Prosecution Rests In 2nd Morrow Murder Trial

By ANGELA SMITH
Staff Writer

The second murder trial of Bobby Ray Morrow entered its second day Wednesday, with a witness for the defense giving testimony that directly conflicted with testimony of a witness for the prosecution.

Morrow, 34, was indicted in October on murder charges in connection with the March 22, 1980, shooting death of Reece "Buddy" Baggett, 30, of Booneville. A mistrial was declared in February in Morrow's first trial when a jury of six men and six women informed Circuit Judge Thomas Gardner, that, after more than five hours' deliberation, the jury was hopelessly deadlocked in its attempts to reach a verdict in the Morrow trial.

Wilma Baggett, Baggett's widow, testified Wednesday that Baggett became upset when they became involved in Morrow's family troubles. Mrs. Baggett told the jury that Baggett said to Morrow, "If you ever get me in any more of your family problems, I'll stomp you." The Baggetts had accompanied Morrow to get his clothes from the trailer Morrow shared with his wife, Jean.

Mrs. Baggett said the Morrows argued with each other while they were there. She testified both men had been drinking.

The Baggetts and Morrow then drove to Hubert Morrow's house trailer, located about four miles northeast of Jumpertown, she said.

She told the jury that her husband helped Morrow carry his clothes inside his father's trailer. A few minutes later, she said, Baggett went outside and then in a moment came back in with Hubert Morrow. She said both men sat down in chairs by the front door.

She said she was sitting with her back to the hall facing the two men. Mrs. Baggett said she did not know where the defendant was at this time.

Rural Mass Transit System Expects To Receive Funding

Prentiss County is one of six counties in northeast Mississippi involved in a rural mass transit system scheduled to get underway shortly after Jan. 1, 1982.

Northeast Mississippi expects to receive $248,000 in funding for the rural mass transit system, Dr. Larry Skelton, an official from the Northeast Mississippi Planning and Development District, said Monday.

The funding will come from the Reagan Administration's Bloc Grant program. The $248,000 should be followed the next year by between one and two million dollars to further implement the program, he said.

The program calls for vans and mini-buses to transport the public into nearby cities.

Skelton said there are approximately 22 different social services agencies across the six-county area and that plans call for the 150 vans in use by these agencies to be used in the rural mass transit system. He added that some new vans will also have to be purchased.

Skelton said the rural mass transit system will be for everyone, not just specific groups.

There is a possibility that

County Unemployment Rate Declines .3 Percent

Prentiss County's unemployment rate for May showed a slight decrease from the previous month. However, the overall state unemployment figure remained unchanged.

The unemployment rate for Prentiss County in May was 8.5 percent, down .3 percent from the April rate of 8.8 percent, according to the latest figures from the Mississippi Employment Security Commission in Corinth.

During May, MESC reports there were 9,750 employed in the civilian labor force in Prentiss County and 900 unemployed. This compares to 9,620 employed and 930 unemployed during April.

The county's total civilian labor force during May was 10,650, up 100 from the April figure of 10,550. The total civilian labor force is a combination of all those employed and unemployed; that is, all those available for work.

Statewide, the unemployment rate in May, as well as in April, was 7.6 percent, according to MESC's Jackson office. Last year's May unemployment rate was 7.3 percent.

The 7.6 percent unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 7.1 percent national rate for May. MESC figures showed 77,600 unemployed and 946,400 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,024,000.

The initial unemployment insurance claims for May totalled 16,954.

City Sales Tax Collections Increase 20 Percent

Sales tax collections for the city of Booneville showed a marked increase during April as compared to the same month a year ago.

An increase of more than 20 percent, the city of Booneville reported collecting $42,202.08 during April. This is up more than $7,200 from the April 1980 figure of $34,987.70.

Many other cities in the area showed similar increases

A HOT JOB—In spite of the high temperatures last Friday, Booneville firemen Charles Williams (left) and Jerry Wallace, wearing their heavy turnout coats and helmets, concentrate on the job at hand during a training session with the "Jaws of Life" at a local junk yard. The session, conducted by the Mississippi Fire Academy, was designed to familiarize local firemen with the operations of the new emergency rescue equipment the city purchased earlier this year. Williams and Wallace were only two of the Booneville firemen who received not only lectures on how to use the equipment, but also hands-on experience with it. This was the second such training session held for the local firemen.

Bond Sale Receives Slight Delay

Plans for the construction of two new dormitories at Northeast Mississippi Junior College have been delayed slightly due to the lack of approval by the regional Farmers Home Administration office of a $2.5 million loan to construct the facilities.

Thomas Keenum, chairman of the junior college's board of trustees, told college president Harold T. White and other board members of the delay at a meeting Tuesday.

However, Keenum said the delay of the regional FmHA office to approve the sale of the bonds to finance the construction is not viewed as a serious setback.

Northeast can still negotiate for bids on the revenue bonds during the next two months without being forced to re-advertise the project, he said.

"We don't expect any problem with regional clearance," he said, adding that the matter should be in order by the trustees' July 14 meeting.

The board had originally hoped to sell the bonds this week. The sooner the bonds are sold, the sooner a contractor can be found to build the two new dorms, Northeast officials said.

FmHA awarded Northeast Junior College the $2.5 million loan for the project in late February.

Plans are for a 116-bed men's dorm and a five-story women's dorm, to house 120 beds.

President White said Northeast officials are hoping the new dorms will encourage more students to live on campus. Presently there is dorm space for only about 400 of the 2,000 full time students enrolled at the college, he said.

In other business Tuesday, the board voted to name a new training facility at the college Holladay Hall after Troy Holladay of Tippah County. Holladay is a 17-year member of the National Association of college's board of trustees and a former superintendent of education in Tippah County.

The board also voted approval of naming the Burgess student center the Burgess Activity Center in honor of 12-year veteran board member Bratton Burgess of Alcorn County. Burgess is a former Alcorn County school superintendent.

The trustees also agreed to pay off a short-term $175,000 loan secured by the college last month for operational expenses.

The junior college board also adopted a resolution commending Mrs. Lynn Vuncannon, executive secretary to President White, for being named National Educational Office Employee of the Year by the National Association of Education Office Personnel.

The resolution praised Mrs. Vuncannon as "a woman of unusual ability" and as "an outstanding representative for Northeast Mississippi Junior College."

DEMOLITION DERBY - Members of the Booneville Fire Department underwent their second training session with the city's "Jaws of Life" Friday morning at a local junk yard. Jerry Moore of the State Fire Academy in Jackson was on hand to instruct the firemen in various emergency methods of using the hydraulically operated device to remove jammed automobile doors, to cut off an automobile's roof, to pull a jammed steering column off a trapped driver, and to lift a vehicle off a pinned victim at the scene of an accident. Moore also conducted the first training session when the city acquired the "Jaws" in February. The local fire department has already used the device once to free a victim trapped in a wrecked car. In the top photo, firemen survey the remains of a vehicle on which they have been practicing. At right, Moore (center) explains the various techniques to be used in an emergency situation.

Eye Bank Aids Over 100

More than 100 Mississippians have received sight-restoring corneal transplants during the past fiscal year, according to Judy C. Kinsey, executive administrator of the Mississippi Lions' Eye Bank in Jackson.

