. I cannot help but believe this will only put more drunk drivers on our roads and streets.

Eyes On Mississippi

Cost Is High To Holladay And Schools

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—Heavy pressure is believed mounting from the state's public education community on Dr. Charles Holladay, the State Superintendent of Education, to step down as a result of disclosures he pocketed over $14,000 from sales of sample textbooks.

The fact that Dr. Holladay probably was not the first State Superintendent of Education to convert books given him by publishing houses to his own benefit doesn't seem to make much difference to folks right now.

While the 57-year-old Holladay has publicly indicated he doesn't plan to resign, sources in the public education community say he will likely bow out by July.

Certainly his chances of being selected State Superintendent again are now considered virtually nil because of the textbook brou-ha-ha. The mild-mannered Holladay, former superintendent of the Tupelo school system, had won the office handily in 1975 and was re-elected without opposition in 1979.

But the tragedy of having made one slip in a matter of ethical judgment as a public official has obviously caused Holladay to pay a high cost. In fact, he cannot go to the legislature now to be the chief spokesman for education, the role expected of the State Superintendent.

The debacle over selling sample textbooks and the damage it has done to the State Department of Education is being cited by many in the education forces as responsible in part for the Special Education Study Committee's recommendations faring so badly before the current session of the legislature.

Education forces believe now that as long as Holladay remains at the head of the Department of Education, it will provide the legislature with a built-in excuse for keeping public schools on a very meager diet and will cripple the chances of getting such programs as state-funded kindergartens and compulsory school attendance counselors.

Much of the pressure on Holladay to resign is believed coming from county and local school superintendents of education around the state. One local superintendent, for instance, who had helped raise campaign funds for Holladay back in 1975, said some key financial contributors have been so turned off by the recent disclosures he could not go back to them.

Should Holladay prolong the agony and stay on until the end of his term, it could widen the split that has been coming on the past year or so between school administrators and the classroom teachers over an apparent attempt by administrators to discourage teachers from affiliating with activist organizations.

Perhaps the final blow to any hopes Holladay may have of holding on to his post is his evident abandonment by the leadership of the Mississippi AFL-CIO, the League of Women Voters and other organizations which have been very supportive of him in the past.

"For the good of education, he should step down," State AFL-CIO president Claude Ramsay told this column.

There is some indication that Gov. William Winter is quietly urging Holladay to resign. Behind the scenes, Winter has been involved in discussions with the Hinds County District Attorney's office about possible criminal charges growing out of Holladay's and other State Textbook Board member's involvement in the sample textbook sales.

If Holladay voluntarily steps aside, then Winter would fill the State Superintendent of Education post with an appointee of his own choice, providing Winter with a good opportunity to bring the Department of Education closer to his own administration's efforts for upgrading education. The 1981 administration backed education program, headed by kindergartens, was a total disaster in the legislature.

Several names are being suggested as possible successors to Holladay, among them Dr. Frank Lovell, a highly regarded educator who now heads the State Educational Finance Commission, and Dr. Robert Fortenberry, superintendent of Jackson's public school system.

Some close to public education say that a firmer hand needs to be taken at the top administrative level in the State Department of Education to force consolidation of a number of smaller schools districts around the state to convince the legislature that public school leadership wants to cut down on administrative waste and duplication.

Until some dramatic change takes place, the school forces fear education's credibility with the legislature will indeed be low.

Farmers Experience Lean Profit Years

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau
Federation

History records that the industrial revolution in the early 19th century sent America's working people scurrying into a new dimension of growth and sophistication that has run mostly unchecked throughout two centuries.

As America makes a frantic pitstop before plunging headlong within a few years into a new century, it appears that new economic factors may put a few clamps on agricultural growth for growth's own sake, and better fine tune its fuel consuming carburetor for efficiency's sake.

In the early 1800's most of America's smaller production units became obsolete, replaced by larger ones and the name of the game was increased efficiency through size. Bigger was distinctly better in all measures, and a man with a bigger machine gained almost always a clearcut advantage over another man with a smaller machine.

It happened in the factories and the mills of the land. And in quick order it spread to the farms. As early as 1833 Hussey and McCormick had invented their reaping machine which came into widespread use at the time of the Civil War. In 1858 Marsh patented a harvester that doubled the harvest speed. In 1878 John Appleby invented a twine binder replacing wire and increasing the speed of the operation eightfold.

James Oliver produced his chilled-steel plow in 1869 followed by disc plows, disc harrows, straddlerow cultivators, and seeders that sowed, covered, and fertilized at the same time. Between 1855 and 1894 the average time of human labor required to produce one bushel of corn declined from four hours and a half to three-quarters of an hour. The production time for a bushel of wheat dropped from three hours in 1830 to ten minutes in 1894.

Then came steam power and internal combustion engines and steel wheels were replaced by rubber tires and modern agriculture sent its mid-wife home.

The first three-quarters of the 20th century have been marked by continued equipment and farm-size growth in the interest of stepped-up efficiency. Recent innovations on the farm have included computerized modules and air-conditioned cabs with radios, tape decks, and other sophistications of this modern on-going society.

Largeness has increased horsepower which has meant deeper, faster, better tillage and land maintenance. The efforts of a single operator have been greatly multiplied and efficiency ratings have soared based on productivity and manhours saved. The impact has created the greatest success story in human-machine productivity this world has known. Modern industry fell by the wayside as agriculture made world-wide shock waves with one farmer in this nation producing enough for himself and 60 others. The results turned this nation's lagging balance of payments around, and provided the food and fiber resources so desperately needed in under-developed nations.

Yet today in the 1980's this vast system is sorely threatened by inflation, energy costs, government regulations, political interferences, and the same old weather problems of all generations which have combined to cut farmers off at the pass short of profit peaks.

Mississippi farmers have experienced mostly lean profit years since 1973, with the exception of 1979. Some have cashed in their high investment. Others would if they could, but do not have that option due to mortgages or liens. Still others have in a naged almost miraculously to hold their heads above the water. Some few have continued to make a profit and continue to expand.

But virtually all will be giving attention to further fine tuning their operations and weighing further expansions against the cost-return ratio. Some will be looking to different enterprises, to more controllable markets, and—in short—to more austere operations.

Farmers have come closer to extensive versus intensive operations—a concept that has moved from a future to a menacing, nagging, now consideration.

News From The Prentiss County Development Association

By Doug Mansell
Executive Director

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Prentiss County Development Association will begin its 1981 membership drive in the coming weeks. Our goal this year has been set for 500 members. This figure may seem somewhat high; however, when compared with surrounding county chamber of commerce and development agency's membership lists, we have just begun.

Remember this when someone approaches you for membership. PCDA is a organization that is working solely toward making Prentiss County a better place to live; toward expanding business and industry in this area. A member of the PCDA is thus buying the services that improve his hometown, his outside activities, and expand his business.

LEGISLATIVE BULLETINS

Each week while the State Legislature is in session, the PCDA receives from the Mississippi Manufacturers Association weekly bulletins which list House and Senate bills. In each publication details are given on several of the more important bills which affect this state and area. These bulletins are available at this office for those desiring to review.

On the trips that I have made to Jackson, I have made it a point to drop by and visit the men that represent our county in both the House and the Senate. I can honestly say that on each visit I have found them doing exactly what you elected them to do. They may not always vote for or work for things that are important to you. However, the only way for them to know how you feel about a particular bill is to contact them. Rest assured that they will listen to your opinion.

