At Bypass RR Crossing

Tentative Date Set For Installation Of Warning Lights

By KEN CHRISTIAN
Editor

The month of August has been set as a tentative date for the installation of automatic flashing warning lights at the intersection of the Highway 30 Bypass and the Illinois Central Gulf railroad tracks, Mayor Charles Crabb learned last week.

A number of car-train collisions have occurred at the crossing, located just east of the Northeast Mississippi Junior College campus. During one 10-day period this month, two such accidents occurred.

After the latest such accident last Thursday, Mayor Crabb contacted Dave Lowe, division engineer with ICG in Meridian, about the flashing signs.

In January of this year, the city received notification of final approval of a $47,600 grant through the federal Highway Act of 1973 to pay for these warning lights. ICG was to install the lights.

On Jan. 28, 1981, Mayor Crabb received a letter from R.E. Skinner, ICG public works engineer in Chicago, that said, "Since we now have authorization to proceed, we are assembling the necessary material and scheduling the installation."

In his telephone conversation with Lowe last week, Mayor Crabb was told that once ICG receives a work order for the warning lights, it usually takes about eight to nine months to assemble the materials, purchased from various manufacturers across the nation.

Lowe said that, according to his records, the materials for the crossing in Booneville were ordered in November 1980, even before the work order was issued in January 1981.

He said ICG received the first shipment of materials for the signal lights in Booneville two weeks ago. They now have about 10 percent of the materials on hand and expect to receive the balance of the shipments in the next month and a half, Lowe told the mayor.

Lowe also said the company would not schedule the work until all the materials are assembled. But, he said he expects the signals to be installed at the Booneville crossing in August.

The latest car-train accident at the crossing occurred shortly before 7 p.m. last Thursday.

A 1975 yellow Datsun B210 driven by Tony Ray McCreary, 21, of Route 6, Booneville, hit the train's engine broadside near the train's fuel tank on the left side.

The train was traveling south and the Datsun was traveling west. At that time of day, a westbound vehicle at that point on the Highway 30 Bypass faces almost directly into the setting sun. Officers speculated that this could have been a factor in the wreck.

Although the train received only minor damage to the fuel tank, the Datsun was almost totally demolished.

The driver of the Datsun received only minor injuries, but his sister, Rhonda D. McCreary, who was a passenger in the car, received several cuts and contusions and required a number of stitches.

Although Miss McCreary was not actually pinned in the car, the Booneville Fire Department had to use their recently acquired Jaws of Life to open the door so she could be removed and transported to the hospital.

LATEST VICTIM—It will probably be at least another two months before these "railroad crossing" signs on the Highway 30 Bypass will be replaced by automatic flashing warning lights. A number of car-train collisions have occurred at this crossing. The latest vehicle involved, a yellow Datsun B210 driven by Tony McCreary, is shown being towed away in the background.

Special Election To Be Held For 5th District Constable

The Prentiss County Board of Supervisors are hoping to hold a special election as soon as possible to fill the post of Fifth District constable.

John O. "Bobby" Lambert, who has held that office for the past five years, will no longer be able to serve as constable after he takes office as Booneville's Police Chief, a position he won last week in the city's runoff election.

J.P. Davis, president of the board of supervisors, said this week that if Lambert should submit his resignation from the constable's post in time, the supervisors would try to have the special election on the first Tuesday in August.

If Lambert does not submit his resignation, the supervisors will automatically declare a vacancy in the Fifth District Constable's post when he is sworn in as Chief of Police on July 6. They will then set up an election for the earliest possible date, Davis said.

By law, the supervisors can only appoint a person to the post for 60 days. If longer than 60 days remains in the term, a special election must be held.

Less than half of the present 4-year term has expired.

The supervisors must give 30 days notice before holding a special election to fill a vacated post, Davis said.

Jumpertown Voters To Select Officials

Voters in Jumpertown will get a chance to vote for their city's officials next Tuesday in the June 2 general election.

Incumbent Bobby Smart will face challenger C.D. Windham for the post of mayor of Jumpertown.

All five incumbent aldermen at Jumpertown are seeking re-election. They are Eddie Mauney, Jimmy "Bud" Simes, J.M. "Wim" Green, Charlie Geno and Ernest Burns.

They are being challenged by four opponents, Orman L. Bridges, J.C. Young Jr., O.S. Moore Jr. and David M. Yates.

Jumpertown is the only Prentiss County municipality which had contested races but did not hold primary elections in May.

Marietta did not hold a May primary election, but all their candidates will be unopposed in this Tuesday's election. Marietta candidates include incumbent Mayor James C. Pharr, incumbent aldermen Hollis Pharr, C.T. Moore and Kenneth Moreland, and Tommy Harris and Hershell H. Pharr Sr. who are seeking the positions of two incumbent aldermen who are not seeking re-election.

Booneville, Rienzi and Baldwin all held primaries during May, nominating Democratic candidates for Tuesday's general election.

Since the Democratic candidates elected in these towns do not have any Republican or Independent opponents, they will be unopposed in Tuesday's election.

According to Booneville City Clerk June Hutcheson, Tuesday's election is just a formality for the city since there are no opposing candidates.

Effective June 1

Two-Hour Limit Set On Downtown Parking

At the request of a group of downtown merchants, the Booneville Board of Mayor and Aldermen have passed an ordinance limiting parking on certain downtown streets to two hours.

The ordinance takes effect on June 1, at which time the new parking regulations will be enforced on Main, Market and West College streets in downtown Booneville.

Two-hour parking will be enforced on those streets between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. every day except Sunday. Violators can receive a fine ranging from $2 to $100 and/or a maximum 30-day jail term.

Controlled parking on Main Street will begin at the intersection with West Church and extend to the First Street intersection.

On Market Street, the two-hour limit will be enforced from the Main Street intersection to the College Street intersection.

On West College Street, controlled parking will begin at Market Street and end at the First Street intersection.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever Reported Here

At least two cases of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever have been diagnosed in Prentiss County, according to Booneville physician Dr. Cliff Cartwright.

But, he cautions there is little cause for alarm since the disease is usually easily treatable.

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is most commonly transmitted in our part of the country through the bite of the dog tick, Dr. Cartwright said.

He said an infected tick needs to remain on a person for a minimum of about four to six hours for the disease to be transmitted.

"It's really important for parents to check their kids," Dr. Cartwright said. "If a tick stays on over night, that's when you're going to see problems. The last case we had was a situation like that. They found the tick the next morning."

If untreated, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is usually about a two-week illness, Cartwright said.

"The first week you just won't feel well. You may run just a little fever and have a little headache, and possibly a little rash might show up toward the end of the first week," he said.

Unlike rashes accompanying some other diseases (such as measles), the Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever rash usually starts on the extremities—the hands and the feet—and goes toward the body's trunk, Dr. Cartwright said. "Some people won't get much of a rash, though," he added.

"The second week is when the victim usually gets sicker," he said.

During the second week, the fever and the headache may increase and the rash may become more pronounced. Victims may also suffer from photophobia—sunlight hurts their eyes.

Today, Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is not considered to be too serious a disease, Dr. Cartwright

At Friday Luncheon

Miss Hospitality To Be Announced

Eighteen girls are scheduled to compete Friday afternoon for the title of 1981 Miss Hospitality when the annual pageant is held at Northeast Junior College's Frank Haney Union.

The girls were nominated by various civic groups to participate in the pageant and will be guests of honor at a luncheon which begins at 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Following the luncheon, the girls will each be interviewed by the judges. This should start around 1:45 p.m.