"This means that over 100 fellow Mississippians who couldn't see at this time last year are now able to because of the humanitarian concern of people who were eye donors to the Mississippi Lions' Eye Bank," she said. Corneal transplants are now quite commonplace and have become increasingly successful in restoring vision to those whose blindness is the result of damaged or diseased corneas, Kinsey said.

She pointed out that the steady success of corneal transplant surgery has prompted a great increase in the need for tissue for transplant purposes.

The cornea is the clear, lens-like portion of the eye which looks much like the crystal on a watch, Kinsey said. Because only the cornea is used in the transplant, the degree of nearsightedness or farsightedness of the donor is not important, she emphasized.

For information on how to become an eye donor, contact the Mississippi Lions' Eye Bank at 987-5739, or contact a member of any Lions Club in the state.

nephew was there, Hendrix said.

"Morrow said Bobby was there...then Bobby came from the back of the trailer and sat on the couch. Officer Jackson asked Guy if Bobby brought anything with him and Guy said, 'a shotgun.' Then Guy reached around a corner and handed a shotgun to Officer Jackson," Hendrix testified.

It was at this point that the defendant said he had shot Baggett, Hendrix said.

The deputy sheriff told the jury that the defendant appeared to be emotionally disturbed. "He'd been drinking a little bit...he smelled like alcohol," Skelton said.

In other testimony Tuesday afternoon, Prentiss County Coroner James Horn told the jury that Baggett died as a result of a 12-gauge shotgun blast that wounded him in the chest, right knee, and right side of the chin.

Circuit Court Judge Fred Wicker sequestered the jury Tuesday night.

Prosecution

She said, the defendant's father suddenly jumped up from his chair and said, "Oh, God no...Bobby don't!" and rushed over to where she was sitting.

Then, she testified, Buddy said, "Oh, God help me!" as he tried to get up and then he fell in the floor.

Mrs. Baggett said she ran to Buddy and then turned to ask the two Morrows to help her with him when she saw the defendant holding the gun.

She told the jury that since she had her back to him, she did not see the younger Morrow fire the gun. "I didn't see him shoot him, but I saw him holding the gun,"

After Mrs. Baggett testified, the State, represented by District Attorney John Young and County Attorney John Hatcher, rested their case.

Herbert Morrow testified for the defense Wednesday morning.

The elder Morrow told the jury he was at his neighbor's house when the Baggetts and his son arrived at his trailer. He said as he walked up the driveway he could hear a woman crying. And that he heard Buddy tell his son that he would "stomp his damn brains thru the floor."

The elder Morrow told the jury he ran in the trailer, saw his son holding the gun pointed at a wall of the trailer, and grabbed the gun. Morrow testified during this struggle the shotgun accidentally discharged.

"We scuffled over the gun...the gun just shot," he said. "When I heard the shot-I just looked around and Buddy was on the floor."

During cross-examination Young asked Morrow, "What did you grab the gun for?"

"To tell the truth, and that's what I'm here to do, I thought I was doing the right thing," Morrow said.

The defendant, dressed in a white shirt and gray slacks listened attentively as his father testified.

The defendant's attorney, Joe Ray Langston, indicated he planned to call Guy Morrow, and the defendant to the stand as the case resumed after lunch Wednesday afternoon.

In testimony Tuesday afternoon, Prentiss County Deputy Sheriff Doug Hendrix testified that on the night of the shooting the defendant made a statement saying he had shot Baggett.

Hendrix told the jury of six men and six women that he did not ask the defendant any questions. But, "He (the defendant) said he's shot Buddy Baggett."

Hendrix said he found a spent 12-gauge shotgun shell behind Hubert Morrow's trailer when he searched the premises.

"You could smell the fresh powder on it," he told the jury.

Unable to locate the defendant, Hendrix said he and officer Jeff Jackson then went to the house trailer residence of the defendant's uncle, Guy Morrow.

Upon arriving at the residence, located about a half mile from Hubert Morrow's trailer, Officer Jackson asked Morrow if his

BIBLE QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: Mr. Hogland, does the Bible authorize dabbling in numerology, fortune telling, witchcraft, black magic or astrology?

WARD HOGLAND

ANSWER: No, the Bible does not authorize dabbling in such. Long ago the Lord said in Deut. 18:10-12, "There shall not be found among any one that maketh his son or daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are abomination unto the Lord." Adam Clark in his commentary says an "observer of times" is one who pretends to foretell future events by present occurrences, and who predicts great political or physical changes from the aspects of the planets, eclipses, motion of the clouds etc. In foretelling the overthrow of Babylon God shows that the so called astrologers were false. In Isa. 47:13-14 he says, "Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee. Behold they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame." Do not be led off by such foolishness.

Tenn-Tom Lock Dedication To Draw Large Crowd

The official dedication of Lock A at Amory Friday, June 26, at 2 p.m. is expected to draw a large crowd from throughout the area who will want to recount this historic event to their grandchildren, according to Amory Mayor Thomas Griffith.

Mayor Griffith and the City of Amory join with the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority in urging everyone to be on hand when the fourth lock is opened on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, he said.

Congressman David Bowen, Democratic Representative of Mississippi's Second Congressional District and a native of nearby Chickasaw County, will be the keynote speaker for the dedication. The Congressman, who is serving his fifth consecutive term in the U.S. Congress, continues to take a leading role in legislation and funding affecting the Tenn-Tom.

He is chairman of the Cotton subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee and is a nationally-known legislative spokesman in matters involving Mississippi's multi-billion dollar agriculture industry.

Mississippi Governor William C. Winter, a long-time ardent supporter of the Tennessee-Tombigbee, will serve as master of ceremonies. Gov. Winter is chairman of the Mississippi Board members of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Authority, a five-state compact responsible for securing funding for construction of the waterway.

Also expected to participate in the dedication ceremony Friday are top officials of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and others directly involved in construction of Lock A, according to Glover Wilkins, Administrator of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Authority.

While guests are invited to bring lawnchairs for their comfort, some seating will be provided for the program which will be conducted at the Lock A site.

Lock A is located just west of Highway 25 at the northwest edge of Amory. Signs will direct visitors to the facility.

Following the ceremony, the facilities will be open for tours. A first aid station will also be manned.

In case of inclement weather, the dedication will be moved to the Amory National Guard Armory auditorium located across Highway 25 from the entrance road to Lock A.

"We are expecting a big turnout because there's lots of excitement about the Tenn-Tom and the work here at Amory," Mayor Griffith said. "Everybody is going to want to be able to say they saw this Lock the day it was ready for Tenn-Tom traffic."

Miss Prentiss County Pageant To Be July 11

The annual Miss Prentiss County Pageant, sponsored this year by the Booneville Junior Woman's Club, will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 11, in the Hines Hall Auditorium at Northeast Mississippi Junior College.

The winner of the local pageant will be eligible to enter the Miss Mississippi Pageant which will be held to select a state winner to compete for the crown of Miss America in national competition in Atlantic City, N.J.

"This is the first year for the Booneville Junior Woman's Club to sponsor the Miss Prentiss County Pageant. We are serving as sponsors of the pageant this year because we believe it provides a valuable contribution to the community and to the young ladies who will enter the competition," a club spokesman said.

