'Jaws' Should Take Bite Out Of Fatality Statistics

By KENCHRIAN
Editor

Prentiss Countians can now travel area roads with a little bit more peace of mind. A new emergency rescue device purchased by the city has arrived and is ready for emergency service.

Wendell Harless, a distributor of fire and safety equipment from Birmingham, Ala., and Jerry Moore of the State Fire Academy in Jackson were in Booneville last Thursday afternoon to demonstrate the device to city officials and firemen.

Called the Jaws of Life, it is a portable hydraulic tool designed to speed the removal of trapped victims from automobiles at the scene of an accident.

Moore said Thursday the Fire Academy will sponsor a two-day training session on the Jaws of Life for Booneville emergency personnel.

In 1981 alone, city officials hope the new rescue unit can cut the number of local traffic fatalities by 10 to 15 percent.

Harless left one of rescue tools with the city last week when he returned to Alabama. The city board of mayor and aldermen voted to approve the purchase at their regular meeting Tuesday night and Mayor Charles Crabb said Wednesday morning the unit is now in service.

The city has received a $3,500 federal grant through the Governor's Highway Safety Program to pay half of the purchase price of the Jaws of Life. The Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District helped the city to obtain these funds.

The city plans to make the device available anywhere in Prentiss or the surrounding counties, Crabb said. It will be housed in a quick response rescue unit already owned by the city and stationed at the Booneville Fire Department.

Mayor Crabb said Wednesday that he has received calls from throughout north Mississippi requesting demonstrations of the Jaws of Life. Moore said last week that the only other towns in this area to have the devices are New Albany and Holly Springs.

SAY 'AII'—Booneville Fireman Hoyle Lambert attaches hooks to the arms of the Jaws of Life under the supervision of Wendell Harless, distributor, during a demonstration last Thursday afternoon at a local junk yard. A two-day training session for city rescue personnel is planned for the future. For photos of the tool in operation, see page A1.

Unemployment Rate Reaches 10.3 Percent

The unemployment rate in Prentiss County for January leaped to the highest figure in over a year, according to the latest figures from the Mississippi State Employment Service in Corinth.

An estimated 10.3 percent of the civilian labor force in Prentiss County was unemployed during January. The only time in the past year this figure was approached in the county was when the unemployment rate hit 10.2 percent in June 1980.

The county's unemployment rate was 8.6 percent in December 1980; 8.2 percent in November; and 7.2 percent in October.

Statewide, Mississippi's unemployment rate rose to 8.6 percent in January, an increase of 1.2 percent compared to December's 7.4 percent jobless rate. Last year's January unemployment rate was 6.7 percent.

The state's 8.6 percent unemployment rate put it higher than the 8.2 percent national rate for January.

The counties with the highest unemployment rates in January were Sharkey, with a rate of 17.2 percent; Jeff Davis, 16.9 percent; and Jefferson, 15.6 percent.

Rankin, Oktibbeha and Forrest counties had the lowest jobless rates for January. Rankin had a rate of 4.0 percent; Oktibbeha, 4.6 percent; and Forrest, 5.2 percent.

Seventy-five of the state's 82 counties showed an increase in their unemployment rates for January, while six reported decreases. The jobless rate in one county remained

Use Dumpsters, Please

The Board of Supervisors are reminding the citizens of Prentiss County that dumpsters are available throughout the county for the depositing of garbage and debris and are urging the citizens to use them.

"If any items are too large to be placed in the dumpsters, they may be brought directly to the landfill at no charge," said J.P. Davis, president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors.

Association To Meet

The Uptown Association of Booneville will hold a special meeting Tuesday, March 10, at 6:30 p.m., according to association president Marshall Dickerson. The meeting will be held at the Peoples Bank and Trust Company's meeting room.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss joint merchants' promotions for the spring and summer months, current legislation affecting business, and other matters of interest concerning the uptown area.

All businesses in the uptown area of Booneville are urged to have a representative present, Dickerson said.

Hot, Dry Summer Of '80 Slows 'III' by '83' Progress

Large losses suffered by Mississippi farmers because of hot and dry weather in 1980 have greatly slowed progress in a statewide program whose goal was for the state to reach the $3 billion mark in agricultural income by 1983.

In 1973 the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service began the program, calling it III by '83. Each county in the state set its own goals.

Agricultural income was severely hurt statewide by the extremely hot and dry weather in 1980 and the III by '83 program took a setback.

Even so, in Prentiss County total agricultural income showed a marked increase in 1980 over 1979. The very hot, very dry weather of 1980 apparently did not affect local farmers as much as the very late planting season which cut yields in 1979.

Total agricultural income for the county in 1980 was $19,096,339, up more than $1 million from the 1979 figure of $17,905,700. However, that is not as good as it first appears since the 1979 figure was down somewhat from the 1978 figure of $18,119,210.

Agricultural income in Prentiss County for 1980 was as good in some areas and not so good in others.

In three farm enterprises—forestry, wheat and the "other agricultural income" category for products not falling under a specific heading—Prentiss County reached its III by '83 goals.

Income from forestry was $2,452,940; wheat, $206,911; and other agricultural income, $2,181,144.

Income in the county from cotton was $802,672, or 80 percent of the III by '83 goal. Soybeans were down from $8,600,000 to $6,227,000, or at only 51 percent of the goal.

Corn had a value of $508,480, a sharp decrease and only 25 percent of the desired goal. Cattle and calves had an income of $2,772,000, an increase, and reached 81.53 percent of the goal.

Other enterprises were dairy, $3,036,852, 94 percent of the goal; and swine, $810,000, 81 percent of the goal.

The Extension Service says income from poultry in Prentiss County continues to decline and, unless poultry concerns increase, business in the county will not reach the expected goals. Income from poultry in 1980 was $98,340.

The total agricultural income for Prentiss County in 1980, $19,096,339, was 72 percent of the goal of $26,440,000 for 1983. The county entered the program in 1973 with an agricultural income of $15,218,020.

With lowered farm income and ever increasing production costs, farmers face many serious decisions (Continued on Page 2)

"If you have not been contacted or have not made a contribution, we ask you to please do so," Mrs. Jones said.

Three additional names have also been added to those going on the "Memorial Plaque" which will be placed in the Northeast Mississippi Hospital.

School Bill Passes In Both Chambers

A bill that removes residents of Booneville and Baldwin from eligibility to vote in future elections of the Prentiss County Superintendent of Education passed the state Senate last week and, having already passed in the House, will now go to the governor for his signature.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Billy McCoy, also requires that in future elections candidates for the county superintendent post must live outside the boundaries of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District and the Baldwin Separate School District.

The present county superintendent, Lex Cain, recommended to the county school board in early December 1979 that efforts be taken to remove persons living in the two separate schools districts from voting for the county superintendent and any other matters pertaining to the Prentiss County School District in future elections.

An effort was made to introduce such a bill during the 1980 legislative session, but it was filed too late for action to be taken on it, Cain said.

He said last week that he does not feel the people in the city limits of any city should vote for the county superintendent of education.

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Bro. Hogland, Please comment on this note clipped from a local church bulletin. This disturbs me very much. Can elders allow such as this and large donations to be given and be qualified?

Clipping sent was as follows: "The Freed-Hardeman college alumni benefit dinner is planned for February 19, 1981-7:00 p.m. at the Booneville Church of Christ annex. (food served by F-HC associates.) Ticket price $10.00."

ANSWER: I attended Freed-Hardeman college but was taught at that time the college and the church were to be kept separate. There is no authority in the Bible for a church using its buildings (Purchased with church funds) to benefit a college. I do not oppose a college but they must be taught to keep in their place and not dip into the church treasury. The Bible nowhere authorizes a church out of its treasury to support a college. Even though the food was served by the associates, please note that tickets were sold and church facilities were used. As to whether elders who allow this are qualified, you will have to be the judge. I pray that we will all come back to the Bible. If we are not careful we are going to turn the churches into sanctified club houses!

For Local Workshop

UM Modeling Squad Visits Area

The Modeling Squad from Mississippi University for Women were guests of the Booneville Junior Auxiliary and the Jr. J's Feb. 24.

The Modeling Squad conducted a workshop on personal appearance for the Jr. J's, including make-up, posture and poise. The workshop was held at the George E. Allen Library from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

The Jr. J's is a program for selected teenage girls to develop self respect and confidence by providing them with six fun-filled and interesting sessions on various topics. Six girls from each high school: Booneville, Wheeler, Thrasher, New Site, and Jumbertown are participating in the program.