Mrs. Louise Peeler, chairman of the pageant, said she feels the clubs have again this year picked an outstanding group of girls for the pageant. She said the clubs will be well represented.

Tracie Arnold, Booneville's current Miss Hospitality, will be a special guest at the pageant and will be on hand to greet the new Miss Hospitality to be named by Mayor Charles Crabb at 3:45 p.m. in the Haney Union's Black and Gold Lounge. Tracie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Arnold.

Judges for this year's pageant are Ms. Margaret Carnathan of Tupelo, Mike Malski of Amory, and Mrs. Karen McFerrin of Itawamba Junior College.

Each local civic club was asked to select two girls to compete in the pageant. Each club is also to designate a member to introduce its nominees at Friday's luncheon.

Contestants for this year's pageant include Denise Horn and Memory Rone, Pilot Club; Candy Cleveland and Lisa Armstrong, Women's Club; Lori Stoope, Belinda Hester, and Julie Cox, B&PW Club; Bronzie Morgan and Lisa Gibson, Civitans; Teresa Phillips and Kathy Williams, Junior Auxiliary; Rhonda Manley and Darlene Swinney, Rotary; Gay Armstrong and Robin Childers, Lions Club; Teri Kendrick and Lisa Williams, Junior Women's Club; and Susan Brinkley, Jaycees.

Community Fund Works Toward Goal

Community Fund president Richard Coggin reports that two divisions of this year's fund raisers have completed their drive.

These two are the education division, chaired by Lex Cain, Mrs. Louise Peeler and Joe Childers, and the merchants division, chaired by Roy Boren.

Coggin asked that all division chairmen report each Friday through the remainder of May at the Bank of Mississippi between 4 and 5 p.m.

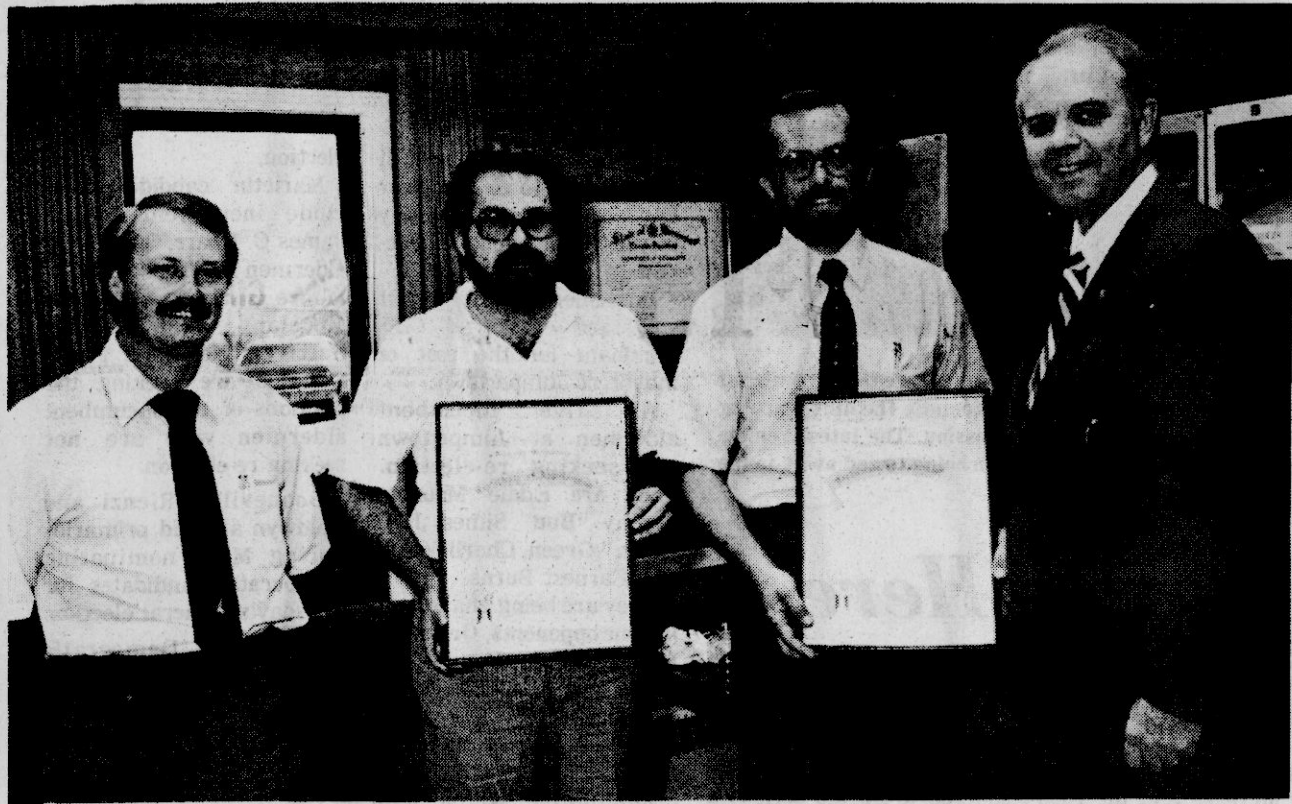

Tommy Walden of the Bank of Mississippi is the fund drive chairman.

This year's goal for the community fund is $33,000. This money will be used to support various charitable programs in the area.

TACKY DAY—May has been declared Older Americans Month and as part of the festivities tacky day parties were held at various senior citizens centers in Prentiss County. The photos at top and at left show "tacky" senior citizens at the center on Hatchie Street, while the bottom photo shows those at the East Circle community center. These programs are funded in part by Title XX of the State Department of Public Welfare.

said. "Untreated, it has about a 5 percent mortality rate in small children," he said. "In adults, it could range as high as 20 to 25 percent."

The disease is usually treated with tetracycline or another of a broad spectrum of antibiotics now available. "Treated, the disease is really not something we worry about anymore," he said. "It's much less severe the younger the person."

"I've had two cases here in Booneville and neither one of them was very sick at all," he added.

However, he cautions that it can still be a severe disease in some adults. Cartwright suggests that anyone who has been bitten by a tick and develops a rash and much fever and/or headache after two or three days, should see his doctor. But, he points out that the tick bite without the accompanying symptoms should usually cause no alarm.

Dr. Cartwright also cautions care in the removal of ticks. If the venom from the tick should get into a break in the skin of a second person removing the tick, that person could also contract the disease.

Also, in removing the tick, squeezing it could possibly transmit more of the venom to the victim.

Some of the recommended ways of removing a tick is to stick a lighted cigarette or a hot match head to the tick to make it let go. Sometimes an application of gasoline or grease will make it turn loose.

If these methods fail, Dr. Cartwright recommends using a pair of tweezers to catch the tick just about where it is attached to the skin and pull it out without squeezing the tick's body.

Bonds Sold For City Swimming Pool

"At a special meeting of the mayor and board of aldermen Tuesday afternoon, $50,000 in bonds were sold at auction bid, with five bidders bidding for the municipal bonds to build a swimming pool.

"The bonds were finally sold to First National Bank of Memphis for 3.06 percent, considered locally as a low rate of interest at this particular time.

"The move brings the aquatic minded of the section another step nearer to a cool dip in a modern swimming pool. Harold H. Franks, local architect, advises that, barring unforeseen difficulties, the plans will be ready early next week, at which time bidders for construction may inspect the plans and submit bids.

"The plans for the pool are to A.A.U. standards and tentative arrangements are for a poured concrete pool or a gunnite construction (concrete sprayed over steel reinforcement).

"Several of the civic clubs of Booneville are making plans to assist the park committee in securing other needs for the park, such as tennis courts, badminton courts, tables in picnic areas, and to assist in the operational phase in any way beneficial to the park staff."