"We believe it serves the community well because it focuses attention on the high caliber of young ladies who are residents of our area," she said, "and we believe it serves youth well because it provides the opportunity for the young ladies who compete to gain added poise through public appearances and to gain added maturity through participation in a community program such as the Prentiss County pageant."

Committees to plan the program have been formed and businesses in the area will be called on for contributions, help and support, the spokesman said.

"This will be a community endeavor and the Booneville Junior Woman's Club is sure all the community will participate to insure its success," she said.

The Miss Prentiss County Pageant was sponsored last year by the Booneville Jaycees.

Named Second Alternate

Wheelchair Pageant Honors Sarah Cummings

Sarah Cummings of Booneville was selected as second alternate at the sixth annual Miss Wheelchair Mississippi Pageant held recently in Jackson.

The pageant, which was designed to increase public awareness of architectural barriers to the handicapped, was not a beauty contest. Instead, personal achievements, intelligence, and the capabilities of the physically handicapped were stressed.

Regina Tutor of Ecru was crowned 1981 Miss Wheelchair Mississippi and will now represent the state at the Miss Wheelchair America Pageant, to be held Aug. 12-16 in Columbus, Ohio.

Ms. Cummings, who is the founder and president of the Organization for Handicapped Mississippians, has been an advocate for disabled citizens for several years.

"I feel that attitudinal barriers are the primary obstacle for disabled and handicapped persons," she said. "Just because a person is disabled by an illness or an accident is no reason for them to have to take a back seat in society."

Pilot Club Sponsors Clinic For Babysitters

Some 30 local girls attended a recent Babysitting Clinic at the George E. Allen Library sponsored by the Safety Area of the Booneville Pilot Club.

Booneville physician Dr. Cliff Cartwright instructed the participants in general first-aid and emphasized the need for parents to always leave with the babysitter a written consent for their children to receive treatment in the event of an emergency.

Mrs. Carolyn Cartwright, a Registered Nurse, discussed the importance of "touch" in calming a baby or a child. She also gave instructions on proper bathing techniques and the correct way to change a diaper, explaining the necessity for thoroughly washing an infant.

She reminded the girls they should get specific instructions from the parents before being left alone with the child.

Mrs. Cathy Pippin, a child care specialist, related the various levels of interest children have and suggested various activities the sitter might use.

Mrs. Pippin also gave the girls recipes for play dough, snow flakes and other such things. She demonstrated fingerplays and songs that might be used to entertain a child.

Mrs. Susan Cartwright, a Pilot member, gave from a mother's point of view some responsibilities a babysitter has, and she encouraged the girls to call the parents if a situation should arise that they could not handle.

The 30 participants received Certificates of Recognition and copies of material relevant to babysitting.

Cheryl Perry, Pilot Safety Area leader, made the introductions. Pilot President Robbie McDaniel welcomed the guests.

At the close of the session, Sandy Jones, an Anchor Club member, served refreshments. Mrs. Annie Lee Kemp, a charter Booneville Pilot, provided an arrangement of homegrown roses for the table.

Assisting in registration were Mrs. Quay Michael and Mrs. Louise Peeler. Mrs. Jackie Barker and Mrs. Debbie Taylor were in charge of refreshments.

Local Students Attend

Pre-College Clinic Held At UM

Five students from Booneville and three from Baldwin attended the first 1981 pre-college conference held recently at The University of Mississippi.

Counseling and pre-registration conferences for entering freshmen and transfer students serve as an orientation to campus life and also allow students to register for the fall term, a university spokesman said.

The sessions are sponsored each summer by the Student Counseling Center at Ole Miss.

Prentiss County participants included Linda D. Bearden, Mary A. Hall, Frankie E. Lauderdale and George J. Lindsey of Booneville, and Kathy L. Ballard, Guy M. Caver and Rhonda J. Dunn of Baldwin.

In the interest of better vision from the office of:
JOHN R. WHITE, O. D.
DR. OF OPTOMETRY
THE 20/20 NUMBERS GAME

The term 20/20 refers to the size letters which the average eye can read twenty feet away. In most standard vision testing, you read the familiar Snellen eye chart at a distance of 20 feet. The upper number of the fraction expresses this distance. The lower number identifies the size letters you were able to read at this distance. Thus 20/70 vision means that you are able to read at 20 feet the line which a normal eye can read at 70 feet.

Often, this test is given by having you look into a machine which creates the same conditions optically. The results are roughly similar to those of the Snellen chart. However, parents should not be lulled into the impression that their child has perfect vision because he scores a 20/20 on this vision test. All it measures is how well or poorly the child sees at that distance. And that's all. Problems with near vision, eye coordination and focusing ability are among the many problems NOT discovered in this test. Only a professional eye examination will protect the priceless miracle of sight.

For answers to your specific questions regarding vision, Dr. White invites you to call his Booneville office 728-3446

Senate Report

New Bill Eliminates Charge Of DWI

By SEN. BILL MAY
5th District

H.B. No. 743: This bill is a comprehensive revision of the Implied Consent Law. The thrust of this bill is the revision of the offenses and penalties under this law.

Under present law, there are two primary "drinking and driving" offenses: driving while intoxicated (a blood alcohol content of .15 percent or above) and driving while under the influence (a blood alcohol content of .10 percent or more, but less than .15 percent).

This bill eliminates the offense of driving while intoxicated. Under this bill there will be an offense of driving while under the influence. An individual would be presumed to be under the influence if his blood alcohol content is .10 percent or more.

The penalty for DUI would depend on the number of previous convictions. A first offender would pay a fine of $200. And he would be required to attend a driver improvement program.

If he failed to attend and complete this program, then the Commissioner of Public Safety would suspend this license for one year; however, the trial judge could, in his discretion, reduce the period of suspension and/or impose limitations or the driving privileges of such person in first offender hardship cases.

When a driver has been twice convicted within two years of driving under the influence, he will be fined not less than $250 nor more than $1,000 and he may be imprisoned for not less than 10 days nor more than one year, or both.

The Commissioner of Public Safety will suspend the driver's license of such person for six months.

For any third or subsequent conviction within a period of four years, an individual will be fined not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 and he may be imprisoned for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or both.

The Commissioner of Public Safety will then suspend the driver's license for two years.

The bill provides separate penalties for those who are convicted of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor when a chemical test was not given and the failure to give the test was not caused by the refusal of the convicted person to submit to such test.

The bill also provides separate penalties for those convicted of operating a vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor when the person refused, upon the request of a law enforcement officer, to submit to a chemical test, or was unconscious at the time of the test and refused to consent to the introduction of the results of the test.

When a first offender's license has been suspended by the Commissioner of Public Safety as part of the penalty for driving under the influence, the offender may petition the county court or circuit court for a reduction in the period of the suspension on the basis of hardship.

The court may reduce the period of suspension and/or impose limitations on the driving privileges of such person.

The bill also revises the procedure for the suspension of a license when a driver refuses to take a chemical test.

Under present law the license is suspended on the spot for a period of 90 days. However, this bill will require the arresting officer to file a sworn report with the Commissioner of Public Safety.