The other subjects for these sessions are: Who Are You?—a self awareness program conducted by Robert Vaughn of Timber Hills Mental Health Center; The Personal You—an information discussion on the understanding, care and emotions of the body conducted by Betty Wilson of the Tupelo Health Department; The Creative You—with instruction of a creative art; The Healthy You—a "shape-up and have fun doing it" session conducted by Mrs. Louise Coggin; and the last session is The Prepared You—the "Hostess with the Mostess" with suggestions for parties, menus, dinners, dining out, and staying calm.

This is the second series in the Jr. J's program. The first session was held last fall with three girls from each high school participating, and was capped off with a formal dinner party in the home of Mrs. Joe Ray Langston.

Jr. J's is another Booneville Junior Auxiliary project financed through proceeds of their Annual Charity Ball.

Tallest Building In County

New Dorm Slated For NEMJC

The tallest building in Prentiss County will soon be located on the Northeast Mississippi Junior College campus when a new five-story girls dormitory is completed sometime before the fall term of 1983.

A $2.5 million loan for construction of that dorm, as well as a new boys' dorm, was recently approved by the Farmer's Home Administration in Washington.

Northeast president Harold T. White, on behalf of the college's board of trustees, announced the loan's approval Friday after telephone conversations with Sen. Thad Cochran and Rep. Jamie Whitten.

"One of the major justifications for the project," White said, "is the rising cost of transportation. Dorm space is now available for only about 400 of the approximately 2,000 full-time students enrolled at Northeast. The junior college provides daily bus transportation for about 300, with the rest commuting at their own expense."

Preliminary plans call for construction of a 120-bed women's dorm and a 116-bed men's dorm. The new women's dorm will have inside corridors, while the men's dorm will employ a motel-type construction with outdoor corridors.

"Both dorms will accommodate two students in each room and each room will have a private bath," White said.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the only campus construction project in Mississippi funded by the Farmers Home Administration and I don't guess there will be another one," said James P. Dean, chairman of the college's board of trustees.

White indicated that final plans for the dorms should be approved within 60 days and that construction could begin in early June.

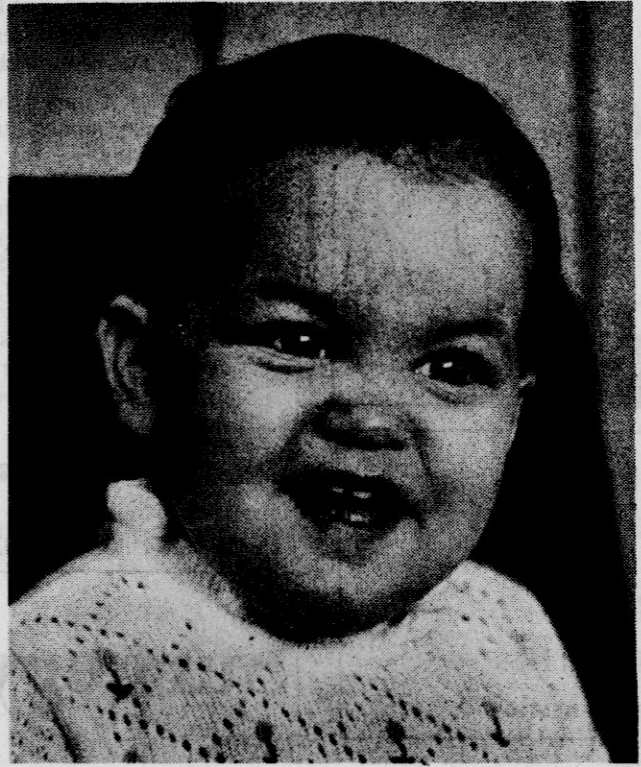

The new dorms will be located near present dorm facilities, he said. The projected date for student occupation of the new dorms is the fall of 1983.

Dean said the FmHA loan will be repaid over a 40-year period.

MISSISSIPPI IS NOT LAST IN EVERYTHING!

Legislative Report

By Billy McCoy
Representative District III
Prentiss And Alcorn Counties

The legislative week beginning Feb. 23 had just ended and a new week was begun with only a Saturday break for members of the House of Representatives. Two occurrences which are a bit unusual for the legislature had taken place.

First, on Friday Gov. Winter appeared before a joint assembly of the House and Senate. Normally a governor does not make an address to the legislature on Friday. However, the Governor felt he must make recommendations concerning the State's pressing transportation needs in time for them to have consideration by the 1981 legislature.

There is no doubt that financing for our highways is at a crucial point. So far as the 9 cents per gallon state excise tax on gasoline is concerned, it is producing fewer dollars for the Highway System as the price of gasoline goes up. Very simply, citizens are buying much fewer gallons at the higher price.

One of the Governor's recommendations was to use a variable excise tax based on a percentage rather than cents per gallon. This means that the tax would increase as the price increases. This approach has found little support among members of the present legislature.

As you know, we also have a state sales tax on gasoline. This is, in fact, a variable tax placed on not only the retail price of gasoline, but also on the state and federal excise taxes of a gallon of gasoline. At the present time we do not allow all of our gasoline sales tax to go to the highway department. I believe we must seriously consider allowing those motor fuel sales tax dollars which now go to the state's general fund to be retained for Highway construction and maintenance.

I believe, for the most part, that the users of our highways should pay for them, but at the present time we are not using all the dollars these users pay in taxes on our transportation system. This should be done before asking our citizens to pay an even higher price for an item that is priced too high already.

The governor also recommended changes in our present system of highway commissioners' election. His idea was to elect each commissioner statewide. Each district would have a commissioner who was a resident of that district, but who would be subject to election by all the voters of the state.

I have had little time to study this proposal, but I cannot help but be pessimistic toward the possibility for improvement in our system with this proposed change. I do not believe the Northern District would benefit by this change.

Another unusual happening for the Legislature was a Sunday session. The House Ways and Means Committee and the Highways Committee met jointly to hear a report on the critical needs of our Highways from a special House committee which has been studying Highway problems, and the entire House went into session to take part in this hearing.

Legislative Letter

By Tim Ford
Representative District 18
Lee and Prentiss Counties

This week the House voted 89-27 to increase the truck weight limits on major highways. I voted against the bill. In my opinion, the damage to be done to our highways by the increased weight out weighs the economic need for the weight hike.

We have not yet funded the present highway maintenance problem. The increased weight will only enhance this maintenance problem. Our highways are being torn up with the present 73,280 pound limit.

The new measure passed by the House will generate a new $8 million to pay for additional road maintenance and increased weight law enforcement, but Highway Department officials have estimated they will need $11 - 12 million a year to maintain roads with an 80,000 pound load limit. I might have considered supporting the bill if the funds generated would have offset the increased maintenance cost.

In the Finance subcommittee of the House Ways and Means, we began hearings on the State Housing Finance Corporation.

This bill, which passed last year, allowed $150 million worth of tax-free bonds to be sold and proceeds made available to low and moderate income level families for the purpose of obtaining low interest housing. Last year the interest rate for the mortgage loans financed by the Housing Corporation was 10.625 percent compared to 13 to 14 percent conventional mortgage financing.

A briefing by New York bond experts revealed new requirements for a tax-exempt single family mortgage under the new Federal Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act of 1980.

The major requirements are that the mortgagor must not have owned a home during the preceding three years, unless form a "target area." A target area is more or less a low income area as compared with the statewide median family income. Approximately 34 of Mississippi's 82 counties would qualify for a targeted area.

Other requirements would limit the purchase price of the residence being financed, must not exceed 90 percent of the average purchase price of a single family residence purchased during the preceding 12 months (110 percent of the average in a targeted area).

Other problems with a re-enactment of the bill is the instability of the interest rate. Robert Kensington, chairman of last year's Housing Corporation, and chairman of the Grenada Banking System, expressed concern with the ability to sale the tax exempt bonds and make the loans available to the public at an interest rate much lower than the existing conventional interest rate.

Reflections

Jaws of Life Now In Operation

Mayor Charles Crabb and the city board of aldermen are to be commended for taking the steps necessary to obtain for the city the emergency rescue equipment known as the Jaws of Life.

Wendell Harless, a dealer from Alabama who demonstrated the device for rescue workers last Thursday, said the only other towns in this area to have the rescue device are New Albany and Holly Springs.

While I am sure either of these towns would make their Jaws of Life available if needed here in Prentiss County, the length of time needed to get the device here in an emergency would negate the purpose of having it to begin with—that purpose being to get a trapped victim free and to emergency medical treatment as quickly as possible.