"At the end of that two weeks we will probably seek an audience with the committee (the Mississippi High School Activities Association's executive committee) in Jackson on eligibility. That will be our immediate plan."

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK—J.P. Davis (seated), president of the Prentiss County Board of Supervisors, signs a proclamation declaring May 24-31 as Soil Stewardship Week in Prentiss County. On hand for the signing are Doug Mansell (left) and Dalton Garner. Focuses On Resource Problems

Soil Stewardship Week Set

Soil Stewardship Week will be held nationwide this year May 24-31, according to Dalton Garner, Chairman of the Prentiss County Soil & Water Conservation District. Since 1955, Soil Stewardship Week has been recognized in millions of churches and schools across the nation. It is designed to focus on the nation's natural resource problems and to consider ways to solve them. "This country must, at whatever cost, maintain the capacity of the land to produce food and fiber," cites the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) in its booklet for the 1981 observance. NACD sponsors Soil Stewardship Week in cooperation with the nation's 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. "With our own population of 220 million and growing and with many regions of the world depending on the United States to supplement their food supply, the need to maintain our productive capacity becomes increasingly apparent," NACD says. This year's event focuses on "Society's Pressure Points" as its theme and covers such topics as soil and water conservation, urbanization, and loss of prime farmland. Information and materials for the 1981 observance of Soil Stewardship Week are available from the local district whose office is co-located with the Soil Conservation Service at 107 College Street.

Letters To The Editor

To Criticize Or To Inform

(Editor's Note: The following letter is a reply from Sheriff John McCauley to last week's "Reflections" column, in which Sheriff McCauley was asked to stop prisoners in the fenced-in area of the county jail from harassing female passers-by.)

Dear Editor:

It is strange to me people would rather criticize than inform about the prisoners, as in "Reflections" in the paper last week.

I knew one prisoner had made a bad remark to a lady and I got him down to Parchman within three days. That is the only time I knew that had happened.

I believe it would have been the duty of the editor to have called me when something like this happens, but he might not have anything to write about then.

I have known of women who pass by and try to attract the attention of prisoners.

If anyone knows of anything going on concerning prisoners misbehaving, I would very much appreciate it if they would call me or come by and let me know.

I will try to correct what is wrong before it gets bad enough to put in the paper.

Grades Should Not Be Used To Control Conduct

Dear Editor:

On Sunday, May 17, 1981, the first graduation exercises of the Booneville Municipal Separate School District were held. My daughter was one of the 94 seniors who graduated.

After graduation, she was given her report card and three points had been deducted from her final six-weeks average in each subject taken at the high school.

She was one of approximately 75 seniors who had points taken from their grades.

This was the result of her being absent from school with my permission on April 10, 1981. I called the school, as I had done each time she would be late or absent throughout the school year. Never before had I been questioned.

This time the principal called back to find out if she was ill. I told the truth and said she was not, but had my permission to stay home.

Had I lied, as some apparently did, the points would not have been deducted from her grades. I just cannot believe that our school board members in all good conscience can condone or support such action.

Grades should not be used as a threat to control absence, tardiness or conduct. Discipline can be enforced through respect for authority, but the school administration will have to respect the rights of the students and their parents by proving that fairness and equality is for all.

This has not been the situation in our high school this past year.

The majority of parents will encourage disciplinary action, if necessary, but using grades as a lever to control conduct, absence or tardiness is unfair!

Senate Report

Controlled Substances Law

By SEN. BILL MAY
Fifth District

S.B. No. 2681: This bill makes a number of revisions in the Uniform Controlled Substances Law. The most important aspect of the bill is the revision of the various offenses and the penalties therefor.

While the bill removes a mandatory period of incarceration of three years for the commission of certain offenses, it provides for greatly increased fines. Most of revised penalties relate to drug trafficking.

The penalty for the sale, barter, transfer, manufacture, distribution, dispensing or possession with the intent to sell, barter, transfer, manufacture, distribute or dispense will be as follows:

Offense: Schedule I or II (except 1 oz. of marijuana and except a first offender who violates this section with respect to less than 1 kg. but more than 1 oz. of marijuana); Penalty: Imprisonment for not more than 30 years, or a fine of not more than $1 million, or both.

Offense: One ounce or less of marijuana; Penalty: Imprisonment for not more than 3 years, or a fine of $3,000, or both.

Offense: A first offender with less than 1 kg. but more than 1 oz. of marijuana; Penalty: Imprisonment for not more than 20 years or a fine of not more than $30,000, or both.

Offense: Schedule III and IV; Penalty: Imprisonment for not more than 20 years, or a fine of not more than $250,000, or both.

Offense: Schedule V; Penalty: Imprisonment for not more than 10 years, or a fine of not more than $50,000, or both.

The penalty for possession of one kilogram or more of marijuana was revised. The present law provides for a mandatory prison sentence of three years, and, in addition, a fine of not more than $10,000.00 may be imposed.

This bill removed the mandatory sentence and provided that an offender may be imprisoned for not more than 20 years or may be fined not more than $1 million, or both.

No changes were made in the present law for the possession of smaller amounts of marijuana except for the increase in the fine for the possession of a small amount of marijuana in the passenger area of a motor vehicle. The present fine of $500 was increased to $1,000.

While the Senate version of this bill contained the Model Drug Paraphernalia Act prepared by the Drug Enforcement Administration, this act was deleted from the bill in conference.

The bill revised the definitions of certain terms in the Uniform Controlled Substances Law and scheduled additional controlled substances. Also, the duties of the State Board of Health under the Uniform Controlled Substances Law were transferred to the State Board of Medical Licensure.

Reflections

Reflections

By Ken Christian

"Maybe when someone gets killed they will do something about it."

Several bystanders voiced such sentiments last Thursday night as they watched a wrecker drag away the remains of a Datsun B210 which had just collided with a southbound Illinois Central Gulf train.

This was the second such accident within a 10-day period at the railroad crossing on the Highway 30 Bypass near the American Packing Company.

Not only that, but this was just the most recent in a series of such accidents since the bypass was constructed in 1974.

Former Prentiss County Sheriff Ralph Martin himself only barely escaped serious injury when his patrol car collided with a train at this crossing prior to his leaving office.

It took four long years for the city to gain approval of a $47,600 grant through the federal Highway Act of 1973 to put up automatic warning lights at that railroad crossing.

Mayor Charles Crabb set the construction of warning lights at this intersection as one of the goals of his administration when he first took office four years ago. He received final notification in January of this year that the grant had been approved and that ICG had been issued a work order for the project. But, no specific date was given for construction to begin.

After a few phone calls last Friday to ICG officials, the mayor was told that once a work order is issued it usually takes eight to nine months to gather materials from the various suppliers before construction can begin. The date given for possible construction of the warning signals was August of this year.

What happens in the meantime? What if there is another car-train collision between now and then? Will the fact that the warning lights are to be put up in August provide comfort to the grieving family if someone is killed between now and then? Will it pay the hospital bills and soothe the pain of the injured?

To be totally fair, ICG cannot be held solely responsible for that crossing, or for the nine-months delay in construction. Red tape is a fact we all have to live with.

Several factors lead to an unsafe situation at the crossing on the Highway 30 Bypass. For one thing, there is quite a bit of undergrowth along the track and it is difficult to see for any distance down the track until you are practically on it.

For another, there is often a train that comes through just at dusk - between 6 and 7:30 p.m. Motorists coming into Booneville from the east on the bypass face directly into the setting sun at this time of day, making a train even more difficult to see.