ONGOING ACTIVITIES

The PCDA will be involved in several activities this year and one of the more important ones will be the continuation of a project started in the latter part of 1980. The Planning and Development Committee is preparing a county wide promotional pamphlet which will include general information and colored photos of our area.

The development of this pamphlet will be a step forward for our community in that no such document presently exists. This pamphlet will be used to inform prospective industries and other concerns about the opportunities that are presently and that will be available in Prentiss County. Anyone interested in the formulation of this project is encouraged to contact the PCDA office.

SOMETHING FOR ALL OF US TO THINK ABOUT

The stranger you saw in town yesterday was passing through—perhaps he just needs a gasoline, wanted a cup of coffee, or stopped for lunch. Maybe he was a sales representative calling on customers in Prentiss County, or he could have been an industrial representative sizing up our area as a possible site for an operation. Or was he a doctor, dentist, attorney, or another professional looking for a place to practice?

An individual looking for a place to locate his business often comes to town unannounced. In a short time he knows a great deal about us. He first notices the entrance to the city...is it attractive or is it littered with junk cars, equipment, weeds, trash and debris?

He drive through the commercial area—are the streets and sidewalks clean and free of litter? Are the store fronts attractive? Is there evidence of a thriving community? He stops at service stations, restaurants and retail stores—does he receive a friendly greeting? Is the service good? Do the employees seem to like their work? Do they invite him to come again? He talks to people who live here—are they glad to live here? Do they brag about their community? Do they show an interest in the improvements around them?

If the responses he gets are mostly negative, this individual probably will not contact the PCDA or city officials—he will just leave quietly, travel down the highway and find a community that cares.

Be careful of what you say and how you act to strangers.

For Booneville Schools

Changes Announced In School Meals Program

The Booneville City Schools have announced that, due to the passage of Public Law 96-499, the family size and income eligibility criteria for free and reduced price meals and/or free milk for children served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, and/or Special Milk Programs have changed for the remainder of the school year.

The accompanying income scale will be used for determining eligibility.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible meals and/or free milk. However, the four special hardship conditions (unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses) have been eliminated. A standard deduction for each household has been incorporated into the income scale instead.

The applications which are currently on file are being reevaluated to determine whether children are eligible for free benefits, for reduced price meals, or for paid meals under the new criteria. Families of children whose benefits are reduced or terminated will receive written notice of the change at least 10 days before the effective date of the change.

Families who wish to submit a new application may obtain an application form from each school's office. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. A simple statement of income and family size is required, plus a signed certification by an adult household member that the information provided is correct.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and receive written notice of the change at least 10 days before the effective date of the change.

Memories I Recall
By MAE DEAN LAMBERT

Mr. Milton English was a small man in stature but a huge stepping-stone to everyone in Jumpertown Community.

First of all he was a provider for his family, a loving father and husband.

Next to his home was his love for the Jumpertown United Methodist Church. He was a life-long member and missed very few services. Mr. Milton was one of the first to arrive on Sunday and after walking through each room to see if things were in order, he'd likely sit down at the organ and play those old hymns until people began to gather in. Then he'd get up "preacher" in his familiar gesture, and seek the Lord. He was songleader for 50 years. The first song he sang was "Man Never Dies"—at Jumpertown, the memory of Mr. Milton never will.

We depended on him—he might be on the same song—wrong verse, but he'd be the first to laugh, back up and start again.

This was our Mr. Milton.

Next to his church the community service was important and a necessity to him. He chose to drive a school bus—43 years regularly. Children were not just riders; they were very dear and personal to him. They all loved him, like no other, and he was the only one who had time to stop at the store at the end of the day to let all unload and buy a treat. This was our Mr. Milton.

He was an active supporter of all activities in the community and a member of the Masonic Lodge.

He led a simple life—never traveled far, but his joys were vast and sure.

He never wanted riches, but what he wanted made him rich. Mr. Milton was a living example that to have these riches man must plan with love, build with peace, harbor with humility, and must walk with respect of his own kind.

This was our Mr. Milton.

We all like to wander in Memory of years gone by, if we may—
When living was slow and simple
In the joyous time of yesterday
We'll always treasure the example
That Mr. Milton set,
As the struggle of life goes on, and
The haste of the world forgets—
He was always as close to my Family as the fence that divided our land
From the time I was a small fry
I knew he was an admired Christian man.
A better neighbor—one could never seek,
He shared a blessed influence.
Yet he was so meek.

His place in the choir will be
A vacancy, yet held so dear—
Because he stood there faithfully
For fifty long years.
He jolted on that old school bus—
Forty-three years or more—
Every child felt secure when
He opened the door.

Yes, there'll always be a memory
Of Bus No. 11.

Because we know, Mr. Milton, the Driver has gone to Heaven—
He'd spend the entire day
In the Lunchroom "helping out"—
No pay—just love for his wife
And others without a doubt.
Because we knew him—We'll find
A deeper joy—a sweeter bliss—
Because his life has ended he will Be really missed.

There will be memories from all
The rest apart.
Memories we shall always keep
Forever hidden in our hearts.
I'm glad God made Mr. Milton
And taught him how to sing.
And that he shared his love
And goodness with us in everything.
His good character made a man
His best
It's far more important than wealth or success.

His happy loving smile was Passed on to each of you.
Memory of his life will flow
On serenely as a
Benediction, too.

Clyde Jones read "The Parable of the Good Samaritan" from Luke 10:28-37.

In the memorial message, Bro. Tom Rayburn contrasted the physical and the spiritual heart.

At the close of the service, Hodge gave the benediction.

Wanda Armstrong, consultant for the Mississippi Heart Association, was a special guest.

Mrs. Helen Jones, president of the local Heart Association, said this week that names can still be added to the memorial plaque to be placed in the local hospital. In order to have a name listed, a $100 contribution must be made to the heart fund during February.

The Prentiss County Heart Association plans to make the Heart Memorial Service a yearly affair, Mrs. Jones said.

"If you could not make a donation to the memorial plaque for your loved one this year, then maybe you can make plans to do so next year," she said.

Senior Citizens Art Contest Is Set

The Northeast Mississippi Art Association, in conjunction with the Tupelo Junior Woman's Club, is sponsoring an art contest for senior citizens of the northeast Mississippi area.

Paintings will be classified in one of three categories: (1) oil or acrylic, (2) water color, and (3) ink, pencil, pastel or charcoal.

Each contestant will be allowed one entry. Pictures must be framed and ready for handing.

Contestants must be 62 years of age or older and reside in the northeast Mississippi area. Paintings that have previously been entered are not eligible.

The exhibit will be on display March 2-27 at the Lee County Library in the Helen Foster Auditorium. Judging will be about March 20.

Entires should be taken to the Lee County Library on Friday, March 2, and picked up on March 27. A coffee break will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. March 27.

Any Prentiss Countians interested in participating may contact Mrs. Clarie T. Ross, president of the Booneville Woman's Club, as to transporting entries to Tupelo.