No, the device is not cheap. But don't forget, a federal grant through the Governor's Highway Safety Program paid half of the expense.

If we are lucky, this device will never be needed. But, if it ever is needed and saves just one life, it will be worth every penny spent on it.

The Youngest Thief

While I am totally opposed to government censorship of any kind over newspapers, television or radio, a good case for censorship by parents over what their children watch on TV can be made from an incident that happened last week in New York.

A 9-year-old, 4-foot-5-inch boy, identified only as "Robert," was charged with walking into a New York bank, pointing a gun (which later turned out to be a cap gun) at a teller, and walking away with $118.

The boy's attorney, Mel Sachs, said Monday in New York that a passion for detective and crime television shows led Robert to commit the robbery.

"He has a steady diet in watching shows involving crime and law enforcement," Sachs said. "The night before the incident he was watching 'Rockford Files,' 'Adam 12' and 'Hogan's Heroes.'"

This incident should open the eyes of some parents. Do you know what programs your children are watching and how the programs affect them?

Ole Miss Alumni Conduct Phonathon
The University of Mississippi Alumni Association conducted a phonathon in Prentiss County Tuesday to contact local alumni as part of a project to update its list of alumni addresses.

John Ferrell of Booneville and Charlie Farris III, alumni assistant, coordinated the effort in Prentiss County. Any Ole Miss Alumni who may not have been contacted can call Ferrell or the alumni office with any information they have.

James N. Butler is the director of Alumni Activities at Ole Miss.

Weather Outlook: Freezing Still Possible

Agronomologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville say freezing temperatures are a definite possibility for the northern half of the state until the third week in March.

The average last freeze date for Booneville is April 2. This compares to March 10 for Jackson and March 28 for Oxford.

Farmers can also expect more rain than usual during March, the weather experts say. February was generally cold and wet in the first half and warm and dry the last two weeks. The dry weather has kept subsoil moisture low in the northern part of the state.

Measurable rain usually occurs on nine to 11 days in March.

Surgery Suggested On State Aid Program

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—For the first time in years, there's talk in the legislature about doing some surgery on the 30-year-old State Aid rural road program to halt some of its drain on the state's general fund tax revenues. The State Aid road program is one of the sacred cows of Mississippi government. It's been around so long, hardly anybody remaining in legislative circles remembers how and when it got started and why it has never been finished.

Year after year, when the whopping big item shows up in the state budget to keep funding the State Aid Program (like $77.5 million this year), a few eyebrows are raised around the legislature, but nobody dares make a serious fuss about it, because there's something in the pot for every county.

Ever since 1950 when it was started, the State Aid program—launched to provide what were called "farm to market" roads—has been living out of the state's general fund and not from gasoline or other fuel excise taxes. As a matter of fact, the rural road program has been funded by the state's bread-and-butter tax, the sales tax.

The original laws for the rural road program passed in a 1949 special session, at a time when the rural power in the legislature was at its peak, earmarked a flat 10 percent of the state sales tax to the road program, the first time road construction in Mississippi had ever been funded by state general revenues. Eventually, the percentage of sales tax diversion was reduced to 6.5 percent.

Sponsors of the radical new rural road program said it would be pay-as-you-go, and that the entire system of 11,650 miles, of which each county was allocated a certain amount by a formula, would be completed in 12 years.

There were figures kicked around then that the whole thing could cost as much as $60 to $75 million before it was finished, a monumental sum in those days.

Would you believe, the latest figures show that $644,732,470 has already been spent on the State Aid road program and it is still going strong?

It seems here was a danger of a good thing ending back in 1962, so the legislature decided that year to authorize the maximum mileage that could be designated for the rural road program to be raised to 23,312 miles. Yet, the total mileage completed on the system since 1950 is only 10,242, still slightly short of the initial goal.

Even the name of the program—"State Aid"—is a misnomer. The whole concept originally was that the counties would have to put up 25 percent of the cost of the rural roads, since in effect, the program would hard surface roads that county supervisors should have been building with their own road funds.

Instead of getting the counties to share 25 percent of the cost, the best the legislature could get through back then was a requirement for counties to put up 10 percent. In typical fashion, even the 10 percent matching from the counties was wiped out a couple of years later.

Those who drafted the blueprint for the rural road program also were determined that counties would have to install a "county-unit" system of road administration before they could qualify for the rural road funds. That requirement got sidetracked along the way when the politically potent organization of the County Boards of Supervisors lobbied against it.

Ironically, a young legislator from Grenada County named William Winter sponsored an amendment to put back the mandatory county-unit provision. The result: close, but no cigar.

Now, 30 years later, that same William Winter is governor, and while he is leading no crusade to try and bring the State Aid rural road program back in bounds, there are some strong advocates in the Mississippi House who are urging him to make county-unit system basic to any changes in the road program.

Coahoma County, which had pioneered in adopting a county-unit system way back in the late 1940's, is still almost alone in that regard. Only Tunica County has since adopted a unit operation of its entire road administration, and Yazoo County has, for construction only.

Throughout the years, every yardstick of road program management among Mississippi's 82 counties has shown Coahoma to have the most cost-efficient system in the state. Yet, county supervisors elsewhere have resisted going to the county-unit system because it would do away with having what amounts to five separate highway departments in each county.

So much so, after the citizens of DeSoto County voted in a referendum for a county-unit system back in 1973, the supervisors ignored it and kept on using the old beat system. Similarly, Pike County in 1974 employed a consulting firm to make a feasibility study on adopting the county unit system, and agreed to abide by its findings.

When the study was completed and the consultants recommended a county-unit system, no more was ever heard from the county officials.

The legislature has now completed its eighth week of the current 90-day session, with only about four more weeks left in this session. Most of the major legislation, with the exception of appropriation bills, has now been passed by either the House of Representatives or the Senate in some form and for the remainder of this session conference committees will attempt to work out the differences in House and Senate versions of these bills.

A large number of appropriation bills are still pending and will have to be finalized in the next two or three weeks. These bills usually do not create much excitement on the part of the general public, but probably make up the most important part of all legislation considered. Through these bills, over one billion dollars of the money is spent and all operations of state government are funded.

This year, as has been the usual procedure for many years, about 60 percent of the money appropriated will go for some form of education in this state. Over $450 million or approximately 40 percent of this money will be appropriated to operate the local public schools.

Justice Court Bill: One major piece of legislation yet to be considered, which seems to be of much interest to the people, is a bill to revise the justice court system in this state. The legislature got a late start on this bill because the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court handed down its order overturning the civil procedure of the justice courts of this state after the deadline for introductions had passed. However, the deadlines have been suspended for considering legislation on this subject.

The civil procedure of these courts deals with claims between individuals such as the collection of debts and other legal obligations.

The court's chief reason for overturning this function of the justice court was the unfair advantage of the plaintiff. Each county has five or more justice court judges, and under present law, cases may be filed in any district (beat). If the case is not moved to the beat of the defendant's residence, the court in which the cause is filed may render a valid judgment.

The court said this procedure gave the person filing (plaintiff) an opportunity to select a friendly judge who might be favorable to his cause. The court also criticized the basis on which justice court judges are paid which is directly related to the court cost fees collected.

I don't expect many major changes in the system this session but a special committee is working on legislation to correct the present problem.

JA Announces Plans For Annual Charity Ball

"Hollywood Burlesque: Flicks and Flops" is to be the theme for this year's Charity Ball, sponsored by the Booneville Junior Auxiliary, according to Charity Ball chairman Nancy Brewer, who announced plans for the event last week.

The formal, invitation-only event will be held Friday, March 27, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the American Legion building. The doors will open at 7:30. Marshall Dickerson will be the host of the ball. The entertainment portion of the program will give a tongue-in-cheek look at a Hollywood awards presentation.

Twenty-Living Ads, representing local businesses and industries, will be featured as "starlets." And, of course, the JA ladies will have "big namestars" there to receive their awards.

The climax of the first segment of events at the ball will be the announcement of the Outstanding Citizen of 1981, chosen from nominees submitted by various individuals and civic organizations. Mrs. Robert Floyed, JA president, will present the award.

After an intermission, during which hors d'oeuvres will be served, Tara, an Atlanta-based band, will provide a variety of music for dancing.

The nontransferable invitations are currently being mailed, with the deadline for response set for March 13. Invitations are to be presented at the door.

The programs for the ball will include pictures of the living Ads, promotions of local businesses, information about the Junior Auxiliary, and a listing of patrons who support the Auxiliary.