Another factor could be the speed of the train. A Booneville policeman, using one of the city's radar units, clocked at least one of the trains through the bypass crossing last week at 36 miles-per-hour. It certainly wouldn't hurt the situation if the trains slowed down a bit more when traveling through populated areas.

We strongly urge local motorists to exercise extreme caution at all railroad crossings. The discussion at the coffee shops next week could very well be about your accident - and you may not be as lucky as the others have been thus far.

Democrats Need Victory In 4th District

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, MISS. -- Democrats in the Fourth Congressional District are coming around to the realization that the special election June 23 could be their last real shot for the next 20 years or more to win back the congressional seat that has been in the hands of the Republicans since 1972.

The thinking of many Democratic leaders is that if political newcomer Liles Williams, the 45-year-old GOP standard-bearer wins this race, the Fourth could become a "safe" district for the Republicans and the Democrats will be hard-pressed for years to come up with major candidates to make the challenge.

That's why there's some optimism now in the Democratic ranks that if certain things happen, they can recapture the seat. For one thing Williams although he will be backed by substantial GOP money, is not known, and the Democrats, on the other hand, have two or three first-rate candidates in the field with varying degrees of public background.

What also strengthens Democratic hopes is that this will be the first time since 1968 the Democratic standard-bearer won't have a large chunk of black Democratic voters drained off by a black Independent in a three-way runoff.

But the Democrats still have two beartraps to get around if they are to have a real shot at breaking the Republican grip on the congressional seat. One is that three "major" and one

"minor" Democrats have jumped into the field, making it impossible to mass the Democratic strength behind a single candidate in the June 23 round, as will the Republicans be able to do.

Thus the problem will be trying to get the eliminated Democrats from the first race to back the one who makes the cut.

For years, internecine warfare among Democrats in the first primary has carried over into the runoff, often causing the most qualified Democrat to lose in the second. Some Democratic leaders in the district have already started working on plans to get the eliminated candidates together to support the surviving Democrat.

The assumption is that one of three Democrats will make the runoff, with one runoff spot automatically conceded to the GOP's Williams. At the moment, it could be either McComb Mayor Wayne Dowdy, State Sen. Ed Ellington of Jackson or Britt Singletary, the young Jackson attorney who was the Democratic nominee last year in the race won by now-resigned Republican Cong. Jon Hinson.

But getting the eliminated Democratic candidates together in the second may only be part of the task. For

Punishing Weapon Will Not Reduce Crime

By U.S. SEN. JAMES MCCLURE
(Republican - Idaho)

It was a principle of law during the Middle Ages that an inanimate object—a hoe, cart, or a sword—could be held criminally responsible for acts it was used to commit. Thus medieval villagers at the time of William the Conqueror, were often treated to the spectacle of some farm tool machine, or weapon being publicly flogged, hanged or burned as "punishment" for its alleged misdeeds.

The science of jurisprudence has advanced considerably since William the Conqueror's time, but, believe it or not, the strangeness of blaming the instrument, instead of its owner, survives to this day.

The U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (BATF) and its interpretation of the vague 1968 Gun Control Act illustrates how a theory is perpetuated to perfection in modern law enforcement practice.

Originally enacted to punish criminals who abuse guns, the 1968 Gun Control Act has been used by the BATF to proscribe and persecute inanimate objects—guns—and innocent gun owners.

Gun collectors and law-abiding gun dealers have been subjected to Gestapo-style search and seizure, harassment, and even loss of livelihood merely for falling afoul the tangle of BATF red tape and regulations. Despite the clear intent of the Act, only 10 percent of the BATF's gun cases are against felons who possess or buy guns; and only 4 percent of guns confiscated meet the BATF's own definition of "crime guns."

The problem is compounded by the fact that the BATF, itself, refuses to define clearly what constitutes "engaging in the business" of firearms sale and manufacture. This catch-22 permits BATF regulators to arrest private citizens, who wish to sell or trade firearms from their own collections, as if they were large-scale arms suppliers.

The story of David Moorehead provides a shocking case in point. Moorehead, a disabled Vietnam veteran, obtained, through the help of the Veterans's Administration, a small gun shop in rural New Hampshire. In 1977, undercover BATF agents tried to entrap him into making an illegal gun sale. Moorehead, however, reported the matter to BATF officials. Furious at being stung by their own "sting," the BATF agents responded by falsely charging Moorehead with owning an illegal machine gun. They then dragged the handcuffed disabled vet on to jail.

Later, after agonizing months of costly litigation, a federal judge dismissed all charges against Moorehead. Apologizing to the vet on behalf of the U.S. Government, the judge blasted BATF officials for their appalling lack of "common decency and common sense."

David Moorehead is only one of 60 million law-abiding Americans who exercise their right to keep and bear arms. To protect such honest citizens from a growing number of BATF abuses, thirty-seven senators—Republicans and Democrats alike—have cosponsored a bill that would amend the 1968 Gun Control Act.

The McClure-Volkmer bill, S. 1030, would refocus the Act, and the BATF, on the real problem—violent crime and gun abuse. It would eliminate wasteful red tape and needless restrictions on peaceable citizens. It would provide for stricter penalties for those who misuse firearms.

But, most important, it would protect the constitutional rights of law-abiding Americans from a misguided, medieval crusade against gun ownership—a crusade which all too often ignores the criminal, encourages the crime, and curiously enough, incarcerates the weapon.

The installation of new officers highlighted the May program meeting of the Pilot Club of Booneville, held at 7 p.m. in the Holiday Inn of Corinth on Thursday, May 21.

Mrs. Nelwyn Murphy, president, presided. Special guests included the co-pilots. Mrs. Louise Peeler, past governor of the La. Miss. district of Pilot International, served as installing officer. As the theme of the program, she chose the 1981-82 Pilot International theme: Friendship and Service, The Seeds for Pilot Growth.

The installation table was covered with a yellow cloth and held a large hand-painted tree, which had been drawn by Susan Wimberly, a member of the Booneville High School Anchor Club. The tree was designed to represent the "Pilot International Tree," and was surrounded by brightly colored silk flowers.

During the installation program, Mrs. Peeler explained that trees are different from most other living things in that they never stop growing as long as they live. She compared the Pilot organization to a living growing tree.

As each officer accepted her challenge, she placed a Pilot wheel on the tree and was then given a silk flower of a color symbolic of her office.

Officers who were installed are Mrs. Robbie McDaniel, president; Mrs. Eudora Kemp, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Sartin, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Avenell Cunningham, recording secretary; Mrs. Neola Cleveland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Vicky Walendzik, treasurer; and Mrs. Nelwyn Murphy, Mrs. Bertha Yarbber and Mrs. Louise Peeler, directors.

Mrs. Ann Prichard, membership area leader, was program director. She was assisted by Mrs. Carla Biggs, Mrs. Hilda Campbell, Mrs. Lee Davis, and Mrs. Vicky Walendzik.

The U-shaped tables were covered with yellow linen cloths and decorated with summer flowers in green pottery vases.

Mrs. Peeler closed the installation service with the Pilot code of ethics.

Extension Club Meets

An Extension Homemakers' program leaders' meeting will be held Tuesday, June 2, at 1:30 p.m. in the Extension Conference Room. The program for June is citizenship.

In addition to the program on citizenship, Mrs. Travis Nelson, Extension club member from Corinth and Alcorn County, will be presenting a program on English smocking.

Although English

smocking appears intricate and involved, it is really quite a simple procedure. Smocking can be as simple or as involved as desired. And some easy-to-work designs can look quite complicated, so that even a beginner can have a finished piece to display with pride.