The commissioner will review the report and, if he determines, based upon the criteria listed in the bill, that the license should be suspended, he will notify the driver by mail. The driver may then file a petition in the circuit or county court of his residence asking for a review of the commissioner's decision.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Curbs On Crime

I am convinced that immediate action should be taken by the government to curb violent crime in this country.

Statistics from the Federal Bureau of Investigation reveal that violent crime and repeated criminal acts by hardened criminals is a growing menace to law-abiding Americans in almost every section of our nation.

Since 1950, the number of murders in the United States has increased by 370 percent and robberies by 300 percent. Crime jumped 10 percent nationwide in just one year alone, from 1979 to 1980.

With this in mind, I have joined a number of my Senate colleagues in a bipartisan legislative effort to do something about this problem which has reached alarming proportions.

We have introduced a resolution to express the sense of the Senate that action to combat violent crime be given national priority and receive prompt attention by appropriate law enforcement agencies and the judiciary.

The Senate Judiciary Committee recently has reported favorably a bill that I'm supporting which reinstates capital punishment for certain crimes, including treason, espionage, murder convictions in federal courts, and attempted assassination of a president.

In recent years, U.S. Supreme Court decisions have invalidated capital punishment statutes and severely restricted the imposition of the death penalty.

Another piece of legislation I am cosponsoring is a bill to end what many of us believe is an incentive to commit a criminal act while awaiting trial for another serious crime.

The weaknesses in our current system of bail and sentencing procedures have created an intolerable situation that may have contributed to the wave of crime in this country.

What has developed is this: Most criminal offenders out on bail or on their own recognizance until trial or while awaiting sentencing if already convicted, do not just sit around. Many go out in the streets and commit yet another crime against the law-abiding public or its property.

They do this because they have learned that many courts can, and judges often do, impose concurrent sentences, thus making them serve in effect only one prison term for a number of crimes.

It is estimated these so-called "career criminals", committing crimes such as auto theft, robbery, larceny and burglary, are arrested while on bail from one-fourth to nearly two-thirds of the total rate in those fields. If we could reduce each of these crime rates by just 50 percent it would be making a tremendous inroad into the crime problem in America.

The legislation we are sponsoring would require that if an offender is convicted of two felonies, one act committed while out on bail for the first, the judge will impose consecutive prison sentences rather than just one concurrent term.

This would go a long way toward emphasizing that crime does not pay, at least two crimes for the price of one term in jail, as the present system allows.

The U.S. Senate must provide leadership in the field of criminal justice and prescribe a plan to combat effectively the intolerable rate of violent crime in America.

The people of this country are looking for aggressive action on this issue and it is up to Congress to put in motion the government response by which we can better resolve this national dilemma.

Reflections

Reflections

By Ken Christian

They're called "paper pirates." And if you run a business, you should be on the lookout for them.

The way they usually operate is to call or somehow find out what type of copy machine you use at your place of business. Then, sometime later, you get another call. This time the caller tells you the company he (or she) represents has accidentally shipped a supply of copy machine paper to a business in a town near you, but that business no longer has a machine the paper will fit. If you will take the paper off their hands, they will let you have it at a cut rate price.

It sounds too good to pass up, so you send them a check. When the paper arrives, you realize you have been had.

The caller usually implies, but rarely comes right out and says, that he represents a major brand name company. When the copy paper arrives, you find out it is an inferior brand, and that it is packaged one roll to a box instead of the usual two per box.

Also, although the price for the copy paper may still be reasonable, the shipping and handling costs are exorbitant (apparently that is where they make their money).

THIS IS NOT a fairy tale. It has actually happened to several businesses here in Booneville recently.

As soon as the paper arrived, one of the local businesses immediately called their bank and stopped payment on the check. A few weeks later, they got a call from California.

When the Booneville businessman told the caller that he had stopped payment on the check, the caller became much more agreeable on coming to terms.

The local businessman gave the Californian two options: he said he would pay no more (including shipping) than what he could get the paper for locally, or the man in California could come get his paper.

The dealer in California said he would take whatever the Booneville businessman would send him.

UNFORTUNATELY, OTHER SUCH schemes are also common. There is the one about the typewriter ribbons whose "price is going to increase in a few days, but we can let you have a few cases if you order now."

There are also the light bulb salesmen. We have had that call here at The Banner-Independent.

A man called, said he was a long lost friend, and hadn't seen us for years. He said he would be in town within the next couple of months and would like to take us out for lunch. "And, oh, by the way, I think I should sent you a case of light bulbs to hold you over until I get there."

Eyes On Mississippi

Refund Is Good News For Coast Residents

By BILL MINOR
Columnist

JACKSON, Miss.—It's nice for a change to have some good news out of an electric utility company these days, since most utility news has to deal with rate increases, fuel adjustment costs and generally depressing monthly electric bills.

Several hundred thousand present and former customers of Mississippi Power Company, based at Gulfport, (its service area goes all the way from the coast up the eastern side of the state to Meridian and Forest), are going to cut a $55 million melon that the utility company has brought back to them from the coal fields of Illinois.

In this day and time, getting back some of the money you have already paid for running your air conditioner or pumping water, or whatever else you do with electricity, is closely akin to manna from heaven.

That's what Mississippi Power is aiming to do starting in December, when the first $40 million of a $55 million legal settlement the company has gotten back from Peabody Coal Company for renegeing on its contract to furnish coal for the MPC generating station at Gulfport back in 1975.

The $55 million settlement in the case, which stems from a lawsuit initiated by Mississippi Power against Peabody Coal Company, based in St. Louis, in federal district court at Biloxi, is the largest judgment in Mississippi history.

Appeals Court Judge J.P. Coleman had ordered the unusual case submitted to a national arbitration panel four years ago, and therewith began a massive series of hearings that went back and forth between St. Louis and Biloxi over three years resulting in a record containing 150,000 documents and 10,000 pages of testimony and transcripts.

Essentially, Mississippi Power has contended that Peabody's failure to deliver on the original coal contract cost the company upwards of $90 to $100 million additional to go out into the open market and buy coal.

Finally last February, at the urging of the arbitration panel, Mississippi Power and Peabody agreed on the settlement of $55 million in favor of the power company, and it was approved by the federal court.

Refunding the money now to some 400,000 customers who have been on the company's lines over the last five and a half years is now going to be something of a massive undertaking.

Because Mississippi Power serves the coastal area where there is a big turnover of military personnel, shipyard workers, and persons connected with the entertainment business, many of its ex-customers are now strewn over the country.

A good many are also now located elsewhere in Mississippi, outside the company's service area.

The bulk of the refunds, however, is expected to go to the company's 160,000 customers who were in the service area as of last December, and who have been longtime users.

Refunds will be paid based on the kilowatt hours a customer used in each of the years starting in June 1975, through December 1980, divided into the amount of damages paid by Peabody Coal for each of the years.

While no precise calculation has been made as yet by the company, the rule of thumb is that the average customers who has been served by Mississippi Power over the five and a half year period will get the equivalent of an average month's electric bill in refund out of the first $40 million to be divided in December.

The remaining $15 million to be paid back by Peabody will be stretched out over a period of time until 1986, so more refunds will be on the way in the next five years.

The only catch is that anybody to get the initial refund must make application for it by September 30, 1981. Anybody who thinks he has a refund coming can write Peabody Coal Refund, Box 4079, Gulfport, Miss. 39501 and find out.