The ball, according to Miss Brewer, will be the only fund-raising project for the Junior Auxiliary throughout the year. The money raised will support all of the welfare, educational, civic, and cultural activities administered by the Auxiliary.

Projects receiving funding from the proceeds of the Charity Ball include: food and clothing for needy families, children's enrichment programs, activities for the elderly, youth activities, and civic enrichment activities.

The Junior Auxiliary is a tax-exempt, charitable organization and all donations are tax deductible, a club spokesman said.

Debra Kay Ashmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ashmore of Booneville, and Nicky Von Newell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evone Newell of Belmont, were married in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Luther Gibson on Nov. 29 at the Little Brown Free Will Baptist Church.

The church's altar was decorated with a brass candle tree entwined with greenery and holding white tapers. The bride's color schemes were reflected by floral arrangements on each side of the altar.

Mrs. Connie Morrow of Florence, Ala., directed the wedding. Miss Betty Smith and Miss Vickie Ashmore presided at the bridal register.

Miss Katrina Akers, organist; John Simmons, pianist; and Mrs. Cindy Simmons, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white organza over satin, which had been worn by her sister. The bodice, featuring a stand-up lace collar and bishop sleeves, was overlaid with Alencon lace beaded with seed pearls.

The full skirt swept into a formal train and was accented with vertical strands of lace from the waist to the hem. The fingertip-length veil of illusion was edged with lace and fell from a headpiece of matching lace and seed pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicky Von Newell

The bridal cascade featured a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis, white miniature carnations, baby's breath and miniature ivy.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Wanda Crow, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joan Sparks of Corinth, cousin of the groom, and Miss Pamela Mauney of Memphis.

They wore formal gowns of teal Coupe de Ville featuring empire bodices and spaghetti straps and topped with matching jackets of interlock knit.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of miniature carnations and wore a comb of stephanotis and baby's breath in her hair. Miss Elizabeth Rainey Wroten, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white chiffon dress and carried a basket of petals.

Mr. Newell attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Doug Crow of Booneville, brother-in-law of the bride, and Dicky Sparks of Corinth, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Kenny Sparks of Belmont and Darrell Newell of Fulton, both cousins of the groom.

The male attendants wore black tuxedos trimmed with black velvet. Mathew Graham, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer, carrying the rings on a heart-shaped cross-stitch pillow handmade by the bride for the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ashmore wore a gown of mauve quiana. Mrs. Newell wore a green chiffon gown. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table held a three-tier, petal-shaped wedding cake topped with three white satin bells. Mrs. Darlene Barron, Mrs. Jolene Taylor and Miss Mary Smith presided.

The groom's table held a two-tier square chocolate cake monogrammed with the groom's initials. Miss Lisa Johnson presided, while Miss Debbie Newell served coffee.

Kathy Tigrett, Maria Tigrett and Jennifer Moody distributed rice bags.

After a wedding trip to Alabama, the couple are making their home in Tupelo where the bride is employed with The Peoples Bank and Trust Company and the groom with the Central Service Association.

Rehearsal Dinner

On the eve of the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Dennis Restaurant in Dennis. At this time, the couple presented their attendants with mementoes of the event.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

On Oct. 26, the bride-elect was honored with a shower at the home of Mrs. Betty Campbell of Belmont.

On Nov. 8, the ladies of the Little Brown Free Will Baptist Church hosted a bridal shower in the auditorium of the church.

On Nov. 22, Mrs. Peggy Wroten hosted a bridesmaid's luncheon in her home for the bride-elect and her attendants.

Mrs. Christian was presented a pink and blue corsage.

Family and friends of Mrs. Melvin Johnsey Sr. regret to know she is a patient in the Magnolia Hospital in Corinth.

Many families in our area have been touched by sadness through the last week. Marvin Hearn's death occured early Sunday with the funeral Monday at Coleman's Mid-Town Funeral Home in Corinth, with burial in Forest Memorial Park.

Saturday night the family of the Rev. and Mrs. James H. Moore received word of the tragic death of Bro. Moore's younger brother, Roy Moore, in Florida. Mr. Moore's body was returned to Selmer, Tenn., where services were held Wednesday afternoon at Shackelford Funeral Home with burial in Salem Cemetery.

Tuesday, L.D. Richardson passed away at his home. Funeral services were held Thursday at Kemp's Chapel Church with burial in Sardis cemetery.

Friends share in the sorrow of the many relatives in our community. Mrs. E.M. Furtick has been kept at home and away from the usual busy schedule of work and other activities for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Morgan of Florence, Ala., and Mrs. Annie Morgan of Corinth were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnsey Jr., Buddy and Robin Johnsey and Sheila Roten were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Erma McKinney of Booneville. In the afternoon the McKinney family members gave a shower for Buddy and Sheila as a gesture of love for their approaching wedding. Gifts were received and appreciated by this lovely young couple. Refreshments were served. Floral arrangements and refreshments featured the color scheme chosen for the wedding—burgundy and pink. Congratulations, Buddy and Sheila!

Reuben Kuykendall of Rienzi, Route 3, will be honored on his birthday Sunday with a dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Kuykendall. Relatives will attend from this area and from adjacent areas, also; from Memphis; Florence, Ala.; Arkansas and Saint Tonis, Mo.

Hearing Impaired Visit Fire Department

As one of their many educational projects, the Booneville Junior Auxiliary recently took the students of the Northeast Mississippi Hearing Impaired Class on a field trip to the Booneville Fire Department.

Both the hearing impaired class and the visually impaired class were established by the Northeast Association of School Administrators because of the need of providing an appropriate education for these students in the northeast Mississippi area.

The Prentiss County School System, under the leadership of Supt. Lex Cain, serves as the fiscal agent of the organization and is responsible for the classes, which are housed at Northeast Junior College.

Local Junior Auxiliary members visit both the hearing impaired class and the visually impaired class once a week for two hours. The JA members lead the children in activities such as art, physical education in the Northeast gym, holiday parties, and provide tutoring in reading.

Field trips, such as the one to the fire department, perform a useful function for the students. "Learning

The JA members have taken the students on several trips, including through lip reading, finger spelling and sign language. This project is just one of many civic projects of the Booneville Junior Auxiliary which contribute to the needs of children in the community.

Tillage

Method

Saves Soil

By JIM PARKMAN
Area Agronomist
Soil Conservation Service, USDA

Some have labeled it a major break-through for eropland conservation. Norm Berg, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, spoke of it as one of the few new conservation practices added since the 1930's.

Regardless of labels, conservation tillage has a bright future.

No other system of tillage can offer what conservation tillage offers. Advantages are abundant: (1) reduces soil loss and associated pollution, (2) conserves soil moisture, (3) reduces cost of fuel, labor, and equipment, (4) improves wildlife habitat, (5) reduces soil compaction, and (6) improves soil organic content.

What is conservation tillage? Probably the best definition would be: A system of growing food, feed, and fiber crops with the least disturbance of the soil surface.

Systems are as varied as those who use them. Success has been noted with drilled and broadcast soybeans, no-till corn, interseeding of ryegrass in permanent pastures, aerial seeding of wheat, and limited cultivation of cotton.

Tony Thompson, District Conservationist in Prentiss County, notes that 36,000 acres of crops, mostly drilled soybeans, were grown using conservation tillage methods in 1980 with varied results.

The success of any conservation tillage system depends upon application of good management techniques. Proper soil-plant adaptability, crop variety selection, seed quality, seeding rates, weed control, field selection, and soil fertility are all important factors to consider.

Information on the subject of conservation tillage is abundant. Landowners considering a change to any type conservation tillage system should prepare for the switch.

Local conservation districts in each county offer excellent information. Talk with Tony Thompson, David Summers or Don Jones of the Soil Conservation Service in Prentiss County about your opportunities with conservation tillage.

Prentiss County Farmers Received $30,142.76 For Weather-Damaged Crops

Federal disaster payments for weather-damaged crops in Prentiss County totaled $30,142.76 last year, compared with $18,134.90 at the end of 1979.

Hot and dry weather conditions during 1980 caused extensive crop damage. The crops were covered under the ASCS disaster payment program.

The 1980 program authorized payment for farmers who were prevented from planting wheat, rice, feed grains or cotton or if yields for these major crops were greatly reduced because of bad weather or other natural disaster. Most of the applications were for reduced yields, particularly in cotton and corn.

To be eligible for disaster payments, farmers were required to file an acreage report and obtain county committee substantiation that production losses were caused by a natural disaster.