This program is especially for EH club members, but is open to the public — and those interested are welcome to attend, according to Claire T. Ross, Home Economist.

Melanie Renee Rayburn of Booneville has been named to the Dean's List of Mississippi College at Clinton for the second semester of the 1980-81 school session.

Two Area Teachers In Teaching Workshop

Two area teachers have been selected to participate in the two-day workshop, "Teaching with Community Heritage Resources" May 29 and 30 on the Northeast Mississippi Junior College campus.

The Mississippi workshop, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, in cooperation with Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, is under the direction of the staff of the Mid-South Humanities Project (MSH-P).

Established in 1978, the MSHP covers a 12 state area, including North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

In addition to the five-member MSHP staff, the workshop will feature David Estabrook, education program coordinator of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.; Mrs.

Hilda L. Hill, director of the North Mississippi Environmental Education Consortium; Mrs. Anna Quinn and Mrs. Nancy Brock, Northeast Junior College English instructors.

The workshop's purpose is to identify, analyze and put to use the varied community resources that are available at little or no expense to the classroom teacher of grades 1-12. Incorporating lecture and group discussion, the workshop will offer its participants the option of incorporating the environment, family history, folk culture and historic sites into their English and history curriculums.

Democrats

instance, if Ellington, who has almost solid backing in his Jackson legislative district that includes a large number of erstwhile Republicans, were eliminated, a sizable part of his votes could be expected to go to the Republican candidate in the second.

Incidentally it is now known that former State Rep. Walter Brown of Natchez, who had indicated he would be a Democratic candidate for the Fourth District seat immediately after Hinson first let it be known he would resign, tried valiantly to get the top Democratic prospective candidates together to agree that only one would run. When he failed, he withdrew from the field.

NE Honor Roll

Forty-one students from Booneville and the surrounding area were among 145 who were named to the president's and dean's list for academic achievement during the second semester at Northeast Junior College.

Students who earn a minimum of 15 academic hours with a grade point average of 4.0 are named to the president's list, while those who maintain a grade point average of 3.5 or better are named to the dean's list.

Area scholars named to the president's list include Sterling Dale Akers, Booneville; Martha Hale Ashmore, Baldwin; Hal Franklin Bennett, Booneville; Robert Henry Burruss III, Booneville; Jo Ann Dennis, Booneville; Mary Ann Hall, Booneville; Jana Reina Henry, Rienzi; Maxine Floyd Henson, Rienzi; Janice Doty Holder, Booneville; Johnnie Eugene Miller, Booneville; Arthur Wayne Smith, Booneville; Mary Nell Smith, Booneville; and Sheila Gail Trollinger, Rienzi.

Names to the Dean's list were Sheila Floyd Adams, Booneville; Deborah Renee Baggett, Rienzi; Thomas Jackson Bailey, Booneville; Beverly Gail Blythe, Baldwin; Michael Ray Burcham, Booneville; Donnie Lynn Caldwell, Baldwin; Martha Smith Carpenter, Baldwin; June Carolyn Chase, Booneville; Marla Sue DeVaughn, Marietta; Rebecca Lynn Dodds, Booneville.

Mark Allen Sheffield, Booneville; Cynthia Ann Smith, Booneville; Danita

Blacks are expected to stay away from the June 23 first run because there is no black candidate in the field. But white Democratic leaders are beginning already to map strategy to get blacks to come out to vote against Republican in the runoff since his election would assure another vote for President's budget cuts which will hit programs for blacks and poor in the district quite hard.

One reading of the Fourth district is that despite the supposed popularity of Reagan's programs among whites in Southwest Mississippi, many white farmers, especially small dairy farmers who make up a significant part of the area's agricultural economy, are not enamored with Reagan's proposals.

Although Williams, who has worked practically all of his adult life for a big electrical company in Jackson, has never entered the political arena before, he has already shown himself to be effective on television, and has held his own quite well in give-and-take with the news media.

Besides, he is expected to have $400,000 to spend, which can buy an awful lot of television exposure to become known in a hurry.

Dowdy, who has a rather substantial law practice in McComb as well as being mayor, got a jump on the pack by buying a heavy amount of media exposure at the outset of the campaign, helping him pick up some needed base in the lower part of the district.

Ellington has the most experienced political background in the field. Besides serving his second term in the State Senate, he is the nephew of former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington, and his mother was longtime circuit clerk in Holmes County.

Although he is well-regarded in the Jackson area for his legislative work and in the legal profession, Ellington has been slow in making an aggressive campaign out in the district. Some had felt he was a natural for campaigning in rural because of his rustic, friendly manner and his penchant for traveling in a pickup truck.

Singletary has hired Bob Squier, the political TV whiz who helped elect William Winter governor two years ago, but he is yet to unveil which is expected to be his new television manner, after getting poor ratings for his projection on the tube in last year's congressional race. But Singletary figures to have the best name recognition going in, based on having made the race for the district seat just a few months ago.

The word in political circles is that Singletary, who made no effort to go after the black vote in his race with black Independent Les McLeMore and Hinson last fall, is now making deals with certain black political leaders to assure he will have some black support this time.

Young Michael Herring,

the outspoken young solar energy specialist, could capture a fringe of black votes, but his lack of financing probably will relegate him to only a token threat. Even less can be expected of oldtime Klansman E.L. McDaniel, latter-day Klansman Robert Weems and Sarah Smith of Vicksburg.

Managing Stress

From TIMBER HILLS
MENTALHEALTH SERVICES

(Second of a Series on Stress and Stress Management)

Most people handle moderate stress successfully. They talk to a friend, get away from a difficult situation for a while, work out some physical energy and get a good night's sleep, do yoga or other relaxation exercise. For most, these are such normal activities they don't even recognize them as keys to handling stress.

Other people handle stress by taking a pill, a drink or a hit. A glass of wine at the end of the day may help get rid of that dull pain in the shoulders. A mild tranquilizer at night for a few weeks may help relieve anxiety over a situation and help get a good night's sleep.

The problem with drugs or alcohol is that they do not get at the source of the stress, and they are easily habit-forming, especially in the face of additional stress. Drug and alcohol abuse are one indication of the degree to which stress can affect many people.

Severe stress and continual moderate stress may not be so easy to handle alone. It takes concentration to control a large degree of stress. The techniques have to be learned and practiced. What works for one person may not work for others.

Relaxation is a common goal in stress management techniques. Biofeedback teaches one how to reduce the pulse rate, the blood pressure and brings total relaxation to areas particularly affected by stress. Jogging releases tension by using up accumulated energy summoned up in a stressful situation. Yoga combines muscular flexibility and relaxation along with meditation to relax the mind.

After we learn to manage the stress inherent in everyday life we can take steps to alleviate excessively stressful situations. A shy new manager may benefit from assertiveness training and further professional training. Marital problems causing family stress may be solved through increased communication and understanding, or a divorce.

There are some general guideline to use in reducing stressful situations. First, identify the source of the stress. A depressed young homemaker has several sources of stress. She may resent the time her husbands spends on his job. She may not feel adequate as a mother. She may want a career outside the home, and feel guilty about it. Any of these may be the major source of stress.

Second, decide how significant the source of stress is and how important it is in one's life. Does the housewife feel neglected by her husband? Is there some unhealthy remnants of stress left over from her own childhood that prevents her from feeling adequate in her parenting role? Does she really want a career or just a chance to get out of the house and be involved with other adults in something interesting?

And finally, how can the stress be relieved. Is the source something that can be avoided in the future? Can her husband rearrange his work habits so that he is home more? Can her competence and security as a parent be increased by enhancing her parenting skills?