MISSISSIPPI IS NUMBER ONE!

In Nine-Day Celebration

DJ Hall Of Fame To Open In Shiloh

SHILOH, Tenn.—The first presentation of the DJ Hall of Fame Award will highlight a nine-day Independence Day celebration in Shiloh, with activities slated to begin Saturday, June 27, and continue through Sunday, July 5.

Fond memories of West Tennessee's most popular disc jockeys prompted Shiloh businessman Art Mainers to institute the DJ Hall of Fame award.

Former Memphis radio personality Dewey M. Phillips has been selected as the first recipient. Promoter Mainers credited Phillips as being one of the most influential disc jockeys during the 1950's.

A Crump, Tenn., native, Phillips graduated from Adamsville (Tenn.) High School before moving to Memphis in 1942 to launch his career over the air waves.

His "Red Hot and Blue Show" over WHBQ was one of the biggest in the South. It was during those broadcasts that Phillips helped begin the careers of such noted performers as Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis and Carl Perkins.

Seemingly possessing a sixth sense when it came to picking hit records, Phillips was the first DJ to play such smash hits as Elvis' "That's Alright Mama" and "Blue Moon of Kentucky," Perkins' recording of "Blue Suede Shoes," and Cash's "Folsom Prison Blues" and "I Walk The Line."

Phillips' radio show continued for 10 years and was complimented by a television show which aired for several years during the 50's. He left WHBQ in 1960, but continued working for radio stations in Little Rock and Millington. He died in 1968.

Mainers said a plaque decoupage with a picture of Phillips, Elvis and Sun Records' President Sam Phillips (no relation) will be hung in the halls of his auditorium, "The Kaleidoscope," in special ceremonies at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 2.

The commemorative program will feature Carl Perkins as special guest. Musical entertainment will be provided by The Blue Light Band.

The special DJ awards night will be only one festivity of the nine-day Independence Day celebration at Shiloh.

Other attractions include the second annual Tennessee River Fishing Rodeo (June 27-July 5), a giant fish fry, a huge fireworks display and a modeling contest.

For further information on the festivities, call 901-689-5141.

Library Notes

By LEE DAVIS
Librarian

Next Wednesday, July 1, will be the last of our weekly summer reading programs. Of course, we are planning to make it very special and hope that many of the boys and girls who have been on vacation or have had commitments to other activities will join in the fun. Awards and certificates will be ready for those who set reading goals. A happy time is in store for all.

Last week's program attracted 62 young people who thoroughly enjoyed the activities planned by Miss Hinson and Mrs. Perry.

The time of these summer programs has been 9 a.m. until 10 a.m. The library plans to continue a story time for the younger group on the same day, Wednesdays, but at 10 a.m. rather than 9. Many mothers have mentioned that this is a more convenient hour for them.

The ages set for this group during the summer have been 3 to 6 and the story time will be planned with this group in mind. However, older children who wish to attend will be welcome.

Our library has a new board game for the older boys and girls called "Cool Chicken." It works rather like "Monopoly," but its purpose is to teach library skills.

We are happy to have a number of young people who are using these skills regularly with pleasure and profit.

Home Economist's Notes

By CLAIRE T. ROSS Extension Home Economist

Pickling has made a comeback among novice and experienced cooks for a variety of reasons.

The contemporary culinary views pickling as an exciting and tasty outlet for "doing your own thing." For the nostalgic, the aroma of vinegar laced with herbs and spices conjures up fond memories of grandma's busy kitchen. And to the economy-minded, pickling is a "natural" for preserving seasonal produce for out-of-season eating enjoyment. (canning and freezing are the other two methods of food preservation).

And now, "Get Ready, Get Set, Get Pickling"...

If you need some good guidelines prepared with loving care, we have the Heinz Guide to Successful Pickling available just for you.

The guide is especially good for the beginning "pickler" who needs guidance on how and where to start. And for the person who is looking for new recipes to add to the long list of "these have been in the family for years."

One of the fun parts of the guide contains "Quickie" recipes that "process in the refrigerator" (covered and chilled overnight to blend flavors).

Most important of all, the recipes in this guide, with the exception of the "Quickies," are processed in a boiling water bath.

The boiling water bath is a method recommended by USDA for processing pickles and relishes in boiling water (212 degrees F) to help destroy bacteria, molds, yeast and enzymes which cause spoilage and by which pickles can be contaminated from kettle to hot jar, and even those old time favorites are susceptible.

Pickling Questions And Answers:

Q. Must jars be sterilized by boiling before packing?

A. No, not when the boiling water bath method is used. The containers as well as the food are sterilized during processing. But, be sure jars and lids are clean.

Q. Why is liquid sometimes lost from jars during processing?

A. The food was packed too tightly in jars: air bubbles not removed or jars not covered with enough water in the water-bath canner during processing.

Q. Should liquid lost during processing be replaced?

A. No, never open a jar and refill with liquid; this would let in bacteria and you would need to process again. Loss of liquid does not cause food to spoil, though the food above the liquid may darken.

Q. Is it safe to process foods in the oven?

A. No, oven processing is dangerous. Jars may explode. The temperature of the food in jars during oven processing does not get high enough to insure destruction of spoilage bacteria in vegetables.

Q. Why do the undersides of metal lids sometime discolor?

A. Natural compounds in some foods corrode the metal and make a brown or black deposit on the underside of the lid. This deposit is harmless.

Prentiss County farmlands are eroding at an average annual rate of 10.9 tons of soil per acre. This is about three times the amount of erosion our soils can stand and still maintain their productivity.

When we break out the sloping land portion of our total cropland acreage, the facts are even more alarming. It's quite common to check fields that are losing over 30 tons of soil per acre annually due to the lack of proper conservation treatment.

Usually it requires a combination of the proper conservation practices to reduce soil erosion to acceptable levels. One of these practices is called "sod waterway."

Construction of a sod waterway is usually basic to further treatment of a field since it provides a safe and stable outlet. The following information on sod waterways is provided by Jim Crouch, agricultural engineer with the Soil Conservation Service at Tupelo.

“The runoff from large rains on sloping land needs to flow to lower land and to drainage outlets without causing a gully across fields. Runoff from sloping land will flow by natural Topography, Furrows, or Terraces into a water-course.

“Considerable amounts of energy are dissipated as the water flows down the slope. It has been estimated that water flowing at a rate of 50 cubic feet per second (cfs) down a 5 percent slope releases energy at a rate of over 28 horsepower.

"Fifty cfs is the approximate peak runoff from a 5-inch rain on a 15-acre watershed of moderately sloping cropland. If this energy acts upon bare soil, large quantities of soil particles will be detached and transported by the water.

"The resultant gullies may divide the filed into many parts causing shorter rows, more frequent turning of equipment, and tremendous loss of valuable topsoil.

"The establishment of a sod waterway prior to serious erosion can help prevent the gullies from forming. Once the gullies have formed across a field, considerable shaping will be required to reform the area.

"Grassed waterways are designed with a wide flow area to spread the runoff water over a larger area which will result in slower velocities that vegetation can withstand. The results are a stable watercourse which will not continue to erode or degrade.