"The Joys of Nature" I do a lot of fretting about things I can't acquire. Like a fancy home and fancy clothes and the newest model car. But when I stop and give a thought to all the things I've had I know that I should thank the Lord and be extremely glad. The Beauty of the sunset, with all its red and gold. To watch in awe and wonder, the colors that unfold, The quiet night that follows, the moon, the star above. The dawn, and then the sunrise sent by a God of love. The seasons all inspire me, there's spring with all its green, And flowers and warmth and beauty, spring showers, that smell so clean. The summer comes, the weather's hot, it really gets us down; But autumn brings some cooler air, and leaves turn gold and brown. Finally wintertime is here, the days are crisy and cold, We realize the joy we've had as we've watched each day unfold All, all these things are not for sale; God gives them to us free; So help me, Lord, to stop and think of what you do for me! Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

Frequently when we put something off until "tomorrow" or when we forget-it becomes an embarrassment that causes still further delay.

Returning long overdue books really fits into this category. Five cents a day on several books for a long period of time can make quite a hole in a student's weekly allowance.

To alleviate this situation-but most importantly to get back badly needed books-the George E. Allen Library will suspend fines for the rest of this month. If your working hours make coming into the library inconvenient, you can return books through the depository on the wall of the building adjoining the parking lot.

Please cooperate in this effort. We hope fine-free week will bring in many of our old and treasured friends-books and people.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist

Inflation Shaves Insurance

If you have not updated the amount of your insurance recently, inflation could cause you to fail to meet the requirements of the homeowners' policy replacement cost provision. The replacement cost provision of the homeowner's policy says that if you maintain an amount of insurance equal to at least 80 percent of your home's replacement cost, any covered loss will be repaired or replaced without a deduction for depreciation.

For example, if you carry $50,000 worth of insurance on your home and suffer a $4,000 loss, your insurance will pay for the loss provided the 80 percent requirement was met, the policy would pay all $4,000 of the loss, less only the deductible contained in the policy. If you did not fulfill the 80 percent requirement, the loss would be settled in one of two ways:

-The policy would pay for the actual cash value of the loss, which would include a deduction for depreciation. If it was determined that your home had depreciated 20 percent, then the policy would cover only 80 percent ($3,200) of the $4,000 loss.

-The policy would pay a proportion of the loss based on the ratio of the amount of insurance that you actually carried to the amount needed to meet the 80 percent requirement. For example, if your home's replacement cost was $75,000, your $50,000 worth of insurance would be only 5/6 of the required amount ($60,000). So your policy would cover only 5/6 ($3,333) of the $4,000 loss.

If your home's replacement cost is $75,000 and you carry only $60,000-just enough to meet the 80 percent requirement for a total loss-your policy would pay only $60,000, not the full $75,000.

The replacement cost provision applies only to losses to the house itself and not to losses to the contents or possessions. The replacement cost is determined not by how much you owe on your mortgage or how much you could sell your house for, but by what it would cost to build a duplicate of your house at today's prices.

Ask your insurance agent to help you estimate your home's replacement cost. Your agent can help you to determine how much insurance you should carry to protect your home and to make full use of the homeowner's policy 80 percent replacement cost provision.

Residential construction costs have increased about 25 percent in the last three years in Mississippi. Be prepared to protect your home ownership with adequate insurance.

Civilian Pilots
Are Warned

Mid-South civilian air craft pilots are warned to beware of wake turbulence behind those Air National Guard C-130 Hercules transports that are conducting low-level flying exercises along routes in north Mississippi, northeast Arkansas and southwest Tennessee.

"The only safe way to combat wake turbulence is to know and avoid areas where it is likely to be encountered," said Lt. Col. John W. Roberson, director of safety for the Memphis-based 164th Tactical Airlift Group of the Tennessee Air National Guard. "You should, therefore, avoid the area directly behind and below the generating aircraft. Try to stay two or three minutes behind C-130s if you share the same traffic pattern and avoid the area one to two miles behind and 100 to 1,500 feet below them."

Tests have shown wake turbulence can reach vortex velocities of over 130 knots. The vortex sinks 400-500 feet per minute until leveling off about 800-1000 feet below the generating aircraft. Such turbulence has been known to knock small aircraft right out of the air.

After taking off from Memphis International Airport and flying at normal levels to a spot over the Mississippi River east of Walls, Miss., the C-130s drop to levels of 500 and 1,000 feet and fly low-level navigation and parachute drop missions along these routes:

(1) Southerly from the river to Crenshaw, Miss.; easterly to a point just north of Abbeville; then slightly southeasterly to a point just west of Blue Springs; north to Blue Mountain; then west, passing just south of Holly Springs, to the drop zone some four miles northeast of Coldwater.

(2) South from the river to Dundee, Miss.; southeast to a point south and west of Batesville, Miss.; southeasterly to a point just north of Water Valley; east to a point just south and east of Toccopola; northeasterly to Blue Springs; north to Blue Mountain; easterly to a point south and east of Dimas; north to Walnut; westerly to Miller; southwesterly to the drop zone.

(3) South from the river to a point just north of Lula, Miss.; southeast to Batesville; easterly to Water Valley; easterly to Toccopola; northeasterly to Blue Springs; north to Blue Mountain; then westerly along the same path as in Route No. 1.

(4) Southwesterly from the river to a point just south of Horseshoe Lake near Hughes, Ark.; westerly to a point just northwest of Wheatley, Ark.; northerly past Wynne to Harrisburg; northwesterly to Riverview; southeasterly past Wilson, Ark., to a drop zone at Millington.

(5) Same as No. 4, except aircraft pass over Millington the first time, turning northeast to a point just east of Covington, Tenn., westerly past Osceola, Ark., to Caraway, Ark.; southerly to Riverview; then along the same final leg as No. 4 to a drop at Millington.

Lt. Col. Roberson and members of his staff are available to speak to aviation-oriented groups to explain the mission of the unit and how the training toward this mission is accomplished.

If Mixed Or Taken In Excess

All Drugs Can Be Harmful

We have become a nation of drug users and abusers, whether it be over-the-counter or prescription medicines.

This is true of all age groups, says Eleanor B. Coats, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food and nutrition specialist.

"All drugs are toxic if used in excess, and will almost always cause undesirable side effects," she adds. "One undesirable side effect may be nutritional deficiency. The diet may affect the drug action or, conversely, the drug may affect food intake and the way the body absorbs, uses and gets rid of nutrients."

Some drugs may suppress the appetite by interfering with taste, smell or saliva production. Or they may cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

These side effects can lead to eating poorly or not at all. This is common in persons undergoing chemotherapy. Drugs also may reduce absorption of nutrients.

Laxatives speed up the emptying of the stomach and intestine so that nutrients have less time to be absorbed. Mineral oil combines with fat-soluble vitamins and keeps them from being absorbed.

Constant and long use of antacids, common over-the-counter products, can reduce iron absorption and make the body lose enough phosphorus to result in possible muscle weakness. Diuretics increase the excretion of sodium and potassium in the urine and can deplete the body stores.

Other drugs interfere with metabolism of nutrients. Aspirin interferes with vitamin C metabolism. Prolonged use of antibiotics that destroy disease-causing bacteria can destroy the vitamin K-producing bacteria in the intestine and increase blood clotting time.

Oral contraceptives interfere with the body's use of many vitamins. In most healthy women, these decreased vitamin levels do not reach the point of real deficiency. But young women who are on poor diets may develop nutritional problems, she says.

Foods interact with drugs and may affect the absorption and effectiveness of drugs. It is important to know when to take a medicine and what foods to avoid at that time, Mrs. Coats says.