Payments for wheat and feed grain producers were based on production losses below 60 percent. Rice and upland cotton farmers received payments based on production losses below 75 percent.

Preliminary figures for the 1980 crop year showed that $54.6 million had been paid nationally for weather-damaged crops, compared to $215.3 million for the 1979 crop. The number of farms receiving payments for 1980 crops totaled 287,014, compared to 90,686 in 1979.
Final figures will be available later in the year.

Emergency Feed Activity Reported

Drought conditions last year resulted in a large number of livestock producers applying for the emergency feed program administered by the Agricultural and Conservation Service.

Thirteen applications were approved between October and December 1980 for emergency feed funds totaling $16,418. The assistance enabled farmers to purchase over 547,280 pounds of feed.

The program authorized ASCS to reimburse farmers up to 50 percent of the cost of feed purchased during an emergency. To be eligible for the assistance, livestock producers must have suffered a substantial loss in the amount of feed normally produced, have insufficient feed for the period of the disaster, and purchase larger-than-normal quantities of feed.

Feed cost is shared to help livestock producers avoid selling or destroying herds when disasters occur.

Nationally, the agency provided $66.1 million during the three months ending Dec. 31, to help farmers buy 2.5 billion pounds of feed.

Farmers Advised Not To Destroy Evidence Of Wheat Damage

Wheat farmers are advised that disaster program eligibility for wheat is dependent on evidence of crop damage. Accordingly, farmers who believe they may be eligible or may later become eligible for disaster payments for wheat should notify the Prentiss County ASCS office of intentions to destroy the acreage before actual destruction takes place.

If a farmer believes that the natural disaster has caused a substantial loss to the program crop and chooses not to carry a portion of these crops through to harvest, the county ASCS office should immediately be notified.
Farmers affected should not destroy the residue—nor graze, greenchop, cut for silage, nor hay the crop residue—until the county ASCS office has been notified.

Failure to notify the county ASCS office in advance of destroying crop evidence may result in the producer being denied low yield payments or their benefits to which he may otherwise be entitled.

An ASCS farm visit will be made to determine crop loss. The disaster program for wheat is authorized by the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977. Any farmer in Prentiss County having questions about this program or about other farm programs should contact the Prentiss County ASCS Office.

SNEA OFFICERS—Mrs. Peggy Wroten (left), faculty adviser for the Student National Education Association, recently discussed plans for the spring semester with newly elected club officers (from left), Joan Burcham, president, Baldwyn; Donna Hutson, public relations chairman, Glen; and, Debbie Gillentine, program director, Booneville. The club, whose purpose is the development of prospective teachers for the nation's public schools, is open to all education majors. Also serving as officers but not pictured are Donna Jo Taylor, vice president, Corinth; Judy Taylor, secretary, Ripley; and, Tammy Prather, treasurer, Baldwyn.

recreation at the University; Marva Goodman, recipient of the award and teacher at Ford Elementary School in New Albany; and Ole Miss students Mark Boyd of Southaven and Jamie Kelley of Weir.

'Beanbag' Idea Is New Teaching Tool

Based on his belief that homemade materials can serve as excellent teaching tools for physical education classes, a University of Mississippi professor has created an award to honor physical education teachers who develop creative uses for homemade materials and inexpensive tools in their classes.

Dr. Quentin A. Christian, professor of health, physical education and recreation at Ole Miss, created the award, which he calls the Beanbag Curriculum Award.

"I wanted to find a way to provide recognition to teachers who are creative and resourceful in their use of simple items such as broomsticks or beanbags as a way of teaching physical skills," Christian said.
"Quite often we waste time in our physical education classes because there is not enough equipment but with these homemade items everyone can participate."

Almost any item can be used to teach calisthenics, agility and other physical skills, he said, and most of the homemade tools will save money for the school.

A Beanbag Curriculum Award was given recently to Mrs. Marva Goodman, an Ole Miss graduate and a

Maintaining Your Mental Health

A New Kind Of Segregation?

From Timber Hills
Mental Health Services

Among planners there's a story that is almost a classic.
In a Swiss town it was decided to build a beautiful housing project up on a hill, overlooking a valley. The town authorities had decided that what the old people really needed was peace and quiet and a beautiful view. Only the people who lived in the apartment didn't stay on their balconies to look at the gorgeous view. As long as they were able to climb up and down that hill, they went to the railroad station, which was noisy, dirty...but lively.

The idea of segregating old people into retirement towns, huge sub-divisions for "golden agers" and even on special cruise ships ("with medical supervision"...the ads say) is a relatively new one. In the old days, grandpa continued to live on the farm, and when she could no longer do the work, her daughters or her son's wife took over. She could sit in the rocking chair and tell stories to the grandchildren. Grandpa might no longer be able to do the plowing, but he still could repair furniture, whittle toys, and give advice on next year's crop.

Even in a city neighborhood, the old people usually remained in their apartments. The young people might just move a few houses down the street. Three-generation families were not considered rare. If everybody didn't live together (and in an urban society they usually didn't), they at least got together regularly in large reunions.

Family counselors know that the old system had many advantages, both for the old people and for the young.
Everybody needs the stimulation of new and fresh ideas, and new and fresh faces. Differences in outlook, in ways of living and in interest add spice to life.

Many of the older people who come to Timber Hills feel isolated from life. Another word would be that they feel segregated. Because they seem to have lost contact with the world of the young, they feel as if they had been imprisoned in the world of the old, a world that is full of the past and that has no future.

Counselors also know that old people do need to make certain living arrangements that are different from those of young people. Usually they can no longer keep up large houses or apartments. Long flights of stairs become a problem, as do yards that require a lot of mowing and other upkeep.

But just because these people have a lot of requirements and problems in common, it does not mean that they are all alike and that they need all the same things. Many an old person has complained to a counselor: "My children treat me as if I were the child...as if I didn't know what was best for me any more."

There may be some older people who really want to live in a "retirement village," who find children and young people too noisy and disturbing. But there are others who crave the company and stimulation of the young. This a decision the old person himself has to be able to make, sometimes perhaps with the help of a counselor.

And if the old person would like to have the opportunity to live in a multi-generation society, it should be possible for him to do so. To deprive the young of the experience, sense of humor and wisdom of the old would be as unfortunate as to deprive the old of the excitement, liveliness and adventure of the young.

If that railroad station had not been in the middle of that little town, all those old people might have just stayed up on their hill, exchanging symptoms. Or they might have decided to move to a town that had a railroad station.

Hills Mental Health Center, phone 728-3174 or come by the

In State Tourney Action

Lady Bearcats Fall

JACKSON—Baldwyn's Lady Bearcats came within two points of advancing to the State BB finals here last Friday but dropped a 43-41 decision to Clarksdale in semi-final action of the State BB Girls Tournament held at the Jackson Coliseum.

The local girls, under head coach Gary Miller, finished second in last week's North Half Tournament at Cartage and won their opening contest on Wednesday before falling to the Clarksdale squad Friday.

The semi-final game went down to the final buzzer only to have Clarksdale's Barbara Coleman hit a 10 foot jumper with 3 seconds left for the victory.

The Lady Bearcats had as much as an 11 point lead in the game had their problems in the final two frames and still had a chance to put the game on ice but missed some key free throws along the final path.

The Lady Bearcats hit 10-17 during the game but managed only three of seven in the final quarter all in key situations.

Baldwyn, who led throughout the contest till the minutes, started their stall offense hosting an 11 point lead with just 3:35 left in the game.

Clarksdale trimmed that in a hurry and cut the lead back to six (38-32) on two straight baskets and a freethrow.

Baldwyn then hurt themselves on the charity line missing three front ends of key one and one situations and the South Mississippi squad took advantage of almost everyone of them. Clarksdale tied the game with 1:04 left on a five foot jumper by Coleman.

Sharon Stone moved the Lady Bearcats back on top on a layup but Coleman came right back to tie the game on another key shot.

Baldwyn then missed the most important freethrow of the year for them and Clarksdale got the rebound. Going for one final shot, Coleman eyed the basket and hit the last shot to give Clarksdale the victory.

The Lady Bearcats had three seconds to get off the final shot but failed and lost the two point squeaker.

Coleman and Cooper netted 14 points each to lead the Clarksdale attack while Baldwyn's Ann McBrayer paced the Lady Bearcat attack with 14 points followed by Sharon Stone with 10.

South Leake Wins

South Lake's ladies won the State BB Crown Saturday with a 38-31 victory over Clarksdale in the finals.

Eagles Open Bids On '81 State Tourney

JACKSON—The 1981 State Boys Championship got underway here yesterday (Wednesday) and will continue through the finals slated for Saturday night.