"Over a period of time, sod waterways will need maintenance to keep them functioning as they were designed. In protected fields with little silt movement, the maintenance may amount to mowing only.

"In fields which are in need of terraces or other erosion control measures, maintenance needed will also include frequent removal of sediment."

For more information on sod waterways or other erosion control measures, contact the Soil Conservation Service personnel at 107 College Street, Booneville, or phone 728-3544.

I really appreciate "Lady Blue Surf" for a job well done with the news last week as she told you we were out of town. We were down on the coast. The "Yo Yo" was in school and I enjoyed the sun and sand. The "Little Rascal" did not get to go this time, but she was working.

On Thursday afternoon the caravan for El Paso arrived here. My brother, Richmond, and family have moved back to our homeplace at Rienzi, or should I say they will be moving up there. For the time being they will be trying to put up with us at our house until we get some work done on the farm house. Welcome home to the whole Brackeen family.

"Mr. Songster" is still in intensive care in the local hospital. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

"White Girl's," mother is still not able to sit up. We hope it will not be long before she can be up and around.

We hope each of you are planning to attend our rabbit hunt on July 11. Make your plans to attend. Remember, you don't have to be a member of our club, just as long as you have a C.B. radio in your car.

Meet us at the West Side Community Center at 7:30. There will be a $2 entrance fee for each car. Hope you come out and join in the fun.

The "Blue Surf's" are living in another place, they got moved last week. They send thanks to the "King" and others for their help in moving. All help is appreciated.

We hope each of you have a good week. Oh, by the way, the "Hilltopper" have a new son-in-law. Denise was married on June 5 in a lovely ceremony at Mt. Pisgah. We wish for them a long and happy life together.

For the ones out of town for a few days, enjoy yourselves but please be careful on the road.

Go to the church of your choice, but go.

Local Netters Claim Top Spot In Country Club Tourney

Several netters took top honors here last weekend in the Annual Booneville Golf and Country Club's Member Guest Doubles Tournament held at the local courts.

Arthur Harrison and Chris

Shackelford claimed the top spot in the men's doubles division defeating Tommy Comer and Marshall Dickerson 6-3, 6-2 while in the women's doubles the

Arnold Duo, Kathy and Kathleen beat Wendy

Williams and Susanne Sims again 6-3, 6-2 to finish first in that division.

Rounding out the competition in the mixed doubles Kathy Arnold and Eddie Smith finished at the top of the heap there winning over Billy Pounds and Angie Via also by a 6-3, 6-2 score.

Tournament director Garry Lindsey said last weekend's event had plenty of surprises throughout the entire three day event.

One of the most exciting matches came in the women's doubles semi-finals when Williams and Sims stopped Nancy Via and Jennie Pounds 4-6, 7-5, 7-5 in a match that last over two hours.

Another match that would be considered on the exciting side was again in semi-finals mens action when Comer and Dickerson came from behind to knock off pre-tourney favorites Rusty White and Roland Humphreys, both members of the Northeast Tennis Team.

Tournament director Lindsey said that year's event would have to be considered one of if not the best events in quite sometime and said everyone was now getting ready for the Invitational Club Tourney to be held in July.

"We hope we have a large turnout for this one," Lindsey said. "We should have some good tennis players from the area participating."

Cheerleaders from all across the country have attended the NCA camps and all of them have only the highest compliments to say about the atmosphere and friendliness of the camps such as the Northeast camp.

Here's what some of them had to say,

"The staff is as friendly and interested in kids as any I've ever seen. They are great and I'm impressed with their ability and their friendliness and sincerity."--Henderson County Sr. High, Henderson Kentucky.

"The Clinic as a whole was simply fantastic. I will definitely be attending the camp this year." Smiths Station HS Fairfax, Alabama.

"I've been to tons of workshops and I rarely give above good but all the staff instructors were Super Great and it's been a wonderful experience for me."

Steps Taken To Develop Area Coal Resources

What could possibly be the first step in developing local coal resources for power plants in North Mississippi has been taken.

Northern District Public Service Commissioner D.W.

Snyder said last week he has learned that Phillips Coal Company has filed an application with the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control for a Prevention of Signification Deterioration Permit in connection with a proposed Delta Star Lignite Power Project in Panola, Quitman and DeSoto counties in northwest Mississippi.

Snyder cautioned that this is only a first step in a long range effort toward development of lignite fuel resources in North Mississippi and that near term operations are not likely.

But he also expressed the belief that this is another in a continuing series of moves which will lead to extensive usage of Mississippi lignite for fuel in the years ahead.

"I have long advocated and pushed for the development of Mississippi fuel sources for power plant and other energy applications and believe this project will not only lead to employment of many people in this area, but will help stabilize electric energy costs for the years ahead," Snyder said.

"While no immediate steps are contemplated," he said, "according to my understanding, this filing is an essential step in the process of lignite development, and I will certainly lend my full support to promoting this undertaking."

Snyder said it was his understanding that, while there are no definitive plans for power plant construction in the area, some preliminary discussions have been held with several electric utilities in Mississippi to determine how their plans fit in with the lignite mining plans of Phillips.

Death: Some Considerations on Bereavement:
Grief and Mourning

Bereavement is the total experience that includes all of the events and feelings from death, through grief and mourning to recovery. Grief is all the emotions that are felt because of death and loss; while mourning is the process by which grief is expressed and an adjustment made to the death of a significant person.

The way that people experience bereavement in both unique and typical. The way that grief may be expressed runs from no response whatever, on one hand, to such intense grief or depression, on the other, that the bereaved person thinks about or actually attempts suicide.

However, the reactions of most bereaved persons occur within a central area of response, which contain many common factors. It also remains virtually impossible to predict in advance how any given person will react to the death of a significant person in their life.

The sudden death of someone you love produces a different reaction than a death which is anticipated. Three stages of grief occur: shock, suffering and then recovery, if the grief process is healthy and complete. In the first stage (shock) many experience denial, deep weeping, confusion, fantasies of the person still being alive, and a retreat into memories of the past.

There may be a loss of appetite and weight, insomnia, withdrawal from others, irrational outbursts of anger, and a deep sense of remorse or guilt. These reactions are natural and serve as protective devices until the person is ready to enter the next stage of grief. It may take four to six weeks to work through this first stage of shock.

During the suffering stage (which may last longer) the bereaved one experiences the full impact of loss. Feelings of isolation, abandonment, anger, guilt, and a sense of helplessness, come and go. There will be a need to gradually become involved in daily activities, new friendships, and contacts with old friends.

There is a special need at this time to talk out their concerns and feelings with others. The third or recovery stage may not occur until one or two years after the shock of sudden death.

Why do we grieve? We grieve for ourselves, for the loss to us of another; out of fear of the unknown, and a fear of the future: we grieve because of the feelings of insecurity caused by the past unpredictable things others did at times of death.

Many widows and widowers have found understanding and support in groups established by community mental health centers, churches, agencies, and businesses. These groups provide social events and group activities that help the newly bereaved enter back into a normal life.

County Executive Director

Emergency Feed Program
Helps Livestock Producers Overcome Disasters

The Emergency Feed Program is a federal program to assist livestock producers when their herds are threatened by feed shortages as a result of natural disasters. The program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Eligible producers may be reimbursed up to 50 percent of the cost of feed purchased during the emergency period. Assistance is limited to a maximum of 3 cents per pound in terms of feed grain equivalence.