"For example, penicillin should be taken with little or no food, because when it is taken with food, it is not absorbed fully. Certain food may interfere with certain drugs. Milk, for example, blocks the action of tetracyclines," she explains.

Sometimes people will mix a drug with fruit juice or cola to mask the flavor. This is not a good practice because some drugs are dissolved more readily in acid and could irritate the stomach lining.

Get specific instructions for each drug taken. Learn if it should be taken before, after or during meals, and what foods, if any, should be avoided.

When consumers buy prescription drugs, they should insist on adequate instructions from physicians and pharmacists and be sure to follow them. When over-the-counter drugs are used, read and follow directions.

Federal food and drug regulations require that labels provide warnings about hazards involved in drug use.

Alcohol is considered a drug, but it is not regulated by the Food and Drug Administration. Both toxic and addictive, it acts as a depressant.

Too much alcohol can lead to serious nutritional deficiencies. It damages the liver, the central organ for the metabolism of most nutrients.

Alcohol also interacts with many drugs. For instance the blood-thinning effects of Government Planning Necessary

"If state and local government is to deliver services effectively to our expanding population, we must have intelligent, wise and courageous planning," Gov. William Winter told the Mississippi Municipal Association last week.

The governor asked municipal officials to prepare for future growth by working to promote economic well-being and by preserving the existing quality of life.

"While economic expansion is important to our state, I don't want us to grow in a fashion that imperils our quality of life," Winter said.

In his remarks Winter outlined several of the state's greatest needs.

He called for comprehensive planning that "ties together" energy and transportation needs.

Winter said he wants to develop a comprehensive transportation plan that will take into account the state's highway, street, railroad, air and waterway transportation needs.

The governor also cited the need to attract more wealth and eventure capital.

"We must do all we can to attract additional sources of capital from outside the state, while simultaneously

Everyone seemed to be enjoying the warmer weather over the weekend after such a cold spell last week. We are all looking forward to spring and the new awakening of nature, the trees the grass, the flowers and all the spirits of life that seem to be down in the winter season.

A new beginning for the cycle of life. A new hope for beauty, purpose and fulfillment.

The recipe for this week is Tuna-Rice Quiche. It is a meal in a pie that's easy to prepare and easy to adapt to whatever occasion.

½ cup uncooked regular rice
1 egg beaten
2 cans (7 oz. each) tuna drained
1½ cups (6 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
2 eggs beaten
¾ cup milk

Cook rice according to package directions. Combine one egg and rice, press evenly against bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie plate, building up slightly. Place one can of tuna evenly over bottom and sprinkle with half of the cheese. Top with remaining tuna and cheese.

Combine two eggs and the milk. Pour over tuna. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven for 25 minutes. Let stand five minutes before cutting for serving. Makes 6 six servings.

HEALTH TIPS

The Gall Bladder

By Dr. Michael J. Ream

One of the most potent contributors to a pleasant disposition and its natural concomitant, a pleasing personality, is a healthy gall bladder. The number of people with sour faces and a disposition that repels which comes from a bad gall bladder, is said by authorities to be large.

Although it is said that about one person in every ten or fifteen have gall stones the number that suffer from direct symptoms when the stones become obstructed in the little tube leading from the gall bladder to intestines, is not nearly so large. Thus one may have difficulty without that severe gall stone colic.

Three things are essential to help Nature prevent gall bladder and for that matter, liver trouble as well. First, see that the condition of nerve impulses are normal. Second, breathe deep and take bending exercises that press and squeeze the gall bladder and liver. They were meant to be kept active and pliable by such exercise. Third, eat the right kind of food.

By far the most important is to see that the nerve impulses are free and unobstructed. A spinal analysis will determine this promptly. Consult your Chiropractor for directions as to how to maintain a healthy gall bladder.

(One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. Michael J. Ream whose office is located at 208 First Street, Booneville, MS. Tel. 728-8456.)

Food Stamp Fraud Exposed

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) has released a special staff investigative report on fraud, waste and mismanagement in the Food Stamp program.

The report was prepared by investigators of the Senate Appropriations Committee at the request of the agriculture appropriations subcommittee.

Senator Cochran, chairman of the subcommittee, has dispatched the report to Agriculture Secretary John Block for review and comment by the Department of Agriculture, which administers the program.

The senator pointed out the Food Stamp program provides assistance to over 21 million Americans, nearly one-tenth of our population, and will cost about $11 billion this year, or half of USDA's total budget. The Senate report documents a number of problems in administration of the program and recommends specific actions to curb fraud and close loopholes which have wasted hundreds of millions of taxpayers dollars, Cochran said.

Among the report's proposals were: --tightening up on full replacement of coupons claimed to be lost or stolen. --allowing states to undertake more comprehensive verification of income and assets reported by recipients. --directing USDA to develop and implement a nationwide strategy to combat Food Stamp fraud.

--pro-rationing of first-month benefits so new recipients would receive only that portion of the monthly Food Stamp allotment claimed, a change the report says would save $250 million a year.

Senator Cochran noted that a number of changes recommended in the report have already been acted upon by Congress, or proposed within USDA, but have yet to be implemented.

The senator said he intends to pursue new legislative changes to make certain Food Stamp benefits are limited to the truly needy, and to insist USDA work to implement cost-saving reforms.

Cmdr. Roberts In Special Navy Exercises

He is an officer assigned to Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 126, based at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va., and embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy.

The exercise involved more than 15 ships and 100 aircraft from the 6th Fleet, and was designed to test naval warfare techniques in a multi-threat environment.

are; wheat $2.94, oats $1.29, corn $2.40, sorghum $3.81 and soybeans $5.06. Ordinary loans have a nine-month maturity date at 11-1/2 percent interest.

Wheat and barley may go immediately into the farmer-owned grain reserve. This program offers farmers three-year loans and storage payments in advance for isolating grain from the market until prices rise. It is designed to provide a reasonable degree of stability in prices and supplies in times of exceptionally strong or weak demand and during times of unusually good or poor harvests.

The agency has offered commodity loans to farmers for 48 years. In most cases producers satisfy their loan obligations by repaying the money before the loan matures or by forfeiting the crop to the Commodity Credit Corporation if prices at loan maturity are below the loan rate.

For additional details on commodity loans, contact the local ASCS office.

Farmers Sign Up For Conservation Program

The sign up for the Agricultural Conservation Program is in progress and will continue through February. ASCS is now accepting applications for long term agreements and will continue through Feb. 20.

The ACP is designed to help farmers reduce soil loss, conserve water, and solve other conservation and environmental problems. Cost-sharing may range from 65 to 75 percent of the farmers' costs for the most critical problems. The program for Prentiss County is aimed at solving such high priority problems as SL1- Permanent Vegetative Cover Establishment, SL3- Stripcropping Systems, SL 4- Terrace Systems, SL5- Diversions, SL9- Conservation Tillage Systems, SL11- Permanent Vegetative Cover on Critical Areas, SL13- Contour Farming, WC1- Water Impoundment Reservoir, WP1- Sediment Retention, Erosion or Water Control Structures, WP3- Sod Waterways, WP4- Animal Waste Control Facilities, FR1- Forest Tree Plantations, and FR2- Forest Tree Stand Improvement.

A request for cost share assistance must be on file, and approved before the practice is started.