Some stress-producing situations cannot be changed. For example, illness and death must be coped with. It is important to recognize those things which cannot be changed and prepare for them. Grief is an important coping mechanism to overcome the sadness at the death of a loved one. Anticipating and preparing for it can help the bereaved get through it.

An unhealthy job situation may not be changed except by changing jobs. If that is not reasonable as an alternative it too must be coped with. The stress must be managed. Perhaps little things can be changed to make the situation less stressful.

We all have the same basic reactions to stress. The difference is in how we cope with those reactions. Relaxation or using up excessive energy through physical activity, exploring the source of stress are all healthy reactions. Very few stress situations cannot be managed by ourselves or with the help of someone else. A skilled, objective outsider—a professional psychotherapist—may offer help when stress becomes unmanageable or intolerable.

TIMBER TIPS

By Lanny Autry

Many people have sold timber without a well-written contract to state the rights and privileges of both the purchaser and the seller. Before you sell timber, be certain that a complete, properly executed contract is in hand. An attorney or a consulting forester can assist you in this matter. Consulting foresters can also assist in the sale of your timber for the highest price possible and make certain that the terms of the contract are followed.

CB Club News

By THRASHER STAR

For our first long weekend of the year, some were out in the sun for fun and relaxation. Others just stayed home and worked. I hope everyone had a safe holiday.

The "Yo Yo" and "Little Rascal" carried a group to Opryland in Nashville Tuesday.

I hated to hear of the accident of "Mama Clutch's" son, David Winfield, in Corinth last Sunday night. He was put in a room yesterday. I hope he continues to improve.

If you would like to send him a card, his room is number 512, Magnolia Hospital, Corinth, MS 38834.

The Junior CB Club is going to Libertyland Friday, June 19. We ask that only Junior members and chaperones meet at Larry's Upholstery Shop at 7. Everyone is to bring a sack lunch and enough money for their supper. We will eat supper before we leave Memphis.

"Lady L., " "Lady Buffalo," "Little Mama," and I will be the chaperones. Make your plans now to attend.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the "Hilltoppers" family in the passing of his father, Mr. Livingston.

Sympathy is also extended to the Dexter Wroten family. He was a neighbor to some of our members.

We are planning a rabbit hunt on July 11 at 7:30. All CB'ers are invited to join us for the fun. We will charge $2 per car. Meet at the community center to begin. Rules will be posted. Come out for the fun.

We would like to wish the "Termite" a happy birthday Sunday, May 24, "D.Q." and "Telephone Man" on May 28, and "Lady Wrecker" on May 29. Hope all of you have a good day.

Have a good week. Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Thought for the week: "Rainbows of Happiness"

Though the day may be rainy And the sky may be gray.

Though the sun may be hidden By dark clouds to-day.

Believe it's still shining

Though hidden from view. Believe there's no cloud That the sun can't pierce through.

Though your hopes may be waving.

Though the day long and drear,

Believe that God loves you That to Him you're most dear.

Mathis Pleased With Turnout

with the turnout for this week's Junior High Basketball Camp. Some 60 youngsters from the five county area turned out for this week's camp to learn the basic fundamentals of the game of basketball.

Mathis said the youngsters would be taught the basic points of the game such as ball handling rebounding defense and shooting fundamentals.

"We feel like this is important to a youngster," Mathis said. "The kids learn from this for future skills."

Mathis went on to say that the camp had added a new format to this year's program. Hot shot competition will be held with the 60 competing and two winners will advance from the local camp to Tupelo with a chance to compete in National competition later on T.V.

The area campers will spend an entire week on the Northeast campus. Some are day campers only while others are staying on the campus at Northeast's boys dorm (White Hall).

The campers also have some freetime during the week long camp will receive awards for their outstanding accomplishments at the Awards Banquet held at the conclusions of the camp.

Snake Hunting: Randy Cobb's Favorite Pastime

For the most of us snakes are charming only when they're behind cage bars at a zoo or some other animal resort but for Randy Cobb they're a common hobby.

Randy started his artful hobby of snake hunting four years ago although he said he had been interested in snakes since he was a tiny tot.

Randy currently had seven snakes he's keeping and said he hopes to add to his collection this summer. His up to date list now includes, three eastern King Snakes, an Eastern Ringneck, an Eastern Hognose and two other special variety of King Snakes.

"King snakes make the best pets," Randy said. "They are non-poisonous and are easy kept alive."

Randy says springtime weather is the best time to go snake hunting but advises that it isn't a sport for anyone to try who isn't up to date on all types of snakes and knows the difference between a poisonous and non-poisonous one.

The local snake handler said he really started his snake hunting hobby when he and his family lived in Virginia. "Snakes were plentiful there," he said. "Sometimes I caught as many as 20 to 30 snakes per day including some poisonous ones as well."

Randy said the best way to catch a snake (other than very carefully) is to pick them up behind the head. "They can't get to you when you have them behind the head," he said.

When asked if he'd ever been bitten, Randy said, "Oh yea, three or four times but not by a poisonous snake." He said a snake's fangs leaves two rows of teeth marks when they bite.

Randy pointed out that snake hunting is very dangerous to anyone who doesn't know them. He warns all youngsters to stay away from swampy areas where snakes are likely to lay and says snakes will bite if they're stepped on or crowded.

The local lad has built a special cage to keep his current collection and adds that snakes have to be kept cool in the summer and warm in the winter or they'll die.

Where do his snakes sleep?...Any place they want too...

The 4-H Beef Project for 4-H Youth

Project Explanation: In the Mississippi 4-H Beef

Project we have two areas in which a boy or girl may participate. These two phases of the beef project are: (1) Steer and (2) Beef Breeding.

It is possible, however, for a 4-H'er to participate in both phases of this project simultaneously. This, of course, will depend on the experience of the 4-H'er with this project and the resources available to him.

With each phase of the project there are basically two shows each year in which members may exhibit their animals. These shows are the Mississippi State Fair in the fall and the State Round-up in the spring.

To aid in the selection of the calf best suited for you and your project, you may need to decide which of these two shows you want to put emphasis on. Let's discuss each phase in reference to both shows.

Steer Project

The 4-H members who show steers usually participate in only one of the two shows with the same calf. It is possible, however, to show the same calf in both of the shows for that year. Or, if you prefer, you may select a separate calf for each show.

Before selecting a calf you may also want to become familiar with the classifications as to age, breed and weight for both shows; as well as the rules and regulations regarding each show.

Steers are shown by breeds and will consist of the following: (1) Hereford or Polled Hereford; (2) Angus; (3) Shorthorn and English Crosses; and (4) Other breeds and their crossed.

For each show the classifications and rules will differ. Following is a breakdown for each show:

Fall, -State Fair, -Steers: (Ownership deadline, - June 15 of current year; weight requirements, none.

Spring, round-up, steers: ownership deadline, Sept. 10 of current show year; Weight Requirements:

junior calf, 800 pounds; senior calf, 850 pounds; summer yearling, 900 pounds; age classification: junior calf, (after Jan. 1); senior calf, (September-December) 14-17 months of age; and summer yearling, (May-August) 18-20 months of age.

Beef Breeding Project

In the breeding project a 4-H'er may choose to show bulls or heifers or a combination of them. The major difference between the steer and breeding project is that any breeding animal has to be registered in the appropriate breed association and recorded in the name of the 4-H member by the deadline date.

Breeding animals are shown by breed, age and sex. The breeds consist of: (1) Angus, (2) Hereford, (3) Polled Hereford, (4) Charolais, (5) Santa Gertrudis, and (6) Other breeds.