Livestock producers must have suffered substantial feed losses below the amounts normally produced in order to be eligible for feed assistance. Furthermore, there must be insufficient feed on hand requiring larger than normal purchases.

Prentiss County paid $12,036.66 to assist in the purchase of 441,131 lbs. of feed bases on the loss of feed in 1980 because of drought.

The Federal Register dated April 28, 1981, contained the following proposed changes for the 1981 program:

(1) Reduce cost-share assistance from 50 percent to 30 percent.

(2) Exclude from eligible livestock those livestock owned less than 6 months.

(3) Limit the amount of pasture loss to 50 percent of the computed pasture loss when determining the ap-plicant's total allowance.

Livestock producers or others who are interested in getting more detailed information on the Livestock Feed Program should contact the local ASCS office.

County Grain Loan Rates Announced

Prentiss County loan rates for 1981 grains have been announced by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The rates were increased across-the-board in amounts equal to the recently announced national average loan rate increases.

The rates are: wheat, $3.15 per bushel; corn, $2.57; oats, $1.37; sorghum, $4.05 per cwt.; and soybeans $5.08 per bushel.

These rates vary from county to county to reflect differences in the value of the crop, production trends, and for some commodities, transportation costs to terminal points. Local farmers placed about 124,709 bushels of their 1980 grains under price support loans.

Commodity loans give farmers an opportunity to obtain cash while holding their crop for later sale. By holding a crop and spreading marketing over a 12-month period, market gluts, extreme price swings and transportation bottlenecks are to a great extent minimized.

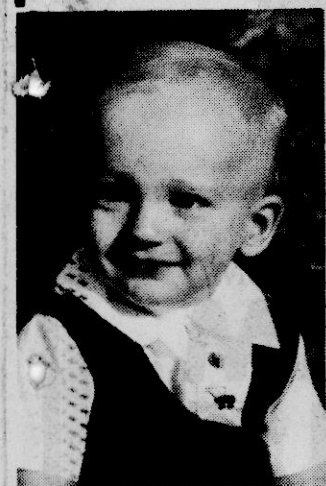

Copies of the loan rates may be obtained from the county ASCS office or by writing to the Price Support and Loan Division, USDA-ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C., 20013.

a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Vester Coats and family.

Mrs. Emmer McCarley.

Mr. and Mrs. Author Barnes and Jack were Sunday luncheon guests of Mrs. Arletta Geno of Booneville.

Tom Olive of Wheeler visited Thursday with the L.L. McAlpins.

Friends regret the continued illness of Mrs. Agnes Gobert who has spent several weeks in a Memphis hospital. Mrs. Gobert is a sister of Mrs. Gay Weeks.

Margaret LeCroy and Mackie McAlpin were overnight guests Tuesday of Jill McAlpin and Pam Mauney of Memphis. While there they attended the gala performance of Mikhail

Baryshnikov, the Russian defector who became artistic director of the American Ballet Theatre, and a contingent of his company's dancers as they mystified the capacity crowd. In the auditorium of Dixon-Myers Hall, Mikhail Baryshnikov and his troupe command a fee of $40,000 for a single performance.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Edna Garner who is a patient in the local hospital.

Bill and Joy Kinard of Memphis spent the week at their home here while Beth and Russell Reed were on a church tour to Washington, D.C.

The Kinards spent the week relaxing and entertaining. Thursday visitors were Alan and Brent Wilson of Wheeler. Dinner guests Saturday night were Mrs. Bessie Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Garner of Wheeler. Sunday luncheon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Max Wilson, Alan and Brent of Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. R.B. The Oak Hill Baptist Church congregation was delighted to have as their Sunday evening guest Marshall Dickerson of Booneville, who presented a lecture using slides of his recent trip abroad.

Margaret LeCroy had lunch Sunday with Lula B. Gholston of Pratt. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gholston of Starkville.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kelly and Amy were Mrs. Virginia Humpal and Jennifer of Pisgah.

The Blackland 4-H Club, with Cathy Ballard as leader, extended an invitation to all families in the surrounding communities to attend a dinner meeting Saturday evening at the Blackland Community Center.

The large crowd enjoyed a delicious meal and homemade ice cream for dessert.

A very entertaining program was presented to an appreciative audience. The senior citizens were recognized as they have been honored annually for many years.

Congratulations to the 4-H club for a wonderful evening of fellowship and entertainment. Special guests were Extension 4-H Youth Agent, Edward L. McWhirter and Mrs. McWhirter.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tollison were Mr. and Mrs. Ott Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Cox of Booneville.

I would like to quote a favorite poem of mine by David E. Guyton of Blue Mountain which I intended to include last week.

Daddy

My Daddy is the finest pal
A fellow ever had;
And when I get to be a man,
I want to be like Dad.

He's just a dandy, good,
old sport.

He's just a great big boy.
His heart's as young as any lad's
And just as full of joy.

He understands and cares about
The little things I do
And never gets too busy for
A romp with me and Sue.

He sits right down upon the floor

And plays with her and me
And lets me ride upon his foot
With Sue upon his knee.

We run to meet him at the gate
And hug him good and tight;
And all together, in we march
With eyes and faces bright.

For Mother's waiting at the door
With open arms for Dad.

I've got the dearest mother, too,
A fellow ever had.

Our house is not so very fine.
It's not so much for show;
But there is not a sweeter spot
In all the earth, I know.

For Mother, Dad and Sister Sue
Are all the world to me
And I mean everything to them.
We're happy as can be.

I'm glad that this is Daddy's Day.
It's fun to keep it, too.
We all have something nice for him,
Clean down to Baby Sue.

But everyday is Daddy's
Day
With Mother, Sue, and me.
I hope your Dad is just as glad

As every Dad should be.

New DUI Law Provides For Easier Enforcement

The Mississippi law on driving while drinking has been amended to make it easier for law enforcement officers to clear the highways and streets of dangerous drivers, according to the State Department of Public Safety.

Under the new law which takes effect on July 1, the charge of driving while intoxicated (DWI) has been deleted.

The new charge, driving under the influence, (DUI) also carries new penalties for those convicted.

Most important to the law enforcement officer is the change in the law which lowers the blood alcohol level to .10 from .15 to sustain a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Under the amendments, a highway patrol officer, sheriff, deputy or police officer of an incorporated municipality may administer or direct that a breath test be given to a motorist suspected of driving under the influence.

The Mississippi Crime Lab will issue permits to certified intoximeter and intoxilyzer operators and inspect testing equipment.

Should a motorist refuse to take a breath test under the new law, the officer will take his driver license, the Commissioner of Public Safety will notify the violator by registered or certified mail of notice to suspend the license in 30 days, and after the 30-day notice, will revoke the license for 90 days.

In the senior showmanship competition, Mike Woods of Benton and Brian Garner of Newhebron were selected as Mississippi's representatives to the National Angus Showmanship Contest set for July in Nashville, Tenn.

Connie Robbins of Ripley and Randall Preuss of Monticello were named alternates.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: By Charles L. Potts

Life Everlasting (II Tim. 1:10)

"But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel."