Soil erosion is a major problem for farmers and with today's more intensive cropping patterns it is vital that farmers perform good soil and water conservation practices such as those offered under the ACP. Our primary concern is to save soil, conserve energy and water, improve woodlands and eliminate pollution in lakes and streams.

As of Feb. 13, 44 area farmers has applied for the 1981 program. To obtain an ACP application or additional program details, contact the county ASCS office.

Consider Custom Work

Machinery costs often are the biggest single expense on the farm, and we're all interested in looking at ways to cut these high costs. It might pay you to consider using custom work when time to replace worn-out equipment or buy more rolls around.

Many times, it is cheaper to use custom work than it is to own the equipment. It usually is cheaper to hire custom work up to the break-even point—the point where the cost of custom work is equal to the cost of owning and operating the equipment.

You can find your break-even point if you know the annual fixed cost of owning the equipment, operating cost per acre of the equipment and the custom rate per acre. Dividing the annual fixed cost by the custom rate minus operating cost will give you the break-even point in number of acres.

If your farm acreage is less than the break-even point, hiring the work done may be cheaper than owning the equipment. A farm acreage greater than the break-even point means it's cheaper to own the equipment.

There are disadvantages as well as good points in using custom work. For more information and a list of average custom rates for various farm jobs, contact the county Extension office.

Thin Peaches

Most fruit trees produce more fruit than the tree can maintain, and the peach tree is no exception. Thinning can be an expensive, time-consuming operation, but it is necessary to produce the kind of peaches acceptable in competitive markets.

Thinning not only produces bigger fruit, it improves fruit color and quality, reduces limb breakage and promotes tree vigor. It also allows more thorough application of sprays and dusts for effective disease and insect control.

We have complete details at the county Extension office on thinning peaches and other fruits in commercial and home orchards.

Farmweek

The Feb. 23 program features a look at Mississippi's 1981 cotton crop. Extension Cotton Specialist Dr. George Mullendore will talk about cotton market outlook and how farmers can use this information to make decisions on the upcoming planting season.

Tune in the Educational channel at 7:30 p.m. on Mondays for weekly farm program.

Employer Tax Forms Should Be Mailed To New Mexico

Employers in Mississippi are reminded by the Internal Revenue Service that the original of employee withholding statements (forms W-2) and transmittal form W-3 should be sent to the Social Security Administration in Albuquerque, N.M.

The deadline for forwarding the W-2 forms is Feb. 28 and they should be sent to the following address: Social Security Administration, Albuquerque Data Operations Center, Albuquerque, N.M. 87180.

Some employers continue to send the withholding statements to the Atlanta Service Center despite the fact that the change was made at the end of the 1978 tax year, a spokesman said. Cooperation is being requested in order to speed up processing and to avoid the expense of forwarding them on to Albuquerque.

In District B Finals Saturday

Eagles, Rebelettes Claim Honors

By LEE GENTRY
Sports Editor

To say Saturday night's District B Tournament was exciting would be the understatement of the year.

Some 2000 fans from Prentiss County filled the Baldwin High School gym to capacity here Saturday night and saw Wheeler's Eagles and Thrasher's Rebelettes claim Tourney honors in two most action-packed games in the history of the tournament.

The Eagles, who are undefeated and ranked first in the State, kept their unblemished mark intact with a slim 73-71 win over Thrasher's Rebels while in girls action in yet another classic Prentiss County duel, Thrasher's Rebelettes claimed District honors with a 52-46 victory over Jumpertown's Cardinales.

What can you say about the Thrasher-Wheeler series. The two teams met seven times last year and Thrasher won six of the seven and the two ballclubs have battled again this year with Wheeler taking all four matchups.

After the opening two or three minutes of play one could plainly see that the Rebels were after revenge and would indeed give the Eagles a run for their money.

The Thrasher squad, led by head coach Jacky Rowsey, led most of the way including a margin at the halfway point.

At one point in the second both the Eagles and Rebels matched buckets six times a piece up and down the court.

An oddity about Saturday's game came as a result of a numerous amount of charging fouls called on both ballclubs. The game was a rugged contest from start to finish.

Wheeler head coach Sam Richey had said earlier in the year that everytime Thrasher played them, that James Swinney would have a good night. Well he did prove that to be true Saturday night when he poured 'em in from all over the court scoring a game high 31 points.

Wheeler's Kennedy Gamble had the hothand for the Eagles and matched Swinney while center Terry Ballard held his own under the boards against the rugged Rebel performer.

The game was decided in the final two minutes of play. With a little over one minute and one half left in the game Thrasher had the ball with the score knotted at 71 all.

The Rebels coiled up the ball and the Eagles went for the final shot with over a minute left in the game.

Ole reliable Bubba Miller hit a 14 foot jumper with two seconds left on the clock to give the Eagles the victory.

Swinney paced the Thrasher attack with 31 points followed by Darryl Hatfield with 12 points.

Gamble's 22 point performance paced the Eagle brigade followed by Miller with 19 and Ballard with 16 points on the night.

In the girls contest yet another close encounter occurred. The two Prentiss County teams battled tooth and nail throughout the game and the game was decided in the final three minutes of play.

These two teams (rivalry wise) goes back quite sometime in girls competition and Saturday's duel brought back classic girls' action again between the two local teams.

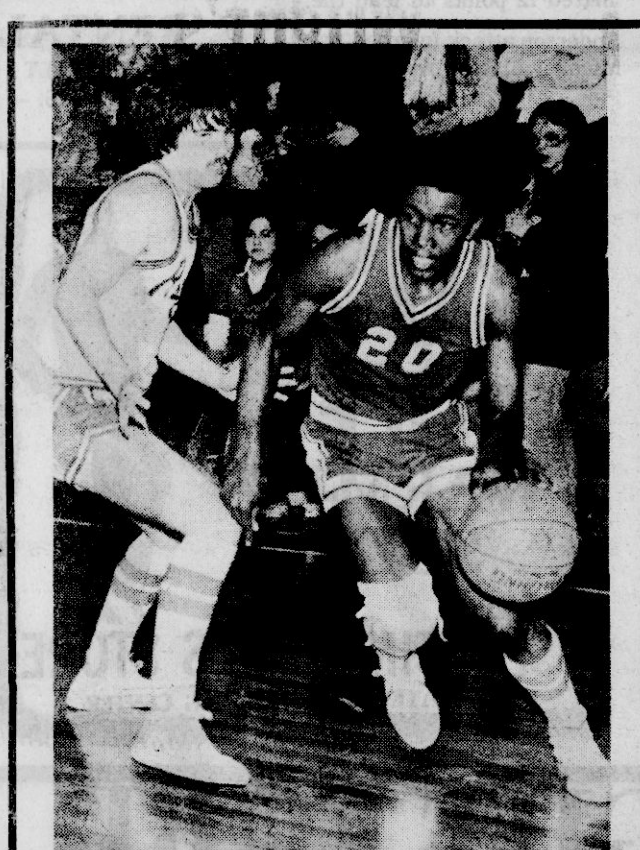

Jessica Goddard paced the Thrasher attack with 16 Debbie Oswalt followed with 14.

Lynette Miller led the Jumpertown charge with 21 points followed by Marty Moore with 10.