Wheeler's Eagles will be back again to defend their State B Title from a year ago and this year are again the favorites in their respected division.

The Eagles, under head coach Sam Richey, went into last night's opening round action with a very impressive 40-1 overall record and were scheduled to play their first game of the State event last night.

Wheeler played Decatur, the number two team from the South, last night (Wednesday) at 8:30 with results of that game not available at presstime.

If victorious in that contest Wheeler plays again this afternoon at 3:30 when they meet last week's North B winner Myrtle in their second contest. A win here would put the powerful Eagle squad into Saturday's finals in a 3:00 ballgame.

Wheeler will indeed be one of the favorite's along with a host of others in the Class B division while in other classifications there seems to again be no particular dominating teams.

For instance in Class B this one seems to be up for grabs with East Flora tabbed as the South's number one team and expected to be strong while Wheeler, Hickory Flat, and Myrtle in the running there.

In Class A, this one is also anyone's guess with Waynesboro tabbed number one from the South and Leflore County number one in the North. Everyone else will be gunning also including Houston who finished second in the North.

In Class BB, this one could be the weakest of all brackets. Utica appears to be the strongest team from the South ranked first while East Union hold's the North's number one slot.

Always one of if not the strongest brackets is the AA bracket. Again this year it appears that there are some top notch teams in this bracket although some say not quite as strong as last year. Some will disagree with this though.

Without a doubt according to all polls and from their appearance in the North competition, Tupelo's Golden Wave just could be the strongest team in the tournament.

Only one Mississippi team has defeated the Wave this season that honor going to Wheeler's Eagles who beat them in Booneville earlier in the season.

Of course the South's teams are always tough and this year's group should indeed be strong.

Gulfport is the South's number one team while Harrison Central is a strong second.

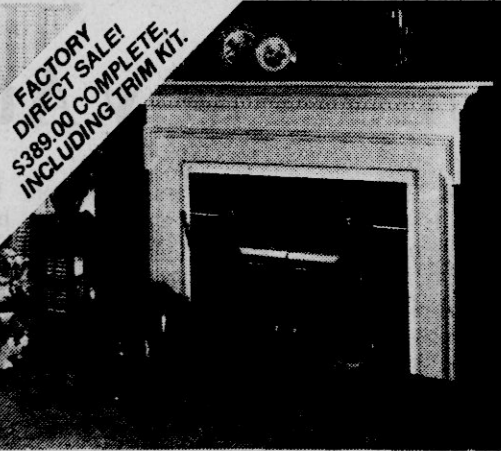

Semi-final action of this week's State Tournament will be played today and tomorrow with the finals slated for Saturday.

Five County Tourney Underway At Northeast

The 1981 Five County Junior High Basketball Tournament got underway Monday night and ended on Wednesday. Due to our press schedule only Monday's game results were available at presstime.

In Monday's action, a host of games, starting at 1 p.m. were held and a number of teams advanced to semi-final competition.

Defending champions of the tournament are New Albany's eighth and ninth grade boys along with Booneville's eighth grade girls and Pine Grove's ninth grade girls.

In Monday's opening round action, East Union eighth grade boys tagged Corinth 41-38; Belmont's ninth girls beat East Union 34-21; Corinth's ninth grade boys bombed Burnsville 63-30; Thrasher's eighth grade boys stopped Burnsville 53-34; Kossuth's eighth girls defeated Thrasher 27-23; Marietta's girls downed Alcorn Central 40-25; and in Monday's nightcap Anderson of Booneville stopped Rienzi 43-32 to round out a seven game stand on opening day.

Northeast athletic director Bill Ward said he was pleased that the college was hosting and added that this years teams have some outstanding future high school performers.

Trophies will again be presented to both the eighth and ninth grade boys and girls champions. (Four in all)

Results of the tournament will be published in next week's Banner-Independent.

TIMBER TIPS

by Lanny Autry

With the renewed interest in heating with wood, firewood cutting may be an ideal way to improve your timber stand. However, careful management is necessary to prevent degrading the forest by over cutting or by cutting trees which would be more valuable for other uses.

Removal of low-quality trees for firewood is just one of the ways to initiate good forest management on your lands. For many owners of small woodlots, it may be one of the best.

Play Paducah Tonight

Tigers Win Region Seven Opener

PADUCAH, KY—The Northeast Mississippi Junior College Tiger

basketball squad opened their Region Seven Tournament competition with a bang here Tuesday afternoon with a 74-61 victory over Motlow in opening round action.

The win gave the Tigers, who finished second in last week's State Junior College Tournament at Northeast, a sure spot in semi final play scheduled today.

The Northeast quintet will battle the host team Paducah tonight at 8 p.m.

for a chance to advance to further competition.

In Tuesday's outing

Northeast jumped out to an early lead and held the lead throughout the ballgame leading by 13 at the intermission 35-22.

Taking up in the second half where they left off in the first, the Tigers kept chipping away and moving out in from leading by 10 or more points throughout the remaining two frames.

Five Tigers reached the double figure mark for the night with Ralph Griffin leading the way with 17 points followed by Mark Hastings with 14, Dale Groves and Maurice Stafford with 12 each and Jackie Leach with 10.

Mike Dailey paced the Motlow attack with 20 points followed by teammate Clem

Jones with 13.

The win for the Tigers was their 20th on the year against seven losses and kept them in contention for that all important Region

Seven Title and a chance to advance to the Nationals.

Northeast played in the finals of the Region Seven event four years ago and haven't been back since.

Tiger head coach Noal

Akins said before they left for Paducah Monday that they would face some of the best competition of the Mid-

South in the Region 7 and added that he hoped his team would be ready to play.

A complete recap of the Region Seven Tournament will be published in next week's Banner-Independent.

RESOLUTION

The Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, took up for consideration the matter of issuing general obligation bonds for Supervisor's District Number One of Prentiss County, Mississippi, to raise money for the purpose of erecting and equipping an equipment shed, and related facilities, to house road equipment, within Supervisor's District Number One of Prentiss County, Mississippi. After a discussion of the subject, Supervisor H.B. Lindsey offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF SUPERVISOR'S DISTRICT NUMBER ONE IN THE MAXIMUM PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF THIRTY-SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS ($36,000) TO RAISE MONEY FOR THE PURPOSE OF ERECTING AND EQUIPPING AN EQUIPMENT SHED, AND RELATED FACILITIES, TO HOUSE ROAD EQUIPMENT, WITHIN SUPERVISOR'S DISTRICT NUMBER ONE OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, in the State of Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "Board"), acting for and on behalf of Supervisor's District Number One of said county (hereinafter referred to as the "District"), does hereby find, determine, adjudicate, and declare as follows:

1. That it is necessary and in the public interest to issue general obligation bonds of the District in the maximum principal amount of Thirty-six Thousand Dollars ($36,000) to raise money for the purpose of erecting and equipping an equipment shed, and related facilities, to house road equipment, within Supervisor's District Number One of Prentiss County, Mississippi.

2. That the assessed value of all taxable property within the District, according to the last completed assessment for taxation, is Five Million, Seven Hundred, Forty-Six Thousand, Two Hundred and Seventeen Dollars ($5,746,217.00); that the District has outstanding bonded indebtedness subject to the ten percent (10 percent) debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9-5, Mississippi Code of 1972, in the amount of Two Hundred Eighty-Six Thousand, Five Hundred Dollars ($286,500.00) and outstanding bonded and floating indebtedness subject to the fifteen percent (15 percent) debt limit prescribed by Section 19-9-5, Mississippi Code of 1972 (which amount includes the sum set forth above subject to the 10 percent debt limit), in the amount of Three Hundred and Twenty-Two Thousand Four Hundred and Ninety-Six and Fifty Dollars ($322,497.50); that the issuance of the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued, when added to the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the District, will not result in bonded indebtedness, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid ten percent (10 percent) debt limit, of more than ten percent (10 percent) of the assessed value of taxable property within the District and will not result in indebtedness, both bonded and floating, exclusive of indebtedness not subject to the aforesaid fifteen percent (15 percent) debt limit, in excess of fifteen percent (15 percent) of the assessed value of taxable property within the District and will not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation upon indebtedness which may be incurred by the District.