We talk about it all the time...life everlasting. We preach about and claim the same belief each Sunday in the Apostle's Creed. I believe in the life everlasting. Really, what do we mean? I have known children to grow up in the faith...and seem to depart...yet never forget that there is something about human life that is sacred...and lives on after death. I think we can accept the word of Jesus on this matter...we can just simply believe our Lord when he said, "I go to prepare a place for you." From the cross those familiar words, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!"

Further, we know that Jesus revealed by what he taught, by his own life, death and resurrection that our life, on this side of death...can take on a new dimension and a new spirit when we yield ourselves to him. Thus Jesus brought life and immortality to light (2 Tim. 1:10). Life everlasting begins here and now in the life of faith.

We also know that such belief in everlasting life is a matter of faith...but it's more...it is also a rational matter. The world makes no sense apart from it for multitudes of people face untold pain, misery and privation. There is so much unmerited suffering in our world...now is this the best that life holds for us and them? Nothing else? No hope? We refuse to believe this! There are so many unanswered questions to the problem of suffering...but we cannot believe that we have seen the final outcome here. We believe in the life everlasting. God will have the final word...in a land where no more tears will fall.

A moving passage from the Wisdom of Solomon (In Apocrypha) 3:1-5 sustains our hope. The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seem to die and their departure is taken for misery, and their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace. God proved them and found them worthy of himself.

Checklist For The Groom

The groom doesn't have as many wedding preparations as the bride, but his duties are important. The list below spans a six-month period—the minimum amount of time needed to plan a formal wedding.

Six Months Before

Order bride's engagement, wedding rings.
Start making out your guest list.

Arrange a visit with clergy-member, judge.

If you'll share wedding expenses, discuss with fiancée, all parents.

Discuss with your fiancée how many ushers you'll need (about one for every 50 guests) and begin to select them.

Discuss honeymoon plans with your fiancée and start making transportation and accommodation reservations.

Three Months Before

Complete guest list; give it to fiancée.

Consult fiancée; order wedding attire.

Decide whom you want as your best man and ushers; invite them to participate.

Talk with male attendants about their wedding attire.

Complete honeymoon plans; buy tickets.

One Month Before

Decide on bride's bouquet and going-away corsage; check with fiancée on boutonnieres for men in the wedding party and mothers' corsages.

Pick up bride's ring; check engraving.

Arrange lodging for relatives and ushers from out of town.

Select gift for your bride, attendants.

Make sure necessary documents—legal, medical, and religious—are in order.

Order gloves, ties, ascots for ushers.

Make sure they've ordered their own attire.

Two Weeks Before

Make a date with your fiancée to get the marriage license. (You might take her to lunch at her favorite restaurant.)

Check on arrangements for the bachelor dinner (if you are giving it).

Arrange with your best man for transportation from the reception.

Double-check honeymoon reservations.

One Week Before

Present gifts to your attendants (at the bachelor party).

Remind your best man and ushers of the rehearsal time and place, and fill them in on rehearsal dinner details.

Explain any special seating arrangements to the head usher.

Put the minister's or judge's fee in a sealed envelope and give it to the best man. (He will deliver it.)

Get your going-away clothes ready so you can change after the reception.

Pack for your honeymoon.

Arrange to move belongings to new home.

Planning The Reception

The wedding's done! With all its solemnity and spiritual beauty, it has passed. Next comes the reception. It can be a dinner party, a punch-and-cake type party, or any number of variations between these two extremes.

The punch-and-cake type party is preferred for a number of reasons, not the least of which is that wedding clothes were meant to be married in, not to eat dinner in. It is very nearly impossible for most brides to sit down at a banquet table, let alone eat.

Also, at a dinner party only a few guests really get to enjoy the company of the bridal party, since the bride's table is nearly always excluded to the young people in the wedding. The minister, the parents and other relatives sit at other tables, with friends and guests sitting still farther away.

But at the stand-up, cake-and-punch reception the wedding party can mingle among the guests and entertain (briefly anyway) nearly everyone.

The first thing that happens at a wedding reception is receiving the guests. The bride's mother, who is hostess, stands first in line. Because most people think, "everyone knows my name," this poses a real problem for the bride's mother. Therefore, it is the social duty of a guest to tell her his name, if he has even the slightest doubt that she does not know it or has forgotten it.

If the guest does not do this the bride's mother has no choice when she comes to a familiar unnamed face but to ask the name herself. This sometimes can be very embarrassing, especially should the guest turn out to be the woman down the block. (How very different she looks in that hat than when she's hanging out clothes!)

The bride's father may or may not stand next to the hostess. If he elects not to, then he must circulate among the guests and look joyous. Next comes the groom's mother and the groom's father. Then the all-important bride and groom, and next the maid of honor and the best man.

Another automatic door to a successful reception is the "where" of the receiving line. Flow of traffic is smoother if the receiving line is placed in a small room next to a large room, or at a door to a large room. Stand yourselves near the entrance so guests can use extra space for socializing. And make sure your guests won't have to cross the receiving line to get to the serving tables.

Surprisingly, what to serve at your wedding reception is really not the question of prime consideration. Five years from now the guests won't remember whether it was your wedding cake that was baked from that special Parisian recipe or Susan Young's. The cake and punch should be tasteful, but if the fellowship is good and friendliness prevails, they can taste almost any old way, and people will invariably go away thinking that your reception was a big success. Why? Because, in your planning, you gave more attention to welcoming your guests and entertaining them than to the food to be served.

Selecting The Music

The selection of good music and good musicians is of primary importance to the beauty of your wedding. Both the music and the musicians should be given at least as much consideration as the style of your wedding gown. The sound of music, more than any other one element of your wedding, will create the atmosphere you desire and virtually establish the "personality" of the wedding.

Be traditional, if you please, but don't be a copycat! Do not choose music for your wedding, just because you have heard it at every wedding you've attended. There is no excuse for having music that is "blah." Select music that is YOU!

Some churches have established policies both as to whom the musicians may be and what music may be used. But most churches leave the choices to the bride with guidance from her minister or minister of music.

Choose musicians who are capable. Wedding music, as a whole, is difficult to play and sing. A faltering musician, whether an organist or vocalist, will create a tenseness among the wedding guests and, perhaps, even among the wedding party (if they are close enough to hear). A solo is usually (though not necessarily) one of the first items in the order of a wedding service.

There is no law, written or unwritten, that declares that wedding music must be sung nor that it must be by a soloist. Vocal duets, piano and organ arrangements, blend perfectly into the reverent spell inspired by the candlelit sanctuary.

There are two schools of thought among ministers as to what music is actually appropriate for the wedding service.

The first group maintains that because the wedding is a religious ceremony, a divine ordinance, and a form of worship, all of the music must be sacred-of church origin.

Such a selection of wedding music would certainly emphasize the spiritual aspect of the occasion and would create a beautiful, worshipful atmosphere.

Do not misunderstand. This is not an effort to list all appropriate wedding songs in either sacred or secular categories. It is just to give you an idea of the type music to be considered.

You should personally examine every phrase of each song you think you want used in your wedding service. Ask yourself, "Does this really declare musically what I want expressed?"

Whether secular or sacred, the choice is yours.