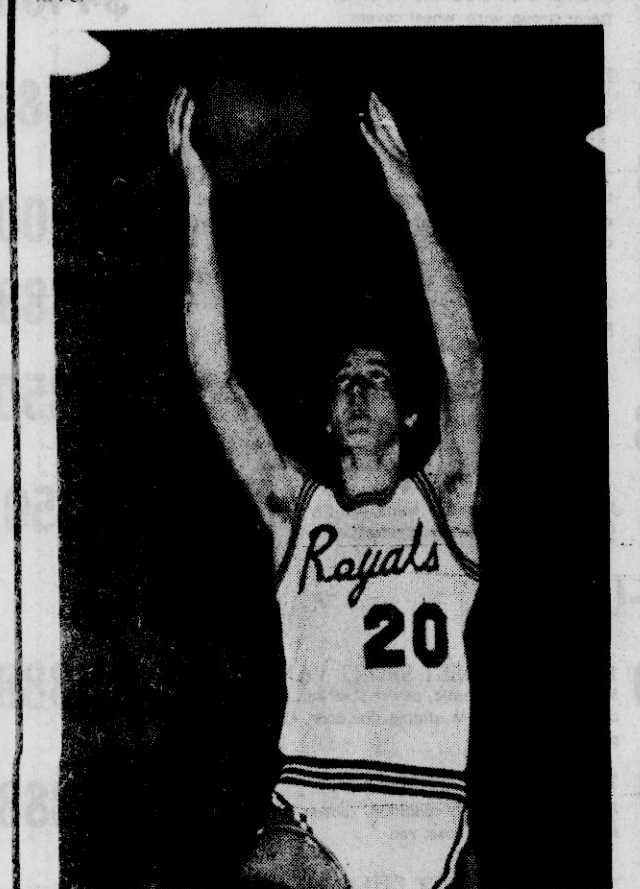

All four finals teams from the County advanced to Northhalf Competition with the finals. Both Wheeler and Thrasher boys will play at Baldwin for their Northhalf action while both Thrasher and Jumpertown will travel to Lafayette.

Devilettes Scalp Warriorettes 45-34

Booneville's Lady Blue Devils moved one step closer to a possible State birth here Saturday night with a 45-34 victory over Pontotoc's Warriorettes in finals action of the District 1 Class A Tournament held at the Northeast Mississippi Junior College's Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The Devilettes, now 24-3 on the year, opened North Half Action last night (Wednesday) against West Kemper with results not available at presstime.

Should they win that game they would play the winner of the South Pontotoc-Hollandale game Friday night in semi-final action.

Booneville's girls, indeed the favorites in last week's District event, paced their mark Saturday leading throughout the contest but managed only a 20-16 margin at the intermission.

The Devilettes however known as a second half club came roaring back behind the clutch freethrow shooting of senior performer Donna Rinehart who sank eight straight to put the Warriorettes, the defending champions away.

The Lady Blue Devils moved the margin to 11 (36-24) in the third period and breezed the rest of the way for the win.

Rinehart led the Devilette scoring birgade with 16 points followed by Vanessa Groves with 14.

A complete report on Booneville's games in the Northhalf tourney will be published in next week's paper.

PULLS DOWN THE REBOUND—Thrasher's Debbie Oswalt (24) pulls down the rebound here against Jumpertown in Saturday's District B finals at Baldwyn. Teammate Robin Hopkins (20) aids on the play as Jumpertown's Janice Grizzard (25) and Lynette Miller (22) are there too.

Cochran Signs With Delta State

Northeast runningback Randy Cochran has signed a football scholarship with Delta State University according to a press release from Delta State head coach Johnny Plummer.

Cochran, who stands at 5'8" 208 pounds, was one of the top rushers in the Mississippi junior college league and at one point in the season was ranked fourth Nationally on the rushing chart.

Coach Plummer had only the highest regards to say about the Northeast runningback. "We feel like he's a real dedicated player that will give added strength to our fullback position," Plummer said.

Randy was also the leading ground gainer in the Mississippi Junior College All-Star Game playing for the North Squad.

Others who signed recently with Delta State include, Jay Webb, a 6'2" 222 pound linebacker from Columbus and Ben Threadgill, a 6'0" 240 pound offensive tackle from Calhoun City.

Northeast Tiger head coach Bill Ward said Delta State would indeed benefit from Cochran. "I think they're getting a mighty fine football player," he said. "Randy is an outstanding blocker as well as a good shortage runner."

Cochran is one of many Tiger sophomores to sign grid scholarships with senior colleges for the 1981 season.

Anderson Drops Guntown

Anderson Junior High School took a twin-bill from Guntown last Thursday night in local Junior High action.

Anderson's eighth grade girls won 22-18 while the eighth grade boys won 53-31 in the nightcap.

Girls scores are incomplete while Ben Leach netted 12 points to lead the Anderson attack followed by Michael Blalock with 11.

A few more tournaments like last week, a few more hospitality booths and I'll be so big I won't be able to get through the gym door.

I've never seen so much food in all my life as was served to press people etc., during both the District tourneys at Northeast's Bonner Arnold Coliseum and at Baldwyn's Gym.

I spent the first part of the week at Northeast during the A tournament and I just can't say enough about the delicious food that was served to the coaches and the press.

At Northeast they served everything from chili to chocolate cake and believe me between me and a few other folks that I'll neglect to mention we cleaned that place out. I went back as much as three times a night.

So to the Northeast staff and to cafeteria manager Claude Wright who furnished the food I say thank you.

As if that wasn't enough I had to do the same at Baldwyn. After I got to the game who was the first person I saw but Coach Hubert Tucker and of course I had to ask where the food was. He already knew what I was going to ask and he just looked at me and said let's go get it.

The food was in another building some 25 yards away and being the dedicated eater that I am I didn't mind that trip at all.

Needless to say I tried everything they had at least once and again it was all delicious at Baldwyn too and I'm looking forward to making the trips again this week.

I'M OPPOSED TOO

Well, I'll certainly give my opinion about the raising of admission prices for the North Half Tournament this week. A large family would be better off (at those prices) to buy stock in the gym because at 2 and four dollars a lick it won't take long to mount up.

A family of just four would cost $12 for the parents and two children and that's just a bit much for high school games.

The price of last week's District events was $1.50 across the board and to me this is a fair price. Even a two dollar adult ticket isn't too much but $4.00...that's a little steep.

Again our Prentiss County teams moved one step closer to the State Tournament with wins in last week's District events at the respected sites.

Viaing for Northhalf honors are Thrasher's Rebels and Rebelettes, Wheeler's Eagles, Jumpertown's Cardinales, Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats and Booneville's Lady Blue Devils.

Several of the local teams were scheduled to complete last night and results were not available at presstime.

So for those Prentiss County teams still around we say good luck and we're behind you 100 percent.

Tigers Waltz Over Trojans In Monday's Northhalf Opener

Mark Hastings and Jackie Leach scored 41 points and grabbed 18 rebounds between them here Monday night to aid the Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tigers in a 102-80 victory over Delta's Trojans in opening round action of the North Half Junior College Playoffs held at the Bonner Arnold Coliseum.

The Tigers had little trouble with the Delta bunch leading the entire way and leading by as much as 15 points on six different occasions in the opening half along with a 57-38 margin at the half.

The win advanced the Tigers to semi-final action. The coach Noal Akins squad was scheduled against Coahoma Wednesday afternoon at home and results were not available.

If victorious, Northeast will play the East Mississippi-Northwest winner and would also gain a birth in the State Tournament.