3. That the District is authorized by Sections 19-9-1 through 19-9-31, Mississippi Code of 1972, to issue the bonds hereinafter proposed to be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth, for which purpose there are no other available funds on hand.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF PRENTISS COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That the Board of Supervisors of Prentiss County, Mississippi, acting for and on behalf of the District, does hereby declare its intention to issue general obligation bonds of Supervisor's District Number One of said county in the maximum principal amount of Thirty-six Thousand Dollars ($36,000) for the purpose of erecting and equipping an equipment shed, and related facilities, to house road equipment, within Supervisor's District Number One of Prentiss County, Mississippi.

If twenty percent (20 percent) or fifteen hundred (1500), whichever is less, of the qualified electors of the District shall file a written protest with the Clerk of the Board against the issuance of such bonds on or before the aforesaid date and hour, then such bonds shall not be issued unless authorized at an election on the question of the issuance thereof at any time within a period of two (2) years after the date above specified.

Storey Completes Marine Corps Recruit Training

Marine Private Christopher S. Storey, son of Robert H. and Mary V. Storey of 1003 W. Church St., Booneville, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle. A 1980 graduate of Booneville High School, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1980.

Today, Monday, is a beautiful sunshine day, a good day to be thankful to be alive. It is time to start gardening. We have early peas and potatoes planted, onions and cabbage set out. Cold weather do not hurt these plants and we will have cold spells yet.

Margaret Engle has a mew pet—a runt pig her nephew gave her. She's had it two weeks and it is looking good. Its name is Arnold Jr.

Dank and Essie Engle had company Saturday. Their son, Jack Engle, and family from Chapel Hill, Tenn., spent the day and night. They left for home about noon Sunday. We really enjoyed them being home.

Birthdays for this month are James Engle, the 11th; Jack Engle, the 22nd; Dank Engle, the 31st; and D.W. Jones Jr., the 24th. If any one else has any birthday, please let me know.

Rickie Cole from the Hill's Chapel Community spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clent Lentz. Clent and Rickey went horse back riding. Rickey went home Sunday afternoon, a very happy boy.

Mr. and Mrs. H.T. Holder had Sunday afternoon visitors: Bro. Rodger Browning and family and Brother Browning's mother and father, Elder Hermon Clark and family, Mrs. Georgia Depoyster (Mrs. Clark's mother), Ronnie Holder, and family and Gary Holder and friend Dorothy. They enjoyed an evening dinner and talks.

Myka Hale from Iuka was a weekend guest with Bill and Kathey Vess.

Lenord Gray had surgery last week. We hope he is out of the hospital and home soon.

Barbara Engle had surgery last week. She is home and recovering. Fred Elliot passed away about 2 a.m. today. Our sympathy goes out to his family. Funeral services are incomplete at this time.

The members and friend of New Lebanon Church at Cairo gave Linda (Green) Shields a baby shower Friday night. She received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Phiffer had a fish fry Saturday night. Guests were Mrs. Alta Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harolden Bryant, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Yarbrow and family. Everyone ate plenty of fish and enjoyed it.

RIGHT NOW

If you haven't filed your income tax returns for 1980, and you don't have a pension plan where you work, you can still take advantage of the tax savings of an IRA with us. You can set up an IRA now, receive tax advantages for last year, and save on taxes year after year while you build a retirement fund for yourself.

Your IRA is a personal retirement account that you can add to at any time - and there are no minimum deposits. If you like, you can schedule your deposits weekly, monthly, quarterly, or annually. Your account earns 8% interest compounded quarterly.

If you are not covered by a retirement plan where you work, or if you are self-employed, the law allows you to set aside up to 15% of your income each year (up to a maximum of $1500.00 or $1750.00 if you have a non-working spouse). The money you put into your IRA is not subject to federal taxes.

Talk to us now about the advantages of an IRA for you while there is still time to take advantage of tax savings for 1980. You'll owe Uncle Sam less this year and every year.

Home Economist's Report

By CLAIRE T. ROSS
Extension Home Economist Vegetables:
An Alternative Snack

"Eating the right food is important for the total health picture. Smooth skin, healthy and shiny hair and a fair complexion all depend on a well-balanced diet." With this, a proven fact, I want to share with you the following.

Healthy Success
Vegetables have long been a staple of the American diet, but are now assuming new roles as main dishes at the dinner tables in many American homes. Vegetables have replaced meat dishes for numerous reasons, including variety, cost and convenience.

There are seemingly endless varieties of vegetables, and some of the more obscure types such as okra, eggplant and squash are proving to be as popular as the standard favorites such as corn, carrots and beans.

There are also many ways in which vegetables can be prepared. They may be served as a souffle, a casserole, or with the addition of particular sauces and condiments, in a special style. For instance, an oriental vegetable dish can capture a flavor and feeling similar to a dish with meat.

In these days of rising food prices, cost becomes an added factor in the switch towards vegetables. The prices on various cuts of meat fluctuate from week to week, but vegetables remain generally inexpensive and in plentiful supply.

The cost factor becomes critical when preparing a meal for three or more people. The vegetable dishes can feed more people for a smaller amount of money.

The convenience of vegetable dishes is yet another reason for their growing popularity. The dishes are generally easy to prepare, and everything needed for a vegetable dinner can be easily obtained at the neighborhood supermarket.

Vegetables can be easily grown at the home. A little time and patience is all that is required to produce an abundant, fertile garden. Vegetables can even be grown in the winter, and many amateur gardeners have constructed indoor gardens for a year-round supply of consumables.

In addition to the many advantages of these dishes are the nutritional benefits of fresh vegetables. The old adages about vegetables being good for our health ring true, and this has led many consumers back to basic, healthful diets.

Eating the right foods is important for the total health picture. Smooth skin, healthy, shiny hair and a fair complexion all depend on a well-balanced diet. Vegetables, free of the chemical preservatives found in many foods offer a treasure chest of the vitamins and daily nutrients the body needs.

An Alternative Snack

One of the simplest ways to improve one's total physical picture is by adhering to a good diet. Eating nutritionally-sound, well-balanced meals is vital to one's appearance, but some of the greatest harm is done by the massive consumption of so-called "junk foods."

These snack foods such as potato chips, corn chips, pretzels and popcorn have long been popular between-meal snacks, and are even served with meals in some families. The prevalence of these items in school lunchrooms can undermine the objectives of educational systems. The ability of a student to achieve proper social, intellectual and physical development can be greatly hindered by poor diet.

These snack food items and the chronic skin problems associated with them have been the bane of teenagers, but adults as well have suffered from their effects. Acne, blotchy skin, enlarged pores, fine lines, wrinkles, thin hair and dandruff are among the manifestations of such foods.

The best way to insure against the negative effects of poor nutritional habits is by substituting vegetables, fruits and nuts as snack items. This is being done by nutrition oriented hosts who increasingly use vegetables as hors d'oeuvres. In addition to their greater nutritional values, vegetables, fruits and nuts contain less calories and more importantly, they taste delicious.

The popularity of snack foods will be hard to overcome, but the emergence of a new consciousness of good health and nutrition is making people more aware of the snacks they consume.

As this trend continues, not only will there be more beautiful hair, skin, nails and eyes, but more bodies will benefit from newly-found good health.

It is great to live in a country where, if our fellow man is in need, we can poll our resources and help. At our benefit singing Saturday night, over $1,100 was given to the Kennedy family.

It was a great success. Everybody had a wonderful time. If you were not there you missed some wonderful singing and fellowship.

We, on behalf of all of the singers, all of the club members, and anyone who helped, would like to say thank you.

In last week's article, we said we thought the "Bed-springs Man," was still improving. At this writing, he is having heart surgery in Memphis. If you would like to send him a card, his address is William Roy Howell, 417, Methodist Hospital Union Ave. Memphis, Tenn. 38104. We hope he is up and around before long.

The "Brass Monkey," is out of the CC Unit, down in a room at the hospital. "Apple Blossom," had to be hospitalized over the weekend.

Hope everybody is better soon. We still have quite a few with the flu and colds.

"White Girl," has to return to Tupelo for a check-up. Hope everything is okay. But for some one who keeps up with "Hauler" cutting wood, she must be okay. "Hauler," don't work too hard.

To have rhythm is wonderful. To have boogie in your shoes is something else. For some, when the music starts that means grab your partner and dance, even if you have to get in a broom closet. I wonder who but the "Buffalo's" would do that. I know you enjoyed yourselves.