The classification of breeding animals on sex and age varies from two classes in each sex in the Charolais, Santa Gertrudis, and other breeds to seven classes in each sex in the Angus, Hereford and Polled-Hereford breeds.

Extension Director To Retire

Dr. William M. Bost, director of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service for the past 19 years, will retire on June 30.

During Dr. Bost's 30 years of service to the people of the state, his innovative leadership and programming have not only captured the imagination of Mississippians, but they have propelled him into the national spotlight as one of the outstanding leaders in the fields of agriculture and Extension education.

To recognize Dr. Bost's service to the people of Mississippi, the new Extension Center on the Mississippi State University campus will be dedicated in his honor on June 25. The dedication ceremony, open to the public, is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

to break even. This includes management costs. Non-Delta farmers need about $7 a bushel to break even, excluding management costs, on a 25 bushel per acre yield.

Cotton growers in the Delta must receive 69 percents per pound with a 700 pound yield per acre to break even, which includes management costs. Non-Delta cotton farmers require at least 75 cents per pound on 575 pounds per acre to break even. This doesn't count management costs.

Break-Even Prices Higher

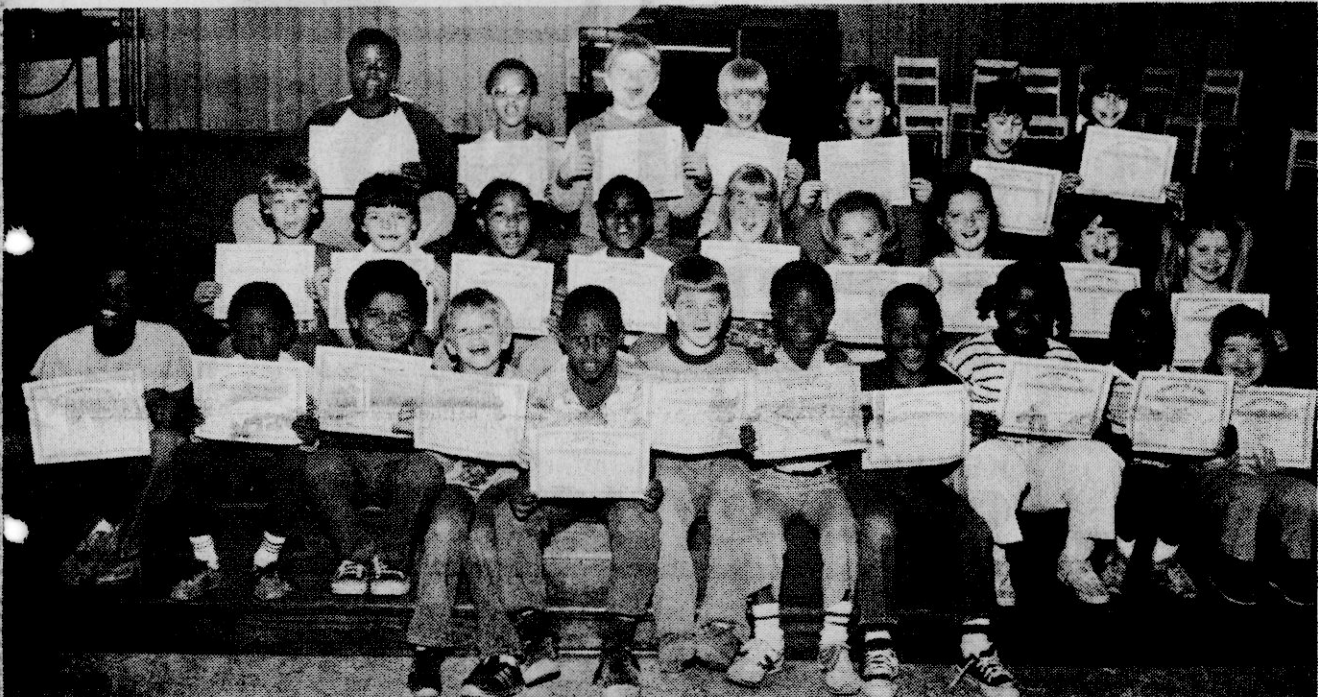

Farmers are going to need higher prices for crops than they needed last year to break even. Farmers will pay 13 to 14 percent more in production costs this year, so higher crop prices will be needed to come out even.

In the Delta, soybean farmers need to receive $6.40 cents a bushel with yields of 25 bushels per acre

Grain Sorghum

You still have time to plant sorghum for grain and reduce chances of production problems associated with a late crop.

Sorghum planted in May not only out-yields that planted in June or later, but it has fewer insect problems than late planted crops. By planting in May, you can harvest in September before soybean harvest begins.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE—Twenty-seven first, second and third graders at Booneville Elementary School were recently presented certificates for having perfect attendance during the 1980-81 school year. Last week was the final week of school for the current term.

Wade Irvin To Be New Assistant Band Director At Northeast

Harold T. White, president of Northeast Junior College, has announced the board's decision to employ Wade Irvin of Fulton as assistant director of bands for the coming school year.

Irvin comes to Northeast from Itawamba Junior College, where he has held the assistant band director's position for the past three years.

A graduate of Minor High School and a Birmingham native, he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees in music from Auburn University. He served as a graduate assistant under Dr. Luther Savely, director of bands at the University of Mississippi, and is presently pursuing his D.M.A. degree from North Texas State University in Denton.

An accomplished musician, the woodwinds enthusiast has an extended repertoire on the alto saxophone, bassoon, clarinet, oboe and flute. He was the featured soloist with the Jonesboro Junior High School Band at the Michigan Music Educators State Convention in Ann Arbor, Michigan in January, 1978, and he was invited to perform a concert with the Tupelo Symphony.

Irvin's teaching experience includes private lessons as well as classroom teaching at levels ranging from the junior high to the university setting.

Joining Northeast band

directors, Ricky Bishop and Naz Rhodes, Irvin will be involved in the total band program with emphasis given to the woodwinds section.

"The Tiger marching band, numbering some 170 students, is recognized throughout the South for its high quality performance on the field and in state concerts, Irvin said." "Because of the fine reputation Northeast has gained in its short band history, I look forward to becoming involved in all activities essential to the continued growth of its program."

Speaking on behalf of the board, President White said, "We are pleased to have this very talented person join our Music Department. I am sure that he will compliment what is already an outstanding program."

Irvin will assume his new duties July 1.

To The Voters Of Jumpertown

As a candidate for mayor of our town, I would like to take this opportunity in soliciting your vote and influence in the up coming General Ballot on June 2.

I feel that having served you, the fine people of the Second District for twelve (12) years as your County School Board member has given me valuable experience in policy-making and general Board Procedures. I believe these experiences will assist me in making the best mayor you have had, and too, I believe that you the voters should be made acquainted with all business transactions performed by your Board of Aldermen and Mayor, because you too are a part of this town.

We have a real fine town and if elected your mayor, I will strive to maintain what we have and will work to promote the growth of the town so long as it does not create a heavy burden on you the taxpayers.

I offer you my service as your mayor, and I believe almost all of you know me and know that I will always be found trying to do that which is right.

Uncle Sam's Suit Is Threadbare

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

Refrocking Uncle Sam

It's getting harder every day for Uncle Sam to strut what with his star spangled outfit getting more threadbare, now revealing a past due note for a trillion dollars stuck inside his breast pocket.

But American farmers are for refrocking the benevolent old gent who has given and given until he can't give anymore.