Coach Akins said Tuesday morning that he was pleased with his team's efforts in

Monday night's action against Delta but added that his troop would have to give an additional 100 percent effort against Coahoma Wednesday.

The Tigers had beaten

Coahoma twice prior to last night's game once at Clarksdale and once at Northeast.

In Monday's action against Delta the Tigers hit on a 47 percent clip from the floor connecting on 33 of 69 attempts from the field and hit some 75 percent from the freethrow line.

The Tigers pulled down 30 rebounds on the night with both Hastings and Leach leading the way with nine a piece.

Hastings paced the scoring chart with 21 points on the night followed by Leach who netted 20 points for the night's work. Biggersville's Maurice Stafford followed with 12 points while Ingomar's Mark Buskirk had 10 points to complete the double figure mark.

A complete report of yesterday's (Wednesday) game with Coahoma along with the wrapup of North Turney action will be published in next week's paper.

All-District Players Named

Several local players earned top honors and were named to the All-District Team in Class B competition during the Class B District Tournament held at Baldwyn.

Named to the squad from Prentiss County in both boys and girls brackets are, from

Wheeler Cathy Wright, Kennedy Gamble, Bubba Miller; from Thrasher, Monte Hare, Robin Hopkins, James Swinney, and Darryl Hatfield; from New Site, Leonda Michaels, and Anthony Webb; from Jumpertown, Janice Grizzard, Lynette Miller, Perry Perrin and Kevin

Simmons. The players were voted on by coaches and were named to the All-District squad. District coaches have the option to select the All-Tournament some didn't select the All-District team but will name a North Half team.

MY GOODNESS...A BASKETBALL...Delta's Mark McCutchen (15) battles here with Northeast's Stanley Carter (24) for the ball during Monday night's action of the North JUCO Tourney at Northeast. The Tigers won the game with a 102-81 victory.

Admission Prices Increase

The Northeast Mississippi Association of School Administrators (NMASA) and the Northeast Mississippi Junior College, spoke out recently against the increase in admission prices for all North Half basketball tournaments to be held at various sites in the area, and the state competition to be held in Jackson later this month. NMASA is composed of all school districts in the Northeast Junior College service area. The groups comments were triggered by the implementation of the price increase which raised admission to these athletic events to $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for students. The admission increase will be effective during this week's North and South half playoffs as well as the State and Grand Slam events. Northeast is hosting the North A Boys Tournament this week.

Crop Insurance Is Good Collateral

In this year's still tight money market, many farmers are finding that the first step toward coming up with more credit is to come up with more collateral.

According to Billy Hester, district director of USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the most overlooked and underused source of collateral for crop loans is crop insurance.

Hester says that farm lending practices have undergone a number of changes.

Not too many years ago, lenders looked for collateral that could be converted to cash necessary to pay off a loan. Then the emphasis shifted to farming ability and creditworthiness as the best backstop for a farm loan. Today, lenders are looking for both.

Providing adequate collateral has become a problem for many farmers, Hester said, citing several reasons: The greatly increased amount of credit needed to farm today; the slowdown (and in some cases even decline) in farm land values; and the fact that many assets such as machinery have already been pledged as collateral.

In the case of crop loans, Hester suggests that an all-risk crop insurance policy is ideal collateral from the viewpoint of lender and borrower alike.

Its chief advantage is that it is in the form of cash. No sell-off of land or equipment is necessary.

When an FCIC policy, at the option of the farmer, is pledged as collateral, any indemnity check for a crop loss is made jointly payable to the policyholder and the designated lender.

"Even if a policy isn't used for collateral," says Hester, "it is still an indication to the lender that the farmer is employing sound financial management practices, the first of which is to protect investment and working capital against the possibility of unavoidable loss. This can often give the farmer an important advantage when it comes to competing for the lender's available capital."

Prentiss county soybean growers can get more information about crop insurance coverage, by contacting Hester at 728-4076.

Attorney General Warns

Beware Of Bait And Switch Schemes

Attorney General Bill Allain is warning consumers to be wary of the "Bait and Switch" sales scheme.

Allain said the plot may be simple, but can often be very costly to the unsuspecting consumer.

Bait and switch is a sales technique whereby a product or service is advertised at a special price, but is never intended to be sold at the special price. The seller either points out the limitations of the advertised special and then switches the purchaser to a higher priced model, or advises the consumer that the advertised special is "out of stock," or that without an additional purchase the advertised special is worthless.

The advertised special is the "bait" and the "switch" takes place when the purchaser is persuaded to spend more money. A bait advertisement is primarily aimed at obtaining leads as to persons who are interested in buying merchandise of the type so advertised.

Listed below are some business practices which can be considered indications of bait and switch advertising:

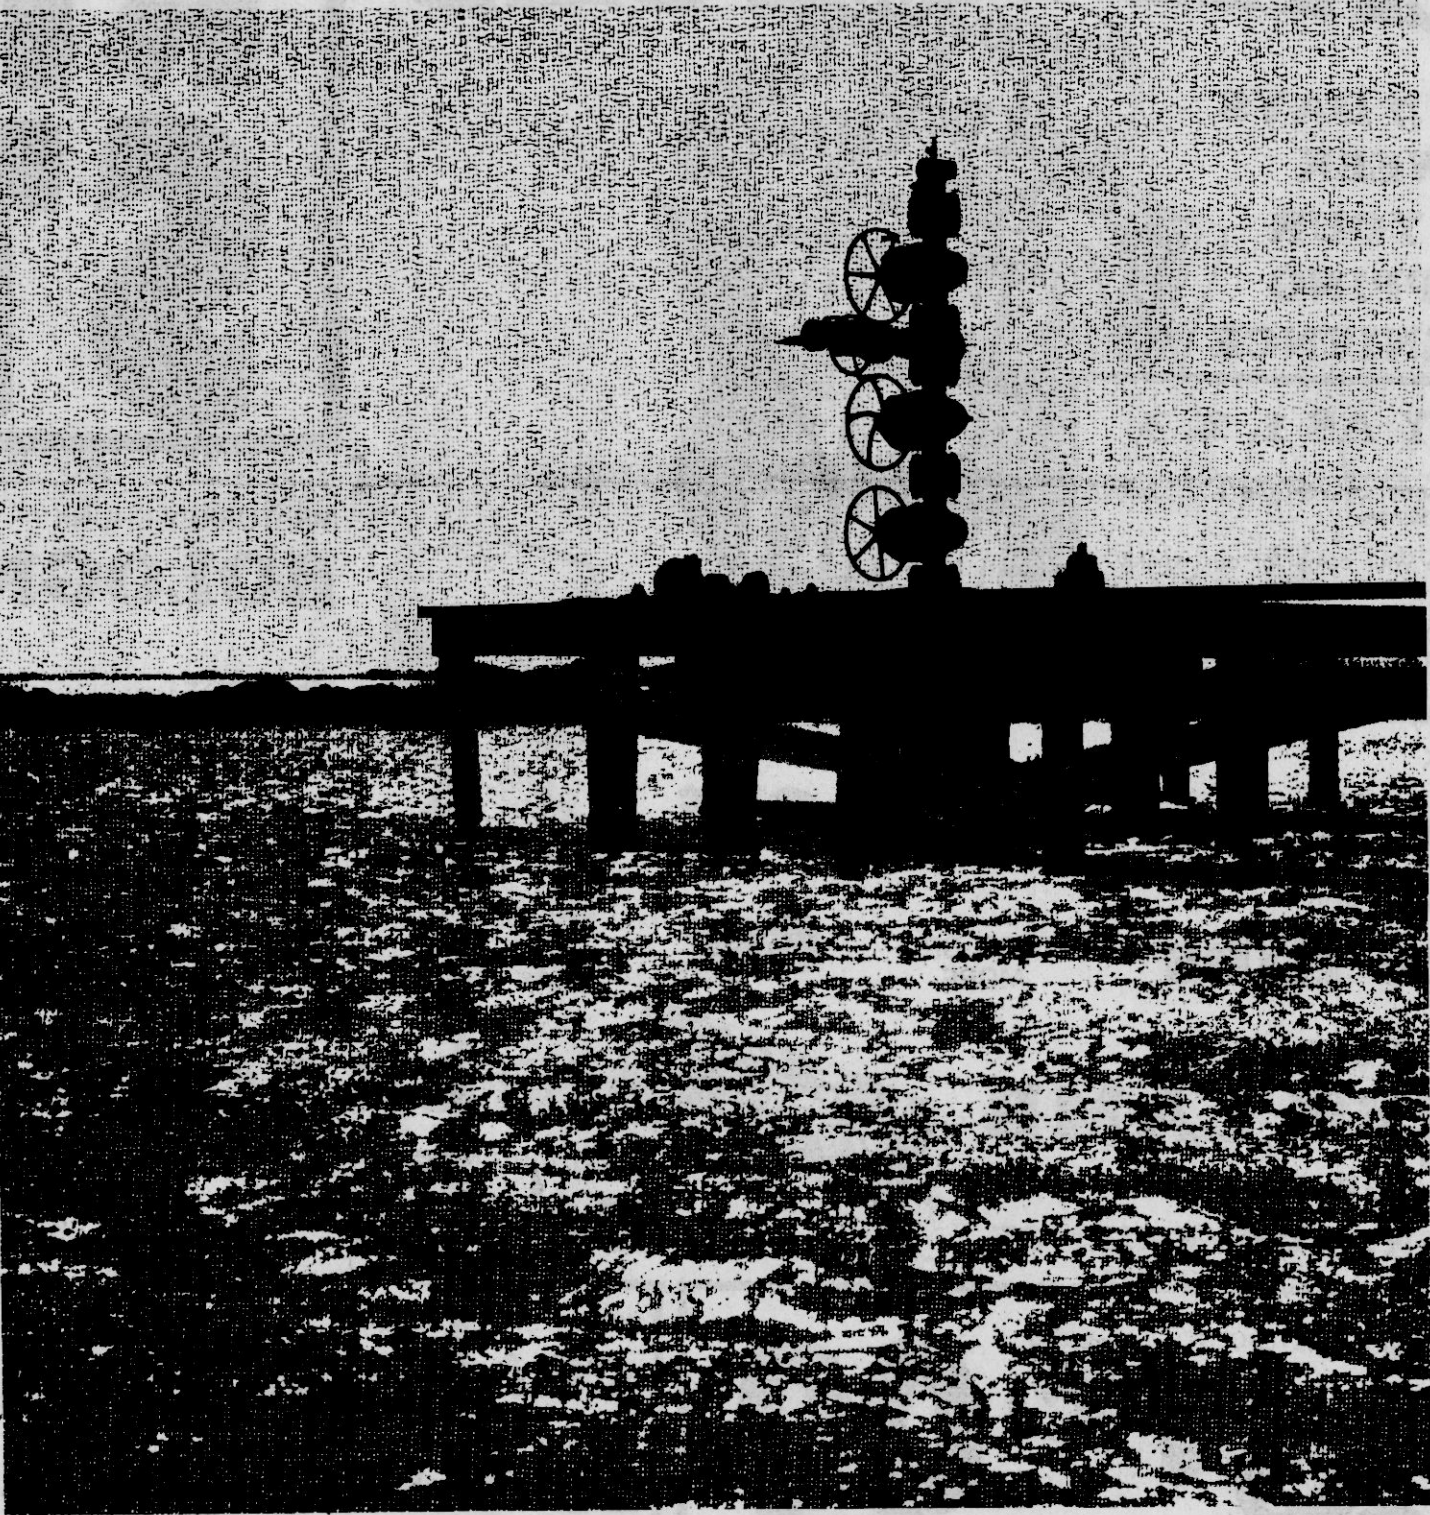

--The refusal to sell or demonstrate advertised products.

--Failure to have adequate supply of the product unless the ad discloses that supplies are limited.

--Criticism by the salesperson of the advertised product.

--Refusal to take orders for the advertised merchandise.

Higher field prices have made more gas available while helping conservation

More natural gas is available now, due in large measure to increased field prices which have given producers the needed incentive to explore for and produce this precious fuel. It's textbook economics.

A revision by Congress of the laws covering natural gas allowed interstate pipelines like the United Gas system to acquire gas that would normally not have been available. This fortunate development, combined with our gas acquisition program, has enabled this company to add reserves in excess of withdrawals for two consecutive years.

While these beneficial conditions may be only temporary, we continue working very hard to make them permanent.

That's the way we do things at United Gas—where the search for new energy never stops.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:
Christ The Door
By: Florene Ables

Florene Ables, Pastor
Marietta Church Of
God Of Prophecy

Christ is the door, the only door. Jesus did not say, "I am a door." He said, "I am the door." There is a vast difference between a door and the door. There is only one door into God's fold, and that door is Christ. He is the only door. There is none other name under Heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. (Acts 4:12) Jesus said, "No man cometh unto the Father butt by me. (John 14:6) Joshua gave the people a choice when He declared unto them, "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." (Joshua 24:15) God's word warns us in Hebrews 3:15 "Today if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts...So you can never live for God without making a decision. You must make up your mind about following Christ. If you are not saying yes to God, you are saying no to Him. Again and again you may have known the call of Christ and you may have felt the lure of the open appeal Christ gives; but you are still uncertain. You refuse the Highest, not because you plan never to accept, but because you think there may be a better or easier way tomorrow. Life itself teaches us that there is such a thing as being too late. September or October is too late for the trees to bud if they are to bear fruit before the winter. Many people die before they decide to live for Christ. The greatest choice you will ever make concerns the question, "Who will guide my life?" Your whole life hinges on this choice. You may seek to put off a decisive commitment for the moment waiting for that more opportune season. This does not mean a decision is not made; no, like the infidel lord, the best way to live one's life for the Devil is to do nothing about your life for God. Remember in Gen. 5:3, "and the Lord said, my spirit shall not always strive with man." The Door can be open if you will only obey the Lord. It is said visitors to Palestine are always interested in the illustration of the Bible to be derived from Eastern life. Some years ago some travelers noticed the usual sheepfold, a low wall made of mud and stones. But they were puzzled to know why, with the aperture (opening) for the entrance and exit of the sheep, there was no door across it so as to fasten the fold securely at night. On the shepherd being asked the reason of this, he replied with evident surprise, "I am the door." It was a shepherds custom to lie down at night in the aperture, and then no sheep could get out unless he became aware of it. The travelers at once recalled our Lord's words, "I am the door," and they recognized the exact correspondence between that utterance and the life of the Eastern shepherd today. St. John 10:1, "Verily, verily I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber."