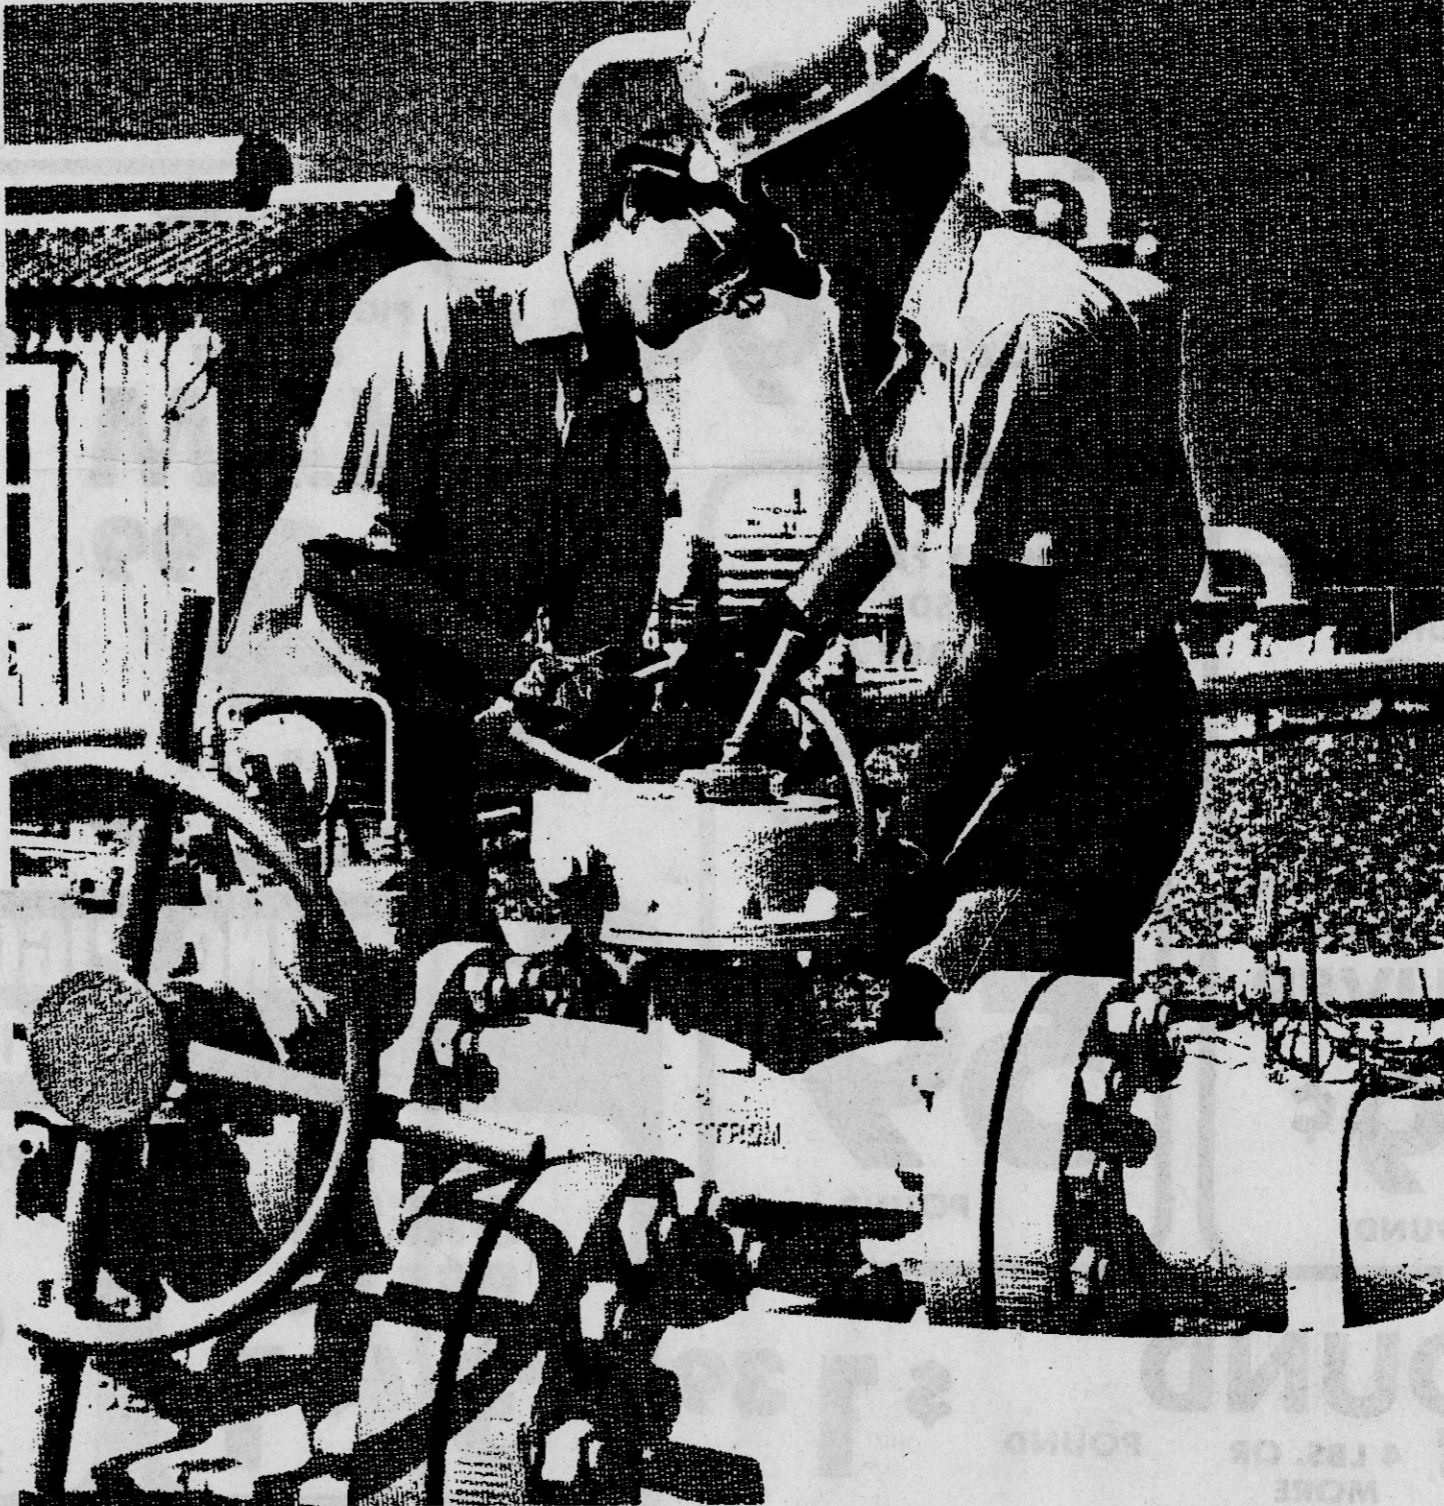

We would like to wish the "Big Bull," a Happy Birthday on Sunday and "The Tick Tock" on Tuesday. Hope each of you have a nice day.

A happy anniversary to the "Hauler" and "White Girl" on Sunday the first. How many years have you put up with him, "White Girl?"

The "Tweety Bird," and "Upholstrey Man," carried Charlie to Jackson last week to get her new wheel chair, hope you can get out more now, Charlie.

Hope each of you have a nice week. Don't forget our social. We will be quitting, so come out and help us.

Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Some 100 Junior Girl Scouts turned out Saturday from across North Mississippi at the Scout World of Well Being at the Northeast gym. Topics included first aid, cheerleading, dancing gymnastics, etc. Director Beverly Burcham said the program was a huge success and said she thanked everyone who devoted their time to help. The classes were taught by the Northeast cheerleaders, some of the Tiger Dancers and other Northeast students who helped. The day's events were climaxed with a bubble gum blowing contest and then the Girl Scouts color guard was given.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:
‘The Great Planner’

By C. D. Edge

C. D. Edge, Pastor
Grace And United Methodist Churches

Have you ever thought about how well God has designed the universe? The pulls balance the pushes. If certain elements were missing, the earth would be a desert.

Without lime, there would be no bones; without oxygen, no air or water; without nitrogen no life. If there were too much of any of these, or if some of the poisonous ones were not made harmless by locking them together, the universe would choke us, burn us, freeze us, poison us, or blow us up.

There are vast quantities of chlorine and sodium on the earth, one destructive to life, the other poison. God made them fond of each other and locked them together as salt, without which the earth would be uninhabitable. Then He buried most of it.

Oxygen makes fire burn. Hydrogen is explosive. Together as water, they put fire out. Nitrogen makes air, combined with oxygen, but when fixed in other elements, it becomes food, fertilizer, medicine, or explosives. What a wonder-working God is ours.