The American Farm Bureau Federation comprised of over three million farm families all over America has gone on record endorsing and applauding the present Administration's proposed program of federal spending and tax reductions, reduced rate of growth in the money supply, and less federal regulations—all key ingredients in the formula to set this country's economic ills straight.

We, as a nation, have made play money out of our national treasury, and here's how.

Only our government, and a few counterfeiters here and there, print or otherwise create money. Yet, when government spending exceeds government income, it has become a federal habit to create new money to cover the deficit.

The Federal Reserve System was created for the specific purpose of making it possible for government to expand or contract the supply of money and credit in response to trade and business needs.

This system has tolerated excessive federal spending, even with greatly increased taxation, which has created a huge and growing federal deficit now approaching one trillion dollars.

The interest on this lien in Uncle Sam's pocket will cost U.S. taxpayers over 90 billion dollars this year alone.

Politically, U.S. congressmen have been reluctant to raise taxes high enough to cover the deficit gap—so, more money is printed and more credit is made available, and the situation continues to worsen.

Welfarism is at the root of the problem.

The huge growth in government spending at 15 percent compares to growth in personal incomes of 12 percent—an equation that does not balance, but nevertheless has prevailed as the federal government spent beyond its means in an effort to make life supposedly better for some by redistributing wealth and income.

The farm organization feels that inflation control will require a sustained, long-term monetary policy approach that will bring the nation's supply of money and credit back in line with "appropriate national needs and goals."

Uncle Sam's modern day

image has been disparaged enough both at home and abroad. Political satirists already have pointed out that the popular wartime poster image of Uncle Sam pointing and saying "I want you," now is more aptly Uncle Sam with an outstretched, cupped hand saying "I want."

Worse than imagery, however, is the threadbare aspect on many Americans victimized by inflation who have seen the value of the dollar cut in half about every six years.

This deterioration has shaken the future of people on fixed incomes, made mockery of savings programs, and become traumatic for countless retired elderly citizens.

Today few young marrieds can see a way to buy a home. Capital spending is avoided. New buildings and equipment, which create new jobs, are deferred.

Workers are idle. Interest rates soar far beyond the capacity of smaller and many larger business to make a profit.

The standard of living of most Americans has shrunk as inflation outstripped increases in earnings while the U.S. rate of productivity has declined shockingly.

Uncle Sam needs a refrocking, and U.S. farmers would like to see him earn it, along with everybody else.

June Showers Will Increase State's Production Of Soybeans

If April showers bring May flowers, what will June showers bring?

Soybeans, according to many agricultural experts throughout the southern and mid-south states. They say that if rainfall is normal or above normal during June, a record number of farmers will be planting double-crop soybeans into wheat stubble as soon as their wheat is harvested.

In Mississippi, wheat is up 50 percent this year, according to Dr. Wayne Jordan, Mississippi State Extension Agronomist. He says that if Mississippi farmers receive adequate moisture in June a majority of this wheat acreage will be double-cropped with soybeans.

There are several reasons why a big increase in double-cropping is expected this year, not just in Mississippi, but nationwide. U.S. wheat acreage is at a record high, making more fields eligible than ever before. Wheat prices are expected to be average, but soybean prices are anticipated to be above average. And a major reason farmers are eyeing the possibility of taking a second crop off their fields is to make up for income lost from the 1980 drought.

But if the June rains come, Mississippi farmers will need to work fast to successfully double-crop beans behind wheat, according to Jordan. "Farmers planting after mid-June will definitely experience a yield loss," he said.

The need for speed in getting double-crop beans planted is prompting many Mississippi farmers to adopt no-tillage planting systems. This involves planting right into the harvested wheat stubble, without working the ground.

By eliminating tillage trips, no-till farmers save both time and fuel. With good organization, and a little luck, no-till farmers can plant their double-crop beans the same day they harvest the wheat.

A major benefit of no-till, according to Jordan, is moisture conservation. "Planting beans the no-till method helps to keep the moisture in the soil, allowing the beans to get up out of the ground," he said.

Weed control is vital in a no-till double-crop program. Jordan said most farmers will use a contact herbicide to kill existing vegetation in the wheat stubble. They will probably also use residuals to control later-emerging weeds. Jordan warns farmers, however, not to attempt no-till in fields heavily infested with perennial weeds, such as johnsongrass.

No-tillage is gaining acceptance in Mississippi, according to Jordan. "Our farmers are looking at no-till much more seriously than a few years ago, and more are trying it every spring."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: The Real Church

Ephesians 5-27: That He Might Present It To Himself A Glorious Church, Not Having Spot, Or Wrinkle, Or Any Such Thing; But That It Should Be Holy And Without Blemish.

By Austin Shook

The Church is not primarily a human structure like a political social or economic organism. It is basically the Church of Jesus Christ. (Matthew 16-18) Or of the living God. (1 Timothy 3-15) The various biblical description all emphasizes this. It is a building of which Jesus Christ is the chief corner stone or foundation. A holy temple in the Lord, a habitation of God though the spirit (Ephesians 2:20) It is the fellowship of saints or people of God. (1 Peter 2-9) It is the bride of Christ saved and sanctified by Him for union with Himself. (Ephesians 5-25). Indeed it is the body of Jesus Christ. He being the head or whole body and Christians the members. (Romans 12-5). (1 Corinthians 12-12) (Ephes. 4-4, 12:16).

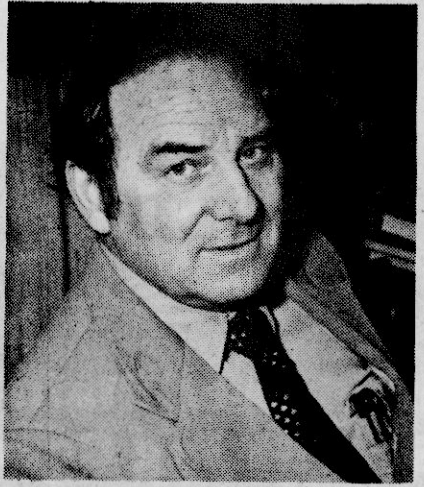

As the body it is the fullness of Christ who Himself fills all in all (Eph. 1-23.) To get into this body that I am talking about, you must be baptized into it by the spirit. (1 Cor. 12-13) For all its diversity of membership and form it is thus to maintain its universality of outreach. Yet also its identity and relevance in every age and place, it is apostolic for it rests on the foundation of the apostles and prophets (Eph. 2-20)

The apostles being raised up as the first authoritative witnesses. (Acts 1-8.) Whose testimony is basic and by whose teaching it is called instructed and directed. In all its activity it is thus to continue steadfast in the apostolic doctrine, Christ and prophets.

This brings us to the meaning of the churches life and its continuing function. It draws its life from Jesus Christ by the Holy Ghost. But it does so through the word of which it is begotten (James 1-18) and by which it is nourished and sanctified. (Eph. 5-26) (Peter 2-2)

Receiving life by the word it also receives its function, namely, to pass on the word that others may also be quickened and cleansed. It is to preach the gospel (Mark. 16-15) To take up the ministry of reconciliation (II Cor. 5-19) To dispense the mysteries of God (I Cor. 4-1).

Necessarily, therefore, it is the church of the divine word, and sacraments first received by the believers and then passed on to others. Hence the reformation insistence that the marks of the visible church are preaching of the word and administration of the gospel sacraments. Its destiny, however, is to be brought into full conformance to the Lord. (I John 3-2). With all saints toward this it moves hesitantly yet expectantly, confident in its future glory when it will be wholly the church triumphant as graphically depicted in (Revelation 7-9), enjoying its full reality as the bride and body of the Lord.
